Sanford Government's Newsletter Raises Questions

By Karen Talley
And Deane Jordan

Sanford city government's recent venture into the publishing business by way of a newsletter it produced and mailed to some 9,500 city residents has raised a number of questions, including whether the lack of a formal vote to spend tax dollars on the publication was proper.

Other questions that have been raised — and which apparently will be reviewed with the city attorney before another newsletter is produced — since the Evening Herald made inquiries into the matter, include:

- Should a government agency embark on such ventures using taxpayer funds without benefit of a public hearing for citizen input?

- Should the city spend the roughly more than $12,000 in taxpayer money to produce the estimated four a year the city says it wants to publish without benefit of a similar public hearing?

- Could that $12,000 be spent in other areas rather than a newsletter which contains information readily available to residents from city hall records and meeting minutes?

- Should a government agency use public funds to produce a one-sided view, that of the government agency itself?

- Should city employees be recruited to work

Guards Took 45 Minutes To Report Boy's Escape

Private guards let 45 minutes lapse between the time a juvenile prisoner hoisted from the courthouse Tuesday and when police were called about his disappearance.

Capt. Charles Fagan, of the Sanford Police Department, said today he would like to know why it took the guards hired by the state's Division of Youth Services from 12:30 to 1:15 p.m. to notify police that Walter Nunley, 13, of Leesburg had escaped.

Fagan caught the boy around 2 p.m. in Lake Mary.

The 13-year-old was to appear before Circuit Judge Dominick J. Saffi on an order to show cause, in this case the juvenile equivalent of contempt of court. Before the hearing though, Nunley bolted from the Seminole County Courthouse. The boy was not wearing handcuffs or leg irons though many juveniles appearing in court do.

Fagan said it appears the guards first searched the courthouse, then drove around the courthouse, and finally drove to the detention center south of Sanford before reporting the escape.

Fagan was searching for the boy when he saw a youth matching his description just inside Sanford. While getting a complete description of the boy, Fagan turned his patrol car around and stopped the boy in Lake Mary at Alma Ave., and Country Club Road.

Rick Hughlett, superintendent of the center, was unavailable for comment today or Tuesday about the time lapse or whether Division of Youth Services has a set procedure for guards to follow when juvenile prisoners escape.

Police Boss Quits In Wake Of MOVE Battle

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Police Commissioner Gregore Sambor resigned today as commissioner of a department riddled with corruption and harshly criticized for the May 13 MOVE battle that killed 11 people and left a neighborhood in ashes.

The resignation by Sambor, a 35-year veteran of the force, will take effect at month's end.

Sambor, 57, head of the 7,000-member police force since January 1984, submitted his resignation today, said an assistant to city Managing Director James White.

After his meeting with police officials, Sambor refused to comment on his resignation. He left police headquarters by a side

Supreme Court To Weigh Cable TV Monopolies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court, tackling an issue important to millions of television viewers nationwide, will decide this term whether cities and towns can create monopolies for cable TV operators.

The justices agreed Tuesday to hear an appeal by Los Angeles, whose bidding process for awarding cable franchises was struck down in March by the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The high court's ruling, expected by next summer, will reach far beyond Los Angeles to the 22,117 communities with the power to grant cable television franchises.

It also is likely to affect the Career Possibilities

As part of Business Career Day at Seminole High School Tuesday, students Nick Casello, center, Paul Walton and Kim Finnick look over pamphlets about banking jobs. The information was provided by Rosemary Ellidge, personnel manager for Freedom Banks, left, and David Graham, assistant branch manager Springs Plaza Freedom Bank. Presentations throughout the day highlighted careers in banking, computers, bookkeeping and secretarial work, according to Katherine Alexander, chairman of the Business Education Department. About 400 students attended.

Leaky Roof Threatens Law Library

Man and nature are scrimmaging atop the Seminole County Courthouse Annex as workmen try to seal the leaking roof of the newly-renovated building before seeping rainwater causes extensive damage to the law library below and the rest of the building.

Nature has won so far, staining a freshly-painted wall in the library, soaking several ceiling tiles, drenching the carpet, and rusting a track that supports the movable book shelves.

A contractor began spraying a tan-colored sealing foam on the roof this week but was forced to halt the work by rain Tuesday, according to Tom Ticoconi, physical maintenance coordinator for the county. He said the damage to the library is minimal and will cost "next to nothing" to fix up once the roof is fixed.

Ticoconi said the roof is leaking because it is old. The building used to be the county jail. He said the application of the foam, which will then be covered with a vinyl coating, should be completed this week, perhaps today, if the rain stops long enough for workers to dry off the roof and coat it.

The sealing is being done by Coating Application and Waterproofing Co., of Orlando. The company was a $70,000 contract to repair and seal portions of four county building roofs. They are portions of the annex, the Roumillat Building, which now houses the state attorney's office, the county services building and a nearby building holding the boiler for the services building.

Fay Hall, assistant law librarian at the Fred R. Wilson law library, said the roof has been leaking since they moved into the second-floor section four weeks ago.

At one spot in the ceiling, she said, day light could be seen and when the wall below the hole stained brown, she said workmen said the problem was a spilled soft drink not a leak.

At least three ceiling tiles are sagging and mushy from the dribbling water and one has a wastepaper bucket under it to catch the dripping runoff.

Ms. Hall said the water did puddle on the new moving book shelves and she had to dry off the shelves and some books. The seepage has also begun rusting one of the two tracks the shelves move on. The shelves can be moved together in a bellows fashion to save space.

The library has about 55,000 volumes and get about 30 new volumes a month, she said. No books have been ruined by the leak so far, she said.

City Creates 3 Jobs To Streamline Operations

Streamlining and monitoring departmental operations at Sanford city hall is to be effected through the creation of three new positions, according to the city commission, which has approved the jobs' salary ranges.

One of the positions, chief accountant, requires abilities on a par with those of City Clerk Henry Tatum, who has been in city administration for 24 years and said he's "not getting any younger" and "would like to see someone groomed to eventually take my place."

For the city's new budget analyst position, the individual hired must be capable of ensuring that city hall's financial affairs are solvent each day. A $100,000 accounting error that went undiscovered for two days and unlocked cash drawers behind city hall counters were cited by Director of Administrative Services Kim Smith when she requested the position be created.

The third position is that of a buyer who will attempt to pare city expenditures by coordinating departmental purchase orders. The buyer would also process employee insurance claims. Ms. Smith said.

Salary for the positions is commensurate with experience and education and ranges in the low $30,000s for chief accountant, the low $20,000s for the budget analyst and the mid-$20,000s for the buyer. City Manager Frank Falson said.

In other business, the commission decided to:

- Allocate $500 to the Sanford Downtown Business Association for the commercials it will show on Channel 9 during the Christmas season. Rather than bedeck the downtown area with decorations, this year the association will utilize commercials to promote Sanford to shoppers.

Longwood Fires Bryant

Building Official Called Incompetent

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood Building Official R.A. "Bud" Bryant was fired Tuesday night by unanimous vote by the city commission.

The action followed two public hearings at which City Administrator Greg Manning presented complaints against Bryant, who has headed the building department for six years.

At a special meeting Tuesday night, after Manning read a list of charges against Bryant, Commissioner Ed Myers made a motion to "terminate" the building official on the grounds that he was "incompetent, inefficient, failed to perform his job properly, was insubordinate, and his conduct was disruptive to the city."

Manning recommended Bryant be terminated because "I don't believe he has filled his obligation as a building official."

For now, Mayor Harvey Smerilson said, inspections will be made by either the City Engineer Charles Haasler or county building inspectors.

The only other building inspector, Jerald Davis, was laid off Oct. 1 after the commission eliminated the salary for the position from the 1985-86 fiscal year budget.

Davis called the charges against Bryant "unfair and unsubstantiated" and were created as a reason to get rid of the building inspector.

Davis told the Evening Herald he was offered the job as building official by Manning should Bryant be fired, but had turned it down. He said he was not interested in applying for the position now that it is open.

"If they could do that to him they could get rid of me the same way," he said. "If they asked me the same questions I would have to give them the same answers that 'Bud' did, but they don't want to hear the truth."

Bryant, who will be given two weeks pay in lieu of notice, did not say anything Tuesday night, saying he had said everything he had to say in his own defense during the 3 1/2 hours of public hearings.

Smerilson said the city will advertise for a replacement and does not expect it to take more than 30 days to find someone qualified.

"There are plenty of people qualified locally," he said. Bryant's annual salary was $22,453.

Manning's list of complaints included charges that Bryant had made statements recklessly and maliciously in a memo to city commissioners and had failed to inform the city administrator about the memo, didn't follow up on complaints by citizens, and was negligent in his failure to follow orders.

Although Bryant's statement in the Sept. 25 memo would appear general the commissioners took them personally.

The memo stated "It is quite apparent that this [protection of the health, safety and welfare of the people in its jurisdiction] cannot be accomplished unless the Building Department is permitted to perform its duties as prescribed by the adopted

Discrimination Charges Filed Against Three Large Firms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has filed suit against three large companies charging unfair employment practices — a move that results in millions of dollars in back pay for the alleged victims.

EEOC Chairman Clarence Thomas said suits were filed Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Baltimore against Citizens Bank and Trust Co. of Maryland, and against Peterson, Howell and Heather Inc. and its parent company, PHH Group Inc. in Chicago. The commission filed suit in federal court against Panduit Corporation.

"We are alleging that all three companies violated Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 by discriminating in their employment practices," Thomas said. Efforts to reach agreement failed, and compensation for victims in the class action suit could total "several million dollars in each of the three cases."

Achille Laura Hostages Sue

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two elderly women held hostage on the Achille Lauro cruise ship sued the cruise line and four tour companies for $400 million, claiming the hijacking caused them severe psychological injuries and could have been prevented.

The lawsuit, by Sophie Chasser, 70, and Anna Schneider, 73, both of Hollywood, Fla., is the first legal claim filed in connection with the seizure of the Italian cruise ship off Alexandria, Egypt, their lawyers said.

"There was absolutely no security protection on the ship to deal with this. They should have been aware of the possibility of this type of hijacking going on," charged lawyer Joseph Napoli, who filed the lawsuit Tuesday with attorney Morris Eisen.

House Votes Debt Ceiling Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee is moving to avert a U.S. fiscal crisis during the superpower summit next week, but a solution to the balanced budget impasse in Congress remains beyond the grasp of lawmakers.

The committee late Tuesday approved a small hike in the national debt ceiling as a "security blanket," aimed at allowing the president to go to Geneva, Switzerland, without a government default hanging over his head.

If approved by the entire Congress, the $80 billion increase in the nation's borrowing authority — to a record $1.9 trillion — would tide the government over until Dec. 13, long after President Reagan returns from the summit.

Hunters Stranded In Mountains

YAKIMA, Wash. (UPI) — About 100 elk hunters were stranded overnight in the bitterly cold Cascade Mountains — some blocked by 4-foot snow drifts and others refusing help from rescue teams that already have recovered two bodies.

The Yakima County sheriff's office again requested the use of three Army helicopters from Ft. Lewis today to search the eastern slopes of the Cascades, where early morning temperatures were expected to be 5 degrees or lower.

Miami's First Cuban-Born Mayor Elected In Tuesday's Runoff

MIAMI (UPI) — Xavier Suarez, a suave, Harvard-educated lawyer, overcame an early challenge by millionaire banker Raul Masvidal to become Miami's first Cuban-born mayor.

With all 85 of the city's precincts and absentee ballots reported by 11 p.m. EST Tuesday, Suarez had collected 31,662 votes, or 56.7 percent, to 24,224, or 43.3 percent for Masvidal, who was making his first bid for public office.

Between the Nov. 5 primary and Tuesday's runoff several backers of defeated six-term incumbent Maurice Ferre threw their support to Suarez.

Suarez led Masvidal by as much as a 7-1 ratio in the Little Havana areas heavily populated by Cuban-Americans.

Baptists: All Abortions Immoral

MIAMI (UPI) — Messengers to The Florida Baptist State Convention voted by a 2-1 voice vote to declare all abortions immoral, even those when the pregnancy threatens the life of the mother or is the result of rape or incest.

A number of members of the convention spoke against the measure before the vote Tuesday by about 1,000 people in the James L. Knight Convention Center.

The vote was taken earlier than expected while 200 women, mostly wives of pastors, were out of the hall.

In other voting Tuesday, the Rev. Max Cadenhead, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Naples, was elected president of the state convention. He succeeds the Rev. Bill Hickem of Jacksonville's Riverside Church.

Helmet Law To Be Enforced

ORLANDO (UPI) — Highway Safety officials said a motorcycle helmet law will continue to be enforced despite a county judge's dismissal of a violation charge because "the law didn't exist."

The charge against John Hayes of Orlando was dismissed last week when Defense Attorney Garrick Fox, also of Orlando, introduced a Highway Safety department document indicating that approval of all helmet brands had expired in Florida.

However, there is no such loophole in state law, according to Tom Hillstrom, public information director for the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles.

Body Identified As Missing Girl

ALTURAS (UPI) — A body found in a Polk County orange grove was identified Tuesday as that of a missing 4-year-old girl, and authorities charged a hitchhiker with first-degree murder of the child. A volunteer searching for Karen Michelle Radford found the body buried in an orange grove in Alturas shortly before dusk Monday, according to Polk County Sheriff's Department Desk Sgt. Stella Collins.

The body matched the description of the blonde-haired girl, but positive identification was not made until Tuesday, said sheriff's spokeswoman Donna Renfro.

Cleric Seeks Hostage's Release

LONDON (UPI) — The archbishop of Canterbury's special envoy will fly to Lebanon today in a bid to secure the release of American hostages who had appealed for new efforts to win their freedom, the Church of England said.

Terry Waite, Archbishop Robert Runcie's secretary for Anglican Communion Affairs, decided to make the trip to Beirut "after having had further contact during the past three days with the group holding the hostages," a church statement said.

"Mr. Waite has received a message from the group which encourages him to believe that a visit to Beirut will be worthwhile at this time," the statement said.

Waite helped secure the release in September of the Rev. Benjamin Weir, 61, a U.S.

clergyman who spent 16 months in captivity in Lebanon.

In Washington, a State Department official said the administration would welcome any effort that would result in the release of the hostages. But the official, noting previous unsuccessful bids, said he would "wait on events before getting terribly excited."

Waite, a skilled negotiator, has been involved in the hostage crisis for more than a year and the church statement appealed to news organizations to allow him to work outside the media spotlight "due to the extremely sensitive and dangerous nature of the situation."

A church spokeswoman said Waite's trip was in direct response to an appeal from four American hostages but that his mission did not rule out possible talks to secure the release of seven other Western captives, including at least two other Americans, three Frenchmen, a Briton and an Italian.

Most of the captives are believed held by the Islamic Jihad organization, a fundamentalist pro-Iranian group. The group claimed last month to have killed one American, U.S. Embassy officer William Buckley, but U.S. officials could not confirm that assertion.

The spokeswoman said Waite had contacts with the group holding four of the Americans after Runcie received a letter from the captives on Saturday.

The letter, one of several in a packet thrown from a speeding car, was signed by Terry Andereson, The Associated Press bureau chief in Beirut, the Rev. Martin Jenco, a Roman Catholic priest, and two American University officials — hospital administrator David Jacobsen and dean Thomas Sutherland.

A similar letter addressed to the White House appealed for President Reagan to negotiate on the hostages' behalf but the administration ruled out any talks "with terrorists."

Waite's quiet diplomacy resulted in the release in September of Weir. In 1981, Waite also secured the release of four British missionaries held in Iran and in January delicate negotiations he held with Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy's regime brought freedom to four Britons held there.

Anthropologist Says:

Teach Bible In School ..But Not As Science

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Renowned anthropologist Richard Leakey Tuesday said children should be taught the Biblical account of human origins in school — but not in biology classes.

Leakey, son of the noted team of anthropologists, Louis and Mary Leakey, and a leading figure in the field in his own right, said educators are obliged to recount the religious accounts that are part of the species' cultural history.

But he said "creationists" who base scientific inquiry on the Biblical account of creation — and who demand equal time for creationism and evolutionary theory in schools — have "got off the rails."

"I think for people not to be aware of religion is wrong," Leakey said at a news conference while in the capital city for a lecture at Florida State University. "I think for children not to be aware of biology is equally wrong. What I do think is wrong is to teach Genesis as a science. Genesis is not a science. Biology is a science."

Leakey also decried the theory that humans are by nature a violent breed.

Humans indeed have a violent streak, Leakey said. But fossil evidence suggests they also have a knack for overcoming genetic predispositions in the name of survival.

"Social cohesion and social cooperation appear to have been a characteristic of our species for close to 2 million years," Leakey told reporters. "Therefore I would say that if you want to characterize the driving force in human evolution it would be more truthful to speak of that than this hypothetical killing instinct."

He added: "Instincts are one thing and culture is another thing. Regardless of what our ancestors did, it seems to me unlikely that most of us are guided by that anyway."

Leakey also predicted that same trait toward cooperation will lead to some alternative to nuclear annihilation. "I guess I'm being an optimist," he said. "I think there's every sign, despite smokescreens, that a great deal of energy is going into preventing that."

Commissioner Smith has yet to make his nominations.

Preliminary consideration of an ordinance to annex 40-acres of unincorporated Seminole County land into the city was also conducted by the commission Monday night. The property lies between Celery Avenue and the seaboard coastline railroad right-of-way and the eastern city limit line and Brisson Avenue.

Du Rite Engineering Inc. has contracted with the land's owner, Diane Watson, to develop single family dwellings on the property. The proposed development would be 70-acres in total, 30-acres of which already lie within Sanford city limits.

