

Post 53 blows competition away

Any doubt about that might have existed about how good the Sanford Campbell-Lossing Post 53 American Legion Baseball Team has all been erased now. Led by tournament Most Valuable Player Jason Louwsma, Post 53 cruised to the championship of the prestigious DeLand Firecracker Tournament, going a perfect 7-0 in the 20-team tourney. Page 1B

Casino Night, auction to fund team's trip

A Casino Night and Live Auction will be held at the Sanford Campbell-Lossing American Legion Post 53 American Legion Hall starting at 7 p.m. Saturday night (July 7) to raise funds for the upcoming American Legion 2001 American Legion Class A State Baseball Tournament this August 1-5.

Post 53 has earned the right to host the tournament, but it must pay all hotel, already in excess of $8,000, and meal expenses for the seven out of town teams and will also be putting together a first-rate tournament program, so community help is necessary and greatly appreciated.

The team, which is made up of players from Seminole and Lake Mary high schools, receives an automatic bid to the tournament as the host team.

Also, the committee is also looking for ads for the tournament program that will be distributed at the games.

Ads range in size from business cards to full pages.

County pins plans on penny sales tax

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

Revenues would fund road, school projects for the next 10 years

SANFORD — If Seminole voters approve the continuation of the one-cent sales tax during the Sept. 4 referendum, the expected $534 million in revenues will fund 11 major school projects and more than 100 different road improvements.

The school board will receive 25 percent or roughly $133 million for 11 capital improvements, including 20 new classrooms for Altamonte Springs and Forest

City elementary schools; 10 new classrooms for Sabal Point, Sterling Park, Winter Springs, Eastbrook elementary schools; and 10 new classrooms at Oviedo High School.

Twenty million dollars will help Lake Mary High School renovate classrooms and add eight classrooms and a performing arts center. Red Bug Elementary will also add 15 classrooms if the sales tax is approved.

Two new schools, a middle school and elementary, are proposed for Sanford and Oviedo, respectively, for a combined $33 million.

Members of Stop the PEST (Penny Extra Sales Tax) and Commissioner Grant Maloy argued at Tuesday's commission meeting that all the funds should go to new school and classroom construction. According to Maloy, renovations of schools should be the responsibility of the school board and not an extra burden on the tax payers.

Seminole County will receive 37.5 percent of the tax. See Tax, Page 5A

Revitalizing Longwood

City officials are preparing to unveil a masterplan to redevelop downtown

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — One of the oldest cities in Seminole County is looking to preserve its historical flavor through some ingenious downtown planning and a gift from the county.

At a recent Seminole County Commission meeting, Commissioner Randy Morris asked for the county to pursue its efforts to donate the abandoned Longwood post office property on State Road 427 and Church Avenue to the City of Longwood.

Bradlee-McIntyre House

With the post office property, the city will be able to construct a gateway entrance which will be one of the keys to the city's new downtown revitalization plan. According to Seminole County Manager Kevin Grace, the post office property is too small for current building codes making the land otherwise useless to the county.

"I hope we could pull something together in 45 or 60 days," Grace said about the future of the resolution to donate the property.

Grace speculated that the county attorney's office could have the plan approved for the county commissioners to vote on for the July 24 board meeting.

The sooner the better, as Longwood landscape architecture firm Dix Nance is only months away from revealing their downtown master plan to Longwood city commissioners.

The idea of a master plan is nothing new to the city of Longwood as city administrator John Drago has pushed for master plans to be completed for just about every segment of the city. From the water and sewer system to the parks and

Litton says Lake Mary water is safe

LAKE MARY — As a result of recent concern expressed by residents in and around the city of Lake Mary, City Manager John Litton has attempted to clarify what some have considered dangerous conditions in the city's water supply.

Litton said the city received approximately 30 calls regarding the situation.

"As a result of a recent newspaper article and subsequent concerns from some of our customers regarding the city's water wells, I felt it important to clarify from the city's perspective what has transpired over the past several months," Litton said.

According to Litton, water being supplied by the Lake Mary treatment plant facility is safe for human consumption. Samples taken on May 16 did not indicate a detectable presence of 1,1-dichloroethene (DCE).

Litton said in February the city was drilling a permitted well as part of its water expansion program. While drilling, officials detected DCE levels exceeding the standards set by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection for public water systems.

SANFORD — Have you ever thought what it would be like to lose an arm or a leg, and how such a tragedy would affect the rest of your life? Unfortunately, for some people, an accident or illness can cause that thought to become a reality.

In recent years, however, revolutionary prosthetic advancements have made it possible for many amputees to control their prostheses more effectively, helping them re-enter the work force and participate in recreational activities such as running, dancing, riding a bike, or golfing.

One person taking advantage of the revolutionary technology is Ruth Pindilli, of DeBary. Pindilli works as a charge nurse in the Intensive Care Unit at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford. Pindilli lost her left leg in 1984.

"I was hit by a car while riding on a motorcycle," she said.

Until last week, Pindilli's leg was fitted with a conventional prosthesis. Each time she took a step she had to think about it. All that changed last

Sanford man dies of pain pill overdose

Abuse of prescription drugs is on the rise, police are reporting

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

HEATHROW — A Sanford man is dead after apparently overdosing on pain pills.

Seminole County deputies responded to a Lakewood Circle home after neighbors reported a "suspicious incident" in which three white males left the home with one of the males carrying a man like "a sack of potatoes" over his shoulder.

The man being carried was later identified as 26-year-old Richard Santiago Waybright of Sanford. He was pronounced dead at Central Florida Regional Hospital.

At the scene, police questioned Stewart Larson Eden, 27, of Lake Mary; Brandon Keith McCaghren, 28, of Casselberry; and Don William Wyman, 22, of Casselberry. The three admitted to taking Waybright to the hospital. Eden said Waybright had taken the pain killers Oxycodone and Oxycotin while he was intoxicated.

Deputies executed a search warrant of McCaghren's maroon Ford Thunderbird and found more than two dozen pain pills inside a golf bag. Two separate bags of marijuana "shake," a glass pipe and rolling papers were also found in the golf bag.

Abandoned garage transformed into Geneva's newest eatery

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

GENEVA — More than a year ago, passersby didn't think there was much future for the abandoned garage located at 200 Ave. C. Today, however, the building reminds some of the Whistle Stop Café from the movie "Fried Green Tomatoes."

"A year and a half ago, people didn't think I could do it," Rocky G. Michaud said. "The building was an eyesore. It was flooded with water, and there wasn't even a driveway."

Michaud, the owner of Rocky's Café, said once she started renovating the old structure, she didn't have any doubts it would become the "Mom and Pop" café she pictured in her mind.

She was right. Although the restaurant just opened on June 1, it's already attracted a loyal patronage from throughout Seminole County.

Many not familiar with the Geneva area would never guess the community's newest deli and café was once used to house and fix vehicles. The dining area, with its white walls and tile floor, is spotless. In the kitchen, ingredients are organized neatly on the stainless steel shelves with every corner serving a purpose in the cooking scheme.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

The music of '1776'

Every July 4th, I get out my video copy of the musical "1776" and play it one more time. Hopefully many have seen it, or much of what I am about to write will not be of interest.

It depicts the final days of the Continental Congress in the preparation of the Declaration of Independence. Main people in the movie are John Adams, Ben Franklin, Tom Jefferson, and a host of others, played by very prominent movie actors. The man who played the roll of the school principal in "Boy Meets World," William Daniels, for example, plays John Adams. I can't even look at him in "Boy Meets World" without thinking of John Adams singing and dancing his way through "1776".

Nick Pfeifauf

There are a few flaws in the movie. For example, Sidney Rodney, the delegate from Delaware, was old and near death at the end of the movie. Yet it is his picture on the newly designed Delaware quarter coin, it depicted him on horseback, as a hero in the Revolutionary War. If he was dead, how'd he do that?

Even though he had the gout, Ben Franklin, (Howard Da Silva), also did some fancy dance steps and sang in the movie. I doubt he ever did that in real life, although I hear he was quite a party animal.

Basically however, "1776" gives an example of how the members of congress had to fight to gain independence from England. There were those who opposed the measure, wanting us to leave well-enough alone and not cause waves.

