Police Continue Hunt For Robbery Suspect

By GARY TAYLOR

Law enforcement officers of the sheriff's department and the Sanford police department combined efforts last night to check several Sanford area houses, searching for the fifth suspect in a daring Monday afternoon armed robbery at Wheatland's grocery in Lake Monroe.

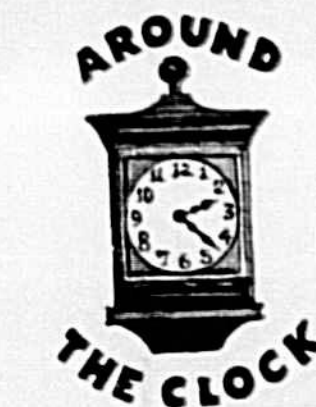

Four of the suspected bandits were captured shortly after the robbery when the county and city forces combined in a mass effort, along with help from Florida Highway Patrol trooper C. E. DePuy. All four are being held in the Seminole County jail under $40,000 bond on charges of armed robbery and assault with attempt to commit murder.

When efforts proved fruitless last night, Sheriff John Polk learned that the subject had been taken to the airport to catch a plane to Chicago.

Polk revealed this morning that two warrants had been issued and that he felt the suspect is still in the area. According to Polk, a check of the airports showed no ticket sales to Chicago. Polk also revealed that Chief Deputy Duane Harrell is in Chicago today, checking out all possibilities that the suspect did go there.

The suspect, described as a colored male, 6-foot-1, 215-220 pounds and light complexioned, is believed to be heavily armed. At least two guns used in the hold-up, along with all the money, is still missing. Polk estimated the amount taken at $86.

Detective Johnny Wright and Sgt. Tony Calanog also are assigned to the case and are currently running down several leads.

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

Be honest with me, now ... why didn't you listen to the President's speech last night?

I know that's the case with the majority of you, cause a sampling of opinions this morning indicated that if the polls are divulged, he will have fared much less than the 11% he had on his earlier interview with Howard E. Smith.

All I'm asking is WHY? Why don't people take the time to listen to their Chief Executive?

I'd like to hear your thoughts on this important matter and would welcome chatting with you via the phone ... before I offer my opinion in tomorrow's Clock.

Certainly hope that area businessmen will take advantage of next Wednesday's meeting in DeLand at 9 a. m., at which time Congressman Bill Chappell will stress the theme, "Government and the Businessman—Partners in Progress."

Checking on this tip ... that a very prominent Sanford official will be leaving the scene very shortly.

Thanks for mailing me the cartoon ... a husband and wife-type (I think) who says, "I'll run over and pick-up our welfare check, then drop by school to see what's holding up my federal education grant. Meanwhile, you hitch a ride to that free clinic to get your V. D. shot and pick-up my new glasses. I'll meet you at city hall at noon for the mass picketing of the stinking establishment."

Answer me if you will ... why are those recently-deleted Berkeley officials identified as "radicals" when in reality while listening to their views via TV, they sound literate ... do not advocate violence to gain their needs ... but, are strong on ending the Vietnam War?

Answer me ... why are they called radicals? Or is it that some that there is an end to this senseless killing? I dunno ... I just don't know!

We were talking yesterday about labeling all medicines ... and got this reaction. It would be foolish to do so cause we'd have too many people exchanging theories on their medicines with their neighbors, etc. Call it self-medication, if you will. And that's dangerous.

However, I did learn that the industry is coding all capsules and tablets so that any doctor will be able to readily identify same in times of an emergency.

A salute to the industry and thanks to Dave Klingensmith for giving me the information.

