

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Informal Reception

A delightfully informal reception was tendered the delegates to the Episcopal missionary meetings and parishioners and friends of the Holy Cross church, last evening, at the Parish House by the members of the St. Agnes Guild. The hall was prettily decorated in yellow and green. The punch table was very attractive with quantities of white star jessamine, the bowl being surrounded by crystal candlesticks, from which beamed the glow of yellow candles. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. Archie Betts and Miss Josie Stumon.

Serving were the young ladies of the Guild.

A large crowd of friends were present.

Among the visiting delegates were Father Little of Orlando, Dr. Litch of Winter Park and Misses Bertha Dawson and Carrie Days of Orlando.

Father Little has charge of the colored work in Orlando and is wonderfully successful.

Apron Shower

The apron shower given at the home of Mrs. S. G. Kennedy, under the auspices of the Baptist Aid Society Thursday afternoon was a splendid success from every standpoint. The house was crowded with members and friends of the society who enjoyed the gracious hospitality of Mrs. Kennedy, each one bringing an apron. After the guests were assembled Miss Rummage (Miss Martha Fox) was introduced. She apologized for being late and stated that her tardiness was due to having to rummage for a pair of gloves, which when found were too small. Miss Rummage was gowned in the non-descript wearing apparel one expects to find at a rummage sale, in behalf of which the aprons were presented. A basket containing probably fifty aprons was presented Miss Rummage, who when unfolding the packages found a few pretty fancy aprons that she disdainfully tossed aside saying that she would give them to Miss Apron Sale. A delightful program of music and song was rendered by the following ladies: Miss Edith Stewart, vocal solo; Miss Ruby Betts, piano number; Mrs. Ernest Betts, vocal solo; Mrs. Geo. Hyman, piano number. In the flower guessing contest Mrs. Ernest Betts made the highest score. The house was decorated with quantities of yellow cosmos.

Katz Party

Mrs. J. T. Brady entertained with a charming evening party on Wednesday, in honor of the Katz Club. The club colors of black and yellow were artistically used in the decorations, with numerous little black cats chasing each other up and down the window draperies and walls, making a unique combination of cats and colors that was very attractive. The tables were very pretty with their handsome appointments, centered by vases of yellow flowers. Graceful sprays of the pink vine trailed over the white covers. The place cards for the ladies were little cardboard black cats. Upon the plain white place cards, for the gentlemen original verses reyhming with the club nickname of each one, when read, brought forth waves of laughter. A tempting salad course was served. In the amusing cat puzzle contest Miss Helen Rowland won the prize of a black toy cat. Mr. Roy Chittenden won a pretty tie. Music and dancing made the hours fly on winged feet. Mrs. Brady's guests were Misses Adelaide, Anne and Lillian Higgins, Charlotte Hand, Essie Purdon, Helen Rowland, Gladys Morris, Anna McLaughlin, Muriel Harrold, Mrs. McDaniel and Mrs. Geo. Fox; Messrs. Karl Roumillat, Ralph Wight, Roy and Joe Chittenden, Osborne Herndon, Ernest Housholder, George Grovenstein and Pope Wicker.

Straw Ride

Last night a jolly party of young people, chaperoned by Mrs. Wm. McKinnon enjoyed a straw ride to the Swartz place on Lake Onoro. The party assembled at the home of Mrs. J. N. Whitner early in the evening, with their boxes of bunch, the most important adjunct to a good time, and the happy crowd did not enjoy a good time, for the pleasing combination of young people and plenty of "eats," on a lake shore by moonlight was irresistible. Enjoying the pleasures of the ride were Mrs. McKinnon, Misses Lucy Whitner, Alice Whitner, Annie Whitner, Essie Purdon, Charlotte Hand, Helen Rowland; Messrs. Geo. Grovenstein, Seth Woodruff, Osborne Herndon, Karl Roumillat, Ned Chittenden and Howard Swartz.

The month of November is filled with splendid opportunities for pleasure and profit along various lines.

On the evening of Nov. 10th the civic committee of the Welfare Department will present a play at the Imperial, replete with interesting and amusing features, that promises an evening of pleasure and success.

Nov. 13th, under the auspices of the Red Cross Fund Association, Forrest Dabney Carr and other artists will be heard at the Congregational church. A rare treat is in store for all music lovers.

At the regular meeting of the Welfare Department Nov. 18th, Dr. T. A. Neal will address the meeting on the subject of "Health." All members of the Woman's Club and their friends are cordially invited to come and enjoy themselves. After the program a social hour will be enjoyed.

A plant sale will be held Nov. 22nd, under the auspices of the Civic Committee of the Welfare Department.

On the night of November 27 the City Beautiful Ball will be held at the Sanford House. This will be a brilliant event of the winter.

Junior Civic League

An unusually interesting meeting of the Junior Civic League was held at the Woman's Club rooms Monday afternoon, with a fine attendance. Reports were made from the Boys and Junior Citizens showing a splendid activity that is most gratifying. The treasurer reported $75.00 in bank. An excellent report was made by the committee on the sale of seed and on the sale of plants, showing a cooperation of the townspeople for a City Beautiful that is most gratifying. May Thrasher was elected treasurer, vice Roby Laing resigned. Mrs. Henry Wight gave a brief outline for the plans for a playground at the Grammar School Park, stating that it had been given by the city for that purpose. At the close of the business period Mrs. J. N. Whitner gave a most interesting talk to the children on the early history of Sanford, that was listened to by the little folks with earnest attention. Mrs. Whitner handles her subject with a knowledge and ease that makes it a great pleasure to hear her. Having lived here practically all of her life she is well qualified to present the history of Sanford in a most pleasing manner to these young people. This is the first of a series of talks on the history of the town that will be given before the Junior Civic League.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HELD GOOD MEETING

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IN THE WORK OF THE WINTER SEASON

The Commercial Club held one of the most enthusiastic and interesting meetings of the season in the city hall last Friday night. President Lake was called out of the city suddenly and could not be present and Vice President G. W. Spencer presided with his usual graceful style and cordial manner.

The meeting had no special matters to take up, except the reports of the various committees and the plan of the Seminole County Fair, and in the latter the chair appointed Messrs. Walker, Runge and Rines to the committee to represent the Commercial Club. They will also represent the whole committee that has in charge of the Seminole County Fair and also the exhibit to take to Orlando.

The reports of various committees were read and all of them showed progress and great results will accrue from their good work.

Regarding the matter of having a type plant factory in Sanford and especially to assist the present manufacturing plant in Sanford, the committee reported that they had secured a committee of Messrs. W. H. Hays, Walter and R. J. Hall. This committee also has secured a committee of the city and county and it is also certain that through their efforts a plant will be started in the near future. This committee is waiting for the city to meet at any hour of the day or night in the Hotel.