Others didn't want the declaration because it would, without a doubt, mean the start of war. Of course General George Washington and his troops were already fighting, so the war against British occupation was already under way.

There was a great deal of literary license taken in writing "1776." I'm sure Abigail Adams didn't really come to her husband John in a vision, and Tom Jefferson, (Ken Howard), didn't play the fiddle for his wife within minutes after seeing each other for the first time in many months.

But the message is there. Congress finally adopted the Declaration of Independence on July 4, which was signed first by John Hancock. (Thus the saying "put your John Hancock on this"). History records the document wasn't actually signed by most of the delegates until Aug. 2 of that year, while other scholars say a few of them didn't sign it for a year or more. Who knows, I didn't cover that story for the Herald.

Most of our national holidays have a specific purpose, such as Flag Day, Memorial Day, Labor Day, and so on. July Fourth is specific in that we honor the freedom we have in our country and the forefathers who made it so. Except for the Civil War, we have been one nation for 225 years. I don't think there is another country in the entire world that has been so united and under the same type of government as we have. It's something of which we can be proud — and we should show it.

Regarding "1776," if you don't own it, rent or borrow it. It's good clean entertainment for the entire family, and regardless of the merriment it contains, it's an excellent educational tool.

Preparing for the Fourth

U.S. flags and banners hang on the light posts and storefronts in downtown Sanford in preparation for the Fourth of July events scheduled for Wednesday.

Buddhist lessons don't apply

When it comes to kids, Sweetie and I should be rated PG. If our friends ask us to watch their spawn, you can bet the Hell's Angels were unavailable.

"So," Sweetie says, staring down at my girlfriend's 9-year-old son, "you want to go cruising for girls?"

Sweetie and I are monster-sitting at our friends' house. The only way I'd let Kid spend two days at our place is if they brought him over in a straitjacket and leather mask like Hannibal Lecter.

"No, thank you, sir," Kid says meekly.

On that note, I swivel my head in Kid's direction. He's sitting bone straight at the kitchen table with his hands folded in his lap. He hasn't been this well behaved since his first trimester.

"Are you sure you don't want to scratch the ABC's in the coffee table, set the dog on fire or jump from couch to couch in muddy soccer cleats?" I ask, tempting him with a few of his favorite activities.

Solemnly, he shakes his little head from side to side. Under normal circumstances, Kid would be ripping through the house leaving a trail of destruction like a tiny tornado in Reeboks. We've long suspected that nine years and nine months ago my girlfriend had a fling with the Tasmanian Devil.

"All right, spit it out," I say. "What have you destroyed?"

"I didn't mean to do it!" Kid wails, wringing his grimy little hands. "It couldn't be that bad," Sweetie says from behind his newspaper. "I probably did the same thing when I was your age."

"You spray-painted Pokemon pictures on your Dad's car too?"

"Coffee cup suspended in mid-air, I stare at Kid.

"Your dad's new white Mercedes?"

Judging by the look on Kid's face, white would no longer be an accurate description.

Standing in the garage, Sweetie, Kid and I stare at the bright red, yellow and blue stick figures running down the side of the $60,000 car, which now looks like Picasso's doodle pad.

"Pokemon is so passe," Sweetie says, touching the enamel paint, then checking his finger. "Have you seen Angelina Jolie in 'Lara Croft Tomb Raider'?"

"She's really hard to draw," Kid says, looking up at him.

"You'd definitely need more paint," Sweetie nods.

"Do you think Dad is going to like it?" Kid asks, forehead furled.

"If I were you," Sweetie says, lobbing an empty spray can into the trash, "I'd join the Foreign Legion. They get to ride camels, you know."

On that note, tears pool in Kid's brown eyes, and his little body goes limp.

Zoo offers animal adoption program

By Nick Pfeffaut
Staff Writer

So you visit the Central Florida Zoological Park in Sanford and fall in love with a particular animal. We all have a favorite. Did you know that the zoo offers an Animal Adoption program, and you can actually help support that particular creature.

No, you can't adopt Maude the elephant and take her home with you. Paying for food and cleaning up after her would be beyond the limits of what the zoo wants.

But people can make a donation to the zoo, and the zoo keeps the animal and takes care of it for you.

By adopting an animal, you play an important role in promoting the comfort and growth of your favorite creature. Your gift helps provide for veterinary care, enrichment and feeding. And, it helps make the Central Florida Zoo an even better home for all animals.

Suggested donations to the adoption levels range from $25 to $300. For each level, you receive a 4-by-6 color photo of your animal, a personalized adoption certificate, biofact sheet about the animal and the name of those who are also sponsors of that particular animal.

Depending on how much more, $40, $150 or $300, for your donation, you receive additional materials, such as guest passes and various subscriptions.

You can adopt an animal in honor of someone else, such as grandpa's birthday, the birth of a new baby, or perhaps a monkey in honor of your boss.

By adding an extra dollar to your donation, you can become involved in the Species Survival Plan, an organized program that serves to preserve the genetic diversity naturally found in wild animal populations. There are 89 species in this program including the cheetah, elephant, cotton-top tamarin, rock iguana, red-ruffed lemur, mandrill and clouded leopard.

Contact the zoo or stop in and obtain an Animal Adoption application form. It's easy to fill you, and will help the zoo in its overall operations and protection of the animals.

For additional information, phone 407-323-4450, or look up the zoo on its web site at www.centralfloridazoo.org.

Would the Pentagon Papers be published today?

A spate of articles and interviews hit street and screen this month to commemorate the 30th anniversary of the publication of "top secret" documents on the origins of the Vietnam War that became famous and infamous as "The Pentagon Papers."

Richard Reeves

The papers, if you remember, were diplomatic, military and intelligence memos and records under presidents from Harry Truman to Lyndon Johnson. And they showed, quite convincingly, that our leaders, elected and not, had lied to us about many things happening in the three countries once known as French Indo-China — Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. We went to war there, and more than 55,000 Americans died for reasons hard to defend now. So did hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese, though many of them had real reasons — it was their war, their home, their history, their destinies at stake.

The New York Times began publishing the papers on Sunday, June 13, 1971, right next to the story of the White House wedding of President Nixon's daughter Tricia the day before. We (I was a reporter at The Times then) saw the publication as a signal act of journalistic duty and courage, knowing that the government might choose to arrest and prosecute the people responsible for challenging the official definitions and rules of "national security."

Nobody else paid much attention, at least not at first. Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird was on "Meet the Press" that morning, and no one even asked about the papers. President Nixon was annoyed, but he considered the publication more of a problem for the many defenders of the Democratic presidents who moved us into the war, Johnson and Kennedy. The president was also not that impressed with "top secret." He knew that more than 500,000 people were cleared at that level, including file clerks at companies that made gears for tanks and ships.

The person who was excited — perpetually, it seemed to some — was Nixon's national security adviser, Henry Kissinger, who was resting in California that week. He called the president with a 15-minute tirade, saying: "It shows you're a weakling, Mr. President ... these leaks are slowly and systematically destroying us. ... It could destroy our ability to conduct foreign policy. If other powers feel we cannot control internal leaks, they will not agree to secret negotiations."

Soon enough, Nixon's chief of staff, H.R. Haldeman, was saying, "The two of them are in a frenzy." The rest is truly history. Within a couple of days, Nixon was urging his men to break into the Brookings Institution and other places to see if they had any of the 15 copies of the papers.

The government asked for and got restraining orders blocking publication of the material (temporarily, it turned out) by The Times and then The Washington Post, Boston Globe, Los Angeles Times and other publications being fed material by a disenchanted defense analyst named Daniel Ellsberg. He got himself arrested, and Nixon formed a unit that called itself "The Plumbers," guys assigned to stop leaks; one of the bright ideas they had was to break into the office of Ellsberg's psychiatrist. The next step was Watergate.

