

AP Director Asks News Broadcasts Free Of Control

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—Brig. General David Sarnoff, president and chairman of the board of RCA, today urged establishment of a network of United Nations radio stations in "powerful short-wave transmitters at strategic points around the globe" to help win "the battle for the minds of men." In an address at a luncheon of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations in honor of the U. S. National Commission for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO), General Sarnoff contended that since V-J Day "another global conflict has started—a battle for the minds of men."

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, suggested today that the broadcasting industry disseminate news abroad "free from government supervision as to form and text."

Cooper made the suggestion in an address prepared for a convention luncheon of the National Broadcasting Company. He urged press and radio to recognize a mutual interest in guarding against encroachments on freedom of press and freedom of speech.

Commenting that the United States government was now engaged in broadcasting news abroad, Cooper said "the people need to be watchful" of continuance of a "trend toward propaganda in the guise of news dissemination by governments in peacetime."

Cooper said the broadcasting industry "is seeking to be healthy independent of government and is appealing to the public to confer upon it the same freedom and independence that the American press enjoys."

"If this same freedom and independence are to be conferred," he said, "then, it seems to me, radio should be consistent and insist upon an opportunity to prove its character and integrity by conducting foreign news dissemination free from government supervision as to form and text. If the government retains control, then the foreign news emissions become government propaganda."

"If radio establishes certainly in its news operations, certainly the public will demand that it be given the same freedom and independence our free press enjoys. The instrument that has made mass communication of speech efficient must not in any way be restrained or censored by government, which should be aware that the great radio industry has been generously and trustfully hailed by the people. When awakened to the realities, they will insist upon radio's complete independence from government intervention and dictation."

Discussing his proposal for a mutual agreement of interest between press and radio, Cooper said he was convinced that "the greatest mutual security for both the radio and the press would arise out of a newspaper and radio station fellowship that made the collection of truthful unbiased news its common cause."

Food Handlers To Get Instruction

A mobile, state-wide school for commercial food handlers is due to visit Sanford in the near future, it was announced today by Dr. Frank B. Quillman, director of the Seminole County Health Unit.

He invited Dr. Wilson T. Sowder, state health officer, as stating that the course is so cooperative one sponsored by the State Board of Health, the Florida Hotel Commission and the Florida Restaurant Association.

It is designed for waitresses, bus boys, dishwashers, cooks and all other personnel working in restaurants, luncheons and bars. The instructional material is based primarily on elementary sanitation and for the most part will be presented through movies, slides and other visual aids. It is being prepared by the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering and the Division of Health Information and will be presented by personnel of those departments.

Grid Outlook

Coach Tim Tyler was unable to attend the meeting, since the luncheon hour conflicted with his class schedule.

The Jaycees are undertaking the project of moving the Army barracks from the Pine Castle Air Base to the High School Field. Kelly stated that the barracks would be used as a dressing room, field house and shower room for the players. Those appointed to work with the Sanford coaches and Principal Herman Morris on the project included Jack Morrison, Brailey Odham, Karlisle Housholder, B. L. Perkins, Jr., Capt. Byrd Hudson and Rev. Douglas Charles.

The October 2 meeting has been designated as a night meeting and will be ladies night. All Jaycee members are urged to attend the affair and bring their wives or girl friends.

Charles Luke reported that approximately $5,500 had been donated by the people of Seminole County for the operation of the Tourist Information Booth.

Whitt Bishop, new Sanford merchant, was introduced to the group as a guest.

While the great radio industry has been generously and trustfully hailed by the people, they will insist upon radio's complete independence from government intervention and dictation.

Discussing his proposal for a mutual agreement of interest between press and radio, Cooper said he was convinced that "the greatest mutual security for both the radio and the press would arise out of a newspaper and radio station fellowship that made the collection of truthful unbiased news its common cause."

Controversy Rages Over Oil Painting

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12 (AP)—A controversy was still flaring today over an oil painting which showed a pretty young woman nude from the waist up.

else's figure to go with her head. Artist Withers denied this, telling reporters yesterday: "There would be no reason for me to paint Miss Janis' head on another woman's torso, that might be done in cases where the model had a beautiful face and an ugly body. But Miss Janis has probably the world's most beautiful figure."

It all started when somebody slashed the picture with a knife and then destroyed it after a reproduction appeared in a national magazine.

Run-Away Boy Has Collapse In Miami

MIAMI, Sept. 12 (AP)—Two 15-year-old boys who ran away from their Cleveland, Ohio, home Aug. 7 and were thought to have drowned, were found here yesterday when one nearly collapsed from hunger at Shenandoah Junior High School where he was a student.

Hugh Mellon, who attended classes while his buddy, Paul Leslie, worked as a plumber's helper to support them both, skipped a class to report to the first aid room complaining of dizziness.

