'Best Man' Becomes Couple's Slayer

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (UPI) — A 36-year-old man told detectives today how he stepped out of his intended role as best man and murdered a couple about to be married.

Lawrence Garner admitted fatally shooting Richard Nowlan, 28, an escaped convict, and his bride-to-be, Patricia Hurley Skene, 27, Sept. 9 during a pause on their way to Las Vegas, Nev., where they planned to be married.

"I killed him because I didn't like him," said Garner. "He was an arrogant character."

The bodies of Nowlan and Mrs. Skene, a divorcee and known Los Angeles narcotic user, were found in a lonely desert area the day after the shooting. Identity papers had been stripped from their bodies and it took detectives several days to learn their names.

Garner told detectives he and his girl friend, Sandra Kay Grounds, 23, were driving to Las Vegas with the couple, planning to finance the trip with holdups, when he began to resent Nowlan's superior attitude and informed him he would not go through with the holdup scheme.

He claimed Nowlan threatened him and his family if he backed out.

"That's when I made up my mind I was going to kill him," Garner said.

"After we left Adelanto near here and were out in the desert, I started looking for a good place to kill Nowlan. We stopped the car and Sandra and I took a short walk."

Garner said he and Nowlan decided to take target practice in the lonely desert area while the two women waited in the car.

"Nowlan said he had to go back to the car for more ammunition," said Garner. "I shot him in the groin. He fell down and begged me not to kill him. I shot him again, this time in the head."

"I went back to the car and told Pat there had been an accident. She ran to Nowlan and put his head in her lap. She was looking down at him when I shot her in the back of the head."

Garner said he and Miss Grounds returned to the Los Angeles area and then fled to Mexico. They were deported as undesirable and arrested last Friday in Nogales, Ariz.

Storm Brewing Near Bahamas

MIAMI (UPI) — A tropical storm began building up in the Bahamas Islands today, only 475 miles east-southeast of Miami. Highest winds were reported at 40 miles per hour.

The Weather Bureau called the disturbance a "tropical depression." But the bureau said it was expected to intensify and probably would become a tropical storm during the day.

It was designated Gracie as the seventh tropical disturbance of the year.

The center of the depression was located by hurricane hunter planes 125 miles southeast of the island of San Salvador.

The Weather Bureau advised all interests in the Bahamas to "take necessary precautions for possible intensification during the next 24 hours."

"All interests in south Florida should keep in touch with the latest advisories and bulletins," the advisory said.

The depression formed in an easterly wave of squalls that has been watched closely for several days as it moved westward across the Caribbean.

The squall winds began circulating in the tropical pattern this morning as the wave slowed down over the central Bahamas and began drifting slowly northward about seven miles per hour.

"Future course of the depression is rather indefinite," forecasters said. "Present indications are that it will drift slowly in a northerly direction during the next 12 hours and gradually increase in size and intensity, possibly reaching tropical storm force during the day."

Highest winds were located in squalls near the center. Winds of 25 to 35 miles per hour extend out 150 miles north and east of the center, the weather bureau said.

A widespread air and sea search continued, meanwhile in the Gulf of Mexico for seven men missing on two boats in choppy water. A seaman fell overboard from a fishing trawler being towed to Tampa early today and was feared drowned.

Soviet Arms Proposal On Agenda

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The United Nations steering committee put Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's disarmament plan on the General Assembly agenda today and Russia immediately demanded a separate debate on it.

No objection was made in the 21-nation committee to Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov's request that the plan outlined by Khrushchev here last Friday be included in the assembly's agenda.

But Kuznetsov objected vigorously to Brazilian Augusto Frederico Schmidt's proposal that the Khrushchev plan be lumped with other aspects of disarmament already listed for discussion. The committee left that decision to the assembly.

Kuznetsov said Khrushchev's proposal should stand by itself for discussion and not be "hidden away" among other proposals where it might not "be given sufficient attention as to substance."

The steering committee met before the full assembly went into a session in which the United States hoped to match or better last year's vote in beating down attempts to seal Communist China in the United Nations.

Growth Injection

KOBE, Japan (UPI) — Doctors at the Kobe Medical University claimed today that transfusing a midgelet with the blood of a giant would increase the midgelet's height.

The school's internal medicine department said it had injected the blood of a six-foot, 18-year-old girl into a 25-year-old man whose growth had been stunted since he injured his head in a fall at school in the sixth grade.

In one year, the university reported, the man's height grew three centimeters (1.18 inches).

Unconfirmed reports said that on the basis of this finding, some businessmen already were inquiring about importing whole blood into Japan from countries where the people grow tall.

One newspaper which carried the report said it received a telephone call from a reader inquiring whether it would work in reverse for a tall person who wanted to be less noticeable.

Seminole Problem Up To Him

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins was expected to give his decision today in a controversy over the 1959 Seminole County tax roll.

Aides said the Seminole County problem would be the first item brought to the governor's attention upon his return from a trip to New Hampshire.

The governor was reported driving back to Tallahassee and could not be reached for comment this morning. He was expected at the capital sometime today.

Collins said today he has wished the heads of the Seminole property assessment battle and will leave it strictly up to Collins.

Green said he will discuss the matter—which has been before him on four previous occasions—with Collins when the governor returns.

"There is nothing more this office can do," Green said.

"I thought I had settled it four times and each time, the officials down there seemed to get further apart. It's almost reached the stage of a shooting war."

"I'm going to turn that baby over to the governor."

The commission voted to refer the matter to the governor and comptroller for a decision last week after tax assessor Mary Earle Walker refused to accept a commission-ordered reappraisal. A telegram was sent by the commission to the governor and comptroller, but both were out of the state at the time. Green returned but Commission Chairman John Kridler said no reply has been received to the message.

No Dates Slated For Tax Hearing

County Commissioners decided this morning that they weren't in a position to set dates for tax equalization meetings.

The commissioners can't set the hearing dates until they know when the tax rolls will be submitted, advised Attorney Mach Cleveland Jr.

