AMERICAN BOYS ARE STRANDED IN GERMANY

And Are Living Upon Chitable Friends Until Relieved

(By The Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., May 14.—Flight of forty youths from Norfolk, Newport News, Savannah and New Orleans stranded in Hamburg is pointed out by V. C. Hart, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in that German city, in a letter received here yesterday as a warning against American boys signing on the crew lists of foreign cargo ships. Mr. Hart, in his letter to Burt S. Fean, secretary of the Norfolk Central Y. M. C. A., protests against the practice of certain shipping masters of putting inexperienced American boys on German ships and declared that the practice should be brought to the attention of port authorities.

He refers specifically to a shipping master of Newport News, who he claims, in January induced seven Americans to go to work on the German cargo ship Alarich.

"Four of these young men," the letter states, "had no seamen's papers, and three of them had never been to sea before. All of these seven men, except one, who is an old hand at the sea business are under 23 years of age. One of them is only 17 years old."

"When they arrived in Hamburg, they promptly paid off and discharged as to give Germans, who work cheaper than Americans, the jobs. Nothing was said when they signed about getting them back to the states. Of course, the shipping master was paid something probably $10 for getting these men on the German ship, not by the men themselves, but by the ship's agents or perhaps by the captain of the ship as he could not sail without a crew."

"The money they received did not last them long, and now they are here without money and without work. Our consul won't give them food and lodgings because they came on German ships, and because most of them have no papers to prove their status as American seamen. If it wasn't for the little help I give them, they would starve and walk the streets at night. During the last six weeks we have had about 40 Americans come here on German ships from New Orleans, Norfolk, Newport News and Savannah. So you can imagine what an awful problem we have here. American shipping is very poor here now, and it is almost impossible for these men to get away. Our consul is doing all he can to get the German shipping companies to take the men back on the ships on which they came or others that go to the states but without much result so far."

"It doesn't take long," Mr. Hart's letter continues, "for an American over here to go to the dogs, especially when he is without money or work. He is sooner or later arrested by the German police for vagrancy and is given a jail sentence of six to eight months. Then he is given notice to leave the country by his own efforts, and re-arrested if he does not get away. It is impossible for an American to get work in Germany."

Gold Imports To U. S. Exceeds Exports

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Gold imports into the United States during April exceeded exports of metal by more than $8,000,000 according to figures made public by Commerce Department. Imports were given as more than $9,000,000.

Three Women and Three Men Drowned

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 14.—Three women and three men drowned last night in the Mississippi river at Campbell Island, just east of this city, when they jumped from a barge to avoid being struck by a street car, control of which had been lost by the operator. The young people were walking back to East Moline after having attended a dance at the island. One body has been recovered.

OWNER OF BATHING RESORT WAS FOUND IN OLD GRAVEL PIT

PETERSBURG, Va., May 14.—James Griffin, owner of a bathing resort near here who mysteriously disappeared last Monday night while driving along the road, in an automobile, was found today in a gravel pit handcuffed and unconscious. He was taken to a hospital where his condition is said to be serious. Physicians said he was suffering from fear and exposure.

BRITISH NOTE IS RESENTED BY THE SOVIET LEADERS

TROTSKY AND TCHITCHERIN ARE BOTH READY FOR BATTLE.

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, May 14.—In British official circles the reply of the Russian soviet government to the British note is considered as avoiding a rupture. Much satisfaction is expressed at what the British consider the about-face on the part of Moscow in its attitude toward Great Britain.

MOSCOW, May 14.—M. Tchitcherin, soviet foreign minister, dressed in the uniform of a member of the Red army and wearing a red decoration, was the chief speaker at a great meeting held in a theater here Saturday.

The theater was crowded to the doors, while in the streets thousands who had taken part in a demonstration listened to speakers from motor trucks and balconies, all of whom made reference to what they termed the war threat against Russia in the British note, in the assassination of Vorovsky at Lausanne, and in other recent international developments.

Referring to Vorovsky, M. Tchitcherin said: "This is a symptom of the general European situation. The direct responsibility rests with the Swiss government, which took no preventive measures, while the moral responsibility is on England, France and Italy, who originally invited the Russian delegation to Lausanne."

Regarding the British note, which he characterized as insolent, Tchitcherin said: "We are getting telegrams that British war ships are already in the White sea, perhaps by now they have opened hostilities against our ships."

"The note contains false facts and messages improperly deciphered, before the demand, we therefore, offer a conference. We are ready to discuss in losses sustained by British citizens in 1920, but we will render a bill to England for all those England shot during the intervention in the north. We desire peace, and do not want a break, but we will wait until the enemy attacks us."

The foreign minister was followed by War Minister Trotsky, who told the crowd that Russia wanted peace, but the Red army was ready if necessary.

"If war comes, it will be a long one; it will delay the building up of our country for many years, but the Red army, which wants peace will carry out its duty until the end."

He suggested that perhaps more than note writing was going on in the border states, while the border atmosphere was thickening. These states would be the first to feel the brunt if war came.

Leo Kameneff, the acting premier and president of the Moscow soviet paid tribute to Vorovsky. The bullet which killed him, he said, was directed not only against Vorovsky, but against the soviet government, the communist party, and the entire labor movement.

LONDON, May 14.—While British government is ready to discuss disputed matters with any credited Russian envoy Lord Curzon seems determined to maintain all points raised in the British note and will not tolerate long discursive explanations from Moscow, it is indicated. Will also insist, it is declared on adequate redress on apologies for wrongs alleged by British in note.

CHINESE TO RELEASE ALL OF CAPTIVES

And Bandits Will Now Enroll in the National Army as Reward

(By The Associated Press)
PEKIN, China, May 14.—The Peking government announces that its delegates reached terms at Linching Saturday night with the bandits under which the troops will be withdrawn and the bandits later will be enrolled in the national army. It is added, that the bandits have returned to the hills promising to release some of their captives immediately and to set the others free when the agreement is carried out.

Release Expected Soon.

SHANGHAI, May 14.—The release of all foreigners seized by bandits in the Shantung hills is momentarily expected, according to a message received at 12:30 yesterday by Max Friedman at Tsaochwang from his brother Leon Friedman, one of the captives. Friedman's message said that the relief expedition was only about ten miles from the place where the captives were being held.

DR. A. F. CARR, OF SAVANNAH, OPENS EVANGELISTIC SERVICE AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HERE

The opening sermon of the evangelistic services at the Presbyterian church preached by Dr. A. F. Carr, of Savannah, Ga., made a profound impression on the large congregation present yesterday morning, and requests began to pour in at the close of the service for its appearance in the Herald.

Those present will, without doubt, each be a press agent for the services each night this week at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Carr's sermon was as follows: "The Mother of Zebedee's Children Matthew 20:20."

Her name was Salome. Mark and his gospel calls her by her name. Matthew does not. Matthew calls her by the round about designation, the mother of Zebedee's children. I do not know why he does not call her Salome, or the mother of James and John. It looks as if he wanted to boost Zebedee. It looks as if Zebedee did not do anything to get himself into the Bible, and that Matthew wanted to help him out by getting him in. If he should have simply called her Salome, or the mother of James and John, Zebedee would have been left out in the cold. If he had said the wife of Zebedee people might have asked, and who is he? So he gives Zebedee what honor he can by describing his wife as the mother of his children. Biography to be illuminating must tell us of the hero's training. It must tell us of the educational advantages. It must tell us of his home life. It must tell us of his father. But most of all it must tell us of his mother. She is the original educator. She is the maker of the home life. And she is the most un-failing institution for Christian education that has yet been established. James and John were great men. They were pillars in the church of God. They were blessed beyond others in their privilege of going to school to Jesus. But without the work of their mother upon them, Christ would probably never have called them to be his Apostles. She prepared them for entrance into his Apostolic college. Christ owned her work upon them and carried it on to its completion in their preparation for His service. Salome is a typical mother.

