Americans Find Nazi Archives In Castle Vault

Files of Rosenberg, Race Theorist, May Help Convict Chiefs

LICHTENFELS, Germany, Apr. 27.—The documents, library and correspondence of Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, who formulated the Nazi racial theories and much of the political philosophy of the Third Reich, have been discovered here in a cellar five stories below the sixteenth-century Lichtenfels Castle.

This evidence, which dates at least to 1922 and may well provide the means to convict not only top Nazis but countless others, was turned over to the Americans by Baron Kurt von Behr, who said he was Rosenberg's right hand man. The castle had all the elements of the mythology the Nazi leaders seem to relish.

Baron von Behr first approached Captain Samuel Haber, military government officer and former New York lawyer, on the subject of the documents late last week, and offered to make a deal.

"The baron, for some strange reason, was intent on buying some space at the castle for himself and his wife," Captain Haber said. "He told me that if I would give him permission for Rosenberg's right hand man, the castle had all the elements of the mythology the Nazi leaders seem to relish."

He told me the whereabouts of the documents, and naturally I immediately slipped away to the place.

Investigation showed that the documents had been secreted in a giant vault in the cellar. The vault was sealed with concrete, but mounds of documents, presumably an overflow, also were found outside.

In the mean time the baron had been granted the right to occupy one of the rooms at the castle, the rest of which is being used as a hospital for German prisoners of war.

The document came during the week end when the baron and his wife were found dead in their bathroom room. The pair had committed suicide in a way that seemed almost too stereotyped to be true—they had taken poison and washed it down with good French champagne of 1918 vintage. When American soldiers found the bodies still was standing on the night table.

Prior to the baron's death, the military government had extracted the information that Rosenberg himself had been in this small town north of Bamberg only three weeks ago.

In 1930, there were almost 14,000,000 foreign-born white persons in the United States. In 1940, the number had decreased to less than 12,000,000.

Approximately 2,000,000 services have subscribed to hundreds of weekly newspapers in the United States.

Louisiana is divided into "parishes," originally for religious purposes but kept for government divisions.

State Car Insurance Proposed for Drivers Reinstating Licenses

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 27. (AP)—Two members of the House today introduced a bill which would require automobile drivers to obtain liability insurance or give security before their licenses are reinstated after their conviction of offenses for which license may be suspended.

The measure, offered by Representative C. McMillan and Harry McDonald of Hillsborough County, would apply to persons who left an unsatisfied judgment of more than $100 in a civil suit for damages.

Drivers coming under terms of the act would be required, before they could renew their drivers' licenses, to take out a three-year $5,000 liability insurance policy, post an equivalent bond, or deposit securities worth $5,000.

The law would be invoked upon conviction for manslaughter committed by negligent or drunken operation of an automobile, driving while intoxicated or two convictions within 12 months for reckless driving.

We offer you a personal auto mobile liability policy, premium paid annually or semi-annually—written in the world's largest automobile insurance company, safeguarded in state, coverage and claim payments. Get the best or lose, phone 178-1. C. M. Boyd Co.—Ad.

ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A good many of our citizens may be of the erroneous opinion that things that we have acquired in this County, such as the Naval Station, U.S.O. Building, improvement of the City water supply, permanent labor camp, U.S. Employment Office, improvement of Road 44 in Volusia County, paving of Park Avenue, having Road 44 in Seminole County and Road 203 and the Fosgate Road placed in the active budget of the State Road Department this year, the securing of 10 ft. of water and probably 12 ft. in the St. Johns River, the approval of Woodruff Creek, improved canning kitchen, locker plant and cold storage, just happened to come here.

This is not true. These things were accomplished by the plans made by the officials and members of this organization working with the County and City Authorities and our Legislative Representatives.

After the war, which at this time looks as though it will end soon, we will require more and better plans to continue the prosperity and advancement of our County. The road work must continue and be pushed vigorously. This benefits everyone in the County. The development of the St. Johns River and Port Facilities at Sanford will eventually affect every grower and shipper in Seminole County and Central Florida. Our facilities for accommodating winter visitors, which includes not only more and better living facilities but better recreation facilities, have to be developed to make our contemplated advertising effective. These things which we have planned require more funds and more work.

We need the financial and moral support of our present members, and we solicit the membership of all new firms and individuals.

We are endeavoring to conduct this membership drive without asking some of our very busy members to give their time to a personal solicitation.

If you will appoint yourself a committee of one to see that your membership is mailed immediately to the Chamber of Commerce, and everyone else does the same, this drive can be effected with a minimum of effort for everyone.

