PLATFORM COMMITTEE HAS TROUBLE ENCOUNTERING DIFFERENCES OVER 4 LEADING PLANKS OF DEMOCRATS

Confident

Al Smith, governor of New York and a strong contender for the presidential nomination, is very optimistic over the outlook and predicts his nomination without any trouble.

DELEGATES FROM 21 STATES MEET NEW YORK CHIEF

Governor Smith and Franklin Roosevelt confer with delegations of many states on campaign outlook.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Delegates from 21 states met Monday with Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Franklin D. Roosevelt, his campaign manager, and discussed various sources of support for the Democratic presidential nomination.

At the end of the day's events, Mr. Roosevelt said, the results of the conference had "been very encouraging, revealing many unexpected sources of support for the Smith movement. It was explained, however, that while the delegates who called him in, in all cases, represent the full delegations from the states they represented, they let it be known that Gov. Smith had "votes in them."

The states represented either in whole or in part were named by Mr. Roosevelt as follows: Tennessee, Virginia, North and South Dakota, Kentucky, Missouri, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska, Louisiana, Florida, Mississippi, West Virginia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Maine.

Governor Smith divided his time Monday between political, municipal and state affairs. In the morning he met a state board from Albany and a warred printing concern for the year. Then, a brief stay at his campaign headquarters devoted to conference purposes, and he left to review the parade of 25,000 men in the employ of New York city, including the police, fire and street departments.

Returning to headquarters late in the afternoon, the governor again was besieged by callers and gave his time to them until called to hurry to Mayor John F. Hylan's dinner yesterday for New York state and other delegate guests of the city.

To do "Missionary Work." Meanwhile, the New York delegates had been assembled at the Smith headquarters to meet with Mr. Roosevelt and, incidentally, be instructed by him to do missionary work among other delegations for the interest of the governor's campaign.

Sandwiched in between the delegates was a group of more than 50 representatives of farm and agricultural interests. They asked Gov. Smith and Mr. Roosevelt to help them in efforts being made to have the convention adopt a plank pledging relief to agriculture and against governmental interference in the business affairs of cooperative farm agencies.

SELECTION OF NOMINEE WILL PROBABLY NOT COME BEFORE FIFTIETH BALLOT, SAYS DEAN

Editor of The Herald Who Is At Convention By Appointment From William Jennings Bryan Predicts That Democrats Will Be Unable to Make Choice Before 50th Ballot.

(By R. L. DEAN)

NEW YORK, June 24.—On eve of the opening of the Democratic National Convention here everyone is talking of the probabilities of various possibilities. If you take the managers of various presidential aspirants seriously, you must believe that there will be at least 20 Democratic nominees. Virginia delegates can demonstrate to you algebraically exactly how Carter Glass will be nominated.

McAdoo men don't care whether the two-thirds rule is abrogated or not, so sure are they of their chief's nomination. In the lobby of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel men are heard speaking almost perfect euphony in the words, "President Smith."

Western delegates staged a demonstration for McAdoo Monday morning in front of the Vanderbilt Hotel. Led by a band playing "California, scores of delegates paraded down Fourth Avenue until they came to McAdoo's headquarters, where all joined in singing the parody on Columbia in which "McAdoo Will Do" was frequently heard. In a speech which followed, McAdoo took another crack at Wall Street and the reason for strenuous opposition of monied interests to his nomination was made obvious.

While McAdoo is apparently in the most cheerful mood of his life, and seems confident of victory, one cannot help but sense the futility of his efforts. While he has 294 delegates instructed for him, over twice as many as his nearest competitor, the possibility of his getting the required two-thirds majority is practically nil.

Mark Sullivan asks in the World's Work who will lead the Democrats now that McAdoo's chances have faded away. He refers to the oil scandal, insinuating that the retainer fee which McAdoo received from Doheny eliminated the former's chance for the presidential nomination. This is too long a shot for Sullivan to take.

McAdoo cleared himself of oil spots months ago to the satisfaction of everyone, at least in many states which instructed their delegates for him.