Superior Aircraft Negotiates For Sanford Airport Hangar

By LARRY NEELY

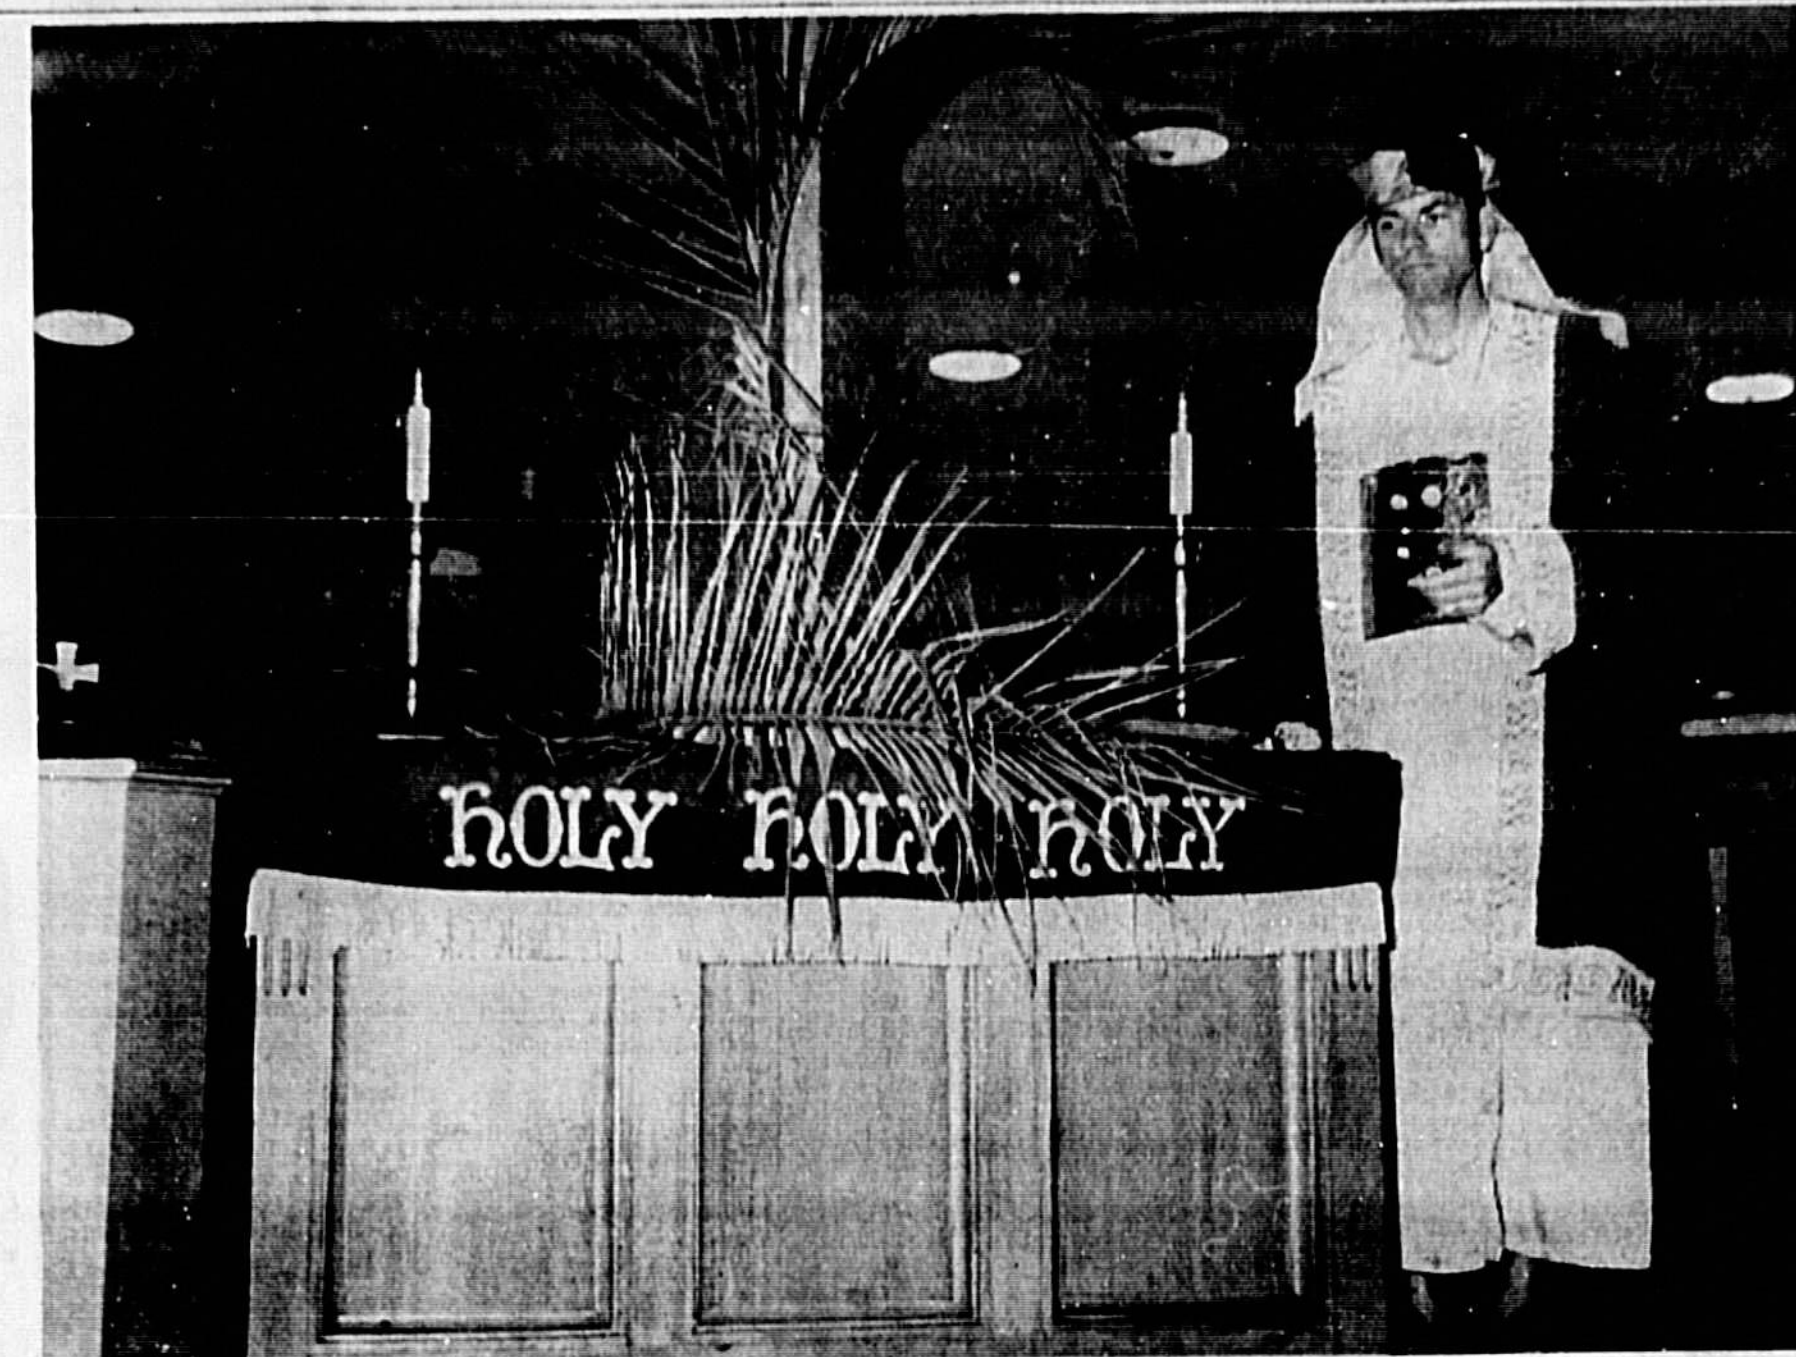

The Sanford Industrial Commission announced today that Superior Aircraft Refinishing is finalizing plans to relocate from Kissimmee Airport to Sanford Airport, Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles presented the tentative agreement to the SIC this morning and it was unanimously endorsed by the seven-member commission.

Superior Aircraft Refinishing will occupy hangar 146 at Sanford Airport and will employ six to eight people when the plant begins operation. The aeronautical company is owned by Lamar Garrett. The tentative lease agreement calls for Garrett to provide all maintenance to the hangar at a leased price of $3,000 the first year, $4,000 for the second year and $7,000 for the remaining three years of the five-year lease. The leased price will be 10 cents lower per square foot than the present rental guidelines, 80 cents per square foot, due to the fact that Garrett will be providing all the maintenance to the 14,000 square foot hangar.

Also this morning the SIC voted to send a telegram to Gov. Reubin Askew stating its objections to his proposal to repeal the law granting an exemption to the two per cent insurance premium tax to insurance companies with regional home offices in Florida. Commission member John Krisher pointed out that it was the exemption from the premium tax (Continued on Page 8A, Column 1)

A VISITOR FROM THE PAST

REV. D. Ross Denlow minister of Grace United Methodist Church surprised his congregation on Palm Sunday by portraying in full costume Caiaphas, High Priest of Jerusalem, who plotted the capture and persecution of Jesus. The dramatic monologue

Shops Line 'Way Of Cross'

Jesus' Path Is Commercialized

By HAL McCLURE

Associated Press Writer
JERUSALEM (AP) — The Way of the Cross, the path the condemned Jesus followed from Pontius Pilate's court to the rocky hill where he died, is only 1,000 steps.

Nearly 20 centuries later the traveler following those same steps may find the Via Dolorosa, a Street of Sorrows still — for another reason. Only the most devout pilgrim can close his eyes to its commercialism and secularism.

Too often the visitor, remembering his early Bible training, has an idealized vision of Christ's last agony, perhaps a palm-shaded lane leading to a cloud-shrouded mountain.

It is far from that. The Via Dolorosa is a narrow, twisting, cobbled alley leading from the Lion's Gate in Jerusalem's eastern wall through the treeming heart of the Holy City to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher, marking the traditional site of Calvary and the entombment. It is lined with countless shops bearing such impious names as Eighth Station Souvenir Bazaar, Peace Land Souvenir Shop in Holy Land Exhibit.

Eager shoppers, who have looked forward to the Easter

Week bonanza for a year, beckon from doorways importuning the pilgrim to buy souvenirs—olive wood crucifixes, mother of pearl Bibles, rosaries, brocades, maps, guidebooks.

The truth is, the old walled city of Jerusalem is not unlike any other Arab quarter of the Middle East—filled with the

Curt Flood Loses Ground

By GORDON BEARD Associated Press Sports Writer BALTIMORE (AP) — Curt Flood didn't make any progress in his $3.1 million suit against baseball on Wednesday, but he carried another $1.1 million by playing against the Baltimore Orioles. Just before taking the field against the Orioles, the 31-year-old outfielder for the Boston Braves filed a motion to dismiss the suit. Flood said he was forced into "jockeying" by baseball's reserve clause system, but he lost another battle in his antitrust suit. "We anticipated that," Flood said.

Cold Weather Aids Seminole Team

By GREY BOYLES Herald Sports Staff It was another chilly day as the Seminole swim team took on Mainland in a big swim meet, but the cold seems to be bringing out the best in the Seminoles. It was the most exciting meet of the year the boys got the shot in the arm that they needed when the last event was the meet for them. The 400 free relay decided the meet and Clyde Hayes was the hero as he raced for a time of 55.5 seconds to start the first leg of the relay. The "Bucks" were shocked by the speed of Hayes as was the whole crowd, not to mention the team and coaches. Fran Smith won the 200 IM, and the 400 free, Bob McIntosh won the 50 free and the 100 breast and the Seminole boys won both relays on the way to a 45-42 win. The boys are now 7-9 as they continue to show improvement and they proved that they can reach down and get a lot of heart when they have to.

