Beepless in Seminole

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Are you having trouble reaching the rest of the world today? Well, so is the rest of the world. A communications fall-out is currently going on, and you can thank an out-of-control satellite for it.

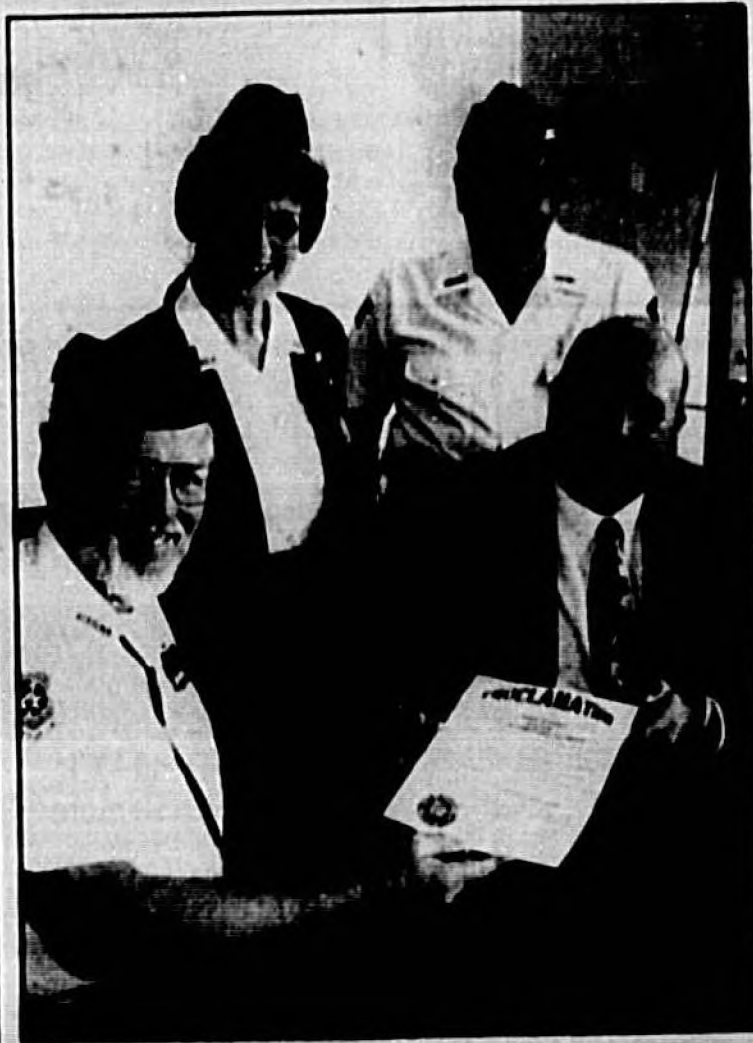

Pagers around the world will be silenced for a day at the most. From fire departments to hospitals, people will have to resort to other means to get a message across. Galaxy 4 is the name of the satellite and its malfunction began after 6 p.m. Tuesday.

"More than being an inconvenience, I don't think its going to be a problem at this time," said Sgt. Darrell Presley of the Sanford Police Department. "We don't anticipate any [problems]. Presley estimates 95% of the pagers are out. However, the police department will rely on cell phones and home numbers for communications with the officers.

Linda Breum, director of quality resource for the Central Florida Regional Hospital, said that they became aware of the problem around 5 p.m. last night. She said they have taken care of the problem by notifying those to stay near a regular phone line or cell phone. They are even using the old paging system to alert personnel.

Broadcasting systems are also feeling the affects of Galaxy 4's "spin off". Steve Row- Please See Pages, Page 3A

Smog alert blankets Central Florida

By Nick Pfeiffus
 HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Webster defines smog as, "A noxious mixture of fog and smoke." Central Floridians became abruptly acquainted with smog as they awoke this morning.

Health officials in the local area and mostly toward the southern part of the state issued the first "smog alert" in the history of Florida. They are cautioning people to avoid strenuous outdoor activities and the use of gas powered vehicles.

All residents, especially the elderly and young children, and all persons who may have some type of breathing difficulties and possible lung problems are being urged to remain indoors today.

