Father Is Charged With Child Beating

PACIFIC, Calif. (UP)—Joseph Bedard, 35, was arrested on a charge of child beating after his 9-year-old stepdaughter handed her school secretary a note beginning, "I love you very much . . . please take me home with you."

The note to the secretary, Mrs. Thelma Lou Sherwood, read "Dear Mrs. Sherwood: "I love you very much. And this is what I am writing you. My father is not my real father he is my second father. And he does not like me. And my mother is my real mother but she does not like me either."

"So will you take me home with you? I will be very good to you. My father said he wanted me to run away and live with someone else. He said as long as I live in the same house as he does every night I will get whipped. And I don't want to get whipped."

"So will you please take me home with you I will love you very much. And then I would be happy."

"Because you think am happy when I help you but I am not happy. I already packed my clothes this morning. So please take me home with you. Please please please."

The girl, Burns, then told Mrs. Sherwood that her father beat her with a belt. The secretary notified authorities, who found "multiple bruises and welts" on the child's body and head.

Susan, described by school officials as an excellent student, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

AQUIRRES ON THE LOOSE ATLANTA (UP)—A bunch of squirrels apparently went nuts in the home of Mrs. Ann Gabrielle. Several of the animals entered while she was away. In their panic to find a way out they knarred up to window sashes, ripped down the Venetian blinds and broke several lamps, vases and flower pots.

Number Collecting Unemployment Up

WASHINGTON (UP)—More jobless Americans are collecting unemployment benefits than ever before and the total is expected to climb further, the government disclosed today. A Democratic senator introduced legislation to increase the benefits.

The Labor Department said in testimony published today 2,274,000 persons were drawing unemployment insurance under state programs in the week ending Jan. 4. The figure was almost 400,000 higher than the previous peak in January 1956.

The department told the House Appropriations Committee the total was expected to rise to 2,500,000.

Public Hearing Slated Monday

TALLAHASSEE (UP)—The Legislative Committee investigating subversive elements in Florida will hold its first public hearing here Monday, but nobody connected with it will say today just what or who is being investigated.

Sen. Charley Johns of Starke, committee chairman, is the only authorized spokesman and he is not talking, he said, until witnesses testify at the hearing receive their official subpoenas.

But Johns said before the committee completes its job just prior to the 1959 legislative session, it will investigate both Communism and the racial situation, before we are through, but it is impossible in any today what phase we will concentrate on in Tallahassee," Johns said.

"We are going to hold these hearings on a high plane. We don't want to smear anyone or go on any witch-hunts."

JURY PROBES CRIME

NEW YORK (UP)—A grand jury investigating crime in Brooklyn schools Wednesday renewed its demand that policemen patrol city schools to cut down on what it called a "crime wave." The jury's demand resulted from the reported rape of a 12-year-old girl by a ninth grade student in the John Marshall Junior High School Tuesday. It was the jury's third pronouncement on the subject of putting police in schools.

NO CONVOY BLOCKADE AMMAN, Jordan (UP)—Jordan will not resume its blockade of Israeli supply convoys to the Israeli enclave of Mount Scopus in Jordanian Jerusalem. Steel Industry Recession Has Run Its Course

BY CLYDE H. FANWORTH United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK (UP)—The heads of the nation's two largest steel companies agree that the recession their industry has run its course.

Neither Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel Corp. nor Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp. look for any pronounced upturn just yet.

But they say the decline has turned into a leveling off and that operations in some areas are starting to pick up gradually. Both companies reported record sales and earnings in 1957 despite drops in the fourth quarter.

Business Improves Blough, after reporting the financial results of the nation's largest steelmaker, told a news conference Tuesday U. S. Steel's January business has improved.

He said both his company and the industry in general are currently operating at 85 per cent of capacity and "my guess is that the operating rate will stay in that vicinity in the first quarter."

After issuing the Bethlehem financial report Thursday Homer predicted his company will be operating at 65 per cent of capacity in March, against 60 per cent currently.

Predicted Strong Comeback He said the industry is getting ready to go forward again after suffering both a decline in demand and rapid depletion of inventories by its customers.

"Let me tell you one thing," he added, "When the industry comes back it is going to come back hard."

Both companies added to their steel capacity during 1957, and

American Motors Reports Profit

DETROIT (UP)—American Motors Corp. held its annual stockholders meeting Wednesday and for the first time in company history management could report a profit.

What's more, president George Romney was able to tell the assembled owners that AMC shows a profit at the end of fiscal 1957—next Sept. 30—the company can keep every cent it makes and pay no taxes.

Stockholders were happy over the rise in price of AMC shares. In 1956, before Miami-New York financier Louis E. Wolfson started buying into AMC heavily, AMC was selling at low as 4 7/8 a share. It closed Tuesday at 9 1/4.

AMC is tax-free for at least five years because its operating losses have totaled nearly 75 million dollars since it was formed from Hudson Motor Car Co. and Nash-Kelvinator Co. May, 1954.

These losses were cut to about a 47-million-dollar net loss only because AMC was able to reclaim taxes paid during the previous five years and to sell Ramco, a profitable subsidiary, for $10,625,772.

Romney announced the corporation, which has cut its auto products to fashions of two and has brought out a new line of electric Kelvinator appliances, made $4,900,000 in the Sept. 30-Dec. 31 quarter.

are planning further additions this year. Together their productive capacity accounts for more than 63 million tons or nearly half the productive capacity of the entire industry.

Both U. S. Steel and Bethlehem generally fared better in 1957 than the other steelmakers. "Big Steel's" profits after taxes rose to $419,073,722, equal to $3.33 a common share from $3.18, 69¢, 91¢ on $6.01 per share in 1956. Bethlehem's net profits climbed to $191,025,913 from $161,411,626.

NEW 'SPARE PARTS' FOR HEARTS—Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel (top, left), the Georgetown University surgeon who invented the plastic valve for human hearts, now has designed a plastic heart pump that will be tried out on animals. He is working toward the day when a man-made heart can be implanted in people who are beyond surgical help. At top, right, is his original valve, which looks like a small ball, and has been used in hundreds of cases as a "spare part." At bottom, left, one of the new plastic valves is a simple, coiled, spring-type device of metal and plastic. At right, the other new valve is fashioned from silicon rubber and is a tubular device with little "doors" in the bottom that open and close automatically when the blood pulses through. Both have been successful in tests.

'Young Colonels' Are Ready To Form United Government

TOKYO (UP)—The anti-Communist "young colonels" who control most of Indonesia are ready to form a unified government, a move that could plunge the island nation into bloody civil war, it was reported today.

