

Motor Homes Varied

No matter what the size of your family, whether you're a weekend camper, a hunter, fisherman, or plan an extended vacation in the Great Outdoors, International Harvester offers a recreational vehicle especially for you.

Today's Scout, All-Wheel Drive sport/utility vehicles, campers, pickups, trailer-towing Travelall Wagons, and motor homes will get you there in the style you choose.

International Harvester is one of the foremost motor vehicle manufacturers for the recreational market. Based on years of experience in providing families with recreational vehicles IH offers the following guide to selecting the vehicle that's right for you:

For the small family, the limited budget, or the short stay in the Great Outdoors, choose a pickup such as the 1116, fitted with a "shell" or "punch" top consisting of a simple waterproof cover over the pickup bed.

For heavier duty, or for carrying a full-size camper insert that can sleep six with kitchen and bathroom facilities, choose a motorhome pickup such as the 1210 with camper package.

For trailering with one of today's big, roomy travel trailers, IH recommends the 1210 Travelall wagon, which offers seating for six or more, plenty of space for carrying outdoor motors and other gear that you might not want in your trailer, and when equipped with IH's trailer-towing package has the unique ability to tow up to five tons of trailer.

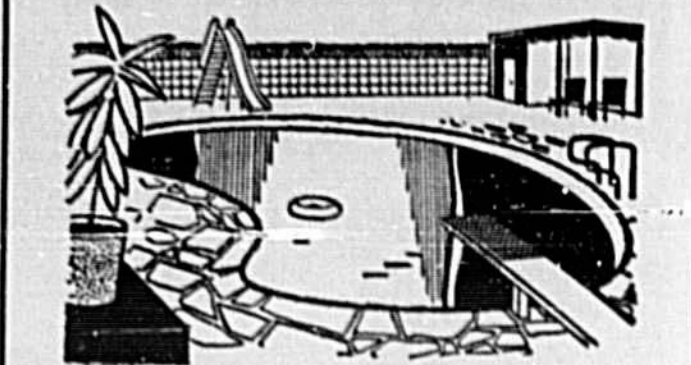

For those who desire a touch of luxury, both pickup and Travelalls can be selected with passenger-car comfort features such as bucket seats, carpeting, AM-FM radio, air conditioning, and color-coordinated interiors.

Pickups and Travelalls also offer power brakes and steering, and automatic transmissions especially designed for camper and trailer use. All-Wheel drive is available in pickups and Travelalls for the family that wants to reach off-road spots. Also offered with All-Wheel drive is IH's famous Scout 10" wheelbase go-anywhere vehicle. When so equipped, the Scout can pull a pop-up or tent trailer, and carry a hunting or fishing party, while exploring terrain far off the beaten path. Roof luggage racks, hand or soft tops, bucket seat, carpeting, AM-FM radio, automatic transmission, three engine choices, mechanical or electric winches, and a host of other choices make a vehicle such as the Scout an extremely versatile recreational vehicle for the small group.

LAND OF LEISURELY LIVING offers all summer outdoor sports — participating and spectator — and Florida's multitude of waterways attracts literally millions of visitors and residents annually. Florida truly is the "Sunshine State."

Have Your Boat And Live In It

You can have your boat and live in it, too. This delightful fact, says the Johnson Motors News Bureau, is the secret behind one of the most impressive growth trends in boating.

From disreputable beginnings as ungainly and unseaworthy "shanties of the shoreline" houseboats have evolved into smart, seagoing vacation homes.

The houseboat turnaround is clearly illustrated by sales figures. In 1963 only 500 houseboats were sold in the entire U.S.A. By 1969 the annual houseboat sales figure had risen to 4,000. The U.S. houseboat fleet now numbers 14,000 and is expected to grow much larger during the next decade.

Keys to the growth of houseboating are rapid development of attractively decorated and furnished living areas equipped with modern appliances, dramatic improvement in hull designs, and the development of efficient high horsepower outboard motors and stern-drive engines to propel them. By shedding their Ma and Pa Kettle appearance and unseaworthy bergelike bottoms, modern houseboats have attracted families who want to have their vacation or retirement home and their dream boat all in one neat package. Houseboats still feature big cabins, wide picture windows, and lots of living space and head room inside.

Scott Says It's 'A Meat Parade'

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — George C. Scott, who had shunned the glittering Oscar awards as "two hours of a meat parade," won filmland's greatest honor Thursday night and led his picture "Patton" to eight Oscars in the 43rd annual Academy Awards presentations.

A spokesman for Scott said the gold statuette which the actor said he would not accept would be sent to the George S. Patton Jr. Memorial Museum at Fort Knox, Ky. Scott was named best actor for his portrayal of the tough talking Army general and "Patton" was named best film. Glenda Jackson won best actress award for her role in D. H. Lawrence's "Woman in Love."

Not since "My Fair Lady" won eight awards in 1954 had a single picture so dominated the annual Hollywood presentations. Helen Hayes set a record of her own. The First Lady of the American Theater became the first performer to win both a best supporting actress award and a best actress Oscar. She won best actress in 1931-32 for "The Sign of the Cross." In her latest honor, 40 years later, she won best supporting actress for playing an addled matron in "Alphabet City."

John Mills was best supporting actor for his role as a mute in "Ryan's Daughter." But it was Scott and his competitor for the Motion Picture Academy that dominated this presentation at the Los Angeles Music Center. There once was an actor named Scott. Who claimed that he knew what was what. He sure sealed his fate. When he said, "Folks, I'd just rather not."

After taking about all that my stomach could hold before finally capitulating and turning the boob-tube off, I was exposed to what Scott identified as a "parade of meat," or something.

Here again, he is absolutely correct! For those who know me personally, I feel that an identification of "Spolaki being red-blooded enough to make his blood pressure rise" would be adequate. Whether this is from covering the subject of the Indo-China War or seeing an attractive babe.

BUT . . . don't force either one of the two on me, O.K.? That silly (and I'd use more colorful and decorative adjectives on this matter, but I'm reminded it is a family newspaper), but that silly female who took part in reading the names of the winners . . . that one who insisted that she expose practically all but her navel . . . I for one, can do without that on TV.

Nah, I'm not a prude! All I'm saying is that the public should have the right to choose their viewing subject; and, if I want to spend a couple of bucks to see a stripper, then I'll go ahead and plank the lot on the line.

If we can't get our wish via the TV medium, perhaps we Sanford merchants can go to some Army surplus outlet and buy a tank and topple a few of the doors to City Council chambers, or something!