Seminole Junior Varsity Ends Home Slate Today

The Seminole High junior varsity baseball team topped their record to 6-3 Tuesday when they rocked Mainland 5-1 on their home field. Donald Brown was on the mound for the Seminoles. He fired a sparkling four-hitter and fanned 11 opposing batters. Seminole jumped ahead in the bottom of the first as they scored a pair of runs. Mainland fought back with one in the second, but the Baby Tribe scored a single run in the third and added two insurance runs in the fifth inning. Over the weekend, the Baby Seminoles split a pair of games. They had no trouble losing to New Smyrna, 14-1, but then dropped a intra-county contest to arch-rival Lyman. Lyman took that contest 4-3 in a real squeaker. The Baby Seminoles, coached by Ron Hunt, will play their final home game of the 1971 season today when they play host to 3-man at 6:30 p. m.

Johnny Unitas' Football Career In Jeopardy

By GORDON BEARD Associated Press Sports Writer BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas, who missed a relatively few games while being knocked around for 15 years in the National Football League, finds his career in sudden jeopardy because of a freak off-season injury. Unitas, who holds almost all of the NFL passing records, was injured in the first ball of the Super Bowl game against the Dallas Cowboys, but the Colts went on to win 16-13. Since he started with Baltimore in 1956, Unitas has suffered broken ribs, a punctured lung, dislocated fingers, torn knee cartilage, broken vertebrae, and tendonitis of the elbow. He missed one game in 1958 and sat out another, although he was ready to play after suffering broken ribs and the lung puncture. In 1965, following knee surgery, he was sidelined for four games. The elbow tendonitis kept him out of action almost the entire 1968 season, but a rigorous therapy program restored his throwing arm for the 1969 season.

Flower Children Turning From Narcotics To Jesus

Copley News Service
LOS ANGELES — She stood on a busy downtown corner, the wind tugging at her long blonde hair.

"Come on, man, get your head straight," she pleaded as she passed out leaflets to passersby.

Another hippie passing out anti-establishment propaganda? Not hardly.

This young woman is a member of a growing fraternity of former flower children who are turning on to God instead of drugs.

The literature she was passing out described the ecstasy of finding God and urging others to do the same.

Called "Jesus Freaks" by who wish to ridicule the movement, they are simply "Jesus People," "Street Christians" or "Children of God" to those who have compassion for the movement or belong to it. They are young people—virtually none over 30, most are barely over 20, and many are former addicts—and they are part of a growing movement that is spreading like wildfire across the United States.

They operate out of communes, rescue missions and on the street. Groups range in number from a few members to flocks of more than 1,000. They have their own slang language and even their own newspaper. They convert come from every imaginable niche of society. Rich kids peddle God right along with "bess who can recall all to vividly what was like growing up in the ghetto.

Estimates of how many young people are involved are widely varied. In California alone it is believed there are some 100,000 dedicated to the Jesus movement.

The movement has its own newspaper, the Holyland Post, which boasts a nationwide circulation of more than 200,000 for its twice a month edition. Publisher of the so-called "underground" paper is one-time entertainer Duane Pederson, 32, who became interested in the project a year and a half ago after seeing the success of other underground publications.

The movement took hold with the young people two years ago and is being led by youth-oriented fundamentalist preachers who advocate a turn on to Jesus and casting aside of drugs and illicit sex. There seems to be no central denomination, and as one young advocate put it: "The only common denominator is God. We're all in this thing for that one reason."

One gathering spot for these turned into the movement in the Los Angeles area is the Bethel Youth Center in suburban Redondo Beach.

This "hip Christianity" movement has been going on since 1968, when a young man named Breck Stevens got interested in the Pentecostal Church which was then called the Bethel Assembly Tabernacle.

The young man had just

Winds Are Bewildering
WASHINGTON (AP) — Blustery spring winds that delight kite flyers fill the weatherman with nostalgia.

From the late 1800's to the mid-1930's, kites gathered information on wind, temperature and pressure vital to weather bureau forecasts.

Sophisticated weather balloons check the winds now. More than 200 soar aloft daily from different parts of the United States to test wind direction and velocity. Altitudes sometimes exceed 100,000 feet.

Recent scientific advances, the winds still bewilder and mystify, the National Geographic Society says.

Fathers Of The Brides Feeling The $$ Pinch

By JEANNE LEBEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—If the fathers of 1971's brides are feeling the $ pinches it's hard to tell from their daughters' reception plans.

Banquet managers of two major hotels here said in separate interviews that prices are up about 10 per cent but bookings for the most popular wedding month are either holding level or increasing.

Both men—F. Bart Moore of the Plaza on Manhattan's fashionable Central Park South and Charles S. Waterman of the Americana near the theater district—used the term, "elegance simplicity," to describe currently popular menus.

Asked about the traditional menu for a seated dinner or dinner-dance reception, Waterman listed six courses, and Moore four.

"There's a tendency toward less abundance," said Moore, who emphasized repeatedly that he spoke only for his own establishment, not for hotels in general.

Avail Starches

He said there's also a tendency in many cases to avoid the starch in garnitures. People are weight and cholesterol conscious."

He said the latter attitude is reflected in a growing preference for leaner cuts of beef, such as sirloin, strip, filet or shells, as the traditional main course of beef roast. All are smaller cuts and contain less fat than roast prime ribs.

"Tastes in desserts are a little more sophisticated," Moore said. "They're getting away from ice cream, and choosing frozen souffles, sherbets or mousses instead."

Moore said both cocktail and afternoon buffet receptions remain quite popular, but that buffets are not necessarily less expensive than a seated meal. They could conceivably run much more, depending on the variety of food and the number of guests, he said.

"We give the father of the bride a working figure based on such factors as the type of reception and the menu. For instance, a very modest but elegant afternoon reception in July or August might cost about $15 per person for a menu of cold canapés, tea sandwiches and champagne."

TRINITY PREP ANNOUNCES NEW BUILDING

Adding its sixth building in three years, Trinity Preparatory School is now ready to expand her student body for the coming academic year.

A contract for a $200,000 classroom building has been given to Allen Trevillion, Inc.

With a campus that promises to be as magnificent as any in the country, Trinity has completed plans for a field house and swimming pool. Tennis courts will presently add to the school's splendid football field, track, and baseball diamond.

Trinity has experienced outstanding success in eight major interscholastic sports: football, baseball, soccer, basketball, tennis, golf and track.

Students are selected on an individual basis. Although the school has an outstanding academic reputation, many students previously having academic problems have responded well to the school's concern to deal with each individual as a person.

Interested students are invited to make an appointment to spend a day at Trinity to see for themselves the unusual opportunity offered by a college preparatory school. The school's catalog is available by phoning 671-4140. The school is a co-ed day school, grades seven through twelve.

Lang's Answers Offered

By ANDY LANG
AP Newswriters

Q—We bought an unfinished coffee table at our neighborhood lumber yard. At first we were going to finish it with varnish or lacquer, but we had no decided we want a laminated plastic top. Can it be put on right over the wood top or must the wood be treated first?

A—I can go on over the wood. However, since the top of the wood will be protected from air and moisture and the bottom will not, it might be a good idea to seal the bottom as well as all other edges that won't be covered. A mixture of 50 per cent shellac and 50 per cent denatured alcohol will do the trick. This will prevent possible warpage. You can use the same sealer on the rest of the table unless you already have plans to finish it with something else.