The futility of McAdoo's efforts lies not in any lack of fitness of his own part, not in individual power of any one of his rivals, but in the numerical strength of the field against him. Bobby Jones was the most potent entrant in the national open at Oakland Hills last month. He is the foremost stylist in the country and most consistent golfer. If any one should win, he should, and yet his chances of doing so were one in a hundred. The field against him was too large, not too good. So it is with McAdoo. He has the best chance of any other individual in the race, but he probably will not be nominated. The dark horse delegates will hold out for little ones until McAdoo dies by the wayside. Then they will compromise on some makeshift.

It is interesting to note what lengths New York newspapers are going to gain the nomination of Al Smith. Even the Republican New York Herald-Tribune, which naturally should take very little interest in this Democratic convention, is daily showing its teeth in an endeavor to boost Smith. In fact all New Yorkers are shouting Smith. In the November election, Smith of course, could not carry a state outside his own. But New Yorkers don't seem to realize this. The fact that he is a Catholic and wet makes very little difference to them. They figure he would be president of the Jews as well as the Catholics, and that's a pretty good thing. Furthermore, they think it's smart to bet wet.

Just at present Carter Glass looks to be about the lightest of the dark horses. He has a splendid record of achievement in legislation and administration of treasury department. He was largely responsible for the text of the federal reserve act. He is a powerful orator. Furthermore there seems to be some kind of an alliance between McAdoo and Glass. As soon as McAdoo feels that his own nomination is impossible, it would surprise no one if the Californian threw his weight toward the Virginian with the result that the latter would be nominated.

Much is heard of others. There's Davis, former ambassador to England, whom many say is the most logical of stable possibilities. But 25 years of contact with Morgan's millions must surely have colored his viewpoint of the labor situation, at least the majority of the voting population will think so and even a Democratic convention won't take quite so big a chance. Then there is Raiston of Indiana, about whom a lot is being said. But he is too old and doesn't want the job any way. When folks reach this stage of come it's best not to force matters. Jimmy Cox must be saying his prayers nightly for he's here with 48 instructed delegates, and that's about the most he will have to the forty-ninth ballot. In all this string there must be at least 30 dark horses, all of whom have a chance. Doubtless slim one, but a chance. In all probability no one will be nominated on the first ballot, nor the tenth, but on about the fiftieth ballot Carter Glass, Charles W. Bryan or some equal worthy, will be acclaimed.

Would Omit Klan
William Jennings Bryan and the Indiana delegation added their support to those who favor omission of the name of the Klan. Bryan's plank would simply reaffirm the party's devotion to the fundamental principles of the constitution by (Continued on page 6)

New York Reports Much Betting Made On Party Nominees

NEW YORK, June 24.—On the eve of the convention betting on the results grew more and more active until it was estimated that so far $250,000 has been bet on the nomination. At least that much again is expected to be in the hands of stakeholders in this city before choice is made. The odds on both favorites: Governor Smith and William G. McAdoo, lengthened a little. Smith backers, while still taking two to one in some instances, were for the most part demanding two and one-half to one. McAdoo from two and one-half to one to three to one.

John W. Davis and Senator Raiston were four to one; Senator Glass five to one; Senator Underwood and Governor Siler six to one. There was even a bet on William J. Bryan whom one admirer regarded as a ten to one shot. On other candidates the betting was irregular. One firm quoted Senator Copeland at six to one; another firm thought him no better than ten to one. Smith was favorite in the amount of money wagered on him as well as in the odds. J. S. Fried & Co. had money to place at one to seven that the New York governor would be the next president. The firm also placed $30,000 against $10,000 that McAdoo wouldn't be nominated. This was all Wall Street betting, but there was a great deal of it in the hotels and resorts along Broadway. One bet of $2,000 to $5,000 on Smith was recorded and there were dozens of "smaller ones." Smith ruled by far the favorite with more money in sight for him than there were takers for it.

CONVENTION FORMALLY OPENS AT NOON TODAY; HARRISON SCORES G. O. P.

Mississippi Senator In Keynote Speech Flays Republican Party on its Conduct

Declares Victory Is Now In Sight

Noisy But An Orderly Tribute Is Paid To Memory Of Wilson

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, June 24.—With a roaring demonstration for Woodrow Wilson, the Democratic National Convention interrupted its business today while delegates and visitors joined in a noisy and yet respectful tribute to late President, the idol of Democracy.