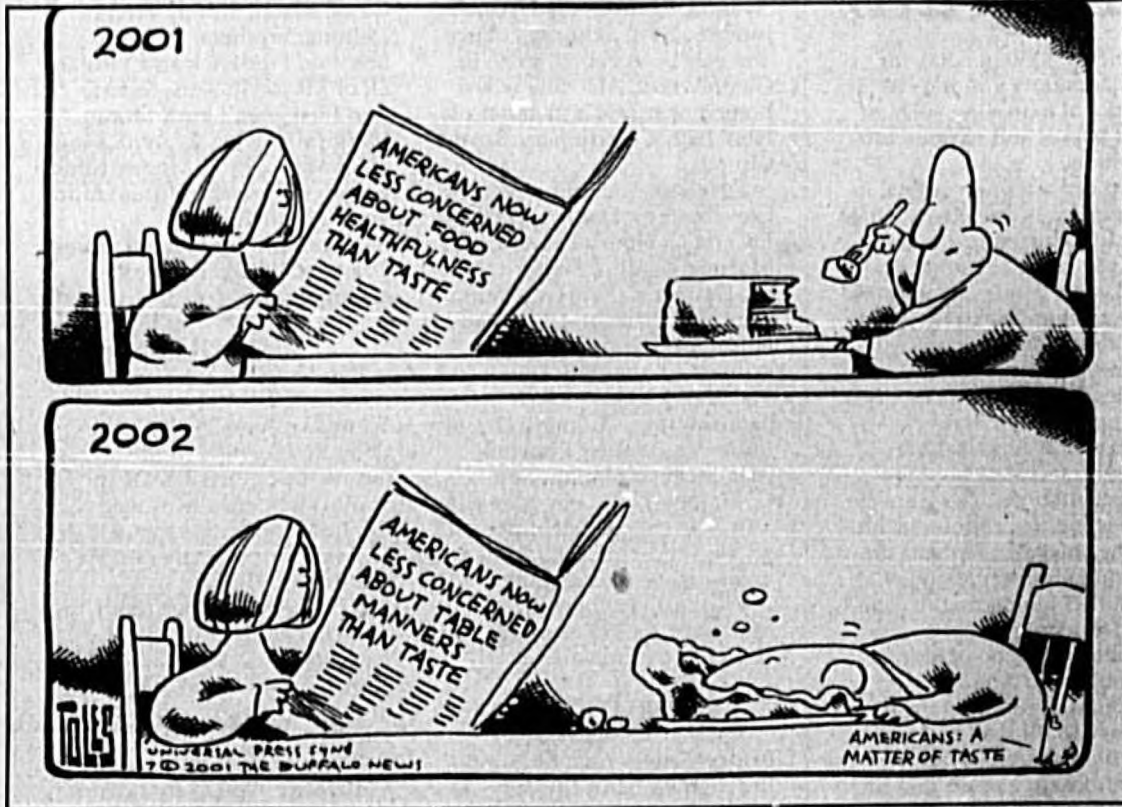

Looking back, I am not sure that the publication of the Pentagon Papers was quite as world-changing as we thought at the time. In fact, the questions in my mind now are these:

— What lesson did the government take from the Pentagon Papers controversy and the ruling by the Supreme Court that the press pretty much had the legal right to publish whatever it could get its hands on? Perhaps less is put in writing (or on computer disks) now. Or perhaps the government has used cost-cutting arguments to slow down the release of sensitive information. For instance, the Foreign Relations of the United States volumes on Vietnam during the Nixon years were due to be released beginning in 1999, but they have not been.

— Would The Times and the rest of the press be willing to spend the money and take the risks involved in challenging the government that way again? Millions of extra pages were printed then, and hundreds of lawyers were paid and retained to fight the Justice Department. Who would make such decisions now?

Thirty years is a long time. In government, the children and assistants of President Nixon and his men have regained power. On the press side, power has shifted in a more fundamental way. Editors and reporters ruled in 1971. Accountants, lawyers and stock analysts make the final decisions now.

Why does the church need the state?

While President Bush was touting his revised "faith-based" initiative at the U.S. Conference of Mayors in

Cal Thomas

Detroit on Monday, some Democrats were charging that Republicans are working to undermine one of the plan's central provisions. It is the proposal to allow people who don't itemize their deductions to get a tax break when they contribute to religious and charitable organizations that help the poor. Democrats say that Rep. Bill Thomas (R-CA), chairman of the congressional Joint Committee on Taxation, wants to "gut" this provision because of an estimate by the committee that it would cost $83 billion over 10 years.

Democrats claim Thomas is concerned that the administration's tax cut won't allow that big a revenue loss. Thomas is said to desire a $20 billion cost "cap." A committee spokesman declined comment, but a committee source said there are "several versions" of the bill and that markup and a vote are at least a week away.

Beyond the cost and even beyond the President's commendable desire to do more for the needy, something should trouble especially Christian ministries which would receive money from the government for their "faith-based" programs.

In Deuteronomy 15:11, God says this about the poor: "There will always be poor people in the land. Therefore, I command you to be open-handed toward your brothers and toward the poor and needy in your land." In Matthew 26:11, Jesus makes a similar point: "The poor you will always have with you."

While there are biblical commands about justice, there are no expectations that government should be the primary provider of help for the poor. That is the job of the church. The reason it is the job of the church is so that God's love might be demonstrated in tangible ways in order that the poor might open their hearts to a greater and intangible message. It is this latter mission which many believe will be compromised should the President's "faith-based" plan win congressional approval. It is not so much about church-state issues. It is about the possibility that the church will be further robbed of its privilege and responsibility to God for the poor.

What kind of job are Christian churches doing? Not a very good one, according to the Barna Research Group, which studies religious behavior and attitudes.

Reported giving to nonprofit organizations and churches, says Barna, was down 6 percent last year from 1999. The average giving per person last year was a paltry $886, 15 percent less than the previous year.

When churches alone are studied, Barna says six out of 10 adults put money in the collection plate, with the average annual donation amounting to just $649, down from an $806 average in 1999. Some of those making the biggest noise about the declining state of our culture gave the least. While 39 percent of all adults gave nothing to a church last year, nearly one-quarter of them were people who identified themselves as "born again." Since the biblical standard is the tithe (donating 10 percent of annual income to the church, a custom only 12 percent of the born again practice, says Barna), it appears that those commanded to do the most are actually doing the least.

Churches should feel insulted that government wants to step in where its own angels have stopped treading. Churches should feel convicted of their underperformance in caring for the needy.

There are dozens of verses in both the Old and New Testaments indicating God's care and concern for the poor and His displeasure with people who ignore them. But there is no call for "Caesar" to be the primary provider of help. That's the basic work of churches. When Christians refuse to obey God in this matter, judgment falls on them. The government has the capability of feeding the hungry and clothing the naked, but if Christians allow themselves to be replaced in such efforts, they will have traded their birthright for something of far less value.

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

Independence Day is a chance for America to celebrate its birthday and wave the "stars and bars." Most people will be getting a day off work and watching fireworks displays. So our question today is, "How do you plan to celebrate the July 4 holiday?"

Shamilee Ware, age 8, Sanford

I'll be going to my big cousin BJ's barbecue. I want to watch the fireworks in Sanford and might do some fireworks at my grandmother's house.

Kathleen Forgo, Sanford

My family will be visiting from New Jersey. We plan to have a community gathering at Twelve Oaks RV resort. No fireworks, it's too hot. We'll just enjoy a family afternoon.

Claire Andognini, Lake Mary

I plan to go to my daughters and have a great cookout, sit and visit with family and friends in the afternoon, then come to Sanford for the fireworks display.

Savannah Pressley, Burnsville, N.C.

I'm going back home to North Carolina tomorrow. We'll have a picnic and I'll play with my big brother, Cole, and go swimming and watch the fireworks at night.

Renee Washington, age 11, Sanford

We might try and go to New Smyrna Beach or have a barbecue in the back yard. I'll definitely watch the fireworks. I only live six streets away.

cent or approximately $200 million for five major areas of road improvements. One area of improvement is the county's state road system which several commissioners balked at, including Maloy and Commissioner Randy Morris.

Maloy and Morris argued that funding state road projects should ultimately be the responsibility of the state legislature. Nonetheless, if the one-cent sales tax is approved, State Road 434, from the Orange County line, will be widened to six lanes and State Road 418 will be widened to four lanes from State Road 46 to the Volusia County line.

Other state road projects the county will fund include curb and gutter improvements on U.S. Highway 17/92 from the Orange County line to Lake of the Woods Boulevard; 17/92 widened to six lanes from Shepard Road to Lake Mary Boulevard; a interchange improvement at 17/92 and State Road 436; State Road 434 widened to six lanes from Montgomery Road to County Road 427; interchange improvements at State Road 436 and Red Bug Lake Road; and lake front improvements along 17/92 in a cooperative effort with the city of Sanford.

