Henley directs staff, tourist council to provide recommendations to board

SANFORD — To build or not to build a proposed waterfront hotel and conference center in Sanford remains a $64-question this week following a Tuesday workshop between city and county officials.

Representatives from county and city government, the county's Tourist Development Commission and other players in the mix heard a lengthy proposal from consultants from Real Estate Research Consultants and Hunter Interests about two possible construction scenarios.

No votes were taken on the issue and the county now has the burden of moving forward with the project. Commission Chairman Carlton Henley asked both the TDC board and county staff to look at the various proposals and make their recommendations to the commission in the near future.

Tuesday's workshop session was the latest step in a hotel-conference center sojourn that began back in 1994, prompting development consultant David Hunter of Hunter Enterprises, Inc., to state, "Don't screw up for another six years. If you're going to build it, build it now."

Sanford Mayor Larry Dale reminded county officials that constructing a conference center was the county's idea, not See Hotel, Page 8A

New cars on the way for COPs

New cars are on the way for the Seminole County Sheriff's Office Citizens on Patrol (COP). The volunteers had been using old patrol vehicles considered hand-me-downs.

Six new Chevy Malibu sedans will soon be delivered to all six Seminole County Sheriff's Office district offices to replace older cars, some of which date back to the early 1990s. Two newer vehicles may be retained as reserves in case something happens to one of the new cars. The COP cars carry police radios and have amber lights on top.

Public Information Officer Steve Olson explained that Citizens on Patrol play a vital function at the sheriff's office. While volunteers have no arrest powers, they do provide added eyes in the community. They also help direct traffic outside of schools, at major events and accident scenes.

They also distribute crime alerts to businesses and homeowners associations. Many of the volunteers put in numerous hours with the search and rescue team.

At the most recent Seminole County Sheriff's Office awards ceremony, COP volunteers received a unit citation as well as many individual awards.

SCC's new campus passes test 1,200 students sign up for spring semester classes

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — If you build it, they will come. Seminole Community College has built it. And they are coming.

Six years of planning, 18 months of construction, and some $30 million in funding later, SCC's dream of the Oviedo Program campus is now reality.

School officials launched a "soft opening" registration this past week and by all accounts conservative estimates of 1,200 students signing up for the facility's first semester that begins January 3 were just that, conservative.

Bob Ledford, Director of Communications and Marketing, now says projections call for as many as 4,000 students enrolled on either a full-time, part-time, community education, or personal enrichment class basis.

"We'll take full possession of the facility next week when we are issued our certificate of occupancy," Ledford explained See SCC, Page 6A

LAKE MARY — Mayor David Mealor presided over his last city commissioners meeting Thursday night.

Mealor has served the city of Lake Mary for 12 years.

Commissioners thanked him for his years of service, for his ability to work the commission as a team and then presented him with a plaque and gavel.

"This is certainly not enough to show our appreciation for the job you've done," said Deputy Mayor Thom Greene,

"I think of you as a mentor and an honest person in dealing with every issue you've resolved."

Committee making progress for airport memorial

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Sanford's grass roots movement to place an aircraft memorial at the Sanford Orlando International Airport continues to make progress.

The planned memorial, to be placed on site at the airport, will honor those who served here and often returned following World War II to make Sanford their home.

Five sub-committees of the Sanford Airport Memorial Committee (SAMC) have been formed with respective chairpersons. They include:

Finance-Bob Parsell; Marketing Membership-Patty Mahany; Relocation-Glen Travis; Site Development-Jack Dow; and Aircraft Preparation-Tom Royal III.

The committee now has a bank account set up with seed money and is in the developmental stages of a marketing plan.

"Getting the marketing plan and funding in place are the two biggest priorities at this point," said finance sub-chair Parsell.

26th Annual Golden Age Games - Canoe competitors form friendship on shore

By Nick Pfeiffer Staff Writer

SANFORD — The canoe racing events at Lake Carola in the Golden Age Games Wednesday morning saw an on-going but friendly competition. The two men involved were Russ Moncrief of Sanford and Cornelis Feenstra of Leesburg.

Both men participated in the sprint event as well as the obstacle race. Last year, each won one of the events. This year, Feenstra took both, but only by a nose.

Moncrief (who owns and supplied the canoes) had the professional rowing style of sticking to one side with a hook approach which allowed him to row without having to switch sides with the paddle. Moncrief and his wife Katey, have owned and operated Katey's Landing for 26 years, and are familiar with handling canoes.

Feenstra, originally from the Netherlands, does not have access to a canoe during non-games time. His style was back-and-forth with the paddle. He commented that the last time he was in a canoe was at last year's Sanford Golden Age Games. When asked how he prepared for this year's race, he commented, "My daughter drove this morning, so I was able to just rest up on the way here."

Yet the winning times in the sprint, one circle around seven markers in Lake Carola, were 1:08:47 for Moncrief, and 1:06:87

Herald photos by Tommy Vincent Russ Moncrief and Cornelis Feenstra are tough competitors in the Golden Age Games canoe race, but they don't let that competition spoil their fun. Feenstra won two gold medals, while Moncrief took home two silver. In one race, Feenstra defeated Moncrief by a mere 32 one-hundredths of a second.

for Feenstra, who won the event by less than two seconds in the age group of 75 to 79. Both men are 77 years old.

After the women had their turn at the sprint races, it was time for the obstacle race. In this race, competitors had to negotiate the canoes back and forth between each of the seven mark-

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Celebrating a failed disaster

Ever heard of someone celebrating because a disaster didn't occur? The British do it every year. The event is known as Guy Fawkes Day.

On Nov. 4, 1605, a plot was uncovered. Conspirators planned to blow up the House of Parliament in London and kill King James I. Twenty barrels of gunpowder had been hidden in the cellar under Parliament, but were discovered at the last minute on the very eve of the intended explosion.

History says there were at least 11 people involved in the plot, but only one has been remembered, Guy Fawkes. They were tried and convicted and on Jan. 31 they were beheaded with their heads displayed on pikes on London Bridge.

That same year, the British Parliament established a law establishing Nov. 5 (the day they were caught) as a day of public thanksgiving. It is still celebrated today, with bonfires and celebrations.

Often, an old verse is repeated: "Remember, remember the fifth of November. Gunpowder treason and plot. I see no reason why Gunpowder Treason, Should not be forgot."

So much for the history lesson. But it does give one reason to wonder if we, here in the United States, might also celebrate a failed disaster.

The one that comes to mind immediately is the end of the Cuban Missile Crisis on Oct. 28, 1962. That's when the Soviet Union agreed to President Kennedy's demand that the missiles, which were a serious threat to our nation, be pulled out of Cuba. Although not an official observance, it was a day in which most of us heaved a sigh of relief.

Of course similar feelings of thankfulness were nationwide at the end of each of our wars from the Revolutionary War through the Vietnam and Gulf wars. An end to the killings and suffering.

Perhaps there is even going to be that sigh of relief after the votes have been counted in our national and local elections Tuesday.

And do some of us celebrate because some hurricane didn't visit us here in Central Florida?

Whatever! With next weekend's Veterans Day observance, a time to honor all of our servicemen and women who helped preserve our nation, I thought it might be appropriate, at least on this Guy Fawkes Day, to consider a few of those disasters which DIDN'T occur, and others which concluded before more people were killed.

What Presidents, and others, say Opinions about the nations highest ranking office

Compiled by Nick Pfeifauf
Staff Writer

Over the years, presidents, while running for office, or after leaving, have commented about the position. In pondering this year's presidential election, it may do well to recall what some have said.

Thomas Jefferson — No man will ever bring out of the presidency, the reputation which carries him into it.

Harry S. Truman — The White House is the finest prison in the world.

Lyndon B. Johnson — My most fervent prayer is to be a president who can make it possible for every boy in this land to grow to manhood by loving his country — instead of dying for it.

John F. Kennedy — The American presidency will demand more than ringing manifestos issued from the rear of the battle. It will demand that the President place himself in the very thick of the fight; that he care passionately about the fate of the people he leads.

Others have also commented. Clarence Darrow made an interesting observation — When I was a boy, I was told that anybody could become president. I'm beginning to believe. Mahatma Gandhi put it in blunt terms — President means chief servant.

On the need to take part in the voting process, the following quotes have been reported:

Dwight D. Eisenhower — The future of this republic is in the hands of the American voter.

John F. Kennedy — You can milk a cow the wrong way once and still be a farmer. But vote the wrong way on a water tower and you can be in trouble.

Abraham Lincoln — Among free men there can be no successful appeal from the ballot to the bullet.

Leaders of other nations have also voiced their opinions:

Charles De Gaulle — Politics is too serious a matter to be left to the politicians.

Nikita Khrushchev — Politicians are the same all over. They promise to build a bridge even where there is no river.

And again — wrapping it all up — Bernard Baugh once suggested, Vote for the man who promises least — he'll be the least disappointing.

Pretend officer

A Daytona Beach man found himself under arrest Friday morning after allegedly flashing a badge and trying to pull over a motorist, who turned out to be an off duty officer.

Daniel Blais, 19, reportedly tried to pull over an off-duty Orlando police officer late Thursday on Interstate-4 near Longwood. The false officer reportedly flashed a silver metal badge and pulled in front of the off-duty officer, activating a red and blue strobe light wired to his taillights. The apprehension was not immediately reported but Blais was apprehended at the Longwood I-4 rest area. He reportedly told a Seminole County Sheriff's deputy he was a bond enforcement agent, then stated he was not. The off-duty officer was identified as David Nixon.

A single family residence on Mission Road in Oviedo was burglarized in broad daylight Monday, Oct. 30. Taken were a semi-automatic handgun, bottles of alcohol, prescription medicines, a can of pepper spray and personal items.

Vote 'Yes' for trails

As Seminole voters head to the polls Tuesday, we'd like to encourage voters to pull the lever for some one you haven't heard much about this election year — Mother Nature. Specifically we of the referendum asking Seminole County residents to support a $25 million bond issue to expand the Natural Lands Program to include trails and greenways.

Such a vote is not without precedent. Ten years ago, residents of approved a measure that allowed the county to purchase and set aside 5,600 acres of environmental lands. We believe the current proposal is a logical extension of that 10-year-old initiative and would help improve the quality of life, an issue commonly talked about as Central Florida experiences more and more commercial and residential growth.

What do we get for the money? For starter, safe connections for our children to walk or bicycle to school. Under the proposal, 23 schools will be connected to surrounding neighborhoods, as will 34 parks. There will be more than 30 miles of unpaved trails for hiking and horseback riding and a riverwalk along Lake Monroe from downtown Sanford to the Central Florida Zoo. The Seminole Wekiva Trail in Altamonte Springs will be extended and so will the Florida National Scenic Trail through Longwood, Lake Mary and Chuluota.

There are many more items the bonds will fund, and 100 percent of the $25 million will go to building or expanding trails.

Yes, $25 million is a lot of money, but when you consider that each household will pay approximately $10 per year for the next 10 years, that's a cost all of us can afford for an improved quality of life.

Eslinger should continue

Unlike many of the campaigns this fall, the race for Seminole County Sheriff has been a gentlemanly affair. No doubt the reason for that is both candidates are just that — gentlemen. It's a shame either man should lose this race, but in our opinion voters should keep Don Eslinger as sheriff.

Eslinger has provided excellent and innovative leadership as the county's top cop. Crime has dropped significantly since Eslinger took office, and response times have been slashed despite an increase in population.

Never one to rest on his laurels, Eslinger continues to keep his department well-trained in the latest crime-fighting techniques. The Seminole County Sheriff's Office was one of the first in the country to gain National Law Enforcement Accreditation and the first sheriff in the nation to receive a Certificate of Ethics and Integrity from the National Institute of Ethics.

Eslinger is president of the Florida Sheriff's Association and his office has been designated as a "skill site" to which officers from other counties and states come to learn.

Eslinger's opponent, former Lake Mary Police Chief Richard Beary, would make a good sheriff, no doubt about it. His bloodlines run deep with police blue, and he is well respected within by his fellow officers and in the community at large. In addition, he has made substantial changes to modernize the Lake Mary department, and those who know him refer to Beary as the policeman's policeman.

Under normal circumstances, Beary would be our first choice, but when the incumbent sheriff has performed his duties as well as Eslinger has, there's no logical reason to change.

Shame on Grant Maloy

Don't be fooled by his Boy Scout looks, Grant Maloy is a snake in the grass. His recent campaign piece depicts Andrew Van Gaale as a "good ole boy" friend of Sanford Mayor Larry Dale and claims, among its many fabrications and misstatements, Van Gaale has been "on Mayor Dale's payroll for years." That's a liar's way of saying Van Gaale was an employee of the city of Sanford. In fact, Van Gaale was an employee before Dale ever took office.

Here's the fact of the matter: Grant Maloy is running scared. He's spent his four years in office as the county's leading naysayer, and now it looks as if he'll lose his seat to Van Gaale, a young man who will bring a positive attitude into office. Don't fall for Maloy's tactics.

Just how desperate is Maloy? The only positive thing he could extract from an Orlando Sentinel editorial endorsing his opponent was that Maloy is "basically a nice guy." That kind of backhanded compliment falls in the same category as "He doesn't lie too much," or "He doesn't smell too bad."

Maloy claims to be a "friend of Sanford," but he's far from it. Sanford voters need to remember Maloy's actions during the adult entertainment debate. As the county commissioner searched for ways to limit the sleaze industry, Maloy's solution was to set aside a 400 acres of land next to the Sanford airport for strip clubs and adult bookstores. That's not the kind of commissioner we want serving us.

Don't be fooled, folks. Grant Maloy is no friend of Sanford. He's a two-faced liar who wanted Sanford to become the porno capital of Central Florida. Shame on you, Grant.

Binford states Malloy not telling truth

To the editor:

I do not vote nor live in Seminole County at this time, but I did move there in 1968 and remained for 30 years. I am still a property holder there.

I find it interesting in Commissioner Malloy's re-election brochures and at various meetings he espouses to be a strong proponent of the Seminole Trail. If you will check, the record reflects he made the motion to construct a convenience store driveway across this trail in the vicinity of Seventh Avenue and Highway 419 in Chuluota a couple of years ago against strong neighborhood opposition. We filed an appeal against this action by the Seminole County Board of Adjustment only to have Commissioner Malloy make the motion to affirm this action with the support of his fellow commissioners. Now you will have an entrance off the Highway to a convenience store across the Seminole Trail.

Just thought you ought to know the whole story.

Sincerely,
Tom Binford

Eberle: Vote 'yes' for lands referendum

To the editor:

Vote Nov. 7 for the Seminole Natural Lands Referendum! Your vote for natural lands helps preserve lands in the Econlockhatchee River Basin, the Wekiva River Basin, Lake Jesup area and in the St. Johns River Basin.

