

CONGRESS TO HURRY THE REGULAR TIME

EXPECT TO GET THROUGH WITH EARLY SESSION

Washington, May 2.—Democratic leaders in the house and senate will undertake tomorrow another campaign to expedite important legislation pending in congress with a view to getting as many salient features of their program on the statute books before the national political convention in June.

The "clean up" movement will be instituted in the House with the calling up of the Philippine independence bill on which a special rule will probably be reported with the view of disposing of it in one day. With this measure out of the way it is proposed to rush action on other bills with similar closure rules and to continue this form of action relentlessly.

A meeting of the senate steering committee has been called for tomorrow by Majority Leader Keim to discuss a new legislative program for the coming year.

The President and secretary of the chamber it is understood have been talking to the leaders that they would release the public lands water conservancy and other pending bills.

General speeding up plans for the bill are being held up by the committee. Republican senators they will give every possible expedite measures.

Democrats are planning to bring up the following bills: Porto Rico, Diplomatic and consular, shipping, fortifications, rural roads, naval and revenue bills.

Democrats were much pleased at being able to reach an agreement with Minority Leader Mann to set the unanimous consent day, which is tomorrow, for consideration of the Philippine measures. Behind the scenes it is thought that an agreement day may be reached shortly.

GEORGIA IS DRY

New Prohibition Law In Effect Now

Atlanta, Ga., May 2.—That the new prohibition law which went into effect with the end of April will be strictly observed by so-called locker clubs and the liquor interests generally was the consensus here to night.

Beer saloons which previous laws prohibited operating on Sunday, sold their last drinks Saturday night throughout the state, but here and other larger cities of the state clubs were allowed to remain open on Sunday as usual and disposed of alcoholic beverages until 11 or in some cases 12 o'clock tonight.

No reports had reached here tonight of any disorder marking the passing of beer saloons, allowed to operate under previous prohibition laws, and the "locker clubs" furnished no more than a good-natured joviality as the last drinks were dispensed. Promptly at 11 o'clock saloon doors were closed Saturday night and with practically no police aid proprietors cleared their places of business. Today beer signs were as prominent as ever but that was all, and here and there a piece of crepe, placed by some jocular person, fluttered from signs that still advertised "near beer on draught."

The new law which was passed on a special session of the legislature last December makes illegal the sale of any beverage containing more than one half of one per cent of alcohol, limits to two quarts of liquor or forty-eight pints of beer or one gallon of wine every thirty days, shipments to any individual within the state and prevents advertising of liquors in the state. Many of the locker clubs, it is said, will go out of business, while the social clubs, whose membership is made up of the more influential class of citizens and who have country club grounds and other features will not be affected, except that they can no longer legally sell alcoholic beverages.

No Lake Club Meeting

On account of the death of Mr. Geo. A. Dutton, the wife of our president and of Mr. D. G. Monroe, vice president, there will be no meeting of the Lake Club tonight.

Next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, May 9th in the Welborned Block.

WEATHER ONE-HUNDRED YEARS AGO

JUNE IN 1816 WAS A MONTH OF ICE AND SNOW

January, of 1816 was mild, so mild that people allowed their fires to go out. A severe cold snap came in February but soon passed away. March had an unusual high temperature, but April was the worst of the winter. May saw a further improvement, but June was a blackened was. Corn was killed and the fields had to be made ready for another planting. The thickness of half an inch formed on small streams.

June, the month of roses, was a surprise to the oldest inhabitants. First, ice and snow were common, almost every green thing was killed and fruit was nearly all destroyed. One day snow fell to the depth of three inches.

"July was accompanied by frost and ice. Indian corn was almost all destroyed.

"August was even more cheerless and the farmers doomed to disappointment. Corn was so badly frozen that it was cut for fodder. What little corn ripened in the unexposed states was worth almost its weight in silver. Farmers were compelled to use corn grown in 1915 for the seed they used in the spring planting of 1817. The seed cost $5 a bushel.

September came in bright and warm and for two weeks the almost frozen people begin to thaw out. It was the mildest weather of the year, but on the 16th of the month ice formed a quarter of an inch thick. October and November were very cold, but December turned out to be the very warmest month of the year. broad stuffs were at unheard of prices and it was impossible to obtain any vegetables for table use, as they were needed for feed. Flour sold in the cities for $13 a barrel."

A family party spending Sunday at the beach were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ward, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Deas, Miss Fern Ward and little Camilla Madge Deas. Mr. Ward will remain for a week.