Indonesian rebels here and in Manila said the army insurgents would proclaim their government unless President Sukarno agrees to throw the Communists out of the present Jakarta regime.

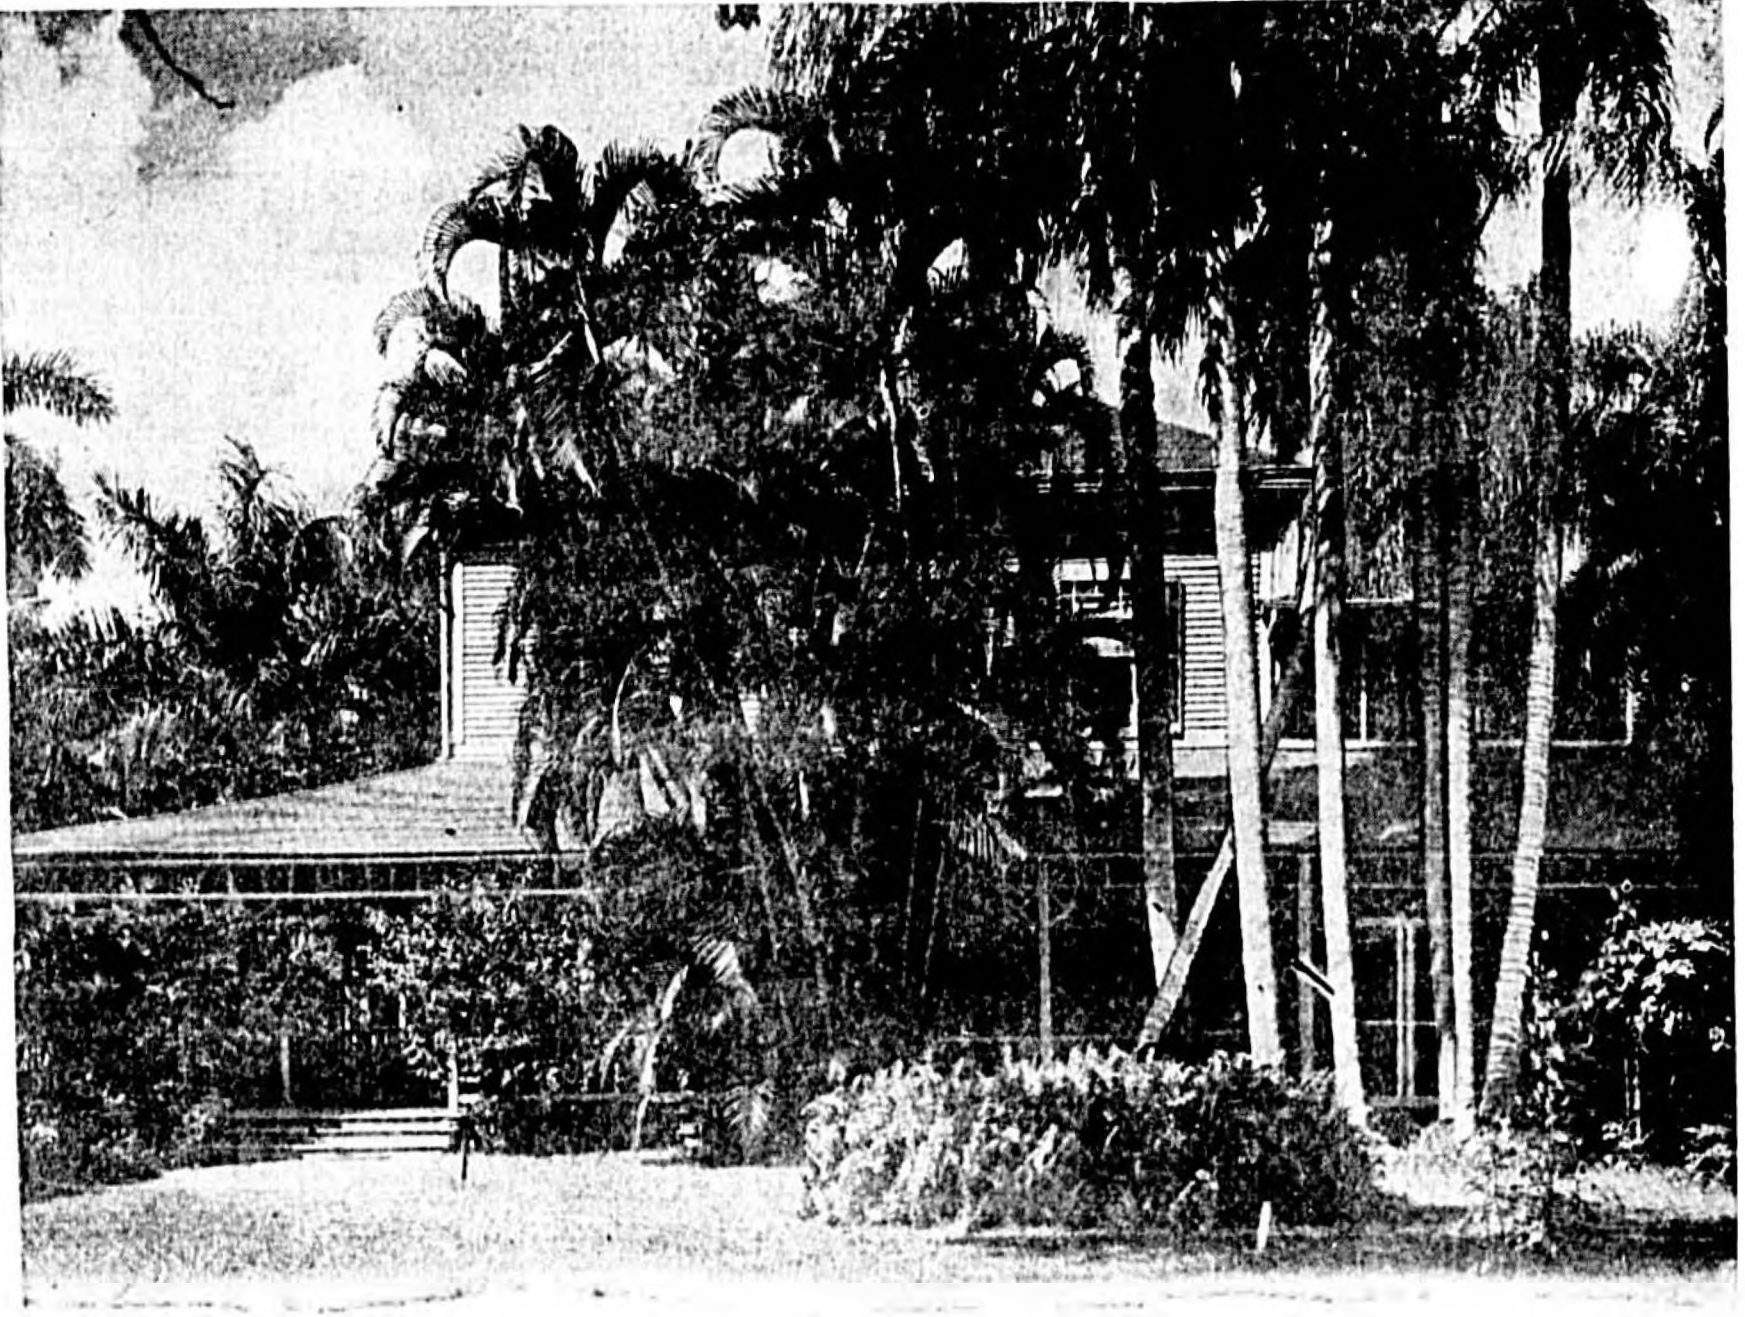

There was some disagreement on timing. Rebel Lt. Col. Ventje Samud, who has been living here under an alias since Jan. 28, said proclamation of the new government might be broadcast from Bukittinggi, its capital, "today or tomorrow."

Rebel sources in Manila said, however, that Sukarno would be given five days to make up his mind. They said the new government will be proclaimed Monday unless he has given in by then to rebel demands.

No comment could be obtained immediately from Sukarno, who is in Japan on a "vacation tour" of Asia. He spent today in the Osaka-Kobe area, and refused to talk to newsmen.

The visiting president laughed off reports Tuesday that he had been handed a rebel ultimatum by Col. Warouw, the Indonesian military attache in Peiping, when they conferred here early this week.

Radin reports heard in Jakarta said today the rebels will hold a mass meeting Saturday in Padang to "mobilize additional support" for their cause. The projected speakers' list included Siafrudin Prasinagara, a leading prospect for president of the rebel government; two insurgent regional commanders and the heads of three anti-Communist political parties.

Mr. Edison WOULDN'T KNOW HIS FLORIDA...

"Way back in 1896—only seven years after he perfected the electric light—Edison built his Florida "hideaway." Florida was not a frontier then, and when Edison offered a nearby community free electric lights, the offer was refused! "Might frighten the cows," he was told. Today, electricity is not only accepted but welcomed as a vital factor in Florida's growth—the fastest of any state east of the Mississippi!

Paraphrasing the Florida story is the phenomenal growth and continuing expansion of Florida Power & Light Company, achieved under Mr. Edison's banner of initiative and private enterprise. Florida Power & Light Company is not only growing with Florida, but is helping Florida grow!

Gaillard, Cabinet Work On Formula To Halt French Bombing Protests

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
French Premier Felix Gaillard met with his cabinet today in the early hours today in search of a formula to halt the world-wide storm of protest against the French bombing of a Tunisian village last Saturday.

But the protests multiplied and there were growing indications there would be a United Nations Security Council showdown which could damage the entire Western position in North Africa and split the NATO allies.

There were strong hints in Washington the United States would not back France in the action—that "the U. N. cannot have one rule for small aggressors and another for the large ones."

Call For Reappraisal of Bases
There were demands by Algerian nationalists at U. N. headquarters in New York that the entire question of American bases in Africa should come under "reappraisal" because the French were reported to have used U. S. planes in the attack.

Congressional leaders in Washington voiced new concern over the France-Tunisian crisis which already had brought an admission that President Eisenhower was "profoundly disturbed" at the incident which took 75 Tunisian lives.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) accused the administration of dangerous inaction in North Africa and called for U. N. and NATO to assert jurisdiction over this threat to world peace. He expressed fear all North Africa would fall to our enemies if the French-Arab conflict were not settled.