This referendum will not only preserve and protect our environment, but will also provide citizens with miles and miles of hiking and biking trails connecting greenways throughout the county. These trails will link the Cross Seminole Trail to other trails from the Seminole Wekiva Trail extension to the Flagler Wilderness Trail and the Florida National Scenic Trail.

We all have a stake in Florida's future. Vote "Yes" for Seminole County's Natural Lands 2000 Referendum

Longwood residents disagree with endorsements

Longwood resident won't vote for incumbents

To the editor:

I am writing this letter to inform you how enraged I was in reading your newspaper article dated Nov. 1. I have been communicating with the Longwood City Commission under the direction of Mr. Lovstrand for the past six months on issues concerning my neighborhood.

I have found out by attending the city commission meetings that they do not have the concerns of the residents of Old Longwood at heart.

I have heard nothing but excuses and misinformation from them.

They have ignored my concerns and documented information that I have brought to them. If you feel that over 150 people are just a handful of gadflies, you are very wrong.

You have not attended any of the past six months of commission meetings.

You are very wrong in the way you described how the Longwood Commissioners have worked with their residents. I do not feel that you have been fair to the residents in Longwood.

These views are your short sightedness, not mine.

And until you come and witness the way the commissioners treat the residents from the days you have no room to judge nor recommend what is best for us as residents and taxpayers.

You have heard and printed a one-sided view, until you hear both sides, what you print is misinformation. I challenge you to take a drive in Old Longwood and tell us as residents what they (Mr. Lovstrand & Mr. Miller) have done for us as a community.

We are paying the third highest tax rate in the county and in return are being assessed two times the highest assessment in the history of Longwood.

Grant monies are and have been available for the last 10 years that would help to relieve the burden on the taxpayers.

How can you say that Mr. Lovstrand and Mr. Miller care about the residents when in truth they really care about commercial businesses?

My view is that Craig Van Hooven and George McKenzie are the best for Longwood.

We need to have people that care about working with the citizens of Longwood and feel that your paper should give these candidates an opportunity to rebut what was printed.

Murphey says commissioners ignored grants

To the editor:

After reading your endorsement of Longwood's incumbents, Paul Lovstrand and Steve Miller in your Nov. 1 paper, I am appalled that you have the audacity to use the power of the press to voice your support of what is at Longwood's best interest.

Under the leadership of Paul Lovstrand for the past 10 years and Steve Miller for the past 7 years they have ignored the positions of it's residents, "residents", through labeling concerned citizens and ignoring our city's need for development and services.

We are tired of hearing their gloating of how they have built the city's surplus and not admitting that this has been accomplished by denying services and development sorely needed.

Development that if done would have generated more revenues to work with. They have ignored the availability of grant funds and have continued to burden the taxpayers with one of the highest tax rates in Seminole County.

It is time for change; a decade of doing nothing is a poor excuse to capitalize on the city's surplus for their own agendas. We need Commissioners who will work with the citizens they represent to build a positive future for Longwood. Not the incumbents who have demonstrated by their past performance that they are only interested in building their political portfolios for future positions outside of our city.

My vote will be for Craig Van Hooven and George McKenzie, as I believe they have the best interest of my City at heart. Not they're own agendas.

James D. Murphey, Sr.

Commission not very democratic

To the editor:

I guess I should consider myself one of those "gadflies" from Longwood that your editorial wrote about, because I have watched the incumbents as they performed their leadership roles. I initially was interested because of the paving project, but continued to attend because I was amazed and saddened at the way citizens were treated by these elected officials.

Legitimate concerns were ignored, brushed off or postponed for a later date. What I perceived as democracy at its best, with citizens gathering to express their fears and concerns, was treated as an annoyance by the Longwood City Commission. Since when is a hundred plus strong grass roots effort to influence a topic at the city level called "persistently critical and irritating"? Only if the city leaders have no desire to listen and compromise to begin with.

Memo indicates Longwood officials working on obtaining Block Grant

Editor's note: The following is an internal memo from Longwood Director of Community Services Director John Brock to City Administrator John Drago. It details the city's efforts to secure Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) monies for paving projects. The memo was written three days after Sheree Murphy, a supporter of city commission candidate Craig Van Hooven, disseminated faxed press releases claiming the city had done nothing in the past 10 years to apply for CDBG monies.

Oct. 27, 2000

To: John Drago, City Administrator (Longwood)
From: John Brock, Director of Community Services

One purpose of this memo is to provide you with some historical perspective/insight relative to dirt street paving projects and the availability of grant funds during my tenure with the city. Another purpose is to clarify some misinformation and lack of understanding that I have recently been made aware of.

I first came aboard on January 10, 1994 as the City

Planner with a total staff of three people. Within approximately two months, I was elevated to Director, Department of Planning and Building Services (including the planning and building inspection functions). This remained the situation until November 1996, at which time I was also named as the Acting Director of Public Works. This, because the then-City Engineer/Director of Public Works had resigned in order to accept employment with another city. Obviously between January 1994 and November, 1996, no one in my department was responsible for the paving of dirt streets nor the funding of such projects.

However, during the same time period, then-Commissioner Iris Benson requested staff to investigate the availability of Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funding for the city. Ajmal Jami, then-City Planner and the City's representative on a technical committee relative to CDBG matters, followed up on Commissioner Benson's request and informed us that we did not have any "blighted areas" which qualified for funding. By this I mean that, given the way the program was then administered by the county, the projects we were considering at the time were not eligible for funding.

Within the last year, the county's staff has further researched the program and has begun administering it in a manner which is more advantageous to all concerned. As a result of these efforts, our staff became aware earlier this year that CDBG funding may now be available on a "per street" or even a "per section of street" basis. Subsequently, we have been working with Robert Heenan, CDBG Project Manager, and other county personnel toward making application for applicable funds.

It should be noted that the county cannot guarantee that Longwood could have been receiving, could presently be receiving, or will receive in the future, any specific amounts of money per year. This is true because the funding is obviously limited, and projects from five or six cities may be in competition for it in any given year.

Furthermore, based on information currently available to staff, of all of the dirt streets which have been paved in the city since 1994, NONE would have been eligible for CDBG funding, even by today's more relaxed method of administration. (Bistline Avenue from East Street to Oxford Street, Georgia Avenue from Credo Street to Wayman Street, West Bay Avenue from Wildmere Avenue to Overstreet Avenue, 14th Avenue from CR-427 to Lomular Street, 13th Avenue, 1st Place from 14th Avenue to 12th Avenue, and East Street from SR-434 to Wildmere Avenue).

Also, I believe that all of these projects were initiated as a result of petitions by affected property owners or other requests by residents.

In summation, staff is presently working toward the possible rearrangement of the priorities for future dirt street paving projects so as to take fullest advantage of any potentially available grant funds.

SCC

"When people step on to the Oviedo campus, there reaction is going to be — WOW!"

The 147,000 square foot facility sits on 65 developed acres of SCC's total 180 acre site.

Natural open green spaces harmoniously blend with chrome and steel. The new Oviedo campus even has a 10-acre preserve set aside to house native gopher tortoises who make part of the campus their home.

The school's two main physical structures, the Learning Resource Center and the Student Services building, scream "high tech." So does the curriculum offerings that boast not only traditional two-year liberal arts degrees, but high technology courses and certificate programs that will help educate and prepare tomorrow's work force.

Ledford said both the design of the school and its dual academic focus is the result of countless research into demographics, life styles, employment trends, and a far reaching eye on the work force of the future.

"The need of the Oviedo campus was identified in the mid 1990's by former president Dr. Earl Weldon and a large team that came together to conceive the project," Ledford explained.

"The end result is a facility like no other in the United States. The entire Oviedo community can now begin kindergarten and finish a Doctoral degree without leaving the back yard," he said.

SCC's dual academic focus is a reflection of a changing job market and a workforce evolution.

"Our program offerings are targeted at three specific groups of learners," explained Ledford.

"Florida leads the nation in the number of 19-year olds who are high school graduates but not enrolled in either a traditional college program or some type of career development program. That's one group we are trying to serve."

"The second student population we address are 25-54 year-olds who are undereducated and realize their current job skills are not adequate for stability in a changing work place. The third group is 25-54 year-olds who want to make a career change and do it quickly. Their first career change choice is high tech both on a national and local level," Ledford said.

The demand for those types of programs is clearly illustrated in SCC's focus on technology education. Among the school's offerings to satisfy the high-tech education demand are certification programs in Network Administrator, Network Engineer, Child Development, Cisco, Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer, Oracle, and Microsoft Office Users Specialist.

The college's new focus further extends itself into the business community in a number of ways.

"With the cooperative efforts of SCC and the University of Central Florida we are reaching out the help the business community through the Small Business Development Center," said Ledford.

"We want local business owners to see us as a resource in their own back yard. Our programs are designed to help prepare entry level employees for local business, re-skill their current employees, and tap into readily available resources."

SCC has made concerted efforts to work with the Oviedo Chamber of Commerce and surrounding businesses to get the word out. Already there are more than 600 students enrolled in a joint four-year degree program under the cooperative umbrella of SCC and UCF.

As enrollment continues prior to the start of the January term, SCC continues to prepare for the maiden voyage of the Oviedo Program.

Ledford said there will be about a 10 percent shift in student population from the SCC Sanford campus to Oviedo based purely on geographic convenience. To staff the new campus current SCC faculty and administrators were given first shot at transferring to the new facility. The school remains aggressive in an advertising campaign to secure qualified adjunct faculty across all disciplines. Taking a page out of its own playbook, both endeavors are being accomplished with a high tech spin.

"Students can apply for admission, register for classes, and even order books to be delivered to their doorstep totally on-line," Ledford said.

"Likewise potential SCC employees can check out job vacancies and opening totally on-line."

Athletic programs for men's and women's sports will remain solely at SCC's Sanford campus while efforts are being made to duplicate every service and activity available in Sanford, is likewise available at the Oviedo site. Ledford said the school is still determining how to handle the functions of the Student Government Association now that it will have two physical sites.

"Students have been eager to come out to the campus and take a look even before registration started," said Ledford.

"People are curious and excited about our January launch."

Physically located at 2500 Lockwood Boulevard in Oviedo, SCC's Web site, with a host of information about course offerings, registration, and employment opportunities can be accessed at www.scc-fl.com.

"The end result is a facility like no other in the United States. The entire Oviedo community can now begin kindergarten and finish a Doctoral degree without leaving the back yard."

The Way We Were: Scrapbook memories

Back we go today to items from my scrapbook. These are some newspaper clippings I have kept from the early 1970s.

Stineciphers Host Open House

My dad, Martin Stinecipher, and I had our home built at 2401 Oak Ave. in 1972; we moved in August of that year. We didn't move very far as our former home was at 2404 Park Ave. My parents had purchased that house in 1932, a few years before I was born. My mother, Marie Stinecipher, died in 1965. Since so many people were interested in seeing our new house, we planned an Open House for

Dec. 9, 1972. This allowed us a chance to see long-time friends; more than 300 people attended. We greeted our guests at the door and directed them to the guest book table which had carnations in a gold bud vase, both of which were gifts from Velma and Doc Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell had been by second grade teacher; she became principal of Southside Primary School in 1945 upon the death of Mrs. Arrington when I was in the fourth grade.

Guests were shown the house and pool area; we had hostesses in each room who pointed out items of interest. These hostesses were Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. W.D. Hawkins, Mrs. Jack Stemper, Mrs. Bill Stemper, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Bill Park and Mrs. Jim Weekley.

Centering the refreshment table was an arrangement of small red and white mums interspersed with ferns. Guests were served nuts, mints, punch and beautifully embossed cake.

Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Fred Winslow, Altamonte Springs; Mrs. Fred Chance, DeLand; Mrs. David Ayers, Mount Dora; Mrs. James DeBrine, Cocoa; Mrs. Clyde lund, Winter Park; Miss Dorothy Walker, Mrs. Grover Williams and Mrs. W.A. Kratzert. Floating hostesses were the Rene and Melodie Chance.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. James Weekly (nee Rose Kratzert), 319 Elliott Avenue, were announcing the birth of their first child, Doris Anne, who weighed in at a healthy nine pounds, on Oct. 7, 1972 at Holiday Hospital in Orlando.

Maternal grandmother was Mrs. W.A. Kratzert and Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Weekley were the paternal grandparents.

The Kratzerts had moved next door to us on Park Avenue in 1952. Minnie Beck Kratzert had been a childhood friend of my mothers so there was an instant friendship between our two families which has lasted 48 years. When they moved there, Rose was 8 years old and Evie was 11; I was in junior high school.

Xi Epsilon Sigma Enjoys Social

A delightful Italian dinner was enjoyed in the spring of 1973 by members of Xi Epsilon Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at the home of Joyce and Chuck Sammett.

The menu included spaghetti, tossed salad, fruit salad, rolls, coffee and tea. Hors d'oeuvres consisting of egg rolls and various types of canapes had been served first to members then their husbands.

Attending the social were Dottie and Jay Bolton, Ruby and Jay Carter, Ruth and Harry Hoffon, Glenda and Jimmy Emerson, Marilyn and Lamar Meridith, Joan and Wendell Brooks, Amoret and John LaRosa, Nellie Pilcher, Vertis Sauls, June Warner and Grace Marie Stinecipher.

At a recent meeting of the chapter, Ruth Hoffon had been elected to head the chapter as president. Other officers who would serve with her were June Warner, vice president; Nellie Pilcher, recording secretary; Grace Marie Stinecipher, treasurer; Marilyn Meredith, corresponding secretary. City Council representatives would be Ruth Hoffon, Glenda Emerson, June Warner with Ann Gracey as alternate. Speaker at the meeting was Timothy P. Bamnick, president of the Drug Action Committee of Seminole County, who gave an informative talk on the drug situation in our county. He also gave good advice on how parents could help prevent their children from being involved with drugs.

Guests of the chapter at this meeting were Faye Siler and Evelyn Serres.

I became a member of an Orlando chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in 1958; I lived and worked in Orlando from 1958 to 1961. One of my long-time friends, Sandra Dunn Berg (now Parker), was a member of that chapter. Traveling all over Orlando and Winter Park to various members' homes for socials, etc. proved to be a good way to learn the area! Our meetings were first held in a large bank on Orange Avenue, downtown Orlando; we later moved to the S & S Cafeteria on East Colonial Drive.

When I moved back to Sanford, I joined Zeta Xi chapter here, then it was a charter member of Xi Epsilon Sigma. Several in this chapter later helped form Preceptor Beta Lambda and Laureate Alpha Tau. I have served in all offices and chair of most committees, but most often as treasurer, program and/or publicity chairman. I'm sure that I have served at least 25 years as treasurer. I am presently a member at large, but claim Laureate Alpha Tau as my chapter and attend when possible. I have 42 years of great memories with these groups, with many of the members becoming close friends of mine.

