

SANFORD BALL SEASON WILL OPEN ON JUNE 5TH PALATKA WILL BE HERE

Ball Park Will Be Put in Fine Shape for Opening Event

GOOD PROSPECTS

SANFORD TEAM HAS BEEN SIGNED UP AND THE PLAYERS LOOK GOOD TO THE FANS

The Sanford base ball club will open its season two weeks from today, with a two-day series with the fast Pals from Palatka, on the same diamond that was used last year, at the corner of French and Ninth.

This park will be put into first class shape before that time and the Sanford players will all have at least a week's work-out before the curtain rises on the opener.

"Lefty" Robinson, who pitched for Sanford in 1916, during the Sanford-Orlando series, handles the reins for the Palatka outfit and from the dope floating down this way from Palatka the Sanford fans can be assured of the fact that there will be a good ball club to do battle with the Sanford outfit on these two days.

The Sanford Club is just about all signed up now and we are going to be represented by just as good, if not a better club than any of the independent clubs of the state.

Games will be scheduled with St. Augustine, Ocala, Gainesville and other towns supporting good clubs and those attending the games this season will more than receive their money's worth.

There are no contributions being asked to support our club this year, but every one wishing to help this cause along can do so by seeing Chas. Britt now and securing a season ticket that will make the cost of the games less to the holder.

Tomorrow's Herald will carry the names of those who have purchased tickets and if your name is to be among them, get your ticket at once.

Three dollar tickets are being sold that are good for general admission to all the games between now and the first of August. Six dollar tickets are good for the entire season, while the ten dollar tickets give you parking space for your car that is reserved for you the entire season. This makes the cost of these games very light and as money is needed now to pay for the new equipment that is now on the way and the fixing up of the park, you will be doing a good deed to yourself as well as the club and the interests of base ball by getting your ticket now.

Get your parking space reserved before it is too late, and remember the season opens two weeks from today at four p. m.

OVER HUNDRED ARE MISSING FROM STEAMER

EGYPT THAT WAS STRUCK
AMIDSHIP AND SANK
AT ONCE

(By The Associated Press)
BREST, May 23.—British vice consul here announced today 102 of those aboard the Egypt were missing, of whom sixteen are passengers and the balance the crew.

BREST, France, May 23.—The second steamship accident on the French coast in 48 hours was reported yesterday, when news was received here that the freighter Saint Patris had gone ashore in the fog off Cape Hlard. An inquest has been commenced over the 98 men and women who lost their lives in the sinking of the Peninsular and Oriental liner Egypt by the French freighter Seine on Saturday night. An investigation has been ordered to ascertain why the steamship, Dec, which was only nine miles from the Egypt when the ill-fated liner went down, failed to respond to S. O. S. calls.

Two hundred and thirty survivors have been landed here.

Vessels are patrolling the scene of the disaster in the hope of making further rescues and to pick up bodies.

Twenty-two bodies have been recovered up to the time this dispatch was filed.

The Egypt sailed for Bombay from London on Friday, carrying 44 passengers and a crew of 201.

Captain Barzic of the Seine said the fog was so dense that it was absolutely impossible to receive any warning of danger.

"There have been few times when I ever saw such thick weather," said the captain. "I was on the lookout, listening for fog horns. Our speed had been reduced to five knots. Suddenly there was an enormous mass ahead of us. My bows went clean through its side. The two ships separated, and after twenty minutes I found the other vessel on her port side. She had turned turtle.

"I ordered all my boats launched, and life belts were thrown into the sea. We remained until nearly midnight, picking up 29 passengers and about 200 members of the crew. Also we found four bodies."

Survivors told thrilling stories of the tragedy, with the water filled with struggling figures, whose cries could be heard through the fog, pleading to be saved. The rescue work was guided by the piteous shouts of men and women in the water. It was too foggy and dark to direct the work otherwise.

According to a representative of the Peninsula and Oriental Line, Miss V. H. Boyer and Mrs. M. L. Sibley, American missionaries, are missing. R. S. Bevan and another American passenger were reported rescued. Their home addresses are not known. Bevan said he was just dressing for a late dinner when the crash occurred.

"I was just putting on my dinner coat and vest, when there was a terrific jolt," he said. "It threw me against the state room wall. I immediately put on my overcoat and ran to the deck to see what had happened."

