My NEW YORK

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK-Skillfully sliding the heads back and forth on my abacus, I figured out that the Young Thing With Bangs had now been & New Yorker for about a year and a haif. This was six months short of the prescribed two-year period that is requisite for all girls coming into the big town before they give up the ghost and go home to marry the boy in the cereal factory, but I thought I would look her up again anyway ami see what stage she had reached.

We clinked heers together in Colombo's mumbling "First today with the right hand," and I sat back and looked her over You didn't have to be a student of human nature to discover she alage. There was quite a change from that first time. when she had worn an Isadore Duncan-type purple scarf thrown earelessly around her throat, aprayed on the make-up with a blowtorch, talked at long length about Life, squeezed my hand intensely and said "Oh, this is my town!" She still had the bangs, I noted, but you didn't notice them too much because the rest of the hair was short. She had on a tailored suit and the make-up had been scaled down to reasonable pro-

Also, I phegred regretfully, the look of intensity had given way to something resembling petulance. I asked her how life was in the

"Oh, I don't live there now," she said. "I finally moved I'm up on Cast 90th street." And did she like it there? "Well, it's all right, of course, but it's on the fourth floor of a walkup and we have a superintendent who doesn't come by every night to collect the bags of garbage."

When last seen, she had been waiting on tables, just awaiting the chance to paint or act. Still? "No. I'm a secretary now." she said. A secretary! The world burned, the earth crumbled,

HOW DID SHE PASS THE TIME? French movies with American titles, you recalled, used to be her passion. 'Well, I still see one occasionally, of course, but I don't seem to get to too many these dava. They're so-so-well, emotional, you know."

Ah so now she was going to Betty Grable movies. "Heavens, no I mean, how pedeatrian can you get? I do think Montgomery Clift is pretty wonderful, though. And have you seen this Richard Widmark? So menacing?"

I wrapped some apaghetti carefully around my fork and saked her about men. There was a small eruption. "Men! Men in this town!" she said. "There isn't a one of them has the slightest thought of getting married."

However, you thought she hadn't particularly planned on getting married, that she had come to New York for a career and to study late? "Well, yes," she said, lamely, "but a girl gets a little tired of being everleatingly propositioned. The right man just doesn't seem to be here in Manhattan." Pause. "In fact, most of them are jerks. At least Fred Schmidt back in Cleveland wanted to marry me. Fred wasn't really a bad person at all, when you think of it." Did she still feel the same about Cleveland on the whole? A year ago, it was a home for barbarians. She smiled apologetically. Oh, well, you say a lot of things when you're young. Cleveland isn't too bad. I had some good times there. I was thinking of them just the other night."

I studied the Young Thing with Bangs carefully and wondered whether she had her Pullman ticket to Cleveland in her handbag. No. a little early, I thought. Give her those six months more. After all, she had had only one of her prescribed two great love affairs. Six months more would give her time to wrap up the other one and then go back to Fred Schmidt.

PAINT OR ACT-oh, no low silly of me. The Young Thing With Banga was going to be a Writer Remember the day-unto-day ledger she used to keep, with all her daily hopes and aspirations? "I guess that's around somewhere," she said. "I used to carry it around with me, but it was something of a nulsance."

And was she still writing her impressions in it faithfully? "Well,

The rest of the luncheon was completed in more or less stience. She was going to the hairdresser's afterwards, so I kissed her chastely on the forehead and sent her on her way. She looked very trim in the tailored suit and a great deal more adult and sober than she had a year before, but she also seemed, I am afraid, much leas interesting. They are not long, the days of wine and roses.

Waste Paper

There is a sign of the times in the fact that the Na-tional Association of Waste Material Dealers has decided to advise its members to make a charge for collecting scrap paper. This is the kind of paper which is salvaged from office waste cans and the like, and is less useful than old office waste cans and the like, and is less useful than old newspapers and magazines and other forms of waste paper. Even so dealers have been glad enough to collect it in the past, because they could sell it to mills which make the stuff over into cardboard and low-grade papers. But now, it wastering the next month or so. is reported, there is too much scrap on the market.

The reason is not only that more paper is being used less than a nation. Will Yugo-and tossed into waste baskets. It is also that twice as much slavia stay on the Kremlin leash, paper scrap is being recovered now as before the war. 10 Jewish DP Camps. In Germany Closed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28 (Special)—Ten of the fifty Jewish DP camps in the United States zone of Germany have been closed within the last three months, with the great majority of their former in-habitants going to Israel and the balance to the United States, Ed-ward M. M. Warburg, chairman of the Joint Distribution Committe eported today, He predicted that the remaining 10 camps, housing a Jewish popuation running into the many thousands, would be closed before the end of 1949 if adequate funds are made available to the JDO through the $250,000,000 campaign of the United Jewish Appeal.

