Vote Getting Overshadows Oratory, Candidates, Issues In Middle Western States

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Oratory, candidates and campaign issues were almost lost sight of last night in the rush of civic leaders and party workers to perfect last minute plans for getting a record number of Middle West voters to the polls today.

Citizens were urged from pulpit and rostrum to exercise their franchise, and in Missouri the governor called upon churches and factories to toll their bells and blow their whistles at 4 o'clock to remind those who had not yet voted that the polls were soon to close.

Clear weather was predicted for almost the entire Middle West.

Election eve in mid-America was quiet, the major presidential candidates, with one exception, resting. Gov. Charles W. Bryan, democratic nominee for vice president, closed a day of speech making a final address at Clay Center, Neb., last night.

Charles G. Dawes, Republican vice presidential nominee, was at his Evanston residence, while Senator Robert M. LaFollette, independent candidate for president, was enjoying his first stay at his Madison, Wis., home since he announced his candidacy.

Most of the orators of the day were confined to aspirants for minor offices while claims of victory were heard from campaign managers on all sides.

Interest in the contests for congressional places in the Middle West today will be centered about the efforts of the independent group to increase their strength in the house and senate.

Regulars of both major parties have waged vigorous fights against such insurgents as Senator W. Brundt of Iowa and against the Farmer-Labor senator, Magnus Johnson of Minnesota.

Voters of the Second North Dakota district are to choose a representative to fill the vacancy left by George Young, a Republican regular, the LaFollette independent forces having concentrated their congressional fight in the state about this office. The result is expected to have a direct bearing on the presidential race if the election is thrown into conference.

The Ku Klux Klan issue is more important than any other in many states. In Kansas the gubernatorial contest is three-cornered, William Allen White, the editor, having entered as an avowed opponent to the Klan. He is running as an independent. The Democrats in the state today charged that two leading Klansmen had been exiled for refusing to support the Republican candidates.

ELECTION FRAUD WARSHIP SEEKING IN CUBA CHARGED MISSING SHIP IN BY M. G. MENOCAL ATLANTIC OCEAN

Was Defeated by Muchado for President of Mexico in Election
Saturday; Statement
Signed By Menocal.

HAVANA, Nov. 4.—Bland for Saturday's election in which, according to figures compiled by the government, he was defeated for president by General Gerardo Machado, Liberal, was illegal because of frauds, were made in a signed statement made public Monday by former President Mario Gómez, Liberal Conservative.

The statement, which was also signed by Domingo Méndez, Conservative, warned the civilian officials that a new election must be held because of "irregularities" and declared that the statement was issued as a "declaration and grave declaration to the country to declare our responsibility for the future."

General Méndez declined to say whether he had issued the statement or not, but said he might do so later.

General Méndez, who returned to Havana today from a three-province tour, was met yesterday morning at the airport by a full-wings congressional delegation from the government on the first day of the election, which had been held Saturday, under secretary of interior, after the Mexican mandate, declared the changes were without foundation. American Ambassador Crowley read the charges with apparent interest but declined to comment.

Figures from 1,632 of the 1,777 precincts in Cuba compiled today at the interior department gave Machado 182,812 votes of the combined Liberal and Popular parties to 122,949 for Méndez and gave Machado the lead by large majorities in all provinces except the small one of Pinar del Río where Menocal received 16,013 votes to 16,743 for Machado on return from 17 of the 26 districts.

The newspaper Diario de La Marina, a Menocal supporter, today said that on the face of the return, Machado appeared elected and offered its congratulations.

Four Plead Guilty in Plea Term of Court

Four defendants plead guilty to charges against them in a plea term of county court Monday morning before County Judge E. E. Housser and each was fined $5 and costs. Two were charged with carrying pistols without permits and the remaining two for assault and battery.

The cases as tried were: Joe Coffey, carrying pistol without permit, $5 and costs; Sam Jackson, carrying pistol without permit, $5 and costs; Blair Hasty, assault and battery, $5 and costs; Ernest Hartly, assault and battery, $5 and costs.

