

NEW TOURIST HOTEL FOR SANFORD AN ASSURED FACT WORK STARTS IN SIXTY DAYS ON BUILDING FIRST UNIT

New Lake Monroe Hotel Corporation Being Organized for Hotel and Golf

OPEN NEXT SEASON

First Unit of 150 Rooms, Costing $800,000, Will Be Started Soon as Possible

The new proposed hotel to be constructed on the lake front that has been advocated by Mr. J. D. Hood of this city for the past year or more has taken on definite plans which assure construction for the next season. The past few days there have been several important conferences held at Sanford with Mr. Hood by Charles E. Hillyer, contractor of Jacksonville; F. H. Trimble, architect of Orlando; Col. Cromwell Gibbons of Jacksonville, and Hon. J. Hector McNeil of Philadelphia, Mr. McNeil representing large financial interests in Pennsylvania.

It was settled yesterday at the final conference that the hotel, to be constructed, should be in form two units of 150 rooms each, the administration part to be completed with the first unit, and the second unit to be constructed the following season. This will give Sanford one of the finest hotels in the state.

Associated with Mr. Trimble, architect, in preparing and designing the plans and drawing the specifications will be one of the North's most able, leading and prominent architects who will be on the ground in a few days in conference with Mr. Trimble to survey the hotel site preliminary to drawing the plans. The hotel will be of an artistic design with the grounds set out to meet all that is tropical and of Florida scenic effect.

Also it was decided to develop and have ready for next season a golf links, recently acquired by Mr. Hood, and which will form a part of the hotel enterprise.

The estimated expenditure of all of these improvements, including the hotel, its equipment and furnishings and the golf links with club house, will be $800,000 which covers the first unit of the hotel.

The Lake Monroe Hotel Corporation now being organized under the laws of Delaware will be the holding corporation of the hotel and golf properties and such other further properties as may be acquired for improvement in Sanford.

As soon as the personnel of the board of directors is determined a meeting will be held for the election of officers. Mr. Hood, however, will be the president of this corporation and one of the active spirits in making a success of this enterprise.

The gentlemen identified with this Sanford improvement are well known in constructive lines in this state. Col. Gibbons of Jacksonville is one of Florida's best known lawyers, having been identified in the past with important business propositions for the upbuilding of Florida and is well known throughout the state as one of Florida's political leaders.

Mr. McNeil comes from one of Maryland's oldest and best known families and has been identified with some of the largest financial and banking interests of Pennsylvania. Mr. McNeil is now closely affiliated with the Franklin Trust Company of Philadelphia and the Crane Ice Cream Company, the largest ice cream syndicate in this country; also Philadelphia's largest moving picture syndicate. He is also interested in gas companies that he has been the cause of instituting in some of the leading cities of Florida. While Mr. McNeil is extensively interested in financial matters along constructive lines he is of Philadelphia's best known, able and leading attorneys.

Mr. Hillyer is one of Jacksonville's large contractors, having in charge in the past many important contracts for railroads and other large interests which he has successfully performed in Georgia, the Carolinas and Florida. Mr. Hillyer is now constructing the Lee street viaduct in Jacksonville which is one of the most important engineering improvements taken over in Florida in recent years.

Mr. Trimble and Mr. Hood are our neighbors and it is sufficient to only call attention to their interests in this improvement. Mr. Hood is one of Sanford's greatest and most enthusiastic boosters and with his whole heart and his money in this enterprise he will have the entire business and banking interests of Seminole county with him. Their complete co-operation has been assured.

The next thirty days will cover the preliminaries of organizing and plans and specifications for the hotel and golf links. Very soon thereafter ground will be broken for Sanford's and South Florida's greatest improvement.

Negotiations are now being conducted by Col. Gibbons, as attorney for the combination, with one of the largest hotel operating syndicates in the country who will have complete control in managing the hotel and golf links and which insures the best management and financial success.

The hotel will be of fire-proof construction and as stated, artistically designed to meet climatic conditions; equipped and furnished in the latest and most fashionable style such as will attract the highest class of patronage and bring to Sanford the leading business and financial people who are accustomed to visit Florida every winter and enjoy its climate, and the efficient service that will be given in this instance.