SHS Class of 1945 Holds Reunion

The SHS Class of 1945 is enjoying their 55 year reunion this weekend. They were at the Yarbrough Ranch on Friday night, Colonial Room, Helen Stairs Theater and the Sanford Museum on Saturday afternoon and the Marina Hotel Saturday night. I wrote an article about this class five years ago for their 50th, so I opted out this year. I have been invited as their guest, so you will read about it later.

"When people step on to the Oviedo campus, there reaction is going to be — WOW!"

The 147,000 square foot facility sits on 65 developed acres of SCC's total 180 acre site.

Natural open green spaces harmoniously blend with chrome and steel. The new Oviedo campus even has a 10-acre preserve set aside to house native gopher tortoises who make part of the campus their home.

The school's two main physical structures, the Learning Resource Center and the Student Services building, scream "high tech." So does the curriculum offerings that boast not only traditional two-year liberal arts degrees, but high technology courses and certificate programs that will help educate and prepare tomorrow's work force.

Ledford said both the design of the school and its dual academic focus is the result of countless research into demographics, life styles, employment trends, and a far reaching eye on the work force of the future.

"The need of the Oviedo campus was identified in the mid 1990's by former president Dr. Earl Weldon and a large team that came together to conceive the project," Ledford explained.

"The end result is a facility like no other in the United States. The entire Oviedo community can now begin kindergarten and finish a Doctoral degree without leaving the back yard," he said.

SCC's dual academic focus is a reflection of a changing job market and a workforce evolution.

"Our program offerings are targeted at three specific groups of learners," explained Ledford.

"Florida leads the nation in the number of 19-year olds who are high school graduates but not enrolled in either a traditional college program or some type of career development program. That's one group we are trying to serve.

"The second student population we address are 25-54 year-olds who are undereducated and realize their current job skills are not adequate for stability in a changing work place. The third group is 25-54 year-olds who want to make a career change and do it quickly. Their first career change choice is high tech both on a national and local level," Ledford said.

The demand for those types of programs is clearly illustrated in SCC's focus on technology education. Among the school's offerings to satisfy the high-tech education demand are certification programs in Network Administrator, Network Engineer, Child Development, Cisco, Microsoft Certified Systems Engineer, Oracle, and Microsoft Office Users Specialist.

The college's new focus further extends itself into the business community in a number of ways.

"With the cooperative efforts of SCC and the University of Central Florida we are reaching out to help the business community through the Small Business Development Center," said Ledford.

"We want local business owners to see us as a resource in their own back yard. Our programs are designed to help prepare entry level employees for local business, re-skill their current employees, and tap into readily available resources."

SCC has made concerted efforts to work with the Oviedo Chamber of Commerce and surrounding businesses to get the word out. Already there are more than 600 students enrolled in a joint four-year degree program under the cooperative umbrella of SCC and UCF.

As enrollment continues prior to the start of the January term, SCC continues to prepare for the maiden voyage of the Oviedo Program.

Ledford said there will be about a 10 percent shift in student population from the SCC Sanford campus to Oviedo based purely on geographic convenience. To staff the new campus current SCC faculty and administrators were given first shot at transferring to the new facility. The school remains aggressive in an advertising campaign to secure qualified adjunct faculty across all disciplines. Taking a page out of its own playbook, both endeavors are being accomplished with a high tech spin.

"Students can apply for admission, register for classes, and even order books to be delivered to their doorstep totally on-line," Ledford said.

"Likewise potential SCC employees can check out job vacancies and opening totally on-line."

Athletic programs for men's and women's sports will remain solely at SCC's Sanford campus while efforts are being made to duplicate every service and activity available in Sanford, is likewise available at the Oviedo site. Ledford said the school is still determining how to handle the functions of the Student Government Association now that it will have two physical sites.

"Students have been eager to come out to the campus and take a look even before registration started," said Ledford.

"People are curious and excited about our January launch."

Physically located at 2500 Lockwood Boulevard in Oviedo, SCC's Web site, with a host of information about course offerings, registration, and employment opportunities can be accessed at www.scc-fl.com.

"The end result is a facility like no other in the United States. The entire Oviedo community can now begin kindergarten and finish a Doctoral degree without leaving the back yard."

24 HOUR EMERGENCY SERVICE

Juvenile Crime Program lauded by state

From Staff Reports

The Seminole County Sheriff's department Juvenile Intensive Community Supervision Unit has received a superior ranking from the State of Florida. The unit is responsible for monitoring youthful offenders on probation and those released from residential juvenile commitment facilities but who are still under court supervision.

The reporting period however, covers the periods of 1996-97, 1997-98 and 1998-99.

For the year 1999-2000, the unit received a rating of 81 percent, the highest rating given by the State of Florida in the previous year. The Florida Department of Juvenile Justice, Bureau of Quality Assurance Program Rating Profile shows the Seminole County Sheriff's Office exceeding state standards with a superior rating in all categories. Because of this, the Intensive Community Supervision Unit has been given "Special Deemed Status".

According to the state report, "Achieving these levels of qualty is very difficult in the department's quality assurance system. Programs must show exemplary performance in all areas and at every level of staff development. Since many of the key indicators also involve the participation of parents and stakeholders outside of the program itself, the deemed or special deemed program must be intensely involved in the community and be viewed as a good neighbor.

The Intensive Community Supervision Unit is one of a number of innovative juvenile initiatives managed by the Seminole County Sheriff's office. Due to the success of these programs, the number of delinquency referrals (criminal charges) in Seminole County have decreased by 24 percent during the last three reporting periods by the State.

Police warn motorists of traffic delays during Oviedo festival

From Staff Reports

Saturday, Nov. 11 is expected to be a big day in Oviedo.

The Oviedo Woman's Club is sponsoring "Great Day in the Country" featuring arts, crafts, food and entertainment. The event is scheduled from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Attendance for the on-day event is expected to reach 60,000 or more.

With that in mind, the Oviedo Police Department has issued a traffic advisory. On the day of the event, Police Lieutenant Mark Beaulieu says he expects the traffic in downtown Oviedo will be extremely heavy, and may be congested from 8 a.m. until possibly 6 p.m. Saturday evenings. He said motorists can expect slow traffic on SR-426 (Broadway Street) from Oviedo High School through the downtown area, as well as along SR-434 and CR-419 in downtown Oviedo.

Lake Jesup Road and streets adjacent to the event are also expected to be affected.

There will be no parking allowed along the SR-426 right-of-way, and Beaulieu stressed that improperly parked cars will be subject to being towed, at the owners' expense, to safeguard pedestrians.

Ample parking for those attending "Great Day in the Country" will be available at Oviedo High School on SR-426, just west of the downtown area. Air conditioned shuttle buses will be provided to the event from that location at no charge.

AARP needs Tax-Aide volunteers

AARP annually offers assistance, counseling and preparation service for senior citizens.

The service is offered free of charge and is sponsored by AARP in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service. Last year, over 155,000 taxpayers were helped in the State of Florida.

The offer will be made again at the beginning of next year. At this time, AARP is seeking volunteers to assist in this project. Tax-Aide volunteers receive free tax training from the IRS. Volunteers will be asked to give a minimum commitment of four hours a week over a ten-week season.

To volunteer for the AARP Tax-Aide program, phone Bill Mack at 407-236-0557 or Jackie Sward at 407-647-5233.

The Way We Were: Scrapbook memories

Back we go today to items from my scrapbook. These are some newspaper clippings I have kept from the early 1970s.

Stineciphers Host Open House

My dad, Martin Stinecipher, and I had our home built at 2401 Oak Ave. in 1972; we moved in August of that year. We didn't move very far as our former home was at 2404 Park Ave. My parents had purchased that house in 1932, a few years before I was born. My mother, Marie Stinecipher, died in 1965.

Grace Marie Stinecipher

Since so many people were interested in seeing our new house, we planned an Open House for Dec. 9, 1972. This allowed us a chance to see long-time friends; more than 300 people attended.

We greeted our guests at the door and directed them to the guest book table which had carnations in a gold bud vase, both of which were gifts from Velma and Doc Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell had been by second grade teacher; she became principal of Southside Primary School in 1945 upon the death of Mrs. Arrington when I was in the fourth grade.

Guests were shown the house and pool area; we had hostesses in each room who pointed out items of interest. These hostesses were Mrs. Robert Morris, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. W.D. Hawkins, Mrs. Jack Stemper, Mrs. Bill Stemper, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Bill Park and Mrs. Jim Weekley.

Centering the refreshment table was an arrangement of small red and white mums interspersed with ferns. Guests were served nuts, mints, punch and beautifully embossed cake.

Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Fred Winslow, Altamonte Springs; Mrs. Fred Chance, DeLand; Mrs. David Ayers, Mount Dora; Mrs. James DeBrine, Cocoa; Mrs. Clyde

Jund, Winter Park; Miss Dorothy Walker, Mrs. Grover Williams and Mrs. W.A. Kratzert. Floating hostesses were the Rene and Melodie Chance.

Birth Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. James Weekly (nee Rose Kratzert), 319 Elliott Avenue, were announcing the birth of their first child, Doris Anne, who weighed in at a healthy nine pounds, on Oct. 7, 1972 at Holiday Hospital in Orlando.

Maternal grandmother was Mrs. W.A. Kratzert and Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Weekly were the paternal grandparents.

The Kratzerts had moved next door to us on Park Avenue in 1952. Minnie Beck Kratzert had been a childhood friend of my mothers so there was an instant friendship between our two families which has lasted 48 years. When they moved there, Rose was 8 years old and Eric was 11; I was in junior high school.

Xi Epsilon Sigma Enjoys Social

A delightful Italian dinner was enjoyed in the spring of 1973 by members of Xi Epsilon Sigma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at the home of Joyce and Chuck Sammett.

The menu included spaghetti, tossed salad, fruit salad, rolls, coffee and tea. Hors d'oeuvres consisting of egg rolls and various types of canapes had been served first to members then their husbands.

Attending the social were Dottie and Jay Bolton, Ruby and Jay Carter, Ruth and Harry Hoffon, Glenda and Jimmy Emerson, Marilyn and Lamar Meredith, Joan and Wendell Brooks, Amoret and John LaRosa, Nellie Pilcher, Vertis Sauls, June Warner and Grace Marie Stinecipher.

At a recent meeting of the chapter, Ruth Hoffon had been elected to head the chapter as president. Other officers who would serve with her were June Warner, vice president; Nellie Pilcher, recording secretary; Grace Marie Stinecipher, treasurer; Marilyn Meredith, corresponding secretary. City Council representatives would be Ruth Hoffon, Glenda Emerson, June Warner with Ann Gracey as alternate. Speaker at the meeting was Timothy P. Bannick, president of the Drug Action Committee of Seminole County, who gave an informative talk on the drug situation in our county. He also gave good advice on how parents could help prevent their children from being involved with drugs.

Guests of the chapter at this meeting were Faye Siler and Evelyn Serres.

I became a member of an Orlando chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in 1958; I lived and worked in Orlando from 1958 to 1961. One of my long-time friends, Sandra Dunn Berg (now Parker), was a member of that chapter. Traveling all over Orlando and Winter Park to various members' homes for socials, etc. proved to be a good way to learn the area! Our meetings were first held in a large bank on Orange Avenue, downtown Orlando; we later moved to the S & S Cafeteria on East Colonial Drive.

When I moved back to Sanford, I joined Zeta Xi chapter here, then it was a charter member of Xi Epsilon Sigma. Several in this chapter later helped form Preceptor Beta Lambda and Laureate Alpha Tau. I have served in all offices and chair of most committees, but most often as treasurer, program and/or publicity chairman. I'm sure that I have served at least 25 years as treasurer. I am presently a member at large, but claim Laureate Alpha Tau as my chapter and attend when possible. I have 42 years of great memories with these groups, with many of the members becoming close friends of mine.

SHS Class of 1945 Holds Reunion

The SHS Class of 1945 is enjoying their 55 year reunion this weekend. They were at the Yarbrough Ranch on Friday night, Colonial Room, Helen Stairs Theater and the Sanford Museum on Saturday afternoon and the Marina Hotel Saturday night. I wrote an article about this class five years ago for their 50th, so I opted out this year. I have been invited as their guest, so you will read about it later.

Sanford.
"Will need to remember that we are responding to your request for proposals," Dale said.

The three-hour meeting did little to solve specific details about the project, though it did focus on two construction scenarios along Sanford's Lake Monroe waterfront.

One proposal calls for a 300-room full service hotel in conjunction with a 42,700-sq-ft conference center that would allow for a mix of diverse multi-purpose rooms, a large banquet/hallroom, a tiered high tech amphitheater, breakout rooms, small conference and seminar rooms, a large conference and seminar room as well as pre-assembly areas, administrative office space and back-of-the-house operations.

Costs estimates, depending on final size determination and quality of interior furnishings range between $24 and $43.7 million.

Hunter told the group the smaller hotel and conference center would be less risky and more financially feasible and would, "Focus on a market segment not being well served by the Orlando metro area at this time."

Hunter said he was confident the Sanford location could get a steady stream of business from the I-4 corridor market by focusing its marketing efforts on a combination of local demand, niche business, corporate training, location opportunities, state associations, and by capitalizing on increased traffic at the Sanford/Orlando International Airport and Amtrak ridership.

He said the conference center could operate at a break even margin within three-to-four years, but until then would require an operating subsidy. Hunter said his experience led him to believe the best funding opportunity for the project would be to leverage public money with private investment money.

"With public money you can get the facility built that meets bare-bones specifications," Hunter said. "By incorporating private money for upgrading amenities and budgeting at $200 per square foot you're home free. You can build a product that fits the specifics of the market and the current window of opportunity."

Hunter's presentation was followed by a host of questions ranging from future conference center competition in the area to the availability of private capital that would be attracted to the investment.

"If we build it at a B level how do we upgrade to an A level and could future competition blow us out of the market?" questioned Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris.

"There's a greater probability someone will build a C quality facility or less in the future," responded Hunter. He repeated a sense of urgency to the audience.

"Don't screw around for another six years, do it now," Hunter said.

Commissioner Daryl McLain said using private money to bring the quality of the project up made sense to him and asked about the historic use of Ft. Mellon Park and future public use if Sanford's waterfront was the chosen site.

"I'm not here to deal with that issue," Hunter responded. "A public referendum has already answered that question."