The man on the spot was the French premier. He faced angry allies, new trouble in North Africa, growing hostility in the Arab world and a nation sharply divided over the bombing. There were angry demands in the National Assembly for an explanation today.

Gaillard held a series of conferences Monday and met frequently with his cabinet. One meeting was with the stern-faced U. S. ambassador, Amory Houghton. Then Gaillard rushed back into meetings with his political leaders.

Collins Urges Approval Of Constitution Rewrite

TAMPA (UP) — Gov. LeRoy Collins warned today that failure by the people of the state to approve the proposed Constitution at the polls next September will usher in an era of sectional strife which might devastate Florida's progress.

Speaking at the Governor's Day luncheon at the State Fair, Collins said if the people fail to vote in the constitutional rewrite "then the probability is that another 25 or 30 years will pass before another opportunity will roll around to secure advantages equal to those contained in the proposed Constitution."

Collins admitted the new Constitution was not "perfect." He said, "There are too many factors, practical and political, opposing perfection in a document of this kind."

Many Advantages
But he said the advantages far outweigh the disadvantages and he urged the people to approve it.

Collins asked those who are fighting adoption of the rewrite, "Tell us by what logic you conclude that the Legislature as now constituted will submit a constitutional amendment more to our liking in the field of reapportionment."

Time and newspaper editorials will not improve our situation. Those of us who were fighting the hardest for fair representation actually found the legislators less willing to be reasonable in 1957 than they were in 1955.

It is my sincere opinion and conviction," he said, "based upon my practical experience in grappling with this problem of reapportionment, that we have good reason to believe that the Legislature will not do better than it did in 1957."

Defends "Daisy Chain"
"And we will have none—for a long time to come—if we reject this present proposal. We will be left sitting with the same stacked cards in our hands, and make no mistake about it, they are stacked against us."

Collins defended the so-called "daisy chain" which ties all of the proposed constitutional articles together so they all must pass or all will fail.

He said it would require no "mental gymnastics" to perceive that if one article was adopted and the rest failed, "much would produce greater confusion and uncertainty, and a more inefficient document from every standpoint than we have in the present Constitution."

Home Rule Benefits
The governor also said he had received a verbal report from the council of state governments which is making a study of the proposed charter.

He said the proposed article dealing with local government "contains much more recognition of growing urban problems in our state than has generally been assumed."

Much time and effort also is about the land from certain uninformed sources to the effect that the home rule provision is inadequate. Perhaps it is. But what sort of home rule do we have under the 1885 Constitution?

Commissioner Wilson stated emphatically "I feel we have taken some shortsighted action tonight—I want no part of it."

Commissioner Higginbotham offered another motion based on the Sanford Boat and Ski Club providing the city with a set of specifications of all work and materials to be done to the yacht club.