The suggested avoidance time is from 11 a.m. until at least 7 p.m., but others are advising people to remain indoors for all daylight hours. Even healthy persons are being asked to refrain from overworking outdoors including lawn mowing, outdoor sports activities, construction, and other endeavors which may result in heavy breathing.

Over the past years there have been a number of cases when this area of the state has had foggy skies all day, most of them were the result of smoke caused by forest fires. The smoke disappeared as soon as the wind increased however, and the problem was generally not serious.

This time, the villain is ozone. Webster says ozone is, "an unstable, pale-blue gas with a penetrating odor. It is an allotropic form of oxygen, formed usually by a silent electrical discharge in air."

Florida motorists are urged to early morning fog. At certain times of the year, they can practically count on driving to work with fog lights on and exercising extreme caution. The fog however, dissipates by the time the full sun has climbed above the level of the horizon.

Bush woos local GOP luminaries

By Tony Tizze
 HERALD CORRESPONDENT

ORLANDO - Jeb Bush returned to Central Florida this week to continue his campaign for governor. In addition to visiting several parts of the community, a highlight of his trip was as keynote speaker for the much anticipated, Lincoln Day Dinner which was held on May 14 at the Omni Hotel in Orlando.

The Lincoln Day Dinner is an annual affair and a major Central Florida event. It might be interesting to note that Abraham Lincoln was the first winning presidential candidate of the Republican party in 1860. The party began in 1854. Early on, Republicans were united by their opposition to the expansion of slavery, and were credited for ending it.

The annual Lincoln Day Dinner is also a joint project of both the Orange and Seminole County's Republican Executive Committees. It gives these local groups a launching pad for the year's political events. This year there is an even bigger price at stake, the governor's office.

For Florida's dominant political party, the Republicans, that presents an opportunity. Judging from the enthusiastic audience of approximately 600 people, that opportunity is not taken lightly. Congressman Bill McCollum helped start things off by saying, "to have your guest speaker, Jeb Bush, here today is too good to be true."

Dunn says CCIB agents beat him up, mom files complaint

Jason Dunn, 26, is hospitalized after arrest by CCIB agents.

By Russ White
 HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Last weekend was a busy one for City County Investigative Bureau agents, who made 40 arrests in Seminole County.

One of them has created a stir, and is being reviewed by the Seminole County Sheriff's Office.

The mother of 26-year-old Jason Dunn, who was arrested around 5 p.m. Saturday on 25th Street, filed a complaint

Tuesday that Dunn was the victim of physical battery with criminal and unprofessional behavior from a half dozen or more CCIB agents.

Peni Hecksel also charged that the agents withheld information from a medical team that treated her son and this resulted in delayed an improper care that could have led to death.

Dunn, a Sanford mechanic, had his crushed spleen removed and had to have his lung reinflated and needed drugs to counteract the rock cocaine he swallowed during his arrest by the CCIB agents.

"My son has a history of drug addiction but this doesn't justify what they did," Hecksel said. "They didn't have to try to kill him. And why did it take seven to 10 officers to arrest one man?"

Dunn said from his room at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford that he didn't have time to resist the arrest. "They came in from behind me in a van and piled on," he said.

"How could I resist?"

Chief Deputy Steve Harriett said Dunn has been charged with possession of cocaine and possibly will be charged for attempting to sell it. Dunn allegedly offered to sell an undercover agent a piece of crack cocaine that he had inside his mouth. No sale was completed. The agent called in the other CCIB agents.

During his scuffle with the agents, Dunn swallowed the cocaine despite efforts by the See Dunn, Page 3A

Lois Pugh turns 100

Friends are invited to celebrate her centennial

By Mary Howell
 HERALD CORRESPONDENT

It was the year H. G. Wells published "War of the Worlds" that there was a gold rush in the Klondike. It was also the year Lois Marian Fringe Pugh was born.

May 23, 1898, Lois Pugh was born in East Liverpool, Ohio. Lois came to central Florida in her early teens and lived near Lake Golden near the Sanford Airport. She graduated from Sanford High School in 1915 and soon returned to Ohio. On Sept. 1, 1917, she married Harvey Pugh in Lakewood, Ohio. They would remain married for 75 years. Harvey died shortly after their 75th anniversary in 1993.