According to Du Rite vice-president Ignacio Alvarado, his company would build approximately 220 homes on 70-acre parcel. The residences would be $50,000-70,000.

responsible to the city administrator but directly to the commission. Manning said Bryant was supposed to be the city's watchdog and not just check building sites as approved, but make sure the city's agencies and commission don't approve plans in conflict with the city regulations. Bryant was criticized for not finding discrepancies in drainage and landscaping and calling them to the attention of the engineer or commission. Manning cited instances where certificates of occupancy were issued when there were things that did not meet the approved site plans.

In August a plan by the commission to replace Bryant as head of the building department with City Engineer Charles Hassler was delayed pending a ruling by the state Attorney General. Bryant told the commission that according to the Southern Building Code, a building official can not be removed without a hearing.

Arson Suspect Charged In Stabbing

A man charged with arson in connection with the Sept. 4 burning of a Casselberry home has been charged by Winter Springs police along with another man in connection with a Monday night stabbing.

Police did not identify the victim in arrest reports, but said the victim had been cut in the torso and left arm and was hospitalized. The hospital was not specified and information on the victim was not available from police early Tuesday.

According to police reports the stabbing was the result of a confrontation between the victim and the accused arsonist. The other man charged was with the other suspect at the time of the alleged attack and after the knifeplay allegedly told him to get rid of the knife. He reportedly said, "If they can't find the knife they can't do anything," police reported.

The victim was questioned by police at a hospital and police arrested the accused arsonist, Eugene Elmore Jr., 22, of 101 N. Devon St., Winter Springs, and Timothy Allen Woodson, 26, of the same address. Both were charged with aggravated battery at their home at 9:50 p.m. Monday. Elmore was also charged with battery to a police officer after allegedly hitting an officer while being arrested, the report said. Both were being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

In the arson case Elmore, along with James William Morgan, 29, of Casselberry, have been charged in connection with the reportedly racially motivated burning of a black family's home at 1121 Landmark Lane, Winter Springs police did not indicate if there is a link between that case and this latest incident.

John Underwood a building supervisor at 333 Harth Lane lot 4, Casselberry, reported to sheriff's deputies about $2,000 worth of heating and cooling equipment was stolen from that site between Saturday and Monday.

A thief took a $260 radar detector from the car of William A. Allen, 47, of 321 Banyan Drive, Maitland, on Tuesday, deputies reported.

Three cameras with a combined value of $250 were stolen from the car of Harold Hicks, 50, of Richmond, Va., while the car was parked on State Road 46 at the Wekiva River, west of Sanford.

A thief took $1,100 worth of jewelry from the home of Patricia Tierney, 43, of 1639 Lawndale Circle, Winter Park, between Oct. 30 and Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

A $126 stereo and a $150 television were stolen from the home of Johnny Bass of 1572 Harrison Road, Oviedo, on Friday or Saturday, a sheriff's report said.

CIVIL SUIT
A Longwood businessman has filed suit against a Cocoa Beach couple claiming they owe him $45,476.67.

Joseph Strada filed the suit in Seminole Circuit Court Thursday against John J. and Marlene Deng. He is seeking damages in excess of $5,000.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. No trial date has been set.

According to the complaint, Strada loaned $50,000 to the couple on Jan. 26, 1984, so they could buy Donuts and More, a business located at 498 N. State Road 434, Altamonte Springs. They agreed to pay of the 12-percent loan on monthly installments of $717.36.

Strada states in the suit that the couple have not paid him since Sept. 1 and he is demanding payment in full.

He is also asking for damages, court costs and attorney fees.

DADS UEMOM
A Pennsylvania man has filed suit in Seminole Circuit Court against his former wife to get child support.

John R. Logan Jr., of Warren, Pa., filed the suit Friday against Stephany R. Logan, 525 E. Semoran Blvd., Fern Park.

According to the suit, Logan and his wife separated in June. He states in the complaint that he last received a payment from her of $20 on Oct. 23. She is not under a court order to pay child support, records show.

Logan states in the suit that his 1984 income was $2,631 and that his wife has several thousand dollars saved. Their child, J.R. Logan IV, is 4-years-old.

Logan is asking that a judgment be made in his favor for child support. Logan is a self-employed clothier in Warren, records show.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. No hearing date has been set.

COURT ACTION
A 30-year-old woman now living in Jacksonville has pleaded guilty to concealing a child contrary to court order. She was one of seven persons whose cases were heard recently in circuit court.

Deborah Musee Graham could receive up to 5 years in jail when sentenced by Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler on Jan. 13. The recommended sentence is probation.

According to court records, Ms. Graham tried to visit her two daughters, 8- and 4-years-old, in a foster home in June. The girls, up for adoption, had been placed in the home by court order pending the completion of the adoption process. The foster mother's daughter would not let Ms. Graham in the house but told her she could talk to the girls through a screen door. When the girls got to the door, they ran outside.

Ms. Graham reportedly scooped up her daughters, placed them in the backseat of a car, got in the passenger's side and an unidentified driver sped away.

Authorities located Ms. Graham and her daughters a few weeks later in Alabama where she was reportedly staying with her boyfriend, a truck driver, according to Bill Catto, prosecutor on the case. After her arrest, she was transported to Florida.

Ms. Graham is free on bond pending sentencing. The adoption process has not been finalized.

In other court action:
—Troy Lee Donahue, 22, of 426

David St., Winter Springs, arrested July 6, has pleaded guilty to improper exhibition of a weapon, aggravated assault without a firearm, and possession of a controlled substance. He reportedly brandished a handgun at residents of a Longwood motel after he sped into the motel's parking lot leaving skid marks. His car's license plate was traced and he was arrested a short time later at his home. He had been arrested a week earlier on charges of possession of cocaine and marijuana after deputies spotted the drugs while talking to him in connection with the theft of a gun. He could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced Dec. 17 by Leffler.

—Albert Lee Cain, 24, of 520 Oaks St., Altamonte Springs, arrested June 17, pleaded guilty to burglary and dealing in stolen property and was sentenced to 3½ years by Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler. Cain was also arrested in August on charges of grand theft and dealing in stolen property. Cain was given credit for 84 days already served.

—Eddie Louis Williams, 22, of 39 Lake Monroe Terrace, Sanford, arrested Aug. 9, has pleaded guilty to aggravated battery. He was taken into custody after he punched a deputy in the face during a bar fight. The deputy's nose was broken, as well as some facial bones. Williams could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced Nov. 20 by Leffler.

—Edward Charles Furlong, 27, of 305 North Lake Blvd., Altamonte Springs, arrested Aug. 18 near building that had just been burglarized. He pleaded guilty to trespass, petty theft, carrying a concealed weapon, loitering and prowling. He could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced Dec. 17 by Leffler.

—Jeffrey F. Mitchell, 19, of 2266 Illinois St., Apopka, arrested Aug. 24 after raiding cars at the Interstate Mall, Altamonte Springs. He pleaded guilty to burglary to a conveyance and could receive up to a year in the county jail when sentenced Dec. 17 by Leffler.

—David Brandon Hatfield, 21, of 154 Lori Ann Lane, Winter Springs, arrested July 3 on a charge of sexual battery and lewd and lascivious act on a minor after a boy said Hatfield performed various sex acts on him. He pleaded guilty to attempted lewd or lascivious or indecent assault or act upon or in the presence of a child. Hatfield could receive a maximum sentence of 15 years from Leffler on Dec. 16.

Coast Guard Sinks Colombian Drug Ship

MIAMI (UPI) — The Coast Guard fired into a Colombian ship loaded with 28 tons of marijuana when the smugglers ignored warning shots, then sank the boat in international waters, officers said Tuesday.

One member of the Colombian crew was injured by flying shrapnel and was treated aboard the Coast Guard cutter Gallatin for facial cuts, Coast Guard Petty Officer Brandy Ian said.

The Gallatin intercepted the 60-foot, steel-hulled Colombian vessel that carried 28 tons of marijuana worth $22 million Sunday about 150 miles northwest of Colombia, Coast Guard Petty Officer Dan Waldschmidt said.

"The seven crew members aboard the Colombian vessel refused to allow a Coast Guard boarding party to board the boat," Waldschmidt said. "The crew members used the boat to try to ram the Gallatin."

"The Gallatin fired 15 warning shots, then fired 10 rounds of disabling fire," Waldschmidt said.

He said the Coast Guard boarded the Colombian vessel, found the marijuana and arrested the crew members.

"The Gallatin then sank the vessel with additional gunfire," Waldschmidt said.

Waldschmidt said the Gallatin used its 5-inch guns for the warning shots and 50-caliber machine guns to disable the vessel when the crew resisted.

Although the incident occurred in international waters, the Coast Guard obtained approval from the Colombian government before boarding the vessel, Ian said.

"If we see another country's flag, we do check with that government," she said. "We did get a statement of non-objection. It's policy. We don't want to step on anybody's fingers."

Holiday Parade Set For Nov. 24

The Winter Springs Civic Association will sponsor its fourth annual holiday parade on Nov. 24 starting at 3 p.m. This year's theme will be "Holiday Dreams."

The Breakfast Club crew from Radio Y106 will be the grand marshal of the parade, according to Ruthann Gunter, association spokesman. She said Nov. 10 is the entry deadline for floats. For information call her at 327-1246.

Some of the other parade entries are the U.S. Naval Training Center Drill Team, Oviedo and Lyman high school bands, Boy and Girl Scouts, and Indian Guides.

The parade route will be on State Road 434 from Sheeah Boulevard to the Village Market Place.

Congress Should Discipline Itself

Meet Stephen E. Bell, national treasure. Three weeks after the Senate, the world's greatest deliberative body, passed the Gramm-Rudman budget-balancing plan in the wink of an eye, Bell, staff director for the Senate Budget Committee and seemingly the only person in America who understands the bill, sits in a House-Senate conference committee room and interprets it for the mystified lawmakers. Several members have suggested that he be "stapled" to the legislation to explain it to those who will have to carry it out.

This much seems clear: Gramm-Rudman mandates that Congress reduce the deficit, in $37 billion annual steps, until the budget is balanced in 1991. If Congress fails in any year to meet its target, automatic spending reductions would be triggered in the half of the federal budget that is not for Social Security, interest payments and long-term contracts for things like bombers and missiles. The automatic guillotine would fall with blind equality on the other half, on essential programs and frills, on subsidies, and salaries of FBI agents. Beyond that, there's only conjecture.

For example, would Gramm-Rudman apply to military spending? Yes, says the House Armed Services Committee: Had the bill been in effect this year, its automatic provisions would have forced the Army to drop 160,000 troops from active service, even while continuing to pay out on long-term contracts for the weapons earmarked for those units, a committee analysis concludes. No, says Secretary of Defense Weinberger: The president "can't have his constitutional authority constrained to the point where his only consideration is the attempt to reduce deficits." Who's right? No one knows for sure, perhaps not even the estimable Mr. Bell.

Why, then, is Congress rushing to pass a grand budget design with consequences as uncertain and dangerous as they are likely to be immense? Because, argue the proponents of Gramm-Rudman, the deficit crisis will not be ended until Congress lashes itself to the mast, where it cannot answer the siren call of voters demanding more government than they are willing to pay for.

But if Congress is so determined to cut deficits that it will risk a form of budget discipline so severe and so ill defined, why bother to take time with the torture of Gramm-Rudman? Why not just seize the wheel and set the right course, which is what good sense and the Constitution requires?

Helms' Hostage

The U.S. ambassador-nominee to China is being held hostage. The hostage taker is not a foreign government or a terrorist organization. It's Sen. Jesse Helms of North Carolina.

Helms, a powerful Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, won't let President Reagan's nominee for the China post, Winston Lord, be confirmed unless the president pledges to halt aid to all countries that practice forced birth control and sterilization.

Whatever one feels about such practices in foreign countries, few would believe that a man who has yet to serve as ambassador could be responsible for them.

No, Helms is using the same tactics as other hostage takers. He'll release Lord if Reagan accedes to his demands.

The president should hold firm and the Republicans and Democrats on the committee should make it clear to Helms that such tactics have no place in the Foreign Relations Committee.

At this crucial juncture in our relations, the United States needs ambassadorial representation in China. Lord has a prestigious career in diplomacy and is a former head of the Council on Foreign Relations. He should be confirmed, forthwith.

As for Helms, he should conduct himself like a senator, not a hostage taker.

Insomniacs Need Nocturnal Tonsorial Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the facts of life that is hardest to learn is the verity that insomniacs need haircuts, too.

To say nothing of permanent waves, manicures, facials and other hair salon services too numerous to mention.

What better way to spend a sleepless night than getting one's locks shorn? Sure beats tossing and turning in bed.

I read the other day that one of the few all-night barbershops in this country recently started doing business in Phoenix. It's nice to know that everything's not only up to date in Arizona but even ahead of time.

Although many hair-styling emporiums may not yet stay open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, nocturnal tonsorial action already is reported to have caught on big with swing shifts.

Presumably, all-night barbershops provide places to go after work without running into the 9-to-5 crowd.

Post-midnight stylists also say some of their business comes from the swinging singles who stop in for a quick clip prior to making commitments to the opposite sex.

The main blessing, however, definitely accrues to married insomniacs who have trouble falling asleep at night or who wake up in the wee hours and are unable to drift back into the arms of Morpheus.

Often, the only available arms belong to a slumbering spouse.

If there is a 24-hour hair salon, as well as an all-night saloon, nearby, the party of the first part can go there without disturbing the party of the second part.

"Where were you in the middle of the night, honey?"

"I went out to get my hair done."

And it all sounds perfectly natural.

At least it sounds better than reporting that you went out to the neighborhood saloon.

Any suggestion that parties of the first part should have stayed home and done their nails instead of going out to get their hair done will not be entertained here.

One overnight barber has identified a typical customer between the hours of midnight and 8 a.m. as a computer designer "who said he's never been able to sleep at night. So he came in at three in the morning for a haircut."

That clearly is preferable to staying at home and doing one's nails or turning on the television set.

Robert Orben, a former White House speechwriter, says he has seen TV movies, about the only programming at that hour, that were so bad they must have been made for radio.

"I've had it watching movies with my feet completely engulfed in spilled popcorn, soda cups, nacho chips, candy wrappers and ice cream drippings," he writes.

"I'm going back to theaters."

Orben obviously has never awakened in the middle of the night and turned on a bedroom TV set. If he had, he would have included sleeping pill wrappers in the pile of litter covering his feet.

Rather than going back to theaters, as he recommends, I would prefer going to an all-night barbershop.

The conversation might not be any more stimulating than the movie dialogue, but at least it's "live."

JULIAN BOND

U.S. Aid To Rebels Continues

"As in all our operations, we do them, and UNITA claims the responsibility." Capt. Wynand Johannes du Toit said. "We were supposed to paint 'Viva UNITA' in the tarred road."

The tarred road runs by the Gulf Oil storage tanks at Malongo, in Cabinda Province, in Angola. Captain du Toit and his eight commandos were supposed to destroy the tanks.

Du Toit, until his capture in May by Angolan soldiers, was a veteran of sabotage raids aimed at destabilizing Angola. Credit for the damage was to go to UNITA, the counterevolutionary force financed by South Africa.

After his capture, du Toit admitted that on three other occasions he had led South African soldiers deep inside Angola, killing leaders of the African National Congress and destroying a bridge and railroad line at the Giraul River in Mocimedes Province.

South African troops — presumably without du Toit — attacked the oil refinery in Luanda in November 1981 and the Lomaoma Dam in Benguela Province in 1983; they destroyed a paper factory in Anto Catumbela in March 1983, and kidnapped 66 Czechoslovaks; they attacked the Lobito Engineering Yards of the Benguela Railroad in July 1984 and tried to sink two ships at the Luanda docks the next month.

But the South Africans aren't the only foreign forces interested in helping UNITA destroy Angolan bridges and U.S.-owned oil refineries, and murder people in their beds.

UNITA may soon be aided in these acts by a healthy infusion of cash from the United States. That is, if some members of Congress, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Department of Defense have their way.

Over the objections of Secretary of State George Shultz, a bill introduced by Reps. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., Jack Kemp, R-N.Y., and 26 others would give UNITA $27 million in "non-lethal" aid and covert military assistance.

The "covert military assistance" is permissible since the repeal, earlier this year, of the Clark Amendment, which had outlawed the covert assistance given by the CIA to UNITA's attempts to topple the Angolan government.

U.S. Ally Betrays Khadafy Foe

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — In a shameful act of self-serving treachery, one of America's closest Arab allies — Morocco's King Hassan — handed over a courageous Libyan dissident to that country's brutal dictator, Muammar Khadafy. The betrayed anti-Khadafy exile was beaten and kicked to death by the colonel's goons on the airport runway in Tripoli, according to U.S. intelligence sources.

The victim of this high-level sellout was Omar Muhayshi, a boyhood friend of Khadafy and once a high-ranking official in the Libyan revolutionary regime before Khadafy's insane excesses led Muhayshi to join the opposition and go into exile. For eight years, Khadafy had tried everything to have his one-time friend assassinated, even offering an ex-CIA agent $1 million to arrange Muhayshi's murder. The efforts failed, and Muhayshi thought he had found safe haven in Morocco.

Presidential Pressure

The Geneva summit conference between President Reagan and Soviet boss Mikhail Gorbachev is now fast approaching, and it is time to take a comprehensive look at the prospects.

The first pitfall to avoid is the question that is always so popular among liberals and the merely simple-minded: Will the conference be a "failure" or a "success"? That quickly transposes into: Will Reagan and Gorbachev reach an agreement, or not? And that in turn puts powerful cards in Gorbachev's hands, because he is under no great political pressure to come home with an agreement, and can therefore afford to sit patiently and wait for the American side to offer concessions. Mr. Reagan, on the other hand, will have Congress, the media and our Free World allies all breathing down his neck, urging him to achieve a "breakthrough," reach an "agreement" (any agreement), and thereby make the summit a "success."