A request for a tentative budget from the county clerk, to be presented not later than next Tuesday was made by the commission. According to the state attorney general the commission must have a proposed budget.

A five per cent increase over last year's budget could be anticipated for the coming year said Deputy Clerk Earl Burdick. This would bring the 1959-60 budget to about $38 million.

The commissioners prepare the final budget from the tentative figures drawn up by the county clerk.

NOW... '60 CHEVROLET TRUCKS

WITH REVOLUTIONARY TORSION-SPRING SUSPENSION THAT GIVES ASTONISHING NEW SHOCKPROOF ACTION !!!!!

They're done the best thing to power every road in America!
First they threw out the front axle and put in torsion-spring independent suspension. Then they built coil rear springs into most light-duty models, variable-rate leaf springs into heavies. That made it—a ride you have to feel to believe. A ride that lets you move faster to get more work done in a day.

Stronger built than any Chevy truck ever made. Frames are stronger, cabs 67% more rigid. Front wheels and tires are precision-balanced. And that new suspension cushions jars and road shock that used to spell slow death for sheet metal.

More comfortable cabs! Easier to hop in and out of too. Many models are a whole 7 inches lower outside. Yet there's more head room inside, plus more width for shoulders and hips.

Big in the power department! With the industry's most advanced gas-saving 6's. With high-torque Workmaster V8 performance in heavyweights. With new 6-cylinder or V8 power available in new L.C.P. models.

More models than ever! New 4-wheel-drive models, tandems and high-styled Suburban Carryalls. It's the handsomest, hardest Chevy fleet ever to report for duty. See your dealer for the whole story, and be sure to take a ride! It's something!

Anything less is an old-fashioned truck!

The South Knows What's Going On

Gov. LeRoy Collins said something in a speech "up north" last week that we wish could be made required reading for every member of Congress, the U. S. Supreme Court and all other bodies which have been slamming the South around for years on the question of segregation.

Collins had quite a bit to say on the subject, but summed up our feelings very well in one sentence:

"Southerners resent criticism from those who do not practice what they preach."

The governor went on to pinpoint the real reason why many politicians and other bleeding hearts cry "discrimination, etc., etc." when any discussion of the South's racial problems arise.

"While the South has its share of racial demagogues, that does not make southerners feel any more kindly toward the northern politician who, equally demagogic, makes a big show of impressing Negroes—not because of any real regard for them as individuals and as American citizens, but because they are members of strong voting blocs."

Gov. Collins pointed out that northern sections are not without feet of clay regarding the racial line.

"Southerners are aware of the aqualor in which Negroes live in many of the crowded cities in the North. They are aware of the race riots and other acts of violence which take place north of the Mason Dixon Line. They are aware of white neighborhoods with discriminatory rules and of jerry-mandered school districts which insure segregated schools in the North," the governor told his audience at the New England Weekly Press Assn. banquet at Crawford Notch, N. H.

His speech was timely. New York City has set a system of alarms from various sections to try to head off race riots. There are school problems in regard to integration. Still, the emphasis on segregation and other individual "rights" abuses is aimed at the South.

We say hooray for LeRoy and maybe we ought to send him up North every once in awhile.

Laxity On Rights Cases Is Denied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department has denied a congressman's charge that it has been lax in prosecuting civil rights violations.

Rep. John D. Dingell (D-Mich.) touched off the exchange Sunday by accusing the department's civil rights division of "shameful disregard of responsibility." He said "If any Negro citizens have been able to register or vote as a result of Justice Department enforcement of the 1957 act."

The charge brought a quick statement from W. Wilson White, assistant attorney general in charge of the civil rights section.

"The statement by Mr. Dingell indicates that he is not familiar with the true enforcement record of the department," White said. He said his office had acted with "promptness and vigor" in all cases.

Dingell said only three voting cases had been brought up for prosecution. Of these, he said, two were dismissed by trial judges and the third is yet to be tried.

White said the congressman had his facts wrong.

Halleck Makes Self Available

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck is available for the 1960 GOP vice presidential nomination.

The 46-year-old Indiana congressman noted Sunday that "you don't run for vice president" but said he would answer "yes" if the party's presidential candidate sought him for a running mate.

Halleck's political prestige has been climbing sharply since last Jan. 6 when he took over leadership of House Republicans by ousting veteran Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. from that post.

Would-Be Soviet Returning Home

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nicholas Petrull, a sheet metal worker from Valley Stream, N. Y., who first renounced his American citizenship to become a Soviet citizen and then changed his mind, left for home today a wiser man who wants only a chance to start over again.

"All I want to do is go home, see my brother Dominick and I guess get a job somewhere and start over."

Assignment Washington

BY ED KOTERBA

WASHINGTON — Like all the other times when the Russians beat us to the missile punch, there was another round of bitterness bounding around here when the Reds turned the moon into a bull's eye.

Some folks blamed our space backwardness on inadequate scientific education. Others put the blame on lack of Federal rocket funds.

But I discovered the real cause. And that is, every one of our space vehicles, by way of democratic processes, is tied by its umbilical cord to Washington's confusion.

Most of that confusion is caused by paper work. We've probably spent enough money on paper work in missiles to send a paper rocket to the planet Pluto and return.

The Red pennant had barely stopped quivering on the moon when the National Aeronautics and Space Administration apprised newsmen that they had some press kits ready for us.

I rushed to NASA headquarters down to see what the excitement was about. At NASA, they have 25 people spread over three floors whose job is grinding out paper work for the press.

I followed the press information sign to Room 106. The girl at the reception desk said, "I'll bet you're here after the press kits," and I said I was.

"You'll find them in Room 103," she said, pointing her pencil across the hall.

Like a guided missile, I scooted across the hall, and the girl in Room 103 — another of the 25 hired to hand out press kits and such — said, "Oh, no, you were misinformed. Those press kits are in Room 106."

Like a misguided missile, I scooted back across the hall. "What are you doing back here?" she asked the girl behind the reception desk. And I told her what the distributor of press kits yonder said, and she said, "If she said so, then I guess she knows what she's talking about."

