Graham Opens Crusade At College

WHEATON, Ill. (UPI)—Evening Billy Graham opened an evangelistic crusade before about 100 persons on the campus of Wheaton College, Ill., today.

Graham, who was graduated from Wheaton in 1934, was invited back for the independent Christian college's centennial celebration, as its best known alumnus. A series of evangelistic meetings is being held at the beginning of each semester.

The college's new $500,000 convocation gymnasium was dedicated during the start of the rally in a brief ceremony.

About 400 persons in the crowd composed of Wheaton students, faculty members, community residents, and visitors declared themselves for Christ.

Graham based his sermon on the difficulties Paul encountered when he preached to the people of Athens and the citizens of the intellectual capital of the ancient world met his message with derision and self-righteousness.

"We serve Jesus with our lips," Graham said, "but our testimonies are not backed up by our behavior." He said sin is "a defect in righteousness."

"You may not be a drunkard, immoral, lie, steal, or commit murder," Graham told the rally,

"but you are still a sinner." The audience broke into applause, forgetting the religious reserve of the meeting just once, when Graham praised President Eisenhower for leaving Nikita Khrushchev and going to church before starting the day.

Worry Clinic

Which may have a great though untrained ability to diagnose medical ailments. Beagles and bloodhounds are noted for their keen noses. And ailments of the body often produce a change in our inner chemistry, thus probably altering our sense of smell. How do you sense Fred's situation? Dogs seem to have a sharper sense than any of our medical technicians.

By Dr. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE C — 440: Botch, aged 7, is a beagle dog belonging to her daughter Judy, although Mrs. Crane and I have been stuck with feeding and looking after Botch ever since she was a pup. Beagles have an unusually keen sense of smell. Some dogs, like the greyhound, rely largely on sight, but others depend almost solely on their nose.

And modern medical science might very profitably use this keen sense of certain breeds of dog in helping diagnose diseases early.

For example, friends of ours in Chicago had a dog that was very fond of a visitor to their home, named Fred.

When Fred would arrive, the dog would jump all over him with delight and stay by his side till Fred had to leave.

But Fred was away for six months. When he returned to visit our friends, their dog growled and treated him as an alien.

Indeed, the lady of the house had to hold the dog to keep it from biting Fred. Poor Fred was unhappy to find that his former canine pal was now an enemy.

But three weeks later Fred was growing so easily fatigued and short of breath that he consulted a physician.

Fred was diagnosed as having severe leukemia, and died therefrom a few months later.

At the time of his last visit with our friends, nobody even dreamed Fred was ailing.

But did the dog detect an unnatural scent, which caused it to regard Fred as a stranger?

That is quite possible, for leukemia is a serious blood ailment. We human beings have a poor sense of smell and tobacco smokers have even less than normal, so we probably could never notice fine differences in odors.

But a "nose" dog, like a beagle or bloodhound, might easily be trained to pick out early cancer patients.

CONDITIONED REFLEX
 In psychology, we find it possible to "condition" a dog to very minute differences in colors, sounds, and probably scents.

You may recall Pavlov's famous dog, which was conditioned to a flow of saliva when a bell was rung.

Well, it is entirely possible that a beagle could be conditioned to pick out early cancer patients before we physicians even suspect such a diagnosis.

In fact, not only might dogs detect cancer, but they might even be trained to distinguish between tumors of the prostate versus those of the womb or stomach or breast.

Similarly, they might be taught to detect early diabetes, as well as many other ailments which cause a change in the body's internal chemistry.

For chemicals usually have distinctive odors and an upset in our normal physiology might quickly become apparent to a keen-scented dog that had been taught to spot just such a precise spoor.

Anyway, I suggest the wider use of dogs not just for testing new surgical methods and new drugs, but also for faster diagnosis of human ailments.

For a properly trained dog might wander through a crowd of 1,000 people and spot every early case of cancer, or diabetes, etc., in a few minutes.

Two Killed, Five Hurt In Crash At Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH (UPI)—Two persons were killed and five others injured seriously Sunday night when a honeymoon couple's car rammed head-on into another vehicle.

The Highway Patrol listed the dead as two-year-old Sherry Andrea Lee and her grandfather, Allen L. Attaway, 58, both of DeLand.

Three other passengers in the car were injured. They were Anna Ann Attaway, wife of the victim, Charlotte Worthy and Beatrice Coleman, 57, all of DeLand.

Injured in the sports car were Henry Hawkins, 22, and his bride, Katherine, 30, of Holly Hill. They were married Saturday night.

The Highway Patrol filed a $1,000 bond against the bridegroom pending a full investigation of the accident.

The patrol said that injured members in the other car claimed that Hawkins' vehicle swerved across the center line of U.S. Highway 92, some seven miles west of here, causing the accident. Troopers said both cars were traveling at high speeds.

All the injured were taken to a hospital here.

Fund Gets Boost

First contributions to the Seminole County United Fund were received yesterday from Wieboldt's Camera Shop and attorney A. Edwin Shinholser. Wieboldt's gave $75 and Shinholser $50. The gifts were made before the formal opening of the United Fund drive Oct. 5. Anyone wishing to make contributions before the drive officially opens may do so, campaign chairman A. B. Peterson said.

President Sets Talks On Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, setting aside his hands-off policy toward labor-management disputes, today prepared to try to break some of the ties in the frozen steel negotiations. The chief executive made his most startling move in the 17-day-old steel strike Monday by summoning industry and union leaders to separate White House talks Wednesday morning. It was the first time that Eisenhower has intervened so personally in a labor dispute since he took office nearly seven years ago. But he recalled many similar instances during the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. The president acted after denouncing the delay in reaching a settlement as "intolerable." He declared the walkout by 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers "must not continue."

Wednesday morning's discussions are expected to produce an early resumption of negotiations, probably in Washington. The White House said the President wants to get both sides talking again. But at least one high government official said he doubted whether these new negotiations would break the deadlock that led to last Friday's collapse of contract talks. The possibility that he might invoke the Taft-Hartley law to halt the steel strike for 60 days abated temporarily. The White House indicated he would not seek a back-to-back injunction before he consulted with the spokesmen for steel labor and management. Roger M. Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel, and union president David J. McDonald both have accepted the President's personally telephoned invitation to come to Washington.

Police Eligible For City Insurance

Including Sanford police in the city's group insurance plan was approved by the city commission last night subject to approval of city attorney William Hutchinson and City Manager Warren Knowles. Including retired city employees in the plan has also been proposed to the commission. This amendment will be studied when the city commission meets next week. Hutchinson said this morning. The group policy is to be paid for by the city and its employees. It provides $1,000 life insurance for the employee, and group hospital and surgical coverage, with the employee's family to be covered if he pays for it. Accidental death and dismemberment coverage are included in the plan. The policy is a fringe benefit to cover non-occupational harm to employees, said City Manager Warren Knowles. It does not provide for on-the-job injuries which are covered under workman's compensation.

Missing Boater Found By Plane

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — A search plane today found a 47-year-old airplane enthusiast who had been missing for three days in the Everglades. The Game and Wildlife Commission plane spotted Richard J. Mills standing on a high ridge in the Glades with water surrounding him. The pilot reported Mills appeared to be unhurt.

City To Reconnect 3 Water Wells

Three city wells near the Allen-Orlando metal finishing firm on 17-92 will be reconnected to the city water system since all traces of cyanide contamination have disappeared from them, Sanford city manager Warren Knowles reported. The city commission voted last night to amend Allen-Orlando the $600 bill for 14 tests which the city had done on the wells by a chemical firm. The metal plant has a waste lagoon near their plant south of Sanford, into which cyanide waste was running. Three city wells were disconnected from the water system Sept. 4 when Florida Board of Health tests showed that this waste was infiltrating them. All traces of cyanide have been pumped out since Sept. 4 and the Board of Health closed down the plant's metal plating, Knowles said.

Support Pledged New Assessor

Seminole County commissioners today pledge their "full support" to Richard McCanna who is expected to take over as county tax assessor today. Governor LeRoy Collins named McCanna, a real estate man and member of the county zoning board to the controversial post yesterday.

Gracie Rips Carolina Coast Leaving 1 Dead, Heavy Damage

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UPI) — Hurricane Gracie swept inland south of Charleston today with 100-mile-an-hour winds that killed at least one person and did extensive property damage. The hurricane, called "extremely dangerous" by the Weather Bureau, was about 100 miles southwest of Charleston. The Navy recorded wind gusts up to 140 miles an hour. At Folly Beach just south of Charleston an amateur radio operator reported that cars were being lifted off the ground and tossed about. The eastern seaboard from Savannah, Ga., to Wilmington, N. C., was battered down for the second time by a tropical storm of the year. An eighth bowler with winds of 85 miles an hour was building up in the Atlantic. The howling winds stripped power lines from their poles in this great port city and interceded them in wild confusion among littered, flooded streets. Unprotected windows were smashed. All power in the city was out and hospitals turned on emergency generators. The governor set up hotel headquarters and directed relief and rescue operations. He was aided by the National Guard, civil defense and the Red Cross. Gracie piled up high tide waves but onslaught against the beaches. Waves 20 feet high pelted the shore. The storm surge caused the evacuation of all who were in danger. Emergency shelters were crowded. The Charleston Evening Post, with the biggest local story in many years on its hands, could do nothing about it. There was no electricity. The advisory warned that storm tides and high seas would continue to flood coastal lands from Morehead City, N. C., to the Savannah area during the day. The howler was expected to continue on a steady course. If it held its northwest to south-southwest direction, Columbia, S. C., the state capital, and Charlotte, N. C., that state's largest city, would be in the storm's path. Hurricane Hannah, No. 8 of the year, meanwhile was located 200 miles southeast of Bermuda and moving westward at 15 m.p.h. It was expected to hold the course for the next 12 hours. An unidentified man was killed in Beaufort County south of Charleston when a bus was toppled on his car. His family escaped injury and were rescued by volunteers. An elaborate amateur radio network was put into operation to aid state police and civil defense authorities in rescue operations. People were urged to stay off the streets because of the danger from falling trees and flying glass. Approximately 5,000 refugees were gathered in 30 shelters between Georgetown, S. C., and Beaufort. Seventy persons were in the church at Folly Beach. Twenty-one years ago today five tornadoes struck Charleston County within one hour, killing 23 persons and causing three million dollars in damage.