MOB STORMS GEORGIA JAIL TAKES NEGRO FROM BUILDING, AFTER FIGHT WITH OFFICERS

Negro Assaulted Aged Woman and Courts Were Slow in Conviction

(By The Associated Press)
IRWINTON, Georgia, May 23.—A mob stormed the Wilkinson county jail early today and after a battle in which one guard and one mobman were slightly wounded, removed Jim Denson, a negro sentenced to hang June 16th, on a charge of criminal assault. After getting the negro the mob placed a rope around his neck and hurried off in automobiles. No trace of the negro has been found but authorities are convinced he was lynched. Denson was convicted here more than two years ago on the charge of assaulting a 72 year old white woman. A long legal battle followed in which Denson's execution was postponed several times. The case was finally reached in the United States Supreme Court which affirmed the lower court's verdicts.

MOB RULE AND DANCING DENOUNCED BY BAPTISTS AT THE BIG CONVENTION

Cleaning Up of Movie Industry Also Advocated by Churchmen

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, May 23.—The Southern Baptist convention voted final adjournment at 12:20 p. m. yesterday, after adopting the report of the social service committee denouncing mob rule, expressing conviction that the motion picture shows must be cleaned up or destroyed and making many recommendations. Efforts were made to amend the report to put the convention on record as denouncing the present "commercialized motion picture industry" instead of seeking reform of certain features of it, but these failed and the chief amendment adopted was one deprecating alleged efforts of certain portions of the secular press to discredit enforcement of the prohibition laws.

Mob rule and recent burning of negroes was denounced by a number of speakers in discussion of that portion of the report devoted to law and order which urged fair trials for all accused and added, "We cannot too strongly urge upon our pastors and the churches the importance of not becoming allied with or giving support and approval to any movement or organization that violates or tends to violate" the law. There was no specific reference to any organization.

The convention voted to invite Wm. J. Bryan to address its next annual meeting in Kansas City in adopting resolutions of appreciation ordered that "the especial thanks of the body be extended to the Associated Press for its news reports of the sessions."

Enforcement of the law is now the main task of prohibitionists, declared the report of the social service committee. It also condemned the modern dance, race track gambling and violation of the Sabbath and urged that Baptists demand strict censorship for motion pictures.

Referring to the appointment of Will H. Hays as head of the motion picture producers' association, the report, which was one of the final matters of the last business session of the convention, expressed the hope that Mr. Hays will exercise what is supposed to be his great power for a thorough cleanup in the whole picture business. The committee expressed approval of the banning of the "Fatty Arbuckle pictures" and declared "much more is needed. It will take a flood of sunlight to purify the region."

Under the head of law enforcement the commission said:

"It cannot help. It can only hurt for individuals to take the enforcement of the law and justice into their own hands. To do so would be only a double crime; a crime against the individual sought to be punished and a crime against society and government as a whole. . . . Under the principles of the American government every man charged with a crime is entitled to a fair trial in open court by a jury of his peers with the right of calling witnesses to his defense and having all the facts duly and judicially considered. Any other procedure is mob rule and if adopted generally will ultimately undermine and overthrow everything we hold dear. Public meetings may be called, in many instances ought to be called, and every citizen should stand out openly for fundamental American principles.

"Your commission feels," the report continued, "that we cannot too strongly urge upon our pastors and churches the importance of not becoming allied with or giving approval and support to any movement or organization that violates or tends to violate these sacred and fundamental principles."

"Your commission feels," the report continued, "that we cannot too strongly urge upon our pastors and churches the importance of not becoming allied with or giving approval and support to any movement or organization that violates or tends to violate these sacred and fundamental principles."

"We hope Mr. Hays and the producers will keep up their work," it said. "Regardless of what they do we must demand the enactment of laws for strict censorship in each state. The morals of our young people must not be corrupted by the public exhibition of the eternal triangle and other displays of indecency and lust.

"In our last annual report speaking of the modern dance and its increasing prevalence following the war, we said:

"Another gross and growing evil must be mentioned. It is the modern dance. One of the most serious and menacing by-products of the world war is the great increase in the dance evil and the extravagant extremes to which it has gone. It is accompanied by immodest dance, by close physical contact of the sexes, by lack of restraint, it is undoubtedly doing much to undermine the morals of our young people. It is beyond question that in many cases it leads to moral wreck and ruin. The time has come when from every pulpit strong and persistent protest must be made and wise and faithful teaching must be given.