FARMERS MASS MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

On May 11th a meeting of the farmers of Seminole county was held in the court house to determine if a co-operative marketing association should be formed. This meeting was well attended and the opinion of those present was that the time had arrived for the Seminole county farmers to follow the example of farmers north, east and west, and to establish a farmers co-operative marketing association for Seminole county. It was decided to appoint an organization committee to outline plans of organization and submit same to a mass meeting to be held Tuesday night May 15th in the court house. Subscription papers were placed in the hands of the organization committee and on being circulated generally among the farmers their interest in the proposed association is wide-spread and genuine. The organization committee consists of members from each section of the

CHINESE PIRATES CAPTURE STEAMER TAKE MUCH LOOT

(By The Associated Press)
HONG KONG, May 14.—European passengers were among those terrorized and robbed when the Chinese steamer Taishun was seized near Swatow Saturday by pirates who, disguised as passengers, overpowered the crew and sailed the ship nearly 24 hours, at night without lights, and finally left her yesterday at the mouth of a small creek, transferring to a small boat loot valued at $60,000.

So large have become the shipments of beans and cucumbers from this section, that a solid train load of string beans leaves Center Hill each night and a solid train load of cucumbers goes forward from Webster each night. About 100 cars of each are being shipped every week.

SHERIFF JONES BE ARRESTED PEONAGE CASE

Today and Two Others Will Also Be Arrested on Same Charge

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, May 14.—Sheriff Jones, of this county, one of the principals in the Martin Tabert case, was taken into custody today on a charge of conspiracy and kidnaping. Jones was indicted Saturday at Pensacola with William Fisher, Superintendent of the Putnam Lumber Company and Walter Higginbotham, convict whipping boss, following an investigation into the death of Ned Thompson an aged negro. Federal authorities will leave this afternoon for Cross City to arrest Fisher. Higginbotham will be arrested after he is tried in the state court on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Martin Tabert. Jones was released on $2,000 bond on each charge.

Seamen's Wages Are Raised by Board

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—Increases of 12 to 20 per cent in the wages of seamen were announced by the Shipping Board Saturday, effective today, to meet the labor situation created by the continued surge of industrial activity ashore.

While not meeting entirely the demands of the men as presented by the International Seamen's Union the new scales with changes in working conditions, announced at the same time, were said to be acceptable to representatives of that organization and to remove whatever probability there may have been of concerted coercive action.

The board acted upon the report of a special committee headed by Commissioner O'Connor, which was appointed on May 2, after the union filed a summary of the situation asserting that the present scale was "out of line with present economic conditions."

That the board's committee recognizes that factor was seen in its statement that increased wages would be expected to solidify the support of "real American seamen" which was declared to be essential to the maintenance of an efficient service.

Increases announced Saturday included the following:

Carpenters, from $70 to $80; ordinary seaman from $40 to $47.50; deck engineers, from $70 to $80; coal passers, from $50 to $60 and water tenders, from $65 to $72.50.

ARE UNABLE TO DETERMINE THE CAUSE OF DEATH

CHICAGO GRAND JURY SEEKS FORTY-ONE FORMER STUDENTS.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Investigation of the death of Leighton Mount, student at Northwestern University who disappeared in the 1921 class rush, turned Saturday to a hunt for 41 former students who left the university shortly after Mount disappeared. Subpoena servers from State Attorney Crowe's office are conducting the search. The grand jury investigating the case is in recess until today.

Mr. Crowe declared today that the investigation is far from ended, and expressed the opinion that someone was "covering up" in the case. "All the facts have been made known," he said. "If the guilty parties believe they are safe, they have only been fooling themselves."

A committee of physicians appeared to examine the skeleton found hidden in an Evanston plot two weeks ago and which was identified as Mount. They reported they had been unable to determine the cause of death. There were no signs of fractures, the doctors said, and the substance at first believed to have been lime turned out to be a natural product of decomposition.

FEDERAL PRISONER SAYS HIS WAY OUT ON MOTHER'S DAY

ATLANTA, Ga., May 14.—While between 400 and 500 persons were attending Mother's Day exercises at the federal penitentiary near here yesterday morning, Louis E. Desholley, a prisoner escaped by sawing the bars of a window and leaving the prison presumably with the crowd of visitors. He was serving a 10 year sentence on a charge of counterfeiting.

FEDERAL COURT INDICTS FORMER WHIPPING BOSS

HIGGINBOTHAM, JONES AND FISHER ARE NAMED IN BILL.

PENSACOLA, May 14.—J. R. Jones, former sheriff of Leon county, Walter Higginbotham, "whipping boss" in the convict camp of the Putnam Lumber company at Clara, Fla., and Superintendent W. H. Fisher of the camp were indicted in federal court here Saturday in connection with the death of Ned Thompson, aged nineteen, who died as the result of alleged brutal treatment while in the Putnam camps.

The former sheriff, who was removed from office recently by the Florida legislature during widespread investigation into convict brutalities in this state in charged with violating section 208 of the penal code of the United States, which makes it a criminal offense to kidnap or carry away or cause to be kidnaped and carried away any person with intent that the person be held in involuntary servitude or as a slave.

Fisher, Higginbotham and Jones are also under another county indictment, charged with conspiracy to violate this section.

Although District Attorney Fred Cuddebergh declined to comment on or give details of the alleged unlawful acts, it was said that the former sheriff caused the negro, Ned Thompson, to be taken to the Clara camp of the Putnam Lumber Company when he was merely being held for failure to give a peace bond and not having been convicted of any criminal offense.

Thompson was held by the lumber company it is alleged, and brutally whipped by Walter Higginbotham, who is under indictment on a charge of murder growing out of the death of Martin Tabert, the North Dakota youth. The negro was later taken back to Tallahassee by Fisher, the indictment charges, and placed in the Leon county jail, where he lingered a few days and died.

BIG TORNADO IN TEXAS KILLS 12 AT LEAST

(By The Associated Press)
COLORADO CITY, Tex., May 14.—Eight bodies of persons killed in a tornado near here early this morning have been brought to Colorado and it was reported several more bodies are on their way here. Twelve persons have been counted dead. Persons doing relief work reported the dead and injured being found in almost every scattered farm and ranch dwelling for miles south of here. One man has two children killed and a number of persons injured when the tornado struck Spado Ranch south of here and mowed a path twenty-five miles long across Mitchell county last night.

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 14.—A long distance message from Sweetwater at 11 o'clock said the tornado struck between the town of Loraine and Water Tank three miles east of town in Mitchell county and that the dead will not exceed four with perhaps eight injured. All were farmers, it was said.

BILL BANISH CONVICT STRAP GAIN FAVOR

Prison Problems Have Reached High Tension in the Senate

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, May 14.—Legislative banning of the whipping of convicts in this state last night seemed to be only a matter of a day. With this prison reform will undoubtedly go the county lease system as soon as existing contracts terminate. Legislation to this latter end has only been held from final passage until the two houses of the assembly could decide the difficult problem of disciplining convicts.