Parent Responsibility Law Studied

Investigation of a parental responsibility law breaking by juveniles was approved by Sanford City Commission last night. The commission told Attorney William Hutchinson to work on a parental responsibility law covering all crimes by juveniles. The problem of juveniles driving before they are of legal age seems to be quite widespread in the county, Circuit Judge Voie Williams Jr. informed the commission. A law making it a misdemeanor for the parent whose child got into trouble while driving has been on his mind, said Hutchinson. Most parents are law-abiding people and don't want notoriety. If they knew that such a law is in the books it will help them keep their children out of trouble, the attorney pointed out. The police should check cars parked at schools to see if their drivers are 18 or over, said Commissioner Earl Higginbotham. It is against the law for a juvenile under 18 to drive without a licensed adult in the car, Williams explained. "If you don't like the law, change it but don't ignore it," he urged. The parental responsibility measure was supported by Commissioner Robert Brown. Right now young offenders are simply given a stern talking-to by the juvenile judge, he said. The trouble is with ourselves, emphasized Commissioner Merle Warner. In churches and schools children hear too much stress on thinking for themselves, he said.

New Storm Building Up In Atlantic

The hurricane, called "extremely dangerous" by the Weather Bureau, was about 100 miles southwest of Charleston. The Navy recorded wind gusts up to 140 miles an hour. At Folly Beach just south of Charleston an amateur radio operator reported that cars were being lifted off the ground and tossed about. The eastern seaboard from Savannah, Ga., to Wilmington, N. News Briefs

Strike Planned — The Sanford bus company is expected to go on strike Wednesday unless they are given a 40 cent an hour pay increase. The bus company had offered an eight cent increase spread over three years.

Teenagers Held — JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Police held six teenage boys today on suspicion of severely beating a city salesman at his home where he was sheltering them for local juvenile authorities. Patrolman Joseph T. Erwin, 59, required 10 stitches across his head and face after the beating.

Educators Meet — TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Some 100 educators will meet here Thursday for a two-day junior college conference, eighth annual conference of its kind. Representatives are expected from local colleges now in session in Florida and four additional ones expected to get underway next September.

Salesman Gets Life — TAMPA (UPI) — A circuit judge sentenced a 45-year-old automobile salesman today to life imprisonment for the murder of his wife of four months during a beer drinking bout. Judge Gunter Stevenson called the murder of Mrs. Ethel Marie Brooks, 50, on June 13 a "senseless killing which comes out of the use of alcohol."

Khrushchev Off For Red China — MOSCOW (UPI) — Globe-trotting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev leaves by plane today for Peiping to report to his Chinese Communist allies on his historic journey to the United States and his talks with President Eisenhower. Peiping is some 2,000 miles by air from Moscow. Khrushchev is going to Peiping officially to take part in the 10th anniversary celebrations of the Chinese Communist seizure of power. "We are going to go over the tentative budget very carefully and if necessary we will meet again tomorrow. A tentative budget was given to the commission by Clerk O. P. Herndon who urged the commission to study it "very carefully." According to Herndon, non-exempt real estate values will be increased by five per cent and will be the highest ever. He estimated the figure at $28,000,000 compared with $26,000,000 last fiscal year. The new fiscal year begins Oct. 1. Budget request figures were not revealed.

Bank Gets Okay — The Sanford Atlantic National Bank received city commission's permission last night to make the alley running between the bank and the Goodyear building one-way going east from Park Ave. after the bank's new drive-in booths are built. Permission to have elevated corridors cross the alley was also granted. The three booths to be on the present Goodyear site, will be connected by elevated corridors.

OUT OF BUSINESS — Sheriff J. K. Hobby looks over the operation just before state beverage agents put the axe to the still and 38 gallons of moonshine whiskey. Hatch was arrested and charged with possession of illegal liquor and operating a still. He was put in the county jail awaiting $500 bond. (Staff Photo)

Frank Mebane Quits Giant Post

Frank Mebane Jr., who has had charge of San Francisco Giant training facilities at the Mayfair Country Club and Inn for the past six years is resigning this post. As vice president of an Orlando oil company and owner of an Elizabethville, N. Y. hotel, Mebane feels that he had best devote his time to these businesses. The resignation will be effective when a new manager for the Giant's local facilities can be obtained. Mr. and Mrs. Mebane will continue to live in Sanford at their 228 Scott St. home.

Gatchel Demands Action On Vandalism In Park

Seminole County Commissioner David Gatchel today lashed out at the "premeditated vandalism" that occurred at Henry Levy Park about a week ago and demanded the commission give a full report to the public. Gatchel told the commission that "it was a dirty shame" what was going on at the park "especially after all the criticism we have received about maintaining the county parks." According to Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobby, about a week ago some vandals wrecked the picnic area of the park, located 13 miles east of Sanford. Sheriff Hobby said that benches and sheds on the picnic area were torn up, tables pulled out of the concrete and other acts of vandalism committed. Commission Chairman John Krider, who said he inspected the park a few days ago, estimated the damage at about $500. "I'd like to string the persons who did this up a tree," Gatchel declared. "These acts are not just some minor mischief done by juveniles but premeditated vandalism." Commissioner Vernon Dunn echoed Gatchel's remarks and said that the commission should offer a reward for any information leading to the arrest of the vandals. "I'll contribute $25 myself," Dunn said. Krider reported that County Engineer Bob Davis was at work supervising county crews in repairing the damage. Sheriff Hobby said that his officers are working on the case but have been unable to make any arrests.

New Rocket Turns Clouds Purple

FORT WALTON BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — An Air Force rocket turned the clouds purple high over northwest Florida today in an experiment to learn more about upper air weather conditions. The small missile blasted off from the Santa Rosa Island test center shortly before dawn and exploded at a pre-determined point some 50 miles above the earth. The burst missile showered the rarified air with particles of sodium. A giant purple cloud formed almost immediately, glowing in the pre-dawn darkness. It could be seen as far as 200 miles away.

Hypnotist To Be Jaycee Speaker

Sanford Jaycees speaker Thursday will be ethical hypnotist Joe B. McCauley of Orlando. Hypnotism, its present use and its use in the future will be McCauley's topic. McCauley majored in psychology at Orlando Jr. College and Rollins College and was trained at the Ethical Hypnotic training center, Irvington, N. J.

President Signs Foreign Aid Fund

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has signed legislation providing $3,225,813,000 in new foreign aid funds and extending the federal civil rights commission for another two years.

SKETCH OF PROPOSED NEW FIRST FEDERAL BUILDING

Lake Survey Cost Estimate Asked

Sanford's city commission last night approved a Tampa pollution investigating firm's giving the city a cost estimate on a pollution survey of Lake Monroe. The firm is Thornton and Co.

A comparative study of present pollution with 1951 pollution figures is desired by the city. Cost of the survey may range from $1,500 to $3,000, City Manager Warren Knowles said this morning.

Rocket Finds Sun Has 180 Million Degrees Of Heat

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Scientists today reported rocket findings indicating that temperatures on the sun's atmosphere sometimes go as high as 180 million degrees Fahrenheit. This is 10 times higher than had been assumed on the basis of previous findings. The researchers also reported extremely powerful X-rays which penetrated the earth's upper atmosphere after solar flares. The new information came from Project Sunfire II recently completed by Dr. Herbert Friedman and associates of the Naval Research Laboratory. The scientists fired 12 Nike-ASP rockets each equipped with 86 pounds of instruments. Eight of the rockets were successful, reaching altitudes of 130 to 160 miles. Three were launched during flares and five during periods of solar quiet or minor activity. X-rays with energies as high as 60,000 volts appeared above the absorbing layers of the earth's atmosphere after large flares. Protons to Sunfire II the most energetic flare radiation ever detected ranged between 6,000 and 7,400 volts. The solar atmospheric temperatures during flares were calculated from the X-ray energies.

First Federal Building To Be Dramatically New

The preliminary plans for a new building for its growing operations have been approved by the Directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. The association has retained Cumpson Co., financial institution consultants, to assist in planning the new structure which will be on the northwest corner of the intersection of First St. and Elm Ave. The interior is to be functional, with customer convenience and comfort prime considerations. Entrances on the north and south will provide easy access to the lobby, either from West First Street or from the parking lot, designed to handle 35 cars. The latest design in taller screens will be on one side of the lobby and will have working area for six tellers, with space for future expansion. Offices, conference rooms and desks for consultants will be on the opposite side of the lobby. The decor and furnishings are to be custom designed to blend the exterior and interior architectural treatment. Enclosing this will be a dramatically modern exterior with glass and brick as primary building materials. A serrated roof that forms the larger part of the structure is dramatically continued as the ceiling for the main lobby. Approximately 6,400 square feet of space will be provided in a completely air conditioned and strategically lighted building, the plans indicate.

Explosives Case Of Heiress' Murder

NEW YORK (UPI) — A woman's explosive report reopened today the New York phase of the investigation of the mysterious death of Miss Callas, heiress of the late John D. Rockefeller, by searching for clues.

Fallen Capt. Joseph B. Fallon has been from Boston Monday night to check the report that one of the 22-year-old divorcee's locked trunks contained letters that would help solve her Sept. 18 death. Fallon believes that Mrs. Kaufman received "disheartening news" 48 hours before her death that caused deep despondency.

Fallon also will question again the officers and crew of the Dutch liner Ulysses from whose deck Mrs. Kaufman jumped, fell or was thrown. The New York detective is also being helped by examining the news and witness Monday.

Mrs. Kaufman disappeared from her cabin on the ship leaving Boston Harbor on the last leg of a trip from Singapore to New York. She had been traveling with Mrs. Jessica Spitzer, wife of a St. Louis professor who had employed Mrs. Kaufman as a research assistant in Singapore.

Police had reported that Mrs. Spitzer said she talked to Mrs. Kaufman through her closed cabin door at 6:55 p. m. on Sept. 18. But Monday, the St. Louis woman said she could "never swear" that the muffled voice she heard was that of her beautiful traveling companion.

Mrs. Callas, 35, is expected to be her own counsel-but for separation, and Italian legal circles were prepared for violent retaliation by the division of the assets of the heiress and her husband, an industrialist who she served as her manager during a lucrative career.

Legal circles said this was expected to be the most bitter dispute in the separation.

Reliable sources said the suit filed by Miss Callas placed full responsibility for the estrangement on the management of the assets. She claimed that Miss Callas had been in love with another man, and that the breakup came during a summer cruise aboard Onassis' yacht.

