Bill Giving Cities More Condemnation Rights To Help Building Program Passed

Tallahassee, Fla., May 15

—Passing just long enough in the midst of a session featured by the passage of a number of bills to allow the production of one bill, the house Thursday afternoon received what was believed to be one of the most important measures that will be presented at this session.

It was a bill by Representative McCall of Hamilton, and Mackenzie of Lake, providing for an appropriation of $1,200,000 annually from the general fund for the purpose of making loans to various county boards of public instruction for the benefit of the public free schools.

Each county, under provision of the bill, would be authorized to borrow the sum of $20,000 from the amount appropriated providing that it was used for no purpose other than schools.

Skipping about over the calendar in an effort to clear it of minor or measures of a general nature before the question of the session are taken up for consideration, the house at the afternoon session passed an even dozen bills.

Chief among these was a measure by Representative Milam and Waybright of Duval, empowering cities and towns to acquire, by condemnation or otherwise, lands for municipal purposes within or outside their corporate limits. The bill, according to its authors, is for the purpose of allowing cities to further their community building program relative to golf courses, parks and playgrounds. It passed by a vote of 50 to 14.

Another bill by Representative McCall of Hamilton, concerning the subject of condemnation, was also passed. This measure would authorize the condemnation of state lands which may be needed for the conducting and maintenance of the several institutions of the state.

Other bills passed were general in nature, but of minor importance, the majority of them being bills tending to clear up certain laws of the state, and the remainder of a similar import relative to other subjects.

During the morning session, the house met with the senate in consideration of several matters of importance. Chief among these was the passage of a bill by Representative Williams of Leon providing free text books for the pupils of the first six grades of the public schools of the state.
The bill also provides for the levying of a tax of three-fourths of a mill to carry out provisions of the act. The measure passed with but little opposition being voted, only six members voting against it, while 71 were in favor.

The house also passed a measure creating a state library at Tallahassee.

A bill that would amend the state law relative to the shipment of live stock so that it would conform to the federal law was passed without dissenting votes.

Under provision of a motion by Representative Weeks, of Holmes, adopted this morning, the house will hold three sessions daily during the remainder of the session.

NET EARNINGS OF OIL FIRM IN PAST YEAR 86 MILLION

Annual Report Standard Oil Company Shows Last Year's Profits Exceeded Those Of Past Years By 25 Million

NEW YORK, May 15.—Combined net earnings of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries in 1924 totaled $81,016,570, an increase of nearly $25,000,000 over 1923 Chairman A.
C. Bedford announced in his annual report to stockholders Thursday. Sales of petroleum products during the year, he said, were the largest in volume in the company's history, and were reflected in an expansion of more than $42,000, 000 in gross income to a total of $49,005,500.

After the payment of $13,998,103 in preferred dividends, the company's earnings were equivalent to $3.30 or 12.2 per cent on the common shares, compared with $2.10 per share earned in 1923.

Results of the Standard Oil Company's natural gas business and of subsidiaries engaged in collateral activities, Mr. Bedford explained, "were in 1924, as in previous years, more satisfactory than the results arising from the oil business itself."

"Excessive competition, arising from an over-production of crude and the resultant over-accumulation of finished products which has caused many of these products to be forced upon the market at prices below their value," he said, "has seriously militated against the prosperity of the petroleum industry in the past four years. Better results should attend our operations when the industry is relieved of this problem."

Stockholders increased.
Since the segregation of the Standard Oil properties in 1911, Mr. Bedford reported, the number of 6,978 to a total of 65,972—an increase of 26,994—had increased 26,929 common and 39,143 preferred.

Of the Standard Oil Company's total net earnings, $20,296,952 was derived from the New Jersey company's own refining, shipping and marketing business and $39, 749,617 from its subsidiaries. The combined earnings, Mr. Bedford pointed out, represented a return of 8.22 per cent on net assets of the company's total surplus at the end of the year stood at $27, 260,965 an increase of $4,836,806 over that of 1923. Inventories of merchandise were valued at $239,102,340. The balance sheet showed total investments of $172, 737,094, of which $90,387,437 were in Government and other marketable securities and cash of $11, 128,756.

Father Shoots His Daughter and Kills Young Son-In-Law

MIAMI, May 15.—Authorities are searching the thickets of Coral Gables, near here in the belief that they will find the body of A. C.
Caldwell, who Thursday night ran down an automobile containing his daughter, Ethel and her husband, a few hours, Eugene Hawkins, shot each of them twice and then disappeared.

Although it is believed that Caldwell ended his life officers are investigating reports that he was seen on the streets here several hours afterward.

