Bill Allowing 18-Year-Olds To Vote Passed

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 18.—(P)—The Florida Senate today approved by a 22 to 10 vote a bill to broaden the state sales tax and bring in $17,500,000 more to the state each year. The bill takes off these percent tax exemptions on such items as clothing, meat, medicine, candy. It also strengthens many collection methods.

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 18.—(P)—A proposal to let 18-year-olds vote in Florida sailed through the House with a 77-13 vote today after an Army sergeant on leave to serve in the legislature drew applause for his speech in behalf of it.

Rep. William of Citrus County, who often shows up for House sessions in his Army uniform, declared youths old enough for Army service not only should be allowed to vote—"They should have priority."

He told the House he had scores of youths serving with him and under him in a combat Army unit and he knew his son would be leading some of them to their deaths.

"They're not going to be President of the United States right now but they're going to give their lives for you," he declared. "What else can a man give?" Williams drew an ovation, not common in the House, as he returned to his seat.

The measure, which now goes to the Senate, would let the people vote on the question at the

Reds Give Ground Stubbornly As Allied Offensive Grinds Forward

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, Apr. 18.—(P)—Ally troops advanced 2,000 to 3,000 yards on the west Korean front today behind heavy air and artillery attacks.

The Reds gave that ground—1 1/2 to 2 miles—grudgingly.

The big gains were north and southeast of Chorwon, a five highway hub about 10 miles inside Red Korea.

One Allied infantry team pushed up a valley road within two miles of the rubble city. The doughboys met Chinese mortar and seven miles southeast of Chorwon, etc.

Wednesday's gains carried the war all the way to the eighth miles south of Chorwon.

A tank force lunged into the west but they stood and fought for Hwachon, the eastern base of the Chorwon-Kumho-Hwachon triangle.

Two Allied thrusts at the Hwachon dam were turned back Wednesday.

One was a frontal attack on the dam itself. The other was a flanking movement along the Duljin River east of the dam. Both bogged down under heavy Communist fire.

South Korean forces fought a five hour battle with 200 North Korean Reds on the east central front elsewhere in the rolling hills around Inje. Allied units straightened and readjusted their lines.

The Reds retreated slowly in the west but they stood and fought for Hwachon, the eastern base of the Chorwon-Kumho-Hwachon triangle.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

We cannot pick and choose what taxes we will pay and what we will not pay. Some think themselves wise in assessing Christ's teaching in this regard.
Is it lawful to give tribute to caesar or not? Mat. 22:17.

Truman Gives Tito Another $29
Million—headline: "Give" is good.
But not Truman; it was the taxpayers.

We see where the American Bar Association urges the passage of laws to curb crime. Well, we curb everything else in this country, we don't see why we shouldn't curb crime.

It seems to us it was a little bit like adding insult to injury for President Truman to assign General Vaughn as his representative to meet General MacArthur at the National Airport.

We in Florida do not pay the highest pensions in the United States to our dependent aged;
in fact, we are near the bottom of the ladder in this respect, but we do pay among the highest state taxes. State taxes took $67 from every man, woman, and child in Florida last year. But the average for the other 47 states was $59.70. State officials can probably explain why we do not get as much for our money as other states.

Former Governor Thompson of Georgia, who has been on the federal payroll for the past 12 weeks at $53.48 a day, or better than $300 a week, has resigned because he didn't have anything to do.
He was supposed to be a consultant
in the Office of Price Stabilization, but he found "official Washington is drifting in such a sea of confusion, inefficiency, waste and extravagance" that after three months of nothing to do he could stand it no longer.

Opposition to Truman's foreign policies are said to be undermining this country among our "friends" abroad, but we often wonder what crime, graft and corruption does to our country's reputation in the foreign capitals of the world.
Spruille Braden, former American ambassador to Argentina and long a power in the State Department under President Roosevelt, says governmental immorality is destroying the confidence of other nations in America. "The decline in official morals and manners is losing friends and influencing people against us," he told the New York Rotary Club the other day.

A civil defense act has been introduced in the Legislature which in the event of war would make the Governor a dictator with powers absolutely without precedent in the history of this country. He would be able to make laws simply by writing them out and filing them with the Secretary of State. He would be able to confiscate all means of transportation and communication (that means newspapers) all buildings and plants, all stocks of fuel, food, clothing, equipment, medicines and other supplies. In the event of war we don't know whom we have to fear the most, the Russians or the Governor.