Both Miss Callas and Onassis have insisted they were just "good friends" and that there is no romantic attachment.

Strike Ends, New One May Start

TAMPA (UPI) — A strike of 900 employees of the American Can Co. ended today but another loomed as a possibility before the end of the week.

On the advice of the national office of the United Steel Workers of America, the USW members voted Monday to go back to work today. But their contract expires at midnight Wednesday and no negotiations for a new one have begun.

Somebody's Loading Cop Up With Practical Jokes

MIAMI (UPI) — Highway Patrolman Bernard Justice would like to get his hands on the practical joker who sent him hundreds of things—like funeral roses and $50 worth of liquor—be never ordered.

It started last May when an anonymous caller told Justice's wife the trooper had left a faulty tire at a service station and asked her to check on it.

She did. No tire. A few minutes later the deliverer began pouring in. And they didn't stop for days.

Several pizza pies arrived, then two television repairmen, a funeral wreath, four tanks of oxygen and oxygen tents.

After a while, the parade switched off and Justice hoped it was all over. But he was wrong. Last Wednesday an unmarked cab pulled in front of his house while another cab company phoned to verify another order he hadn't made for two more taxis.

Next came an ambulance with oxygen, a funeral home vehicle, and a towing service to remove a car.

Thursday came a truckload of good followed by a piano, a TV repairman, another funeral wreath.

Typhoon Leaves Male Horror For Thousands

NAGOYA, Japan (UPI) — Endless rows of wooden coffins and wooden straw mats for the dying are everywhere as stricken peasants move past in never-ending search for their families in this twice dead city.

The story of typhoon Vera, most destructive storm to hit Japan in centuries, could be outlined in statistics: 1,700 dead, 1,000 missing, 5,073 injured, 970,000 homeless.

But no horror lay in the faces of the people, their strange food and water, the dizziness which ravaged their bodies, the glazed look on their faces as they searched the rubble for those who were lost.

It lay in the face of an old woman dressed in threadbare kimono, her lips pressed tightly against toothless gums, watching intently as the lid of a coffin-like box was raised.

She stooped herself and then peered within. Wordlessly and with a slight shake of head she moved on to the next box and the next and the next.

There were not even enough of the wooden boxes to hold the bodies in this city which suffered more than 3,000 dead. Some of the bodies lay on straw tatami mats, their faces covered with scraps of cloth.

Long lines of survivors trudged past these boxes through the day, wondering when help would arrive from Tokyo. But communications were cut off by the fury of a storm that set of landslides and floods.

The wooden boxes themselves were hurriedly built for the gruesome chore of identification. The head end of each was hinged so it could be quickly opened and closed.

Professor Blasts Food Fad Quacks

CHICAGO (UPI) — Food fads founded by nutritional quacks are bilking the American housewife out of $500 million a year, a Harvard University professor said.

These food fads have produced "quacks who distort truth, make false claims, health or charm—or threaten disease and premature death unless their advice is taken," Dr. Frederick J. Stare said.

Stare, chairman of the Harvard department of nutrition, told the 17th annual American Assn. of Newspaper Representatives' food editors conference that the recent growth in food fadism is blocking scientific efforts.

"It is increasingly difficult for the health worker as well as for the housewife to distinguish fact from fad and the scientific from the pseudo-scientific," he said.

Holland To Join Ervin In Tidelands Hearing

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — U. S. Sen. Spencer Holland will join Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin in a hearing before the U. S. Supreme Court Oct. 12 in a tidelands boundary suit involving five Gulf Coast states.

Oil companies pay millions of dollars in fees and royalties to drill for oil in the submerged lands off the Gulf shores under lease from the federal government.

The Justice Department maintains a state's offshore boundary is confined to a three mile belt seaward from the low water marks, and anything beyond this is federal property.

However, the Gulf states of Florida, Alabama, Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi claim an offshore boundary of 10.5 miles, the equivalent of three marine leagues.

Corn Cob Kicks

MEMPHIS (UPI) — Ethel Webster, 73-year-old Negro admitted in court here that her home-made corn cob wine "can kick real hard," but the judge said he knew of no law against making wine for personal use.

The woman got off free Monday when witnesses testified she never sold the beverage.

"Ethel, we've got a law against everything, almost," philosophized City Judge Beverly Boushe. "You ought not to be making this stuff."

The judge took a strong whiff—"It isn't safe, for one thing. But if you make it just for yourself, I don't know of any law you've broken."

The woman told the court her recipe was sugar, yeast, water and "13 green corn cobs to the gallon."

"It's about as good as anything I know. It can kick real hard at times," she said.

Success Of Swift Effort To Lure Strikers Denied

CHICAGO (UPI) — Company and union spokesmen today disputed the success of a wage boost offer aimed at bringing striking packhouse workers back to Swift and Co. plants.

Swift, the giant of the meat-packing industry, claimed the 80-cent hourly increase offer lured 700 strikers back to work Monday. Southern employees were offered only two cents an hour more.

But the United Packinghouse Workers and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen said the back-to-work movement was a "complete failure."

The unions admitted some employees broke their 25-day without pay by returning to work. But they refused to accept the company figure.

Swift sent a letter last week to its 12,100 workers, urging them to back the strike and accept the pay increase. Union officials ordered their members to ignore the offer.

Swift admitted the proposal was less successful in its 36 plants and 26 branch houses around the nation. The company said it usually employs 1,200 persons here.

Reports from union members at 20 other Swift locations indicate members "boycotted the company's effort to resume operations by offering less favorable terms" than the rest of the industry, the unions said.

Business Boom On In Southeast

ATLANTA (UPI) — Southeastern retailers and wholesalers enjoyed business increases ranging up to 11 per cent through July of this year compared with the same period in 1953, the U. S. Department of Commerce said today.

Retail sales throughout the Southeast during the first seven months of 1954 rose almost two million dollars over a comparable period last year.

States in which retailers shared in the increase included Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky, Louisiana, Arkansas, the Carolinas and the Virginias.

Wholesalers in Georgia, Florida, the Carolinas and the Virginias reported a 11 per cent increase during the first seven months of the year. Those in Louisiana and Arkansas experienced a 10 per cent jump, while Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky showed 9 per cent gains.

Prank Note Effect Fatal To Woman

ROANOKE, Va. (UPI) — An elderly Roanoke woman, who went into shock immediately after finding a prank death note at her home last week, died Monday of a stroke.

Doctors could not say for sure whether the note brought on the stroke that killed 73-year-old Mrs. Walter German.

But police questioned four girls, 11 to 12 years old, who admitted penning the message "Die tonight at 12" and leaving copies at homes in their neighborhood as a "prank."

Det. Capt. Kermit Allman promised to report the incident to juvenile court, but said he knew of no offense with which the girls could be charged.

Drilled Well Actually Plugged and Abandoned

The only offshore well actually drilled was plugged and abandoned Aug. 16 after reaching a depth of 15,670 feet off Key West. Last week, the state authorized the California Company to drill to 7,000 feet at an offshore site 12 miles east of Apalachicola near St. George Island.

You've heard of the CORVAIR — Chevrolet's new compact car, with aluminum aircraft design engine—and room for six large fellows.

Here's what Jack Wood says in his "Backshop" column in Automotive News — the auto industry's weekly newspaper.

"INCIDENTALLY some of you doubters are going to see the shock of your lives when you get a chance to drive the new Chevy CORVAIR on the open road.

"At Chevy's 1954 car preview, they let me write machine pounders drive the new Chevrolet.

"I wasn't content, naturally, to just whirl it around the proving ground pavements but had to ask, and get permission, to get out in the rough stuff.

"I took that little baby through loose sand on a gravel road that would make the rear wheels of nine out of ten large cars slip and skid, but Corvaire took it without a tremor, and I wasn't babying it one bit.

"I also hit a replica of a worse case situation road with deep deep chukholes and all at better than 60 miles an hour and not a flutter or a tramp from those rear wheels.

"I tried to hit the next-top track on the high speed course which my 'foot' in the sink' but too many years of driving would not let me keep my foot down with such a light car.

"Habit was just too strong and I'd hit my foot despite my best intentions.

"I would like to join thousands of mechanics across this nation of ours in thanking Chevy Chief Engineer Harry Bar for the clean rear-engine compartment.

"You knuckle knockers won't have to wear asbestos gauntlets to change spark plugs in this baby.

"You won't even have to put anything over your white coats.

"You can change the plugs and the oil filter without half bending over and you reach both from the top."

Well that's what the expert says.

Coming to our showroom October 2—don't you miss it! ... that in if the 75 day steel strike ever gets around to ending. It's reported that if the steel strike—now the nation's longest—lasts through October 1, almost every assembly line will shut down.

Kiwanis Club Program Called Big Success

The Kiwanis Club sponsored "Kids Day" was apparently a big success Saturday, officials of the club reported today.

More than 1,000 children from the city and youngsters from the Methodist and Lutheran Children's Homes spent the morning at the Ritz Theater.

The theater was "jam-packed", according to officials and ice cream ran out and more had to be ordered from Orlando.

Speakeading the drive and program was John Wilson, chairman of the Kiwanis Club boys and girls program. He was assisted by Judge Ware, Eddie Kirshoff, Jim Grand, George Andrew Speer, E. S. Douglas, Floyd Palmer, and Club President J. C. Davis.

Officials of the club said the success of the program was due to the "excellent cooperation of the staff of the Ritz Theater."

Store Going Up

A $22,000 store building, with two apartments on the second floor, is being built by L. C. Clark Sr. at 264-66 Hiawatha Ave. The footing has been poured for the cement block structure which will leave the ground floor usable as two store sections or a single area. The building is 60 by 34 1/2 feet.

Ford Announces Plan For New Economy Car

DETROIT (UPI) — The President of Ford Motor Co. announced plans today to produce a second economy car.

Ford President Henry Ford II said the new car will be named the Comet and will be sold by Mercury dealers beginning with "the spring selling season."

The announcement was made here at a national meeting of the Mercury-Edsel-Lincoln dealers.

Ford described the Comet as a car with "family-sized roominess and outstanding economy, together with the most graceful and elegant styling."

"The Comet," he said, "will go to the market place in the spring of 1960 as the 'fructifer of the economy car'."

Although Ford refused to reveal any further details of the new car, industry sources said it was a 114-inch wheelbase car which Ford originally had planned to bring out in the Edsel line in 1961.

