Smith, Speer In Mayoral Runoff

First Black Elected In Sanford; District 1 Cliff-Hanger

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford voters Tuesday elected their first black city commissioner, made a woman top contender for the mayor's office and left a cliff-hanger for the absentees to decide in a second city commission race.

Robert B. Thomas Jr., in the District 2 contest for the city commission, easily defeated two opponents to become the first black person elected to public office in the city of Sanford.

Bettye Smith carried 43.7 percent of the votes and led in all four city districts in the mayor's race. But she will have to face attorney Thomas A. Speer in a runoff election Dec. 18. Speer garnered 29.9 percent of the vote, while Edward "Ned" Yancey got 26.2 percent. If Mrs. Smith wins she will become the first woman elected to public office in Sanford.

In the District 1 city commission race John Mercer topped former Commissioner A.A. McClanahan by 44 votes. But with 115 absentee votes to be counted by the city commission at noon today, that race is too close for either to claim victory.

Some 2,990 of the city's 10,969 electors cast ballots at the polls for a 27.2 percent turnout. City Clerk Henry Tamm had predicted a 25 percent turnout.

Thomas, celebrating with his family, friends and campaign workers at his Bethune Circle home election night was jubilant over his victory.

"I didn't expect to win big the way I did," he said. "I'm overwhelmed."

"My campaign committee was more confident than I. They told me a week ago that I would win big. They had been getting feed-back from the people.

A pensive Bettye Smith, above, watches returns come in Tuesday night from just behind the elections office glass window, while, at their home, Thomas Speer and his wife Patty get the good news by telephone. Smith garnered 43 percent of the vote for mayor but will need to face Speer in a runoff Dec. 18. Speer got 29.9 percent of the vote.

After church Sunday, a fellow church member said, 'Brother Thomas you are going to win by a landslide.'

"I give all the credit to Frances Oliver, my campaign chairman, Vickie Smith and all those who worked on my campaign," an excited Thomas said.

While he did not want to call his victory a landslide, nationally when a candidate gains more than 60 percent of the vote, it is considered a landslide. Unofficial results, before absentees were counted, showed Thomas with 435 votes or 64.4 percent, to Larry Blair's 165 for 24.4 percent and C.B. "Coach" Franklin's 75, or 11.1 percent.

Mrs. Smith was at the county elections office with her husband, Dr. Robert J. Smith, from shortly after the polls closed at 7 p.m., watching as the computer counted all four districts.

She led in all four, but said early, "It looks like a run-off."

She said she will decorate the family Christmas tree before beginning her campaign anew. Mrs. Smith added she will also be talking today with Yancey, who came in third in the three-person contest, seeking his support in the runoff.

"I spoke to a couple of Yancey's supporters tonight and they were most

Absentee Ballots

A.A. McClanahan, the apparent loser in the District 1 commission race, following a count of the absentee ballots today, is calling for a recount. Therefore, his opponent John Mercer is the unofficial winner. The city attorney has been instructed to research questions raised by McClanahan and report back Thursday. McClanahan wants the names of each person who voted in District 1 and their address checked to be sure they should have voted in District 1. He says he knows of at least one person who voted in District 1 who does not live there and other voters who do live in District 1 who were turned away.

Ferraro Says Ethics Report A Vindication

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Geraldine Ferraro says she has been vindicated by a House ethics committee report that says there was no "deceptive intent" in her failure to disclose fully her husband's finances.

But the committee, in a report released Tuesday, did say Ferraro had committed "technical violations" of House ethics rules.

The New York congresswoman, the Democrats' vice presidential candidate, "either failed to disclose or incorrectly disclosed a significant number of items relevant to her total financial concerns," the report said.

As a result, "Approximately 10 of the allegations (against Ferraro) are sustained," the report said.

No further action against Ferraro by the committee or the House is expected. She did not seek re-election from her New York City district and her term in Congress expires Jan. 2.

Committee rules provide for "issuance of a statement of alleged violations," but the report noted, "The number of days remaining before the start of the 99th Congress are too few for disposition of the complaint under regular committee procedures."

The committee reportedly voted 8-2 Monday to accept the report of its staff. The two "no" votes on the ethics panel came from Republicans — Hank Brown of Colorado and James Hansen of Utah — who believe the committee's action is too mild, sources said.

Voters Turn Out Incumbents, Kill Tax Hike In Longwood

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

With a 31.4 percent turnout in Tuesday's municipal election, Longwood voters shook up city hall by rejecting incumbents and voted down a two-year tax to finance construction of a new police station and a community building. The six charter amendments on the ballot were approved.

Winning 68.8 percent of the vote, political newcomer Perry E. Faulkner, 40, defeated 10-year city commissioner veteran Mayor James Russell Grant, 69, for the District 3 seat 1,007 to 455 (including absentee votes of 18-9).

A Dec. 18 runoff will be required in the three-man race for District 5 in which former councilman Larry Goldberg, 45, led with 662 votes (11 absentee) or 44.9 percent of the vote. With just two votes separating David R. Gunter Sr., 46, who received 407 votes (7 absentee) and incumbent Bill Mitchell, 55, who got 405 (9 absentee), results of a recount being made today will determine the candidate who will be in the runoff against Goldberg.

Sandra Goard, Seminole County Supervisor of Elections, said the recount is expected to be completed by this afternoon. She said a recount is mandated by state law when there is a margin of .5 percent or less separating candidates.

The tax levies were defeated by hefty margins. No votes on the proposed police station outnumbered yes votes 820 to

Faulkner Grant

567. The community building proposal fell 1,048 to 409.

The referendums called for a two-year tax of 50 cents per $1,000 assessed property valuation for each project.

The proposed two-acre site for a 6,000-square foot police station is just west of Reiter Park on West Warren Avenue; the site planned for the 8,000-square foot community building is vacant property north of Peppermint Park between Jessup and Florida avenues.

Of the city's 4,824 registered voters, 1,515 cast ballots Tuesday. There were 32 absentee ballots. The turnout exceeded City Clerk Don Terry's prediction of between 25 and 30 percent.

"I'm glad it's over," said Faulkner, who is in the tire business. "I had expected to win by taking 45-55 percent of the vote, but with 68.8 percent, I no longer feel I won because it was a vote against Grant, but the people voted for me because of my stand on the issues. I only had $730 total in contributions to spend. I went out and talked with the people."

One of those things he talked about was his opposition to the tax referendums. "We definitely need a police station and a community building, but there is alternate financing, such as floating a bond issue," Faulkner said.

"Ten years ago the city of Longwood had deep financial problems, today it is financially sound," Grant said. "Through planning and zoning this city provided jobs for the working force. We have excellent police and fire protection for the residents, paved roads and sidewalks. Ten years ago I was elected by an overwhelming majority. The voters have elected my opponent by a big majority and I wish the best for him. I hope he loves the city and people enough to work for the whole city and won't be influenced by special interest groups."

"It's been a long time coming," said Goldberg, indicating he thinks he will be able to hold on to the lead in the runoff. "The people wanted honest, sincere representation and knew I would give it to them. I will be working twice as hard for the next two weeks."

As to the apparent runner-up, Gunter, he said, "I feel pretty doggone good about it. I'm going to go out there and campaign again. I don't think a recount will change things, but he (Mitchell) has a right to challenge it."

Corpses Pose Threat Of Epidemic In India

BHOPAL, India (UPI) — Smoke from funeral pyres shrouded Bhopal and bodies heaped about the city posed the threat of epidemics today as the death toll for a poison gas leak passed 1,600 and some 50,000 people sought medical care.

Search teams looked for more bodies in mud huts in the dozen shanty towns surrounding Bhopal and doctors said another 1,000 people who inhaled the deadly gas — most of them children — were in critical condition and in danger of death.

The final death toll for Monday's gas leak at a Union Carbide pesticide plant will not be known for days.

Official reports set the death toll at more than 1,600. State Chief Minister Arjun Singh told a news conference the government had recorded 620 deaths but acknowledged his figures were incomplete.

Singh vowed the Union Carbide plant in Bhopal is "never going to start functioning here — never again."

The number injured by the gas — used in manufacturing a widely used pesticide — was estimated at 50,000. In addition to the 1,000 victims listed in critical condition, 2,000 were listed in serious condition.

A team of U.S. doctors, including a top specialist in treatment of exposure to methyl isocyanate gas, were on their way to Bhopal to assist doctors treating the injured.

Health officials said today unburied bodies and thousands of decaying carcasses of water buffalos, goats and other animals littered the slum area around the plant posed the threat of epidemics that could further inflate the death toll.

At the hospital morgues, people stood in long, winding lines today waiting their turn to identify the dead that lay in rows on the ground, covered with white sheets that left only the faces visible.

Tens of thousands of people were overcome by methyl isocyanate gas that seeped from the Union Carbide plant early Monday, enveloping Bhopal and a 15-square-mile area in a deadly cloud.

Some victims were killed as they slept. Others, eyes burning and lungs bursting, fled into the wintry night and died in the streets or made their way to packed hospitals.

Most of the victims were poor country folk who moved to the lakeside city 350 miles south of New Delhi in search of jobs, building mud hovels near the pesticide plant. Many found employment at the plant, built seven years ago on the northern outskirts of Bhopal.

House Panel Summons Casey To Explain CIA Booklet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Intelligence Committee summoned CIA Director William Casey to a closed meeting today for an explanation about the spy agency's booklet for Nicaraguan rebels.

Critics have charged the manual for anti-Sandinista guerrillas advocates political assassinations by saying in a section on the "selective use of violence for propagandistic effect" that "it is possible to neutralize carefully selected and planned targets," such as local officials.

Casey and several other CIA officials were to be asked about the manual Tuesday but their questioning was put off by the committee because of a long staff briefing.

Several mid-level CIA officials were reprimanded or suspended for their involvement in editing the booklet, written in Spanish and distributed to rebel forces.

At least two officials resisted their punishment and some, sources said, were interviewed by the committee staff prior to today's session.

Baby Killed For Revenge?

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (UPI) — Police say the parents of 4-month-old Jerri Ann Richard know more about their baby's kidnapping, rape and murder than they have admitted so far.

Police revealed Tuesday the infant was raped last month in addition to being kidnapped and murdered, possibly in revenge over a $100,000 marijuana deal that went sour.

Authorities said the baby's father, Ralph Richard, admitted involvement in a $100,000 interstate drug deal in September 1983. Someone in the Northeast gave him the money to deliver to someone else in Florida for a marijuana deal, police Sgt. John Haberle said.

"Somebody did not get the $100,000 he was supposed to get," he said.

Their only child was kidnapped Nov. 11 from the make-shift Main Street apartment where they lived above an auto body shop. Five days later, she was found raped and bludgeoned to death in a culvert behind a massive factory near their home.

Hijackers Release More Hostages; Demand To Take Off

KUWAIT (UPI) — Hijackers who killed one passenger — said to be a U.S. diplomat — on a Kuwaiti jetliner at the Tehran airport released 24 of their hostages today and demanded provisions to take off for an unknown destination.

The Arabic-speaking air pirates also demanded freedom for a group of prisoners in Kuwaiti jails in exchange for the remaining hostages and threatened to blow up the plane. Iran's official Islamic Republic News Agency said.

The hijackers, who let 46 women and children leave Tuesday, released a wounded passenger today and later released 23 people, bringing the number of freed hostages to 70.

IRNA said the dead passenger was an American diplomat, but a spokeswoman at the U.S. State Department in Washington said the dead man's identity could not be confirmed.

Kuwait government officials, who had no immediate comment on the barter request, said the prisoners apparently are 21 people jailed for their roles in December 1983 bombings against French and U.S. targets in Kuwait.

The demand was made 29 hours after the hijacking of the French-made Airbus, which was flying from Kuwait to Pakistan with 155 passengers and 11 crew members.