Hunter said a combination of public and private funding would provide a number of leverage opportunities to get the conference center and hotel constructed on a parallel time table. He also said he was confident private money could be attracted by using exclusive contracts as an enticement. Sanford mayor Larry Dale said he wasn't interested in a "bare bones" facility. "We have a similar public-private funding arrangement at the airport. That's what I'm looking for," Dale said. "It's not unreasonable to go after that private money in a formal Request for Proposal. Using exclusive contracts is a feasible method."

Moncrief hit the water, negotiating the course in 1:17.88. He beat everyone entered except one and official commented. He even beat people 10 years his junior. Then, Cornelis Feenstra took his turn. When he crossed the finish line, he received a round of applause from his wife, daughter, and a host of other contestants and on-lookers. Feenstra finished the obstacle race in 1:17:56, beating Moncrief, but only by 32 one-hundredths of a second.

The two shook hands. Feenstra was presented the gold medal for first place in his age division, while Moncrief received a Silver medal for second place. Both commented, "Wait until next year." Then they shared a soft drink.

The fastest time in the sprint race was made by Richard Poole, in the 65 to 69 age group. He also received a gold medal.

sponsorship opportunities and possible government help in getting an aircraft here to Sanford once we locate an appropriate plane."

The committee recently approved the printing of 10,000 marketing brochures that will soon be distributed via mail at specific audiences.

"We've talked to many of the military organizations in the area and we are in the process of developing a prime marketing for the brochures," Parsell said. "We'll likely target ex-military in the area, particularly those who served here. The brochures will be going out in the mail in the near future," he added.

Interested parties and ex-military who would like more information and involvement in the push for the memorial are asked to contact the Sanford Orlando International Airport at 407-391-2136 or Bob Parsell at Sanford Ace Hardware, 407-321-0885.

said, "I have a greater appreciation for the office thanks to your guidance."

Mealor served as a commissioner from 1988 to 1992, as deputy mayor from 1992 to 1996 and as mayor since 1996.

In other commission business, Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris presented a clarification of the natural lands referendum on the Nov. 7 ballot. The referendum is an expansion of a preservation referendum approved by voters 10 years ago. The expansion includes construction of trails and greenways in addition to the preservation of 5,600 acres of land purchased by the county.

"More than 20 percent of the land in Seminole County is preserved," said Morris. "We want to take natural lands that have been preserved and open them up." The proposed trails, paved and natural, will interconnect cities, schools, parks and neighborhoods.

Morris said Florida leads the nation in the vehicular homicide of pedestrians, cyclists and children. "The trails will allow not just recreation but safety," he said.

Parts of the trails that have already been constructed, the Cross Seminole Trail and the Seminole Wekiva Trail, have been designated for the Florida National Scenic Trail, a state approved venture that will eventually extend from the panhandle to Miami.

"We may not see that completed in our lifetime, but we could see it in Seminole County in the next two to three years," said Morris.

Potential trails are proposed in Geneva, Chuluota, Oviedo, Casselberry, Longwood, Fern Park, Altamonte Springs, Winter Springs, Lake Mary and Sanford. A "yes" vote on the referendum will authorize $25 million in general obligation bonds to support projects that enhance public safety and promote outdoor recreation. The cost is estimated at an additional $10 per household per year.

Other commission business included approvals of the final budget and millage rate for the 2001 fiscal year. The approved millage rate is 3.7648 and the total general fund budget is $11,359,474.

Canine Howl-O-Ween contest is a success for Greyhound group

By Jana S. Jacobs
Herald Intern

The sounds of barking dogs, the anticipation of the crowds gathering around the track, the smell of hot dogs and cotton candy wafting through the air. The dogs line up with their handlers, anxious to get through the next showing so they can take off those costumes.

The first "Canine Howl-O-Ween," hosted by Greyhound Pets of America, Greater Orlando Chapter, broke out of the gate Saturday at the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club. The event, formerly called "Fall Greyhound Fun Day," featured the first ever dog Halloween costume contest open to all breeds and participants were anything but scarce.

This year marks the first time the event has been opened to all breeds. Organizers said a fear of dog aggression kept them from opening past events to other breeds. Greyhounds are gentle by nature and mix well with other greyhounds but are sometimes skittish around other breeds.

"Things went very well, we didn't have any problems with that so I think we're on to something," said Lisa Nolet, GPA/GO president. "In future I think all our events will be open to all breeds."

Owners dressed their dogs in everything from the spooky to the silly, frightening to frilly. Dogs and owners dressed alike like "Biker Boy" and Valerie, a chained and black leather clad duo, and super heroes Batman and Superman by 5-year-old Dominic Delgado and Sparky.

Traditional costumes like vampires and witches were plentiful while others dressed like Brittany Spears (a backpack and miniskirt on the stout, wrinkled frame of an English bulldog named Mrs.

Howell) and Mae West, complete with false eyelashes and feather-cuffed negligee.

The contest was emceed and judged by the hosts of Pet Phones, Orlando's only call-in radio show about pets, Disco Scottie and Dr. Rick of 740 WINZ. Third place went to a pack of six greyhounds dressed as the royal family of Seagullmania owned by Ron and Shirley Seagull, second place went to "Biker Boy," and first place went to the "Hippie Hound," owned by Manny and Suzanne Jones.

Besides dressing up the patient pooches, speed runs and canine contests like bobbing for weenies and a scavenger hunt kept owners occupied and dogs delighted. In the speed run, a dog runs on the track for fun and a good time instead of after a fake rabbit and a high payoff. The dogs' times, clocked by a radar gun, ranged from slimy slug to speed demon.

The purpose of these events, GPA/GO holds two a year, is to find homes for the scores of dogs taken in by the rescue and adoption group. Up to 100 ex-racers were available for adoption on this day. Many greyhounds were on hand in an adoption area set up for viewing by prospective owners. "About 17 dogs were adopted out Saturday," said Nolet, "but we're still counting."

More than 500 dogs will be placed by GPA/GO this year, either locally or with other adoption groups. So far this year about 200 have been placed locally and the same number have been sent out to other adoption groups.

Two years ago about 600 dogs were placed by the group. Nolet said the decline can be traced to competing adoption and rescue groups. "There are more groups out there now and we're all competing to place dogs in the same groups out of state."

Paulucci will distribute free turkeys, meals in Seminole

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Lois and Jeno Paulucci of Sanford are once again sending their holiday gifts of turkeys and free meals to the needy in Sanford and Seminole County.

The distribution will be early this year.

Two semi-trailer loads of Michelina's and Michelina's Yu Sing frozen entrees, more than 100,000 dinners, plus 250 oven-ready frozen turkeys will arrive in Sanford on Thursday, Nov. 9 for distribution to the needy for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

These gifts, compliments of the Paulucci family, which owns Luigino's Inc., and its Michelina's brand, have become a Seminole County holiday tradition over the past several years.

This will be the seventh and eighth truckloads of free Michelina's dinners to the local needy over the past two years.

Approximately 50 agencies and organizations serving needy and low-income families in Seminole County have been notified of the free food and turkey distribution at the Rich Food Plan of Florida facilities, 401 West 13th Street in Sanford, beginning at 8 a.m.

The Paulucci family is widely known for contributions of its products in areas where its facilities are located, as well as aiding victims of natural disasters nationwide, having recently sent free food to emergency disaster relief centers in Oklahoma, Arizona, Tennessee, North Dakota, Minnesota, Ohio, and Florida.

The Luigino's Inc., corporate headquarters is located in Sanford.

SCC Board of Directors meets Tuesday, Nov. 21

The District Board of Trustees of Seminole Community College will hold a regular board meeting Nov.

SpeakOut Hotline now active for Seminole County students

From Staff Reports

SpeakOut Hotline, 1-800-226-7733, a 24-hour per day, seven day per week anonymous tip line is now in full swing. The line encourages students and their parents to call with information concerning issues of school safety and security.

At a Seminole County School Board meeting last month, Sheriff Don Eslinger, a member of the Board of the Central Florida CrimeLine Program,

County Planning and Development department honored

The Seminole County Planning and Development Department has received the "Outstanding Public Report Award" by the Florida Planning and Zoning Association at its annual conference.

The study pertained to the Chuluota community and related to nonresidential development standards of the community, which is pocketed by the generally rural areas of the county and the City of Oviedo.

The Planning and Development Department staff conducted land use, economic and architectural analysis and engaged in intensive community involvement before developing a design standard overlay ordinance that harmonized the need of the community for some nonresidential development, while also protecting the rural appearance of the area.

asked the school board to consider SpeakOut to replace the former "Save-A-Friend" program, which has been phased out by the company formerly providing the service.

Cheryl Catchings, SpeakOut Hotline Director, gave details of the successes of the program in the seven counties currently being served. It was born of a tragic shooting that occurred in a Lake County school several years ago. It has since received calls concerning gang activities, guns and other weapons, fights, counterfeiting and numerous other topics of concerns to students.

Calls received are referred to both school administrators and school resource officers assigned to the schools by the law enforcement agencies of jurisdiction. Callers do not receive a reward. They are asked to call, "because it's the right thing to do." Catchings added that all calls are answered live, with no caller ID, no recordings, and no tracing of calls.

The official start date of SpeakOut in Seminole County was Wednesday, Nov. 1.

For additional information, contact Jack R. Stacey, Jr., Executive Director, Central Florida CrimeLine Program, 1-800-226-7733.

He has put new technology in the hands of deputies, and the record is clear: Seminole County is a safer place for his efforts."

Now, four years later, noting that Sheriff Eslinger has "won twice at the polls, underscoring his popularity...." and "... has also built a reputation statewide and nationally," the Orlando Sentinel once again endorses Don Eslinger for Sheriff in Seminole County.

Lions rise up, knock down Apopka

By Tony DeSommer
 HERALD CORRESPONDENT

APOPKA - Playing strictly on pride, the Oviedo High School football team earned a considerable measure of redemption Friday night by upsetting the previously unbeaten Apopka Blue Darters, 35-31, in a 6A-District 2 game at Roger Williams Field.

Apopka had already clinched the district championship with an 8-0 overall record and a 5-0 district mark. Oviedo was 4-4 after snapping a four-game losing streak the week before with a win over winless Colonial.

And while the Lions won't return to the playoffs this year, they will be able to make a claim no-one else in the district can - the best both the district champions and district runners-up (Lake Brantley) this year.

"Hopefully, we showed what Oviedo football is about tonight," said Oviedo coach Greg Register. "We beat the No. 1 and 2 teams in the district this year. That's something we can feel good about."

This has turned out to be a classic "what if" season for the Lions. There hasn't been a game all season where Oviedo has been completely healthy, missing key players in every game.

On Friday night, for example, defensive mainstays Brandon Watson and Rafael Sawin as well as senior running back Drew Bailey-Barnett didn't play a down because of illness and injuries.

Register refuses to use that as excuse. "That's part of football," he said with a good-natured shrug. "There have been seasons where we haven't had hardly any injuries at all. This year made up for those years. But we went out every night and did the best with who we had available."

That's how Nick Tenekedes and Steve Asby, the area's top receiving duo last season, evolved into one of the area's top passing combinations, Tenekedes doing the tossing and Asby the catching.

On Friday night, Tenekedes completed 11 of 17 passes for 225 yards and two touchdowns. Asby caught six passes for LAKE MARY -- In front of a rather sparse crowd at Don T. Reynolds Stadium the Lake Mary Rams took on the Lyman Cobrasounds in a Seminole Athletic Conference match-up on Friday night and won their season.

The Rams honored their 30 seniors during the pre-game ceremonies, as the Rams held Senior Night on its last home game of the season.

Lake Mary and its seniors wasted no time getting on the board when with just under two minutes into the game senior fullback Justin Komondoros punched it into the end-zone from just 2 yards out putting the Rams on top 6-0, point after attempt failed.

Tribe takes it out on Bears

By Dean Smith

WINTER SPRINGS -- After suffering a pair of tough losses the past two weeks, it figured the Seminole High School football team would be looking to take its frustrations out on someone.

And Friday night they did just that, playing a near flawless game, except for penalties, in crushing the homestanding Winter Springs Bears, 55-7, in a Class 5A-District 4 contest at the A.W. Epps Sports Complex.

The game was the final one of the season for the Fighting Seminoles, who are now 6-4 overall and 4-2 in 5A-4. The Tribe must now wait to see if they are invited as a wild card team into the playoffs that begin in two weeks.

Mainland defeated Spruce Creek, 24-3, Friday to claim the district crown, with the Hawks earning the runner-up spot.

Winter Springs is now 2-6 overall and 0-5 in the district and will close out the season with a game at Oviedo next Friday against the Lions starting at 7:30 p.m. at John Courier Field.

Seminole showed from the get-go that this would be its night, going to the razzle-dazzle on the third play of the game.

Quarterback Andre Raines, making his second start of the season, tossed to cousin Andre Raines, who hit Andrew Beatty with a 47-yard pass to set-up a three-yard touchdown run by Willie Bennett. And when Matt Groover hit the extra point, the Tribe led 7-0 with just 1:50 off the clock.

By the time the quarter had ended, Seminole led 14-0 and

Kindred, Berggren lead SCC women to victory

FT. PIERCE -- Sheketa Kindred and Naruzol Berggren scored 14 points each as the Seminole Community College women's basketball team opened its 2000-2001 season with an 84-64 victory over Indian River Community College Thursday night.

Berggren, a freshman point guard from Stockholm, Sweden, hit a pair of three-point shots as she poured in 12 of her 14 points in the second half as the Raiders outscored the Pioneers 46-32 in the final 20 minutes.

Freshman Gabrielle Blankenfeld from Naperville, Illinois also had a big game for the local squad, scoring 13 points and pulling down a team high eight rebounds.

Fellow freshman Shannon Cotton from Oviedo also scored in double figures for the Raiders, hitting 4-of-6 shots to finish with 10 points.

Other top scorers for SCC were Yolanda Johnson (8), Brandi Davis (7) and Erin Bradshaw and Linda Cazeau (6 each).

Y. Corbit had a huge game for IRCC before fouling out, totaling game-highs in points, 16, rebounds (11) and steals (5). R. Barnes and C. Walker were also in double figures for the Pioneers with 10 points each.

A different "Story" for SCC

Sophomore leads way as Raiders rally past Brevard in second half, 80-75

By Dean Smith

BANFORD -- What a difference a year makes. In the season opener a year ago, the Seminole Community College men's basketball team looked virtually unbeatable as it led by over 20 points in the first only to see Brevard, which would go on to win the state championship, rally for a win.

Wednesday night at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center it was deja vu in reverse as the Titans held the Raiders to four points over the first 12 minutes of the game and took leads of as many as 17 in building a 46-35 halftime advantage.

But behind the play of sophomore shooting guard Matt Story, SCC pulled off a remarkable rally, outscoring BCC 45-29 in the second half to pull off an 80-75 victory in the 2000-2001 season opener.