Suggestion for Beautiful Sanford

The question was asked, Why do you not plant some seed and grow some flowers in your yard? And the answer came, Why should I go to the expense and work of sowing up at my own home?

I respectfully tender the suggestion that each person living in a rented house in this our beautiful city go to work and plant a few flowers, ferns, plants or whatever may strike his fancy in the yard of his or her rented house. It is naturally supposed that the renter does not contemplate moving this or next month, so why should he not have the pleasure of seeing his seeds mature?

Birthday Party

In honor of the seventh birthday of their little son, Deane, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Turner entertained Saturday afternoon with a beautiful birthday party. The afternoon was spent in playing games upon the lawn until the "party" was served. As the first notes of the march played by Mrs. Claude Herndon were heard the little folks formed in line, marching in couples, led by Deane and Margaret Peters. Refreshments were served in the dining room, which was lovely in its decorations of green and red, aglow with the lights of myriad candles. The hon-ors and confections were in red roses at each place. The large white birthday cake, encircled by a wreath of red roses and adorned with seven red candles, each representing a year of the young host, was in the center and at opposite ends of the table pretty baskets held red hibiscus and ferns. At each place burned a candle, completing an effect that was most artistic. A myriad of red apples upon sewing table was surrounded by ferns and red roses and candles, while upon the mantel, seven candles burned in honor of the event.

Twenty-one little guests gathered around the dining table and eight at each of the two smaller tables, quite as pretty and attractive as the larger table. Delicious cake and cream were served and as the little guests marched from their places they were presented with a big red apple. The afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all and the popular little host was the recipient of many nice presents. Those who were present were: Margaret and Jane Ewers, Olive and Pattie Kenyon, Beatrice and Bud Howard, Jean Maxwell, Elmer Ford, Margaret New Canada and Mary Elizabeth Pulston, Olive Newman, Florence and Helen Witt, Claude Herndon, Catherine Symes, Joe Mosch, Charlotte and Frank Smith, Willie Childs, Howard Miller, Leonard M. Lewis, Evelyn Rogers, Maud Lasse, Elizabeth Warner, Frank Chase, Thomas Wight, Paul O'Connor, Rebecca, Georgia Moore, Vera and Dixie, Tom Eggen, Tom Emerson, Leslie Hill, Margaret Miller, Joe Caldwell and Myerson Spaul.

Assisting Mrs. Turner were Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mrs. W. H. Peters, Miss Martha Fox and Miss Agnes Kenyon.

The following notice of the wedding of Mr. Paul Keller Weaver and Mrs. Joe Berta Bryan at Kissimmee Wednesday, Nov. 4 appeared in the Times-Union. Mr. Weaver has many friends in Sanford, where he spent his boyhood days, to wish him and his charming bride bon voyage on the sea of matrimony.

Kissimmee, Nov. 4 Miss Joe Berta Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Bryan of this city, one of the most prominent families of the state and Paul K. Weaver, cashier of the Citizens' Bank of Kissimmee were married here this evening at 7 o'clock, at the Baptist church. Rev. Bunyan Stephens of Ocala performing the ceremony. The nuptials were elaborate in every respect.

The bride is one of the most charming and delightful young women of the city. She is related to United States Senator Nathan P. Bryan and her father is representative elect to the state legislature and immediately connected with the big business interests of the community.

Mr. Weaver, as cashier of the Citizens Bank is one of the most popular young business men of the county. Both of the young people have hosts of friends here and are very popular in the city's social life. Scores of invitations were sent out for the wedding and the church was crowded during the ceremony.

The rooms of the building were extensively decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. The marriage ceremony of the Episcopal church was used. The bride entered alone and was met at the altar by the bridegroom. She was gowned in white satin with real point lace and pearl trimmings and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and orange blossoms. Mrs. Arthur G. Webb of Tampa, daughter of L. L. Buchanan of that city was the matron of honor, while Miss Marie Huddleston of this city acted as maid of honor. Little Misses Jeanette Graves and Wilhelm Caron were the flower girls. Mr. Pat Johnson of this city was best man. Mrs. Webb was gowned in white and orange blossoms. Miss Huddleston was gowned in white crepe de chine with accordion pleated chiffon overdress.

Solos were sung by Misses Mary Carlson and Alma Griffin before the ceremony and a chorus of thirty young girls rendered the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as the bridal procession marched to the altar. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents for the wedding party composed of the bridal couple, Mrs. Webb, Miss Huddleston, Miss Carson, Miss Graves, Messrs. Edgar Katz, Pat Johnson, Everett Roberts, T. S. Oliver, the bride's parents and intimate friends.

The couple left the same evening by automobile on a honeymoon trip that will be extended by train to Lafayette, Ind., where they will visit the bridegroom's parents and later other relatives in Chicago and Indianapolis. They will make their future home on Mahette street in this city after the Christmas holidays.

Fancy Work Club

The members of the Fancy Work Club were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Easterly Thursday afternoon. The hours passed in pleasant social intercourse, while the busy fingers flew in and out in the intricacies of the various bits of fancy work so much in vogue. A dainty salad course was served and the afternoon enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Easterly's guests were: Misses H. H. Hill, A. H. Hill, J. S. Davis, W. W. Long, C. C. Woodruff, N. H. Garner, Ruth Garner, W. F. Long, Roberts, Minter, DuBois, Purdon and Mrs. Ed. Higgins. The new name proposed for the fancy work club is the Florida Club, which will doubtless be adopted.

Breakfast Party

One of the most delightful social events of last week was the breakfast party given by Mrs. M. H. Baker, Tuesday morning, in honor of Mrs. A. A. Frazier, president of the department for the Florida Club. The breakfast was served at 10 o'clock. As the guests were seated, platters and dishes attractively garnished with fruit, were passed. A shining table, centered by a basket of yellow almonds, the table was very lovely. Expressing the hospitality of Mrs. Baker, besides the homely were Messrs. J. O. Deane, C. C. Woodruff, J. S. Davis, W. W. Long, N. H. Garner, Ruth Garner, W. F. Long, Roberts, Minter, DuBois, Purdon and Mrs. Ed. Higgins. The new name proposed for the fancy work club is the Florida Club, which will doubtless be adopted.

Social Dept. Dancing School

The dancing school opened under the auspices of the Social Dept. of the Woman's Club is meeting with the most enthusiastic encouragement, for the rooms have been so full that another night for teaching has been set apart, making three evenings, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, each week for adults, and Saturday afternoon for the children. The object of the dancing class is to assist in raising funds for the club building. Miss Belle Smith, instructor, is taking private lessons in all the new dances from a noted professor, which added to her present ability for teaching will make her one of the most desirable, up to date teachers of modern dances.