Cheers for Cleveland, Jackson, Jefferson, Bryan had resounded throughout the big garden, but when temporary Chairman, Senator Pat Harrison, an enthusiast broke loose. Stute stands came up quickly from their places and soon floor jammed with mass of milling marching delegates prancing about chanting songs which became famous in war days of Wilson.

"America needs a man like you," "no Sphinx" in the White House, to call it back to duty and high resolves, Harrison declared in sounding the keynote at the Democratic National Convention.

In an address condemning the Republican administration's policies, both domestic and foreign—the temporary chairman called on Democrats everywhere, "with victory within their grasp," to unite against a common enemy.

"Oh for one in the White House," he said, "whose heart might be melted and courage aroused to sympathy and fight. Would that we once more might see in that exalted position one with the courage of a Jackson, the militant honesty of a Cleveland, the matchless statesmanship and the fine fighting qualities of a Woodrow Wilson."

Senator Harrison ran the gamut of the Harding-Coolidge administration in a series of biting criticisms. A large part of his speech was taken up with a recital of the disclosures of senate investigating committees. The oil policies, in particular, came in for vigorous denunciation.

"Show this administration an oil well, he said, and it will show you a foreign policy."

"America has taken the measure of this administration," he continued. "It might have been able to free itself from the sectional idolatry and to have looked beyond the skies of New England. It might have heard the groans of the distressed farmers of the West and sympathetically responded. It (Continued on page 6)

Rotarians Listen To Recitations and Musical Numbers

A. R. Key was in charge of the program at the Rotary Club luncheon today and had as principals on the program, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herndon who entertained with a series of musical numbers and recitations.

The numbers given by Mr. Herndon were mainly of a comical and jazz nature and none but those who heard them can fully appreciate the merit derived therefrom. He recited a number of the so-called "Dingo" stories with considerable skill. This brought much applause from the hearers.

During the luncheon a report was heard from the Boy Scout committee on the plans for scout work to be carried out in this and the neighboring counties. Also a notice from the local Kiwanis Club was read challenging the Rotarians to a game of baseball in the near future. The challenge was not accepted but a notice was ordered sent to the Kiwanians saying that they would play them in gold instead.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herndon and members: George W. Brockhahn, Randall Chase, R. J. Holly, H. C. DuBose, M. C. Haddock, E. F. Housholder, W. M. Hayden, Edward Higgins, C. W. Thirteen Thousand At Madison Square For Opening; No Evi- dence Of A Fight

Formal Exercises Mark Gathering Convention Preparing For Struggle Over Presidential Choice

NEW YORK, June 24.—The Democratic National Convention set out today to lay down a platform and find a presidential nominee. The opening program beginning at noon, eastern daylight-saving time, had little indication of the seething undercurrents of clashing ambitions and opinions that have bewildered delegates for days and which are likely to rock the convention for many more days after disposal of formalities of temporary and permanent organization.

The high notes of today's formal prelude to impending spectacle in Madison Square Garden were the keynote address of Senator Harrison of Mississippi as temporary chairman, the appointment of resolutions, rules credentials and other committees and sundry speeches and action on resolution on memory of Woodrow Wilson.

All the swirling cross currents which finally are going to cast up a Democratic presidential nominee centered about the great convention hall. Thirteen thousand party war horses, delegates and spectators packed Madison Square Garden to see the curtain rise on the first act of a great drama—stupendous production with all star cast, many superlatives and an indefinite number scenes.

Police lines were established to keep back the throngs who had no tickets but who roared at the admission somehow. Lucky ones with tickets were ushered through ropes which began three blocks away.

Today's opening will be a noisy one although it is well recognized by old timers as necessary preliminary to the real business ahead surcharged with intense feeling which have been built up in the pre-convention campaign.

Despite the difference over platform declarations the convention is looking for the contest over candidates to be the boldest in the history of spectacles and its most serious difficulty. The claims of 20 candidates for the presidency have been placed before the delegates in a fevered pre-convention period, but there was no clear indication that the bold contest would find even in such a field the standard-bearer it is seeking.