Soviet Children Toiled On Nazis' Polish Estates

862 Found In 1 Camp, Aged Two To 15; Parents Died In Ovens

LONDON, April 27. (AP)—A Nazi camp where hundreds of Russian children were forced to toil on German estates under threat of being sent to the gas chambers, the Soviet Embassy in London today said.

It said that the children were found in a camp in central Poland. The children were aged from two to 15. Many of them were found in a state of starvation and some were found with their feet frozen.

The children were found in a camp in central Poland. The children were aged from two to 15. Many of them were found in a state of starvation and some were found with their feet frozen.

They had been brought from there by train in closed railroad cars, which they were permitted to leave only once a day. The children were found in a state of starvation and some were found with their feet frozen.

At Konstantin they slept on boards covered with filthy rags. They were housed in a building which had been used for the storage of grain. The children were found in a state of starvation and some were found with their feet frozen.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THE SOUL THAT IS PURE ENJOYS EVERY ACT OF NATURE. WE MUST LIVE IN COMPLETE HARMONY WITH THE CREATOR: Awake, O north wind, and come thou south, blow upon my garden. Song of Songs. 4:16.

Representative Buell of Pennsylvania predicts the collapse of Germany by May 1. Nothing like playing it safe.

It's a good thing the Bretton Woods conference was not held in San Francisco. People would be calling it "the second gold rush."

"With 123 state boards, the overhead is considerable but there isn't any ceiling," says Phil Barney, Veah, and the underfoot is pretty bad around Tallahassee too.

Up in Utica, N.Y., a man led to a newspaper in order to obtain publicity and was sentenced to jail for 30 days. We don't believe there is any law against lying in this state, if no libel is involved. But there should be. The biggest job the newspapers have is sifting the true from the false and in trying to give the public nothing but the honest-to-goodness facts.

"The Women's bureau of the United States Department of Labor, according to a newspaper columnist, is warning women white collar workers to 'get on the beam' here in too late. Wartime labor shortages had to allow for inefficient women employees, but in tomorrow's world it will be different," he says. One by the fit and efficient will survive. The rest will be looking for WPA jobs.

Have you ever stopped to think why they are sometimes called the Big Three, sometimes the Big Four and sometimes the Big Five. Well, it seems that if you are talking about the United States, Britain and Russia, it is the Big Three. But if you also include China, it's the Big Four. And when you speak of the Big Five, you mean the United States, Britain, Russia, China and France, although that does seem like overdoing things a bit.

While Sanford talks vaguely of building maybe a $140,000 hospital at some time in the dim distant future, Orlando plans a $400,000 addition to the one they already have. They do things in a big way down there in Orlando. That's why they go places. "Whatever money we sink in the hospital," Martin Anderson writes, "will prove to be a tremendously successful civic and economic investment for all of us." The more money they spend on their hospital down here, the more money the people over here will spend in it, is another way of putting it.

MM Hugh Carlton of USNM sends a check for $10 to Mayor Higgins and proposes a memorial to President Roosevelt. The Mayor thinks if other citizens could come forward with similar checks it would be a fine thing to develop a recreation park on the Wakulla River. It would be a $400,000 addition to the one they already have. They do things in a big way down there in Orlando. That's why they go places.

Although we have been reading a good deal of the time that experts who should know what they are talking about who say that a long war with Japan will follow the final defeat of Germany, somehow this to us does not seem a logical conclusion. The Japs have been doing the best they could for the last three years while Britain and the United States had their backs turned fighting the Germans. The Japs had been driven from Midway and Guadalcanal all the way back to Iwo Jima and Okinawa without the aid of Russia. What chance have they got when the Big Four give them their undivided attention. Even the Japs cannot contemplate this long line of life without some change.

Tuberculosis Control

Tuberculosis mortality in the United States, during the past forty years, has been sweeping downward almost without interruption, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, which states that, as a result, the current death rate from the disease is only about one-fifth of what it was at the start of the century. And, with present efforts in its campaign against tuberculosis, the current rate of about 40 per 100,000 is expected to be out in half, or reduced even more, by 1960.

"The improvement in tuberculosis mortality," the company says, "has been maintained at a singularly uniform per cent rate of decline through the prosperity of the 1920's, the depression of the 1930's, and the exacting years of the present war. From 1921 through 1943, the death rate from the disease decreased, on the average, by four per cent from one year to the next.

"Although the per cent rate of decline annually in the mortality from tuberculosis has been fairly consistent since 1921, the absolute amount of improvement from year to year has been decreasing. It is obvious that a decline of four per cent from a rate of about 100 per 100,000, which prevailed around 1921, means an absolute drop of four per 100,000 for the year, whereas with the current death rate of about 40, a 4 per cent annual drop amounts to only 1.6 per 100,000. Thus, although the measures against tuberculosis have been intensified since the first World War, these efforts have brought diminishing returns. This tapering-off process merely indicates that as room for improvement diminishes, it becomes increasingly difficult to make further gains."

