Will Be Discussed by the Supreme Allied Council Saturday

FOR ASSURANCE OF UNITED STATES TO LET HER HAVE A LOOK

France, added, says news agency, it could not approve proposals or see in them basis for possible settlement.

PARIS, April 28.—Next development regarding German propositions on reparations question expected to occur in London as according to best information here no further steps will be taken in this situation until Allied supreme council which meets in London Saturday has acted. FIRST ATTACK ON THE KNOX PEACE PACT

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The first attack in the Senate on the Knox peace resolution came today from the Republican side. Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, chairman of the Senate judiciary committee, characterized the resolution as "Unusual halting, equivocating and only a partial and piecemeal work." His opposition shattered hopes of the leaders for a solid Republican line-up for adoption of the resolution.

COMPROMISE ON DIVISION KILLS CAPITAL MOVE

WITH RE-APPORTIONMENT SETTLED REMOVAL AGITATION IS LOBING FORCE

With a resolution proposing the submission of a constitutional amendment changing the site of the capital from Tallahassee to Orlando has been introduced, as predicted by The Metropolis exclusively, and while there is considerable sentiment in favor of capital removal, keen observers are of the opinion that there is little chance for any progress in this direction at this session of the legislature.

While re-apportionment hung in the balance, so far as the house was concerned, the agitation against Tallahassee on the capitol site question grew particularly warm and it is still strong. But since the house has adopted a compromise re-apportionment bill, advocates of capital removal, or at least many of them, seem disposed to believe that it is best to await the reconstruction of the house and senate before any real effort is made to bring it about.

Of course, the senate still remains to concur in the action of the house, but since the compromise did not in the least affect the senatorial districts as proposed in the original Campbell measure, both sides are more or less confident that the senate will adhere. Then, before it is effective the action must be ratified by the people at the November election of next year. The legislature which meets in 1923 would then provide the necessary legislative machinery to elect the representative which be elected in November, 1924, to take office for the session of 1925. At best the enlarged and fair representation in the house and senate cannot be effective before 1925 and until that time it is asserted there is little real chance for the submission of an amendment on the capital removal question. Various schemes have been proposed. Some have in mind the designation of one or more particular cities, while others provide other ways for determining the sentiment of the people and the most available location.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

EMERGENCY TARIFF FOR FARMERS' RELIEF REPORTED FAVORABLY

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 28.—Emergency tariff bill designed for relief of farmers and to check dumping of foreign goods ordered favorably reported today by senate finance committee. Measure approved by senate committee differs radically from that passed by the house, anti-dumping and currency valuation provisions being very sharply revised although tariff provisions not changed.

MAY LEVY CITY TAX TO ELIMINATE DRIVES

KISSIMMEE, April 26.—The next meeting of the city council will take up the matter of creating a two-mill levy within the city with the idea of devoting the money so acquired to caring for the musical concerts during the next season, for the financing of the Chamber of Commerce, for such publicity as may be deemed essential for the interests of the city, and for such uses as may seem best in the way of charities which have heretofore been cared for by the various drives under many auspices. The levy has been endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce as being of an eliminative character for the many propositions which prove so embarrassing to both business men and private individuals, the desire being to turn over all applications to the finance committee of the city council—provided such a levy shall be approved. There seems to be a general belief the measure will pass the council with no dissenting voice.

CUT FREIGHT OR WILL PLOW MELONS UNDER

NO CHANCE FOR GROWERS AT NEW RATES, ROADS ARE TOLD

MACON, Ga., April 27.—Melon growers and their representatives from Georgia and Florida yesterday testified at a meeting of melon growers and railroad representatives at the Hotel Dempsey that unless the growers are given a reduction of 33 1-3 per cent from present rates or a return to the rates as of Aug. 31, 1920, the crop will be a clear loss to both growers and railroads. Practically the entire Georgia and Florida crop was represented at the meeting, there being more than 100 persons present. For four hours growers testified as to the costs and conditions confronting them. At the end of the conference the representative of the railroads stated that they will take the matter of rate reduction under advisement, stating that a better understanding of the whole situation has been promoted.

