

Roosevelt Urges More Even Split Of Public Income

Says Millions In Dis- tress Won't Stand By With Necessities Within Their Reach

ATLANTA, May 23.—(A.P.)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, demanding a "wise and more equitable" distribution of the national income, warned in a speech here last night that "millions in want will not stand by silently forever while the things to satisfy their needs are within their reach."

The New York executive, far ahead in the race for delegates, to the Democratic National Convention, with the Chicago meeting scarcely a month away, responded in an address at the Oglethorpe university commencement to "the exhortation of certain of his followers that he make a 'fighting bid' for the nomination."

Roosevelt, without no specific plan for redistribution of wealth, but he urged "bold persistent experimentation."

"It is common sense to take a method and try it," he said. "If it fails, admit frankly and try another; but above all try something."

The governor said "we need to experiment by drastic means if necessary, the faults in our economic system from which we now suffer."

"We need the courage of youth," he contended, "the young men and women of Oglethorpe who were graduated. Roosevelt outlined the necessary degree of doctor of laws from the school."

"Roosevelt's warning of a threat of revolt against the present social order came at the close of a speech largely devoted to a discussion of the cause for the present depression."

AUTOPSY WILL BE HELD UPON BODY OF YOUNG CLARKE

Body Of Victim Will Be Disinterred On Request Of Counsel

MIAMI, May 23.—(A.P.)—Circuit Judge H. F. Atkinson today granted a motion that the body of Haden Clarke, alleged "love triangle" victim, will be disinterred and ordered an autopsy in an attempt to learn whether he took his own life or was murdered.

The motion was made by James Carson, attorney for Captain William Lancaster, former British aviator, who is held on a first degree murder charge in the case.

Mrs. Ida Clyde Clark, mother of the dead man, recently made a similar request.

Clarke, a young author, was mysteriously shot Apr. 21 in the bedroom he and Lancaster occupied in the home of Mrs. Jessie Keith Miller, Australian aviatrix and fiancée of Clarke, and former fiancée and flying partner of Lancaster.

The aviatrix and Lancaster both claim Clarke took his own life. Lancaster's trial is set for July 5. Disinterment of the body and autopsy will be made at the convenience of a commission of local physicians.

3600 Are Believed Eligible To Vote In Coming Primaries

All records for a single day's payment of poll tax in Seminole County were broken when on Saturday afternoon 547 persons were issued receipts for their 1933 or 1931 taxes.

Tax Collector Jno. D. Jenkins and his assistants were busy today checking small payments which had come in since Friday. They expect to be through with this procedure by tomorrow morning.

All poll tax payments sent in by mail from county precincts are to be accepted providing they bear a post-mark stamped before midnight Saturday, Mr. Jenkins said.

From all indications there may be approximately 3600 eligible voters in this county out of 4155 persons registered. There are approximately 1100 exempt voters. Poll tax receipts numbering 2588 had been issued at noon today, with every indication that this afternoon's mail will bring in at least 12 more or enough to make 2800 1931 poll tax payers. Of this number, about 100 receipts represent negro and Republican voters, so that at the present time there is an estimated number of 3000 eligible voters, one of the largest in recent years.

CONDON GOES ON MISSION IN KIDNAP CASE

Governor Moore Confirms Story That Capone Henchmen Made Proposition

HOPEWELL, May 23.—(A.P.)—While John Curtis, hoax negotiator in the Lindbergh kidnap case, awaited action of the grand jury today, Dr. John Condon, who paid $50,000-dollar ransom in futile hope of obtaining the baby's return, sped away on a mysterious journey.

Condon left his Bronx home in an automobile driven by a neighbor and later arrived at Great Barrington, Mass. He declined to reveal his destination, but said he planned to organize a search in that vicinity for kidnapers. He said he would probably go to Pittsburgh later today.

A Hunterdon county grand jury convened today but said testimony to be heard in two other murder cases almost precluded the possibility of reaching consideration of the faked negotiations with the Lindbergh baby kidnapers today.