Mr. Cuthbert S. Butchart, the international golf professional, has laid out the golf links here which assures the patrons of the hotel one of the best and largest golf links in the South. As soon as Florida's patrons and visitors are advised during the summer, what will be at Sanford for their entertainment in the way of a hotel and golf links it is assured that the hotel will be overlooked the coming season.

Mr. Butchart is at present the professional of the West Chester Biltmore Links at Rye, N. Y., the golf links there being one of the best in the country and which proposition forms a part of the John McE. Bowman Hotel Syndicate throughout the country. Mr. Butchart is so well known as a golf professional we take pleasure in calling attention elsewhere as to the successful work accomplished by him throughout the world in the greatest sport known to the business and professional man.

Florida is certainly a diversified state. Sanford does not particularly want the auto campers—at least some of the campers thought so—and here is Gainesville making a gala week for the Tin Canners and taking care of two thousand of them.

Sanford Golf Links Have Been Laid Out by the Great Butchart

Who is The Best in Europe and America FINEST IN STATE

AND EQUAL OF ANY IN EUROPE OR AMERICA, LAID OUT AT SANFORD

The following is from the Golfer's Magazine:

Cuthbert S. Butchart, a great club-maker and perhaps one of the best golf experts in Europe, has been selected as the golf professional and instructor for the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club, situated between the villages of Harrison and Rye in Westchester county, New York.

The announcement was made today by John E. McE. Bowman, president, and Gage E. Tarbell, vice-president, of the Westchester-Biltmore. Ever since Mr. Bowman announced he was to build this great recreation center in Westchester county, the golf world has had its ear to the ground awaiting the announcement of a golf professional and instructor.

The new instructor is a college bred man, but when only a lad of eleven he was already swinging the clubs in the hills of Scotland. Not only that, but he was also inventing and making clubs, and today the Butchart clubs are known and valued wherever golf is played. He is a stockily built man with a ruddy complexion and the health of the winds and the rugged weather of outdoors shows in his face and frame. In his experience he has instructed some of the most noted men of Europe and has turned out many of the greatest players of the game.

He is identified with every feature of the popular sport. He has made champion players and has himself played the game. He has turned out his wonderful clubs and has laid out many of the famous courses in Europe. He was born in Carnoustie, Scotland, the home of golf, on May 19, 1876. His parents intended him for the law, but the love of the game lured him to the links when a mere schoolboy, and before he was 17 he was playing in Carnoustie club team matches against St. Andrew's, Montrose and Menfieth clubs. When 18 years old he played plus 8 in the Montrose Mercantile Club.

He went to Germany in 1909 and constructed golf links for Count Oppersdorf and then accepted the position of professional with the Berlin Golf Club. Here he met members of the Imperial family, coached them and played with them regularly. He played with or coached members from all the foreign embassies. Of the Imperial family he played with the Crown Prince, Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the former Kaiser; Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, Prince Munster, Arch Duke Carl Stephen of Austria.

He played also with members of the suites of the American, French, Chilean, Swedish, Danish, Russian, Italian and Turkish embassies; and in England he had already played with most of the nobility. He planned, constructed, reconstructed and advised on the construction of numerous links in and about Berlin.

He was preparing plans for four new courses when the war broke out. From his high estate among the royalty and nobility he was plucked into a prison camp and remained there, interned for the duration of the war, being released November 22, 1918. He couldn't remain idle even in his internment. He had never attempted to make anything but golf clubs, but genius of invention asserted itself in the making of silver cups and bowls and other articles of service; and before he could make them he had to first construct his tools.

But before they interned him, although he has played very little in competitions, he won the German professional championship at Oberhof in 1913, with the record score of 188 for 36 holes. Perhaps the former royal family deemed his internment a form of poetic justice.