The kits were there, in two envelopes, telling about two relatively minor upcoming rocket shots. Altogether, there were 11 different packs of "fact sheets."

One, five legal-sized pages thick, reviewed the eight Vanguard failures. In Russia, they have no press kits. They just keep shooting up rockets.

But the NASA bureaucrats had no corner on confusion. Consider the State Department Press Division which had Washington's hearty reporters fatigued from milling in long lines waiting for briefings and credentials long before Nikita Khrushchev arrived.

Just one simple, hilarious example: They had us lined up to get our "passports" to cover Khrushchev. After an interminable wait, a lady employee said: "Everybody below N form a new line over here."

A newsmen asked: "What is below N—from A. or to Z?" and she replied, "From N to Z."

The N to Z reporters broke ranks, and when they got to the table, a second lady employee asked: "What are you doing in this line?"

These crazy, mixed-up antics were on a simple, low echelon. Can you just imagine what the snafus are like at the higher levels?

British Starlet Quiet, But Oh, Brother!

By VOERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The nicest thing Britain has exported to movietown in many a moon is 13-year-old Hayley Mills, a sweet-faced import who is starring in her first American film.

Daughter of English star John Mills, Hayley is a startling contrast to the spoiled, ill-mannered Hollywood variety of movie moppets.

Hayley curtisled politely in the Disney Studio commissary before sitting beside her mother for lunch. Her 10-year-old brother, a hellion on wheels with a shock of red hair, sat like an angel next to a nervous Disney press agent.

Because Hayley was reared in the tradition of "children are seen but not heard," she offered no gratuitous information, but answered questions with serious aplomb. Brother John is not the traditionalist that Hayley is.

Before the blonde little girl could embark on her interview the press agent emitted a yelp of surprise and stood up abruptly. He hopped around on one foot, pulling ice cubes from his socks.

"Now, John," his mother, Mrs. Mary Mills, remonstrated in a cultured English voice, "Please do be good."

John subsided proclaiming innocence.

Hayley carefully explained she is starring in the title role of Disney's "Pollyanna," along with Jane Wyman and Richard Egan. "You might say I come by my acting naturally," Hayley said. "Mother and daddy are both actors and I was brought up in theaters."

This time the beleaguered press agent grabbed at his pocket—too late. It was filled with crushed saltine crackers. "Why, you little . . ." he began.

"I didn't do anything, mother," John said.

"Really, John, you've been away from school too long," Mrs. Mills said, explaining he was strictly disciplined in the private school he attends in England.

"Maybe all of us will become actors," Hayley went on, undisturbed by her brother's activity. "John is being tested here at the studio."

"I just love America, especially the drug stores and ice cream parlors. We don't have anything like them in England. Most of all I love the freeways. I was terrified of them at first, but now I find them thrilling. And I was amazed at the men riding around in cars with big signs identifying them as 'sheriffs.' I thought sheriffs only lived in olden days."

"Agghh," cried the press agent, pushing away from the table. John had poured water on him. "One of these days—Pow, You're going to get slugged."

"You'd better behave," Mrs. Mills admonished.

to get slugged."

"You'd better behave," Mrs. Mills admonished.

Washington See-Saw

BY WEN FENDELTON

The Democrats picked a bad time to hold their annual Washington pep meeting. While they were gathered at the Sheraton-Park hotel here to decide policy and strategy and get a bit of publicity for the Democrats and their convention next year, Mr. K. of Moscow had the corner on the publicity market. Not a single photographer was on hand for the big Democratic banquet Friday night. At one point in the proceedings two delegates left the dinner to call the newspapers and even tried to locate a free-lance picture taker—but none were available. The big story was Mr. Khrushchev's visit.

But, in spite of the Russian visitor, the Democratic Clan gathered at the call of Chairman Paul Butler to show the Country that the Party was full of harmony. From Florida came National Committeewoman Jerry Carter, of Tallahassee, and National Committeewoman, Mrs. Peggy Khrumana, of Gainesville.

More important to Florida was the political workshop staged at the same time by the National Committee—but not a part of their conclave. Here, the workers came to learn the latest techniques of campaigning. They listened to experts tell how to get out the vote, how to run an election day pool and handle publicity; how to raise money.

This group was headed by Jimmie Milligan, Chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, Orlando. Jimmie has had his ups and downs since taking the chairmanship. After all that's politics. But, his ability to organize and make friends has begun to show results. One result: he brought with him the largest delegation from any state to the three-day political study session.

With Milligan were: Frank Porter, Jr., Eustis, Secretary-Treasurer of the Committee; from the First District, Martha Van Patten, Tampa, Chairman; Second District, T. J. Jennings, Jr., Green Cove Springs, Chairman and Mrs. Helen Barrs, Jacksonville, Vice-Chairman; Third District, Grady Albritton, Pensacola, Chairman and Mrs. Clyde Sauls, Monticello, Vice-Chairman; Fourth District, Robert M. Morgan, Miami, Chairman; Fifth District, K. K. Kennedy, Ocala, Chairman; Sixth District, Mrs. Mildred Feller, La Belle, Chairman and Roscoe Rollins, Stuart, Vice-Chairman; Seventh District, Mrs. Robert Harleben, Sarasota, Chairman and J. Hardin Peterson, Jr., Lakeland, Vice-Chairman; Eighth District, Mrs. Julia Malines, Lake City, Vice-Chairman.

The importance of this study session lies in the rising tide of Republicans moving into Florida. Milligan says that this meeting was not just another case of people wanting to take a trip to Washington. "This was a real training course for party leaders," he explained. He said that later this Fall, he plans to set up similar training meetings throughout the State to teach the latest political techniques to local organizations. At these District meetings he plans to have the Young Democrats, the women's organizations and the local party officials. They will study the particular campaign methods that suit their locality and the temper of their voters. "I am especially glad to see how the Democratic women in Florida have come to the fore," he said. "They seem more determined than the men to study and learn about politics." He went on to say that he couldn't see how they found the time. "It is amazing," he said, "how the women are able to get away from their housework and their husbands to attend political meetings. And when they show up at a meeting, they certainly are the ones who are not afraid to stand up and be heard."