Hawkins was shot through the head. He died in a hospital last night. The bride, with two bullets in her body, underwent an operation at the hospital and will recover, according to attending physicians.

The body of Hawkins was being held at a local morgue today, awaiting advice from Excelsior, Minn., where his parents live. News of his death was being kept from his young widow. Her own wounds were described as serious and it was feared that the added news of her husband's death might prove fatal.

Fresh from their altar vows, the young couple had just left the church where the ceremony was performed—having eloped because of Caldwell's objections—and had started on their honeymoon journey when Caldwell, driving at a furious rate of speed, overhauled the bridal car, which also contained Boy Hawkins, a cousin of the groom, and Adeline Wolfe a friend of the bride.

Jumping from his car and flourishing a revolver Caldwell rushed to the bridal car, ordered Hawkins and Miss Wolfe away at the point of the pistol, and then fired three shots into his daughter's body and one in Hawkins' head. He then calmly reloaded the weapon and walked into the woods.

ALL NATIONS ARE URGED TO BAN WARS IN FUTURE

Resolution Of Ad Convention Says War Is Destroyer Of Property Created By Labor And Is Foe Of All Mankind

HOUSTON, Tex., May 15.—All nations of the world were called upon to outlaw war in resolutions adopted at the New York session of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World convention here Thursday.

"War is the foe of trade," the resolutions said, "the destroyer of property created by labor and in the common enemy of mankind." Therefore it should be outlawed.

President Coolidge also was asked to "place the outlawry of war in the forefront of any world conference he may call to consider disarmament of any other question relating to world peace."

Other resolutions commended President Coolidge for insistence on greater economy in government; approved a plan of the department of statistics and records of merchandise distribution and importation; and urged the people and the churches, irrespective of denomination in a world peace movement.

Philadelphia was ratified as the next convention city and C. K.
Woodridge of New York as the next president of the association.

The convention adopted a number of changes in its by-laws, chiefly leaving with the executive committee the power to ratify choices of future convention cities and resolving states and foreign countries into new districts. Florida was made a district by itself.

Present British Flag.
One incident not on the program brought a storm of cheers from the audience when Sir William Woodbridge of the British delegation presented to the Houston advertising club a silken British flag, as a token of respect and in recognition of a warm welcome, as well as a recognition of British advertisers of the part American played in the World War.

The convention has been in session four days and had heard more than 200 speakers, including some of the most prominent figures in the advertising field discuss many phases of modern advertising.
Community advertising, church publicity, retail stores and their activities had an inning.

The name of the new candidate for president of the association, C.
K. Woodridge, of New York, was ratified by the convention.

Pittsburgh Revealed As Center Of "Ring" Smuggling In China

BUFFALO, May 15.—Chinese script seized in a recent raid revealed Pittsburgh as the center of a Chinese alien smuggling ring from Cuba and Southern coast of Florida, federal agents here say.
Acute of passage, it is said, apparently was from Cuba to the Florida Everglades and up through the Carolinas, Virginia and Pennsylvania. They said the script disclosed that the route had been open for years.

BANKERS TOLD AMERICA MUST STOP WASTAGE

President Of American Bar Association Declares Present Living Standards Are Menaced By Lack Of Thrift

Must Economize To Preserve U. S. Wealth

Banker Declares More Than Billion Dollars Are Spent Yearly In Fake Speculation

NASHVILLE, May 15.—America must stop wasting if present living standards are to be kept up, President of the American Bankers Association, declared here Thursday in an address prepared for delivery before the Tennessee Bankers Association annual meeting, his subject being "America Must Learn A Lesson."

The speaker declared that the American standard of living is the highest in the world and that it can be easily maintained by the use of our natural wealth, but that it "can be maintained in the future only by drastic national economy in the use of that wealth."

"We have grown up on our resources," President Knox said.
"We cannot afford to waste them any longer. Industrially we have got to stop wasting, but even more so have we got to stop the wastefulness of our personal habits.
The paramount challenge to education in America today calls for the effective teaching of personal economics for education in the management of personal income, so that they will give every individual a good living during his productive years and provide certain security for the non-productive years of his old age."

"Our children today are passing through our educational system practically without instruction for placing their lives on a sound economic basis, virtually without instruction in the elementary principles of financial success," continued the speaker. "Economics has been pitched above the average mind. What we need above all is an economic philosophy gauged for the average citizen, consisting of plain people, with instruction in it started in time to get them right beginning in the right management of their personal affairs."