Cave-In Traps 96 Miners

TAIPEI, Taiwan (UPI) — A cave-in at a north Taiwan coal mine trapped 96 miners in a gas-filled tunnel more 7,000 feet below the surface today, police said.

Police said gas was detected 1,500 feet from the entrance to the collapsed tunnel. Rescue teams tried unsuccessfully to pipe air to the trapped miners with ventilation machines, police said.

Falwell Called 'Liar And Hypocrite'

ROANOKE, Va. (UPI) — Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt says the Constitution gives him the right to print his opinion that evangelist Jerry Falwell is an incestuous drunken hypocrite.

In opening testimony Tuesday in Falwell's $45 million libel suit against the California publisher, the 12-member jury saw a videotaped deposition in which Flynt defended a bogus liquor ad that portrayed the Moral Majority leader having sex with his mother in an outhouse.

Falwell called the accusation "despicable and absolutely false" and asked the jury to clear his name and punish Flynt for "besmirching the memory of my dear mother."

Flynt, the self-proclaimed "King of Sleaze," is expected to make a personal appearance at the trial later this week.

The bogus liquor ad was published in the November 1983 and January 1984 issues of the sexually explicit magazine. Flynt said in his videotape deposition he believed the accusations. He also branded Falwell "a liar and a hypocrite."

Jerry Falwell ...suing 'Hustler' publisher Larry Flynt for $45 million in libel case

Flynt said he did not write the ad, which was labeled a parody "not to be taken seriously," but said he approved its publication because he thought it was "hilarious."

Flynt's attorneys, however, disavowed the taped statement, claiming he was depressed and under the influence of drugs at the time.

Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., appeared as a character witness for the Lynchburg preacher Tuesday and told the jury. "There is no finer citizen than Jerry Falwell."

The videotaped deposition, introduced by Falwell's attorneys, was laced with profanity and was made while Flynt was under psychiatric care.

Flynt claimed in the videotape he had photographs and signed affidavits from witnesses to prove that Falwell committed unnatural acts with his mother, young girls, animals, and famous people. But he refused to produce the evidence and gave conflicting answers when questioned on his sources.

"If it's true, names and dates and places don't matter," Flynt said. "Free expression is absolute" under the First Amendment of the Constitution, Flynt said.

Flynt also said he ran the full-page ad "to settle the score ... to assassinate Jerry Falwell."

Court Takes Up School Prayer, Parochial

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The state of Alabama told the Supreme Court that allowing a moment of silence in schools for prayer and meditation would be a "modest gesture" to religious students and does not promote religion in the classroom.

But a lawyer for the man challenging the state argued Tuesday that the moment of silence law is an attempt to circumvent the court's 1962 ruling that forbids teacher-led prayer in public schools.

John Baker, on behalf of the state, argued the statute allows no group or vocal prayers that would violate the court's sanction against official prayer.

"No one student knows whether another is praying, thinking or vegetating," Baker maintained.

But Ronnie Williams, lawyer for the Mobile, Ala., man who challenged the law, said the 1981 statute was "a blatant attempt to do through the back door what can't be done through the front door."

Although a ruling is expected by July 1985, the justices' questions indicate that they might throw out the case or decide it narrowly. This could disappoint some 23 other states, which have laws similar to the one in Alabama.

In another thorny issue, the court is being asked to define how far states may go in aiding non-public school students in test programs in Grand Rapids, Mich., and New York, where public school teachers taught in private schools.

Lawyers for Grand Rapids and the federal government will defend the programs during oral arguments today. Both programs loaned public school teachers to private institutions to teach supplemental and remedial classes.

Taxpayers have challenged the practice, which involves dozens of teachers and millions of dollars in what is called parochial.

NATIONAL REPORT: A "big mess" of storms stretching from New Mexico to the Appalachians today pounded the southern Plains with snow. Three people died in a crash on a snow-slick Oklahoma highway and disabled semis littered icy Texas interstates. Six inches of snow covered Oklahoma City, Okla., and numerous traffic accidents were reported. Three people were killed Tuesday night when an auto collided with a pickup on a snow-covered highway near Hennespin, Okla.

Farther east, Gulf Coast rainstorms drifted north and produced snow in North Carolina today. Up to 6 inches was expected in the mountains by tonight and winter storm watches extended into West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland. "It's all one big mess," said Paul Fike, a meteorologist with the National Weather Service. "It's a rather complex situation. Travelers' advisories covered the central mountains and eastern plains of New Mexico, most of Oklahoma, south-central and southeastern Kansas, northeastern Arkansas, southwestern Missouri and north-central and southwestern Texas. Although snow was light in many areas, authorities said travel was dangerous.

IN BRIEF

5 Percent Minority Biz 'Goal' Not Being Met

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A three-year-old state law allowing — but not requiring — government agencies to "set aside" 5 percent of their business for minority-owned firms is not working, according to a Senate committee report.

A black member of the Senate Governmental Operations Committee may introduce a bill in the 1985 session making the 5 percent contract "set aside" mandatory for state purchasing departments. Sen. Arnett Girardeau, D-Jacksonville, said Tuesday state agencies will never comply with the "goal" of involving minority-owned businesses in state purchasing, as long as it is voluntary.

Laurel Johnston, a staff analyst for the committee, said mandating a set-aside requirement would be unfeasible for many agencies. She said there are not enough qualified minority-owned businesses to establish real competition for state contracts, and that some qualified firms owned by blacks and women are not interested in bidding on state jobs.

Johnston said a survey of state purchases during September, the last month with complete figures, indicated Florida government agencies did 98.8 percent of their business with firms owned by white men. She said white women handled another half-percent of the state's purchases in September, with tiny amounts spread among blacks, Hispanics, Asians, native Americans and handicapped persons.

Haitian Refugees Going Back

MIAMI (UPI) — Nearly 400 Haitians plucked from crowded-Florida-bound boats this week could be back in Port-au-Prince by Friday, said Coast Guard officials who have been ordered to return all those refused political asylum.

The Haitians, 340 of them plucked from a decrepit 60-foot sailboat Monday and 31 others intercepted at sea Sunday, were held Tuesday aboard the Coast Guard cutter Reliance.

The ship will remain anchored near Great Isaac's Light, a rocky island with a lighthouse about 60 miles northeast of Miami, until U.S. Immigration officers have interviewed all the Haitians to determine whether they have valid claims to political asylum, said Coast Guard Petty Officer Dan Waldschmidt.

Those who do not will be returned to Haiti, he said.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service already has determined that none of the 31 intercepted Sunday had legal claims to migrate to the United States.

Russians Watch Missile Launch

ABOARD THE USNS RANGE SENTINEL (UPI) — America's newest Trident nuclear submarine passed its first missile-launching test, and a Russian trawler had the best seat in the open Atlantic.

An unarmed Trident missile was fired Tuesday from the USS Henry M. Jackson 50 miles off the Florida coast as the Soviet ship monitored the exercise from within a few hundred yards.

Graham Fights For Child Care Plan

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — On the eve of a special legislative session, Gov. Bob Graham and legislative leaders are still far apart on major parts of a major package of child care legislation and corporate tax shifts.

A House appropriations subcommittee scheduled hearings today on a greatly scaled-down version of Graham's $10.4 million child care program, while negotiations continue on repeal of the "unitary tax" on business profits and a replacement revenue package. The legislative leadership has proposed a $4 million child care program, which Graham says is inadequate to fight Florida's child abuse problems and poverty daycare needs.

The other big-ticket item on the legislative agenda for Thursday and Friday is an $8.9 million plan to combat citrus canker, on which the governor and Legislature are in comparative harmony.

Graham and legislative leaders also agree on junking the unitary tax — an accounting method that allows the state to compute worldwide profits of big corporations in determining state tax liability — but they are in sharp discord over how to replace the estimated $100.3 million in lost revenue.

Graham Tuesday renewed his promise to veto any unitary tax repeal bill that is not coupled with dollar-for-dollar replacement revenue.

The key to replacing the unitary tax is an increase from 5 to 5.5 percent in the corporate income tax. That would affect all Florida businesses, not just the big multinational corporations that pay the unitary tax, so legislative leaders are committed to slowing down sales tax collections to "sweeten" the pot for domestic industries.

A 1983 law requires businesses to deposit their sales tax collections into the state treasury on the 20th day of each month, projecting receipts for the final 10 days. The pending legislative proposal would revert to the old system of allowing businesses to pay one month's sales taxes on the 20th of the following month — effectively allowing corporations to hold the state's sales taxes for up to 50 days, pocketing the interest before depositing them in the state's coffers.

Graham, claiming the "slowdown" of the sales tax collection would cost $45 million in interest now earned by the state, angrily lashed out at legislators for cutting his child abuse program from $10.4 million to $4 million Tuesday.

'...Get Out Of The Way?'

The surprisingly spirited debate over the Baby Face-baboon heart drama has been expanded by the world's second artificial heart implantation.

Dr. William C. DeVries, who grafted the first mechanical heart two years ago to a 61-year-old Seattle-area dentist, the now-famous Barney Clark, repeated this brilliant feat on Nov. 26 at the Humana Hospital Audubon in Louisville. The latest recipient, William J. Schroeder, is a former quality assurance specialist at an Army ammunition depot near Jasper, Ind. He was so ill with congestive heart failure that he could not have survived more than a week, according to the cardiologists.

Despite post-operative setback, Mr. Schroeder is making excellent progress; his mechanical heart is functioning well, clicking away at 75 beats a minute. And his present outlook, barring the unforeseen, is to survive longer than Dr. Clark, who lived 112 days with his artificial heart. Overnight, Mr. Schroeder has become an unwitting folk hero to a fascinated world.

The controversy about the fast pace and enormous cost of such sophisticated medical experimentation is precisely defined by Daniel Callahan, director of the Hastings Center Institute of Society Ethics and Life Sciences. "The fundamental philosophical issue," he says, "is just how far do we want to go in extending and improving life."

The arguments advanced during Mr. Clark's brave struggle to survive will surely now be heard again — beginning with a criticism of those who refuse to go gently into that good night. Indeed, the naysayers have a new name for those who hang on to life against all odds. It is Methuselahism.

Colorado's Gov. Richard Lamm summed all of this up last spring in his infelicitous remark that the elderly have "a duty to die and get out of the way."

The unanswerable question, of course, is when — at what age — should the elderly do their duty and voluntarily depart. And if the old folks aren't struck down conveniently at the right time by fatal illness, is suicide their scheduled way out? Is mass abortion to be complemented by mass euthanasia of the senior citizenry?

Clearly, this debate has not drawn a sufficiently clear distinction between keeping a Barney Clark or a William Schroeder alive and keeping a terminally ill, comatose person going indefinitely on life-support systems. Suffice it to observe that society seems to be arriving at a consensus, legally as well as ethically, about when to pull the plug on brain-dead patients.

We believe the same ethical imperative holds with the mechanical heart as prevailed in the transplant of the baboon heart to a dying infant. Medical science must cross new frontiers wherever it can. Mechanical hearts could, and in the not-distant future, do for the 50,000 Americans who annually die of congestive heart failure what kidney dialysis machines accomplish in keeping alive 70,000 Americans with otherwise fatal kidney failure. And who can say that the high cost of mechanical hearts will not decline in the same way as computers, once prohibitively expensive, which are now within the reach of millions of ordinary citizens?

And who will not rejoice if Mr. Schroeder walks out of the hospital and survives to enjoy the companionship of family and friends and the beauty of many more sunsets?

At The Drop Of A Platitude

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senatorial big shots and other influential persons whose biographies appear in Who's Who In America are invited to share some of their "thoughts on life" with ordinary readers.

Unfortunately, not all the distinguished citizens listed in the latest edition availed themselves of the opportunity to pass along a few words of wisdom.