Meantime Governor Moore confirmed reports that three weeks ago four reputed agents of Al Capone approached him at midnight with an offer to aid in the Lindbergh case. They told the

County Jail Break Is Prevented When Trusty Calls Cops

The sharp ears of a Seminole County jail trusty may have prevented a jail break which would have brought freedom to Bill Blunt and Carl Humphries, convicts now lodged in the county jail awaiting investigation by the grand jury tomorrow.

This trusty overheard a conversation between the two men, confined in the same cells at the jail, late Friday. They planned sawing their way out of the cell.

Saturday night at about 8:30 o'clock, sheriff's men, called by the trusty, discovered the two criminals trying to saw their way out upon searching the pair, four small blades were discovered, as well as two long pieces of iron, evidently to be used as weapons, wrenches from their cells.

Both men were immediately placed in separate cells where they will be well guarded until they can be investigated and tried by the jury.

Blunt, who has been held for his part in the attempted hold-up of Five Points Filling Station, on the Orlando road, some months ago, is said to be an escaped convict from Georgia.

Humphries, believed to be a member of a bandit-gang which has been terrorizing this section for many months, is an escaped convict from Escambia county, it is reported.

Japanese Commander In Shanghai Area Dies From Wounds Received In Blast

SHANGHAI, May 23.—(A.P.)—General Shirakawa, supreme commander of the Japanese army forces during the battle of Shanghai, died today of wounds received Apr. 29 when a bomb exploded during ceremonies celebrating the birthday of the emperor, Y. Kawabata, president of the Shanghai Japanese Residents Association also was fatally wounded by the explosion that also injured four other high Japanese officials.

TOKYO, May 23.—(A.P.)—Prospect of a strong national emergency cabinet headed by Admiral Viscount Makoto Saito, former governor of Korea, emerged yesterday from the welter of anxiety and bewilderment into which terrorism and the assassination of Premier Suoyoshi Inukai plunged Japan a week ago.

Accepting the advice of Prince Saionji, venerable political oracle, Emperor Hirohito summoned Admiral Saito to the palace yesterday and handed him a mandate to form a cabinet capable of guiding the nation through one of the gravest crises in history.

Admiral Saito, 74-year-old veteran of two careers—naval officer and pro-consul—is accounted one of the empire's ablest and most trusted administrators on the reputation he gained in two terms, totaling ten years, as governor general of Korea.

He was suggested for the premiership by Prince Saionji, sole survivor of the Genro, or elder statesmen, after four days of consultation with the nation's most powerful leaders.

DO-X Arrives In Spain On Flight Across Atlantic

VIGO, Spain, May 23.—(A.P.)—The 13-motored flying boat DO-X landed here last night at 7:40 (8:40 P. M. Eastern Standard time) for an overnight stop on its flight from the United States to Lake Constance, Switzerland.

The German seaplane was greeted by huge Sunday crowds as she circled the city several times before alighting in the harbor.

The ship made the fourth leg of its homeward flight from Huelva, Azores, in 40 minutes less than 12 hours, having left there at 8:20 A. M. Azores time (3:20 Eastern Standard time or 8:20 A. M. Greenwich Spanish time).

Many persons in small boats were permitted to inspect the craft as it lay in the harbor for the last projected leg of its flight. Fuel had been ready since Saturday, and was taken out to be put aboard during the evening.

The 14 persons aboard were taken off for a banquet given by the German colony, and later lodged in a hotel for the evening.

It was understood that Captain Christiansen planned to resume his journey a 9 A. M. today, although his decision was subject to any necessary last minute changes.

HOOVER FLAYS PROPOSAL FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Says Greater Relief Can Be Had By Giving Aid To "Income Producing Works"

WASHINGTON, May 23.—(A.P.)—President Hoover yesterday issued a slashing attack on proposals for huge public works financed by bond issues as a means of restoring normal employment in the country.