"This would accomplish more than any other influence to stabilize social conditions, to bring about industrial peace, to insure obedience to law and to develop loyalty to government. Contentment in the return we are getting from life is the bedrock of good citizenship. It is within the power of education to establish this contentment by teaching our people to get the most out of their incomes, to avoid the pitfalls of financial ruin and to guide them out

Office Of Sheriff Discovers No Clue In Lynching Probe

The sheriff's office today was still without a clue to the identity of the persons, who Wednesday night lynched a negro near Longwood after he had been freed in Orange county of the charge of attacking a white child at Clarcona near Apopka.

Deputy Sheriff W. C. Williamson, who investigated the killing yesterday said today that he was misquoted in the first story of the lynching as saying that he was of the positive opinion that the lynchers were from Orange county.

"As a matter of fact," said Deputy Williamson, this office has no information whatever as to where the lynchers of the negro came from. There was absolutely no evidence produced before the coroner's investigation yesterday showing as to their identity and none has been discovered since.
Therefore this office has no opinion in the matter."

Mr. Williamson felt that the statement yesterday might be misconstrued as meaning that there was some evidence tending to show that the lynchers came from Orange county.

Florida Senate Drags Win Spirited Debate

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—A sharp tilt over the question of reference of a house bill defining unreasonable seizures and searches in the enforcement of prohibition laws, today in the senate was a victorious one for the temperance committee. A chair of Americanization at University of Florida bill was introduced into the senate and was also one providing a state service officer to press claims of veterans of world war. Both bills are by SENATOR JOHN S. TAYLOR.

LIQUOR LADEN SHIP SEIZED AT BROOKLYN PIER

Officers Seize A Large
Supply On Steamer
Mercier And Tie Up
Ship Pending Trial

Further Routing Of Runners Reported

California Dry Agents
Seize 2 Shipments
In 1st Western Clash

NEW YORK, May 15.— Six hundred bottles of alleged champagne, liquors and gin and a quantity of alleged liquor-filled candies were seized yesterday aboard the Lloyd Royal Belge steamer Mercier at her pier in Brooklyn. The Mercier arrived Wednesday and the seizure Thursday automatically prohibits the ship's leaving port until a fine estimated at between $2,000 and $2,500 is paid.

The seizure made by a squad from the office of the surveyor of the port is the first of any consequence since the Coast Guard began in its intensive blockade of Rum Row. Most of the liquor was said to have been found hidden inside and on top of the boilers and in the water and oil tanks.

Further disintegration of the rum fleet anchored off Sandy Hook and continuance of the tight guard maintained by the Coast Guard around the few ships left were reported today by officers of the Coast Guard putting into Staten Island for supplies. Of the 16 ships anchored off Rum Row this morning, 12 hauled in their anchors and put out to sea during the day.

The blockading fleet, closing in on the four ships still remaining, is playing a waiting game. It was asserted, confident that the patience and supplies of the stubborn ships would be exhausted eventually.

Meanwhile reports from the Pacific coast indicate that the rum runners have transferred their base of operations to Pacific waters where Federal preparations to drive them from the sea have thus far proved inadequate.

SAN PEDRO, Calif., May 15.— Two steamers, estimated to be approximately 6,000 tons burden each, dropped anchor off the north end of Santa Catalina Island, about 40 miles at sea from this port Thursday.

Lookouts placed them in the category of rum runners, come to join the Southern California Tamaroa and Vaughn, engaged in whiskey row.

Reports from the Federal ships blockading the rum runners, are to the effect that rum row, located generally near San Clemente Island, south of Santa Catalina, now consists of five vessels, one of the ocean-going freighter type and the others smaller.

Triangular War
Rum runners, hijackers and law enforcement officers are waging a triangular war here for control of San Pedro harbor.

Police and federal prohibition agents admitted they had little success in stemming the flow of 4.5-let liquor from a rum fleet of five vessels said to be lying off the coast between here and San Diego but declared they had evidence to show that hijackers were making it hot for the rum smugglers.

Reports were being investigated today of a shooting affray which took place on the road between the Point and Point Fer-min, overlooking the harbor. A large truck followed closely by a touring car, was attacked by another touring car, residents of the outlying district told the police and volleys of pistol shots were exchanged.

Shortly after the shooting investigators ran onto a skidway down the steep slope to the water's edge. The truck apparently had been used to operate the tackle with which a cargo had been dragged up the skidway on the highway and police expressed the opinion that this may have been the same truck attacked by hijackers.
Between $10,000 and $20,000 worth of whiskey is being landed in or near the harbor daily, authorities estimated, adding that the impounding liquor will continue so long as they are hand-capped by entire lack of small fast boats with which to make port.