Q—I used varnish remover to get the old finish off a bureau. Everything came off all right except on the top, where there are still some streaks of what looks like stain. I am afraid to try to sand out these marks because the top has a thin layer of veneer on it and I might sand right through the veneer. What is the solution?

A—You are correct in thinking about the possibility of taking off too much of the veneer, although you could try a very light sanding or steel wooling without risking a bad result. A safer way would be to bleach the top. I assume you plan to use a clear finish, because if you are going to paint the bureau or use a dark stain, it is not necessary to get out the streaks.

Q—Trinity Preparatory School let the contract for the new $200,000 classroom building to Allen Trevillion Inc. Construction will be completed at once.

This classroom building, which consists of seven classrooms, a faculty workroom, conference room and student publication workrooms, as well as book locker areas, will allow Trinity to expand its student body for the coming academic year.

Trinity Preparatory School is a college preparatory day school grades seven through twelve, with a student body of 276 this year.

Plans have also been completed for a field house. Included in the present expansion program will be a substantial addition to the school's library, as well as the development of the existing area.

Architects for the classroom building which is Florida-Orlando in design are Stevens and Walton of Orlando. This is the sixth building to be built on Trinity's over one hundred acre campus in the past three years.

Orlando Executive Honored

George L. Stuart Jr., administrative assistant at George Stuart, Inc., Florida's largest business supplies trader, has been named to be a member of the Young Executives' Council of the national trade magazine, Office Products News.

Stuart is one of young executives in the country, the only one from Florida to participate.

Organizational meeting of the Council took place in Houston April 23.

A spokesman for the sponsoring publication said purpose of the Young Executives Council is to provide these new leaders in the industry with knowledge of problems and solutions facing today's businessmen. Much emphasis will be placed upon exchange of ideas in marketing, production, development and administrative functions.

A New Look Sweeping The Country

By WALTER LOGAN
NEW YORK (UPI)—The youth of America have revolted against the traditional cutaway for formal weddings and a new look is sweeping the country—a long single or double-breasted coat reminiscent of the old Prince Edward.

It is the first new look in wedding attire in decades and is the answer to the longhaired youth of today who regard the gray cutaway as strictly Establishment but want to discard their barefoot and love bead image for the big occasion.

The basic look is this: The jacket is 3 1/2 inches long on a size 40 the normal length is 31 inches, either double-breasted or single. If it is single-breasted it is a three button with sharply angled front not round ed like a suit coat.

There is a black velvet collar, very wide notched lapels and the fabric is traditional gray like a cutaway or a semi-formal stroller.

The double-breasted jacket is three to four buttons in oxford gray with inset peak lapels featuring a black fabric framed in oxford gray.

The jackets are worn with traditional gray-black striped trousers—but the pants are flared in the current mode. For strictly formal weddings it is worn with the traditional ascot. For less formal it is worn with a four-in-hand.

After Six Formals of Philadelphia and Lord West of New York, the two giants of the formal clothing industry, introduced this year and report incredible interest by the 20-year-olds who are doing most of the marrying these days. Gingsis International Inc., of Chicago, the world's largest rental network, features it too. Harvey Weinstein, vice president in charge of sales at Lord

West says: "It is a totally new young look for today's 20-year-olds and without any qualification, I can say it is the biggest single number introduced in 53 years."

The young man of today getting married this spring or summer won't wear a cutaway. He fights it as part of the Establishment uniform, and with 1971 scheduled to be the biggest wedding year since 1946, the end of the war, he wants something new.

"It is very interesting from my viewpoint that the youth who approaches marriage is anxious to stay within the confines of respectability—not the love beads or barefoot route for this ceremony."

If you are not young and not in revolt against the Establishment, the rules for formal wedding attire remain the same. As always, it is what the bride wears that sets the pace—whether a wedding is day or evening, formal or semi-formal.

Bernie Tall, vice president of the outfitting industry, says: "After six, an authority on such matters, puts it this way: Formal day wedding: The bridegroom wears an oxford gray cutaway and completes the outfit with black and gray striped worsted trousers, a pearl gray waistcoat and a white shirt with plain or pleated bosom. If the shirt has a wing collar he wears a silk ascot. With a turned down collar, a four-in-hand. The tie is always black and white or gray.

Semi-formal daytime wedding: The bridegroom wears an oxford gray sack coat called a stroller, with black and gray striped trousers. The single or double-breasted waistcoat is gray, his shirt is white with turned down collar and French cuffs and there is a four-in-hand tie in gray and white stripes or checks.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 18. She is marrying the boy she went steady with all through high school. He is 19. We are managing the wedding but must limit the number of guests to 200. My husband had been out of work and we are not in very good shape financially.

I told the groom's mother that she could invite 60 people and we were inviting 62. She said that wasn't nearly enough for her as she is presently separated from her husband and she wants to invite her boyfriend and his family, which is very large. I told her in a nice way that she could invite whomever she wanted but not more than 60 people as we had to hold down the expense.

"Either I have a s--- said," "Either I want or I'll refuse to sign for my son!"

Abby, he is only 19 and he can't be married unless she signs for him. So what do I do now?

SAD MOM
DEAR MOM: Don't let her blackmail you. In some states the signature of only one parent (or guardian) is sufficient. Look into it. Also tell the lady (?) that if she wants to pay for her own guests she may have as many as she wants.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago my husband died, and right after the funeral my children insisted that I visit my sister in another town to get away for a while.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1971

GENERAL TENDENCIES — The Full Moon is an interesting one which affects today in different ways. One of which brings benefit by adopting a conventional point of view. Looking in to future ways to get ahead could result in drastic changes and breaking up present activities.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) — You have an associate who is upset and could cause trouble if you don't do something to calm this person down. Put aside doubtful attitude you have and you get along better. Show wisdom.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) — Make sure you keep all promises, your clergyman and anyone who will touch them, sincerity in this connection. Your draft board will then review your case and decide whether or not you qualify as a conscientious objector.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) — If you show loyalty to your present associate, you benefit most instead of going off on a tangent that would be nothing but trouble. Don't neglect to keep a promise or you get in trouble. Show that you are conscientious.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) — Try to be as useful and diplomatic at home as you are in business and you find home life improves greatly. Also, eliminate that bone of contention there. Have fun!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 23) — If you attend to dull, routine work in the morning and get it done, you can get the rest of the day to do your own thing. Handle correspondence you have been neglecting. Show you have will.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) — Take some time to please family by joining them in their aims instead of devoting all of your time on the financial problems. Make improvements at home that will be appreciated by all. Add to comforts.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) — It is important you get the approval of others who are connected with a monetary matter that applies to you as well. Take some time to make that new contact you wish. Show that you are diplomatic.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) — A good day to do research work on a matter that has had you puzzle for some time. Paying more attention to mate can increase your happiness at this time. Avoid odd persons.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Going along with what good associates like to do is your best way to cement better relations now. Making a fine impression on social contacts is good. Don't take chances while traveling.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Do whatever you can to further your ambitions since the planets are favorable in the outside world today. If you have talks with higher-ups confidentially, you add to present prestige. Show you have real ability.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Begin operations that are in your expanding where your business is concerned. Discuss with persons whose views are different than your own. Get right answers.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — Although you think you cannot handle all of your obligations, if you ask a higher-up you get right help. Know what is expected of you by an official and then carry through efficiently. Don't repeat yourself with others.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY — he or she will be one of those fascinating young people whose life is filled with changes of all sorts and you would do well to teach early to make the right response to planetary influences. Success can be realized, provided your precocious progeny will think fast and keep feet on the ground at all times. Working with the public in general is the best outlet here and as much education should be given as desired. Don't neglect sports.