TWO MORE LETTERS IN THE DAUGHERTY MORSE AGREEMENT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 23.—Renewing his attack on Attorney General Daugherty in Senate yesterday, Senator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, placed in the Congressional Record alleged copies of two more letters purporting to show that Mr. Daugherty was active and directly interested in obtaining the release from the Atlanta penitentiary of Charles W. Morse, the ship builder.

The letters, published yesterday in a local newspaper, Senator Caraway said, vowed that Mr. Daugherty was engaged as counsel in the case because he had the confidence of former President Taft who commuted Mr. Morse's fifteen year sentence, and charged that Mr. Daugherty had "abused" Mr. Taft's confidence.

One of the letters purported to be from Thomas B. Felder, New York attorney, alleged to have been associated with Mr. Daugherty in the Morse pardon case. The other, alleged to have been written by Frank L. Seeley, editor of the Atlanta Georgian, to Mr. Felder, said that Mr. Morse owed his liberty and his life "to you and Mr. Daugherty's efforts." Mr. Seeley said his interest was "purely philanthropic." Both letters hope 1917 dates.

KU KLUX KLAN PLAYED PART IN SHIELDS' CASE

MRS. SHIELDS WROTE TO KLAN HEADQUARTERS—INVESTIGATION LED TO HER ARREST

(By The Associated Press) DELAND, May 22.—One of the most interesting features in connection with the case of Mrs. Alice Shields, charged with murder as a result of the shooting to death of her husband, William A. Shields, near here the night of February 6, last, was the part played by the Ku Klux Klan which led to the arrest of Mrs. Shields. Several stories of the participation of the Klan have been told and the different versions have resulted in a misunderstanding of the purported facts.

Mrs. Shields was to have been placed on trial at DeLand last Monday but with the work of selecting the jury virtually underway it was discovered two of the state's principal witnesses Mrs. Lillian Ferrell, of Eau Claire, Wis., and H. L. Berry, of Waycross, Ga., had not been subpoenaed and had returned to their homes. State Attorney George A. DeCottes as a consequence moved for continuance of the trial until the fall term, a request which the court granted.

Mr. DeCottes explained to newspaper men the Ku Klux feature in detail in order to get that angle of the case cleared up. Mrs. Shields was arrested at St. Cloud some time after the death of Shields and after Assistant State Attorney R. S. Mott had been pleted there by an unidentified member of the Klan.

After the arrest of Pete Smith, a negro, as a suspect, and Mrs. Shields' charge that Smith had killed Shields and attempted to assault her, Mrs. Shields went to St. Cloud to the home of her father, L. S. Davis, a Union army veteran who had settled in St. Cloud about fifteen years ago. From there Mr. DeCottes said Mrs. Shields wrote a letter addressed to "The Leader of the Ku Klux Klan" in Atlanta, Ga. She declared she was being persecuted and needed help and asked that a Klansman be sent to see her. The letter added that while she knew many men in this section were Klansmen she did not know them and if a member were sent to her, the letter she had mailed to Atlanta could be exhibited as a means of identification. Headquarters of the Klan in Atlanta ordered that the local Klan send a member to Mrs. Shields and the letter, as she had instructed, was given the messenger as credentials Mr. DeCottes said. Mrs. Shields was interviewed by a Klansman and the interview resulted in the mailing of a communication from the Klan to Mr. Mott.

The Klan's communication signed, "Committee of Investigation, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan," informed Mr. Mott that if he wanted to learn the purported facts surrounding the killing of Shields he must meet in a hotel in Orlando at a designated time a messenger unknown to him but who knew the assistant attorney by sight. Mr. Mott followed instructions and upon meeting the messenger was piloted to St. Cloud.

At St. Cloud the assistant attorney, in the presence of three strangers, but whom he was informed were Klansmen, obtained a lengthy statement from Mrs. Shields. The statement typewritten, was signed by the Klansmen, as witnesses, on the lower left hand corner of the last sheet. Then the Klansmen tore their signatures out of the sheet, retaining the bit of paper containing them. Mr. Mott declares he does not know the identity of the witnesses and the statement, in the files of the state attorney, has a large section of the last sheet missing, the missing bit bearing the names of the Klansmen.

