SANFORD - A security guard involved in the fatal shooting of a teenager is at the center of a lawsuit filed by a Boynton Beach woman.

Patricia M. Hartwig filed an amended lawsuit in June claiming she was battered and falsely arrested in October 2000 by a Parisian department store security guard named Bryan Ansley of Sanford. Ansley is the same man involved in a fatal shooting in July at Country Lake Apartments in Sanford.

Hartwig has sued Parisian Inc., after an incident that took place at the Seminole Towne Center store on Oct. 21, 2000.

She alleges that Ansley identified himself as a Sanford police officer, and that he verbally assaulted her, and grabbed and handcuffed her in the parking lot outside the store.

Hartwig also said Ansley held her inside the store where he shoved her against a wall.

Ansley did not return two messages left on his Nextel answering service. Parisian filed a defense document saying Hartwig conducted herself "negligently and carelessly" causing or at least contributing to her injuries.

The store said third parties not under its control caused the "damages" claimed by Hartwig. Parisian attorney Terry D. Dixon of DeLand said he did not want to comment on the case.

Ansley is now the co-owner of Community Enforcement, a Lake Mary-based security business hired by Country Lake Apartments to guard the premises.

An incident at the apartment complex is being investigated by state and

In the early morning hours of July 16, Ansley and employee William Swofford, shot into a car full of young men, killing Travares McGill, 16.

According to the lawsuit brought by Hartwig, she had driven to Seminole Towne Center to meet her daughter, Amy. Hartwig, who describes herself in the lawsuit as a white, female Christian, brought a young black Gospel singer with her because she was transporting him from a rehearsal.

The young man went into Parisians, but Hartwig decided to wait in the parking lot because of problems with an ovarian cyst. While waiting, she said she saw the young man running fast

Several construction companies are playing the waiting game after three arrests in Lake County led to a home filled with stolen property from construction home sites.

At least 10 different home sites in Sanford may have been the victims of brothers Ricky Shelhorse and Shawn Shelhorse, and their brother-in-law Jamey Hamilton, all of Volusia County.

The three were arrested Sunday night, after an off duty Lake County Deputy Sherilf observed one of the males drop off the other two at a residence under construction in the Mt. Plymouth community.

The three men were in a stolen van, from Volusia County, that was pulling a trailer. In the van there was a brand new stove and in

SEMINOLE SUMMARY A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

John G. Roberts Jr., the president's nominee for chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, has been praised for his intellect and in-depth knowledge of the high court's history. But I'm betting he wouldn't recognize the name S.D. McGill. Most folks wouldn't, even here in McGill's hometown of Sanford. McGill might not be a household name, but his accomplishments in the courtroom helped create an important legal precedent that Americans will easily recognize - the Miranda rights.

Simuel Decatur McGill was born in Quincy, Fla. He moved to Central Florida with his brother Nathan when his mother remarried the Rev. A.E. Irvin, a Methodist minister and shoemaker who lived on the northwest corner of 8th Street and Hickory Avenue in the Georgetown community. That house still stands, as does the workshop Irvin built to accommodate his craft.

McGill went to college at Edward Waters College in Jacksonville, graduating in 1902. He earned his law degree from Boston University in 1907 and returned to lacksonville to start his practice. In addition to offering his services to the black community, McGill worked closely with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) to advocate civil rights. McGill's legal talents helped abolish execution by hanging in the state of Florida during the mid-1920s.

But it was an incident in Pompano Beach that led McGill's biggest accomplishment. An elderly white man, Robert Darcy, was robbed and murdered on Saturday, May 13, 1933. In response to community outrage, the sheriff arrested as many as 40 black men. For a week the men were questioned and cross-examined by deputies. None of the men were allowed to speak to attorneys or family members, and deputies eventually narrowed their focus on four men. After an all-night vigil during which nearly a dozen officers besieged each man individually with "persistent and repeated questioning," the four confessed to the murder.

McGill was contacted to represent the "Four Pompano Boys." Not surprisingly, the four were convicted and sentenced to death, based solely on their correct confessions. For nine years McGill shepherded the case through the appeals process. Some legal his-lorians credit Thurgood Marshall, the first black man to serve on the U.S. Supreme Court, with winning the freedom of the Four Pompano Boys. But it was actually McGill who argued the case before the Supreme Court in 1940 (Chambers v. State of Florida 309 U.S. 227). Marshall, working as part of the NAACP Defense Fund, assisted McGill with the case.

Justice Hugo Black, a former member of the Alabama Ku Klux Klan, wrote the majority opinion that reversed the case and led to the four men being freed in 1942. "Due process of law, preserved for all by our Constitution, commands that no such practice as that disclosed by this record shall send any accused to his death," Black wrote. "No higher duty, no more solemn responsibility, rests upon this Court, than that of translating into living law and maintaining this constitutional shield deliberately planned and inscribed for the benefit of every human being subject to our Constitution - of whatever race, creed or persuasion." Beyond the obvious impact of clearing the names of four innocent men who were sentenced to death, McGill's victory had long term effects. The Chambers precedent, when combined with other cases (most notably Escobedo v. Illinois 378 U.S. 478) led to the Supreme Court in 1966 establishing what we now know as the Miranda rights (Miranda v. Arizona 384 U.S. 386). "Since Chambers v. Florida, this Court has recognized that coercion can be mental as well as physical, and that the blood of the accused is not the only hallmark of an unconstitutional inquisition." Chief Justice Earl Warren wrote in the Miranda verdict. McGill's name will most likely never become as prominent as Roberts', who is expected to be confirmed next week as the 17th chief justice of the Supreme Court. However, it's McGill's legacy of securing protection for those unjustly accused that Roberts must strive to uphold during his tenure on the nation's highest court.