The lower house from the first has been overwhelmingly in favor of banning the whip. Last night it appeared that the fourteen unyielding senators of the more conservative upper house had won their fight begun with the introduction of a bill by Senator Hodges to abolish corporal punishment.

Led by Mr. Hodges, Senator Stokes and MacWilliams, this minority of three, has steadily brought the majority over, first, to a resolution that would ask the administrative officials to ban the whip as an experimental measure, and then to the passage of a bill yesterday that would make it unlawful to whip county prisoners at all, while such punishment would be banned on state prisoners for two years at the end of which time the next legislature could act in the light of experience.

But last night the outright whip abolitionists claimed they had enough strength to make the senate concur in an amendment put into this bill by the house that would disregard the two year experimental clause for the state convicts but would free them, too, from the lash forever. If it is found that they cannot be handled without the whip at the end of two years these senators said, let the next session take any action it deems fit.

The legislature as a whole and the senate especially, is tired of the question of convicts. The subject has kept them in a turmoil ever since they came to Tallahassee for their biennial session to work on other things. The problem appeared after they came and found them for the most part unprepared to deal with it. With the exception of a few other matters convicts have been uppermost in their minds.

TALLAHASSEE, May 14.—What was generally believed to be a filibuster by Senator Lindsey deferred final consideration by the senate of the bill that would abolish the practice of whipping convicts in the state. Bills final passage was expected to be taken up again this afternoon. Lindsey, who spoke nearly an hour said he would oppose by parliamentary and other methods "hasty" action as related to only "one phase" of the convict system.

Fifty Persons Killed By Tornado

HIG SPRINGS, Tex., May 14.—Fifty persons were killed and about 100 hundred injured three miles from Colorado, Texas, when a tornado swept the section, according to meagre unconfirmed reports telephoned here. Since the news was received communication has been cut off due to damage to telephone and telegraph lines. The worst damage was forty miles from Big Springs, it was reported.

It is believed that damage to crops and cattle are heavy, and loss of life and property heavier in the country districts than in the town of Colorado, according to unconfirmed reports. Relief parties left here in automobiles this morning.

DARWINISM WILL BE BARRED

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, May 14.—The senate adopted a resolution passed by the house Saturday disapproving the teaching in public institutions of the state of Atheism, Agnosticism or Darwinism. W. J. Bryan sponsored the resolution.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Nerve Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.
"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.
"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.
"This nervous condition was worse than pain.
"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.
"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.
"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."
If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

The first part of the afternoon was devoted to business after which a social hour was enjoyed. At this time an enjoyable contest, with the prize, a sugar spoon, which was won by Mrs. George Paxton.
At the conclusion of the contests the hostess served chicken salad, olives, sandwiches, saltines and iced tea.
The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. R. R. Deas at her home in Rose Court, the second Friday in June.
Among the members present yesterday were Mrs. George Huff, Mrs. Minarick, Mrs. Leinhart, Mrs. George Paxton, Mrs. R. R. Deas, Mrs. S. S. Sletary, Mrs. Fred Wilson, Mrs. W. E. Scoggans and Mrs. Schirard.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. George Shipp and family will spend Sunday with relatives in Tampa.

Mr. Brownlee has returned from Dunnellon, Florida, where he has been for some time holding evangelist services, which resulted in an increase of 25 per cent in the membership of the church.

The Sanford Buick Company has an ad in today's Herald telling about their big stock of Goodrich tires and tubes. They have an immense assortment of these popular goods and are prepared to make prices that will please the careful buyer.

Dr. A. F. Carr, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Savannah, Ga., will arrive in Sanford tonight for a stay of eleven days. While here he will preach at 4 and 8 p. m. daily at the Presbyterian church. All are cordially invited to hear this gifted preacher.

Eighteen new Buicks were received and unloaded here yesterday, the first of a shipment of 48 that are ordered and due to arrive at once. This is the largest shipment of automobiles ever received in this city, and clearly indicates the popularity of this car.

If you are unaware that Sanford has an up-to-date men's store, just take time to drop in and look over the new store of the McKinnon-Markwood Company in the new Puleston-Brumley building. It has the finest equipment and furnishings of any store in South Florida.

The official program of the Florida State Championship Trapshooting Tournament is off the press of The Herald and are being sent near and far advertising this coming important event. Entries and reservations in the shoot, which will be held here May 17, 18 and 19, are coming in rapidly and insures the success of the tournament. Charley Whitner has a supply of the official programs and will be glad to supply anyone wanting them.

Each sale advertised in The Herald opened with a rush this morning and all concerned are delighted with the results of their advertising—even this early in the game. These sales afford the economical buyer a real opportunity to save money on everything of every day use. Patronize the merchants who invite you to visit their stores—they are wide-awake, careful buyers and are over on the watch for bargains to pass on to their customers.

W. H. Tunncliffe was "johnny on the spot" when he grabbed off one of the new Buick 6 coupes that was one of a shipment of 18 new Buicks unloaded yesterday. Our good friend Tunncliffe is now in the same class with newspaper men and rides in a real car. He is having it equipped with all the extras and daddies that space can be found for, including a full grown refrigerating plant. When it is fixed up to his liking, this coupe will be in a class by itself. He has already received several offers of assistance in learning to drive it.

The Sanford Buick company is compelled to make room for the new cars that are arriving every day and to attain this result are advertising a "Used Car" sale in today's Herald. The prices have been cut to the quick and every car is guaranteed exactly as represented. This sale will afford an opportunity to receive full value for your money when exchanged for one of the cars offered. Prospective purchasers are invited to call at any time for a demonstration and to look over the offerings.

SABBATH MORNING PRAYER.

Father Divine! Thou Author of all life and love,
From whom hath come all wisdom, purity and power,
On Thee we call, and in humility would pray
Thy grace and goodness in this most gladsome hour;
For we would worship and adore Thee without haste,
And on this blessed morning would Thy sweetness taste.

We pray that Thou wouldst purge our souls from every sin,
And fill our hearts with love, from holy altar's fire,
Until, attuned to heavenly anthem, we begin
And worship Thee in holiness; while angels lyre,
Beneath the touch of magic hands, its sweet tones raise
To guide and lift our souls in sweetest songs of praise.

WOMAN'S CLUB COLUMN

Mrs. Henry Wight, Reporter
Phone 315-W

Mrs. R. E. Tolar, president of the Woman's Club of Sanford, and Mrs. E. M. Galloway, vice president-at-large of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, are in Atlanta attending the Biennial Council of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The club has accepted the offer of the Curtis Publishing Co., whose representative recently appeared before the board, whereby the club may receive fifty cents on every subscription sold for the Ladies' Home Journal. A canvass of the town will be made by club members for subscriptions, and as the merits of a fine sun should be realized from this venture.

Welfare Department.

The last meeting of the Welfare Department for the season will be held at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, May 16th, at the Sanford High School auditorium. As this meeting is to be one of special interest, the department asks all members of the Woman's club and their friends to be present. After a brief business session, the charming one act play, "The Twelve Pound Look," by Sir James Barrie, will be presented under the direction of Mrs. D. P. Drummond, with the following cast of characters: Sir Harry Sims, Mrs. Endor Currett Lady Sims, Mrs. Ralph Wight Kate, a Typist, Mrs. D. P. Drummond Butler, Mrs. Aylett Fitts
After the play, the Domestic Science girls will give an exhibition of the sewing accomplished in their department this year.

Music Department.