THE STARS impel, they do not compel. "What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!" — Carroll Righter's Astrological Forecast for your sign for May is now ready. For a copy send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Sanford Herald, Box 829, Hollywood, Calif. 90028.

Responsibility
LANING, Mich. (UPI) — The Lansing City Council has unanimously passed an ordinance making parents responsible for the misdeeds of their children aged 17 and under.

Parents whose children commit crimes can be fined $500 or sentenced to up to 90 days in jail under the new ordinance.

Senate Passes Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.75 billion public service job bill passed by the House by President Nixon last year has sailed through the Senate 62 to 10 despite renewed Republican opposition.

The Thursday vote sent the measure to the House where Democratic sponsors hope to clear it to the President later this month.

Republicans opposed to the bill said in the six-hour Senate debate they expect the President will veto it just as he did last December.

However, their efforts to send the bill back to committee or weaken it were turned back by a coalition of Democrats and a few industrial state Republicans.

Democrats controlled the bill would create 130,000 jobs almost immediately if accepted by the administration.

In addition, they said, it would help the states, cities and local government units meet pressing manpower needs in schools, hospitals, recreation programs, police and fire departments and other services.

Republicans replied the bill will make only a small difference in the near-6 per cent jobless rate.

They also contended most of the job will be a dead end, as Nixon argued in vetoing the 1970 measure.

They called instead for passage of the President's special manpower revenue-sharing proposal.

Polly's Pointers By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem
DEAR POLLY — When I washed my husband's sweater vests and three of my more expensive washable sweaters in that super cold water soap for women I followed directions very carefully but still they all shrank. What, if anything, can be done to stretch them? My sweaters are wearables as they were a bit loose to start with but my husband's vests are a total loss as they are even too short to cover the belt on his pants. I would appreciate any help.

MRS. J. B. DEAR POLLY — I am answering Doris who inquired about how to give a Jack and Jill shower for her daughter who is to be married. It is wrong, etiquette-wise, for her to give this party which is usually given by the bride or her attendant. Perhaps she could collaborate with the bride attendants and assist in the arrangements while not actually being the hostess. My understanding of a Jack and Jill party is that it differs in only one way from a traditional shower and that is the husbands or boy friends of the girls are invited. Perhaps the refreshments could be less fancy and, depending on the group's preferences, cocktails and mixed drinks might be included. Dining, card playing or any other such activities that these couples might enjoy would be fine.

Warning Sounded On Tax

JACKSONVILLE — A penalty may be imposed on income tax unpaid by March 15. A. J. O'Donnell Jr., IRS district director for Florida, said today.

The penalty, enacted as part of the Tax Reform Act of 1969, is one-half per cent for each month or part of a month the payment is late, but the total penalty is limited to 25 per cent. O'Donnell said. It does not apply to estimated income tax or the period covered by an extension of time to file the return.

O'Donnell said that if the taxpayer can show the failure to pay timely is due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect, the penalty will not apply. The penalty is in addition to the regular interest charge of six per cent per annum on late payment of taxes.

Less Smoked

LONDON (AP) — Tobacco smoked in Britain fell by 10 million pounds-about one per cent—in 1970.

The Tobacco Advisory Committee reported a drop in consumption of both cigarette and pipe tobacco. There was a trend towards filter tip cigarettes but the total weight of tobacco used for all cigarettes was lower than in 1969.

Disney World—'Vacation Kingdom'—To Open Soon

The nation's busiest construction site, and easily the most unusual, is Walt Disney World's new destination vacation resort and Magic Kingdom theme park in Central Florida.

Where else can you see an entire hotel suite "fly" through the air — or a golden spire lifted 18 stories to the top of a castle for "Cinderella." With some 6,000 workers now on the site hurrying toward an October opening — the Disney project is currently the nation's largest non-governmental construction effort.

It will cost $700-million by opening day. Workers have already completed a mid-Victorian railroad station, City Hall and half a Main Street from the turn-of-the-century.

They are moving ghost figures into a Haunted Mansion.