Working Women Get But Six Hours Sleep

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Employed women get an average of six hours of sleep a night, according to a summary of results of a "Busy Women's Clock" questionnaire, sent out to several thousand women by Mrs. Laura P. Miller, director of the department of women in industry of the National Women's Council. The woman who does not stretch out her "official" workday from two to six hours of homework, seems to be rare," said Mrs. Miller. "The majority of employed women also cook at least one meal a day."

LARGE VOTE IS BEING POLLED IN THIS COUNTY

686 Ballots Are Cast by Sanford Voters Alone Up to 1:30 o'clock This Afternoon; Many More to Vote.

Amendments Prove Center of Interest

Polls to Close at Sundown
Which Is Around 5:15
O'clock This Afternoon.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, exactly 686 ballots had been cast by Sanford voters, this being more than twice the number that had been up to 10:30 o'clock this morning.

It is expected by those in charge of polls that a record vote will be cast today. With nearly 700 voters polled at 1:30 o'clock, it is pointed out that probably a much larger number of people will vote during the late afternoon. After 1 o'clock, it was said, a large number of people who so far have not been able to get off from their work long enough to vote are expected at the polls.

Postmaster J. E. Hall was the first person to vote at precisely 1:30 o'clock this morning and M. Minarik, Atlantic Coast Line engineer, was the first to vote in precinct one.

The polls opened promptly at 6:30 a.m. with W. D. Turner, elect. W. E. Batts, C. D. Couch and Thomas More, inspectors in charge of the poll, 401, receiving one a/c. W. M. Hanes, a/c, C. R. Bruton, elect. and W. W. Dressler, inspector in charge of the polls in precinct three.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning approximately 25 persons had voted in the two Sanford precincts. At 10:30, exactly 150 ballots had been cast in precinct three and in 401, the ballot had been cast in precinct one.

Local returns in the election bill indicated that morning, according to the amendment to the poll law for the tenth district, 1,000 extra voters.

Davis Is Back Home And Feels Sure Of Victory In Election

things that go to make a great president, the things that put trust and confidence in government, all these are now before the people and they are thinking.

There has never been a campaign when there were so many political cross-currents as the one now drawing to a close. Many states are cross-sectioned by reverse currents that make political estimates worked out into figures worthless, because they cannot be based on anything definite. Nearly one-half of the people have shown no indication of their intentions and have expressed no thought or opinion in this campaign. Thousands of these in every state with unsettled convictions will make up their minds or change them after entering the polls. All these make trouble for political pencil experts. The Southern and border states are safely Democratic. In the long list of doubtful states, the silent vote will decisively affect the result. And all reports are that the Independent vote will be Democratic.

IS DADDY HOME?
(By O. Lawrence Hawthorne)
I hear Bob shout block away,
"Is Daddy home?"

When Mother calls them in from play,

"Is Daddy home?"
While Bower, who is older grown,
Employs convention's milder tone
And says his answer is shown,
"Is Daddy home?"

Then Dick and Phil take up the call,

"Is Daddy home?"

When Mother tells them in the hall,

"Yes, Daddy's home!"
I hear the four begin to tear
Like little wild men in the stair,
While, loyally they all declare That Daddy's home!

Oh, what a blessed thing to hear,
"Is Daddy home?"

From voice so intent and dear,

"Is Daddy home?"

I hope that in the years to be My boys will know such love for me,

That often they will call to see
If Dad is home.

We concede the election of John Martin.

The straw votes to the winds.
The battle of the ballots is on.

The safest election bet we can think of is that Davis carries Georgia.

We can't recall any other political campaign, in which so many bonds have been pulled by all sides, as the present one.

The Times-Union is wondering why a woman loves her even while she is being besieged. If you stop to consider the looks of the man you can't close her much.