Announcements

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club will meet Wednesday afternoon at half past two o'clock at the club rooms on Oak avenue.

Mrs. J. K. Johnson was hostess to an unusually large gathering of rose-makers last Thursday afternoon. The meeting this week, on Thursday at 3:30 p. m. will be at the home of Mrs. W. P. Carter on West First street.

The Ladies' Union of the Congregational church will hold a rummage-sale in the Lottler Block every Saturday during November, beginning Saturday of this week.

Coming Events

Tonight at the Imperial a cast of local talent will present the popular drama, "Out of the Cold." The promises to be a splendid success, if judged by the advance sale of seats and the final rehearsal.

The next attraction will be the Red Cross Recital, featured by Dabney Carr at the Congregational church Friday evening, Nov. 13th. Prof. Carr and the artists who accompany him need no introduction to Sanford's musical circles, for their fame has preceded them. Miss Lucile Aspinwall, who is one of Sanford's favorite singers is always greeted with a good audience. There is every reason to believe that the church will be filled to its capacity Friday night.

Nov. 15 Dr. J. A. Neal will give a lecture before the Woman's Club on the "Welfare Department in the interest of Health." All members of the club are invited to attend and bring a friend. A discussion on "The Enforcement of the City Health Ordinances" and "Women's Responsibilities" will follow. Dr. Neal's paper, after which a social hour will be enjoyed.

Nov. 20 The first Beautiful Ball under the auspices of the Woman's Club will be given at the Sanford House that evening. It is one of the most brilliant events of the season. Old and new dances on the program.

On the 17th a delightful informal affair that was greatly enjoyed by all present was the giving of a supper Monday night at which Mrs. C. C. Deane was the hostess. The guests were: Mrs. J. O. Deane, Mrs. J. K. Johnson, Mrs. W. P. Carter, Mrs. M. H. Baker, Mrs. A. A. Frazier, Mrs. J. S. Davis, Mrs. W. W. Long, Mrs. N. H. Garner, Mrs. Ruth Garner, Mrs. W. F. Long, Mrs. Roberts, Mrs. Minter, Mrs. DuBois, Mrs. Purdon and Mrs. Ed. Higgins.

Personal Mention Mrs. J. D. Gravin is in Jacksonville for a week's visit with relatives.

LEAD THE BOER REVOLT.

De Wet and Beyers Prominent Figures in South Africa's Recent History.

General Christian De Wet, leader of the new revolt of Boers in South Africa against British rule, was one of the greatest leaders of the Boer war as commander in chief of the Orange Free State forces and the assistant of General Cronje in the taking of Ladysmith after which he was placed in full command.

In the latter days of the war he caused the British army much embarrassment because of the tactics by which he made vain for a long time the pursuit of his remnant of an army by fully twenty British columns. At the Vereeniging peace conference he was one of the signatories, and in the union government that followed he accepted the office of minister of agriculture.

Brigadier General Christian Frederick Beyers has been an openly bitter in the present matter as General De Wet. He made a demonstration of his opposition to the British plan for conquering German Southwest Africa by resigning his office as commandant of the forces of defense last September, and in his letter to General Smuts, minister of defense of the South African Union, wrote that he could not be convinced of the righteousness of a war against Germany.

General Beyers was chairman of the Vereeniging peace conference, when the Boers swore allegiance to Great Britain.

A BIG LEAGUE PLAYER HERE

AN OLD-TIMER IN PROFESSIONAL RANKS MOVES TO SANFORD

Mr. J. M. Hill, a professional baseball player, has moved to Sanford, Fla., and will play for the Sanford team in the big league. He has played in all three positions in the big league. He was manager and second base of the San Antonio team during the season of 1907. Since 1905 he has umpired for all of the big league players there came a time when his days as a player were numbered and age began to tell upon him.

Knowing the game like all of the professional players he naturally drifted to the position of umpire in different leagues of the United States. For the past two years he has umpired in the Union Association, the league of the great northwest and the league that has given big teams support in that section.

Mr. Hill, having had a much of the game, decided to make his home in Sanford, Fla., where he and his wife and children happily chose Sanford for his winter quarters. Being thoroughly familiar with the cleaning, dyeing and pressing trade and he wife, who is a native color, Mr. Hill has decided to open a business in Sanford, Fla., during the winter months.

THE CAP THAT FITS

Wanted. A nice assortment of impersonal topics for editorial discussion at the Metropolis office.

The last must be compiled by someone who has taken a census of the city and ascertained the certain absence of any whom the discussion might offend, and must include only such topics as could have no possible bearing upon local conditions or tread upon the toes of local citizens.

The Metropolis is forced to advertise for this assistance because of a series of nerve-racking experiences through which it has just gone. Something like a dozen editorials within the last few weeks, indignant protests have come from Metropolis readers who insist that we meant them—one man declares that we do nothing but publish criticisms of him and four Miami women living widely separated lives say we just have to stop talking about their daughters in "Don't do it, girls" editorials.

We are so worried and so sorry, when all in the world we were attempting was an abstract discussion of things and conditions and people in Kamchatka!

We spoke about the possibility of Miami merchants who praise us for urging Miamians to patronize home industries, buying their personal supplies from the local stores, and we stirred up a hornet's nest. Several merchants were told as a result that we were "not to be advised" in advertising with The Metropolis, and we don't stop being so personal.

We spoke of individuals who put an offer on the table for the State of Florida, and we were told that we were "not to be advised" in advertising with The Metropolis, and we don't stop being so personal.

And two editorials, in which we specifically said that Miami girls were less to be criticized for unseemly dressing than were other girls, and we were told that we were "not to be advised" in advertising with The Metropolis, and we don't stop being so personal.

It is all very nice, but it is a waste at our wits ends for editorial themes that cannot possibly be construed as applying to folks in Miami. In fact we are moved to say right here that henceforth any reference to unsavory young men, or to inappropriately clad young women, or to folks who do not practice their Sunday religion all the week, or to business men who are not personally assisting in boosting home industries, or to venal public officials, or to corrupt politicians, or to crookedness in any department of government or social life is not to be taken as an "abuse" for any one to sit on his own foot. And to any one who thinks that he is "meant" by the Metropolis we humbly apologize.

No; we don't apologize eyether. If the cap fits, darn you, wear it.—Miami Metropolis.