R. V. Pitts, representing the Interstate Commerce Commission, presided at the meeting, directing the argument to bring out all possible information. The increase in freight rates of 33 1-3 per cent over last year and the decrease in industrial activity, which will depress the melon market, will cause the grower to lose on his present crop, the growers declared. The increase of approximately $60 a car in freight rates this year, it was declared, would leave a net income of only $4.65 a car to the growers, even at prices prevailing last year. Unless relief is given, the growers declared, they would plow their melons under or curtail the shipments. Mr. Pitts said this is an emergency situation and he said the question is whether the carriers will be willing to give a reduction to help the growers at this time, and to help themselves in the long run.

ROTARIANS MET LAST NIGHT AT ORLANDO

SANFORD, TAMPA, ST. PETERSBURG AND LAKE LAND ARE GUESTS OF ORLANDO

The Inter-City meet of the Rotary clubs of Tampa, St. Petersburg, Lakeland, Sanford and Orlando took place last night at the Country Club at Orlando, the other clubs being the guests of the Orlando club. They expected something special at Orlando and they had it. With J. P. Holbrook, the president, and Kendrick Guernsey, as secretary, and the committee composed of Nixon Butt, Will Branch and Will Glenn for the stunts the program was complete in every detail. The affair started at 6:30 and the long tables were laid on the fine-screened porches of the Country Club and there must have been 100 guests sat down to a turkey dinner that was enlivened by the ubiquitous Kenny Guernsey, President Holbrook and the other live wires of the various cities. Real speeches were tanned and while the guests tried to eat between stunts the presidents of the various clubs were called upon to say a few words and Lakeland, St. Petersburg and Tampa and our own Sanford told them all about it with President Stevens at his best and while they made so much noise he could hardly be heard one did catch the words "ball games" and "stake capital" and it is certain that he promised that Sanford and Orlando would stand together on everything.

John Turner of Tampa, one of the most prominent "Rotas" in the South and recently elected district governor of Rotary, gave a few minutes talk on Rotary and the Birmingham meeting and he said some things about Sanford that we will make him take back when he comes here next week to the Sanford meeting. His sentence will be to eat at least three crates of Sanford celery.

The dinner was great but it was only a small part of the program. Rollins College was invited to take part in the stunts and they responded with a musical program under the direction of the Conservatory of Music. The stage was completely filled by a bevy of beautiful girls and they gave an exhibition of real training (Rotarians) that ever graced a stage anywhere. They danced and sang and waited on the sultan until all the men in the audience wanted to join the Greek army and make war on the sultan of Turkey.

Two of Orlando's younger queens gave an exhibition of real dancing that was the real article and then the sultan grabbed his favorite wife and followed by the entire assemblage walked around the room and passed out one of the side doors. The "Sultan" was one of Orlando's charming ladies and when that was learned the men were satisfied. And some of the harem had most wonderful voices and added much to the musical program of the evening.

And then the room was cleared and one of the finest orchestras in the state played music that even the older members could not resist and they danced and danced and danced. It was some party and gave the Sanford Rotas some idea of what entertaining in Rotary means.

Box Car Shows Poor Rate of Traveling

IDLE TOO MUCH

STANDARD TYPES OF LOCOMOTIVES AND CARS WOULD SAVE MONEY

CHICAGO, April 28.—The railway labor unions fighting wage reductions before the Railway Labor Board increased their charges of raised and inefficiency on the part of railroad managements by quarter billion dollars today. In a supplemental exhibit to that filed last week, setting forth alleged waste of a billion dollars, the employes charged that possible savings totaled $276,500,000 could be effected by the railroads if they would introduce modern methods in maintenance and operation of the railroad industry. The larger American railroads spent nearly $6,000,000,000 for operating expenses last year, the exhibit showed, carrying forty-seven billion passengers one mile, and 450,000,000,000 tons of freight one mile. "It can be demonstrated that $1,000,000,000 is altogether too much to move the traffic in hand," the report said, "that failure to introduce savings rests primarily with railroad management and that the public accordingly, is not getting a dollar's worth of service for the dollar it spends in rates."

Freight car performance, due to inefficiency, leads to "startling deductions," the report continued, saying that a freight car travels an average of only 25 miles a day, is loaded about two-thirds of the time and 5.5 to 7 per cent of all freight cars are chronically unserviceable.