The couple came back to Florida in 1930 and operated a filling station and garage on the corner of Country Club and Crystal Lake Ave. With the advent of World War II, they moved to Charles City South, Florida where Harvey was a machinist in the Navy yard. After the war, they returned to Lake Mary and reopened their business.

Lois and Harvey were both very notable in building Lake Mary into a city. Lois is a Charter Member of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary. Harvey built the first fire truck for Lake Mary. The fire truck was also one of the first in the area.

Lois joined the First Presbyterian Church in Lake Mary on Easter Sunday in 1961. Until a few months ago, she walked to church every Sunday morning.

In 1961, she was honored with a lifetime membership by the Lakeshore Women.

Lois is also an honorary lifetime member of the Lake Mary Historical Commission. She was a charter member of the Lake Mary Garden Club and was an avid gardener when she lived at home.

Heartfelt thanks

Ephesians, Chapter 5, Verse 20: Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.

It is with this thought in mind that I would like to offer this note in thanks for all those who aided or supported me through the tornado on Feb. 23, 1998 which destroyed my home of 70 years. Reference to article published in the Seminole Herald, Sunday, March 22, by Senior Editor Doris Dietrich.

First and foremost I thank "almighty God and His son Jesus Christ" who spared my life and sustained me in the first hours.

Also: Buddy Mason, my next door neighbor who called 911; The Seminole County Dept. of Public Safety Asst. Chief J.C. Johnson, his helper and his staff who came and removed me from the rubble and to safety at the fire station.

My daughter, Pauline Madden and Carlton Windham who picked me up and took me to their home and cared for me.

Donald F. Ealinger, sheriff of Seminole County and Herb Bailey, deputy sheriff, District Four and their staff for the protection and assistance for aiding the family and friends during this crucial time and all of Seminole County during the salvaging and the cleanup of the property.

Kirk Middleston, chief fire inspector of Seminole County and Ira Barrow, team leader District 1, Public Works Dept. Road Division, and their staffs for their assistance and for clearing of debris.

Doris Dietrich, senior editor, for her compassion and the article she published. The Salvation Army's Robbi Nelson, The American Red Cross, Wal-Mart, Presbyterian Church, AT&T, Pet Control, Farm Bureau, the Post Office and mail carrier on S. Sipes Avenue. The inmates of Seminole County Jail for their labor.

The Briar Corporation for totally removing the remains of the house and all the debris from the property.

Beitone, Mark Selis, BC-HIS for his compassion and donation of hearing aids and his staff for their endeavor in returning my hearing.

My sons, Del and Robert who provided love, aid and support and my grandson Craig.

To Ariene Clark for her Christian love and support and supplying food.

To Ariene's daughters, Linda, Deborah and Diane, her son Matt and granddaughter Alicia and Jonathan.

As Jesus said in Matthew, Chapter 25, Verse 40: "In as much as you have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, you have done it unto me."

To all the neighbors and friends whom I haven't mentioned, especially the young man and his mother from Cameron City.

Unto God we give the honor, the glory and the praise. Thank you, Offie E. Hasty Sanford

Chronic scourge should take a hike

On Tuesday, April 28, 1998 I took a hike through the Little Big Econ State Forest to the river, off Snowhill Road. The field to the river was full of wildflowers and meadow larks. You know the exact place, because I found your belongings along side the river; your 12-pack of empty Icehouse beer cans and assorted fishing debris you left behind. Just when I thought I had cleaned up your trash, I came across yet another pile of your empty beer cans left farther along the river.

I am certain you had a wonderful time next to the river, you came there for the pristine beauty and serenity it offers each of us. I noticed you did not go to the land fill for this peaceful experience so why would you leave the riverside resembling the dump?

Your trash weighed considerably less to pack out, than it did to pack in. And in fact, had you crushed the cans, you would have been able to pack them out effortlessly and dropped them off at the Handyway gas station on S.R. 46 on the way home. Which brings me to another observation, considering the numbers of empty beer cans it would be a safe assumption you were considerably under the influence while driving. Both driving under the influence and littering carries harsh consequences.

The term "Litter bug" is far too soft a label for those who find it unattractive, inconvenient, or uncool to pack their litter home. Possibly the term "Chronic Scourge" would fit more appropriately. Susan Kalrys-Coursech Sierra Club Central Florida Group

Your phone call can help Florida's children

Can Lake Mary top itself?