TRIBUTE TO TEMPLE

The following tribute is paid to W. C. Temple by the Florida Growers:

I note with regret the passing from the field of citrus endeavor one of the brightest minds ever connected with the industry. I refer to W. C. Temple of Winter Park who has sold most of his citrus holdings and who is now offering his home and grove for sale. Mr. Temple has been a leader in whatever line of endeavor his talents have called him, and as a retired business man he came to Florida to grow citrus fruit. Mr. Temple was one of the first to recognize the value of careful packing and a handsome pack and he built with his own money a home at Winter Park that was all over Florida called "The Citrus family." The proof that he was not wrong came so quickly that Mr. Temple became one of the most widely known citrus men in the state has ever known. When the party of Florida men delegated to go to California to inspect California methods of packing was made up of Mr. Temple and others, it came home as did the others, with the firm determination to organize a selling agency for Florida patterned after the California organization, and was of course one of the leaders who brought it about. Mr. Temple was at first a director to the Exchange from Orange county but after the first year of the existence of the Exchange, the call to have him serve as manager became so insistent that he yielded against his inclination, gave up his comfortable home at Winter Park to live in a Tampa flat, and for three years put his brain into building up the organization. There are many to say that his fighting methods were not the proper ones but it is my opinion that they were needed at the time and I was one of those who backed Mr. Temple to the limit of my ability in this work. I believe that Mr. Temple should be given credit for much of the upbuilding of the Florida Citrus Exchange and the cause of cooperation and his fight against the shipment of green fruit will go down into history and while there may be some to claim that he did not succeed in his efforts I can only point to the auction reports of the past few weeks; they tell the tale; they show that not only consumer but jobbers do not care for green and immature fruit.

MORE TRUTH THAN JOKE

There is something more than a joke in these lines in F. P. A.'s "Conning Tower" in the New York Tribune. "Don't be a joker. Buy a bale of radium and help Colorado Or, buy a bale of advertising space and help the newspaper." says the editorial.

It is to be regretted that business depression has hit most of the newspapers. And this is the time when the newspapers have been put to enormous expense in advertising space to get their circulation up and to get their advertising rates up. It is to be regretted that business depression has hit most of the newspapers. And this is the time when the newspapers have been put to enormous expense in advertising space to get their circulation up and to get their advertising rates up.

EXTRAVAGANCE

To have diverted temporarily $5,000,000 to insure American ships and American cargoes against the risks of war, is that extravagance? To have massed our troops on the Mexican border, to have occupied Vera Cruz, to have assumed the expense of rescuing Americans in Mexico—this at a cost of $8,000,000—is that extravagance? To have used $8,000,000 to prevent a Mexican war of intervention at a cost of $400,000,000, is that extravagance? To have given the increased appropriation to handle the vastly increased business of the Post Office Department—a business which includes a new service of vast proportions and infinite benefit to the people, and which is a paying business now—is this extravagance?

The truth is that the Democratic appropriations throughout represent the use of the people's money to advance the public interest—a policy which the Republicans quite consistently oppose. Will the truth or the lies win?

CREDIT FLETCHER

To Senator Fletcher can be given credit for his incessant labor in having belligerent nations take the ban off cotton and naval stores. Now that he has succeeded in having Great Britain declare naval stores non contraband our local "turp" men can breathe easier for turpentine and rosin ought to bring living prices again.

AVAILABLE ASSET

Suggested by Editor Willis R. Powell of the Clearwater Sun, the newspapers of Florida recently observed a "Newspaper Day," which they devoted to publications concerning what Florida is achieving and what it has to offer visitors and tourists. A number of papers issued enlarged editions, and Florida was given a vast amount of effective advertising that will benefit practically every business interest in the state.

The newspapers, save the advertising free of cost. They gave freely of their space their stock in trade. Yes, they will benefit from it along with other business institutions, but they paid the whole bill of costs. We have a very high regard and admiration for the newspapers of Florida not only because they are enterprising, live newspapers, but also because at all times they measure up so fully and more in matters pertaining to the well being and up building of the Florida interests of their state. Florida possesses wonderful resources, but it has no asset that is more valuable than its newspapers.—Industrial Index, Columbus, Ga.

OFFICIAL RESPONSIBILITY

BY STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Some platitudes are worth repeating once in a while, just as reminders. Here's one: Good health is the most important asset of a community. It is the foundation upon which all other progress is built. It is the basis of all business and industry. It is the key to the success of any nation.

It is the responsibility of the State Board of Health to see that this asset is protected and that the community is kept in the best of health. This is done by enforcing the laws of health and by educating the people in the principles of good health.

The truth is that the Democratic appropriations throughout represent the use of the people's money to advance the public interest—a policy which the Republicans quite consistently oppose. Will the truth or the lies win?

CREDIT FLETCHER

To Senator Fletcher can be given credit for his incessant labor in having belligerent nations take the ban off cotton and naval stores. Now that he has succeeded in having Great Britain declare naval stores non contraband our local "turp" men can breathe easier for turpentine and rosin ought to bring living prices again.

NEWS OF THE PRINTERS

THE BIG MEETING IN SANFORD SHOULD BE WELL ATTENDED
BY ARTHUR GREEN, OF ANTITAM PAPER CO.

One of the interesting events for printers and publishers was the recent meeting of the South Florida Press Association at Kissimmee, Fla. The association was most royally entertained by the editors of The Osceola Journal, The Valley Gazette, St. Cloud Tribune, the Board of Trade of Kissimmee and the Ladies' Improvement Club of St. Cloud.

Many subjects of general interest were discussed, and the question of holding a meeting at Sanford was discussed. It was decided that a meeting should be held at Sanford in the near future.

It is an old adage that the tailor goes coatless, the shoemaker barefooted, and it is undisputed that the majority of publishers advertise everything and everybody but themselves. They should "boot their horn" for sell in their own space as Rube Alyn of the Sarasota Sun did a few weeks since in a full page ad in which he enumerated the many things the local publisher of weekly papers published for the upbuilding of the locality and all gratis.

The use of lime as binding material for mortar originated in the remote past. It is probable that some savages when using limestone rocks to confine their fire noticed that the stones were changed by the action of the heat. A passing shower may have slaked the lime to a paste, and they discovered that the paste was smooth and sticky and was a better material than clay to fill the crevices in their crude dwellings. From this discovery it was but a step to add sand to the paste in order to produce a mortar.

Cultivate a spirit of love. Love is the diamond amongst the jewels of the believer's breastplate. The other graces shine like the precious stones of nature, with their own peculiar luster, and various hues; now in white all the colors are united, so in love is centered every other grace and virtue; love is the fastidying of the law.—Rowland Hill.

INMATES REFORM IN JERSEY PRISON

They Are Successfully Taught to Govern Themselves.

FEW VIOLATIONS OF RULES.

Rahway Reformatory Now Known Throughout Country as "The University of Another Chance"—Prisoners Look After Themselves Better Than Host of Guards.