PROSPERITY EVERYWHERE IN AMERICA

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD RECEIVES GOOD REPORTS

Washington, May 2.—The monthly survey of business conditions throughout the country, reported to the Federal Reserve Board by agents in every reserve district and made public tonight, shows that prosperity continued to increase during April in virtually every section of the United States, especially in eastern manufacturing centers. A synopsis of the survey by districts follows.

Boston. Business continues to improve, comparing with a year ago shows that in many cases the improvement is extreme.

New York. The volume of goods produced and sold last month was probably greater than in any March record.

GREAT LIST OF DEMOCRATS IN SEMINOLE

BOOKS SHOW OVER TWELVE HUNDRED HAVE REGISTERED

That Seminole county is growing is evidenced by the fact that the list of registered voters is much larger this year than it was two years ago over two hundred being added to the list in that time and the grand total of registered voters at the time of closing Saturday night was 1,136 out of which there are 1,272 Democrats and as all of these have not paid their poll tax it is estimated that some 1,200 Democratic votes will be polled in Seminole county at the primary in June.

The increased registration shows that much interest in the election is being manifested in every part of the county and that the citizens are becoming more and more interested in the political process.

bases and one down but the good work of Arreants pulled them out.

A series of five games have been arranged with Orlando and the first of these will be played here next Friday afternoon at Holden Park at 3 o'clock. This will be a great game and should be well attended and if there is enough interest in the opening games Sanford will make a determined effort to join the state league and have a regular team here all summer. This is the best form of advertising the city and the fans should get busy on this matter at once and get a big crowd at the opening game next Friday.

Mrs. Brady Returns

Mrs. F. E. Brady returned home yesterday accompanied by Kathleen, after an absence from the city for about two years, part of which time she spent in hospitals and sanitariums. She returns home in perfect health and her many friends here are glad to see her.

THE LEADERS SURRENDER IN IRELAND

DUBLIN IS QUIET AFTER THE STORM OF LAST WEEK

London, May 1.—Official announcement was made this afternoon that all the rebel leaders in Dublin had surrendered.

Dublin, May 1.—Rebels of the rank and file followed the example of their leaders this morning and confessed the cause of the Irish republic was lost by laying down their arms at the Parnell monument in the city street and surrendering to British troops. About 450 of them who had fought since Monday in this central area marched out from their strongholds under the white flag and gave themselves up. A few irreconcilables continued sniping from lairs, difficult to locate on roofs of among rafters of buildings nearby.

AMERICANS WILL STAY IN MEXICO

CONFERENCE BETWEEN THE LEADERS BRINGS NO RESULT

The conference between the American and Mexican representatives which was held in Washington, D. C., on the 29th and 30th of April, has failed to bring about a settlement of the Mexican question. The report of the American representatives that the Mexican government would forward the necessary documents for the withdrawal of American troops from Mexico has not been received.

In the meantime the following facts developed: "That to date the apparent intention of the Washington Government to keep General Pershing's column in Mexico has not been changed.

"That the desire of the de facto Government for withdrawal was again stated but that the only discussion along this line was regarding the advisability of an American retreatment.

"That there was considerable discussion of the possibility of cooperation in eradicating the remaining bandit groups."

In the opinion of many there will be only one more conference held and that depending on the Washington government.

While the present negotiations are being held supplies are going forward to General Pershing uninteruptedly.

Greater Florida Banquet. The banquet in the Greater Florida Banquet which will be held at the Waldorf Hotel on this city on Wednesday night, May 3, has been made to the address of news.

Arrangements have been made for 500 plates at the banquet celebration of the anniversary of the $15,000,000 fire which devastated this city in 1901 and many prominent speakers will address the festive board on the growth and prosperity of the city since that time.

Forecast for the Week Beginning Sunday, April 30, 1916. Unseasonably cold weather, with frosts will prevail during the coming week in the region of the Great Lakes, the upper Mississippi and Ohio valleys, and the Rocky Mountain and western Palteau regions.

San Francisco Lumber prices are up $3 to $5 per thousand feet and orders are greater than mill capacity. Acute shortage has caused unparallelled activity in ship building and financial conditions appear to be excellent.

Generally fair weather will prevail during the next several days, except that local showers in the Mississippi Valley and the districts east thereof will attend the eastward movement of a disturbance of moderate intensity that is now over the Plains states. It will probably reach the Atlantic coast Tuesday or Wednesday. Another disturbance will reach the Pacific coast about Wednesday or Thursday and move slowly eastward, probably reaching the middle west at the close of the week. This disturbance will be attended by general rains.