The company makes no predictions as to when tuberculosis mortality will be reduced to "vanishing proportions," but says that this will depend upon the "vigor with which the full means of combatting the disease are utilized." A new departure in the fight against tuberculosis came in July, 1944, with the establishment of the Tuberculosis Control Division in the U.S. Public Health Service. Describing this agency, the Metropolitan says:

"Its function is to develop on a nationwide scale more effective measures for the prevention, treatment, and control of the disease. The program includes grants-in-aid and a variety of services to States and local communities; the expansion and training of medical, nursing, and technical personnel; and the carrying out of demonstrations, and of clinical and laboratory research, and general studies. The Division will also work in cooperation with various voluntary agencies in formulating plans and evaluating results."

"The new program will give added impetus to the widespread use of X-ray mobile units for mass surveys. Case finding has been, and will continue to be, one of the most important steps in rooting out tuberculosis. Through this large-scale screening process cases are likely to be found in their minimal stages, when treatment is most effective. Mass X-ray can be used particularly where large groups are concerned, as among hospital patients, industrial workers, and school children."

Roads Of Long Ago

Street scenes of 70 years were recently displayed in pictures by a metropolitan bank. The most impressive feature, apart from the by-gone country appearance of the surroundings, is the lack of paving. Mud without macadam characterized the principal highways. That the pictures told the truth is shown by a paper of a local engineer, written in 1882, stating that a city which then had 200,000 inhabitants had less than one-eighth of its roads paved, and most of those paved in a way that would never be tolerated today.

The reason for this backwardness was the lack of outside aid. Each community had to look after its own streets. Not till 1891 did any state help its subdivisions to maintain roads. New Jersey started the procession, to be imitated by Massachusetts in 1892. Federal aid, which has done more than anything else for good highways, was not started till 1916. This is one of the least mentioned but most permanently beneficial achievements of the Wilson administration.

For nearly 2,000 years no roads equalled those built by the old Romans. In road-making Americans are the Romans of today.

SANFORD FORUM

Editor, Sanford Herald, Dear Sir:

Returning to the capital after a weekend visit home I found but little apparent change in the legislative situation, that is from what a non-member is able to deduce from a flood of rapid conversation and vacuous speculation heard in the lobby.

It is evident, even to an inexperienced observer, that some of the scions don't yet know exactly where they are "at." I believe they (or a majority of them, at least) are making a bona fide effort to arrive at a logical solution of the multitudinous problems confronting them.

The older, more experienced members have gotten their bearings and are on an even keel. The rookies fall in line when and as they are convinced that the old timers are on the right course. The varied interests and the geography of this state preclude the possibility of all members seeing eye to eye. Where differences of opinion can be composed by reasonable compromise there is a tendency to agree, but in some instances the breach is too wide to bridge. As the session progresses toward mid-term we may yet be treated to some oratorical acrobatics that will be interesting, or at least amusing.

Very truly yours, J. R. Lyles

THE POSTMAN NEEDS A RAISE

NEW YORK DAILY MIRROR

Postal workers are human beings. They have homes and families. They are ambitious for their children. They try to give them a good education. They try to save something for old age. Thousands of their sons are fighting in the war.

Indeed, they can qualify for membership in that great majority group which the present administration in Washington deigns to call the "common man."

But if this administration were to be judged solely on its callous treatment of the Government's own postal employees, it would go down not as the friend but the oppressor of the common man.

It was 20 years ago, under President Coolidge, that the mailman's salary was raised from a maximum of $1,500 to a maximum of $2,100 annually.

Of recent years, he has been caught between the rillstones of wartime inflation and high taxes while his own income remained virtually static.

Even the current temporary "bonus" of $300 annually expires June 30 unless Congress extends it.

Who is this postal worker whose income barely provides him with a workable subsistence?

Is he one of the army of bureaucrats who infest Washington and the nation to the number of nearly 3,000,000?

Is he one of those Government "servants" of whom Representative Carl Wilson, of Indiana, said last week that they show up late, sleepy, sometimes drunk, that they overstay their lunch hours, that they run personal errands on office time that they take time out for coffee and "cokes," then start getting ready for the evening's social whirl?

Hardly. Those of whom Representative Wilson spoke are the "elite," the "aristocracy" of Government "service," the know-it-allers who are making a good thing of the war by bureaucrats in the most invidious sense of that term.

