

LBJ Urges $1.75 Billion Tax Cut

AROUND THE CLOCK

Cdr. Wallace L. Russell, RVAH-5 commanding officer, says his men got most their news of the Viet Nam war from the Stars & Stripes. RVAH-5 has just returned from "the front." (R. E. Porter spent three years with the Army newspaper, Stars & Stripes, during WW II and reports it was not uncommon for combat GIs to tell they learned where they were (at the front) by reading it in the military paper.)

You can take a driver's test on television. But don't count on the Florida Highway Patrol to accept the results.

The National Drivers' Test will be telecast live by CBS May 24. Even if it doesn't count it will give you a chance to develop new and sharpen old driving skills. An estimated 30 million Americans will participate in the test, according to the National Safety Council.

Sanford civilians are being urged to attend a reunion of Reconnaissance Heavy Attack Wing personnel in Norfolk June 12.

Capt. G. S. Blake is urging all Wing officers, past and present and civilians to be on hand for the occasion at Virginia Beach.

"If I could be notified of the civilians in sufficient advance it would be possible to house them and assure their expenses will be held to a minimum while here," Captain Blake writes.

More missing people. The Class of 1942, Seminole High School, is looking for the following: Wallace Albritton, Bernard Deeter, Robert Frun, Jack (Butterball) Herring, Margaret James, Leslie Kathryn Miller, Edward Mulligan, Lois Nipper, Louise Nordgren, Lorraine Prescott, Stewart Quarterman, Emma Rowe, Anise Whitaker, Donald Boyer, Geraldine Couch, Alfred Batters, Dan Bullard, Olin D. King, Phyllis Smith and Mrs. Lilla Dunlap. Please call Clifford Proctor with any information about the above, 322-4154.

Douglas W. Miller, son of E. W. Miller, 1624 Douglas Avenue, has been tapped for membership in Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society at the University of Florida.

HOW'S - THAT - AGAIN DEBIT: "We bet you've never seen a clock like this one. This isn't strange... nobody else has either." That's the lead paragraph of an article about a new space clock in the Sunday supplement of our sister newspaper at Orlando. It infers the clock doesn't exist. But dig this last sentence of the article: The clock is for sale at Rutland's in Orlando.

You could tell it was Mother's Day Sunday. Just about every woman we saw from the youngest to the oldest was wearing a corsage. In addition we saw many baskets of flowers and potted plants in autos passing by. It was a flowery day.

Although everyone agrees that the Fort Mellen monument at the corner of Second Street and Mellonville Avenue has been there a long time, Clock Winders were unable to find anyone who could say when it was erected. Even a search of the library records failed to reveal the date. Best guess was some time in the 1920s. Anyone know the answer?

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the City Commission Room in Sanford Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

$1.1 Billion Budget OK'd

Gov. Burns' Road Scheme Passes Test

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A record-shattering $1,100,493,367 general appropriations bill "compromise" rolled out of a House-Senate conference committee today with unanimous approval.

The so-called compromise, as predicted, includes just about everything that both houses had put into their separate versions.

The Senate, which had voted the most liberal expenditures, won most of the points—because of an unexpected new estimate that the state would have $13 million more than anticipated from present tax sources in the next biennium.

The conference bill, which is to be acted on by the full House on Wednesday and the Senate Thursday, contains the generous eight per cent across the board pay raises for state employees, and increases even above this amount for the Governor, Cabinet, the judiciary and other top state officials.

It includes a salary raise for the Governor to $27,500 and puts the Cabinet and Supreme Court justices at $24,000.

The Senate also won the day in leaving in the bill waterway development funds of up to $2.7 million that could be used to buy right-of-way for the cross-state barge canal.

The house had written in a provision that none of the funds could be used for the canal.

The Governor's $300 million road bond program without its first test in the Legislature today with flying colors.

The bill sailed out of the Senate constitutional amendments committee with unanimous approval, 11-0, including two Senators who earlier had declined to put their names on the measure as co-sponsors.

The bill received the support of Sen. John Mathews Jr., of Jacksonville, and B. C. Pearce, of East Palatka, after a number of amendments, agreed to previously by Gov. Haydon Burns as additional safeguards, were approved in a committee substitute.

The unanimous approval followed a 90-minute public hearing at which only one opponent showed up.

The House roads committee held a similar hearing, but delayed a final vote until Thursday.

The Senate is expected to take the measure up for floor action later this week.

Ox Fibre Firm Merger Unveiled

Ox Fibre Brush Company, with a plant located at Benson Junction just across Lake Monroe in Volusia County, has merged with Prophylactic Brush Company in a multi-million-dollar transaction.

The joint announcement was made by F. W. Weitzel, Frederick, Md., president of Ox Fibre, and Philip Singleton, Florence, Mass., president of Prophylactic.

The Ox Fibre plant at Benson Junction employs 75, and has an economic impact on the area totaling one-quarter million dollars annually.

Ox Fibre originally located its plant in Sanford 80 years ago on the site now occupied by the American Legion. It moved briefly to Jacksonville, but soon relocated in Benson Junction in 1926.

Under terms of the merger, Ox Fibre will retain its name. James A. Wright, of Sanford, general manager of the Florida plant, said today the plant will continue under its present operation. "We are pleased with the transaction," he said, "and we feel it will materially enhance our competitive position."

Vote Machine Purchase Eyed By Seminole

Seminole County is expected to purchase 20 additional voting machines by July 1 to meet demands of the growing population.

John Womack, of the Shoup Voting Machine Company, appeared before the County Commission this morning to outline possible purchase of the new machines.

Womack urged the board to buy the machines before July 1 as the price of the voting devices will be increased $75 each at that time.

Womack said the machines can be delivered by September if ordered by July 1.

Chairman John H. Alexander, of the board of commissioners, said purchase of the new machines would be made necessary by the expected increase in precincts from 23 to 33, based on new population figures.

"This will give us 350 voters per machine while the law permits up to 600," Alexander said. "This puts us in a good position on voting machines."

Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of registration, said the lease - purchase agreement with Shoup calls for $1,823 expenditure per machine.

11 Local Bills Introduced By Rep. Joe Davis

TALLAHASSEE (Special)—Eleven local bills affecting Seminole County have been introduced in the Florida Legislature, Rep. S. Joseph Davis Jr. said today.

Included in the package is a bill that would increase the compensation of the Seminole County School Board members from $900 to $1,500 a year.

Davis said that the bill was designed to bring Seminole County up to a state level.

"Our board members are the lowest paid in the whole state," Davis declared.

Also included in the list of legislation is the so-called "Motorboat Control Law." It would provide that boats be equipped with mufflers, underwater exhausts or other devices to deaden sound. It also would prohibit the operation of any craft on lakes and rivers in a reckless manner or while under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Along the same line, a bill has been introduced in the House to authorize the county to acquire land and to construct public ramps, landing areas and facilities.

Another bill would give the County Commission authority to establish county administrative facilities elsewhere besides the courthouse. These would be, in effect, court-house annexes.

The County Commission also would be authorized to appropriate $50,000 for the support of community projects, such as the chamber of commerce. This represents an increase of $25,000 over the figure now allowed.

Other measures introduced: 1. A bill creating a charter for the Town of Casselberry. A referendum would be required.

2. A bill authorizing the county to give, lease or sell equipment to volunteer fire fighting units.

3. A bill authorizing the county to purchase foodstuffs from the State Department of Corrections.

4. A bill (amendment) relating to water and sewage requirements of developers. Developers would be required to put up cash or a bond to insure water and sewage facilities.

5. Allow county officers to receive per diem allowances prescribed by general law.

6. A law standardizing fees and compensation for justices of the peace. A flat fee of $7 would be set for each criminal action instituted in a JP court.

Apopka Driver Hurt In Crash

Mrs. Jessie Anderson Boudreaux, 1209 Alton Drive, Apopka, was seriously injured this morning when her late model car was demolished by a huge truck at the intersection of First Street and French Avenue.

Mrs. Boudreaux was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital with fractured ribs, internal injuries and multiple cuts and bruises.

Occupational Tax Pondered

By Paul Hrookahira

An occupational license ordinance under which business and professional people would have to pay from $1 to $500 yearly, was given a first reading by the Casselberry Board of Aldermen Monday night.

However, action on the ordinance was postponed for 30 days to give citizens an opportunity to voice objections.

The proposed ordinance sets penalties for those who fail to obtain licenses and provides for a license inspector to enforce it.

License fees would range from $1 for a toothbrush to $500 for fortune tellers, palmists and "divine healers." Virtually every business and occupation is covered.

An application for a package beer permit for a bait and tackle shop on U. S. 17-92 was rejected by a 3-1 vote.

Gilbert H. Goodpaster was the applicant.

A recommendation that a section along the west side of U.S. 17-92 across from Seminole Plaza be annexed was tabled pending the submission of a plat or drawing of the area.

Action on accepting plats for the second and fourth additions to Lake Kathryn subdivision ran into a snag when councilmen and Hibbard Casselberry, the developer, got into a hassle over street paving and lighting other parts of the subdivision.

Chairman Arthur Logo told Casselberry that if he would apply by the city Ordinance 63 "we can work closer together."

Attorney Kenneth McIntosh said to his knowledge no sur-ety bond, required under Ordinance 63, had ever been posted by Casselberry.

The ordinance spells out regulations by which developers must provide streets, sidewalks, lights, drainage, etc.

LBJ To Discuss World Situation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House said today President Johnson will make a speech on the international situation at 11 a. m. EDT Thursday. His remarks will be available for live television - radio coverage.

The Chief Executive made a similar appraisal of the international situation nine days ago, when he placed much of the blame for fighting in the Dominican Republic on Cuban-trained Communists.

'Strong Man' Reneges

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Brig. Gen. Elias Wesslin Y. Wesslin, the government "strong man," complicated the already-confused Dominican situation early today by refusing to resign.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said Wesslin is "reconsidering" the resignation which the embassy had reported earlier.

Col. Francisco Casmano De no, the rebel leader who is angling for recognition as "constitutional president," had cited Wesslin's resignation as one of a number of conditions for possible negotiations with Maj. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera's military-civilian junta.

"We did understand from an official source that he (Wesslin) was going to resign at approximately 4 p. m. Monday," the embassy spokesman said early today. "We now understand he is reconsidering his decision. The question of his resignation is a matter between General Imbert and General Wesslin."

Meanwhile, rebel attacks on U. S. positions continued despite their repeated agreements to cease fire.

A U. S. military spokesman said heavy rebel fire killed at least one U. S. paratrooper and wounded six late Monday, increasing total American casualties to 15 combat dead and 85 wounded in a week of sporadic fighting.

Casmano estimated Monday that U. S. Marines and paratroopers have killed 40 to 50 rebels and wounded 80 to 100.

YANKS DIE SAIGON (UPI) — Viet Cong shock troops overran a provincial capital today, killing five Americans and wounding 13 in fighting that included a gun battle in a U. S. Army mess hall.

Airborne reinforcements and American planes repulsed the guerrillas in a massive counter-attack.

Incomplete casualty reports said 15 Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 37 wounded when a large Viet Cong force stormed through Song Be, the capital of mountainous Phuoc Long Province 75 miles north-east of Saigon.

The battle came on the heels of a massacre of Vietnamese troops by guerrillas in Hau Nghia Province just outside of Saigon Monday. Reliable military sources said 116 Vietnamese soldiers were killed or missing in the Hau Nghia slaughter and another 78 were wounded. Most of the missing were believed to have been killed.

Consumers To Benefit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration is putting the finishing touches on a $1.75 billion list of excise taxes it will ask Congress to cut, effective July 1. The measure could go to the legislators as early as next week.

Chances are excellent that Congress also will be asked to schedule additional excise reductions totaling as much as $800 million for next January, to offset bigger Social Security taxes.

This second round will apply primarily to automobiles and telephone calls, which are not to be included in the administration's recommendation for July, officials said.

And Congress probably will be asked to phase out the auto and phone taxes completely over the next five years. This would whittle excises by an additional $2.5 billion and bring the entire series of cuts to about $5 billion.

INFORMS NEWSMEN Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler told newsmen at a meeting with President Johnson.