Without mentioning by name Democratic plans of this nature proposed in both the House and Senate, the President wrote Richard S. Parker, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, that "a larger and far more effective relief to unemployment at this stage can be secured by increased aid to income producing works."

Speaker Garner three days ago proposed a $1,000,000,000 bond issue for a governmental building program and on Friday the special Democratic relief committee of the Senate called for a $500,000,000 bond issue for public construction.

The President said government aid should be extended through balancing the budget; avoidance of issuing further government securities; continuation of the work of the Reconstruction Finance corporation; expansion of credit by the federal reserve organization; translation of these credits into actualities; and strengthening of the foundations of agriculture; continuation of public works that do not place a strain on the taxpayer; and the continuation of national community, and individual efforts in relief of distress.

Newer proposals included: The introduction of government work; passage of the home loan discount bank legislation already through Congress; loans to states through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for distress relief; and loans to private industry by the corporation for the development of income producing works throughout the country.

The President said that the "vice" in the proposals made by the engineering society for further expansion of public works is that "they include public works of remote usefulness."

He cited the loan by the Reconstruction Corporation to the Pennsylvania railroad for the electrification of its lines between New York and Washington as an example of productive development and the proposal to the House to loan $122,000,000 to the states for road building as "non-productive" public work.

"If it contemplated that we legislate more authorizations of new and uncompleted projects by Congress," he said, "we shall find ourselves confronted by a log-jamming process which will include dredging of mud creeks, building of unwarranted post-offices, unprofitable irrigation projects, duplicate highways and a score of other unjustifiable activities."

He maintained that employment on public works was mainly (Continued on Page Four)

Central Florida League Gets Away On Last Lap Of First Half Tomorrow

By PETER BCHAAL.

Central Florida League baseball play tomorrow afternoon finds six clubs starting toward the end of the first half pennant, two games away, with the Cocoa Indians leading the parade by a narrow margin over DeLand; Sanford and Daytona ready to step into DeLand's second-place shoes if they win tomorrow; New Smyrna, in fifth place, facing the task of stepping Daytona, winners of four straight; and Winter Park, under the new management of Huck Taylor, in last place, and facing the hardest task of the day, handing a defeat to Cocoa.

With the Cocoa-New Smyrna Thursday game rained out, it remains for the Sanford Feds to furnish the best game of the day. Buddy Lake's fine victory over Meck, the Winter Park ace who hurled three hit baseball. That game was one of the best seen in Sanford this season, and the victory, plus the return of two old leaguers, has given the Feds every reason to believe that they will be fighting it out for first half honors almost at once.

When Daytona whipped DeLand Thursday afternoon, an error mainly, fans throughout the circuit were again assured that the Islanders have come a long way since their disastrous early season performance. The Islanders won the game with four hits, while Lefty Lane was allowing the Feds 11, and shutting them out, 3 to 0.

Every game scheduled for Sunday has the earmarks of being a good one. Sanford will go to DeLand with a snappy ball club that has been immeasurably bolstered by the addition of Bert Chapman, former Red Sox catcher, and Ted Martin, sensational outfielder of the 1931 club. The Feds' infield, Barnes, Hack, Box, Pittman, and Collie Moore, the latter two, Lin-both having appeared in the same number of games, that race should be interesting.

DeLand still maintains the club batting lead, having pounded out 31 hits without a run Thursday. The Islanders dropped to fifth place again, with no other changes reported.

Durrance Says He Can Save Big Sum For County few, the former governors, and now they are concentrating on me," Mr. Durrance said. He added that the Democratic party in Florida faces a serious threat if either Hardee or Martin is nominated, because not only all the Republicans but about half the Democrats will vote the G. O. P. ticket.

He declared that the tax program distributed through the crowd "is the first and only definite program of relief yet submitted by any candidate." Chief items of the program are: reducing the state budget $9,000,000 by limiting it to $20,000,000; cutting auto license tag costs in half; cutting two cents off the gasoline tax; removal of all the ad valorem tax except the constitutional one mill for schools; and a saving of 40 cents of each dollar now paid in realty taxes.