That sort of pressure misled previous U.S. presidents into making thoroughly ill-advised pacts with their Soviet adversaries. Those reached in the Nixon administration (SALT I and the ABM Treaty) have been violated wholesale by the Soviet Union. Jimmy Carter's contribution (SALT II) was so transparently lopsided and damaging to U.S. interests that not even his own Democratic-controlled Senate could be persuaded to ratify it. Fortunately we have today a president made of sterner stuff: There will be no "agreement" merely for agreement's sake. Any pact that is arrived at will have to be useful, balanced and wholly verifiable, or Mr. Reagan will — quite rightly — refuse to sign it.

Second, we ought to get over the idea (another liberal favorite) that the only conceivable topic for a summit talk with the Russians is "the arms race": as if the U.S. and U.S.S.R. were two long-distance runners, equally intent upon winning a marathon. As Mr. Reagan pointed out in his U.N. address, there is every reason to ask Gorbachev when he is going to pull his troops out of Afghanistan, tell his surrogate, Castro, to withdraw his soldiers from Africa and instruct his Vietnamese ally to let go of Cambodia.

Once free of these misconceptions, we can look for evidence that Gorbachev realizes what is happening to the global power balance, and perhaps some indications as to how he proposes to cope with it.

For at least 50 years, offensive weapons, culminating in nuclear missiles, have dominated warfare. The best that Western military experts and diplomats could arrange, in response, was a "balance of terror": deterrents through mutual assured destruction in the event of a first strike. The response of the Soviet Union has been to accept this state of affairs (because it had to), while doing its strenuous best to lie, cheat and bluff its way to nuclear superiority.

DON GRAFF

The Great Smokeout Is Coming

The mail brought bad news the other day.

Doctor found a tumor in the lung of my wife's uncle. It is malignant. Since he already has severe emphysema, an operation is out. He has begun radiation treatment.

"Those damn cigarettes!" his daughter wrote my wife.

I mention this family business because it relates to a national event. On Nov. 21, the American Cancer Society is sponsoring another Great American Smokeout to call public attention to the serious national health problem that smoking is, and to encourage smokers who want to quit — as most do — to take a first step by abstaining for the day. Last year, according to the society, more than 5 million did so.

We've heard a lot about tobacco's toll in the 21 years since the first surgeon general's report on the subject.

It is a contributing factor in the deaths of 320,000 Americans every year, more than perished in combat in all of World War II and seven times as many as die on the highways in a year.

Were any other product so readily available to the public known to be similarly hazardous, a responsible government would be compelled to put the purveyors out of business.

But tobacco is much too big a business for that, more than $30 billion worth a year. It is a cash crop in 16 states. That gives it immense political clout, a ready-made bipartisan bloc on Capitol Hill of 32 senators and several times as many congressmen. They can be depended upon to rebuff any challenge to the deadly business as usual, such as the recent effort to raise the federal cigarette tax from 16 to 24 cents a pack.

A point often made in tobacco's defense is the taxes it generates, more than $6 billion in annual revenues for federal and local governments.

That may be true as far as it goes, which is not nearly far enough. What society realizes from the tobacco traffic is much more than offset by the social costs of consumption. The smoking-related health bill alone comes to some $27 billion annually. There is also the economic loss from absenteeism and lowered productivity in the workplace, premature deaths and smoking-related fires. Statistics indict cigarettes as the single leading cause of fire fatalities.

from Egypt and Tunisia. Eventually he sought and was granted refuge in Morocco.

Other Libyan exiles warned Muhayshi two years ago that a deal might be cooking between Hassan and Khadafy — and that it might include him. But Muhayshi paid no heed.

To his horror, Muhayshi learned too late that he was part of the bargain. Whether Khadafy's agents were allowed to kidnap him in Morocco, or whether the king's men put him on the plane, is not clear. But the result was the same. Our sources say he was stomped to death as soon as he got off the plane in Tripoli.

The sources say untold numbers of other anti-Khadafy exiles were similarly "extradited" to Libya to face the dictator's vengeance. The only reliably safe haven in the region seems to be Egypt, which remains determinedly opposed to Khadafy — and has an intelligence service sharp enough to thwart his plots against Libyan exiles.

Seedlings Available

The Seminole Soil and Water Conservation District has announced its Fourth Annual Seedling Tree Sale.

The goal of this project is to provide bare-root seedlings to the people of Central Florida to beautify neighborhoods and to help replace those trees that are destroyed yearly by development, storms, disease and other factors.

The District will offer a packet of six trees for $2.50. This packet will contain (2) bald cypress, (2) slash pine and (2) dogwood.

The sale will be held on Nov. 22 and 23 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the following two locations: the Seminole Soil and Water Conservation District Office at Big Tree Park in Longwood and the Meat World parking lot in Oviedo.

Interested individuals should send in their tree order, with payment, early to reserve the packets desired. Checks should be made payable to Seminole SWCD. Please indicate at which location you wish to pick-up your trees. Send to: Seminole SWCD 781 General Hutchinson Parkway, Longwood, FL 32750, 831-1622 or 323-2500 ext. 186.

SHS Parade Thursday

Pride in Seminole High School will be symbolized by the 1985 Homecoming theme "Blazing into Orange and Black," according to Assistant Principal Jim Thompson.

The Homecoming Parade will be held Thursday at 5 p.m. in downtown Sanford, and the football game Friday at 8 p.m. against the New Smyrna Beach High Barracudas, he said. The parade has been planned in a cooperative effort between Seminole High School and the Sanford Youth Advisory Council.

Following the game, the Homecoming Dance will begin at the Knights of Columbus Hall on South Oak Avenue.

Upper-Lower Admirals Now

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It's neither the right way nor the wrong way in the Army. It's the Army way.

In the Navy, it's half way. Two halves, actually — upper and lower.

That's what the Navy now calls its one-star rear admirals, although no one will say "admiral, lower half" out loud.

From 1982 until Friday, the Navy used the old rank of commodore to distinguish one-star admirals from two-star admirals, who were called, simply, rear admiral. Few in the Navy liked the term "commodore," particularly if they were one-star admirals. They wanted to be called admiral, not commodore.

So the Navy went back to their pre-1982 practice and got it in writing.

Newsletter

on such newsletters, or will that take away from other duties they have at city hall?

● By what authority can a governmental agency produce such publications with public funds minus open discussion and public hearings?

● Since the state requires its agencies to include a statement of costs, who did the printing and other pertinent information on its publications, should Sanford include the same information on its newsletters? It didn't in the first publication.

Whatever the answers are to those questions, it appears the city will not publish another newsletter before discussing it with the city attorney and attempting to determine just how it must proceed to produce future publications. Mayor Betty Smith said today commissioners will confer with City Attorney Bill Colbert before putting together another newsletter.

Mrs. Smith said although she didn't know what legal authority the commission was acting under when informally approving last week's flyer or how it will be paid for, she said she didn't "think we did anything wrong" and "would like to see newsletters produced regularly."

The flyer addressing the then proposed water and sewer rate increases, as well as the commission's rationale for their adoption, cost the public more than $2,500 (The hours city employees worked on it are not included in that figure) and was prepared by staff on city time to present "a factual portrait" of the city's wastewater management efforts. City Manager Frank Faison said.

Colbert said neither Faison nor the commission told him the city was going into the publishing business, but that "not being aware of it doesn't mean it's wrong. Items like this are usually adopted into the budget."

However, Sanford has no specific line item for newsletters and, according to Faison, because of the flyer's subject matter, it will be paid for from the city's utility account under its publishing and postage line items.

Colbert also said if the expenditure "serves a legitimate purpose, it's probably OK," and offered "public education," under home rule powers in the Florida constitution as his definition of legitimacy.

According to Faison, the city "had a responsibility" to relay the information to utility customers before the proposed increases were adopted at Monday night's city commission meeting. No residents appeared at the public hearing on the proposed water/sewer rate increases.

He also said although "it wouldn't be prudent" to mail a newsletter for every city commission agenda item, what prohibited this practice was the items' "mundane nature," rather than any legal guidelines he said he was aware of.

Faison also said he would not "speculate" regarding what frequency or limits a city must adhere to when presenting a self-generated message to the public with taxpayer funds.

"We believe the newsletter was legal," Faison said. "Why not? Other cities do it."

At least one commissioner says he's "thinking about it" too. Commissioner Bob Thomas said today. "I'm not too sure about the way we acted when authorizing the publication, but if it was a mistake, it was an honest one. I think the citizens will overlook this one, but we've got to come up with ways to justify future newsletters to our citizens."

He said the city was acting under "time-limits" to get the letter out before the Monday hearing and said "if we want to do more of them, we'll have to take a different approach."

"Our citizens would have to be involved in the decision," he said, "and it would have to be put somewhere in our budget."

"You don't just take public funds and do what you want with them," Thomas said, although he added he did not "know how the first one will be paid for."

Thomas also said he "didn't think much of it being done on company time" (referring to city employees' time to put it together) although he declined to comment on the overall propriety of the authorization and the manner in which it was produced.

"I don't want to put someone on the hot seat," he said.

According to Pat Curtis of the state Attorney General's office, cities have "broad power" under the home rule statutes and past legal cases addressing municipality fund authorizations "have revolved around the issue of public purpose."

"Because they're elected officials," Ms. Curtis said, "it's up to the public to question an authorization's validity," such as through public hearings. She said she would have to check opinions issued by the office to determine if Sanford did violate any laws by printing the newsletter.

"You're asking a question that probably has not been asked before. That's a question we have not answered before," she said.

She said she would check opinions issued by the Attorney General's office, legislation and recent court decisions to determine if any apply to the Sanford situation.

Sanford's first newsletter, mailed to the city's 9,599 utility account holders last week, cost $2,537.22 for printing and postage, and was produced by city hall employees during the work day, Faison said.

According to Mayor Smith, the city published the newsletter "because we felt our important (rate increase) discussions were reaching a limited audience through the media."

Alternative means of relaying this information were addressed during the same commission workshop that saw first discussion of the new water and sewer fees. This occurred on Oct. 21, and while Faison and the mayor agree no vote was taken to authorize the newsletter, Mayor Smith said its production resulted from "a directive" to Faison, although he said the effort was prompted by "signals the commissioners were telegraphing to me."

After initial discussion on Oct. 21, the following week the new fee structure was again addressed at a regular commission meeting. Commissioner John Mercer, who had been absent the week before, brought up the subject of relaying this information to the public.

"That's already been taken care of, John," Mayor Smith said. "Frank (Faison) and his staff are working on a newsletter right now."

If the commission were to produce newsletters on a regular basis, these informational efforts would bear little resemblance to their predecessor in terms of funding and production.

According to Faison, after approval from the city commission, the flyers would become a regular budget item, funded under the city's postage and publication accounts. Their production would involve city hall employees on their own time or local public service groups. Director of Administrative Services Kim Smith said.

Faison said the city paid $1,727.82 in bulk rate postage to mail the newsletter and $809.40 to Lippencott Inkspot of Lake Mary for its printing. This company was selected through "phone bids," Kim Smith said.

A determination of how many city hall employee manhours went into the project has yet to be made, according to Faison, who said once this information is ascertained, "an entire cost analysis will be presented to the city commission."

The newsletter's second page contains information regarding the city's Neighborhood Watch program and special refuse collection. This was done "because bulk rates were the same for one or two pages," Kim Smith said.

Last week, according to Kim Smith, departmental employees who "weren't busy doing something else," were "recruited" to place address stickers on the newsletter. She said she and her secretary, June Strine, were among those who participated in the effort.

Additional staff was provided by department heads, she said, who "supplied people as they could be made available."

The previous week, according to Kim Smith, she and Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons worked on the flyer's rate hike information, while employees from the Police and Parks and Recreation departments compiled its second page content.

Faison said he edited this information and his secretary, Jan Donahoe, prepared the final draft for the printer.

On Nov. 1, the completed draft was transported to the Lake Mary print shop by maintenance employee Josie Beall, Faison said.

According to Kim Smith, on Nov. 6 three trips were made to the post office to drop off the 9,599 flyers. She said she made one of them, but did not recall who made the other two.

Kim Smith also termed the effort as "very quick, very rushed, so we could get the word out before the Monday night commission meeting."

The end product addresses specific rate data and offers the commission's reasons for supporting the new fee structure.

The newsletter describes the state-mandated wastewater management program, the $8.6 million in grants the city has received and says "The rest of the costs (for the project) must be borne by increases in monthly sewer and water charges."

The newsletter also states, "We recognize that these are significant increases from present and past costs and may be difficult for some to handle. Unfortunately, the city is unable to delay this required work."

Robert Becker, staff attorney for the Reporters Committee For Freedom of the Press in Washington D.C. said that while the city may have violated local financial or budgetary laws by not accounting for the newsletter's cost there probably was no violation of federal laws or Amendments.

"I don't think there is any prohibition against any governmental agency from doing their own public relations," he said.

He said several municipalities publish their own newsletters but do so out of budgeted public relations funds.

"Even the White House has its own wire service," he said.

WORLD IN BRIEF

South African Students Took Exams Protected By Guards

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) -- Black and mixed-race pupils took year-end examinations under police guard after radicals seeking to extend a school boycott to Cape Town attempted to kill a student who defied them.

Pupils in Cape Town's segregated black and mixed-race townships said armed police patrolled school corridors and stood guard in examination rooms Tuesday.

Police said a 22-year-old black student narrowly escaped death in Cape Town Monday when radicals seeking to enforce the boycott of year-end exams put "the necktie" — a gasoline-soaked car tire — around his neck and prepared to light it. The student kicked one of his attackers and managed to escape.

on par with the right to speak in parks, streets and other public places."

But that right should be weighed against the government's need to "maintain control over the visual clutter caused by the number of cables strung on utility poles," they said.

MOVE. After a day-long siege, police dropped a bomb from a helicopter onto the roof of the heavily fortified MOVE house, sparking a fire that killed 11 MOVE members, destroyed 61 houses and left 250 people homeless.

In the fall of 1983, a year after Cable Inc. was awarded a franchise for south central Los Angeles, a competing firm, Preferred Communications, filed suit to win permission to use "surplus space" on the poles and in the conduits of the city's utilities.

The appeals court ruled in favor of Preferred, saying there is no public policy reason for cable television franchises to be monopolies as long as public services can support more than one company.

Former City Managing Director Leo Brooks and Mayor Wilson Goode testified before a special investigating commission that it was Sambor's idea to use the explosive.

Police corruption has plagued the department in recent years. A total of 26 officers, including a former deputy commissioner, were convicted of taking part in extortion schemes in which officers solicited payoffs in return for protecting illegal gambling and prostitution operations.

Sambor was commander of the police academy before being appointed commissioner by Goode.

Deputy Commissioner Robert Armstrong, 56, a 31-year veteran of the force, was to assume Sambor's position, at least temporarily.

Florida Sails...Pernfors Ails...Whigham Prevails

For the fourth consecutive year the University of Florida has won the Florida Intercollegiate Championships. Even though this year's format was somewhat different and no real team championship was awarded, Florida still would have been way out in front in team points.

An NCAA rule forced the Florida colleges and universities to play this championship on an individual basis rather than a team championship format. Florida State, Flagler and Rollins made a strong showing in the event but the Gators were most definitely the class of the field.

The University of Miami did not participate. For some reason it never does. The Hurricanes are probably the only team in the state that could play the University of Florida a competitive match. They might even beat them.

For the fourth year in a row a former Seminole Community College player was either winner or runner up in the event. Tobias Svantesson, now playing for Flagler, lost to Shawn Taylor of Florida in the finals. The scores were 7-5, 6-4. Last year, Necvet Demir of the University of South Florida, was runnerup and the year before that Necvet won the event.

In case you have been wondering what has happened to Mike Pernfors, Mike is in Sweden under a doctor's care for a chronic back problem. Mike went home after the U.S. Open and has not played in over two months. Mike had won over $14,000 in the few weeks he had been on the tour and had moved way up in the rankings. This back problem that has plagued him for several years now threatens to even end his career.

Congratulations to Shea Whigham

on his recent victory in the Bayhead singles championship. Shea defeated Rick Galloway in the finals in three tough sets. It was the classic confrontation between the young up-and-comer and the crafty veteran.

Rick had Shea on the ropes but the younger legs prevailed. Shea is improving all the time and should be a great one.

Lois Metts was the women's winner over Erma Dangelman. Lois has won the singles title at Bayhead for several years now.

Scott Reagan and Doug Malicozowski teamed up to play in the Seminole County doubles championships and did real well. This tandem was seeded second and made it to the semifinals. Congratulations on a job well done to Scott and Doug.

Look for Seminole High to announce the naming of a new tennis coach real soon. Principal Wayne Epps has been hard at work looking for someone to take over the men's and women's teams.

Jim Edmonds had to give up the job when he went over to Winter Park Racket Club as Nate Smith's assistant. By the way, Seminole High has some good up and coming young players.

In fact if John Ludwig, a junior at Seminole, keeps improving he could be one of the top boys in the area in a year or so.

Homecomings Loom For 3 County Teams

Statistically speaking, as the prep football season heads into its ninth week, all the Seminole County football teams are even. All have played eight games, thus, a fair comparison may be drawn in all categories.

Seminole (3-5), which had been a game ahead of the rest, had last week off before preparing for Friday's big homecoming and District 4A-5 clash against New Smyrna Beach. Two other homecoming contests — Boone at Lake Mary (6-2) and Satellite at Lyman (4-4) — are also on this Friday's schedule.

In a Seminole Athletic Conference matchup, Lake Howell (4-4) journeys to Lake Brantley (0-8) where the Patriots are desperately trying to stave off a winless campaign. Oviedo (3-5) travels to Titusville for a District 4A-5 game.

Advance tickets for the Seminole-NSB encounter are on sale at Sweeney's Office Supply downtown Sanford, Sun Bank at the Sanford Plaza, Lakeview and Sanford middle schools and Seminole High School for $2.25. Tickets at the gate are $3.