SANFORD WINS

Had the Best of Mount Dora in Fast Contest

The Sanford team had the best of Mt. Dora all the way through in a fast game of ball played on the Mt. Dora grounds last Thursday afternoon. Sanford showed their old spirit after losing two games coming back in regular form and took the third one in good shape. The features of the game were the slick work of the Sanford boys, securing eleven hits and the battery work of Arreants and Powell. Four different times the game looked bilious for the Sanford team with three men on base and one down but the good work of Arreants pulled them out. The box score is as follows: Sanford 10 2 0 1 1 0 0, Mt. Dora 0 1 0 0 0 0 0. Runs—Sanford 5, 11 hits, no errors. Runs—Mt. Dora 1, 4 hits, 3 errors.

BOOK FOR THE DEAF

The Volta Bureau, which is a remarkable degree a blind person is able to substitute hearing for sight, but it is really astonishing how few of us appreciate the fact that the deaf can, if they will, substitute in even greater degree their eyes for their ears. What a speaker and what a listener can do is not to be wondered at. It is a matter of interpretation of these movements.

There are books on this subject suitable for self instruction, though, of course, private lessons under a trained teacher are desirable where practicable. The Volta Bureau of Washington, D. C., an association for the increase and diffusion of knowledge relating to the deaf will gladly furnish to the deaf and information on this subject and, if desired, recommend competent teachers of lip reading. It has no teachers, nor does it give any instructions.

In view of the fact that the medical profession at present offers little if any hope for relief in the majority of cases of deafness, it seems a great pity that the value and utility of lip reading are not better known. A few months' study will enable the average deaf or hard-of-hearing person to carry on conversation with his family and intimate associates.

All this means little to the hearing person, but it is a matter of the gravest importance to the deaf. As an advertisement reads, "It is no joke to be deaf!" But while the inability to hear music or other pleasant sounds is a deprivation, the really great handicap of deafness is the inability to carry on conversation with one's friends or business associates. It is in this latter field that lip reading offers its assistance. Lip reading will enable a deaf or hard-of-hearing person to carry on conversations; to understand even where they cannot hear the voices of their friends. This is not a theory; it is a demonstrable fact. If you are deaf or becoming deaf, or if you have a friend so afflicted, you owe it to yourself to investigate this art. In spreading a knowledge of lip reading and its benefits we are doing ourselves a favor as well as helping the deaf.

Hard-of-Hearing. Relatives of Mr. D. G. Monroe attending the funeral from out of town were Mrs. T. E. Schnell, his sister from Jacksonville, Mrs. W. T. Mathers, White Springs; Mr. Townsend Monroe, White Springs; Mr. A. C. Green, Lake City.

Walter G. Doby include:

I am against the despoilation of Florida swamps. Swamps and cities are our most valuable assets and we should certainly preserve the good looks of our country's complexion. Bill boards and unsightly fences and old tumble down sheds should be taken out of the city limits at least and our people should get busy on this question while they are talking about the spring house cleaning. The Jacksonville Metropolitan has the following that is good:

A western tourist complains that the scenery between Philadelphia and New York is "just fields of big advertisements." The Philadelphia Public Ledger admits that this is the truth, and that the situation is disgraceful. "No matter how beautiful the countryside may be naturally, you see nothing but signs--no scenery."

The east, however, has no monopoly of this evil. It is merely seen at its worst in localities near great centers to population and trade. The whole country suffers from the same offensive sort of commercial exploitation. It spreads continually, like an ugly disease on the face of nature. The most lovely places on the continent are not immune. The exploiters seem to pick out instinctively the one spot in an attractive landscape where a jarring note will mar the beauty of it and introduce that note.

And the public is helpless. There are tens of thousands of signs along the roads, and hundreds of signs and advertisements which have gained a national reputation by their excessive use. It is impossible for the public to have to look at them, even while they loathe them and long for their removal.

A few municipalities have taken drastic measures against the evil, but most cities and states will not do so. The American Union Association is fighting the evil, and it is hoped that some day it will be removed from our landscape. The time will certainly come when these sordid offenses against natural beauty will be done away with, but the reform comes painfully slow.

"I have heard of poor and sad congregations, but the saddest preacher I ever knew went from Posey county, Indiana, to Pike county, Missouri; where John Hay discovered Little Breeches and Jim Bludsoe. He was starving to death on donations of catfish, possum and a hundred dollar salary. Finally, he made up his mind to go away. With wet eyes he stood up in the prayer meeting to bid goodbye to his weeping congregation."

"Brothers and sisters," he said, wiping his eyes on his red bandanna handkerchief, "I've called you together tonight to say farewell. The Lord has called me to another place. I don't think the Lord loves this people much; for none of you seem to die. He doesn't seem to want you. And you don't seem to love each other, for I've never married any of you. And I don't think you love me; for you don't pay my salary--and your donations are mouldy fruits and wormy apples. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

"And now, brothers and sister, I am going to a better place. I've been appointed chaplain to the penitentiary at Joliet. Where I go ye cannot come; but I go to prepare a place for you."