Lake County Sheriff's Office spokesperson Christie Mysinger said they believe that the items found in the van and trailer were stolen from other houses under construction in the Sorrento Springs subdivision at CR 437 and SR 44, where at least three burglaries were discovered by investigators.

After a preliminary investigation earlier this week, deputies found that two of the men had a home in Deltona. The Volusia County Sheriff's Office obtained a search warrant on 1166 Manitoba Street and discovered the house was packed with stolen property, Brandon Haught, spokesperson for the Volusia County Sheriff's Office said.

The Sheriff's Office found brand new appliances and building materials such as tools, bathtubs, cement mixers, new doors and windows, and sinks. They said there was stolen property packed into almost every room in the house.

All this week investigators were going through the burglary reports from construc-

Several construction company superintendents and construction managers, who top; a $400 maroon cabinet; are building homes in Sanford, said Thursday that they are still waiting.

We have not been notified," Stan Steele, a superintendent for Crosswinds is from his site. Homes, Inc., said.

Steele reported two missing doors on Sept. 19, 2005 worth $1,500. He also reported an ivory bathroom sink worth $300 stolen back in mid-August from another home site in Sanford. When the sink was removed from the property the water line was cut which caused a flood throughout the residence. "We're waiting," Steele said.

When he was told that several other builder's from at least 10 different home sites in Sanford were also waiting to hear about their stolen proper-ty, he said: "It's astronomical."

Reggio Luciano, a superintendent for US Homes, also reported stolen property from a home site in Sanford that caused flooding.

Luciano reported that in addition to an ivory faucei worth $300, a $2,000 G.E. double stack oven; a $1,000 cook top; a $1,000 granite counter and a $200 G.E. water heater were all stolen. Luciano is also still waiting for a phone call to find out if any of the recovered property

"They [the burglars] came in: they took what they took; and hacksawed the sinks right off the wall and left the water running," Luciano said.

According to Luciano, theft is common at construction sites, but not to this extent. But, he's not getting worked up over it, he said.

'That's what insurance is for," Luciano commented.

Luciano had another home site in Sanford that had a $2,000 gas fireplace stolen from another construction site in the beginning Aug. 8, 2005. Haught said that they have been able to match some of the stolen property to its rightful owner. He said that the first victim who came by said he just recovered $10,000 worth of property. Right now, Sheriff's offices are going through their burglary reports from the past several months and contacting the victims to see if they can identify any of the stolen property.

OPINION

Are you REALLY healthy?

Let me preface this by emphasizing that I am not a doctor, and am in no way connected with the medical profession, (other than making visit after visit). But this is about being sick - and not knowing it.

Someone recently asked a Herald staff member why so many of the persons listed in the obituaries are in their 50s. As the person who writes these obits, I know that this is the case. In this past mid-week edition of the Herald, three of the 12 names listed were in their 50s. Two were under 50, and two were exactly 60. That's more than half who were 60 or younger.

Nick Pfeifauf

I have an opinion on this, and possibly folks will agree. When we have youngsters, we take them to the doctor often, even if there are no signs of medical problems. We just want to be certain they are healthy. Once they are older, unless they get sick or have an injury, we don't seem to bother anymore.

When we, ourselves, reach into the 40's and older, we have a tendency to feel we are invincible. We feel healthy, so why go to a doctor for a checkup? Or, in some cases, we avoid the doctors, because we don't want to know if there is some medical problem that may cause difficulties in the years ahead. The problem with this is that many folks may have some problem which could be thwarted if found early enough. If we were to find out that there is a problem, which might be averted, no one wants to end up taking four, six, ten, even more pills each day. This is a bother, and in many cases, extremely costly.

Some, in an effort to be as healthy as possible, take to jogging, walking, blke riding, some form of exercising, possibly going to a gym, watching what we eat or drink, stop smoking, use sunscreen at the beach, and other activities which will lead you to believe you are as healthy as can be. These are all good. But still, even persons who work as hard as possible to be healthy are capable of contracting some disease. After all, many of our diseases are carried over from generation to gener-ation, and there is little we can do about that. One problem which is difficult to handle is the lack of medical insurance. If those who have some form of insurance were to find out what it costs to visit a doctor (something they would have to pay themselves without insurance), we would probably get sick from just knowing that.

"I'm in good shape physically, why go to a doctor? They'll just find some problem and we'll end up on medication for the rest of our lives." Could that be what you have told yourself?

To add a personal comment, my sister, in advanced age, refused to visit a doctor until she had serious medical problems. They found she had problem, which, if known earlier, might have been solved. Yet, she waited and waited - too long - and finally, when she went to the doctor, it was too late. I lost her this past January. Don't sit around and act healthy - have a medical checkup and find out if you really are healthy. It doesn't matter if you are in your 30s, 40s, 50s or older - there is no specific age during which you become unhealthy. If you simply don't what to know that you have a problem, think of your family and friends, and do it for them. After all, they care about your health too.