In games last week, one school record went by the wayside and another moved closer to falling. Lake Mary sophomore John Curry picked up 108 yards in a victory over Lake Brantley to increase his rushing yardage to 799 for the year and ease past Charlie Lucarelli's record of 796, according to Lake Mary assistant Doug Peters. Curry missed the opening-game against Apopka, so his total is for seven games.

Oviedo's Andrew Smith, who picked up 214 yards as the Lions flattened Cocoa Beach, ran his season total to a whopping 1,386 yards. Smith, a senior, is closing in on Marvin McClennon's record of 1,601 yards. McClennon ran the Lions into the state semifinals in 1979 before a Greg Allen-led Milton squad derailed Oviedo and coach Joe Montgomery. Oviedo finished with a 12-1 record, the best 3A mark in the state that year, according to Oviedo assistant Ken Kroog.

Along with Smith's county-leading yardage, he is also leading in scoring with 13 touchdowns and a two-point conversion for 80 points. Robert Thomas, who is second in rushing with 845 yards, is also second in scoring with eight TDs and 48 points.

In the passing department, Lake Mary's Shane Letterio tightened up the yardage race as he increased his total to 824. Seminole sophomore Jeff Blake leads with 835. Blake and Lake Howell's Mark Wainwright have each thrown six TD passes. Letterio and Lake Brantley's Dave DeLlaccio have tossed five.

Lake Brantley's Sammy Sears, who held a commanding lead in pass receptions two weeks ago, was sidelined by a dislocated finger on the last play of the first half Friday. He caught just one pass. Sears is expected to play Friday but his lead has been cut to 26-24 by Lake Mary's Ray Hartsfield. The shifty senior has 11 catches in the past two weeks.

Lake Howell sophomore Craig Derrington, who was selected the Burger King Offensive Player of the Week for his two-touchdown performance in a win over Lyman Friday, leads with a 20.8 average per catch (13/270).

In the punting category, Lyman sophomore Scott Radcliff re-established his lead with five more good boots last Friday to up his average to 39.8.

Defensively, no one is close to Seminole senior linebacker Brian Brinson although Lake Mary's Brett Mollie moved into second place with an 22-tackle night (18/4) against Brantley. Mollie, who was named the Burger King Defensive Player of the Week Tuesday, has 119 for the year. He trails Brinson's 133. Seminole sophomore Earnie Lewis is third with 103. Oviedo senior Bernell Simmons (95), Lyman senior Byron Overstreet (93) and Seminole senior Dexter Franklin (93) are closing in on the 100 mark.

Lewis leads the county with seven sacks but Lake Mary's Scott Ross picked up a pair against the Patriots to move closer with six.

Lyman's Radcliff and Oviedo junior Willie Gainey continue to set the pace with four interceptions each.

Oviedo sophomore Pete Lingard and Lake Howell senior Ron Campbell lead in fumbles recoveries with four each.

Hall Sparks SCC To Third Win In A Row

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

After playing just 11 minutes in a victory over North Florida and 17 minutes in an opening-season win over Brevard, the Seminole Community College Raiders weren't quite sure what they had in center Vance Hall.

Tuesday night, the 6-8 freshman showed them. Hall, avoiding foul trouble for the first time, dropped in 13 points, collected 11 rebounds and blocked three shots as the Raiders subdued Polk Community College, 87-73, in junior college basketball before 333 fans at the SCC Health Center Tuesday night.

The victory was the Raiders' third in succession without a loss. They host the Raider Tournament Friday and Saturday. Friday's pairings match Indian River and Brevard in the first game at 6 p.m. SCC plays Valencia in the second game at 8 p.m. The winners meet at 8 p.m. Saturday for the title and the losers at 6 p.m. for the consolation title. Polk fell to 0-1.

"Vance (Hall) did a fine job," SCC coach Bill Payne said about his freshman's 30-minute effort. "He's still got some work to do but he stayed out of foul trouble for the first time."

Polk's offensive scheme was just this side of frantic. "Our pressure didn't bother them and our press didn't hurt them," Payne said. "They handled everything we threw at them and gave us a lesson on how to fastbreak."

Polk's helter-skelter antics pulled the Vikings within 72-69 with 2:40 remaining but a nifty pass from Dave Gallagher to Greg "Slim" Johnson for a layin, a free throw by Gallagher and a big three-point play by Hall with 1:17 to play pushed the Raiders out of release danger, 78-71.

Gallagher, who finished with 13 points and spread around 10 assists, hit three free throws and a bucket in the final 32 seconds to put a damper on any further comeback. "We lost our cool after we got a big lead,"

Lemon's 7-Point Spree Sours Brevard

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Kim Lemon, sidelined by an infection for the first two games of the season, scored seven-point spree in a three-minute span early in the second half to break open a tight game and propel Seminole Community College's Lady Raiders to a 67-36 victory over the Brevard Lady Titans in junior college basketball Tuesday night at the SCC Health Center.

The victory was the Lady Raiders' second against one loss. Brevard, which brought just five players due to ineligibility problems, is 0-1. The Lady Titans finished the game with three players as two starters exited via fouls.

For the better part of 30 minutes, though, Brevard stayed within range. Six points in the opening two minutes of the second half cut SCC's lead to 27-26. At that juncture, Lemon, who played at Lyman High, took control.

First, the 5-10 sophomore broke open on a fastbreak, scored and was fouled. She converted the free throw for a 30-26 edge. Second, Lemon stole the ball on the baseline at the other end and went coast to coast for a layup. Third, she rebounded an airball and put it back for a 34-26 bulge.

"I figured I'd get fouled on the first one so I got in good position," Lemon said. "I anticipated the pass on the steal and I just went up and got the rebound on the third one."

For the evening, Lemon hit all four of her floor shots and the one free throw for nine points. "I feel okay," she said. "I wanted to play in the other games but coach (Ileana Gallagher) thought I should wait."

Gallagher, of course, was encouraged by the performance of Lemon. "Kim has the most smarts on the team," Gallagher said. "She's really settled down from last year. She knows what to do out there and how to get it done."

While Lemon got it done during the early going of the second half, it was the outside scoring touch of Elizabeth Dietrich which put the Lady Titans behind early and the inside scoring punch of Lisa Starks which put Brevard on the ropes late.

Dietrich tossed in 9 of 16 shots for 18 points. Starks hit 7 of 13 from the floor and one free throw for 15 points. "Elizabeth didn't play that much last year but she can shoot the eyes out of the basket," Gallagher said. "We'll use her a lot outside."

The Lady Raiders put Brevard away for good with 8:22 to play by outscoring the Lady Titans, 12-0, over a two-minute spell. Ex-Lyman High standout Vikki McMurran started the spurt with a pair of free throws and ex-Lake Mary star Aileen Patterson added two more for a 47-34 lead.

The Lady Raiders travel to Fort Pierce to play Indian River Thursday.

Vanguard Overhauls Oviedo, Price

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

OCALA — The "Price" was right Tuesday night, but Oviedo's Lady Lions couldn't cash in the chips in time to hold off a tremendous comeback by Ocala Vanguard's Lady Knights.

Behind the awesome net play of Kelly Price and an all-out hustling defense, Oviedo took the first game, 17-15, and built a commanding 10-2 lead in the second.

But the Lady Lions couldn't put the finishing touches on as Vanguard roared back from near extinction to take the second game, 15-11. The third game was almost as tight as the first but, in the end, it was the Lady Knights that came away with a 15-12 victory and the 3A-3 Regional title.

Vanguard, 16-3, will play the winner of the Brooksville Hernando-Auburndale match in the 3A-2 Section playoff. Oviedo ended another excellent season with a 19-4 record which included the Orange Belt Conference and District 3A-6 titles.

"The second game we had the momentum but we couldn't pull it out," Oviedo coach Anita Carlson said. "After we got that lead (10-2) we just made mistake after mistake. We made too many unforced errors."

Price turned in one of the top performances of the season by any player as she continually put down spikes or made nice dinks in key situations. The junior standout ended up converting on 11 of 14 kill opportunities for 79 percent accuracy.

For the Lady Knights, it was not the first time they had come from behind to win. Vanguard rallied from an early deficit to top Gainesville Eastside in the district title game.

"I just told the girls that the game isn't over until the 15th point," Vanguard coach William

Lavan said. "We've been down before and won. This was a great comeback for the girls. Oviedo is the best team we've played this season."

The first game featured a number of comebacks on the part of both teams. Behind the impressive net play of Price and sophomore Jill Knutson, the Lady Lions built a 5-2 lead.

Vanguard then got its offense in gear as Cheryl Johnson put down a pair of vicious spikes to tie it at 5-5. The Lady Knights then grabbed the momentum and ran up a 9-6 lead as Johnson served four points, including two aces.

Oviedo battled back within 9-8 as Price drilled a pair of spikes that the Vanguard defense couldn't handle. The Knights came back with three straight points for a 12-8 lead.

The Lady Lions came back with a nice rally on the serve of Cindy Wood to tie it at 12-12. Stephanie Nelson's dink highlighted the rally. Johnson's spike gave Vanguard a 13-12 lead but two missed serves kept the Lady Knights from adding to it.

Oviedo then took a 14-13 lead as Barbara Malone served two points, the second coming on a dink by Knutson. A rare missed spike by Price gave the serve back to Vanguard, but Price came right back with a spike to return the serve to Oviedo.

A missed serve gave it back to Vanguard and it took a 15-14 lead on Kim Pompey's serve. After an Oviedo timeout, Pompey missed her next serve.

Kim Verne, who's setting paved the way for Price in the opening game, then served three straight points as Oviedo pulled out an exciting 17-15 win in game one. Price's spike accounted for the 15th point and she came right back with a dink that completely fooled the Vanguard defense. Price converted on 7 of 8 kill opportunities in game one.

Rogers, Porter Continue Duel At Bradenton DeSoto Speedway

BRADENTON — On Sunday afternoon, arch-rivals David Rogers and LeRoy Porter, who have been fighting it out all season at New Smyrna Speedway, will still be going at it tooth and nail, but it will be on a different battleground and using different weapons.

The feisty pair of Orlando residents is entered in the Eighth Annual Coca Cola 200 Late Model Championship at DeSoto Speedway in Bradenton, a 3/8-mile, high-banked, paved oval.

This past season at New Smyrna, Porter had to settle for second all year, as Rogers won 30 features to become the winningest asphalt late-model, stock-car driver in the country.

But Porter, the defending champion of DeSoto's Southern Shootout, has won three of the last five major late model races held at DeSoto Speedway, with his other two wins coming in last February's Icebreaker 100 and in April when he scored a popular victory in one of the ALL-PRO sanctioned Keene Brothers Trucking Twin 125-lappers.

In addition, because of the different rules, both pilots will be driving "wedge cars" instead of the ASA/ALL-PRO-style machines they are used to.

Also officially entered in current ASA National Champion Dick Trickle, runner up Butch Miller, 1985 ALL-PRO National Championship contender Daniel Keene, Jimmy Cope and many more.

Lindbergh Withdrawn From Life

STRATFORD, N.J. (UPI) — Hockey star Pelle Lindbergh, declared clinically dead after a weekend car crash, was disconnected from life support systems after doctors removed his vital organs for transplant.

The 26-year-old Philadelphia Flyers goalie, whose custom-built Porsche crashed Sunday into the concrete steps of a school in Somerdale, N.J., had been declared brain dead hours after the accident and clinically dead 9:15 a.m. Monday.

Lindbergh had been attached to life-support systems since the crash while his parents decided whether to donate his vital organs for transplant.

Flyers physician Dr. Edward Viner, speaking for the Swedish athlete's family, said the Lindberghs hoped the transplants would mean "Pelle's ultimate save might be to save some other people."

Lindbergh, the Flyers' most valuable player and the National Hockey League's top goaltender last year, will be buried in Sweden, a team spokeswoman said.

Bettors: Knee Slightly Better

MIAMI (UPI) — Defensive end Doug Bettors' knee improved slightly Tuesday while offensive tackle Jon Giesler still had pain in his knee, Miami Dolphins coach Don Shula said.

Both Bettors and Giesler will be listed as questionable on the NFL injury reports that are released today, Shula said.

Bettors, the Dolphins' defensive captain, injured his knee in the 21-17 win over the New York Jets last Sunday. "He was pretty pleased with it today," Shula said. "We've got a lot of bumps and bruises. I don't know how serious they are."

Giesler underwent arthroscopic surgery on his knee Oct. 28 and missed the Nov. 3 loss at New England, but played the entire game against the Jets.

Hollie Leads Wildcats' 25-0 Win

Tony Hollie broke loose for two long scoring runs and tossed a touchdown pass as the Wildcats butchered the Rams, 25-0, in Sanford Recreation Department Junior Flag Football at Chase Park.

Hollie open the scoring with a 35-yard TD run but the extra point failed. Next, Hollie connected with Ricky Anderson for a 45-yard scoring pass. Corey Anderson supplied the PAT run for a 13-0 halftime lead.

In the second half, Corey Anderson romped into the end zone from 10 yards out for another score. The PAT failed but the Wildcats were firmly in control, 19-0.

Later in the half, Hollie zipped 50 yards for the final score. The PAT fizzled but the Wildcats had an easy 25-0 win.

Lyle Returns To Golden Start

KAPALUA, Hawaii (UPI) — Sandy Lyle, whose sparkling performance in the Kapalua International last year paved the way to a bright career, has returned to the land of golden sunshine.

Lyle, a household name on the European PGA Tour for several years, used the Kapalua International Tournament last year as a springboard onto the American golf scene.

What he did was shoot a course-record 266 to pocket the $125,000 first prize, but, more importantly, he became a recognizable name. Lyle followed with a third place finish in the Phoenix Open and a victory at the World Open in Japan.

Powerboat Crash Kills 2

KEY WEST (UPI) — Two powerboat racers died when their speedboat disintegrated in a powerboating championship offshore near Key West, Fla., authorities reported.

The victims of the mishap were identified as Dick Fullam, 47, of West Springfield, Mass., and Mike Poppa, 39, of Sarasota.

Throttleman Poppa was pulled from the water immediately by a nearby boat and was dead on arrival at Key West DePoo Hospital. Owner-driver Fullam's body was recovered by the Coast Guard more than an hour after the 2 p.m. EST accident.

Brown's, Sanford Eye Sectional

Competitors from Brown's Gymnastics in Altamonte Springs and the Sanford Gymnastics Association will compete in the Class IV Sectional meet this weekend at All-American Gymnastics in Jacksonville.

Gymnasts who are able to attain an all-around score of 30 or higher in Saturday and Sunday's competition, will qualify for the Class IV State Meet which will be held Dec. 21 at Lake Brantley High in Altamonte Springs.

Brown's Gymnastics has 21 girls entered in the sectional meet.

Buccaneers Add Defensive Back

TAMPA (UPI) — The Tampa Bay Buccaneers claimed defensive back Ricky Eason on waivers from the Dallas Cowboys Tuesday.

Eason, a rookie from the University of Florida, had been signed as a free agent by the Cowboys. He is 5-10 and 160 pounds.

The Buccaneers waived defensive back Carl Howard to make room for Eason. Howard was signed as a free agent about three weeks ago.

Ewing Sparks Knicks To First Victory

United Press International

While all good things must come to an end, the New York Knicks had to be wondering if the same holds true for the bad. The answer came Tuesday night at the expense of the the Phoenix Suns.

New York, behind the 25-point, 9-rebound performance of rookie Patrick Ewing, defeated Phoenix 103-93 to break a 20-game losing streak stretching over two seasons.

The loss had the Suns asking themselves questions as they remained the only winless team in the league, at 0-8.

"It was terrific," New York coach Hubie Brown said of the Knicks' first victory since March 22. "Once again, we had a great defensive effort. I'm happy for the players. They've been playing their hearts out and for a change, we got all the breaks at the end."

"We were disappointed we hadn't won," Ewing said. "We just had to keep on working hard. We dug in and did the best we could."

The injury-depleted Knicks welcomed back holdout free agent forward Louis Orr, who came to terms prior to the game and was in uniform. Orr played 10 minutes and scored 6 points.

"We now have another dependable man in Louis," Grunfeld said. "He was working out on his own twice as hard as we were. Having Louis around gives everyone else confidence."

"WITH A REPAIR GUARANTEE THIS GOOD, I'D BETTER PUT UP OR SHUT UP."

Frankly, I've got the best repair guarantee in town. And my attorney wouldn't let me say it if it weren't true. It's my free Lifetime Service Guarantee, and it means I guarantee my repairs for life. Here's how it works. If we repair your Ford, Mercury, Lincoln, or Ford light truck, you pay only once. And I guarantee that if the covered part ever fails or wears out, I will fix it or replace it free. Free parts. Free labor. My Lifetime Service Guarantee covers thousands of repairs and lasts as long as you own your car regardless of where you bought it or how old it is. If we repair it, we guarantee it for life. Period.

So don't put up with anything less than my Lifetime Service Guarantee. It's the best repair guarantee anywhere. You have my word on it.

The limited warranty covers vehicles in normal use. And excludes required maintenance parts, belts, hoses, wear items and upholstery.

Homecoming Muddies Waters Of District Swim

With all of the District 5 swimming hype going around town, one would think that it was homecoming week for all of the county schools.

Well, that assumption is about as accurate as predicting the Winter Park Wildcats will win another district title at the Sheridan Aquatic Club this Friday and Saturday.

Seminole, Lyman and Lake Mary, who are all in the District 5 race along with the Wildcats and 12 other teams, will all enjoy the festive moods of an annual homecoming football game Friday night.

That is, almost all. Since the district preliminaries will begin at 5 p.m. on Friday and will last to approximately 9 p.m., it seems unlikely that any of the state qualifying hopefuls of these schools will get to see much if any of the football game.

Not only do coaches find it difficult to prepare their swimmers to their fullest capabilities, but to get them ready for the biggest meet of the season — not to mention of their lives — seems unlikely if at all possible.

Seminole Athletic Coach of the Year Don Clark, who coaches the Lyman

Greyhounds, has found an answer to the problem which these three county teams are faced.

