

COUNTY HAPPENINGS

Grapeville and UPala Mrs. Bertelson on Thursday of last week was a caller at Mrs. Geo. Clarke. Mrs. H. G. Lundquist and also Mrs. A. J. Thompson. Mrs. Ballinger spent a day in town with Mrs. Collier last week. Mrs. Powell and children visited at Mrs. A. J. Thompson's on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. D. Hart and daughter, Ruby with Miss Laura Parker were callers there also. We were pleased to see them at Sunday School. Mr. H. G. Lundquist has repaired three organs the last week; our Sunday School organ first of all. Mrs. Adam Kari and two youngest children of DeLand came today for a two weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. Bertelson. Anjelo Sanfereno returned Tuesday from his trip to New York. Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Ballinger called on Mrs. Ericson and family Wednesday. Their youngest child has been named Esther Naome. Rev. Alfred Ericson has returned from a weeks revival meeting at Georgetown Putnam County. Mr. Norman Swanson and his father made a trip over to the East coast again this week, Tuesday taking in their auto with them, Mrs. Morris Keely and her two children for a visit to her home folks there. Another surprise birthday party was given on Mr. Carl Pierson, celebrating his 21st birthday last Wednesday night.

Although it had been a stormy afternoon there were thirty-six present all having a fine time; there were seven large cakes and cookies. On Wednesday, Walfred Pierson while doing some plowing for Mr. Tom Tyner found a large rattlesnake which he succeeded in killing. The skin measured six feet 3 inches long, ten and one half inches wide and had nine rattles. Thaw Declared Sane New York, July 15.—Harry Kendall Thaw was declared sane by a jury which for nearly three weeks had listened to testimony given in the supreme court here before Justice Peter Hendrick. Forty-eight minutes were consumed and two ballots were taken in reaching a verdict. Justice Hendrick this morning will announce whether the commitment upon which Thaw was incarcerated in the state hospital for the criminal insane at Mattewan shall be vacated thereby giving the slayer of Stanford White the liberty for which he has fought in the courts for nine years. It was at the end of addresses by counsel and the charge of the justice that the jury retired. While the twelve men were deliberating the crowd in the courtroom and about the courthouse was augmented by scores of people who believed that a verdict quickly would be found. Shortly before 4 o'clock a ball game from the jury room and informed the Justice Hendrick that a verdict had been reached. The doors immediately were locked and Justice Hendrick ascending the bench warned the spectators against any demonstration. Then the jury came in. In reply to a question by the clerk of the court as to whether a verdict had been reached the foreman handed over a sheet of legal paper which was passed to the justice. Justice Hendrick read it and handed it back to the clerk. "Gentlemen of the jury," said the clerk, "the question you have been asked is this: Is Harry Thaw now sane? Your answer is yes." Despite the warnings several persons stood up in front of their seats. The courtroom hummed like a dynamo. Justice Hendrick and a dozen court attendants rapped for order. Meanwhile Thaw who until the verdict was read sat at the counsel table with his chin resting on a handkerchief, had turned around and grasped the hand of several of his counsel. Then he went to where his mother was sitting a few feet away and throwing his arms about her neck kissed her twice. Mrs. Thaw at the same time patted her daughter Mrs. George L. Carnegie, on the shoulder. Absorbing Debate. The Lancaster Literary society will soon take up this discussion: "Which is the hardest to do, quitting booze or leaving a pimple alone?"—Atchison Globe. CLOSE RACE CERTAIN

Season in Major Leagues Promises to Be Successful One.

Boston Braves Are Sure to Put Up Bold Front in National League—Boston Red Sox Touted as Winners in American.

Contrary to winter expectation the baseball season in the major leagues now promises to be a very successful one. A great many critics during the off season were full of fearful predictions that baseball was going into a state of desuetude and that public interest was rapidly waning. It is now believed this may have been a wrong diagnosis, for there is more than the average enthusiasm shown, and the sport is evidently in for a big year. The Feds have made practically no inroads on the clubs of organized ball and the strong teams are intact and capable of putting up a hard battle for the flags in the two big leagues. The race in each of the majors promises to be exceptionally close, which will add to the interest. The fight for the pennant in the National league should be a good one, with the Boston Braves, present world's champions, as the natural favorites. The Braves have been slightly strengthened by the addition of Sherwood Magee in the outfield and are very sure to put up a bold front in their effort to make it two straight championships. They do not, however, appear to outclass the field to any great extent. The Giants seem to be the next best, with the St. Louis Cardinals having quite a chance to come through. These three clubs look to be the best in the league at the getway. But baseball is full of surprises, as the Braves conclusively proved in 1914, and some dark horse is likely to crop up and set the dope all awry. The American league is likely to have a much closer race than usual, owing to the break-up of the Athletics, who are no longer considered to have a walk-over, though Connie Mack is pretty sure to have his club right in the fight all the way. The Boston Red Sox are touted as the most likely winners of the flag. They look very good and should have a fine chance. Most of the strength of the American league seems to lie in the East this season, with the Athletics, Boston and Washington as the best appearing outfits. Detroit is too weak in the box to make much of a showing, and it is hardly likely that the Chicago White Sox will develop the steadiness to cut in strongly for the highest honors, while both Cleveland and the Browns lack the class. Conditions in the minor leagues are improving very rapidly. The minors were badly injured by the Feds last year, but that stage is about over, and there is sure to be a big revival of interest in the smaller leagues before long. All leagues are cutting down on the number of players to be carried, which works hardships on many performers, but which was only a natural result of the activities of the Feds. During the year it is expected that the conditions will settle down to their former substantial basis and the season is bound to be a great improvement on that of 1914.

Hungry Man's Mistake.

Prof. Sigmund Freud, the eminent German scholar, has made a study of Unkyl blunders, spoken and printed, and has embodied the result in his book, "Psychopathology." As an example of blundering speech, caused by subconscious cerebration, he gives the following: "A wealthy, but not very generous American host, invited his friends to an evening party. Everything went well until about midnight, when there was an intermission for supper. To the disappointment of many of the guests, there was no real supper; instead, they were regaled with thin sandwiches and lemonade. "As it was during a presidential campaign, the conversation turned upon the different candidates, and as the discussion grew warmer, one of the guests, an ardent Progressive, remarked to the host, 'You may say what you please about Roosevelt, but there is one thing he can always be relied upon to do; he always gives you a square meal.' He meant, of course, to say 'square deal.' The assembled guests burst into a roar of laughter, to the great embarrassment both of the speaker and of the host."—Youth's Companion.

A Surgeon With "Sand."

The doctor suggested that if I could let him have a couple of men to direct those wounded men who could walk he would send them back to the Chateau of St. Marguerite, where the ambulances lay, three miles to the rear. He had been working at least forty-eight hours, without cessation, but refused to stop ministering to the wounded, although by now his work had been supplemented by the arrival of two infantry surgeons. One of the new medics noticed that our surgeon was in no condition to be on his feet. A temperature of 103 degrees was the record of the thermometer. Examination presently revealed a bullet wound. Under cross-examination our little doctor admitted he had been hit three days before.—A Captain of Royal Irish Dragoons in Collier's Weekly.

GOOD MEETING COMMERCIAL CLUB FRIDAY NIGHT

GOOD ROADS, THE MONROE BRIDGE AND MANY OTHER IMPORTANT MATTERS WERE DISCUSSED

The Sanford Commercial Club met last Friday night in the City Hall pursuant to a call from President Lake. About thirty members were present and between the puffs of some good Sanford cigars the members discussed many things for the good of Sanford.

The efforts made to get a good tourist hotel here. Several other good talks were made by members of the Commercial Club and the question of the bridge across the St. Johns at Monroe coming up, President Lake appointed the following committee to meet with the government engineers here next Friday morning in the court house at ten o'clock.

R. J. Holly, C. R. Walker, W. J. Hill, B. A. Howard and A. P. Connelly. The public hearing will be held with Major Ladue, chief of the government engineers who is in charge of the work in the state and as this bridge is very important to this city and county the citizens generally should be present at the meeting. This bridge was up before the county commissioners meeting several months ago and Michael Sholtz and associates were given the permission of the boards of Volusia and Seminole to construct the bridge. Since that time the matter has been awaiting the decision of the government, the question of the width of the draw being awaited by parties concerned and the public hearing held here next Friday morning is for the purpose of settling the question of the width of the draw.

After President Lake and Secretary Haynes had taken their places and all the members and visitors had gathered the meeting opened for discussion on the question of good roads in Seminole county and C. R. Walker was called upon to give an outline of the work of the committee. Mr. Walker has his heart in the good roads movement just as he has in every good movement for the benefit of the county and for thirty minutes or more gave the people present the status of the good roads movement, the material for good roads and the sense of the committee.