General Omar Bradley supports the Truman Far Eastern policy in a talk before the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters in Chicago recently. If he was speaking for Bradley, and not merely repeating something Truman had ordered him to say, we have great respect for his remarks.
But if he was speaking for Bradley, and honestly expressing his opinion on American foreign policy in the Far East, he should have been more careful.

Off With The Handcuffs

Many fine tributes have been written about General MacArthur since he was summarily dismissed by President Truman a few days ago. And in this day of "five percenters", "deep freezers and mink coats", RFC favoritism, Alger Hiss and Julius Rosenberg, even the General's bitterest enemies have been able to say nothing worse about him than that he wears scrambled eggs on his cap and struts sitting down.

"MacArthur, who saw what was coming in the Far East, started asking for men and materials years ago," writes Henry McLemore, a nonpolitical newspaper columnist. "To know what he got one only has to recall the pathetic flight of our troops at the start of the Korean war. A handful of gallant men fighting with weapons of the pea-shooter sort."

next general election. Extension of the vote to the 18-year-olds requires an amendment to the State Constitution.

The legislative council approved a broad measure which would overhaul and rewrite Florida's State welfare laws.

The act sets up a State Department of Public Welfare operating under a State Welfare Board.
Director of the department would be hired by the board rather than by the governor as at present.

Seven members would make up the board. They would be appointed by the governor, one from each present congressional district and one from the state at large. The director shall not be a member of the board.

The bill provides that children whose parents die will still support their parents and that parents take care of their children when they have the money.

Welfare districts and district boards would be abolished. County welfare advisory committees would be appointed by the governor and such groups would occasionally review all cases where public assistance is sought.

James Thurber has written another book called, "The Thirteen Clocks." It is a tall tale, complete with the exceptional and weird, but adding that inimitable Thurber touch which distinguishes it from just "any fairy tale." Thurber confounded many of his readers with this newest release.

There lived a Duke whose oddness was his chief attribute. He had a nice, Saratoga, the only thing warm and good within his castle. In order for any weeked of his life to succeed, it was necessary for the Duke to travel to some distant land.

Klaus Pitches Six Innings As Giants Lose To Islanders

Three Sanford Hurters Shelled As Daytona Wins 13 To 7; Petty Hits Homer

By ED HARPER

Sanford Giants' skipper Richie Klaus came in from shortstop to pitch last night after three Sanford hurlers had given up ten runs in three innings to a hard hitting group of Daytona Beach Islanders.

In his six inning stint the Sanford manager reached for only three hits and allowed two runs across although he walked the first man he faced to push in another Daytona score.

The Islanders won 13 to 7, but the local club outhit them 12 to 11—a phenomenon that's likely to be frequent until the young pitchers gain some measure of control.

Oklahoma's Don Deatherage started well for the Giants giving up one hit in the first inning and setting the Daytona Beach club down in order for the second.

Then the dam broke. Four runs across the plate in the top of the third as Deatherage gave up two singles and three bases on balls before his fellow Okie and roommate Darrell Thacker came in to relieve him. Thacker pitched to five batters allowing three walks, a double and a single and being charged with two of the eighth runs the Islanders collected in the disastrous inning.

The Giants watched three more tallies cross in the 4th, one in the 5th and another in the 8th on a home run drive home run by Paul Gross.

The local club took an early two run lead after Theriau walked in the first, was forced by Wilson who stole second and came in on Joe Parise's single. Klaus singled and Tim Dolan, who was relieved by Sal Lupo in the third because of a painful leg injury sustained in spring training, singled him home.

Fred Petty added another Giant tally in the third inning blasting a solo home run over the left center field fence.

But the Giants, who had no difficulty with the offerings of Daytona pitcher Buddy Young, were unable to overcome the early 11 run lead piled up by Islanders in the third and fourth innings.

A desperation rally in the 8th had Daytona hurler Mike Treach warming up another hurler but Young tightened up to set the Giants down after four runs had crossed.

Fred Petty, Joe Parise and Eddie Klaus hit three consecutive singles to open the inning and Petty came in when Young gave up a free pass to Don Bailey.

Al Neville, who came in to play right field when Klaus took over the lead, Petty moved to third and Sholten to short, singled after Bob Sholten drove in Joe Parise with a long fly ball to left. Klaus came home on a single by Frank

Korean War

Washington Post Page One
grinding United Nations attack
Reds. Korea's Communists have thrown the Chinese and Korean Communists completely off balance. Chinese war prisoners said the Reds' spring offensive was set for Apr. 11. That was one week ago. The Reds still are committing their troops piecemeal in rear-guard delaying actions.

It was evident in several spots that the Reds either were pulling back to new defense positions or reeling from the terrific U.N. air and artillery attacks.