"I just told my kids to totally forget about homecoming," Clark said. "It's a matter of getting your priorities straight. Do you want to blow a whole season in one week?"

Clark, whose team will have a shave down party in preparation of the big district finale, sees his teams' attitude as a good one even with the homecoming excitement.

"Our goal this week is to qualify kids for state," Clark said. "All we're concerned about is placing high at districts and state. The homecoming stuff will have to be forgotten about this year."

That may seem like something to look forward to if the statement is looked at from a one year basis. Unfortunately, from first-hand experience, swimmers will probably have to wait until they graduate to get a taste of homecoming.

For the past four years, Seminole and Lyman have had their homecoming on the same Friday night as the district championships. As a matter of fact, this Friday will be the first time yours truly will get a glimpse of a homecoming event after four years of high school swimming.

For Lake Mary it's only their second homecoming, so the coaches are getting excuses which may seem new, but are old wives' tales to the 'Noles and 'Hounds.

For example, Lake Mary head coach, Walt Morgan, has already had an encounter with a swimmer with a somewhat acceptable excuse to not swim in the meet.

According to Morgan, it seems a swimmer on the team complained of a hurt foot and asked not to be put in the district meet. Morgan, being the concerned coach he is, gladly obliged and didn't enter the swimmer in any individual events.

However, while at the district seeding meeting at Winter Park High School Monday night, Morgan realized that this was the homecoming week. So, he entered the swimmer in the last event of the meet, the 400 free relay, to ensure arrival and support at the meet.

"It's kind of tough getting my kids ready mentally," Morgan said. "It's bad enough without the extra outside things."

To ease the tension in the practice area, the Rams have been tapering this week in order to be at full strength.

"Our practices have been mainly sprints, starts and turns," co-coach Clyde Hayes said. "I think our kids will be ready even though their minds are elsewhere."

Elsewhere indeed. But, who can help the swimmer who is also a student?

Football is the prime sport during the fall season and swimming usually takes a backseat — even during the high school swim season.

Why not look forward to the one game of the year which is also one of the biggest social events? Why not be able to join your classmates and go out to dinner like every other normal high school teenager?

Well, the answer to these questions is simple in the coaches' eye. Priority. It's like washing the dishes on Saturday night because it's your week instead of going out with the captain of the varsity cheerleading squad.

"Our team has the right attitude and has been working very hard this week," an anxious Clark said. "Homecoming has still interfered, but we're dealing with the situation the best we can."

Dealing and living with the situation is the key to this puzzling picture to swimmers. Do I go to the game or do I swim my heart out and try to accomplish what I've worked for all season?

Maybe if the swimmers of the three county schools whose homecoming game is this Friday night answer this question in their minds: then they'll realize that sacrificing one football game may be worth it after all.

Unbeaten Year Gone, Gators Play For Pride

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — A 24-3 thrashing at the hands of the Georgia Bulldogs ruined Florida's chances for an unbeaten season, but Gator Coach Galen Hall said Tuesday his team will play the rest of the season for pride.

"We have a chance to finish the conference schedule this year with a 5-1 record, our seniors have a chance to finish with the best four-year record of any senior class (at Florida) and we have two difficult games remaining," Hall said. "We will play for (Southeastern Conference) pride against Kentucky and state pride against Florida State."

The Bulldogs snapped Florida's 18-game unbeaten streak — the nation's longest — Saturday at the Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla. Georgia scored touchdowns on runs of 76, 89 and 33 yards, while Florida managed only one field goal.

Hall said Florida was down 17-3, but "within reach" until a crucial fumble on a muffed hand-off between quarterback Kerwin Bell and running back John L. Williams.

"We thought we were in the game until the fumble inside their 10-yard-line in the fourth quarter," Hall said. "Georgia's defense was coming up with big plays all afternoon and that was just another one of them."

The loss leaves the Gators 7-1-1 for the year and raises 12th-ranked Georgia's record to 7-1-1. A three-year NCAA probation prohibits Florida from winning the SEC or being ranked in the UPI Coaches poll.

"Kentucky will be another physical conference game against a team capable of beating any team on its schedule," Hall said at his weekly news conference. "They have an outstanding quarterback in Bill Ransdell, who is back healthy and we remember him from last season. He presented problems for us then."

Florida and Kentucky first met in 1917 in Lexington, Ky., with the Wildcats posting a 52-0 victory. Florida has won each of the last five games and now leads the series 19-16. Kickoff is slated for 12:30 p.m. EDT at Florida Field, with a sellout crowd of over 72,000 expected to be on hand.

FAUST: WE'RE IN BOWL PICTURE

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI) — A victory over No. 1 Penn State on Saturday could put Notre Dame in a bowl game on New Year's Day, coach Gerry Faust said Tuesday.

"I know we're in the picture now," Faust said. "But if we beat Penn State we'll have a shot at a big bowl game."

Scheduled to be in the stands at the game in State College, Pa., are representatives from the Sugar, Orange, Fiesta, and Gator Bowls.

Getting past the Pittsburg Lions will be no easy task for the Irish. Penn is undefeated this season and coming off a 31-10, come-from-behind victory over Cincinnati last week.

Notre Dame, 5-3 and on a four-game winning streak, beat the Lions last year 44-7 in South Bend.

Gallagher said. "But we tightened up defensively at the end and that was it."

SCC led most of the first 11 minutes by as many as five points until Jeff Dowell hit a pair of buckets for a 20-19 Polk edge with 9:58 to play. In the closing seconds of the half, Polk tied the game at 36 but Johnson scored on a rebound and then blocked a shot at the buzzer for a 38-36 halftime edge for the Raiders.

The Raiders employed a 1-3-1 trap and used an 18-6 spree to take a 56-42 bulge with 13:25 to play.

Polk's Mike Barnett, who led all scorers with 24 points, began chipping away at the lead but every time it closed within six. Tony Roberts or Mike Landell would hit a long jumper and Hall would come up with a dunk to suppress the surge. Roberts and Landell each finished with 12 points.

Johnson, a 6-7 sophomore, led five players in double figures with 18 points. He also collected 12 rebounds. Roberts, who handed out six assists, also yanked 12 boards, 10 on the defensive end.

standing match," Carlson said. "She was really strong in the first game."

Oviedo took advantage of Vanguard's serving misfortunes to take a 3-1 lead early in game two. After the Knights made it 3-2, Malone went on to serve seven straight points as the Lady Lions took control, 10-2. Price's spike, her only one of the second game, got the rally going while Malone's serving did the rest. Four of the seven serves weren't returned.

The Lady Knights came back with four points on Pompey's serve to make it 10-6 and Oviedo made it 11-6 on Trudy Ferguson's serve.

Bernie Otting then went on to serve three points for Vanguard to make it 11-9. Johnson's spike accounted for the ninth point. An Oviedo missed serve gave it back to the Knights and they tied it at 11-11 on Diana Fitch's serve with both points coming on spikes by Johnson. Johnson converted on 5 of 7 kills in the second game.

Oviedo had the serve two more times but a pair of setting errors kept them from scoring. The Knights closed out the first game with Michelle Lovlery serving one point and Johnson the last three.

Game three was a barnburner as both teams played tremendous defense. Oviedo senior Stephanie Nelson, who had played well on the back row but was silent offensively the first two games, started to assert herself at the net as she fought Johnson to a standstill in the early going.

With Oviedo holding a 4-2 lead, Pompey served four straight for Vanguard as the Knights moved in front, 6-4. Oviedo came back with three points for a 7-6 lead. A spike by Price accounted for the fifth point and she slipped in a dink for the seventh point.

After Vanguard took an 8-7 lead, Nelson nailed a spike to make it 8-8. Vanguard got it back though and rallied for an 11-8 lead with Johnson's spike leading the way.

The tiring but never-say-die Lady Lions came back again though and took a 12-11 lead as Wood and Nelson served two points each. Vanguard tied it at 12-12 before Oviedo regained the serve.

A missed serve gave it back to Vanguard and the Knights made it 13-12 on Donna Green's serve. A spike by Price returned it to Oviedo but the Lions couldn't score.

Vanguard then closed out the match as Pompey served two points with the final coming on a spike by Lovlery.

Vanguard's offensive leaders Tuesday was Johnson who converted on 14 of 22 kills for the match (65 percent). "She was putting them down really well," Lavan said.

"She really got off the ground," Carlson said of Johnson. "We didn't have anyone who could block her."

"Still, it was the second game that was the key," added Carlson. "We had it but let it get away from us."

HOW TO TURN A MANATEE INTO A DINOSAUR.

Of the once populous manatee, only 1,000 are estimated still to be living in Florida's waters. Speeding boats are a major cause of fatalities to these slow moving, gentle giants each year. Knowing where manatees live and being a responsible boater by slowing down in those areas can help them survive.

The Boater's Guide to Manatees, published by FPL, provides maps of manatee sanctuaries, as well as some interesting facts about this endangered mammal. We'll gladly give you a copy free. Just call or visit your local FPL office. Please, let's not turn the manatee into a dinosaur.

Cook Of The Week

Retired Banker: 'When I Got Married, I Couldn't Boil Water'

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

"When I got married, I couldn't boil water," says Juanita Dugger of Sanford. "My mother didn't want anyone messing up her kitchen, so what I learned, I learned on my own."

Our Cook of the Week has come a long way since her childhood on an Alabama farm and can put together the most pleasin' meals you ever tasted. "There were seven children, and four of us girls," says Juanita, "but her house was her domain and she did everything herself. Can you imagine? She did all her own washing, ironing, cooking and keeping house. Don't get me wrong; we had our chores to do, but about the only thing I knew about a kitchen was that there were plenty of dishes to wash and dry and I became an expert at that!"

Juanita recalls living "in a big, old farm house and the floors had to be scrubbed till they were sparkling white, and I got in on the floor scrubbing." One of Juanita's jobs was to climb up in the apple trees to shake the fruit down. All the chores, of course, were shared with her three brothers and three sisters. "My mother was a very strict disciplinarian," says Juanita. "We might get by with a little fussing now and then, but we weren't allowed to fight. We had to walk a chalk line."

There was always work to be done on the farm, says Juanita, and gathering stove wood or helping to pick vegetables for canning was as close as she got to the kitchen. "None of my sisters learned to cook at home either," she says. "We all learned on our husbands!"

Speaking respectfully of her parents, Juanita remembers that her father was a firm believer in education. "He instilled the love of reading in all of us," says Juanita, "and I'm an avid reader. We were never kept out of school, and out of seven children, five of us finished high school. Some people kept their children out of school to help at home, but my father insisted that we go. Even though we were the last ones to gather our crops, we never missed school. We'd come home, change out of our school clothes, put on our work clothes, and go to work."

Right after high school, Juanita thought she was ready to "set the world on fire, but it didn't take me long to realize that you needed a good education to get a job that paid well, so I went to business school for about a year and took some courses."

Married during wartime in 1942, Juanita laughingly admits, "As far as cooking goes, the first few months we were married we nearly starved to death! I remember one day finding a recipe for a chocolate pie and thought, 'well that looks simple to make' so I made it, and it wasn't bad. Then I was devastated to find out that my husband detested chocolate." Juanita's sister, who has a large family of six children, often came to her rescue over the years by sending recipes for her to try.

With all the trials and errors behind her, Juanita has become an excellent cook, a loving mother, a fastidious housekeeper, and an accomplished career woman. Juanita has a travelogue of memories of her life as a navy wife and mother of one daughter, Lynn, who resides in Darien, Conn. Juanita's 14 year old grandson, Jonathan, is a source of great pride as she relates his interests and accomplishments. "He's the apple of my eye," says Juanita. "This year he's active in football and baseball. When he was younger, he was into soccer. He also takes dancing lessons and this year he is giving dance instructions. He plays the piano and is very good at that, too. Of course, this is a proud grandmother talking, but Jonathan is a very good student and excels in everything he does."

Widowed in 1969, Juanita continued working at the Atlantic Bank in Sanford and the association lasted for 24 years until her retirement in 1982. "I've always loved meeting the public," says Juanita, "and I enjoyed my work very much." As teller and then head teller for five years, Juanita really enjoyed the personal contact with her customers. One very special customer came into Juanita's life one day and that was Hoke Dugger. "He had been a bank customer for many years," says Juanita, "and I had waited on him occasionally, but then I noticed pretty soon that I was waiting on him more frequently. I guess it's a woman's intuition — I didn't know when, but I knew he was going to ask me out. I just knew."

A gift of fruit from his own trees blossomed into a lovely courtship and then marriage for Juanita and Hoke in March of 1982. Hoke is a retired railroad conductor and enjoys working in the garden and fixing things around the house. "He is a wonderful, most understanding man," says Juanita. "I had been widowed for 13 years and didn't know this kind existed anymore." Along with her new marriage, Juanita gained a new stepdaughter, Joy, and two more lovely grandchildren, Heather and Crystal.

"We usually have the grandchildren for a week in the summertime," says Juanita. "They're all teenagers and we enjoy their visits so much. When they're here," she laughs, "they keep me in one of three places all the time, either in the kitchen cooking, at the grocery store buying, or at the washing machine! Of course, we take them to Wet N' Wild and other places, too."

A memorable trip to Opryland in Nashville in August was "thoroughly enjoyable," says Juanita. "We took a dinner cruise down the Cumberland River on a beautiful new boat. We also took a bus tour of some of the country music stars' homes and other points of interest in Nashville." A reunion with the Dugger family in Georgia in September topped off a beautiful summer for Juanita and Hoke.

Members of the First Baptist Church of Sanford, Juanita and Hoke enjoy attending meetings of the "Glowing Embers," and also a group called the "Penny Pinchers" which is made up of retired railroad employees. Both meetings are covered dish type gatherings and Juanita has some favorites which she enjoys bringing to these functions.

"We keep quite busy," says Juanita, "but do like to entertain family friends occasionally. When I cook I like to stay away from highly seasoned or greasy foods. I also try to make fresh vegetables as often as possible, and don't do too much frying either."

Juanita's Hot Pineapple Casserole is a favorite which has brought many compliments and is especially good when served with ham. Below is a collection of easy but elegant dishes from Juanita's kitchen:

HOT PINEAPPLE CASSEROLE

2 large cans crushed pineapple, drained
1/2 cup sugar
5 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups grated sharp cheese
3/4 cup crushed Ritz crackers
1 stick margarine, melted
Place pineapple in buttered 8"x8" baking dish. Mix flour and sugar together and sprinkle over pineapple. Sprinkle grated cheese over top and then crushed crackers. Spoon melted margarine over crackers. Bake at 350° for 30 minutes. Serve hot. Serves 6.

EASY CHICKEN PIE

3 chicken breasts, cooked, skinned, boned and cut into bite-size pieces
4 hard boiled eggs
2 1/2 cups chicken broth
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 small can LeSeur peas
Line a 9x13 inch pan with chicken chunks. Slice hard boiled eggs over chicken. Add salt and pepper to taste. Mix chicken broth and cream of chicken soup together and pour over chicken. Add peas.

In separate mixing bowl, mix 1 cup self-rising flour, 1 stick melted oleo, and 1 cup milk. Stir until well blended. Batter will be very thin. Spoon over chicken mixture and bake at 350° for 1 hour. Serves 8-10.

CAULIFLOWER SURPRISE

1 head cauliflower, broken in small pieces
1 medium sweet onion, sliced
8 strips bacon, crumbled
1 bottle Hidden Valley Buttermilk Dressing
Layer cauliflower, onion and bacon in that order to make three layers. Top with buttermilk dressing. Refrigerate overnight and toss just before serving. Serves 4-6.

EGGPLANT CASSEROLE

1 large eggplant, peeled and sliced
1 can mushroom soup
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1 cup grated sharp cheese
1 cup crushed Ritz crackers
1/2 stick margarine, melted
Cook egg plant in salted water until tender, drain. Mix egg plant with soup, eggs, sugar, onion, cheese and half of cracker crumbs. Put into casserole dish. Sprinkle rest of the cracker crumbs on top and drizzle melted margarine over top. Bake at 350° about 45 minutes. Serves 6-8.

Committee's First Farm Family Of Year Named During Farm-City Week

The Agribusiness Committee of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has selected its Farm Family of the Year from five semi-finalists chosen by the membership.

The award recognizes involvement in Agribusiness and each candidate submitted an application to the committee for review. The categories chosen by the group are family size, farming status, farming program, management practices, leadership experience, community service, youth involvement and the plans for the future.

This award is the first "Farm Family Award" for Seminole County and is patterned after the Florida Farm Bureau Federation's "Young Farmer and Rancher Award". It will coincide with this year's Farm-City Week activities the week of Nov. 21 through Nov. 28.

The highlight of the week will be a luncheon at the Agricultural Center to honor this family and their contributions to agriculture.

Farm-City Week emphasizes the need for agricultural and non-agricultural people in the community to communicate the present common concerns. This opportunity enables both sides to understand their concerns and work toward common solutions. Never before has the need been so great for these two groups to work together and form goals for the community and society Farm-City Week offers hope for a better future for farmers and agribusiness, according to Sam Brashear.

The five candidates for Farm Family of the Year exemplify the dedication, courage, and trust for the future of agriculture. This has always been the necessary ingredient for the survival of the farm enterprise. Represented by the families are all phases of agribusiness: citrus, cattle, vegetables, and horticulture. Seminole County is blessed with the dedication toward a way of life which must be protected for generations to come.

Mandy Rebecca Davis of Orange Boulevard, Paola, celebrated her 100th birthday on Nov. 4. She was honored at a big family gathering on Nov. 3. Born in Barnsville, S.C., Mrs. Davis has been a resident of Paola for 57 years where she has been a member of the Wesleyan Methodist Church there for more than 50 years. She has four living children, three daughters and a son, and she also raised a nephew. Mrs. Davis has seven grandchildren, eight great grandchildren and two great great grandchildren.