First Watermelons Of Season Are Displayed
Two fine Sanford grown watermelons, first of the new crop here, are on display in the window of the new offices of the Sanford Development Company on Park Avenue. According to J. C. Wainwright, of the company, the watermelons were brought in by C. W.
Nicholson from the farm of the company at Paola. The company has four and one half acres in melons, and Mr. Wainwright says that shipments will begin on Saturday.

Big Business Leader Quits Work And Retires Just To Get 'Acquainted' With Wife

NEW YORK, May 13.—"Big business" in these highpowered days is 1 per cent recreation and 99 per cent perspiration, according to Delos W. Cooke, who has resigned as a director of the Cunard line, and get acquainted with his wife.

The workday individual with 9 to 5 o'clock should look upon the "man higher up" with envy, he said as he with play, not the high-salaried people for the 40 year sto attitude he had striven.

"Big business these days demands 24 hours of one's time," he said. "I can say from experience that it is utterly impossible for a man in big business to devote the necessary time to his job and continue to run his home as it should be run."

Resigns to Know Family.
 "Why of big business scarcely know our wives. It's just one conference after another and you have to keep business on your mind every minute. Therefore, the only alternative, if one wants to get acquainted with one's wife and family, is to resign. That's why I've given up my directorship."

"The average person looks upon the man of big business only in the very pleasant light of riches and Roy Rogers. The general idea seems to be that he and the niblick are inseparable."

"Well, this latter isn't so far from the truth. The big business men plays lots of golf. But what the average person does not realize is that much business is done on the links today rather than in the office. The golf course is where contracts are established—where business is given the so-called 'personal touch'."

"Many a big deal gets underway during a friendly round of golf. So you can readily see that the big business man who is an habitue of the links may have and probably does have, an ulterior motive."

Expects Only Competency.
 "The public is wrong in another of its conceptions of the big business man. Most people think every important executive is enormously wealthy. Why, only today, a paper described me as a millionaire. I'm not a millionaire, never have been and probably never will be. Few big business men ever accumulate fortunes. They're too busy to make money. All they can hope for is a competency for their declining years. I expect no more than that."

At the age of four, Cooke, with his parents, took Horace Greely's advice. Ten years later he was working behind the counter of a country store in Storm Lake, Ia. The farmers brought in butter and eggs, which he exchanged for calico and tobacco. He got $14 a month for that job.

Watching the station master handle mail pouches developed in Cooke a mania to become a railroad man. Beginning as a $40 a month telegraph operator, he staged a log-cabin to White House rise to fame that eventually brought him to the vice presidency of the Erie railroad. In 1918 he went with the Cunard line.

"I have achieved that which was far beyond even the wildest of my childhood dreams," he said today. "I have success, influence, social standing and enough money to keep the wolf from the door. But that doesn't mean happiness."

Looking for Happiness.
 "I've just bought a new home in Westchester. Instead of devoting 24 hours a day to business, I'm going to give my time to home life. That's how I expect to find my happiness."

Cooke is 61. He would pass for 48 or 50. So sudden and unexpected was his resignation that even his closest friends were surprised. With the world at his feet, this man casts aside a salary that would put a bank president in the light of a dollar-a-year man, to get acquainted with his wife.

"Other men in big business would do well to follow my example," he observed.

"If the big business man's life were as rosy as the average person would have you believe, death surely would be a hardship. But I wouldn't want to live my life over again. I've enjoyed it hugely, but I wouldn't turn the clock back one minute. All I hope is that when the sun goes down it will find me smiling."

Are YOU Near A Breakdown?

If so, look out! The strain of modern life, in business or in pleasure, is apt to bring on blood pressure and heart trouble. If you feel close to a breakdown, what you need is that old and reliable tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made of herbs and roots brought to Dr. Pierce's laboratory by Indians from Reservations in the vicinity. It is a purely reconstructive tonic, will purify the blood, tone up a sluggish liver, and help restore health and strength. Ask your neighbor about it!

A hen doesn't lead such a bad life. We wouldn't mind being able to sit still for three weeks.

Another thing to try in green in the spring is the man who drinks the dandelion wine he makes.