Commissioner Wilson stated emphatically "I feel we have taken some shortsighted action tonight—I want no part of it."

Commissioner Higginbotham offered another motion based on the Sanford Boat and Ski Club providing the city with a set of specifications of all work and materials to be done to the yacht club.

The motion, which drew the approval of a majority of the commissioners was... The City Attorney be instructed to draw up a lease for 51 years, providing the Yacht Club is renewed within three months, that liability insurance is provided, just as soon as the Sanford Civic Center is completed, for a period of three years, with renewal provisions.

It was agreed that the specifications must be submitted first to the board of commissioners for approval before the lease is considered.

Mayor Merle Warner said "I'm giving you fair warning, I'm going to inspect that Yacht Club building and if it doesn't come up to every degree expected, the lease will not be approved."

Board Requests Signal At 20th
The City of Sanford is one step closer to having a semi-actuated traffic signal at the intersection of 20th St. and French Ave.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners approved a resolution last night requesting a permit from the State Road Department to install the signal which would control traffic at the busy cross-town corner.

City Manager Warren F. Knowles said yesterday "Just as soon as the permit is returned we will advertise for bids."

Architect John Burton IV, attending the meeting, suggested to the commission that "the city established a policy for the sale of city-owned property and quit the willy-nilly method which has been used."

A summary of sales of city-owned property of recent dates was furnished members of the board of commissioners in order to establish a fair price for the land located in an industrial area of the city.

Three Firms Want City Owned Land On French Ave.
The Board of Sanford City Commissioners was caught between two fires last night on the sale of a piece of city owned property on French Ave.

Lee Brothers Plumbing and Heating Co., announced expansion plans that would necessitate acquiring additional lots on French Ave. to build modern showrooms and adequate storage facilities.

The Sanford firm offered the city $20,000 for the French Ave. location at a previous meeting and commissioners called for "more time" to consider the offer.

Last night it was revealed that two other firms had made offers for the property at prices substantially higher than the offer made by Lee Brothers.

Harry Lee Jr., representing the local firm said to commissioners "We certainly can't pay the appraised value of the land and we would like to know what you think a fair price would be."

Reynolds TKO's Opponent Last Nite In 2nd Round
A Sanford boxer, participating in the State Golden Gloves Tournament being fought in Jacksonville, came out on top last night in his first fight of the week.

Randy Reynolds, 22-year-old featherweight, with a string of 10 wins for top place in the tournament, defeated his opponent last night with a TKO in the second round.

"He looks mighty good," said Hugh Greer, trainer for the two boxers from Sanford who are fighting the Golden Gloves event in the state matches.

"Don't think he'll have too much trouble if he gets by tonight's match," Greer stated.

However, Reynolds has a string of matches to fight. He'll be fighting every night. Sonny Powell, who was in Jacksonville last night to see the fights off to a good start, said:

Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Seven, accompanied the two transoceanic aircraft in a P2V "Neptune". The P2V will carry a maintenance support group to assist the A3As in the event they encounter maintenance difficulties enroute. Accompanying Lt. Knight on the P2V are: Lt. "Doc" Linker, co-pilot; Lt. Both of the new lion cubs are in excellent spirits and, according to City Manager Warren E. Knowles, becoming acclimated to their new home.

The female of the pair has been suffering with a cold since arriving in Sanford from the Cleveland O. Zoo. However, with careful and watchful attention, the young lady lion is feeling good and eating.

They'll naturally be attracted to the sunny, open area and folks can see them readily," City Manager Knowles said.

Nearly every area of the Municipal Zoo has felt the touch of redecoration and renovation. Attractive colors are beginning to show up and new cages and pens are replacing the unattractive old ones.

So far no names have been chosen for the lion cubs recently added to the Sanford Zoo family.

We must get behind this voting and see that Ida Mae Sjolom is elected queen. There are voting places in each Lake Mary place of business and at the main voting place in Sanford on First St. Not the Lake Mary Queen Candidate but the candidate from the Jaycees is Mrs. Jeannie Klinsfelter, a Lake Mary resident. Also Mrs. Joy Cracker the Longwood candidate is married to a former Lake Mary resident Roger Cracker.

Mrs. C. C. White is home after spending a few days last week in St. Petersburg with her nephew. She expects to make her home in St. Petersburg in the near future. Mrs. Joe Irving reports that daughter Shirley Howell of Washington, D. C. is improving each day. Mrs. Roy Howell Sr. is spending a few weeks in D. C. with the younger Howells.

It would be nice if we could all remember to send Mrs. Anna Co-wan a birthday card on Friday, Feb. 14. I understand it will be her 81st birthday. She is confined to her home now but I'm sure that she would enjoy hearing from all her friends. Her address is just Lake Mary.

I gave a stork shower Friday evening for Barbara Eubanks Hickson. It was wonderful for the old crowd to get together. Her sister Marjorie from Orlando came up for the evening and the women served dinner to them at noon. This was a community project. Again the men who were the original few plus many more worked each Saturday to help with the roof, windows, etc. Among those added to the list of workers were James Thompson, H. B. Fennell, James Benson, Earl Toney, Sidney Fowler, the Sweikerts, R. E. Ture, Arthur Crocker, Arthur Alling, Bob Willis, Bobby Willis, Dave Willis, Ricky Routh, Lanny Emerson, Don Kirkner, Bill Cook, the Rev. Alexander Linn and Steve Sherlock.

Ellis Lloyd, in his quiet way, was helpful when he drew several loads of dirt for filling and other purposes. There are many many more who were busy doing not the big things that everyone notices but the small details that count so much but just don't show. Now for the finishing. Again many hours were spent by the men of the church. Walter Piper and Will Ferguson's names join the others of the roll of helpers. There are still many many things to be done to complete the building but with God's will and the cooperation of the entire congregation it will be finished and used as it was intended, not only for the spiritual needs of the congregation but the needs of the community as well.

The Imperial dam, stretching 3,475 feet across the Colorado river, makes deserts bloom in two states. The dam raises the river level 23 feet, and gives birth to California's All-American canal and Arizona's Gila Main canal.

Not all the ideas and plans were used but devoted men and women worked to fulfill a dream begun many years ago by a few members of the congregation, and first suggested to session in 1854. In April of that same year the Westminster Fellowship entertained the Session and asked them about the idea of such a building to be used to further the spiritual needs of the congregation and help with the recreational need of the community. Original plans were drawn by a member of the church, William Pulver, and revised by the building committee as they saw the needs of the building take shape. The footing was dug in the summer of 1935. All those who worked so long and hard on the "digging" cannot be named but some of them were George Patterson, George Patterson Jr., Chuck Bone, Bill Pulver, the Rev. L. W. Scott. All of this group have since moved away but are still interested in the progress of their project. Others in on the hard work at the start were Harry Smith, P. D. Anderson, A. F. Kemp, H. M. Gleason, Joe Smathers, Marshall Smith and Richard Keogh.