Top Off Autumn Block Work Party With Festivity

Capture the invigorating nip of brisk autumn air. Plan a work hard, play hard, weekend block party. Arrange morning chores for all ages. Put such activities as raking leaves, collecting trash and installing storm windows on the agenda. Paint a senior citizen's fence. Make apple cider. Or discuss a crime-watching system to keep your neighborhood safe.

Then, plan some good neighborhood fun. Try a scavenger hunt or touch football. Run a 3-legged race, play badminton or croquet. And share in a potluck of hearty food for robust appetites.

Arrange the potluck dishes on a big table strewn with brightly colored leaves. For your part, serve this delicious casserole at your neighborly fall fest.

CRISPY TOP POTLUCK BAKE
2 cups potato buds mashed potatoes (dry)
1/2 cup margarine or butter, melted
1 pound ground beef

1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 eggs
1 cup small curd creamed cottage cheese
2 tomatoes, sliced
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (4 ounces)

Mix potatoes and margarine; reserve 1/2 cup. Spread remaining potato mixture in ungreased square baking dish, 8x8x2 inches.

Heat oven to 350°. Cook and stir ground beef and onion until beef is brown; drain. Stir in Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Spoon onto potato mixture in dish. Mix eggs and cottage cheese; pour over beef mixture. Top with tomato slices. Sprinkle with Cheddar cheese; spread with reserved potato mixture. Bake uncovered until set, about 20 minutes. 6 yo 8 servings.

SNOW SALAD
1 medium head lettuce, shredded

1 bunch green onions, cut into small pieces

1 cup sliced water chestnuts

1 package small frozen green peas

Layer ingredients in salad bowl in order given. Top with the following dressing, then seal and refrigerate overnight.

DRESSING

1 package Hidden Valley Buttermilk Dressing, mixed according to directions. Use 1 cup of dressing plus 1/2 cup of sour cream blended together. Toss salad just before serving. Serves 6-8.

EASY MEXICAN CORNBREAD

1/4 cups white self-rising corn meal

1 small can creamed corn

1/2 cup cooking oil

1 cup buttermilk
2 eggs, beaten
2 large Jalapeno peppers, chopped fine

1 cup grated sharp cheese
2 tablespoons shortening
Measure corn meal into mixing bowl. Add corn, oil, milk and eggs. Mix well. Stir in pepper and cheese. Melt shortening in oven-proof skillet. Pour in corn meal mixture and bake at 350° for 40-45 minutes.

MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 rounded cup macaroni, cooked

3 tablespoons chopped onion

3 tablespoons chopped bell pepper

1 can cream of mushroom soup

1/2 cup mayonnaise

1 cup grated sharp cheese

1 tablespoon pimiento, chopped

Sharon Counts D.L. Morris Repeat Vows

Sharon Denise Counts and Daniel LeRoy Morris exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Monticello on Oct. 12. The Rev. Paul B. Williamson Jr. performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Counts Sr. of Monticello. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Ernest Morris Sr., 137 Holderness Drive, Longwood.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin. The form-fitted Alencon lace bodice featured a sabrina neckline and lace sleeves pointed over the hands which closed at the wrists with tiny lace-covered satin buttons. The V-neck back of the bodice was complemented by a triangle of lace medallion appliques cascading from the waist to the hem which was highlighted by a lace border circling the full flowing skirt and chapel train. Lace medallion appliques, encrusted with seed pearls and crystals, were scattered over the skirt. A wreath of tiny silk roses held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bridal bouquet of ivory rosebuds, baby's breath and narrow ivory satin ribbons.

Allison Wheeler of Perry attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Cathy Demott, Orange Park; Carre

Morris, Apopka, sister of the groom; Tonya Roberts, Madison; and Sherrie Wooten, Monticello. Their gowns were of royal blue taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline and elbow-length puff sleeves. The diagonally tucked bodice topped a softly gathered A-line skirt. Each carried colonial bouquet of ivory and blue silk flowers and baby's breath and each wore a pearl necklace which was a gift from the bride.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Groomsmen were Ernest Morris Jr., and Jeffrey Morris, both of Longwood, brothers of the groom; William G. Counts, Jr., Tallahassee, brother of the bride; David Roberts, Madison; and Brian Slack and Randy Carter, both of Tallahassee.

The bride's mother chose a maroon long-sleeved semi-fitted street length dress of crepe de chine, with a front Grecian overlay and back drape. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The groom's mother wore a long-sleeved turquoise street length dress featuring a dropped waistline and pleated skirt, highlighted by a matching fabric rosette at the waist. She wore a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Leonard Delp, maternal grandmother of the bride wore a matinee length dress of alternating bands of pale rose lace and taffeta. This dress was also worn by Mr. Delp at the party announcing the engagement of the bride's mother, some 28 years ago.

Mrs. Daniel LeRoy Morris

Mrs. H. E. Morris, of Satsuma, paternal grandmother of the groom, chose a street length dress featuring narrow gray, maroon and white stripes. Mrs. L.F. Richards, of Sanford, maternal grandmother of the groom, wore a pale pink street length dress with pleated skirt. Following the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained with a garden reception at their home in Monticello. Wendi Moon kept the bride's book and Misses Kay Roberts, Laurie Counts, Debbie Murtagh, Leah Hardin, Nancy Driggers, Abigail Bird and Robin Baker, Mrs. David Jarrett, and Mrs. John M. Counts, Jr., served refreshments. Floor hostesses were Mrs. Cecil Barrett, Mrs. Hoot Walker, Mrs. Buck Bird, Mrs. Mike Melder, Mrs. Robert Murtagh and Mrs. James Scott. Linsey Melder and Ramsey Baker passed out yellow satin rice roses.

After the wedding trip to Captiva Island, the couple are making their home in Havana.

Class Offered On Vegetarian Diets

The Journal of the American Medical Association claims that a "vegetarian diet can prevent 97% of coronary occlusions (blockages)." Some 10 million Americans have turned to a vegetarian diet as part of the fitness revolution that is sweeping the country.

Knowing how to make a vegetarian, or natural foods, diet palatable and attractive to family members is the first step in protecting their health, according to Anita Runfola, who says, "The Sanford Seventh-day Adventist Church would like to make the first step easier for you."

A "Natural Foods Cooking

Class," sponsored by the Community Services Department of the Sanford Seventh-day Adventist Church, is a hands-on program to help in creating cholesterol-free breakfasts, meatless main dishes, low calorie dressing, spreads and gravies, as well as low-sugar desserts.

The program will be held in the church's Fellowship Hall, located on the corner of 7th and Elm Avenue, in Sanford on Sunday and Monday evenings, from Nov. 17 through Nov. 25.

Classes will begin at 7 p.m. For more information, or to register for classes, call 323-6604, 574-0087 or 322-8621.

Teen-Ager May Be A Father But Not Necessarily A Man

DEAR ABBY: I am a mature 15 (going on 16)-year-old girl in love with a guy I'll call Craig. He's 16. We went together for two months, then had to break up because his ex-girlfriend told him she was pregnant with his baby. I was really upset when we broke up because Craig and I really love each other.

He just started calling me again and comes to see me quite often, and I'm getting attached to him again. His girlfriend is due in March, so he's back with her for now, but he doesn't love her, he is only interested in the baby. He told me this himself and I believe him.

My mother thinks I should stop seeing him, but I love him so much that would be hard to do. Can he get custody of his baby after it's born? What are Craig's rights, if any? His girlfriend is 16. What should I do? I've been reading your column every day for three years and I trust you, Abby. Please help me.

CONFUSED IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR CONFUSED: Craig's first responsibility is to the young woman who is pregnant. Apparently he was "in love" with her prior to her becoming pregnant, and although his focus now is on the baby, he seems immature and unable to accept the responsibility for his actions. Craig needs counseling, and it is now available for unwed teenage fathers.

Your mother is right. You should stop seeing Craig. I urge you to consult Planned Parenthood so you will not find yourself in the same position as Craig's ex-girlfriend. Craig needs to learn self-control and birth control. A 16-year-old boy can become a father, but until he is able to handle the responsibility of fatherhood, he is not yet a man.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having an argument with friends about what constitutes a gift.

When we don't know the needs of certain people, we send money and let them buy what they want. This saves the trouble of exchanging the gift if it's the wrong size, color or they already have that article.

Some friends say that money is not considered a gift — only material things are. Who is right?

GIFTS OF MONEY

DEAR GIFTS: You are. Money is indeed a gift — and a very welcome one. It can be a time-saver for the giver as well as the recipient. However, it is never proper to request money. If money is to be given, it should be the decision of the giver.

DEAR ABBY: I am a volunteer driver for home-delivered meals. I also drive disabled and elderly people to doctors' appointments.

Abby, you would be surprised how many homes and apartments are without a house number! How is one expected to find the correct address? More important, how, in the event of an emergency, will the paramedics, police or firemen find the house or apartment?

Thanks for running this.
FRANK C. HARTMANN, PALOS HILLS, ILL.

DEAR FRANK: Thanks for a potentially life-saving letter. And for all you pun haters, please notice I resisted the urge to work Frank's last name into this item. (You're welcome.)

Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.

District 18 VFWLA To Meet In Sanford

Rena Nunn, president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Department of Florida will be guest of the District 18 Ladies Auxiliary on Sunday, Nov. 17 for the district meeting.

Mrs. Nunn, who makes her home in Lake Park, joined the Ladies Auxiliary in 1948 in Jamestown, N.Y. and transferred to auxiliary 9610 Lake Park in 1961. She served as auxiliary president for her auxiliary 1965-66 and 1974-75. In 1979-80 she was president of District 3, and was "President of the year." She started through the chairs on the state level in 1980-81.

The national theme of the auxiliary is America Always Free. The state theme is We Pledge Allegiance...

The special project this year chosen by Mrs. Nunn is Hope Lodge. It is her aim and that of the ladies auxiliary to furnish a unit of Hope Lodge being constructed by the Florida Division of the American Cancer Society and Winn-Dixie. The 30-unit lodge is being built on the campus of the University of Florida, and will provide a home away from home for cancer patients and/or their families receiving treatment at the VA Hospital or the other three hospitals in Gainesville.

Rena Nunn

Other programs of the auxiliary are veterans affairs, youth activities...providing scholarships for our youth, Americanism...helping raise funds for the restoration of the Statue of Liberty and continued support in the Action Program of the POW-MIAs. Project Gina is a program of the post and auxiliaries to raise money to assist a young lady formerly of Winter Springs, Gina Reilly, who is a student at the National Home to realize her dream of going to Australia in 1986 as an exchange student.

There are 198 auxiliaries in Florida with a membership of 25,089 the goal for 1985-86 is 26,555.

The district meeting will be held at the Police Benevolent building in Sanford on 17-92. The joint meeting will start at 10:30 a.m., lunch will be served after the meeting. The Ladies Auxiliary will then meet at the Police Benevolent building. There will be a guest speaker at the morning session from "Charlee House."

All members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies Auxiliary are encouraged to attend.

Borgnine Just Keeps Role-ing

By Dick Kleiner
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) Like all good actors, Ernie Borgnine has gone through more phases than you can shake a script at.

When he first came along, so mean and menacing, he was the personification of evil. In films such as "From Here to Eternity" and "Bad Day at Black Rock," he was about as good as a screen heavy can be.

Then he became a character lead, particularly in the unforgettable "Marty."

For a while, he was a top character supporting actor in dozens of films ("The Dirty Dozen" and "The Wild Bunch," among others).

He went through a phase of being a top-grade comedy actor. In the TV series, "McHale's Navy."

Lately, he has combined all of the above as the chief support to Jan-Michael Vincent in the CBS series "Airwolf."

And now, at 68, he is looking forward to one more phase. He figures that inevitably he is soon going to start getting cast in elderly roles.

"I've done just about everything else."

Borgnine says, "I'd really like to do some good parts written for elders. One I think would be particularly interesting would be something about how elders react to rock music."

"I recently watched Springsteen (Bruce Springsteen, a rock singer) and I liked him. At least you can understand the words when he sings."

Despite all that talk about parts for elders, Borgnine still looks considerably younger than his 68 years, and he says he feels youthful, too.

"When you've got a loving wife," he says, "that keeps you young in spirit. I don't advise everybody to marry a younger woman, but it sure helped me."

Ernie's wife, Tove, has become a major force in the cosmetics industry. And he is a good ad for one of the claims for her products — that they keep you looking young. He also says that one of his wife's products was a big help to him after a recent accident during an "Airwolf" filming.

"About a week ago," he says, "I took a real shot in the eye. I was having a fight on the set and a fellow actor misjudged a bit. I was zigging when he zagged, and he really tagged me one.

"So I put on three of Tove's face masks, and the black eye went away in no time. It was really amazing."

He is very proud of her and her accomplishments.

"Tove's business is booming," he says. "She's going to Scandinavia next, to open up her business there. The kid really works hard."

When she was getting started, he spent a lot of time helping her. But lately, he says, he's stepped back from it. It is her baby, and her business.

"I said, 'If you need me, I'm here,'" he says, "but it's her creation, and I let her run with it. She's full of ideas. Just yesterday, she had the idea to make a Lucky Scratchers for those new California lottery tickets. I think she's going to go ahead with making them, too."

(The California lottery tickets contain six numbers covered over with a film that has to be scratched off to see if your ticket is a winner.)

Borgnine believes his show, "Airwolf," has improved this year, thanks to two major changes.

"We have a new premise, for one thing," he says. "We are more people-oriented this year. Less hardware. More about people's feelings."

"And we have a new executive producer, Bernie Kowalski. He is much more with us than the former executive producer, Don Bellisario, who had so many other irons in the fire."

So Ernie Borgnine is happily carrying on. He may be getting ready to play old parts, but he is still acting like a youngster.

Reagan Wants Budget Deal Before Summit

By ELAINE S. POVICH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan and House Speaker Thomas O'Neill both urged Congress Tuesday to reach agreement on a balanced budget measure in two days so the president will not have to deal with a U.S. fiscal crisis during the summit in Geneva next week.

Without agreement on the balanced budget issue by Thursday midnight, the government faces default because the balanced budget legislation is attached to a bill to lift the federal debt ceiling to a record $2 trillion. Without the hike, there will not be enough money to cover government checks.

Reagan leaves for Geneva Saturday, and addresses the nation Thursday night on the summit.

"It is in the best interests of the country that the Senate and the House should reach a compromise this week on the balanced budget measure," said O'Neill, D-Mass. "We need to clear the decks for the president in Geneva."

Congressional leaders said they approached the president at a White House meeting about the possibility of a short term debt ceiling extension to tide the nation over until Reagan returns from the summit Nov. 21, but the president did not agree or disagree.

"He (Reagan) never said anything about that," said Rep. Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill. "He gave it the old head shake."

O'Neill indicated the White House "would have to go along" with a short debt ceiling hike if no agreement was reached by Thursday "rather than see the government default."

O'Neill said if a 15-day debt ceiling hike were approved, it would give Congress more time to work on balancing the budget, but would also put off action, possibly "until next year" on tax reform, another of Reagan's pet projects.

Rostenkowski, leader of the House-Senate conference committee trying to resolve the balanced budget issue, broke the more than 50-member panel into a small "working group" in an attempt to settle differences Tuesday. The small group scheduled a meeting Tuesday afternoon after the large committee failed to make progress Tuesday morning.

"If we fail, the government will default," Rostenkowski said. "We've dodged the bullet so far, but at midnight Thursday we will be hit."

The government has threatened twice before to run into a fiscal dead end, but has wriggled out of it, once by borrowing from the Social Security trust fund.

"This country cannot be allowed to default on its financial obligations for the first time in our history," White House spokesman Edward Djerejian quoted Reagan as telling congressional leaders at a White House meeting. "This would be unthinkable."

But Reagan reiterated that efforts to balance the budget must not hamper his military buildup, leaving open questions of how strongly he supports the budget balancing effort.

Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said Reagan insisted he was going to continue the military buildup with a 3 percent hike in defense spending next year, despite the "Gramm-Rudman" budget balancing legislation.

"I told him you can't have both," Aspin said. A White House spokesman said later only that Reagan supports the "concept and body" of the balance budget legislation.

Treasury spokesman Art Siddon said the government must pay a $16 billion bill for interest on the national debt Nov. 16. He said if Congress does not act on a debt ceiling increase by midnight Thursday "we will default by the 15th. There simply will not be enough in the Treasury fund to pay."

"As soon as you fail to pay one check, you default," he said.

Siddon said the "chances are very, very slight" that the United States will begin to sell gold reserves, to fund the government, mainly because Treasury Secretary James Baker says he and Reagan are against it.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the City Commission will hold a Public Hearing on Monday, November 18, 1983, in the Longwood City Commission Chambers, 173 W. Warren Avenue, Longwood, Florida, or as soon thereafter as possible, to consider a Conditional Use requested by Thomas P. McCulloch to locate a retail package liquor store in a C-3 zoning district, on the following legally described property: Lot 10, less right of way for Highway 17 92, Entzingers Farms Addition No. 1, according to the Plat thereof as recorded in Plat Book 5, Page 8, Public Records of Seminole County, Florida. Being more generally described as 400 Hwy 17 92, Longwood, Florida.

At this meeting all interested parties may appear to be heard with respect to Conditional Use request. This hearing may be continued from time to time until final action is taken by the City Commission. A copy of the request is on file with the City Clerk and may be inspected by the public.

All persons are advised that if they decide to appeal any decision made at these hearings, they will need a verbatim record of the proceedings and for such purposes, they will need to insure that a verbatim record is made, which record to include the testimony and evidence upon which the appeal is made. The City of Longwood does not provide this verbatim record.

Dated this October 21, 1983.

Savor Every Last Morsel Of Delicious Soft Shell Crabs

When it comes to soft shell crabs, the only hard part is the idea. For the blue crab in its soft-shell state is consumed legs, shells and all - an idea which is more than a bit startling to the uninitiated. But, once you've had the opportunity to savor every last morsel of the tasty blue crab you may never want to go back to the old, "hard" way.