Professor: World's longest-running constitution performing just fine

Sept. 17 was the 218th birthday of the longest-running constitution in world history, and Constitution Week runs through Sept. 23. To help us celebrate, we called up stitutional law, the First Steigerwald Amendment and the ......

American presidency. Gormley, who wrote "Archibald Cox: Conscience of a Nation" in 1998, is currently working on a major book about the constitutional and legal highlights — and lowlights — of the Clinton presidency.

O: How is our Constitution holding up at age 218?

A: It really is holding up remarkably well when you stop and think about what in the past five or six years we've been through as a country: the impeachment trial of a president; a contested presidential election; an attack on U.S. soil on 9/11; a war in foreign territory; the death of our chief justice; the flood and destruction of a major U.S. city, which we would never have imagined. And despite all that, we're all still standing and working together and resolving legal issues that flow from all of these things through the three branches of our government.

Constitution that don't apply to many of us unless we are the president or a United States senator like him. Having a written constitution, of course, was a revolutionary idea at the time. Great Britain's constitution was unwritten. France's was really just a statement of general purpose. Having this Constitution and adding the Bill of Rights to spell out the rights and liberties we all have was rather a dramatic thing itself. When you look at those rights, they talk about equality and equal protection and due process under the law, and really it's all of the best virtues that we consider exist in a just society, and that's what we hope to be.

Q: Do you think Supreme Court nominee John Roberts is likely to change the court in any substantial way?

A: Well, we have to see who gets appointed along with him. That's a bigger question. But I think he has the ability to have a great influence on the Supreme Court.

He's a remarkably talented, gifted individual, and he

The Framers were certainly leery of returning to an aristocracy.

working together. I think the John Roberts we're going to see as chief justice is actually going to be even more of a centrist than the John Roberts we might have seen as an associate justice, and he is going to be really good at pulling the court together.

Q: If any of the Framers were to return to Earth, would they be appalled or pleased by the growth in size and power of the execu-tive branch, especially when it comes to war-making powers?

A: I don't think that they'd necessarily be surthat the president was

Q: What should we average, non-law professor citizens know - at a minimum about the Constitution's role and its importance to preserving our freedoms?

A: One of the most important things that I saw in law practice and that you see even in these debates over the Supreme Court confirmation processes is that you can't use the Constitution as a political ball to kick around and use for political purposes. It applies to everyone, and everyone gets to use it in the same way, whether you are poor or are the best lawyer in the state. You have to remember that this Constitution really is designed for everyone. In the abstract, it is easy to try to take it away from some copie, but when you apply it to real cases that touch your life, all of a sudden you can see the great importance of why we have it.

Another thing - the Constitution is not something that is meant to be left to a thumbs-up or thumbsdown vote of a group of Americans at one time. In

Stressed Out? Find Out Why,

Q: Sen. Robert Byrd, a big fan of the Constitution, and the inventor of Constitution Week, has said that it defines Americans. Do you have any sense of what he means by that?

A: I suppose that he is primarily referring to the Bill of Rights, because there are lots provisions in the seems to have the stuff of a person who is going to be really good at building consensus and respecting the court as an institution. That you can call "conservative" in the old-fashioned sense. You can also call that a "judge's judge," someone who is looked upon highly by others in the profession because he or she is able to put the institution of the courts first. I think he is going to be in that mold. Roberts is really young, so he is going to have the ability to nurture people along with him as he goes. People forget this, but by definition, a chief justice tends to moderate himself. They have to do that in order to bring harmony to the body, in order to get opinions through when you have a lot of justices a very powerful figure in our system, because I think that is what they envisioned. And I certainly don't think they would think the Supreme Court would be more powerful than the president. But probably the greatest surprise would be the president's power in relationship to Congress, because most likely they would have envisioned that Congress would have ended up being the most powerful branch. The Framers were certainly leery of returning to an aristocracy, which is exactly what they had fought a revolution to get rid of. So I think they would have been wary of presidents gathering up too much power for themselves, certainly at the expenses of other branches of govern-fact, it's designed to protect us from ourselves, primarily. Just because a majority of people at one time may say blacks shouldn't go to school with whites, that doesn't mean that is what the Constitution tells us.

The most important thing, I guess, is that the Constitution is supposed to last for a long period. It's lasted for 218 years and to get us to another 218 years, it has to be treated with respect. We can not allow ourselves to start taking USAToday polls on every issue and think that should trump the Constitution.

toward her chased by Ansley who held what looked like a gun. The young man, Prevo Larry Clark, jumped in the car. Hartwig said Ansley yelled racially discriminating curse words, so she drove a short distance away. Near the Olive Garden restaurant, Clark exited the car saying the man chasing him was a police officer.

"I felt it was my duty to drive back to the store and talk to the police about what had happened since I only knew this young man through his playing for churches," Hartwig wrote in a signed statement for the lawsuit.

When she returned to the parking lot, Ansley identified himself as a Sanford police officer, Hartwig said. She asked if he was related to former Sanford police officer Mark Ansley. She had known the elder Ansley who had helped train her dog. Bryan Ansley replied that he was Mark Ansley's son, Hartwig said.

She told Ansley she needed to use the bathroom because of bleeding caused by the cyst, but when she exited the car, Ansley grabbed, twisted and handcuffed her wrists, according to Hartwig's account.