The county will also use approximately $25 million to construct several pedestrian overpasses: one at Red Bug Lake Road, two on Lake Mary boulevard, one north of State Road 436 in Altamonte Springs and one on 17/92 and Triplet Lake Drive in Casselberry.

All seven major cities in Seminole will also share a piece of the revenues from the one-cent tax based on their population numbers. Altamonte Springs is projected to receive about $16 million which is slated for projects including widening Douglas Avenue and Jamestown Boulevard and new roadways between Albermarle Road and Keller Road and an extension of West Town Parkway north-easterly from Laurel Street to Orange Avenue.

The city of Casselberry would receive approximately $11 million and it would be used for a new connector from Seminole Boulevard to State Road 434 and additional roadway and intersection improvements.

Lake Mary is scheduled to receive almost $5 million from the new tax and it would be utilized for road improvements on Sand Pond Road and Skyline Drive and sidewalk and drainage improvements would be made on Evansdale Road and Pine Tree Road.

The city of Longwood will receive more than $3 million for dirt road paving for more than 20 roadways.

Oviedo would get more than $10 million for road improvements on Franklin Street and Division Street and extending Lindsay Lane from Division Street to State Road 434. The city will also consider widening State Road 426 from State Road 434 to Winter Springs Boulevard and widening County Road 419 from Division Street to State Road 434.

The city of Sanford will receive $15.7 million for road improvements north of West State Road 46, a Mulberry Avenue Extension from 14th Street to Country Club Road, downtown circulation improvements and various intersection and sidewalk improvements.

Winter Springs is scheduled to receive almost $13 million for various road improvements on Hickory Grove, Spine Road, Moss Road, State Road 434, Fisher Road, Bahama Road and Winter Springs Boulevard.

Seminole County will also make improvements on more than 50 county roads. The largest of the improvements is a projects $4.75 million for paving improvements on Lake Mary Boulevard from Rinehart Road to US 17/92.

The County is also set to spend $40 million on 167 miles of sidewalks within a 2-mile radius of county schools and another 182 miles of sidewalks in unincorporated, primarily non-subdivision, portions of the county.

Litton said the city notified FDEP and drilling operations were immediately suspended.

"As of this time, that well has never been put into service," Litton said.

After meetings with FDEP, the city, along with Siemens and Seminole County, conducted monthly tests of existing wells in the vicinity to check for DCE's. Traces were found in two of the city's active water wells, but

Litton said "they were well within the 7 parts per billion (PPB) allowed under FDEP and EPA regulations."

"It is important to remember that the water in which these traces were noted are from pre-treated water wells, as opposed to the finished product that is delivered to our customers," Litton added.

The 1,1-dichloroethene compound is treatable and Litton said the city will install an aeration system — "which is a proven treatment method," Litton explained — at its water plant. In addition to addressing DCE's, the aeration system will also help reduce other compounds, such as iron.

Questions should be directed to either John Deamud, our Public Works Director at 407-333-8211, or Paul Morrison, the FDEP Environmental Manager for the Drinking Water Program at 407-894-7555.

Residents evacuated in senior center fire

By Christopher Patton
Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — More than a dozen residents were evacuated from the Stanford Center assisted living facility when a fire broke out early Monday morning.

According to firefighter Alan Harris of the Altamonte Springs Fire Department, about 45 firefighters responded to the two-alarm call. One crew and searched in the heavy smoke for the fire inside, while outside a ladder truck was used to rescue residents from the balconies.

"You could barely see your hand in front of your face," Harris said about the heavy smoke in the atrium of the building. "The fire consumed a couch and had the sprinklers not gone off it could of gone into the walls."

Harris credited the properly working sprinklers for rescuing the building and possibly many of the residents lives.

"That's one of the most difficult situations," Harris said about fires in assisted living facilities. "People can't get out on their own like a residential fire. A lot more man power is needed and with the heavy smoke we had to lift them off the balconies."

Although the building is non-smoking, Harris attributed the fire to a cigarette placed on the couch. He speculated the cigarette could of come from an outside visitor unaware of the smoking restrictions in the building.

According to Harris, the atrium suffered water damage while the whole building was victimized by the heavy smoke. Residents will not be allowed back into the building for several days. Most residents will be temporarily moved to The Pavilion at Crossing Pointe in Orlando.

Overdose

McCaghen told police he hid the items in the golf bag to keep Waybright from getting in trouble with the authorities.

McCaghen was charged with possession of controlled substance, possession of a legend drug without a prescription, possession of marijuana under 20 grams, possession of drug paraphernalia and tampering with evidence.

"The investigation is still active until the toxicology report is available, but foul play has been ruled out," said Lt. Pete Kelting. "In these cases where foul play is ruled out, if they (investigators) feel the drug was obtained from somewhere else the investigation will pursue that."

According to Kelting, police have seen a dramatic increase of prescription pain killer abuse. Oxycotin is a prescription drug that is part of the opiate family which includes morphine. Its high potency is normally used for terminally ill cancer patients. While doctors have praised the drug's effectiveness, the abuse of the drug has forced the Federal Drug Administration to consider banning the drug.

"Right now it's the drug of choice on the streets for that type of effect," Kelting. "It's a highly addictive pain killer."

Investigation into the death of Waybright will continue with SCSO Investigator Dan Prast leading the search.

Longwood

recreation department, master plans have been developed "to give an overall picture of what's going on" in each city department.

According to Drago, the architect will develop a pattern book with design standards for the downtown area which will "protect the property values" and "give it that period look."

With the road widening of State Road 427 and the upcoming ground breaking of the Longwood Community Building downtown, Mayor Paul Lovstrand says there are "several opportunities and a great potential for the historical district." Although the mayor is pleased with the possible post office land donation, he says the gift doesn't come without cost to the city as they will have to tear down the building.

"When I was elected (in 1990) I was told that Longwood didn't have a historic district just a run down place," Lovstrand said. "Now, we're glad to have some eatery places so people can come down here."

With the donation of the post office, Lovstrand said the city

"will have a three block panoramic entrance into the district" so "people who cut through 427 will know we are there."

At Dix Nance Landscape Architecture on 150 W. Jessup Avenue in Longwood, architects are wrapping up the six-month project that details "all those things that make a street special" and "providing a vision for the district."

A few of the items Dix Nance are to suggest in the pattern book for the Longwood downtown revitalization is encouraging creative signage, simple picket fences, site furniture, street lighting, big entranceways and traditional Southern front porches.

According to Nance, many of the suggestions for the downtown rejuvenation will be simple, but "emphasize the architecture" of Longwood's illustrious history.

Several buildings Nance labeled as focal points, or buildings that draw attention and have unique architectural designs, that the city should compliment are the Christ Episcopal Church, Bradlee-McIntyre House, the Inside Outside House and the Longwood Hotel.

"We look to develop an architectural pattern that plays off the character of the existing historical presence of the district," Nance said. "A lot of the small existing towns in the South give you the boiler plate to work from. If you go into the downtowns of some of these older places it's amazing the character you'll find."

Nance said there is several options the city has to preserving the "small town flavor." In the pattern book, Dix Nance will suggest parallel parking, pedestrian walkways and various street improvements to encourage more visitors to journey to the downtown shops and eateries. The old post office building will be used as a gateway entrance to encourage more people to visit the district and Nance said they might suggest an "architectural icon" for Reiter Park to act as another focal point for the district.

"It (pattern book) encourages people not only to take from the old architecture, but to make something new that in 50 years will be considered historic," Nance said.

Business is booming

Ann and Vic Giltze show off some of the fireworks they have for sale at the Pinecrest Shopping Center, located at the corner of 27th Street and U.S. Highway 17-92. The couple say business has been brisk, and they have a large assortment of fireworks for the July 4th celebration.

There's an Italian flair throughout the building. Checkered tablecloths adorn the table, Italian art hangs on wall and the smell of homemade spaghetti sauce fills every corner of the restaurant.

"I make a great sauce," Michaud said.

The ethnic theme makes sense. Michaud, who was born in New York, comes from an Italian background, and numerous family members have owned Italian restaurants. Although the new restaurateur has had numerous careers, including seamstress, hot dog cart entrepreneur, caterer, maid and paralegal, the restaurant business appears to be in Michaud's blood.