A very successful season of the Music Department was brought to a close with the delightful "Junior Day" program given in the studio of Miss Fannie Stehbridge Munson, Wednesday afternoon, May 9th, in compliment to the young musicians of Sanford. The studio was tastefully decorated for the occasion with quantities of lovely pink and white Oleanders, vases and fern. A large and appreciative audience enjoyed the program. At four o'clock Mrs. W. L. Henley, chairman of the music department, gracefully welcomed the young musicians, their relatives and friends, and the following program was given, each number being charmingly rendered and received with hearty applause:

1. Turkish Rondo (piano duet)..... Mozart
2. Margaret Peters, Luella Mahoney.
3. What the Piano Said (recitation)..... Mary L. Berggett
4. Picnic In the Woods (piano duet)..... Kern
5. In Spring Time (piano solo)..... Byron and Emmett Fox
6. Chas Huerta
7. H. C. McMullen.

6. Wyoming Lullaby (violin solo)..... Jean Williams
7. Claude Herndon, Jr., Mrs. Claude Herndon, accompanist.
8. Sextette from Lucia (soprano and Saxophone duet)..... Donietti
9. Johnny and Bernard Schirard, Mrs. Wagner, accompanist.
10. Petite Tarantelle (piano solo)..... Heller
11. Carmen Gerthrie.
12. Gypsy Rondo (piano solo) Lichner
13. Marguerite Garner.
14. The Morning Call (musical reading)..... W. H. Jones
15. Miss Dorothy Stokes, Mrs. Schelle Maines, accompanist.
16. Rhapsodie Mignonne—Hungarian (piano) (solo)..... Chas. Kolling
17. Mary Helen Morse
18. I Know a Cave (musical reading)..... Matilde Bilbro
19. Miss Margaret Cowen, Mrs. Maines, accompanist.
20. Concert Waltz (piano solo)..... Newland
21. Pearle Robson.
22. Glad Festal Day (arr. from Toreadois Song, Carmen)..... Biset
23. Woman's Club Chorus, Mrs. D. P. Drummond, accompanist.
24. (a) Melody (flute solo)..... William Popp
25. (b) What Man Dare Say (The Old Town)..... Gustav Luders
26. Mrs. W. Gwynn Fox, Mrs. E. L. Burdick, Accompanist.
27. (a) Spring Song (vocal duet)..... Pechoven-Douty
28. (b) O, That We Two Were Maying..... Alice Smith
29. Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. Robt Glenn, Mrs. Drummond, Mrs. Maines Accompanist.
30. Praise Ye The Father..... Gounod
31. Woman's Club Chorus, Mrs. Drummond, Accompanist.

At the conclusion, Mrs. Henley expressed the pleasure of the Music Department at the large attendance and extended thanks and appreciation to Miss Munson for her splendid interest and courtesy.
This pleasing program was arranged by Mrs. W. Gwynn Fox and Mrs. Tom Moore, who had the day in charge. Mrs. Fox acted as program chairman and announced the numbers, Mrs. Moore was responsible for the pretty decorations and with Mrs. Henley, received the guests.
At the short business meeting following the program, "American Music" was chosen as the program subject for next season.
A rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. W. L. Henley, in appreciation of her faithful work as chairman.

The dollar watermelon is with us; yes, it's a greenback, too!

"Two thousand Tampa women will protest against the lease and leash." Heavens! What's the matter with the other twenty-odd thousand?

There's one thing sure; Uncle Sam is not spending any money recklessly in the Sanford Post Office help department.

It's an ill wind that blows nobody good; spending its time in "investigations" is going to save the people from a lot of darn-fool legislation by this legislature.

Maybe in "Bill" Maypoles, back in 1916, had gotten through his "pure leather" bill, Senator Maypoles, in 1923, would not be so shocked at the use leather straps are put to.

Sanford takes second place to nowhere in its vegetable raising ability. Some of our farmers are now growing the fourth crop this season on the same land.

Things are not always as bad as you think; your dog will always wag his tail at you when you go home even if the old woman will wag her tongue too.

Here's hoping the State Press Association at Tallahassee does not come in for any of those investigations that town is so liberal with this month.

Congratulations to our little sister Kinsimnee in its start toward tiling its fine trucking lands. There's big money in that industry when you are prepared against drought and drowning.

The Chamber of Commerce put its unanimous approval on the coming Seminole County Edition of the Tampa Tribune. Now go to it, City Commissioners, Seminole and Sanford have much the world they yet know!

The story that Gilbert Leach just back from a trip to New York wrote an interesting leading editorial on ladies' hosiery is all right. Gilbert has been associating with "grass" widows, or else he found that most of the silk hose these days is still "fiber."

A STATE SENATOR!

In discussing the testimony of Mrs. Thelma Franklin before the legislative committee investigating the conduct of Senator Knabb, Senator W. H. Maypoles said:

"Her testimony, showed, and the records will prove the truth of her testimony, that Senator Knabb himself pursued a poor, unfortunate, good-for-nothing youth down the high road, arrested him, shackled his hands, took him to the county seat at Gainesville and had him tried before a jury in which Mr. Knabb's brother sat as a juror, brought him back as a convict to work in his camp, when the youth was nothing more than a simpleton, had him whipped three times in one day and that the boy, after the third whipping, died."

The man who did this, people of Florida, is one of YOUR State Senators.

He was elected by the voters of a senatorial district and he is sitting in the Capitol of YOUR state, invested with the dignity and power of a high official of YOUR government, and making laws for YOU and YOURS.

It is inconceivable how a supposedly intelligent electorate ever sent this man to the Legislature. It is inconceivable how a supposedly self-respecting Senate can permit him to continue as a member.—Tampa Tribune.

THE SPIRIT OF FLORIDA

Let's Make It Unanimous! Pensacola News: There is a good deal of discussion among the leaders of various Florida towns as to Tampa's right to be called the "Los Angeles of Florida," but for our part we are for Pensacola, and don't want any California cognomen tacked onto us. Florida is plenty good enough.

When The St. Johns River Is Here! Ocala Star: Some of those Florida Democrats who have been talking so much about Harding's lame ducks wants to unload the east coast canal on the government. It all depends on whose cow is hooked.

So Say We All of Us. Tampa Tribune: The Tribune will make the prediction now that not one of the legislators voting for lease or lash or for compromising on either will ever again be elected to public office in Florida.

Now Watch the Twins Grow! Fort Myers Press: Born—At Tallahassee May 3, Hendry county and Collier county. Despite Caesarian operation Mother Lee and twins are doing as well as could be expected.

Mostly "Might Not" Orlando Reporter-Star: It now seems that the motorcade party from Fort Myers which attempted to cross the Everglades and got stuck, furnished lots of sensational reading for northern publications which might or might not be good advertising for Florida.

Now Listen For the "Echo." Palm Beach Post: Senator Campbell, of this district, proposes in a bill he presented to the legislature this week that the headquarters of the State Road Department be moved from Tallahassee to Gainesville. This is a good proposal. Gainesville is more centrally located and therefore more accessible and a better point of distribution. If the department is an independent organization and not an echo of the governor's cabinet there is no reason why it should have its headquarters at Tallahassee.

But Bites Without Warning. Clearwater Sun: Rattlesnake dealers in Mexico are quoting prices as low as fifty cents. Moonshine makers take notice. One snake to the gallon is declared to be the proper proportion.

THE NEW PIER AT LEAST.