LAKE MARY - What's next for Lake Mary? As school comes to a close, think about this year in Lake Mary sports.

An unprecedented third state championship in girls sports.

A baseball district regular- and postseason championship when no one expected it.

A bonus basketball appearance in state regionals.

A boys soccer trip to regionals.

A undefeated boys tennis team and one of the best boys golf teams in the state.

There's more but you get the picture.

Everyone else has been in the spotlight recently, so let's talk about softball today. Was there any doubt at all that the Rams would find a way to win state? Did anyone think the softball team would sink into oblivion instead of equalling the feats of the girls basketball and soccer teams?

No way.

Not when you have three of the top pitchers in Central Florida and a lineup without weaknesses. Throw in a strong coach, and to mention a pitching coach who happens to have pitched in a men's professional baseball game, and you have all the ingredients for another title.

It's in the clutch hitting of Jackie Crispell who got every key hit down the stretch, pitcher Halle Sowards who emerged as the ace of the rotation, and you get a state championship.

See, those Lake Mary students must be getting tired of missing class to attend state championship pep rallies.

The amazing thing about the recent run of the Rams is that all three of the state champs should be leading again next year. In basketball, Lake Mary loses only one starter. In soccer, four players graduate and almost everyone is back to defend in softball.

Is it something in the water?

No, it's more than that. The players were the ones with the championship jackets and trophies, but it goes deeper at Lake Mary.

Start with a booster club that provides awesome facilities and the means to support a first-class program.

Tuan in Raymond Gaines, a principal who attends every game and represents the fact that the kids have the support of the faculty, many of whom showed up at every game.

Then add a group of parents who support their kids in a sportsmanlike manner (and help fill the booster club's coffers).

Lastly, don't forget the players. It's rare that you hear about a player being ineligible for a sport at Lake Mary. Sure, it happens, but not too often. Usually, when people talk about Lake Mary student athletes, they are talking about the honor roll. There are some athletic teams at Lake Mary - and at every other school in the county - that can boast of over 90 percent of its players with a GPA over 3.0.

The Rams put on a class act, and in 1987-88, it has been proven.

Last Second Shot: How can Jim Loyland, one of Florida's best class acts, stay with the Florida Marlins, a team that isn't even trying? Loyland doesn't deserve to be remembered or have his record tarnished by the idiot who runs the franchise.

Good to the last out

Women's softball games decided in dramatic fashion

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - What a great night of softball. Three games, two decided by one run and a total of five runs between the six teams, and the winning run scored in the final inning of two of the three games, one in extra innings.

Such was the action in the Sanford Recreation Department Women's Spring Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park Tuesday night.

Vaughan Incorporated scored five runs in the fourth inning, but had two withstand a four-run bottom of the seventh inning by Curt's Alleycats to win 6-5; Marie Byrd's two-out single in the top of the eighth inning capped a two-run inning as W.D. Associates upset the Sharks 12-11; and Rose Williams' grand slam capped a five-run seventh inning as Sunniland Corporation held off the Eagles 10-7.

The Sharks and Sunniland Corporation are both 3-1 and lead the Eagles and Curt's Alley-

Then on Saturday at Zinn Beck Field, the Locke and Cleveland combined to strike out five, walk three and not allow a runner past first base as the Moose Lodge-Pirates blanked the Dean, Ringers, Morgan and Lawton PA-Marlins 14-0.

In the other game last Thursday at Zinn Beck Field, Curt Scott, Dustin Annett and Mario Sims combined on a four-hitter as the Rotary Club-Athletics beat the Kwanza Club-Indians 7-3.

In the other Saturday game at Zinn Beck Field, the Elks Clean-Red Sox were outted 8-to-1 by the Kwanza Club-Indians, but walks and errors allowed the Red Sox to score 11 runs, while the Indians could only push across eight runs.

SANFORD - The Redwings-Duke softball team finished its season with a 2-0 record in the Sanford Recreation Department Babe Ruth Baseball League action at Ray Heller Junior Field on Saturday.

The Cubs never trailed the Play It Again Sports-Yankees, but they only led 6-4 after three innings of play.

But the longer leaders were not about to be upset on this day, ending the game by the Red Sox by plating eight runs in the bottom of the fourth inning.