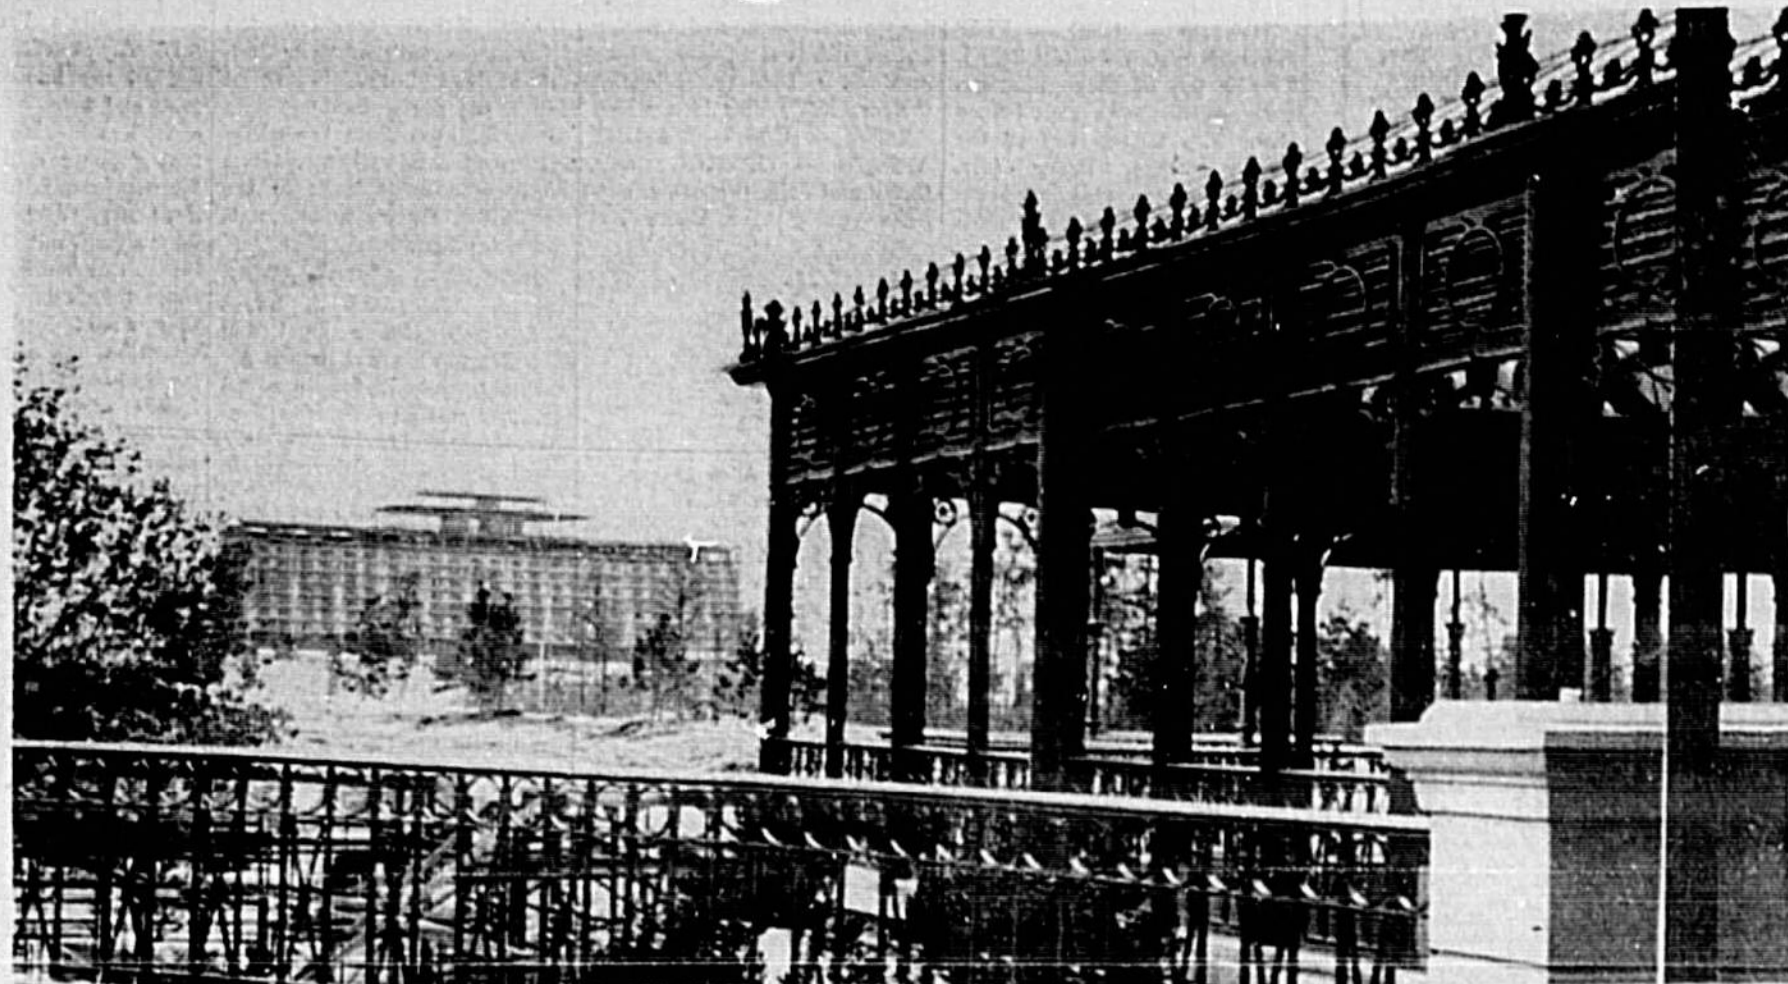

Strange looking towers for a "Cambodian Ruins" now appear amid lush tropical growth in Adventureland although the river for the Jungle Cruise has yet to be filled with water.

But a mile-wide, man-made lagoon is nearly filled and the first of three sidewheel steamboats is almost ready for launching. Its "walking beam" engine with teeter-totter rocking arm is the first one built like this in more than 100 years.

Fifty-year-old steam railroad engines — four of them from the jute fields of Yucatan being completely rebuilt in a Tampa shipyard — are nearly ready for painting. Five old-fashioned open-air excursion cars are being built for each train.

Half of a six-train fleet of sleek monorail trains is nearing completion in an Orlando space plant, while huge monorail beams, arriving daily from the Pacific Northwest are lifted into place on pylons circling the Walt Disney World lagoon.

A connecting strait between the lagoon and 450-acre Bay Lake is ready for its first waterborne traffic.

FROM THE TRAIN STATION, A VIEW OF THE CONTEMPORARY HOTEL

On the shores of the lake, one of the world's most unusual buildings — a 14-story tower for the Contemporary Resort-Hotel — encompasses a central concourse so vast it is named "Grand Canyon." Monorail trains will pass through it.

Rooms, completely equipped with baths, mirrors, sliding glass doors and all plumbing, heating and electricity, are built in a factory four miles east of the site, then trucked to the A-shaped steel skeleton and swung up and into place with giant cranes.

More than 150 hotel rooms are in place in the tower. Another 600 such rooms are already arranged in three-story Bayside wings flanking the main tower. Similar units soon will be swung into place at the Polynesian Village just across the lagoon. Each hotel will be a complete resort with facilities for conventions, recreation and entertainment. Some 200 conventions and meetings have already been scheduled in the hotels for 1972.

In every direction are other and more varied projects in various stages of completion.

Fairways are nearly playable on the Magnolia Golf Course — one of two 18-hole championship courses. More than 1,000 swaying palms are in place on the Palm Course and its grass is also turning green.

Paving machines are at work in the 14,000 car main parking area.

Campsites are being groomed in the Fort Wilderness camping area for recreational vehicles. Four steamboat docks have been completed.

A four-lane divided boulevard from U.S. Highway 192 across five miles of woodland and plain to the construction site has been paved and landscaped.