After having the money to build it in the bank for months, all difficulties in the way have been cleared up and now work will start on Sanford's new 150 foot long pier and pavilion at the foot of Park avenue.

By the time the next winter visitors begin to arrive this fine city on the upper St. Johns river will have one of the finest municipal piers and pavilions in the state. It will be the resort place for thousands who want to fish, and otherwise enjoy themselves, both home folks and visitors, and the delightful breezes from the lake will sweep away the tired feeling and the restlessness from many a person.

Sanford is waked up at last. New building in this city is of a proportion and type that few small inland cities can show in this state. The new First National Bank and office building is up so high that it looks a veritable "skyscraper," and from its roof when completed will be one of the most beautiful views in this whole state. The owners of the building might well consider completing the roof as a roof garden, for there will be demand for it as a summer night resort and it could be made a paying part of the great investment.

The new opera house is also nearing completion. It will be when finished one of the most modern and handsome theaters in Florida and will have a capacity which will be much needed during the next few years.

The Woodworth Five and Ten Cent Stores company is also practically building itself a home right on the busiest block of the city.

But it is not alone the business building which is attracting attention to this city right now. In addition to the street paving program on hand there are dozens of handsome new homes going up all over the place. Sanford, the City Substantial, is no longer a mere name. It is a reality, as thousands are finding out.

Miami spent $121,750.87 for publicly last year; and the Tampa Tribune says it must be at least $150,000 for Tampa this year. Both those cities have proved that it pays to advertise.

JUST KIDS—The Mustard Plaster.

COMMODITY PRICES HIGH ENOUGH SAYS BABSON

THE STATISTICIAN DISCUSSES PRESENT SITUATION IN RELATION TO BONDS

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., May 11.—The radical recovery of commodity prices from August 1921 to date, has brought general business above average and is the foundation for the reasoning of a good many who have predicted increasing prices through 1923. Therefore, Roger W. Babson's statement on the situation, issued today, is of unusual interest. "There have been five major movements in commodity prices since the beginning of the World War," says Mr. Babson. "First, we had a great rise from early 1915 to the peak in August 1918. Immediately at the close of the war prices suffered a sentimental decline. Then post-war inflation caused a steady rise from the spring of 1919 to the middle of 1920. "As depression set in the worst commodity panic in economic history carried us over the middle of 1920 to the low of August 1921. The fifth phase of the movement has been a 19 month's rise during which time prices have climbed over 30 per cent—an abnormal development. "The reasons for this recent upswing give us some indication as to its probable development. It was caused by an increase in physical production, and has continued until today it is above the normal growth line. Total volume of business has increased until it is also slightly above normal. Monetary conditions have been and are very good, with large volume of circulation, strong volume of Federal Reserve statistics, good turn over, and sound credit conditions. "A shortage of transportation has stimulated buying. Wages have increased substantially. Purchasing power of the industrial community has been reflected in better business. Even the farmer, who was hard hit has gradually climbed out of his financial chaos. The upward trend of the stock market and new construction figures add two more arguments on the bullish side of the ledger. "The present technical position of the commodity markets, however, is very similar to that of 1920. Production has reached a point where we can not hope to consume at such a rate indefinitely. Many commodities are being made so fast that they must of necessity pile up surplus stocks by 1924. The present administration is also adverse to further inflation. Car shortage has been reduced to one-third of what it was and more favorable weather conditions and seasonal changes in business cannot help but clear up the traffic situation. "Since the present market is letting adequately supplied there is little justification that increasing prices of commodities can long continue. The cost of living fundamentally is still too high and is destined during the next few years to recede to a lower level. European conditions are still unfavorable, and until a constructive program is announced we cannot reasonably expect a further radical stimulation of business. "The growing reluctance on the part of the buyer to stock up on high priced merchandise is an indication of the end of the upward rise by 1924 at the latest. The underlying structure is probably strong enough to justify moderate advance in some lines and a high average commodity price level for some months longer, but it is probable that prices by or before 1924 will turn for a reaction. As the advance slows up and transportation difficulties are solved, buying will ease off and general business should fall back to a level below normal. This slackening will ease money rates and should cause bonds to again take up their long swing rise."

chosen officers the organization is crippled, is unable to function as it should and as it would, with every member doing his duty as a public-spirited citizen and as one desiring to help in making his home town prosperous and progressive. Of course, a chamber of commerce, as every other well managed, progressive, business requires and needs a leader. It so happens that the secretary is that leader and unless he is thoroughly competent, and has the backing of the members of the organization, his leadership goes for naught. There are Florida chambers of commerce that so thorough and so practically appreciate this that they seek and employ men, to fill the secretarial office, who have ascertained and acknowledged ability to perform the work assigned to them and which they themselves discover as needing to be done. To such men, in at least some instances, comparatively high salaries are paid, but not more than their work is worth. In fact, there are instances, in some Florida chambers of commerce organizations, where the secretaries are worth a great deal more than they are being paid. Names of such secretaries could be given were it advisable. Yet, sometimes, there is grumbling and fault finding by those who cannot see why a chamber of commerce secretary, one who does conspicuously good work, "should be paid so much." Usually such grum-

FLORIDA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Nearly every town in Florida has its chamber of commerce, or board of trade, whether the town be large or small. Every one of these organizations is doing good work, some more effectively than others by reason of being more efficiently managed and conducted. And this brings us at once to the main point of management, and that is it is not alone in the secretary, who usually is also the chief executive of the chamber or board, not in the directors who give their time and their services to the work in hand. The very best management is in the chamber of commerce membership; there, also, is its failure. If one will take the trouble to analyze the activities, the work, of the various chambers of commerce it will be found that those doing the most and best work are those in which the membership contributes generously, loyally of practical interest and service. The work is not all put up to the secretary or to the board of directors. Individual members do their full share, accepting the responsibility that undoubtedly devolves on them. Where they fail to do this the chamber of commerce is a failure, or practically so. For, no matter how competent may be the secretary, how willing the directors to direct, unless the members stand loyally with their blings come only from those who themselves are failures in their own business, either through their own inefficiency or in their inability to choose competent managers and subordinates. The really successful business man believes that "the laborer is worthy of his hire," and they recognize the justice of compensation in proportion to the value of work done, of success achieved.

Generally, Florida chambers of commerce are functioning exceedingly well. They are of immense value to their several communities and to the state as a whole. They deserve to enlist more general co-operation, through membership at least. And when that membership appreciates thoroughly what a real, live chamber of commerce means in the progress of a city or town, and loyally supports every necessary activity of the organization, the onward march of that city or town is assured.—Times-Union.

OUR IMMEDIATE NEED.

Building a city is a good deal like erecting a building. One must be able to close his eyes and see the whole structure—various kinds of material, location of all rooms, size height length, and a hundred other things. Thus we came to the use of a very much over-worked phrase, yet one which is very significant, "Get the vision" and will do things. The builders of cities have always had a mental picture of what they wanted and a fairly good idea of what they proposed to construct. The amount of material on hand, the making of the city with reference to its natural beauties and advantages, and why the eye to be made of its natural resources as a means of inducing others to become a part of its life, makeup a large part of the program.

Go to any growing city in this or any other state, take a peep at the methods used to build the town and you will find they first "had the vision." They looked ahead for ten, twenty or fifty years, say what they should be as a city, then began to build to meet the requirements of the "vision."