"New York City spends $65,000,000 a year for charity. For instruction in practical principles of personal economics it spends in its school system practically nothing. Virtually every object of charity and every case of dependency could be tracked back to the failure of the school house to teach the value of money and the importance of saving. When public education teaches students to manage their personal affairs prudently and gives them an understanding of the value and proper use of money, then we will attack economic folly at the source and begin to save our people from the tragedy of financial dependency."
 Mr. Knox pointed out that more than a billion dollars, it is estimated, disappears "in foolish speculation in fake schemes in the United States in a year." "Forty-four million people, two fifths of our population, are gainfully employed in the United States earning more than $60,000,000,000 annually," he declared. "The management of the expenditure of this $24,000,000,000 annual pay check is the largest and most important business in America. It has been estimated that upwards of $10,000,000,000 of this personal income is wasted annually."

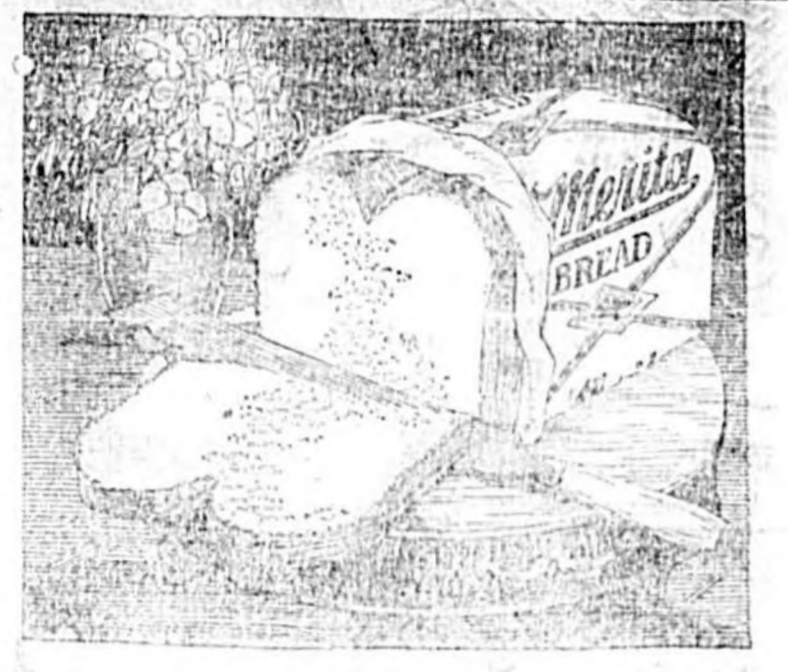

U.S. Board Members Oppose Junking Of Ships in Ford Sale

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Members of the shipping board for the most part are in a mood little inclined toward a policy of wholesale scrapping of ships as they awaited the return today of Chairman O'Connor from Detroit and Luffala with details of his conversation with Henry Ford concerning the purchase by the latter of 400 of the board's ships.
 Several commissioners expressed themselves frankly as opposed to any policy of scrapping, while others said the question should be inquired into thoroughly before any such policy was embarked upon. President Palmer of the fleet corporation indicated he thought some ships might be scrapped when the merchant marine and naval revenue needs had been cared for, and the belief was general that if any of the 600 ships tied up should be scrapped, they would be for the most part the 300 ton steel oil tankers.
 Views as to the junking of these ships, however, ranged from the opinion that none should be sold for this purpose until every effort had been exhausted to dispose of them for operation to a proposal that about 50 be reserved and the rest sold for breaking up. In any event, it was said, should a policy of scrapping be decided upon in any degree, bids would be invited in open market in which case Mr. Ford probably would have to meet competition.

St. Augustine Plans Survey On Publicity

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., May 15.—The board of directors of the St. Augustine Chamber of Commerce has adopted the report of the Advertising committee which was appointed to make a survey of the publicity needs of the city. The report proposes that a fund of $20,000 be raised for the advertising of the city to the state and the outside world. Newspapers and magazines would be the chief means of advertising. A campaign was appointed to make plans for the raising of the fund.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

THE GIRL OF TODAY

(A Rhyme of Twenty Years Ago Which Fits Present Conditions) Little girl, you look so slight, When I see you in the light, With your skirts cut rather high, Won't you scratch a cold and die? A don't you 'frid to show your calf? It must make some fellers laugh.

Little girl, what is the cause Why your clothes are made of gauze? Don't you wear no undervest When you go out fully dressed? Do you like these peck-a-boos? 'Stead of normal underclothes.

Little girl, your 'sunders show When the sunlight plays on you, I can see your tinted flesh Through your little gown of mesh. Is it modest, do you 'spose Not to wear no underclothes?

Little girl, your socks have shoals Of those little tiny holes. Why you want to show your limb I don't know—is it a whim? Do you want to catch the eye? Of each feller passin' by?