White House and Treasury officials still are arguing about details of the tax message. But they indicated Johnson will ask Congress to repeal excises on the following items this July:

Jewelry, furs, cosmetics, luggage, handbags, wallets, admissions, club dues and initiation fees, safe deposit boxes, juke boxes, bowling alleys, billiard and pool tables, and playing cards. These taxes bear directly on consumers.

In addition, Johnson is expected to ask for repeal of a number of "manufacturers' excises, which are charged to business and industry but passed along to consumers. These are:

LIST OF EXCISES Industrial gasoline and lubricating oils, household appliances, light bulbs, radio and television sets, phonographs and records, musical instruments, refrigerators, quick-freeze units, air-conditioners, business and store machines, cameras and other photographic equipment, matches, sporting goods (except fishing rods, reels, etc.), pistols and revolvers, fountain and ballpoint pens and mechanical pencils.

The excise levies on new passenger cars, $1.8 billion, and on phone calls, $1.1 billion, are too big to be fitted into the $1.75 billion package.

But some reduction probably will be included for certain auto parts and for telegrams sources said.

No cuts will be recommended for alcohol or tobacco, which some people think should be taxed in order to discourage their use.

Nor will the administration place the excises on gasoline, tires and other highway-user items on the congressional chopping block, since these revenues are earmarked for road construction.

Longwoodites Lament Lommler's Loud Lot

A 45-minute discussion developed between Longwood Council Chairman Carl Lommler and members of the audience at the regular meeting of the board following reading of a complaint signed by 12 residents in the Bradley Addition section of the city charging that Lommler had seven dogs and two peacocks which were "creating a nuisance by being noisy, running loose, and destroying property."

The complaint stated that the police department had been called on several occasions about the animals but had refused to act until a written complaint was filed.

S. Patrick Bergers, one of the complainants, appeared and stated that although he personally had complained to Lommler about the "nuisance" the situation had not improved.

Lommler, answering the complaint, stated he had only six dogs, three of which are penned, one yard dog with a city tag, and two six-month-old beagles. He said that the beagles had run loose occasionally, that he was "proud" of them and that their barking was "music to his ears as it would be to any hunter."

He advised that the fact that it is mating season for peacocks explains their excessive noise at this time.

He reported that children from Forrest Park and Primrose schools who recently visited his home were thrilled at the sight of the birds.

Lommler turned the written complaint over to Mayor David R. Wentworth for further action. Wentworth stated that the complaint would be turned over to the police department for further investigation and declared that any employee or member of the city government brought into his court would be dealt with as severely as anyone else.

Church Of God Overseer Dies

Funeral services for Bishop Ray Clement Lynch, 50, state overseer for the Church of God of Prophecy, who died last Friday morning, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Ocoee church.

Officiating were Rev. M. A. Tomlinson, general overseer; Rev. Charles Payne, general field secretary; Rev. Joe Crews, of Ocoee, and Rev. James Messer, of Orlando.

Burial was in Winter Garden.

A native of Lincoln County, N. C., Lynch was made a bishop in 1947 while serving as pastor of the church in Bethany, N. C., after which he became state overseer of North Carolina. He came to Florida as state overseer in 1959.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Ruth Lynch, of Winter Garden; daughters, Mrs. Marguerite L. Scholer, of Orlando, and Miss Wanda Lynch, of Winter Garden; sons, James E., USN, and John C., of Winter Garden; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lynch Sr., of Lincoln; four sisters and two brothers.

Wing Reunion Slated June 12 At Norfolk, Va.

A reunion of Reconnaissance Heavy Attack Wing personnel will be held in Norfolk June 12.

Capt. G. S. Blake, in charge of the reunion, said today announcements of the reunion have been mailed to all officers who had served or are now serving in the Wing at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Civilians from Sanford also are being invited to attend, Captain Blake said.

The reunion will be held at the Naval Station Beach Club, Virginia Beach, and Sewall's Point Golf Club.

A dinner the night of June 12 is expected to feature talks by Capt. James D. Ramage, Capt. Joseph M. Tully, Jr., and Capt. James O. Mayo, all former commanders of Reconnaissance Attack Wing One.

Captain Blake said housing will be available for Sanford civilians who wish to attend and their expenses would be held to a minimum.

June 1 is the deadline for making reservations for the reunion. They should be addressed to Capt. G. S. Blake, District Intelligence Office, Fifth Naval District, Norfolk, Virginia.

'Savage Sons' Proud Of Viet Nam Effort

By Paul Breakshire
"Combat-tested" Reconnaissance Heavy Attack Squadron 5 is back home, proud of its performance in action over Viet Nam during the past few months.

Cdr. Wallace L. Russell, commanding officer of the first NAS squadron to come under enemy fire, said his officers and men "welcomed the opportunity to do something besides train... something productive."

"The results of missions we supported were 100 per cent successful," Russell said.

Squadron 5, flying RA-3C Vigilantes, returned to Sanford last week after more than 10 months aboard the USS Ranger in the South China Sea.

During its stay off the Viet Nam coast, the "Savage Sons" participated in an undisclosed number of strikes over North Viet Nam.

"Our job was reconnaissance," Commander Russell said. "We were engaged in pre-strike and post-strike photography."

"We came under some anti-aircraft fire over the targets," Russell said.

Squadron 5 was the first to fly the Vigilante on actual combat missions, and Commander Russell said the aircraft's response was "outstanding."

"I would rate the overall performance of the plane as outstanding," he said. "It came up to the standards advertised."

Russell said a few changes and adjustments were made in evaluating the weapons systems of the aircraft.

Information gathered by the Vigilante on its missions over Viet Nam were fed to an integrated operational intelligence center aboard the Ranger and the results were transmitted to the Pentagon in Washington.

The Vigilante's cameras pin-pointed targets for bombing and then flew over the targets after raids to detect the results.

The bombers hit bridges in North Viet Nam with marked success on recent missions, Russell said.

The squadron suffered only one casualty during its stay, Russell said. He said the cause of the aircraft loss was not known.

RVN-5 was kept in action most of the time of its deployment, Russell indicated.

The Hanger stayed at sea most of the 10 months and liberty for squadron personnel was at a minimum.

After a year-long study of the nation's draft, the Defense Department will have to recommend to President Johnson soon that military conscription be continued if the country is to maintain adequate armed forces.

Although the results of the Pentagon's manpower report have not been announced publicly, it appears that the once-high hopes of ending the draft when the current law expires in 1967 are fading fast.

Military enlistments have been dropping since talk of ending conscription reached a high pitch in the presidential election campaign last fall. Recent draft calls have had to be increased to make up the deficit.

Mrs. Muffley Heads Civic Club

By Julia Harton
New officers of the Altamonte Springs Civic Club were installed at a luncheon at the Windjammer Restaurant with Mrs. K. A. Juthe as presiding officer.

Installed were Mrs. Charles Muffley, president; Mrs. B. F. Wells, vice president; Mrs. A. M. Birks, recording secretary; Mrs. A. C. Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Erich Dallman, treasurer; Mrs. Reuben Cockley, historian, and Mrs. Beulah Kemp, chaplain.

Committee in charge of arrangements for the occasion were Mrs. R. T. Overly, chairman, and Mrs. John Liello and Mrs. Juthe.

The president's table was centered with an arrangement of assorted color snapdragons and other tables were decorated with ferns and a variety of spring flowers. Each officer received a corsage of white carnation with a colored ribbon denoting her station as an officer.

As installing officer, Mrs. Juthe conducted an impressive ceremony. The president represented the hub of a wheel with each officer a spoke. All members joined hands to form the wheel rim, denoting that all must work together.

Committee chairmen for the coming year named by Mrs. Muffley are Mrs. Liello, beautification; Mrs. William Eckard, membership; Mrs. George Hearn, program; Mrs. William Morrell, hospitality; Mrs. B. D. McIntosh, publicity; Mrs. Smith H. Cady Jr., service, and Dr. Gertrude Forstman, civic.

Two additional committees were formed, the telephone, with Mrs. Hal Washburn as chairman, and the arts and crafts with Mrs. E. M. Sammons, as chairman.

Plans were formulated for an arts and crafts program this summer and those interested were asked to contact Mrs. Sammons.

Guests were Mrs. Oliver W. Holmes and Mrs. Frank Steudle of American Legion Auxiliary Unit 183, who presented the club with a certificate of appreciation for participating in the Girls State Program. Mrs. Steudle spoke on importance of the program and benefits derived from it.

Mrs. George Hearn presided in the absence of the outgoing president, Mrs. Eugene Taylor.

The club will adjourn for the summer with the next meeting to be in November.

Students Place High In Testing At Junior High

By Jane Casselberry
Twenty-four of the 44 South Seminole Junior High School ninth graders taking the National Education Development Tests voluntarily last March 13 have scored in the top 10 per cent of those students taking the test in the United States.

This battery of tests covers five basic areas: English usage, social studies, reading, natural science, and word usage.

The tests give an impersonal comprehensive estimate of the student's educational development and provide a necessary and valuable tool for appraisal and future planning.

PTA To Elect New Officers At SSSJH

By Jane Casselberry
The Parent-Teacher Association of South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry will hold its final meeting of the school year at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the cafeteria. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7-7:30 p.m., to talk with the parents.

Officers for the coming year will be elected and installed at this meeting.

Principal John Angel will give a progress report and an explanation of the new report card system to go into effect next fall. The program will be presented by the South Seminole Band under the direction of Bandmaster George Kirsten.

There will be a display of art work done by the students for viewing by the parents before and after the meeting.

Following the program refreshments will be served by the ninth grade room mothers.

Sailors Urged To Extend Duty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy today urged its officers and men to extend voluntarily their tours of active duty because of U. S. military commitments and a falling enlistment rate.

Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze urged "all hands" whose tours are about to expire to extend them "if only three to six months."

The Navy currently has an authorized strength of 674,000. At last count, however, its actual manpower totaled 668,117 and enlistments were declining.

The service currently has 10,500 men at sea near the Dominican Republic. Its commitments in the Vietnamese war have been expanding steadily with bombing missions in North Viet Nam and coastal patrolling to combat Red infiltration into South Viet Nam.

DeBary Residents Make Use Of Red Cross Room Supplies

An increasing number of DeBary residents are making use of sick room and convalescent aids available through the Red Cross Room at the DeBary Community Center, according to reports from Charles Ulrich and Kress Walter, co-chairmen in charge of the facility.

Items listed as currently on loan include six walkers, six hospital beds with springs and mattress, two wheel chairs and one each of bed rests, bed pans, crutches, and canes.

Last week, Ulrich says, it was necessary to borrow three walkers and a hospital bed from Red Cross supplies in Orange City to meet DeBary needs.

He advises that free use of this equipment is a real boon to those recovering from sickness or injury, particularly when they also are faced with unusual and added expenses at the same time. Prompt return of any equipment when no longer needed is the only condition involved in the service.

A bed table was a recent gift from a thoughtful DeBary family and any such equipment not in use will be gladly accepted to add to available items at the Center, Ulrich says.

The service has been provided for DeBary through equipment loaned by the Red Cross supplemented with items donated or loaned by local people and is supervised by Ulrich and Walter. The Red Cross Room, which is provided by the DeBary Civic Association, is the group's latest addition to the center.

According to an official report, there are now 12 million motor vehicles in Great Britain and 200,000 miles of road. Theoretically, every vehicle could be on the road at the same time with about 30 yards between each one.

In practice, though, if British drivers are like those on this side of the Atlantic, those 30 yards would be packed solidly with other cars trying to pass each other.

Of course, all the cars are never on the road at the same time. It just seems that way.

Red Capitalists?

The more the Marxists talk, the more they begin to sound like capitalists.

Premier Kossygin has announced that Russia's next five-year plan will concentrate on raising both the production of consumer goods, with emphasis on private cars, and the incomes of workers so that they will be able to buy the new goods.

Voicing words that could have come from any Western textbook on capitalism, Kossygin added a caution: "Wages must be placed in direct relationship to increases in labor productivity and growth of production."

"Wages must be placed in direct relationship to increases in labor productivity and growth of production."

Speaking of capitalists and capitalism, however, as Michigan Gov. George Romney did the other day, these are words that in his opinion ought to be dropped from the vocabulary because our use of them plays into the hands of Communist propagandists.

"Around the world," he said, "capitalism is usually considered as an economic system in which the economy is controlled by the few, who benefit from the efforts of the many."