I know of a 'gent' who last month paid $5 for the collection of refuse. Do you have any idea of how much it is this month? Yeah, folks . . . just come right on in to the City and you'll be surprised on what's waiting for you.

In my humble opinion . . . let's all the cops; we're being held up!

U. S. Funding Pondered Tourism Lure Is Sought

SR-46 Action Promised In Three Months

By FRED VAN PELT
Advertising bids for the contract to construct the new State Road 46 between Wekiva River and Interstate 4 will be published within the next 60-90 days, it was reported this morning by C. A. (Bill) Benedict, DeLand district engineer for the State Department of Transportation (DOT).

The highway will be straightened, widened (two lanes) and repaved between the Wekiva River (Lake-Seminole County line) and a point west of Paola. A new road will be installed between Paola and I-4.

While the new roadway will be two lanes at this time, DOT is obtaining sufficient right-of-way for future four-laning.

Benedict said this morning that final information for court action under the right of eminent domain will be forwarded to Tallahassee headquarters next week.

The engineer said the value of a number of needed properties will be determined by juries through litigation. In order that construction will not be delayed by drawn-out court action, suit to condemn will be filed and the judge will issue "orders of taking" for the properties involved. The state will place in escrow with the clerk of court an amount of cash equal to the appraised value of the individual property, for payment when the jury decides on a figure.

The first step toward what is hoped will be a grant from the U.S. Economic Development Authority (EDA) to fund the cost of a study to determine what attraction is best to lure Walt Disney World-bound tourists off I-4 and into northern Seminole County is expected to be presented to the Sanford City Commission at its next April 28 session.

This was decided at this morning's meeting of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce tourism committee chaired by Michael Portey at Michael's Restaurant.

On hand to hear Ted Mikalson, planner with Schweitzer Architects and Associates, explain the EDA application for a technical assistance grant to study feasible tourist attractions were Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore, County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond, Sid Vihlen Jr., county commissioner, Julian Stenstrom and Gordon Meyer, Sanford commissioners, John Y. Mercer, Chamber President and John Krider, Chamber manager.

Krider said it would cost from $45,000 to $50,000 to fund the study that would enable Sanford to capitalize on the 100,000 people expected to pass through this area on their way to Walt Disney World each day.

Mikalson said some $7,500 in local matching funds would have to be provided to obtain the grant. He expressed that this could be mostly services provided by city and county.

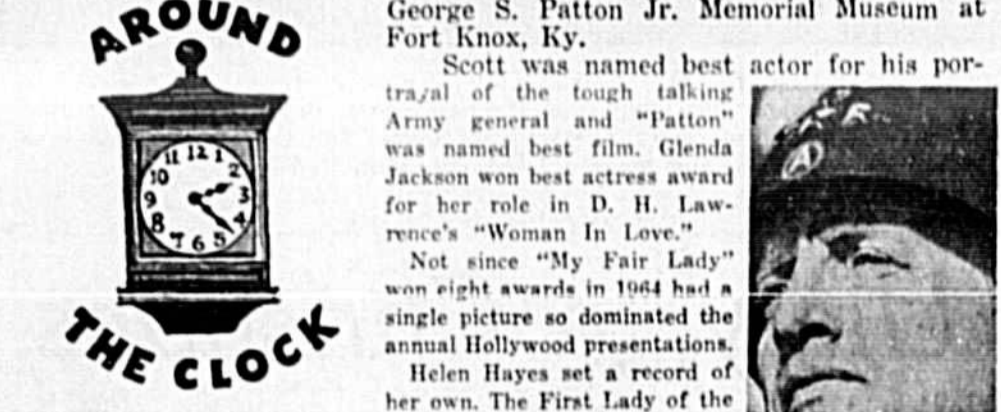

The planner stated the study would require six months to complete and be estimated a two-month time period for approval by several EDA offices before the final "go ahead" from Washington.

Moore, Meyer, Stenstrom, Drummond and Vihlen indicated approval of the first phase but Drummond withheld approval for all of the county as far as tourism goes, since he said there are parts of Seminole that do not want the tourists to leave the highway.

Drummond questioned whether tourism alone would help the county unemployment picture and asked Mikalson to incorporate as part of the application that the study also include what county industries could sell their services to the Disney enterprise. He indicated this would include bakeries and other services that could sell their products to Disney.

Mayor Moore stated he favored the application but questioned whether the city could go along "somewhere down the road" when it involved matching funds.

Drummond indicated Sanford could be the primary sponsor for the application and the county would follow with an endorsement.

$250,000 Land Deal Announced

A quarter-million-dollar Volusia County real estate transaction is expected to be completed Monday that will see 600 acres of property in DeBarry change hands for later subdividing into 14-acre parcels for the establishments of a retirement village.

This was disclosed by Sanford realtor John Sauls, who is handling the sale. Sauls said the property is located south of High Banks Road, west of DeBarry, east of the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad tracks, and north of the former Ox Fibre Brush Company plant.

Purchaser of the property is Jay Gladwin, a real estate developer, who is represented in Sanford by C. Vernon Mize, attorney. Seller of the acreage is OFB Corporation, through Benjamin L. Shoff and Frederick W. Wainwright.

The seller's attorney, according to Sauls, who also advised that William S. Gracey of Sanford, is the local clearing contractor for the buyer. The property is expected to be divided into 60 parcels for residential sites for retirement living, said Sauls, who added that 12 paved streets now dead end into the selling acreage.

The city manager with the capabilities of knowledge." This revelation came about in a discussion of the city's capital improvement listings, which discussed a preliminary projected expenditure of $7,213,000 for needed drainage.

This was disclosed at Thursday night's city Zoning and Planning Board meeting by Gerald Duke, city planner, who advised that Sanford is doing as good a job as any in the state and doing it with less money.

Duke attributed this to City Manager W. E. Knowles, and added, "Sanford is fortunate to have a city manager with the capabilities of knowledge."

Joe Camille Is Extradited

A 26-year-old Massachusetts man late of Morrison, Fla., will be returned to his home state for prosecution on three counts of armed robbery rather than face trial here for the rape of a 17-year-old Sanford girl.

This was disclosed after a grand jury session with State Attorney Abbott Herring, when he was apparently decided by the girl's family to allow Joseph Michael Camille to be returned to answer robbery and parole violation charges in Massachusetts. He waived extradition.

J. Q. (Slim) Galloway, chief county investigator, said authorities from the New England state would be here the first of next week to return Camille to prosecution on warrants charging the man with three armed robbery counts.

The stocky, black-haired Camille was arrested March 21 for the March 7 invasion of the girls home in which he tied up her parents and other relatives before assaulting the teenager in a separate bedroom.