Among Mr. Butchart's pupils have been Lord Clerawley, South of Ireland champion; Harold Reade, Irish champion; Frank R. Nevitt, Irish champion; Miss Rhona Adair, Irish and open lady champion, and many other prominent players. For the past two years this renowned character of the links has been the private professional and instructor to Mr. Lyceit Green and his guests at Slain's Castle, Aberdeenshire, Scotland.

After learning that Cuthbert S. Butchart is one of the best in the profession and after learning that his judgment is sought by the biggest men in the country it is well to know what he thinks about the Sanford links that have recently been laid off at the direction of J. D. Hood for the new Lakefront Hotel Company. Mr. Butchart among many other things, said of the Sanford links:

Sanford is fortunate in the location of the new 18-hole golf course that has been laid off at Crystal Lake. The land has the right gradients, every hole will be first-class and the green will be one that can well be styled unique in the golfing world. Having laid off some 2000 greens in all parts of the world Mr. Butchart says there are none like Sanford and they "WILL COMPARE FAVORABLY IN LOCATION AND POSITION WITH ANYTHING IN EUROPE, THEY ARE THE EQUAL OF ANY IN AMERICA AND ARE BETTER THAN ANY IN FLORIDA" and this statement coming from this well-known authority is an asset to Sanford that is worth millions in the number and kind of winter visitors.

TO ENCOURAGE MANUFACTURE OF PURE ORANGE JUICES—GROWERS WILL HELP SOME

By Taking Second and Third Grade Fruit Out of Market

ORLANDO, March 12.—(Special.)—Increasing the consumption of citrus fruits through the sale of pure fruit juices at cold drink stands will be advocated at the thirty-fourth annual meeting of the Florida State Horticultural Society in Miami, April 12 to 15, by C. D. Kime, of this city.

Returning from Washington last December, a group of citrus growers discussed this subject very earnestly and figured out that the smaller sizes of first quality fruit can be sold at prices which will give the dispensers of pure fruit juices a good profit, and at the same time taken the second and third grade fruit out of the retail markets, thereby giving the first grade fruit a better chance.

Recently this subject came up for discussion in the Orlando Chamber of Commerce and was referred to the agricultural committee for investigation and report. Mr. Kime is a member of that committee and also a member of the fruit products committee of the Florida State Horticultural Society. He will propose that the different marketing agencies encourage the extraction of juices from Florida fruits for wholesale distribution in the fresh condition to the cold drink stands in the larger cities; and put on an advertising campaign to encourage the demand for the juices at the stands.

Hayard F. Floyd, secretary of the society, reports applications for membership coming in with indications that there will be at least 2,000 members at the opening of the annual meeting.

Harding Promises to Consider South in Appointments

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Harding today promised to consider the claim of the Southeastern territory that it is entitled to representation on the Interstate Commerce Commission. Journalism Course Popular Sixty-Four Cub Reporters Take Work With the General Extension Division

The course in Newspaper Writing offered through correspondence study by the General Extension Division of the University of Florida, is full of information and valuable "dope," and sixty-four students are now taking this work offered by the General Extension Division to all correspondents of Florida newspapers who desire information and cues in order to assist them in making their articles better and more interesting.

Miss Ellen Foley, a graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism, and formerly on the staff of the Milwaukee Journal, has charge of this course, which is elementary in many respects and is especially valuable for the amateur correspondent. Among the various subjects taken up are: "What is News," "The Source of News," "Kinds of Stories and How to Write Them Up," "Interviews," "Preparation of Copy," etc. Students who are taking the course are showing a great deal of interest in the work. Col. Wm. C. Harlee, in charge of the study courses for the U. S. Marine Corps, says it is the best course of its kind he has seen. All regular correspondents on Florida newspapers who desire, may register for this course free of charge, with the General Extension Division, University of Florida, Gainesville.

Carpenters Accept Plan to Cut Wages

ST. PETERSBURG, Mar. 12.—Carpenters of St. Petersburg have agreed to take a cut in wages to eighty-seven and a half cents an hour, to be effective at once, and no time was fixed for the wage scale to stand. Other unions here are expected to follow the example set by the carpenters and likely will voluntarily take cuts. It was stated that the only carpenters who opposed the wage reduction were men from the outside—who have come here to work and who are transients. It is expected that the wage reduction will have the effect of stimulating building, as it was stated that half a million dollars of new building was tied up waiting for adjustment of the wage scale. Plasterers and bricklayers here are now getting $10 a day and plumbers are getting $12.50 an hour.