Worry Clinic

Cupid often par.s in a dentist's office as Dr. Jim's interesting comments will prove. If more doctors had his grasp of "M.R.", patients would get double benefits and not be as likely to cry for socialization of medicine and other socialistic behavior on the part of Uncle Sam. Doctors, take a lesson from the "cynsodic and dyspneic" error below:

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-454: Dr. Jim, aged 38, is an Ohio dentist.

Dr. Crane, he began recently, "I appreciate your emphasis on the Scientific Marriage Foundation, which helps introduce eligible men and women with a view to romance and happy marriages."

"Well, I am aiding you indirectly in my own office. For example, when I find that patients are unmarried and unattached, I talk over the situation with my Dental Assistant and then help Cupid."

"To be specific, a few months ago a lovely school teacher, aged 29, was a patient."

"She had cared for an invalid mother for several years, meanwhile declining several offers of marriage."

"Now her mother had passed away, so she was eligible to think about matrimony. Meanwhile, I had another patient, aged 32, who had lost his wife a year or so earlier."

"This man was attractive and a successful attorney in our town. So I scheduled them for consecutive appointments the following week."

"They met in my office, apparently quite by chance, and my assistant introduced them. Since they were well suited to each other, they soon started dating and just last week I received a wedding announcement from them."

"Dr. Crane, in the past two years I have introduced 7 couples among my patients and now they are all happily married."

Dental Cupid

Dr. Jim merits a special compliment for his thoughtfulness as he fills the latest political column with his method to thousands of dentists whom I have addressed in the last year, so I am sure they, too, will become allies of Cupid.

Dr. Jim also shows another form of that professional "symbiosis" mentioned previously.

For he is not only producing more happiness by his diplomatic introductions of unmarried couples, but he is helping the clergymen of his area by thus sending them wedding prospects.

And from each of those couples under 40 years of age, will probably arise two or three children, who will be reared as cultured, moral youngsters.

"M.R." For Doctors

Doctors need a double dose of "H.R." or "Human Relations" psychology, for they often grow so interested in chemicals or surgical words that they forget the total needs of their patients.

No doctor ever operates on a tooth or an appendix. Instead, he operates on a total personality:

If he meanwhile helps that patient solve collateral problems, as he fills the decayed tooth or removes the inflamed appendix, he rates higher as a successful doctor.

Recently I acted as Master of Ceremonies at a banquet of 1,000 people at a large Chicago hotel. Most of the audience were laymen, but one of the medical speakers forgot this fact as he described a patient who was "cynsodic and dyspneic."

Few of you educated readers know what "cynsodic" means for it isn't even listed in your college Webster dictionary. And "dyspneic" is likewise "Greek" to 99% of you.

What the doctor should have said was that his patient was "blue and breathing hard." But he didn't even realize his audience couldn't follow his remarks.

One of the biggest needs in medicine and dentistry nowadays is for doctors to talk the language of the patient and stick to 2-syllable terms:

Gangway-Braves Gain Tie For Lead

United Press International
Gangway for Milwaukee's fired-up Braves, who tell you point-blank they're going all the way now with momentum, Eddie Mathews and even the National League schedule on their side.

Even the red-hot Dodgers had to make room when the Braves climbed into a first-place tie with them by licking the Pirates, 8-4, Monday night for their 12th victory in the last 15 games.

That's the type of down-the-stretch momentum that heads pennant and Mathews is leading in precisely the same direction.

The slugging Milwaukee third baseman, living up to his preseason vow that he was going to "make up for a lousy year" in 1950, drove in five runs against the Pirates Monday night with his 42nd and 43rd homers.

His first homer came off loser Bob Friend with two on in the fifth. The ball traveled over the roof of the right field stands at Forbes Field, a feat previously accomplished by only five players, including Babe Ruth and Mickey Mantle. Mathews' second homer came with one on off reliever Bennie Daniels in the ninth and brought the Milwaukee strongboy's runs-batted-in total to 109 for the season.

Southpaw Warren Spahn wasn't exactly admiring the scenery, either.

The veteran lefty registered his 20th victory for the 10th time in his 15-year major league career even though Don McMahon had to hail him out in the ninth when the Pirates rallied for their final three runs. The victory was the 200th of Spahn's career and tied a league record for most wins by a left-hander set by Eppa Rixey. During his career with the Phillies and Reds, Rixey lost a total of 251 games. Spahn has lost only 172.

Prior to Monday night's game, several members of the Braves, including coach Billy Herman and Hank Aaron (who chipped in with three hits, by the way) came right out and said they felt Milwaukee would win the pennant. Imagine, then, how they felt after the game?

"Everything is in our favor," Herman declared. "We've been through this before you know, and have you looked at the schedule?" All right, let's take a look.

The Braves have five more games to play, two with the Pirates at Pittsburgh and the last three at home in Milwaukee against the last-place Phillies.

All the Dodgers' five remaining games are on the road, two at St. Louis and three at Chicago. The Giants, one game off the pace, also have no more home games left. They play two at Chicago and wind up the season with three games at St. Louis.

The Cubs crushed the Cardinals, 12-3, in the only other major league game scheduled Monday. Rookie George Altman hit two homers for the Cubs, and Tony Taylor and Ernie Banks each hit one. Banks' homer was his 43rd.

Glen Hobbie limited the Cards to seven hits to win his 16th game. Rookie Tom Hughes was the loser.

Over in the American League, the champions are still on ice for the White Sox and they can get to pop the cork by beating the Indians at Cleveland tonight.

Al Lopez is sending veteran Early Wynn (20-10) out to wrap up the White Sox' first pennant in 40 years, and Joe Gordon — still at the helm for Cleveland — is countering with rookie Jim Perry (12-9) in the hope of keeping the Indians alive.