There he admitted to Dean N. Black that he had not eaten for two days, since their funds ran out. He had been living at a rooming-house under an assumed name but had registered at school correctly.

Dean Black and Principal Olin Webb notified juvenile authorities and Detective Hardy Bryan took over from there. The boys are being held for Cleveland authorities.

The boys disappeared Aug. 7 after telling their parents they were going swimming. Cleveland newspapers carried reports the next day of their probable deaths by drowning.

They told Bryan they decided to come to Miami after a truck driver friend told them they could make $50 to $60 a week during the winter here as bellhops.

Leslie said he withdrew $300 from a savings account, because they left Cleveland but it didn't last long. He had been working for a plumbing firm here, but had not been there a week and had not been paid.

"Well, anyway, we won't miss out on the ice skating this winter," Mellon said. "Maybe we'll get to see the Indians play again this year," Leslie reminded him.

Immediately after receiving a box of cut flowers, cut stems and place them in water.

Steel Inquiry

"So far as it has been within our power," he said, "we have tried to distribute our steel production equitably among many thousands of users of steel in a way designed to serve the best interests of the country as a whole."

He declared that as a result of wartime interruption of production for normal uses, plus "an industry loss of 15,000,000 tons of steel production resulting from the serious steel and coal strikes since V-J Day," demand for many steel products is "temporarily in excess of current supply."

Fairless said his corporation "recognizes that in the public interest it shares some of the responsibility for meeting this demand and added:

"We have attempted and are now attempting to meet this responsibility to the best of our ability."

Martin said his group has heard "sound estimates" that 2,000,000 tons of steel has gone into the "gray market" this year at prices far above the normal figure.

Fairless replied: "U. S. Steel has tried to prevent any of its steel moving in improper channels. We believe we have had good success. If this committee will point to any specific case involving U. S. Steel, I assure you that the matter will be corrected promptly, if we can legally do so."

The American people do not object to business, Martin replied, except when it is employed to fix prices to stifle competition and to destroy initiative. Wise big business, he added, polices itself.

The senator termed it "a vicious condition" when small businessmen are forced to pay as much as $300 — and on the west coast, $600 — a ton for steel at a time when the normal price was from $75 to $90. The committee, he added, has "incontrovertible" evidence that such prices have been paid.

THIS DOES NOT PREVENT US FROM BUILDING A HOUSE TODAY, BUT EVEN THOUGH WE FAIL, HOPE SINGS IN OUR HEARTS. —11 Cor. 5:11 We have a building of God, an house not made with hands.

We suppose an extra session to aid Europe is almost a necessity, but an extra session to combat inflation in this country is just as important.

The dean of Florida newspapermen, Willis Ball, for nearly 40 years editor-in-chief of the Florida Times Union, died last week, thus ending one of the most distinguished journalistic careers in this state ever produced.

Mayor Gut and Commissioner Bishop have announced they will not run for re-election again. One has been on the job for nine years, the other five, looking after the public's business and getting nothing out of it. It is high time, they think, someone else should take over this responsibility.

The Communist Party officially objects to Freedom Train because, it says, the public display of these priceless historical documents to the American people is sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers. Freedom Train includes the Declaration of Independence, the Emancipation Proclamation, and 98 other similar documents in American history.

Senator Taft is being proudly condemned for suggesting that the American people should eat less in order to bring prices down. "It's sabotage," say some. "Does he want us to starve?" Most people have been known to do this in this country from overeating, however, than from starvation.

Henry Wallace, who should know better, says the steel industry is planning a production drop to cause another depression. Just why the steel industry should cause another depression is hard to see. In the last depression U. S. Steel lost millions of dollars, suspended dividend payments to all stockholders for several years, and had as rough going as anybody.

The annual trek southward of northern thugs, gamblers and gangsters has begun, according to a newspaper dispatch from New York which says "mobster hangouts in Manhattan and Brooklyn were empty as a horse better's wallet." From Chicago and Detroit where racketeers have been having an easy time fleeing the gullible public come similar reports as police in these northern cities clamor the lie on. The big time gangsters are heading for the lush resorts on the lower East Coast hoping to get in on the ground floor before the biggest tourist season is all history starts. But some of them will be coming through Sanford hoping to cash a few bogus checks, change two tens for a five, or open up a few games of chance. They are the type of tourist who should be given no welcome here.

Gratitude

Always of interest to Americans are such stories as the one coming from Boston where an obscure old man gave the Boston Public Library a surprise gift that will amount to three million dollars. The name of this 84-year-old former fruit peddler, John Deferrari, was unknown yesterday. Today it has been clicked out on the printing presses of the country.