Dr. E. F. Armstrong of Jacksonville the owner and promoter of Riverview one of the attractive suburbs of Jacksonville was called upon for a few remarks and gave his ideas on cooperation and the benefits of the board of trade movements in the state. Dr. Armstrong also made a strong plea for good roads and other improvements and complimented the city of Sanford on the building of the bulkhead and

Likes Florida Best

Gail Borden the proprietor of the Gail Borden famous Eagle brand of condensed milk writing to his friend, Col. George N. Rabby of this city is rejoicing in California. He has a winter home at Ormond and spends all of his winters in Florida and he thinks Florida is better than California in every way. He writes among other things that the following:

"I am having a hard time trying to explain to my California friends why I like Florida better than California but Florida to my notion is far superior in every way."

Coming from Mr. Borden this sounds good to the people of Florida.

Indians Play Ball

The Nebraska Indians are full-blooded aborigines with all the features of the race which occupied this land before the white man landed. As in those days the Indians have the characteristics that have made them famous, namely, speed, cunning and wonderful powers of sight and movement. The team has played through the country for 17 years and has hung up records galore. It has met many of the best teams in the country and has the great majority on the string. On the street they are quiet and peaceful Indians but on the field they let loose and their actions prove interesting. The Indian has always been bred with a desire to win and in victory he cannot control his spirits. Such is the habit of the Nebraska Indian base ball team for inspired with the thought of victory they open up the ginger barrel and wade in line shape. Warhoops that nowadays are looked upon as amusing but which in the days of yore were blood curdling to the pioneer are given by the team in the field and they "jabber" in their native tongue among themselves giving directions and coaching one another. Altogether they will be an attraction that Sanford cannot afford to miss and will seldom be given another treat of the sort. They leave August 6th.

FRANK LIVES; SMALL CHANCE OF RECOVERY

IMPROVISED KNIFE DANGEROUS FOR VICTIM IN BLOOD POISONING

Milledgeville, Ga., July 19. The latest reports from the prison regarding the condition of Leo M. Frank who was cut almost to death by a sharp-edged knife Saturday night, are to the effect that there is a slight chance for his recovery. The knife being an improvised weapon is apt to cause blood poisoning. If this can be avoided the chances for his recovery are good. He is very weak from loss of blood and unable to talk.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 19. Leo M. Frank lay in the Georgia State Prison Hospital tonight with a fighting chance for recovery. Physicians had succeeded in stopping the flow of blood from the wound in his throat made with an improvised knife in the hands of William Green, a fellow convict, also serving a term for murder. The blow was struck as Frank slept in his bunk in a dormitory late last night.

The latest and most spectacular phase of the two-year fight for Frank's life is expected to be the subject of an investigation by the Georgia Prison Commission. Reports from Atlanta were that Governor Harris intimated today he would start such an investigation to ascertain if Green acted entirely of his own volition.

Green said today, when taken from solitary confinement long enough to be questioned, that he planned the attack alone and that no one knew what he intended to do. He was not communicative today and gave as his only excuse that "he thought it should be done." He said, however, that he regretted the act.

Frank was quartered in a dormitory with about 100 other prisoners and occupied a bunk about forty feet from one of the two doors to a large room. Green's bunk was fourth from his. No prisoner is allowed to leave his place without permission from one of the two guards stationed

ANOTHER HIGHWAY THROUGH FLORIDA BY WAY OF SANFORD

THE LEE AND JACKSON HIGHWAY WILL RUN FROM THE CITY OF WASHINGTON TO TAMPA

That Tampa should be the terminus of at least one great trans-state highway if the belief of the Board of Trade and leading citizens and a movement has been started to that effect. Miami has been designated as the terminus of the Dixie but Tampa, it is declared, is far more important point. Since the Dixie Highway movement was begun, agitation has also been going on in favor of a Lee and Jackson Highway from Washington, D. C., southward via Richmond and it is of this highway that Tampa is seeking to be designated the terminus.

The Lee and Jackson Highway movement is favored by Richard H. Edmonds, editor of the Manufacturers' Record, who has been agitating the project for several months. Mr. Edmonds will strongly support any efforts made for such a highway. Yesterday Assistant Secretary L. P. Dole of the Tampa Board of Trade, who is secretary of the Central Florida Highway Association, was in conference with A. J. Holliday, secretary of the Lakeland Board of Trade, and as a result a telegram was sent Mr. Edmonds on the subject.

The suggestion is made that the project be discussed at the meeting of the Central Florida Highway Association at the dormitory of night shortly after midnight.

Shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night a meeting for the purpose of getting up a petition was held at the home of Mrs. J. M. Borden, 1000 N. E. 1st St., where the board of trade met to discuss the proposed highway.

As he reached it he quickly grabbed Frank by the hair and delivered one blow after another to the head and chest. The blows were so hard that Frank who needed to be taken to the hospital, was overpowered and among prisoners who rushed to Frank's aid were two physicians, one of whom was also serving a life term for murder.

Frank was taken to the hospital and the latest reports from the prison regarding the condition of Leo M. Frank who was cut almost to death by a sharp-edged knife Saturday night, are to the effect that there is a slight chance for his recovery. The knife being an improvised weapon is apt to cause blood poisoning. If this can be avoided the chances for his recovery are good. He is very weak from loss of blood and unable to talk.

Mrs. Frank was in Milledgeville, Ga., at the time of the attack and she was taken to the prison hospital.

DIXIE HIGHWAY MAKING ROADS THROUGH FLORIDA

EVERY COUNTY THROUGH WHICH ROAD PASSES WILL VOTE ON AN ISSUE FOR BONDS

One and one half million dollars have been voted by counties along the proposed Dixie Highway route in Florida for the improvement of the roads, the last bond election to be reported being in Volusia county where the voters in the DeLand district decided overwhelmingly in favor of a bond issue of $350,000 for good road purposes. The district voting on the bonds in Volusia county includes DeLand, Lake Helen and Beresford. Lake Helen went almost solidly for the bonds, DeLand by a 5 to 1 vote, and Beresford 2 to 1. Dade county voted some time ago for $100,000 good road bonds and then the Homestead district voted for $100,000 more, to be used for good road purposes. Palm Beach county came across with the big issue, the voters of that county deciding in favorably on an issue of $800,000 good road bonds. Getting a line with the developments along the southern part of the Dixie Highway, Brevard county some time ago voted $150,000 good road bonds. The Brevard issue was confined to the Melbourne district and was carried by a two to one vote. The issuance assured the completion of the link in the highway south to the St. Lucie county being expected to take it up from there on through its territory. The vote in the Melbourne district also assured the completion of the western branch of the Dixie Highway from Melbourne to Kissimmee, connecting the east coast route at Melbourne with the cross state highway to Tampa. The bonds provide for the paving of the western highway to the Ocala county line.

in Lakeland, September 15. The telegram sent yesterday follows: "The Lee and Jackson Highway should be a reality. Suggest for route Washington, Richmond, Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick, Jacksonville, Palatka, Sanford, Kissimmee, Lakeland and Tampa. Can secure support of men, and suggest calling of meeting in Lakeland middle of September, when Central Florida Highway Association meets; greatest aggregation of good roads advocates in Florida. You should request Governors to endorse and appoint commissioners to be at meeting. Call on me for help and you will get support. Signed, R. P. Dike, secretary Central Florida Highway Association." This route is the same as approved by the Central Florida Highway Association for the "Jacksonville Seaside Route," and is declared to be both practicable and desirable.

The Central Florida Highway Association has been very active for good roads recently, and at a meeting of the executive committee held at Lakeland last week it was announced that its western branch of the Dixie Highway through Florida had been projected and would be completed later than May 1916. Tampa

Lord Rebate

Detroit, July 18. The Ford Automobile Company this afternoon announced a refund of approximately $10,000,000 to owners of Ford automobiles who have purchased their machines since August 1, 1914. As by reached it he quickly grabbed Frank by the hair and delivered one blow after another to the head and chest. The blows were so hard that Frank who needed to be taken to the hospital, was overpowered and among prisoners who rushed to Frank's aid were two physicians, one of whom was also serving a life term for murder.

MUCH PROPERTY IS DEVELOPED BY THE THATCHER CO.

NEW REALTY COMPANY EXPECTS TO ASSIST MATERIALLY IN THE PROGRESS OF THE CITY

Mr. M. H. Thatcher of Louisville, Kentucky, president of the Thatcher Realty Company, has opened offices of the company on the second floor of the Bishop Block, in Sanford. The company, recently organized under the laws of Florida with a capital stock of two hundred thousand dollars, has just bought the well-known and valuable Holden Estate property in Sanford, and in Seminole and Volusia counties, Florida. The Thatcher Realty Company will now put on the market these properties, consisting of about twelve hundred town lots in Sanford, a number of celery farms, improved and unimproved, and lands in the flowing well districts in the Robinson Springs section in Seminole county, and in the Lake George district in Volusia county.

Mr. Thatcher is enthusiastic over the future of Florida in general, and of Sanford in particular. He spent several years in the tropics, in the Canal Zone, and the subtropical aspects of central and South Florida appeal to him very strongly. He believes that in the course of comparatively a short time Florida will be one of the most densely populated and wealthy sections of the United States. He thinks the opportunities here are unlimited. He believes that Sanford is on the eve of a great development, that values here will rise rapidly and that the city will soon be to enter Florida after Tampa as the west coast of the State, and what Jacksonville is to the east coast. In brief, Mr.