"This program," Mr. Durrance said, "is the result of two years of study of the tax situation of the state. Everything I advocate is possible without the efficiency of the state government being impaired. I have more than 100 pages of documentary evidence sustaining the soundness of this program. The chief means to be employed to carry through this program would be refunding the bonded indebtedness of the state at a lesser interest rate."

HUNT CENTERS ON GANGSTER IN KIDNAP CASE

played virtually his exact words of Thursday in saying: "There is nothing that would indicate Curtis was connected either with the kidnaping or the collection of the ransom."

It was on the night of Apr. 2 that Dr. John F. Condon (Jafsic) loaned a packet of $50,000 in currency over a wall in a New York cemetery.

In between these assertions, however, the police head had told of continuing his check of Curtis' whereabouts, saying it would not be completed and corroborated until next week.

Salient among the other results of the day were these:

(1) "Gladly" signing a waiver of immunity, Dr. Condon spent two hours and a quarter telling a Bronx (New York City) grand jury a detailed story of his entire connection with the fantastic drama.

(2) Two mystery clues were pursued from the police headquarters here. One was the statement of "a known gangster while passing through Maryland" that he had information about the kidnaping, and his further assertion just before the child's body was found that the infant was dead. The second clue was a possible connection between the abduction and another case described vaguely as the "attempted King kidnaping."

(3) An official offer, immediately rejected, to reimburse Dean H. Dobson-Pearce for traveling expenses if he would come here from Norfolk to confront Curtis, his one-time associate. The clergyman said he would stand on his willingness to meet in Norfolk any accredited police representative.

Colonel Schwarzkopf dismissed further questions regarding the dean then:

"Mr. Curtis' statement shows the part that Mr. Pearce played in these negotiations and it is a complete refutation of the charges made to Martin of a special delivery letter which Durrance addressed to Martin, challenging the latter to debate Martin's tax certificate buying activities of his

She lifted the heavily-laden craft skillfully from the field and the red and gold plane disappeared eastward, heading over the same route she traveled four years ago when, as a passenger of Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon, she became the first woman to cross the Atlantic by air.

Mrs. Putnam's plane had been checked by Bert Halchen, famous flier who accompanied her here Thursday from Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., in a flight that was broken by a stop last night at St. John, N. B., and Eddie Gorski, mechanic.

Mrs. Putnam's plane is a 400-horse-power Wasp motorized craft with a cruising speed of 140 miles an hour, a maximum speed of 180 and a cruising radius of 3200 miles.

A light southwest wind was blowing and the sky was cloudy as Mrs. Putnam sped away towards the horizon, but she had the promise of clear skies and favorable winds ahead.

Her departure was a complete surprise. She had retired shortly before, expressing hope that she might get away early in the morning. Only a few of the hundreds

Inquiries Received As To Coaching School

GAINESVILLE, May 21.—Inquiries are daily being received by the University of Florida concerning its fourth annual coaching school which will open for one week-June 6. Coach Charles W. Bachman, chief of the Florida football staff, said today that the enrollment would exceed 250 if present interest in the course continued.

In addition to Coach Bachman, A. P. Stinson, Joe Helsing and "Dutch" Htanley will comprise the lecture and field demonstration staff. A number of former Gate grid luminaries will also be present. Dr. R. G. Manchester, Florida trainer, will give a course during the week on the treatment of athletic injuries.

The Rollins Workshop

Outstanding among Little Theater productions which will appear in Sanford this year are the two plays to be presented by the Little Theater Workshop of Rollins College tomorrow night at the Sanford Woman's Club. Under the able direction of Dorothea Thomas Lynch, the Rollins players will be seen in two of the most interesting vehicles ever produced locally, "A Certain Stage" and "When a Whirlwind Blows".