The Klansmen gave to the Assistant State Attorney, the letter Mrs. Shields wrote to the Atlanta headquarters and it is understood if it is found necessary to disclose the identity of the witnesses to the statement obtained from Mrs. Shields by Mr. Mott the Klan may do so. Mrs. Shields was ordered arrested and charged with murder by Mr. Mott because he said the statement was so widely at variance with her previous stories of the killing.

Another feature of the case around which many stories have been built was the amount of life insurance Shields left. The authorities at different times having stated they were proceeding on the theory that Shields was killed as a result of a plot to realize on his insurance, rumor had it that the insurance was as great as $10,000. The actual amount, according to the State Attorney, was $2,042. Mrs. Shields has stated her husband had borrowed from one of the banks $1,400 against the policy, leaving a balance of only $642, with which several bills Shields had contracted in DeLand amounting to between $300 and $400 had to be met.

If you don't believe that Sanford is growing just take a walk or a ride around the city. Houses going up everywhere, so many one can hardly keep track of them. Sanford will soon be a city of ten thousand.

Sanford among other things will soon have a ninety piece band ready for the opening of the tourist season. Guess that will hold them for a while. Is there any other city in Florida that can boast of a ninety piece band.

All we need to do now is to keep boasting and talking Sanford. There is nothing like having faith in your own city. Sanford is growing and will be twenty-five thousand before you know it. Get on the wagon and blow your horn.

Week-ends in Ireland are spent in killing each other. This is rather a strenuous vacation and one that few people would endorse. If all the reports of killings in Ireland are true there is only about three people left over there at the present time.

A Dutch author who recently married an American lady with $8,000,000 in her own right says she was his inspiration and his ideal for many months. Yes, she could have been any fellow's ideal and inspiration with that much money on the string.

Sanford citizens can always be counted on to do the progressive thing. It was to be expected they would pass their more than a half a million dollar bond issue for civic improvements. Any town that shows a progressive spirit appeals to progressive settlers.—Reporter-Star.

It is all right to open up the stores at nine o'clock in the morning, it is all right to close up the stores Thursday afternoons, it is all right to observe every holiday, it is all right for everybody to go away for the summer—but it does not make a city. We have work to do here. Get at it.

The candidates are too busy this time to have any speaking tours. We note that the Gikhrst-Trammell joint deate lasted just two rounds. The people have no time to listen and the candidates seem to have found it out. There is very little life about the off season campaign.

BETTER TYPES OF SCHOOL HOUSES

The editor of the Herald has often wondered why school houses in Florida were not better ventilated in a climate where it is summer for nine months of the year. Many of the schools in Florida seem to be modeled after the northern schools instead of having ventilated type of school that one would expect in Florida. While it is true that the greater part of the winter in Florida is really summer weather and the children do not get the ventilation that they should have and especially is this true of the rural schools where the children are housed up in four walls with but very little ventilation except that which sweeps in through one window or one door and proves to be a dangerous draft instead of healthy ventilation. The Palm Beach Post in an editorial on the subject says:

"There are very few days here when classes could not be held in the open air with comfort. Floors and a roof are needed of course as are inner walls and partitions but certainly every class room could have one side completely open with screening and awnings for ordinary weather and glass which could be dropped into place to keep out rain or occasional chilly winds.

"Several private schools have been developed in this direction with excellent results and the only conceivable reason for not building public schools in more or less the same way is that it has never been done, which is no reason at all. In short it seems downright silly that our boys and girls should be obliged to spend five or six hours a day five days a week cooped up in stuffy school rooms when they might just as well be getting their lessons and the benefits of the fresh air at the same time.

"The innovation probably at first would be the occasion for wandering minds on the part of some pupils but they would soon become accustomed to the new freedom and sky and landscape would cease to be distractions. The school grounds are large enough so that the noise of traffic and passers-by should not interfere with classes. Indeed, the habit of concentration should be strengthened just as general health and mental alertness should be improved by a school day passed in the open.

"Sooner or later there will be a trend towards the open air public school in South Florida and the Post would like to see it start in Palm Beach county."