Until recently, Michaud lived in Winter Park, but she decided to move to Geneva and open her business in the small community to get away from the traffic and overcrowding of the city.

"I was looking for something off the beaten path," she said. "I looked around and found this."

She has no typical customer, and everybody is welcome at Rocky's Café. Michaud has even placed hitching posts on the side of the restaurant for people arriving by horse. And, customers from Oviedo, Winter Park and Sanford are all coming to the small café to enjoy Michaud's homemade food.

During the lunch hour, menu items include a variety of salads, hot and cold sandwiches and a few Italian dishes. In the evening, there are dinner specials, and breakfast is served all day.

"I like to do crazy, different stuff," Michaud said. "And, I call this a 'Mom and Pop' situation. I feed people like our family eats. We have really big servings."

The café also offers a variety of cold cuts, ice cream and homemade breads and pastries.

For night people, Rocky's Café stays open until 9:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

"And, if people want to stay later, I'm not going to kick anybody out," she said.

Since the restaurant opens at 9:30 a.m. each day (except Sundays when it is closed), Michaud said she spends more than 20 hours every day at her business. But, she doesn't mind. It gives her time to catch up on some of her paralegal and notary work.

"People can come here, have lunch and get a simple divorce or adoption," she said.

Looking back at the last year, Michaud said she has no regrets on her newest endeavor. In the few weeks it's been open, business has been good, and the community appears to have accepted its newest entrepreneur.

If she does get a little frustrated, all Michaud has to do is step outside and look at the vines covering the fence and storefront she planted when she first started renovating the garage.

"I planted them from seeds," she said. "People asked why I planted them so early. I told them I knew it would take that long to get this thing going. And, it's been great."

For more information about Rocky's Café, call Michaud at 407-349-0304.

week, however, when she received a Otto Bock C-Leg from Hanger, Inc.

According to Paulo Bexiga, a certified practitioner, the C-Leg is the first and only microprocessor controlled hydraulic knee with swing and stance phase control. What that means is an amputee can now walk without thinking about how to walk.

The C-Leg, Bexiga said, has been in use in the United States for a little more than a year, but it has been used in Germany — where it was invented — for about 5 years.

"There are other hydraulic systems out there on the market, but the C-Leg is the first one to use a microchip rather than a mechanical type of control," Bexiga said.

Pindilli found out about the device through a magazine ad.

"I was reading 'Motion Magazine,' a magazine for amputees when I saw the ad," she said. "I talked to the physical therapy department at the hospital, and they referred me to John Jump at Hanger."

About five months elapsed from her initial inquires to the day when her leg was fitted with the computerized knee.

Bexiga pointed out that the innovative knee joint features on-board sensor technology that reads and adapts to the individual's every move. A lithium-ion battery in the knee will provide power for the knee for one full day — about 25 hours.

Jump indicated the battery will need re-charging each day. One accessory, Jump said, will allow Pindilli to use the car cigarette lighter to re-charge the battery while she drives.

At Hanger, Inc., which is located at 819 E. First Street, Sanford, Bexiga used a personal computer equipped with special software to make fine-tune adjustments and tailor the C-Leg to Pindilli.

"Angles and movements are measured some 50 times per second," he said. The adjustments are made by connecting the computer to the microprocessor controlled hydraulic knee, as Pindilli walked across the room, the information from Pindilli's knee told Bexiga what adjustments to make. The process took about one hour. Pindilli will need to have the device checked in about two weeks. Provided everything works smoothly, she will not need to return after the second visit.

Because she works at the hospital and is a very active person, Bexiga said Pindilli was an excellent candidate for the knee. However, as with all new technology, the cost of being fitted with a C-Leg comes with a high price tag. Jump indicated the price is around $40,000, but added, "it is the creme de la creme."

Geneva community plans July 4th parade

The Geneva community is once again sponsoring its annual Fourth of July parade, starting at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The parade will begin at Geneva's Baptist Church on 1st Street, travel down 1st Street to Avenue C, go along 2nd Street to Pine Street and then return to the church. The theme of this year's event is "Geneva — A Way Of Life," and the three best dressed riders and their horses will be recognized.

Following the parade, a short Fourth of July ceremony will be held at the Geneva Community Building, located on 1st Street next to the Geneva Historical Museum. Activities will follow the ceremony, including children's games, and refreshments will be available.

The Community Building, built in the 1930s, is currently undergoing renovations, and donations will be accepted as part of the project's fund-raising efforts. T-shirts will also be for sale. For more information, contact Lorraine Whiting at 407-349-5495.

A $5 donation to the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission's (FWC's) manatee recovery program earns the donor a new 2001 manatee decal for a boat or vehicle.

"I Support Manatees" is the theme for this year's decal, which is available at county tax collectors' offices.

Wildlife artist JoAnne Thorne, from Volusia County, created the artwork for the 2001 decal. She also submitted two other designs which placed in the FWC's annual decal art contest last winter.

Thorne has been the official artist of the Blue Spring Manatee Festival for the past five years.

Besides her artwork, the front of the oval-shaped decal has the "I Support Manatees" caption and the new FWC resource protection number—1-888-404-FWCC. The back of the colorful decal gives information about the various programs.

"Voluntary donations from vessel and vehicle registrants benefit manatee protection efforts and are essential to the recovery of this endangered animal. These funds allow us to conduct research and management where they are needed most," said David Arnold, chief of FWC's Bureau of Protected Species Management. "In certain areas of Florida, manatees are slowly making a recovery. Support from individuals has helped make the difference."

The decals are part of FWC's annual Voluntary Contribution Campaign to benefit the Florida manatee. The manatee is Florida's official marine mammal and is listed as an endangered species by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The most recent survey (in January) counted 3,276 manatees living in Florida's coastal and inland waterways.

The decals typically bring in more than $100,000 to the program. The money is used for research and protection efforts by the state and provides funds for manatee rescue and rehabilitation efforts, habitat protection and education.

Sale of the manatee decals, along with manatee license plate sales, are vital to recovery efforts.

For further information on manatees, manatee decals or manatee license plates, write FWC, 620 South Meridian Street OES-BPS, Tallahassee, Florida 32399-1600. Web site: <http://www.florida-conservation.org/psn>.

Busy week for Post 53

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — There is no rest for the weary.

Okay, maybe one day. After winning the Firecracker Tournament in DeLand Sunday morning, Sanford Campbell-Losing American Legion Post 53 baseball team manager Rod Ferguson told his squad to take a little rest before getting back to the ball field.

That rest was one day as the team gets right back into preparation for the upcoming State Tournament when it opens play in the Jimmy Jones Memorial July 4th Tournament at Seminole High School's Alumni Field tonight (Tuesday). Sanford Post 53 and Jacksonville Post

Tournament, Auction on slate for baseball team

88 will open the tournament by playing a doubleheader this evening (Tuesday) starting at 6 p.m.

The other five teams in the seven-team event will begin play on Wednesday, again with games starting at 6 p.m.

Thursday again will have games at 6 p.m. and then on Friday, games will begin at 11 a.m.

There will be a pair of games on Saturday (July 7), the Third Place Game at 10 a.m. and the Championship Game at 1 p.m.

Following the tournament, a Casino Night and Live Auction will be held at the Post 53 American Legion Hall starting at 7 p.m.

Post 53 has won the prestigious right to host the 2001 American Legion Class A State Baseball Tournament this August 1-5, but with that honor comes some expensive obligations.

Post 53 will pay all hotel, already in excess of $8,000, and meal expenses for the seven out of town teams and will also be putting together a first-rate tour-namment program, so community help is necessary and greatly appreciated.

The team is made up of players from Seminole and Lake Mary high schools, two programs that had extremely good seasons this year and most of the top players are now on Post 53, which receives an automatic bid to the tournament as the host team.

Donations from the Casino Night and Auction will go to benefit the baseball team.

Also, the committee is also looking for ads for the tournament program that will be distributed at the games.

Ads available range in size from business cards to full pages.

If you have any questions, please contact Rose Kimmig at 407-330-1672.

Kings of the 'cracker

Louwsma leads Post
53 to titleBy Dean Smith
Sports Editor

DeLAND — The statement has been made.

This team is very, very good.