When his formal schooling ended at the eighth grade he went to work helping his father peddle fruit, carrying his wares in a basket, walking from office to office in Boston's financial district. He saved the first money his father gave him and apparently most of the profits he made through the years.

Never marrying, Deferrari limited his personal wants to the simplest. He lives alone in a house purchased 60 years ago. He eats one meal a day, which he cooks himself, has no need for a telephone, radio, office, secretary or automobile.

The one indulgence he permitted himself since boyhood was reading in the Public Library. This he did every spare moment year after year. That institution is to be given back many fold what it gave him. Now other poor boys may benefit.

World Tongue

Exponents of the study of Esperanto and other artificially composed languages for international use may as well save their breath, for English will do as well, thinks Falk Johnson of Northwestern University.

Mr. Johnson says that a survey indicates that English is virtually the world tongue from the standpoint of usage. Many factors recommend it as a universal language: its ease of learning, simplicity of grammar, adaptability for high-speed typing, printing, and telegraphy, and its vocabulary "springing" from both Germanic and Romance origins. Besides these points, Johnson finds that English is used predominantly in two continents, and ranks second in Central America and the West Indies, third in South America, and fourth in Europe.

With the use of a language comes the reading of the literature written in it. This study invariably results in a feeling of kinship with the country of its origin. From such tenuous threads are woven loyalties and alliances which are as strong as family feelings, often struggled against and sometimes forgotten for a while, but in the end always stoutly defended. English-speaking people the world over form a large and powerful family.

Good Will By Mule Back

At Fort Reno, Okla., 500 bewildered mules are being toughened up by some hardy GI muleskinners in preparation for service in Greece. They will be exported as part of the United States' $300 million aid appropriation to that country.

Could they know the story of several hundred of their brethren sent to Mexico recently, they might become even more balky trainees. A Mexico City newspaper, The Latest Word, writes of the difficulties presented by the American animals. The idea of oats and "other fine foods" recommended for their fare shocks those farmers who say such a menu would be acceptable to the new owners for least day consumption. And the idea, contained in official directions for their care, that they be bathed weekly in warm water horrified the Mexicans.

It looks as if the poor old Missouri mule is playing a little role of international emissary, a back-breaking experience. But anyone who has had experience with mules will not be too worried. That animal has the ingrained American characteristic of being able to look after himself.

7th Day Adventists Aid European Peoples

The process by which Seventh Day Adventists have contributed three million dollars worth of food and clothing to destitute people in Europe and Asia will be shown in a motion picture entitled "Inasmuch" to be presented Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Seventh Day Adventist church located at Elm Avenue and Seventh Street.

Produced by the World Wide Pictures, Glendale, Calif., the film shows the ruins of Europe and the plight of its people. It tells the story of the collection of more than a thousand tons of clothing by Adventist Dorcas Welfare Societies. It shows how clothing has been gathered, how it is processed, mothproofed and properly baled at special warehouses in New York and San Francisco.

In the race against time shortly after the close of the war, Adventists sent a relief commission to Europe in an attempt to secure food from countries untouched by the conflict. These men were able to purchase supplies from Sweden, Denmark and Switzerland. Overcoming international complications, they managed to send it by truck directly to starving families in Austria, Poland, Hungary and other ravaged nations. How this work was accomplished will be explained by the voice of J. J. Strahl, Seventh Day Adventist Director of European Relief.

At sundown Sunday, Jews all day would be celebrated, even if over the world will begin their messengers were late. Orthodox celebration of the Jewish New Year Jews still celebrate the new year for two days; reform Jews observe the ancient Jews for one day only. The ancient Jews believed that with the setting of the sun and at the beginning of each year the sun and three stars appeared, and the Jews called this the beginning of the year. The good corn was ripe for feeding the bad and the bad was ripe for feeding the good. For the great in-betwixt, neither completely good nor completely bad, the year was celebrated dependent on the contribution of redemption came with when the new moon first appears contribution 10 days later at the end of the month. The Jewish computation puts them were often delayed in reach the creation of the world 3760 the distant points so that the years before the opening of the tom arose of celebrating two days Christian era. Inasmuch as the at about the time the new moon Jewish year begins in the Autumn was due to arrive. CONSTITUTION DAY

On Sept. 17, 1787, delegates of the then 12 states of this country signed the blueprint of our American way. The charter that recognized the cherished rights of Americans, was named the Constitution of the U. S. Powers had threatened our liberties, menaced our future. This proclamation was to protect and safe-guard a liberty-loving people. It was not without much wrangling and opposing that the Constitution became an American doctrine. Four months they did as happens today in committee meetings, battling for certain principles, trading over opinions arguing for special beliefs. Such is the way of the formation of political structure. It is necessary to hear all voices to complete with any success, such an undertaking. It was for the essential goal of a whole nation. It is natural there would be conflict when colonists met to achieve as near a perfect instrument of government. The Constitution has not been unchanged through the years, the amendments have further preserved human rights. Man cannot accept it blindly, nor did those who formed it expect it to cover the changing needs of government forever. Certain powers and duties are necessary if we want our nation to stand foremost among all people. We honor our charter of rights and we will maintain and preserve those rights in faith.