Many of these, even typists who can't type and clerks who can't file, make more money than the maximum paid in the Postal Service.

The postal worker is the true civil servant. The standards of his job are high. He is the clerk who speeds your letter on the way to your boy overseas. He is the postman who brings the reply.

He's handcuffed and gagged by the Hatch Act from mixing into politics—so he can't help himself; he has to depend on public opinion to win his battle.

Perennially there are bills in Congress to give him a decent break. They die in committee.

This year there is the Burch Bill, sponsored by Representative Thomas G. Burch, of Virginia, chairman of the House Post Office Committee.

The gist of it is that it would give an immediate $400 a year increase, overtime based on a 40-hour week, and—more important—an opportunity for postal workers in large cities to be upgraded to $3,000 a year and those in smaller cities to $2,700 a year over a period of years.

The bill appears to be fair and just. It should be passed. If it is to be, it must have widespread public support. And it should have the support within the administration of those figures, notably New York's Senator Wagner, whose claims of benefit-

Governor Caldwell Accuses Lobby Of Fighting Tax Bill

(Continued From Page One) and see how far you will get. TALLAHASSEE, April 27, 45.—Gov. Caldwell's buffeted beer tax increase bill appeared to be on its way to passage, but his four-cent cigarette levy was still in trouble. The bid to raise the beer tax from seven-eighths of a cent to three cents a bottle was revived by a technical parliamentary maneuver from Wednesday's defeat in the House Temperance Committee. Then preliminary floor tests in both Senate and House indicated enough support to pass it. By an 18 to 16 vote though the Senate declined to override its Finance and Taxation Committee's adverse report of the House-approved administration bill to add another penny to the cigarette tax. Its supporters immediately started trying to switch the 10 votes needed to win on a move for reconsideration expected tomorrow. Features Activity The tax matters overshadowed all other legislative developments of the day. The beer tax developments came rapidly in both branches of the legislature. Shortly after the House conference, Rep. Harris of Pinellas challenged the Temperance Committee's 14 to one unfavorable report on grounds that it had not been submitted within the 14 days a bill may be held by a committee. Chairman Carlton of the committee said he sent the report to the House clerk yesterday afternoon before the time expired but did not sign it until this morning. Speaker Evans Cray ruled the report should have been filed in such form that it could have been prepared overnight. The House then defeated by a 60 to 29 vote, a motion by Rep. Papp of Monroe to send the measure back to the Temperance Committee. That left the decision up to the Finance and Taxation Committee to which the bill had been referred and which had obtained a 15-day extension of time in which to consider it. Later in the day, the finance group sent the bill to the House floor with its 11 to nine approval. Meanwhile, the senate reached an identical bill that had been put on the calendar over an adverse report of its Finance Committee last week. Supporters called to get enough votes to waive the rules and pass it immediately, but they successfully fought off amendments to cut the proposed tax to two cents a pack in one and a quarter cent a bottle. The vote on amendment were 23 to 12 and 22 to 11. Consideration Delayed Final consideration was delayed perhaps till Friday. In order to get the cigarette tax bill to the House floor, the administration must gain 10 votes. The bill received 16 to date, and it takes 26 to make up the two-thirds required to override a committee. Rep. Simpson of Jefferson urged the House Finance Committee to approve the beer tax bill despite a request by Rep. Collins of Sarasota for delay to see how much money will be needed. Simpson called the 29 House vote of recommending the measure "a clear mandate" to bring it out of the Finance Committee and declared "this bill is getting out. The pressure is getting so strong we ought to put it on the floor and get it over with." He said: "There is some talk that this will force out the utility tax" (which the governor proposes to levy on the cigarette and beer tax bills raise the $11,000,000 a year he estimates will be needed). "I don't think the utility tax has anything to do with it, for one will be willing to let the cigarette and beer taxes pass, to go down and see if the governor will add up our appropriations, draw a line and see how much else will be needed."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, I'm sure I'll never forget it. But this will interest you, Judge. I heard just yesterday that the revenue men raided a big still right near there. Guess that's where all that high priced moonshine we heard about had been coming from." "Wouldn't be a bit surprised. I saw in the paper the other day where the Government had hidden thousands of such stills during the past year."

A CARELESSLY THROWN MATCH CAN CAUSE A MILLION-DOLLAR FOREST FIRE!

a MATCH never cares where it lights...