FLORIDA BASEBALL BAT FACTORY

The Brooksville Star tells of an interesting and very substantial industry operating in that town—a factory which is specializing in baseball bats, and which will turn out 100,000 this year. The bats are made of ash, which is found in abundance in the great hammocks surrounding Brooksville. The factory was established by R. E. Bayles on a very modest scale about a year ago, and he had an exhibit at our fair last year. Through the kindly offices of the Tampa board of trade a group of Canadians have become interested in the business and come to Brooksville next month. Later it is anticipated that the plant will be greatly enlarged, and the manufacture of furniture will be undertaken. There are magnificent forests of hardwoods in Hernando and Pasco counties, and if the transportation problem can be solved there is no doubt that a great furniture manufacturing business can be developed.

The baseball bat factory is now giving employment to 25 laborers and the number will soon be increased to 75. "Homerun" is the registered trade mark of the product.

The business interests of Brooksville should foster this industry by every reasonable means. It may develop to vast proportions.—Tampa Times.

THE CURB MARKET

Some day there will come into being the man with one acre or maybe a half acre of land in and around Sanford who will raise vegetables for the curb market and there will be a curb market then and this time is not far in the future. These men with the small patches of land will raise vegetables, will have a cow, will have chickens and will market all their stuff right here in Sanford. You cannot get fresh vegetables here when you want them—and we mean fresh vegetables when you want them all the time—and you cannot get them as cheaply as you should get them and the curb market figures from Palatka in the Herald of yesterday proves this statement. But the time is coming when the curb market will come to Sanford and come to stay. We were a few years ahead of our time on the curb market just as we have been about ten years ahead of the times with ever project we have advocated in this city but the city of Sanford usually comes to them in time and the city of Sanford is coming to the curb market and when it comes again it will come under a fine building that will house the farmers in comfort and in this big market house you can buy anything you need in the vegetable and poultry and dairy line. The Palatka News says editorially: "Beginning tomorrow morning Palatka will again attempt to establish a curb market, with farmers pledged to bring in produce to be offered to housewives. As the News understands it, the retail merchants of the city who find it necessary, in the absence of a curb market, to handle perishable products, are not opposed to the market, but on the contrary rather favor it as relieving them of a business that is not at all profitable.

"Advance information is that prices of fresh country produce will be much lower than it is now possible to secure it. This is due to two causes, first that the overhead expense of the retail merchant in handling, and his loss in decay will be eliminated, and second that there will be a central distribution point and there will be a minimum of unsold products.

"It is a step in the right direction and if given proper support may be the means of establishing regular city market, advantages of which are obvious. The success, however, of the undertaking will depend on the degree to which local housewives support the movement."

EVERY MERCHANT, EVERY BUSINESS MAN, EVERY GROWER AND SHIPPER SHOULD JOIN THE WATER TRAFFIC LEAGUE

The Herald has time and again called attention to the Central Florida Water Traffic League. We have told of the many advantages of the water rates, of the deepening of the St. Johns river, of the lowering of freight rates, of the good work of the league in many ways and yet there are numerous business men who have never as yet joined the league and it begins to look as tho they never would join it. There are so many people in this world that believe in letting the other fellow do the work and they lay back and get the benefits of this work. A recent letter sent out to every man in this part of the state by the Central Florida Water Traffic League strikes the nail on the head and we reproduce it here:

Every producer, every shipper, in fact every property owner and citizen in the State of Florida of necessity must be vitally interested in the development of the waterways of the State. Before lateral development can progress, a main artery must be established. The St. Johns River runs through a great producing area, to Sanford. It has a deep channel to Palatka, 65 miles above Sanford. The project is to deepen the channel to 20 feet from Jacksonville to Sanford, thence by canal to the East Coast near Titusville, thence down the Indian River.

Following this improvement, the Oklawaha River, the Wekiva River and other laterals can be extended further into the interior, connecting Lake County points, Oseola points and other interior counties up to water transportation.

Major W. C. Lemen of the Corps of Engineers, held an important hearing at Titusville on May 10th. This was largely attended by merchants, manufacturers, vegetable and fruit producers and shippers thereof. A large volume of evidence and figures, showing an astonishing tonnage and the feasibility and practicability of the project to deepen and extend the St. Johns River to the Indian River and by the lateral canals to interior counties was produced. It was the consensus of opinion that a favorable impression was created. With the proper effort by the people of Florida we firmly believe that this great improvement can be secured for the State and its people.