The grand jury indicted Edward Frank Scott, 40, Orlando, for the rape of a 21-year-old Orlando school teacher, who was abducted at gun point as she was about for a bus on the corner of Church Street in Orlando, driven to Seminole County, and assaulted.

She finally managed to escape and make her way to a nearby residence in the Oak Hills area near the Orange County line from where she summoned authorities.

The grand jury also indicted Thomas Van Zandt, 24, Winter Park, for the attempted rape of a 27-year-old Orlando woman in a March 7 incident off SR 431 just inside the Seminole County line. Van Zandt was originally charged with rape.

In National Poll Oviedo Students Differ

By LARRY NEELY
A sampling of opinions of an 11th grade social studies class at Oviedo High School taken by Mrs. Mildred Wright shows surprising differences when compared to nation-wide poll conducted by the National Institute of Student Opinion.

The results of a comparison of the two show that more Oviedo students favor gun licensing than do students on a national average, more advocate the abolishment of the death penalty than the nation's sample and nearly half of the local sampling favor continued work on the Super-Sonic Transport (SST) while on a whole national opinion is decidedly unfavorable of the controversial project.

Taking the issues one at a time, 84 per cent of the Oviedo sampling favored gun registration compared to a 73 per cent favorable rating for gun registration of the national poll.

$7 Million Outlay Set By Sanford

City of Sanford is spending $81 per capita average while other Florida cities of comparable size (from 10,000 to 20,000 populations) are having to spend $121 per capita for the same amount of city services.

This was disclosed at Thursday night's city Zoning and Planning Board meeting by Gerald Duke, city planner, who advised that Sanford is doing as good a job as any in the state and doing it with less money.

Duke attributed this to City Manager W. E. Knowles, and added, "Sanford is fortunate to have a city manager with the capabilities of knowledge."

Other Death

By REV. LEROY D. SOFER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

While we do not often ponder it, we are faced with two kinds of death in life. There is the death which is an inevitable part of living and comes when it is our time to depart this earthly sphere. This is the death which many of us dread, which we would rather not talk about, and which the Church speaks so clearly in its creeds when it talks of the resurrection of the dead. Probably a good many sermons preached last Sunday dealt with this death.

There is another death which is a recurrent theme in the New Testament, and that is the death of the individual who is so caught up in his own self that he has lost sight of his neighbor as a person and who hardly ever thinks about God. This writer has had several people say to him, "You know, I was dead until the Lord Jesus came into my life." It is quite possible to be a live body, walking, talking, laughing and crying, without really being alive.

The Bible often equates sin with death, and anyone who has much experience with the matter knows that there is a sort of deadness about ignoring God and His demands upon us. The Bible infers that Adam and Eve might well have enjoyed eternal life in the Garden of Eden — and thus in the presence of God — if they had obeyed His commandment to leave the apple tree alone. They didn't, and the result was to be cast from the garden and to die, I don't know, but I think all of us have at one time or another had the feeling of being apart from life, disassociated from vitality, because of some evil we have done.

What happens when we are against God, or just plain forget Him, is that we cut ourselves off from His power, just as a toaster is rendered inoperative when the cord is pulled from the wall socket. A ship at sea, with its engines rendered inoperative, is said to be "dead" in the water. A soul, cut off from God, is equally cut off from the source of its power, and it is equally dead. We are then unable to discover joy or completeness. Life is a drag and a pain.

The Easter event is an concerned with this death as it is with the final moments of human life. The crucifixion of the Son of God and His resurrection are as much for those who still have time on earth as it is for those whose time is drawing to a conclusion. It speaks to both deaths because, above all else, the Easter story is the climax of a drama of love, rejection, and reconciliation in which all human beings take a part. The Easter event is a showing forth of consistent and utter love for man by God and the showing forth that sin can be overcome by love.

When we baptize a new Christian we say that the old and sinful man is drowned in the waters of baptism and a new person is born. We sacramentally drown the old man and raise up a brand new, and clean, sin, Christian. We figuratively nail the sinner to the cross, and take down a re-born member of Christ.

What is involved in baptism — and in living a Christian life afterwards — is a confession of sin which have gone before plus a resolution to change from sinner to man of righteousness. It is apparent that we who have been baptized still manage to dabble in sin, much as we may hate it. This is an inevitable part of the human condition. We must continually renew our vows, we must continually lay before God our failures and our sins with the promise that we are sorry and shall try not to repeat them. This is called "penitence." Then, with the power of God re-connected through His action, toward us in Jesus (something we call God's "grace"), we resolve to allow His power to control our lives.

The prodigal son awakened in a pig sty and said to himself that life as his father's servant would be delightful by comparison. He resolved to return home and ask to be called your son. The father, however, reached out to him, clasped him to his breast, and rejoiced for his return. The father said to the other son, "Your brother was dead, but now is he alive."

Just put God in the place of the father in the story, and ourselves in the place of the prodigal. Jesus spoke this parable to us, after all. So when we cast ourselves in the role of one who has gone astray, we must open our hearts to receive through Jesus Christ, wait for us with open arms to receive us back — to bring us back alive again. If we are dead in sin now, once we resolve to turn from sin toward God, He will give us the gift of full life, love, and joy which we lost when we misused our inheritance from God and not allowed us to be permanently separated from Him once we came to ourselves and our own private pigsties. The gift of reconciliation is obviously unearned by us. It comes as a free gift, directly from God.

That "other death," the result of sin, manifested by a sense of loss and separation, is overcome by our response to God's love through our coming to our senses, admitting the wrong, and resolving to walk with God henceforth.

'Gay People' Organize Own Churches

Impatient In Need Of Religion

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — About 100 people from 12 small conference rooms. Most were men, but a half dozen women. Included were numerous seminarians and ministers, some in clerical collars. Many freely asserted their homosexuality.

"Homosexuality as a way of life is an idea whose time has come," said the Rev. Thomas Maurer of San Francisco, urging churches to recognize it as a moral alternative. "It's something that is sexually loving. It's good," he said.

The occasion was the first National Conference on Religion and the Homosexual, held here recently, and it offered a review of the rising demands by homosexuals for open acceptance by the churches.

It also scathed the rapid growth of a network of independent congregations especially for homosexuals.

There are now at least 10 of these "gay churches," started in the last year in major cities across the country, with others in the developing stages, conference leaders said.

"Our congregation has doubled to 600 in eight months and it will double again by September," said the Rev. Robert Clements of New York City. "I don't know how many other congregations for homosexuals, the Church of the Beloved Apostle.