Delegate Strength
In pledged delegate strength William G. McAdoo stands well ahead of all his competitors. Governor Al Smith, the idol of New York democracy, has developed a backing that will put him in second place on the opening ballot. Down the line will be ranked a long list of others whose managers Monday night were predicting triumphantly that both of the leaders would be eliminated in the end by the bitter rivalry between them.

Monday there was a rallying of strength in the camps of both Smith and McAdoo that kindled enthusiasm to a fever heat and kept the hotel district of New York echoing with the cheers of marching delegates. Mr. McAdoo taking notes of fast-flying reports that some of those pledged in him were preparing to quit the fight after the early ballots, told a group of his supporters in a public speech that no delegate who had been sent to the convention to "betray a trust." Governor Smith, appearing before a crowd of thousands to review a civic parade, was welcomed by years of applause and acclaimed by his partisans as the next president.

During the day most of the state delegations held caucuses to compare impressions and plan their part of the big show. The tone of most of them was one of uncertainty and speculation, but it was increasingly apparent that many who will have conventional votes are disposed to make selections of their own after they have fulfilled the instructions to cast their ballots for this or that candidate on the initial roll call.

Should the deadlock be prolonged the convention itself appears determined to take upon its own shoulders the responsibility of efforts to the endeavor of its supporters. The chairman of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, and a dozen others also announced their combats of delegates list for possible securing strength. All of these promises (Continued on page 6)

Library Notes

The library completed its first six months in the new building last Friday, June 20, as it was opened to the public on January 21. Its daily records show that during this time a total of 10,285 books have been loaned, 6301 to adults and 3984 to juveniles, the latter forming 38 per cent of the whole. The largest daily circulation was 203, 709 members have joined, 474 being adult and 233 juvenile. The reading room attendance was 1380, adult 634 and juvenile 746.

A considerable amount of reference work has been done, and 16,000 story hours have been held, the total attendance being 335. Over 200 books have been accessioned and cataloged, for which 640 cards were made, and a large number of books have been mended. The library keeps on the order of 40 magazines, which have a large circulation.

Its record for overdue books, or those not returned, is very satisfactory. With over 700 members and 10,000 books loaned, it had been necessary to send for only 10 books.

There are 700 books and 4 magazines which have not been returned. A number of books and magazines have been donated, and the librarian wishes to thank all who have cooperated in any way towards the success and progress of the work the library is aiming to do.

There are seven national military or other parks under the jurisdiction of the secretary of war.

Has Dash

An enormous bow and long eard of black satin ribbon add a certain dash to what would regularly be only a very simple frock of white. It is worn over a sheath slip of black satin and there is no extra fullness of trimming to mar the silhouette. Parish approves of recent events. Almost any straight-line frock can be given a festive touch by the clever use of a sash or a bow, and the ribbons of this season are so beautiful in themselves that they can make any costume.

UNDERWOOD WILL MAKE HARD FIGHT FOR KLAN PLANK

Arrives in New York To Personally Supervise His Campaign And To See To It That Klan Plank Drawn.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Armed with a drastic and specific arraignment of the Ku Klux Klan by name which he desires to be placed in the Democratic national platform, Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, formally followed his hat into the presidential ring and got on the job in person Monday at his campaign headquarters.

His appearance in the headquarters was greeted with cheers and shouts by supporters and visitors, and the senator at once distributed in person to waiting newspapermen copies of the anti-Ku Klux Klan resolution he favors as a party declaration.

Later, in discussing the situation with the reporters, many of them old friends from senate and house galleries, the Alabama senator let it be known that while he wishes the flat, bald anti-Ku Klux Klan statement he had framed written into the platform, he was concerned more with the principle involved than the language used. Unless the party did not make a strong declaration which left no doubt in anybody's mind, the senator indicated he would no longer regard himself as "available" for the presidential nomination.

As to the prospects for his nomination, the Alabama senator seemed to have no illusions. He would not go beyond saying that if he did not believe he had a chance, he would not be asking his friends to work for him as they are. He also intimated he had counted upon some votes in the convention for his own nomination, but he first considered announcing himself as a candidate for nomination.