New Jersey's reformatory at Rahway is not called by its official title by its inmates and former inmates. They have adopted for the institution the name which Dr. Frank Moore, superintendent when he assumed charge as superintendent and endeavored to do his best for the reforming of his nearly 1,000 charges. It is known throughout the United States as "The University of Another Chance." Dr. Moore cares more for results than for red tape. He has personally studied the needs and shortcomings of each of his thousand wards, he has led them to studying themselves. He holds and tells the reformatory inmates that his business is not to reform the bad in them, but to find the good and cultivate it. Dr. Moore is a student of the bloodless philosophy. He has been practical and being practical he did not attempt to reform the reformatory methods at all. The process has been gradual. The inmates of the Rahway reformatory are now of a different way. Two years ago there were reported to the superintendent 1,588 infractions of the rules.

Offered Self Government.
Dr. Moore broached his self government scheme to the inmates. He told them that it rested entirely with them to advise whether they were dignified by having a say in the government of the reformatory. He reported that the number of infractions of the rules was 2,002 less than during the previous year. The older inmates, who were working for the privilege of being treated like citizens, were seldom reported, and they did much to tame the new inmates who were inclined to be obstreperous. Dr. Moore called the inmates together and told them that the time had come when it was going to grant them autonomy. He outlined his plan, which was to have a number of inmates judged and punished for them meted out by a council of prisoners elected by their fellows.

On July 12 of this year each of the fourteen then elected two councilmen to represent it. Each Tuesday and Friday the council meets to act upon reports of misbehavior by inmates. The council has a president, who is presiding judge, and a secretary, who is clerk of the court. Prisoners are produced before the council and faced by their accusers, who are their fellow inmates or councilmen from their tier, and they are given an opportunity to cross examine witnesses and testify in their own defense. If the accused is found guilty he is sentenced to the loss of some privilege.

The decision of the council is final. It is not subject to approval by the superintendent or any officer of the institution, and none of the officers is permitted any voice in its deliberations. If a councilman misbehaves and becomes amenable for a serious breach of discipline he is tried by his fellow councilmen. If a councilman is ousted for cause an election to select his successor is immediately held on his tier. Never has the decision of the council failed to meet with the approval of the prisoners.

Rules Governing Council.
Here are some of the governing rules of the council:
To do all in our power to stop the use of profane language among the inmates.
To try to ascertain the number of any inmate guilty of stealing articles from the room of another inmate and submit his name to the council for action.
To try to do away with all disorder in the dining room, especially eating and loud talking, and to keep perfect order.
To try to have the inmates take a pride in their general behavior and in that way reduce the number of reports against the inmates of the institution.
To try to instill a better fellowship and spirit among the inmates. To try to lead them from the habit of doing things for which they are liable to be reported into the habit of doing things that are manly and clean.
The council shall take a lively interest

In all amusements for the benefit of the inmates on holidays and other times. To try to arrange to give shows from time to time, especially on holidays.
Councilmen will ask the inmates from time to time for the betterment of the inmates of the institution.

Dr. Moore says that the prisoners govern themselves better than a host of guards could govern them. The honor roll has grown under autonomy in the state reformatory, and the delinquent roll has decreased correspondingly.

Fireless Locomotive.

For use in one of its depots for explosives, the British government has had a fireless locomotive built. It has a reservoir partly filled with water and is charged with high pressure steam from a boiler placed outside the danger zone. It can work on one charge of the reservoir for several hours of continuous hauling or for a much longer time on ordinary shunting work. It can stand for twelve hours in the open air with only slight loss of steam and can run back to the charging station under a pressure of only 100 pounds to the square inch.

DOCTOR FINDS WAY TO DISINFECT MAN'S INTERIOR.

Method Kills Intestinal Bacteria With Antiseptic Solution.

J. T. Munster Walker, fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, a chemist of New York city, who is well known to the scientific world as the discoverer of a test for determining the safety of food, has made an important discovery in his laboratory to intestinal disinfection in American Medicine.

If the tests which are being carried out independently by several physicians are successful, as those already announced, the future treatment of typhoid fever, dysentery, cholera and other diseases arising from the presence of bacteria in the intestinal tract will consist in a large measure of the introduction of an antiseptic solution directly into the alimentary canal by means of a rubber pipe, through which the antiseptic solution is introduced.

The new antiseptic consists of a solution of sodium sulphate to which has been added a quantity of trimethyl methoxy phenol in the form of gelatin emulsion.
"Of past attempts to bring the contents of the alimentary canal under the influence of disinfection," says Dr. Walker, "little need be mentioned here beyond the fact that of the long array of chemical reagents and other substances put forward from time to time in the hope of solving the problem all have failed in one or more respects to fulfill the requirements essential to the successful action of an intestinal disinfectant."

"Recent research has brought to light a chemical product which fills all requirements. This, with the introduction of the 'duodenal enema' of Dr. Ellice McDonald and, at his suggestion, the application of the new product by this method, makes disinfection of the intestinal canal at once possible."

SOME SIDE LIGHTS IN EUROPE'S WAR THAT GOT BY WARY CENSOR

German a French Hero—Foes Joke Between Fights—Belgian Lancer a Superman.

CORRESPONDENTS at the front or marooned in obscure places while the great European conflict rages manage daily to get through the wary censors some little...

Among the wounded men from the fighting on the Yser was a young German with a bloodless, intellectual face...

It Has Humorous Side

Despite the horrors and discomforts of the situation the French and German soldiers who have been facing each other for many weeks in the trenches on the banks of the Aisne occasionally indulge in bursts of pleasantry.

German soldiers in concrete-lined quarries chased toward the French lines a long stream of their necks...

The Frenchmen smiled. A French man said that in the trench trenches there were more than thirty or forty yards from his own trench to the trench of the enemy...

I had my first experience of shell fire on Monday last. One burst particularly struck the trench in front of me...

The conduct of the women and children in these villages is wonderful. Yesterday when I was in the German trenches they were as cool as we were.

The noise of the shells is devilish. It's a long drawn out whistling whine a pause and then bang! The worst is that you hear them coming and do not know when or where they will burst.

In a tramway car from Camberwell to the Elephant and Castle, London, was a wounded soldier, discharged from the new King's College hospital.

"Did you get hurt in the hands, too?" a man asked him. "No," he said and then, breathing on the back of his fingers, rubbed his nails upon the knifelike sleep of his other arm.

"What's the matter with them, then?" his questioner went on. "They look funny to me somehow."

The wounded man spread out his two hands, palms down with the fingers spread wide apart. His finger nails glowed like pink opals.

"You'll have to rough them nails up a bit before you get home," a man in...

French Officer Thrillingly Relates How Two German Aviators Were Killed.

The car told him, for your old woman will be wanting to know what you've been doing in France."

A Super-Belgian

A young Belgian aviator who was promoted in one day from private to sergeant and from sergeant to second lieutenant is remembered in Warps in Cheshire.