INSTRUCT BENSON ASSERT HIS FULL LEGAL POWER

HARDING WANTS SHIP BOARD TO FUNCTION RIGHT ALONG

WASHINGTON, Mar. 12.—Chairman Benson of the shipping board was formally asked today by President Harding to "continue to function as though the board was fully organized" and to "assert your full authority under the law."

President Harding's request was embodied in a letter sent to Chairman Benson after the cabinet meeting at which it was understood the President's attitude was called to the board's attention as to whether necessary disbursements could be made in view of the expiration March 4 of commissions held by the board members as recess appointees.

Chairman Benson had previously acquainted the President of his intention of remaining in charge of the board until such time as he should be relieved and had also asked Attorney-General Daugherty for an opinion as to how far he might function in the light of the previous senate confirmation of his nomination under the original shipping act.

Commenting on the President's letter after he had made it public, Chairman Benson said:

"I shall assume and act with full authority in everything necessary to carry on the functions of the board." The chairman added that he would, however, do nothing that might embarrass the new board to be appointed by President Harding.

WILL MOVE TO SANFORD

Henry Dreyer, from New Jersey, made his fifth trip to Sanford and was a guest at Al. Dornor's again. Dreyer reads the Weekly Herald for year and he is well known and liked here in Sanford, also at the Newark market for his best celery and farm produce. Dreyer and Stockhoff for the last 24 years, and they grow all his seed for him and also his best friends on Celery avenue.

Mr. Dreyer expects to retire from his Jersey business and be here in Sanford not to be bothered any more with the frosty ice and snow and also have more comfort for his feet. He is always bothered with his frozen feet during the winter months, now while he got a little sand in his shoes he expects to be here for his older days.

Pick Up Three Miami Fishermen Adrift in Launch in Atlantic

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 12.—Three American seamen—Richard Lee, Jas. Ferguson and Ira Simmons, all of Miami, Fla.—who were picked up February 26th by the Dutch steamer Zeelandia after having been adrift for six days off the Florida coast, have been landed at Corunna, Spain, and will be furnished transportation back to the United States by the American Consul at Corunna, the state department was advised today.

The three men were picked up seventy miles east of Jupiter light house in a starving condition in a damaged fishing motor boat, and were landed at Corunna March 9. The American consul at Corunna reported that he had arranged for their transportation homeward in steamer Black Arrow, leaving March 15 via Cuba.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Adopted by Division 769, B. of L. E., February 20, 1921.

Mr. T. E. Fox died very suddenly in Jacksonville on the morning of February 1, 1921.

Mr. Fox was a locomotive engineer running on the A. C. L. railway out of Sanford, where he made his home. His illness was very brief and his death came as a sudden shock to his family and his many friends. He was born in Georgia 43 years ago on February 8, was a widower and leaves four children to mourn his loss whose names are as follows: Mrs. Elma Fox Williamson, Leila May Fox, T. E. Fox, Jr., and Henry M. Fox.

Mr. Fox followed railroad work nearly all the working years of his life, most of the time as a locomotive runner and was a loyal member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Division 769, located at Sanford, and at a regular meeting held by his brother engineers just after his death, the following motion prevailed: That a committee on resolutions prepare suitable resolutions on the death of our deceased brother, which read as follows:

Inasmuch as our Divine Creator has taken from our midst our beloved brother, Thos. E. Fox, therefore be it resolved,

That we extend to his bereaved children and other members of his family our heartfelt sympathy for them in their loss and inform them that we, too, mourn with them in the loss of this friend and brother, and we feel that by his death his family has lost a faithful protector, the Brotherhood a true brother and the community at large an honorable citizen.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family, a copy to the Sanford Herald and a copy be spread on the minutes of our Division.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT IN DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

ORANGES WILL BE DUMPED

After looking over the various packing houses and talking with numerous field men, one of the best-posted citrus men of the California distal stated last week that unless there is an early change in the attitude of the eastern trade towards the smaller sizes of oranges there will be fully 1200 cars from the Riverside district which will never be shipped this season.