Four million women will have the privilege to vote for a President of the United States this year. How large a proportion of this total will exercise the privilege remains, of course, to be seen. These four million women represent four states, which cast ninety-one ballots in the electoral colleges, which elect the President. As a President must have two hundred and sixty-six electoral college votes necessary to win, the states which will vote for a little more than one third of the total necessary to elect a President. At the last presidential election the 117 states which gave the privilege to women to vote, and those states cast only thirty-two electoral votes. So that this year the number of equal suffrage states has doubled and the electoral votes have increased by fifty-four. It will be extremely interesting to see to what extent the actual total of votes in each state and how far they will go

FLORIDA GROWING FASTER THAN THE NATION

(TAMPA TRIBUNE)

Florida, already outstripping the nation as a whole in the ratio of its growth as compared with past years, is recognized today by all students of progress as being upon the eve of a great movement of population to its vacant lands and a development in agriculture, general trade and industry that will place it among the leaders. Especially is this true of stock raising, dairying and general farming.

It has been made famous by its citrus groves and truck farms, and it will be still more famous for diversified agriculture.

Barton W. Currie, sent by the Country Gentleman to investigate conditions in the south, writing in the issue of February 14, said:

A good many millions of us, who do not know the south, and who have calmly blundered ahead in our mistaken view of the south and its resources and progress, are waking to a realization of our folly.

During the past decade the south has outstripped other sections of the United States in the increase of educational facilities, and during the next decade the advance in this direction will be greater in proportion.

"The low cost of land and the lower cost of living in the south will swing the tide of native immigration into the southern states."

Florida's population as given by the United States 1910 census, is 752,619, an increase since the census of 1900 of 224,077, or 42.4 per cent, as against only 21 per cent for the United States as a whole.

Of Florida's entire population 219,080 live in cities and incorporated towns of 2,500 inhabitants or more, while 533,539, of 70.9 per cent lived in rural territory. For confirmation of these and other facts about Florida's rapid growth see the United States Census.

From this it must be concluded that the principal industry and the most profitable for the people generally is farming, cattle raising and dairying.

The general character of Florida agriculture is indicated by the fact that nearly one-fourth of the total value of crops in 1909 was contributed by potatoes and other vegetables, about one-fifth by fruits and nuts, about one-sixth by cereals, and about one-seventh by cotton. The remainder twenty-four per cent of the total, consisted mostly of grains and seeds, other than cereals, forest products and sugar crops.

The total wealth of the state in the form of farm property in 1901 was $143,183,000. Of this more than four-fifths is in the form of land and buildings valued at $118,146,000 as against $40,799,833 in 1900, an increase of 169.6 per cent in ten years.

The value of Florida's twelve leading diversified crops common to most of the country, not including citrus fruits, increased from $6,677,000 in 1899, to $15,104,000 in 1910, a gain of 126 per cent against only eighty-one per cent for the whole country.

In the ten years 1900 to 1910 the increase in the value of farm lands in the United States was 118 per cent, and in Florida 203 per cent. The value of farm buildings in the United States in that time increased seventy-seven per cent, and in Florida 144 per cent.

The value of farm implements and machinery in the country increased sixty-eight per cent between 1900 and 1909, and in Florida 126 per cent.

In 1900 the resources of the national banks of the state amounted to $9,642,703; these resources now amount to about $60,000,000. The individual deposits of the national banks rose from $6,435,000 in 1900 to $32,035,000 in the latter part of 1912, and have been steadily increasing since, while the deposits in the other banking institutions rose from $3,714,000 in 1900 to $28,683,000 in 1912.

In 1890 there was 2,400 miles of railroad in this state. In the next ten years the increase was 3,256 miles, or a gain of only 760 miles. But in the last twelve years there has been a gain of over 2,000 miles and this gain is indicative of the general progress and prosperity of the state.

Although Florida is not primarily a manufacturing state its manufacturers have shown a steady growth.

In 1909 there was 2,159 establishments giving employment to an average of 57,473 wage earners, or 7.6 per cent of the total population. During this period the gross value of products per capita of the entire population of the state increased from $8 to $97.

The value of the factory products of Florida rose from $36,800,000 in 1900 to $90,000,000 in 1912; the value of farm products from $18,400,000 to $41,600,000, the value of forest products from $18,000,000 to $41,000,000, the value of mineral output from $2,300,000 to $11,000,000.

RAISED PRICE OF DOG

SPEECH OF SENATOR VEST RESURRECTED BY ELMER E. ROGERS

FROM WASHINGTON POST

A story of the celebrated "dog" speech made by the late Senator Vest of Missouri, and often the subject of controversy has been gotten from the court records by Elmer E. Rogers of Washington.

