The women's club champion, Sally Kuenz, also deserves a "salute for winning this award two years in a row. You can bet she will be aiming for number three next year. On Saturday, Dec. 17, Rolling Hills held a full handicap, Blind Holes Tourney, with a blind draw being made on holes two, four and five. These holes were eliminated from low net computations.

Low net winner, with a total of 55, was Bob Shroyer who was followed closely by Lloyd Wordon's 56 for runnerup honors. Second runnerup with a score of 57 was Campbell Trigg, while a two-way tie for third runnerup honors between Jim Miller and Webber Haines with 58's. A four-way tie developed for fourth place between Knox Bottinghaus. Bill Dilworth, Keith Burr and Fritz Sims, all recording the same score of 60.

Jim Creamer was lucky-number-winner of the Blind Bogey Tournament sponsored by the Mayfair Men's Golf Association. The lucky number was 77 and thise was Creamer's total golf score at the end of the tourney. Low net winner with a 68 was Jim Newman and John Dickey had a 69 for second. The Sanford Junior Golf Association held a Toy Tournament earlier this week and Skip Dalton was the top winner in the "A" division with a fine score of 75. Mike Rudd was off the pace with a 77. Tomr.y Hunter Harley Sykes tied for third place with a score of 78.

--- In the "B" division winch was only nine holes, a threeway the existed for first place between Hatch Dickey, Julie Miller and Elizabeth O'Neil all shooting identical scores of 36. Our Junior Golfer of the Week selection goes to Hatch Dickey who is a real fine young golfer.

The President's Cup Tournament is in progress at the avisir. On Jan. 7th and 8th the Mayfair will have their fember-Guest Tournament. Trophies and prizes will be invaried to the top winners at a buffet dinner at the contusion of this event.

This will be a 36 hole affair and prizes will be given to he top three teams in the low net division. Prizes will also be presented to the top three teams in the low gross division. Individual awards will also be presented to top low nat and low gross winners. Jan. Brd is the last day that entry forms may be turned in to the "Pro Shop." The Sanford Women's Golf Association will hold a unique tourney on Jan. 1st and it will be called the Bloody Mary Tournament. This will be a nine hole, one club event meaning that each lady will be allowed to select one club and must use this club throughout the entire nine holes. No substituting of clubs will be permitted. Badcock's Furniture Store at 206 Magnolia Ave. was broken into sometime Christmas morning, police reported. Entry was gained by tossing a 40 pound piece of concrete through the plate glass window. Police said there was no indication on how much merchandise was taken until a complete inventory is made some time today. However, early reports said several TV sets and other merchandise was stolen.