Not what it lights and every year matches tossed carelessly into the underbrush cause millions of dollars in damage. Forest fires annually burn over areas equal to the entire State of North Carolina. While lightning starts some fires, man is the chief offender. Burning matches or cigarettes tossed from a moving automobile or along a pathway, an unattended, smoldering camp fire can easily start a raging holocaust. Forest rangers have gone to the top, so there are fewer men available to detect and fight forest fires. These fires have a greater chance than ever to get started before they are observed. BE SURE no spark of fire is left in your camp fires, used matches, discarded cigars and cigarettes. Don't let your carelessness deplete our forests, threaten lives or property.

Florida's forests are among its most valuable resources. Much of its present prosperity is based on these forests. An important part of its development into a great industrial Empire in the future depends on even greater use of these resources in many new lines of production. Help build Florida's future by protecting its forests.

Sgt. Roger Wansley In Ninth Air Force

NINTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, France, Apr. 27.—(Special) Sgt. Roger L. Wansley of Lake Wales is a member of the 10th Mobile Communication Squadron of the Ninth Air Force which recently was awarded the Meritorious Service Plaque for superior performance of duty during connection with tactical operations of both US Air and Ground Forces prior to and during the invasion of the Continent. Sgt. Wansley, a radio operator and mechanic who is charged with transmitting weather information and keeping the sets in repair, works in a team with members of the 21st Weather Squadron, supplying weather reports to all the armies. The citation covered the period from January 1, 1944 to July 1, 1944 when the squadron with detachments working in England, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and Germany, furnished weather communications to all commands of the Ninth Air Force, in a division to the U.S. Third, Seventh, and Ninth Armies, and the First Tactical Air Force and First Allied Airborne Army. Completely mobile and operating under combat conditions, often under fire, each of the squadron's detachments is capable of setting up and operating an hour after arriving at a new location. Sgt. Wansley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Wansley, has been overseas 18 months. He served in England prior to his departure for the continent. In 1944, sendable U.S. income amounted to $138,000,000,000.

Real-Life Owner Of Duffy Tavern Killed In Burma

Lt. Duffy, D.F.C. Flyer With Purple Hearts Dies In Accident

NEW YORK CITY, Apr. 27 (AP)—First Lieut. Bernard C. Duffy, aerial photographer in the Army Air Forces, was killed in action on Jan. 3 when an amphibious truck he was riding on during a reconnaissance mission overturned in the rapids of the Irrawaddy River in Burma, according to word received from the War Department by his wife, Mrs. Wilhelmina Duffy, at their home at 200-17 119th Avenue St. Albans, Queens.

Lieut. Duffy operated Duffy's Radio Tavern at 250 West Fourth Street until the week after the bombing of Pearl Harbor. His name became nationally known because he permitted his friend, Ed Gardner, to use it on a radio program called "Duffy's Tavern." One of the characters in the program is Duffy, the saloonkeeper, who never appears, never speaks and has never been described.

Lieut. Duffy received the Distinguished Flying Cross last October from General Joseph W. Stilwell and in addition held the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters. He was awarded the Purple Heart twice because his wounds suffered in action.

John and Helen Duffy, three brothers, Electrician's Mate Francis J. Duffy of the Navy, Private First Class Raymond Duffy of the Army, both serving in the Pacific war theater, and Stephen D. Duffy, recently honorably discharged from the Army after serving in the Pacific area and these sisters, Mrs. Helen Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Gurn, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Duffy, a telephone operator at the New York Herald Tribune.

Attached to a flight of nine B-24s as chief photographer, his crew named their plane Duffy's Radio Tavern. The plane crashed after 200 hours of combat flying and Lieutenant Duffy, wounded in the hip by shrapnel, was sent back to the United States for treatment. His next assignment was to Duffy's Second Radio Tavern, another B-24 flying in Burma.

Lieut. Duffy was born in New York and was graduated in 1934 from George Washington High School. A reunion mass will be celebrated at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning at Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church, 325 West Forty-second Street.

Surviving besides Lieut. Duffy's wife are his mother, Mrs. Della Duffy, a stepson and daughter.

Three quarters of a million women's wives and infants received care under the emergency maternity and infant-care program during the first two years of its operation.

fit," and gives them his forwarding address.
It was in June, 1940, that Harold Stanley, whose father had fought with the Canadian Army in World War I, decided to join the Canadian Air Force, which in turn became a part of the British Royal Air Force. As a flight sergeant he participated in 12 bombing raids over Europe before he was reported missing. During the time he has been a prisoner, according to his parents, he has been moved to various prison camps, one of them in East Prussia, and it is believed that he was in the Hannover area when liberated. He was a prisoner for several months before Pearl Harbor. The last letter received by his parents was dated Nov. 30.