The walls were built in 1936 and the roof trusses erected in the summer of 1937 and finished in the fall of the same year. The money was raised by a series of suppers put on by the Friendship Sunday school Class of Young Adults and the Building Committee plus donations from the members and friends of the congregation. In the fall of last year a series of building bees were planned for each Saturday. The men worked each morning and the women served dinner to them at noon. This was a community project. ## Is Traffic Safety Intended For One Individual Or Many?

Is traffic safety for a particular individual or is it for everybody in general?

The latter is what we thought traffic safety was meant for. But the way individuals continue to evade traffic ordinances and laws make those who believe in safety on the streets and highways a bit dubious.

Those who scream the most about speed, stop signs, school zones and other regulations intended for the protection of the motorist are those who are seen dashing through school zones far above the 15-miles-per-hour required. Or they round corners at such an angle that it is dangerous for one to be parked nearby or to drive up to the intersection. They evade stop signs with a craning neck to see if anyone is looking. And speed is something to be forgotten unless a police car is seen in the rear-view mirror.

Parents with cars loaded with children have been seen dangerously speeding through school zones — obviously not caring about children playing in school yards or about to cross streets to attend school.

The motoring public has gotten to be a group of people who forget that courtesy is the "essence of safety," and look to but one thing — getting to wherever they're going at whatever the cost.

Noticeable now, at a possible moment law enforcement officers should be cracking down on violators, is the "one light guy". Any number of types of accidents could happen when such a violation is permitted or a motorist continues to avoid having lights repaired.

Motor scooters travel up and down the streets and highways, darning in and out of traffic, most times in the center of the street, and often with no lights when traveling is done at night.

No wonder accidents continue to pile up and insurance rates increase!

The suggestion that automobiles be "impounded" for various lengths of time if violations lead to an arrest, might be a good one — at least it would take the motorist off his "wheels" long enough to contemplate and realize that there are laws to be observed — for the safety of everybody, not just one particular individual.

New Form Of County Government

One of the Economic Leaflets, published monthly by the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, College of Business Administration, University of Florida, written by J. E. Dovel, Professor of Political and Social Sciences, is on "County Government in Florida."

A section of the four-page article is written on the "reorganization of county government" and "proves interesting as an attempt in the direction suggested was made recently."

Quoting the article "County government is something of a mystery to the citizen; a few understand the maze of offices, boards and agencies at the county seat. Democracy is not found merely in periodic elections; rather, democracy means a government held accountable between elections. But how can the citizen hold a government to account when frequently they cannot comprehend the organization and operation of that government?"

"The adoption of county charters would enable counties to use the single executive plan so popular in modern business enterprises. This plan has been adopted by many Florida cities and has enjoyed phenomenal growth and success as the commissioner-manager council-manager form of government. Under this plan the voters elect the commissioners who, in turn, select a trained administrator to carry out the policies laid down by the commissioners as the representatives of the people. If the manager supervised the business of the county with economy and efficiency, he would be reappointed. If the manager failed, he would be replaced just as would the manager of any enterprise who could not operate a business successfully.

"The county manager plan operates successfully in Maryland, North and South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, and other states. The realignment of functions and the better services have saved the taxpayers time and, more important, money. Although the manager plan is being adopted by more cities every year, the growth of the county manager plan has been slow. Perhaps the reluctance to change the old pattern is the fault of the citizens who give lip service to the movements for better government but are seldom aroused over county government. The citizens may criticize the county officials for waste, inaction, or failure, but too generally there is no criticism of the antiquated system which promotes and prolongs these things. The greatest need is to modernize the system of county government."

One attempt to create the county manager plan in Seminole County was made but failed to be approved by commissioners in such a majority that it would have been adopted.

With its growing popularity, no doubt the plan will come up again for consideration.

Cattle Face Death By Starvation

KEECHOOBEE (UP)— J. O. Pearce Jr., president of the Florida Cattlemen's Assn., warns that 80 per cent of Florida's big cattle herds face death by starvation unless they can get emergency feed.

Pearce said unless there is an immediate improvement in the weather, upwards of 275,000 cattle will die in the next five weeks. Thousands of cattle already have died from three severe freezes and heavy rains that have ruined the winter feeding ranges.

"I've never known of cattlemen being in such bad shape with the worst month of the year starting them in the face," he said.

Pearce said that 80 per cent of the state's 1,400,000 cattle are raised south of Ocala, where ranchers depend on pasture land to carry them through the winter. They have only a little supplemental feed and hay.

Pearce said most ranchers are nearly out of feed and cannot afford to buy more. And feed dealers say they don't have enough to sell anyway.

The cattle association chief criticized the federal government for a "stupid" emergency food program. He said the government will only give surplus grain to ranchers who can't afford to buy feed and refuses to sell feed at low prices to those who can afford to buy it. He said the government is asking $4 per 100 pounds of oats, while it is selling locally for only $2.75.

"I can't understand why the government wants to do this to us," he said. "This is surplus stuff that is just rotting in some warehouse."

But some cattlemen say the ranchers themselves are largely to blame for the mass starvation. They pointed out that the ranchers consistently refuse to give their cattle adequate supplemental feed during winter months while forcing them to live off the scrub grass. As a result, they say, even in a mild winter the cattle are reduced to skin and bones and nearly starve to death before spring arrives.

"The humane society ought to look into this cruel practice," said one cattlemen.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY

Staging a show like the Florida State Fair or the Florida Citrus Exposition is a big enough one when things go along smoothly but putting such expositions together in the face of weather conditions such as we have experienced this winter makes the task much more difficult.

The problem of gathering sufficient quantities of fresh fruit and vegetables, shrubs, plants and flowers for the various county exhibits to present a creditable and impressive showing was the toughest one county agents were ever called upon to face.

But in spite of all these handicaps they have accomplished the seemingly impossible and really performed miracles as you will see when you visit these outstanding exhibitions at Tampa and Winter Haven.

When you walk through the great exposition buildings and view the beautiful exhibits you will be amazed at the quality and quantity of the magnificent county exhibits. Fair officials, county officials and their helpers deserve tremendous credit for their achievement.