Senator Underwood talked about a number of matters, including law enforcement as connected with the wet-and-dry issue. While he is a right in the right, he has certain questions for themselves, he said, and had so voted in the senate, laws now on the statute books were there to be enforced.

"Would Enforce Law"

"If I were president, I would enforce the law," he added.

Senator Underwood said he expected to remain in close touch with his headquarters from now on until the fight is over. He has several rooms in the same hotel as he would like to impose on him to have times of conference in the crowded headquarters on the main floor.

Fordney Johnson of the Alabama delegation will place the senator's name before the convention. It seemed probable Monday that he would take no further action in temporarily. Inquiries for advance press copies of his address, brought out that information.

For seconding the name of Pennsylvania's William R. Patterson, Democratic aspirant for the governorship of Maine, will be heard first and Samuel E. Shul of Pennsylvania, will follow up.

RESERVOIR MAY BE MADE INTO A SWIMMING POOL

City Manager Recommends That Old Southern Utilities Plant Reservoir Be Made Into Modern Municipal Swimming Pool.

W. B. Williams, city manager, today stated to a representative of The Sanford Herald that upon the recommendation of J. E. Craig, he suggested further recommendations to the officials and the people of Sanford that the reservoir of the present waterworks plant be converted into a swimming pool as soon as the new reservoir being built by the city is completed and placed in operation.

Mr. Williams said, and has expressed belief that the reservoir will make an ideal one. He mentioned the fact that there are two six or eight inch wells which may flow almost continuously into the pool, always keeping the water as fresh as if it were a large spring.

The reservoir is about 40 feet wide and 60 feet long, and has a depth of 11 feet, stated an employee of the Southern Utilities Company this morning. This is much larger than the average swimming pool found in cities of this size and it is believed that it will accommodate a considerable number of people. So much fresh water will constantly be flowing through the pool that there will be no danger of becoming polluted. Practically as much fresh water will be available as is now used to supply the entire city of Sanford.

Mr. Williams further stated that the matter of making a swimming pool from this old reservoir will be placed before the city council members at an early date. He said that besides looking out for the financial and industrial interests of the city, a means of providing amusement must be looked after also. Now with the city building a new reservoir and no longer having any use for the old one so far as the waterworks plant is concerned, he sees no reason why Sanford can not take advantage of this opportunity to add to her places of amusement a modern swimming pool. The cost of converting the reservoir into a swimming pool will be small because practically all that must be done is to partly fill in the bottom with sand and cover it with concrete, making the bottom sloping off of a regulation depth.

"The Chamber of Commerce has yet taken no action in regard to converting the old Southern Utilities plant reservoir into a swimming pool," stated President Edward Higgins of that body today. "I do not know anything about the reservoir, and the Chamber of Commerce will recommend until we have had all the desired information on the subject and it has been discussed and decided upon. It is possible, however, that the proposition will be turned over to the Junior Chamber of Commerce as soon as it is organized."

MAUGHAN SPANS CONTINENT IN HIS FLIGHT MONDAY

Just before he stepped in the plane for the second flight of the trip, he said: "I have every reason to hope that the trip will be successful this time."

The plane is a standard Army Curtiss type, the same as used in his previous attempts, and is capable of a speed greater than 160 miles an hour.

Lieutenant Maughan hopes to land in San Francisco in time to have his supper, having breakfasted in New York.

QUINCY, Ill., June 24.—Lieut. Russell Maughan passed here at 9:38 a. m., central standard time.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 24.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan passed over Cheyenne, Nebraska, at 12:19 p. m. mountain time, a hundred and 50 miles east of Cheyenne.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 24.—Lieutenant Maughan stopped here to take gasoline at 1:34 p. m., central standard time, and declared everything working ideal.

Maughan landed at North Platte at 1:34 p. m., central time, and hopped off at 1:57 p. m.

Lands at Cheyenne

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 24.—Lieut. Russell L. Maughan, flying from New York to San Francisco between dawn and dusk, landed on the Cheyenne air field at 2:17 o'clock Monday afternoon with nearly two-thirds of his flight behind him. From New York to Cheyenne he covered 1,800 miles. The distance from here to San Francisco is 2,300 miles.