It is not necessary for us to remind our readers that the Rollins dramatists have established an enviable reputation throughout the state for high class entertainment. Mrs. Lynch, a Smith graduate, who has had considerable experience in dramatic art and who is considered one of the most accomplished directors in Florida, has been with the Rollins group for several years where her efforts have met with such success that first prizes in state tournaments, consisting of the best Little Theaters in Florida, are frequently won by the Rollins players.

Considerable impetus has been given dramatic work at Rollins as a result of the construction last Fall of the "Annie Russell Theater", a handsome structure embracing a chapel as well as a theater, the gift of Mrs. Edward Bok who realized the worthiness of the Rollins players and who expressed her appreciation of their efforts in a very tangible manner. The theater was named for the famous Broadway actress and friend of Mrs. Bok, Annie Russell, who is now its manager.

In urging our readers to show their appreciation of the splendid efforts being made by the Rollins group by attending its performance tomorrow night, The Herald cannot emphasize too strongly the worthiness and excellence of this organization or the merit of our own Little Theater which has made possible its appearance here. The Sanford Little Theater as well as the Rollins Workshop deserve the utmost support of the public in their very worthwhile endeavors.

The Herald hopes that Sanford play lovers will not neglect this opportunity to see the Rollins artists in action and believes that those who do will miss some very enjoyable entertainment.

Petty Thievery

Fifteen reported robberies in ten days, many others unreported, a man slugged and his day's receipts taken from him as he is about to leave his place of business, beatings, and other acts of minor lawlessness have contributed to a feeling of general uneasiness in business and residential sections.

The cause of this petty crime wave can be attributed to several things, chief among which is the impoverished condition of many people, driving them to steal that they may not starve to death, together with the present inadequacy of police protection, curtailed as it is by the limitations of an exhausted city treasury. Members of the department have worked night and day in an effort to check robberies, but the personnel has been reduced to such an extent that it is greatly handicapped.

What can be done to alleviate this situation? In the first place there is hardly a possibility of putting on more policemen. There simply are no funds available in the municipal coffers. But, as in the case of the fire department, there could be volunteers, men who would be willing to share a part of their time out of civic loyalty during the present emergency, an emergency which gives every indication of lasting throughout the summer, or until general conditions become better.

The suggestion has been heard that members of the American Legion, always ready to "crash through" in the interest of any worthy cause, would be willing to help maintain a patrol throughout the city from midnight till dawn. This would probably have a very wholesome effect on those inclined to rob and steal.

In the meantime the public can be of great service to the police department in its work by taking a few precautions to thwart the commission of crime. Doors and windows should be locked more securely, money and jewels should not be kept in places where they might tempt some prowling individual, walks along darkened streets at night should be avoided, and any information which might tend to prevent a crime or help in its solution should be volunteered at once to the authorities.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Miss Alice Tetherly, left for her home in Orlando Saturday to enjoy a much needed rest after a busy school term and the work incident to commencement. Her return will be looked forward to not only by her pupils, but her many friends in Sanford.

Mrs. H. B. Pattishall, of Geneva, Va., is enjoying the commencement exercises at the Woman's College in Tallahassee this week where her two daughters are students.

Mrs. R. N. Keeler, left on Tuesday's boat for Jacksonville where she sailed on Wednesday for New York City to join her husband and daughter in their summer home.

Mrs. Forrest Lake was the charming hostess of the Every Week Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. The first prize was won by Mrs. O. W. Brady who made the highest score. Mrs. C. M. Vance received the low prize, a brass finger bowl. When the pleasant games of cards were concluded a delicious tomato salad, sandwiches, crackers and coffee were served. Mrs. Lake's guests were: Mrs. C. M. Vance, Mrs. R. L. Hughes, Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mrs. D. W. Brady, Mrs. C. O. ManLaughlin, Mrs. G. F. Smith, and Mrs. Barrett.