The 1958 Florida State Fair tells the story of Florida's growth and development, opportunities and resources as nothing else can and every visitor will find something to interest and entertain.

The great Electrical Exposition, sponsored by the Tampa Electric Company surpasses all of its predecessors this year. The horticultural exposition, while not as colorful perhaps as in other years is still a most creditable show and much better than you would expect considering the amount of freezing weather our horticulturists have had to contend with.

The livestock and dairy shows are splendid and tell a thrilling story of this state's progress in these fields. The big show opened February 4, and continues through Feb. 15. If you haven't seen it plan to do so before it closes.

In Winter Haven the 1958 Florida Citrus Exposition is scheduled to open on Feb. 15 and run through Saturday, Feb. 22. The citrus industry, growers, packers, canners and processors have all joined hands to present a citrus show window that will take your breath away.

Fun lovers will find plenty of entertainment on the splendid midway and will enjoy the colorful parades, automobile racing, thrill shows and grandstand attractions that have been provided in generous measure.

Governor Collins and other state officials are scheduled to attend both of these great expositions and I know they will be impressed with the resourcefulness of fair officials when they see the exceptional exhibits they have assembled under the most trying circumstances.

While Florida's agriculture has been hard hit and many individuals have suffered severe losses, the state's economy is sound as the Governor says and we will recover to match on to even greater achievement.

The Florida State Fair and the Florida Citrus Exposition along with other events such as the Strawberry Festival at Plant City, Feb. 17-22, the Central Florida Exposition at Orlando, Feb. 21-March 1, the Pinellas County Fair at Largo, Feb. 25-March 1, and others will all help restore our faith and impress upon the world that it takes more than a freeze to knock us out.

Britain Headed For Showdown

By K. C. TRALER
 United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)— Britain appears headed for a showdown with West Germany over her demand that the Bonn government underwrite part of the maintenance costs for the Army of the Rhine.

A German compromise offer to deposit 100 million sterling (280 million dollars) in London for future arms purchases, instead of outright support cost payment was termed unacceptable by authoritative government quarters.

The government summoned its ambassador in Bonn, Sir Christopher Steel, for urgent consultations.

The quarrel threatened seriously to disturb the harmony in the North Atlantic Alliance which has been called upon to deal with the emergency.

British Remain Inflexible
 The British government remained insistent that West Germany pay part of the support costs of the British forces stationed on the latter's territory.

The amount sought by Britain from Germans is in the neighborhood of 50 million sterling (140 million dollars) this year.

Falling this, Britain intends to withdraw more forces from Germany, at least another 5,000, in addition to 8,500 whose withdrawal this year was sanctioned by the seven-member West European Union Council last week.

NATO planners were seriously worried about this prospect, because of the adverse effect it would have on other members of the alliance with forces in Europe and because it would further weaken NATO's thinned-out defense shield along the trip-wire on the Iron Curtain borders.

Determined Not To Pay
 Latest Bonn reports stated that Germany was determined not to pay outright support costs. The latest compromise offer was instead for an interest-free 100 million sterling deposit in Britain as an advance payment for future arms purchases.

While withholding formal official comment government quarters let it be clearly understood the offer is not acceptable.

The British line of argument is that the maintenance of forces in Germany throws a burden on the budget as well as on the balance of payments and the foreign currency position. Neither would be lessened by the German compromise offer, the sources said.

They said a German deposit would temporarily ease the foreign currency strain, but the money would in effect be earmarked for cuts in Britain's overseas services.

The important Times of London warned editorially that the interests of the alliance as a whole are affected by the dispute and called on NATO to find urgently a way of meeting Britain's claim for financial help.

"The situation is now becoming serious, for there are limits to the amount of financial bargaining that an alliance can stand without damage" the Times cautioned.

What Is Role Of Color In The Health Picture?

By HERMAN M. BUNNEMAN, M.D.

COLOR plays a very important part in our lives.

While I am a doctor, not an interior decorator, I believe that color and dim lights are best for the home, especially for the bedrooms.

Warm Oak Tints
 For your office, a warm, neutral oak tint probably is most suitable for desk tops. The violent contrast between brilliant white paper and a dark top is tiring to the eyes. The oak tint provides a moderate contrast. It is much more restful.

Colored Ads
 Mail-order statistics, for example, show that colored advertisements outpull black and white ads by an average of ten to one. In fact, the New York State Tax Division increased its collections by enclosing angry-red self-return envelopes with its tax forms.

Muscular Reaction
 We know that we humans have a decided muscular reaction to color and light.

Red colors, such as those used by the tax agency, tend to increase muscle tension and speed up the pulse and breathing. Bright illumination does the same thing.

Blue colors and dim lighting, on the other hand, relax the muscles and slow down the heart and lungs. It seems to me that blue colors and dim lights are best for the home, especially for the bedrooms.

Warm Oak Tints
 For your office, a warm, neutral oak tint probably is most suitable for desk tops. The violent contrast between brilliant white paper and a dark top is tiring to the eyes. The oak tint provides a moderate contrast. It is much more restful.

You probably wouldn't think that the color of a baby carriage would make much difference to a baby. But it does.

Becomes Hobnobbers
 Black and gray buggies are unusually warm in the winter. But, according to a Better Vision Institute report, they become "hobnobbers" in the summer.

Another summer tip—mosquitoes apparently prefer to alight on dark blue, red and brown clothing. They are likely to shun white, orange and yellow.

So you see color affects our finances, our comfort—even our health.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 T. C.: My child seems to sweat excessively. What can be causing it?
 ANSWER: This may be due to a hidden infection in your child's nose, throat or tonsils. However, most often it is due to dressing the child too warm or keeping the child's room too warm.

Health Insurance Is At New Peak

CHICAGO (UP)— Voluntary health insurance in the United States took another big step forward in 1957, the Health Insurance Institute has reported.

Americans covered by some form of health insurance, it said, numbered 123 million persons, the most so far.

Protection against the cost of hospital and doctor bills by the end of 1957, the institute said, was extended to include more than 75 per cent of the nation's population.

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
What memory plays an old tune
On the heart."

Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is left to the appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These are expressed in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE

Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

"It is not up to us to define the degree of hazard," said Commissioner David Gatchel, "but to enforce the ordinance we have to do away with it."
Floyd D. Roberts, operator of the Lobby News Stand in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, told the board of commissioners that racks, built to fit up against the wall, would not be hazardous. "My business doubles with the racks outside the building," Roberts stated.
Police Chief Roy G. Williams told commissioners that he had investigated this particular place and "can see no reason why the racks would be a hazard."