The system we actually have, said Romney, is "consumerism." Ultimate control of the economy rests with the many—"through the free and daily economic balloting of customers in the marketplace."

America, said Romney, buried classical capitalism long ago, whether we know it or not.

It may well be that Kossygin and Company, successors to Khrushchev Enterprises, are doing the same thing with communism—whether they know it or not.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In scrounging to save pennies, Defense Secretary McNamara sometimes ends up wasting dollars.

One small Army reserve unit will serve as an example. Reservists receive no pay for attending weekly meetings. They do receive retirement points, which eventually translate into retirement income.

For years, this reserve detachment performed make-work "drills" and listened to lectures. If provided no day-to-day function for the Department of Defense, make-work and lectures don't prepare such reservists for their wartime functions.

Several years back, this particular detachment took on a series of projects for the Department of Defense.

Because of the rising emergency in the world, some Defense Department divisions were falling behind in their tasks. Considerable overtime was called for.

A program was worked out whereby the reserve unit took over some of this work.

By careful estimate, this detachment turns out each year without charge professional work which would cost the Department of Defense $10,337.60 in overtime pay.

The work of this unit serves two ends:

One—it better prepares these reservists for their wartime roles. Working on essential projects of the type they'd do in war is first-rate training.

Two—the reservists make an active peacetime contribution to Defense. Certain Defense divisions meet cold-war deadlines.

Work completed by this Army detachment has been commended by members of the staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who did not know the tasks had been done by reservists.

This Army reserve unit was able to carry out these projects because it has in its membership a number of Defense Department personnel who are civilians in charge of essential military areas.

These civilian Defense employees are the key to carry on this program. In the evenings, are reservists, they act as team captains for the projects. Without their intimate knowledge of priorities, their close connection with the day-to-day work and their leadership in the unit, the reservists in the detachment could not do a professional job. Without these key men, the unit would be forced to return to lectures and make-work drills.

McNamara wants to save a few dollars. He has decreed that these key Defense civilians are available to him anyway in time of war and so it is a waste of time to pay them points for reserve duty, allow them to be promoted or to participate in the reserve program.

In the unit we are discussing, this McNamara move will save the government between $2,004 and $3,472 a year. In return for this saving, McNamara will lose a program which saves him $15,337.60 a year—a net loss of around $10,000 a year in one small detachment alone. Multiply that by how many units?

He will also have reservists who are not adequately trained for wartime.

There is a solution. McNamara could allow the Army, Navy and Air Force to declare a limited number of these key civilians as "essential for reserve training." McNamara could thus save millions.

This Army reserve unit was able to carry out these projects because it has in its membership a number of Defense Department personnel who are civilians in charge of essential military areas.

These civilian Defense employees are the key to carry on this program. In the evenings, are reservists, they act as team captains for the projects. Without their intimate knowledge of priorities, their close connection with the day-to-day work and their leadership in the unit, the reservists in the detachment could not do a professional job. Without these key men, the unit would be forced to return to lectures and make-work drills.

McNamara wants to save a few dollars. He has decreed that these key Defense civilians are available to him anyway in time of war and so it is a waste of time to pay them points for reserve duty, allow them to be promoted or to participate in the reserve program.

In the unit we are discussing, this McNamara move will save the government between $2,004 and $3,472 a year. In return for this saving, McNamara will lose a program which saves him $15,337.60 a year—a net loss of around $10,000 a year in one small detachment alone. Multiply that by how many units?

He will also have reservists who are not adequately trained for wartime.

There is a solution. McNamara could allow the Army, Navy and Air Force to declare a limited number of these key civilians as "essential for reserve training." McNamara could thus save millions.

One—It better prepares these reservists for their wartime roles. Working on essential projects of the type they'd do in war is first-rate training.

Two—the reservists make an active peacetime contribution to Defense. Certain Defense divisions meet cold-war deadlines.

Work completed by this Army detachment has been commended by members of the staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who did not know the tasks had been done by reservists.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Polly's case should be indelibly impressed in the memory of every teen-ager. For when you girls face the dilemma of whether or not to submit to illicit affairs, take the test below which shows the difference between physical magnetism vs. true love. And heed Benjamin Franklin's shrewd counsel! Then send for the sex booklet mentioned today.

CASE V-486: Polly G., aged 17, is the pregnant high school senior.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she begged, "what shall I do? I haven't told anybody except my boy friend and he now says he isn't interested in marriage for he wants to go to college."

"So I don't know where else to turn."

"An investment in knowledge," said Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

But there are two ways to get knowledge.

One is the costly method of bitter experience by personally violating rules and then suffering the inexorable consequences.

The second is to profit by the experience of others, about whom you read.

Smart people can learn by reading, which is why your progressive newspaper offers this daily clinic in practical psychology.

When you high school girls are being high pressured into premarital affairs, just remember similar cases, such as Polly's.

For there is a wide difference between physical magnetism (sexual attraction) versus true love.

Both of them give you butterflies in your tummy, as well as tingling, ecstatic sensations, coupled with a pounding pulse and breathlessness.

"Dr. Crane," Polly asked, "then how can a person tell whether it's sexual fascination or true love?"

Analyze the focus of your attention!

In the case of physical magnetism (sexual attraction), you are interested in your personal pleasure for the moment.

But if you experience true love, you are more concerned with the welfare of your sweetheart both now and in the future!

Obviously, it is stupid to indulge in premarital affairs and thus jeopardize the happiness of your sweetheart, as well as start off a baby out of wedlock!

That violates the simple yardstick for measuring true love, so anybody who tries to seduce his sweetheart into submitting to premarital affairs, is not in love!

Instead, he is physically fascinated and motivated by his own selfish desires. Girls, get help!

The very next time you face this crucial dilemma, think back to Polly's case today.

Her boy friend wants to run away. His exit is college, though many of such boys flee into military service.

And what about Polly's baby?

She should immediately tell her mother about her dilemma. They can then invoke the advice of their family physician.

There are several very good homes for unwed mothers and Polly might profitably visit one for the delivery of her baby.

Then it would be more advantageous to all concerned if she let her baby be adopted into a good home where it could start out without any social stigma and with two devoted parents to nurture it.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

All teen-agers should have a copy, for it offers specific cases and wholesome advice.

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on a public matter. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's true name and address. Letters of fewer than 200 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Editor, Herald:

Seldom a day passes that the writer fails to encounter some situation which makes him most unhappy. However, there are some most encouraging and heart-warming moments.

A few days ago this writer visited the home of two elementary school pupils. They had been told by their mother, who was working, to go to school. Neither had shoes.

After taking them to school, the principal and I talked about their plight. He suggested that I contact the president of the Seminole County Children's Advisory Council and get his consent to purchase shoes for the children.

Since the organization's funds are nearly exhausted, we decided on another approach to the problem.

The children and I went to town. Entering store X, the writer explained his problem to the wonderful Mrs. Y, who immediately said, "Go get the children."

She gave each child a pair of shoes and two pairs of socks. When they had thanked her, she hugged the little girl and uttered a warm message to her. In essence, it meant, "You are more than welcome."

Yes, there are persons who care. To you, Mrs. Y, we can never thank you enough.

Attendance Officer,
Seminole Schools

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Went For Broke

If it were not costing the taxpayer so much money, the average Joe could afford right now to sit back and enjoy the spectacle of the selfless politicians wrangling among themselves for rights to the golden goodies in President Johnson's poverty program.

It recalls the first Roosevelt deal when the politicians were adjusting themselves to FDR's alphabetical give-a-ways. There were some frightful rows then. Congress anted up about $3 billion in 1933 as a starter for various make-work, public work and bond-dogging schemes. The pols couldn't believe it was true at first. Free lunch for everyone? Who could believe that? But true it was and the pols soon settled down to dispute who would spend the money.

So are they now beginning to battle over control of the poverty war chest. LBJ put nearly $1 billion in the poverty kitty. Small wonder that the pols are fighting over that kind of money. The latest uproar resounds out of the ill-named Bedford-Stuyvesant, (B-S) area of Brooklyn, N. Y., a center of racial disorder, violence in general and slums.

Area Negroes are shouting foul against Mayor Robert F. Wagner who would keep administration of the B-S area poverty war safely under control of his administration. The Johnson administration poverty bill stipulated that there should be a large measure of local control. That is, control of the project by the poverty stricken persons it seeks to help. Conditions being what they are, this means that Negroes should have a large measure of control over poverty projects in most large cities.

It is Negroes who protest Wagner's program in Brooklyn. They assert that they had their own organization ready to take over and to direct the B-S poverty war when along came the mayor with a city hall set up of his own.

No situation directly affecting Negroes and involving large sums of give-away money can arise without stimulating the selfless political instincts of Rep. Adm. Clayton Powell, the Harlem mahatma. Powell is chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee. Powell's committee had charge of the poverty bill which makes him at least a two-star general in the war.

Powell long ago went for broke seeking control of poverty spending in Harlem, the New York black ghetto. A week ago he challenged Wagner with charges that the mayor was excluding the poverty stricken from direction of their own program. Before that protests from Cleveland and Chicago were in the familiar Powell vein.

Now come the protests from Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant. Powell may be behind that, as well. When in residence in Harlem, Powell is a powerful preacher. Whatever his influence and connections aloft may be, his political credentials are impressive. They will be a lot more impressive than that if the mahatma leads a successful rebellion of poverty stricken Negroes in half a dozen northern communities in protest against city hall domination of the war on poverty.

COMING UP on May 20 is the annual benefit dessert bridge sponsored by the Naval Officers' Wives Club with both Navy and civilian wives invited to participate. Time is noon to 4 p.m. at the ballroom.

Station Officers' Wives, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Howard B. Shively, wife of the station executive officer, will host the event. A portion of the proceeds will go to the Navy Relief.

Reservations should be finalized by May 18 through Mrs. Robert Gable or Mrs. Jay Miller. Officers' wives should make reservations through their squadron representatives.

Only partner or table reservations should be made and players must furnish their own cards. Canasta, gin rummy or other card games may be played.

There will be a variety of prizes as well as a dessert to be served during the afternoon.

Arrangements committee includes Mrs. Phillip Berndt, Mrs. David Olmstead, Mrs. William Hildebrandt and Mrs. Robert Farrell.

POOL PARTY was held by RVAH-7 Officers' Wives at the Naval Air Station recently with Emily Joyner and Ernie Rankin as hostesses.

The group enjoyed a picnic lunch of fried chicken and other goodies, along with a special birthday cake which was presented to Judy Hendrickson.

A bandana sit-up was won by Mary Dresser and a flowered sun hat by Barbara Czajkowski. The afternoon spent swimming and playing bridge. Betsy Enney announced that bridge will be played Thursday at the home of Mary Ann Williams. Special guests for the afternoon were Marie Womble and Suzie Dickey.

"BASIC BLACK DRESS," a hilarious skit, will be presented at the coffee meeting of the VAH-11 Enlisted Wives Club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Navy Wives meeting room. Baby sitting will be furnished.

NINE OFFICERS' WIVES will gather Thursday at Mason-Jardin in Altamonte Springs to host a farewell tea for Dossie deGanahl, who will be leaving after Nine's change of command in June. The event will be from 3 to 5 p.m.

At the regular business meeting last week at Dossie's home the group made plans for several special events in May. Co-hostess for the event was Joan Greenwood and special guests were "old Nine wives" — Betty Stokes, Ann Karnes and Dee Munday. The June coffee will be a combination business meeting and pot-luck dinner at the home of Ginny Sullivan.

VAH-4 OFFICERS' WIVES recently enjoyed a luncheon at the Open Hearth restaurant with Ann Underwood and Helen Smith as co-hostesses. Guests were Mrs. June Mayo and Mrs. Billie Kimmons. The flower arrangement was won by Becky Thompson.

At 10 a.m. on May 13, the club will play bridge at the home of Mrs. Underwood.

EXCITING PLANS were made at the recent membership coffee given by the Navy Wives Club 211 at the NW meeting room.

The group appointed a chairman to work on getting old linens for the local unit of the American Cancer Society. These will be used to make disposable bandages to be given to any cancer patient who requests them.

They discussed the many things that Sanford has to offer the Navy wife and how Navy wives can become a more active part of the community.