Any doubt about that might have existed about how good the Sanford Campbell-Losing Post 53 American Legion Baseball Team has all been erased now.

Led by tournament Most Valuable Player Jason Louwsma, Post 53 cruised to the championship of the prestigious DeLand Firecracker Tournament, going a perfect 7-0 in the 20-team tourney.

After having gone 27 years without winning a Firecracker crown, Post 53 has now won the title twice in the past three years.

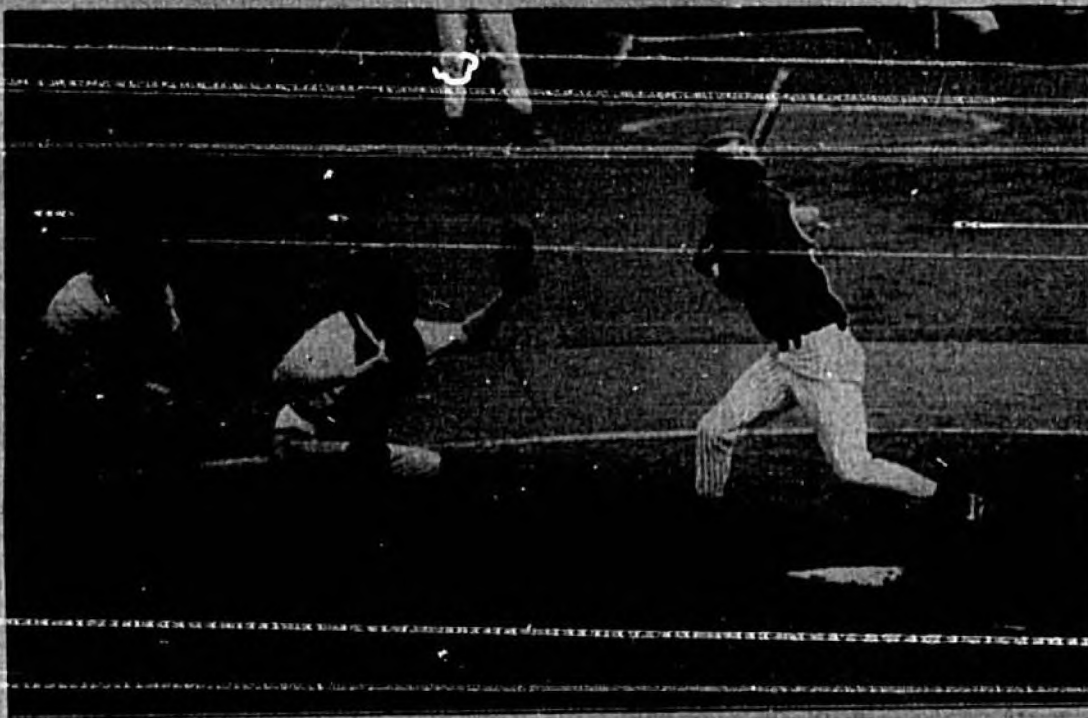

And Post 53 did it in impressive fashion, outscoring its foes 71-to-18 over the seven games, including 1-hit and a 2-hit shutouts, ending three games by the 10-run rule.

And that was in seven inning games, not the usual nine inning contests the team is used to playing.

For the tournament Post 53, which is now 32-1 on the season, hit .390 (71-for-182), including 19 doubles, four triples and five home runs, and the pitching allowed only 16 earned runs.

Sanford's Jason Louwsma (above) backs out of the way of pitch during Sanford Post 53's victory over Conyers, Georgia last Thursday. The shortstop would go on to hit .528 and be named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Lake Mary's Trevor Berryhill (right) won two games in the tournament as Post 53 went 7-0 to win its second Firecracker Tournament Championship in three years and improve to 32-1 on the season.

Oviedo rolls to Major
'B' titleBy Dean Smith
Sports Editor

OVIDO — Oviedo Babe Ruth Baseball made it four-for-four in district tournaments when its Major 'B' team went 3-0 to claim the Cal Ripken Major Commissioner's District 8

Tournament held at the Oviedo Sports Complex on June 23rd. Manager Fred Laber, who led the Oviedo 12-year-old 'B's' to their second straight district championship and another trip to the state tournament, saw his squad get off to a good start when they blanked Longwood 7-0 in the opening game and then came back to double the score on Altamonte Springs, 8-4.

Altamonte Springs bounced back on Saturday to stay alive in the tournament, whitewashing Longwood 9-0 in the Loser's Bracket final and earn another shot at the hosts.

The Championship Game turned out to be a barn-burner that had the fans of both teams on the edge of their seats, but host Oviedo, with birthday boy Brent Fahey going 2-for-3 and driving in three runs, proved to be just a little bit better on this day, outscoring Altamonte Springs 11-8 to earn the trip to state.

Serving as the coaches for Laber were Skip Frisz and Monty Tibbs.

In addition to Fahey, other members of the team were Tyler McCallister, Chris Paris, Chris Laber, Joseph Laurendi, Weston Below, Drew Morill, Chris Frisz, Joey Lea, Nick Futch, Daniel Delk, and Thomas Bias.

Girls International Basketball
Shootout set for this weekendBy Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — One of the top sporting events of the summer will take place this weekend when the Fifth Annual Seminole Community College-Outback Steakhouse Girls International Basketball Shootout is held.

Veteran SCC head women's basketball coach Ken Patrick has once again put together an impressive field of teams made up of players who have yet to play at an NCAA school.

The timing of the tournament is set up to coincide with the NCAA Viewing Period, a time when NCAA coaches can "legally" attend summer games or potential recruits, and gives the coaches and their scouts an opportunity to come to Florida and see some outstanding basketball.

Current SCC stars like All-American 'Yo' Johnson, Gabrielle Blankenfield, Nannie Berggren and Noelle Griffin played in the tournament last year and will be back again this year playing for host Seminole Community College.

Also back will be the defending champion Orlando Warriors, which went a perfect 6-0 to claim the 2000 title. Seminole High School's Jamala Mitchell was a member of the team.

Other Florida teams scheduled to attend include Daytona Beach Community College, Brevard, Team Florida, the Central Florida Falcons, Jacksonville, Tampa, Ft. Lauderdale and Naples.

Out of state teams include Georgia, the Long Island (N.Y.) Wave, and Alabama.

Teams coming in from out of the U.S. include Canada, Sweden, Poland, Finland, and USSANIA.

Round Robin games will be played at the Seminole Community College Health and Physical Education Center and the Lake Brantley High School Fieldhouse in Altamonte Springs on Friday and Saturday, July 6-7, with games using a running clock and beginning every hour on the hour.

On Sunday (July 8), all of the teams will play in a single-elimination tournament at the Lake Brantley Fieldhouse with games beginning at 9 a.m.

For the latest information on the tournament interested fans are invited to call the Tournament Hotline at 407-328-2094.

Childers outfoxes TBARA foes, Quick is quickest in Dwarf Cars

By Dave Westerman
Special to the Herald

BITHLO — Veteran Jim Childers is like the sly old fox who lies waiting in the bushes or the right opportunity. Just when you think you have him outsmarted, he pounces and makes quick work of his victims.

Childers did just that last Friday night at Orlando Speedworld as he easily took the 25-lap TBARA Winged Outlaw Sprint Car feature over an outstanding field of cars.

Childers finished well behind second heat race winner Doug Heveron who was turning laps in the 11.90's and looked to have the car to beat, running even quicker than TBARA point leader Wayne Reutimann, Sr. who won the third heat.

Childers lined up sixth on the grid for the feature with Reutimann right behind him. Paul Madden had the pole with Lee Cipray on the outside pole after a fine run in winning the first heat.

Cipray slipped back on the start as Madden took the early advantage only to have Ben Fritz slide into the turn four wall after something broke on the front suspension of his Royal Purple Oil sprinter to bring out the caution.

On the restart, Heveron jumped out front but his lead was short-lived as Childers blasted by, and built up a comfortable advantage while Reutimann and Dude Teate were on the charge moving into third and fourth spots as it looked like the race would run to the finish under green.

But just as the white flag flew, Cipray blew his engine going into turn one. Bo Hartley had nowhere to go and plowed into Cipray's machine. Robert "Snowtime" Yoho, making his first start in a sprint car, also slid in the oil, but managed to get stopped before doing any damage.