WILLIAM V. HEMPHILL ★ ★ ★ Hemphill Chosen General Manager Of Holler Motors

Announcement of the appointment of William V. Hemphill as General Manager of Holler Motor Sales, Chevrolet, Oldsmobile and Cadillac distributors, was made by William E. Holler Jr., president of the company.

Hemphill graduated from high school at Franklin, Ind. and attended the Indiana University College of Business Administration. He served in the U. S. Navy for three years following which he entered Franklin College, Franklin, Ind. where he completed two semesters. He is a member of Phi Delta Theta.

While at college he met and later married Doris A. Hall, a graduate of Christian College. She is a member of Pi Beta Phi. The Hemphills have four children, Thomas S., Stanley T., Dena Lynn S. and Susan Louise S.

In 1953 he attended Chrysler Corporation's Dealer's Sons School in Detroit and graduated with honors. This college specializes in sales and management.

He joined his father, William V. Hemphill Sr., in their Chrysler Plymouth Automobile Agency as general manager.
Hemphill's activity outside his immediate family and business has been largely in the Franklin Presbyterian Church and the Franklin Rotary Club. He was a deacon in the church and contributed much time and effort in a successful building program just completed this year. He is past president of the Franklin Rotary Club and was the youngest member to ever hold that position. "The competent manner in which he handled that office confirms my belief," said Holler, "that he has been and was an excellent president."

Recently, Hemphill served as one of the jury commissioners for the eighth judicial circuit serving his county. "His loyalty to that office earned his reappointment when his term expired," said Holler.

Most of Hemphill's leisure time, however, is spent with his family. He is obviously a "family man."
In 1957 he joined the sales department of San Juan Motor Co., Chrysler-Plymouth dealership, Daytona Beach.

Appointment of Hemphill as General Manager of Holler Motor Sales "is in line with our policy of the past 14 years," said Holler, "of giving Sanford and Seminole County the best sales representation and the most efficient and capable parts and service facilities and leadership available."
"The Holler Motor Sales has been most successful and during the past 14 years has sold and serviced more than 4,000 new cars and trucks and in excess of 10,000 used cars and trucks — an outstanding record," said the president of the company.

Farmers Offered Alternate Method To Figure Earnings

Self-employed farmers may use an alternate method for figuring their earnings from their farm Col. Byron K. Fulton, district manager of the Social Security Administration office, and J. H. Donaldson, Group Supervisor of the Internal Revenue Service, reminded farm operators today.

Donaldson pointed out that self-employed farmers may figure their earnings for social security in several ways.

(1) If your gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1800, you may count as your net farm earnings either your actual net or 2/3 of your gross income;
(2) If your gross farm income is more than $1800, and your net farm earnings are less than $1200, you may use either your actual net or $1200;
(3) If your farm income is more than $1800 and your net farm earnings are $1200 or more, you must use the actual amount of your net earnings.

Donaldson added that use of the option will enable farmers with gross income as low as $900 to obtain social security protection for themselves in their old age and for their survivors in case of death. However, he said that in order to receive any social security credit, a farmer must be able to report at least $600 for social security purposes based either on his actual net profit or by using the optional method.

In addition to the revised optional method, the 1956 amendments extended social security coverage to some farm owners who receive cash or crop shares from tenant farmers. If the farm-lord under his agreement with his tenant, materially participates in the production or management of production of the farm crops raised on his land, this income, formerly excluded as rental income, may be reported for social security purposes. This provision is effective for taxable years ending after 1955.
Requests for information regarding taxes due and tax return forms should be directed to the Internal Revenue Office at Jacksonville. Questions concerning the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program will be answered by your social security office.

Dulles Says Administration Disturbed By French Attack On Village

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has said French Ambassador Herve Alphand that the administration is profoundly disturbed by the weekend's deadly attack by French airmen on a Tunisian village.

Dulles doubtless would have been speaking more directly for his fellow American citizens if he bluntly had put to the ambassador this question: "Why and under what authority did United States-built airplanes comprise the bulk of the French strafing force against the Tunisians?"

The count of dead and injured approached 300 which is approximately 10 per cent of the population of the bombed village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef. Among the dead were 9 women and 12 children, 1 or more of the latter were infants.

Used B29's Corsairs

More significant to the United States government, however, was the Tunisian roundup on the airplanes involved in this bold venture. The Tunisians reported 23 airplanes on the French strafing mission which, in miniature, matched some of the triumphal sorties of Hitler's airmen and of Mussolini's against helpless civilians.

The Tunisians said the French attacked in eight jet fighters of their own manufacture plus 11 B29 bombers and 6 Corsair Navy fighter bombers made in the United States and paid for, of course, with American tax dollars.

A fair question to Ambassador Alphand right now would be: "Were those American-made aircraft a part of the armament supplied to France as the expense of the U. S. taxpayer as a part of the American contribution to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). If so, how come they are being used up in an endless French colonial war?"

Should Ask Dulles

It would be equally appropriate for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to put to Dulles the same question. The U. S. government scarcely can escape a considerable measure of responsibility for the use to which American-made arms are put by those nations receiving them.

If it had been Soviet Russian airplanes with satellite pilots who were not last Saturday blasting an Arab civilian population, the United States would be making big propaganda out of those circumstances today. The Russian Communists are not miffing the opportunity now offered them by the Tunisian incident.

The United States has just participated in a substantial dollar advance to the French government whose troubles basically seem to be a protracted and expensive determination to cling to empire without the muscle to do it.

Before the next loan or the next shipment of NATO weapons, it might be a good idea for the United States to have an understanding with the French as to the purpose for which the dollars and the arms might be employed.

An understanding which would exclude such dangerous action as that of last Saturday against Tunisia.

Driver Uninjured As Auto Smashes Into Locomotive

A passenger automobile smashed into a Seaboard Air Line diesel locomotive late yesterday afternoon at the intersection of the railroad and State Road 425 in Oviedo.

Mrs. Shirley Ann Slayton, 19, of Route 1, Maitland, traveling west on the highway, did not see the train in time to avoid crashing into it.

Mrs. Slayton swerved the car to the left in an attempt to miss the locomotive.

The ACL train No. 1935 was traveling north, pulling away from the Oviedo station when the collision occurred at 3:35 p. m. C. A. Palmer of Wildwood was conductor; the engineer was B. P. Remington. There were no cars attached to the engine at the time of the accident.

The 1955 Ford sedan was a total loss, according to Florida Highway Trooper T. Mark Mack, investigating officer. He was assisted by Constable George Kelsey of Oviedo.

The impact was so heavy the entire right end of the automobile was demolished. Mrs. Slayton was uninjured, and was traveling alone at the time of the accident.