Hartwig asked why she had been handcuffed and said Ansley yelled expletives at her and told her to, "Start walking!" She claims he walked her through Parisians in front of customers and locked her in a room. An assistant manager told Hartwig she could not help her because Ansley was in charge. Hartwig was left alone with Ansley, according to her narrative.

She said she begged Ansley to let her at least go to the bathroom as he repeatedly entered and exited the locked room. She claims Ansley shoved her against the wall and said: "Until that n---- comes back I won't let you talk to anybody."

Hartwig said she passed out and hit her head. When she came to she yelled to a Parisian employee to call 911. She reports that a Sanford police officer named James Norman, who no longer works for the department, argued with Ansley that he should let her go immediately.

"He also asked Bryan Ansley was there any Parisian property taken out of the store and Bryan said no," Hartwig recounted. She was finally released, but she saw Clark, the young black man, in the next room.

She said Clark was distraught and tried to strangle himself.

"The police then took Prevo, as far as we knew, to Baker Act him," Hartwig said in her account. "Until this day I still have nightmares and panic attacks when I get in confined places with people I don't know."

She also said she wants counseling for herself and her family. Her daughter, Amy, also wrote an account of what she witnessed.

A security officer told Amy and her brother, Michael, at about 6:30 p.m., that their mother had been part of a theft. She said the officer told her at one point to leave the premises or he would lock her in the room with her mom.

"Then Prevo shows up saying that mom had nothing to do with it, it was just him, and that she had no idea, ..." Amy said. She added her mom was not released until about 9:15 p.m.

One of Hartwig's attorneys, Larry Hanks of Fern Park, said the law requires Parislan to immediately call authorities in this case. He said Sanford police did not receive a call until 8:04 p.m. and dispatched an officer at 8:41

Hanks said Clark never took any items out of the store. He said Ansley caught up to him between the double doors, but only managed to rip off Clark's shirt.

As far as Hanks knows, Ansley was a security guard employed by Parisian. Hanks said the store used its own security personnel instead of the mall's

"We know that at the time, he was their employee," Hanks said Thursday. He also said Ansley was the same person involved in the July 16 shooting at Country Lake Apartments.

During that incident, Ansley and Swofford approached a car driven by McGill, who did not own the car and did not have a driver's license.

The car had at least three other passengers. Police reports said McGill saw the guards and then backed into a passenger who had just exited the car breaking his leg. Ansley and Swolford told police that McGill drove toward them and they opened fire. Two 9 mm bullets his McGill, one pierced his heart, killing him.

For McGill's relatives and the Seminole County Branch of the NAACP, Ansley and Swofford's stories about the July 16 shooting do not make sense.

McGill's mother and the NAACP have called for a threejudge panel to look into the matter. They also want the guards arrested.

The Sanford Police Department and the Florida Department of Law Enforcement have yet to turn an investigation report over to State Attorney Norm Wolfinger. Police Chief Brian Tooley and a representative from Wolfinger's office answered questions about the shooting at a town hall meeting in Sanford Sept. 13.

The Way We Were:

Temple existed under Hyman

Last week I told you about one of the two acquisitions that First Baptist Church had received recently that has helped fill the gaps of its history. This was the souvenir program from the opening of the Baptist Temple on Nov. 14, 1914.

I should have explained then about "The Baptist Temple". The church was incorporat-ed as First Baptist Church in 1917, but under the pastorate of the Rev. George Hyman, the church building was called the Baptist Temple, Rev. Hyman envisioned the building being used as a sort of cultural arts center, with outstanding speakers, musical programs, etc. being presented there for the community. An Indication of how the membership felt about his grandiose ideas was shown then, two months after, Hyman resigned in 1922. The congregation voted to drop the Baptist Temple name, and everything now would be First Baptist Church. The church would also have no further connection with the Temple club.

The other item recently received is a copy of several pages of the Dec. 24, 1920 edition of the Sanford Herald that tells of the first service in the new auditorium on Dec. 26. This was found by Karen Jacobs, museum director of the Museum of Seminole County History, and Remember that this auditorium had been built onto the Sunday School section that had been completed in 1914. And remember also that the building was still called the Baptist Temple.

The Church had a copy of the front page of this edition of the Herald and I had used the information found there extensively in my book, especially the reminisces of Mrs. E.E. Cox, charter member, I also used information found there on the organ baptistery, builders, etc. The program from the first service held in the new auditorium on Dec. 26, 1920 was on that front page and I placed it in the book.

The other pages recently found, gave us further information on the church and I will give you some items you might find interesting. I am printing them just as they appeared in

Temple Lecture Course

Each year there is a lecture course put on at the Baptist Temple. This part of the work of the church has proven not only successful but also inspirational to the many attendants. This year, 1921, will bring the following:

Dr. Stephen Wise, the most renowned Jewish Rabbi in America.

Dr. Clifford Anderson Owens, eloquent and forceful preacher and lecturer. Hon. Ralph Parlette, on "The University of

Stetson's Corner Geneva reaches out

Last week I talked about prayer, reflection, and action, and I'm happy to report there. is much action in Geneva, especially from the church community. This is not a complete list, but one that inspires us to be ......

the blessing of pets, not chas-ing of pets!). Horses, mules, guinea pigs, cats, dogs, birds, etc are welcome. As we have watched Hurricane Katrina evacuees ache for their lost or missing pets, we hold our own even tighter with love and appreciation.