Lieut. Maughan apparently had difficulty in landing here. He circled the field several times and twice skimmed the surface before he finally made a perfect landing at a speed estimated at ninety miles an hour.

Maughan said as he approached Cheyenne he experienced a recurrence of the nausea from protracted nervous strain which caused him to collapse here last year. He became normal after alighting from his plane.

T. J. Cahill, on behalf of the Frontier days committee, presented Maughan a "four gallon" sombrero. Maughan expressed confidence that he would successfully complete his flight.

At 4:35 o'clock, Maughan was handed an encouraging weather report from Rock Springs, two hundred miles west. He smiled as he read it. It said: "Partly cloudy. Ceiling and visibility practically unlimited."

Maughan hopped off at 2:54 o'clock Mountain time, circled the field and headed straight for the Rocky Mountains, 30 miles to the west.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 24.—Lieut. Maughan passed Roswell, Wyo., at 2:19 p. m., mountain time.

Japanese Educator Seeks Full Accord With United States

LOS ANGELES, June 24.—Friendship between America and Japan would be enhanced by the spreading in Japan of the information that the majority of American people are not prejudiced against the Japanese, according to an opinion expressed here by Dr. Banjo Ebuna, president of the Doshisha University at Kyoto, Japan.

"If America, through her official and unofficial representatives in Japan, fail to broadcast this desirable information among the Japanese," said Mr. Ebuna, "then it is impossible that any people in any recent event will imagine that America is against them and will seek to unite the entire orient in a sentiment unfavorable to the occident. I regret the new difficulty that has arisen because of a possible misunderstanding between the American people and the Japanese."

Since Japan forsook the customs of the orient 70 years ago, the educator said, she has been following the ways of America as much as possible, politically, socially, economically, and even religiously, in spite of the fact that Japan's attitude toward western civilization was rewarded by the suspicion and hatred of China, Korea and other oriental countries.

"When Japan turned her face toward the occident, I find that she made up between Japan and China," Dr. Ebuna asserted. "China considered Japan an imitator of the west, and Japan began to look upon China as a hopeless reaction-

Wheat is the Fuel of Life

You can get the most food value out of wheat by eating bakings that are made from good plain flour. A dependable baking powder must be employed or you do not get the full nutritious value of the wheat—nor will your bakings be as palatable and easily digested.

The same results cannot be had if you use Self Raising Flour, which are improperly packed in porous sacks or bags, thus allowing absorption of moisture from the air. Food authorities and physicians agree that bakings that do not raise properly are bad for health. Such foods are hard to digest and in time cause stomach trouble.

Mothers who are interested in the proper growth and health of their children (and all mothers are) should never use anything but a good brand of plain flour and a time-tested leavener such as Calumet—the economy Baking Powder.

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength. It raises every baking to its height of nutritious value. It is pure and dependable—do not look for a substitute—there is none.

Use Calumet and be positive of wholesome nutritious and economical foods.

3-Tongued Referees Are Needed in Europe

MERLIN, June 24.—Amateur football is rapidly coming back to its pre-war popularity in central Europe and more games have been played here this spring than ever before, not only among Germans but with visiting teams from the nearby states.

Because of the international games, polyglot umpires and referees have been in great demand. American visitors who have witnessed association games here say that to them the most interesting part of the play has been the referees, who must make their ruling and announcements in two or three different languages.

Hawaiian Volcano Continues Display As Tourists Flee

VOLCANO HOUSE, Island of Hawaii, June 24.—Halemaumau, the Hawaiian House of Everlasting Fire and pit of the active volcano of Kilauea, continues spasmodically to present a display of terrible natural powers which has not been excelled within the memory of living man. Renewed activity may rock the entire island, it is predicted by scientists.

Violent outbursts, wracking the throat of the frepit and sending incandescent boulders hurtling high into the void, have occurred on an average of twice daily during recent days, accompanied by heavy dust clouds which are split and rent by bolts of lightning and peals of thunder. Earthquakes of varying intensity have been an almost constant concomitant of the eruptions. Steam roars from the cauldrons of the crater, and huge avalanches of rock which once formed the rim of the crater, go crashing down to be hurled up.