France's NATO allies demanded an explanation for the bombing of a Tunisian village which touched off wild and angry demonstrations against the French today in Tunis.

Angry mobs of Tunisians shouting their hatred of France marched to the residence of President Habib Bourguiba and demanded arms with which to drive 25,000 French troops out of Tunisia.

The Tunisian armed forces and gendarmes were alerted for serious trouble in the first major anti-French demonstration since the village of Sakiet Sidi Youssef was hit on Saturday.

Nationwide demonstrations were called in Tunisia for Friday when memorial services will be held for the 73 Sakiet dead.

Norway Serves Notice

The demonstrations coincided with a tightening blockade of French military posts in Tunisia. French military commanders left Tunis today by helicopter to join their beleaguered troops.

The regular Wednesday meeting of the NATO council met in Paris but few details leaked out. A NATO spokesman said merely that "France had threatened bombing in an effort to gain the understanding of its western allies."

The communique said the French gave a detailed explanation, that "the NATO representatives thanked the French delegate" for the information, that they "took note of it" and will inform their governments.

Norway served notice it would raise the Tunisian issue in today's meeting of the NATO Permanent Council in Paris on the ground that Tunisia plays an important role in the Western world.

Thor Myklobost, director of the Norwegian Foreign Office press section, said in Oslo that Norway took the view that what happens in Tunisia means much for the countries which do not belong to the Eastern or Western blocs.

Sanford May Be Site Of $1/2 Million Motel

The possibilities that Sanford will be boasting of a half-million dollar motel in the near future came before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners at its Monday night meeting.

A real estate broker surveyed the Sanford area for a site on which a citizens proposed to build a 60-unit motel with swimming pool and restaurant.

City commissioners proposed the immediate approval of an offer for lakefront property chosen for the site.

The city's finance director H. N. Sayer said that the broker would be notified immediately of the commission's offer to sell the property at a proposed $120 per front foot which would meet the appraisal value of $36,720.

The broker told Sayer that the construction cost of the 60-unit motel, restaurant and swimming pool would be in the neighborhood of $160 to $200 thousand.

"They seemed to think that the price for the property is reasonable," Sayer told commissioners and after making an inspection of the property, requested that they be notified by telephone of the commission action.

Commissioners agreed to leave the offer open until Feb. 21 and asked Sayer to notify the real estate brokers that the city will accept.

Sayer advised commissioners that the real estate men, in Sanford to inspect the property and choose a site, would not reveal their clients' names.

Gas Company Head Says New Franchise Is Must

A member of the board of directors of the Sanford Gas Company, charged in a letter to City Manager Warren E. Knowles, dated Feb. 4, that it is the present policy of the tax appraisers of the city to "milk the company."

Arthur S. Dowling appeared before the commissioners twice to discuss a proposed franchise renewal and then said in his letter "The tax appraisers of the city have even made excessive tax valuations of the property of the company so as to draw directly as much as possible from the revenue of the company."

Dowling admitted that "The past history of the company can only discourage the investment of further capital" and that "the attitude of the commissioners seemed to be 'Let us get the most from the company and concede the least we can.'"

"The company has not been successful," Dowling wrote "and the city has done nothing to assist the company in its financial difficulties."

The Sanford Gas Company Board of Directors put a damper on the possibilities of the city receiving natural gas when he told City Manager Knowles "Unless the commission sees this obligation and proposes a new franchise that is very favorable to the future operation of the company, no new capital will be provided and the Sanford Gas Company will be unable to avoid bankruptcy."

"Unless there is an entirely new attitude, the attitude of making it as easy as possible for the company to operate, there will be no new capital and no natural gas for Sanford," said Dowling.

City Manager Knowles, answering Dowling, said "No municipality has the right to 'subsidize' private business."

"It is quite evident from your letter that you are not familiar with what has been done on the city tax assessment picture in the past for your company," the City Manager said.

Emphatically, Knowles stated in his letter "The tax assessment picture for your gas company has always been in line with that of other businesses or utilities within the city limits and there has not been excessive valuation placed on your property."

"I believe that it is vitally important for you to immediately review and revise your thinking should you believe that you will attempt to browbeat the city of Sanford with threats that, unless we do exactly as you wish and exactly as you want, the city will not receive natural gas," he said.

City Manager Knowles also told Dowling that he should proceed as agreed between he and commissioners of the city, with the preparation of a draft for a franchise so that it can be presented to the city commission.

Tax Committee Meets With Board

A committee appointed to study problems of Seminole County, including the tax situation, will meet with the Board of Seminole County Commissioners next Tuesday afternoon to receive their instructions and to learn about their duties.

The 11-man committee became official last week when Hubert P. Lamont and B. F. Wheeler Jr. were named to the committee by Commissioner B. C. Dodd.

Each member of the board of county commissioners named two men to the committee and the board chose County Attorney Mark N. Cleveland Jr. as the 11th member.

It is expected that the committee will be charged with the obligation to look into and study the tax problems of the county and to recommend ways and means to provide additional revenues for the county and at the same time reduce taxes on those burdened with the biggest load at present.

Full details of the obligations of the committee have not yet been released by the Board of County Commissioners. However, it is expected that frequent meetings and possibly professional assistance might be necessary to complete their findings.

Only recently did the commission members have a "meeting of the minds" on the appointment of a committee to look into the county's tax situation. However,

Morse Poises On Edge Of 'Misconduct' Probe

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) poised dramatically today on the edge of the strife-ridden investigation of "misconduct" in federal agencies.

The lawmaker apparently was making up his mind what to do with disputed files handed to him by Bernard Schwartz, ousted chief counsel of the House subcommittee on legislative oversight inquiring into the regulatory agencies.

Schwartz claimed the files were his own "working" documents and papers. But new subcommittee Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) said they contained "original" material that could thwart the investigation.

Schwartz in a statement indicated he had uncovered evidence of "the payment of money" to a Federal Communications commissioner, whom he did not name, in a disputed TV channel case. He also ticked off a list of "White House cliques" which he said controlled decisions.

Several figures named

The list included the names of "residential Assistant Sherman J. Lams, White House counsel George A. Morgan, Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks, Col. George Gordon Moore who is Mrs. Eisenhower's brother-in-law, and former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Some congressional figures said the $100,000 Republican fund raised by Texas oil men has killed their politically explosive natural gas bill. They compared the favor over the alleged move to muster GOP support for the bill comparable to a $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-S. D.) in 1954 when a similar bill was before Congress.

Case created a sensation by publicly rejecting the contribution the President Eisenhower vetoed the bill.