There is a certain man who came to this city when he didn't have a cent. Now he is worth million.
Tell that to tourists passing through.

With the passage of the incomtax amendment there will be millions of dollars brought to Florida for investments. Let Sanford get her share.

Too bad this fellow "Red" On-anze was not old enough to go to war in 1918. He certainly would have got in again with the German army.

What a footloose, come-to-over and we can borrow some head gear, no guards, shoulder pads and let's stage a golf tour-ment for the women.

Now in the presidential race there is interest throughout the country centers in the fight in New York between Taft and Al Smith.

Mario G. Menocal defeated candidate of the Cuban Club and claimed the election last Saturday illegal because of fraud. Well, that's another anyway.

When you see a man saluting through the street with his hand in his pocket, don't think that he has an inferiority complex. He may be saluting his man.

According to the latest report filed with the senate committee investigating campaign expenditure, the Republicans paid amounts to $2,000,000, while that of the Democrats is only $1,000.
That should indicate something.

Discussing the fact that American girls had been insured for half of New York City, Jean Patou, French dressmaker, says knows no attractive and that dress though rising, will never rise above.

French object to Fritz Kreisler, world's premier violinist, playing in Paris on Armistice Day. Kreisler used to be an officer in the Austrian army. No doubt his notes would thus discord.

All the old line Democrats and a lot of the new time Republicans, not to mention a few folks who think themselves progressive because they voted for LaFollette are coming down to The Herald office tonight to bet on the merits of their favorite candidates and watch the returns come in.

Clemenceau, erstwhile Tiger of France, has rejected fifty thousand dollars for ten articles on the present political situation. He says, "I have just finished a first volume of my life's work which I have been working on since 1919.
The second volume will take me five years to write and the third and last a like period. Come and see me in ten years; we may do business."

St. Petersburg Sets a Good Example

St. Petersburg has a "Woman's Town Improvement Association" which is setting a worthy example for other towns in Florida that want to be beautiful. It is providing plants and shrubs free of charge to any one in St. Petersburg who wishes to have them for planting in, or near that city. More than fifty varieties of such plants and shrubs were ready for distribution the other day. And the best of it is, St. Petersburg people show appreciation of such service, and are becoming educated more and more generally to the value of town beautifying programs.

It seems that this plant-distribution work of the St. Petersburg association is an annual affair. Each year since the work was started the association has seen to the distribution of hundreds of plants and shrubs that are growing and adding their good share to the improved looks of the Sunshine City.

In the hope of making Florida a "Land of Flowers" in fact as well as in name, it would seem that women's organizations in every town in the state would emulate the St. Petersburg association in buying plants for beautifying department and would have auxiliary garden clubs that would make a specialty of growing interesting flowers among all ranks and classes. Neighborhood associations whose business it would be to make their neighborhoods more beautiful than other neighborhoods could be organized under the direction of the main association. Prizes could be offered for the most beautiful lawn, the prettiest gardens, the handsomest trees, the most luxuriant vine, etc., etc., etc.

Here is Sanford with its handsome trees and its many beautiful doorways; an excellent start has been made toward city beautifying, but it would be possible under the right guidance for Sanford to earn the title of the "City of Flowers."

Why not some plants for every one in Sanford who will agree to put them where they can grow and be admired? Sanford people have the intelligence and the courage to appreciate beautiful things. All that is needed is someone with enthusiastic leadership.

A Bit of Equipment For the Greater of Business

Here is another item to The Herald's list of suggestions to the worth-while woman who regards her home as keeping as a professor, her home as making a success.

"The housewife," says the item, "should have a business-like desk for her records, money account books, as well as a place to sit and write when she does her daily planning and ordering."

And to this suggestion The Herald would add the suggestion that the said "business-like desk" should be regarded and respected as the housewife's personal property. It should not be a family affair. The child of the wife who would, with a thing upon it, or who dares to use it without the express permission of the housewife, should be taken to the authority and shot, or accorded some other equally mortifying treatment. Such a desk and its contents will be as important to the proper management of a home as is the office desk of the man who makes the money, to him he belongs that home.