Pastor Jeanine is a busy leader of Geneva's United like to donate to the Methodist Church and has Hurricane Relief fund, please new and ongoing activities for the community and beyond. Every Wednesday evening from 5pm to 6:30pm anyone can stop by for a delicious dinner at the Methodist Church. $4 adults, $3 seniors, and $2 children will secure you a fantastic home cooked meal, lots of genuine fellowship, and even musical entertainment by Mary Jo and Mal-Martin playing the dulcimer and harmonica. Pastor Jeanine plays a mean autoharp as well! Her church is also collecting for Hurricane Katrina victims, and has adopted a church in Gulfport, Mississippi. If you would like Gulfport, to contribute you can drop off donations at the side porch of the church. They are in need of non perishable food, blankets, diapers(both kids and adult), water, and linens-noclothes at this time. Halloween is coming, and one of our favorite upcoming events will be United Methodist's Pumpkin Patch, which will be from October 15th thru October 31rst. You may have noticed the sign outside the old Baptist Church for Iglesia de Dios Pentecostal. Pastor Hugo Garcia Services holds services there in Spanish on Saturday and Sunday evenings at 7 pm. If you have any questions, call him at 321-239-0681. First Baptist Church of Geneva is quite a busy congregation as well. # Surprise party honors Kendell Scott

It was a surprise retirement to honor a great guy, brother, husband, father, friend and classmate, Saturday evening, Sept. 17 at the Woman's Club of Sanford. The retirement dinner cele-bration was for Kendell V. Scott, who was indeed surprised that the evening's celebration was in his honor and hosted by his family.

Mistress of Ceremonies for the occasion was his baby sister Edna Scott-Hunter, who displayed her many talents and great love for her favorite brother.

Dawn Stallworth extended the welcome and the occasion for over 50 family members and guests in attendance.

Carlton says his father has been his flight director through life, his co-pilot, his ground crew and he thanked his dad for the lessons of life he has taught him. A very passionate prayer was given by Elder Eva Scott-Phillips. The Allen's Angels of praise present-ed a praise dance. Kenya, Kayla and Karen Moore danced to the spiritual tunes "We Come into Your Presence" and "The Storm is Over Now". "Hello, This is God", a reading, was given by Eartha Scott-Joseph. Bishop Karl Scott-Redmond gave the blessing of the delicious dinner served and enjoyed by all.

A tribute to her "Hero" was pan-tomimed by Edna Scott-Hunter. Tributes for a dad and granddad were given by daughter Teran Gaines

Miss Sara Mardre, Noted Musician

The First Baptist Church is to be congratulated on being able to secure Miss Sara Mardre of Atlanta as the pipe organist for the Temple. For some time she has been the accompanist for Mr. Charlie Butler who was with Billy Sunday. She gives up this work to come to Sanford where she will teach piano and pipe organ and play the organ on Sundays for the Church.

Prior to this she was a teacher in Cox College and did pipe organ work with the Atlanta Conservatory of Music. For three summers she was the accompanist for Miss Lucy Adams at the University of Tennessee.

Already the enrollment of students for both piano and pipe organ is encouraging. Those desiring lessons from this talented teacher will do well to enroll at an early date. She comes to Sanford January 1st.

The Pulpit Furniture

The beautiful set of pulpit and communion furniture has been presented to the Church by the friends and relatives of George and Philo Fox. The set is composed of nine pieces and has been specially built. It will bear a memorial nameplate. A delay in shipping will necessitate the opening of the Church without this set. It will arrive about January 1st.

The Pews and carpets

The pews of the new auditorium are well built and beautifully made. The arrangement is such that a person may see and hear as well in one part of the house as the other. The Ladies Aid of which Mrs. A.M. Walker is the president bought the pews.

The carpet is of the shade of brown that harmonizes with the woodwork of the interior which is dark oak. The carpet was bought through Kohn Futchgott of Jacksonville.

CORRECTION

In my Sept. 11 column, the cost for the three volumes of the Times union books containing Sanford information was incorrect. The correct cost is $42.80, including tax. Each of the other books are $26.75 and a set of all four books, six volumes, is $123.05.

Augusta Brown, Jr., an old fishing pal of the honoree entertained the audience with "Bound for the Gloryland" with the sounds from his harmonical being a choo choo train.

This was a great lead-in to various words of love, encouragement, congratulations and thank yous to the honoree. Words came from sisters Edna, Eva, Thelma, Eartha, brothers (Sonny Willie) Karl, Berbino Lahens, Jr., Dr. Willie Sherman, Evangelist Frances Oliver, former teacher Earl E. Minott. Each of these shared their old memories of an awesome good-looking guy.

Highlighting the grand occasion was recognition of this guy, who, for 32 years, has worked for CSX Railroad Co. where, for over 30 years, he was one of the first Black engineers for CSX. Now retired, Scott says he plans to travel with his lovely wife Ruth Ann and enjoy visiting many historical cities.

Alton Jenkins, the CSX First Black manager, presented Scott with a plaque and a gold watch for his dedicated 32 years of service to CSX Railroad Company. After this surprise recognition, Scott's lovely wife presented her husband, and he was accepted with plenty of love and a standing ovation by the audience.