It was pointed out that the Seminole County Business School offers many courses for beginners or "brush-up" for wives who would like to find employment. Courses are free, except for inexpensive books and supplies. Mrs. Ehas Cooper, president, also called attention to the fact that wives who dropped out of high school can take the GED test and make up their credits by contacting E. S. Douglass at the Adult Education department at the school administration building.

Sewing classes for beginners and advanced sewers are also conducted by the Adult Education department.

The need for Gray Ladies at the NAS dispensary was noted and women interested in taking the course to work in this capacity were asked to get in touch with Mrs. Edith Pounds.

The group also heard a description of how to make beach clothes out of pillow cases, as seen on a recent "Tonight" show.

Attending the membership coffee were Mrs. Stuart Whelpley, Mrs. Marshall Satterwhite, Mrs. Jack Martin, Mrs. John Johnson, Mrs. John Day, Mrs. Alvin Acord, Mrs. James Whelan, Mrs. Tom Rodgers, and Mrs. "Tex" Farris.

VAH-13 ENLISTED WIVES Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, May 13, instead of May 31, as was stated in last week's Jetstream. (This was a typographical error, girls—the figures got turned around, somehow. Sorry.)

Election of officers is the main item on the agenda.

GRAY LADIES are very much needed at the Naval Air Station Dispensary and any Navy wife or tech rep's wife is eligible to join.

The next class will begin the first week in June and involves a six-hour course of instruction by the Red Cross.

Women who are interested in registering are asked to call Mrs. Roy Pounds at 500 Satauna Drive. The number is incorrect in the phone book, so please ask for information.

STATION OFFICERS' WIVES gathered last Thursday at Creighton's Restaurant for a brunch with Mary Wooden and Patti Hildebrandt as hostesses. They had decorated the tables with May flowers and the centerpiece was a Maypole scene, complete with dancing figures. This was won by Peggy Doyle as one of the door prizes.

President Eve Rogora welcomed a new member, Martha Schwartz, recent bride of Cdr. "Pete" Schwartz, NAS Maintenance Officer. Anette Wing was the guest of Emily Law. Everyone was pleased to chat again with "retired" members Fran Mitchell and Fran Leach.

Farewells were said to Jeanne Wolfe and Jane Jahn who were each presented with a Reverse bowl by Ruth Swanson. Jane and Dave Jahn are returning to civilian life and the Wolfes will soon be departing for new duty in Norfolk.

The names of the winners of the bridge tournament which has been progressing through the Fall and Winter were announced. In first place were Joan Hughes and Nell Cordell; second place, Susy Reno and Micky Murphy and third place, Jeanne Wolfe and Ruth Polgar.

Cdr. Paul and Ruth Polgar and their three youngsters recently welcomed a new little sister to their household.

Chairman Dinkle Shively reported on final plans for the Navy Relief Benefit Bridge with Station Wives will hostess on May 20 in behalf of the NONGW.

A slate of prospective officers for the next six months was submitted by the nominating committee and will be voted on at the June meeting.

Eve reported that Lois Christiansen, who has been hospitalized for surgery is doing fine and will soon rejoin the group.

RVAH-5 OFFICERS' WIVES bade farewell to Arlene Bryant, one of their lovelies and most vivacious members, at their monthly coffee held at the home of Fran Morgan recently.

active in the undertakings of the organization.

New members welcomed were Barbara Nottingham, Ruth Britton, Patsy Mitchell and Bonnie Edwards. Special guests were Anne Underwood, Elinor Shelton and Jeanne Moore from VAH-6.

The centerpiece, a floral arrangement of yellow mums and gardenias, (won by Three's Jetstream reporter, Joan Moore) held special significance since it came from "The Blossom Shop" a new establishment recently opened by Rosanne James, an RVAH-3 wife. The group applauded Rosanne's talent and ambition.

A silver baby gift was presented to Carol Brewer who recently welcomed offspring number four.

Another busy Three worker, Jean Sheridan has been hospitalized and is reported to be "only a few beds away" from Millie Thomas. Both are in the Orlando AFB hospital and can have visitors.

Three wives who would like to be Gray Ladies and work at the NAS dispensary were asked to contact Pat Murphy and sign up for classes which begin in June.

Next bridge is to be at Ollie Yelme's home and Ollie has requested everyone to bring or wear their swim suits. High winners at the previous bridge were Diane McQueen and Arlene Bryant.

May 22 Deadline Set In Longwood For Election

By Donna Estes
 Longwood Mayor David R. Wentworth has set May 22 as the deadline for persons wishing to file petitions to run in the special election scheduled for June 1 in the city to fill the unexpired term on council of R. C. Carlson which runs to December, 1966.

Carlson served 15 years on the board before his resignation last week because of poor health.

To qualify a person must be 21 years old, a citizen of the United States, a resident of the state of Florida for one year and of Longwood for six months, and file a petition containing signatures of 10 registered voters.

Taking out petitions to date have been John Denton and former Longwood Councilman Jim Reiter.

Mrs. Onnie R. Shamute, city clerk, has announced that voter registration books are open and will remain open until the day of the election.

Junior High Sets Open House For 7th Grade

By Jane Casselberry
 An open house will be held at South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry at 7:30 p. m. next Monday for incoming seventh graders and their parents. This will provide an opportunity to see the entire school plant and to meet the seventh grade teachers.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

It is hoped that all of the parents concerned will make a special effort to be present. Principal John Angel and Mrs. Louise Gilpin, guidance counselor of South Seminole Junior High are visiting the sixth grades at Altamonte, English Estates, Bear Lake, Longwood, and South Seminole Elementary Schools this week.

They will explain the courses and activities of the Junior High and answer some of the students' questions.

'Miss Flame' Participates In State Contest

By Jane Casselberry
 Miss Bobbie Lee Watkins, 17-year-old Auburn-haired Miss Flame of Seminole County, participated in the "Miss Florida Flame" contest last Thursday night at the State Fireman's Association Convention held in Jacksonville.

She took part in a motorcade through Jacksonville with 14 other contestants Thursday afternoon and the pageant that night at the Roosevelt Hotel. The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department sponsored her in the contest.

Assistant Chief Herman Joyce, who attended the convention, said that "though we are naturally disappointed that our entry did not win, we are proud that we had the opportunity to sponsor her in the event."

Also accompanying her were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watkins, Mrs. Joyce, Mrs. Robert MacLeod, and Miss Lynne Deans.

League Leaders Lose 10-Inning Thriller

Rotarians Edged By Shrine Nine, 3-2

Rotary lost a 10-inning thriller to Shrine yesterday afternoon, 3-2, and Civitan edged CPO last night 7-6 to tighten the Junior League standings. The Civitan club now trails first place Rotary by one-half game.

Skipper Benarik and Bill Schmidt teamed up in a pitching duel with Benarik and his Shrine teammates winning out in a game that took three extra innings to decide.

Shrine scored two runs in the first inning; Rotary came back with two in the fifth and that was all the scoring until the tenth when Brad Hollingsworth hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Eddie Warren from third base with what proved to be the winning run.

Civitan and CPO changed the lead six times before Civitan finally pulled out the victory by scoring the winning run in the last of the seventh. John Wolfe gained credit for the win.

Jimmy Patterson had two hits, Van Robbins and Tommy Hickson contributed doubles and Mike Hickson socked a triple to lead the Civitan batters. Darrell Vodoplace, behind Chase, who they meet tomorrow afternoon.

Georges and Sanford Atlantic got the Little League nighttime schedule underway last night at Fort Mellon Park with the Bankers upsetting Georges 7-2. Once again it was Jeff Ward turning in a steady performance for the winners. He allowed Georges only one hit—off the bat of Ansel.

Sanford Atlantic could manage but one hit off loser Gordon Bradley—a hit by Freese but, scored in every inning to win the game. Georges, by losing, now leads second place Strickland Morrison by only one-half game in the little American League.

In the City Softball League, Chick N' Treat and the Kilowatts took victories last night. The Kilowatts powered their way to a 13-8 win over USO. Terry Christensen was the winning pitcher. The game produced five home runs, two by Don Harvey and one each by Terry Echols and Larry Helman of the Kilowatts and Tony Nevastich of USO. Echols, with three hits, was top batter for the Kilowatts. Chick N' Treat squeezed

By Chase, 7-6. Ed Hamm picked up the pitching decision. Alex Szabo homered for CNT and Sonny Naples had a round-tripper for Chase. Roy Lisk was top hitter for the victors while Naples lead Chase, each with two hits.

The top game today is the Leroy Robb-Kingswood game at Pinehurst tonight at 8:45 p.m. Robb was responsible for the only Kingswood loss thus far this season and a repeat of that earlier feat would tie the two teams for first place in the City League.

The Knights of Columbus could clinch the Church League first half pennant by taking both games in a scheduled doubleheader tonight at Ft. Mellon Park. The Knights will meet two different opponents — Pinecrest Assembly at 7:30 and the Church of God of P at 8:45.

The Knights of Columbus are the only undefeated team. Only one other team has lost less than two games and that is Kingswood, beaten once in eight contests. These two teams possess the top records of the 27 teams participating in the various recreation leagues.

In the Junior League, with the first half coming to a close on May 19, any one of three teams could take the title: Eika, Rotary or Civitan.

65 Hopefuls Seek Berths

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

Spring training got underway yesterday afternoon at Seminole High School when 65 young athletes came out to compete for positions on the Seminoles' Varsity and Jay-Vee squads.

Acting Head Coach Jim Pigott got the ball rolling with a short opening statement, "Let's get to work." Athletic Director Fred Ganas explained the eligibility rules to the new boys and Coaches Jim McCoy, Ralph Stumpf and Dick Williams went over the training rules and the objectives of the team for next season.

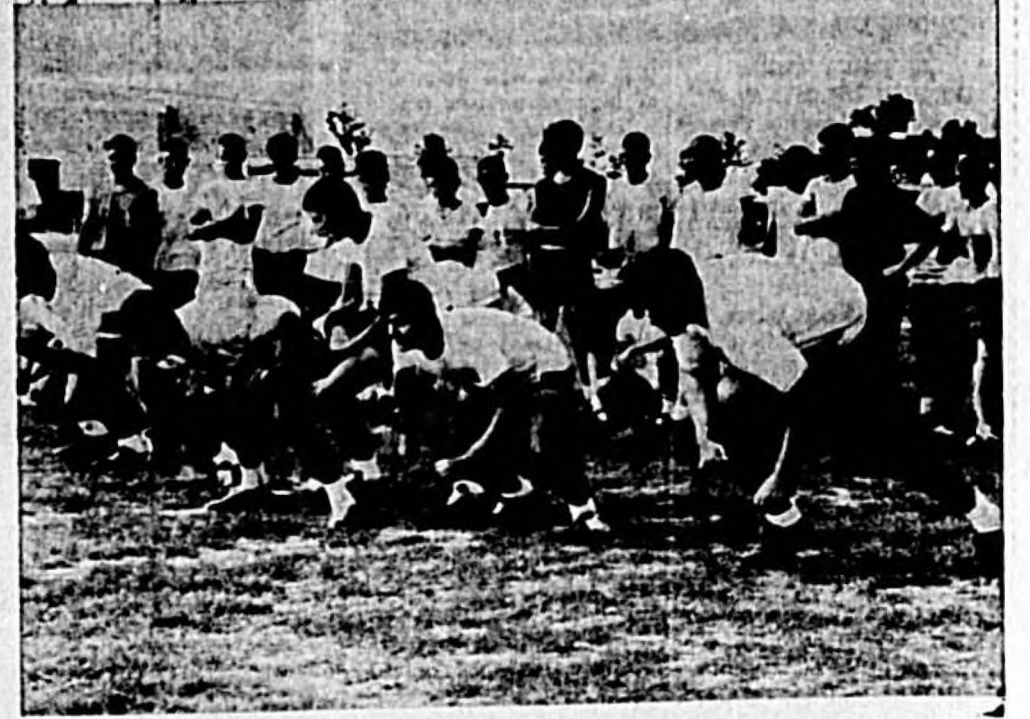

Pigott told the recruits, "This year we are changing from a Class AA to a Class A, but we will still be in the Metro Conference. This will give Sanford two chances for titles, the Metro and the Class A State Championships.