Thatcher's view touching the growth of this city and state, is the same as that entertained by thousands of others from our sister states who come hither, who see, and "are conquered."

Mr. Thatcher expressed the hope that the people of Sanford and Seminole county would understand that he and his associates, while investing in property here with the desire for profit, wished also to do all within their power to aid in the moral and educational development of the community.

The Thatcher Realty Co., will receive a hearty welcome to our midst for the development of their property means much toward the development of every part of Sanford and the Celery Delta.

The Miller Sanitarium

Sanford has a hospital or sanitarium of which the citizens are proud not only because it is the only one we have but because it is the one of the best equipped for the size in this part of the state. The Miller hospital is part of a most handsome home recently erected on Park avenue by Dr. Oliver Miller, and home and hospital were built with the idea of having the very best that could be procured. The office of the doctor is on the south side of the residence and here he has fitted up a complete with all arrangements for taking care of the patients. At present Dr. Miller can only take care of two patients at a time but hopes to be able to add to the hospital in the next twelve months for his constantly increasing practice makes this imperative. The hospital is open to all the physicians of the city and several very difficult operations have taken place since the hospital was started. Sanford for many years was without a hospital of any kind and the many cases that were turned down were forced to go to other cities for treatment. All these can now be treated in Sanford for Dr. Miller has made arrangements for every detail of surgical work and his place has been filled every day since it was thrown open. Dr. Miller deserves great credit for taking care of the surgical needs of this section of the state and it is hoped that his efforts for a larger hospital for Sanford will be rewarded with success.

Drowned at Marcon

Edward J. DeCottes of Jacksonville who was drowned at Marcon, Ga., Sunday afternoon is a cousin of Geo. DeCottes and Mrs. R. A. Terhoun of this city. Geo. DeCottes left immediately for Jacksonville to attend the funeral.

Among the midsummer editions coming to our exchange table is the Florida Alligator printed at the State University by the summer students. The type on the Alligator looks very familiar and seems to be a part of our ancient Elevator in Gainesville. The Alligator is a bright and breezy little sheet and is a great "ad" for the University and the summer school and for Gainesville.

with the steamship lines with a view to having the reduction apply on pineapples from the east coast, as in this instance the pineapple rates north of Jacksonville should not be higher than citrus fruit. It will be recalled that the Interstate commerce commission ruled to this effect a few years ago. The league contends that the Florida growers cannot successfully compete in the eastern markets with the Cuban pines so long as the rates remain as they are today. These rates from Cuba via steamers to New York city is a trifle more than our rates north of Jacksonville, by boat, to which an average rate of approximately twenty cents per crate from Florida shipping points to Jacksonville must be added. It is further pointed out that the Florida pineapple industry is in anything but a flourishing condition, due not only to the effect of imports but many obstacles which are encountered in the production.

CLYDE LINE CUTS RATES ON FRUITS

REDUCTIONS MADE TO EAST COAST APPLIES TO WHOLE STATE

Orlando, Fla., July 16. The Florida Growers and Shippers League headquarters at Orlando, announces that a dispute from General Freight Association of the United States, a result of that they have decided to reduce the railroad fruit rates from Florida to Philadelphia, New York, city and Boston, four and one-half cents a box for next season. This reduction was made from the east coast section last April since which time the league has been negotiating with the Clyde people to extend the same to the entire state, and thus remove what appeared as a discrimination as between localities.

The reduction means that the rates on fruit carloads, from Florida to eastern ports, via Jacksonville and Clyde Line, will be fifteen and one-half cents a box, or $16.50 a minimum car of 100 boxes, less than the all rail freights. Traffic Manager Hoskins of the league, states that the Clyde Line has recently made many improvements in its facilities for handling perishable traffic, in addition to which they will have experts at Jacksonville and the eastern ports next season to supervise the handling of our fruits and vegetables.

It is not known at this time if the all-rail lines to the east will make corresponding reductions in their rates. It is the opinion of the league that the rail lines will not meet the situation at the beginning of the approaching season, at least not until the effect of the competition is felt. While advice has not been received from the Merchants & Miners Transportation company, as to action it intends taking, the league is in correspondence with this company and it is the belief that rates of that company to Baltimore and Philadelphia will be correspondingly reduced. Announcement will be made as soon as definite word is received. The league is handling further

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 143

Bob Holly, of the Sanford Herald writes some pretty bald editorials.—Zolfo Truth.

A club of Sanford business men who could gather once a week or once each month at a dinner to discuss the questions of the day and promote a better feeling among business interests would be a good thing in Sanford.

The Sanford Herald says its office is being improved by the erection of a new porch in front and adds: "It now has a Queen Anne front and a Mary Ann back."

Yes, three rattles and a button.

Times at Sanford must be exceptionally good. Man advertising to borrow money for three years and willing to pay 12 per cent.—Zolfo Truth.

Surely, investments are so good here that a man is willing to pay any price for money knowing that he can get it back.

Ex-Governor Gilchrist is the first candidate to cry hard times and he takes free space in several newspapers to set forth the reasons why the candidates cannot afford to carry advertisements in the newspapers.

Bulkheading the lake front is now progressing nicely at Sanford, according to the Herald, and this work which was undertaken at considerable expense, is beginning to show what the results will be when it is completed.

The Sanford Herald says that the local lodge of Elks will soon open bids for the construction of a modern and handsome Elks' Home in that city.

Daytona Beach people have been awakened to their own interests and also those of the state and are trying to attract summer visitors to the beach by arranging for summer rates on the Florida East Coast.

ETHICS OF PROFESSIONS
"Ethics" are a funny thing! Down in Miami a dentist advertised. He was declared "unethical." The "ethical" nonadvertising crowd of dentists girded up the loins of their "ethical trust" and started in to put him out of business. They hit him over the head with their trust Club and his patients became greater in number. They spoke of him as something beyond the pale and advertised him to their own customers who straightway went to see. They found his office equipped as no other office in Miami and they transferred their patronage to him.

NEWSPAPERS AND CANDIDATES

Former Governor Gilchrist addressing a communication to the Herald as to the difficulties a candidate has under the new corrupt practices act, in making the amount permitted to be spent by the law, gets around to all the things which he conceives to be necessary to secure a nomination.

Whether the former governor is making a plea to newspapers to be a trifle less pressing in their demands is not quite clear. Formerly the advertising done in the state by the various candidates was an important part of the legitimate business of the newspaper, and was probably the least expensive way in which a candidate could reach the public.

The new law, in limiting the money which a candidate can spend, necessarily cuts down his appropriation for newspaper publicity, and is as bad for the candidate as it is for the newspaper.

The result of the law will probably be that state candidates, at least, will be cut off from the issue of newspapers in obtaining publicity for no self respecting newspaper will accept the advertising of a candidate at any less rate than is charged to local business men, and it should not be asked to do so.

Newspapers will probably continue to do as they have always done heretofore, support such men as they think ought to be elected, without any remuneration whatever, giving the candidate much more advertising and of a better quality than that which he prepares for himself. It will have the advantage that it represents the real sentiments of the paper, itself, and a large number of its constituents.

FRANK CASE AGAIN

One of the most sensational cases in the history of the south seems ended. With the commuting of the sentence of Frank the other day and his incarceration in the state prison farm at Milledgeville the case was supposed to be ended. This commutation by Governor Slaton aroused a storm of indignation all over Georgia and rumors of mobs even storming the prison farm from time to time excited the officials and the slumbering fires of hate were not quenched.

This may be the ending of this tragedy. Another tragedy has been added to the one that had already stirred the country to its depths and kept alive the discussions about the guilt or innocence of the man who was accused, tried and sentenced and finally saved from the gallows for a crime that was most foul and that will be the theme of debate for many years to come.

The case may well be closed. Our minds are too much filled with these revolting crimes from day to day. They take up valuable time in our everyday life and serve to warp our better natures from the very discussions of the details even though they are far distant from our own homes.

Had Duties to Attend To.
The first morning my little brother went to kindergarten he was very good until about ten o'clock, when he got up and started out. The teacher asked where he was going. He replied, "I'm going to get some lunch." Not living very far she let him go. He returned in the afternoon and was very good until about three o'clock, when he started out again. The teacher called him back and said, "Where are you going now?" He answered, "I don't want to take my nap, don't I?"—Chicago Tribune.

THE WEATHER

IS IT HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU?

(STATE BOARD OF HEALTH)
"Did you ever see such hot weather in all your life?"
The answer usually is "I never did," but unfortunately for the truth loving person, that answer rarely is true. Which suggests the subject of Florida weather at a season when the thermometer is closely and frequently consulted.

There are a few fundamental facts about the Florida brand of weather that generally are overlooked when the climate is discussed. We brag about our winters, and express our heartfelt sorrow for the denizens of the dreary North, wrapped in heavy clothing and furs and wading deep in drifted snows. But how about the Florida summer article?