"We've had a welling outpouring of love like I've never seen before," he said. "People come, not because they're gay but because they're religious and they can worship without hiding their identities as homosexuals. The basic motivation is Christianity."

CAREY COLLEGE CHORALE of Hattiesburg, Miss., under the direction of Dr. Donald Winters, Dean of the School of Music, will present a program of choral music at First Baptist Church, Sanford, Monday, April 19, 7:30 p.m. During the first part of the service they will present works of J. S. Bach, Palestrina and others and for the meditation part of the service, "The Peaceable Kingdom" by Thompson. Popular secular music will be presented during the fellowship hour to follow. Jim Cole of DeLand is a member of the chorale. The public is invited.

Mary: Sign Of Unity In Christians

ALTA MONTONE SPRINGS — "Mary has often been a sign that divided Christians," says Carmelite Father James Carroll, "but I think she will also be a sign of unity among Christians."

Lutheran WML Zone To Rally

On Saturday, April 17, the Lutheran Women's Missionary League, Orlando Zone, will hold its Spring Rally in Leesburg at the Bethany Lutheran Church.

The theme of the rally is "You Are Bought with a Price."

Rev. E. A. Reischer of Leesburg will be the featured speaker. He will have the afternoon devotion.

Those attending from Sanford will be Mrs. Irma Kirschein, zone president; Mrs. Dr. Moore, local president; Miss Rachel Lee, Mrs. Jessie Andrews, Mrs. Ethel Lee, Mrs. Bernice Daniels, Mrs. Katherine Senkarik, and Mrs. Christine Seccombe.

First Baptist Church of Orlando has received more than $4,000 in its building fund on Easter Sunday, which brought the funds total to in excess of $10,000.

This money will be used to begin the second stage of a new $50,000 sanctuary. The foundation already has been laid. The completion of the roof and supporting walls will be next in a three-stage, "pay-as-you-go" building program.

The congregation has 150 resident members. Sunday's offerings were not the first of this magnitude. In the past three years, more than $25,000 has been contributed for building purposes.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH at 12th Street and Oak Avenue, begins a week of Revival Services Monday at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Robert E. Loy preaching. Nelson Stone, of Sanford, will lead the music. He and the choir have planned many special services, including solo, trio and quartet. Special nights of emphasis are Monday, Sunday School night; Tuesday women will pack the pews; Wednesday, Family Night beginning with supper at 6:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall at 5:30 p.m. Youth and children will see the film, "Journey to the Sky" at 8:15 p.m. Other nights of emphasis are Thursday when every member of this church is asked to be present; Friday, Youth Night; Saturday, children will have a hot dog supper at 6 p.m. Sunday morning is high attendance in the Sunday School followed Sunday night by Baptismal Service. The church bus will run for each of the services, and a nursery is provided for children three years of age and under. The church is invited to attend these services.

Dial A-Devotion, a telephone devotion sponsored by Central Baptist Church, is 225-9016.

ST. PETER AND PAUL CATHOLIC CHURCH, Goldenrod, Men's Club held its monthly meeting April 7, at which time plans were made for a "New England Night" to be held at the parish hall on Friday, April 23, at 7:30 p.m. This dinner will be catered and the Women's Club will co-host the affair.

Joe LaFleur, E. V. (Heide) Heidemann, William French and Mrs. William Daly Jr. are in charge of the arrangements.

Reservations are necessary and will close as of April 20. Call Mrs. Heidemann at 671-9432 or Mrs. Daly at 671-8889. The dinner is for adults only, and will include live entertainment and dancing.

Reds Hit Heavily, Flee Fire Base 6 Siege Ends

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SANIGON (AP) — The siege of Fire Base 6 is over and the North Vietnamese are fleeing after suffering heavy casualties, the commander of South Vietnamese forces in the central highlands declared today.

"Enemy pressure at Fire Base 6 has entirely lifted," said Maj. Gen. Ngo Dinh. He said the North Vietnamese who besieged the hilltop base had withdrawn westward to the area where South Vietnam's borders with Laos and Cambodia meet.

A few hours before Du's statement, one of his spokesmen, Capt. Le Van Phuc, said: "The situation at Fire Base 6 is not too good."

There obviously were still North Vietnamese troops around the base, but there was no way in Germany how many U.S. and South Vietnamese helicopters were fired on today as they landed hundreds of fresh Saigon troops in the area.

The North Vietnamese have been fighting a rear guard action.

The Saigon government claimed that 2,803 North Vietnamese troops have been killed in the region since the base was first attacked March 31. Most of the enemy casualties were credited to U.S. B52 bombers, tactical fighter bombs, and helicopter gunships. But some military sources say the total is substantially less than claimed by the South Vietnamese command. For one thing, only 22 rifles and 13 heavy weapons were reported picked up on the battlefields.

The Saigon headquarters said a total of 193 South Vietnamese troops have been killed, 32 are missing and 442 have been wounded. Field reports said Saigon's casualties were higher than those announced.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six special revenue-sharing plans through which President Nixon hopes to rechannel federal aid to the states are going nowhere fast in a hostile Congress.

Designated to repack a host of existing programs into $11 billion worth of block grants to the states, the plans hold little appeal for the Democratic congressional majority which helped shape the programs Nixon wants to replace.