Pigott further explained, "This is one of the first places a boy can prove he is a man and we want only the cream of the crop at Seminole High. Football is a rough, tough game and the only sport left in high school athletics where actual body contact is permitted. You will have to work hard to get in shape and stay that way. We need boys out here who are willing to work long and hard to put us on top."

Out of the 65 athletes reporting for the first day of practice, only 16 are returning lettermen. They are: Bernie Barbour, Sterl Weber, Sonny Messer, Frank Whigham, Rick Walstrom, Chuck Scott, Terry Echols, Earnie Baumelster, Tony Gonzalez, Steve Harris, Mike Gray, Earnie Steele, Johnny Cannivino and Leroy Nopper.

At this time it looks as if the Seminoles will be strongest in the backfield and will have the kind of overall scoring that is a coach's headache and the fans' delight. The Seminoles should be able to score on the strong arm of passing quarterback Frank Whigham and the receiving arms of Mike Gray, Chuck Scott, Leroy Nopper and Rick Walstrom.

The members of last season's Jay-Vee squad testing for positions on the varsity are backs Leslie LeGore, Ron Dudley, Kelly Ogden, Buddy Stumpf, Steve Mills, Mike Peoples and linemen Russell Lee, Mason Wharton, Jay Stokes, Don Luck, Marvin Briggs, Sammy Parish, Alan Herbst and Danny Lee.

SPRING PRACTICE GOT UNDERWAY yesterday for Seminole High School football hopefuls. Sixty-five boys turned out for first day of drills, among them several returning lettermen. Drills will be held daily, ending with practice grid contest night of May 28. (Herald Photo)

Bear Lake Rally Halts North Orlando, 5-4

By Jim Bacchus
Herald Sports Writer

A four-run fifth inning rally gave the Bear Lake Pirates a 5-4 victory over the North Orlando Cardinals last night in Senior League action in Casselberry.

Trailing 2-1 at the time, the Pirates parlayed five base hits, including a two-run double by Bill Webb and run-scoring singles by Bruce Bruesbeck and David Kelley, into the four markers needed for the victory. Dick James and Dave Unley also had hits in the frame.

The only other hit the Pirates managed in the contest was a single by Unley in the second inning. Bruesbeck hurled the first five innings for Bear Lake, striking out five before yielding the lead.

North Orlando managed only four hits all evening. Ed Wire led their attack with two singles. Bo Smart chipped in with a double and Mike Hawk had a single.

Earlier in the evening, Steve Ballard hurled a three-hitter to give the Bear Lake Little Leaguers a 5-1 decision over North Orlando.

A four-run outburst by the Pirates once again in the fifth frame, was the deciding factor in the contest.

Clint Gorree had a single and a double for Bear Lake. Jeff James, Scott Reeves and Ballard also rapped base knocks for the Pirates.

Paul Wallace, Kevin Stephenson and Bobby Spencer all had doubles for the Cardinals.

Pro Gridders Set Exhibition

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis football Cardinals today announced they will meet the Baltimore Colts, champions of the National Football League Western Division in a pre-season game at New Orleans.

The Cards defeated the Colts in an exhibition game at St. Louis, 30-21, but lost 47-27, in the regular season. The game is scheduled for Saturday night August 14th.

Option Gibson

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—The Chicago White Sox, deep in pitching talent, have optioned righthander Joe Gibson to the Indianapolis Indians of the Pacific Coast League.

Gibson, who won 10 and lost seven with Little Rock of the PCL last year, will join Indianapolis within the next few days.

Colonial Golf Finals Again Halted By Rain

FORT WORTH (UPI)—The 63 survivors, headed by Canada's young George Knudson, made another stab today at trying to get in the storm-battered final round of the $100,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament.

Two previous attempts were drowned out Sunday and Monday and the course figures to be in such poor playing condition—if it is playable at all—that liberalized winter playing rules will be in effect down the stretch run for the $20,000 first prize.

Since these rules allow teeing up in the fairways and even improvement of lies in the rough, Knudson thinks someone will still conquer Colonial Country Club's 7,000-yard par 35-70 layout and he hopes it will be him.

"But there are a couple of holes out there," he said, "that I'm not sure I can get to in two strokes even with the liberal rules. Like yesterday, before the rains, I improved my lie on the first hole and promptly topped the ball."

Knudson and his final threesome partners of Bruce Crampton and Don January, managed to play only the first hole before the rain torrents set in for the day Monday.

Crampton was tied for second place with Tony Lema one stroke back of Knudson's one-under-par 209 after 54 holes, while January was among a half-dozen players three strokes back at 212.

Included in this group—all with excellent chances of beating Knudson out of the largest check of his career—were Chi Chi Rodriguez, Al Gelberger, Gardner Dickinson, Julius Boros and Doug Sanders.

Broward Schools Cop Swim Meet

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Broward County teams gave their state high school squads a swimming lesson Saturday in 1965 Class AA championships.

More than 400 swimmers from 69 high schools came here for the championships, and most — if they weren't from Broward County — went home empty handed.

Free Agent

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Kim Devault of Evansville, Ind., will battle veteran Norm Sneed, Jack Concannon and King Hill for the Philadelphia Eagle starting quarterback role in the 1965 National Football League season.

The 6-foot-1, 185-pound Devault, a standout of the Indiana Collegiate Conference, signed with the Eagles Monday as a free agent.

LAST UNBEATEN CHICAGO (UPI)—The last team in the National Football League to go unbeaten in regular season play was the Chicago Bears who accomplished the feat in 1942.

SLUGGER TED NEW YORK (UPI)—Ted Williams was the last major league batsman to turn in a season mark over .400—he hit .406 in 1941.

Hornung's Fate With Packers Hangs Fire After Bad Season

LOUISVILLE (UPI) — Paul Hornung is taking a "wait and see" attitude in regard to his role with the Green Bay Packers next year since the team has acquired kicker Don Chandler.

Hornung stoutly denied that several crucial kicks he missed last season cost the Packers the Western Conference title.

"The Packers had a lot of other chances they missed," Hornung said.

However, Hornung still must have nightmares about the boots that missed the mark in two critical games with the Baltimore Colts.

In the first game, Hornung missed an extra point that enabled the Colts to take out a 21-20 win over the Packers.

In the second Colts game, with the Packers still very much in the running for the division title, Hornung missed five field goal attempts, the last one from only 12 yards out.

Hornung admitted that his kicking wasn't what it should have been, and added, "that year's layoff may have hurt some."

Hornung and Alex Karras of the Detroit Lions were suspended for one year by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for betting on games.

The Packers, soon after the season ended, acquired Chandler from the New York Giants, and there has been speculation that he would handle most of the field goal and extra-point chores for the Packers. Hornung said if Chandler does take over these duties it will enable him to concentrate more on running.

"But I doubt if any of this will be decided before practice starts this summer," Hornung said.

Haig & Haig Golf Tourney Leaves Florida

L.A. COSTA BY-THE-SEA, Calif. (UPI) — The Haig & Haig mixed Scotch golf tournament, featuring the world's top men and women professionals, moves out of Florida for the first time this year and will be played instead at the La Costa By-The-Sea Country Club, Oct. 14-17, it was announced today.

A field of 48 golfers, paired off in 24 teams, will tee off in the alternate shot, 72-hole tournament, which this year will carry a purse of $50,000, an increase of $10,000, according to Harold L. Renfield, sponsor of the tournament.

The five previous Haig & Haig tourneys have been held at Sebring, Fla. Sam Snead and Shirley Englehorn won the title a year ago and will be back to defend.

The Haig & Haig is the only PGA and Ladies PGA sponsored tournament in which men and women pros display their shooting talent as partners.

As in the past, the tourney proper will be preceded by the Haig & Haig Challenge Cup, which features head-to-head competition between individual men and women pros on Oct. 12.

Exhibitions Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Houston Oilers will provide the opposition for New York in the Jets' first of five exhibition games on Aug. 7 at Alexandria, Va.

The Jets also play Boston twice — on Aug. 13 at Allentown, Pa., and Aug. 28 at Norfolk, Va. — and the American Football League champion Buffalo Bills twice — on Aug. 21 at New Brunswick, N.J., and Sept. 2 at Buffalo — before opening the regular season on Sept. 12 in Houston's new domed stadium.

DOUGHTY DODGERS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Dodgers dominated the National League pennant races over the last 10 years, winning two in Brooklyn (1955-56) and one in Los Angeles (1963).

Stengel Breaks Wrist In Fall

NEW YORK (UPI) — It takes more than a broken bone and a cast to bench Casey Stengel, and the 74-year-old manager of the New York Mets expects to be back in action tonight when his team plays host to the St. Louis Cardinals.

"We have a game against the Cardinals tomorrow night and I'll be in the dugout managing," Stengel said at West Point, N. Y., Monday, just hours after he broke a bone in his right wrist when he fell to the ground.

The mishap occurred as Stengel prepared to board a bus prior to the Mets exhibition meeting with Army. Stengel was wearing spikes at the time and they caught on the cement outside the gymnasium.

Deadline Nears To Cut Baseball Nines To Size

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

Before midnight Tuesday several major league players will become minor leaguers and 21-year-old Johnny Briggs is afraid he might be one of the group.

Midnight is the deadline for all teams to trim down to the 25-man player limit and Briggs, a muscular outfielder with the Philadelphia Phillies, gave a major league argument on his own behalf Monday night.

Briggs slammed a pinch double in the ninth inning and scored on Johnny Callison's two-out single to tie the score at 3-3 against the St. Louis Cardinals. Briggs stepped up again in the 10th and slammed a two-run home run with two out to win the game 4-2.

Although the Phillies' sophomore was excited over his game-winning blow, he also was concerned about the impending cut-down date. He has been to bat only 15 times this season.

"Sure, I've been thinking about the cut down and it's worried me," he said. "But I don't think my two hits tonight will have anything to do with it. I think they've already made up their minds who will go."

Both of Briggs' hits came off reliever Bob Furky, the first pitcher he faced when he came up to the big leagues last year. The homer came after a two-out single by Ruben Amaro. Ed Roebuck was the winning hurler in relief.

Tim McCarver hit his first home run of the season for the Cardinals off starter Jim Bunning and Dick Groat drove in the other St. Louis tally on an infield out. Tony Taylor singled home the first Philadelphia run.

In the only other National League game played, Los Angeles nipped Houston in 10 innings 3-2 to increase its league lead to 2 1/2 games. Cincinnati and the Pirates were rained out at Pittsburgh.

4-3, Detroit edged Baltimore 5-4 and Boston beat New York 3-2 in the only games scheduled.

Tryouts Slated For Hopefuls In Pee Wee Baseball Leagues

The Sanford Recreation Department has announced the start of the 1965 Pee Wee Baseball League season will get underway with the first games scheduled Monday, June 7th.

In preparation, an organizational meeting will be held for all Pee Wee managers this Thursday, May 13th, at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be held at the Recreation Office, with Al Jim Jernigan conducting the session. All interested parties should be present. Coaches are still needed to work with the 8, 9 and 10 year old boys that will be participating in the phase of Recreation Department baseball program.

Try-outs for boys desiring to play Pee Wee ball this year will be held at the Fort Mellon Park baseball field on May 16 and 20 from 4 until 6 each day. Boys should report to the try-outs ready to play ball. Each boy will run through clinics of batting, throwing, fielding, running and pitching. Birth certificates will not be required at the tryouts since they will be collected at a later date by the various coaches.

All boys eight, nine and 10 years of age are eligible for Pee Wee baseball. August 1st is the cut-off date. A boy seven would be eligible if he reaches his eighth birthday before August 1st. But by the same respect, a boy 10, who would become 11 before August 1st would be ineligible. Also, a boy 10 must have been one of the participants at the Little League try-outs or he would be ineligible for Pee Wee.

Last year, the Pee Wee League operated with six teams playing a 10 game schedule and it is hoped that a similar set-up will be possible this season.

Sharkey Sees Clay-Liston Bout 'A KO'

LEWISTON, Maine (UPI) — The heavyweight title fight between Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston "can't go the distance," according to former champion Jack Sharkey.

Sharkey, mentioned as a possible referee for the scheduled May 23 bout, said Monday night it would be "atrocious" if the fight went 15 rounds.

"They'd be hanging onto each other," said Sharkey. "No it's impossible. It's gotta be a knockout."