Florida's annual variations of temperature, between the extremes of summer and winter, are less than those of any other state in the Union. The highest temperatures ever recorded by the United States Weather Bureau observers in Florida are lower than the official high records at Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and a score of other inland cities in the North and West.

Florida's changes of temperature and other weather conditions are not abrupt, a fact which makes the climate in many northern latitudes most trying and severe. Sunstroke is practically unknown in and due to the high percentage of humidity in the atmosphere. Heat prostrations occur occasionally, but they are rarely fatal and recovery follows with little or no medical attention.

Florida's normal annual rainfall varies only by small percentages from those of northern inland states. All these conditions are brought about by the most fortunate geographical location of the peninsula, surrounded by salt water, its inland surface cut by numerous streams and lakes, over which the breezes sweep and bring refreshing coolness.

Taking the United States Weather Bureau at Jacksonville, which has substantiated records covering the larger part of a century, as an example of other stations in Florida it is discovered that in only eight or ten different months since 1911 the official thermometer soared to the hundred-degree mark, and only twice has it reached the maximum score of 104 degrees. In Chicago within the same period, the century mark has been reached or passed in 22 different months. In Kansas City and St. Louis in more than thirty months, and in other places more times than in Florida. In the latter two cities the high records have been 111 and 116, respectively.

Jacksonville is not the coolest nor yet the warmest place on Florida, and its normal annual average is but a fraction of a degree from that of the state at large. Of course, suffering from the heat is largely a matter of individual temperament, for some people revel in temperatures that are exhausting to others. If a man hasn't much to do, he notices the heat and magnifies its intensity. The busy man pulls off his coat, rolls up his sleeves and forgets the weather. Paraphrasing a familiar quotation: "The fault is not with the weather but with ourselves that we are hot."

The discomfort of warm weather comes mainly from profuse perspiration, the direct result of lofty temperatures. If the clothing is of such weight and material that evaporation is best promoted, the suffering is lessened to a minimum. The lack of sudden changes in Florida makes safe for ordinary and regular wear clothing made from cotton and linen, which would be unsafe in the North. These fabrics are good conductors of heat, that is, the warmth of the body quickly passes through them to the outside world, and the drafts of air from the outside passing through, hasten evaporation and the consequent feeling of coolness. They are not good protection against cold or sudden changes of temperature and are entirely safe in a Florida summer, but unsafe in the summers of Maine or Michigan.

The fallacy was long ago exploded that a northern man may not safely and comfortably spend a summer in Florida. But whether he is from the North or the tropics, the best protection against the heat of summer and its changes, whatever they may be, is cleanliness regular habits and a busy life.

Fern Was Peeved.
According to an eminent botanist, plants are so sensitive that they resent neglect and are susceptible to kind treatment, showing their gratitude in charming ways. We are therefore the more ready to believe a story told us a day or two ago by a lover of nature. He was watering a fern on a cold morning. He forgot to temper the water. The fern, incensed by the shock, leaped from the pot and bit him savagely in the leg.—Philly Hale, in Boston Herald.

Dust and Iron in the Appendix.
That foreign bodies in the appendix are often the initial cause of appendicitis is a long-explored idea; that is, so far as bodies of any size are concerned. But Dr. Carlo Savini of New York reports to the Medical Record that in many cases very minute sharp foreign bodies are found in that organ and, in some cases at least, were probably the cause of the initial lesion. Doctor Savini has recovered from appendices microscopic particles which prove on chemical analysis to be silvers of coal containing a small quantity of iron, sometimes with very sharp cutting edges.

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS... A RESUME OF SANFORD HAPPENINGS UP TO DATE

In Honor of Miss Smith Friday morning, Mrs. Braxton Perkins and Miss Peacha Ledler were hostesses to a bridge and table party, in honor of their guest Miss Lily Fair Smith of Birmingham Alabama.

The party was given in the home of Mrs. Perkins on Third St. and Palmetto Avenue.

Seven tables were arranged in the house for the players, but many of the guests, lacking either knowledge or energy for auction, had brought their fancy work, and were entertained upon the broad veranda.

Punch and mints were served on the porch throughout the morning, and at noon a tempting little luncheon appeared, consisting of chicken loaf with egg garnish, green pea and peanut salad in tomato cups, potato chips, olives, and Russian tea, iced. Mrs. Samuel Puleston was the fortunate winner of the first prize, and the consolation fell to Miss Salden Williams.

Huge bunches of red hibiscus made an artistic and simple decoration. The out-of-town guests were, Miss Lily Fair Smith and mother, Mrs. Smith, of Birmingham, Ala., Mrs. Brown of Tampa, guest of Mrs. R. J. Holly, and Miss Knight of Daytona who is visiting Mrs. B. W. Herndon.

Birthday Party

Mrs. H. R. Stevens entertained with a charming children's party Thursday afternoon in honor of her little daughter Rebecca, whose sixth birthday was the happy occasion. A color scheme of pink and white prevailed in the pretty decorations of the rooms, hibiscus and roses being used in profusion. A lovely birthday cake beautifully roed with white and salmon tints by pink candles centered the table.

The best fun ever was enjoyed hunting for peanuts in which Mrs. Elizabeth Puleston found the most. Little Harriet Rosseter finding the least was consoled with a tiny set of baby furniture. Other games and toys were played. The party was a most delightful one and great credit is due to the hostess.

The afternoon tea, hosted by the hostess, was a most happy affair.

Honoring Mrs. Brown

Mrs. F. B. Brown of Tampa who is visiting by sister, Mrs. R. J. Holly, one of the most popular young women in the town, came home town and has been receiving many social attentions from her many friends. A party was given in her honor at the home of Mrs. M. W. F. W. on Monday night. Mrs. Brown will be home on Sunday at a six o'clock dinner.

Miss Gretchen and Olga Schultz entertained a few of their friends on Monday night at their country home near Mr. Brown.

Mrs. R. R. Dow and Mrs. R. C. Bowers were entertained at a party given by Mrs. M. W. F. W. on Monday night.

Mrs. Geo. Davis Herr entertained a few friends on Monday afternoon at her home.

Col. J. C. Woodward, President of the Georgia Military Academy, who has been visiting in Sanford for several days returned to his home at College Park, Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Minarik have returned from their wedding tour and are at home with Mrs. Anna Walker at 500 Magnolia Avenue.

Mrs. H. R. Stevens and children have returned from a visit to Tampa and Keshland.

Mr. H. W. Way who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Terheun, left Monday for his home in Savannah, accompanied by Dick Terheun, Jr.

Miss Alice Tetherly of Orlando

Wanted to Be Hospitable.

When I went to Paris, said Gen. Horace Porter, I told my friends that any of them who got within a mile of the embassy must come to see me. The litching, I told them was out, there was always a spare seat in my pew at church. The litching was often pulled the seat in church remained vacant. One of my friends who visited me stopped his subscription to the Christian Observer. He said he didn't want any observers while he was in Paris.

Couldn't See Any Compliment.

You don't seem pleased when I suggest that you have a lovely disposition? "I'm not," replied Miss Cavonne. "Telling a girl she has a lovely disposition is usually a sort of apology for not being able to say she is neither good looking nor interesting." Washington Star.

Woodland Park Notes

Thursday morning a congenial party of Paola people motored down to spend the day. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland, and Mr. Brown. In the afternoon the jitney bus brought up a party made up of Mrs. Hynes, Mrs. W. W. Frye and son, Mrs. J. L. Norton, Mrs. E. E. Hogan, Miss Emma Jones and Marie and Josephine Faculo. Other visitors were: Mr. E. R. Walker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wight and daughter Sarah, the Witte family and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Betts, Mrs. Perry, Misses McClaire, Woodburn and Ruth McDaniel; Messrs H. H. Hill, Sam'l Yonrs, and Colburn, Ralph Roumillat, G. W. Spencer and McLaulin.

Sunday owing to rain nearly all the afternoon, the attendance was light compared with the usual Sundays. Among the visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. Fernald, Mrs. Bishop and Mr. Countryman, Mrs. W. R. Wessner and daughters Eveline and Katherine, Mrs. W. C. Odum, Miss Grace Hawkins, Messrs. Walter Klicker, Chas. Mum, Snow, Portulac, Paxton, Rowland, Hoolihan, and Com. Howard. Of the regular Woodland boys there were Pewee Tillis, Hugh Tillis, Berner, Ralph Roumillat, Jas. Higgins, Owen Higgins, Carl Bruton, G. W. Spencer, Frank Woodruff, Ralph Woodruff, and Allen Manning. Those porpoise flips of Roumillat are great, but he usually knocks half the water out of the pool and wets everybody on the platform. In the interval, while the water is low, nobody can swim but Pewee.

Woodsmen.