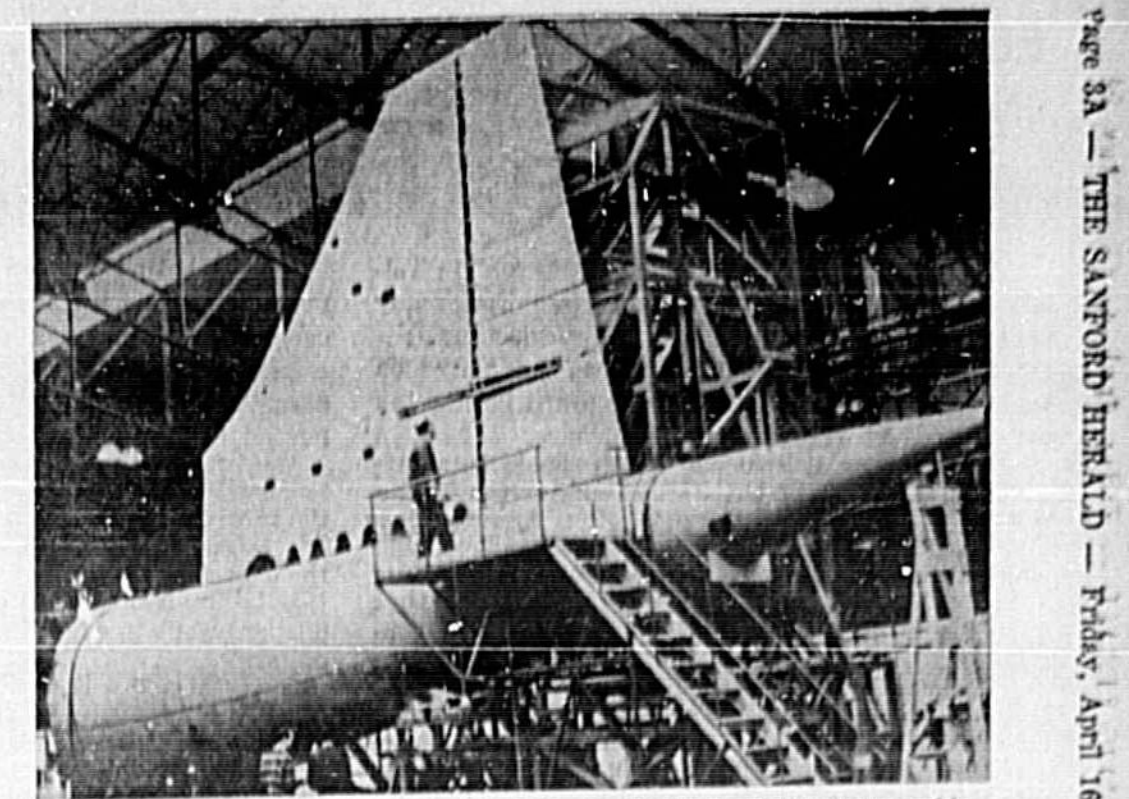

As a result, his plans have been shoved far into the background in the committees that will consider them and prospects are dim that any will progress much beyond the hearing stage this year.

Nixon's domestic legislative program is built around $5 billion in general revenue sharing and $11 billion in the six special programs covering education, manpower, law enforcement, transportation, community development and rural development.

The $5 billion program, heavily lobbied by the administration among governors and mayors, is in deep trouble in the House Ways and Means Committee, opposed both by Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and the ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Nixon sent the last of the six special programs to Congress April 6 before the start of the Easter holiday, but it is already ready clear they are in trouble.

Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee,

Nixon Nixes Tax Cut With Economy Boom

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has ruled out calling for immediate tax cuts following a strong rebound in the nation's economy during the first three months of the year.

Although the recovery was not as great as the Nixon administration had hoped, White House economic adviser George P. Shultz said it shuts the door to any tax relief proposals it has not even been assigned to a committee.

When Nixon outlined his revenue-sharing program to Congress last Feb. 4 he called it "an idea whose time has clearly come." But in Congress, the clock is running slow.

The Education and Labor Committee shows no inclination to approve the manpower proposal. In fact, it is spending action on a bill of its own which Nixon opposes.

The bill would provide federal grants to cities to create public service jobs for the unemployed. Nixon vetoed a similar bill last year.

There is some prospect for hearings this summer in the House Banking and Currency Committee on the community development plan, but the rural development proposal has not even been assigned to a committee.

Ping Pong Players Shop In Shanghai

SHANGHAI (UPI)—Members of the visiting American Table Tennis Team went shopping in Shanghai today and spent their own money despite a "gracious" offer by their China hosts to provide them with funds.

The group bought so much for a special department store that tourists that they had to invest in extra luggage to carry it.

The 15-member group goes on to Canton today, then crosses to the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong Saturday, where they started their trip into Communist China April 10.

In Thursday night's tennis table exhibition, the American women won two out of three matches but the men dropped three of their five matches. In three matches for veterans — players over 40 — the Chinese won two.

Mrs. Geraldine Resek of New York City, wife of one of the players, said the department store was "very modern, almost like one you'd find back in the States. They had everything you would find in a state store."

She said: "I was surprised at how stylish the clothing was, and added: "Almost all of the team members bought suits. We needed them to carry all the things we have bought."

'Modern Maturists' Organize

By GLENDA BRADFORD

LONGWOOD—Retired members of the Rolling Hills Moravian Church on SR 424 have formed an organization known as the "Modern Maturist Club."

The club emerged when a need for such a group was felt among the senior citizens of the church.

Membership will be limited to 50 at all times but any individual may visit with the group.

However, in order to join the group, a non-church member must express a desire to join and be sponsored by two club members.

Club president Mace Raymond explains that this club will not be patterned after any other senior citizens group, but will follow its own course.

At present the club has approximately 35 members.

Other officers of the Modern Maturists are Mrs. Wesley Canderhoff, program chairman; Mrs. Ralph Peter, assistant program chairman; and Mrs. O. C. Halpern, refreshment chairman. Rev. David Burkette will serve as advisor to the club.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the church educational building.

With New 'Gift' Priest's Parents Happy

PACIFICA, Calif. (AP) — The priest of a Roman Catholic parish said they were "overjoyed" to learn for the first time that they have a daughter-in-law and a 5-year-old grandson.

Robert Duryea Sr., whose son's marriage was disclosed Wednesday after his ex-communication from the church, said the news that he had a grandson was "like a gift."

The son, the Rev. Robert F. Duryea Jr., 49, had been priest for the 4,000 parishioners of St. Peter's church here since 1966.

His wife, identified publicly for the first time Thursday, is 30-year-old Luanan, a nurse at O'Connor Hospital in nearby San Jose. Her maiden name was not disclosed.

The senior Duryea said he met his son's wife and his grandson Paul for the first time Sunday at the last Mass celebrated by Father Duryea.

"My son's wife is wonderful in every way," he said in an interview. "I admire her guts for permitting Bob to go ahead with the priesthood after marrying her. Few women would have done that."

FBI Actions Defended By Attorney General

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Attorney General John N. Mitchell said Thursday FBI agents monitored an Earth Day rally in Washington last year at which Sen. Edmund S. Muskie spoke in an effort to prevent "violent interference" with peaceful demonstrators.

Mitchell issued a statement defending the FBI against Muskie's charges the investigative agency spied on Earth Day anti-pollution rallies throughout the country last spring. The Maine Democrat said Wednesday Congress should create an independent board to monitor all government intelligence-gathering activities.

Mitchell said charges the FBI was conducting surveillance of political activity of U.S. senators and tapping the telephones of congressmen were "false."

"The FBI has no interest with an Earth Day meeting at such," Mitchell said, "but it does have a most legitimate interest in the activities of persons whose known records reveal a likelihood of violence, incitement to riot or other criminal behavior."