"The fruit is all that could be desired," says this authority, "and I must say that it is a better buy than the large sizes, because of the heavy percentage of juice, pound for pound of fruit. For example, a well-packed box of 324s or smaller will weigh much more than a box of 126s. The eastern trade, however, seems to prefer the larger sizes, and is not interested in 288s, and will hardly notice 260s. This means before the finish of the season packers will be dumping small fruit by the truck load. This seems almost criminal, but there is no help for it, since shipping it means a certain loss to the growers' organization, while independent packers can find no outlet for it."—Produce News.

The new links are situated on the shores of Crystal Lake and when completed the links will rank with the best in this country and will soon become the favorites with the enthusiastic golfers, especially those in search for the best. Mr. Butchart will spend his winters here having decided to build a fine home at the country club where he can enjoy the excellent links and entertain his many friends at the same time. And when the chill winds of winter begin to sweep over the big clubs in the north and the golfers forego their round the fire to talk about golf it is sure and certain that where Cuthbert Butchart says he is going the crowd will go. They will know about Sanford through him as through no other source and Sanford will be filled with them next season and the new tourist hotel will be over running with them before it is finished for they are coming to take advantage of the best links that have ever been laid out in the South, in the prettiest spot in the South where the rugged beauties of nature vie with the softer tones of the clear water lakes, where the orange trees are near enough to be seen through the piney woods and where the new country club will be open every day in the winter to the people who have been looking for many years for just this one spot in the golfing grounds of America.

HARDING ACCEPTS PROGRAM OF THE PARTY LEADERS AMERICAN IMPORT MEASURES

Met With Senate Finance Committee and House

TARIFF UNCERTAIN

INTERNAL TAX REVISION WILL BE GIVEN PREFERENCE

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Approval was given by President Harding to the proposal to make anti-dumping and American valuation of American import measures the first fiscal legislation to be enacted at the special session of congress, called to meet April 11.

The president, meeting with Chairman Penrose and Fordney of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee, respectively, agreed to the decisions reached at yesterday's conference of Republican members of the two committees and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, and it was indicated he promised to throw his influence behind the two measures definitely decided on.

The question of whether priority should be given tariff revision legislation or internal tax revision measures was still undecided, Senator Penrose and Representative Fordney said, after their call on the president.

Mr. Harding discussed the matter with them, they said, and in view of inability of Republican members of the two committees to reach a unanimous agreement on the question, indicated that he desired to consider the matter further before arriving at a recommendation.

Other members of the two committees, the chairman said, probably will be called into conference with the president with the idea of reaching an agreement acceptable if possible to all.

The two chairmen stated that they expected to hold another conference with the president soon, probably before the end of the present week.

The president seemed to be in complete accord with the agreement reached at the conference that the anti-dumping and the American valuation of imports legislation be rushed thru as soon as possible after congress convenes, the two chairmen said.

Chairman Fordney, whose committee will have charge of the drafting and reporting of the legislation, said the two measures probably would be combined in one bill, which, he said, would be ready for consideration by the house as soon as it convenes.

Anti-dumping legislation as proposed at the conference would be designed through a special tax to relieve American manufacturers from competition with imports selling below the cost of American products. The other proposed legislation would provide that ad valorem duties on imports shall be levied on the basis of the American dollar instead of on the valuation at the point of origin. This, sponsors of the legislation declare, would eliminate the advantage now held by foreign manufacturers thru the difference in exchange.

The committee chairmen in discussing priority of tax or tariff revision were understood to have laid before the president the view of the majority of the two committees that tariff legislation should have precedence with tax revision closely following. The views of those who believe that tax revision should precede any changes in the tariff also were understood to have been presented.

LAKE MNROE

Our State School Inspector, R. L. Turner, visited our school Wednesday much to the pleasure and profit of teachers and pupils, as his visit proved to be not only one of business but a source of real delight?