Umpire LaRoche Home

S. H. LaRoche is home after a season's umpiring with the Georgia State League. The season closed early this year on account of the poor attendance and Mr. LaRoche will spend some time here with his family. He is one of the old guard having been a big league player and umpire for many years but having decided to live in Sanford was anxious to get a position as umpire close to home and accepted a berth with the Georgia League. His many friends are glad to welcome him home and he will be much sought after by the local fans during games of the Seaside League between Orlando and Sanford.

An Ancient Document

Col. George N. Rigby of this city is a collector of antiques and among his collection are many old papers and documents that are worth their weight in gold. He recently brought to The Herald office an ancient legal document that read as follows:

The subscriber, being the proprietor of a certain negro wench, slave commonly called and known by the name of Tamer, who hath lately been delivered of a female child called Mary and registered in the office of Town Clerk of Yonkers, the 15 day of June last past, which said negro child I do agreeable to the directions of an act of the Legislature of the state of New York Entitled an act for the general abolition of slavery, passed the 29th Day of March 1799, set free and abscond all my right to its service from the date hereof, Dated the Eighteenth Day of January in the year of our Lord 1802.

STORY OF HAP HOGAN

Made Futile Attempt to Pick Quarrel With "Dummy."

When He Realized He Had Been Raving at Deaf and Dumb Man He Began Earnest Conversation in Two-Handed Sign Language.

Roscoe Fawcett tells this story of Hap Hogan, and it is one of the best of the flood of good ones in which the mourned manager of the Venice Tigers figures. Hogan had just been taken on as a catcher by Los Angeles. Dummy Price was catching for the Portland Beavers. Hogan had never seen Price before and did not know he was deaf and dumb.

These were the days when Hogan was the fighting, clawing roughneck, kidding the opposing batters into swaying at the wide ones. When Price came to bat, Hogan inquired in his sweetest tones:

"What's your name, pal?" Price only swung his bat and faced Wheeler, who was on the mound for the Angels, with an expression of great determination stamped on his face.

"Ray," yelled the now irate Hogan. "who do you think you are bushier, Chief Meyers or somebody? Think you're too good to talk to me? Watch me and I'll show you a few things before this game is over."

Price, who of course had not heard a word that Happy had said, grounded out to first, and returned to the Beaver bench. He was the recipient of many baleful glares from Hogan before the side was retired.

As he waited for his turn to bat, Hogan's anger grew. That a man he had never seen before had the nerve to ignore him was more than Happy could understand.

He stalked out to the plate when his turn came with his vials of wrath overflowing. Turning to Price, who was kneeling behind the plate, he snarled:

"Won't speak to me, huh? Wait until this game is over and see what you think about it."

Price smiled and touched his right hand to his ear. Hogan then realized that he had been raving at a deaf man, and dropping his bat he began an earnest conversation with Price in the two-handed style of "dummy" sign language.

Price removed his glove and a great gabfest was soon in progress at the home plate.

The fans in the grandstand and bleachers roared, "play ball." The infield and outfield took up the cry, but Hogan was apparently as deaf as Price until the umpire touched him on the shoulder and threatened a $10 fine if he continued to interrupt the game.

But there started a friendship between Hogan and Price which existed as long as life remained.

Clever Understudy. Any time Shortstop George McBride of the Senators is out of the game there is no longer any reason for deploring the fact, for Douglas Neff has come forward and is now ready to fill McBride's shoes whenever he is called upon. Neff has developed into a splendid fielder and thrower. He covers a lot of ground, and his arm is strong and accurate.

GIANTS NOT PENNANT-CONTENDING TEAM

(By FRANK G. MENKE)

The Giants are a 50 to 1 shot for the 1915 pennant—just that and nothing more. Nothing but a miracle can win for them now.

The Giants have just one real pitcher—Tesreau. And no ball club ever won a pennant with less than three top-notch pitchers. Mathewson is about through. The brain of the "old master" is as crafty as of yore, but the old arm refuses to obey the dictates of that brain. And the opposition has batted the feeble shoots and slants to all portions of the lot of practically every start Matty has made this year.

Marquard is erratic. One day he pitches a great game; the next day he performs like a bush leaguer. Peritt was a winning twirler with the Cardinals, but he hasn't touched the .500 mark with the Giants. Stroud is showing up nicely but he can't be depended upon to win two-thirds of his games. Schupp and Schauer haven't shown anything.

And these men constitute the Giants' defense; Tesreau, a marvelous pitcher, the fast-slipping Matty, the erratic Marquard, the in-and-out Peritt and the unreliable Stroud, Schupp and Schauer.

Offensively the Giants do not show up much better. On some days they look like the greatest outfit of sluggers in existence; on others they act like a bunch of blind men. They hit in streaks; and no streak-hitting club ever won the pennant.

Some wonderfully optimistic Giant rooters still see a chance for the pennant. They point to the work of the Braves last year. They argue that the Giants can do what the Braves did. But how different is the situation!

Last year the Braves had no one to beat out but the Giants. The New York outfit overshadowed every other club in the league up to July 4th. Every other club was of the second division order. But this year there are at least four clubs that seem as powerful now as the Giants did in 1914.

The Cubs, Phillies, Braves and Pirates—and even the Brooklyn Dodgers—can give the Giants a mighty battle. No team other than the Reds will stack up as a pie counter proposition for the 1915 Giants, because even the Cardinals are dangerous. The Giants in an attempt to climb from the bottom to the top of the National league heap would find the climbing at least 30 per cent harder than the Braves did last year. And, furthermore, the Giants haven't the power that the Braves had. The Braves were aided and abetted in their achievement by the most remarkable pitching feats the baseball world has ever known. Three twirlers—James, Rudolph and Tyler—pitched in rotation week after week and pitched as no trio of men has ever pitched before.

McGraw hasn't any trio to work as Stallings had. He hasn't got a Maranville nor an Evers. His men aren't imbued with the same fighting spirit as were Stallings' men and, most important of all, he hasn't got the Stallings' luck.

Good playing and marvelous pitching were mighty factors, but the mightiest of all was luck. A dozen times the "breaks" saved the Braves from defeat and gave them victory.

A pennant-contending team must be well rounded—and the Giants of 1915 are not. Their pitching department is the main weakness but the catching department is not anything that should be envied. The team as a whole is prone to bobbing in pinches. "Bone" plays are frequent, and, worst of all, a hard luck jinx has been pursuing the McGraw outfit since the season began. And it's still pursuing. But the Giants won't finish in the cellar. They probably will climb out of the rut soon and leap over frames of the Reds, Cardinals and Dodgers. They may go a notch or two further, depending very largely upon what the Cubs, Phillies, Braves and Pirates do from now on. But they won't finish first unless all the players on the other clubs become afflicted with beriberi, spavin, sea-sickness and hokuspokus.

VERY HOPEFUL OF JOE WOOD

Manager Carrigan Figures Red Sox Will Soon Be in Lead for Pennant in American League.

Manager Carrigan figures that his Red Sox will be in the lead soon and will stay there until the season closes. "Joe Wood never was in better shape at this time of the year," says Carrigan. "He has a lot on his fast ball and his control is better than I thought

Joe Wood.

It would be when I considered his long absence from the box. All the rest of our pitchers are in the best of shape, and we are going to make a lot of trouble for the other teams. Now if Hooper and Speaker will get hitting, we should keep on winning."

Quinlan Coming to the Front. Tommy Quinlan is developing into a classy center fielder.

NOTES of the DIAMOND

Chief Bender appears to be in for a hard year in the third league.

President Gilmore believes the Newark team is the one to beat for the pennant.

Rankin Johnson needs more regular assignments to keep in condition, it would seem.

Mays is a real pitcher. He has an underhand delivery that resembles Jack Warhops.

Buck Herzog has suspended Phil Douglass indefinitely and may never use him again.

Leonard Madden, a southpaw once with the Cubs, has been bounced by the Terre Haute club.

Tom Corcoran, released as umpire, will not retire. He has been assigned to the Colonial League.

Dalton, the slugging star of the Buffeds, is slow in getting his batting eyes trained on the ball.

Cy Falkenberg, the star pitcher of the Newark team, stands 6 feet 5 inches. He has little advantage over George McConnell.

Leslie Mann, formerly with the world's champion Boston Braves, holds medals won in track meets for running 100 yards in 10 flat.

Fred Clarke has his Pirates going at a rapid pace and the belief is that if he can keep his pitchers in shape he will remain in the fight for the leadership.

ATTENTION, EVERYBODY!!

ALL KINDS OF LOTS FOR ALL KINDS OF PEOPLE

The extensive Holden Estate properties have just been acquired by the THATCHER REALTY COMPANY, and their sale will be vigorously pushed.

This company bought these properties because of the belief that from the stand point of opportunity and development, Florida is the best State in the Union, and that Sanford is the best place in Florida.

Sanford's celebrated celery lands are unrivalled. Nowhere else on the face of the earth can there be found such a combination of fertile lands, cheap and unlimited water supply for irrigation purposes, perpetual summer climate, and adequate shipping facilities by land sea to the world's greatest markets.

THREE REASONS WHY.