Lona Aulin Wed To Llewelyn Bartlett

The marriage of Miss Lona Aulin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Aulin, to Llewelyn Bartlett, son of the late Mrs. Mable Irene Bartlett of Philadelphia, Pa., was solemnized on Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Oviedo Baptist Church.
The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. N. Thompson, former pastor of the Oviedo Baptist Church, against a background of white gladioluses, white pom-pom chrysanthemums and ferns.
Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Joe Leinhardt, Mrs. Jim Staley, soloist, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "Because."
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice featured a yoke of white chiffon and extended into a peplum which formed a large bow in the back. Her bridal veil of imported marquisette fell from a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book on the top of which was placed a white orchid with white streamers.
Mrs. Richard Bunch of Orlando, sister of the bride, acted as her matron of honor. Her gown of yellow taffeta was fashioned along lines similar to that of the bride's. She wore a lavender hat and elbow length gloves and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers with lavender streamers. Miss Boots Bogard and Miss Betty Creath, both of Orlando, served as bridesmaids and wore dresses which featured off-the-shoulder necklines, fitted bodices and full skirts. A soft shade of aqua taffeta was used for Miss Bogard's gown and her hat and gloves were yellow. Miss Creath was gowned in lavender taffeta with which she wore hat and gloves of light green. They both carried bouquets of mixed flowers with ribbon matching their hats and gloves.
Joe Augenblick of Orlando acted as Mr. Bartlett's best man and his ushers were Pete Hewitt, Hud-

Following the wedding rehearsal on Saturday night Miss Aulin and her mother entertained members of the bridal party at their home in honor of Miss Betty Creath, bridesmaid, who was celebrating her birthday.

Miss Marshall Weds Ens. P. M. Williams

Of interest to a wide circle of friends in Sanford and Central Florida is the marriage of Geraldine Barbara Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Marshall of Oklahoma City, Okla., to Ens. Peyton Miller Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Volie Williams of this city. The ceremony was performed on Sept. 6 in the Methodist Church in Oklahoma City by the Rev. Neull C. Crain. The marriage vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with huckleberry and pedestal baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioluses.
Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. W. E. Fleisher, organist, played Debussy's "Clair de Lune" and accompanied Miss Jane Jay who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years" by Youman. Irving Berlin's "Always" was played softly during the ceremony.
The bride and her father, who gave her in marriage, approached the altar through an aisle marked with candles. Her wedding gown was of white slipper satin made with a deep net yoke bordered with a lace ruffle, long sleeves which tapered to points over the wrists and a full skirt which extended into a cathedral train. Her full-length veil of illusion was attached to a tulle-trimmed hairpiece which was secured with a marker of orchids from which fell a shower of lilies of the valley and stephanotis.
Miss Betty Jackson of Fort Worth, Tex., served as maid of honor and Mrs. William Coyle, Jr., acted as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Sadler and Miss Jean Smith and candlelighters were Miss Phyllis Prigmore and Miss Olive Ames.
All of the attendants wore ice-blue tulle gowns which featured off-the-shoulder necklines with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. They wore light blue net tiaras and their flowers were chrysanthemums in graduated shades of bronze.
Mr. Williams served as best man for his son and ushers were his two brothers, Charles Williams of Atlanta, Volie Williams, Jr. of Sanford, Edward Lang of Sanford and Calvin Coolidge of Atlanta.
Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were hosts for a reception at the Oklahoma Club. For greeting the guests Mrs. Marshall wore a crystal blue expander dress with a hat of matching net and gloves of soft rose. Mrs. Williams, mother of the bridegroom, chose to wear a royal blue dinner gown with gold accessories.
Ens. and Mrs. Williams left for a wedding trip in North Carolina before going to Norfolk, Va., where he is stationed. For going away, the bride wore a dark gray silk shantung suit with black and gray hat. Her other accessories were black and she wore an orchid corsage.