He said FBI agents went to the Washington rally April 22 because they had learned there were persons, including one who was out on bail for federal conviction for inciting a riot, who planned to attend. He did not identify that person.

School Bus Safety Observed

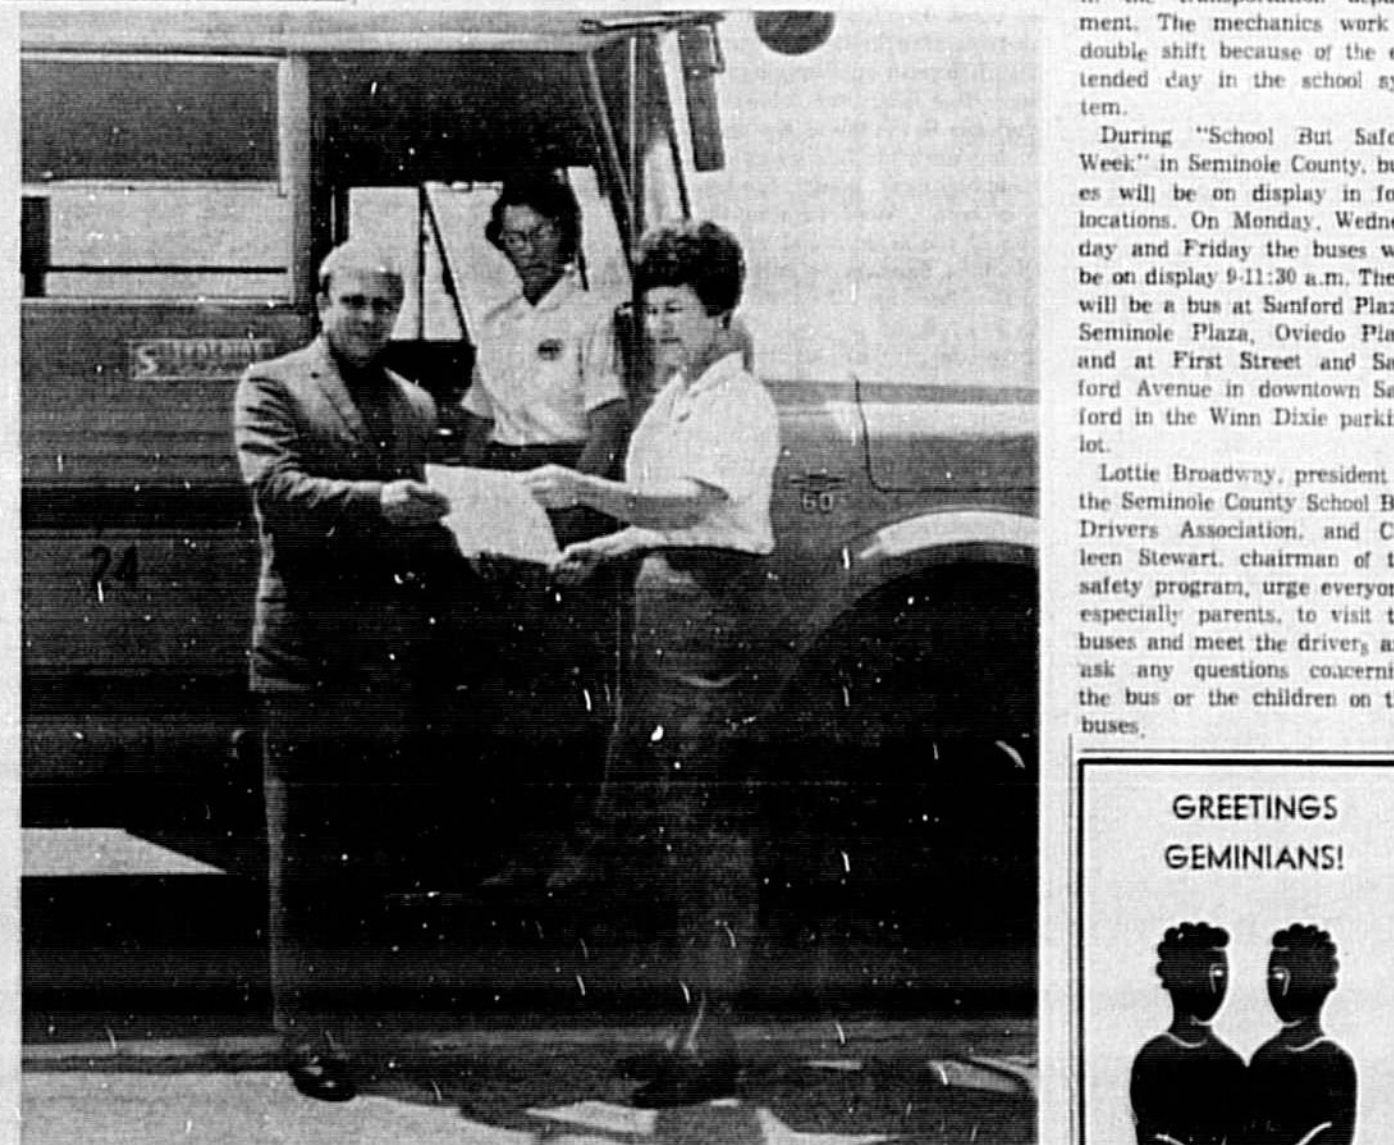

By GARY TAYLOR

The week of April 19-23 has been declared "School Bus Safety Week." A bill is in Congress for President Richard Nixon's signature proclaiming the third week in April as "National School Bus Safety Week" each year.

The county school transportation department has 77 buses carrying 12,819 students approximately 6,233 miles five days a week. In addition, there are 19 substitutes and eight mechanics in the transportation department. The mechanics work a double shift because of the extended day in the school system.

During "School Bus Safety Week" in Seminole County, buses will be on display in four locations. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday the buses will be on display 9-11:30 a.m. There will be a bus at Sanford Plaza, Seminole Plaza, Oviedo Plaza and at First Street and Sanford Avenue in downtown Sanford in the Winn Dixie parking lot.

Lottie Broadway, president of the Seminole County School Bus Drivers Association, and Colleen Stewart, chairman of the safety program, urge everyone, especially parents, to visit the buses and meet the drivers, and ask any questions concerning the bus or the children on the buses.

Students Forego Holiday To Labor For Community

NEVADA, Mo. (AP) — College students who chose a work week in southwest Missouri instead of the fun of ocean beaches finish today an Easter break full of community benefits.

The 106 have cut trees and brush, dug a latrine, painted houses, raked yards, collected empty bottles, visited patients in a state mental hospital and helped youngsters at a school for the handicapped.

