Housing Cost Drop?

MIAMI (AP) - An abundance of condominium homes in South Florida may result in a considerable slash in prices, a University of Miami professor has predicted. Prof. William Landsea said Monday that a lack of buyers may spur developers and speculators to cut the prices of their units by as much as 25 per cent.

In a speech to the Economic Society of South Florida. Landsea said the consumer movement will force the condominium industry to change. "People don't like ground leases and they don't like

But the President's over-all performance improved in the opinion of those questioned. Thirty-one per cent thought the over-all performance good-to-excellent, compared to 26 per cent in the preceding poli. He was called fair-to-poor by 66 per cent and 3 per cent were unsure how to rate him. When asked whether they believed Nixon "will be found