Kardell V. Scott, the guest of honor, expressed his appreciation, thanks and love for the surprise of his lifetime. His family is a great part of his life and he says he is devoted to them and his love will continue to grow, expressing his thanks for all who shared this joyous occasion with him and his family. Quarterback Tyler Crockett ran for a pair of touchdowns in his first action in the regular season as host Oviedo over-came an early deficit to upset previous-ly unbeaten Winter Park, 21-14, at John Courier Field on Friday. Crockett, who had not played since being injured in the preseason, was 8-for-15 for 91 yards passing and scored the go-ahead score on a 12-yard run in the second quarter and added the clinching score in the fourth quarter as the Lions improved to 4-1. The Wildcats (4-1) scored on pass on the second play of the game, but Oviedo tied the game on a 59-yard punt return by Charlie Koepsell, setting the stage for Crockett. Sophomore Garrett Wilkins led the Lions with 120 yards rushing and the Oviedo defense was stifling. Winter Park's other score came on a fumble in the end zone. Seminole had to go to overtime for the second straight week, losing to Oviedo last Friday at home, but the results were in the Tribe's favor this time as they edged Lake Howell, 21-14, at Richard L. Evans Field. In other games, The Master's Academy lost to Florida School for the Deaf, 14-8, on Thursday; Lake Brantley got back in the win column with a 34-7 thumping of Centennial; Pine Castle Christian defeated Trinity Prep, 24-15; and Temple Christian ended and Temple Christian ended Orangewood Christian's one-game winning streak, 35-20.

Winter Springs rallies

Bears overcome Lyman's big lead

By Tony DeSormier Special to the Herald

WINTER SPRINGS -According to Coach Steve Katz, his Winter Springs Bears had to have Friday night's 20-17 come-frombehind win over the visiting Lyman Greyhounds.

"It's a matter of them having beaten us the last two years," said Katz while receiving passionate congrat-ulations from family, friends, players, and Winter Springs staff.

"We needed to come out and beat a great football team. And Lyman is a great football team. We needed to tough out a win like this to help us grow up. Our best football is still ahead of us."

Winter Springs struck first Friday, converting a Lyman fumble into a touchdown at 6:53 of the first quarter when Matt McKinnon found Lars Anderson with a 4-yard pass.

The rest of the half, however, belonged to the Greyhounds as they rolled off 17 consecutive points. After Jeremy Drayton tied the score with an 8-yard run, Nick Sophomore Taylor Salem (above) came off the bench to throw for 110 yards and two touchdowns over the final 16:35, including the game-winning pass to Lars Anderson (right), who caught two scoring tosses on the night, with 31-seconds left, giving host Winter Springs a come-from-behind, 20-17, victory over Lyman.

to eliminate mistakes if they were going to come back to beat Lyman, Katz saw his team commit a pair of penalties on its first possession before fumbling the ball directed the Bears to the win. Salem and Ashuwa Richardson hooked up on a 62-yard touchdown pass play in the third quarter to slice the deficit to three points.

Lyman coach Bill Caughell knew exactly how Katz felt last week when his Greyhounds defeated Lake Brantley for the first time in

"We had a huge win last week. But we've got to learn how to come back the next week, play well, and win again."

Yellow Jackets sting Lake Mary

By Dean Smith Herald Staff

LAKE MARY - Not to take anything away from the teams that Lake Mary had played earlier this season, but the Rams got a first-hand look at what a football powerhouse looks like on Friday.

Undefeated St. Augustine High School was nearly flawless, especially on offense, and displayed amazing team speed in roughing up Lake Mary, 48-21, in the Rams' Homecoming Game at Don T. Reynolds

Stadium Lake Mary did do something that no one else has been able to do this season, score more than once against the Yellow Jackets defense.

Kashif Vallot had an outstanding game for the Rams, tying the game at 7-7 on a 53yard gallop midway through the first quarter and finishing with at least 144 yards on 15 carries and scoring three touchdowns. The star senior also scored on runs of five and three yards. He also showed a tenacity and determination during runs that he has not always shown, breaking tackles and getting most of his yards after initial contact.

St. Augustine had opened the season with three straight shut outs, four counting the Kickoff Classic, including a 20-Victory over Oviedo two weeks ago, before finally giv-ing up six points in a 48-6 vic-tory last week. The Yellow Jackets are now 5-0 and have lost only once in the past two seasons, to The Bolles School in last year's Class 3A State Semifinals, and are ranked No. 3 in the Class 3A State Poll. All told they have outscored their foes, 170-27

But despite Vallot's impressive efforts, the Lake Mary defense could do nothing with the visitors' offense. St. Augustine scored on seven of its nine possessions and never punted or turned the ball over. The only times the Yellow Jackets didn't score was when they had the ball with less than a minute to go in each half.

The visitors went ahead to stay with 3:22 left in the first quarter on a 23-yard pass from Quinterrance Cooper to Jacquez Rickerson and the rout was on.

Brandon James scored twice in the second quarter for St. Augustine on runs of 10 and 76 yards to make the score 28-7 at half.

James then scored on a 71yard run on the third play of the third quarter and completed the scoring on a 34-yard run by Kevis Streeter and a 24-yard run by Cooper. Placekicker Caleb Sturgis who put all eight of his kick-offs deep into the end zone, nailed seven of eight extra points, only missing when a high snap resulted in a block. Lake Mary falls to 2-3 on the season and will host Seminole in a big Class 6A-District 2 game next Thursday at game next Indisday at Reynolds Stadium starting at 7 p.m. The Fighting Seminoles got their first win on Friday, 21-14 in overtime over Lake Howell, and both schools need this game desperately if they want to stay in the hunt for shot at the postseason.