If the Indians should win, they would cut the White Sox' lead to 2½ games. If the White Sox win, all the mathematics go out the window.

Mather Bowlers Take Over Top City League Spot

The Sanford City Bowling League broke its four way tie for first place in grand style, but ended by having a three way tie for fourth place.

Mather of Sanford came into sole possession of first place through the courtesy of New York Life Insurance, who could find only three bowlers for this important match.

This allowed Mather to take three games, with Bill Hartwick leading the way with a 488 series. Doc Ring rolled 491 in the losing cause.

Burnett Painters, behind the 812 series of Don Stetler, took two games from Gene's Seminole Cleaners and Laundry. The Cleaners took the last game of the match, as Bill Kasee had a 536 series.

Celery City Printing Company took two games from Harry's Liquors, with Bob Steele rolling a 540 series for the Printers, while Frank Huhn had a 543 series for the losers.

"Spill-shrinkers" were all over the place last Wednesday, as Doc Ring and Buck Ferguson both picked two each—Doc getting the 5-10 and the 5-7, while Buck got the 4-5-7 and the 5-4-10. Also getting splits were Al DePalma's 3-7 pick, Bob Steele's 5-10, Don Stetler's 3-7-10, and Bill Kasee, who got the 3-7-9 not once, but twice. Jack Kaner made the split-pick of the season as he got the 4-6-7-9.

Match-of-the-Week this week will be on the last pair of lanes when Celery City Printing Company tries to continue its winning ways by slowing the top place Mather of Sanford legklers. The middle lanes will see the New York Life Insurance five go against the team of Gene's Seminole Cleaners and Laundry. The first pair of lanes will find Harry's Liquors trying to slow down the five from Burnett Painters.

Gators' Jones Named Back Of Week For Performance Against Tulane

ATLANTA (UPI)—Quarterback Jack Jones of the Florida Gators today was named Southeastern Conference back of the week by United Press International for his performance in the Gators' 30-0 victory over Tulane.

Jones, a 21-year-old junior from Commerce, Okla., is a junior college graduate who was rushed into the quarterback slot after Mickey Ellenburg, the man figured for the job, gave up football. His first varsity performance was outstanding.

In the Tulane game Friday night at New Orleans, Jones threw a 13-yard second period pass for the Gators' first touchdown. Then, in the fourth period, Jones really opened up. He passed five yards for one touchdown, ran 33 yards with a pass interception for another, and passed for two two-point conversions.

The UPI Southeastern Conference lineman of the week award went to senior guard Bob Khayat of Mississippi, star in the Rebels' 16-0 victory over Houston Saturday night.

Khayat, 21-year-old, 215-pound place kicking specialist, set up the first touchdown by returning a pass interception 52 yards to the Houston seven yard line, and later kicked a 32-yard field goal.

The rugged, roving lineman disappointed in only one thing. Last year he led the nation in extra-point kicking by hitting on 22 of 26, Saturday night he made one of two.

Other backs mentioned for first-week honors included All-American halfback Billy Cannon who got Louisiana State rolling to a 26-3 win over Rice with a 17-yard touchdown run; quarterback Lowell Hughes of Kentucky who almost saved the Wildcats from their 14-12 loss to Georgia Tech; and quarterback Francis Tarkenton of Georgia whose passing and running paced the Bulldogs to a 17-3 victory over Alabama.

Other linemen cited included center Maxie Baughan of Georgia Tech who was credited with 17 individual tackles against Kentucky, and end Gordon Kelley of Georgia who caught five of Tarkenton's passes for 43 yards in a nifty display of outfoxing the Alabama defense.

Detroit To Retain Jimmie Dykes As Manager In 1960

DETROIT (UPI)—Jimmie Dykes, rehired as manager of the Detroit Tigers for 1960, promptly lit up one of his trademark cigars and from behind the cloud of smoke predicted his club will be a pennant contender next year.

Dykes, his 62 years—42 of them in baseball—considerably lightened by the contract signing Monday, saw things in the smoke clouds that weren't so discernible to his watching audience.

"I think we have the stuff to go all the way," said the newly signed little manager. "We'll have to pick up a shortstop and a first baseman." Pressed a bit, Dykes added that he wants to strengthen the bench and he'll need more consistent relief pitching.

It was Dykes' turn to be confident, although Detroit in the past two years heard almost the same words from departed managers Jack Tighe and Bill Norman.

The signing of Dykes Monday ended several weeks of speculation about whether the veteran of the Connie Mack era would be rehired by the Tigers who bid for another "name" manager. This speculation grew last week after Joe Garzon announced he was quitting the Cleveland Indians.

But General Manager Rick Ferrell said Monday that no one except Dykes had been considered for the 1960 field job.

TV Tycoon Is Star Of Fight Inquiry

NEW YORK (UPI)—Roly-poly Irving B. Kahn, theater-TV tycoon stars today in what may be a lively production at the New York State Athletic Commission's hearing into the Johansson-Patterson fight promotion.

The commission displayed a fighting mood at the close of Monday's session when it determinedly ordered Manager Gus D'Amato to appear at the hearing on Sept. 29 or risk permanent loss of his manager's license.

D'Amato manages Floyd Patterson, who lost the heavyweight crown to Ingemar Johansson of Sweden at Yankee Stadium on June 26.

Commission Chairman Melvin L. Krueger today planned to hear Kahn's testimony and then adjourn the hearing to the 29th.

NEW HOME for Dodgers starts with this miniature shovel held by Walter O'Malley, president of the club, who said the new stadium in Los Angeles, Chavez Ravine will be in use sometime next season.

Florida Anglers Lead Californians

ISLAMORADA (UPI)—The Florida team held a comfortable 246 point lead today in a spin-fishing tournament with California designed to show which state has the best fishermen.

The Florida anglers, casting in the familiar waters of the Florida Keys, landed three bonefish Monday to open the second half of the eight day tournament. The California team went empty-handed.