U.S. Fifth Air Force planes pounded Red troop positions and supply bases all day Wednesday.

Two tanks were destroyed near Charyong. Rail lines were cut in many places. Pilots reported several field gun positions knocked out and many Communist troops killed or wounded.

U.S. Eighth Army headquarters said an estimated 1,500 Communist troops were killed or wounded Tuesday in ground action alone.

Allied Naval forces Tuesday pounded coast and west coast targets with naval gunfire and carrier planes.

The New York Times said the day included one bridge, 17 box cars and nine warehouses destroyed. Marine fliers working in close support of ground troops attacked Red troops' gun positions and road traffic.

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—The Florida Senate today ordered the State Welfare board to give the blind a state agency the names of persons receiving aid for blindness. A resolution by Senators Collins of Tallahassee, Haynard of St. Petersburg and Franklin of Fort Myers said a Senate committee had been advised that some 500 persons getting welfare benefits could be rehabilitated by the Florida council for the blind.

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—A bill requiring state officials or employees who make more than $4,500 a year to file copies of their income tax returns with the secretary of state was introduced by Rep. Neomith of Wakulla today. He said the requirement would promote honest government by making it possible to find out if state workers may have "received bribes or graft from persons who would endeavor to cause such officials to do their duty, betray the public trust or forsake for private gain the public interest and give their loyalty to others than the general public."

TALLAHASSEE, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—The Florida House, warned that a governor could virtually "steel the dome off the capitol" while the legislature isn't in session, today approved a proposal in which legislators call themselves into special

Judge M. B. Smith Defers Ruling On Terminal Bonds

Judge Millard B. Smith announced late yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of a hearing in regard to the validity of issuing in $350,000 worth of port terminal bonds that he would reserve his ruling for a time and take the case under advisement.

The date for further hearing on the matter was not set by Judge Smith, said City Attorney A. Edwin Shinholler this morning, but it was indicated by the Judge that he will call a hearing when he has thoroughly reviewed the arguments.

The motion of the City as petitioners to strike the answer of a group of intervenors seeking to block the bond issue was argued by Mr. Shinholler and G. W. Spencer.

Fred Wilson, D. C. Hull of Daytona and Compton French of Daytona Beach presented the arguments for the intervenors.

Among the matters raised in the answer of the intervenors were questions as to the legality of the publication of notice prior to legislative enactment on the terminal bond issue. The act itself, if as adopted by the City Commission, was questioned as to legality, as was also the City's power to pledge parking meter funds, said Mr. Shinholler.

The City, he added, sought to establish the validity of all of the proceedings and in this regard the City counsel referred to court decisions on related bond issues in other cities in Florida.

Hope Of Finding Submarine Crew Alive Dwindles

Object Described As Possibly The Affray Round In Channel

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Apr. 19.—(UPI)—A rescue ship made contact today with an object which might be the submarine "Affray" trapped on the bottom of the English Channel, but headlined said it had little hope any of the 75 officers and men aboard were still alive.

A diver was sent to the bottom to find out whether the object found in the sand wave contact might be the submarine which became stuck under 198 feet of water after a practice dive Monday night. The point was about four and half miles southwest of where the "Affray" should have submerged—about a mile off her course.

J. J. Callaghan, Parliamentary Secretary to the British Admiralty, announced this, but said at the same time "hopes that any lives will now be saved are dwindling."

The Admiralty said earlier it had no reason for arousing hope that any of the men aboard now would be found alive.

Opposition was also voiced to a bill which would prohibit women from working at night. She stated the requirements of women who hold public offices and listed among these, government and commercial areas and a full day.

Mr. Cari Prince announced that the final dinner meeting of the B. and P.W. Club will be held tonight at 7:15 o'clock at the Montezuma Hotel.

Also announced was the notice of the special game between the Orlando and Sanford baseball clubs at Orlando on Apr. 30, proceeds of which will go toward the purchase of a mobile fire unit for the Orlando B. and P.W. club.

Mrs. V. H. Grantham was introduced as a new member.

SENATOR Vandenberg Dies

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Apr. 19.—(UPI)—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg died last night.

Death came quietly to Michigan's Republican senior Senator after a long illness of 27 days following his sixtieth birthday.

Senator Vandenberg had been fighting tenaciously to regain his health since surgery October 1, 1949, for removal of the upper lobe of his left lung. The operation was performed at University of Michigan hospital, Ann Arbor.

He recovered and returned briefly to his Senate duties. In April of 1950 he underwent a second major operation at Washington's Georgetown Hospital for removal of a tumor from his spine.