Miss Flora M. Johnson left Monday for Jacksonville via Daytona and St. Augustine where she called for New York Wednesday. Miss Johnson will visit in Cornwall, N. Y. and Connecticut before returning to her home in Michigan.

Fort Lauderdale is going to have telephone service by the first of June. This is going right ahead for a town that was not on the map many years ago except perhaps as a location. Modern improvements come down the line in the way of civilization in the city and the people want telephone service.

Mrs. Pittman Gives Story Of Her Trip Across Atlantic

 any fun to have those flames so near to you. If there were an oil or gas leak it might cause trouble.

Then my altimeter went wrong—the first time in my 10 years of flying.

It was dark and cloudy and raining and there was nothing for me to do but start climbing. I fixed an easy gradient and kept it up for some time.

Then I discovered my tachometer had frozen, so I knew I was high enough.

I was only twice after that I caught a glimpse of the ocean. Once my eyes dropped down and I saw little white waves under me, but like looking down on mountains when man is missing from the picture I had no measure to tell how high the waves were, or how high I was above them—maybe 100 feet, maybe 300.

When the morning of Saturday came I was flying between two blankets of clouds. The one below me was composed of little white woolly ones.

After a while they all joined together and formed just a great white blanket like a snowfield stretching in every direction. When the sun broke through the blanket above me it was so blinding that even with my smoked glasses I had to come down and fly in the clouds for a while so I could see again.

It was here that my eye caught the second glimpse of the ocean. I saw waves running before a northwest wind and thinking I was pretty far south I turned due east. The result was that I hit Ireland in about the middle, whereas if I had gone on I probably would have passed the southern tip.

There must have been some error in the weather bureau calculations, because they thought I would miss the rain altogether. When I got into the squalls I supposed I was to the south of my course and the result was that I kept correcting to the north.

I had plenty of fuel and could have kept right on to Paris, maybe further, but my motor was straining so after sighting land, which I knew must be Ireland, I decided to come down.

I could see peat bogs and thatched huts beneath me. I headed north along a railroad and after a while flew over London. I was at exactly 13 hours and 15 minutes, according to my time, after my departure. Fifteen minutes later I landed.

BOSTON. — These may be hard times, but Boston's school children have managed to put a total of $364,000 aside for rainy days. The latest check-up of savings bank accounts revealed this figure.

Roosevelt Urges More Even Split Of Public Income

 jug of money and the marketing of securities—an outlook which describes the adjectives "selfish" and "opportunistic."

Declaring that the necessities of life should be insured, Roosevelt said "in such a system, the reward to capital, particularly capital which is speculative, will have to be less."

Disagreeing with the Hoover program to increase capital and stimulate business, Roosevelt declared "our basic trouble was an insufficient distribution of buying power coupled with an over-sufficient speculation in production. While wages rose they did not rise proportionately to the reward of capital and at the same time the purchasing power of other great groups was permitted to shrink. We accumulated such a superabundance of capital that our great bankers were vying with each other, some of them employing methods in their efforts to lend this capital at home and abroad. I believe we are on the verge of a fundamental change in our popular economic policy, that in the future we get an often-expressed desire of state police to confront John Hughes Curtis, jailed "hoax negotiator," with the clergyman who was associated with him in the faked activities.

Plans for the prosecution of Curtis are in the hands of Prosecutor Hauck with Prosecutor Marshall concentrating on the murder inquiry, itself.

The intensified attempt to track down the actual kidnapers, now (Continued from Page One) assistance in obtaining the baby's return, provided Capone, who is serving a term in Atlanta penitentiary would be given full credit.

The Governor said he promised to give their information to Colonel Lindbergh.

The Lindbergh murder investigators look advantage of a spring Sunday's calm to unweaving a tangled skein of clues yesterday and to dismiss Dean H. Donson-Peacock as "insignificant" in their main quest.

An official police bulletin classifying the Norfolk (Va.) clergyman was regarded as an indication the combined state and federal forces now are determined to press the pursuit of the baby killers without permitting side issues to occupy a moment of their time.