Things did not go so well for the White Sox as they fell behind the First Union-Athletics 4-2 after three innings.

The White Sox looked like they would rally back for the victory as they scored three runs in the fourth inning to regain the lead and then added two runs in the fifth inning to take a 7-4 advantage.

The Athletics were not done, however, as they came up with four runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to pull off the upset, 6-7.

The Cubs are now 14-1 and have clinched the top seed from the American Division for the City Championship Series.

The White Sox, even though they will probably make the playoffs, are backsliding, having lost two in a row and winning the two previous games by only one run and have fallen to 11-4.

Completing the American Division standings are the Athletics (7-8) and the Yankees (5-12).

Beat the heat with outdoor cooking

When the temperature starts rising in Central Florida so do the electric bills to keep your house cooled down. If for no other reason, outdoor cooking makes sense. The fact that barbecuing is a year round activity in Florida is one of the great advantages of living here. While our friends from the north are shoveling snow from their patio, we are putting another steak on the grill.

The one problem that seems to occur with the BBQ is menu. Many cooks get stuck in a rut cooking the same items all the time. The truth is that there is almost no limit to the menu that can be prepared on your basic outdoor grill. You really do not need to own an expensive outdoor cooking unit. Any basic grill is capable of grilling, poaching, sauté, baking, or roasting. Your favorite dish inside is generally easily done outside with a little creativity. There are a number of great books available to help you improve your menu, and one of the best can be ordered from your local PBS TV station.

The following recipes are only a sample of the diverse selection of dishes that you can create outdoors.

Pork Pepper and Onion Kabobs
2 lbs. pork roast, boneless
3 medium onions (red and white)
3 medium sweet bell peppers
1/4 cup light soy sauce
1 tbs. onion and garlic powder
2 tbs. Tabasco sauce
2 tbs. honey
1 tbs. vinegar
1 tbs. olive oil
1 tsp. allspice
1/2 dry white wine

Trim off all excess fat from pork roast and cut into 1 inch cubes. Cut onions and peppers into chunks that are about the same size. Mix together all the remaining ingredients. Place meat into a covered dish and pour marinade sauce over the meat and cover for 3 hours. This can sit over night refrigerated if you prefer. Use long ka-bob skewers (16 to 18 inches long) start with pepper then onion then meat and continue alternating until skewer is full. Place skewers over an evenly spread layer of hot coals and cook at a medium temperature (see tip of the week). Use marinade for basting and turn kabobs occasionally to insure even cooking. Kabobs should be ready in about 20 minutes but make sure to check often after first 15 minutes so that they are not over or under cooked. This recipe will serve 4 people and you can use lamb or beef with the same marinade.

Price Breakdown: Pork Roast, Winn Dixie - $2.98/lb. $5.96; Peppers, Winn Dixie - $6.64 each $1.92; Onions, Winn Dixie - $5.58/lb. $7.44; All other ingredients - Approx. $1.00
TOTAL: $9.52

Grilled Bluefish w/Lemon Butter Sauce
1 cup butter
1/3 cup lemon juice
1 tbs. lemon zest
1 tbs. sugar
1 tsp. salt and white pepper
1/4 cup fresh chopped Italian parsley
4 bluefish, dressed 1 to 1-1/2 lb. each
Mix together all ingredients and heat until butter is just starting to bubble. Place bluefish into a folding wire grill rack. Coat fish with butter sauce and cook over a hot fire. Use sauce to coat frequently and turn often. Fish will cook in about 5 minutes so watch that you do not over cook them. This will serve four.

Price Breakdown: Gas and bait for a trip to the beach!!!

Lemon Barbecued Meat Loaves
1-1/2 lb. ground beef
1/2 lb. ground pork
2 cups Italian bread crumbs
1 large egg
1/2 cup tomato sauce
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup minced onion
1 tbs. minced garlic
1/3 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. dry mustard powder
1/2 tsp. salt and black pepper
1/4 tsp. clove and allspice powder
6 thin slices of lemon for garnish

Mix together beef, pork, bread crumbs, lemon juice, eggs, salt, pepper, and garlic in a large bowl. Divide mixture into six equal portions and form into oval shaped loaves. In a small bowl mix all other ingredients and spoon sauce over each loaf. Place loaves on a greased cookie sheet and cook in a covered grill for about 20 minutes at a medium heat (350 degrees F.). When cooked, remove from grill. Spoon remaining sauce over each loaf and place one lemon slice on top. This recipe will serve 6 people.