Tony Deless of West Palm Beach landed a 10½ pound bonefish worth 60 points to lead his Florida team. Robert Ryder, also of West Palm Beach, caught two smaller bonefish totaling 30 points. Both men used eight pound test line.

Rebels, Auburn Get SEC Tests By Vols, Kentucky

United Press International
Mississippi and Auburn get their first Southeastern Conference football tests of the season this weekend. And, as they say back home, don't Tennessee and Kentucky know it?

Tennessee's Vols, who open their season with the king-sized Auburn Tigers at Knoxville Saturday, were concentrating on defense and kicking Monday. Sophs Warren Blankenship, center, and blocking back Wayne Coleman returned to the Vol units. Auburn Coach Ralph Jordan expressed disappointment after a workout which emphasized blocking, defense and offense.

Mississippi, winner over Houston, opens its SEC season Saturday in Lexington against Kentucky. While the Rebels will be favored, Kentucky's fine effort in losing to Georgia Tech last weekend has stamped them a toughie. Mississippi ran through a heavy defensive drill Monday.

Mississippi State will be at full strength for Florida. Coach Wade Walker cancelled all rough contact work after the Maroon scrimmaged without injuries. Florida worked on defense against the double wing.

In the only other conference game this weekend, once victorious Georgia is host to Vanderbilt. Georgia announced it would go with both Francis Tarkenton and Charlie Britt at quarterback because "they're all we have." Vandy Coach Art Gupe said, "We have our hands full in getting ready for that type of opposition in our first game."

National champion LSU took it easy and worked out in sweat clothes for their game with Texas Saturday. Georgia Tech welcomed back halfback Cal James, who was

FSU Loses Romeo For Citadel Game

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida State's Tony Romeo will miss Saturday's game with Citadel because of leg injuries, but Coach Perry Moss said he hopes the star end will be ready to go again the following week.

Both Romeo and sophomore Paul Staton received leg injuries last Saturday when FSU lost its opener to Wake Forest 22-20.

To add more depth to the end position, halfback Jim Hooks, center Don Sellers and guard Abner Bigbie were switched to end. End Bill Tyre was moved to guard.

Coaches singled out three players for special mention Monday for their showing in the Wake Forest game. They were sophomore end Fred Grimes, Hialeah, senior guard Al Ulmer, Clearwater, and senior quarterback Joe Majors, Huntland, Tenn.

LSU, Oklahoma Ranking Elevens In Initial Poll

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Louisiana State Tigers, defending national college football champions, topped the first weekly college football ratings of the United Press International Board of Coaches today by a big margin.

The Tigers, who opened their 1959 campaign Saturday with a 26-3 victory over the Rice Owls, were selected first by 28 of the 35 coaches who will rate the major schools each week for UPI.

Three teams which do not begin their seasons until next Saturday and Southern California, a 27-6 victor over Oregon State last Saturday night, received the other first-place votes. Oklahoma received three and Iowa two while Wisconsin and Southern California each drew one.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners were placed second to the Tigers. Wisconsin and Ohio State, both Big Ten teams, were placed 3 - 4. Mississippi, Army, Auburn, Texas, Clemson and Iowa rounded out the top 10 group in that order. Of the select 10, only LSU, Mississippi, Texas and Clemson have opened their 1959 campaigns.

Television Bottom Described As New American Ailment

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new ailment called "television bottom" is distracting the American public. A trained physician can diagnose the ailment at once, Dr. Wilford L. Cooper told the International College of Surgeons. It comes from watching television slumped down in a chair. The condition can also arise from long rides but there comes to an end, he said, while television viewing gets on endlessly, often with bad posture. Cooper, chief of proctology in two Lexington, Ky., hospitals, said a program to teach people to sit up straight also would help. Cooper didn't endorse the obvious cure for television bottom—disposing of the TV set. "That would get a cool reception," he said.

Boy Didn't Know Value Of Money

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (UPI) —The Canadian dollar is worth a few cents more than the U. S. dollar, but not everybody knows this. Recently, a nine-year-old boy took $200 to $400 in American and Canadian money from a drugstore here and went on a spending spree — with the U. S. bills only. The boy told police who nabbed him that he had torn up all the Canadian bills because he thought they were worthless.

A BIG SLICE OF YOUR DOLLAR

goes to make some community more prosperous yours . . . or the other fellow's

An average of more than 30% of the dollar you spend stays in the city where it's spent . . . to support schools, furnish fire and police protection, put down paving . . . to pay the folks who work for you . . . to support churches and charities . . . to be invested in more kinds of merchandise for your selection and convenience . . . to improve service facilities . . . and to support all the other things that promote prosperity, growth and better living in a community.

Make your dollars build your community . . . not somebody else's!

Trees Are Priced High These Days
BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) - Trees in Buffalo really come "high," Richard Dejac discovered in city court.
 Judge Michael E. Zimmer gave Dejac a suspended fine of $250 put him on six months' probation and ordered him to make restitution to the city for the tree he admitted cutting down in front of his home. The city forestry division estimated it would cost $175 to replace the tree.
 Dejac said he cut it down because "neighbors had parties under it all day and half the night."

Baby Bottle Gets Russian Stares
MOSCOW (UPI) - A plastic baby nursing bottle drew as many looks as it did interest in almost any other item displayed at the American exhibition in Moscow.
 Many of the Russian mothers - and fathers, too - who stared at, handled and pined the bottles appeared skeptical when informed that such bottles were commonplace in American homes.
 A spokesman for the David L. Rubber Co. of Providence, R. I., which furnished the bottles, for the exhibit, said a check of Moscow's largest stores found no such bottles for sale, and very few glass nursing bottles.
 It was explained most Russian mothers nurse their babies themselves and bottle-feeding the picture only when their infants become ill and are taken to a clinic. Then formulas are offered in sterilized glass bottles.