The statement was not regarded, however, as abandonment of that the mythical negotiations, centered in a unit for the ransom, since Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was found dead, how the child had been killed and

Entzminger Says:

The people will doubtless understand the efforts of some supporters of our superintendent, who, through activities of the schools and otherwise, are trying to cloud the issues in this campaign. In some schools they have turned their graduating exercises into political speech-making. At a meeting of one of the P. T. A.'s, attack was made on my character and whisperings of innuendo are going the round. Need I, who have lived here most of the time for 25 years and supported every worthy movement for educational, civic and religious improvement have to defend my character?

Will our people quietly stand by and see our own boys and girls discriminated against while fat salaries are given those far mother counties and other states, and while these fat salaries employees use our schools and P. T. A.'s for the promotion of their political ring? Have I committed any crime in entering this race? Is the public not entitled to facts that I have given? May I not ask how much of the taxes that support the current budget of $394,000 is paid by this ring? Is it not a fact that in many cases the selection of teachers is conditional on their attitude to this campaign?

In my community, a daughter of a taxpayer whose family has paid thousands in taxes will return home with her college degree this summer. She successfully taught last year in our schools and will be qualified and is competent in every way, yet she will find no place because whole families are being put on the payroll and some from the outside are given preference over our own people, many of whom are struggling for their very existence. May I have the temerity to ask how many of our superintendents' relations have been on the payroll in his reign of 10 years? And how many now?

This is not fundamentally an individual issue, neither is it a local issue. You will find the number paid in many other counties and in fact all over the land. No election or defeat is merely accidental. Political ring domination has withered this fair land of ours as with a devastating fire. Their reign has brought war and disrepair and millions of our citizens know not where to turn and dare not take local form of republicans. Are we still free men? In this still the land of the free and the home of the brave?

where the body had been buried. Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, chief of the investigation, said the search was still going on.

Already the New Jersey state troopers put on the gangster's trail have picked up several underworld characters believed to have been the fugitive, but the run-runners who boasted of his "inside" knowledge of the case is still at large.

Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jasie" who paid the $50,000 ransom, abandoned for the day his attempt to find in some rogue's gallery the likeness of "John," the ransom-receiver.

After spending Saturday afternoon and evening in an unexplained dash up into New England and back, he put in what was for him a normal day—church in the morning, a trip to a neighborhood store, a chat on a street corner, a perusal of the newspapers, and then a half game near his Bronx (New York city) home.

He expressed displeasure, however, that his prominence in one of the world's most mysterious crimes necessitated the presence of two New York City detectives at his side wherever he went.

Meantime, a conference was held in the county jail at Flemington over the possible release of Curtis from the cell where he already had spent over 100 hours.

In the jail dining room, W. A. Pender, attorney who came from Norfolk to represent the shipbuilders, conferred with Adam O. Robbins, judge of the court of common pleas.

As the session ended and Pender went to discuss the case with his client, Judge Robbins announced the prisoner probably would be released today, "if he can raise the bail."

Curtis' imprisonment began late last Wednesday after he had confessed his hoax, had been arraigned on a charge of obstructing justice and furnishing false information, and had been ordered to jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

The Hunterdon county grand jury meets today in Flemington and Judge Robbins said it was probable the Curtis case would be presented during the day. He added that if Curtis were indicted, his trial would be set for sometime in June.

Pender declined to discuss the case. Dr. Condon is scheduled to confound his tour of rogue's galleries this week. Saturday a police bulletin said he intended to turn his attention next to the New Jersey identification bureau files, but yesterday (Colonel Schwarzkopf said:

"No time for the arrival of Dr. Condon at Jersey rogue's galleries has been set as yet."

The police bulletin also contained a denial of a wild rumor that has spread far and wide during the last week.

"There is no truth to the statement that Betty Gow (Lindbergh nursemaid) has confessed or has admitted any implication in the crime," the bulletin said.