Hollywood

By ARMAND ARCHER (For Bob Thomas)
HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15 (AP)—Unlike Messrs. Tolson and Cantor, Jimmy Durante has turned down an offer to have his life recorded on film. Strangely, the offer came from RKO, and not Jimmy's bosses at MGM.
"Maybe, I'd like to do it in five years," Durante said. "But if they did it now, I'd be finished." He neglected to say who could play the leading role if the film were made.
Ether Williams joins a group of San Francisco fashion experts on a trip to Paris next month. Although Ether is well-liked in France, the Frenchmen may not be so happy about this visit. The little troupe will model clothes in direct opposition to the long-skirt, tight-waist movement.
Clark Gable fans who have been yelling for more action films for him, will have their wish. After "Angel's Flight," he will do "Command Decision," a story of the 8th Air Force.
There is also plenty of action in his present film, "Honeycoming." I watched a scene which depicted an execution hospital at Anzur Beach. The studio reproduction of those terrible days, Jan. 21-22, 1941, will be action enough for anyone, too much, I fear for some.
Bobby McWhorter's doctor has ordered him to stop smoking and other vices. He and his sister Virginia, however, have recovered from the shock of the auto accident last week.
Marshall Thompson and I dropped in to cheer them up, but Buddy admitted he would have preferred Rita Hayworth or Lana Turner. I guess he's feeling better.
"The Hunt" will start work in her husband's play, "The Ugly American," she completed "End of the Rainbow." The play, originally scheduled for Broadway last fall, was postponed because of a scarcity of Hollywood actors.
"They were afraid the play would be a hit," Martha said. "Then they would be stuck in New York."
Lana Turner receives post cards from Tyrone Power regularly. Her traveling boy friend is now in Capetown, South Africa, and Lana kids "He's better bring back a 30-foot diamond."
Kessie Wynn is trying to un-sell Frank Sinatra on living. "Unsafe," says Kessie. "Why don't you take up motorcycles?"
Olson Welles has asked Twentieth to loan Jeanne Crain for his production of "Elysium De Bergamo."
Leslie would portray Roxanne in "Mack, Amoué, and Hubby-Dean Pierre Amour" are winding up their European jaunt. They return early next month when Maria starts "Queen of Hearts."
Tami Drake's role in "Hills of Home" will remind many of "The Green Years." In addition to being an aspiring doctor in both films, he is also required to speak with a Scottish accent. . . . Garry Moore is confident men will fight a shorter length trouser movement with more vehemence than the gals are battling the long skirts. "What man," Garry asks, "wants to brush and comb his hair before he goes out in the morning?"

Officers Elected By Philathea Class

Officers were elected at the monthly meeting of the Philathea Class of the First Baptist Church held on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Buford Brown at 1301 Palmelle Avenue. Mrs. Sam Brown served as co-business for the meeting and "Mrs. W. A. Frier" presided. Mrs. Dorothy Stewart was elected president and other officers are: Mrs. J. B. Phillips, first vice president; Mrs. I. M. Himes, second vice president; Mrs. Joe Kaker, third vice president; Mrs. John Kador, fourth vice president; Mrs. Sam Brown, fifth vice president; Mrs. Cliff Abels, his assistant secretary.
During the meeting gifts were presented by the class to Mrs. Sam Brown, a recent bride, and to Mrs. John Lee, who recently announced the birth of a young daughter. Following the business meeting several games of luncos were enjoyed and prizes awarded to Mrs. J. M. Stencliper and Mrs. A. D. Holloway. A white elephant sale was also held during the social hour.
Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Clyde Parry, Mrs. Sam Brown, Mrs. M. Stone, Mrs. Kador, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. Jim Riser, Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. Roy Reel, Mrs. Koke, Mrs. Clayton Smith, Mrs. William Stencliper, Mrs. Ruth Knight, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Stencliper, Mrs. I. M. Himes, Mrs. Lee, Mrs. W. B. Elleber, Mrs. John Gulling, Mrs. Sam Brown, R. A. Howell, Jr., Mrs. J. E. Courier, Jr., Mrs. Frier and Mrs. Brown.

Unity Church Will Organize Class Here

Miss Faith Cornwall, licensed Unity minister and teacher who is connected with the Unity Church at Orlando, will organize a class in "Lessons in Truth" at the Valdez Hotel on September 20 at 7:45 o'clock. The class will meet each Tuesday at the same time and will be open to the public.
This class will be affiliated with the Unity School of Christianity of Kansas City, Mo., a non-sectarian school of religious thought concerned with the study and application of the principles of Jesus Christ.

BIGGEST BLOW TO AUBURN HOPES FOR '47 WAS LOSS OF TIDWELL

By LEROY SIMMS

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 15. (AP)—Spirited and willing but light and inexperienced is the way coach Carl Voyles sums up his 1947 Auburn football team.

He adds that he doesn't mean this to sound pessimistic, since most of the boys who will do the playing for the Tigers this year have had a season with the varsity and should improve over previous performances.

Biggest blow to Auburn hopes for 1947, of course, was Travis Tidwell's broken leg, a baseball injury. Tidwell still can throw those passes, but he probably will have to take a year for most of the season.