A non-progressive city will invariably reveal a bunch of self-contented men who are obsessed with the idea what their fathers had in good enough for them, and will meet all the demands of the present. Such men frequently have a competency of this world's goods and do not care to enter enthusiastically in the fight for supremacy, hence they hesitate to cooperate with progressive men in the enlargement of their town. Such business men are comparatively little benefit to a community. Sanford is immensely rich in natural resources. There is not in all this great state an inland town which has been so richly endowed by nature. "It is beautiful for situation" and should be made the most attractive city in the "Land of Flowers."

It is a matter of congratulation that some of Sanford's citizens have had the "vision" and are trying to make a real city on the lake. Can any thinking man give a reasonable explanation why Sanford is not the leading city in the interior of the state, unless it be that so few of its splendid citizens have their eyes open to the latent possibilities lying at their door? The immediate need is a faith in ourselves, a faith in the future, and a determination to show the world what we can do, and something will be accomplished. Let our faith concrete itself in more residences, in many attractive apartment houses, in beautifying our streets, in an organized campaign to paint our houses, in placing a hundred benches on the streets so people can sit down and talk and get acquainted, in making the yards and lawns of the city pretty and attractive. These are some of the essential things which enter into the building of a real city. A business man from another enterprising city remarked last week as he came into the city: "Your people do not spend much money on their yards." It is unfortunately true. The approaches to Sanford are so well laid out that with a little beautifying the visitor or stranger would be greatly pleased. As soon as he came in touch with them. Sanford should spend a good big sum of money in advertising its advantages. The people of the other states do not know what rich resources we have. They hear of Miami, Palm Beach, Orlando, St. Petersburg, but not much about Sanford. We have as good climate as these places mentioned. We have much richer farming lands. We have as good people. We can show as good results in the ways of the curative properties of our climate as others. Then why not tell the world about what we have? We need to get the "vision" of the value of honest advertising. To spend ten thousand dollars in such a campaign would bring us larger per cent of profit than twice the sum spent in any other way. Unless we can get the people to come here, spend their money, buy or build homes, the city will not grow very fast. A thousand large buildings would be of no value at all unless Sanford had more "folks." Some one must live in the buildings, or rent them, and people are needed to purchase the things the business man has to sell. Should there be five thousand visitors here next winter for three months it would mean they would leave in the city not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and much more than that. Some of them would be so delighted they would make this their home for the future. Then their friends would come here and they, too, would buy property, spend their money, rear their children and be a splendid asset to the city. Suppose we start something real soon. Athletics have done more for our High School than we generally realize. But our boys need help and encouragement. Buy a ticket for "Singed Wings" at the Princess Tuesday night and help them.

Bumper Crop of Hen Fruit in Electrically Lighted Hen House

Thrifty chicken farmer uses electric lights to lengthen hens' working day. Illumination increases egg production fifty per cent, statistics show.

"Going to bed with the chickens" is not what it used to be. Like their sisters on the "Gay White Way" as long as the lights are burning they are up and doing. Then they lay and lay. John Hoerner of Whitehouse, New Jersey, keeps his hen house bright and cheery with a Western Electric power and light outfit. Consequently what used to be pin money for Mrs. Hoerner has become a real industry. Mr. Hoerner says, "The hen immigrated from equatorial countries where the hours of daylight and darkness are equal. In this environment, her reproduction and digestive systems were attuned to work on a schedule with twelve hours darkness. Her nature hasn't changed a bit but she eats and works only in the daylight hours. She cannot find food in the darkness and she cannot eat, she cannot work. So I got 'em up at the same time and let them go to roost at the same time the year around. Two 25-watt Sunbeam Mazda per twelve-foot foot of floor space will furnish sufficient illumination."

Amateur "doctoring" of electric wiring has burned many a home.

VENTILATION MOST DIFFICULT PROBLEM IN BUILDING POULTRY HOUSES—ADEQUATE SPACE ALSO BIG FACTOR

IN AIRING POULTRY HOUSES, MODERATION IS NEEDED, EXTREMES HARMFUL

By SETH W. SHOEMAKER, Director, The School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

AN IDEAL POULTRY HOUSE

Many varying opinions are expressed on poultry house construction and all extremes are indulged in from the coop that has no ventilation and is almost air tight to the extreme open type that is ventilated as much as possible.

After experimenting with various types of construction the poultryman usually selects a type of building that is midway between these two.

The most serious difficulty is usually to secure satisfactory ventilation. Far too many poultry houses are built to take care of 50 or 100 hens and are used for three or four times that number.

Although it is not always possible or advisable to build a poultry house to fit all future requirements, care should be taken to provide for increases or decreases in the flock. Overcrowding of the flock in the winter time often brings unsatisfactory results and means considerable loss.

Most farms cannot support a flock of 300 to 400 hens economically. Poultry houses, however, are often based on a 100-hen unit, which is an economical unit to use, as it takes very little more to care for that many hens than for half that number.

Square Feet Per Fowl
The number of square feet floor space necessary for fowls is a matter of considerable argument. The best results are usually obtained, however, in a house where there are at least four square feet floor space for each fowl; three square feet will answer for Leghorns and other varieties of the Mediterranean fowls provided the house is kept perfectly clean, except perhaps the Minorcas, which will need as much space as the American varieties. Large fowls like the Asiatics have about five square feet of floor space per head. Where the house is especially well ventilated the fowls may be crowded somewhat more with safety.

The smaller the unit is made, the more space proportionately will have to be allowed for each fowl, that is, a house with 400 square feet floor space will provide ample room for 100 fowls, yet only 200 square feet floor space will not be as satisfactory for fifty fowls.

When the house is too small for the flock, special care must be taken to keep the walls and floor exceptionally clean.

Poultry houses are made of all kinds of material, but more are made of frame construction than any other kind, partly because such a house can be easily erected by the average person and partly because wood provides a good insulation against the weather. Dryness in a poultry house is essential and freedom from moisture depends considerably on ventilation.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB

The last meeting of the Welfare Department of the Woman's Club for this season will be held at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon, May 16th, at the Sanford High School auditorium. As this meeting is to be one of special interest, the department asks all members of the Woman's Club and their friends to be present. After a brief business session, the charming one act play, "The Twelve Pound Look," by Sir James Barrie, will be presented under the direction of Mrs. D. P. Drummond, with the following cast of characters:
Sir Harry Sims—Mrs. Ender Curlett,
Lady Sims—Mrs. Ralph Wright,
Kate, a Typist, Mrs. D. P. Drummond
Butler—Mrs. Aylett Pitts

After the play the Domestic Science girls will give an exhibition of the sewing accomplished in their department this year. 11-6t

Alleged Driver of Wall Street Bomb Wagon is Arrested

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 13.—The Wall Street bomb explosion was recalled again last night when police arrested Noah Lerner, 23, an electrician on a charge of homicide in connection with the disaster which killed more than thirty persons on September 16, 1920.

Lerner is charged with having hired the wagon that carried the explosives to Wall Street, the police announced.

The information that brought his arrest was said to have been given to the district attorney by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doyle of Baton Rouge, La. They returned recently from Kuzbas colony in Russia, where they charged they had found conditions entirely different from what had been represented to them by its New York agents. Several officers of the Kuzbas were indicted on the strength of their accusations.

Lerner was a resident of the Kuzbas colony in Russia to which the Doyles and their two children were sent from New York it was said, and they were reported to have told the district attorney that he boasted openly of his part in the Wall Street tragedy.

The district attorney said the Doyles told him that while they were in Russia they were forced to take two boarders into their home, one of whom they said was Lerner.