Kashif Vallot (taking handoff from quarterback Sean Connolly) had a big night with almost 150 yards rushing and three touchdowns, but it wasn't enough as host Lake Mary was whipped by unbeaten

It was a banner day for the Seminole Athletic Conference last Saturday as Lake Brantley hosted one of the biggest prep swimming meets so far this season at the Lake Brantley Aquatics Center.

The results were especially good for the boys' teams as the SAC claimed five of the top six finishing positions, paced by champion Oviedo and the runner-up host Patriots. Winter Park broke up the monopoly with a third place finish, but the next three were county teams in Seminole, Lake Mary and Lyman. Winter Springs finished 13th in the 20 team field.

On the girls' side, perennial state power The Bolles School out of Jacksonville won the title with 326 points, but host Lake Brantley made a good showing, finishing second with 254 points, ahead of another state power in Riverview, which scored 189 points.

Winter Springs (10th), Lake Mary (13th), Oviedo (14th) and Seminole (20th) rounded out the local finishers.

The swimming season seems to be hitting full stride with several schools meeting in dual and tri-meets as they gear up for the postseason starting next month

The Oviedo boys had tuned up for the Patriots Invite by defeating both Lake Howell, 155-52, and Lyman, 160-123, in a tri-meet, while the Seminole boys had eased past Hagerty, 92-19, and Lake Mary outscored East Ridge, 98-77.

The girls' teams had also tuned up with Oviedo whipping Lake Howell, 209-68, Seminole almost doubling up Hagerty, 82-47, and Lake Mary rolling over East Ridge, 112-68.

The action slowed down a little this week as the only meet so far had the

It ended up being a good weekend for the county schools in the tournament, as Lake Mary finished third by besting Edgewater, 25-20 and 25-19, and Lake Howell ended up fifth, losing to Edgewater, 25-16 and 25-17, before topping East Ridge, 23-25, 28-26 and 15-4. The Saints ran their record to Oviedo won the first game, 25-22, but the Bears bounced back to even the match by winning the second game, 25-20. But the Lions prevailed in the tick-tight match, winning the final two games by the scores of 25-19 and 25-23.

Golf Channel today (Sept. 24). Kutz is one of 84 finalists in four age groups (7-8, 9-10, 11-12, and 13-14) who will vie for their respective titles at Eagle Creek Golf Club in Orlando. Contestant accommodations will be provided by Nickelodeon Family Suites by Holiday Inn in Kissimmee.

All finalists qualified from more than 35,000 participants in 105 communities across 39 states and Canada. "Congratulations to Alessandra for earning the chance to compete in Mutual of Omaha's Drive, Chip & Putt Junior Challenge finals in Orlando. We wish her the best of luck," said Mutual of Omaha Senior Vice President John Hildenbiddle.

* Putting: Each competitor will putt two balls-one five feet from the hole, the other 15 feet. The objective will be to sink the putts in as few strokes as possible, with a maximum of four putts per ball.

An hour-long national championships highlight show will be broadcast Thanksgiving Day at noon on The Golf Channel, Bright House Networks channel 58.

September 30 marks high and low points of Ruth's career

Complied by Nick Pfelfauf Staff Writer

This coming Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30th and Oct. lst, were interesting days in the life of George Herman "Babe" Ruth. We'll look at these events now, and next week.

It was Sept. 30, 1927 when the Babe, with the New York Yankees, hit his 60th home run of the season off Tom Zachary of the Washington Senators. Ruth's record for the most homers in a single season stood for 34 years until Roger Maris hit 61 in 1961. Maris held the record for 37 years, until Mark McGwire hit 62 home runs in a single season in 1998. Exactly seven years later, Sept. 30th, 1934, the Babe played his last game with the Yankees but apparently not yet realizing it would be his swan song. Following that game, apparently several days apparently several days later, he was watching the fifth game of the World Series between St. Louis and Detroit, when he learned that he was NOT to be named Yankees' manager. Angry, Ruth told Joe

Williams, sports editor of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, that after 15 seasons, if ihey didn't think he deserved the manager's position, he would no longer play for the Yankees. And he didn'tt

Ruth, also known as the "Bambino" and the "Sultan of Swat", died of cancer on Aug. 16, 1948 in New York City at the age of 53. He had hit 714 home runs in 22 years in the major leagues, and played in 10 World Serles

His body lay in state at the main entrance of Yankee Stadium, where people waited in hours to march past the coffin.

If you ask folks who remember the Babe, or who saw several movies made of his life, they will probably tell of the time when he is said to have pointed to the center field bleachers prior to a two and two pitch, then hit a homer winning a game against the Chicago Cubs. Did he actually point, or was it a story made up by the press? Next week, I'll give you the details as I have been able to find out on this matter.

UCF to host Marshall in Conference USA opener

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Playing in its Conference USA contest, UCP makes its 2005 home debut this evening (Saturday), hosting Marshall at the Citrus Bowl. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

The two squads are no strangers having met three times as members of the Mid-American Conference. UCF (0-2) will be seeking its first victory of the year while Marshall enters the game at 1-1.