A valuable dog had been shot. The owner of the dog brought suit, bringing evidence that the deed had been done in malice. The defendant brought witnesses to show that he had been attacked by the dog.

Senator Vest came to try another case and his reputation as a lawyer was such that the owner of the dog, determined more on revenge than on the recovery of the value of the animal, offered Vest $250 if he would and the attorneys already employed.

During the trial Vest uttered no word, asked no questions. He was not even disposed to speak to the jury, but the attorneys urged him to do so, pleading that the plaintiff would think he had not earned his fee if he took no part. He, then arose, slowly scanned for a moment, the face of each juror and said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, the best friend a man has in the world may turn against him and become his enemy. His son or daughter that he has reared with loving care may prove ungrateful.

"Those who are nearest and dearest to us; those whom we trust with our happiness and good name may become traitors to their faith.

"The money a man has he may lose. It flies away from him like birds when he needs it the most.

"A man's reputation may be sacrificed in a moment of ill-considered action. The people who are proud to fill on their knees to do us honor when success is with us may be the first to sling the stone of malice when failure settles its cloud upon our heads.

"The one absolutely unselfish friend that a man can have in this selfish world, the one that never deserts him, the one that never proves treacherous or ungrateful is a dog.

"A man's dog stands by him in prosperity and in poverty, in health and in sickness. He will sleep on the cold ground, when the wintry winds blow and the snow drives fiercely, if only he may be near his master's side. He will kiss the hand that has no food to offer. He will lick the wounds and sores that come in encounter with the roughness of the world. He guards the sleep of his pauper master as if he were a prince. When all other friends desert he remains. When riches take wings and reputation falls to pieces he is as constant in his love as the sun in its journey through the heavens.

If fortune drives the ingrate back an outcast in the world, friendship and homeless, the faithful dog asks no higher privilege than that of accompanying him to guard against danger, to fight against his enemies.

And when the last scene of all comes, and death takes the master in its embrace, and his body is laid away in the cold ground, no matter if all other friends pursue their way, there by the grave side will the noble dog be found, his head between his paws, his eyes sad but open in alert watchfulness, faithful and true even in death.

Then Vest sat down. He had spoken in a low tone without a gesture. He made no reference to the evidence of the merits of the case. When he finished judge and jury were wiping their eyes. The jury verdict soon entered with a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $200. He had sued for $200.

It is said that some of the jurors wanted to hang the defendant.

Power

DON'T overlook this matter of power. It is important. You want an automobile that will carry you through mud, sand and snow, and do it easily. You want a car that will climb hills, that will get away quickly without laboring and straining its every part.

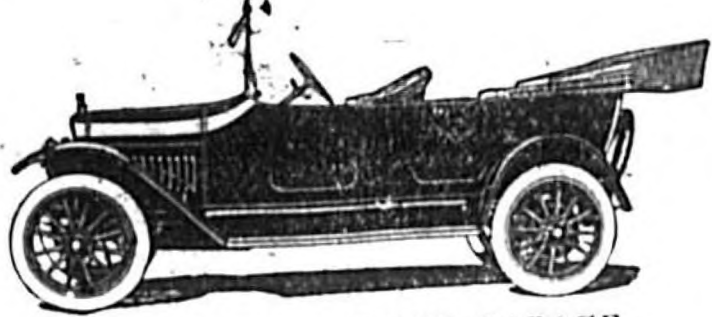

Not all cars can do these things, but you know that the Maxwell can because you have the proof.

When the Maxwell stock touring car set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record a few weeks ago, it encountered all sorts of unfavorable conditions—rain, mud and hills, over country and city roads—yet it covered 500 miles per day, day after day, for more than six weeks.

Power, plenty of power, unflinching power, is absolutely essential to such a wonderful performance as this.

Let us give you a booklet telling all the details of this record-breaking Maxwell car. And let us tell you about our partial payment plan, by means of which you can make a cash deposit and pay the balance while you use the car. Give us the opportunity and we'll prove our case.

The interurban electric road idea grows in magnitude, it being now stated that the line is to be extended from Lakeland to Sanford by way of Kissimmee and Orlando. Such a road would be a great convenience and would materially aid in the development of the territory traversed. -Lakeland Telegram.

Oscar Johnson in the Jacksonville Metropolis says: "We will next time, Mr. Holly. It's great to be a 'model' newspaper man, isn't it? Did you get it? We've appointed an advisory committee and it will never happen again."