The first day that young Bender went out on patrol he was captured and tied up, but he pulled the knots spring on the sentry when the sentry was lighting a cigarette...

Battle in the Air

How a young Belgian aviator was captured and tied up, but he pulled the knots spring on the sentry when the sentry was lighting a cigarette...

The French machine in Lannan flies over the trench. We hear it quick but quiet, and the German machine flies overhead for an hour...

corps have followed the duel and come to see the loser. Then come two young soldiers privates. The general embraces both. They are the victors, who had lunched after their rival had dropped. Every one shakes hands. An old woman, a peasant who lives in a hilly farm and has refused to leave her home to the Germans, gathers a few flowers in a field and brings them to our two heroes.

"You have just earned the Legion of Honor," says the general to the aviators. "You'll get it, count on me!" "A shell screams over our heads; the Germans have started the dance. Every one rushes off. The tragedy ends, and a new one begins."

Mayor Hostage of Germans.

After seven weeks' imprisonment as a hostage in Germany Paul Dieudonne, mayor of Elville, in Lorraine town, gives an account of his experiences to a local newspaper.

Dieudonne was taken from Elville with two other prominent inhabitants by the Germans in early September because the French had an example of hostage taking at Vle and Morhange. He says the captors gave them just time to get a change of clothes and some money.

Through this letter they were lodged in the fortress instead of the open camp which was terribly cold owing to the mountains. The fort was warmed by steam heat and had other conveniences. They were also allowed to buy extra food as long as their money lasted.

Made Payment of Money.

After spending a month at Elm the other things they were told that it was impossible to cross the Swiss frontier without paying a ransom of 100 francs. Dieudonne was forced to contribute to a German collection and found Zuhler, an SS officer, who sent the amount.

When the Germans tried to pay the ransom they found the money had been stolen. They were told to pay the ransom in gold.

I had my first experience of shell fire on Monday last. One burst particularly struck the trench in front of me...

SUPERMAN IN SIBERIA.

Exiles Should Prove or Disprove Theories of Eugenists

Superman, the population, should be tested in the most favorable environment for the purpose of proving or disproving the theories of the eugenists.

As we understand it, these exiles have lived an outdoor life, rigorous perhaps but of the most healthful kind. Consequently we find in Siberia a most unusual combination of intellectual equipment of high quality with physical vigor and excellent health.

The colonization of Siberia by the nation above referred to practically ceased fourteen years ago. There should be now, even in the absence of first-rate schools, a population with most exceptional gifts, veritable supermen if the theories of the eugenists are soundly based.

BEGGAR SCORNS PENNIES.

Southern Negro Will Accept No Alms Less Than a Nickel.

Jackson, Miss., has an aristocratic negro beggar who scorns pennies and declines to accept anything in the coin line that is less than a five-cent piece.

Thinking to do the old negro, who sits next the corner of East Capitol and Congress streets, a favor, the other day a citizen picked up from the sidewalk three pennies that he thought the negro had carelessly dropped.

What was the surprise of the kind hearted citizen to learn from the beggar that little things like pennies he threw away. "Follow that drops into my cup just like a penny is a cheap skate," remarked the seeker of alms.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."
EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH,
"HE'LL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Boost and the town boosts with you Knock and you are on the shelf. For the town gets sick of a man with a kick And wishes he would kick himself.
"Boost when your town is lively, Boost when it is as dead as sin; Full run, So stick to your job and win."

"Boost when you get new citizens, Boost when the game is tame. If you happen to fall don't lie there and howl, But get up and boost again."
"Boost for the town's advancement, Boost on the firing line; For the chap that's found on the topmost round IS THE BOOSTER EVERY TIME."

I do not favor this buy a bale movement a little bit. It is being worked to death and is a detriment to the entire south. Florida of course is not having much to say on the subject as San Island cotton is bringing a good price but the short staple people should sit on the lid except in cases where they are actually in need of the necessities of life. Buying a bale of cotton may help some but the wide advertising will eventually give the cotton states a black eye and it will take them some time to recover from it. But in the long run it may do them good and prevent so many growers from planting cotton diversifying their crops and making money every year. I have seen many other cities markets always want. Instead of buying a bale of cotton the people might start a campaign for making the tails of right shirts longer. This in itself would use up thousands of pounds of cotton and keep the mills running over time.

The training of the brains of the A. C. I. seems to me to be an excellent thing for the town as when the time comes for the next big out-migration I noted the want of work some time ago and know that he was working all night for several nights besides attending to his regular office routine and all of that without any other helper. He seems to be a young man and hardworking by work and rose I believe from the ranks. There is a great deal of your town. He goes to the office of trouble and finds and the leading public is often casated in many ways by his thoughtfulness and endeavor to give service. I do not know him but he looks like a Georgia Cracker to me and this probably accounts for his efficiency and ability to do things.

The following from the Miami Metropolis is food for reflection. Some weeks ago the Metropolis addressed an editorial to the girls of Miami, a friendly preachment on the foolishness of school girls and girls who are young enough to be in school wearing bizarre clothes. We were aware, of course, that the girls of Miami are in no way an exception to girls all over the country, in the matter of inappropriate dress—in fact we think the girls of Miami show considerably better taste than the girls of other places—and we were interested in noticing that the Metropolis editorial, "Don't Do It, Girls," was republished in many other newspapers.

The truth is that the editorial said some things that should be said often, and we have been wondering if girls are aware that the very people whom they fancy they are charming are criticising them in a way that would grieve them deeply, if they knew it. Only yesterday, for instance, a handsome young fellow—a Miami boy who is deservedly popular with all who know him—brought a marked copy of a newspaper to the Metropolis office and asked if the article would not make a worth-while one to discuss. We think it is worth more than a discussion and give it here in its entirety, simply because it shows a side to a question that is worth considering.

The story originated in the Manchester Journal, and might almost be a true account of a happening in Miami:

A young lady, her cheeks flushed with indignation and her eyes flashing fire, burst in upon her parents and demanded in no uncertain tones that papa immediately go and lick or his business. I merely was guided by his sign. The man who had costed you is a stranger here, and daughter as I said before. I have studied you and your ways."

The man who wants a nice comfortable living the rest of his life could do no better thing than to build a nice apartment house in Sanford right now. There has never been a time in the past five years that Sanford was able to take care of the people who want apartments in Sanford winter and summer. The average man with a small family or no family does not want a house to be comfortable. All his needs is about three or four rooms nicely arranged for light house-keeping. And bath—great Heaven give the people a bathroom. Honestly, it is awful the many calls for rooms with bath in this city. An apartment house here well furnished or even with part of it furnished will do a land office business and I certainly hope that some enterprising citizen will hark to the call and build one at once. Then there has not been a better time in years for building than right now. Material can be bought at a close price and labor is plentiful at a reasonable wage, while the builders are glad to make overhead expenses instead of a big profit. When the war in Europe begins to wane, or is over, all these things will be different, and you will have to pay for the difference. In addition to the money you will save there is also the fact that you are helping to keep the "wolf" from somebody's door while everything is at such a satisfactory condition.