With Tidwell not in there, Auburn's offensive hopes will fall largely to Ray Pelfrey, a new back who has great possibilities, and Leon (Bull) Cochran, husky fullback. Pelfrey has improved as a passer and was a sensational runner in spring practice.

Russell Inman, moved from fullback, and Jim McDaniel are juniors at the blocking back post. They have as much seasoning as any member of the squad of 51, which lists no seniors.

Behind Pelfrey at tailback are Freddie Gafford, brother of Auburn's pre-war star, Clarence Norton and Willis Anderson, the pre-war all-Southern high school player last year at Sanford.

John (Bones) Klansic, is another newcomer of great promise, and Don Brause, who lettered last year, looks good.

Wingbacks include Zac Jenkins, pre-war letter winner in 1942, Billy Ball and Clifford Grubbs, both the latter are back from Army service and lettered in 1944.

Voyles is high on his end corps, with five sophomore lettermen on hand. Erskine Russell, Bill Waddell, Ralph Pyburn, Ray Williams and John Moulton are counted upon for most of the heavy duty.

Backs are inexperienced, in the main. Capt. Harold Lannom and Max Autrey, both 195 pounders, are the only lettermen on hand, and Autrey last played college football as a teenager here in 1944. John Adcock, a 220 pounder, and Dick Hayes, up from last year's "B" squad, are first line reinforcements.

Guards list last year's starters, Floyd Fulmer and Phil Poundstone, and other letter men in Bob Cannon, Ray Moore, Wayne Herber and Jack Cahoon.

Center is a problem, with two ex-blocking backs slated for first line duty. Alternate Capt. Hal Herring, 180 and Coker Barton, who saw brief service in 1944 before he was called into the service in October, have shown promise in practice.

The backfield will be even lighter. Thirteen of the 22 lettermen are sophomores.

Mississippi Southern opens the schedule with a night game at Montgomery Sept. 26. On successive Saturdays thereafter, the Tigers meet Louisiana Tech, Florida, Georgia Tech, Tulane, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State, Georgia and Clemson.

Fishing with a silver spoon and pork vind, Jim Brown, local angler, caught a nine pound black bass in a Seminole County Lake last Monday morning. Also fishing in the party were Duane Tillis and Billy Berthelson.

Rollins Coach Predicts Bright Future For Team

BREVARD, N. C., Sept. 15. (AP)—Although Coach Jack McDowall is looking frankly to the future, he predicts his Rollins College Tars of Winter Park will win as many football games this year as last, "provided we get the breaks."

"We're off to a better start than last season, when we won four and lost three," he declared. "We're better organized and the morale is as high as on any squad I've ever coached."

Worrying him, however, is the prospect of a poor start. With all but eight either freshmen or sophomores, McDowall fears that poor showings against Richmond Oct. 4 and Miami Oct. 17 might prove disastrous.

"You have to be careful with a green squad," he said. "Sometimes they never recover from early season shellackings." Biggest immediate problem is at tackle.

"I can't laugh off the loss of Fred Mandt, Trammell Whittle and Jerry Griffith, who did not return to college although they had another year of eligibility," McDowall said.

Gus Sakis, Tampa, is the only 1946 regular, available, although Dave Clark, New Port Richey, a reserve for two years, and hold-over Bill Schuler, Norfolk Beach, and Frank Alf, Orlando, may partially offset the loss of Mandt, Whittle and Griffin.

Gerald Murphy, St. Petersburg, Charlie Knecht, Palm Bay, and Don Brinsgar, Miami, are the most promising of the new talent.

Last year's problem child, the backfield, has already righted itself, and McDowall believes is 50 per cent more effective.

Greatest help is the return of Sammy Hardman of Jacksonville, who sparked the 1932 and 1940 Tar eleven. A climax runner, Hardman will share left half with greatly improved Skeet Justice, Asheville, and L. D. Bochette, a bright prospect from Gainesville.

A year at spinner back has given Cal Peacock, Pahokee, and Dub Palmer, Plant City, the savvy for this key position in McDowall's double wing attack.

Dick Darty, right half, and Bus Griffith, blocking back, both of Bradenton, will probably round out the backfield on opening day. Ed Sirmons of Tavares, Jim Imady of Miami, Buddy Tate of Jacksonville, and Stokes Smith of Pahokee are other backfield men.

Veteran ends, Ralph Christolm of St. Cloud, Otis Mooney of Winter Park and Henry Moody of Plant City, assisted by holdover

Art Swacker of Atlanta will handle the flanks, with newcomers Paul Kelly of Punta Gorda, Pete Fay of Ft. Lauderdale and Max Gruiki of Miami Beach also on hand.