I noticed, for example, that neither President Reagan nor Speaker Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., had anything to say. Which was passing strange.

Reagan, after all, is known as the "Great Communicator" and O'Neill customarily will sound off on almost any given subject at the drop of a hat, if need be dropping the hat himself.

However, anyone in dire need of homilies can get ample guidance from the likes of Roger Williams Wescott, an anthropologist now living in Madison, N.J., and Edward Wenk Jr., a Seattle civil engineer.

Wescott reminds us that "success is transient and high regard relative," whereas Wenk recommends that we act on the basis of what we believe is right rather than from "the desire to be loved."

These truly are words to live by. Yet it is amazing how many people go through life without thinking much about it.

I was reminded of this last week when I stopped by the Senate library to see what "thoughts on life" might have been penned by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., who had just been elected the new majority leader.

Dole surely is one of the most spontaneously witty persons ever to serve in the U.S. Senate. In an interview published the day of his elevation to the top leadership post, he suggested that recipients of the honor should be called "majority pleaders."

Nevertheless, in the reference books I consulted, he offered not a single aphorism.

Neither, for that matter, did the retiring majority leader, Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., or such eminent holdovers as the Democratic leader, Sen. Robert Byrd of West Virginia.

Some Americans have a flair for adagizing. H. L. Mencken, for one, handed down many a quotable axiom during his long career as a reporter and editor, and Abraham Lincoln apparently could hardly open his mouth with uttering something epigrammatic.

Much depends, I suppose, on whether only original thoughts are accepted.

What I consider the wisest words I ever encountered were penned by a savant whose name I have forgotten. He, or she, wrote: "Don't think of your happiness; do your duty."

The occupant of second place on my sagacity list also must remain anonymous, for similar reasons. Somewhere at a card table I picked up: "If you get away with it even once, you're ahead."

But such thoughts, even if part of the eternal verities, probably wouldn't be suitable for italicizing at the end of a Who's Who biography.

On my own, I can only claim credit, if any credit is due, for having originated but one maxim: "I consider the day wasted if I don't waste the day."

I comment that thought to Dole as he takes up his new duties. After all, don't we want him to be happy?

Threat From Africa

Even as Western countries were sending millions of dollars worth of food to Africa to prevent mass starvation, Julius Nyerere, chairman of the Organization of African Unity, told other African leaders gathered in Addis Ababa that they should use their $150 billion collective foreign debt as a political weapon against the West by threatening default.

Nyerere, the socialist president of Tanzania, said: "We have this debt power and we simply do not use it. I believe now the poor countries of the world have this power and ho boy, if my country owed $100 billion we would simply refuse to pay it back."

This ugly, threatening statement will hurt African countries in the eyes of the Western world. Western governments and financial institutions have been more than generous in their treatment of African countries. They have endeavored to help the new states of Africa get on their feet, lending funds that could have been better devoted to development projects in the West.

The plight that much of Africa is experiencing today is the direct result of the disastrous leadership provided by the likes of President Nyerere. His insistence on collectivization in Tanzania is the principal reason his country is in deep economic trouble.

The tragic fact is that famine seems destined to worsen in Africa in the years ahead. Massive food relief this year will not get to the root of the problem, which is gross mismanagement of agriculture. Socialist regimes in Africa bitterly oppose the agricultural reform that could produce good harvests and deal effectively with drought.

It's time that the Western world acknowledges that far-reaching changes will be required of millions of Africans in 22 countries if they are not to starve to death in future. The real need is a return to something like the old League of Nations mandates for much of Africa. Vast territories must be placed under intelligent international direction if a condition of permanent famine is to be prevented.

Ky Named In Gangsters Probe

WASHINGTON — To be the victim of a Mike Wallace inquisition can be a discomfiting experience, as I had the misfortune to discover earlier this year.

CBS's lord high inquisitor pronounced one of my reports a dud. Now evidence has come to light that shows it was Wallace who produced the real dud. While I wait for him to acknowledge parentage, here are the details:

A year ago, I broke the story that Vietnamese gangsters were extorting money from "hard-working, law-abiding Vietnamese refugees through terror and intimidation." The gangsters, I reported, "are believed to be directed by former South Vietnamese generals."

I quoted from one police report, which identified the "godfather" of the criminal organization as Nguyen Cao Ky, the flamboyant former prime minister of South Vietnam. I also published Ky's vociferous denial offered by a spokeswoman who said there was "no truth" to the allegation.

Then along came Mike Wallace on a search-and-destroy mission for the CBS television show "60 Minutes."

Innocent Victim?

The old Hiss case simply will not go away, on the Left at least. The thing is a sort of Phoenix, the legendary immortal bird that consumed itself in fire and then rose again from the ashes. Were there any doubt left about the guilt of Alger Hiss, one would have thought that Allen Weinstein had put it to rest with his exhaustive study of the case in his book "Perjury: The Hiss-Chambers Case."

But no. A recent issue of The Nation magazine announces a "New Development" in the case, the development being that the FBI, as of 1960, apparently had the capacity to commit forgery by typewriter. Writing to a New York FBI official on Feb. 19 of that year, J. Edgar Hoover noted: "in order to simulate two pages in the handwriting of an ordinary individual it would take approximately 24 hours continuous work. Therefore, the briefer the material to be simulated, the quicker it can be done...To alter a typewriter to match a known model would require a large amount of typewriter specimens and weeks of laboratory work. It is not felt that this technique of altering a typewriter should be considered in this connection."

The article in question clearly wishes to lead us to the conclusion that back in 1949 Hiss in fact was framed, but the odd thing about the article is that it was written by one Gil Green, whom the magazine identifies as "an official of the Communist Party." I notice that not to discredit his article, which stands or falls on its merits, but to wonder why it is so important to an avowed communist to attempt to prove that Hiss was innocent. Presumably a member of the Democratic Party is happy to add another citizen to his party.

The J. Edgar Hoover letter uncovered by Mr. Green via the Freedom of Information Act is certainly interesting. But the fact that the FBI had the capacity to match a typeface does not mean that the Bureau in fact did so in the instance of Hiss.

And, contrary to The Nation's commentary on Mr. Green's FBI letter, the Woodstock typewriter was not vital to the case against Hiss, but merely corroborative.

Since Hiss' conviction, a great deal of evidence has surfaced that confirms Chambers' account.

But it remains strange that after all these years and the accumulation of evidence, people like Gil Green and the editors of The Nation are still trying to claim that Hiss was an innocent victim.

More Of The Same

The campaign season has officially ended. The election resulted in an overwhelming landslide for the incumbent. The opposition is shattered and out of sight. By all accounts, policies in place will remain. The outlook for the nation is an economy dependent on foreign goods, a continued military buildup, and more suffering for the poor, minority groups, and religious activists.

The place is Nicaragua, the date, November 5, the candidates, Sandinista Marxist Daniel Ortega Saavedra, President, and Sergio Ramirez Mercado, Vice President. The results are in — 82 percent of the electorate cast ballots for the winners. The one blemish on their resounding victory: all the opposition candidates had withdrawn, due to Sandinista threats and strong-arm "campaign" tactics.

Hardly any Americans knew about the "election" in Nicaragua, which took place two days before our own. Most, probably, have at least some inkling that that little Central American country, ruled for more than five years now by a rapacious pro-Soviet Marxist gang, is not a very good neighbor. The latest news about it is the CIA's evidence that crates normally used to ship Soviet MIG-21 jet fighters arrived in Nicaragua last month in the port of Corinto.

The Soviets quickly denied that the crates contained MIGs. Instead it turned out they held disassembled MI-8 or MI-24 helicopter gunships, the fearsome weapon used by the Soviets themselves with such brutality in Afghanistan.

The other election in the Western hemisphere that week gave President Ronald Reagan an emphatic signal that the American people want him to continue his military buildup, to defend American interests in Central America and elsewhere. They overwhelmingly supported his decisive action freeing Grenada from the grip of a nasty Cuban-Marxist crew last year. If and when he decides that the little Soviet empire down South needs a surgical U.S. air strike to relieve it of its burdensome and unnecessary arsenal, they'll back him again.

the leader," the witness testified. He later added that in Vietnamese communities "everyone knows" that Ky headed the crime organization.

According to the Times account, "the witness said the gangs committed murders, robberies and extortion and trafficked in marijuana." Besides Ky, the witness said former South Vietnamese army generals and officers were leaders in the organization that controlled the gangs.

The witness confirmed many other details that Wallace had condemned me for publishing, but which have now bubble-gummed in his face.

Sources close to the crime commission said the witness is credible and has supplied other reliable information.

Footnote: Ky has continued to deny that he is connected with the Vietnamese underworld. He acknowledged to the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner that he is called "godfather" by his people. But the reason, he said, is because he "helps people in the Vietnamese community."

Avenue home where a celebration was underway. Speer said he was disappointed in the number of voters that turned out and looks for a better turnout on Dec. 18. "We will work harder to get people to the polls," he said.

"I'm pleased at the campaign, and all the candidates and workers. It was a very dignified campaign. Sanford has a lot to be proud of. It took a lot of hard work," he said.

Speer said he is inviting all the Yancey people "to give a hard look at my background. I seek their support," he said.

Yancey could not be reached Tuesday night for comment.

Unofficial returns showed: Mrs. Smith, 1,273, 43.7 percent; Speer, 871, 29.9 percent; and Yancey, 764, 26.2 percent.

Mercer, who garnered 362 votes to McClanahan's 318, a difference of 44 votes, refused to claim victory Tuesday night, saying, "In all fairness, I had better wait and see what happens (in the count of absentee votes.) I would be tickled to death if the margin holds up. I am pleased so far."

And McClanahan said he is waiting on the absentees. "There is no way of knowing what the result will be at this point," he said. "I have some questions about people who voted in the wrong district. I know of some people that voted in District 1, who are not in District 1 as approved by the federal court."

Although there was some confusion among voters about where they should cast their ballots, the election ran smoothly, Tamm said.

The computer counting of the votes Tuesday night did not run as smoothly. A problem developed in the District 2 contests because of the ragged edges of many ballots.

When the ballots were printed, the edge between the slip retained by the poll officials and the ballots themselves had not been perforated, thus the two sections were ripped apart causing the ragged edges. So, many of the ballots had to be voided and duplicate ballots created before the computer counter would accept them for tabulation.

Assisting Seminole County Supervisor of Elections Sandy Goad with the vote count were city Commissioners Eddie Keith, David Farr and Milton Smith, City Clerk Henry Tamm and his assistant Rosa Rotundo.

Despite an overall 27.2 percent turnout, the turnout in three of the districts was higher than the average. The poor turnout — 17.9 percent — in District 4, the south end of the city where the electorate could vote only in the mayor's contest, brought the average down.

In the downtown area, District 1, where the voters choose a city commissioner and made choices for mayor, the turnout was 31.3 percent. And in District 2, the northwest section where a commissioner was selected as well as the mayoral candidates on the ballot, the turnout was 31.5 percent.

The best turnout of all was in District 3, the middle section of the city, with 34.4 percent, yet those voters also only had the mayor's contest to vote on.

Mitchell declined to comment until after the recount.

'I Should Have Let Him Do It'

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 23-year-old drama student, fatally stabbed as she fought a man who robbed and tried to rape her, told officials just before she died that it was a mistake to resist the attack.

"I should have given him the money. I should have let him do it. I should give in," authorities quoted Caroline Isenberg as saying before going into surgery for multiple stab wounds. She died on the operating table.

Isenberg, a Harvard University graduate, was stabbed early Sunday morning on the roof of her Upper West Side apartment as she returned alone from a play. Before she died, Isenberg gave a description of her assailant to authorities.

"Right now we're just looking for leads," said Detective Joseph Brady. "We're in the embryonic stages of the investigation."