Little girl, where is the charm In your long uncovered arm; Is it the V behind your neck, Is it there for birds to peck? Little girl, I tell you those, Ain't so nice as underclothes.

Little girl, now listen here, You would be just twice as dear If you'd cover up your charms, Neck, back, legs and both your arms. I would take you to the shows If you'd wear some underclothes.

Little girl, your mystery Luring charm and modesty, Is what makes us fellers keen To possess a little Queen; But no lover—goodness knows—Wants a girl sans underclothes.

I must wear a coat of mail, Clothe from head to big toe-nail, I must cover up my form Even when the weather's warm; Can't enjoy the summer's throes Lest I garb in underclothes. —Tampa Tribune.

A Simple Cure For A Complex Ailment

It is usually an awful risk to take, but just the same you can almost always be sure you are right in advising the victim of dyspepsia to cure himself by proper exercise. The chronic dyspeptic is almost invariably a grouch. Quite often he is right dangerously bad-tempered. But by getting at a safe distance—say at the other end of a telephone line—you can take a chance at repeating to him some of the finding of the health experts.

It has been known for a long while that the open-air workman rarely has indigestion. Ploughing and digging and chopping, the farm-worker comes in to a dinner table laden with strong food that would send a sedentary worker to the hospital, and eats with a relish. His digestive apparatus is as sturdily reliable as is his good right arm. And this is as it should be.

But while people have known that good digestion and muscular labor often go together, it has only been of recent months that the subject of exercise-for-digestion-improvement has been placed upon a scientific basis. According to "Good Health" magazine observations made by the aid of the X-Ray have shown that muscular exercise has the effect of increasing the movements of the stomach, and thus lessens the time which foodstuffs remain in the stomach.

Instead of "resting" after a meal, the sensible person will take some kind of exercise that will aid in the digestion of his food, if he happens to be among that large number who suffer from slow digestion. While the person who suffers pain after eating, because of too speedy contractions of the stomach, should show his good sense by resting after meals.

The main idea is for people to study themselves and their reaction to exercise and rest. In some sanitariums chronic dyspeptics have been cured by a woodpile and an axe. One woman we have in mind who had been a languid petter invalid for years, was transformed into a radiant creature, a picture of perfect health, through the cruel orders of one of the nation's greatest physicians. He put her to work hoeing a great field of onions. He was smart enough to make her furiously angry. He badgered her into showing him that she was not the weak simpleton he accused her of being. And one day she realized that she had found the blessed possession, good health.

Breathing exercises and special which bring into action the abdominal muscles and the diaphragm can do wonders for the improvement of the digestive apparatus. But it requires mental ability to adhere to an exercise program. Try out some advice of this kind on the grouchiest dyspeptic you know, and see what happens.

Airplane Values

Not many days ago an American seaplane remained in the air twenty-eight and one half hours, traveling at the rate of eighty miles an hour, and crashing previous endurance records by one hundred per cent. A simple problem in mathematics will show that if the plane had continued in one given direction, it would have been 2,280 miles from its starting point when it landed.

Realizing that it is now possible to travel almost from New York to San Francisco in little over a day, it is interesting to speculate on what we shall be able to do in ten years, in fifty years. By that time there will be no inaccessible spots on the globe. Small oases in the deserts and the beautiful peaks of the most remote mountains will be made almost suburbs of New York and Chicago.

As Arthur Brisbane says, "This is something for real estate and railroad men to think about. In less than twenty years, real estate values for residence purposes, outside of cities and suburbs, will be absolutely independent of railroad terminals."

Nowadays values depend largely on the accessibility of the property by road and train. A piece of acreage in an unopened country now may be practically worthless. Let a thin asphalt road be constructed to it, and it will be worth thousands of dollars. The time will come when acreage whether there is a road to it or not will be worth thousands of dollars, because everyone will be driving his own little airplane and will be entirely independent of railroads.

Brisbane lends further sage advice when he says: "Bear in mind, also, Messrs. Realtors, that island property will be as valuable as mainland property, just as accessible and more "exclusive," and that hitherto inaccessible hilltops and mountain lands are to supply the choice building lots."

PEOPLE LIVE LONGER in Florida, northern folks add years to their life by becoming residents of our state. Escaping excessive taxation may be an impelling motive for some, but longer life as assured by our climate should be more seductive and appeal to a larger number of people. Nobody wants to die any sooner than he—at least not those fortunate enough to give up any under the blue skies of sunny Florida.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

BY IRVIN S. COBB

A few months before his death Gen. Basil Duke of Kentucky, who commanded Morgan's cavalry after the killing of his brother-in-law, Gen. John Morgan, told this tale at a Confederate reunion in his home city of Louisville.