If every man who reads this and every woman, too, would make it his or her business, the next hour he or she has, to look around the home premises and see how they could be fixed up to look better it would be a great thing for the town. It might not induce people to do any more than take up the gauntlet that is being thrown. It would be a great help, too. If you are taking up the gauntlet, as you would find there is a good board in that direction. The pocket on the fence, that the stranger of the porch has signed or that the front steps need painting or that the front door needs painting or that the house is a complete job of painting would see that those repairs were made. Perhaps you are not so busy that you have no time to do them. If you are like the people of this town, I do not know that you

The postoffice at Sanford seems to be in the line of light gain and the day after the election there were some people who were not interested in them. Petitions are not the expressions of the people and while I have but little interest in the outcome and only want a good man in the office I think that the patrons of the office should express their opinion at the polls and the question of the postmaster where there are so many candidates as Sanford promises should be determined by a primary election. The patrons of the office have some voice in the matter and in the petition where the same people sign all the papers there is really no expression given. Only a Democrat would be eligible to make the race for postmaster but all patrons of the office could exercise their prerogatives in the matter. The sooner the postoffices are taken out of politics the sooner the patrons can get efficient service. This of course is one man's opinion but as time goes on the majority of the patrons will feel the same way about it. Every Democrat in the Sanford district is entitled to make the race for postmaster and in a primary he would have an equal show for the place. This is Democratic and cannot be ignored, for it is the voice of the people.

Man named Lively is tearing down some of the old landmarks around Tallahassee and building new stores. He should have a vote of thanks for having such a name in Tallahassee.

The Seminole county fair will be a reality in a few weeks and the committees will get down to work. Every man in the county should get behind this project and boost. The ladies can always be depended upon and we need not call them forward.

They have already signified their willingness to help.

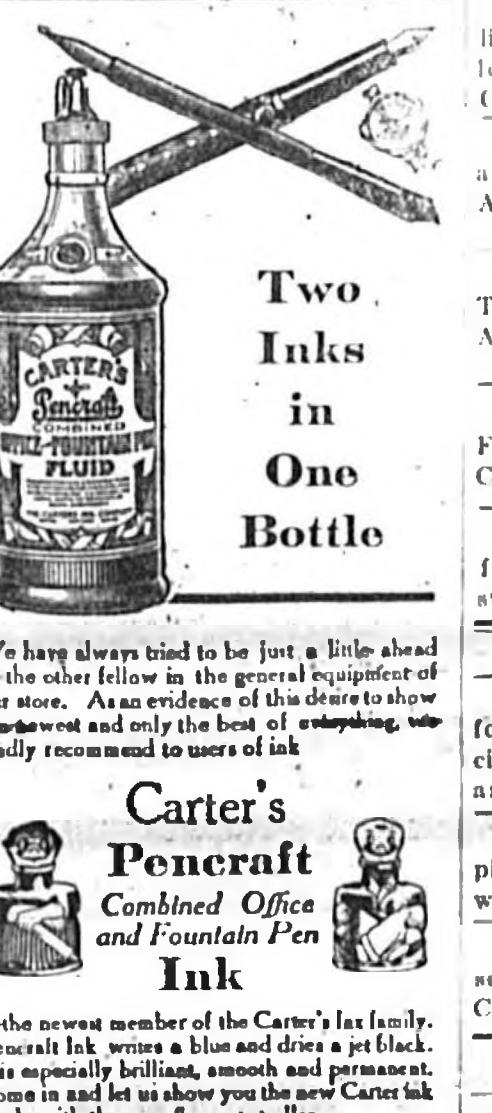

I am glad the game laws will open in a few weeks for some of my good friends were so anxious that they could hardly be held back especially when the turkeys and quail persisted in attacking them in the highways and hedges. Some of them had to kill game in self defense, although the plea of self defense was not sustained. I don't know how much the times were but they can get back part of the money when the season opens for there are plenty of birds this season.

All the other cities of Florida have either installed white ways on the principal streets or are in the process of installing them and as yet I have not been able to wake up the people of Sanford about our main street. I have not gone into the matter but I am sure the Southern Utilities Co. can be depended upon to meet us half way in the matter. A white way down First street this winter would be worth more to our city and would be worth more than we have to pay for it in many ways. We have a lively street now but it is entirely too dark and the white way would add much to the attractiveness of it.

Volusia and Seminole

Volusia and Seminole counties will have larger and better exhibits at the next midwinter fair to be held in Orlando than they have ever had. This is determined by the fact that both counties have provided appropriations of $500 each to pay the cost of collecting and preparing exhibits. In Seminole the appropriation was divided equally between the city council and the county commissioners. While these appropriations will by no means pay for the exhibits they are larger than those previously expended, and this of itself indicates greater interest and a determination to make better displays. Each county should be a thoroughly representative participant but there is an increasing tendency to come from the exhibit and getting them replaced. This necessarily falls on a few people who are unable to do so. The county should take care to see that the exhibits are replaced and if they are not, the county should provide for the replacement. The counties have heretofore failed to do so. It is a pity that the counties have not taken up this matter and provided for the replacement of exhibits. It is a pity that the counties have not taken up this matter and provided for the replacement of exhibits. It is a pity that the counties have not taken up this matter and provided for the replacement of exhibits.

BIG HIT SCORED BY HOME TALENT

"OUT OF THE FOLD" WAS CLEVER EXHIBITION OF SANFORD TALENT

The Herald has often stated that Sanford had exceptionally clever talent not only in the circles but also in histrionic lines and every home talent play demonstrates the truth of this assertion.

For the past few days the girls and boys have been most active in campaigning for tickets, arranging programs and costumes and there was an air of expectancy in the city, greatly enhanced by the business-like air of Mrs. Marks, who had charge of the play under the auspices of the Woman's Club.

The night was cool, but the audience froze up when the first act opened with a most realistic snow scene and the play was on with the usual suffering of the heroine, the bad villain and all the other characters that form the threads of the melodrama.

"Out of the Fold" is a very difficult piece even for professionals and the judgment of Mrs. Marks in selecting the different ones was unerring and perfectly fitting the part.

Miss Florence Frank also had a difficult part as the heroine of the play in Helene, the girl who had stolen money but wanted to make amends and was foiled for the time by the villain who happened to know her early history and sought her out in the peaceful seclusion of a country school.

Mrs. Cobb, the village gossip portrayed by Mrs. R. A. Newman was one of the surprises of the evening, being perfect in the part and showing remarkable aptitude in very particular.