The woman graduated from Harvard in June and moved to New York two months ago to continue her acting studies.

Two Gunmen Rob Longwood Publix

Two rifle-toting bandits wearing fake black beards took an undisclosed amount of cash from a Longwood supermarket Tuesday.

Dorothy Gong, manager of Publix, Longwood Village Plaza, state Road 434, reported to sheriff's deputies that the robbers entered the store at about 7:50 p.m., approached the service desk, aimed two short-barreled rifles at store employees and demanded cash, a sheriff's report said.

The men, both in their 20s, fled in a white Mustang. Deputies report no injuries in the robbery.

BOOZE AND CHICKENS

Someone broke into the Jaycees club house, 407 S. French Ave., Sanford, and stole four bottles of liquor and six frozen chickens. The stolen goods were valued at $200.

The incident occurred between 3 p.m. Saturday and 7:30 p.m. Monday, according to a Sanford police report.

MORE THAN DUI

A Longwood man who was charged with DUI was hit with charges of carrying concealed weapons and possession of drug paraphernalia after his car was searched by a sheriff's deputy.

The man attracted the attention of a deputy as his car sped on Harrogate Circle in Longwood. He was arrested on the DUI charge at about 3 a.m. Tuesday and the weapons and paraphernalia charges were added after four straws, a plastic tray, two film containers believed to hold marijuana seeds, cigarette rolling papers and a pot smoking device were found in the vehicle, a sheriff's report said. Brass knuckles and nun chakus, a martial arts weapon, were also reportedly found in the car.

Bruce K. Myton, 18, of 300 Wickham Court, was later freed on $500 bond.

CAR THEFT ARREST

An Altamonte Springs policeman who stopped a tagless car charged the driver with auto theft after he determined the vehicle had been stolen Sunday.

The $14,000 leased Pontiac Fiero had been taken from the home of Blake H. Gules, 23, of 447 Hemlock St., Altamonte Springs. Gules told police he had left the keys in the unlocked car, which belongs to McNamara Pontiac, Orlando.

Plants worth $600 were stolen from the yard of Teri C. Moscatel, 33, of 1408 Auburn Green, Winter Park, between 8:30 a.m. and 6:25 p.m. Monday, according to a sheriff's report.

Apartment management wouldn't permit Eric Lee Willer, 25, of 348 Philippa Place, Lake Mary, to park his boat and trailer on the property of the Canterbury complex, so for four months he parked the $7,600 boat beside Canterbury Drive, Lake Mary. Deputies report the boat was stolen Sunday or Monday.

Logan Fleck: More Than A Name Comes To Tribe Soccer

Logan Fleck. That's a great name for a soccer coach. Isn't it? Seminole Principal Wayne Epps must have thought so, too. Epps hired Logan Fleck as the new boys' soccer coach at Seminole High School.

Epps, however, was quick to point out that he was getting much more than a name, although the name is very well respected throughout the United States since Logan's father, Tom Fleck, is the president of the National Soccer Coaches Association.

Actually, Logan is a Tom, too, as in Thomas Logan Fleck. But that got too complicated. "It was just a lot easier to go by Logan around the house," said Logan (mother's maiden name). No doubt the postmen and telephone solicitors liked the idea, too.

Anyway, Epps, and a group of parents, thought enough of Fleck to get him to take on another coaching job. He is already assistant at Florida

Southern College. "Logan is just the man for the job," said Epps about his 24-year-old coach. "He knows the situation we're in and he knows he has to be patient. But he's already taught them things they didn't do last year. They actually looked like they knew what they were doing Saturday."

The soccer situation at Seminole was rock bottom. It's a similar situation to the one that existed in cross country several years ago. Epps said he hopes Fleck can have the same kind of impact on the soccer program that Ted Tombros did on the cross country program. In three short years, Tombros had both the boys and the girls in the state meet.

"Oh, they're going to take their lumps," said Epps. "It will take time. But he's a good teacher. You can see the progress already."

The progress and the lumps came hand-in-hand Saturday and Tuesday. On Saturday, Evans routed the

Sam Cook
Sports Editor

Fleckmen, 10-0. On Tuesday, the progress outnumbered the lumps as the Tribe lost, 7-1, to a perennially strong Seabreeze program.

"It's getting there," said Fleck, who played collegiately at Old Dominion in Norfolk, Va. and had a "C" coaching license by age 16. "We played a lot better tonight. It's not a bad loss. Seabreeze was just much faster up front. They played well."

Fleck said he had some who played well, too. "Matt Albert played exceptionally well at sweeper and Chris Ray had a good game, too," said Fleck. "Ray scored our goal on an assist from Mike Edwards. Sidney Griggs had a nice game at right wing, too."

Albert and Ray are both freshmen who came through the Sanford Soccer Club. "Those two will come into their own in a couple of years," said Fleck. "They've had good instruction from people like Suzy Reno and Wayne Albert in the youth programs."

Fleck, nevertheless, is taking a realistic attitude. "We're not ready to take on state or anything," he said. "Realistically, it will be two years before we can play on the level of a Lake Howell or Lyman. The kids just can't become frustrated. It will come."

Fleck didn't say Lyman boys or girls, but it didn't matter. He'd gladly take the success of either — especially the girls. The Lady Greyhounds have a new coach this year — veteran Seminole Soccer Club mentor Tom Barnes — and he hasn't had any trouble keeping the winning habit. They finished second in the state last year.

"I don't know if I'm coaching or administrating," laughed Barnes about his girls' 2-0 start. "But we should get a good test when we go to Tampa Saturday (1 p.m.) to play Chamberlain. They have an excellent coach and a good program."

The Lady Greyhounds didn't have any trouble with Trinity Prep Tuesday night as they blanked the Lady Saints, 12-0. Barnes, who is not one to run up scores, said there wasn't anything he could do about the double-digit victory. "We have gotten so deep," he said, "that our 12th, 13th and 14th girls are as good as the ones they replace."

Nice problem. Junior Sheila Mandy led the way Tuesday with three goals while Kim Mitchell and Dawn Boyesen each booted home a pair. Kellie Straw, Diana Boyesen, Karen Abernethy, Linda Schultheis and Bonni Steeves each had one.

Goalie Lisa Chatman had seven saves.

Seminoles Nip Evans

Mona, Temika Make 'Money' Plays To Win

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

They call someone who performs well in the clutch a "money player." Seminole High's Mona Benton has been one ever since she picked up a basketball.

Junior guard Temika Alexander was the junior varsity's money player a year ago and her stock is rising on the varsity in the early going of the 1984-85 season.

Seminole High, ranked eighth in the 4A State Poll, banked on Benton and Alexander down the stretch Tuesday night as the Lady Tribe pulled out a 53-51 win over ninth-ranked Orlando Evans before 200 vocal fans at Seminole High.

The Lady Seminoles improved to 3-1 with the win and they return to action Thursday night at 7 as they travel to Winter Park High.

Alexander came up with a key steal and with 25 seconds left she made one of two free throws after being fouled by Carolyn Hightower to give Seminole a 50-48 lead. Alexander had missed a pair of free throws with 41 seconds left.

"I was nervous when I shot those free throws," Alexander said of the misses. "But I felt like I had to come back and do it for the team. Then I made the steal."

It was another steal, this one by Benton with 14 seconds left, that sewed up the win for the Seminoles. Benton had her sights set on the steal all the way and her layup gave the Tribe a 52-48 lead.

"I was looking right at Hightower," Benton said. "I looked right into her eyes and knew the ball was mine. And I knew that was a layup I wasn't going to miss."