A table on car performance showed that of the New England roads, the Boston and Albany averaged 32.2 miles per day, while the New Haven got but 12.8 miles.

In the Great Lakes section, the Grand Trunk Western averaged 52.7 miles and the Pittsburg and Lake Erie 10.3 miles, while in the western region, the Union Pacific averaged 50.3 and the Denver and Rio Grande thirty.

National unified control or regional control offers larger possibilities in economics, the exhibit said, and cited Federal control during the autumn of 1918, "when traffic was at its heaviest, with practically a complete absence of transportation stringency in contrast to the years immediately preceding when such stringency had almost amounted to railroad paralysis."

Sixteen reforms inaugurated under the unified control of the railroad administration and advocated by Director General McAdoo, which should be continued under peace conditions, are set forth in the report.

The exhibit said there were nearly 2000 different types of locomotives in American railway equipment before the war and 2023 styles of freight cars, which the railroad administration cut to twelve standard types.

Those from this city attending were President and Mrs. H. R. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mr. and Mrs. Deane Turner, Mr. and Mrs. John Melsch, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Key, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Deas, W. M. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. DuBose, C. E. Henry, R. H. Pearman and J. G. Ball, when they rendered several fine selections under the leader and showed wonderful training. Miss Lotta Greenup rendered several selections on the violin that brought forth unstinted praise and she was forced to give several encores. Mrs. Christine Hayward, an accompanist, was splendid.

The lady Rotas of Orlando put on a sketch entitled "A Rotarian's Idea of Service" opening with a scene of a Turkish harem with the old sultan reclining on a divan surrounded by some of the most beautiful wives of

SANFORD'S WHITE WAY STARTED LAST NIGHT WITH BIG STREET DANCE

MAGNOLIA AVENUE WAS THE SCENE OF GAYETY AND LIFE AND ANIMATION

(From Wednesday's Daily)

It was a great night last night when the lights of Sanford's new White Way were turned on for the official opening and the occasion was not only a memorable one from the standpoint of material progress but it was made a most enjoyable one by the Southern Utilities Co., joining hands with the city in decorating the street with red, white and blue lights and furnishing the music for the occasion.

General Manager Huston, of the Southern Utilities Co., made a special trip here yesterday to see that all was in readiness and found that the local manager, Mr. Morse, had his force of men out for two days putting up the strings of lights on Magnolia avenue and all was ready to turn on the juice. The streets of Sanford never looked any better than last night when all the beautiful White Way posts were shown up in the best manner and with the red, white and blue lights that looked like a big American flag; from a distance the city looked like an enchanted scene.

A flashlight of the merry throng was taken for the Chamber of Commerce booklet and it should be a great picture of Sanford's White Way and the city streets as they now appear.

The DeLand band furnished the music which means that it was of the best and that it was greatly enjoyed by the big crowd present and the people owe the Southern Utilities Co. a vote of thanks for furnishing the music, the lights and for their many courtesies in this social affair and in their hearty co-operation in the inauguration of the White Way.

There must have been several thousand people congregated upon the streets last night, the half block on Magnolia being roped off and the sidewalk at the Seminole bank corner being roped off for the use of the dancers. The Woman's Club sold tickets for the dance and also sold ice cream and cold drinks for the dance and made a nice sum that will be applied toward the cost of installing the White Way.

It was an evening of enjoyment, an evening of getting together, an evening of whole-souled, unalloyed good time and a bringing together of the people from this and adjoining counties for a big time and as an advertising stunt it was a good one aside from the enjoyment of those who participated and from the satisfaction to the ladies, to the merchants who paid their share of the cost, to the city commissioners and the city manager and to the Southern Utilities Co., who have gone more than half way in making the new lighting-system possible.

It marked another milestone in the progress of the city and demonstrated that the people of Sanford are working toward that goal of a city of twenty-five thousand people with the best of everything and only the best.

The Welfare Department of the Woman's Club and the special committee that worked so hard for the White Way should feel proud of their great achievement. They have accomplished something for their city along material lines and something that will redound to their credit as long as the organization lasts.