The contest is the first of five UCF games that will be broadcast as part of CSTV's "All-Access package. Dish Network subscribers can view the game via pay-per-view. The broadcast will also be available on www.UCFathletics.com on a sub-scription basis. Fans call also call their local cable operators to see if the CSTV's "All-Access" is available

The UCP ISP Network and its flagship station 740-The Team AM (WQTM) will broadcast live from Orlando. Marc Daniels will once again have the call with Gary Parris. Jerry O'Neill will handle the sideline duties.

Fans looking for a more extensive preview, as well as Coach O'Leary's thoughts on Marshall this week, should tune into "The George O'Leary Show," which will air today at 1 p.m. on WESH-2. Prior to the game, members of the UCF volley-ball game will be on hand at the Citrus Bowl, collecting donations to aid the Hurricane Katrina relief effort. All contributions will be given directly to the United Way to help those in need following the storm.

Tickets for the game are still available and can be purchased at the Citrus Bowl.

ABOUT MARSHALL

Marshall opened the season with a 36-24 victory over William & Mary, but then fell at home to Kansas State on Sept. 19, 21-19. The team had a bye last weekend.

The Thundering Herd have a new head coach on the sideline as Mark Snyder, who served as a graduate assistant at UCF from 1989-90, takes over for Bob Pruett. Snyder comes to Marshall from Ohio State, were he worked for four years.

Despite the change on the sidelines for Marshall, UCF head coach George O'Leary does not expect many changes from the Thundering Herd

"He (Snyder) changed the defense some. That was his background at Ohio State," said O'Leary. "They are doing a little bit different coverage concepts. Offensively, they kept the same coordi-nator there, so they are very similar to what they were last year."

Offensively, Marshail is led by sophomore running back Ahmad Bradshaw, perhaps the team's most versatile player. Bradshaw, who is a Doak Walker Award candidate, averages 65 rushing yards and 53 receiving yards per game and also leads the team with four touchdowns. Marshall has used two quarterbacks in both of their games so far this year, and both have played extremely well. So far, Jimmy Skinner and Bernie Morris have combined to complete 61.5 percent of their passes for 575 yards and three touchdowns. Both are expected to see time under center this week.

The team remains without top receiver Emanuel Spann, who is still recovering from offseason knee surgery. Spann is expected to return to action within the coming weeks. Hiram Moore and Wilbur Hargrove have filled in nicely at the receiver position, with each averaging over 70 receiving yards per game.

The UCF Golden Knights and quarterback Steven Moffett (NO. 9, above) will make history this evening (Saturday), hosting Marshall in the first Conterance USA contest for UCF.

On the defensive side of the football, strong safety Curtis Keyes leads the team with 27 total tackles on the year. Defensive end Shavar Greer paces the team in sacks with 2.5 through two games. As a unit, Marshall is giving up over 180 yards on the ground per game, but only 165 yards through the air. In the loss to Kansas State, the Marshall defense surrendered 21 points in a 12 minute span, but shut out the Wildcats for the remaining 41 minutes of the ballgame.

ABOUT UCF UCF is coming off of a 31-14 loss to host USF last week. The Golden Knights have claimed four of their last five home openers. On offense, quarterback Steven Moffett has utilized the services of wideouts Mike Walker and Lake Howell graduate Brandon Marshall. Walker has hauled in 14 catches for 175 yards and one score while Marshall also has 14 recep tions for 141 yards and one touchdown. On the season, Moffett has completed 46-of-79 attempts for 466 yards and two scores. Against the Bulls, Moffett led UCF on the ground with 50 yards. A pair of linebackers - Ronnell Sandy and James Cook - led the Golden Kidghts with 14 total tackles. Defensive back Travonti Johnson totaled six stops against USF. Cornerback Joe Burnett, a true freshman, shined against the Bulls. Defensively, he had four total tackles, including two for loss. Burnett also returned tow punts for 77 yards, highlighted by a 60-yard return that set up UCF's first touchdown.

Lauren Williams led the Tribe with nine kills and 10 digs and she got plenty of help from Ashiey Traina (nine kills, four digs), Jade Voltoline (seven kills, three digs) and Alyson Kovacs (25 assists, two blocks, three digs).

But the serving errors returned the next night as Seminole fell to the Patriots (9-6), 25-23, 25-17, 20-25 and 25-20, with Bergen getting six kills and Gardner digging up 18 shots for Lake Braniley.

"We missed 11 of our 72 serves," said Corso. "We fought hard in the third and fourth games, but we could not overcome our mistakes to win."

Except for the serving, the Tribe did well, attacking the ball 94 times with Williams getting 13 kills and Traina seven kills and Kovacs bumping up

The Noles' defense wasn't bad either with five block solos, six block assists and 48

The Master's Academy (11-5) won twice this week, dumping Edgewood, 25-19, 25-19 and 25-14, with Knapp serving seven aces and Smith pounding down four kills, and Father Lopez (1-10), 25-13, 25-19 and 25-18, with Weaver getting eight kills and serving four aces and Morris getting six kills and nine assists.

Lake Mary Prep (6-2) bounced back from a couple of tough losses to rip Trinity Christian, 25-13, 25-15 and 25-13, with Tailor Jones getting 11 kills, Dickens 14 assists and M. Jones six service aces.