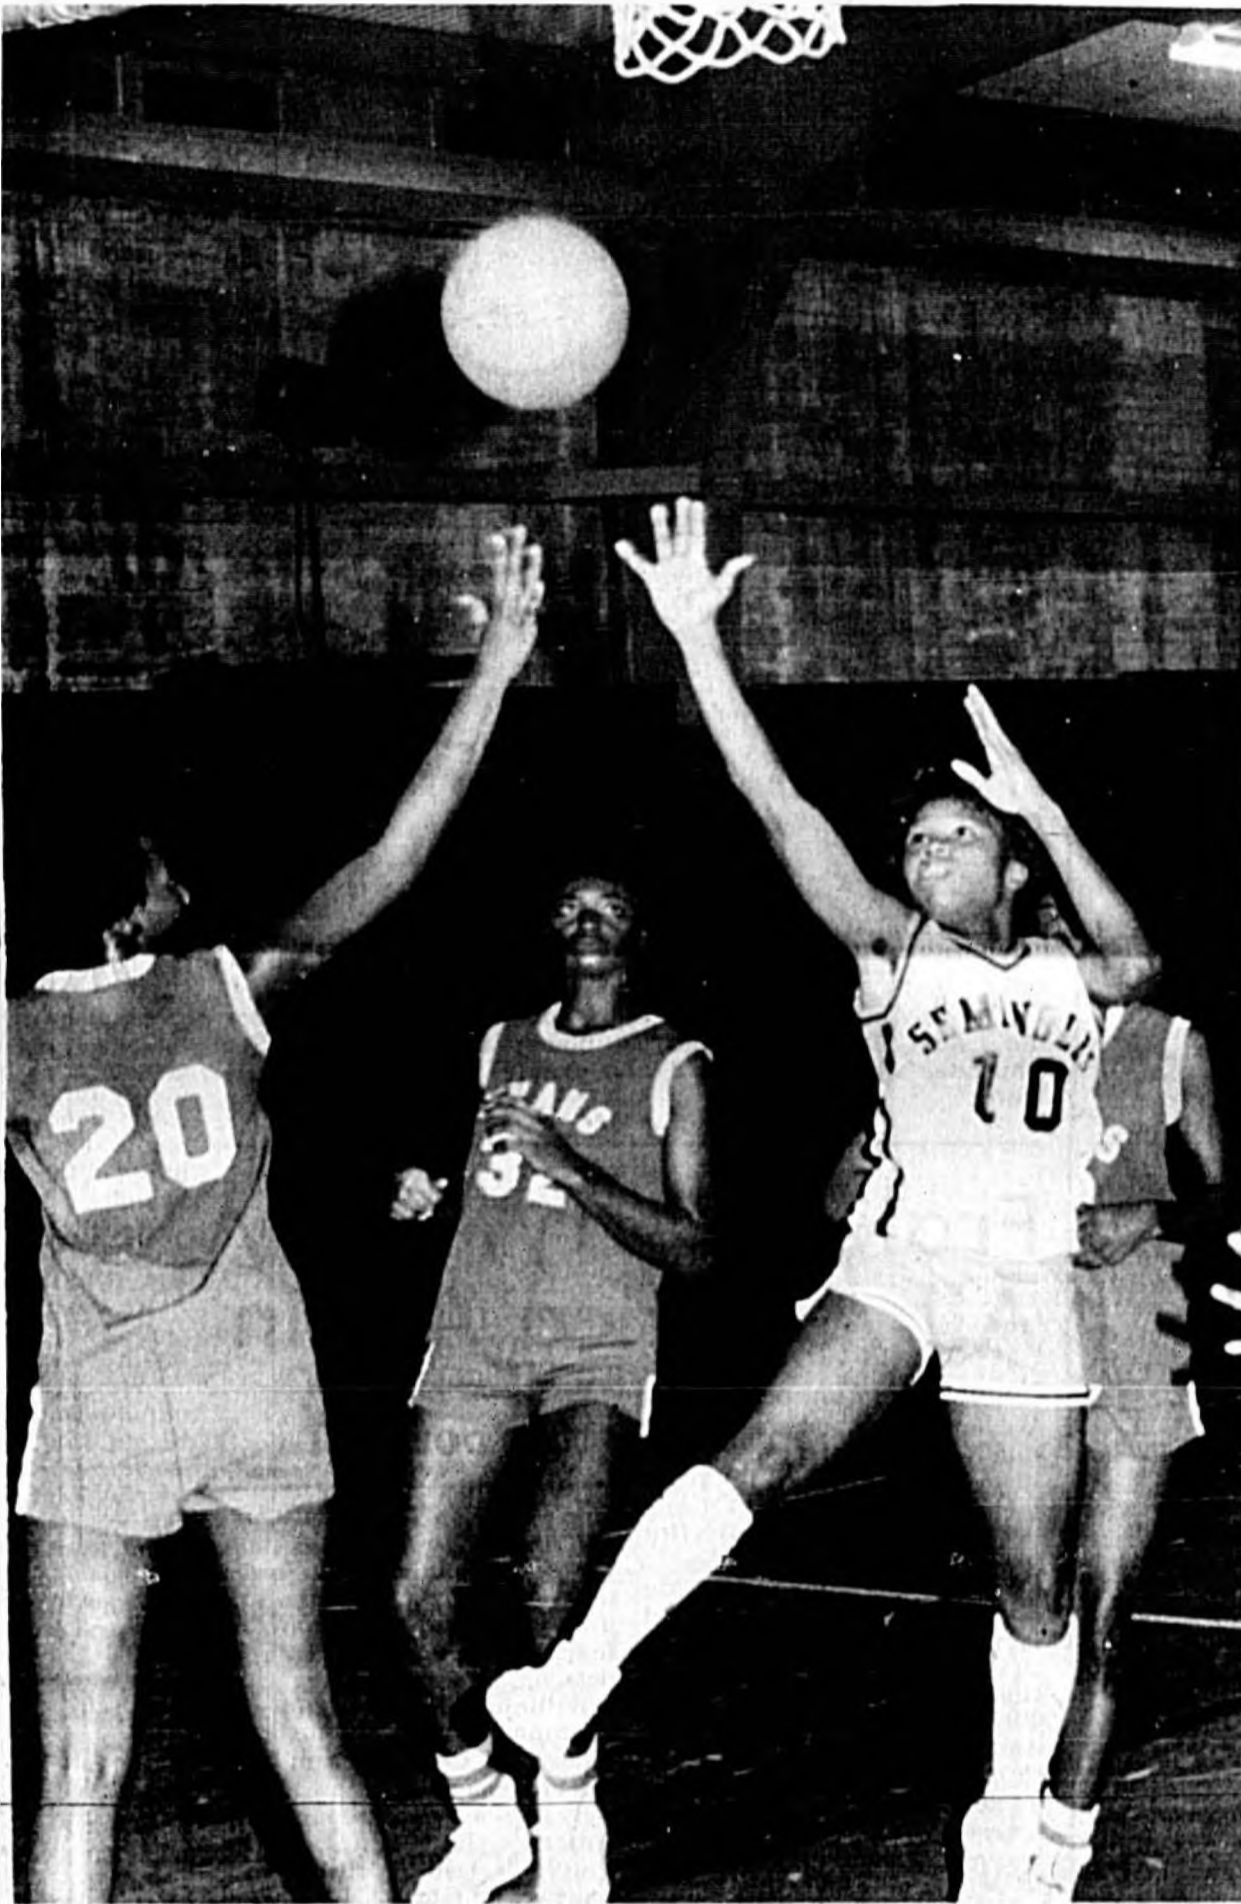

Benton ended up with a team-high 21 points and the senior standout added seven rebounds. Alexander tossed in 13 points and came up with eight steals. Catherine Anderson added eight points and eight boards for the Seminoles.

Cynthia Williams poured in a game-high 26 points for the Lady Trojans, including 13 in the first quarter. But she got into foul trouble in the second quarter and played the entire fourth quarter with four fouls. Williams also ripped down a game-high 14 rebounds. Denise King added eight points and 13 rebounds for Evans.

Seminole jumped out to a 8-4 lead before Evans came roaring back behind the strong inside play of Williams and King. The Lady Trojans took a nine-point lead, 22-13, at the end of the first quarter.

Evans upped its lead to 15, 31-18, in the early going of the second quarter and that's when Seminole coach Ron Merthle called a time out so the Lady Seminoles could regroup.

"We've worked to hard to come out and play like that," Merthle said. "We came back and

Raiders Hand Rollins JV Its 2nd Whipping

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

In a not so instant replay of their encounter of two weeks ago, Seminole Community College's Raiders handed another whipping to the Rollins junior varsity, 99-67, before 300 amused fans at the SCC Health Center.

Like the meeting of Nov. 21, this one was never in doubt. The score was even similar. The first time around, it was 97-65. Another coincidence was the play of Rollins' junior Stuart Smith. In the first meeting, Smith had 26 points and nine rebounds.

"And, I'll be darned if he didn't do it again," said SCC assistant coach Dean (no relation) Smith about the 6-9 Sanfordite's second 26-point, nine-rebound effort. "He had another good game against us."

"Yeah, interjected SCC coach Bill Payne. "If they didn't have Stuart, we'd play them more often. He kills us."

Of course, a coach doesn't mind when a former player (Smith played at SCC last year) does well. "So long as the player isn't on the winning side of the scoreboard."

The victory for SCC snapped a three-game losing streak. The 6-4 Raiders now get ready for Delgado, La. Junior College Friday at home. Payne said Delgado made a trip to the national tournament last year and is expected to be tough. The Raiders travel to Bradenton to play Manatee Saturday.

"It was a real positive game," said Payne in a more serious vein. "I knew after practice Monday that we'd have a good game. I was real impressed with the starting five. They really got after it."

Payne, who said he hasn't settled on a consistent quintet yet, opened with Mike Landell, Lenny Grace, Willie Strother, Rob Brantley and Kenny Edwards. Brantley, who also started Saturday against Florida College, was the most impressive in the early going.

The 6-3 New Yorker used his muscle to work inside as he scored 10 of the first 16 points as the Raiders bolted on top, 16-8. "Coach is just trying me out," said Brantley about his start. "(Greg) Bates is hurt (with a bone chip) and I got another trial tonight. I did a lot better than Saturday."

Brantley hit 7 of 9 shots for the game to finish with 14 points. Brantley said he didn't take the Rollins JV lightly because he didn't play against it the first time around. "I went home for Thanksgiving, so I didn't know anything about them," said Brantley. "The way we have been playing, anybody could have come in here and beat us."

But it wasn't going to be the Rollins JV. Grace made sure of that. The silky-smooth forward score six of the next 10 points as the Raiders assumed a 26-8 lead and the rout was on — or almost on.

Former Oviedo eager Ed Norton dropped a deuce from the baseline and Smith hit a

Seminole Surprises Lady Rams With Tie

By Carla Flister
Herald Sports Writer

"We're not going to take it sitting down anymore — we're going to show people that we can play, too."

Those were the words of Seminole High girls soccer coach Suzy Reno after the Lady Tribe tied Lake Mary's Lady Rams Tuesday, 2-2, at Seminole High.

"It was a moral victory for us," Reno said. "Lake Mary beat us twice last year, 6-0, and 3-2."

Seminole, in just its second season of existence, now stands at 1-0-1 on the season and will be back in action Friday at 5 at Oviedo. Lake Mary now stands at 0-1-1 and returns to action Thursday as it hosts Orlando Luther at 4:30 p.m.

Lake Mary jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first half on a pair of goals by Kelly Broen. The first score came on an assist from Kristin Jones and the second on Fran Gordon's assist.

Seminole goalie Sheri Rumler kept Lake Mary from increasing its lead with 13 unassisted goals in the first half.

Prep Soccer

Seminole came back strong in the second half and Rumler gave way to Kim Walsh who shut out the Lady Rams in the half with nine unassisted saves.

The Lady Tribe got on the scoreboard when Vicki Pakovic fired in a goal on an assist by Kim Machnik. Seminole tied the game with 20 minutes left in the half when Rumler scored on an assist from Cindy Bengel.

Reno credited the goalkeepers and the outstanding defense of Bengel and Angela Freeman with keeping the Seminoles in the game until the offense got on the board.

In other action Tuesday, Lake Brantley's Patriots improved to 2-0 for the season with a 7-0 rout of Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks.

Cook Of The Week

Visions Of Sugarplums Move Over For Fudge

By Brenda Lowe
Herald Correspondent
The art of candy making is one which this week's cook, Charles Hayes, has perfected. With more than 50 years experience in making candy for family and friends, it's no wonder that his original fudge recipe is nothing short of divine.

As a child growing up in Ashland, Ky., Charles says that his health wouldn't permit him to play outside very much, so he spent quite a bit of time in the kitchen watching his mother cook and bake. He says that when he first started to cook, he was too little to reach the stove so he had to stand on a chair. At times when his mother was busy sewing in another room, she would call out the recipe directions to him. One year, when he was about 10, Charles says that he made about 60 pounds of candy. Now that's "hands on" experience.

Charles met his wife, Maybelle, while he was visiting the old Sanford Zoo. He says that she "played hard to get" and refused to give him her name and address, but a friend she was with supplied the information he wanted. He was in the military at the time and was stationed in Orlando in the M.P. unit. Charles says that he wrote letters to her and finally managed to get a date. His persistence paid off and after a "whirlwind romance," they were married. Charles and Maybelle have four children and three grandchildren. The twinkle in Charles' eye when he talks about their meeting is a giveaway that the romance is still there!

After his military service, Charles attended beauty school in Huntington, W. Va. He says that he received his license to practice in Kentucky. Later, he attended barber college in Jacksonville and eventually came to work in John Carver's shop in Sanford. He was employed by Carver for 20 years. After Carver's retirement 14 years ago, Charles purchased the barber shop on Park Avenue, which he says contains the original equipment from the old shop which was located near the former Roumillat and Anderson drugstore. The barber pole outside the shop, with its red and white spiral stripes, is symbolic of the barber's former sideline of surgery.

Charles is active in his church, Central Baptist, and he says that he has taught Sunday School for over 30 years. He is also a deacon, but is currently on the inactive list. When time permits, Charles says that he enjoys reading science fiction and spending time with his family. Charles' candy recipes are tailor-made for folks with a "sweet tooth." Gifts of homemade candies are a delightful way to share the spirit of the season with those you love.

UNCLE CHARLIE'S FANTASTIC FUDGE (ORIGINAL RECIPE)

Put four cups of sugar (use an 8-ounce measuring cup), in a heavy pot. Put four heaping tablespoons of Hershey's Cocoa in with the sugar. Stir until the lumps are smoothed out. Then add two full cups of whole milk and stir until smooth, without any lumps of chocolate.

While fixing this, turn the large burner on to high heat. Put the pot on the hot burner and bring to a boil while stirring occasionally. Add a half teaspoon of salt and one teaspoon of vanilla flavoring. Then add a quarter of a pound of butter. I have a small, shallow glass of cold tap water close by. After the batch has fully boiled for about five minutes, turn the heat down to medium high. Check the consistency every four to five minutes by putting droplets of the candy into the cold water. Use a small spoon. When it forms into small balls, it's time to take it off the heat. This takes about 15-20 minutes from the time it starts boiling. Stir continually while it cools and becomes thicker. At this point, stir in some finely chopped walnuts. Or you can use pecans. After about 15-20 minutes of stirring, pour the candy out onto two large meat platters which have been spread with a thin layer of soft butter to keep the candy from sticking. Constantly stirring causes the candy to "cream up" instead of turning sugary. Put candy into the refrigerator to cool off for about 30 minutes. Cut into pieces about 1-inch square. You can add peanut butter, marshmallows or any kind of nuts to this recipe.

FONDANT (FAMILY RECIPE)

2 cups sugar
¾ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring
Place sugar, water, cream of tartar and salt in a saucepan over high heat. Stir constantly until, but not after, sugar is dissolved. Do not splash sugar crystals from around the pan with a wet cloth. Let syrup boil until it reaches 238° on the candy thermometer, or until it forms soft ball in cold water. Add vanilla without stirring. Pour

Don't Nag Parents About Will

DEAR ABBY: My brother, sisters and I are trying to deal with an issue I'm sure you hear about often: Our parents do not have a will.