The original plans called for the same overall dimensions as Ford's new 109.5-inch wheelbase Falcon except for the wheelbase, overall length and weight. It was to be built as a two-door-and-four-door sedan.

Star End Out For Miami Till

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State's star end Tony Romeo, injured two weeks ago, will again be out of action Saturday when the Seminoles play host to the Miami Hurricanes.

FSU Coach Perry Moss said No. 2 end John Slayton also is a doubtful performer for the Miami game. Otherwise, he said the first unit will be about the same as in last week's lineup when the Seminoles romped over The Citadel, 47-6.

Moss said the Hurricanes are the best team physically that FSU has met so far. The Seminoles lost their opener to Wake Forest 22-20.

Sports Carnival Set At Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano said the top names in all sports will be invited to participate in a sports festival and carnival here Jan. 14-17.

The four-day program will include a golf tournament, tennis matches, swimming exhibition, and a boxing exhibition with the possible appearance of heavyweight champion Ingemar Johansson.

However, Marciano, chairman of the sports committee, said he would not be involved in the bout with Johansson if the Swede agrees to perform.

The main purpose of the event is to select a "sportsman of the year" for 1959.

Algerians Ready For Peace Talks

TUNIS, Tunisia (UPI) — The Algerian rebel government in exile announced Monday it was ready to negotiate "immediate peace" with France.

It said it was ready to "enter discussions with the French government in order to discuss the political and military conditions of a cease fire and the conditions and guarantees of the application of self-determination" for Algeria.

This was the rebel answer to President Charles de Gaulle's peace proposal of 13 days ago in which he offered Algeria self-determination—a choice between independence, integration with France, or self-government in close association with France.

Pilot Tells Terrifying Tale Of Crippled Airplane Caught Flying Through Eye Of Hurricane Gracie

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — "It was the closest call I've ever experienced as a pilot."

That was how Lt. Cmdr. Morgan L. Davidson of Long Beach, Calif., summed it up today after returning from the eye of Hurricane Gracie with one engine of his plane gone.

The 37-year-old father of three maneuvered the crippled four-engine Super Constellation with 28 other men aboard more than 300 miles safely to base here Monday afternoon. Navy officials gave much of the credit for the successful flight to Davidson, but he heaped all the praise on his two flight engineers.

"It was the outstanding attention to duty as far as the engineers' work was concerned that made it possible for us to get back safely," he said. "Because of this, I'm putting those men in for a citation."

He referred to engineers James D. Moorehead, 37, Fairmont, W. Va., and Ralph T. Tice, about 35, of New Matamoras, Ohio. The two crewmen quickly feathered a propeller that went out of control and was running much faster than it was designed.

Davidson, 1948 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, said the "runaway" prop developed just as he was flying through a "wall cloud," a sheet of heavy rain and turbulence that surrounds the eye of a hurricane. "In the middle of the cloud, we got this very terrifying roar, which is the bugaboo of all aviators, indicating one of the props had run away."

"Moorehead and Tice took immediate action to correct this runaway," he said. "In some cases, if the runaway becomes violent enough, the inboard prop can come off the shaft and go through the fuselage."

Women's Golf Assn. Plans Tournament

The Sanford Women's Golf Association met Friday night at the home of Mrs. George Nicely in DeBary. It was the first meeting of the year and most of the business was of an organizational nature. Plans for future tournaments and other activities were discussed.

Heart Meeting Postponed

The Seminole DeBary Heart Council meeting scheduled for tomorrow has been postponed until Oct. 14. It will meet at the home of Mrs. G. J. Keszenich 221 Plumosa Rd., DeBary at 8 p. m.

Its Carnival Time Again With Witches, Goblins And Ghosts

It's carnival time, again, mark your calendars for 5:30 p. m., Saturday, October 31st. That's the date set for the Southside School Carnival!

Going, going — all sorts of things going on including an auction which is guaranteed to surprise and delight. Contact the chairman, Mrs. C. A. Guerry, FA 2-5621 if you have anything to donate.

"Enjoy yourself will be the theme," and there will be something for everyone to enjoy! Mother will enjoy a respite from the kitchen. Dad and the little folks the traditional carnival fare of hot dogs, hamburgers, snowballs, candied apples, popcorn, peanuts and soft drinks.

Among featured attractions will be rides, dart games, fishing booths and an old fashioned country store. A carnival would not be complete without a cake booth for gourmets, flower booth for gardeners and a pair tree booth.

WW Club Plans Church Calendar

Extra Meetings

The Welcome Wagon Club met for the regular business and program meeting at the Sanford Womens Club last week. At the business session it was decided to sponsor an additional meeting each month.

Beginning in October a luncheon and card party will be held the second Saturday of each month at 1 p. m. at the Lake Monroe Inn.

Mrs. James F. Lyons was a guest of the club. Following a social hour and card games, refreshments of cupcakes and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Betty McCollough and Mrs. Kathryn Harris.

Pilot Members Attend Tea

Mrs. George Stine, Mrs. Harvey Swanson, Mrs. Sue Stevenson, Mrs. Joel Field and her guest Mrs. H. L. Wingard attended a tea Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Pauline Bryan, Indian River Dr., in Titusville.

The tea was given in honor of Miss Julianna Jordan, chairman of the international relations committee of Pilot International. Miss Jordan is also a teacher at Florida Southern College, Lakeland. During the afternoon she spoke to the group of pilot members on her experiences in Germany during World War II.

The Sanford delegation was also invited to a dinner honoring Miss Jordan, at the Space Room.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Crosby of Greensboro, Fla. are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dominey in Loch Arbor. Mr. Crosby is the brother of Mrs. Dominey.

Use floor cleaning wax on youngsters' white or colored kid or calf shoes before adding more polish. The wax cleans them and eliminates powdery remains of white polish.

All circle social chairmen are requested to be on hand or have a representative there by 10:30 a. m. the day of the meeting to help with the lunch.

Mrs. Anthony Daniel, Mrs. Ray Beasley, Mrs. Roy Alford, Mrs. Mae E. King and Mrs. G. W. Alford will represent the various circles.

College Atmosphere At Home For the college student who lives at home a dormitory-like atmosphere in his room will give him that important on-campus feeling. A double deck bed will contribute to the illusion as will the desk, books, pin-ups and other standard college-boy items. Many of the double deck beds on the market can be separated and used as twin beds, if desired.

Miss Janice Kinlaw Honored At Bridal Luncheon Monday

Mrs. L. V. McLaulin was hostess at a bridal luncheon Monday at 1 p. m. at her home on 19th St. honoring Miss Janice Kinlaw, bride-elect of Thomas Punch.

The party rooms were attractively decorated with arrangements of pink and white mixed garden flowers, pinias, periwinkle and green caladium leaves. Small luncheon tables were overlaid with sheer white linen and lace cloths. Each was centered with a tiny cut glass plate holding an arrangement of lilies of the valley, tied with a satin bow to a white lace wedding bell.

Following a delicious luncheon the hostess presented the honoree with a gift of embroidered pillow cases.

Those attending were Miss Kinlaw, Mrs. E. G. Kinlaw, mother of the honoree; Miss Harriett

Redding, Miss Barbara Kirkland, Mrs. Joseph Jarrell, Mrs. Leonard Skater, Mrs. Wurt Warner, Mrs. Wallace Tyre, Mrs. Christine Blankenship, Mrs. Henry McKeen Jr., and Mrs. McLaulin.

Imaginary Diseases Can Cause Trouble

A really accomplished hypochondriac will be painfully familiar with a number of heart and circulatory ailments involving a wide range of symptoms.

Millions of persons, with no illness more serious than an overactive imagination or an overdeveloped sense of anxiety, live on the brink of emotional disaster. The fact that many of them live this way for as long as 80 years doesn't cure them of the habit.

Call the man or woman who goes through life listening for palpitations and diagnosing chest pains as thromboses what you will — the heart hypochondriac, the symptomaniac, he is more to be pitied than blamed. For his suffering is real. His symptoms are big-screen, and in flaming color.

It is entirely possible to scare oneself into an excellent facsimile of a heart attack, even to the point of collapse. The only damage is to the nervous system but the distress is acute. The chest always has been the seat of many emotionally-based disorders, for instance, clutching uneasiness of fright and the "heavy chest" of sadness. No one has been able to pinpoint the reason for the persistent sticking plain close to the breastbone, born of neurosis.

If you have the symptoms of a heart disorder, see your doctor. Expert opinions belong to the experts, and nobody should terrify his all. The Florida Heart Association, believing in knowledge without fear, heartily subscribes to this philosophy. Diagnosis belongs to the doctor — when he tells you that you're well, you can believe him.

If you are pronounced healthy and still insist on dissipating your worrypower on a myth, you are doing yourself no favor.

Personals

Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker, Mrs. Lois Householder and Miss Dorothy Fouracre attended a meeting of the Winter Park Pilot Club last Thursday at the Winter Park Power and Light company lounge.

Mrs. H. L. Wingard has returned to her home in Augusta, Ga., after a two week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joel S. Field.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. McKee, 202 Oakland Ave., are announcing the birth of a son, Jeffrey Brian McKee, born Sept. 25 at the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital in Orlando. Mrs. McKee is the former Miss Betty Brisson.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Crosby of Greensboro, Fla. are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dominey in Loch Arbor. Mr. Crosby is the brother of Mrs. Dominey.

Use floor cleaning wax on youngsters' white or colored kid or calf shoes before adding more polish. The wax cleans them and eliminates powdery remains of white polish.

All circle social chairmen are requested to be on hand or have a representative there by 10:30 a. m. the day of the meeting to help with the lunch.

Mrs. Anthony Daniel, Mrs. Ray Beasley, Mrs. Roy Alford, Mrs. Mae E. King and Mrs. G. W. Alford will represent the various circles.

College Atmosphere At Home For the college student who lives at home a dormitory-like atmosphere in his room will give him that important on-campus feeling. A double deck bed will contribute to the illusion as will the desk, books, pin-ups and other standard college-boy items. Many of the double deck beds on the market can be separated and used as twin beds, if desired.

Braves Try To End It Today

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Braves today tried to end a losing streak that has lasted 13 games by beating the Chicago White Sox in a 4-1 victory.

The Braves, who have been shut-out on the club's home field in seven of their 13 losses, were downed by the Sox in the first inning. The Sox scored on a home run by Alvin Dark in the first inning. The Braves scored on a home run by Hank Aaron in the second inning.

The Sox scored again in the third inning on a home run by Dick Allen. The Braves scored on a home run by Tommie Agee in the fourth inning.