PRIZE WINNERS GRAMMAR SCHOOL

FOUR OF THEM SO GOOD THAT FOUR PRIZES WERE AWARDED.

The prizes for the winners of the essay contest at the Grammar School were awarded last week at chapel with most appropriate exercises. The Grammar school orchestra rendered appropriate music for the occasion and after an invocation by Dr. Geo. Hyman, Superintendent T. W. Lawton gave the audience an outline of the rules of the contest and of the work of the educational committee of the Chamber of Commerce and introduced R. J. Holly, of the Herald, who spoke to the children of the vast amount of good to be derived in the writing of essays on the city of Sanford, the City Substantial, and that the children of today were the citizens of tomorrow. Miss Clara Millen and Mrs. D. S. Babbett read the essays to the school and then giving the numbers called for the names from Miss Kirkland who had the names and numbers. Up to this time no one knew who had written the various essays, not even the judges, and the winners were as follows:

Seventh Grade—Everett Brown and Frank Chase.

Eighth Grade—Miss Georgia Mobley and Miss Mildred Holly.

The original plan was to give two prizes of $5 each to the two winners but the four essays read this morning were so good that the judges could not decide on them and decided to split the original ten dollars in four parts. However, Secretary Pearman and the Chamber of Commerce thought they were all so good that it would be only right and proper to give each one of the four $5.00 and Secretary Pearman awarded the prizes with an appropriate talk to the children. The school then sang an original boosting song entitled, "I'm Proud of Sanford and I'll Make Sanford Proud of Me" and the exercises closed.

The Educational Committee of the Chamber of Commerce were present in a body and the visitors and the school felt that they were well rewarded in this great work of building a greater Sanford.

C. L. RAY KILLED INSTANTLY WHEN AN AUTO DRIVEN BY OFFICER WALKER HIT HIM

Accident Seemed Un-avoidable, on Sanford-Orlando Road

(From Saturday's Daily)
A most deplorable accident happened on the Sanford-Orlando road yesterday afternoon when Policeman Ed. Walker ran into C. L. Ray, killing him almost instantly. Ray is a carpenter and was working on the Star Theatre, walking home at night to Lord's Station where he was making his home. He was on the brick road and some claim that he was slightly deaf. Walker had a mechanic adjusting his carburetor and had several friends in the car with him and as he glanced up and saw Ray he blew his horn and then yelled at him. Giving his wheel a quick twist he must have jammed it for the steering gear locked and the car crashed into Ray, breaking his neck and he lived only a few minutes after being picked up and brought to the city.

Ray lived here about a year ago and moved to Winter Park for a period, having just come back to Sanford a few weeks ago and took up his residence with his family near Lord's Station. He leaves a wife and three children and the death of the father leaves them without a protector and a bread winner.

Policeman Walker is almost prostrated over the accident and can hardly give a clear account of it. The coroner's jury will convene some time today and go into the affair thoroughly.

It was one of those accidents that occur from time to time when it seems that no one is to blame and yet the blame lies with one or the other of the parties and the family of Mr. Ray have lost father and husband.

The series of accidents that have happened here in the past few weeks should be a warning to the drivers of cars everywhere. Many of them could be avoided if they would drive slower and drive more carefully. If a man is walking down the road it would be much better to stop your car and see that he is off the road before you attempt to pass him or if necessary give him the whole road. It is much better to suffer some inconvenience than to take a life and you can never tell what people on the road or on the city streets are going to do.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the wife and little children who are left alone today.

The coroner's jury empaneled to hold the inquest on the killing of C. L. Ray by the car of Officer Walker last night, brought in a verdict of accidental killing due to an unavoidable accident. This was about the only verdict that the jury could bring in as the killing was accidental and everyone knows that Officer Walker would not have had the accident happen for worlds and no other driver would deliberately drive into a man walking on the road. Mr. Walker feels as badly about the accident as if he had killed a near relative but it was one of those unavoidable circumstances that might happen to any one. The steering gear went wrong when it should have been working with the result that the man was killed and his family are without father and husband today.

The remains of Mr. Ray were shipped to his relatives at Millville, Fla., today where the interment will take place.