PRICE OF GASOLINE
The first price of the car has nothing to do with the purchase of said car these days. You buy the car now and begin figuring how you can buy gasoline afterward. All of which calls to mind that necessity is the mother of invention and some genius can now make fuel out of alcohol and in making fuel out of alcohol some of the fellows that people will not see any more in the next two years and burn it in the saw-wheels instead of in the big motor.

GILBERT LEACH APPOINTED
Oscar T. Conklin, president of the Florida Press Association has in accordance with a resolution passed at the annual convention of the association at Kissimmee two weeks ago, appointed Gilbert D. Leach, editor of the Lakeland Commercial, as corresponding secretary of the organization. Mr. Leach will begin at once the work of establishing a bureau of information for the use of members of the association, this information to include a complete list of advertising schedules and circulation ratings. President Conklin has acted wisely for no man in the Florida Press Association can fill the position any better than Gilbert Leach.

DEATH
Death comes so seldom in our community that we are unfamiliar with it and are inclined to think that death takes only the ripened grain. Thus it is that we sorrow to-day over the sudden taking away of two from our midst, two in the very bloom of their manhood and womanhood, two in the very prime of their lives and today a loving husband and a loving wife are bereaved and the city is in silent gloom and sorrow. We know so little of death and this makes the grief harder to bear. Today two of our brightest and best flowers in the garden of citizenship are laid away in the city of the dead and we mourn them more because they were in the prime of young manhood and womanhood.

Clustering about the flowers that are blooming there, mingling with the oppressive silence that shrouds the revered spot and quivering amidst the gloom of the grave the holiest memories speak in tones that fill the air and thrill the sorrowing heart. All that there was of the life that has faded into the night of endless sleep; its lights and its shadows, its sweetness and its nobility; its powers and its purity, pass before us like a rapidly moving panorama.

And as we go about our accustomed tasks taking up again the burdens of the living we have the solace and comfort in the thought that they are asleep, their troubles are over and their taking away brings to mind the uncertainty of this life and the certainty of death.

In the midst of life we are in death.

PATRIOTIC WOMEN
Formerly the Daughters of the American Revolution impressed the public as too inclined to throw bouquets at their own families. In this adulation of ancestors, there seemed to be too much consciousness of their own blueness of blood. In later years the organization has ceased talking so much about the past. The reports presented at the Continental Congress at Washington the past week suggests lines along which all patriotic women should work.

Formerly the war correspondents were the proper ones to report these conventions. Bitter personal animosities gave the meetings a picturesque atmosphere of battle. The fighting spirit might have been suitable to the daughters of warriors, but it seemed the outgrowth of too much thought about pedigrees.

This society now tries to educate aliens in civic ideals. It had been striving for ten years to eradicate the hyphen before that idea attracted attention. They foresaw that the man who feeds on a foreign language paper and lives in an alien settlement is not an intelligent citizen.

The foreigner's welcome to our shores is usually the getting fleeced by smooth sharpers. When these women approach him to attend classes, he wonders what game they are playing on him. Often he meets sectarian appeals from those who would convert him to some faith other than that of his fathers. It seems hard for him to grasp the fact that this appeal may be based purely on patriotic spirit.

Aliens can be made very loyal citizens. No one who never lived under a tyrannical government can appreciate a free country as they do. They should be taught the need of preparation for citizenship and the folly of removing children too early from school. The work of the D. A. R. organization along these lines may well be copied by women's clubs and other associations. -Reporter-Star.

MORE ON LABEL

Almost any law, wholesome or otherwise may be prostituted to tyrannous purposes. The label laws of Florida probably framed for a very good purpose are with recent interpretations fast instruments for abuse in the hands of shady speculators.

Editor Hanna of the Aunburndale News is the most recent victim of the workings of Florida laws and recent supreme court decisions. He has undertaken to block a scheme of political graft and in doing so has run afoul of the strict scener who in an effort to suppress the office of a man out of town has caused his arrest under charges of criminal libel. It is hardly to be supposed that the charges will be pushed to a trial but the arrest and necessary preparations for defence are annoyances and injuries to which the editor would not be subjected were it not for the peculiar and inequitable libel laws of the state.

Aside from the constant danger to the public in the unwarranted and unjustifiable suppression of a free press, the law requires a positive tracking on the part of the newspaper of its implied contract with the public to furnish all the news.

As a most glaring instance of the law's refusal to permit a newspaper to furnish the news, it may be pointed out that a recent supreme court decision makes the publication of the ordinary court news a source of peril to the press. Under that decision if a man is regularly indicted by the grand jury of the crime of murder, the newspaper tells the public of the proceedings at the peril of a libel suit, if the accused should finally be acquitted. So, in the case of an important trial, the newspaper that prints from day to day a resume of the testimony given on the stand under oath, does so with the full knowledge that in giving the public the news to which it is entitled, lays itself liable to a future action under Florida's libel laws. The publication of the allegations of a bill of complaint, made under oath, and published merely as news without any effort on the part of the paper to assert the truth of the allegations, has cost one leading newspaper of the state a large amount of money adjudged due the complainant, although there was not the slightest malice displayed in the publication.