I am 52 and the oldest of eight children. My father is 78 and in very poor health. My mother is 71, and she is also in poor health and failing fast.

Over the years when they were in better health, we tried to get them to draw up their wills, but they wouldn't even discuss it. Now that they're both ailing, it's even more difficult to get them to face reality. Two of my brothers tried to bring it up last Christmas, but Mom and Dad both pretended they didn't hear. My sister mentioned it again last August, but the folks refused to talk about it.

I know I'm not alone in this dilemma, but that doesn't help me. Do you, or any of your readers, have any suggestions?

Dear Abby

FRUSTRATED: Perhaps if your parents' lawyer were to tell them what would happen to their estate should they die without leaving a will, they would make one. (Maybe not.)

I think you children have said enough. Quit nagging them about it, or they might call in a food taster.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter

(educated, attractive, poised, mid-20s) told me two years ago that she is gay. (I don't want to go into details for fear of detection.) "Mary" spoke to a therapist at my suggestion, who told her, "It's your life, you are over 21, and if you're happy, you don't have a problem."

I spoke to another therapist at the same time who told me, "Learn to accept it or lose your child."

My husband and I refuse to accept it. We love our daughter very much and have always been supportive of her, but this is too much. It is affecting everything we do.

Is there hope for a reversal? We can't get her to see another therapist. I guess I'm looking for a miracle. Is there a support group for parents? Will they send information in a "plain brown wrapper"? I have many unanswered questions. Please don't use my name or city, either.

DISTRAUGHT MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I can't give you any better advice than the therapist gave you. If your daughter is happy, she has no problem. If you can't accept her, then you have a problem. Don't look for a miracle and don't hope for a reversal.

Write to: Parents, FLAG, P.O. Box 24655, Los Angeles, Calif. 90024 and ask for its enlightening literature. It's free. This is a non-profit organization, so please enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: Do you know how "Kathleen in the Bronx" knew that the "ghost" in her house was Jewish?

Because it kept saying "NOO?" Instead of "BOO!"

BERNIE SABER IN SCOTTSDALE

DEAR ABBY: Back in 1958 you printed a confidential to

"Cannot Be Consoled." It was a very comforting message to parents whose child had died. My wife kept that clipping all these years because we lost a daughter about that time. As you can see, it is now old and faded and falling apart. Please run it again. It may give comfort to others as it did to us. Thank you.

JOSEPH J. ATTARDO JEWETT CITY, CONN.

DEAR MR. ATTARDO: Here it is.

Losing a child is the most fragile experience a parent must bear. But one must believe that it is more than a coincidence that God and Good are similar words. Here is a little story one of my readers sent me:

There once was a procession of children marching in heaven. Each held a lighted candle, and as they marched, they sang. Their faces shone with happiness. But one little girl stood alone...

"Why don't you join us, little girl?" one happy child asked.

"I can't," she replied. "Every time I light my candle, my mother puts it out with her tears."

The Artificial Sweetener Blues

NEW YORK (UPI) — Substituting an artificial sweetener for a spoonful of sugar may only add to a dieter's woes, an expert on obesity says.

Judith Rodin, a social psychologist at Yale University, said artificial sweeteners only delay the craving for sugar. They do not remove it.

In an interview in Psychology Today, Rodin said the kind of food eaten at one meal invariably determines what we have a craving for and what we eat at the next.

"A person who has just had a saccharin-sweetened snack at two o'clock is more likely to want a piece of cake at four o'clock," Rodin said.

Rodin said the key factor in what a person eats depends on insulin levels.

The higher the insulin level, the hungrier a person feels.

And, she said, the artificial sweetener will not lower insulin levels. The levels will remain high and can only be lowered later on by eating something with sugar.

 syrup in a thin sheet onto a chilled platter to cool quickly. Do not scrape out of the saucepan. When syrup is cool, work it with a flat wooden spoon until it creams. When it forms a soft, creamy mass, work it with the palms of the hands in the same way as bread dough until it is smooth. Place fondant in an earthen-ware or glass dish. Cover with a damp cloth. After 24 hours the fondant will be ready to mold.

Return the saucepan to the stove and on medium heat, cook to 240°, stirring constantly. Put the candy thermometer in after the mixture has been cooking for 15-20 minutes. Butter two

Chanukah Desserts

The first Chanukah was celebrated in the Second Temple of Jerusalem, hailing the victory of the Maccabees over the Greeks and the magic burning of the holy oil for eight long days that purified the Temple for worship. Whole families went to the Temple with food to share, and the occasion was highlighted by children's games, making it a light-hearted festival. It remains to this day the most joyous of the Jewish holidays.

Today food still plays an important role in the eight days of Chanukah. Holiday dinners are robust and filling, and desserts complement the menu. Old-fashioned pudding, once again in favor, adds just the right touch.

BERNICE'S CHANUKAH PUDDING

6 tablespoons sugar, divided
 2 tablespoons cornstarch
 2 cups orange juice from Florida
 2 eggs, separated
 ¼ teaspoon almond extract
 4 oranges from Florida, peeled, thinly sliced
 Toasted, slivered almonds, optional

In medium saucepan combine 3 tablespoons sugar and cornstarch; gradually stir in orange juice. Lightly beat egg yolks; stir into juice mixture. Stirring constantly, bring mixture to a boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in almond extract. Cool to room temperature. In small mixer bowl, beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually beat in remaining 3 tablespoons sugar; beat until mixture holds soft peaks. Fold egg whites into juice mixture. Line six balloon wine glasses with orange slices. Spoon pudding into glasses. Garnish with almonds, if desired.

YIELD: 6 servings.

ORANGE DREIDEL COOKIES

¼ cup sugar
 1 large egg
 4 cups all-purpose flour
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ½ cup orange juice from Florida

4 teaspoons grated orange peel
 In large bowl cream butter; gradually beat in sugar. Beat in egg. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; blend in dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Stir in orange peel. Wrap dough and chill 3 hours, or overnight. Roll out small portions of dough ¼-inch thick on a floured board. Cut out cookies in the shape of a dreidel about 5-inches long. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a 375° F. oven 10-12 minutes until lightly browned. Cool on wire racks. Spread all but handle of dreidel with Orange Glaze*. While glaze is still wet, dip toothpick in Chocolate Glaze** and draw letters on each dreidel.

YIELD: About 3 dozen cookies.

*ORANGE GLAZE

1½ cups sifted confectioners' sugar
 3 tablespoons orange juice from Florida
 1½ teaspoons grated orange peel

In a small bowl beat confectioners' sugar with orange juice and orange peel until smooth. Use to decorate Orange Dreidel Cookies.

**CHOCOLATE GLAZE

1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
 1 tablespoon unsweetened cocoa
 1 tablespoon orange juice from Florida

In a small bowl combine all ingredients; mix until smooth.

cookie sheets and pour the candy onto them to cool. Heat the bottom of the pans and loosen the edges of the candy. Turn candy out onto a smooth surface, such as a table, and cut into 1" squares. Wrap in wax paper.

PEANUT BUTTER BALLS

(FAMILY RECIPE)
 1½ boxes confectioners' sugar
 ½ pound of margarine
 1 cup peanut butter
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 Mix together and shape into small balls
MELT:
 6 ounces of chocolate chips

¼ block minus ¼ inch of paraffin, a piece about the size of a walnut is sufficient. Dip the peanut butter balls into the melted chocolate mixture. Place on a smooth surface to cool.

CREAM CANDY

(FAMILY RECIPE)
 4 cups sugar
 4 teaspoons baking powder
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 1¾ cups cold water
 Bring the above ingredients to boil, add one stick of butter and cook to 274°. Pour out onto a smooth surface, such as a table, and cool until it is comfortable to handle. This is a "pulled" candy and requires two people to "work" it to a creamy consistency. It should be pulled between the two people much the same way as you would to wrap yarn. Keep pulling it over and over until it comes to a very creamy consistency. Then it may be smoothed out and cut into squares.

MARSHMALLOWS

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
 ¼ cup cold water
 ¾ cup boiling water
 2 cups sugar
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
 confectioners' sugar
 Soak the gelatin in the cold water until it has taken up all the water. Boil the sugar and water to the soft-ball stage (238°). Add vanilla and salt to gelatin. Pour the syrup slowly over the gelatin, beating constantly with a whisk until cool and thick. Butter a shallow pan slightly and dust with confectioners' sugar. Turn the marshmallow mixture into the pan and smooth the top evenly. Dust with confectioners' sugar. Let it stand overnight. In the morning cut it into small squares and roll in confectioners' sugar.

POPCORN BALLS

3 quarts popped corn
 1 cup sugar
 ½ cup white corn syrup
 1 cup water
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon lemon or vanilla

flavoring
 Discard all imperfect kernels and put the popped corn in a large pan. Cook sugar, syrup and water to the medium-crack stage (280°). Add flavoring and salt. Pour over the corn, stirring with a spoon so that all kernels will be evenly coated. Shape the corn into balls. lay on waxed paper, and wrap in waxed paper.

HOLIDAY COCONUT BALLS

¼ cup corn syrup
 ¼ teaspoon maple flavoring
 ¼ cup currants
 ¼ cup raisins
 1 cup moist coconut
 Stir the ingredients together to make a stiff loaf. Pack in small cake tin. Chill in the refrigerator and roll into small balls. Dust with confectioners' sugar.

Fiesta Brunch
Relaxed Way
To Entertain

A brunch is a relaxed way to entertain that allows for a wide variety of foods to be served. The time for brunch can be as early as 10 a.m. and continue to 1 or thereafter. If sending invitations it's a good idea to be specific about the time so the guests know how long you are planning to entertain.

If you plan things well a major part of the food preparation can be done ahead of time and you can "sleep in" and leave the last minute preparations to be done an hour before your guests arrive.

Set your table the day before. Candles, flowers and a lace table cloth set a mood for a formal affair and foods should complement the setting. For a casual approach to the party, try a Mexican fiesta theme with bright colored cloths, pinata, pottery, paper flowers, clay pots, poinsettias, and Mexican food fare.

This menu for a Mexican Fiesta Brunch is composed of foods which could be prepared the day before.

- CHICKEN ENCHILADA
- CASSEROLE
- CHILI BAKE
- CHILI CORN BREAD
- SOUTH OF THE BORDER
- FRUIT BOWL
- MEXICAN WEDDING CAKES

Sangria punch is made by adding a liter bottle of 7-up to a quart of sangria wine. Pour over an ice ring in a punch bowl and float lemon, lime and orange slices on top.

These casseroles both serve eight ample servings. The amount of food for the entire brunch will serve 12-14 guests.

- CHICKEN ENCHILADA
- CASSEROLE
- 2 1/2 cups cooked chicken

- (diced)
- 1 1/2 cups chicken broth
- 1 can Cream of Mushroom soup
- 1 can Cream of Chicken soup
- 1 4 ounce can green chilies, chopped and drained
- 1 4 ounce jar pimientos, chopped and drained
- 1 tablespoon dry sherry
- 8 ounces (6 cups) Doritos, slightly crushed
- 1 pound grated Cheddar cheese
- Mix all ingredients except chips and cheese. Cover the bottom of a 13x9" baking dish with one cup of cheese. Layer 1/2 chicken mixture then 1/2 of cheese. Repeat ending with chips topped with cheese. Refrigerate at least one hour or can be made the night before. Microwave at 85% power for 20-25 minutes or until hot throughout. Serves 6-8.