Grilled Vegetables
Slice zucchini, squash, and eggplant into 3/4 inch thick pieces. Cut red onion into 8 equal wedges. Paint both sides of all the vegetables with olive oil and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place directly onto a hot grill and cook for 3 minutes, per side.

Spry Brown Sauce
3 tbs. olive oil
1 can tomato soup
1 minced onion
2 tbs. vinegar

2 tbs. brown sugar
1 tbs. soy sauce
1 tsp. celery seed
1/2 tsp. cayenne
1/4 tsp. black pepper
Mix together all the ingredients and heat to a low simmer. Serve hot over lamb, beef or pork.

Honey BBQ Sauce
1 cup tomato sauce
1 minced onion
1/4 cup vinegar
1 tsp. paprika
2 tbs. dry mustard powder
1 minced clove garlic
1 tsp. chili powder
4 tbs. honey
1 cup water
Mix all ingredients and simmer slowly for 1/2 hour to reduce volume by half. This sauce can be served hot or cold.

Tip Of The Week
Always build your fire evenly across your cooking area and reserve an area with no coals to use to hold food while cooking. The most difficult thing to do in outdoor cooking is judging the grill temperature. An easy guide will help you control the cooking temperature of your grill. Hold your hand palm down 1 inch above the grill, if you can hold it there for 2 to 3 seconds (without burning yourself) your grill is at 375 degrees or hotter. Hold it for 4 seconds it is medium heat, 300 degrees, and for 5 to 6 seconds it is low 250 degrees.

Make sure your grill surface is clean and hot before you start to cook. Just before placing your food on the grill, spray the surface with a vegetable spray to keep it from sticking.

May all your meals be festive occasions!

Proper fertilization necessary for maintaining healthy palms

Proper fertilization is one of the most important factors in maintaining good palm health and appearance, especially on Florida's nutrient-poor soils. Most palm special fertilizers have an adequate N:P:K ratio and should provide a good balanced nutrition. But potassium deficiency often occurs, even in regularly fertilized palms. The problem with these fertilizers is that they contain controlled release nitrogen, but soluble forms of potassium. In a very short time, this soluble potassium is leached through the soil and beyond the reach of the palm roots. Meanwhile, the controlled release nitrogen continues to stimulate plant growth.

Current recommendations: Mature palms, with a well developed trunk, should receive a complete granular fertilizer formulated for palms ("palm special") four times per year at a rate of 5 to 8 lbs. each application. For palms under 8 feet tall, 2 to 5 lbs. of fertilizer per application should be adequate. Fertilizers should be broadcast or banded under the canopy of the palm but should not be placed up against the trunk where newly emerging roots may be injured.

GARDENING
AL FERRER

Research findings: Recent testing at the University of Florida Research facilities in south Florida have demonstrated that it is impossible to grow a palm free from nutrient deficiency symptoms, usually potassium or magnesium, or soluble salt injury on sandy south Florida soils when using fertilizers with these characteristics at the recommended rates.

New recommendations: Most water-soluble fertilizers, as in commercially-available palm special fertilizers, can be used more safely and effectively by applying them at rates of 1/2 to 2 lbs. per tree (depending on trunk or clump diameter) once a month. While this is still not as efficient as using a 100 percent controlled release fertilizer, it greatly reduces the problems of toxicity or deficiency associated with application of mostly water-soluble fertilizers at high rates every 3 to 4 months. A palm fertilizer palms with a 100 percent controlled release, such as Osmocote Plus for Florida, Florikan Total, and other equivalent products (these contain micronutrients, as well as N, P, and K) make good landscape palm fertilizers and are available in formulations that last up to a year. The release rates for most of these products are based on temperature (i.e., the higher the temperature, the faster the release). For Florida, always look for the 90 degree release rate, rather than one for cooler temperatures. These polymer-coated fertilizers are quite expensive, but because they are applied less frequently, application costs are lower than for the more soluble products.