The Raiders will be at home again tonight (Saturday) hosting Hillsborough Community College from Tampa starting at 7:30 p.m. at the Health and Physical Education Center. All home games are free of charge to the public.

Story, from Sarasota, was ice-cold from the field in the opening 20 minutes, only scoring two points on a pair of free throws.

Only the play of freshmen Jontue Johnson (nine points) and Antwain Tennell (six points) off the bench, kept SCC from being completely run out of its own gym in the opening half.

Sophomore's Emmanuel Clifton and Michael Phenizee, meanwhile, were dominating the inside for the Titans, combining for 25 points, 17 by Cocoa's Clifton, and getting almost every rebound.

But the second half was a complete role reversal game, 15-8.

But the Lions battled back, jumping out to leads of 6-1 and 7-3 before the Bears won eight straight points to take an 11-7 lead.

Oviedo came right back with seven consecutive points of its own to lead 14-11, but the game would go right down to the wire before the Lions pulled it out, 15-13, to force a winner-take-all Game 3.

This game too was tight throughout, with Winter Springs holding the biggest lead at 5-2.

Oviedo eventually took a 7-5 lead and the race was on as the two teams started trading points until it was 13-13.

The Bears finally pulled out the victory as freshman Noelis Marquez served and ace to beat the game to match-point and then junior Tiffany Kitaoka pounded down a kill off an assist from junior Backi McLamon.

In the finals, Winter Springs looked like it would win its second straight 4A-District 3 title and hand the Bulldogs another district heartbreak as the Bears took a quick 4-0 lead and still led 8-4 later.

But DeLand started getting the ball to its premier setter, senior Kristy Hanson, who was finding hitters Gothier and Kazmierczak as the hosts cut the deficit to 8-7.

Winter Springs then scored to take a two-point lead, 9-7, but would not score again in the game, losing 15-9.

The Bears would again get off to a fast start in trying to force a game three, taking a 3-1 lead.

But the Bulldogs were not to outdone, coming back to take an 8-5 lead before Winter Springs made one final charge, regaining the lead at 10-8.

At that point Clonan went back to serve for the hosts and never gave it up as she had one ace and got three points from Kazmierczak, on a kill, a touch over the Bears front line, and a block that scored the final point, and two points from senior Shelly Joiner on a kill and a touch.

DELTONA — Coach Beth

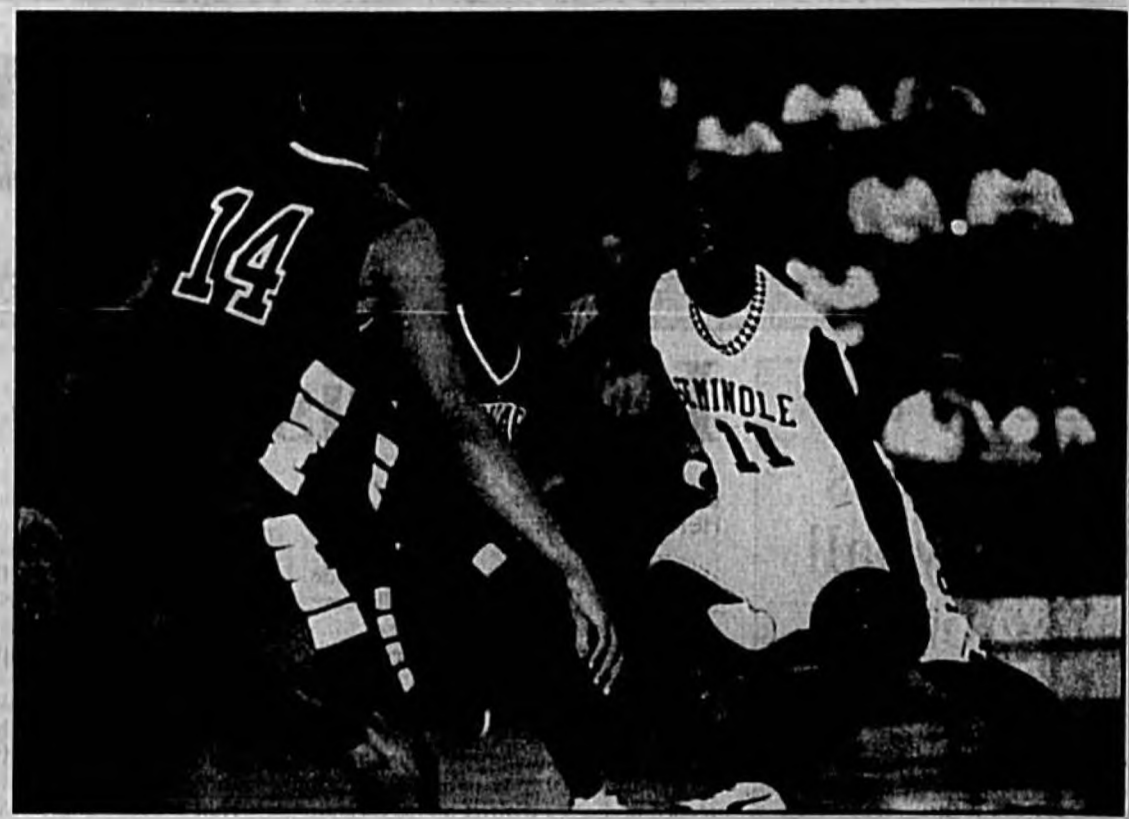

Corso's young Fighting Seminoles team gave a good account of itself, advancing to the semifinals of the Class 5A-District 5 Tournament at Deltona High School.

The Tribe (16-14) knocked off Pine Ridge (10-9) in the quarterfinals, 15-11 and 15-7, before falling to No. 1 seeded Spruce Creek (22-8), which Seminole had handed its only regular-season district loss, in a toughly fought contest, 15-6 and 15-3.

Against the Panthers, the Fighting Seminoles had 19 kills, 26 digs and three blocks.

Doing the damage individually were Jessica Chick (seven kills, two blocks, one dig), Michelle Cardel (five kills, one block, six digs), Kim Corso (four kills, one dig, nine assists), Emily Keysor (seven digs, seven assists), Jennifer Grullon (one kill, six digs), Amanda Howard (two kills, one dig), and Jessica Hermesen (four digs).

Keysor, a sophomore, Chick, a junior, and senior Cardel had big games against the Hawks in the semifinals, but it was not enough.

Jontue Johnson (No. 11) came off the bench to score 15 points and help SCC knock off the defending state champions from Brevard Community College, 80-75, at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

G. W. Bush and the Jets to win

Welcome to Week 10 of the National Football League my fellow fans. As always, the weeks seem to be passing too rapidly.

The Crystal has always been an advocate of elongating the season to 30 weeks. I have spoken to Paul Tagliabue on the subject a number of times, and have little hope that he will move to make it a reality. The newly formed X.F.L. will have to fill the void for hardcore fans like myself.

Let's talk about last week, shall we?

Once again the Crystal ball of Football delivered his Lock of the Week on a silver platter. I went with the Miami Dolphins (-4) over the Green Bay Packers.

Management was flipping out on Sunday as Miami fell to an early 17-0 deficit. The publisher of The Herald had the nerve to call the Crystal at home and question my judgment.

His comment to me was, "With the compensation package that we have given you, mistakes like this aren't supposed to occur."

I allowed him to finish popping off before asking him, "Is the game over?" His answer was "no," and I slammed the phone down in disgust.

Forty-five minutes later the Dolphins finished cruising to an easy victory. They beat the Packers by twice the published spread, just as the Crystal had promised. I continue to wait for an apology.

I anticipate a long wait so let's look at today's schedule and find some MORE winners.

BALTIMORE (-6) AT CINCINNATI

Believe it or not, this game has the potential to be exciting. The Bungles are convinced they aren't as bad as everyone thinks, and the Ravens think they are better than most believe. Neither team is correct. Ravens 23, Bungles 12.

NEW ENGLAND (-3) VS BUFFALO

My beloved Bills have clawed their way back into the hunt. They remain a longshot but definitely need this one. Flutie rocks! Bills 31, Patriots 27.

TENNESSEE (-7) VS PITTSBURGH

Tennessee returns home where they are undefeated.....ever. The Steelers running game will be shut down like a rusty steel mill. The Titans look very good. Titans 24, Steelers 12.

NEW ORLEANS (-5) VS SAN FRANCISCO

The Aints are feeling good! Bourbon Street is rockin' and rollin' as their team, with Jeff Blake at the helm, seems poised for the playoffs. I'll be making a trip to the Big Easy very soon. Aints 27, Niners 25.

TAMPA BAY (-7) AT ATLANTA

The Bucs, as I predicted, are turning things around just in time to keep us believing. They need to win their next FOUR games to realistically get back in the race. This is an easy place to start. Bucs 34, Falcons 20.

INDIANAPOLIS (-6) AT CHICAGO

The Colts seem to be finding themselves as their offense has resurfaced. The feisty Bears are known for their surprises at home, but I don't feel they have the firepower to compete in this one. Colts 34, Bears 9.

DETROIT (-3) VS MIAMI

The Dolphins travel to Detroit to continue their wobbly reign of terror. The Lions are absolutely convinced that the rest of their season is riding on this game. I think this will be the most competitive game of the day. TOO CLOSE TO CALL.

NEW YORK JETS (-3) VS DENVER

The Jets are eager to turn things back around as the Broncos are still trying to get things patched together. New Yorkers believe, and in this one they have every right to. Jets 37, Broncos 20.

OAKLAND (-3) VS KANSAS CITY

This is the Game of the Week my friends. Mark my words, the winner of this game will win the A.F.C. West and potentially go on to the Super Bowl. Hold on to your wallets, this will be a fight. Cheaters 24, Chiefs 21.

MINNESOTA (-4) AT GREEN BAY

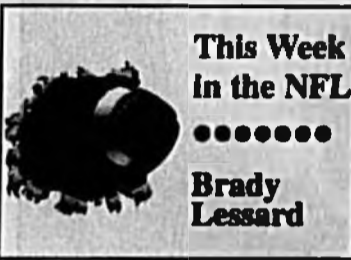

Wow. Wow. What a disappointment this game is. Two years ago this could have been the Game of the Year. The Packers are so bad, I'll be surprised if they even attempt to resist. Oh.....wait a minute. This is at Green Bay? Upset Special! Packers 23, Vikings 20.

Each week the Crystal Ball of Football releases his patented LOCK OF THE WEEK selection. This is the game that after research and contemplation, I feel most comfortable giving out as a "sure thing." These picks have been uncanny in their accuracy prompting questions of whether I have the ability to fix games at the professional level. I assure you I don't. I spend every day of the week making sure that I have the most accurate information available for the benefit of my readers.

Today I'm going with the NEW YORK JETS (-3) OVER THE DENVER BRONCOS AS THE LOCK OF THE WEEK. The Jets are painfully aware that to stay in the hunt they need this win. They are extremely fortunate to be playing the Broncos in this one.

Today I am also going with GEORGE W. BUSH as my LOCK OF THE DECADE. It's high time we had a president we can all respect, and one that has the gift to bring out the best in all of us.....like Vince Lombardi did as a coach.

Enjoy your football and remember, everything, except the Bush victory previously mentioned, can wait!

Men

as the Raiders came out smoking and turned up the defensive pressure to turn the momentum in their favor. The locals also started to pull down some rebounds as 6-foot-10 and 6-foot-9 South Carolina freshmen Che Morgan and Cedric McHaney started throwing their weight around.

Story hit three 3-pointers and Johnson tossed in two more as SCC slowly took control of the game.

Once the game got close, freshman Curtis Dallas from Jones High School went to work, scoring 13 of his team-high 18 points late in the game.

The Raiders also made the free throw line their own, making 11 of 13 in the second half, including the final six points of the game, after converting just 11 of 16 in the opening period.

The difference in the game was on the long-range shooting as SCC had 28 field goals to 24 for BCC and the Raiders made 22 free throws to 18 for the Titans.

But SCC hit three "treys" while BCC could only hit one from downtown.

Three other players besides Dallas scored in double figures for the winners with Story and Johnson both totaling 15 and Tennell tossing in 11.

Clifton had a monster game for the Titans, scoring a game-high 32 points on 12 field goals, at least eight of which were dunks.

Phenizee was next with 12, but only four came in the second half, and Curtis Wilson was also in double figures with 11, but again, only four points came in the final 20 minutes.

Lions, Vanderlende advance to Girls State Golf Championships

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

GAINESVILLE — The Seminole Athletic Conference will be well represented when the Class 2A Girls State Golf Championships begin in Vero Beach on Monday.

Amy Vanderlende from Lake Mary and Amanda Smith from Oviedo tied for low medalist honors with one-over par 73's and the Lions finished second to champion Gainesville-Buchholz in the team championship to earn state bids in the Class 2A-Region 2 Tournament at the Meadowbrook Country Club in Gainesville on Wednesday.

The host Bobcats totaled 313 strokes to top Oviedo, which had a 330 total. Bunnell-Flagler/Palm Coast (344), Lake City-Columbia (345), Seabreeze (347), Gainesville High (369), Lyman (375) and Belleview (406) rounded out the eight-team field.

Individually, Vanderlende shot 34-39 and Smith shot 37-36 and got the automatic berths, edging Flagler-Palm Coast's Ali Kicklighter by a single stroke.

Following Smith in scoring for the Lions were Stephanie Deigado (76), Sarah Davis (84), Stephanie Thomas (97) and Jackie Kim (138).

The top three scorers for Lyman were Jennifer Keefe (91), Kathleen Tillotson (93) and Liz Barnes (96).

Rams

strong in the first half as they held the Greyhounds to just 6 points and forcing three turnovers.

Lake Mary tacked on another touchdown when, with 7:57 left in the first quarter, Reggie Campbell scored on a 64-yard touchdown run to put the Rams up 14-0, Jason Hadley completed the 2-point conversion to Tony Duber.

Just over five minutes later the Rams put six more on the scoreboard when Tucker Pierce scored on a 65-yard touchdown run, capping a 3 play, 73-yard drive that took 1 minute and 30 seconds to complete. The touchdown put the Rams up 22-0 after Hadley again connected with Duber for the 2-point conversion.

Lyman would score before the end of the half when, with 7:09 remaining in the first half, Greyhound running back Mark McNealy scored on a 82-yard touchdown run which was set up by a Maurice Oliver interception of a Hadley pass.

The touchdown made the score 22-6, the 2-point conversion failed, in favor of the Rams.

Lyman came out of halftime a different team as they immediately lit up the scoreboard with another touchdown on a 29-yard touchdown run by Mark McNealy that capped a 5 play, 67-yard drive to make the score 22-14, Lyman quarterback Victor Johnson ran in the 2-point conversion.