Will you help? Will you show your interest by taking out a membership in the Central Florida Water Traffic League, which has assumed active charge of this great undertaking for your benefit, in fact for the benefit of the entire State?

The time for you to help is now. The last Rivers and Harbors Bill passed by Congress carried an appropriation of $43,000,000 to improve the waterways of the United States. The sentiment in this movement was strong enough to increase the bill from $27,000,000 to $43,000,000. Florida pays her part of this appropriation, with the finest natural waterways which can be improved at much less cost than other waterways. Don't you think Florida is entitled to Federal aid and her pro-rata share of the millions appropriated for waterways? Don't "let George do the work." The proposition is up to you and you should join and contribute of your information and your efforts to this result. Just remember that in unity, organization and work there is strength. Without your support, which means the support of the people, the League's efforts must be limited. With that support its efforts will be irresistible and we can obtain the object for which we are fighting. This is the time to act, and no time will be more opportune. Don't delay.

In addition to this beneficial result as a shipper, you can send your freight bills to the League at Orlando. These bills will be checked for excess freight and handled as claims, and the amount recovered returned to you less fifteen percent, to cover cost of handling. The returns in this way will more than cover the cost of your membership.

BRICK PAVING THE BEST.

Seminole county has tried almost every kind of paving known and it is demonstrated almost beyond the shadow of a doubt that provided freight rates are lowered brick is not only the best paving but the cheapest. On account of the excessive freight rates Seminole county could not use brick in the last paving of roads and other materials were used with the result that the advocates of brick paving are now more strongly entrenched than ever and while it is not certain that brick paving will be used in the new city streets that are to be paved it is sure that brick will have a great big look in when the materials are up for discussion. The brick roads in this county that have not stood up to the traffic are the brick roads that were not laid just right in the beginning, that had a poor quality of brick and that had no permanent curbing. The brick roads that were laid right with the right kind of brick are good yet and those that were laid with cement grouting are almost as good today as the day they were laid. The brick streets of Sanford in the congested part of the business district were laid about twelve years ago and are the oldest streets in this city or county. They were laid right, are wide and have granite curbing and are almost as good today as when they were laid. The only trouble with them is the fact that having been taken up so often for water pipes they are filled with bumpy places. These streets could be taken up now and relaid and made almost as good as new for the bricks are still in good shape. The nine foot county brick roads will not last as long as wider roads for the reason that all traffic weight is borne in one place and eventually will wear away the bricks and unless the curbing is of concrete or granite the curbing will soon wear away and let the bricks spread.

The concrete grouted roads are undoubtedly the best for the county roads and the brick sand filled are the best for the city. We say the sand filled brick roads for the city on account of the constant taking up of the streets for water and gas connections and with the city owning the utility plants at some time in the near future many of the water mains will have to come up and new ones laid making an endless taking up of the streets. This would be a most difficult task with any materials except a sand filled brick street.

Thus it is apparent that from the standpoint of experience with all kinds of paving that the new city streets will undoubtedly be of brick unless a much cheaper material of cheaper construction can be obtained and it would be cheaper only because the freight on brick is almost prohibitive. The cheaper materials would have to be something that would embrace Florida sand or materials that would not take long hauls on the railroads and perhaps the new material after being laid would not give the general satisfaction of the brick roads.

There are good paving materials other than brick that are cheaper when it comes to paying the excessive freight rates on brick but all things considered it would seem the height of folly to experiment with any kind of paving material that has not already been proven and that will stand up under the strain of wear and tear of the present time. We have had some experience with "cheap roads" in the last twelve months and we want no more of them. We should now build the best roads that money can buy even if only a small portion of them can be built at a time rather than attempt to stretch the money over a larger area by putting down cheap roads.

The best roads are the cheapest in the long run and brick roads are certainly the best. For the city paving it looks like the sand filled brick streets would not only be the best and most economical but would be about the only kind that can be torn up to allow for repairs.