Temendous subterranean forces are at work under the surface, in the pit and under the earth of the surrounding region. Serious quake shocks have occurred in the Puna and Kau districts, opening wide cracks in the surface, some as wide as 200 feet. Motorists are warned that if they "insist on taking a chance," in approaching within three miles of the volcano they should keep the road open and be ready for instant flight.

Raise Sum In Atlanta For Red Cross Work At Scene Cloudburst

ATLANTA, June 24.—$1,000 was recently appropriated by the National American Red Cross for relief work in Carter County, Tennessee, where a cloudburst June 13 killed ten, injured a score more, and left 50 people homeless. Carter's Bluff and Hunter were the communities suffering heaviest.

The Red Cross was requested to take charge and administer all relief at a mass meeting of citizens Monday. Steps have already been instituted by a local committee to raise an additional $5,000 for relief work. Having yielded strictly on need, the Red Cross will attempt to place every family back on a self-supporting basis.

The Carter county cloudburst is the third disaster the South has suffered in less than two months. Twenty-two Red Cross workers are now in South Carolina administering a relief fund of approximately $80,000 as a result of the tornado of April 30, which killed several score people in that state and left over 3000 homeless. Another corps of workers is in Mississippi and Alabama where another tornado May 27 killed over 30 people and left hundreds homeless in the two states.

Socialist and Labor Candidate Has I Plank

PORTLAND, Ore., June 24.—Frank T. Johns, a Portland carpenter, who was nominated as candidate for president of the United States by the Socialist-Labor party at a recent convention in New York, is planning a speaking tour to spread the doctrines of his organization, but he does not expect that his party will send a man to the White House this year.

"In order to carry on a campaign we must have a candidate," he said. "In this as in all our campaigns we will stress not the qualifications or the life of any individual but the principles of the organization."

He said the campaign would be on a one-plank platform which he stated "Complete surrender of the capitalist class and substitution of a Socialist system for the present capitalist system."

School Children Fed Anti-Goitre Tablets

SALT LAKE CITY, June 24.—Chocolate tablets containing ten milligrams of iodine each are to be given Utah school children every week as a means of counteracting goitre, according to announcement by state health officials. A recent survey showed approximately 41 percent of the school boys and school girls to be afflicted.

A deficiency of iodine in the drinking water consumed by the children is the reason for the great number of goitre cases, according to Dr. J. Wallace, state epidemiologist.

"Yes, sir, I always goes to church when you preaches." "I am glad to hear that; but why when I preach—why not every Sunday?" "I'm always sure of getting a good seat when you preaches, sir."

She is said to be developing into quite a society beauty too, but at the same time maintains the freshness and directness of the quiet Scottish girl, and is without the artificial mannerism of many of London's society girls.

$22,000,000 Saved On National Debt Interest

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The June fiscal operations of the treasury, while ranking among the smallest of post-war financial issues, will have a wider permanent effect in the way of cuts in fixed expenditures of the government than most of the quarterly operations in the last five years. Treasury experts have calculated that a saving of approximately $22,000,000 in annual interest charges will result from the change in the public debt situation accomplished in June.

Self-Help Student System Is Growing

GOETTINGEN, Germany, June 24.—The self-help student unknown in Germany before the war, is increasing in the universities because of existing economic conditions. It is estimated that one-half of the student body of the country receive less than $15 a month each from home, so that the American custom of part earning by college students became a necessity.

The universities and allied organizations have taken keen interest in the matter, establishing employment bureaus, tailor shops, shoe shops, hothouses, book stores, laundries printing shops and even small factories where students are employed in off hours. The usual pay is one meal for an hour of work.

At Goettingen University, for instance, 1,000 students earn their noonday meal and about 500 their supper by manual and clerical work. One effect is said to be the gradual disappearance of the old time student aloofness and attitude of superiority toward the town folk.

PEKING AGAINST QUEUES

PEKING, June 24.—Coolies who still persist in wearing a queue may not engage in the popular employment of pulling 'rikshas, according to an order issued by the Peking police. Just why the ban is placed against them does not appear, unless it be for the purpose of further discouraging the practice of wearing queues, which has all but ceased among city coolies.