The Sox scored again in the fifth inning on a home run by Dick Allen. The Braves scored on a home run by Hank Aaron in the sixth inning.

The Sox scored again in the seventh inning on a home run by Dick Allen. The Braves scored on a home run by Hank Aaron in the eighth inning.

The Sox scored again in the ninth inning on a home run by Dick Allen. The Braves scored on a home run by Hank Aaron in the tenth inning.

"I have a hunch we're going to stay here," said Braves manager Fred Sherry.

The Dodgers still were holding catcher John Roseboro, whose sixth inning home run in the sixth at County Stadium in Milwaukee Monday, turned out to be the deciding run, and pitcher Larry Sherry.

Sherry came on in relief of starter Danny McDevitt in the seventh inning when the Braves scored both their runs, and turned back the Braves on four hits from that point. He made Roseboro's home run stand up.

There was only a small crowd of 15,000 and they sat through a steady rain and mist, that delayed the start for almost an hour.

The Dodgers got the jump in the first inning when Charlie Neal singled, advanced to second and scored on Norm Larber's single.

But the Braves scored back in the second with an almost routine homer by Johnny Logan, who moved to second on Bill Crandall's single and scored on Sherry's single over second base.

Sherry pitched 6 2/3 innings on the mound, but a home run by Crandall's hot grounder landed the home.

Bobby Avila slammed a grand slam up the bats to Hank Williams, who scored Willey at second while Crandall scored to put the Braves in front, 2-1.

Los Angeles, however, appeared the account in the third when Willey Rosen was hit on a pitch or a choice, advancing to second on Larber's single and scored to tie it at 2-2 on Gil Hodges hit to left field.

That set the stage for Sherry, and Roseboro's game-winning blast.

Braves Looking For New Manager

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Braves today were looking for a new manager and the question was: who is it going to be?

The A's Monday night announced that the contract of manager Harry Crull would not be renewed next year, but instead offered the 57-year-old ex-Cleveland outfielder a responsible position in their organizational program.

It was believed to remain with the A's General Manager Carroll O'Dell.

O'Dell said that the club would not name a new manager until owner Armin Johnson returns to Kansas City next month from Europe.

Crull's managerial future with the A's had been up in the air since the club succeeded in mid-season and finished seventh for the second year in a row.

"We decided we needed a change in managers," O'Dell said. "It would be unfair to blame one man for the slump this year. Actually it wasn't a slump. It was a struggle."

Crull was severely criticized by fans here after the A's lost 13 straight games late in the season.

LSU Retains No. 1 Rating, Northwestern, Iowa Next

NEW YORK (UPI) — Louisiana State's defending national college football championship retained the No. 1 spot in the United Press International ratings today with Northwestern and Iowa.

The ratings are based on the week's games. Northwestern and Iowa clash in a meeting of the No. 2 and 3 teams. LSU plays Baylor, Army meets Illinois, while Southern California and Ohio State clash Friday night in another of this week's leading games. Clemson takes on 19th-ranked Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech headed this week's second 10 group in 18th place, followed in order by Tennessee, Syracuse, Navy, Georgia, Indiana, Oklahoma, Purdue and Penn State.

Other teams which received votes were: Air Force Academy, Texas Christian, South Carolina, UCLA, Auburn, Florida, Washington and Arkansas.

Two Cagers Sign

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Ernie Beck, a veteran of five National Basketball Assn. campaigns, and rookie Tommy Bellari of Loyola-Rhyme College, have signed 1960-61 contracts with the Philadelphia Warriors.

Injuries Riddle Starting Lineups Of SEC Squads

United Press International Player injuries dogged Southeastern Conference coaches today as they prepared their squads for another big Saturday of football.

At Georgia Tech, sophomore Chick Granaing was added to the growing casualty list, bringing the halfback situation to the near-critical stage. Halfbacks previously sidelined include junior Frank Nix and sophomore Ken Thompson.

The Georgia Bulldogs promoted senior Bobby Towns to right half to replace injured Don Sobersdash, the team captain. Sobersdash suffered strained ligaments of his knee on the third play of last Saturday's game with Vanderbilt.

Louisiana State likewise had a roster change because of injuries. Coach Paul Dietzel said Manson Watson will replace starting right guard Ed McCree, injured in last week's fray with TCU.

On a happier note, halfback Bobby Green, the only Florida player injured in the Mississippi State game, got a clean bill of health and is expected to be back in action when the Gators play host to Virginia.

Coach Wade Walker of Mississippi State announced two first-unit changes after putting his Maroons through their first drill for their meeting with Tennessee. Walker indicated he will be starting Willie Daniel at left halfback, in place of Bobby Bethune, and will rely on Bill Tohill as his first-string quarterback.

Tech's Braselton Mashed Back Of Week In SEC

ATLANTA (UPI) — Quarterback Fred Braselton, the rangy senior who paced the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets to their upset victory over Southern Methodist, was named today as Southwestern Conference back of the week by United Press International.

Braselton, a transplanted Texan from Corpus Christi, outbroke SMU ruseword Don Meredith as Tech took a 16-13 thriller. He gained 120 yards passing and running and threw a pair of touchdown aerials.

Braselton carried Tech to its first touchdown by completing five of seven passes for 80 yards, including a 12-yard score, and gaining 15 yards on two long plays. Thus in the first Tech scoring drive the 6-2, 180-pound quarterback accounted for all but five of 70 yards.

In the third period, with Tech down 12-7, Braselton broke loose for 23 yards after being unable to pass to set up touchdown No. 2—which came on a 10-yard pass to pass to set up touchdown No. 3.

Thus in the fourth period, with Tech nursing a slim one-point lead, Braselton completed a 13-yard pass on fourth down that set up a Tech field goal.

The Heisman of the week award went to Tennessee's 210-pound senior tackle Joe Schaffer of Cincinnati, Ohio, for his great defensive play in the Vol's 6-0 upstart of Auburn which ended the Tiger streak of 24 games without a loss.

The Tennessee tackle hampered the Auburn attack by constantly rushing passers and was a rock in the Vol line when the Tigers tried to move his way on the ground.

Other backs nominated this week included halfback Fred Brown of Georgia who scored one touchdown and set up another in the Bulldogs' 21-4 win over Vanderbilt; tailback Billy Majors of Tennessee, the spark of the Vol offense; and quarterback Jake Gibbs of Mississippi who paced the Rebels to a 10-0 victory over Kentucky.

Other linemen nominated included Tennessee end Cotton Lerner who kicked the field goal that beat Auburn; Mississippi State center Tom Goode, a defensive standout in State's 14-13 loss to Florida; and Georgia Tech tackle Toby Deese who clamped a bang up defensive game against SMU by making a game-saving tackle on the final play.

Rating Ram LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bob Waterfield is the top scorer in the history of the Los Angeles Rams, collecting 373 points in eight campaigns.

Dodgers 13-5 Pick To Beat Braves

NEW YORK (UPI) — Broadway oddsmakers installed the Dodgers as 13-5 favorites to win the National League playoffs following their opening victory over the Braves in the best-of-three series.

The Dodgers, back in their home park, were 6-3 favorites to win today's second game.

If the Dodgers win the playoffs, the Chicago White Sox of the American League will be favored at 11-10 to beat them in the World Series. But if the Braves bounce back to win the playoffs they will be favored at 11-10 over the White Sox.

THE HILL LUMBER and SUPPLY YARD Started In Business

Tremendous changes have taken place — in business and living — since 1873, when W. J. Hill opened the Hill Lumber and Supply Yard at 213 W. Third Street in Sanford.

The automobile was as yet only a fantastic dream; most of the west still a wilderness; baseball, football, the movies, electric lights, the telephone, water-mix paint, Nikita Khrushchev and thousands of names commonplace to this generation were as yet unknown.

Yes, 86 years is a long time. Four generations have grown up and the fifth is on the way. But the Hill Lumber and Supply Yard is still as youthful and vigorous today under the management of its Vice President J. H. Crapps as when the Founder W. J. Hill sold his first order of Lumber.

Seen the old landmark that has housed the business for so long, will be replaced by Sanford's newest, most modern salesroom. Watch for further announcements in this paper. And — in the meantime — Remember: WE'RE OPEN FOR BUSINESS AS USUAL DURING ALTERATIONS.

Tourist Area Turns Into Battlefield For Teen Gangs

NEW YORK (UPI)—Greenwich Village, a favorite resort for the out-of-town tourist, has become a battlefield for young hoodlums, police reported today.

"The situation is very explosive," said Deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm. "The police are trying to control the situation before there is an outbreak of major violence."

Police have closed the fountain area of Washington Square after 6 p. m. to eliminate trouble there. Until recently, this area provided the tourist with a pleasantly bizarre spectacle of bearded beatnik guitarists and bongo drummers.

But all that ended when warfare between the younger generation of Italian villagers and Negro newcomers splashed over into the square. After several outbreaks of fighting with fists and weapons of the screwdriver and coin-operated variety, police stepped in.

The danger areas are mainly the streets south and west of Washington Square where Bohemian espresso cafes, Italian restaurants, off-beat nightclubs and homosexual bars draw hordes of young people from the far reaches of the city every Friday and Saturday night.

Police say the main point of friction seems to be the association of white girls, called "Bronx bagel babies" by the old-guard Italians, and Negro youths who have moved in from Harlem looking for thrills—and trouble. Italian youths have formed gangs to teach the Negroes a lesson and drive them away.

"They have what they call neighborhood recreation halls, but they are more like medieval torture chambers," said a Negro artist who has lived for many years in the village. "God help you if they ever drag you into one of them."

Ship Saved, Now They'll Sell It

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—Eight men who risked their lives to salvage a stricken oil tanker the experts said couldn't be saved, prepared today to negotiate the sale of their prize for a sum of up to two million dollars.

"The bulk of the once proud 21,000-ton 'African Queen,' abandoned by its owners after it hit a shoal and split in two off Ocean City, Md., last December, was towed into Norfolk Harbor early Sunday after a painfully slow 110-mile journey that lasted almost 54 hours.

"The adventuresome amateurs, who boarded the vessel after others had tried and failed to raise it, unfurled an American flag as their vessel entered Norfolk Harbor.

Hundreds of persons lined the shore and banked car horns as the crippled vessel, soaked with oil and filth, loomed into sight.

This ended a stranger than fiction episode, which had claimed one man's life.