BUSINESS AND WATERWAYS

All signs point to rapidly improving business and consequently increasing demands on all kinds of transportation. Referring to this situation, J. Adam Bede, former congressman from Minnesota, says: "When the rebound in business comes, the railways will not be able to handle it, and to finance enough additional trackage to handle the business would cost more in interest charges each year than $272,000,000, the estimated cost of the St. Lawrence waterway project. The latter eventually will pay for itself, out of the sale of electricity developed.

"Most of the export stuff is produced in the Middle West and most of the import stuff is used there—so why not bring the ocean nearer." No better argument has been offered for this particular project, which happens to be the foremost transportation improvement now interesting the country, and which, if undertaken will doubtless be the beginning of a series of similar enterprises in every section where natural conditions make them possible.—Daytona Journal.

There are at least six locations in this city where buildings are being torn down to make room for new buildings. There are other vacant lots where new buildings are to be erected at once. There should be signs placed on all this property leading the visitors to the city just what Sanford intends doing in the building line. It means much to this city and is the finest bit of advertising that we could design.

LUMBERMEN OF STATE CONVENTION AT ORLANDO

ORLANDO, May 23.—Welcome on behalf of the city of Orlando was extended to nearly a hundred representatives of the lumber industry in Florida yesterday morning, at the opening session of the third annual convention of the Florida Lumber and Millwork Association, by Mayor G. Duckworth, who declared "the industry represented at this convention is one of the most important in the industrial life of Florida."

The sessions opened at the Empire hotel with W. Tylander, of Fort Pierce, presiding. In a brief address the president called attention to the growth of the association and urged that its membership adopt the spirit of co-operation as a basis for all its undertakings. Another speaker was H. J. West, a prominent lumberman of Atlanta, who is attending the meeting in the interest of establishing a branch of a lumbermen's organization.

BELIEVE TAMPA MAN MET WITH FOUL PLAY

TAMPA, May 23.—Chief of Detectives E. W. Blossom yesterday laid before the county grand jury the results of his investigations of the death of W. C. Black Saturday. Mr. Black, prominent business man, was found dead below his second story bedroom window, his skull fractured. Relatives flout the story of foul play, saying that death was due to an accidental fall from the second story window. Chief Blossom holds that certain evidence, such as the finding of a hammer in the bed room, a shift in the usual position of the bed and the manner in which the window screen was removed a sign it had been taken out deliberately instead of broken out by a man's fall, pointed to foul play.

CITATION

City of Sanford, a Municipal Corporation, by and through C. E. Henry, S. O. Chase, and Forest Lake, composing the City Commission of the City of Sanford, Florida, vs. The State of Florida, ex rel Geo. A. DeCottes, State Attorney for the Seventh Judicial Circuit of the State of Florida.

To the Citizens and Tax-Payers of the City of Sanford, Florida:

Whereas, a petition has been filed in the above styled cause by the City of Sanford, Florida, by and through C. E. Henry, S. O. Chase, and Forest Lake, comprising the City Commission of the City of Sanford, Florida, setting forth the fact that an election was held throughout the City of Sanford, Florida, on the 17th day of May, A. D. 1922, to determine whether that certain ordinance entitled "An Ordinance Providing for an Issue of Bonds by the City of Sanford, Florida, in the sum of $625,000.00 for Municipal Purposes; the Proceeds Derived from the Sale Thereof to be Used for Building and Constructing a Municipal Building, for the Extension of Park Avenue Northward into the Waters of Lake Monroe, for the Extension of the Drainage and Sewerage System, for Constructing Paved, Macadamized, and Other Hard Surfaced Streets, and for Funding and Paying the Outstanding, Floating Indebtedness of the City of Sanford, Florida, Evidenced by Vouchers Heretofore Issued and Authorizing the Mayor of the City of Sanford, Florida, to Call an Election to Determine the Question as to the Issuance of Said Bonds for the Aforesaid Purposes," duly adopted and enacted on the 10th day of April, A. D. 1922, should be ratified, approved and confirmed by the electors of the City of Sanford, Florida, and whether the bonds provided for in said ordinance should be issued by the City of Sanford, Florida, in the manner and for the purposes in said ordinance provided and set forth, and

Now, Therefore, in pursuance of an order of the court herein made, notice is hereby given that the Citizens and tax-payers of the City of Sanford, Florida, are by said order required to be and appear before the Circuit Court of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of the State of Florida, on the 15th day of June, A.