So once more The Herald would like to impress the reader that the term "business-like desk" should be regarded and respected as applied to the job of the home manager.

In addition to keeping the house clean and neat, and saving the family budget wisely, above necessity, The Herald says, has the health and the happiness of the members of the household in her keeping. Her task is to find that inestimable work of making people comfortable. Even though sweet tempered, she longs to make her home a happy home.

The right kind of housekeeper, she says, is one for whom that she may feed her family well and save the cost of house-furnishing in order that there may be room for the pleasure in the settings of the home. She may be a good housekeeper, but if she is not, then she is not fit for the home. Let her be beautiful. And if she is not, then she must be educated in the reading of books of the best on cookery and all about her.

Some day I shall be a good housekeeper, she says, with the help that can be accorded her, and the pleasure of her own mind, or the reverting of the same to the pleasure of all her house. Her children are to be educated, and she is to be a good mother. Her husband is to be a good father, that is, a good husband. And she is to be a good wife, a good educated mother, the pride of the whole family, and a good wife to all about her.

AS FAR AS campaigning goes, the fight is over. Ten per cent of the people will devote part of Sunday to thinking about the campaign and what it means.

Ninety per cent will feel, as now, that the Government is more to their business, and wait until the next election to bear the results of the work of a bad administration. Boxing match.

AS FAR AS politics goes, how to end the heat of the campaign is the question. There is a valid argument that the Government should be charged with the conduct of the last election.

AS FAR AS politics goes, the American people are not so much interested in the outcome of the election as in the way in which it is conducted.

FLARES ARE POPULAR THIS SEASON FOR STRAIGHT-LINE DANCE FROCKS

JACQUELINE LOGAN IN A BLACK SATIN DINNER GOWN WITH FLARE OF SATIN EGYPTIAN TULIPS

THE dinner gown is a delight to think about.

Simple, straight, useful, it is the most delightful of dresses to plan. The ball gown is different. And the dance frock! They are more fussy, more brilliant, more elegant—well, not really more elegant—for the proper dinner gown is elegant in the richness and simplicity of its materials. But anyhow, the ball gown is a much harder thing to turn out.

Three simple dinner gowns are shown above. In the photo, the most "elaborate" of them is pictured. It is on the slender person of Miss Jacqueline Logan, a Paramount player, soon to be seen in this gown in "Manhattan." The dress is black satin, and is straight and sleeveless. Just below the hips there is aflare of black satin "flowers" worked out in Egyptian-looking tulips. This border is both rich and unusual and is decorated enough for any frock.

This flare business is having quite a go this season. There is a very good reason. Every woman likes the straight slender lines for every dress. But sometimes, if the dress is too straight and narrow, there is not enough freedom for walking or dancing—so she keeps the straight lines to her knees and lets things fare from there.

Two more of these straight things with flaring bottoms are shown in the sketch above. The one at the left is entirely of gold lace. Gold lace godets form the flare and give great additional width.

Needless to say, this gown would be lovely worked out in silver lace, or black lace over a flesh silk slip.

But gold lace with its warm, yet lightheaded tint is exquisite.

The frock at the right is charming. It is in a coral pink, and its border is of three rows of feather fringing. One row is deeper shade than the other, so that the lowest row is a deep, luscious warm coral.

One of those pretty pink French carnations is pinned at the shoulder and a necklace of alternate grey pearls and coral beads lends distinction in ornament.

MISS STOKES PROVES A GRACIOUS HOSTESS AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

A merry crowd of young people in the midst of a perfect Hallowe'en scene met at the home of Miss Dorothy Stokes Friday night, adding one more gay festival to the list of Hallowe'en ghosts have collected thus far.