Kevin Daniels, 18, a freshman at Siena College in Loudonville, N. Y., described how they helped a man of 64 build a bathroom extension on his home.

"We had no experience in carpentry or plumbing but the man did. He simply couldn't do the heavy work. He told us what to do and we did it," Daniels and Mark Spudero, 18, of Long Island City, N.Y., another Siena student, spent three days ripping out a wall, fixing the foundation and putting in the plumbing.

Another day they and half a dozen others painted the one-story home of a widow in her 70s.

This is the fourth year St. Francis Academy in this city of about 10,000 has been host to college students. Each Easter, the Roman Catholic secondary high school with an enrollment of about 60 invites volunteers from Eastern colleges to help the needy unable to help themselves.

Priscilla Duff, a sophomore from Newton College of the Sacred Heart in Newton, Mass., and Melissa McDiarmid of Baltimore, Md., the only high school senior in the group, were among about 10 young people who went to an elementary school as teacher aides. They "worked with children on a one-to-one basis," explained Pam Moore, the 22-year-old teacher from Tarrytown, N.Y.

"A really fantastic program and a break from somewhat sterile academic life," was the way Wilson, a 20-year-old University of Sanford Junior, described his work. "We met people and experienced Mid-western philosophy," John Kane, from Siena, agreed.

Earth Day Set Apr. 22

By JAMES PHILLIPS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Next week is the first anniversary of Earth Day. But unlike last year, when cries of alarm were raised over environmental decay, the emphasis will be on individual actions to insure a more livable planet.

"Last year we learned the environment has problems," said Sarah Fano, executive secretary of the St. Louis Coalition for the Environment. "This year we want the people to find out what things they can do."

Instead of last year's 24-hour lit, President Nixon joined by 40 governors, has proclaimed earth week April 19-25. April 22 will be Earth Day.

In New York City, 15 blocks of busy Madison Avenue from 62nd to 57th Street will be closed to traffic from noon to 2 p.m. each day. Air-pollution experts will measure the level of exhaust pollutants on the carless avenue.

On Earth Day the American Museum of Natural History in New York will have an environmental "hot line" for the public to telephone and ask environmental questions of the museum's scientific staff.

Besides emphasizing benefits of recycling, the money earned will go for local environmental projects.

Nebraska starts a cleanup campaign Saturday. There will be tree-planting, too, and a program emphasizing recycling of glass and paper.

Authorities expect to collect 106 tons of paper and glass from across the state.

North Orlando Clubbers Create Colorful Corsages

By MARY HYATT

The April meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Gerald Ward Thursday, with Mrs. Ward as hostess.

Program for the meeting was the making of corsages for Easter. Each member was given white chrysanthemums, white or green ribbon, wire, tape and most net to be used in making their own corsage.

Mrs. George Duquette gave instructions in making the corsage.

The club donated $10 to the Fire Department to help defray expenses for the Easter Egg Hunt held in the village for the children.

Guest for the evening was Mrs. Willard Ward, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carl Hyatt, Bahama Road, Ranchlands.

STYLED FOR SEASON — British designer Frank Couture has created this large picture hat of white organza for his Spring bride's wedding gifts of white gipsy lace. It is quite a bright aspect for the depressed Europeans who have had a hard winter.

Flower Show Sparks Installation For Altamonte Springs Gardeners

By GLENDA BRADFORD

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — One yellow Easter bunny, one purple chick, a bouquet of springtime flowers and the imagination of Mrs. A. S. Merrill, installing officer of Altamonte Springs Garden Club—mix them all together and you have a delightful installation of officers.

Mrs. Merrill recited the color of each office and as she spoke on the duties of that position the individual officers arranged flowers and miniature animals in an Easter basket.

The end result of their efforts was a beautifully proportioned arrangement in hues of green, yellow, blue, gold and purple.

Unlike most garden clubs, the Altamonte Springs Garden Club is open to both men and women. It is tradition that the club elect a man for the office or president. This year's selection is Forrest Greene, a local realtor and former vice-president of the club.

Other elected officers are James E. Spencer, treasurer; Mrs. Mace Raymond, recording secretary; Russ E. Demore, president; and Mrs. John Bailey, corresponding secretary.

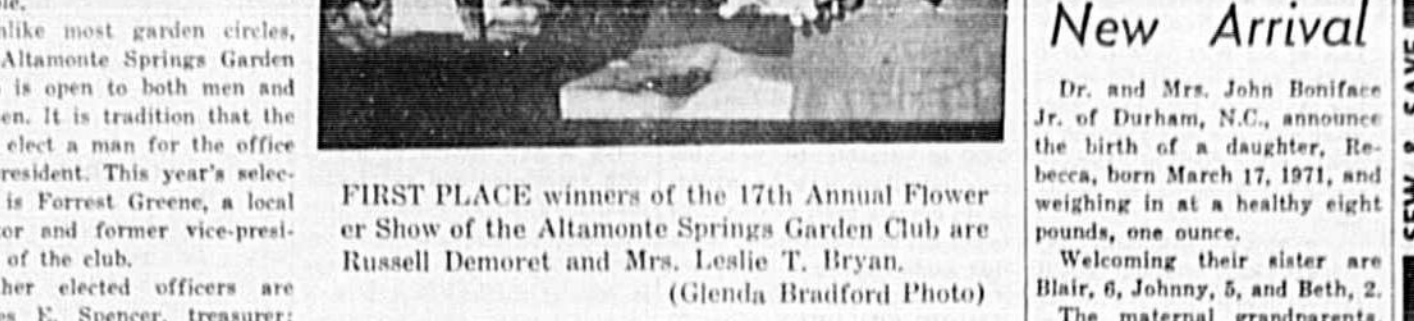

Also on slate for this month's meeting was the club's 17th Annual Flower Show.

A first place was awarded in both the men and women's divisions. Russel Demore took first place for the men with a selection of shrimp plant, geranium and branches of sage palm arranged in a shape.

Mrs. Leslie T. Bryan, first place in the women's division, displayed a bouquet of red Christian Dior roses taken from her own garden and set in a milk glass bowl.

The club voted on each arrangement by secret ballot without knowing who the arranger was.

It was decided that the annual flower show of the club will be held in May next year rather than in April because more flowers are in bloom at that time from which arrangements may be made.

FIRST PLACE winners of the 17th Annual Flower Show of the Altamonte Springs Garden Club are Russel Demore and Mrs. Leslie T. Bryan. (Glenda Bradford Photo)

Personally Yours Live Wire

By LIZ MATHIEUX

Say, do you realize that the year is well spent into the fourth month already and that before long it will be time for the youngsters to be graduated from school?