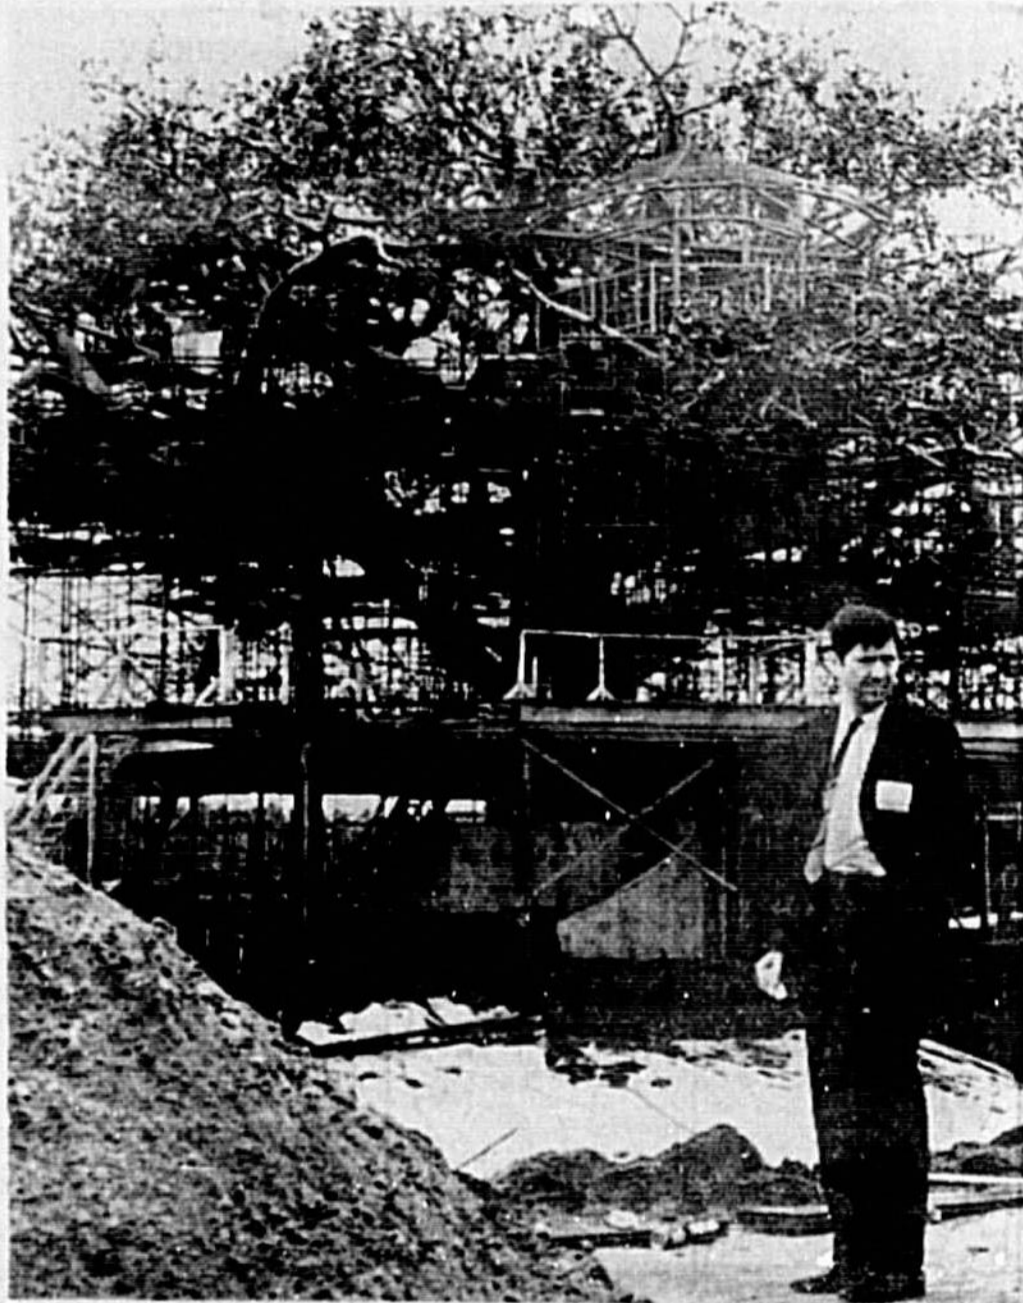

Within the Disneyland-type theme park, a small ocean is nearly ready for submarine voyages "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea." Theaters are being finished for "Country Bear Jubilee", Mickey Mouse Revue and The Hall of Presidents where all 36 chief executives from Washington to Nixon, will appear in lifelike realism on stage.

The "Audio-Animatronics" system figures for these and other shows are being "taught" to move and speak by Disney "Imaginizers" and their computers at WED Enterprises in Glendale, Calif. The first such figures are in transit from the Pacific Coast.

Among them are Disney characters, "jungle animals", singing bears, ghosts and the colorful birds, flowers and tropical gods who will sing at the Sunshine Pavilion in Adventureland.

Elaborate stage sets for "It's a Small World" with its 600 singing and dancing "children" and for Mr. Toad's Wild Ride are being installed. Similar sets for Snow White's Adventure and Peter Pan's Flight are being painted in scenic design shops.

Among many dining facilities, the thoroughly Victorian Crystal Palace restaurant is thrusting its glass domes into the skyline. Giant gothic arches are in place for another unique dining spot, King Stefan's Banquet Hall in Cinderella's Castle.

Exterior work is finished on such varied structures as a steamboat landing, a New England tavern and an alpine ski-lift style chalet.

All across the nation boats, cars and other components for these and other adventures are being manufactured, painted and shipped to the site.

First of 90 antique wooden horses are on their way for one of the world's largest carousels.

Thousands of trees, shrubs and flowering plants are being planted as part of the carefully planned landscape which covers the 2,500-acre family resort.

A 12,000-watt central energy plant is ready to supply power and air-conditioning for the entire site. Other utility plants are nearing completion. Giant piping is in place for an automated trash disposal system.

A new sense of excitement has been apparent in recent weeks among the 6,000 workmen at the site and hundreds more in factories, design shops and planning rooms as six years of design and building are now taking solid form.

Schools Lose Out

By MARION BETHEA

Associate School Supt. Walter Teguise has announced that a recent ruling by Judge Ben Willis, Tallahassee, in a suit emanating from a tax ratio comparison study, will result in a loss to Seminole County schools of approximately $92,000.

The matter stemmed from a 67-county tax assessment comparison, and the loss in the state education money this budget year had been earmarked for teacher salaries. Although Teguise noted that the money was not included in the revenue which was anticipated in the 1970-71 budget, nevertheless the school board had earmarked it for funding of a recent salary increase given to teachers.

An estimate had been given that the salary increase of four per cent, effective Feb. 29, would cost $140,000 for the remainder of the budget year. Of this amount, $55,000 was allocated from unused salary funds already in the budget, with the balance of $85,000 to be covered with the money from the state which is now "lost."

Should the court ruling not be appealed by Floyd Christian, commissioner of education or by Ernest Ellison, state auditor general, the money must necessarily come from the county contingency fund.

The $92,000 was to be this county's share of a fund which was initiated under the provisions of House Bill 4336 which was adopted by the 1970 Legislature.

This fund and other tax equalization money, which was also provided in the bill, and calculated on each county's ad valorem tax assessment ratio ratio. Judge Willis, in his ruling, said that the tax ratio studies performed by a Tampa firm were faulty. However, Judge Willis ruled that the law which ordered the tax ratio studies is valid.

The tax ratio study was undertaken in order to equalize education funding between counties which have low property valuation but a high pupil enrollment, and those where the reverse is true.

Seminole County is not eligible for the equalization money because its tax assessment ratio, according to studies undertaken by the Tampa firm is 81 per cent, and below the state average of 83.22 per cent. Nevertheless, Seminole County, according to the ratio computations, did qualify for a pourover fund.

Since we're back on that subject again . . . and I promise not to leave it until a satisfactory conclusion is reached, there's been some second guessing, or re-adjustment of some thoughts on the matter, eventually.

By some others . . . yes; but as far as I'm concerned, I'll stick with my original impression on the matter.

"They're using Calley . . . and charging him beyond all sense of reasoning. Pre-meditated murder just couldn't have been done . . . and done alone by a 2nd Lieutenant!"

It would be well to repeat the words of some others on this matter, like the editorial which appeared in the Miami Herald, as an example:

"The injustice of the Calley decision was not the finding of the court from the most believable evidence that there had been a massacre at My Lai, and thus a crime, but the singling out of a soldier for punishment during a war which, as the majority had come to realize, was itself futile and a crime against its interests as well as humanity."

That's what I'm talking about . . . it isn't just Calley . . . it's YOU AND ME, BROTHER, cause we're sitting on our duffs and let the old rats do all the planning, while the young spill their blood.

It's a miserable "political" war . . . not in the sense that the Democrats nor the Republicans are solely to blame . . . we, the American public are the ones to fault.