Penicillin In Milk Can Affect Human
NEW YORK (UPI) - Penicillin traces in milk and cheese can react on human consumers allergic to the antibiotic.
 So says the Nutrition Foundation, which provides basic information and supports educational measures. Traces of penicillin were found in milk from dairy cattle inoculated with the drug. To eliminate the problem, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration is trying to develop a dye which when added to penicillin, will discolor milk for several days, forcing its discard.

Nikita Plays 'Heads I Win, Tails You Lose' Game

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It is a matter of individual opinion which of two games Nikita S. Khrushchev is playing in the United States.
It may be the carnival shell game in which the local yokels are invited to look for the hidden pea. Or, perhaps, it is the gimmicked game of heads I win and tails you lose.
The shell game aspect of Khrushchev's performance develops from what appears to be his purpose in establishing his own standards by which he wants people everywhere to form an opinion.
Khrushchev is having pretty good luck with that. The communistic systems of the free and the Communist worlds have been meshed for his use. Khrushchev has established for Communists everywhere what they must regard as a basic fact of his American journey.
It is that the U. S. government isolated him from the common people of the United States.

Equally established as Communist gospel everywhere is something else for which Khrushchev desires acceptance as a basic fact.
It is that he came here as a simple man of peace with a plan for peace. Communists behind the Iron Curtain must believe that, too. They will have nothing else to believe. American or British or French Communists also must believe it although they will have been exposed to both sides of the story.
The other side of the story is summed up best in the idea that Khrushchev's aim is peace at no price. That is, that he does, in fact, desire peace but not at the cost of mutual concessions which would require his side to give as well as to take. Tails I win, heads you lose!
To complete the standards by which Khrushchev desires that his American journey be judged, he has established for Communists everywhere another basic fact.
It is that while isolated by government design from the peace-loving American commoners, he has been surrounded, heckled, insulted, abused by representatives of the war-mongering American upper classes.

This set of standards is loaded against the United States and in favor of the Communists. It is unhappily likely that Khrushchev will go home with no thaw in the cold war. The Communist line explanation is ready-made by Khrushchev's adroit propaganda creating standards by which his American journey may be judged.
The line will be this: That the masters of the American people prevented Khrushchev from getting through to common men; that those war-mongering masters thus were able to reject peace; that this rejection was accompanied by discourteous dishonoring him and the Soviet people.
That is what Communists, American and foreign, would be told to believe, and they would believe it. Some other soft-headed Americans may believe it, too.

CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION was given state March of Dimes chairman Ferris Bryant, right, at the Anna Miller Circle meeting at the Elks Club last night. Presenting the certificate is Circle President Mrs. Harry Adair, while Seminole County March of Dimes chairman John Sauls, a guest of honor, looks on. Bryant spoke to Circle members concerning March of Dimes work.

CHRISTIAN LEADERSHIP and moral teaching's importance in the future growth of Florida was stressed by Bryant at the Presbyterian Church's monthly men's fellowship meeting. Bryant spoke concerning the need to keep Florida a desirable place to live as it grows. Presbyterian Men's Association President R. L. Sloan, left, and Vice President Quintus Ray are shown welcoming Bryant.

Hurricane Rated No Threat To State

U. S. Try Moon Orbit Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. scientists will try early next month to pilot a 275-pound space package into orbit around the moon with radio commands from the earth.
Apparently it will be the first use of so-called midcourse and terminal guidance in space history. All other space vehicles, including Russia's Luch II, have relied solely on "initial guidance" to reach their destination.
According to Radio Moscow, Luch II was put on course by guidance mechanisms which operated only as long as its rockets were firing. Then, like an intercontinental ballistic missile, it coasted on a long trajectory to its target.
It was fine marking but could not be depended upon for deeper penetrations into space. A spacecraft using initial guidance only would miss Mars or Venus by many thousands of miles.
One purpose of the U. S. moon shot is to test radio guidance equipment designed to correct the vehicle's course from time to time and then, at the right moment, to direct it into a lunar orbit.
The 275-pound instrument package, it is understood, will contain small rockets which will be aimed and fired by remote radio control.
The package will be launched by an Atlas-Able rocket at Cape Canaveral, Fla., in the early days of October when the moon is in a favorable position.

Thursday Meeting Scheduled

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Seminole County officials will meet here Thursday to try to settle a dispute over rezoning of an property in the county.
Gov. LeRoy Collins conferred with State Comptroller Ray E. Green Tuesday over the controversy involving the rezoning.
After the conference, Collins announced he has called Tax Assessor Mary Walker, Sen. Douglas Stinson and Rep. Mack Cleveland to a noon meeting here Thursday.
Cleveland is attorney for the county and Stinson for the county school board, which is vitally interested in the rezoning as a source of increased school revenues.
Mrs. Walker related the county commission ordered rezoning and refused to accept the new figures and said she will see current figures in making up the 1959 rolls.
Green has tried four times to bring the warring officials together and said Tuesday there was nothing more his office could do "if an turning that they over to the governor," he said.

Federal Agencies Need Revamping

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Louis J. Hector, who resigned recently from the Civil Aeronautics Board in protest of its policies, has told President Eisenhower that federal agencies are ineffective and need "radical reorganization."
The Miami attorney made a 75-page report to the president in which he described the agencies as "an ideal breeding ground for an improper condescension and parrot influence."
Hector said the CAB and other agencies are charged with incompatible and conflicting duties. "It is doubtful whether any branch of the government today functions with less effectiveness," he said.
The CAB regulates award of airline routes, air fares and other economic aspects of commercial and general aviation.
It was obvious that many of Hector's criticisms of the CAB and the present regulatory system also applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Federal Power Commission, and the Federal Communications Commission.

Isak, now a chemical engineer, escaped from Hungary in a stolen airplane in 1958. Last Saturday, he spoke at a demonstration in downtown San Francisco, denouncing communism and protesting the Khrushchev visit.

E. Germans Refuse Soldier's Return

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—U. S. Army officials said today the Communist East Germans have refused to release an American soldier they have held since Monday.
At first, the Army said, the Communists said they would release the soldier but "now have refused" to set him free. The Army identified the soldier as Pvt. Michael Petrovich, 27, of Jersey City, N. J.