WHAT'S IN A NAME

PITTSBURGH, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—The police want no more complaints from this Joe.

His full name gags up the words.

The cops heard from him last night about his stolen auto license plates.

But by the time his telephone complaint was entered, passed along to operators and moved over the teletype, the confused department teetered on something like chaos.

This is the name that was the cause of it all—Joseph Niestodzowski.

Limited Allied Attacks Probe Chinese Lines

American Troops Pour Into Area Around Captured Hwachon, Rain Slows Advance

TOKYO, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—Allied troops today launched a limited attack north of the newly captured Hwachon power dam and reservoir on the east-central front in North Korea.

The Allies seized the big hydroelectric grid Wednesday after Reds who had defended it stubbornly for days slipped away to the north.

Thousands of Allied doughboys poured into the dam and reservoir area. United Nations riflemen struck north from Hwachon at the west end of the reservoir. They traded fire with an enemy group of undisclosed strength but later withdrew.

Chinese Reds pulled back all along the central front in the mountainous area west of the reservoir.

Rain, smoke and haze impeded air patrols far ahead of their lines in those craggy heights without opposition.

Heavy rain slowed the Allied push on the western front.

Chinese mounted a daylight company-sized counterattack 10 miles inside Red Korea north of Yonington.

Allied artillery and a late afternoon air strike threw back the Chinese.

U. S. forces inched forward up the last hillcrest before Chorwon, the airfield south of the dam. Other Allied troops moved Chorwon southeast of Chorwon and 16 air miles inside the redland.

Behind front lines, American engineers and Korean road crews were working day and night to weatherproof roads against the heavy rains soon due.

There was no official explanation for the sudden Red pullback that permitted the Allies to take over the Hwachon dam and reservoir.

Eight of the dam's 16 floodgates were still open. The dam is 880 feet long and 250 feet high. It backs up water for 11 miles and once was a major source of power.

Ridgway Warns Of Imminent Threat Of 3rd World War

Commander Tells New Division To Be Prepared For Battle

SENDAI, Japan, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—General Matthew B. Ridgway, new United Nations commander, warned today that the United States is "under imminent threat of war."

On his first inspection trip to Supreme Commander, Ridgway told the 223rd Regiment of California's newly arrived 40th Division:

"To all intents and purposes you're here in war."

"We stand under the imminent threat of war which can be unleashed at the time and place of choosing of other people."

"However good you think you are, and I know you are good, you've got a long way to go to reach the standard of veteran (American) seasoned combat troops who are just across the water. I am confident you'll use every minute of the time you've got because you don't know when I don't know when the chips will be down."

The 200-mile trip from Tokyo never inspected a Japan garrison.

Prosecution Not Planned For Stone Of Scone Thieves

LONDON, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—Scots who swiped Britain's Coronation Stone of Scone committed "a vulgar act of vandalism," Attorney General Sir Hartley Shawcross said today, but he told the House of Commons he doesn't have any body arrested for it.

The Stone, upon which Britain's kings have been crowned for centuries, was turned over to a church caretaker in Atherton, Scotland, by unidentified Scots about a week ago. It had been the object of a nationwide search ever since it was snatched from Westminster Abbey 107 days before.

Shawcross said "three of four ardent Scottish Nationalists link" the theft with the recent political implication, but he said he did not think the public interest required direct criminal prosecution.

The Stone, known in Scots as "Scotland's Stone of Destiny," was looted from Scone Abbey in 1296 and brought to England. Scots, whose rulers for eight centuries had been crowned while seated on the Stone, never let up in their demands for its return. But the English regard its rightful place as Westminster Abbey.

Text Of MacArthur Speech

WASHINGTON, Apr. 19.—(UPI)—A stenographic transcript of General Douglas MacArthur's address to Congress today follows:

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker and distinguished members of the Congress: I stand on this rostrum with a sense of deep humility and kindly in the wake of those great American architects of our history who have stood here before me, made in the reflection that this form of legislative debate represents human liberty in the purest form yet devised.

Here we entered the hopes and aspirations and failures of the United States.

I do not stand here as advocate for any partisan cause; the issues are fundamental and reach quite beyond the realm of partisan considerations. They must be resolved on the highest plane of national interest if our cause is to prove sound and our future protected.

I trust, therefore, that you will do me the justice of receiving that which I have to say as solely expressing the considered viewpoint of a fellow American.

I address you with neither rancor nor bitterness in the fading twilight of life, with but one purpose in mind, to serve my country.