The entire lower floor was decorated in the spirit of the day. Ghouls, witches riding the broom, skeletons, black cats were found on walls, curtains and figures of black cats covered the lights, casting "spooky" atmosphere over the rooms. Moss covered the floor and hung from the walls. In the corner of the living room a ghost was found much to the horrors of the guests.

As the guest arrived they were met at the door by Miss Martha Tufts of Orlando and asked to guess how many beans were in the jar. Miss Rosamond Radford came the nearest and was given a box of chocolates.

The guests were next seated on the floor and in their kid costumes, the scene resembled that of a kindergarten. Each guest was given a number and as their name was called they attempted to pin it on a cat's head. Sid Christenberry came the nearest and was given a box of chocolates.

During the telling of the "Dead Man's Tale" shrieks of horror and distress were heard. The handling of the parts of the dead man's head was horrible but was immediately followed by laughter.

To each guest a Hallowe'en lollipop was given in a unique way. To a large cover box strings were attached and the guests pulled the strings and drew the lollipops.

Big Improvements at little cost With Sheetrock

IT'S wonderful what you can do for a little money when you remodel with Sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard.

Big rooms can be partitioned off into extra rooms, unfinished additions walled and ceiled, attics and basements turned into valuable space.

Sheetrock makes solid, tight-jointed and fireproof walls and ceilings. It is pure gypsum cast in sheets—and unlike wood, paper or pulp, it is non-warping, vermin-proof, sound-proof and lasting.

Just nail the Sheetrock to the joists or studs, and decorate as you please, with paint, paper, or Textone, The Sheetrock Decorator. Made only by the United States Gypsum Company.

SEMINOLE COUNTY TEACHERS' CLUB MEETS AT GRAMMAR SCHOOL FRIDAY

The Seminole County Teachers' Club met Friday afternoon in the auditorium of the Sanford Grammar School, with President J. T. Jacobs in charge.

The club enjoyed "My Tomorrow," sung by Mrs. J. M. Colclough, and "When The Old Men Smoke," read by Miss Margaret McRae.

Following this program, the election of new officers took place.

Mrs. S. P. Arington was elected to succeed Mr. Jacobs, as president, with Mr. Suie as vice-president. Clarence Pilest was elected to succeed Mrs. Selma Barber as secretary.

M. J. Okerlund invited the teachers to hold their next meeting at Oviedo on Nov. 22.

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell was appointed chairman of a committee to outline a definite, constructive program for the teachers at their meetings this year. Some helpful suggestions concerning health education in the schools were made by Miss Abbie Dowdney.

Supt. T. W. Lawton gave an interesting talk on "The Relation of the Teacher to the Trustee." He also made several important announcements.

Upon mention by Mrs. Barber the teachers gave Mr. Lawton a rising vote of approbation for his work with them. She said we should congratulate ourselves that he is with us again.

H. C. DuBoise, chairman of the local board was present, and on behalf of the patrons, gave the teachers a speech of appreciation for their work with the children of our county.

Mr. Cape then invited the teachers to the luncheon room where a delicious lunch was enjoyed by everyone.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet at Oviedo on Nov. 22.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

The old time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand mother's receipt, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound."

It is very popular because nobody ever doubts if it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by moistening the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wright's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft, Justice and abundance of abundance which is so attractive.

CITRUS EXCHANGE ENGAGES 3 BOATS TO CARRY FRUIT

Boats Will Transport 'Fruit From Tampa to New York; Will Effect Saving Many Thousand to the Growers

TAMPA, Nov. 4.—Establishment of a Florida Citrus Exchange Boat Line, consisting of the steamships Iberia, Twin Cities and Twin Ports, to transport fruit of its members from Florida ports to Atlantic seaboard cities, is announced here by L. C. Edwards, president of the cooperative marketing organization.

As a result of the new freight rates on citrus shipments made available to Florida Citrus Exchange by the successful completion of preparations for this water transportation project, Mr. Edwards declared that they would be able to save hundreds of thousands of dollars in the marketing of their crops this season.