Sets Record

MOSCOW (UPI) — Viktor Kurentsov of the U.S.S.R. set a world record for middleweights Sunday with a total of 450 kilograms (992 pounds) in three standard lifts. His total was 2.5 kilograms (six pounds) better than the former mark held by Soviet Alexander Kurynov.

SPEEDY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gun Bow ran the fastest mile and one-quarter in New York's racing history when he won the 1964 Brooklyn Handicap in 1:39-3/5.

GRAND SLAMMERS

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox hit eight grand slam home runs last year to lead the American League in that department.

Special Senior Life Saving Class Scheduled

A special review class in Senior Life Saving training will be offered for the first time this year, under the sponsorship of the American Red Cross.

This review course, consisting of 10 hours of refresher instruction, will begin on May 17 at 7:30 p. m. at Ft. Mellon Municipal Pool.

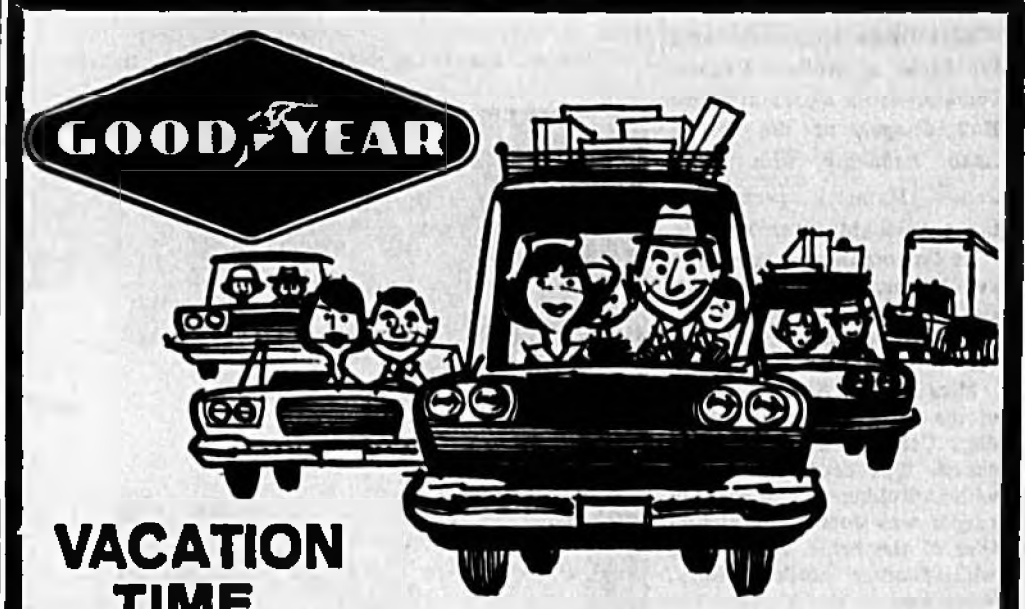

The course is open to all those who hold a current Senior Life Saving card which is about to expire, or those whose card expired in the past year.

Mrs. J. A. Kilpatrick, chairman of the Red Cross Water Safety Committee, stressed the fact there must be a minimum of 12 people register for the course if it is to be offered.

The special course allows re-qualification as Senior Life Saver after just 10 hours of instruction, instead of the usual 22 hours.

"Fit your daughter with a better-looking future"

A comment on physical fitness by Susan Wandt, Physical Education Instructor, John Burroughs School, St. Louis, Mo.

"Mention physical fitness and most girls think about the boy they know who plans to be a jet pilot, or the one who wants to be a Navy frogman. And maybe they'll think about a girl friend studying ballet. These are the only ones, they feel, who must be physically fit."

"They couldn't be more wrong. Physical fitness is for everyone... including your daughter. Because fitness is consciousness and grace in social situations. It's energy and stamina to see a job through cheerfully and efficiently. That's physical fitness... a simple matter of looking, feeling and working your best."

"A homemaker, a teacher, a nurse, a scientist, a secretary... they will all be happier, more efficient, and more successful if they are looking, feeling, and working their best. There is a job like one of these in your daughter's future. She'll do better at it if she remembers that the future belongs to the fit, and prepares for it."

The Future Belongs to the Fit. Medical authorities put it this way: "It is a tragic waste to highly educate the minds of our children and neglect the physical conditioning that can help them participate in the future to the full extent of their abilities."

Warnings like this have sparked action. The President's Council on Physical Fitness has developed programs that any school can initiate, regardless of limitations in facilities or budget.

How about your schools? Are they providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.

Diane Meister, William Decker Wed In McClure Hall, At Forest Lake

By Maryann Miles
Miss Diane Meister became the bride of William Decker, Sunday, April 25, in McClure Hall Chapel, at the Forest Lake Academy with Elder James Hamrick performing the candlelight ceremony.

At the organ was Mrs. Roger Moyer. Guest soloist was Herb Butterfield, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "A Wedding Prayer."

Miss Carole Krause, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles. Carole wore a lavender sheath type dress lined with white. Rolling out the white carpet was Joel Meister, brother of the bride. Joel, along with another brother, Gary, were ushers. Head usher was Edward Hurd.

Diane's three sisters were all in the wedding. Her sister, Trudy Karen was maid of honor. Erna Marlene and Marjorie Joy were bridesmaids. The three sisters' dresses were lavender over white. The sleeves and hems of the white lining were trimmed with lace. The dresses were in Grecian style.

Mrs. Meister, along with her four daughters made these very beautiful dresses, head bands and the dress the bride wore.

Diane was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was of lace, with short sleeves and a satin belt and bow. The white chiffon skirt, which had 300 pleats, was over a white sheath type skirt. Her dress was floor length and the head piece was Diane's own idea and work. She has very long hair and it was pulled up high in curls. White satin ribbon was entwined with her favorite flowers, stephanotis, which were flown here from California. She carried a white Bible with calla lilies, the stephanotis and ivy.

Best man was Melvin Decker, brother of the groom. The bridesmaids' bouquets were of phalaenopsis and ivy. They wore head bands of satin with small face veils. All the bridesmaids had shoes dyed to match their lavender dresses. Mother of the bride, Mrs.

Joseph Meister, wore a sleeveless deep pink dress with draped neckline and matching hat. Her corsage was of gladiolia and godsfiance leaves.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. G. Antolini, wore a light blue suit with a matching hat and a corsage similar to that of Mrs. Meister.

A reception for 50 guests was held following the wedding at the Meisters' home on Highway 436 in Forest City.

A three-tier wedding cake was served with fruit punch, mints, nuts and finger tip sandwiches.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. Jean Wright and Mr. and Mrs. G. Antolini of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Decker, Hensdale, Ill.; Mrs. L. Noseworthy, Mrs. Mabel Hopkins and daughter, Mileyah, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith, all of St. Cloud, Fla.

Mrs. Theresa Tuck, aunt of Diane, from Brooklyn, N. Y., who had charge of the guest book; Miss Carrie Sharp, Lakeland; Tommy Ham, Tampa, and Mel Decker of Berwyn, Ill.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon in California and will make their home in Lake Harriet Estates in Forest City when they return home.

Couple Celebrates 62th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Priest celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary last Sunday with a family dinner at their home. A variety of food was served including several decorated anniversary cakes.

All six of their children attended and presented their parents white carnations to wear and an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and lavender gladiola.

The guests enjoyed browsing through the family "history" being compiled by Fannie Belle Kipp. The book features old photographs, old letters and nearly completed genealogical tables dating back many years. Mrs. Kipp, as a hobby, is doing extensive research to add to her collection.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest were married May 6, 1903 at Conner, Fla. The event took place at the home of Mrs. Priest, the former Florence Randall. As a little girl she met the boys from Jacksonville as they landed at her father's dock on the St. Johns River.

Mr. Priest is a veteran of the Spanish-American War and has farmed all his life. Mr. and Mrs. Priest enjoy an active life, he with his grove and garden and she with five children away from home to whom she writes every week. They attend the Southern Methodist Church regularly. The honored couple received many lovely cards and gifts.

Present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Priest Jr., Eau Gallie; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Priest, Sarah, Elizabeth, Daniel, Louise and Emily, all of Sanford; Mrs. A. C. Brockman, Pattie and John Brockman and Jim Bentley, all of Pensacola.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Sims, Mt. Dora; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Priest and Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Kipp, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Varn, Michie, Lenny and Francie, Orlando; Pat Priest, Mrs. R. A. Carleton and Jimmy Carleton, all of Miami, and Mrs. Frances Golsen, Sanford.

Drink, Dope, Sex And Money Bother Women In Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—Women who make the police blotter instead of the society pages range from those who play for pay to those who kill.

In between are the drug addicts, the alcoholics, the robbers.

Put them together and you have the ills of modern women — a subject "University Woman," published by Fairleigh Dickinson University, covers in an unusual report.

The exploration into the backgrounds of women in trouble was a joint effort of sociology students in juvenile delinquency and criminology classes and the staff of the publication.

Previous issues were devoted to such topics as Beauty and the Creative Woman, the Creative Woman in Science.

Why switch from the high and mighty to sociological and criminal ills? Because they're a fact of life.

As women have moved into the mainstream of community, business, educational and political life, they have come to experience the frustrations, aggravations and abrasions that formerly were absorbed only by men, the report noted.

"This one might reasonably expect that as the number of outstanding public accomplishments by women increased, so also would the number of disastaters," said Lois Pratt, associate professor on the editorial board of "University Woman."

Highlights of the report: —SEXUAL FREEDOM: Although we live in a basically Puritanical society which forbids premarital sexual activity for both sexes, the double standard long has existed which ignores promiscuity in the male while condemning it in the female, too, although it still is not openly okayed.

Contraceptives, improved and widely available, have provided women much more freedom. Now, they can experience sex relations without the risk of pregnancy. Not all the new freedom is turning every woman into a prostitute. The prostitutes have financial need in common. Some other women play for no pay.

—DRUG ADDICTION: More than four thousand women were arrested in the United States in 1963 for violation of narcotics laws. The addict frequently has experienced difficulties in coping with the responsibilities of being a woman. In interviews with addicts it was discovered that many of the females strive for and emulate masculine line behavior. Some of them support their habit through typically masculine crimes — breaking and entering, pocket-picking.

Surprise Birthday Party

Miss Linda Pincock was hostess for a surprise splash party, honoring her uncle, Dennis Hearn, of Dol Ray Manor, Altamonte Springs.

The honoree was celebrating his 17th birthday and the Pincock home at 310 Penn Avenue was gaily decorated for the occasion. The refreshment table was adorned with a beautiful birthday cake. Among the many gifts received was one of particular interest. It was an iguana, which was promptly named Cleopatra.

Those attending and enjoying the event with the honoree included Theresa Renee, Frank Renee, Rick Lombardi, Liz Sherwen, Ann Trawick, Bill Wharton, Ruth Keim, Larry O'Donnell, Steve Brady, Rick Leonard, Sandy Howe, Liz Lunn, Bruce Gleason and Vince Brown.

Also, Mildred Tillis, Libby Smathers, Laura Cox, Fern Benedict and son, Bob, Virginia Tomlinson, Vola Sloan, Florence Hennessy, Lena Gleason and grandson, Kyle, Ruth Goble, Laurette Williams, Betty Bailey, Virginia Anderson, Margaret Ulmer, Maxine Hopkins, Lois Pugh, Mable Brown, Anna Turning, Verlie Crocker, Elizabeth Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Palety.

Mothers' Day Observed By Members Of Eastern Star

Forty members and visitors were present as Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star, observed Mothers' Day recently. A tribute to mother love was read by Mrs. J. J. Nicholson, Worthy Matron.

As four of the Star Points gathered about the altar, the fifth, Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, who fills the station of Electa, approached the station of the Worthy Matron where she was joined by the Associate Matron, Mrs. Irving Pryor, carrying a basket of red and white carnations which she presented to Electa.

Carnations were presented to the Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, then to each officer and member present, as Mrs. Robert F. Cole sang an appropriate selection honoring mothers to the tune of "Beyond the River."

During the business meeting two petitions for affiliation were received and one petition for reinstatement. Two were elected to receive the degrees of the Order.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Byron Leach, Mrs. Charles Cole, Ruth Wilkinson and Eva Beckham.