Mr. Haight has joined forces with a live wire in the person of James F. Magee, who for the past six years has been the representative of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co., and knows the state as few men know it, having many friends wherever he goes, and for the past two years Mr. Magee, wanting to get off the road, has been looking for a central location and decided on Sanford. With his family he will be here in a few weeks to become one of Sanford's citizens and boosters, and will have charge of the business here while Mr. Haight will spend his time on the road taking care of the state distribution of the Handley-Knight cars and the Hartford batteries. The firm also have Seminole county agency for the Overland fours and the Willys-Knight cars and will have the sales and service in all its branches.

Mr. Magee is a hustler, spelling it with a capital "H," and his motto will be "The House Sincerity is Building," and their business here and their business over the state will be built upon that foundation. The new firm starts off with a good business already assured and with new business that will accrue to their undivided efforts to give the public the best of service at all times. They will also use the columns of the Daily and Weekly Herald to set forth their claims for business and will have something to say that will be to the advantage of the prospective buyers of cars and service.

Over a Thousand Cars of Potatoes Sent to Market

With 398 cars shipped Wednesday and 314 shipped yesterday more than a thousand cars of potatoes have been shipped from the Hastings section thus far this season, against eight for the same period last year. The exact number of cars shipped this season up to noon yesterday, was 1,247.

Prices are holding steadily at around $5.60 per barrel, and there is little hope that they will go higher. In a short time the Carolina crops will begin to move, and Texas is already shipping new potatoes into market.

Indications are that the crest of the shipping season in Hastings section will be reached next week, and if this is true the crop will be considerably shorter than it was last year.—Palatka News.

The south inlet jetty is practically completed, having been built already considerably more than 300 feet out into the water. It will be built to approximately 400 feet. The dredge fifty-foot section of material that now separates the waters of Indian River and the Atlantic Ocean is said to be en route here now, although its exact whereabouts is unknown. The cutting away of this small section and completion of the south jetty is all that remains for completion of the inlet, the north jetty having already been constructed.—Fort Pierce News-Tribune.

OFFERED BY E. D. MOBLEY IS NOW ON EXHIBITION IN WINDOW OF HENRY McLAULIN

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Last year E. D. Mobley of Mobley's drug store who has the interests of the schools at heart as few men have, offered a gold medal to the high school pupil making the best record at the school this year and the medal has arrived and is now on exhibition in the show window of Henry McLaulin, the jeweler.

The object of the medal, according to the official rules and regulations, shall be to promote the scholastic interests of the student of the Sanford High School. The award of this medal will be the highest honor in scholarship made in the Sanford High School throughout the entire year.

Rules of Eligibility

1. Those competing for this medal must be regular, bona fide students in the Sanford High School. That is, the student body must register within two weeks after school opens and carry at least four studies offered in one of the following years as found in the Sanford High School course of study: Freshman, Sophomore, Junior or Senior. Any student failing to remain in the Sanford High School throughout the entire year for any reason will be disqualified.

2. No student will be eligible to compete for this medal if, some of his studies, which are being counted as the "four" studies mentioned in Rule 1, are being taken for the second time for any reason.

3. A student carrying four regular studies and also a fifth, either in that same year or another year, will not be disqualified. If that student carries five studies in the same year of high school work, the four highest averages will be counted in making the final general average in competition for the medal. If that student is carrying a fifth study which is in another year of high school work from the regular four studies, the final general averages of the regular four studies will be the only ones counted in competition for the medal.

4. No student will be eligible to compete for this medal whose department grade falls below 90 per cent, or its equivalent, for any one of the eight months during the school year.

5. A total of not more than five days absence on account of absolute necessity throughout the entire year will be allowed students competing for this medal without disqualification. Absence on account of sickness will not disqualify.

6. No personal element will enter into the award of this medal. Absolute averages will make the decision. The final averages of the four studies taken in the competition will be added together, and the sum will be divided by four to establish the grand average for each student.

7. No student will be eligible to receive this medal two years in succession. (Signed) T. W. Lawton, C. S. Ogilvie.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.—Adv.