Magnesium deficiency: Magnesium deficiencies are common throughout the state of Florida on a wide range of plants, including palms. Controlled release magnesium seems to be the obvious solution to this problem, but due to the physical properties of soluble magnesium salts, coating them had usually been unsuccessful. In acid soils, magnesium oxide and dolomite work very well as slow release magnesium sources, but these never release significant amounts of magnesium in the neutral to alkaline soils found in much of south Florida. Several fertilizer manufacturers have been working on this problem during the past few years and new products are being produced.

What's the word on home HIV tests?

DR. GOTT
PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am 30 and sexually active. Although I generally practice safe sex, I'm concerned about all the publicity regarding AIDS. What is your opinion about home-use HIV test kits?
DEAR READER: I am glad that you are concerned about AIDS and I applaud your commitment to safe sex. Try to practice it consistently. The only AIDS testing kit currently available is the Home Access HIV-1 Test System. The user collects a blood sample, mails it anonymously to the manufacturer (using a code number) and telephones about a week later for results and counseling, if appropriate. The kit also contains information about HIV transmission and prevention.

It acts by altering certain chemicals (neurotransmitters) in the brain. Common side effects include dry mouth, headache, constipation and insomnia. In some patients, Meridia can cause significant increases in heart rate and blood pressure. The drug reacts badly with other medications, including Prozac, Imitrex, Eskalith, Demerol, Talwin, Nizoral and erythromycin. Preliminary studies have shown that it promotes weight reduction for about six months; after that time, it loses its effectiveness. The long-term safety of this medicine is unknown. Until its safety profile is better defined, many authorities advise against its use.

I don't have any suitable alternatives to offer you. I suggest that you work with your doctor, or with a weight-reduction support group, to find a dietary solution to your problem.

The Home Access Kit is more than 99 percent sensitive, so it is very reliable, and costs about $30.

The Food and Drug Administration approved the kit after studies showed that only 20 percent of people at risk for AIDS planned to be tested by a professional, whereas more than 40 percent were likely to use a home-testing and telephone-counseling service. The crucial concern here is the counseling, which is not guaranteed to provide the reassurance, support and incentive for follow-up that patients who are HIV positive need. Also, some experts worry that patients will not ask the "right" questions. Moreover, the Home Access kit does not check for other, treatable sexually transmitted diseases, such as syphilis, that are best addressed in a medical office or clinic.

As yet, experience with the Home Access Kit is limited. Whether it will achieve widespread popularity and acceptance is still a question.

To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Blood - Donations & Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have unsuccessfully tried to lose weight by dieting. Fortunately, my doctor refused to prescribe fen-phen or Redux, which were eventually found to cause heart and lung damage. However, I've heard of a new weight-loss drug called Meridia and wonder if it would be all right to take.

DEAR READER: Meridia has just been approved by the Food and Drug Administration for treatment of obesity.

STUMPED?

To the next airport

By Phillip Alder
Continuing our trip around Europe, we must visit London, my hometown for so many years. Since 1985, when I left, it has got even dirtier and the accent has deteriorated, but it is still a wonderful city with the best theater in the world (in my opinion). There is lots of bridge, too. The most prestigious tournament is the Macaulan International Pairs, held every January. The winners this year, by a record margin, were Geir Helgemo and Tor Helness from Norway. Helgemo found an artistic line of play on this deal. East opened with a Young Turk week two-bid showing 13 cards, a few of which will be in the suit bid, and some of which might be honors. Over Helgemo's (without doubt, West made a Young Turk raise. This pre-emptive barrage made it difficult (impossible?) for North-South to find the easy club contract. Instead, Helness (North) used Blackwood before going with his longest suit. At first glance, it looks as though declarer will lose a heart and a club. But Helgemo showed that isn't the case. He won the diamond lead with dummy's ace, ruffed the diamond four in hand, played a club to dummy's king, and ruffed the diamond queen. Declarer cashed the heart ace, led a club to dummy's ace, and took the two top hearts. Next, Helgemo played off his three top spades. When West had to follow throughout, the contract was safe. Declarer led his last spade, scoring dummy's heart eight with a coup en passant. Helgemo's 12 tricks were three spades, three top hearts, the diamond ace, two clubs, two diamond ruffs in hand, and dummy's heart eight.