Hornfly Millions Killed At Wight Ranch By DDT

spray cart attached to a Ford-Ferguson tractor and with a length of hose and nozzle leading from the tank. This had been loaned by Henry Schumaker. Five gallons of DDT concentrate were mixed with 45 gallons of water for the job. This solution contained the DDT.
As the cattle were driven into the chute, it was noticeable that many were covered with swarms of horn flies. According to Dr. D. A. Sanders, veterinarian of the Florida State Experiment Station at Gainesville, who was present, this fly usually takes a full half hour to draw blood from cattle, tormenting them by making many punctures. A milky white and pleasant smelling spray came from the nozzle and as it contacted the cattle, killed the flies immediately.
The chief virtue of the spray, however, which distinguishes it from other insecticides is its lasting effect. For a longer or shorter period of time, depending on the amount of spray used, it is believed that two or three applications of the spray to cattle may reduce the horn fly population to zero.
"Universal application, however, will not come until DDT, now largely used by the government to kill insects in the South Sea Islands is more available, which, according to Mr. Skipper, will probably not be until the war is over."
Cattlemen and government experts were also enthusiastic over the results of the experiment. In one case there would be cattle stamping and milling about as the flies tormented them. In another case, cattle already treated stood quietly, their tails hardly twitching.
"This treatment, together with dipping, will make Florida the leading livestock state in the Union in the very near future," predicted County Agent C. R. Dawson, who watched with pleasure as flies in cattle and then fell off dead. "It is hoped that three applications a year will take care of the flies for the entire season," he said. "It may be possible also that the solution may be used as a saline on posts that the cattle rub against."
Today's experiment was the biggest of its kind yet conducted in Florida, according to the government men and its success, they said, would mean millions of dollars of increased revenue from cattle in the south. Controlling cattle, not treated with insects, will gain considerable weight, as they will move around less and will not lose rest at night, not to speak of blood loss in insects.
Dr. A. U. Frost, entomologist, accompanied Dr. Sanders from Gainesville. From Gainesville came K. C. Moore, county agent and from Ocala, Fla., came County Agent June Gunn. Both men were enthusiastic over the experiment. An Orlando Sheriff Charles Hood and his brother, W. S. Hood, and Orlando dairyman, and owner of bank of the Adige River, where the Germans are expected to make a stand. The seizure of Pinerolo brought the Fifth 36 miles south of Milan, one of the major cities reportedly in control of Italian partisans.

In the Pacific American infantrymen were within sight of their goals on three battlefronts as British tank columns advanced through Burma at a pace that may put them in Bangkok within three weeks. For the second successive day the U. S. 24th Corps made a general advance through the hills and bridges of southern Okinawa, biting into Japanese secondary defenses.
In the Philippines two infantry columns edged within a mile of Baguio on southern Luzon, near the climax of a 3 1/2 months drive. In the Mindanao Mountains, troops appeared to within 18 miles of the Japanese Davao Gulf stronghold.
Admiral Nimitz disclosed the Japanese are using pilot flying bombs, a logical development of their Kamikaze Suicide Air Corps, in an effort to halt the Okinawa invasion.
PARIS, Friday, April 27. (AP)—Heavily gunned U. S. Third Army tank columns battled eight miles from Austria yesterday in a hot but a swift showdown with last stand enemy troops massing at the border. In the north the British captured Bremen, Germany's second greatest port.
As these blows fell on the east and south segments of dismembered Germany, Allied capitals of Europe buzzed with reports that the Americans and Russians had met in the Elbe River area on "a front of many miles."
Censorship covered American positions at the reported junction area but the U. S. First Army told of control moving at will through German lines between the Mulde and Elbe rivers.
Bremen fell after a whirlwind assault of two days, and only one remained in the rubble to challenge the victorious British moving through the dock area of what once was a city of 850,000 people.

Child Training Urged To Curb Psychoneurosis

Thousands Of Army Rejects Only Lacked Care In Childhood
NEW YORK CITY, Apr. 27. (AP)—Thousands of men rejected for military service as psychoneurotics might have recovered if they had received adequate attention during childhood, Colonel Samuel J. Kopetsky, chief medical officer of Selective Service in New York, said recently.
Colonel Kopetsky, in a speech to Advertising Men's Post, No. 209, American Legion, at the Hotel Lexington, urged a vastly expanded public health program which would include a medical officer and staff for every 2,500 school children in the community. While such a program would embrace all health problems, he said, it would give particular attention to psychoneurotic aspects now neglected.
"It will be argued that such a program would cost too much," Colonel Kopetsky said. "Up to Jan. 1 about 4,000,000 men had been rejected by Selective Service, 40 per cent of them as psychoneurotics. Research disclosed a national average of 2,500,000 persons classed as unemployables because of their inability to adjust themselves. These and their dependents—at least one each, conservatively—are the people who are supported by public and charitable institutions, on the taxpayers' money."
Of 4,000,000 men called for induction in New York up to Jan. 1, about 375,000 were rejected as unfit, and 150,000 of these were classed as psychoneurotics. Dr. Kopetsky said. He estimated that 75 per cent of these cases might have been corrected by early