Cipray and Hartley were unhurt but their cars were done for the night.

This set up a green-white-checker finish as Childers lined up with the lapped cars of his brother-in-law David Crosby and Garry Gimmler between himself and Heveron. That proved to be enough of a cushion as Heveron had trouble getting by the lapped machines nearly losing second spot to Reutimann as the checker fell.

Heveron appeared none too pleased with the lapped cars and let them know about it on the cooldown lap.

Childers took the win, his second in a row at Speedworld, while Heveron had his best finish here coming home second. Reutimann took third in his Heckman Motorsports Case Contracting special while Teate finished a solid fourth in the Eagle Jet International/Skyway Airlines/Race Against Drugs sprinter. Keith Butler rounded out the top five finishing just in front of his dad Stan Butler.

Madden had a good run hanging on to sixth in front of Kevin Cahill and Dave Pletcher. Shane Butler borrowed Brad Davis' car for the feature after his own machine suffered engine troubles in warmups and drove from last on the starting grid to 10th at the finish.

Jacksonville's Bob Quick took advantage of Mark Landis' problems to capture his second straight Florida Dwarf Car Association feature at Speedworld.

Landis easily won the first heat and was intent on dominating the feature as well grabbing the early advantage only to have field slowed immediately as Stan Hope popped the backstretch wall, ripping the right front wheel off his dwarf "truck" which finally slid to a stop between turns three and four.

Landis again dominated the action after the restart as all eyes were on Brian Paradis who came from 12th at the start to move into contention for second just behind Quick and his dad Alain Paradis.

On lap 16, Francois Gagnon and Todd Hart made contact in turn three just in front of the leader Landis who couldn't get stopped before ramming Hart's car. Landis tried to continue, but was forced out just as the field restarted.

Quick found himself out front and was able to hold off Brian Paradis for the win. Andre Gagnon drove a steady race after winning his heat to claim third just in front of a hard-charging Dennis Diehl who came from 18th at the start to finish fourth. Third heat winner Alain Paradis took fifth with Daniel Rene, Mark David, Alan Cote, Tim McLeod, and Todd Hart rounding out the top 10.

Winter Garden's Carl Peters led every lap in his Central Florida Machine and Speed Monte Carlo to win the Super Stock feature over a large field. Bill Loomis held on for second in front of Duane Freed, John Smith, and Jeff Wright.

Doug Sanion led all the way to win the Sportsman 15-lapper in his Rinaldi's Air Conditioning Service Chevy. Loomis again finished second after a strong drive from the rear of the starting grid. Richard Light, Kelly Jarrett, and Bruce Gayton rounded out the top five.

Tim "Misleman" McThail again took the Mini Stock money and trophy back with him to Clearwater as he won out in an early duel with Rex "Boneman" Hollinger then went on to win his fourth race of the year.

Jeff Davis eventually took second in a late race shuffle ahead of ever-improving Rose Dickerson who continues to post good finishes. Trisha Gray also had a good run to nab fourth with Dick Laszlo bringing his Ford Ranger pick-up home fifth.

Don "Square D" Smith again blew away the Strictly Stock field taking the win in front of Paul Hudson, Russ Rinaldi, Charlie Pitts, and David Smith.

Because the NASCAR Winston Cup runners will be at Daytona International Speedway Saturday night, there will be no action this Friday night (July 6) at Orlando Speedworld as the FASCAR regulars will be at New Smyrna Speedway for a special Friday night date.

NEW SMYRNA

SPEEDWAY

SAMSULA — This FRIDAY NIGHT (July 6) New Smyrna Speedway presents the Clyde Hart Memorial Twin 125's.

The Sunbelt Super Series will run a 125 lap special as will the Country US93 Late Models.

The schedule will also include features in the regular FASCAR divisions of Mini-Stock, Modified, Sportsman, Super Stock and Strictly Stock.

Because of the Pepsi Firecracker 400 being run at Daytona International Speedway, there will be no racing at NSS on Saturday.

Gates open at 5 p.m. and racing begins at 7:30 p.m. at the track located at the corner of SR 44 and CR 419, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

TEST AND TUNE

BITHLO — Test and Tune will be held every Wednesday night from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. at Orlando Speedworld.

Cost is $20, which is good for the car and three people in the pits only, while individuals can enter for $5.

For more information on any local short track action, call the FASCAR offices at (407) 568-1367 (Orlando) or (386) 427-4129 (New Smyrna), or check the Internet site at WWW.NEWS-MYRNASPEEDWAY.COM, or E-Mail at FASCARNOW@AOL.COM.

Also you are invited to tune in to Daytona's WNDB-AM 1150 "The new VOICE of Stock Car Racing!" every Monday night from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. following the Benny Parsons Show.

This is a radio show that is devoted to Short Track Stock Car Racing and is sponsored by New Smyrna Speedway and hosted by Randy Dye of Speedway Dodge and Don Nerone and Terry Roberts from New Smyrna Speedway. They will take your calls and answer questions at 386-239-0033.

Firecracker

 High School this fall, was selected as the MVP after hitting .526 (10-for-19), including his first-ever home run, three doubles and a triple, scoring 11 runs, driving in 13, drawing two walks, getting hit three times and hitting one sacrifice fly.

But Louwsma was far from the only star as every player on the Sanford roster had at least one hit and Post 53 manager Rod Ferguson and coaches Mike Bono and Ralph LaRosa used nine different pitchers over the five days.

On Thursday, Post 53 was pressured by Conyers (Georgia) Post 77 but still cruised to an easy 12-5 victory.

Trevor Berryhill gave up only one hit over the first three innings, striking out four, but, after getting his fifth strike out to open the fourth inning, was touched for two runs on five hits.

Bryan Armstrong, Dominic Petracca and Mehul Patel worked one inning each to finish out the victory.

Offensively for Post 53, which had 12 hits, Angelo Petracca (3-for-4, two runs, two RBI), Louwsma (2-for-3, double, run, four RBI), Ryan Bono (2-for-3, double, RBI), Matt Mergo (2-for-3, run, two RBI), Tucker Pearce (2-for-5, two runs), Jake Davis (double, two RBI), Uriah Kimmig (single, run, RBI), Dominic Petracca (three runs) and Chris Krall and Matt Fraysier (one run each).

Post 53 then hit its stride on Friday, sweeping a doubleheader with Stephen Apfel firing a one-hitter in a 6-0 shutout of Venice Post 159 and Angelo Petracca and Brandon Pharis combining on a two-hit, 12-0, rout of Jacksonville Post 88.

Apfel was outstanding, striking out eight, walking three and hitting one, while allowing only a leadoff single in the third inning.

Doing the hitting for Post 53 were Kimmig (2-for-3, home run, double, two runs, two RBI), Louwsma (2-for-3, two doubles, run), Kyle Bono (2-for-3, double, run, RBI), and Krall and Angelo Petracca (single, run and RBI each).

Angelo Petracca worked the first two innings, allowing one hit, and Pharis went the final three, giving up one hit and striking out three in the white-washing of Jacksonville.

Hitting for Post 53 were Mergo (3-for-3, double, run, three RBI), Ryan Bono (3-for-3, three RBI), Louwsma (2-for-3, triple, three runs, three RBI), Angelo Petracca (2-for-3, two doubles, three runs, RBI), Krall (2-for-4, two doubles, two runs), Kyle Bono (single, RBI), Armstrong (two runs), Fraysier (run) and Dominic Petracca (RBI).

That gave Sanford the Division D Championship and advanced Post 53 to the 8-team single-elimination tournament.

In the Quarterfinals, Post 53 took on West Tampa Post 248 on Jim West Field at the Sperling Sports Complex and scored three runs in each of the first three innings and coasted to a 10-6 victory.

Jake Davis went the first five innings, giving up five runs on eight hits to get the pitching win and Pharis came on to give up one run on two hits over the final two innings.

The big blows in the contest were a clutch two-out, bases loaded triple by Mergo in the first inning and a two-run home run by Krall far beyond the 330-foot mark in left field in the second inning.

Contributing to the 10-hit attack were Krall (2-for-4, home run, run, two RBI), Fraysier (2-for-3, two runs), Mergo (triple, run, three RBI), Angelo Petracca (triple, two runs), Ryan Bono (double, two RBI), Pearce and Louwsma (single and run each), and Dominic Petracca and Kimmig (one run each).