He said that during one of the Tennessee campaigns Morgan's men surprised and routed a regiment of Federal troopers. In the midst of the retreat one of the enemy, who was mounted upon a big horse, suddenly turned and charged the victorious Confederates full tilt, waving his arm and shrieking like mad as he bore down upon them alone. Respecting such marvelous courage, the Confederates forbore shooting at the approaching foe, but when he was right upon them they saw there was a different reason for his foolhardiness.

This is the second time in a few months that such an occurrence has been brought to the attention of the police and the public.

It is possible that such a shooting might be accidental, yet even that would not be an excuse for hushing it up and preventing an investigation, for if such a system is maintained it will result in making crime easy, and before long a murder will be committed and the guilty one will escape.

As Brisbane Sees It

WE EAT TOO MUCH. RAILROADS AND LAND. WESTERN BRAINS AND MONEY. BAD COTTON NEWS. By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright, 1925)

PROFESSOR MAX RUBNER, of Berlin, says Americans eat more on the average—3,308 calories daily—than any other nation. England comes next, with 2,997 calories.

It is certain that this country eats too much, and wastes about as much as it eats. Half we eat keeps us alive, and one quarter supports the undertakers and cemetery owners. Eat half, leave the table for ten minutes, and once digestion starts you'll know you've eaten enough.

GERMAN WISE men figure that our earth, taxed to capacity, could produce enough to feed nine thousand million human beings, about six times the number on earth now.

Such estimates are worthless. If, as Haldane suggests, scientists succeed in making sugar about as cheap as sawdust, and if the earth is intensively cultivated, there is no limit to the number that the earth could feed. Some of us might have to live up in the air permanently, as many Chinese live on boats, for lack of room on land.

With sharks and other sea wolves killed off, the ocean, alone, could supply enough food for ten billion human beings easily.

THE WHOLE Western coast should be interested in the campaign made by the Los Angeles Examiner to shorten train time between the Atlantic and the Pacific. Three nights on the train from New York to Los Angeles can easily be accomplished.

Last August a shipment of silk from Yokohama to New York traveled 3,123 miles from Seattle to New York in 73 hours, 25 minutes. The running time of a Pullman passenger car between New York and Los Angeles is 91 hours. Too long.

THE CITIZENS of Florida are working at improved transportation in a manner that will interest California, and it is to be hoped, wake up the transcontinental lines.

Last Monday, at Fort Myers, on Florida's West Coast, the biggest mass meeting of citizens on record, heard S. Davies Warfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line, promise that he would run another railroad, his own, into Fort Myers, the Interstate Commerce Commission approving. Over three hundred citizens subscribed money to provide Seaboard terminal sites.

HEAVEN MAY give a land everything it needs—climate, soil, sunshine, beauty. But all is vain without adequate transportation.

Florida shows appreciation of the new railroad building that Mr. Warfield has done and is doing there. California will show appreciation at least as great, to the Santa Fe, the Union Pacific and any line that will take one night out of the transcontinental trip, thus bringing the Atlantic and the Pacific 600 miles nearer to each other.

WINSTON CHURCHILL, discussing tariff on silk in the House of Commons, drew from his dispatch case silk things, including stockings, and proved his point. The House wondered at his versatility.

That isn't surprising. Churchill is the son of an American woman, Miss Jerome, whose father was W. R. Travers's partner in the old Wall Street firm of Travers & Jerome. Our young girls carry brains as well as money to Europe.

COTTON HAS gone to another low price for the new crop, and that's bad news. It is bad for the South, just as bad for the North. One part of the country depends on the other's prosperity.

Somebody said it was amazing that human beings intelligent enough to make a watch still live in ancient superstitions.

It is also amazing that the human race, intelligent enough to build up and protect fortunes of hundreds of millions, has not found a way to perfect and decently encourage men that work the ground and produce the real wealth.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE and Mr. Mellon have been hoo-speak successfully. Mr. Lord, head of the Budget Bureau, informs the President that for the national fiscal year ending June 30, there will be a surplus of $108,000,000. The country is fortunate in having Mr. Mellon, who knew enough about money to make a few hundred millions for himself, running the national money department and Mr. Coolidge, who seems to think a president should handle the people's money as carefully as he would his own.

BUSINESS ON a big scale is growing in big things and little things. One chain of grocery stores does a business of more than $52,000,000 a year. One five and ten cent store chain a little while ago announced as its ambition a business of $10,000,000 a year. It does now more than $250,000,000 a year.