German Surrender Offer Is Reported To Be On Way; Benito Mussolini Is Put To Death By Italian Patriots

Mistress And Sixteen Other Fascists Also Meet Death By Firing Squads At Dongo

MILAN, Apr. 30, (AP)—Italian patriots executed Benito Mussolini Saturday and today a howling mob is kicking and spitting on his remains lying in the center of this city where Italian fascism was born.

Mussolini's face wears a disdainful snarl. He died shouting "No! No!" to a firing squad which took his life and that of his mistress, near the village Dongo on Lake Como at 4:10 P.M.

The body was taken by truck to Milan and dumped in the city square.

A bullet penetrated Mussolini's bald head through the left forehead and passed entirely through it, tearing out part of the skull above and behind the right ear.

The brains which took fascist Italy into the war oozed onto the fifth of a dirt pit in the center of Milan.

Along with Mussolini, the patriots killed his mistress, Clara Petacci, and 16 other Fascists, many of them members of his cabinet.

The bodies of all were brought to Milan, which American Fifth Army troops captured Tuesday. A mob of over 6000 persons immediately set upon the corpses marking the final end to fascism which carried Italy to its doom.

All bodies were strewn about a small area. A few patriot guards tried to hold the crowds back but the guards were shoved back so that they stepped on the bodies.

When the bodies were dumped today, the crowd surged forward and almost shoved me atop the body. Partisan guards began firing into the air and the crowd dispersed.

Head Rested on Mistress

Early in the morning, when the bodies were dumped into the square, Mussolini's head rested on the breast of his dead mistress. Her body had several bullet holes in the chest. Blood stains showed crimson on her white blousing and the face daintily blushing.

Harold Madden Is Now At Pearl Harbor

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Apr. 30, (Special)—Working day and night to get the damaged ships back in the fighting line are the men of the Navy's Ship Repair Unit.

A member of the Pearl Harbor Unit is Harold Madden, machinist's mate third class, USNR, of 701 Magnolia Avenue, Sanford, Florida.

Madden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Madden, living at the address mentioned above. He enlisted in the Navy on Dec. 29, 1943, and has been on the ship repair unit since before leaving the Navy.

Madden was employed as a machinist by the U. S. Naval Torpedo Station, Alexandria, Va. like thousands of other BRU men, was rewarded last fall when a U. S. Naval Force met and practically annihilated a strong Japanese surface force in the Battle of Surigao Strait, the second Battle of the Philippines.

The ships which fought the battle had returned for their repairs because of a group of 1,600 Ship Repair Unit men who three years before had gone out to Pearl Harbor and raised the USS Mississippi, USS Pennsylvania, USS West Virginia, USS California, and the USS Tennessee when the Japanese had recorded them as "sunk."

Pvt. Bruce Cameron With 5th Army In Italy

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, ITALY, Apr. 30, (Special)—Pvt. Bruce Cameron, 2nd Infantry, 5th Army, is a member of the service company of the 28th "Polar Bear" Regiment, which recently was awarded the Meritorious Service Unit Citation for superior performance of duty in the accomplishment of exceptionally difficult tasks on the Fifth Army front in Italy.

The award entitled him and other members of the company to wear gold wreaths on their left sleeves.

The company carried out its primary function, delivering fuel, ammunition, food and supplies to the front lines in combat, despite conditions of terrain and weather which frequently made it necessary to rely on mules and sometimes pack animals for the transport of supplies.

The plaque was formally presented to the company commander, Captain John U. Dell, Jr., 2nd Infantry, South Carolina.

The 28th is part of the 5th Army Division.

400 Trailers For Navy To Florida; 20 To Sanford

14 Naval Bases Try To Solve Housing Need With Trailers

The need for 400 trailers, part of 1,000 housing units planned by the Navy to solve the most critical housing problem for fleet returned officers and enlisted men, began to move into the state today for location at or near 14 naval bases throughout Florida.

Under present plans, the Navy estimates the trailers, replete with lighting, water and other facilities, will be ready for occupancy about May 15, while 1,400 permanent housing units will be available to their occupants about Aug. 15.