Exactly 47 seconds later, Lake Mary would respond to the Lyman touchdown with one of their own on a 41-yard touchdown run by Reggie Campbell.

Campbell had 314 yard rushing on just 14 carries and easily surpassed the 1,000 yards rushing mark this season. The touchdown put the Rams up 28-14 (point after attempt failed).

Lyman would score two unanswered touchdowns to tie the game at 28-28 on touchdown runs by Mark McNealy and Travo Woods in the late third and early fourth quarters. Mark McNealy made the score 28-21 when he scored on a 17-yard touchdown run that capped a 63-yard drive that took nearly 3 minutes to accomplish. Travo Woods would score with just 6:37 remaining in the game on a 83-yard touchdown run to tie the game at 28.

Lake Mary would show no signs of worry as they proceeded to score on their next drive on a 59-yard touchdown run by none other than Reggie Campbell to put the Rams up for good, 34-28 (kick failed).

Lake Mary's defense would hold Lyman on their final drive when Greyhound quarterback Victor Johnson was stuffed by a herd of Rams on a 4th and 6 situation with just 1:15 remaining in the game, giving the Rams their fifth win of the season.

"This was a huge win for us, to win our final home game as seniors was enormous for us, our offensive line had a huge part in this win and this keeps our playoff hopes alive," said senior quarterback and wide receiver Jason Hadley and Eddie Quinones.

With the win the Rams improve to 5-4 on the season and with a win next week at Lake Howell the Rams can all-but secure themselves a spot in the playoffs as a wild card. The Greyhounds fall to 2-7 and will face Lake Brantley at home next week.

Tribe

the Tribe defense had held the Bears to minus-1 yard of total offense.

It did not get much better after that as Seminole put another 21 points on the board to lead 35-0 at intermission and had accumulated 279 yards of offense to just 44 for the home team.

The halftime break did little to kill the Fighting Seminoles momentum as they added one score in the third period and scored on the first play of the fourth period to take a 49-0 lead before the reserves took over.

Winter Springs finally got its offense going behind back-up quarterback Carl Harris, who completed 4-of-5 passes on an 80-yard drive, capped by a 21-yard touchdown catch by Chad Hunter off a deflection off a Seminole defender's hands.

Sarah Hall came on to kick the extra point for the Bears, making the score 49-7.

Seminole head coach Jim Worthington then thanked his offensive line for a great season, allowing each to carry the ball at least one time and senior Curtis Watson got to score the final Tribe touchdown on a 1-yard run.

Bennett led Seminole, which gained 262 yards on the ground, with 98 yards.

Andre Raines, the son of former SHS star and New York Yankee Tim Raines, was next with 95 yards on six carries and the junior also competed 4-of-6 passes for 108 yards.

Ramone Raines, the son of former SHS star Ned Raines, completed one pass for 47 yards and also caught two passes for 60 yards, both for touchdowns, from his cousin.

126 yards and a touchdown and also carried the ball twice for 46 yards and a touchdown.

Tenekedes and Asby led the Lions on three comebacks Friday, rallying Oviedo from deficits of 6-0, 12-6, and 31-20. The final charge came in the fourth quarter, when the Lions overtook the Blue Darters by scoring 15 unanswered points.

Dwayne Allen cut into Apopka's advantage with a 10-yard touchdown run with 7:17 remaining in the game. After Tenekedes completed a pass to Bobby Raulerson for a two-point conversion, Oviedo trailed by just three points.

After the Lion defense forced the Blue Darters to punt, the Oviedo offense took the ball at its own 12-yard line with 2:05 left. It took the Lions just eight plays to cover that 88 yards, Billy Dreggors rushing in from the 21 with 59 seconds left to play. Asby's extra-point kick put the Lions up 35-31.

Fittingly, an Asby interception ended Apopka's last offensive possession.

Asby scored Oviedo's first two touchdowns, connecting with Tenekedes on a 74-yard touchdown pass play for the first and rushing 37 yards for the other. James Jordan took a 10-yard pass from Tenekedes and turned it into a 59-yard scoring play to help the Lions take a 20-18 lead at halftime.

The Lions will wrap up their season next Friday night when they celebrate their homecoming against the Winter Springs Bears. Apopka will attempt to regain some momentum for the playoffs when the Blue Darters face Evans for the Metro Conference championship next week.

SAC Slow Pitch Softball League playoffs set

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

WINTER SPRINGS — In an oddity for slow pitch softball, Oviedo edged Seminole 1-0 last Wednesday night to sew up the regular season championship in the Seminole Athletic Conference Girls Fall Slow Pitch Softball League.

The Fighting Seminoles did their part to set-up the showdown, pounding the host Bears, 10-1.

The Lions then nipped the Tribe, but still had to rebound quickly from the excitement of the victory because they had a game left with Lake Mary.

Oviedo was not about to let the title slip away as it took care of the Rams, 7-1.

In the other game at Winter Springs, the Bears outscored Lake Mary, 11-10.

At Lake Howell High School, the host Silver Hawks appeared to have clinched third place when they nipped Lyman, 6-5.

But the Greyhounds bounced back to top Lake Brantley, 8-5, and then got the No. 3 seed when Lake Howell was crushed by the Patriots, 12-0.

The final standings for the regular season show Oviedo on top at 13-3 with Seminole just behind at 12-4. The remainder of the standings are: Lyman and Lake Howell (both 9-7), Lake Mary and Lake Brantley (both 5-11) and Winter Springs (3-13).

The tournament will be played on Monday and Tuesday at Lyman High School and the All-Conference Team will also be voted on at Lyman on Monday, prior to the tournament beginning.

The schedule for the tournament is as follows.
Monday - No. 4 Lake Howell vs. No. Lake Mary, 5 p.m.; No. 3 Lyman vs. No. 6 Lake Brantley, 6:15 p.m.; and No. 2 Seminole vs. No. 7 Winter Springs at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday - semifinals: No. 1 Oviedo vs. the Lake Howell-Lake Mary winner at 5 p.m.; the Lyman-Lake Brantley winner vs. the Seminole-Winter Springs winner at 6:15 p.m.; and the Championship Game, between the 5 p.m. and 6:15 p.m. game winners, at 7:30 p.m.

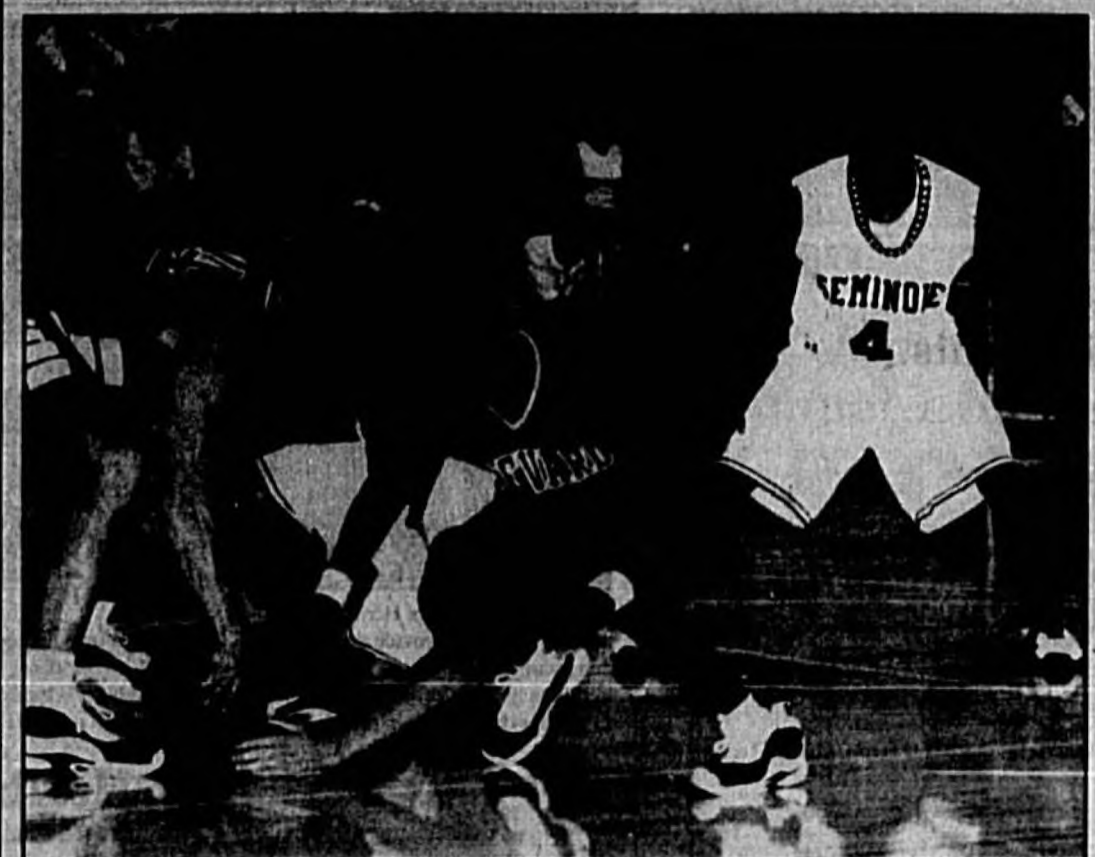

Seminole's Kara Lively completed the regular season with 36 hits in 51 at bats, giving her a .706 batting average. She scored 19 runs, and counts 16 doubles, three home runs and two triples among her 36 hits, and also had 44 RBI, walked nine times, including five intentionally, had an on-base percentage of .750, a slugging percentage of 2.431 and totaled 124 total bases on her 36 hits.

SANFORD WRESTLING CLUB TOURNAMENT
SANFORD — The Sanford Wrestling Club will be hosting a Tournament in the Dan Pelham Gymnasium at Sanford Middle School on Saturday, November 18th.

The tournament, sponsored by the Sanford Police Athletic League, will hold weigh-ins from 8 a.m.-to-10 a.m. with competition beginning at 11 a.m.

Off and Running Games are under way

By Nick Pflaui
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The 26th Annual Golden Age Games got under way Sunday, Oct. 29. Events and competition will continue through Nov. 4 at various locations.

A number of events have already been held including cycling and basketball. Others, such as bowling, tennis, and others have had some competition already but will continue through this week.

The Golden Age Games began 26 years ago as an idea among civic leaders. The games have since grown into one of the largest in Florida, and are recognized nationally as the "Nation's oldest senior games."

The Sanford games are one of only 12 qualifying sites for the Florida Senior Games State Championships. The top five finishers in Sanford will be eligible to compete in the state games which will be held in Kissimmee from Nov. 28 through Dec. 3.

Lisa Jones of the Sanford Recreation Department is chairman of this year's events which features over 40 activities and festivals.

Also scheduled are a number of special activities for everyone to enjoy. In the spirit of the Olympic Games, Sanford events will award gold, silver and bronze medals to the top three male and female competitors in each sport, broken down into age divisions.

This year, for the first time, participants are required to be age 50 or over, the beginning age was 55.

Applications were mailed out to persons who were invited to compete in preliminary games several months ago. Last minute forms however, may still be distributed at the Sanford Recreation Department Senior Center at the Sanford Civic Center. In many Games in Sanford.

Registration for individual event competition may be done just prior to the start of the actual game, but organizers recommend double-checking on this before planning a last minute entry.

The Recreation Department has brochures available listing each of the activities, times, dates, locations, and sponsoring organizations. These are free of charge.

Results listed for first events held during Golden Age Games

Celery City Cruising

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

As a youngster growing up in Sanford, Dave Scott used to admire the shiny black 1952 Chevrolet Deluxe parked at Hunt's Feed Store at 2nd and Sanford Avenue. His love affair with the classic auto continued when long-time Sanfordite Herb Partridge took possession of the car years later. Scott eventually consummated his love affair with the vehicle by purchasing it from the now deceased Partridge. He'll be showing it off along with his 1955 Chevy Belaire next weekend when the Celery City Cruisers hold their 17th Annual classic car show at the Museum of Seminole County History on Nov. 11.

Scott said his passion for classic cars began when he received his first tool box at six years of age. It continues today. When not busy with his vocational duties with the Lake County Sheriff's department, he fine tunes his avocation as president of the Cruisers, one of Central Florida's oldest Classic Car clubs.

"I've been in love with these cars for well over 20 years," said Scott. "I bought my first one when I was in high school — it was a '37 Chevy that I built up. School authorities didn't like it too much when I parked it in the high school parking lot. It got a lot of attention."

Between Scott and the other 40-some members of the Cruisers, Sanford and other area locals own about 25 classic cars, ranging from street rods, stock versions, modifieds, and trucks. He expects upwards of 80 vehicles to be on display next weekend in what he calls, "The cream of the crop of classic cars in the Central Florida area."

"There will be some real high-dollar cars on display," said the Cruisers' president. "The average car that will be on display is worth between $30,000 and $35,000 but some that will be shown are worth as much as $75,000 to $100,000."

Scott said his interest in classic cars was cultivated by the Partridge, who he labels, "The Godfather of 'cruising' in Central Florida."

"Years ago, Herb would bring that car to the parking lot at Wal-Mart on 17-92 on Saturday nights," Scott explained. "He would hook up this big speaker to the car radio and play music from oldies radio stations. It became a regular social event — to the point the Steak 'N Shake restaurant chain began holding cruising nights at their various locations around Seminole County."

New ownership of the Seminole Plaza frowned on those weekend gatherings and the crowds they drew.

"It's a real shame they didn't cotton to our gatherings cause the folks at Wendy's and Ci-Ci's Pizza made a nice piece of change from our parking lot cruising," said Scott.

Toll taking

Melendez spends day collecting change on the GreeneWay

As more and more people move to Central Florida, the traffic into and out of Orlando on I-4 can be a nightmare. It doesn't take much to create a traffic jam several miles long — just what you don't need after a long day at work. For those who will avoid a traffic jam at all cost, the answer is the GreeneWay, which is part of Florida's Turnpike system. And if you drive the GreeneWay, chances are you may meet toll collector, Gladys Melendez. Melendez of Orlando is a single mother with two children — Stephen, 16, and John, 14. She has worked as a toll collector for six years. Melendez works for Barton Protective services, of Miami. Barton is a private company which employs people to work the toll booths and collect the money. The Barton employees, however, are supervised by the Florida State Department of Transportation. Melendez is supervised by plaza manager, Lucille Gomez. To find out what it's like working in the toll booth and collecting money all day, Herald staff writer Arthur Zelnick talked to Melendez about her job.

Q: What shift do you consider the best to work?
A: I work the first shift which is 5 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. I like the shift because I have the rest of the afternoon off. I also worked on the ramps and at the plaza. It's easier working the ramps because you get less traffic, but I like the plaza because you stay busy.