Slip Of The Teeth

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI)—Patrick Joseph O'Rourke, 85, today was reported recovering from a snake bite suffered when he tried to bite the head off the reptile that attacked him Tuesday.
O'Rourke said he "bit the heads off hundreds of snakes while serving in Burma during the war but I had my own teeth then."
"When the snake attacked me, I tried to bite its head off but my lower false teeth slipped and the snake bit my tongue. False teeth are no good for this sort of thing," he said.
O'Rourke tried to continue working but collapsed.

Psychiatrist, Hypnotist In Contest Over Georgia 'Voodoo' Murderess

ATLANTA (UPI)—A slenderness bearing Anjelita Lyles, 34, doomed "voodoo" poison murderess, became a contest between a hypnotizing defense psychiatrist and a "darkhorse" state psychiatrist yesterday.
The state called in Dr. J. Shanon Mays, one of two psychiatrists who examined the silver-haired Macon restaurant operator before her trial and conviction for the murder of her nine-year-old daughter Marcia.
Dr. Trajan E. Shipley, who spent some 50 hours with Mrs. Lyles after she was sentenced to die, testified Tuesday that under hypnosis she blamed her own mother for the child's arsenic death.
Mrs. Lyles, while in hypnosis, denied guilt in the poison deaths of two husbands and a mother-in-law she also is charged with murdering, Shipley testified.
Little of this evidence had come out in Mrs. Lyles' public trial last October. In fact, the case was as sensational a mystery at the state Pardon and Parole Board hearing as was trial testimony about her voodoo rites.
Shipley scanned Mrs. Lyles' life by hypnotic regression and found no evidence of a "second personality," he said, but found she had a "split" personality. He named her wicked half "Sarah Brown."
Shipley testified he found Mrs. Lyles, after a State Supreme Court appeal was turned down, to be so insane that she collected pink and white angels in a bottle and even drew a picture of one of her angels.
Shipley "regressed" her hypnoteally to her first day of life, he testified, and then "progressed" her to, and beyond, an imaginary death in the Georgia electric chair and into a heaven paved with gold.

So deeply hypnotized that she was powerless to tell a lie, Shipley said, Mrs. Lyles protested her innocence. Shipley believed here was the first case of progression beyond "psychological death" in medical history.
Shipley could not state whether she was insane at the time of allegedly slipping fatal doses of ant poison to two husbands and a mother-in-law as well as her daughter.
Mrs. Lyles, while hypnotized, claimed her mother, Mrs. Jetta Young Donovan, had given arsenic to Marcia. Pardon board members at this point raised the question of placing the mother under hypnosis.
Mrs. Donovan, present at the hearing, screamed and collapsed in sobs on a counsel table. Later she testified she had never done anything worse in her life than playing a slot machine.
Mrs. Lyles was charged with murdering husband Ben F. Lyles Jr., who died on Jan. 25, 1952; second husband Joe Neal Gabbert, Dec. 2, 1955; mother-in-law Julia Young Lyles Sr., Sept. 29, 1957, and Marcia, April 5, 1958.

The bid for about 20,000 gallons of diesel fuel went to Pure Oil Co. which submitted a low offer of .1150 cents per gallon. Pure also got the diesel engine oil bid with an offer of 71 cents per quart.

Drainage Canal Proposed For Tanglewood Area

BY JACK PHILLIPS
The cost and route of a canal to drain the Temple Terrace, Tanglewood and adjacent Winter Park areas will be discussed by Orange and Seminole County and Winter Park officials late this week or early next week.
Tanglewood-Temple Terrace residents discussed their poor drainage problem last night with Seminole County commissioners and County Engineer Robert Davis.
The meeting at St. Richards Episcopal Church ended with residents' acceptance of the idea that they would have to pledge money for the county to do drainage work in the Tanglewood-Temple Terrace area and that a small committee of residents working with county officials could best accomplish the project. Eight property owners volunteered to work on such a committee.
Tanglewood-Temple Terrace property owners must realize they will have to "self-impose a tax" upon themselves or they'll be waiting for drainage for the next three years, Winter Park Estates developer Max Jenkins told the group.
The county can float bonds to pay for the drainage improvements now, but it must have area residents' pledge to redeem these bonds, Jenkins said. Payment by area property owners will be strung out over about five years, Jenkins said.
The route and cost of the proposed drainage ditch depends on how much water must be drained through it to the Econochatchee River, Davis explained. The ditch area and that small committee of residents working with county officials could best accomplish the project. Eight property owners volunteered to work on such a committee.

interested in having the drainage project and the commission will go ahead and figure the cost, Krider said.
Financing the drainage improvement project would be done under a state law under which the majority of the property holders in the area must approve the project, and elect to pay for it, and the circuit court must then approve the work.
Tanglewood-Temple Terrace property owners who volunteered to work on the committee were Charles Deneen, Jack Lindsay, A. H. Conrad, Thomas Skidley, Barber Houghton, J. H. Shepherd, T. Meyer and Mrs. Meyers.
Winter Park's City Manager Richard Simmons, its engineer William Taylor, Orange County Commissioner Jack McDowell, Orange County Engineer Fred DeWitt and Davis will be at the next meeting.

AF Is Designated U. S. Space Force

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Defense Department designated the Air Force today to be America's future space force. This was a job to the Army and Navy.
The department turned over to the Air Force sole military responsibility for all "space transportation" and space vehicle rocket boosters.
Projects worth hundreds of millions of dollars, including the Army's 1,500,000-pound Saturn rocket booster, will be turned over to the Air Force, according to Dr. Herbert York, director of research and engineering.
While the Army and Navy will develop specialized satellites for such purposes as navigation and communications, a Pentagon announcement said, they will have to rely on the Air Force for putting their space vehicles into orbit.

Living Cost Off During August

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government reported today that living costs declined in August for the first time in six months.
Lower prices for groceries offset increased costs of non-food items to account for the drop.