Sanford is unmatched as a fruit and trucking center.

Sanford is at the head of navigation on the St. Johns River, and has, thereby, water contact with Jacksonville and the sea. Freight rates are thus cheapened to Sanford, and the city is destined to be a wholesale center, and Florida's interior metropolis.

Sanford's wonderful lake and river system, its unsurpassed fishing and hunting preserves, and its delightful climate, render it the Nation's ideal resort.

There are many more reasons which might be given to prove that Sanford is bound to rapidly grow; but for the present, these are sufficient.

No better, safer opportunities for investment can be found anywhere than we now offer the public. We have twelve hundred Sanford lots for sale, and they are situated in every desirable part of the city.

Lots for Sanford citizens in the city's most desirable residence sections.

Lots for railroad men convenient to their work.

Lots for thrifty colored folks in sections convenient to their churches and schools.

Lots for those of other communities and States who want to invest their money in splendid real estate that is rapidly enhancing in value.

We sell on easy terms; a small payment in cash, and the balance on easy monthly payments.

SANFORD IS ON THE EVE OF A GREAT DEVELOPMENT. BUY NOW AND GROW WITH IT.

Lots, celery farms, improved and unimproved, and other lands, in the flowing well districts of Seminole and Volusia Counties, Florida, are offered for sale by us.

[Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate]

"LOVE WIVES."

She who never answers till a husband cools, Or, if she rules him, never shows who rules!

She is—mine own? I am rich in having such a jewel As twenty years, if all their sand were pearls, The water, nectar and the rocks pure gold

Since the widespread publication of the Rogers scandal—that unhappy episode in which a New York lawyer divorced one wife, wedded another, and in short order threw her over for an affinity—I have received an avalanche of letters asking me to denounce the term "wife," as applied to the third woman in the tangle. These letters are mostly from society women, honorable wives and loyal mothers.

I may as well strike right at the root of this bitter feeling in the hearts of these wives. Who will say that they are not satisfied in their insalubrious that the name of wife should not be applied to the woman who has deliberately given herself to man's lust without troubling herself as to the holy bond of matrimony not being entered into? The term love wife, when applied to an unmarried female, is a gross insult; an indignity heaped upon the respectable woman who bears with honor and dignity the name "wife."

Webster's definition of wife reads: "The lawful consort of a man; a woman who is united to a man in wedlock." It is infamous to give to a woman who is willfully unchaste that sacred name. Call them "passion companions," "love thieves," anything; but never give damaged affection the name of that which is pure and spotless.

Three women, whom the world knows of, have come under this man's spell. Some writers have put forth the query: Why did not the first wife give him up, when she found his heart had gone from her to another? It is very heroic to think of what other women can do under such circumstances. But if it were their own case they would know it would be quite as easy to tear out the living, beating heart from their bosom as to resign the idol they worshipped to another woman's arms. Because some other woman comes along and takes a fancy to what we have is it just and right to relinquish our claim to another? If the wife whom he wedded was not a "love wife" by God's approval what was she? The man wooed and won her innocent heart in all its girlish purity, reverence and faith. She gives up her best years to him. When he casts her off for a passion companion, can he restore to his wife those years with their best possibilities which have ended in loss of love, ruined faith and outlook of a desolate future? With all this staring her in the face, weighing down her tortured heart, what is there left for her of happiness, peace and love? She is the first and only love wife until the day she dies. The woman who takes her chances on marrying a man who is "light of love" must take her chances on how long her hold upon his affections will last. When a man marries he can have no knowledge as to whether the good Lord will decree that union to be fruitless or otherwise. If children come, he should be thankful. If they are denied he should not rail against the wisdom of the all-wise. This fact does not give him the right to cast off the faithful mate. He should love and comfort her. She is the more dependent upon him as the years slip by. She, who by the subtle art of family raising endeavors to usurp the wife's place, will find her road a long and thorny one. Passion companions of this kind will find themselves ousted in their turn by a younger and prettier fascinator.

BRING YOUNG FOLK TOGETHER.

Now what is Love, I pray thee tell? It is that fountain and that well Where pleasure and repentance dwell; It is, perhaps, the sounding bell That tolls all into heaven or hell; And this is love, as I hear tell!

Where there are young folks in the family it should be a bright and jolly household. When their days are engaged in employment, their evenings, so far as possible, should be interspersed with pleasure to upset the humdrum of existence.

This not only applies to the working girl still in her teens, but to the woman who has passed that youth mark ten years or so ago. Life is happy or lonely, according to the plan one lays out. Monday evenings there is always plenty to do. Tuesday evenings, why not tidy up the best room and entertain two or three of your friends who would only be too pleased to have a place to go. Wednesday evenings you could visit other friends. Thursday evening is usually bean evening. A girl could accompany her best young man to the theater or pass a nice pleasant evening at home, playing some dance music. If the weather was stormy, Friday evening is good for her to go to the movies or to attend some social affair that is fun and enjoyable. Saturday evening is devoted to the marketing. Sunday, of course, is church night with the aforementioned beau accompanying her.

If parents strive their best to give their daughter a happy girlhood, they do much toward smoothing the rugged path which leads to her future. She who has a happy life of it turns a smiling face to the world. If it is dull and lonely, it casts a shadow over her. Parents or guardians of young girls who deny them the pleasure of inviting company to their homes take from them their chief happiness and give them always for enjoyment. The girl who fears to invite a young man to call upon her will be sure to blame those who are responsible for it later on if she is doomed to single blessedness.

Young men and young women should have their opportunities of being brought together in wholesome social affairs if it is expected that happy marriages will come from it. There is not one youth time in the life of a young man or young girl. It should be remembered by them as a rainbow of briefness which time can never erase. The good people of neighborhoods who give little inexpensive affairs to bring young folks together are but living their own youth over again in watching the budding courtship of youthful lads and lassies. Pull the pretty bashful girls out of their shells; see that they join in the neighborhood frolics. Let no nice, single young man escape from responding to the invitation. Young folks must be brought together to look, love and wed.

THE HOUSEWORK?

I have heard of reasons manifold Why love must needs be blind; But this is the best of all, I hold— His eyes are in his mind.

"If the wife works at any occupation which brings in money and the husband is out of employment, shouldn't he fill in the idle moments by doing the housework and looking after the children?" This is the blunt question which a wife who works asks me to decide. She dwells on her grievances still further by adding that she is obliged to rise very early, get breakfast for the family; she is obliged to stack up the dishes for want of time to wash them. Her neighbor next door looks after the children for me an amount until her return at noon. After her supper dishes are cleared away at night she has the children to put to bed, the washing, ironing, housecleaning and mending to do. "My husband sits around the house all day," she adds, "varying the monotony by going out to search for work, but secretly hoping he won't find it. Now, while he is at home, these long days really take care of the children, prepare the family cooked meal for them, wash the dishes and sweep the floor at least." He says it isn't a man's work, and he refuses to do it. I say if he cannot find work outside he should be glad to do it inside. Please decide for

OVERBURDENED WIFE.

This case does not stand alone. There are many hundreds just like it in the world over. Few men are brought up to perform household duties. The excellent bookkeeper, accurate at the office, who seldom makes a mistake, would find himself at his wife's end as to how to escape breaking some of the dishes he would be required to wash. Cooking would be an equal hardship. He wouldn't know whether the making of coffee called for a spoonful of baking powder, sugar or an egg, how long it took to cook porridge to make it thin as gruel or thick as dough, whether to give the children bread and butter thickly coated with sugar every time they asked for it or not to give them half enough to satisfy their young appetites.

There are husbands who fit nicely into the emergency. There are others whom it would knock all askew as being distasteful. Rather than to be pressed into the household service which goes against the grain, a man should be up and doing, out looking for work early and late, refusing to accept defeat. When he must spend a few hours in the home, love for his wife should prompt him to do many little acts to lighten the load which is upon her overburdened shoulders. Assisting her does not detract from his manliness. He earns her gratitude, which is far more satisfying than outside pay even. A happy, contented family means that each does all in his or her power to help, regardless of what the work to be done may be.

Resented the Insult.

The thrifty peasant, Nazreddin, one day received a visit from his needy cousin, Haliz the Ill-Favored, who besought of him the loan for a day of his donkey. "I should be most happy, good cousin," said Nazreddin, "but unfortunately he has gone astray, and I have no manner of knowledge where he may be." "The words were no sooner spoken than the donkey set up a loud braying from a shed in the yard. "Hee-honk! hee-honk!" "But, good Nazr!" exclaimed Haliz, "there is surely thy donkey at home and seemingly quite well." Whereupon Nazreddin drove in great wrath and showed Haliz the door. "Gone, scoundrel!" he shouted, "wouldst thou insult me in my own house by taking the word of a donkey before my own?"

Is It a Dinotherium?

It is refreshing now and then to get away from daily consideration of the modern monsters of destruction and to take a sojourned acquaintance with the behemoths of the earliest days. Here, for instance, is the story of the fossil survival of what may have been a dinotherium, according to the discoverer. It was dislodged, the fossil was dislodged, from a section of yellow clay 15 feet below the street level at St. George Staten Island.