After the tanker went down with its cargo of oil, Paul Brady and Lloyd Deir of Suffolk, Va., and Selden Little of Holland, Va., boarded it with shotguns, warned off other would-be salvagers, and claimed the vessel's 400-foot stern section as theirs under international law.

Another waterman had tried to salvage the vessel's bow section, but lost his life in the process.

The trio hired five men to help them, promised them a $1,000 bonus if the vessel came in, then spent months trying to raise the "Queen." They finally got it afloat last Monday and had it under tow Thursday.

But as the tug boat Mary L. McAllister, a Coast Guard cutter escort, and the wounded "Queen" began the strange voyage to Norfolk, Hurricane Gracie turned the journey into a race against time.

The indictment charged that Straus arranged for assets of five stores in Atlanta to be transferred to corporations he controlled to conceal them in the bankruptcy proceedings.

The transfers allegedly took place after the corporations made loans to the stores and took over their assets by foreclosing on the loans.

Look At World's People Brings Feeling Of Sympathy, Sanford Couple Finds

By JACK PHILLIPS
A round-the-world trip of nearly 90 days has brought a greater charitable feeling for the world's peoples to Sanford's J. H. Van Hoy.

Seeing the troubles of peoples in far-off lands arouses sympathy for them, says Van Hoy, who with his wife recently returned from a global tour.

Leaving San Francisco June 15, on board the S.S. Pres. Monroe, the couple visited 23 countries and three continents. They spent five days in Japan, visiting Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe, and the resort city of Nikko. Japan's cleanliness impressed Van Hoy. A Japanese guide who was asked by the Sanford visitor what he thought of the MacArthur occupation, said that he had favored it.

From Japan it was on to Hong Kong, Singapore, and Thailand with the Pres. Monroe steaming between Formosa and the China mainland. It was the first scheduled steamship in many months to do so.

An anti-Communist parade was held in Cebu, the Malayan state, during the Van Hoy's visit there. The Communist regime was outlawed in Cebu, the next day. The couple saw hundreds of thousands of refugees from communism in ports like Bombay, Karachi, and Cebu, says Van Hoy. The ports have difficulty taking care of Asians fleeing from communist rule he reports.

In India the Sanford couple saw the Taj Mahal, New Delhi, and Jaipur. Though India's temperature sometimes soars to 120 degrees, and torrential rains fall, 90 degrees was the high where the Van Hoy's traveled.

They carried raincoats around the world and never used them. Leaving India, the Van Hoy's went to Pakistan. Their ship then cruised through the Red Sea to Suez. The Egyptians were a little more reticent than the Japanese but were friendly enough, says Van Hoy. In all countries English is spoken, particularly around the ports, and the monetary exchange rate is favorable to U. S. tourists, he reports. After seeing the famed Egyptian sphinx and moonlight on the Nile, Van Hoy says people are doing the same things in that part of the world they did thousands of years ago.

The next stop after Alexandria, was a jump across the Mediterranean to Naples. There's "nothing new under the sun," says Van Hoy after seeing the ruins of Pompeii. The city buried nearly 2,000 years ago by a volcano, must have had drainage problems just as we have, according to the traveler. He saw amphitheaters, pavings and baths revealed by excavations.

Off Leghorn, (Livorno) Italy, the couple saw several United States Sixth Fleet units. The sailors in pretty well rebuilt after World War II's devastation and shipping thrives at this port, part as it does in Genoa, Italy, says Van Hoy.

Of the President Monroe's 90 passengers, 37 were Florida residents. They included Fred Williams, who was a Sanford resident for many years; a Wellesley College music professor; and a woman from Mt. Dora. The Van Hoy's arrived in New York City Sept. 2, and found that while the trip was enjoyable, they were glad to be home.

After seeing the famed Egyptian sphinx and moonlight on the Nile, Van Hoy says people are doing the same things in that part of the world they did thousands of years ago.

The next stop after Alexandria, was a jump across the Mediterranean to Naples. There's "nothing new under the sun," says Van Hoy after seeing the ruins of Pompeii. The city buried nearly 2,000 years ago by a volcano, must have had drainage problems just as we have, according to the traveler. He saw amphitheaters, pavings and baths revealed by excavations.

Off Leghorn, (Livorno) Italy, the couple saw several United States Sixth Fleet units. The sailors in pretty well rebuilt after World War II's devastation and shipping thrives at this port, part as it does in Genoa, Italy, says Van Hoy.

Of the President Monroe's 90 passengers, 37 were Florida residents. They included Fred Williams, who was a Sanford resident for many years; a Wellesley College music professor; and a woman from Mt. Dora. The Van Hoy's arrived in New York City Sept. 2, and found that while the trip was enjoyable, they were glad to be home.

They carried raincoats around the world and never used them. Leaving India, the Van Hoy's went to Pakistan. Their ship then cruised through the Red Sea to Suez. Hundreds of persons lined the shore and banked car horns as the crippled vessel, soaked with oil and filth, loomed into sight.

This ended a stranger than fiction episode, which had claimed one man's life.

After the tanker went down with its cargo of oil, Paul Brady and Lloyd Deir of Suffolk, Va., and Selden Little of Holland, Va., boarded it with shotguns, warned off other would-be salvagers, and claimed the vessel's 400-foot stern section as theirs under international law.

Another waterman had tried to salvage the vessel's bow section, but lost his life in the process.

The trio hired five men to help them, promised them a $1,000 bonus if the vessel came in, then spent months trying to raise the "Queen." They finally got it afloat last Monday and had it under tow Thursday.

But as the tug boat Mary L. McAllister, a Coast Guard cutter escort, and the wounded "Queen" began the strange voyage to Norfolk, Hurricane Gracie turned the journey into a race against time.

The indictment charged that Straus arranged for assets of five stores in Atlanta to be transferred to corporations he controlled to conceal them in the bankruptcy proceedings.

The transfers allegedly took place after the corporations made loans to the stores and took over their assets by foreclosing on the loans.

Holtzclaw To Sing At Gainesville

Sanford's Richard Holtzclaw will sing the title role in "The Most Happy Fella" at the University of Florida Auditorium, Oct. 18. The Gainesville performance will start about 8 p. m.

Holtzclaw, a Sanford native who lives at 1323 E. 5th St., was with the New York City Opera Co. for 12 years. He performed the title role in Verdi's "Falstaff" and was the wicked stepfather in Rossini's "La Cenerentola" while with this company. Holtzclaw was also with the San Carlo Opera Co. He graduated from the University of Louisiana where he studied under a voice scholarship. The baritone has sung for many local civic clubs and churches.

"The best way the people of Sanford could show their appreciation of his generosity would be to attend this performance of 'The Most Happy Fella' in Gainesville Oct. 18, says Dr. H. Wayne Ruchter.

Worry Clinic

Johnny is smarter than his mother. In fact, she should consider it an honor to let Johnny enroll in America's best practical laboratory for gaining business gumption and a keen knowledge of Applied Psychology. If you are more like medieval torture chambers," said a Negro artist who has lived for many years in the village. "God help you if they ever drag you into one of them."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE C-41: Johnny B., aged 14, wants to carry a newspaper route.

"Dr. Crane," his society mother protested, "I wonder if I should consent to it."

"My husband makes a good salary. And the newspaper route would let Johnny down."

"Thus, he'd miss a lot of play time. And in stormy weather, it would mean he'd have to be on the job, regardless."

"So would you advise us to give our consent? Johnny is simply dying to have a route all his own."

"He helped the former carrier so he knows all the customers. The other boy graduated from high school and has now gone to college so Johnny is next in line for the route."

Bravo, Newspaper Boys
Yes, it is very wise to encourage your sons to be newspaper boys.

And that holds true, regardless of the mother's social standing or dad's wealth.

For children do not inherit business judgment: it must be learned afresh by each new generation, just like piano playing.

Indeed, wealthy families are the very ones who should be most eager for their sons to become newspaper carriers for the children of wealthy parents are often below par in first-hand business judgment.

A newspaper carrier obtains the very BEST and almost the ONLY real training nowadays in our American "free enterprise" system.

Other boys may run chores or mow the lawn, and thus are simply paid employes like time clock workers.

learn Applied Psychology. They encounter irritable customers as well as motherly souls who offer them cookies.

They must get up courage to ring doorbells, too, even though they are timid or addicted to stage fright.

They must be good at keeping books. Thus, they soon learn that the sales price of goods is not the profit thereon, for they must subtract the wholesale price from their sales price.

No other children in America get this prolonged tutelage in buying, selling and credit management: It is unique.

Newspaper carriers thus are the best hope of America's economic future. So favor them with college scholarships.

Employers, they also make steady workers on whom you can depend, for they are trained business leaders and faithful in all sorts of weather.

Girls, they become superb husbands, too, for they are good providers, and experts in "H-R-N" (Human Relations).

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Len Matthews of Philadelphia, who reversed one of his two pro defeats Monday night when he scored a unanimous decision over Paulie Armstead of Los Angeles, wants a chance to erase the TKO suffered at the hands of Carlos Ortiz of New York.

The seventh ranked Matthews, who scaled 133½, unlimbered the heavy artillery after opening a cut over the California State力士's left eye in the fifth and was able to beat Armstead at his own game.

Armstead, 133½, listed just behind the 20-year-old Philadelphian in the lightweight ranks, tried to repeat the hotly argued split decision he gained over Matthews last January by leading with long rights to the head, then pressing in close, scoring with quick combinations.

Referee Joe Sweeney scored Monday night's bout 48-45, judge Nate Lopenson saw it 49-42, and judge Leo Tress carded it 46-45, all in favor of Matthews. United Press International gave the Philadelphia a 48-45 margin.

Drug Possibility Studied In Illness Of Oklahomans

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—The University of Oklahoma football team physician said Monday night he believed 20 Sooner players were poisoned "by some kind of chemical or drug" before their 45-13 loss to Northwestern University Saturday.

Dr. D. G. (Mike) Willard said he hopes to have a complete report within a day or so on investigations made by Chicago and Evanston, Ill., authorities into the sudden sickness of the players Thursday night, about 42 hours before the game.

"There is no question in my mind, and this is my personal opinion, but that these boys were poisoned by some kind of chemical or drug," Willard said.

Several of the Oklahoma players became violently ill after dining at a large Chicago night club. Team officials suspected they had suffered food poisoning as result of a fruit salad they ate, but Chicago health officials ruled this out Friday morning after a quick investigation.