"I am the man who hired the little red wagon that exploded in Wall Street," they said he told them.

SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

This has been a busy and eventful week for S. H. S.

S. H. S. is proud of her two agricultural boys, Andrew Carraway and Malcolm Cameron, who were presented the Smith-Hughes Medal, Monday 14 chapel, by Mr. Cooper.

Supt. Lawton gave us an instructive as well as an entertaining talk, Monday morning, in which he pointed out that we are beset on every side by the dangerous set of people who have as their mottoes: "Get by" and "Safety First," and how instead of helping the world progress, they are holding it back.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings the Senior class presented "The Girl From the Upper Seven." This is one of the very best plays that S. H. S. has staged. The talent displayed was wonderful and a credit to our school. The crowded houses which enjoyed the play are, of course, responsible for its great financial success. The Japanese and Scotch Highlander choruses added much to the enjoyment and attractiveness of the play. Music was furnished between acts by our S. H. S. orchestra.

We wish to thank the Elks Club for the use of their Elk's head, for the Senior play, also Miller's Furniture Store and the Sanford Furniture Co. for the use of their furniture and also all others who kindly loaned stage properties.

"Salmagundi" are now off press and they are bigger and better in every respect than ever before. You had better get yours right away. "A word to the wise is sufficient." Every day in every way you're getting scarcer and scarcer." But if you will call 144-W you can leave your order for a copy and it will be delivered and then you can see plenty of athletic pictures, school snaps, and read some of the best funny articles ever written.—Price $1.25.

Yes, we did loose a game yesterday, but our boys certainly put up a good fight and we know that at the end of the game New Smyrna realized she played a team.

Through the medium of the Victrola and Miss Gray we have been able to hear John McCormack, Alma Gluck and Gali-Curei this week.

Have you ever taken a trip in the company of His Satanic Majesty? One of our girls went on such a trip according to the Salmagundi—Phone 144-W for a copy and hear about it. Sally's are fine.

Thousands Saved By Women Who Made Their Own Hats

No less than five hundred and fifty hats were made by as many rural women and young ladies of this state during March and April of this year, resulting in a cash saving to them of nearly seven thousand dollars and in an increased happiness in communities of 11 counties, according to figures and reports reaching the state office of home demonstration work. The reports from the different counties placed the actual costs of the hats at from 65 cents to $4 each and said that they compared very favorably with "store-bought" hats costing from $4 to $15. This would indicate a saving on each of about $12, or of nearly seven thousand dollars on all the hats made during March and April by these rural women.

Miss Sarah W. Partridge, state home demonstration agent, explains that specialists in millinery have been sent to the various counties to assist the home demonstration agents. Only 11 counties could be reached and worked the first two months. Others will be reached later. Miss Partridge displayed photographs showing the hats made by some of the women, and there was good foundation for her statement that these hats compared favorably with the best of purchased goods.

It might be worse. There is still one day for work between week-ends.

"One Wonderful Night" tonight.
Herbert Rawlinson has the leading role.

Twelve hours with a thrill every minute—that's what young Jack Curtis stumbled into when he saw a beautiful girl rescued her, wed her—but you'll have to follow him yourself. It's great.

Also "When Summer Comes," a Mack Sennett Comedy, full of laughs and thrills.

And the honor guests tonight will be Mr. and Mrs. Harrold, of Park avenue and family and will see the picture tonight without cost to them. This is your ticket, bring it with you. Thank!

And tomorrow night Bebe Daniels and Conrad Nigtel in "Singed Wings" with International News as a side-liner.

WILLARD PUTS UP BIG FIGHT IN NEW YORK

IS IN LINE FOR ANOTHER TRY AT THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, May 14.—Two giants of the prize ring—Luis Angel Firpo, pride of the Argentine, and Jess Willard, Kansas man mountain—stood out today as challengers for the flatie throne occupied by Jack Dempsey, after scoring knockout victories in the two main bouts of the milk fund carnival before a crowd of nearly 70,000 at the Yankee Stadium here Saturday night.

Firpo demonstrated once more that he is one of the most terrific hitters who has climbed to pugilistic prominence in recent years by knocking out Jack McAuliffe, 2nd, of Detroit, in the third round. Willard, while none too impressive in his comeback after years of idleness, proved himself the master of his young Iowa antagonist, Floyd Johnson, and was awarded a technical knockout after eleven rounds of the most spectacular battling on the card. These two bouts, both scheduled for fifteen rounds, were headliners of a card of five heavy-weight contests, one of the most spectacular fight programs ever staged in this country, and a magnet for a picture-gone throng that all but filled the great Yankee ball park.

Official figures were lacking yesterday, but it was estimated that the throng was at least five thousand less than the crowd of 74,000 which packed the stadium at the opening American League baseball game recently. It was a record for a boxing show in this state, but far behind the attendance figure of more than 90,000 at the Carpenter-Dempsey bout two years ago. Gate receipts were announced unofficially by Tex Rickard, promoter of the show for the municipal milk fund benefit, as approximately $300,000.

Two of the three bouts in the card besides the main fights, were terminated before the limit. Jack Renault of Chesham, Que., Canadian heavy-weight champion, was declared the victor over Fred Fulton, Minnesota plasterer, on a foul blow in the fourth round, after the Canadian had piled up a substantial lead on points.

HOW ABOUT THIS SANFORD ROTARIANS?

Daytona boys under 14 who attend Sunday school regularly, who do not swear and who will pledge themselves to root for the home team are to have the "privilege" of attending all ball games on the City Island for ten cents per game, through the formation of a Knot Hole Club by the Daytona Rotary club. Further than that, any boy who doesn't possess ten cents can earn it by applying to any Rotarian for a job. Clean living, loyalty to home institutions, industry and love of clean sport is worth cultivating in any boy, and the Knot Hole club should include every boy in the city and should have the endorsement of every parent.—Daytona Journal.

One good way to reduce to music is to listen to the musical clink of the trace chains on the plow harness.—Windsor Border Cities Star.

CHARLEY BRITT RESIGNS AS HERALD SPORT EDITOR

It is with regret that the Herald announces that in the future Charley Britt will not have charge of the Sport page of this paper. Mr. Britt was forced to resign a week or so ago on account of his many other duties, and from now on this department will be in charge of one of the Herald force.

This applies to the "Movie Fan" column as well, and from now on, if those wanting something run on the sport page will bring it direct to the Herald office it will be given the same attention as was given it by Mr. Britt in the past.

BASEBALL GAME.

The last scheduled game of the season with DeLand tomorrow afternoon in Sanford at 4 o'clock sharp. Everybody be out to back the boys up and see DeLand get the trimming she needs.

COMING TO A SHOW-DOWN.

The house of representatives of the Florida legislature yesterday adopted a joint resolution calling for an election on an amendment to the constitution in which a basis is fixed for legislative reapportionment at ten-year intervals in the future. This amendment would replace a provision of the constitution that has been ignored for twenty-six years. In the light of the information the Post now says of the resolution and the proposed amendment, the action of the house yesterday was fine and is creditable to that body.

More important than that, however, was the passage by the house of a reapportionment bill by which legislative apportionment is made under the present constitution, and without waiting for authority to act under the proposed constitutional amendment. Because some of the senators hold over from this session to the session two years hence, and their terms cannot be shortened by law, the present reapportionment bill cannot make the representation as equitable as it should be and as it can be made after the adoption of the amendment, but it goes a long way toward doing justice to South Florida and West Florida.