The housing problems faced by the Navy in all parts of the country, with reference to fleet returned personnel, presents a serious morale problem, it was explained, and it is believed that

Episcopal Church To Join In Service

Holy Cross Episcopal Church will participate in the Union Service of prayer and thanksgiving that will be held at 9:00 P. M. at the Baptist Church as planned by the Sanford Ministerial Association, following official announcement of V-E Day, it was stated today by the Rev. Mark T. Carpenter.

Rev. Carpenter said that this would cancel his announcement made Sunday at the church to the effect that on V-E Day, services would be held at Holy Cross Episcopal Church at 8:00 P. M. or that if the announcement came late, at the same hour on the following evening.

Instead, on the day following V-E Day, and in addition to participation in the Union Service there will be a Eucharist Service of Thanksgiving at 9:30 A. M. at the Holy Cross Church, said Rev. Carpenter.

On V-E Day, he added, service will also be held at 10:00 P. M. at Christ Church, Longwood.

All County Teachers To Get $200 Extra

Upon recommendation of Supt. T. W. Lawton, the County School Board at a meeting Thursday, unanimously voted to distribute equally among the 150 teachers of Seminole County, the county's share of the emergency appropriation made by the Legislature for salaries of teachers this year. It was announced today by Supt. T. W. Lawton.

The County's share of this appropriation will amount to $20,000. This will make a supplement of approximately $200 to each teacher, he said.

The distribution of this fund will be made to the teachers within the next 30 days unless the state superintendent rules otherwise, Mr. Lawton added.

Following the recommendations of principals and school trustees, teachers were re-appointed for the coming school year beginning in September.

OPA Cuts Back Sanford Rents To 1943 Levels

City Is Placed In Rent Control Area Effective May 15

Sanford will be placed in the rent control area effective, Tuesday, May 1, at which time rents that prevailed July 1, 1943, will be in effect. It was announced today by Russell B. Davis of Orlando area rent control director who will also be the rent control director of Sanford.

The rent control program by landlords will start on May 15, it was announced.

Mr. Davis, who works under the OPA, arrived in Sanford this afternoon to go the whole problem with A. B. Peterson, secretary of the Seminole County Price and Rationing Board.

A survey, made during the first part of the year in Sanford, showed that the increase in rents was very much higher in some areas than normal increase throughout the county. In fact, in some areas, the increase in rents was in excess of any other place in Florida, Mr. Peterson said.

Mr. Davis in a conference with Mr. Peterson stated that the percentage of increase in rents in Sanford since July 1, 1943, had been the largest in the United States.

This fact was established by survey made this year by the statistical department of the U. S. Department of Labor, which showed that the percentage of increase in rents in the Sanford area since July 1, 1943, was 44.2 (Continued on Page Two)

Hail Storm Plays Havoc Around Sanford

A hail and wind storm of short duration and limited area struck Seminole County shortly before dusk Saturday evening and scattered south Sanford, the Navy Air Station, Gindville and Lake Mary with hail that in some places piled up two or three inches deep. Torrential rains accompanied the storm which came in out of the southwest, driven by a strong wind.

A few minutes later another brief storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning, scattered into Sanford from the south and west.

Dawson county agent and this morning that he had yet received no reports of damage to crops from the storm. Lake Mary had very little hail, but the exact end of Sanford was not much affected.

Julius Dingler reported that his pepper crop in the Mesa Hammock section had not been damaged.

Lieut. Olin Greer Gets Fourth Cluster

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBING STATION, England, Apr. 30, (Special)—First Lieut. Olin E. Greer, 23, Oviedo, Florida, pilot of a B-17 Flying Fortress of the 96th Bomb Group, has been awarded a fourth cluster to the Air Medal for "distinguished achievement" while participating in Eighth Air Force bombing attacks on Nazi war targets.

The award was presented by Capt. Robert W. Warren of Verona, Texas, commanding the 96th Bomb Group which has over 300 bombing missions to its credit.

Lieut. Greer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Greer, Oviedo. He entered the service in November, 1942, and received his wings at Freeman Field, Ind. in April, 1944.

All Business Houses To Close When V-E Day Is Officially Announced

Upon official notice of V-E Day, it has been requested by Mayor Edward Higgins that all businesses close from whatever time the official announcement is received; also that City and County offices follow the same procedure.

Mayor Higgins stated that he is announcing this plan now in order to eliminate the possibility of any confusion as to the closing of the City of Sanford when V-E Day is officially announced.

Frank Pavlik, owner of The Tavern, has accepted the responsibility to see that all places of business selling whiskey, beer and wine close promptly. Mayor Higgins requested those in this line of business to keep in touch with Mr. Pavlik for instructions.

Volunteers for immediate induction were Stephen O. Shindler and George W. Carlton.