CHILI BAKE

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 (10 ounce) can hot enchilada sauce
- 1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
- 1 (15 ounce) can pinto beans
- 2 1/2 cup crushed corn chips
- 1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 cup dairy sour cream

In a three quart casserole dish, crumble ground beef, add the onion and green pepper. Cover and microwave on 100% power 5-6 minutes, or until the meat is no longer pink. Stir several times during the cooking. Drain off excess fat. Stir in the enchilada and tomato sauces. Cover and microwave on 100% power 6-8 minutes. Stir once. Drain beans; stir beans, one cup of the corn chips and 1/4 cup of the cheese into the meat mixture. Cover and microwave on 100% power 6-8 minutes. Stir, then spread sour cream over top; sprinkle remaining chips and cheese over top. Microwave just till the sour cream is hot, about 30-50 seconds.

This is a fruit layered salad that needs to be made the day before.

SOUTH OF THE BORDER
FRUIT BOWL

- 1 (8 ounce) can pineapple tidbits
- 1/4 cup packed light brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 crisp apples - Delicious is especially good
- 3 oranges (Naval)
- 2 cups seedless green grapes
- 1 banana
- 1/2 medium avocado
- Drain juice from pineapple into one cup glass measure. Stir in brown sugar and lemon juice. Microwave on 100% power, 1-1 1/2 minutes or until mixture boils. Cool. Quarter and core the apple. Cut into very thin slices. Peel oranges, remove white membrane and seeds. Cut into thin slices. In glass serving bowl, layer half the apples, oranges and grapes. Slice the banana and arrange over the grapes. Top with pineapple. Repeat with remaining apples, oranges and grapes. Pour cooled syrup over all. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Before serving garnish with thin slices of avocado.

It couldn't be Mexican if it didn't have green chilli peppers somewhere:

CHILI-CHEESE CORN BREAD

- 2 eggs
- 1 cup corn meal
- 1 (8 ounce) can whole kernel corn
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1/2 cu diced green chilies
- 1 cup dairy sour cream
- 1 cup grated jack cheese
- 1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
- Beat eggs; mix with remaining ingredients except chilies and cheese. Pour half the batter into well-greased 8-inch square baking dish. Place chilies on top of batter; sprinkle with half the cheese. Then pour on remaining batter and cheese. Microwave at 85% power for 10 minutes. Increase power to 100% power microwave for 3-5 minutes. Let stand on counter top for at least five minutes before cutting.

These cookies are traditional at Mexican fiestas and are best made the conventional way.

MEXICAN WEDDING CAKES

- 1 cup butter softened
- 1/2 cup confectioners sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup finely chopped nuts
- Heat oven to 400°. Mix thoroughly butter, sugar and vanilla. Work flour, salt and nuts until dough holds together. Shape dough into 1-inch balls. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 10-12 minutes or until set but not brown. While warm, roll in confectioners sugar. Cool. Roll in sugar again. Makes about four dozen cookies.

Great Cookies: Freeze Dough Ahead For Use During Season

Streamline your Christmas traditions this year by making cookie dough ahead of time. Store in the freezer until needed for an unexpected gift or children's school party. Festive cream cheese cookies are a delicious slice-and-bake cookie which can make four rolls of dough or eight dozen cookies.

Wrapped in a heavy duty aluminum foil for excellent protection during freezer storage, this dough can be thawed, a roll at a time, in the refrigerator. This is a perfect way for keeping homemade cookies as close as your freezer.

For carrying these to school, alternate rows of festive cream cheese cookies with chocolate covered pretzels in a foil-lined gift box. A favorite recipe for kids, the pretzels can be whipped up with their assistance.

Festive cream cheese cookies and chocolate covered pretzels are just a sample of the many holiday recipes featured in a new cookbook, "A Treasury of Holiday Recipes," from the Reynolds Wrap Kitchens. This 32-page book also includes instructions for easy-to-make holiday ornaments and decorations. To receive your copy of the cookbook, send a check or money order for $5.50 to, The Reynolds Wrap Kitchens, A Treasury of Holiday Recipes, P.O. Box 27003, Dept. FE-24, Richmond, Va. 23261.

There is also a sampler brochure, "Selections of a Treasury of Holiday Recipes," available at no charge from the same address.

FESTIVE CREAM CHEESE COOKIES

- 1 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup pecans, finely chopped

Red and green sugar crystals
Cream together butter and cream cheese in large mixing bowl. Add sugar and vanilla, beating until light and fluffy. Combine flour and salt; add gradually to creamed mixture, beating until well blended. Stir in pecans. On four sheets of aluminum foil, shape dough into four six-inch rolls, 1 1/2 inches in diameter. Place each roll in center of sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil. Bring two sides of foil up over roll. Fold down in locked folds until foil is tight against roll. Fold short ends up and over; crimp to seal. Chill overnight or freeze. When ready to bake, preheat oven to 325 degrees fahrenheit. Remove rolls of dough from refrigerator, one roll at a time. Coat roll with red, or green sugar crystals before slicing. Cut roll into 1/4-inch slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake 15 to 18 minutes or until bottom of cookie is lightly browned when lifted. Makes eight dozen cookies.

CHOCOLATE COVERED PRETZELS

- 1 package (11-12 oz.) milk chocolate morsels
  - 3-inch square paraffin wax, chopped
  - 3 1/2 to 4 dozen (3-inch) pretzels
  - Unsalted peanuts, finely chopped
  - Mixed colored sprinkles
- Line several trays or baking sheets with aluminum foil; set aside. Melt milk chocolate morsels and wax over hot (not boiling) water. Stir until morsels and wax melt and mixture is smooth. Remove from heat. Using tongs, dip each pretzel in chocolate; drain excess. Place on foil-lined tray. Before chocolate sets, sprinkle with choice of peanuts or sprinkles. Repeat with remaining pretzels. If chocolate starts to set, return to heat until melted. Remove pretzels from foil when set. Makes 3 1/2 to 4 dozen cookies.

Festive Cream Cheese Cookies and Chocolate Covered Pretzels are featured in a free cookbook being offered. The pretzels are a favorite among kids who can assist with the preparation of the tasty treats. Store in the freezer until needed for an unexpected gift or children's party.

Black Russian Pie no-bake delight.

Party Perfect Pie From The Freezer

Serve Kahlua Black Russian Pie for a time and energy saver with an intriguing flavor that comes party perfect right from the freezer. This creamy Kahlua classic requires no baking and becomes a visual treat, too, with the last minute addition of chocolate curls.

KAHLUA BLACK RUSSIAN PIE

- 1 cup cream-filled chocolate sandwich cookie crumbs (about 14 cookies)
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 24 large marshmallows
- 1/2 cup cold milk
- 1/8 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup Kahlua (3 ounces)
- 1 cup whipping cream
- Baker's solid semi-sweet chocolate for curls (optional)
- Combine cookies crumbs and butter in an 8-inch pie pan. Mix well and press firmly in an even layer over bottom and sides of pan to form a crust. Place in freezer until firm. Meanwhile, melt marshmallows with milk and salt over hot water. Cool until mixture will mound on a spoon. Stir in Kahlua. Beat cream stiff and fold into the marshmallow mixture. Chill about 30 minutes until mixture holds ripples when stirred. Turn into chilled cookie center (optional) and cut into wedges. Makes 1 (8-inch) pie.

Calf Fries

Texan's Watering Hole Dishes Up Popular 'True Delicacy'

TIOGA, Texas (UPI) — Wizenod portraits of Wyatt Earp and Belle Starr peer down approvingly on the stout-hearted men who plunge forks into wicker baskets full of Warren Clark's deep-fried specialty.

Eating at Clark's is an Old West tradition. It's also an act of courage. Easterners, wimps and mutton lovers need not apply.

Clark serves up calf fries, hot and greasy. In some parts, they're known as prairie oysters, mountain oysters, cowboy sweetmeats; the measure of a man in man's country.

Movie stars, oil barons, and cowhands come for hundreds of miles to sample Clark's delicacy. Some wax poetic.

"Calf fries. Ah, calf fries. They're a state of mind," said Don Fugate, 24, a stocky construction worker, cigarettes rolled under a T-shirt sleeve. "Never wanted to try them before — knowing what they were, you know. But then I had a taste, and, damn, they were good."

Clark, 60 and gravel voiced, wears a rodeo belt buckle and boots, but he hails from the East himself. He used to sell women's dresses until he set up a sandwich shop 10 years or so ago in Tioga on a hunch he could make it big with the right stuff.

He did. It was. His north Texas eatery and bar — it now abuts Joe Graves Grocery and Feed, down a piece from where Gene Autry was born — sprouted flags, a big parking lot and a reputation for serving up the best "fries" for country miles around, hundreds and hundreds of pounds a year.

Clark's tavern soon became a favored watering hole for the likes of Mickey Mantle, Walt Garrison and Terry Bradshaw — tough guys all. They grew up on ranches and farms. They knew about calf fries.

Not everybody does. "Sometimes newcomers ask me what they are," Clark said. "I tell them that first there was a bull, then there was a steer, and in between all he could talk about was his operation. Soon, people usually get my drift."

Calf fries are the testicles of a calf, sometimes a bull. Soaked in milk, they're sliced, rolled in flour, deep fried, and served with country gravy or hot red sauce. Cowboys like them well done.

"These guys may have guts, but they still like them cooked real well."

In the old days, cowboys used to treat themselves to calf fries toasted on sharpened sticks over the coals of a branding fire at dusk.

"Once we had an old-timer in here who said there was something wrong with our fries. He thought they should have more sand and grit in them like 'Cookie' used to make them."

Afficionados liken the taste to well-cooked chicken, shrimp, veal, even seafood-type oysters. Many swear to calf fries' aphrodisiac qualities.

Clark keeps his supplier a secret, slapping a blood oath on curious visitors.

"Plenty of restaurants would love to know where I get my stuff. There's plenty of demand. Not much supply."

In fact, it took Clark months to find a dependable supplier.

"I was visiting the killing floor in Vernon, Texas, and other steer operations. Couldn't find any for sale. Finally found a meat company in Fort Worth which had them. Offered them a premium to keep me in supply."

"Two years ago, on a Friday, they ran out, and I ran out. I nearly panicked. A friend brought some turkey fries. But they weren't the same. You can taste the feathers in turkey fries and mutton in mutton fries."

Today, Clark keeps a plentiful stock of the "True Delicacy" in his freezer, more than a 150 pounds, wrapped and dressed in 10-pound boxes. Each morning he places 20 pounds or so in a fresh bowl of milk to soak for the day.

Warren Clark's recipe for serving up prairie oysters, if you can find them:

"Soak them in milk, slice them and roll them in flour. Don't use any spices. Drop them in a deep grease, 350 degrees or so, until they float, usually about two minutes.

"Serve them with plain country or sawmill gravy — gravy made from the drippings of chicken fried steak, milk and flour. Or with a red sauce — catsup, lemon, garlic, horse radish."

The item goes well with wild game.

"We serve our calf fries with a brace of quail, deep fried with garlic and salt.

"There's nothing better."

Vary Meat Loaf Ideas

Meat loaf can change its flavor and texture as quickly as a chameleon changes color.

Vary your meat loaf recipe by using such extras as hard-cooked eggs, mushroom caps, whole peanuts, capers, olive slices or cheese. Experiment with different spices!

Add tomato sauce to meat mixture; mix well. On a lightly greased shallow pan, shape meat mixture into a 9-inch loaf. Bake for 40 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt butter in a small saucepan. Add remaining ingredients to the meat mixture, binding it with egg.

Serve hot or cold. Cut portion sizes to keep in the freezer to reheat in the oven for a quick meal.

MEAT LOAF ITALIANO

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
  - 2 cups soft bread crumbs, divided
  - 1 egg, lightly beaten
  - 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
  - 1 teaspoon onion powder
  - 1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
  - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
  - 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
  - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
  - 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
  - 2 tablespoons parsley flakes
- Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Mix beef, 1 1/4 cups of the bread crumbs, egg, salt, onion powder, Italian seasoning, garlic powder and black pepper.