Instances might be multiplied, of which the Editor Hanna incident is only one, where newspapers of Florida in attempting to give the legitimate news of the day or which have attempted to warn the public against graft and corruption in official places, have been muled in serious amounts for simply discharging their plain duty to the public.

For the benefit of that public as fully as for the newspapers themselves, the libel laws of Florida should be reformed and that as soon as the legislature can accomplish it. Miami Herald

FOR BETTER CATTLE

Organization of Cattle Men Formed in Jacksonville
At a final meeting held in Jacksonville, Florida, on April 25th, 1916, an organization to be known as the "Florida Cattle Tick Eradication Committee of the Southern Settlement & Development Organization" was fully completed, and will begin active operations immediately. The committee is composed of J. M. Burguierea, chairman; J. E. Ingraham, vice chairman; Arthur G. Cummer, treasurer; W. F. Couchman, secretary; Clermont S. Ucker, and Robert M. Pindell, Jr., the last named being vice presidents of the Southern Settlement & Development Organization. P. L. Sutherland of Jacksonville has been appointed manager, and offices have been taken in the Consolidated Building.

In addition to the gentlemen above named, there were present at this meeting, Dr. E. M. Nighbert, of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, inspector in charge of Tick Eradication in Georgia and Florida; Prof. P. J. Rolfs and Dr. J. M. Scott of the University of Florida, and Dr. Chas. F. Dawson of the Florida State Board of Health. It is the purpose of the committee to at once undertake an active state-wide campaign of information and education in cattle tick eradication, and to bring to its aid and assistance as far as possible, every organization and individual in the state of Florida who is interested in a bigger and better Florida. The warm cooperation of the Federal Department of Agriculture; the State Department of Agriculture; the State Agricultural College, the State Board of Health, and the Florida Live Stock Association have already been assured, and resolutions were recently adopted by the State Bankers Association at Daytona and by the State Press Association at Kissimmee, offering definite cooperation in the proposed campaign, and characterizing it as the principal business issue before the people of Florida.

The organization of this movement arose out of the conclusions reached by the officers of the Southern Settlement & Development Organization, after full investigation and consideration that the substantial Florida of the future must depend upon an intelligent and steady development of the cattle business along with the development of other lines of agriculture now so neglected. The first concrete step in this movement was the Florida Cattle Conference held at Tampa on February 24th and 25th last. It was deemed to bring out as far as possible in open discussion, the real conditions in Florida, where it is advantageous or otherwise, with respect to the cattle industry. Much of a useful and interesting nature was disclosed in this meeting and it was shown in a most striking manner by speakers of experience and expert knowledge, who took part in the discussion, that until the Texas Fever Cattle Tick is entirely eliminated from the state and the federal quarantine restrictions removed, the cattle business can never reach that high state of development which is justified by the conditions of Florida soil and climate.

Since the Tampa conference there have been a series of meetings in Jacksonville of representatives of large interests throughout the state for the purpose of discussing the method which ought to be pursued to obtain the most satisfactory result. The earnestness of these discussions has been striking and as a result a large fund has been placed at the disposal of the committee for the purpose of prosecuting the work.

Manager Sutherland is now engaged in preparing a plan of campaign for submission to the Executive Committee at its next meeting, which will be held early in the month of May. It is the desire and intention of the committee to seek all the advice possible in the preparation of its plans, and when these plans are finally agreed upon to press the work with the utmost vigor. The committee has already been assured by those in a position to know that the methods thus far followed in completing its organization are by far the most effective and far reaching of any movement of the kind heretofore undertaken in the quarantined area.

Funeral of D. G. Monroe
The funeral of D. G. Monroe occurred from the late residence on the west side last Saturday and was attended by hundreds of friends from the county and other cities in Florida. There were some seventy cars in the funeral procession and the great quantity of beautiful flowers attested the esteem in which the deceased was held.

Rev. George Hyman, pastor of the Baptist church officiated and the beautiful funeral service of the Elks lodge was given at the house, the pall bearers being members of the Elks lodge.