Mr. Warburg warned that the to Israel was taxing the facilities of the JDC to the point of break down. "At this moment," he said, "nearly 9,000 Jews are waiting in the 20 emigration camps the JDC maintains in Marseille for the on portunity to leave. Normally, only 3,000 to 4,000 people should be in the camps. Jews who have been brought out of the DP areas of ermany, or who have reached Marseille from North Africa, Bul the Marsellie population has back, ed up because at this moment we ure desperately short of shipping funds with which to speed on their way those who wait."

While emigration has been given top priority in "1949—the year of homecoming," Mr. Warburg said the JDC continues to face many other problems including the task of helping those Jews who through choice or circumstance will remain in Europe "to become self-support-ing citizens." He said that 560,000 Jews in Europe still depend on the J. D. C. for relief assistance. At the same time, Mr. Warburg

continued, the J.D.C. must expand its programs of education, medical care and vocational training for the 900,000 Jews in North Africa and Moslem countries."" people

Yes, indeed, we do mean you! As a Gulf Life policyownen, YourARE a Capitalist. Here's why?

The money you pay in as premiums on your Gulf Life policy is invested in many business and community enterprises. As a Gulf Life policyowner, you have a share in these investments.

PROTECTION AND SECURITY COME FIRST!

Nearly half a BILLION dollars are now behind the million folks like you who are Gulf Life policyowners. On December $1, 1948, the total was $441,798,265. And to guarantee your insurance plans there were reserves of $45,261,143.51. In addition, Gulf Life, at the end of the year had an additional $6,147,973.56 evallable.

HOUSING AND BUSINESS BUILDINGS

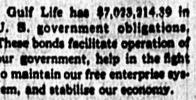

You have a share, too, in first mortgages on hundreds of homes and businesses. On December 31st $24,249,005.00 of these Gulf Life investments were solving homes and business problems for many, and helping to keep Southeastern progress at a high level. Stores, and other business buildings are included in these "Build the South" investments.

HOME OFFICE

JACKSONVILLE

PLORIDA

U. S. government obligations, These bonds facilitate operation of our government, help in the fight to maintain our free enterprise aystem, and stabilise our economy.

Bridges, highways, water plants and many benefit cial community projects are financed by bond fesues. Gulf Life holds $4,143,284.84 in municipal, county. and state securities. Local capital, your savings, is meeting local needs.

BUSINESS IN CENERAL

Investment by Gulf Life in leading business enterprices, including public utilities, railroads, banks, makes you, Mr. Policyowner, holder of a small share in each of these great firms.

YOU EMPLOY HUNDREDS

You, and the 1,000,000 others like you, employ 1,400 people who serve directly the needs of policyowners in the Southeastern states; and indirectly others throughout th nation and far corners of the globe.

GROUP INSURANCE

In addition to the great strides made by Gulf Life in expanding its service to individual policyowners, last year our Group Insurance Department also made great progress. The number of groups insured increased 125%; group volume showed a gain of 50%; casualty insurance and hospitalization premiums reflected an increase of 67% and overall group premiums increased by 70%. The years shead will show even larger sales of this important service to employees.

City Receives Complete Plans For Swim Pool

Structure Will Be 60 Feet Wide And 100 Feet Long, All Above Ground Level

Plans for the proposed municipal ewimming pool in Fort Mellon Park were submitted to the City Commission last night by Donovan Dean, Lakeland architect, and A. P. Michaels, consulting engineer, of Orlando.

According to the plane, the pool will be constructed completely above ground of concrete blocks reinforced with cement and steel. I will be 60 feet wide and 100 feet long. The water will vary in depth from three to nine feet.

Stairways from the ground leve lead to the top of the pool, where spectator decks are located. Under the decks are complete locker and dressing room accommodations for men and women in front of the structure will be a wading pool for children and a large circular flower garden.

The tank will contain 150,000 meallons of water, which will be purified every six hours by a unique filter system. The pool is not drained in order to be cleaned. Trash and debria will be removed by a vacuum process, eliminating the need for added sewer facilities. Extra water, when needed, will be put into the pool by the operator of the filter system.

Specifications calls for a complete lighting system to allow use of the pool at night.

"We have gone into every angle of this building, and have gone into it more thoroughly than we have ever done on any other Joh. so that we could have the City every penny" Mr. Dean declared.
"We feel that we are within the mony limitations for the pool. this morning by the Italian embassy. I would like to see you call for bids as soon as possible in order to have it complete for early suinmer une," bir. Michaele asserted.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 29— (A)—The State Department to-day threw up a blockade against any tour of American cities by Soviet-and-satellite delegates to the "world peace" conference. It circulated a notice to embas-sies of their home countries, reminding them that the delegates were granted admission to this country only for the purpose of attending the controvarsial conference in New York. Now that the conference is over, the Department announced, the United States assumes the delegates will leave within a "reasonable time." The notice was sent to the Russian, Czechoslovakian, Polish and Yugoslav embassies. The delegates from those countries have a different position from the delegates from other countries. American laws forbid admission of Communists to this country. That law was waived so that the delegates from the Communistcontrolled nations could attend the conference.