BRYAN-WHEELER MOTOR CO. NEW FIRM HANDLING AUTOS AND SUPPLIES

(From Monday's Daily)
Among the new firms in the city handling autos and supplies is the Bryan-Wheeler Motor Co., that have recently organized and taken the garage on Magnolia avenue recently occupied by the J. B. Lawson Motor Co. The new firm is composed of Leslie Bryan and Wallace Wheeler, two young men of Sanford who need no introduction to the public. Mr. Bryan, the senior member of the firm, has been operating the Bryan Motor Co. most successfully for the past two years in the Staten building at the foot of First street. Mr. Wheeler, since coming to Sanford several years ago, has been the owner and distributor of Elder Springs water and, having disposed of this property and being interested in the automobile business, formed this partnership with Mr. Bryan.

They will handle the Reo cars and trucks and several other good lines and will also carry a complete line of auto accessories and supplies. They have an announcement in this issue of The Daily Herald and will do considerable advertising and publicity work, as they intend to go after the business.

Messrs. Bryan and Wheeler are young men of up-to-date ideas and methods and know the automobile game and that they will have success attend their new undertaking goes without saying.

Watch for their future announcements in The Daily Herald.

REP. FORSTER HERE

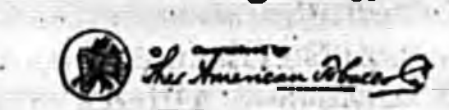

(From Monday's Daily)
Representative F. P. Forster, Seminole's law maker, is home for the week end and will leave tonight for Tallahassee. He spent Sunday with home folks and today was busy talking with the people about the many matters of legislation coming up in a few days. There is quite a bit of local legislation, and much of the state legislation that affects Seminole county and Mr. Forster wants to get the voice of the majority of the people before voting on any measures affecting the commonwealth. Mr. Forster is making a fine record and being well conversant with his own section of the state as well as other parts of Florida he knows how to vote on any of the state-wide questions. However, he does not want to do anything against the wishes of his home people and is home to see them about any matters in which they are interested.

Seminole County's Wonderful Resources

Seminole County is one of the counties of Florida that has a great diversity of crops and industries. Saw mills, crate factories, fishing industry, preserving factories, large packing houses for handling fruits and vegetables, turpentine and naval stores, machine shops, broom and brush factories, cigar factories, printing fruit and vegetable wraps, wholesale grocers and wholesale auto supplies and many other industries make up the personnel of the busiest of counties all the year round. Seminole County is one of the greatest cattle and hog counties in the state for the size of the county. Seminole County raises some of the finest corn, potatoes, cane, sorghum, hay, forage crops and grasses and other staple crops.

From Sanford there are more cars of vegetables and fruits shipped under refrigeration than from any OTHER SECTION IN THE WORLD and this is proved by actual figures.

Sanford, half way between Jacksonville and Tampa is the site of the Shops of the A. C. L. Railway and this Company is contemplating some large building projects here in the near future to take care of the constantly increasing business. The shops here have a large pay roll each month.

All these industries will be shown in their proper sphere in subsequent articles set forth plainly and clearly in this paper that those who are interested may read. This is no flowery description of what Seminole County has to offer. It will only be facts and clear statements to the people who wish to invest their money in a locality that promises returns. It is an invitation to the home-seeker, to the investor and to the man seeking the best climate in the world to make his home in this county. It is an invitation to come to Florida and get the best there is in life socially, physically and financially and after the ten articles are published those who are seeking a new location can decide for themselves although the truth may be stranger than fiction.

The first one today from the pen of Secretary Pearman, of the Chamber of Commerce, give a brief resume of what the city is accomplishing and expects to accomplish.

These articles are being compiled and set forth in this manner for the reason that the majority of the people of the North, East and West would rather have the facts about any community in simple words. They would rather read it in a newspaper than in a magazine or pamphlet. They would rather get all the news of a community and judge the community from the newspaper than from a special booklet. And we hope they will judge our section largely from the appearance of the newspaper and all that it contains for the Daily and Weekly paper carries a message each day and each week and the hundreds of names of enterprising business men from every part of Seminole county attests to their interest in the work of building their county and their cities along the lines of progressive ideas. These articles will not be lengthy or tiresome or vapid. They will tersely set forth the truth as seen from all angles by all people. The doctors, the bankers, the weather man, the county agent, the truckers will all have a chance to tell of their different phase of the great industries of this county and each article will be separate and distinct.