Charlie Grimm Back For Third Time As Cub Pilot

CHICAGO (UPI)—Charlie Grimm begins his third term as manager of the Chicago Cubs today without an idea how to convert a team that has twice finished in a fifth place tie, into a 1960 pennant winner.

"I don't know what we have to do to make us a contender," he said. "But I do know of five boys in the farm system who might help us. And what else it'll take, we'll have to decide in conferences in the near future."

Grimm, 61, a Cub vice president for the past two years, was named to succeed Bob Scheffing Monday when the latter "resigned" after a negotiation parley with club President Philip K. Wrigley.

Scheffing will remain with the club with only "a slight cut in pay," but his exact duties have to be determined. He might become a farm team manager, or perhaps work in the farm organization, but Wrigley emphasized it would be a "baseball" job and not in a front office capacity.

Grimm, who previously managed the Cubs from Aug. 4, 1932 through July 20, 1938, and from May 7, 1944 through June 10, 1949, said he took the job again "only because of Mr. Wrigley."

Why we built two cars for 1960... as different as night and day!

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years undergoing revisions and refinements.

Consequently, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional-sized car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars—each one built the way it should be built, to best fill the needs it was meant to fill.

One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new feeling, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power, linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb (and America's most popular) 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance... a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long... and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies its great structural strength... it's a welded unit that is virtually squeak- and rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: the Corvair will be the only American compact car with this type of suspension system—the only one that rides so comfortably, holds the road so firmly and handles so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's... take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.

Critic Finds Showcase Fare Just Routine

By FRED DANES
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first of NBC-TV's two-part Sunday Showcase production "That Makes Sammy Run" found Sammy running off his normal stride. Better casting; lighter, more judicious fidelity to the spirit of Budd Schulberg's novel and more adventurous direction could have turned this into a memorable show. Instead, Schulberg and his brother, Stuart, added traces of a conscience to the TV story of Sammy Glick, the ruthless, show-loving Hollywood hustler who stomps on friends and the allies in his upward climb. They also modified relationships and left us with a routine recital of an off-lid TV tale. Remember "The Velvet Trap" and "The Comedian" on TV?

Of course, Schulberg has a right to tamper with his creation, and mellow with the years. Unfortunately, he destroyed the impact of some vital scenes and completely bypassed others in the process. Larry Blyden had difficulty being a convincing no-goodnik, but I place part of the blame on the "humanized" script. Physically Blyden also carried too much weight for Sammy's essentially ferret-like figure. Too often, he reminded me of Red Buttons playing "The Kappa Kid."

Barbara Rush was inappropriate as Ed: Too sweet-looking and sweet-sounding, not sharp or "big" enough. While Dick Merrill, John Forsythe and Sidney Blackmer managed their parts with varying degrees of verisimilitude, Delbert Mann's straightforward direction added little excitement to the proceedings. Maybe next week's concluding stanza will find Sammy back in stride again.

Shortly after Premier Khrushchev invited Americans to look his country over, Ed Sullivan came along on CBS-TV with his own "invitation to Moscow," a thoroughly satisfying 90-minute special.

Sullivan's timing is still one of the wonders of the TV industry.

As in Spoleto, Italy, Sullivan's special consisted of many video-taped outdoor scenes. This time, the settings were the parks, theaters, streets and squares of Moscow. Three Russian acts joined with Risa Stevens, Dick Costino, the Barry Sisters, Margaret Tynes, Marge and Gower Champion and other American performers to provide the entertainment. Because of the locale and the meaning behind the show, each act carried a built-in tinge. It's my hope that our talent had the same electrifying effect on the Russians as the Russian brown bear circus act had on my son.

Short Show: Jimmy Durante, who refused to concede looks, talent or age to any man on earth, served up his usual brand of entertainment on his Friday night NBC-TV special. He did himself no harm, although it was an uneventful hour in terms of originality and sparkle.

Milton Berle, the "old" Uncle Miltie, this time, was on hand when Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz opened their new CBS-TV season Friday. A few laughs were garnered from the predictable wild situations and, to make it official, Berle put on a dress and Lucy smoked a cigar. It would have been funnier as a 30-minute show.

On Sunday, Alfred Hitchcock launched his fifth CBS-TV season with a superb acting job by Laurence Harvey, who played a chicken farmer with a new chick on feed ingredient—his ex-girl friend. "The Splendid American," ABC-TV Sunday night special about Americans in Laos, was a beautifully-presented tribute to some dedicated people.

I barely recognized Dick Clark Sunday night as he brought in a new ABC-TV show, world of talent. He was, for a change, surrounded by some professional performers. And not a guitar in sight. The format dates back to the show called "This Is Show Business," which believed that talent had to be forced upon the public. The premise was wrong 10 years ago and it's still wrong today.

The Camel Swim: Jackie Gleason and Irish playwright Brendan Behan are slated for a trans-oceanic chat via CBS-TV's Small World later this fall. . . . Lon Lon Guber and Abba Linn will appear as panelists on Dick Clark's World of Talent Show, Oct. 15 and 16, respectively, on ABC-TV. . . . Pat Hingle, seriously injured in an elevator shaft accident last winter, returns to action on CBS-TV Nov. 18 when the U. S. Steel Hour presents "The Last Autumn." Alexis Smith co-stars. . . . Steve Allen's NBC-TV guests for his Monday, Oct. 5 hour are Buddy Hackett, Tuvessa Brewer and the Mervyn Franks. . . . Note to parents: beginning Oct. 3, Captain Kangaroo starts his hour-long Saturday program at 8 a. m. e.d.t.

A pineapple top planted in a small jar of water will sprout and take root. It makes an attractive, pain-like plant.

Mortgage Money Problems Heard By Loan Groups

George Touby, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Ass., has returned from the convention of the Florida Savings and Loan League at Ft. Lauderdale.

Touby served as chairman of the nominating committee and reports that George Castor of Coral Gables was elected president for the coming year.

With the federal government attempting to combat inflation through increased money rates, the delegates heard discussions on rates for mortgage money, 40 per cent of which for single family dwellings is supplied by the Savings and Loan organizations. The attempt to keep up with the anti-inflationary efforts and still not discourage the home building demand in this fast-growing state is a problem the bank institutions represented at the convention are trying to solve, Touby said.

Although the assets of Savings and Loan Associations in the state now exceed $1 billion, and in spite of the fact that savings this year have reached an all time high, money from outside Florida must be used to meet the housing construction and purchase demand, it was pointed out.

As is the case with First Federal here, most associations are paying dividends of four per cent a year to attract savings, but the influx of people into the Sunshine state has kept demand ahead of supply for money as the newcomers try to buy or build homes, Touby said.

Junior Gridders Clash Tuesday

Sanford Junior High's "heavy" football team will meet at St. Cloud Junior high team here at 7:30 tonight for the local squad's first game of the season.

The teams for boys from 14 years and 130 pounds up, will play in Municipal Stadium.

Approximately 20 Sanford players will be in uniform for the contest.

St. Cloud has a "pretty fair team" says Sanford coach Dan Telham.

The lineup for Sanford is: ends, Pearly Foley, number 20 and David Yates, number 21; tackles, Richard Hargrave, number 27, and Eddie Foster, number 28; guards, Tommy Crow, number 30 and Jenkins, number 22; center, Red Jensen, number 21; quarterback, Buddy Lawson, number 11; fullback Lee Sparkman, number 17; left halfback, Ralph Simas, number nine; and right halfback, Tommy Brooks, number 10.

Sanford Junior High's "midnight" team beat Fort Orange 41-0 Thursday night. More than 500 people attended the contest in which every boy on the local team played. Ricky Galleher scored four touchdowns and Jimmy Touby and Paul Colman scored one each. All but one extra point was made.

County Adopts Tentative Budget For Fiscal Year

Bernando County Commission adopted a tentative budget yesterday for the fiscal year starting tomorrow but plans to amend it at a future date when they receive accurate figures from the tax rolls.

The tentative budget is based on a five per cent increase in non-exempt property valuation on the basis of the current tax roll, which was listed at $24,849,000.

County Clerk O. P. Herndon said the tentative operating budget would be revised when the 1959 tax roll is completed.

The adoption of the budget came after attorney Mack Cleveland made a long distance telephone call to the comptroller's office in Tallahassee for clearance to adopt the budget.

According to John Bergert of the state auditor's office, who sat in at the meeting, the commission Tallahassee for clearance to adopt a budget because of the approaching deadline.

Commission agreed to adopt the budget "in order to continue operations" realizing they would have to amend the budget later.

After an absence of some 30 minutes, Cleveland returned and told the group that the comptroller's office had given the okay to adopt the tentative budget and to amend it at a later date and to increase or reduce the millage as the commission saw fit.

The long delay in adopting the county budget was brought on by a countywide reappraisal of property which boosted total Bernando valuations from the current $22,112,987 to $24,849,000.

The tentative budget calls for $221,603 for general operating,

A TRIBUTE TO BUSINESS WOMEN was signed by Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson yesterday in recognition of National Business Women's week which starts Monday. Texas Plane Crash Kills 34

Gracie Slows, Spreads Floods; New Hurricane 900 Miles Away

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Tropical storm Gracie, weakened but still a flood threat, bore up the eastern seaboard today, after spreading death and widespread damage through the Carolinas and Georgia.

Gracie was barely getting out of the way ahead of her sister, Hannah, a storm that built up a 105-mile-an-hour punch in the Atlantic 900 miles east of Palm Beach.

Two deaths were directly attributed to Gracie's power, which reached 140 miles an hour at hurricane height Tuesday. Ten others were indirectly caused by the storm. They included two persons washed off a fishing jetty by a huge wave, seven traffic deaths on rain slick roads and one traffic fatality when a car hit a fallen tree.

Gracie was due to sweep through North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia during the day, accompanied by heavy rain, and would swing into south-central Pennsylvania Thursday morning, reports said.

Western and central Pennsylvania could expect a deluge of rain tonight and low areas were cautioned of a flood threat.

Winds from the storm, which swept into Charleston, S. C., Tuesday with a blast of 125-140 miles an hour, were down to 35 miles an hour and were considered no threat to life or property.

South Carolina took the brunt of Gracie's destruction. The communities of Waterboro and Beaufort still were isolated this morning. State Civil Defense Director Charles B. Culbertson and Deputy Director A. V. Thomas left Columbia by helicopter to inspect the areas.