Both branches of the legislature probably will concur, or have concurred in the joint resolution, but the reapportionment bill has yet to go to the senate for action and it does not become law until the senate accepts it. The good thing is that the question is checked to the senate, where the senators must put themselves on record.

The governor and the other state officials have friends in the senate; whether the governor is to be a candidate for any office in the future or not, it is known that some of the incumbent state officials will be candidates for re-election. The Post shall note with some interest how votes on the reapportionment bill are cast by the senators who represent the districts in which the state officials have their homes. We shall note the votes from the districts from which come members of the State Road Department and other state officials and employees. There shall also be observed such relation as may be exposed between the whipping bill and the reapportionment bill. If Tallahassee wants to keep the capitol, how is Senator Hodges to vote on reapportionment? And Senator Knabb?

If this is interpreted as a threat, well and good, let it be so interpreted. Reapportionment has been kicked around in the Florida legislature for a good many years; it has been traded for votes for candidates for governor, and has led legislators to violate their oath of office to support and defend the constitution. It came to a show-down in the house and the representatives saw their duty and did it. It will come to a show-down in the senate, and we shall see how the senators acquit themselves. Senators' attitude toward convict leasing and the whipping bill has opened them to an examination that may well be thorough. Their friends can not escape some responsibility for their acts.—Palm Beach Post.

OWNING THE BAY BOTTOM.

It would be a fine thing for Miami if the state would deed to the city the land on the bottom of Biscayne bay immediately adjacent to the city, but it must be said that there is some doubt that the internal improvement board will grant the request. If Biscayne bay bottom land is given to Miami, West Palm Beach could ask for land in Lake Worth, Tampa could expect a deed to Tampa bay land, and other municipalities on the Atlantic or Gulf coasts could make similar requests. These requests

Discovery of Old Ordinance Upsets the Sunday Game Plans

DAYTONA, May 14.—No attempt was made here between the Daytona and Tampa teams of the Florida State League, which it was announced Saturday, would be played for the supposed purpose of testing the Sunday base ball law. An old city ordinance forbidding Sunday baseball was discovered, resulting in the cancellation.

W. H. Hodges, city manager, stated following announcement of the game Saturday, that he would use the police, if necessary, to prevent the contest, and Sheriff Morris, of Volusia county, had promised to be present and make arrests if the state law was violated.

Threats of Sunday baseball, advanced to compel the strict enforcement of the "blue laws," including the closing of drug stores, soft drink stands and golf courses, have not materialized.

would surrender much of its zealously guarded prerogatives, and therefore there is some doubt if Miami's petition will get very far.

Miami ought to own the land on the bottom of Biscayne bay and then there would be no more Burlingame island imbrulios. If the city had control over this land the building of more islands in the bay would not necessarily cease, but the danger of islands being built that would mar the city's beauty would be removed. The federal government sees to it that island building does not obstruct navigation, but that is as far as Uncle Sam is concerned. The state could sell the land and the government would permit construction at almost any point along the coast, and under present arrangements the city or its people would not have a word to say about it.

It is possible that the trustees of the internal improvement fund will deed the bay bottom land to the city, but as there is doubt that this deed will be made the legislature should be asked for a law providing for a public hearing before any bay bottom land is sold by the state to a private individual.—Miami Metropolis.

"It Pays to Swim With the Current"

This is about two spark plugs. At the moment they are lying on the sales manager's desk in the establishment of a large middle-western hardware jobber.

One spark plug bears a name known wherever automobiles are used, the other a name seldom heard.

Both, says the sales manager, are good plugs. On the score of quality they run neck and neck.

"But," he adds, "we are discontinuing this line"—and he holds up the plug of unfamiliar name. "Yes, and our discount on it is larger, too."

"What's wrong with it? Not a thing. It's a good plug—mighty good plug, but—no one knows about it. It isn't advertised—the other one is. The demand is for the advertised make. And we've learned it pays to swim with the current, not against it."

More and more jobbers in every line of business are learning every day that it pays to swim with the current of popular demand.

"Our job," said one jobber, "is to supply markets, not create them. Let the manufacturer make a market for his goods, and we will handle it."

Said another—"Our salesmen carry a catalog with thousands of items in it. They haven't the time to push individualized goods. Their work is principally taking orders."

If you go among these wholesalers today to introduce a new product in competition with merchandise nationally advertised, unless the article is exceptional, you will be met everywhere by the injunction: "First go out and get a reputation for your goods through advertising."

The wholesaler knows by actual contact with dealers how they value speed of turnover, goods which move with a minimum of effort, goods people know about and ask for.

WEEKLY LUMBER MARKET REVIEW

The comparative slowness of retail demand for lumber has had no general weakening effect on the market, due primarily to the heavily overbooked condition of the mills and their very low and broken stocks, says the American Lumberman, Chicago. Building is going ahead actively in most cities and industrial communities, and retail lumber dealers report excellent sales and good immediate prospects. However, their stocks have been considerably added to lately by deliveries on orders placed early this year, and for the present they are buying only such items as are imperatively needed. Distributors report a flood of inquiries for retail stocks of all kinds, showing that, while dealers buy cautiously just now, they are greatly interested in the market. Some factories also show a disposition to hold off until they have definite need for stocks. There is thus created a somewhat spotted condition in the industrial trade, but as a whole it is sizable, while country trade is not only promising but in some sections is actually opening up very satisfactorily. Demand for lumber therefore aggregates into a good volume, in many cases exceeding the ability of manufacturers to meet it. Though buyers report it easier to place orders now than several weeks ago, this is still difficult, especially if they are for badly mixed cars or for any considerable quantities. Mills reject orders freely unless they fit stocks on hand or cutting schedules, and show no eagerness for new business.

WHY THE "IF."

The Melbourne Times says: "Judge C. P. Parkhill, who will be a candidate for Governor next year, was born in north Florida and has lived most of his life in south Florida; but he is a full fledged Floridian, who is not ashamed of any one section of his state. He is a booster for the entire state and is not afraid to express his opinion on any subject pertaining to the welfare of every portion of Florida. If we decide to support him in his campaign, it will not be for the simple reason that he is a south Florida man, but because we think that he has the true conception of what the great State of Florida needs as a whole."

Why, the "if," in as handsome an acknowledgment of his fitness and ability as you make in that little editorial?

Are You Graceful? If Not, Study This

Bebe Daniels Tells How Awakened Women Can Acquire Grace

To be graceful will make even the plainest girl popular. On the other hand, a most beautiful girl may be unpopular if she is awkward.

That is the assertion of Bebe Daniels, who is featured with Conrad Nagel in Penrhyn Stanlaw's production of "Singed Wings" for Paramount, which will be seen at the Princess Theatre tomorrow night. In the picture, Miss Daniels is called on to do a beautiful creation, "The Dance of Death." Clothed in the costume of a moth, she dances around a burning candle. A marvelous effect of grace, combined with entrancing lights and shadows, is conveyed to the screen by the dainty star.

"Grace," explains Miss Daniels, "is largely a matter of correct and complete control of the muscles and nervous system. In my opinion, nothing is so conducive to graceful movements as classic and ball room dancing. I think every woman should also partake of breathing and body exercises, every morning and night.

"A woman should practice making certain moves—moves that are common in her every day actions—until she is able to do them in the most graceful manner possible. I believe grace is attainable by any woman if she but strives to attain it. And I don't believe the woman lives who does not desire to be graceful at all times."