That win put Post 53 in the semifinals where Sanford played probably its toughest foe of the tourney.

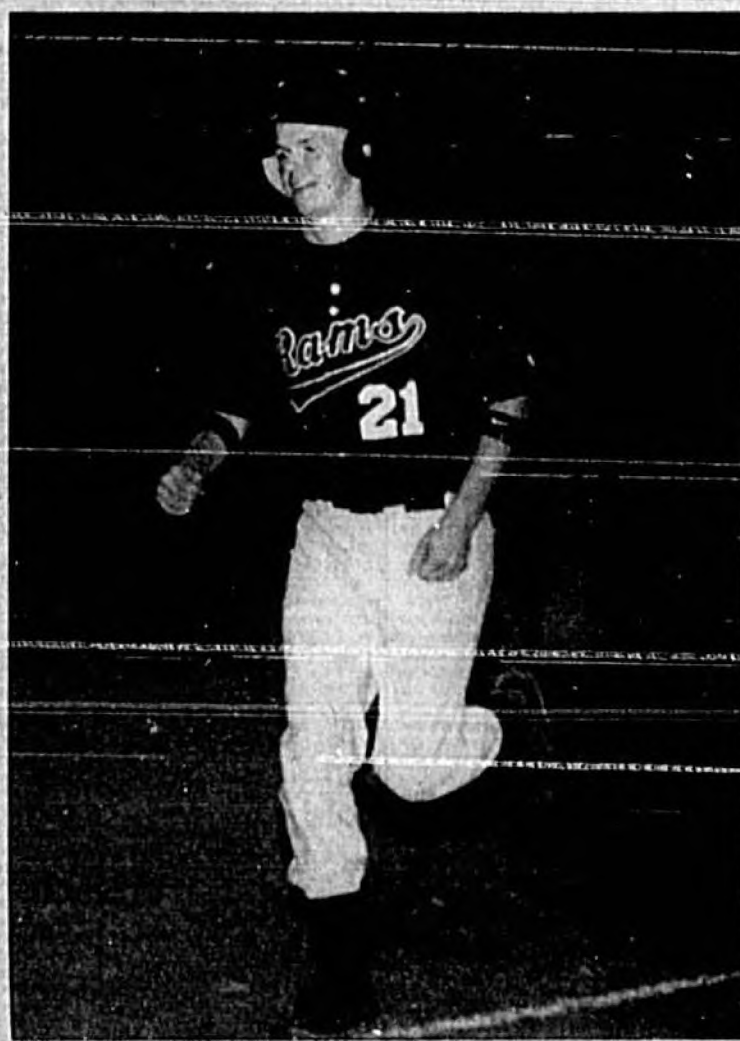

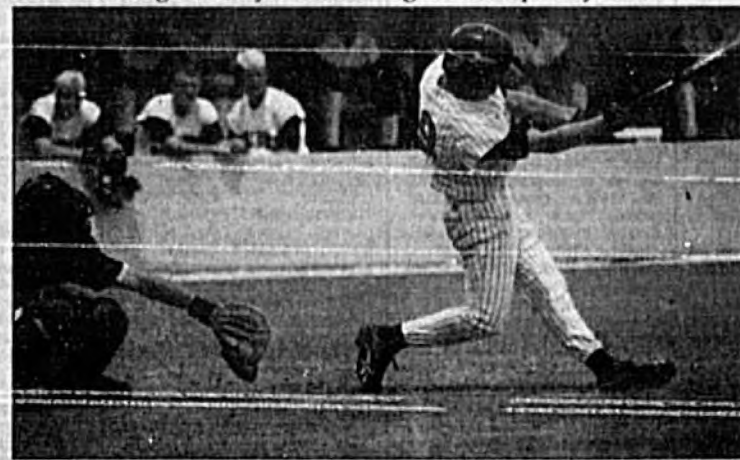

Berryhill got his second start and went the distance in a 6-3 victory over Jupiter Post 271, which had crushed host DeLand Post 6, which came into the game 31-1, 11-1 in five innings, but the big righthander just couldn't seem to find his rhythm until the sixth inning.

Offensively, Post 53 took advantage of its speed and poor fielding by Post 271 to score four runs on only two hits over the first three innings and finished with a tournament low six hits. Providing the offense were Fraysier (triple, two runs), Louwsma (single, run, two RBI), Krall (single, run, RBI), Dominic Petracca, Mergo and Kyle Bono (one single each), and Pearce and Angelo Petracca (one run each).

That put Post 53 into Sunday morning's Championship Game against Tampa Boys & Girls

Sanford's Chris Krall (top) and Lake Mary's Ryan Bono (bottom) both had outstanding tournaments as each hit a home run and had four doubles in the seven games as Sanford Post 53 waited to the Firecracker title.

Club, which had blanked defending Firecracker champion Bayamon, Puerto Rico 5-0 in the other semifinal.

Post 53 immediately took control of the game as the first six batters in the game reached base with Louwsma's two-run single putting Sanford ahead for good and the champs took a 4-0 lead.

Post 53 would score in every inning, giving Adam Sanabria more than enough to work with.

And the ace lefthander responded, allowing two runs, one earned, on six hits, and striking out five in five innings as Sanford cruised to a 12-2, five-inning triumph.

Doing the damage in a 10-hit attack were Angelo Petracca (2-for-4, two runs, two RBI), Kimmig (2-for-4, run, two RBI), Krall (1-for-2, double, three runs, RBI), Ryan Bono (double, two RBI), Mergo and Fraysier (one single, one run, and one RBI each), Louwsma (1-for-2, two runs, two RBI), Kyle Bono (single), and Pearce (two runs).

Post 53 will now host its own tournament, the Jimmy Jones Memorial July 4th Tournament, today (Tuesday) through Saturday at Seminole High School's Alumni Field as it prepares to play host to the State Tournament August 1-through-5 at Alumni Field.

METRO NORTH HOOPS

The 9th Annual Metro North Basketball Camp for boys and girls ages 5-to-17 will be held at Annunciation Recreation Center (Annunciation Catholic Academy) on Montgomery Drive in Altamonte Springs in July.
 Under the direction of Bo Clark, the Camp will hold two sessions in July, 9th-through-13th and 16th-through-20th.
 The Clinic is designed for those interested in basketball and who want to improve their basketball skills. Coach Clark has worked hard to be a successful player and would like to pass his knowledge along to the younger players. The Clinic will include points in shooting, ball handling, passing, defense and game play.
 Coach Clark was a three-time All-America at the University of Central Florida. He led the nation in scoring with a 31.6 points per game average and scored 2,886 points in his career, with out the 3-point shot, and played for Athletes in Action.
 A Bishop Moore High School graduate, Clark was recently inducted into the school's Hall of Fame and just completed his 14th season as head basketball coach at Flagler College in St. Augustine.
 Clark, who has also coached at Winter Park High School and St. Johns River Community College in Palatka, has also been co-director of the Stan Pietkiewicz-Bo Clark Basketball Clinic in Winter Park for 22 years. He promises an exciting week for boys and girls from the Central Florida area.
 The camps run from 10 a.m.-to-1 p.m. daily and the cost is $80 for one week or $150 for both sessions.
 Sessions will be held in the spacious, air-conditioned Annunciation Catholic Academy Gym and attendees will receive a free T-shirt; trophies awarded for attitude, hustle and outstanding play; 3-on-3 competitive league play; daily free throw competitions; guest speakers/coaches; use of 8-foot baskets for 6-to-8 year olds; teaching of basic fundamentals; and a session-ending Awards Presentation on Friday.
 For more information and to receive a registration form, call 407-644-7420; 407-831-4696; or 407-869-6512.

 Sebastian Inlet has catch-and-release action with snook, along with redfish, trout and flounder. A few king mackerel and tarpon can be found just off the beach. Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports fair action with king mackerel from just off the beach to 8 A Reef and Pelican Flats. Tripletail and king mackerel are in the buoy line, while sheepshead and flounder can be found in the Port. Redfish and trout are rated as fair in the Banana and Indian rivers.

 Ponce Inlet has fast action with sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle, and small bluefish. Live or dead shrimp is the best bait. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mesquite Lagoon.