Add tomato sauce to meat mixture; mix well. On a lightly greased shallow pan, shape meat mixture into a 9-inch loaf. Bake for 40 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt butter in a small saucepan. Add remaining 3/4 cup bread crumbs, Parmesan cheese and parsley flakes; toss lightly. Spoon on top of meat loaf; bake until crumbs are golden, about 5 minutes.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Assorted vegetable dippers
Toss cheese with flour. Heat wine in fondue pot or saucepan until bubbles rise to surface. Do not boil. Add 1/2 cup cheese mixture; stir constantly until melted. Repeat until all cheese has been added. Stir in parsley. Keep fondue bubbling while serving. Dip vegetables into fondue. Five to six servings.

MICROWAVE: Reduce wine to 3/4 cup. Toss cheese with flour. Microwave wine in covered 1 1/2-quart casserole or bowl on high 1 minute or until bubbles rise to surface. Do not boil. Stir in half of cheese mixture; cover. Microwave 1 minute. Stir in remaining cheese mixture and parsley; cover. Microwave 2 minutes or until smooth when stirred, stirring after 1 minute. Pour into fondue pot; keep fondue bubbling while serving. Continue as directed.

● To save time in preparation, shred the cheese with a food processor.

● Prepare vegetables the night before serving. Refrigerate in a tightly covered container until ready to serve.

POTTED CHEESE
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded sharp natural cheddar cheese
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded natural muenster cheese
1/4 cup soft margarine
1/4 cup port wine
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Combine ingredients, mixing at medium speed on electric mixer until well blended. Chill. Serve as a spread with party rye or pumpernickel bread slices, crackers or melba toast. Two cups.

Variation: Substitute 2 cups Swiss, monterey jack or brick cheese for muenster cheese.

● For a smoother cheese spread, blend the ingredients in a food processor.

● A good use of any firm leftover cheese.

● A great gift idea — select an unusual container such as a covered crock.

CARAMEL CHEWS
28 caramels
3 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons water
1 3-oz. can chow mein noodles
1 cup peanuts

1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons water

Melt caramels and margarine with water over low heat, stirring until smooth. Add noodles and peanuts; toss until well coated. Drop rounded teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Melt chocolate pieces with water over low heat, stirring until smooth. Top chews with chocolate mixture; chill until firm. Store in refrigerator. Two-and-a-half dozen.

Variations: Substitute 2 cups crisp rice cereal or 3 cups corn flakes for chow mein noodles. Substitute chopped walnuts or pecans for peanuts.

Make Ahead: Prepare as directed. Wrap securely; freeze. Thaw, wrapped, in refrigerator.

MICROWAVE: Microwave caramels, margarine and water in 2-cup measure on high 1 1/2 minutes; stir. Continue microwaving 1 minute or until sauce is smooth, stirring every 30 seconds. Continue as directed. Microwave chocolate pieces and water on medium (50%) 2 1/2 minutes; stir until smooth. Continue as directed.

● A great gift idea.

HOLIDAY DESSERT TORTE

1 10 3/4-oz. frozen pound cake, thawed

1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened

2 cups thawed whipped topping with real cream

1/2 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces, melted

Fold fruit into remaining cream cheese mixture. Spread two layers with fruit mixture; stack. Top with remaining layer; frost with chocolate mixture. Chill. Garnish with candied cherries. Eight-ten servings.

Make Ahead: Prepare as directed. Wrap securely; freeze. When ready to serve, thaw, wrapped, in refrigerator.

Pasta As You Like It

Never Serve Genuine Italian Specialty With Meatballs

By Paula Buttur
Special To The Herald

ROME (UPI) — A handsome man smiles across the dinner table at the sultry brunette, framed by the soft light of an outdoor terrace. Says the advertising copy:

"The color, the aroma, the taste of these moments..."

Anywhere else, the man would puff a cigarette or pour Scotch into crystal tumblers to glorify the pleasures of tobacco or whiskey.

But this is Italy.

So handsome man is holding a fat forkful of spaghetti. And the copy burbles about the joys of "Barilla brand pasta."

Italians take pasta seriously — so seriously that it was front page news earlier this year when a leading Naples pasta maker hired a man who designs Maserati and Ferrari cars to come up with a nouvelle noodle.

But whether it's the new Marille, or one of the traditional favorites — spaghetti, spaghetti (thin spaghetti), fettuccine (flat egg noodles), penne (narrow tubes) or fusilli (springs) — Italians slurp it up to the tune of 60 pounds per person a year.

They also know how to cook it: In at least 4 quarts of water per pound of pasta. In water that is boiling furiously. In water that has been salted liberally — at least 1 1/2 tablespoons of salt per pound of pasta.

Most important, they know when to stop cooking it, which is well before it gets soft, mushy, gummy or waterlogged.

Pasta, cooked correctly, does not melt in the mouth. Pasta that doesn't need chewing is pasta that is overcooked.

And to quote Italian food expert Marcella Hazan, pasta that is overcooked is "an abomination."

The only thing worse is cold pasta, she says, wishing eternal bowls of chilled spaghetti on cooks who rinse their pasta in cold water after it is done.

Rinsing is unnecessary, the experts say. Simply drain the pasta when it is done in a large colander, then toss immediately in a warm bowl with a sauce. Which is where "the color, the aroma, the taste of these moments" really takes off.

Italian pasta sauces vary from the simple — olive oil, garlic and hot red peppers — to the sublime — cream, butter, parmigiano cheese and freshly shaved truffles.

Most cook quickly, in about the same time it takes to bring a kettle of water to a rolling boil. The chief exception is the sauce for pasta alla bolognese (pasta Bologna style), a rich concoction of olive oil, butter, onions, celery, carrots, wine, milk, nutmeg, ground beef, tomatoes and salt, that simmers lazily for four to five hours.

Tomato sauces and sauces with a base of cream and/or butter form another class of toppings. Melted butter and a handful of parmigiano cheese is perhaps the simplest. Butter, beaten until it is light and fluffy, also can be mixed with equal portions of heavy cream and p all'arrabiata (literally "angry" pasta, made so by a healthy portion of hot red peppers added to a basic tomato sauce) to pasta all'amatriciana (pasta Amatrice style, made with tomatoes, onions, and the Italian version of salt pork).

Cooks beat the summer heat by resorting to a fragrant, uncooked sauce — spaghetti alla chitarra — made of raw ripe plum tomatoes, olive oil, salt, pepper, fresh garlic slices and fresh basil warmed only by the heat of the freshly cooked pasta.

Melted butter and a handful of parmigiano cheese is perhaps the simplest. Butter, beaten until it is light and fluffy, also can be mixed with equal portions of heavy cream and parmigiano and tossed with fettuccine.

Sweet sausage meat can be crumbled and browned and added to melted butter and cream for a heavier sauce that goes well with any of the convoluted pasta shapes like conchiglie (shells) or farfalle (butterflies) that trap the bits of meat.

For an exceptionally light sauce, butter and cream can be mixed with freshly grated lemon peel and poured over tagliolini, extra fine egg noodles.

Sauces with diced vegetables also abound — eggplant chunks combined with tomatoes and olive oil, or cream, butter and bits of cooked artichoke simmered just until they bind together.

Seafood sauces — olive oil, garlic, baby Mediterranean clams and hot red peppers or briefly sauteed scallops with parsley and olive oil — go best with thin spaghetti so they are not overpowered by their pasta base.

About the only sauce not to be found in Italy is that old American standby, spaghetti and meatballs. Pasta in Italy is always served as a separate course, before the meat and vegetables.

To make an authentic Italian tomato and basil sauce, combine one 14-oz can Italian peeled plum tomatoes in a saucepan with two minced garlic cloves, one teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup of good quality olive oil, several grindings of fresh black pepper and a generous handful of chopped fresh basil. Turn heat to medium high and let sauce bubble at a lively rate for 15 minutes. Best on spaghetti or spaghetti.

Do not add sugar to sauce. Do not substitute dried basil for fresh. Grated cheese is not usually served with this sauce.

Fluffy Omelette

When everyone — including the cook — arrives home just in time for dinner, that's the time to serve a Golden Fluffy Omelette. Puffy with stiffly beaten egg whites, the baked omelette is filled with smooth and easy melting pasteurized process cheese spread and crumbled bacon.

- GOLDEN FLUFFY OMELETTE
- 6 eggs, separated
  - 2 tablespoons milk
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 cup green onion slices
  - 2 tablespoons Parkay margarine
  - 1/4 lb. pasteurized process cheese spread, sliced
  - 3 crisply cooked bacon slices, crumbled

Combine egg yolks, milk and salt; beat until thick and lemon colored. Stir in onion. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Melt margarine in 10-inch oven proof skillet over low heat. Add egg mixture. Cook over low heat 10-12 minutes or until underside is golden brown. Bake at 325°, 10-15 minutes or until top is firm. Place half of process cheese spread on half of omelette. Top with bacon; continue baking until process cheese spread begins to melt. Remove from oven; make deep crease across center. Slip turner underneath; flip skillet to loosen and gently fold in half. Slide onto serving plate and top with remaining process cheese spread.

Sparkling Desserts Add Festive Finale

The holiday season brings forth the best of times to celebrate with family and friends. Seeing and visiting friends and family often means baking special holiday desserts, either to serve when entertaining or for gifts with a personal touch.

Add a little extra sparkle to a meal by serving liqueurs and cognac and cooking with them to create signature holiday desserts. Tia Maria Jamaican Banana Bread is exotic and an easily made Christmas gift. End an evening with panache and serve an elegant French Silk Chocolate Pie whose rich chocolate flavor is enhanced by Courvoisier cognac. Create a special holiday gift and make cookies brushed with Drambule icing.

TIA MARIA JAMAICAN BANANA BREAD
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1/2 cup brown sugar

2 ripe bananas, mashed (about 1 cup)
1/4 cup Tia Maria
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
3 tablespoons Tia Maria
In mixing bowl combine flour, baking powder, salt and baking soda; set aside.
In small mixing bowl cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Stir in Tia Maria. Add flour mixture and bananas alternately. Beat until smooth. Fold in nuts.

Pour into greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350° F. for 45-50 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on wire rack.
Meanwhile, beat cream cheese with Tia Maria until light and fluffy. Serve with Banana Bread. Makes 1 loaf.

DRAMBUIE PECAN ROUNDS

3/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
3/2 cup sugar
1 egg
6 tablespoons Drambule
2 1/4 cups flour
1 cup confectioners' sugar
pecan or walnut halves
In mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Beat in egg and 3 tablespoons Drambule. Slowly add flour; mix well. Shape dough into a 12-inch log. Wrap dough in plastic wrap and chill for 1 hour or until firm.
Cut dough into 1/4-inch-thick slices. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake at 350° F. for 10-12 minutes or until golden brown. Cool on wire rack.
Meanwhile, in small bowl combine confectioners' sugar and remaining 3 tablespoons of Drambule. Decorate cookies with icing. Garnish cookie with a pecan half.
Makes 4 dozen cookies.

4 egg yolks
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup Courvoisier
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons Courvoisier chocolate shavings
In medium saucepan combine half & half, cornstarch and sugar. Stir until well blended. Add chocolate and cook over low heat, stirring continuously until chocolate is melted and mixture comes to a boil. Stir 1 cup of hot mixture into yolks; return to pan. Cook and stir 1 minute. Remove from heat and stir in Courvoisier and vanilla. Pour into prepared pie crust. Chill 4 hours.
Whip cream with 2 tablespoons Courvoisier until fluffy. Spread over top of pie. Garnish with chocolate shavings.