Suzanne, the tomboy, played by Miss Olga Schultz and Marie Lathrop, by Miss Gretchen Schultz were both remarkably good. These young ladies made their debut in this play before a Sanford audience and demonstrated their talents. They have received good training in dramatic art and each scored a hit in their respective parts.

John Lathrop, the college bred young man and also the villain of the play was taken by S. M. Lloyd, an old favorite and while the part was one most difficult Mr. Lloyd was excellent and made himself most unpopular trying to expose the heroine, Helene on her wedding day.

STILL SEARCHING FOR MURDERER

ST. PETERSBURG POLICE HAVE MYRDER MYSTERY TO SOLVE

St. Petersburg, Nov. 13. With a dozen negroes in jail held as suspects, St. Petersburg authorities this morning continued their efforts to solve the problem of who killed Ed F. Sherman, but little headway was made. The injured woman, who was criminally assaulted, is rational to day and says that the negroes who killed Mr. Sherman were both black, one of them tall and the other short. She does not remember anything that happened yesterday so that her failure to identify the negroes taken before her yesterday is regarded as of little significance.

A posse working in the night quarters of the city has captured a negro who is believed to have been the murderer of Ed F. Sherman. The man is in a much improved condition today, and likely will quickly recover.

By order of the Chief of Police, and this prevented drunkenness. One negro who ran from a posse was shot at about 3 o'clock this morning, but dodged the bullets and got away. He was seen sneaking across North street in the negro quarters. Poses are still scouring the country, rounding up negroes on suspicion, but nothing definite has been reported.

Plenty of Literature

At the Commercial Club headquarters in the Herald office there is plenty of literature descriptive of the city and county and the real estate men and others who are interested in boosting the city can find what they want at the headquarters. Secretary Haynes is on the job every day and will do all that he can to further the advertising in every way. He has lists of prospective residents that are open to the public and the office is ready to serve the people.

Have Purchased Fountain

The ladies of the Civic Department of the Woman's Club are true to their word and lost no time after the entertainment Tuesday night to order the drinking fountain. This was primarily the object of presenting the play and as soon as the performance was over Mrs. W. E. Watson ordered the drinking fountain and it will arrive in a few days to grace the city streets and be a refreshment alike to man and beast. The ladies are to be congratulated not only for their entertainment but for their promptness in making good the object of their organization.

BAPTISTS GATHER IN ASSOCIATION

ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED UNDER FAVORABLE CONDITIONS

The Seminole Baptist Association was organized at Sanford yesterday as the state Secretary of Missions most aptly expressed it, the baby was born full grown.

The delegates from the various churches met at Sanford yesterday morning and the meeting was begun with a devotional service in charge of Rev. Wm. Stones of Oviedo. This was followed by an address by Rev. C. M. Brittain, business manager of Columbia College at Lake City.

At noon dinner was served at the church by the ladies in the "Chulota" style. A long table had been prepared on the grounds extending nearly half a block, and it was heaped with the good things the ladies of Sanford know so well how to prepare, and the visitors as well as home folks did full justice to the occasion.

At 1:00 the meeting was called together for devotional services led by Rev. J. C. Parsons of Titusville. A temporary organization was effected and letters from churches wishing to join the new association, together with names of delegates present, were called for and are given below.

- Daytona: Rev. and Mrs. H. S. Rightmire, Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. H. T. McCall, Mrs. J. C. Parsons, Mrs. J. C. Parsons, Mrs. J. C. Parsons, Mrs. J. C. Parsons.

Letter from Lake Helen church read and this church was admitted into the Association. Visitors recognized and welcomed Dr. S. B. Rogers, secretary state board of missions; Mrs. H. C. Peelman, state secretary W. M. U.; Rev. E. Lee Smith, moderator of Wekiva Association; Mrs. E. L. Smith, and Rev. E. A. Milton of Wekiva Association.

By unanimous vote the name chosen was that of The Seminole Baptist Association. A constitution and articles of faith were adopted. Mrs. H. C. Peelman addressed the Association in behalf of the Woman's Missionary Union. She said that Seminole means in the Indian language "wanderers," and she hoped that the Seminole Association would be wanderers from ways that are inefficient. The aim of the W. M. U. is to have every woman enlisted.

The nominating committee appointed by the moderator made the following report, which was adopted: Executive Committee: Rev. Wm. Stones of Oviedo, Rev. W. W. William of Tavares, Rev. J. G. Parsons of Titusville, H. T. McClelland of Daytona, C. W. Entzinger.

Presbyterian Church

The Sunday school and Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church meet at 9:45 in the Imperial Theater and all are cordially welcomed. A double quartet will furnish music at the preaching service at 11 o'clock and a quartet will sing at the evening service at 7 o'clock.

Dr. Brownlee has instituted an innovation in these services, a junior service for children takes up the first 15 minutes of the hour, in which the children's sermon is given.

WIRELESS STATION HIDDEN IN FLORIDA

GOVERNMENT MAKING A SEARCH FOR RADIO OUTFITS

A report that hidden wireless station somewhere on the Florida peninsula is in communication with either Germany or Japan, and that government officials are investigating, is colored by the fact that Lieut. Hargreaves of the U. S. radio service was in Jacksonville three days ago on an unknown mission.

He called at the local station of the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. though his visit there was purely an official, but efforts to locate him later proved futile. Operators of the private concern did not know why he was in town, though they knew him as a government expert.

According to Washington advices, the rumors of the operation of the hidden station have been persistent. The radio stations are supposed to be in communication with intelligent cruisers at sea, and to be serving as information bureaus.

It became known today that plans for the search have been discussed at conferences between Counselor Secretary Daniels and Capt. Bullard, in charge of the naval radio service at Washington.

According to the reports both German and Japanese have been reported to have been in the area.

Local experts add that aerials would work almost as successfully rigged up inside a vacant loft in a tall building; the main requirement being that the building was high enough, and the loft of sufficient length.

Kites have also been used for similar installations, the kite being flown on a wire, the lower end of which was connected through the regular coils and detectors.

The regular aerials now in general use consists of from four to eight wires hung on two stretchers between tall poles, exactly as a hammock is swung, the wires being spaced two or three feet apart, and at least a hundred feet long. Such an installation would be easily recognized by anyone acquainted with wireless, though it would not be visible any great distance. It is expected that the federal authorities will welcome any information of this sort.

The Home and School Association of Lake City has just held a most interesting and successful flower show. The exhibition continued for two days and nearly a hundred entries were made. Several prizes were awarded, the first prize being $5 in gold for the best twelve chrysanthemums. In no part of the country do these wonderfully beautiful autumn flowers gain greater perfection, and yet few places give chrysanthemums attention.