Q: If someone gives you a $20 or $50 bill for a 50 cent toll does it aggravate you?

A: No, because that's my job — that's what I'm here for.

Q: Do you consider your job to be a safe job?

A: It is, it's safe. I've never had any problems in six years. Once in a while someone might yell at you but that doesn't happen very often. It's the people talking on cell phones that I don't feel are very safe drivers. They are so into the conversation, they don't pay attention. Many of them just drive off without getting their change. You have to start screaming, "You forgot your change, you forgot your change. Some can't remember if they gave you $5 or $20 — they don't even know."

Q: What do you like about the job? Would you work at it until retirement?

A: It's convenient for me because of the kids.

So by the time I go home my kids are home too. But it's not something to work until retirement. It's just real convenient for me. You get to work outside and see a lot of people — it's the same job but each day is different.

Q: What would you do if you saw someone diving through the toll booth intoxicated?

A: We're required to call the police. I only had to do that once about three or four years ago. I was working the third shift and the parents were drinking with two little kids in the back seat. I told my supervisor and she called the police.

Q: Does it cost the same for all vehicles to use the GreeneWay?

A: We charge by the number of axles the vehicle has. A motorcycle and car will pay the same, but a tractor trailer will have to pay more. Emergency vehicles and police cars use the E pass lane, and school buses are paid through an account with the school district.

Q: How much time off do you get during the day, what if you have to go to the bathroom?

A: We get two 15 minute break's

Lake Mary Woman's Club celebrates Halloween

Lake Mary Mayor David Meador came face to face with the great pumpkin at the Lake Mary Woman's Club's October meeting. Well, sort of. Several members were dressed in costume for their annual costume contest when the mayor came to speak. The mayor, who is running for state representative, came to outline his position on current issues. He also told the members, that if elected, he would continue to make Lake Mary his home. The mayor couldn't stay long because he had to dash over to Seminole Community College to meet Gov. Bush and candidate George W. Bush.

Mary Rowell

After the mayor left, it was time for the costume contest. This was a tough one, because there were a lot of great ones. But, in the end, there could only be three! First place went to the "Great Pumpkin," Bonnie Preston; second place to the "Clown," Mary Lester; and third place went to the "Dungeon Master," and honorary Woman's Club member Tim Lambke.

In other news, the Woman's Club discussed their new charity for this year. Last year, the Woman's Club chose a family to support for Christmas. This year, the Members of the Lake Mary Woman's Club line up for a recent costume contest. Winners included Bonnie Preston, Mary Lester and Tim Lambke.

Woman's Club has adopted a cottage at the Florida United Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise. The cottage has eight boys ranging in age from 6 to 16. The Woman's Club has a Christmas wish list from each of the boys and will be picking something from the list to give the boys for Christmas.

The Woman's Club inducted two new members at their October meeting. Marilyn Cosentino sponsored Bonnie Lombard as a new member and Ruth Lauria sponsored Virginia Kelly as a new member.

CIA Halloween Party Considered A Success

The Bates Motel had more than 100 visitors last Saturday. The Bates Motel was this year's haunted house for the Lake Mary Community Improvement Association. Volunteer Julia Langston brought her haunted house to the Community Building, and with the help of a couple of CIA members, spend all day Saturday setting up. Julia set up eight special rooms for the "motel" and stationed in each room as guests. Tour guides led visitors through the "motel."

The guests gave out candy to each of the visitors. While waiting on the "motel tour," visitors could win

Tootsie Rolls by playing "pin the tail on the black cat." There was also a karaoke machine set up to sing such holiday favorites as "monster mash."

The haunted house was stopped briefly at 8 p.m. for costume contest. The winners were Olivia Potter, Ryan Lanuto and Mitchell Stern in the 2 and under group; Brooke Benson, Logan Evans and Tyler Stern in the 2 to 3 group; Haley Reardon, Madison Potter and Vinnie Pahl in the 4 to 6 group; Anthony Mlotkowski, Cathy Quintanilla and Candace Fuller in the 7 to 9 group; and Luke Stevens, Daniel Moorehouse and Rebecca Mlotkowski in the 10 to 12 group.

Nurse had good reason for her bad temperament

DEAR ABBY: I am a registered nurse employed in a hospital. My daughter passed away in December from breast cancer. I worked up until two weeks prior to my daughter's death. During that time, I made no mention to my co-workers about my daughter's grave condition. It was just too sad.

Dear Abby

Three weeks before my daughter died, my supervisor called me into her office and told me I had a "bad attitude." I admit that I had kept my feelings to myself, and of course my demeanor reflected a sad expression, but my attitude was never "bad." I quickly responded to my supervisor, in my defense, that my daughter was dying and asked her how I was supposed to act. She told me there were other nurses who had gravely ill children, but they didn't behave the way I did. I replied that she should walk a mile in my shoes. She reiterated that I had a "bad attitude." I responded that since she seemed to be such an authority on behavior and dying children, perhaps she could enlighten me on how to "act" — because I really didn't know.

I have since returned to work, and I now have a strong dislike for this person. I see her daily, and she has the nerve to speak to me after that unpleasant encounter. Abby, how do I get past this? She has apologized for her comments, but the damage has already been done.

FURIOUS R.N. IN THE NORTHEAST

DEAR FURIOUS: It's unfortunate that your behavior was misunderstood, but since your colleagues had no way of knowing what you were going through at the time, your supervisor was only doing her job.

Please accept her apology and find it in your heart to forgive her. If you cannot, professional counseling to help you rechannel your grief and anger may be in order. Life is too precious to harbor resentments.

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing about your response to "Disappointed in Seattle" regarding security in marriage. You above all should know that marriage does not necessarily mean security. You have printed enough letters from victims of marriages to have responded differently.

Abby, there are con-men, gamblers, alcoholics, abusers, and people who just abandon mates and children. Finding security in marriage is like catching a feather in the wind — some catch it, most don't, no matter how hard they try.

Want security? Get your own job, open a bank account, and earn some self-esteem and confidence. Don't rely on someone else for your security.

JOAN C. IN BAY SHORE, N.Y.

DEAR JOAN: While I agree that a marriage certificate is not a one-way ticket to easy street, the kind of security to which I was referring were rights of inheritance and, should illness strike, the authority to instruct doctors about each other's wishes.

DEAR ABBY: This is just for you: Do you know the difference between a sewing machine and a kiss? A sewing machine sews nice seams, but a kiss seems so nice!

You can credit my sweet, late mother, Tillie M. Brehl, with that one.

ILENE R., BEXLEY, OHIO

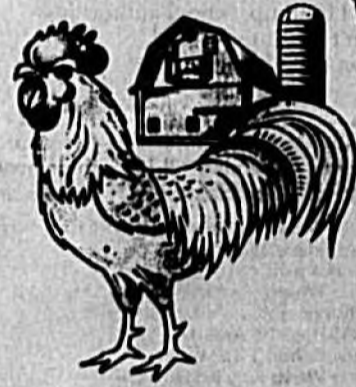

DEAR ILENE: Many thanks for the witty ditty. Your mother was a sweetheart, and so are you.

Fashion show benefits scholarship fund

Fall fashions on parade were the highlight of a scholarship benefit luncheon sponsored by the Woman's Club of Sanford Inc. Proceeds from the colorful show will enable deserving women to return to the classroom of their choice.

Phyllis Hodge, chair of the annual event, assisted by co-chair DeLores Lash, said she was pleased with the large turnout packing the beautifully decorated clubhouse. Autumn flowers and lush, willow ferns in hanging baskets decked the clubhouse halls. The ferns were also sold to benefit the club's scholarship fund.

President Betty Jack greeted the patrons at the door and later explained the structure of the benefit. She turned the stage over to attractive Joyce Griffith, general manager of Burdines in Seminole Town Center, and also the fashion coordinator and moderator. Joyce introduced the two male models assisting the other models from the stage to the auditorium. Very dapper and dashing in duds from Burdines were Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley and Chief Deputy Steve Harriett of the Seminole County Sheriff's Office who did the monochromatic Regis look proud.

In the first segment, the models strutted on to the stage showing a collection of casual fashions from Burdines, some with a touch of chic. In the second segment, multi-functional fashions came into focus featuring business attire that could also star during the evening hours.

As each model strutted on stage, turned and pivoted, Joyce described the outfit and quoted the approximate cost. At the conclusion of the fast-paced show, Joyce lauded the models for their professionalism as the audience responded with a long, loud round of applause.

Models were: Karen Hittel, Lisa Finnerty, Collette Colegrove, Lisa Gadson, Theresa Fraasa, Thelma Smith, Jone Porter, Dr. Charaline Luna, Emy Sokol, Pat Foster, Julie Wallace and King Koch from the men's department at Burdines.

The committee included: Vivian Buck, Anne VanDerworp, Betty Colbert, Mindy Tooley and Janice Springfield. Working in the kitchen were Helen Hamner, Ruth Gaines and Carole Krchhoff. Donna Smith played background piano music and Faye Siler designed and painted the artistic posters. The food was catered by Bucks with Dutch Mill Nursery providing the ferns and Tropical Paradise Florist supplying the flowers. Each patron received a gift package from Lancome cosmetics.

Parliamentarian Addresses DAR

Parliamentarian Phyllis Wood entertained the Sallie Harrison Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution at the October meeting. A professional registered parliamentarian for 21 years, Ms. Wood presented a monologue she wrote, "Let me tell You About my Club Meeting."

According to Virginia Powell, the presentation was "informative and humorous." The guest speaker was given a reading pillow in appreciation.

A former president of the Florida State Association of Parliamentarians, Ms. Wood now serves as parliamentarian for that group and president of the Florida Unit of Registered Parliamentarians. She also serves the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs and a number of other organizations. An accomplished writer, Ms. Wood has written several monologues.

Regent Julia Sartin presided over the business session and introduced prospective member, Libby Mossman, whose papers have been forwarded to the DAR Registrar General.

Paul Erisman was recognized as a guest along with Ms. Wood. Members attending Fall Forum were Julia Sartin, Libby Boyd and Barbara Hall. The Beta Sigma Phi meets for All-Chapter fete Sanford Chapters of Beta Sigma Phi combined Oct. 21 for the annual All-Chapter Social and Luncheon at Logan's Steakhouse Restaurant. Hostess Chapter Delta Delta Delta welcomed the guests as they arrived and ushered them to their tables.

This gathering heralded the beginning of the fall season and during the social hour, there were lots of hugs and repetition of the popular phrase, "It's so good to see you," according to Marty Wood.

As members enjoyed the cuisine of her choice, door prizes were awarded as well as during the entire event. Innovative games, including sorority bingo, were enjoyed and kept the occasion lively. The social concluded with the serving of the piece de resistance, a beautifully decorated cake depicting life, learning and friendship, the true meaning of Beta Sigma Phi.

Marty said, "As members departed, they expressed hope that another delightful function would soon be forthcoming."

Poet Speaks To Literary Group

Elisabeth Boyd was hostess in her home for the first meeting of the season of the Sanford Women's Club's Literary Group. Co-hostess was Charlotte Knowles, chairperson of the group who presided over the business session.

Lou Witzenberg, a published poet, was the guest speaker. Mindy Tooley said, "Her work is memorable and moving, reflecting humor and sensitivity."

Young Ladies of Distinction attend afternoon tea

The theme of the third annual Sophisticated To A Tea was "When Sisters Meet." The tea was held at the Rose Cottage Tea Room.

The Grove Counseling Center Inc., sponsors SANKOFO, the Young Ladies of Distinction Program. The program assists adolescent females ages 11 to 13 through structures, rituals and ceremonies where they learn how to be successful, who they are, the purpose and meaning for their existence and the passageway to the next step and growth in their lives.

Serving as dual mistresses of ceremonies were Chanel Benn and Jocelyn Johnson. Welcome was given by Wanda Harris Fitzpatrick, counselor of the Young Ladies of Distinction.

Beautifully attired in their afternoon tea dresses that included gloves, they sipped tea and dined on finger foods served at the afternoon tea. A special brew of tea was enjoyed. Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Ruby H. Hendrix, who is a retired educator from the Seminole County Board of Education.

Hendrix gave words of social grace and charm, and the Young Ladies of Distinction were told about her wealth of learning and experiences gained throughout her life.

Hendrix told them that, as they grow, each step they make shows that they are building for others. She told them to remember to always say goodbye to yesterday, hello to tomorrow and become a fine lady. Always love, show joy, enter peace and yet rise.

When sisters meet, there is love. You must share, care, laugh, have fun, talk and share secrets.

Each sister was presented with a gift of love to show that they were indeed loved by their sponsors. After the African Female Creed was recited, special recognition went to Athenia Singleton, Brittany Martin, Accoya Myers, Alexandra McMillon, Chanel Benn and Jocelyn Johnson.

Special thanks to all the mentors who work with these young Ladies of Distinction, including Altamonte Springs Chapter of Links Inc., Terry Snyder of the Orlando Sentinel and Longwood Lincoln Mercury. Remember the old African proverb "It takes a whole village to raise a child." Thanks, Patrice Anderson, for your photo expertise.

Church Notes

On the road to recovery

Greg Jackson, left, and his father, the Rev. Abner Jackson, discuss Greg's renewed faith in God, which helped him kick a more than 20-year drug habit.

Jackson's faith helps him kick a decades-old habit

By Michelle Jeris
Managing Editor

Greg Jackson started using marijuana in high school.

He eventually started using harder drugs, including crack cocaine, and life became progressively harder for him to handle.

Jail didn't stop Jackson from using drugs, and he wouldn't listen to friends and family members who urged him to quit.

But, more than two decades later, Jackson, who is 44, said his faith in Jesus has made him kick the habit. The Sanford native now attends a ministry in English, where he counsels others who are trying to end their drug use.

"I call it a spiritual hospital," Jackson said. "Its medicine is God's love."

Jackson said he began using drugs as a result of teen-age peer pressure. After graduating from high school, he entered the Air Force, but his drug use didn't stop — he just didn't use as much.

Three years later, Jackson returned to Sanford. He attended Valencia Community College and the University of Central Florida, where he won several academic awards.

During his junior year of college, Jackson said he began selling cocaine to make money. He also began using it.

"I became my biggest customer," he said. "Then, I stopped selling and just used it. My world fell apart."

Jackson's habit led to his arrest for drug trafficking, and he spent more than a month in jail.

Although he said he tried to quit on numerous occasions, he always seemed to end up using again.

Not anymore. He said he has found his faith again and has no plans of returning to the road he once traveled.

Four months ago, a friend told him about Jesus Is Ministries in English, and he said he has been sober ever since.