Pat Flesher, owner and director of the Winter Park modeling and finishing school, will be guest speaker of the Sky Anchors Toastmistress Club at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Holy Cross Parish Hall. Guests are invited to attend the meeting to hear Miss Flesher speak on "How Deep Is Your Rut?", a talk touching on the many aspects of a charming speaker. Well qualified to speak on the subject, she is a charter member of the Modeling Association of America and has been the organization's president a nd vice president, and presently serves on the board of directors.

Pat is local fashion consultant for many stores in the Orlando area and has served as commentator for many of the Naval Officers' Wives fashion shows during the past few years.

Known throughout the state as a fashion authority and commentator of fashion shows Pat's activities take her to many cities and towns in Florida lecturing and giving fashion clinics. Pat is on the staff of the University of Mississippi to conduct its Summer Charm Camp and is an honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi. She judges many beauty pageants including the Miss Dixie Contest.

This summer she will sponsor a fashion and arts tour to Europe. The tour is a first in Florida and will be educational as well as an adventure in good living.

Since the school emphasizes seeking a higher way of living through the development of individual charm and is designed to teach its members the adventures of living in depth by discovery of individual self, it parallels many goals in "Toastmistress" which teaches its members to be charming and effective speakers.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am just an average housewife. My husband works steady and we get along about as well as any other married couple. We have a fight about once a week. I run my house, raise my children and do not have an outside job, so I have to depend on my husband for every dollar I get. He is the stingiest man in creation. He thinks all the kids and I need are clothes on our backs, shoes on our feet and food on the table. He never gives me an extra penny. He is my husband and he is supposed to support me. Right? So where am I supposed to get money if not from him? Now for my problem: For years I have been taking loose change or a dollar or two out of his pants pocket while he's sleeping. I think I am entitled to it, so would you consider this "stealing"?

FEELING GUILTY
DEAR FEELING: Whether you are "entitled" to it or not, taking something without the owner's permission is "stealing." Every wife should get an allowance, no matter how small. But you have no more right to pick your husband's pockets than he has to pick your purse.

DEAR ABBY: Everyone has heard of problem children, but you don't hear much about problem mothers. Well, I have one. Mom and I have always been very close and I've always told her everything. I am 18 and a freshman in college, but you'd think I was four years old the way my mother treats me. I know she means well, but I wish she would quit trying to "help" me with my love life. I had a little misunderstanding with a young man who was getting interested in me and my mother called him up and tried to "straighten it out." I was so embarrassed I nearly died. He never called me after that and I don't blame him. Another time my mother called a young man's mother and told her that if her son would ask me to the Charity Ball she was sure I'd accept. Naturally, he never called. I know Mom loves me but she's doing more harm than good. What does a girl do with a mother like that?

MOTHER TROUBLE
DEAR TROUBLE: Tell your mother more emphatically please to resist trying to live your life. And if that doesn't work, tell her less.

DEAR ABBY: I have a wife and four daughters and with all the yelling, squealing and arguing, the place is like a madhouse. I can't get into the bathroom because one of them is always in there doing her hair, taking a bath or painting her face on. Every time I sit down I sit on rollers or curlers. And I can choke from the hair spray. How does a father manage to live through something like this? And if a father is lucky enough to get his daughter married off, I hear the girl's father has to put on the wedding. Aren't there any advantages to having girls?

FATHER OF GIRLS
DEAR FATHER: Yes. Someone once said, "A son is a son till he takes a wife . . . but a daughter's a daughter all her life."

Her talent, personality and dazzling smile carried Mary Ann to the pinnacle of all beauty contest aspirants—Miss America 1959. At left. Now, seven years later, Mary Ann shows great promise as an actress. More beautiful these days, if possible, she appears more mature, right, with an acquired sultry-eyed look which is having the desired impact on film fans. Beneath the Hollywood facade, however, Mary Ann says: "I see the real me—freckles and all."

We The Women:

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My son's teacher says he may not be able to do 8th grade work next year without summer tutoring. She says he is a bright child but a poor achiever. I am sure that this is my husband's fault and that Al could do much better school work if his father didn't yell at him whenever a mark goes down. I haven't told him that Al will need tutoring because I know what a blasting the child will get. . . .

ANSWER: I am sorry you're so frightened of your husband.

If you weren't, you might be able to convince him that we don't persuade children to do good school work by raging at them. All we do is to make it impossible for them to want to please us. Our raging at them makes them so angry at us that they begin to equal school effort with submission to us. Digging in their heels, they express their resistance to us by resisting school work.

Children do use poor school work to anger a parent who has angered them by trying to bully them into doing good school work.

To free them from their confusion, we have to be pretty clear ourselves on this self-aping trick of anger. We have to see that our bright child who wants to do good school work is unable to do it because his resented father wants the same thing. Then we may be able to disconnect what his resented father wants from what he wants. His brightness may come to his rescue so that he says, "You mean I'm so mad at daddy that I can't study because he wants me to? But if I stop thinking about what he wants and think about what I want, I can study. Is that what you mean?"

However, very bright children can also be very angry children—so angry that retaliation on us becomes more important than serving their own wishes to study. Then, if we're bright, too, we get them some sessions with a psychiatrist who, after helping them blow the obscuring steam of anger, makes clear to them their own wish to study. Maybe Al could use a few sessions.

Meanwhile, try to appreciate your husband's anger at Al's poor school work. His method is mistaken but getting that better work is what you all want, isn't it? It's sad that you're all so frightened of each other that you can't see the sameness of what you want.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

Jim starts today's discussion of the Vanderbilt Cup play with an embarrassing question.

Jim: "What was your worst play of the Vanderbilt tournament? Or didn't you make any bad ones?"

Oswald: "I never make claims of perfection. My worst play was a lead against a slam. I sat West and the bidding requires considerable explanation."

Jim: "Ira's heart bid was the weak two showing a good six-card suit and a hand just below opening strength in high cards. Right?"

Oswald: "Yes. South's three club call was a deliberate underbid. He wanted to buy the hand. My jump to four hearts was mainly an effort to keep our opponents from finding a spade fit although it turned out that we would have made four hearts. North's double just showed cards and South's jump to six clubs was a gamble he had planned when he made his first bid.

Jim: "You opened the ace of diamonds. Was that so terrible?"

Oswald: "Ira and I were playing a peculiar convention.

It required that when our opponents bid a slam against our defensive bidding the first one of us to act would double unless he expected to be able to take a defensive trick. If the first one failed to double, the second one would pass if he also expected to take a defensive trick and double with no defensive tricks at all. Hence when Ira failed to double he was marked with a defensive trick against South's contract."

Jim: "I see. You should have read that his defensive trick was the ace of spades and opened your singleton."

Oswald: "Right! The hand also shows the advantage of having good teammates. Diny Wells and Phil Feldman got to six spades at the other table. There was no defense against it and we still gained two international match points in spite of my lead."

TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. NBC. Bell Telephone Hour (Color) An excellent musical hour, all the more welcome on a generally sparse evening. Hoagy Carmichael serves as host on a tour through the legend of Tin Pan Alley with a cast including Carol Lawrence, Leslie Uggams, Peter Nero, Bill Hayes, Matt Mattox and Gordon MacRae. Loaded with plenty of good old tuneful, hummable music, memories of personalities of the past, Broadway shows, movie music and a special tribute to Irving Berlin. Nothing exciting, but a very pleasant way to spend an hour.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON MCLEOD

Charm and grace are, indeed assets possessed by few women, but Martha Scott, actress, wife and mother is a fascinating woman who has both.

She has been appearing in the long-running Broadway hit, "Never Too Late." She plays her role delightfully and at the moment is taking a brief rest at her Connecticut home and having a wonderful time with her four-year-old daughter. Martha Scott is just 48 years old and besides the four-year-old she has a teenage daughter and a son in the Air Force.

When Martha Scott first made her great success on the screen in "Three Cheers for Miss Bishop," she portrayed a seventy-six-year-old woman—and she was only twenty-four. In fact, most of her roles have been of old women and this, of course, is a tribute to the fact that she is a real

Horoscope Forecast

Wednesday, May 12, 1965

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day and evening when you can get far by adding to culture to your life and your surroundings that adds loftiness of spirit as well as more comfort to your physical well being! You can find the right answers for which you have been searching in conversations with those allies who are knowledgeable, also.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Better realize that the only way you can get favors from others is if you are willing to retaliate. Take the initiative. Fine results follow, better than you had expected.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You are eager for entertainment and this is fine, provided you first attend to important work. Get congenials to come along with you by being charming. Find success from anxieties.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Every chance is yours now to make kin happier by being more cheerful, buying presents, etc. Quietly go about ridding yourself of problematical affairs. Pay your bills on time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There is so much reach that you have only to get it and use it intelligently. Make your calls, get all better organized. Then enjoy yourself at special hobbies.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Giving a needed pat on the back to close allies will do much to engender greater harmony between you. Go about visiting in a very friendly manner. Show that you are a devoted and generous person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get properly improved greatly if you want to make higher-ups upon whom you depend. Look into new investments as well. Be sure you ask for prices first.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Doing whatever will further ingratiate you into the good graces of own particular society is best way to spend part of this day. Dress well. You can then reach aims with ease.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to garner the information you want confidentially if you use right tactics. Prepare yourself for living a more prosperous future. Take proper steps to increase abundance.

MAGISTRARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A new attitude towards social contacts is right, but put a soft pedal on any criticism. Make new friends as well who can enrich your life further. Be charming.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) By joining efforts with influential persons you make a far better showing in the business or creative world. Use proper psychology and become more popular. Be understanding.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your best benefits come from distant places and people, so get busy corresponding, studying. Be more broad-minded. This increases the understanding between you and others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A time when you can profit by taking advantage of exalting conditions while others are angling like mad. Be aloof. Get social or mercantile obligations attended to quickly.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those persons so very devoted to home and family, which is a wonderful trait. But you must early point out that it is necessary to get out into the world of activity and rub elbows with fellowman, if one is to succeed and survive in this world. The precise worker is here and a good deal of success can be achieved in whatever is the forte.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Seattle Scientist Having Whale Of A Time'

SEATTLE (UPI) — Dale Rice, a Seattle scientist, is running around the Pacific Ocean shooting sperm whales with a 12-gauge shotgun.

But instead of birdshot, his specially modified gun fires small harpoons. They're about six inches long, as big around as a pencil, and each has a number.

It's all part of an experiment by the federal government to learn more about the whales' wanderings, about how many of them there are.

The government suspects that sperm whales, while not particularly important to the economy, may be about to become extinct because of intensive whaling primarily by Russia and Japan.

Federal negotiators want concrete statistics on which they can base arguments for more stringent conservation regulations. They hope Rice and his sea-going dog tag operation can provide it.

Rice, known to his colleagues as "Dale the Whale," is the government's lone whale biologist. He is stationed with the Department of the Interior in Washington.

He conducts his whale hunts from two chartered whale catchers operating from Richmond, Calif.

He cruises about 100 miles off the California coast in the boats and when a whale is sighted, tries to shoot a harpoon into it from practically point-blank range.

Rice says he always aims just behind the dorsal fin on the back because the muscle is thick there and the harpoon doesn't bother the whale. Besides, when the huge mammals are killed by whalers to be made into cat food, processing plant workers always know where to look to retrieve the harpoons and identify the whale.

Rice says he's shot 56 whales so far.

He and fellow scientists believe their unorthodox tagging method will provide the information they need because it was tried once before on a small, experimental scale with good results. One whale shot off the California coast was recovered by a processing plant in northern British Columbia.

600 Residents Pledge Eyes To Blind Persons

Nearly 600 persons of the Seminole County-Delary area have pledged their eyes to the living after their death, Mrs. Frank Woodruff, founder and executive secretary of Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association, told Rotarians Monday.

"From our lists of donors, 16 sets of eyes have been sent to the eye bank center in Gainesville, where transplants have been made to provide sight for 32 persons who were blind," Mrs. Woodruff said.

She explained that, after death, the cornea of the eye remains "alive" for approximately 48 hours, enabling surgeons to transplant it to the eye of a person whose cornea has been scarred.

Mrs. Woodruff showed Rotarians a film entitled "Boy with a Blindfold," which explained the work of the national eye bank. More than 20,000 people in the United States, now blind, could have their sight restored by a corneal transplant, she said.