Guard positions are causing McDowall little worry. Henry Baxter of Pahokee, George Mooney of Winter Park, Buzzy Rodenbaugh of Orlando, and Gene Chizik of Asheville have a year of seasoning and Paul Odom of Orlando is showing up well.

"We should be well set at center," McDowall declared. "Harry Hancock of Clearwater, Burke Chisholm of St. Cloud and George Franklin of Miami, are strong, fast and rugged. It will be difficult for any new man to break into the picture here."

"We may not set the world on fire this year, but prospects are bright for the following two years," he said.

The schedule: Sept. 27, Erskine

During the past twenty years consumption of cotton in the U. S. has never fallen below 19.5 pounds per person per year.

St. Augustine Saints Over 9,000 Students Seen At Gainesville

ST. AUGUSTINE, Sept. 15. (Special)—The Florida State League champions, the St. Augustine Saints, edged the Gainesville G-Men in a 2 to 1 contest here yesterday afternoon with Big Stan Karpinski outlasting George Fultz, Gainesville's ace moundman in the nip and tuck hurler's duel.

Fultz limited the Saints to six hits, but kept himself in hot water throughout the contest by walking seven batters.

Kramer Presents Big Barrier To Newcomer In National Tennis

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 15. (AP)—Long To mBrown, California law student, may never be faced with a tougher trial than the one he is experiencing this week in the National Singles Championships.

Only three matches away from the National Title as the tournament moved into the quarter-finals at the West Side Tennis Club today, Brown squared off against Jaroslav Drobny, Czechoslovakian left-hander, in what promises to be the prize attraction in the round of eight.

But even if he succeeds in turning back the Czech Davis Cup ace, he then faces the rather unpleasant possibility of bumping smack into Jack Kramer, the defending champion who walloped him in the finals here last year and again at Wimbledon a few weeks ago.

Assuming that he could slip would have to face the survivor ready for the finals, where he would have to face the survivor of the other bracket if he had enough strength left to swing a racket.

After using up 11 sets and 107 games in disposing of three previous opponents, the San Francisco Brown outlasted Australia's Geoff Brown, 7-5, 4-6, 10-8, 6-1, yesterday to make his way to the quarter-finals.

Kramer ran into trouble for the first time in weeks when he needed four sets to out Jim Brink, a left-handed law student, from Seattle, 6-1, 3-6, 9-7, 7-5. The champ's quarter-final opponent is Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood.

On the other side of the men's quarter-final bracket, it was John Bromwich of Australia, top-seeded Foreigner, against fourth-seeded Gardner Mulloy of Miami, and former champion Frankie Parker of Los Angeles against Pancho

Over 9,000 Students Seen At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 15 (Special)—The University of Florida has assigned registration appointments to 9,086 applicants for the fall term, and began signing former students to course sections today, University officials said Saturday.

With 3,100 students who were enrolled the second session of summer school already signed for courses, officials predict that Monday's registration will begin enrollment of the largest University student body in history.

Of the 9,086 who have appointments to register, 3,556 are students previously enrolled in the University, but not in the second session of summer school, 3,100 are students already enrolled from the summer session, and 2,430 are new students. Of the new students approximately 500 are women whose off campus housing has been approved by the University.

Officials in the Registrar's office estimate that they can register approximately 1,600 per day beginning tomorrow. Monday and Tuesday have been set aside for registration of former students, while Wednesday will begin the registration of all new students.

Child Labor Laws To Be Enforced

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 15 (Special)—Chairman Carl B. Smith of the Florida Industrial Commission announced today that with the beginning of the school term the provisions of the Child Labor Law will be strictly enforced.

In cooperation with the school authorities, the Child Labor Law was adopted to guarantee every minor the right to an education, as well as to protect his life, health and welfare. School Attendance Law requires all minors under sixteen years of age to attend school, except those who may be exempt because of physical or mental disabilities, or by obtaining an employment certificate.

Provisions of the Act state that minors, twelve years of age or over, may be employed during out-of-school hours. All minors under the age of sixteen years are prohibited from working in hazardous occupations. Among the industries prohibited are factory workshops, mills, mechanical establishments, and laundries, or any industry in connection with power-driven machinery.

Communism Ban

president of the New York Local No. 6 of the A.P.I. Hotel and Club Employees Union. He is a German-born alien.

Officials of the Immigration Service do not acknowledge the existence of a "drive." But it is a common knowledge here that further arrests of aliens on charges of Communist affiliation may come soon.

Judging by the past, the government will have long, hard battles in the courts before getting final decisions in the new cases. In the last eight years the Supreme Court has spanked the Immigration Service in three famous decisions involving charges of Communism.

1. Joseph George Strecker in 1939.
2. William Schneiderman in 1943.
3. Harry Bridges in 1945.

The facts in these cases may differ from the facts in the new cases opened by the Immigration Service, even though the charges are roughly the same.