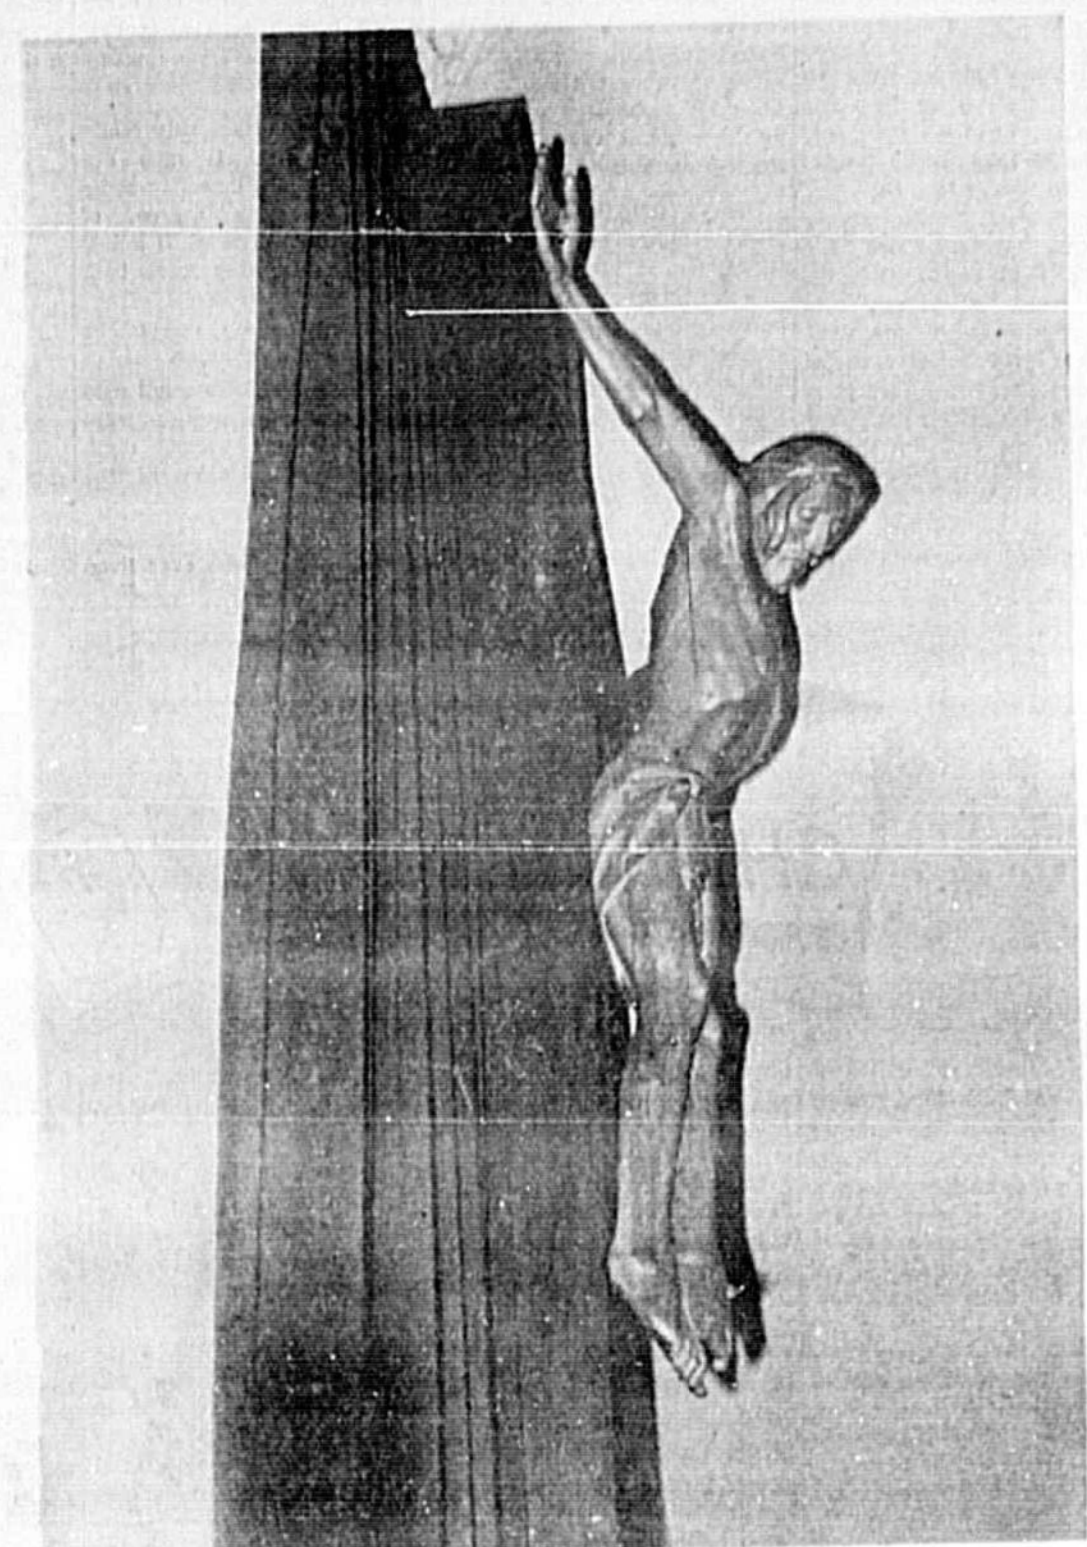

Maybe I'd do better by referring to it as a "senseless" war . . . cause if we had stopped this war just say four or five years ago, how many more Americans would be alive yet? What really rattles my cage is that all this public out-crying . . . all the worst statements . . . all the "bull" that some of these weakling politicians who can now see the tide shifting the other way . . . because of 22 lives in My Lai . . . All I ask is . . .

Were in God's name were they when 50,000 — FIFTY THOUSAND — American boys were getting knocked off? Why didn't they sound off with indignation then?

Just a matter of opinion, of course, and that's what this is, and all about anyhow, now isn't it?

HEW Grant Offered FTU

FTU—The College of Education at Florida Tech University has been awarded a $154,879 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to establish a Multi-Cultural Education Center for Central Florida.

The grant, the largest single sum awarded FTU to date. It was made through the Emergency School Assistance Program of HEW's Office of Education.

Dr. C. C. Miller, Dean of Education at FTU, called the award "just wonderful, and another indication of the fine work and dedication of our faculty."

Dr. David Hernandez was instrumental in developing the basic concept of the program.

Dean Miller was joined by Dr. Robert Cowgill, Assistant Dean of the College, and coordinator for advanced education projects, who noted that the grant will permit the University to become even more involved in elementary and secondary education in the region.

The Multi-Cultural Center, which is to be located on the FTU campus, will serve as "an initiation point and clearing house" for a number of projects, Dr. Cowgill observed.

The objective of the grant study will be creation of a program of individualized instruction through a series of target areas that include the development of "diagnostic and prescriptive techniques" to fit different teaching staffs, and the development of materials and study aids that can be used in various situations and environments.

Another objective of the FTU grant will be implementation of a model program for extending cooperation between public schools and the University.

On Midway Building Zoning Appeal Set

Sanford builder W. O. Unsworth will go before the Seminole County Commission Tuesday to appeal the decision of the zoning board to deny his request for a zoning change on 20 acres in the Midway area from agricultural to residential-1.

Unsworth, who hopes to build 27 low cost homes on the tract located east of Brisson Avenue and south of Celery Avenue, says that he anticipates approximately 250 persons will attend the commission meeting to support his appeal.

Zoning Director Robert Brown had turned down the request on the recommendation of County Engineer William Bush, who cited drainage problems in that area, which is primarily farmland and subject to seasonal flooding in the past.

Unsworth charged in a Herald interview that Bush has a conflict of interest that should bar him from impartial judgment in this case.

"We offered to help financially in the drainage project, but Bush said the county couldn't find the money, then managed to find $7,000 to put on Sand Lake Road. It looks like they could come up with $1,000 to fix their drainage problem," opined Unsworth.

Unsworth stated, "There is no trouble with drainage on our property but the problem is 1,300 feet away and they are trying to put it on us. The problem has existed 25 years and will another 25 if it isn't taken care of now," he continued.

He accused the farmers owning the neighboring property of blocking his efforts to change the zoning. Harold Halsey, also with Unsworth Builders, said, "Some of these people want to help have worked for the very ones who are objecting since they were children, now it comes time for the people to have something and they deny them the right to progress."

"If need be, we will organize these people and get a decent wage paid so they will be able to afford to live where ever they want."

Halsey concluded "The people in Midway need to stand on their own feet."

County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond recommended to commissioners that consideration be given to architect Eoghan Kelly in future contracts, in county government since his firm offers the lowest fee for services at six per cent of the basic services and $25 hourly for additional services. Most other firms, according to County Attorney Harold Johnson, have gone to seven per cent of the basic cost.

Drummond stressed that his statement does not preclude other firms, but that with the low cost of Kelly's firm, this should certainly receive the consideration of the commission.

Drummond noted that at a one per cent savings, on a million dollar contract, for instance, the savings to taxpayers would amount to $10,000.

Kelly's firm is the architect for the new county mental health facility, which voters approved in the amount of $325,000.