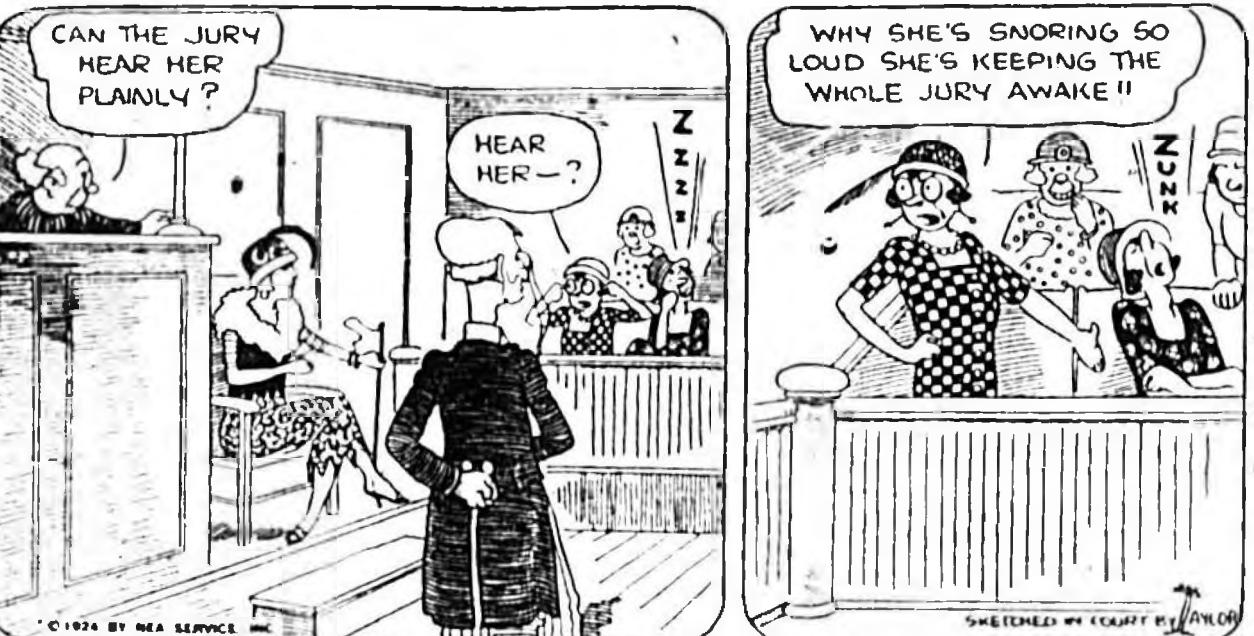

"The rate for fruit shipments over the Florida Citrus Exchange boat line will be .35 cents a box from Tampa to New York," says Mr. Edwards. "This same rate also applies on shipments from other Florida ports to New York. Compare this with the $1.65 per box freight rate that the railroads charge for a load from Tampa to New York, or the $1.28 per box rate they assess for a shipment from Fort Myers to New York."

"On a shipment from Fort Myers, of New York, as an example, we will be able to save from 75 to 90 cents a box, depending on the distance that the fruit must be handled from the packing house to the boat. When we have shipped all the fruit into New York, Philadelphia, Boston and other seaboard markets that those cities can consume, we can transport the fruit carried to those ports by our boats to inland points over the railroads and still save at least 50 cents a box over the all rail rate. On the whole, we expect to ship fruit over the Florida Citrus Exchange boat line at one third the rate that is available to other growers who do not have the advantage of this service."

All three of the boats in the service of the Florida Citrus Exchange will make two trips a month from Florida ports to northern seaboard markets, so there will be a total of six sailings every month. The first shipment over the new line will be made in November, on a date that will be announced later. All three of the steamships are equipped with modern refrigeration equipment which will enable them to carry fruit in as near perfect condition as possible.

It sometimes takes a lot of fiction to explain the truth.