The foreman of the excavating gang says the bones look mightily like an elephant's but the under scorns this unprofessional opinion and sticks to the dinotherium theory. What the ubiquitous and fee-gathering coroner will have to say may be known later. Anyway, the dinotherium, if that's what they decide to call it, is calculated to give sated New York a rest from war's alarms and bomb outrages and scandal stories, which can be regarded as a consummation devoutly to be approved.

GOOD TRAINS OF COAST LINE NOT RESTORED

TRAINS NO. 27 AND 28 WILL NOT BE PUT BACK ON RUN

That the Atlantic Coast Line cannot now put back trains Nos. 27 and 28, taken off last fall and which furnished local service between Sanford and Lakeland, this serving Tampa, was the bad news broken to a delegation of Tampa business men by General Superintendent J. N. Brand of the Florida division of the Coast Line this morning.

Yet so diplomatically was the news broken and so satisfactorily were the reasons advanced that it is doubtful if any one of the men affected, serious though their loss is by reason of trains being kept off, did not agree with Mr. Brand that the road could not afford to put them back on at present.

Mr. Brand relied, on the figures of earnings, freight and passenger, of his road for the past year to prove his case. The passenger earnings for May showed a decrease of about 22 per cent and for the months back of that showed decreases ranging from 15 to 25 per cent. Freight earnings made much the same showing. That for some time the road's expenses did not fall in a like sum as its receipts was also shown. Then the road got busy, cut off trains, cut down in other ways and is now where its expenses and receipts more nearly match than they did a short time after the war began.

Mr. Brand freely admitted the desirability not only to Tampa but to this section, of having these trains and the daily Sunny Jim from Lakeland to Ocala put back on. The present fast trains make many of the stops made by the accommodations, but they come along at most inconvenient hours. Mr. Brand admitted as freely. He said that the records showed that Nos. 27 and 28 were making but forty-eight cents a train mile, while authorities held that a train could not be run with profit at less than $1 a mile.

"Whether these trains ever I will be made to pay for or not, I am somewhat doubtful," he said. "The hauls are short and the run is not long."

That he would when times were better be glad to consider putting them back on he stated, but when this would be he did not make the least attempt to guess, saying frankly that it looked as if the war might last through the coming winter. He admitted the possibility of freight receipts making up for the loss of passenger revenue, but did not think the two trains would produce enough freight to make up for running them at a loss.

Asked if it would not be possible to run 27 and 28 three times a week like Sunny Jim, he pointed out that Sunny Jim's train crew and equipment work three times a week between Dunnellon and Wilcox on the days it is off the Lakeland-Ocala run while there is no similar arrangement possible for the Lakeland-Sanford run.

Mr. Brand was perfectly frank about the whole matter, putting it up to those present as a business proposition and made a very favorable impression. Business men present were:

Frank Bentley, W. A. Gallaher, J. Edgar Wall, Abe Maas, and C. D. Pettigill. Mr. Brand, who is general superintendent of the Florida division, was accompanied by Division Passenger Agent J. C. Kirkland of Tampa. Mr. Brand takes the place occupied by the late Morton Riddle and seems to be a fit successor to him.

Mike Crown Here

Mr. Crown who is known far and wide among his friends as "Mike" was in the city several days ago and received a hearty welcome from his many Sanford friends. Mr. Crown is Supt. of the Terminals in Jacksonville for the A. C. L. and is making that city his home. He was Asst. Supt. of this division for some time and resided here where he made a host of friends. He is on a well earned vacation several weeks of which were spent in Cedar Keys and at Kissimmee where he fished and had a good time generally.

Key West Bank Closed

Key West, July 23.—The Island City National Bank failed to open its doors Wednesday morning. No particulars have been given out, and it is hoped that the institution will simply go into liquidation. Officers of the bank have issued no statement.

The Island City National is the youngest of the two banks in Key West, having been organized about ten years ago. G. S. Waite is the president, the other officers being E. M. Martin, Vice-president; J. L. Johnson, cashier; J. W. Gibb, assistant cashier. The First National is another financial institution.

The last statement of the Island City bank $122,000 on deposit, $21,000 in surplus, and undivided profits and $100,000 in circulation. The bank was capitalized for $100,000. The assets of the institution are as follows: Loans and discounts, $476,000; U. S. bonds, $161,000; other bonds and securities, $122,000; cash and exchange, $149,000.

CITY COUNCIL MET IN REGULAR SESSION LAST MONDAY

The City Council met in regular session July 19th, 1915 at 7:30 p. m. present R. C. Maxwell chairman, pro tem, C. H. Dungee, J. D. Davison, J. Adams, W. W. Abernathy, H. E. Toler and B. W. Herndon. The minutes of the last regular, and a called meeting read and adopted. An Ordinance entitled an Ordinance prohibiting the construction and maintenance of bill boards and prohibiting bill posting in certain defined limits of the city of Sanford and providing a penalty therefor was placed on its first reading and passed. It was moved and seconded that the rules be waived and that it be read by title only and placed on its second reading. The roll was called. Yes, C. H. Dungee, J. D. Davison, W. W. Abernathy, J. Adams. No, none. Passed. It was moved and seconded that the rules be further waived and that it be read in full and placed on its third reading and final passage. Roll was called. Yes, C. H. Dungee, J. D. Davison, W. W. Abernathy, J. Adams. It was then read in full and passed. Bids for paving Magnolia avenue from seventh street to tenth street were opened, and the bids of the Wilson Construction Co. for thirty cents per square yard being the lowest was an motion accepted. Moved and seconded that Council adjourn. Carried.

Death of Senator Conrad

DeLand, July 21.—Senator Jacob B. Conrad of Volusia county died at the home at Glenwood at 6:30 o'clock today. He had been ill for several months but was thought to be getting along nicely. The end came suddenly. Arrangements for the interment have not been announced. He was the present state senator and a prominent Mason and Odd Fellow.

J. B. Conrad was born in Seneca Falls N. Y., July 8, 1853. He was brought up on a farm and received a common school education. Mr. Conrad came to Florida in 1883 and located near DeLand in 1885. He married Miss Carrie Fox of Havana, N. Y.; no children. He was elected senator from the Twenty-eighth Florida district which was the only political office Mr. Conrad ever held.

About Saturday Closing

An honest effort has been made to bring about earlier closing on Saturday evening.

Nearly two hundred representative housekeepers of Sanford pledged themselves to do their Sunday shopping before six o'clock Saturday afternoon. A petition with their signature was carried to the merchants, asking for ten o'clock closing, some of the merchants heartily favored the plan and signed the agreement, but there were so many who refused their co-operation that the movement was abandoned regretfully by the ladies who were exerting themselves to bring it about. THE PRESIDENT'S LATEST NOTE TO GERMANY VERY POSITIVE BUT FRIENDLY

THERE WILL BE NO SECOND CHOICE FOR THE THE GOVERNMENT OF THE KAISER THIS TIME

Washington, July 23.—President Wilson and his Cabinet decided today on the general principles of the note to be sent to Germany renewing efforts to secure for American citizens rights on seas.

The President read to the cabinet a tentative draft of the note. In its character and purposes there was unanimous agreement, and Secretary Lansing was at work tonight putting in more precise language the idea set forth.

Members of the cabinet generally reserve secrecy regarding the probable contents of the communication. It is made clear, however, that it would not be an ultimatum or make threats as to the future purposes of the United States.

At the same time they pointed out that it probably would have an air of finality, curtailing the field of discussion and negotiations, and placing squarely on Germany the responsibility for any action that might subsequently be taken against friendly relations of the two countries. This communication will be couched in friendly terms.

Today's conference was devoted somewhat to a discussion of what the American people really wanted and done so far as Cabinet officers could judge by public expressions, the nation has voiced an insistent desire that the honor and dignity of the United States be upheld in the correspondence with Germany, but that a course be followed which will maintain peace.

On Germany's next reply and the crystallization of public opinion there after will depend, to a large extent, officially intimated, the action of the United States concerning future violations of American rights.

Secretary Lansing said today that no complete report of the encounter between the British liner Orduna and a German submarine had reached the State Department. An investigation has been instituted through the Treasury Department and a report is expected within a few days, but the dispatch of the note to Germany will not be delayed.

A statement from William O. Thompson, counsel of the Industrial Relations Commission, who was on board the Orduna, was referred to by Secretary Lansing as giving only a part of the information necessary to form a judgment of the legality or illegality of the attack.

Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, was at the State Department on what he referred to as routine business. He did not see Secretary Lansing.

BIG CORN CROP BRINGS RESULTS ON SANFORD LAND

ENTIRE STATE OF FLORIDA EXPECTS EXPECTS TO HAVE A BUMPER CROP OF CORN

If Florida's corn crop can be judged by the bumper crop raised around Sanford, the state need not worry about long much corn to be raised in the corn states farther north. The corn raised here this season beats anything in this line anywhere in the state. It is a well known fact that the irrigated fields around Sanford filled with the fertilizer left over from the winter and spring crops make the greatest corn in the South and the crop raised here is compared and will be compared with the crop raised on the fertile river bottoms of the Northern corn states.