Connoisseurs have long enjoyed the soft shell, as have the fortunate residents of the Atlantic seaboard. But until recently, most others were hard-pressed to find a one.

Now, thanks to modern shipping and freezing techniques, soft-shells are available all year long. And you don't have to wait for that special occasional dinner in a gourmet restaurant anymore, because soft-shells are now found in neighborhood grocery stores and seafood counters, all across the country.

And as experienced chefs will tell you, soft-shells are not just delicious, they're also deliciously simple to prepare. Even in restaurants known for their haute cuisine, the preparation style is generally simple. If the dish is to be "dressed-up" it is usually done by the addition of an elegantly rich sauce.

So what exactly is a soft-shell crab? It is simply a growth stage of the blue crab. Since the hard shell cannot expand or grow, the crab must back out of its old "outgrown" shell to make room for new growth. The soft stage only lasts for the first half-hour, to an hour. If it is removed from the water during this very soft and tender stage, it can be eaten shells, claws and all.

Traditionally, most soft-shells have come from the Chesapeake Bay regions of Virginia and Maryland. In recent years commercial production has been expanding and now includes the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast states. This enlarged market areas has also extended the season for live soft crabs which are now available from May to November.

But you're not just limited to the warmer months now that modern freezing techniques have freed us from dependency on the crabs' natural growth cycles. Since freezing does not affect the taste, soft-shell lovers can enjoy them year-round.

To select the highest quality crabs - whether fresh or frozen, buy from a seafood retailer you trust. The frozen crabs will already be cleaned. If purchasing fresh crabs, you can easily clean them yourself or ask your retailer to do it for you. You'll want to allow two to three crabs per person, depending on the size of the crabs. Sizes are based on the width of the crab between the points of the shell, graduating-up in size from medium to hotel, prime, jumbo and the largest variety, whale. You'll find that they are priced according to size with the largest being the most expensive.

Soft-shells are so versatile, your biggest problem may be in deciding how to cook them. Whatever your method, begin by pricking each claw and leg with a fork to prevent them from popping. And like all seafood, be careful not to overcook, in order to preserve the crab's natural moistness.

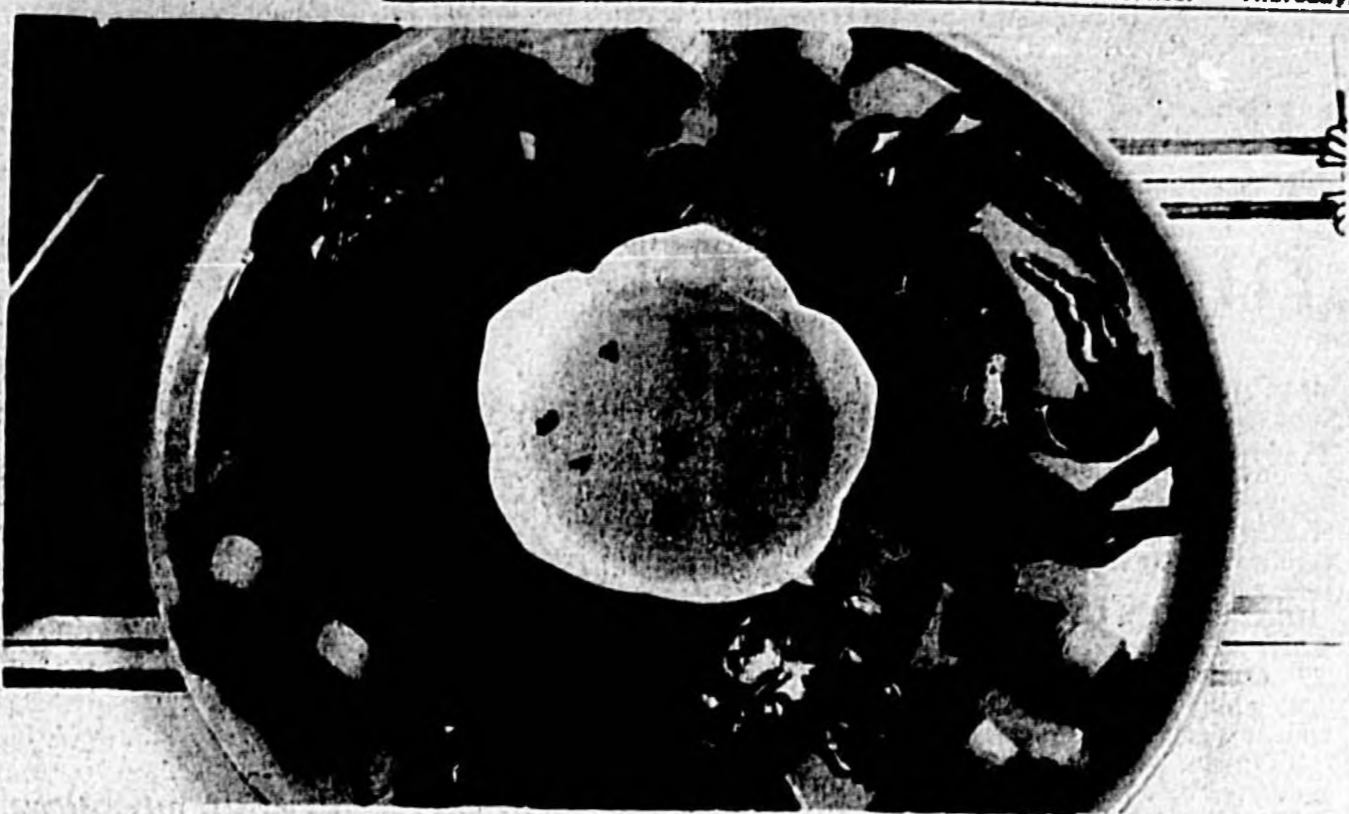

The following Devilishly Stuffed Soft-Shell Crab offers a new twist on the traditional deviled or stuffed crab.

DEVILISHLY STUFFED SOFT-SHELL CRABS

- 8 soft-shell crabs, cleaned, fresh or frozen
- 1/4 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted
- 1 cup rich cracker crumbs
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted

Thaw crabs if frozen. Wash crabs thoroughly; drain well. Cook onion, celery, green pepper and garlic in margarine until tender. In a medium bowl, combine mixture with the next 8 ingredients. Place soft crabs in a shallow, well-greased baking pan. Lift the paper-thin top shell from each crab and fill each cavity with one to two tablespoons of stuffing mixture. Replace top shell. Brush crabs with melted margarine. Bake at 400°F. for 15 minutes or until shells turn red and crabs brown slightly. Makes 4 servings.

Devilishly Stuffed Soft-Shell Crabs offer a new twist to the traditional deviled crab.

Turn Your Brown Bag Into A Chic Brag Bag

School kids, of course, are classic brown baggers. But they aren't alone on the brown bag brigade. Whether you're an office worker or construction worker, a doctor, lawyer, merchant or chief, the brown bag is the answer for anyone looking to save time or money on a workday or school day lunch.

A peek into today's brown bag shows that America's growing interest in nutrition and the ingenuity of America's cooks is transforming the ubiquitous brown bag from a mere convenience into a food lover's delight. Brown bagging offers more options than most school or company cafeterias, more variety, more nutrition — good taste that's good for you. It saves time and it saves money. It's sensible but it's also fun and it's becoming chic.

If your brown bag is far from being a brown bag, you're probably still associating lunch bag food with the sort that was once standard: Peanut Butter Buns, Tuna Yawns with Limp Lettuce, Egg Salad Soggy. Unfair fare for any adult or child. Unnecessary fare, too, as the options for filling your brown bag have become as varied as brown baggers themselves.

Susan Manlin Katzman, author, columnist, and creator of St. Louis' Kitchen School where she teaches culinary arts to kids and adults, is a sandwich stuffer par excellence out to turn the brown bag into a brag bag.

Brown bagging it allows you to make wise choices for your own lunch and gives you an opportunity to work with your children to make wise choices for their's as well. Guidelines for a well balanced lunch are not surprising — a protein-rich food, a carbohydrate, vegetables or fruit and a beverage. Your chance to make good decisions comes in how you put this combination together — choosing good foods that are good for you.

One place to start is by checking out your grocer's refrigerated meat case where you'll find Butterball Turkey's new line of lean (up to 98% fat free) turkey cold cuts — an ideal alternative to traditional luncheon meats which can be high in calories and fat content. The new line includes turkey ham, honey-cured turkey ham, turkey salami, turkey pastrami, turkey bologna, oven-roasted breast of turkey, smoked turkey and chopped turkey ham. "Turkey cold cuts are more nutritious because they combine less fat and leaner meat with great taste," says Katzman. "These are ideal easy-to-serve lunchtime favorites without the calories found in the red meat variety. My family loves them for the taste and I love them for the nutrition."

But man doesn't live by meat alone. Consider bread, your lunch-time carbohydrate source, counsels Katzman.

Wary of white? How about whole wheat, rye or pumpernickel? Croissants, bagels, muffins? Challah, pita, tortillas? Poppy seed buns or crusty rolls? Date nut bread or onion twists? Katzman often turns the table by wrapping bread sticks in meat slices, or rolling meat slices in spinach leaves.

And butter isn't the only bread spread around. Try chutney or salad dressing, she urges. Dips or barbecue sauce, cheese spread or yogurt. Relish cranberry relish with turkey ham, pickle relish with turkey bologna.

If you're looking for ideas for your own little brown brag bag, these no-risk recipes developed in the Butterball Test Kitchens can be made by the most conscientious non-cook, aged 9-99, with little or no kitchen experience. A free, colorful, sandwich booklet, "Butterball's Little Brown Brag Bag for Lunch Lovers," is also available, filled with recipes and tips for packing portable, palatable meals. Microwave Magic

Quickly Fix A Variety Of Italian Foods

Not only have the Italians given us some of the world's greatest art treasures; most of us would agree that the Italians have also been responsible for many delicious foods: spaghetti, pizza, ravioli, and lasagne to name just a few.

The popular pastas now can be easily micro-cooked and used in a variety of Italian main dishes and salads.

If you love Italian food as we do you might want something a little different.

This Manicotti will be the answer.

MICROWAVE MANICOTTI
1 pound ground chuck
2 pounds spaghetti sauce (your favorite or one purchased)
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese
1 cup cottage cheese, small curd
1/2 cup parmesan cheese
2 eggs
1/4 cup chopped parsley

Midge Mycoff
Home Economist
Seminole Community College

1/4 teaspoon salt
8 manicotti shells (cooked and drained)
In a 1-quart casserole microwave the ground chuck on 100% power for 5-8 minutes. Drain; add spaghetti sauce and micro-cook covered on 100% power for 5 minutes. Combine 1 cup mozzarella cheese, cottage cheese, and parmesan cheese, mixing well. Add eggs, parsley, and salt. Mix until well blended. Stuff manicotti shells with 1/4 cup of the cheese mixture in each shell. Pour 1/2 of the meat sauce into an 11x7 baking dish. Arrange stuffed manicotti on top of sauce. Pour remaining sauce over top of shells. Sprinkle with remaining cup of mozzarella cheese. Microwave on 85% power (Med-Hi) for 10 minutes or until hot and bubbly and cheese is melted.

Fettuccini is a medium width egg noodle. The Italian dish with which we are most familiar is Fettuccini Alfredo. This is an egg noodle dish with a rich white sauce of butter and cream. I believe the story is that a chef (Alfredo) ran out of red tomato sauce and made a sauce of ingredients that he had in the kitchen. His misfortune is our good fortune. This microwave version is quick and rich.

FETTUCCINI
8 ounces fettuccini noodles
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 package cream cheese (3 ounce)
1/4 cup half & half, or milk
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt

1/4 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese (2 ounce)

Cook noodles as directed on package. Drain and rinse in cold water. Set aside. Microwave (high) 100% power the butter and cream cheese in 1 1/2-quart glass serving bowl 20-30 seconds, or until softened. Mix until creamy. Blend in half & half and salts. Mix in cooked noodles. Cover with bowl cover or overturned plate. Microwave (high) 100% power 4-5 minutes, or until heated through; stirring twice. Mix in Parmesan cheese. Microwave (high) 100% power, uncovered, 1-2 minutes or until heated.

TIPS: Noodles can be prepared ahead through step 3. Complete steps 4 and 5 when ready to serve.

Italian food does not need to be high in calories. This vegetable lasagne which serves 6 has 128 calories per serving. Serve with a crusty bread and a fresh fruit dessert and even the dieters can enjoy an Italian meal.

VEGETABLE LASAGNE

1 can (8 ounce) tomato sauce
1/4 teaspoon basil
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup ricotta cheese
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1 large tomato, sliced
1 medium onion, chopped
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1/2 cup shredded mozzarella cheese (low fat)
3 medium zucchini
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Combine tomato sauce, onion, basil, salt, pepper, and oregano in a small mixing bowl. Set aside. In another bowl, combine ricotta, mozzarella and parsley. Set aside. Peel and slice zucchini lengthwise. Arrange strips in an 8x8-inch baking dish. Cover with wax paper. Microwave at 100% power for 6-8 minutes or until fork tender. Drain. Place zucchini on paper towel to absorb excess moisture. Layer 4-6 strips in bottom of 8x8-inch baking dish. Spread with the tomato sauce. Top with the zucchini, remaining sauce and sprinkle with the Parmesan cheese.

Microwave at 50% power, uncovered, for 20-25 minutes or until heated through. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

If you are looking for a new way to serve chicken this chicken and spaghetti is worth a try. Again it does not have the traditional red sauce.

CHICKEN AND SPAGHETTI

1 medium onion, chopped
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 cups celery (sliced thin)
6 ounces spaghetti, cooked
1 can cream of chicken soup
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
2 cups cooked white meat of chicken

1 cup grated cheese, cheddar
Melt butter in 2 quart casserole for 45 seconds on 100% power. Add celery and onion and cook for 3-4 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add soup, seasoning, parsley, chicken, spaghetti, and 1/2 cup of cheese. Mix well. Cover and microwave on 50% (med) for 12-15 minutes. Stir 2 times during the cooking. Sprinkle remaining cheese on top and microwave for 1 minute or until cheese is melted.

Another more familiar way to serve chicken with pasta and a tomato sauce is chicken cacciatore.

CHICKEN BREAST CACCIATORE

1 can (16 ounces) whole tomatoes, cut-up
1/2 medium green pepper, cut in thin strips
1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 whole bone-in chicken breasts, halved and skin removed

1/4 cup dry white wine
1 medium onion, sliced and separated into rings
1/4 teaspoon oregano leaves
2 tablespoons grated Romano or Parmesan cheese

Combine tomatoes, green pepper, onion, wine and seasonings in a 2-quart casserole. Cover and microwave at 100% power for 5-7 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Arrange chicken in a 12"x8" baking dish with meatiest portion to the outside of dish. Pour sauce and vegetables over chicken. Cover with wax paper. Microwave at 100% power for 14-18 minutes or until chicken is tender and no longer pink. Rearrange and spoon sauce over chicken twice during the cooking time. Serve chicken over vermicelli (spaghetti) or spaghetti squash that has been sprinkled with cheese.

Sometimes we like to cook the more traditional way and with a spaghetti sauce that can take all day. If time is of the essence this sauce with meatballs is a good family meal with lots of Italian flavor.

 Blend garlic powder in melted margarine, set aside. Unroll dough; separate into 8 triangles. With pastry brush spread a little of garlic margarine on each triangle. At small tip of triangle put a piece of cheese that has been wrapped with a strip of beef, then roll as directed on container. Brush each roll with remaining garlic margarine. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 11 to 13 minutes until golden brown on ungreased cookie sheet. Serve warm.

Good as appetizer with cocktails.

Spring (Anytime) Wild Rice Salad

2½ cups water
1 6-ounce package long grain and wild rice with seasoning packet.
½ pound asparagus, cut diagonally into 1-inch pieces (you may substitute ½ (one half) 16-ounce can asparagus, drained) or 1 10-ounce package frozen asparagus, thawed.
¼ cup vegetable oil
2 tablespoons white wine vinegar
1 small red or green pepper, cut into ½-inch pieces red onion rings

In medium saucepan, combine water and contents of rice and seasoning packets. Bring to a boil. Cover and simmer 20 minutes. Stir in the asparagus pieces. Cover and continue to simmer until all liquid is absorbed, about 5 minutes. Transfer to a glass bowl. Cover and chill. Combine oil and vinegar; stir into rice mixture. Add pepper, mix well. Chill. Garnish with red onion rings. Makes 6 servings

J. Pepin's Potato Salad

2 pounds boiling potatoes
2 tablespoons plus ½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup white wine vinegar
¼ teaspoon fresh ground pepper
1 whole egg
1 egg yolk
1 tablespoon dijon-style mustard
1 cup safflower oil
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Chopped parsley for garnish

1. Place the potatoes in a medium sauce pan, cover with cold water and add 2 tablespoons of the salt. Bring to a boil over high heat; reduce the heat to low and simmer, uncovered for 20 to 30 minutes, or until potatoes can be easily pierced with a fork.

2. Drain the potatoes; peel as soon as they are cool enough to handle. Cut into ½-inch slices and place in a medium bowl. While the potatoes are still warm, add the wine vinegar and pepper; toss gently.

3. Meanwhile, make the mayonnaise: In a blender or food processor, combine the whole egg, egg yolk, mustard and remaining ½ teaspoon salt; blend until smooth. With the machine on, slowly pour in the oil in a thin steady stream. Add the onion and mix briefly. There will be about 1½ cups of mayonnaise.

4. Add ½ cup of the mayonnaise to the potatoes and toss gently to coat. Sprinkle with the parsley and serve at room temperature.

Note: Reserve the remaining mayonnaise for another use; cover and refrigerate for up to 2 weeks.