In retail business there is unlimited prosperity for the man that understands the meaning and use of the three magic words—"ORGANIZE, DEPUTIZE, SUPERVISE."

THE BUSY MAN'S NEWSPAPER

AS TROTSKY RETURNS

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

Leon Trotsky, who if not the greatest is certainly the most picturesque figure in the dreary history of the Russian Revolution, has returned to Moscow.

He has come back, according to the accounts, in a state of confusion which appears to be shared by the correspondents. Whether his return is triumphal or penitential is shrouded in the obscurity of Russian factional politics, but there seems to be no doubt that it is made at a moment when the Soviets are facing something very like a crisis. Trotsky's reputation is that of a realist, and the Bolsheviks are finding themselves confronted with reality.

Since the beginning of the year there has appeared under the elaborate economic terminology which is the vice of Communist public speaking the full confession that the experiments have not worked. The report that Zinovieff has replaced Trotsky in exile in the Caucasus may not be true, but the world revolution over which he presided has had another failure added to the account. What looked like an explosion in Bulgaria seems to have ended in a fizzle. Trotsky with a high Red casualty list, and one may remember that one of the

WHAT PRINCETON GRADUATES EARN

NEW YORK HERALD

From Princeton comes—not for the first time—a table setting forth the impressive earnings of graduates ten years after leaving college. Some 250 members of the class of 1915 are now receiving an average of $7,500 from their labors, while unearned income brings the average total to $10,492. These figures are so high that special factors would seem to be involved. The very highest earnings are not given—we are told only that sixty-nine men engaged in manufacturing or finance made well over $12,000 apiece. But from this and from the fact that the unearned income for the whole class averages nearly $2,000 tax deductions would appear justified: first, that Princeton men are largely aided by the command of capital, hereditary or otherwise; second, that the average income receives a decided lift from the extremely high earnings of a small favored group.

A more interesting question is whether the collection of such statistics would commend itself to the stern-souled James McCosh, who built modern Princeton. While it is well to persuade the young idea that college pays in material as well as non-material rewards, it is far from well to suggest that the measure of achievement lies in money. That is what such figures do suggest. The class of 1893 should have been proudest ten years after graduation of the member named Tarkington, who had just written "The Gentleman from Indiana." The class of 1879 should have been proudest of the member named Wilson who had published "Congressional Government" and "The State." Princeton used to boast that up to McCosh's day she had graduated one President—Madison—and one Vice President—Cabinet officers, thirty Senators and twenty-five college Presidents. It is a fair guess that some of these men made their way because they did not think too much about mere money in their first ten years—or later.

At the rear of the Princeton class, in earning capacity are sixteen educators who receive an average of $2,825. But if there is another Wilson or Basil Gildersleeve among them, he may be the man whose real earnings are the highest.

IMITATION
How Ed. Whitford, 103 S. Seminole Hudson-Essess Co. Sanford, Fla. Phone 431

It was Levin Cobb, the fellow of gentlemen boys and blonde who, who a few years ago that the era through which we were then wringing would go down in history, imitated with that same eye and the same as the silk shirt size.

Well, the era through which we are now struggling will go down in history as the imitation era.

No need for the real thing is as hard to detect as it is that of imitations on a frog.

You step into a store to buy a pair of pants and call for some refreshing banana drink, like "The Man Squeeze." The label on the bottle is pretty and it looks about like this, "Not flavored with real bananas, but with imitation bananas."

Antique furniture furnishes one of the most fertile fields for the imitator. A manufacturer can add a thousand pairs to a dozen of furniture in 10 minutes--and a thousand dollars in the price!

And just think how many letters the imitation diamond has gotten into trouble. Many a man who has bought an imitation diamond necklace ring has tried to become the expert of the make-it-fakes.

As we have imitation butter, and imitation food, we have imitation pills, and imitated summer. The only thing that I can think of that has not been successfully imitated are eggs and oranges. The nearest imitation to eggs being the orange plant and the nearest imitation to oranges being the California orange.

Generally, a woman who is introduced to a man who successfully tells the only way you could tell he was a woman was to wait a day and see that no whiskers sprouted on her chin.

Perhaps the greatest development in imitations has been in connection with shoes. It's not in a shoe factory when he takes a drink of beer in one hand, money takes his life in the other.

Automobiles have not escaped the attention of the imitators. How many imitation automobiles there are on the market. When a fellow buys an automobile he wants the real thing and he can always be sure that he does when he reads an "Expert" check. It's always a safe automobile investment.

Man with three wives and 21 children has been sent to Sing Sing. The rest will do him good.