Supt. W. T. Lawton, also was a welcome visitor. In introducing Mr. Turner he lauded him highly, and truly so, as our state inspector is a man of great enthusiasm, his heart thoroughly in his work and fully qualified for his position. We also found in him great breadth of mind, one of lofty ideals and a real purpose in life. But best of all, he possessed the understanding heart—a heart so full of appreciation, so great in sympathy for a child and child nature.

In his opening address Mr. Turner quoted from Proverbs: "A good name is better than riches, and good favor above silver and gold." Then simply and beautifully, with concrete examples, he told our boys and girls how a good name helped to uplift the community, how it reflects the earnest parent who strives and prays so earnestly that their boy or girl may become an honored citizen. What a beautiful thing it is to see consideration, kindness and politeness in the boy; how equally commendable in the little girl.

How Florida's future depended in a large measure not upon good roads, fine stock, skyscrapers, but rather upon the welfare of our children, our state's greatest asset. And then too, if our boys and girls are to be great, the teacher must first be great. No man or woman should teach whose character and life are not fit models for the young to copy. That children are great imitators and that a sunny, cheerful, happy spirit wins children's hearts, such a spirit sure to awaken cheerfulness and happiness in return. How the teacher should lead her pupils to high ideals both by word and example.

And how true it is. We wear no veil over our hearts in the presence of children, as the electrometer trembles at the presence of the feeblest electric current, so their little hearts are responsive to our most secret feelings and emotions. Our profession as teacher must bear the stamp of the heart or it will not pass at par over the counter of childhood.

And so we recognized in Mr. Turner, our friend, not our critic, and were pleased beyond measure when we met his hearty approval in our school plans and methods of teaching. His words of encouragement meant much to us and our only regret was that he could not remain longer and return to our school oftener.

COCOANUT GROVERS SATISFIED

MIAMI, March 17.—Residents of Cocoonut Grove, adjoining the Miami city limits to the south, at a special election Tuesday voted not to enlarge the territorial limits of the town. The construction of a half-mile trotting track at the Florida State Fair grounds has been authorized by the directors' meeting recently held in Jacksonville, and the work on the track will be started as soon as possible. This track will provide a new element of attraction to fair visitors, as it will bring to Jacksonville some of the largest and best known stables of harness horses in the country for winter training quarters and spring workouts.

LECTURING IN FLORIDA

GAINESVILLE, March 17.—Edwin E. Sparks, president of the Pennsylvania State college, who has been conducting classes and giving lectures throughout the state for the past few months for the General Extension Division of the University of Florida, has completed his work and left for Pennsylvania today.

WEATHER AND CROP CONDITIONS IN FLORIDA FOR THE WEEK ENDING MARCH 15TH

Temperature: The week averaged warmer than the normal over all districts, the daily excess in temperature ranging from 2 to 9 degrees. Maximum temperature approximately 90 degrees on several days. The night temperatures were favorable.

Precipitation: Showers fell over all divisions, but the amounts were insufficient in much of the section, especially on high lands. There was too much rain in the extreme west, and on the lower southeast coast district from about Fort Pierce southward.

The following heavy rains, in inches, were reported from the stations named, practically all falling on the 11th: Long Key, 2.53; Miami, 4.98; Pensacola, 5.00; Jupiter, 6.67; Hypoluxo, 6.81, and Fort Lauderdale, 8.56. Rain is badly needed locally in the central division.

Condition of Crops: The warm weather favored rapid growth, and where moisture was sufficient, good germination of seed. In some highlands, however, corn is slow "coming up," due to dry weather. The planting of corn is general in the northern and western divisions, and much of the crop is up to a good stand in the central and southern divisions, although planting continues in some localities of the former division. Melons need rain, and oats would be benefited in some places; early planted oats show evidence of maturing, owing to the very favorable weather throughout the winter. Cotton land is being prepared. Tobacco plants are being set out in Gadsden county. Heavy rain did much damage to truck in Palm Beach, Dade, and St. Lucie counties on the 11th.