"I went to the Christian treatment center, and I realized what it was going to take was a complete surrender to God," Jackson said. "Now, I know my purpose in life."

Jackson works as a treatment counselor, hoping others won't make the same mistakes he made. Eventually, he hopes to get licensed and ordained as a minister.

Jackson's father, the Rev. Abner Jackson, knows his son can do it.

"I always prayed that he would stop," Abner Jackson said. "But, he always seemed to drift away from us."

"I am glad to see him come back, and I am proud of him," he said. "He's once again found his faith, and he won't go back."

Animals need kindness, too

About people and animals...

Among the friends I lost recently was a newspaperman named Don Robertson. He was hard-boiled and cynical much of the time, but he would step out of character on occasion and become absolutely lovable.

One of my favorite "lovable Don" stories was about a mouse Don saved from the jaws of death. Don's cat had already grabbed the mouse and was carrying it out of the room to finish it off when Don intervened. He scared the cat into dropping the mouse and letting it escape.

"I felt sorry for that mouse," Robertson wrote. "It gave the most piteous squeak you ever heard when the cat pounced on it. The mouse may be one of the more humble and useless of God's creatures, but I saw no reason why it should die."

Our cat gets all the food it needs, and the mouse was simply a luxury it could afford to miss ..."

After the column appeared, an irate reader wrote in.

"With so much going on and with so much to talk about these days, it is unbelievable that there should be a columnist with absolutely nothing to say," the reader wrote.

I would never have made a comment like that.

It seems to me that "with so much going on and with so much to talk about these days," we are losing sight of the many little things in life that deserve more attention than we give them.

I know a girl named Sarah who used to be close friends with a German shepherd who lived next door.

I was always a little afraid of Max, but Sarah, who was 3, would pull a stick or a ball out of his mouth without a fear in the world.

They would play together for the whole afternoon. When Max would get unruly, Sarah would say firmly, "Sit, Max!" And Max would sit.

When they got tired, the two of them would rest and "talk." Sarah liked to watch Max's ear wiggle when she put her mouth up to it. To somebody watching, it looked as if she were whispering secrets to Max.

Then Max would put his nose up to her ear, and you would think he was whispering a secret back.

The little scene always reminded me of the pelican who appointed himself night watchman of Albert Schweitzer's hospital for the natives of Lambarene in equatorial Africa.

The pelican appeared at the hospital every evening at sunset, stayed all night, and at daybreak he disappeared. Night after night, without fail, he came to guard the building.

In time, he struck up an acquaintance with one of the workers.

Schweitzer, the doctor at the hospital, said no one who had never seen it would believe it, but these two — the worker and the big pelican — would jabber back and forth at each other in apparent perfect understanding.

Schweitzer said they even seemed to argue sometimes. Often, the pelican would get the better of the argument, which would cause the worker to sulk and walk off pouting like a spoiled child.

But soon the two were speaking again.

If you are looking for an unselfish person, look for somebody who is kind to animals. We are nice to other people for all sorts of reasons — many of them selfish.

But kindness to animals is a purely unselfish gesture. There can be little self-seeking involved in being kind to a dog.

While all this is true, I am still troubled by those people who are nicer to animals than they are to the human beings in their lives. There's time to be kind to all creatures.

Healthy Eating

Understanding nutrition and menu choices

A menu is a list of dishes in a restaurant from which to make selections for a meal.

Sica Nacu

Dinner is usually the main meal and is eaten in a more leisurely fashion than either breakfast or lunch. Of course, dinner time should mean a celebration of food in itself, a time of shared companionship, when warm lights twinkle in people's eyes, expressing joy for all God's blessings, when lips smiling murmur a table's grace, preparing the body and mind to relax over a substantial meal.

Today's menus are descendants of elaborate banquet menus served in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. These menus had 12 or more courses, and various sequences of the courses were well established by traditions.

Living in America means to be exposed to a number of traditions and menus coming from all over the world. Every cuisine brought with it terms and names as well as flavors, and methods of preparation.

As people are becoming more concerned about fitness and health, restaurateurs in particular, have the obligation not only to prepare attractive, flavorful food but to offer nutritious foods to ensure a well balanced meal.

Nutrients are certain chemical compounds that are present in food and that fulfill one or more of the following functions:

- Supply energy for body functions.
- Build and replace cells that make up body tissues.
- Regulate body process.

There are six categories of nutrients: Carbohydrates, proteins, vitamins, minerals, water and fiber - a non nutrient substance necessary for healthful body functioning.

When you order your meal in a restaurant, since you are paying for it, look for a complete and well-balanced meal that should supply you with all categories. I know restaurant language in a menu description can be very confusing, especially if you never took a special interest in the culinary arts. Here are a few terms and cooking methods I can help you better understand.

Al dente — Firm, not soft or mushy to the bite. Said of vegetables or pasta (this is how you want them to be since it is at this stage of cooking that they retain the most vitamins).

Au gratin — Having a browned or crusted top often made by topping with bread crumbs, cheese, and/or a rich sauce and passing under the broiler.

Au Jus — Served with its natural juices. Usually unthickened pan drippings.

Bain Marie — A method of cooking or a container of hot water for keeping foods hot.

Blisque — A cream soup.

Bouquet Garni — A combination of fresh herbs tied together, used for flavoring.

Bouquetier — Garnished with an assortment of "bouquet" of fresh vegetables, such as artichokes, carrots, turnips, green beans, peas, cauliflower and potatoes.

Braise — To cook covered in a small amount of liquid, usually after preliminary browning.

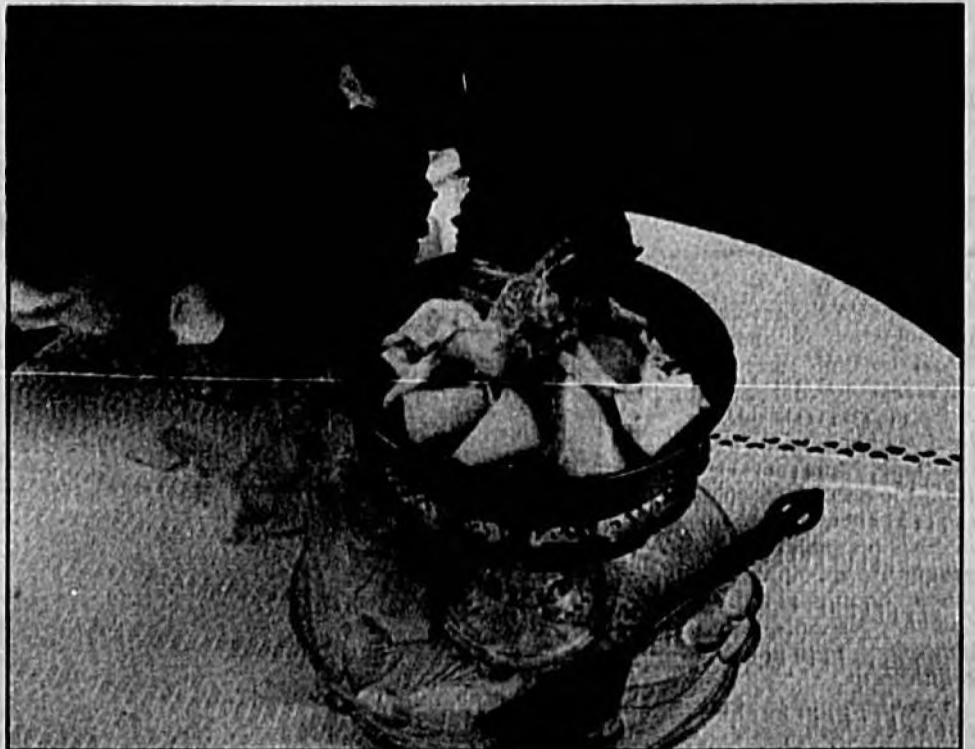

Brioche — Rich yeast dough containing large amount of eggs and butter.

Choucroute Garni — Sauerkraut cooked with a variety of sausage, pork and sometimes duck.

Chowder — A healthy American soup made from fish and vegetable usually containing potatoes and milk.

Consommé — A rich, flavorful, seasoned stock or broth that has been clarified to make it perfectly clear and transparent.

Coq-au-Vin — A French dish of

chicken braised in wine.

Coulis — A vegetable or fruit puree used as a sauce.

Couscous — A type of granular pasta from North Africa, cooked like a grain.

Demiglace — A rich brown sauce that has been reduced by half.

Demitasse — Literally, "half-cup."

Dubarry — Garnished with or containing cauliflower.

Duchesse Potatoes — Puree mixed with butter and egg yolks.

Florentine — Containing spinach. Foie Gras - Liver of specially fattened geese or ducks.

Fummet — A flavorful fish stock.

Although Sanford was once called "The Celery City" for all the celery groves around, very few markets in our area carry the celeriac, or celery root, which I like to use a lot in soups and salads.

Celeriac, also known as turnip rooted celery offers fine grained white flesh with a taste that always reminds me of the main ingredients in Waldorf salad: celery root, apple and walnut, a traditional summer refreshing salad served at Rex, a four-star hotel by the Black Sea near Constantza in Romania.

Although the celeriac looks like a tangled inedible mess, with a little preparation it turns into a delicious mild and slightly sweet flavor dish, fit for a king.

Waldorf Salad

Six servings
Time for preparation — 20 minutes.

- 1 medium celeriac root
- 3/4 cup orange juice
- 2 large crisp apples
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- 3 Tbs. chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup raisins
- Salt and freshly ground pepper

Peel and grate the celeriac to make three cups.

Place 1/2 cup of the orange juice in a medium bowl and add the grated celeriac.

Peel and core the apples, chop into

1/2 inch chunks and add to the celeriac and orange juice. Marinate for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

In a small bowl, whisk together the mayonnaise and the remaining 1/4 cup of orange juice until smooth. Pour over the celeriac and apples.

Add the parsley, walnuts, raisins and salt and pepper to taste, and mix well. Chill before serving.

Root Vegetables Au Gratin

- Six servings
- 2 Tbs. olive oil
- 2 medium red onions
- 2 carrots
- 1 large celeriac root
- 1 medium size rutabaga
- 2 medium size turnips
- Acidulated water (two Tbs. vinegar or lemon juice to four cups of water)
- 1 tsp. dried tarragon
- Salt and freshly ground pepper
- 1 1/2 cup half-and-half
- Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

In a large skillet heat the oil. Peel and slice the onion and sauté them until golden yellow. Set aside. Peel and cut all the root vegetables into 1/2 inch thick cubes. Immerse the celeriac in acidulated water for 10 minutes. Drain and rinse with cold water. Assemble your gratin by arranging in a two quart gratin dish and sprinkle with 1/2 tsp. tarragon and salt and pepper to taste. Top with carrot, then onions and add cream to come just below the top of the final layer.

Cover the gratin with aluminum foil, place on a baking sheet and bake for 30 minutes. Remove the foil and press down the layers with a spatula to allow the liquid to taste the top layer.

Continue baking for 30 more minutes, or until cooked through. Serve warm, by itself or as a side dish to lamb, pork or beef.

Beard, Ullmann marry

Lisa Ann Beard and John Walter Ullmann were married on Oct. 5, 2000.

The bride is the daughter of Mary Ramsey of Sanford and Les Beard of Fairplay, S.C. The groom is the son of Peggy Ullmann of Fort Lauderdale and Robert Ullmann of Lake Mary.

The ceremony was held in the Harry P. Leu Gardens in Orlando with the Rev. Tim Herring officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother.

The bride wore a white A-line sleeveless gown with lace and pearl embroideries. Her headpiece was a rhinestone tiara.

The bouquet was a colorful mixture of bright spring roses and daisies.

The maid of honor, Carol Pendarvis, wore a periwinkle blue floor-length A-line gown of organza over satin. She carried a spring flower mixture bouquet.

Bridesmaids Kelly Black and Rachel Beard wore gowns identical to the maid of honor.

The groom's best man was Sam Smith and his ushers were Charlie Murphy and Paul Ramsey.

A garden reception followed the ceremony.

The couple spent their honeymoon at Islamorada and in the Keys and will return to live in Sanford.

The groom owns a pressure cleaning business called All Kleen of Florida and the bride heads the math department at Pineridge High School in Deltona.

Cruiser

But getting booted from one of their favorite haunts hasn't slowed the Celery City Cruisers down much. They are still one of the largest and most active classic car clubs in the area.

"We do a lot of charity work and take part in the Heritage Festival and Sanford's downtown Christmas parade every year," the club's president said.

In addition, the Cruisers often raise funds for local charities with 50-50 drawings at their events.

"The money usually goes to someone right in our back yard," Scott said. "Maybe there's been a family burned out of their home, or someone local who's been staggered by a death in the family or unexpected medical bills."

Whenever and wherever the Cruisers gather, food is a paramount interest of club members.

"Oh, yeah," laughs Scott, "we always eat something big before our meetings. When everybody's tummy is full, there tends to be less fussin' and fightin'."

Next weekend's event will be one of the few fully-judged classic car shows in the area. Scott said the annual event draws pretty diverse crowds.

"Whenever we have one of our shows we get a crowd that represents a little bit of everything. We are more and more surprised these days at the number of young people who are falling in love and getting interested in classic cars. For a while their interest seemed to be solely with the 'low rider' trucks you see from time-to-time. Things seem to cycle back from one generation to another."

Scott, along with his two Seminole County firefighter sons David Jr., and John, said one of the greatest rewards of owning and driving a classic car is the response they get when pulling up to a red light while cruising.

"People look over, give us a big smile and the thumbs up sign," he said. "It's neat because folks will often yell out, 'Hey, my granddad used to have one just like that, or my uncle had a blue one.' People relate to these cars and there's a real connection there between yesterday and today."

Scott said there's a similar connection between the classic cars and the site of next weekend's event.

"It's a pleasure to have the display at the Museum of Seminole County History," he said. "These cars have a lot of history to them as does Seminole County. A lot of folks aren't even aware we have a museum."

It gives them a chance not only to take an automotive step back in time, but to discover something about the history of our area as well."

and a 30 minute lunch hour. When I work the ramps, that's what I do. I relieve the people so they can take a break or go to lunch.

Q: What is one of the strangest things that has happened to you during your six years in the toll booth?

A: I don't know if you can call it strange, but it was emotional. A couple kept telling me they thought they knew me. I told them I didn't know them. They asked me where I was from, and it turned out that they were best friends with my father back in Puerto Rico. They recognized me because I look like my father. I gave them my parents phone number and they got in touch with them again.

Q: What do you see yourself doing in the future, say five or six years from now?

A: I plan to move back to Puerto Rico. I wanted my kids to get a good education. But I think I'll stay for a few more years. I like the job and the customers.