The Strecker, Schneiderman and Bridges cases were different from one another in certain respects. The case of Schneiderman was not an alien deportation case, but an attempt to cancel his citizenship, which had been granted him in 1927.

But in all three cases the Immigration Service charged that the individual was a Communist and that the Communist party sought the violent overthrow of the government.

And in all three cases, the Supreme Court ruled in favor of the individual—without finding it necessary to make a flat decision, one way or the other, on whether the Communist party had violence on its mind.

Wake Forest picked up 378 yards on the ground against South Carolina in the Gator Bowl grid classic of 1946. This is an all-time high in Gator Bowl play.

Treaty With Italy

All four Big Four representatives then signed a protocol stating that they had deposited the instruments in force as of midnight. The entire ceremony lasted exactly five minutes.

Ambassador Jefferson Caffery represented the United States and Ambassador Alexander E. Bogomolov the Soviet Union. Minister H. Ashley Clarke acted for Britain in the absence of Ambassador Alfred Duff Cooper.

While the ceremony was going on in Bidault's office, the inhabitants of four small districts of the Italian Alps awarded to France in the Italian treaty, were voting whether they wanted to be French.

On Italy's eastern frontier Yugoslav troops will move forward from the Morgan Line to the new border with Italy at dawn tomorrow. Yugoslavia obtained approximately 3,000 square miles of the Italian peninsula, with 500,000 population.

Yugoslavs also will move troops into the Trieste free territory for temporary occupation duties with British and American units.

In Italy Britain and the United States are to begin withdrawing occupation forces tomorrow. The treaties assess $1,330,000,000 in reparations against the five losers in World War II; reduce the territories of Italy, Romania, Hungary and Finland; severely limit the size of the armed forces of all five; contain guarantee against racial and religious discrimination and bar a rebirth of Fascism.

The United States and Britain must withdraw occupation troops from Italy within 90 days. Russia must pull her troops out of Bulgaria in a like period.

For Italy, today's ratification of the peace treaty marked the end of a national adventure with Fascism which started 25 years ago. The experiment, following her attack on France, June 10, 1940, cost her: Approximately 3,000 square miles of her homeland, all her Africa empire, the 12,000 Dodecanese Islands, $300,000,000 in reparations and her place as a world power. The territory she loses to Yugoslavia in the Italian peninsula will cost her more than 1,000,000 tons of coal annually.

The African territories—Eritrea, Libya and Somaliland—remain under British sovereignty for a year, during which Britain, France and the United States consider final disposition. If they fail to reach an agreement, the United Nations Assembly must decide.

The Dodecanese Islands go to Greece and about 50 square miles in four Alpine districts go to France. Of the reparations debt, $125,000,000 goes to Yugoslavia, $105,000,000 to Greece, $100,000,000 to Russia, $25,000,000 to Ethiopia and $5,000,000 to Albania. All of it is payable within seven years.

The other treaties, in brief, provide: Bulgaria—No loss of territory; $70,000,000 in reparations. Armed forces limited to 65,000 men, 7,250 tons of warships, 90 planes.

Finland—Losses port and province of Petsamo to Russia and gives Russia a 50-year lease on Perkkala-udd for naval base; $300,000,000 in reparations, all to Russia; armed forces limited to 41,500 men, 19,000 tons of warships, 60 planes.

Hungary—Losses Transylvania to Romania; $200,000,000 in reparations, $200,000,000 to Russia, $50,000,000 to Yugoslavia and $50,000,000 to Czechoslovakia; armed forces limited to 70,000 men, 90 planes.

Romania—Losses Bessarabia to Russia; $300,000,000 in reparations, all to Russia; armed forces limited to 138,000 men, 15,000 tons of warships and 90 planes.

world peoples who perhaps are the greatest potential threats to global peace.

" Astonishingly as it may sound, the most important big powers are distinctly closer to each other than they were in the Twenties," Lie said. "Some of the problems have been taken in hand by the former colonial peoples through nationalistic movements for liberation. Here, perhaps, lie the greatest possibilities for conflict today."

FAITH TESTS
HALL STATION, Ga., Sept. 15. (AP)—With an oak for a pulpit and the sky as a church canopy, some 200 hill folk worshipped God by groveling in the dust of a north Georgia pasture Sunday and shouting approval of evangelists who bid them take up snakes or drink poison "as faith" tests.

Assistant Director To Visit State Markets
JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 15. (Special)—G. B. Hogan, assistant Director of State Markets, in Jacksonville for some days after an extensive vacation motor trip through the central and Western states, indicated plans to visit a number of the 27 active units in the Florida State Markets system, within the next few weeks.