Parts of the eye other than the cornea are also used in restorative surgery and scientific research.

Seminole Co. Employment Near Peak Level In March

Seminole County employment in non-farm establishments was at near peak level of 10,100 in March, current Florida State Employment Service figures indicate.

Present employment is 9.5 per cent above March 1964 with gains in many industries including manufacturing, construction, trade and service.

Employment was a table with citrus harvesting declining at the end of the mid-season fruit harvest, while grove work and spring vegetable activity increased.

Consumer spending based on gross sales reported for state sales tax purposes totaled $78 million in 1964 which was 13 per cent above 1963.

"This is a good indication of the business conditions and growing population of the area," said Joseph Foy, local FSES manager.

Lyman TEC Pupils Win State Awards

By Jane Casselberry

Lyman High School Technical Education Club members Margaret Stevens and James Wakefield were named outstanding students of the year and received plaques at the convention of Florida TEC Clubs in Bradenton.

Margaret is the 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Stevens of Longwood. She served as secretary of the state federation this year.

Wakefield, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Wakefield of Sanford, is club photographer and his "poor man's laser beam" project was a recent science fair winner.

Both are seniors. They were chosen for the awards on the point system with points being given for club work, and activities in school, home, church, and community. Visual proof of these activities was required such as photographs, newspaper clippings, or letters.

Both youngsters hope to continue in the field of electronics following graduation.

Where are you going? Where did you come from? These are some sample questions that will be asked of motorists on heavily-traveled highways in Seminole County beginning Thursday. The first interview station will be set up on I-4. Home interviews also are under way in the county concerning people's travel habits.

Casselberry's proposed occupational license ordinance covers everything from stargazing to scissor-sharpening.

Two news hounds are residents of the third floor at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Doris (Never A Dull Moment) Williams, our blonde sparkler, is a sick, sick, sick girl. We miss her.

Down the hall from Doris is veteran newsmen Marlon Harman. Marlon is flat on his back following an automobile accident a week or so ago. He says he will be immobilized for three or four more weeks.

AE2 Thomas Christensen, USN, of Port Edwards, Wis., who spent two weeks here visiting his fiancée, Susan Wilcox, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilcox, of 610 Baywood Drive, Sunland, has departed for duty in South Viet Nam.

Casselberry's new administrative offices on U.S. 17-92 will be air-conditioned under a bid accepted by the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

The Sanford Lions Fun Fair is planned for Fort Mellon Park July 6.

Search for a site for the Lake Mary Woman's Club has ended in a stalemate. The Seminole County Board of Commissioners considered giving a tract of county land but found it would not meet the requirements.

In spite of our efforts along the beautification lines some of the town's biggest eyesores remain intact. The old bandshell, for instance. The eagle on the flagpole at the bandshell now perches precariously over Seminole Blvd. Looks like something could be done to the old bandshell until something more permanent comes along.

Two big events in Sanford conflict Monday night. Sanford Male Chorus presents its spring serenade at the Civic Center. The annual sports banquet will be held at the high school the same night.

Overhead while eavesdropping: We Americans are the nuttiest people in the world. We buy expensive beds, with 8-inch springs, 10-inch inner-spring mattresses; top them with foam rubber covers and pillows — then lie awake all night worrying.

Orlandoan Hurt In Auto Mishap

Barry Riley, 24, an Orlando apprentice embalmer, was seriously injured about the head in an automobile accident on Interstate 4 near the SR 46 interchange Tuesday afternoon.

State Trooper Jerry Hawthorne said the 1965 MG Midget Riley was driving ran off the right shoulder of the highway, careened back across the southbound lanes into the median and turned over several times.

Riley was thrown from the convertible and was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital in an unconscious condition. He later was transferred to Florida Sanatorium and Hospital in Orlando.

Beauties To Vie

SARASOTA (UPI)—A record 46 beauty queens will compete for the 1965 Miss Florida title starting here June 12. The new Miss Florida will be crowned June 19 by the 1964 winner, Miss Priscilla Scharr, of Pompano Beach.

Herlong Urges

Prepare For Medicare

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—U.S. Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr., of the Florida Fifth Congressional District, including Seminole County, today told a joint meeting of the Florida House and Senate public welfare committees they should prepare for the passage of a federal Medicare bill in this session of Congress.

Herlong's talk was brief and factual. He said he had some "philosophical objections" to the bill now before the U. S. Senate but he added, "We are faced with a fact now."

"This bill is going to be the law and Florida should act now to take full benefit of its provisions," he said.

Herlong noted Medicare would bring an additional $240,000 in federal money into the state. Florida, under the proposal, would also no longer have to carry the expense of hospital assistance.

Florida would have to provide a comprehensive voluntary insurance program for the aged, however. And Herlong emphasized that the success of this program was particularly important.

"If we don't make voluntary health insurance work," he said, "you're going to have a health care plan for the aged based on Social Security crammed down your throats."

Clearwater Firm Takes On Project

By Paul Brookshire
Construction is expected to resume Thursday to complete the Sanford Plaza, The Herald learned today.

A performance bond of $470,000 was scheduled to be posted before Circuit Judge Roger F. Dykes in Titusville this afternoon to complete work on the Plaza, on Hwy. 17-92 south.

R & S Service, Inc., of Clearwater, was due to post the bond through the Hartford Insurance Company to guarantee that all work will be accomplished and that all suppliers and contractors paid.

"This is a solid concern and we expect the posting of the bond to be a mere formality," Paul E. Raymond, attorney representing the Chase Manhattan Bank in the receivership, told The Herald this morning.

Chase Manhattan Bank holds the mortgage on the Plaza and the Ormond Beach First National Bank is the disbursing agent.

Kennel A. Priest, of Ormond Beach, is the court appointed receiver of the Plaza. Priest is under $100,000 bond.

Raymond said signs of the order by Judge Dykes should signal start of construction Thursday morning.

"Phase I of the bond will cover all construction on space already leased in the Plaza," Raymond said.

"Phase II will cover any additional construction on the Plaza," the attorney added.

Already operating in the Sanford Plaza are Publix Super Market, Eckard Drugs, a gift shop, barber shop and an appliance shop.

Waiting for completion of construction are J. C. Penney's, McCrory's, a beauty shop, paint store and automatic laundry.

Water Shut Off Temporarily
Residents of the Queen's Mirror South section of Casselberry trying to brush their teeth after 11:30 Monday night were surprised to find they were without water.

The Casselberry utilities crews chose this late hour between 11:30 p. m. and 2:30 a. m. to tie in the Queen's Mirror plant the new eight-inch water pipe being laid along Winter Park Drive in order not to inconvenience the residents.

The larger pipe will provide better service. When the crew reaches Queen's Mirror, crews one night this week they again will be working the late shift as it will be necessary to cut the water off for a short period.

Jax Woman Slain; Eskimo Is Sought

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A woman was beaten and then stabbed to death with an 11-inch butcher knife in the Florida home of her suburban home here late Tuesday night.

The body of Mrs. Gladys Marie Hood, 43, was found lying in a pool of blood by her 16-year-old son, Ronald. The knife handle was protruding from her chest.

Police and FBI agents immediately intensified their search for Albert Tahl, 26, accused rapist and murderer from California believed to be in North Florida.

No motive could be established for the act immediately although nothing seemed to be missing from the house.

Mrs. Hood's husband, Edsel Hood, is supervisor for a liquor concern and was reportedly out checking on a store at the time of the murder.

The State Highway Patrol and the FBI were warned Tuesday to be on the lookout for Tahl, a round-faced part-Eskimo who is known to be armed.

He is wanted in connection with the April 1 murder of a San Diego (Calif.) couple, the rape of a woman the same day in San Diego, and for questioning in the murder of a Dallas man April 26.

D. K. Brown, chief of the Jacksonville FBI Bureau, described Tahl as "sadtistic." He has crew cut hair and a tattoo of a flying dragon on his left arm.

Tahl was last seen hitchhiking in Mobile, Ala., enroute to Florida.

County Asks Causeway Study

The State Road Department will be requested to do a feasibility report on realigning U.S. 17-92 across Lake Monroe.

Seminole County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously to ask the state for the study which would route 17-92 from north of Orange City to the Enterprise Road through Deltona.

At the lake, the highway would be routed over a four-lane causeway connecting with French Avenue in downtown Sanford.

Cost of the four-lane and causeway is estimated in excess of $5 million with $3.5 million alone being expended on the Lake Monroe causeway.

The commission took the action on the recommendation of John Krider, executive manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Krider said at the present time all traffic approaching Orange City on U.S. 17-92 is directed to I-4 because the present highway is substandard in this area.

He also pointed out that Gov. Haydon Burns proposed $300 million bond issue includes four-lane U.S. 17 from Duval County to Baldwin in Putnam County. U.S. 17-92 already is four-lane from Orange City through Deltona to Lake Monroe.

Krider said the Chamber is now studying the causeway route through Deltona in North Florida. The route is a shortcut around Washington to Philadelphia and New York.

Cost of four-lane U.S. 17-92 north of Orange City to the Enterprise Road and to the causeway would come from tolls and a pledge of secondary money.

The new route also would be aligned to connect with a new access road to the proposed East Central Florida University near Oviedo. The County Commission has requested in its secondary road program a feasibility study of a causeway across Lake Jessup for a direct route to the school site.

The bill was introduced by Duval Reps. George Stallings and Lynwood Arnold and it triggered an explosive protest from the Dale delegation, which threatened to oppose the Governor's $300 million highway construction bond program if the Dale splitting bill was okayed.

Miami Beach and Hialeah, whose mayors are outspoken opponents of Dale's metro government, would become "Miami Beach County" and "Kennedy County" if the bill is approved.

The compromise spending bill contained several surprises. Among them was a provision that authorizes the general phasing out of Florida A & M's Law School.

Russ Probe Moon Landing

MOECOW (UPI)—The Soviet Union announced its unmanned 14-ton space probe would reach the moon's surface at 10:15 p.m. (8:15 p.m. EDT) today.

A successful "soft" landing would give the Russians a four-month lead over the United States in the moon race.

The probe, known as the Luna 5, has been streaking toward the moon for two days. The Russians said they would try soft landing techniques as opposed to previous probes when space vehicles crashed into the moon.

The probe would try a soft landing system but it appeared to have an escape clause in case the landing failed.

The announcement said only that "elements of the system of soft landing are being tried out for the first time."

The Russian probe is to send back signals from the landing site "in the area of the Sea of Clouds."

The Russian announcement was enough to confirm speculation that the mission of the Luna 5 was more ambitious than anything yet attempted by the United States.

More GI Troops Land At Saigon

SAIGON (UPI)—Nearly 1,400 U. S. Marines and 1,000 paratroopers landed in South Viet Nam today, raising U. S. military strength here to a record 45,000 men.

There were indications, meanwhile, that the Viet Cong had suffered a costly defeat in the field.

A Viet Cong force estimated in the thousands attacked and captured for seven hours the provincial town of Song Be, 75 miles northeast of Saigon Tuesday, in what was believed to be the prelude to a moon-son season Communist offensive.

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—

A successful soft landing on the moon by Russia's Luna 5 probe today would give the Soviet Union more than a four-month lead over the United States.

America's first attempt to land a spacecraft gently on the lunar surface is now scheduled for early October. The initial U. S. lunar lander, the first of four Project Surveyor test models, will weigh about 2,250 pounds—a half ton less than Russia's scientific instruments. But Surveyor-1 will be equipped with two television cameras—one to photograph the moon during the craft's approach and the other to scan the lunar landscape after landing.

Luna 5—and will carry no

Three later Surveyors, set for launch in 1967, will carry a third camera and a full complement of scientific equipment to sample and analyze the moon's crust, detect moonquakes, count meteoroids and measure the hardness of the moon's surface.

The United States moved ahead in moon exploration with three successful Ranger television probes that produced a total of 17,259 unique pictures of the lunar surface.

The last in the series, Ranger-9, hit within 2.7 miles of its pinpoint target in the crater Alphonsus on March 24.

Rangers' photographs, which were made available to Soviet scientists, showed that the moon is smooth enough for lunar landings.

But it is up to Surveyor, and possibly Luna 5, to see if the lunar surface is hard enough.