The progressive citizen of a community is won't to talk about the possibilities of his city. These possibilities are obviously limited to the extent of the natural resources which the city possesses. By resources is meant the means of supply or support. It logically follows therefore, that the greater the resources, either natural or acquired, the greater are the possibilities for the economic development of the City.

Every city in Florida has resources, and therefore great possibilities. Practically all these resources are natural, for the State is still in an embryonic condition, as far as development is considered. The factor of climate is admittedly greater than the sum total of all Florida's other resources. In the matter of climate, some sections of the State are more favored than others, but in a discussion of Florida generally, it is conceded that the State possesses an incomparable climate, not even excepting that of the extensively advertised California variety.

This article, briefly descriptive of Sanford, will attempt to show that not only is it one of the cities particularly fortunate in the matter of climate, but in addition thereto possesses other innumerable resources which guarantee to it the greatest of possibilities.

These resources are of the most substantial nature, and are similar to those which are recognized as having been prominent factors in the development of some of the largest cities in the United States.

Sanford's greatest asset, both from a commercial and recreational standpoint, is Lake Monroe, the headwaters of navigation on the St. John's River. By reason of its location on this body of water, it has competitive transportation facilities with the business centers of the country. This, coupled with its geographical location and its rapid and complete good roads communication, makes its contention of being the real distributing center for this section of the State, a logical one.

Competitive transportation facilities have invariably meant cheap freight rates, which are a most important item in the manufacture and distribution of commodities.

Sanford has long since established a reputation for possessing the most intensively developed agricultural area perhaps in the world. Nature has indeed been profligate in dispensing those requisites so essential to successful agriculture. No attempt will be made here to detail the benefits accruing to Sanford from this source, as a subsequent article will cover at length this important subject.

Its acquired resources are also potent factors when discussing the possibilities of the City Substantial. Its banking institutions have always been equal to any emergency, and have rendered invaluable assistance in all movements which have had the further development of the city as an object. A subsequent article will also deal more fully with Sanford's financial bulwarks.

Few cities of 6,000 population can boast of more efficient schools, finer churches, more miles of paved streets, or more modern sanitary innovations.

MEMORIAL DAY

Yesterday was the South's Memorial Day and yet aside from the closing of the banks in Sanford one would scarcely have known it. Memorial Day north or south should be commemorated with appropriate exercises and it is to be hoped that Sanford will have a chapter of the U. D. C. and that the loyal daughters will see to it that each Memorial Day is fittingly observed.

KNOCKING FLORIDA.

The articles of one Ella Pearl Smith, of some place in Missouri, seems to have stirred the state from stem to circumstance and even the legislature has passed a resolution calling on the Markets Bureau to send Pearl a list of the crops in Florida that she did not see and endeavor to get her to write something that will be as near truthful as possible.

WHY GO SOUTH?

It was an editor far more famous and far greater in wisdom than the editor of the Democrat who said, "Go West, Young Man." The editor of the Democrat not only says there are many inducements, not only for young men but for old men to "Go South."

FLORIDA LEADS.

While the grain and hay growing states of the north will always continue to lead in these products, there are indications in the report of the last census, an abstract of which has just been made public, that Florida will soon take the undisputed lead in truck and vegetable production.

FLORIDA BUILDING.

Building records in Florida in March were highly encouraging and in numbers of cases record-breaking. Building permits issued in Miami last month totaled $396,700—a record for March in that city.

THE VOICE OF NATURE.

Mysterious voices are abroad, stirring the senses and detaching the attention of the normal human being from the dull and sordid tasks at hand to dreamy reveries and indefinable longings.

LAKE MONROE

The Grammar school graduation program held at our school Friday evening, April 22, was a very pleasant affair. The pupils, patrons and visitors all seemed to enjoy the exercises of the evening to the utmost.

The class chose for their motto: "Work to Win." Their colors, Red and Green. Their flower, Red Carnation. Their song, "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

GENEVA FLASHES

Mr. Fred Taylor, who has been visiting his mother, has returned to his home in Palm Beach. Mrs. Baker has been very ill. Miss Ellinor Raubeson of Miami, who has been visiting Mrs. Mary Taylor, has returned to her home.