Twelve to fifteen feet high, the stalks are and many higher and they contain from two to six big ears of the finest kind of flinty corn that is waxy proof and will keep several years. There are some 500 acres of land in corn here and it will harvest about 100 bushels to the acre. Being easily worth a dollar a bushel means that there is some money to be made for the farmers here in corn as a side issue to be raised after the other crops are marketed. It has been estimated that the farmers of the Sanford section can raise all the corn necessary to feed the cattle, horses and mules and hogs and other live stock on the farms. In fact hogs should be raised here on a small scale by all the celery farmers and made to pay by raising all the feed for fattening them. There have been many visitors to Sanford in the past few weeks from other states and they have been greatly surprised to note the great crop of good corn raised here. And not only corn but the finest kind of hay can be raised with but little effort and the farmers who formerly bought all their hay and corn are now raising their own and not only saving money but making money on these crops. The entire state is waking up to the possibilities of the corn crop and the following from the Gainesville Sun is but one of the many articles from all parts of Florida telling about the great corn crop:

"George Ellis, who travels out from Gainesville, and is perhaps better acquainted with Florida farms than any other man in the state, is telling some remarkable stories of big corn yields."

"He says that T. L. Hodgson of Williston, until he was 40 years of age, was a seaman, and knew nothing of farm life, but about 20 years ago he lost his fleet of boats in a great storm, which put a quosus to his seafaring career. He married about that time, after a very romantic courtship, and the couple settled upon a farm."

"Mr. Hodgson studied the farm as he had studied the sea and kept his eye just as steady on the wheel."

"For instance he gathered his seed corn before he gathered his crop and made the selections from the biggest ears, from the most robust stalks, and as a result every year he got a larger yield."

"In 1912, from 24 acres he garnered 92 bushels by actual measurement and weight."

"In 1913 he gathered from 40 acres 2,000 bushels."

"From 4 acres of oats Mr. Hodgson harvested 480 bushels."

"Mr. Ellis vouches for these figures. He says that before her marriage Mrs. Hodgson was a court stenographer, is a thorough business woman and keeps an accurate account of the farm operations, and the total cost of the yield in 1913 was 24 1/2 cents a bushel."

"All that was not needed for the home consumption was readily sold for $1.00 per bushel."

"Mr. Ellis says that W. B. Phifer, living near Rochelle, has a corn yield record of 127 1/2 bushels per acre."

"Mr. Ellis says that there is wealth and happiness in living on a farm if our people could get rid of the speculation and get-rich-quick spirit."

Roads are Bad

Travelers are complaining that the road through Winter Park to Sanford which is the only road to Sanford now in use on account of the brick work, is in such condition as to render travel a trial rather than a pleasure.

"The road should be dragged at least once a week said a prominent citizen, who has occasion to travel the road much. The road shouldn't be neglected just because the brick road is being built. We will have to pass over this road for some time to come, and it is being neglected now, to the great discomfort of all who have to use it."

Engineer Ramsey says the Winter Park road will be completed by August 1st, or soon thereafter in any event. Brick laying has reached the bend in the road between Orlando and Winter Park where the maul starts. The work is progressing rapidly in the direction of Orlando.

Brick is being placed at Oakland for the bricking of the Oakland-Winter Garden-Orlando road. This work will be taken up when the Winter Park road is completed.

A ROAD WILL BE RUN THROUGH THE EVERGLADES

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 23.—That the Florida Everglades will be traversed by wonderful roads is assured by the action of Dade and Broward counties, which have gone on record unanimously to vote bonds to meet Lee county, this completing the Tamiami Trail across the state. This is one of the offshoots of the Dixie Highway that grew out of the Orlando road meeting.

The present plan is to run the road out along the banks of the Miami Canal, using rock excavated from the canal for building the road, into the Glades to the point where it intersects the Fort Lauderdale canal, where it would also run into another road through the new county of Broward from Fort Lauderdale, the county seat. This insures two terminals at the Atlantic end.

From this point the road runs to an old trail near the line of Lee county to Sam Jones old Town, one of the most famous settlements in the Glades. From here it follows the same trail to Immokalee and from there along a shelled road into Fort Myers. From Fort Myers it runs north across the bridge the Lee county commissioners are building over the Caloosahatchee, thence to Punta Gorda, Arcadia, Fort Meade, Bartow, Lakeland and Tampa. The distance will be about 235 miles. The Miami Board of Trade has been very active in pushing this project, which is considered one of the biggest ever attempted in Florida.

From Illinois

Messrs. Hal W. Stone, W. A. Whitcomb and H. D. Ruppell of Bloomington, Ill., spent last evening in Orlando at the San Juan hotel, and from here will motor to Sanford. They are on a prospecting tour. Mr. Whitcomb having been here many times before. They were greatly impressed with the beauties of Orlando and all three are contemplating spending the forthcoming winter in this city. They stated that the financial and business outlook in the North was improving. —Orlando Sentinel.

Pythians District Meeting

The district meeting composing the counties of Seminole, Orange, Okeecha, Volusia and Lake will be held in Sanford next Tuesday July 27th, under the auspices of Phoenix Lodge No. 5.

All Pythians whether a member of the local lodge or not are invited to be present at this meeting, and immediately after the work is completed a banquet will be held at the Sanford House to which all Knights are requested to be present, accompanied by their wives and sweethearts.

Oliver J. Miller,

Dist. Deputy Grand Chan.

Bulkheading Proceeds

A walk down to the city dock will convince any doubting Thomas that the bulkhead filling will soon be made. The dirt is being pumped in now at a lively rate and the crew on the dredge will be worked on day and night shifts until the filling is completed.

BANK ROBBER IS CAPTURED IN ATLANTA

IS SAID TO BE THE MAN WHO LOOTED BANK AT APOPKA

In Atlanta, Ga., Saturday the police of that city captured one Harry Mason, alias "Vincent Briscoe," alias "Hefty Lou," aged 23, who gave his residence as Orlando, Fla., and who confessed that he and another Yegg named Will Jones robbed the bank at Apopka, Fla., and escaped with $3,000 which he declared was his share of the loot. The other $2,000 of the Apopka robbery was or must have been distributed between Mason's pals, totaling $5,000.

Cashier W. G. Talton of the State Bank of Apopka, was in Orlando yesterday en route to Atlanta where he was called by authorities. He showed the Sentinel reporter a copy of the Atlanta newspaper containing an account of Mason's confessions. Sunday, Monday and yesterday a Atlanta papers piled on the Sentinel desk tell of additional crimes committed by the youthful desperado.

On Friday night at Atlanta, Mason cracked a safe and was captured later. He confessed to this crime and others which he had perpetrated in the last few years, the Apopka bank robbery being among the list.

Mason stated that during his ten years as a crook he had robbed no less than 150 safes, and accrued $25,000, the most of which he declared he sent to his old mother in Orlando.

The confession continues, "In June 1913, he secured $3,000 with Will Jones, another Yegg, from a bank at Apopka, Fla. In the confession Mason said his mother's grandmother was a full blooded Indian.

According to a special yesterday Mason is reported as saying: "I'm willing to serve my term. When I get out I'll go to my mother. She has plenty of money I sent her. I want to be honest now and make a new start. Yesterday's Atlanta Journal says:

"A man named Lane, who was in Atlanta Sunday on his way to Apopka, Fla., read in the Journal an account of 'Mason's' confession, and called at police station Monday to see whether he could identify the prisoner. He said he had summered at Apopka for years past and recalled the bank robbery there some time ago which 'Mason' confessed."

"The robbery of the postoffice at Tiger Bay, Fla., which, 'Mason' said was his first crime, will probably result in his detention by the federal authorities. His trial before Recorder Johnson is set for 8 o'clock Tuesday morning."

The news that the Apopka bank robber or robbers had been captured was of great interest and caused a sensation on the streets yesterday Sheriff Gordon was taken with surprise, and he intimated that two other persons living in or near Orlando and in or near Apopka might have been connected with the crime and might be pals of Mason's.

A wire is looked for by the sheriff at any minute and he may be called to Atlanta. As the developments proceed and as the coils of justice tighten sensational disclosures are expected from several sources hitherto kept under cover.—Orlando Sentinel.

The Indian Ball Team

The greatest athletic novelty in the world is the Nebraska Indian Base Ball team which has created so much comment by its brilliant playing and wonderful success it has achieved during its seventeen years of travel throughout the United States and Canada. It is a rare and novel sight to see a team of ball players all of whom are marvelously expert and also who are genuine Indians. When they come to the field with scowling faces and savage warwhoops some of the people in the grand stand grow nervous but the Indians are only showing their irrepressible spirits and never have trouble with anyone. It will be a great treat to see them play the Sanford team at Holden Park on August 6th.