Beaufort sent a radio message to Red Cross headquarters that 3,000 still were housed in emergency shelters there. About 200

National Guardsmen were on duty at the coastal town.

At 11 a. m. hurricane Hannah's highest winds were 100 miles an hour near the center and hurricane force winds were 50 miles ahead of the storm and 25 miles to the south of it.

During the next 12 to 24 hours Hannah was expected to continue toward the west-northwest at about 12 miles an hour with little change in size or intensity. Hannah was following in general the path of its predecessor.

The storm posed no immediate threat to any land areas. However, Chief Forecaster Gordon Dunn of the Miami Weather Bureau said there was a possibility Hannah may follow the same path as sister Gracie.

Dunn said the same high pressure system that sent Gracie inland at the Carolina's coast also may block Hannah's normal northwesterly course.

"It is too early to say definitely that Hannah will move inland, but we'll be extremely fortunate if she doesn't," Dunn said.

Authorities Checking Sabotage

BUFFALO, Tex. (UPI) — A Braniff Airways turbo-prop plane that may have exploded in flight crashed in flames in a scrub oak thicket on an east-central Texas ranch late Tuesday night, killing 34 persons.

The plane carried six crew members and 28 passengers who were bound for Dallas, Washington and New York. Recovery crews found bodies draped on the oak.

"Wreckage, bodies and mail are scattered over an area a mile square," E. M. Fickens, 49, who runs a feed store at Buffalo said. "There are just pieces of bodies. I had just gone to bed when the plane crashed."

"I raised up and saw a light in the east and heard a terrible explosion. I thought maybe he hit the ground, but the wreckage looks like it exploded in the air. It must have happened in the air, because it blew all over the countryside."

The Texas Department of Public Safety said one of its patrolmen also thought the plane exploded in the air. He thought at first it was a flaming meteor going down.

The Civil Aeronautics Bureau ordered four men, headed by John Stroehli of its Miami office, to investigate the crash. In view of the explosion-in-air reports, it was understood that they will look for signs of sabotage.

The CAE men were on scene and "use before" they break and the Department of Public Safety blocked off all approaches to the scene so the wreckage will be intact for them to examine.

Although bits of wreckage, bodies and mail were widely scattered, the tail section of the two-and-a-half-million-dollar Lockheed Electra was reported to have escaped total destruction.

Two fires were reported as far as a quarter of a mile from where the tail hit. Fickens thought the fires may have been burning engines.

The captain of the plane was W. E. Stone, 47, who had flown for 20 years with Braniff. Don Hallowell, whose 50th birthday was Tuesday, was first officer. Rollin Longhill, 39, was second officer. The three stewards were on board were Leona Mary Windler, 26; Betty Ruch, 23, and Alvin Harrison, 25.

Steel Strike Talks To Start Again As Ike Urges Immediate Negotiations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both sides in the deadlocked steel dispute agreed under President Eisenhower's personal urging today to resume negotiations immediately.

The President promptly issued a statement expressing hope that "an agreement can be initiated" before he returns next week from his California vacation. Union leaders said they hoped they could report a settlement tonight.

Eisenhower won the agreement after conferring first with industry leaders and then with United Steelworkers' President David J. McDonald and other union officials.

McDonald proposed that negotiations, which were broken off by the union last Friday, be resumed here this afternoon, in an effort to end the 78-day strike.

Industry leaders promised the President to do their best to achieve "a negotiated settlement."

Eisenhower issued a three-paragraph statement half an hour after his meetings with the union and management leaders. He said: "I have just completed talks with officials of several of the steel companies and of the steelworkers union.

"In view of the mounting impact of the strike on the jobs of hundreds of thousands of Americans, I sincerely hope that an agreement can be initiated before my return to Washington next week."

The purpose of the talks today was to bring about a voluntary settlement of the steel strike which will be fair and just to all parties involved, including the public. I am persuaded that this is the kind of settlement that the American people want. It is the only kind that would be good for all Americans and for our whole economy."

White House News Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that the President "was quite firm in his expressions to both sides."

Hagerty said Eisenhower's "discussion was the same to both sides—that they ought to get back to negotiations, and fast."

Asked what the President meant in expressing hope that an agreement can be initiated before his return to Washington next week, Hagerty said: "The purpose of the talks today was to bring about a voluntary settlement of the steel strike which will be fair and just to all parties involved, including the public. I am persuaded that this is the kind of settlement that the American people want. It is the only kind that would be good for all Americans and for our whole economy."

Dock Strike Set To Hit Nation's Ports At Midnight

NEW YORK (UPI)—A crippling dockworkers strike affecting ports from Maine to Texas at midnight appeared a certainty today unless an agreement can be reached on extending the expiring contract.

Federal, state and city mediators said early today they see no possibility of an early agreement on a new contract between the International Longshoremen's Association and the New York shipping Assn. The old contract expires at midnight and the union has a "no contract, no work" policy.

The negotiations here actually affect only ILA locals from Maine to Virginia, whose contract demands are tied up with those of the New York locals. South Atlantic and Gulf locals technically conduct separate negotiations, but they traditionally wait for an agreement here before closing their contracts. Approximately 60,000 men would be involved in a strike.

A joint negotiating meeting is scheduled for this afternoon. The ILA rejected Tuesday a new contract offer calling for a 30-cent-an-hour wage package in a three year contract. The ILA originally demanded a $1.48 hourly package but is understood to have reduced this to a 50-cent package.

Collie Fanciers To Hold Match

The Collie Fanciers of Central Florida will hold a collie match at the Garlyn Collie Kennel, Geneva, Friday.

The match to begin at 6 p. m. will have Alexander Draper of Jacksonville judging the entries. The four entry classes will be puppies under six months, males and females. First and second place ribbons will be given to the top collies in each class and a trophy for the best in the match.

Results of the recent election of officers will be announced after the match, followed by a grooming demonstration. Jackson H. Cyn-San Collie Kennel owners Sandy Draper will give the demonstration.

All collie fanciers are urged to enter their dogs and to attend the meeting. Entries will be accepted until 5:45 p. m. the night of the match.

Denver Repairing $7 Million Snow Storm Damages

DENVER (UPI) — Students eyed ski slopes on the western horizon today, dog tired repairmen were still busy restoring electric service and traffic signals, and homeowners assessed shrub tree and roof damage which may exceed $7 million in Denver, which was caught unprepared for 10.6 inches of heavy wet snow.

The storm began in the early hours Tuesday. By dawn, every tree and bush in the city drooped beneath the weight of clinging snow.

Limbs eight inches thick broke from trees. They crashed onto roof and car tops, power and telephone lines went down all over town. Unpruned shrubbery was flattened.

In the high Rockies, snowdrifts and snowfalls of as much as 15 inches closed roads. Fraser, Colo., had 24 inches of snow on the ground Tuesday night.

Several mountain areas started up chair lifts and rope tows, as winter sportsmen showed up for their earliest crack at the ski slopes in recent memory.

Highway crews opened a mountain road west of Denver in time for Mrs. Thomas Holbrook, 28, to give birth to a son in a city hospital.

Four runaway boys in their early teens, believed to have been living off food found in mountain cabins west of Denver for the past week, were still unlocated after the storm subsided.

Havana Papers Attack Castro

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro was under an unprecedented heavy attack from major independent Havana newspapers today for his denunciations of the Cuban press and newsmen who criticized his regime.

It was the first time since Castro led his revolutionary forces into power last Jan. 1 that the press has openly taken such strong exceptions to his remarks.

The war of words was touched off by Castro's criticisms during a long nationwide television appearance Monday night.

There were rumors that the Havana newspaper Diario de la Marina would suspend publication because of the attack by Castro. But spokesmen said the newspaper would publish today and carry a full reply to the Castro charges.

In a preliminary reaction, the newspaper termed the Castro attack "representative of Cuba's worst interests." In an editorial prepared for publication, it said "we are tired of so many threats, so much intolerance and so many gratuitous accusations and unjustified charges."

It said press freedom existed in Cuba but it was a "very special freedom." It said there were no censors and no agreement by the newspaper not to criticize the Castro government, but it added: "You should know by now that there are two big and shameful facts that damage the freedom of press in our country."

One, it said, was public figures saying one thing publicly and another privately because of "fear and adulation."

"Therefore," Diario de la Marina said, "in Cuba and abroad there are very few who believe there is complete and full freedom of the press in Cuba."

Former Auditor Opposes Gray

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Former auditor Edward C. Hornsby of Tallahassee announced today he will be a candidate for the office of secretary of state in 1960.

He will oppose the veteran R. A. Gray who has held the office since 1930. Gray is scheduled to decide next month whether or not he intends to seek re-election.

Hornsby tried for the office in 1956, going down in defeat 476,502 to 116,824.

He pledged to fight for fair representation in the legislature based on the philosophy that "good government is government for the benefit of the people."

45,000 Laid Off At Chrysler Plants

RETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp., announced that some 25,000 employees in seven states will be laid off today and 45,000 will be laid off by Friday because of a strike at the firm's Twinsburg, Ohio, stamping plant.

The layoffs are the result of parts shortages caused by the Twinsburg strike. Reemployment will be delayed by the number of days the Twinsburg strike continues, Chrysler officials said.

'Road Runners' To Race Darters

BY BOB STUBBINGS
It looks as if football fans will see the "Rockin' Road Runners," vs the Blue Darters Friday night in Memorial Stadium.

A revamped Seminole High School team dubbed the Rocking Road Runners by its members, and Apopka's Blue Darters will clash in a tilt that promises to be a real thriller.

The formidable Apopka eleven, coached by Tom Bolen, has scored 66 points in two games and have yet to be scored upon. In view of their strength, Head Coach Jim Pigott will change his strategy and employ the piston system, using his best offensive men on one squad and his best defensive men on the other.

Pigott explained that if Apopka gets the ball inside the Sanford 20 yard line he will use his heaviest defensive players and when Sanford gets the ball inside the Apopka 10, the heaviest offensive men will be employed to try to crash the Blue Darter line.

Pigott made no excuses for last week's defeat at the hands of the Seabreeze Sandcrabs. "There were some mistakes made," he commented.

Sanford's morale is high. Knowing that they need work, the team has lived up to the practice sessions by dubbing the offensive squad the Road Runners and the defensive unit the Rockers. When players from both units are in action they are called the Rocking Road Runners.

Apopka, who has impressive wins over Colonial High of Orlando and Leesburg, goes on the field as favorite in Friday night's contest.