SEMINOLE COUNTY'S WONDERFUL RESOURCES

Its health record shows a low mortality wherein the subject of climate again figures prominently. Its fraternal and social organizations do much to add to the social and lighter sides of the life of the city.

The progressive element in Sanford is now expending concerted effort through its Chamber of Commerce to manifest the city's possibilities to outsiders by developing its natural resources. As a Tourist resort there is no section in the State more able to appeal to these visitors than this.

POSSUM HUNT AT OVIEDO DESCRIBED BY CANADA MAN WHO WAS WINTER VISITOR

WRITES ABOUT HIS TRIP IN NEW BRUNSWICK PAPER.

F. T. Tingley, who returned from Florida a few days ago where he and his family spent the greater part of the winter, tells an interesting story of an opossum hunt he and a number of friends enjoyed not long before he left for the north. In conversation with the Post representative, Mr. Tingley said the party left for the woods about 9 o'clock in the evening in two autos. They had a couple of hounds with them who thoroughly understood the business of opossum hunting. The woods are almost free of underbrush and the party had no trouble in motoring the entire distance. One member was a southern gentleman who knew exactly what to do. No sooner had they arrived than the dogs were sent off to "tree" the animals. In a short time the dogs gave the signal. It was a bright moonlight night and the hunters had no trouble in making their way toward the sound. They soon discovered an opossum on top of quite a large tree; he could be distinctly seen in the moonlight, and might easily have been shot, but that is not the way to do things down South. The object is to take Mr. Opossum alive, and sometimes this is no easy task. The animals are about as large as a Canadian porcupine, but they are capable of putting up a great fight, once they are cornered.

On this occasion it was decided to cut down the tree, and the Sackville man volunteered for the job. An axe was produced and he went to it, and soon the opossum was on the ground. In a moment the dogs had him cornered and then it required only a little careful handling to secure the animal, and to prevent his escape he was tied to the auto and the dogs were sent off to tree another. Two others were discovered but they made good their escape, but the fourth was taken in much the same manner as the first, and then the whole party decided they had had enough for one night, but just how the two animals were to be taken care of during the journey homeward proved a bit puzzling. Finally, however, one member of the party secured an empty orange box with a partition running through the middle. An opossum was placed in each end and the trip was made without mishap. It was nearly midnight when they reached home, but the night was delightful and everybody enjoyed the cutting, young and old, men and women. The next day the opossums were served for dinner with sweet potatoes, blueberry pie, etc. Some thirty guests were present, and Mr. Tingley declares everybody thoroughly enjoyed it.

The Sanford Weekly Herald of March 25th speaking of the hunt, says in part:

"There is nothing just like a possum hunt, and no leader for the sport can compare to the Southerner. Such a hunt was given last Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Tingley and sons of Sackville, N. B., who have been spending the winter in Oviedo with Miss Bertha Dixon. The chase was led by Marion Drawdy with dogs trained especially for possum and coon trailing. The party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Tingley, Douglas Tingley, Amos Tingley, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jones, J. B. Jones, Jr., Malcolm and Ben Jones, Marlon Drawdy, Mrs. Brockenton and children, and Misses Ella Belle Jones and Bertha Dixon. The party went to the woods in trucks and cars, which was quite a departure from the old time Southern possum hunt when the party walked for miles and miles before the dogs even began to take up the trail. The party left the cars and followed the dogs into the woods as they took up trail after trail. Four possums were treed by the dogs but only two were secured by the hunters, but it seemed to satisfy them for the time being and they returned home at a late hour, voting Mr. Dawdy the best possum hunter in Florida and this novel sport the very greatest of fun. On the following day a real possum dinner was served by the ladies of the party, who were assisting Douglas Tingley in entertaining the Oviedo Camp of Boy Scouts."

Mr. Tingley was very much taken with his visit to the South. The uniform kindness of the people is charming; the weather is delightful and everything considered, it is a most excellent place in which to spend a holiday. The Post understands Mr. Tingley invested in quite a large orange grove while he was down there; in fact, a number of his friends are being treated to the fruit from his own trees and all have pronounced it delicious.—Sackville, (N. B.) Post.