6 Servings.

Zucchini "Coleslaw"

6 small zucchini
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon onion, chopped fine
3 carrots, shredded
½ teaspoon pepper
½ cup chicken broth
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
½ teaspoon dried thyme
½ teaspoon dried basil
½ teaspoon dijon mustard

Coarsely shred zucchini, drain well on paper towels. Put into bowl and add garlic, onion, carrot and pepper. Mix well.

Dressing: Mix chicken broth, vinegar, thyme, basil and mustard in a jar. Shake well to blend ingredients together. Add to zucchini mixture and blend well. Cover and chill in refrigerator for several hours. Serve on crisp salad greens, topped with radish slices and cherry tomatoes. May also be put into serving bowl. Serves 6.

Party Tuna

1 medium size lettuce head, firm
12 ounces canned tuna with oil, drained well
11 ounces tomato sauce, canned
8 ounces Philadelphia cream cheese
2 envelopes of plain Knox Gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ cup mayonnaisse
½ cup diced celery
several thinly sliced black or green olives
Dissolve gelatin in cold water. Heat sauce and cheese, until blended and warm. Mix gelatin and tomato sauce mixture. Cool. Add celery, and tuna and mayo. Stir well.
Wash lettuce, removing outer damaged leaves. Cut out a core and hollow the lettuce out. Pour in the tuna salad.

Wrap in saran wrap until gelled, about an hour*. When ready to serve, place stuffed lettuce head on plate. Pull down some of the outer leaves, laying back onto plate for effect, try not to pull completely away from the head. Slice with knife into desired portions.

To make cutting easier, spray Pam on slicing knife or dip blade into very warm water. Cut wedges like a round pie.

Decorate with the sliced olives and sprinkle a little paprika for added color. Can use dollop of sour cream, sprinkled with chopped chives.

Primavera With Sauce & Garnish Stuffed Chicken Breasts

4 boneless chicken breasts, halved and skinned
 2 tablespoons whipped butter or margarine
 4 tablespoons fresh lemon juice salt, pepper and paprika
 4 teaspoons grated parmesan cheese
Spinach stuffing:
 1 tablespoon whipped butter or margarine
 1 medium onion, minced
 1 medium clove garlic, pressed or minced
 1 10-ounce box frozen chopped spinach, thawed and squeezed of excess moisture
 6-7 medium mushrooms, cleaned and finely chopped
 ½ cup Italian bread crumbs
 1 cup shredded Swiss cheese
 ½ teaspoon nutmeg
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 freshly ground pepper
 2 tablespoons instant non-fat dry milk powder

Stuffing preparation:
 Prepare the stuffing, melt the butter in a medium large teflon skillet. Brown the onions in the butter, then stir in the garlic and saute briefly. Stir in the mushrooms; saute briefly, add the bread crumbs and stir to blend. After bread crumbs are blended, add the spinach, dry milk powder and remaining seasonings. Blend well.

Prepare chicken:
 Place each chicken breast between two pieces of wax paper and pound with a mallet to an even ¼-inch thickness. Sprinkle each lightly with salt and pepper.

Place ¼ of the stuffing (cooled) on each breast and spread to within ¼ inch of the edges. Fold in the short sides, then roll into neat rolls. Place seam side down in a shallow baking dish, ¼ inch apart (or in individual bake dishes)

In a small saucepan, melt 2 tablespoons whipped butter or margarine, stir in the lemon juice; pour over the chicken rolls. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon grated parmesan cheese over each roll, followed by light sprinkling of paprika. Bake, covered with foil, at 350 degrees for 25 minutes or until done. (To test for doneness, remove foil and insert a sharp knife in the center of one of the chicken rolls. If the knife slides in easily, the breasts are done).

To serve:
 Serve the chicken breasts right in their baking dish (ea.) Drizzle 1 tablespoon of slim-sour cream over the center of each breast. Sprinkle with the citrus zest garnish.

Slim-Sour Cream:
 1 pint low-fat cottage cheese
 ¼ cup butter milk
 Place cottage cheese and buttermilk in a food processor fitted with the steel blade. (blender may be used.) Blend for several minutes, stopping several times to push mixture into the blades with spatula. When completely smooth, transfer to refrigerator container and let stand at least one hour.

Citrus Zest Garnish:
 2-3 large cloves garlic, minced
 ¼ cup minced parsley (fresh)
 1 tablespoon minced lemon zest
 1 teaspoon minced orange zest
 Combine all of above ingredients in a serving bowl. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate until needed. Make at least within 24 hours of serving.

Special notes:
 This recipe may be prepared in advance. The chicken breasts may be stuffed and refrigerated in their baking dish(es) the day before they are to be cooked. Bring to room temperature before placing them in oven. They may also be frozen. Wrap them individually in plastic wrap, then overwrap with foil. Thaw before baking.

Citrus Zest Garnish:
 Prepare and is best when made within 24 hours of serving.
Slim-Sour Cream
 This will last as long as the expiration dates on the cartons of cottage cheese and buttermilk. (This is also very good on baked potatoes).

Southern Heavenly Has For Leftover Turkey & Dressing

2 cups of chopped leftover turkey meat
 2 ounces chopped pimiento, drained
 ¼ cup white wine
 ½ cup chopped fresh mushrooms or a 4-ounce can of mushroom pieces
 2 cups medium white sauce seasoned with: 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, ¼ teaspoon sage, ¼ teaspoon salt (always use less salt when using wine), 1 teaspoon pepper.

MEDIUM WHITE SAUCE:
 Melt 4 tablespoons butter, blend in 4 tablespoons flour until smooth.

Add 2 cups milk gradually, stirring constantly until boiling point is reached. Reduce heat and cook for 3 minutes longer, stirring constantly.

Stir in seasonings and blend.
 Place over hot water to keep hot and cover with waxed paper to prevent film from forming.

Add turkey, pimientos, mushrooms, white wine to sauce about 30 minutes before you plan to serve.

Warm leftover cornbread dressing or cornbread, allow a generous square for each serving. Spoon a good helping of sauce over each square, serve while hot.

What a good way to enjoy Christmas leftovers while waiting for the new year to come in. This is the way my mother always fixed it for company.

How To Make Holiday Goodies

Holiday menus are usually warm and comforting, with familiar recipes we've enjoyed since childhood. Even the breakfast and luncheons that were part of the hustle and bustle of visiting and entertaining were as special as the traditional holiday dinner.

Those pantries lined with home-made goodies made it possible to embellish the simplest meal. Today few of us have the time or extra energy to lavish on such preparation, but a morning in the kitchen a few days before the holidays can produce nutritious, fresh-as-sunshine delicacies to add some sparkle to the table.

Fresh oranges and grapefruit from Florida add zesty piquant flavor as well as a bonus of vitamin C and other healthful nutrients to holiday meals. Here are recipes for a muffin, a butter and a marmalade, guaranteed to make even a snack a grand treat.

NUTTY ORANGE MUFFINS

- 1 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
- 3/4 cup whole wheat flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup honey
- 2 large eggs
- 1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup Florida orange juice
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 3/4 cup chopped walnuts

In a large bowl stir flours, baking powder, cinnamon, baking soda and salt together. In another large bowl cream butter, sugar and honey together until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs, one at a time, and orange peel. Stir in flour mixture alternately with orange juice until just combined. Do not overmix. Gently fold in raisins and add lemon juice. Cook, stirring to dissolve sugar. Boil, uncovered, until of desired consistency, about 2 hours. Stir often to prevent sticking. Skim off foam with a metal spoon. Ladle marmalade into hot sterilized jars and seal with paraffin. Yield: About 8 cups.

ORANGE HONEY BUTTER

1 cup lightly salted butter or margarine, softened

1 tablespoon honey

3 tablespoons Florida frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted

1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel (optional)

In a small bowl, beat butter until light and smooth. Add honey and continue to beat until well combined. Gradually beat in orange juice concentrate and orange peel. (If desired). Cover and chill spread several hours to blend flavors. Yield: Approximately 1 cup.

nuts. Spoon mixture evenly into 12 greased muffin cups. Bake in a pre-heated 400°F. oven 15 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center of one muffin comes out clean. Remove muffin tin or tins to wire racks. Cool 5 minutes before removing muffins from cups; finish cooling on rack. Serve warm or cool completely and store in an airtight container at room temperature. Yield: 12 muffins.

FLORIDA ORANGE MARMALADE

6 large Florida oranges

Water

Sugar

2 tablespoons lemon juice

Wash oranges thoroughly, cut in half lengthwise. Remove seeds; slice oranges thinly and measure. In large pot combine 2 cups of water for each cup of fruit. Bring to a boil. Cover, and let stand overnight. Bring orange mixture to a boil, reduce heat and simmer until tender, about 30 minutes. Add 3/4 cup sugar for each cup of orange mixture;

D—F Bread

4 1/2 cups of bread flour
1 cup of sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 packages of dry yeast
1 cup of water
1 cup of milk
1/2 cup of margarine or butter
2 eggs

Generously grease 1 large loaf pan or 3 small ones. Lightly spoon flour into measuring cup; level off. Combining 2 1/2 cups of flour, sugar, salt, and yeast, blend well. In a small saucepan heat milk to 120-130°F.; add to milk, butter, and water, and slightly beaten eggs. Add warm mixture to flour mixture, beat at medium speed for three minutes. By hand stir in remaining flour to form stiff batter. Put on flour board and knead for about five minutes. Form into loaves and let rise in a warm place until light and doubled in size, about 30 minutes.

Heat oven to 350°F. Bake 30-40 minutes or until golden brown and bread sounds hollow when lightly tapped. Remove bread from pan immediately and wipe top of loaves with butter.

Dietetic Carrot Delight

1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon nutmeg
1/8 teaspoon salt
6 packets Sweet 'N Low
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 packet butter buds made into liquid (1/2 cup hot water)
1 egg, beaten
1 cup grated carrots
1 cup raisins
Pre-heat oven to 350°. Spray 8-inch square baking pan with non-stick coating agent. In medium-size bowl, combine flour, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, salt, and Sweet 'N Low. In separate bowl, dissolve baking soda in butter buds; add to dry ingredients. Stir in egg. Add carrots and raisins and mix thoroughly. Pour into prepared pan. Bake 30 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool and cut into 2-inch squares.

Easy Apple Dessert

1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon double acting baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
Grated rind of one lemon
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/4 cups peeled and shredded apples (crisp cooking apples)
1/2 cup finely chopped nuts
Whipped cream or ice cream (optional)
Pre-heat oven to 325°. Butter a 9-inch glass pie plate. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Set aside. Beat eggs, then add sugar, lemon rind, and vanilla. Continue beating until light and fluffy. Add and quickly beat in flour mixture. Fold in apples and nuts. Turn into buttered pie dish and bake for 35-40 minutes, until puffed and lightly browned.

Serve warm or cool with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 6.

Goosey Fudge Marshmallow Squares

Preparation time: quick
In mixing bowl, 4 eggs, 2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup Hershey's cocoa, 1/2 cup plain flour, 2 sticks of melted margarine, 1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring, 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring, 1 cup marshmallows (small ones, or large cut in bits).

added, one at a time, pour into greased casserole dish, rectangular pyrex.

Preheated oven 350 degrees. Do not overcook, mixture will be goosey and can't be tested for doneness with knife. Bake approximately 30 minutes.

Peach nuggets

In zip lock bag place:
1 cup self rising flour
1 cup plain all purpose flour
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Shake well. In small bowl, beat 3 eggs and one cup milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla. One large can of peach halves, drained. Halve each peach half. Can use generic or irregular cans if you don't mind nuggets not being uniform.

Heat Crisco shortening in small deep saucepan, at least 3 inches. Medium high. Drench all pieces in the flour mix in the bag. Lay out on a plate. Only do about 6 pieces at a time. Dip each piece in the egg mix and right back into the bag of flour again and shake well. Don't handle pieces too much, the batter will slip off. Brown quickly in Crisco. Ahead of time, put a cake rack on a cookie sheet and put in 300 degree oven. As each batch browns, place nuggets on the cake rack in the oven, not touching. This allows the batter to remain crisp and the heat draws out some of the Crisco. After the last batch, turn the oven off in five minutes and shake confectioner's sugar over the pieces. Best served warm. These nuggets are also good for a side dish with meat, eliminate the confectioner's sugar. Pour a small amount of dried mint in palm of hand, rub briskly to awaken the flavor, sprinkle a little on the nuggets and serve with lamb. Can use small pieces of apple also. Fast preparation time.

Jean's Special Lemon Cheese Filling

The tart taste of this lemon cheese filling is so good to use when you need to cut the taste of sweet ice cream when used as a sauce. It is so extra good as a filling in small baked individual meringues or as a filling between layers of a yellow cake and seven minute icing.

In the top of a double-boiler melt 1/2 pound of butter. While butter is melting, separate 6 egg yolks (saving egg whites for meringues or seven minute icing), put egg yolks in blender. Add 6 whole eggs and 3 cups of sugar, slowly. Blend well, then slowly add 1 cup of lemon juice. Blend. Add melted butter, blend. Pour contents of blender into top of double-boiler. Bring water in lower part of boiler to a full boil. Stir mixture well. Cook over low heat for about 45 minutes or until mixture is shiny and thick. Stirring often. Mixture will coat spoon and will have a shiny appearance. Filling can be kept in sealed, sterilized jars for about three weeks in the refrigerator.

Pina Colada Cake

1 box yellow cake mix (Duncan Hines)
1 4-ounce instant coconut pudding
1/2 package pina colada mix
1/2 cup cold water
1/4 cup oil
1/2 cup dark rum
4 whole eggs

Mix in bowl as listed above until well blended. Pour into 2 8-inch round cake pans well greased and floured. Bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes. Cool completely then chill in refrigerator about 1 hour before frosting

Frosting in bowl mix:
1 8-ounce can crushed pineapple with juices
1 4-ounce instant coconut pudding
1/2 package pina colada mix
1/2 cup dark rum. Mix until well blended. Fold into 1 9-ounce cool whip, softened. Frost middle, sides and top of cake. Keep in refrigerator. It is good when served cold.

Extra Special Company Meatloaf

IN A SMALL SAUCE PAN POUR:

1 15-ounce can of chicken broth
2 ribs of celery including leaves, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium bell pepper, chopped
½ teaspoon sage

Bring to rolling boil, turn on simmer for 10 minutes. After simmering, remove from stove, add 1 cup Pepperidge Farm cornbread stuffing mix, ¾ cup Herbe Pepperidge Farm Bread stuffing mix. Stir only enough to moisten stuffing mixes, set aside. If this mixture is too stiff when you follow step in using it later, add one egg and mix.

In blender, combine:
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
3 or 4 fresh jalapeno peppers, or ½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
¼ teaspoon parsley flakes
2 eggs

Blend well.
In mixing bowl, pour tomato pepper sauce over:
2 pounds ground chuck beef (or 1 ½ pounds ground chuck and ¼ pound ground pork)
½ cup herbed Pepperidge Farm

Bread stuffing mix.
Mix well with a large spoon or your hands (hands seem to do a better job).

On a piece of wax paper divide meat into two balls; roll balls into two loaf shapes. Pam spray a 1 ½ quart long baking dish or pan. Place one loaf on bottom of dish, flatten and make a little indentation, like a shallow well in the loaf. Spread half of the stuffing mix over meat, making a filling. On waxed paper flatten second loaf of meat and place on top of filling, shaping it all into an even loaf. Try to seal sides with meat, pressing gently together. Spread remaining half of stuffing mix on top of second loaf, evenly. Spread a thin coat prepared mustard over dressing, being careful not to mix it in, then spread a thin coat of catsup over this. (Mustard can be omitted, and you can use salt free tomato sauce if you are trying to cut on salt). Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour or until done; cool for 15 minutes. Slice through meatloaf across from side to side, will give a nice layer look. Very good and even better second day. Slice and warm on flat side in frying pan or microwave. Freeze leftovers.

1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon sugar
2 cups beef bouillon
4 green peppers cut lengthwise in eighths
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce

¼ cup water
Brown meat in hot oil in skillet. Add onion, green pepper, celery, garlic, salt, pepper, sugar and bouillon. Simmer uncovered, 40 minutes until meat is tender.

Mix soy sauce, cornstarch and water. Stir into hot mixture, cooking and stirring constantly until thickened.

Serve over rice with chow mein noodles atop.

More Meat, Casseroles

Tater Tots Casseroles

Spread layer of raw hamburger (1 1/4 pounds) in bottom of 9x13x2 casserole dish (cake pan). Sprinkle 1 minced onion on top. Salt and pepper. Spread 1 package of frozen tater tots on top.

Mix 1 can of cream of mushroom soup (or cream of celery soup) with 1 can (13 ounces) evaporated milk. Pour over top. Sprinkle paprika over top. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

Cut into squares to serve. Reheats well. Freezes well. A good dish for picnic, church socials, etc.

Sweet And Sour Green Beans

4 slices bacon
1 cup finely diced onion
2 15 1/2-ounce cans cut green beans, undrained
2 tablespoons sugar
Dash of pepper
1/4 cup vinegar
Cut bacon into 1/2-inch pieces. Partially cook bacon, add onion and sauté until onion is lightly browned. Drain beans and add liquid to bacon and onions. Cook until liquid is reduced to 1/2 cup. Add beans and remaining ingredients. Heat thoroughly. Serve warm. Yield: 6 servings.

Yummy Shredded Yams

2 pounds sweet potatoes
1 gallon water
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup white Karo syrup
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup oleo or butter
1 cup pineapple juice
Preheat oven to 350°F. Peel and shred potatoes (use fine shredder) and put into gallon of water and add salt. Drain and wash well. Place in a baking dish, 11 1/2x7 1/2 inches. Mix sugar, syrup, water and cook until simple syrup. Add oleo. Pour pineapple juice over potatoes in baking dish. Now pour syrup over all and cook 40 minutes or until potatoes are transparent. (I find it takes a little longer). Serves 8-10.