At the cemetery the Masons took charge and Masonic pall bearers laid their brother to rest in Lakeview cemetery.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE A. DECOTTES
Martha Preston Leach
Again was this city visited by the death angel and Martha, beloved wife of George A. DeCottes was the second victim. Her death occurred last night at ten o'clock in the arms of one of her youngest children in Saturday when they were called upon to render the same tribute yesterday for Mrs. DeCottes.
Literally struck down with hardly a warning, Mrs. DeCottes was taken ill Thursday morning and despite the combined efforts of several of the best physicians, after a day morning of ten tortures. The physicians pronounced what was seemingly a partial stroke of paralysis as toxic poison from something that had been eaten and before the victim is aware of the disease the poison enters the system and the regular organs of the body are overborne and refuse to perform their regular functions. Mrs. DeCottes had finished her midday luncheon and was conversing with some ladies in the sitting room when the attack came and even after the physician had been summoned the case had not reached alarming proportions but it spread quickly and her last consciousness before Mr. DeCottes could be summoned from Daytona where he had gone on professional business. From that time until Sunday morning Mrs. DeCottes was kept alive by the use of oxygen and the supply was brought here from every point in the state in the vain effort to keep her alive until the effects of the toxic poison could be removed by nature but all the efforts were for naught and her spirit winged its flight on Sunday morn.

DAILEY'S UNIQUE FEAT

One-Armed Twirler Pitches Most Remarkable Game.

Shuts Out Philadelphia Club Without Run or Hit—Lee Meadows Handicapped by Wearing Spectacles—Archer Also Crippled.

Thirty-two-year-old Pitcher Dailey of Cleveland, then in the National league, shut out the Philadelphia club without a hit or run.

Many other twirlers before and since have broken into the baseball hall of fame by performing this feat, but Dailey stands alone and unique as the one-armed twirler in the history of the game to attain such heights of stardom.

Lee Meadows, the Cardinal slab artist, is now considered something of a freak because his lamps are weak and he has to wear spectacles, but Dailey stands alone and unique as the one-armed twirler in the history of the game to attain such heights of stardom.

While thus employed he slipped and fell, so that his right arm was plunged into a vat of boiling soap. All of the skin and quite a bit of the flesh was torn away when the clothing was removed, and for weeks Archer was in a hospital. For a time it was thought the arm would have to be amputated, but the surgeons managed to save it, but Archer still bears the scars.

Since then he has had his arm broken at the elbow, while most of the fingers of his right hand have been broken or dislocated several times. When it comes to looks Archer's right wing is far from being pretty, but it still gets him the money, and it has won for him a larger measure of fame than has been accorded to any other backstop in recent years.

In January merchants all over the country present the new wash fabrics for spring and they are an inspiration to the needlewoman in the depth of winter the spring sewing for the children may be disposed of; for it is the business of newsgirls and journals to picture the advance models shown by those who create the styles. With these and the new fabrics before her there is no difficulty in the way of the home dress-maker.

A little everyday dress of blue and white gingham in a fine cross-bar pattern is pictured at the right of the group above, trimmed with a very narrow and substantial embroidery edging in blue and white. At the left the little afternoon dress is made of a thin cotton fabric with embroidered dots scattered over the surface. Tucks and narrow val lace edging are used in trimming.

The gingham dress is made of a single piece of material folded crosswise at the center, where the neck is cut out. The sleeves are cut in one with the dress and are short, reaching

Life, your life and mine, the humblest and most prosaic life, is filled, crowded with the most beautiful, the most glorious opportunities, even the sunny side of it is jeweled with splendid chances of manhood and womanhood, every day and every hour the good angels of our destiny are whispering, singing, shouting their invitations in our ears to take from the open hand of time treasures of immortal worth—Washington Gladden.

Would you advise ground phosphate or ground lime to sweeten land for vegetables? This land has marl subsoil. ANSWER: Ground phosphate will not sweeten land. The lime it contains is just as unavailable as the phosphoric acid itself, for if one could be made available the other would be available also.

Burning Foliage. You have a lot of cotton seed hulls being burned, compared with other methods of disposal. I can't agree with you. I have scattered it in my garden and it never burned the leaves while I have had nitrate of soda burn them.

Important to Human Welfare. It is not without reason that cooking is called an art. There is nothing which does more to build up and maintain good health than the proper preparation of food. It may be considered the first essential. It is commonly considered a menial task, yet next to motherhood it is one of the most important.

Inhibition Snails. The demand for shell snails has become such that a curious imitation of them has been developed in Paris. The snail farmers collect the empty shells which have accumulated during the summer clear them and sell them for about twenty-five cents a thousand. The shells are sent to Paris, where they are filled with a mixture of small fish liver, butter and herbs.

Point of Interest. A small boy who inherits his father's position, was told that he might be president of the United States. He evinced no surprise, but merely remarked: "That's an easy guess. But what do you think my prospects are for a second term?"