Yep, that's just what it is almost time to graduate and this past Wednesday night it was time to gather once again for the second annual Diversified Cooperative Training Banquet at the beautiful Langford Hotel poolside in Winter Park.

Once again Joe and I were that honored to be included among the guests. The setting was more than lovely and the food left nothing to be desired. . . the service was excellent and as usual, Wayne Leroy, our well esteemed DCT Teacher, was the gracious host.

Joe and I were seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Webb. Many of my favorite Orledians were present, to name a few, Bonnie Olliff, Bill and Louise Martin, Mr. and Mrs. James Palmer, our charming assistant principal, Kirby Bucklew, and his equally charming wife, the very distinguished president of the Florida Jaycees, Bob Hattaway, and his beautiful spouse, Peggy, Ralph and Donna Neeley and others.

All had a very delightful time and we are looking forward to next year with great expectations!

I'll tell you something if you promise not to have anyplace, the State Road Department is actually repairing highway 426 between Geneva and Oviedo. . . I could hardly believe my eyes when I saw all of that heavy road equipment moving over "ole 426." I almost felt like stopping to salute.

Wednesday mornings from here on will find me having breakfast with the newly organized Rotary Club which meets each Wednesday morning at the Oviedo Townhouse Restaurant at 7:30 a.m.

The goal for this worthwhile organization has been set for 80

Diary of Our Destiny

And every early in the morning the first day of the week... at the rising of the sun...

This begins the most amazing account of human experience ever written. And so simply, with just a notation of time; the hour, the day, the very moment!

But like a church bell sounding its call to worship, that simple notation of time has become the clarion of a New Life.

So deeply has it penetrated our preoccupation with the routine of every-day existence that millions gather at sunrise to greet the dawn of each Easter Day.

What has given such meaning to one moment in time?

It's PROMISE: Christ is risen. The One Who said, because I live, ye shall live also—He lives!

This tremendous moment, for all who worship Him in faith, became the first entry in the Diary of our Destiny.

ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Violinist Jascha Heifetz makes a rare television appearance on NBC-TV next Friday.

This network reprises two noteworthy entertainments—the perennial "Wizard of Oz" movie and the video version of Dickens' "David Copperfield." There also are two specials dealing with children.

ABC has a special about auto racing, a special starring singer Diana Ross and a golf tournament.

CBS offers the first of a series of three examinations of American Justice.

Highlights (all times EST):

FRIDAY
"CBS Friday Night at the Movies" at 9 has the world premier of "Dunderberg," pilot film for a new fall series starring Rod Taylor and Dennis Cole. They play a pair of tough, trouble-shooting investigators in the southwest in the 1914 era. A Mexican hijacks a train and holds 73 passengers hostage in seeking release of his handi brother.

ABC preempts "Love, American Style" at 10 for a special, "National Poling Day: The Surprising Americans." Louis Harris poll examining the hopes, frustrations and successes of the American people.

NBC's "Strange Report" at 10 offers "Cover Girl — Last Year's Model." Mystery of the theft of valuable new style designs involves the kidnaping of a girl.

SATURDAY
Atlanta and Philadelphia are in NBC's major league baseball game at 2 p.m.

"CBS Golf Classic" at 4 has the first 18 holes of the 36 hole final with Tom Weiskopf and Bert Yancey playing Frank Beard and Larry Hinson at Akron, Ohio. (CBS requests these names not be released to public before 5 p.m. April 10.)

"ABC's Wide World of Sports" at 5 offers the Daytona (Fla.) "125" stock car race, U.S.S.R.-U.S. wrestling meet at Knoxville, Ill., and the National Air Races, Reno.

Gregory Peck, Mike Douglas, Carol Lawrence and Phyllis Diller are on Pearl Bailey's ABC hoop at 8:30.

NBC's movie at 8:30 screens 1968's "Sebastian," starring Dirk Bogarde and Susannah York in the story of a mathematician working for British intelligence who is implicated in espionage.

SUNDAY
The unprettiest television re-peat of "The Wizard of Oz," now virtually a movie memorial to Judy Garland, is on NBC from 6:30 to 8:30.

From 9 to 10, ABC preempts half of the usual movie time for a special, "Once Upon a Wheel," for which actor Paul Newman is host narrator in this tribute to auto racing.

The second half of ABC's usu-

TV Star Has Two 'Broods'

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Shirley Jones, Oscar winner and star of "The Partridge Family," has a brood at home to match the family she heads on the television series.

Her three sons are Shaun, 12; Patrick, 9; and Ryan, 5. Her step-son, David Cassidy, is the star singer on the show.

Shirley is blonde, pink and beautiful off-screen as well as on. Better still, she is as devoted to her offspring as she appears to be toward her make-believe youngsters on the show.

Every weekend when the ABC show is in production Shirley plans special projects for her sons. They go out for lunch, attend movies, go bowling, visit the beach or enjoy a picnic in the park.

"When I work all week the least I can do is spend my days off with the boys," she says.

She also finds time to be the wife of actor Jack Cassidy. They met while Shirley was starring in the film version of "Oklahoma!" and have been married more than 15 years.

English-Style Home

The Cassidy home is English Country style in an exclusive area of Beverly Hills. It is not, however, typical California neo-Gothic.

The house is of the type commonly found on the outskirts of small towns in Massachusetts or Connecticut with a piedmont of fieldstone and white wood siding. Inside there are four fireplaces.

Cassidy holds a professional decorator card and is responsible for the lived-in, comfortable furniture. He made much of it himself, including a fireside bench, bar stools and the like. He designed and helped rebuild a sun room with a barbeque and pool table.

ON THE SET — Meet British actor Graham Faulkner, garbed for role of the young St. Francis of Assisi, on the Italian film locale of "Brother Sun, Sister Moon."

Rural Fun Out On TV

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—CBS-TV's official program schedule for next season confirms that the network, trying for a more contemporary flavor, has eliminated its numerous rural comedy series, including some longtime favorites.

Canceled are "The Beverly Hillbillies," "Mayberry R.F.D.," "Green Acres," "Hee Haw" and the Andy Griffith and Jim Nabors shows.

Also gone from the new fall lineup are "Lassie," "Hogan's Heroes," "The Interns," "Family Affair," "To Rome With Love," "Men at Law," the Ed Sullivan Hour and the reruns of Jackie Gleason's "The Honey-mooners."

The overriding point of the new schedule is to free CBS-TV from its basic image, sometimes unfairly exaggerated by competitors, of being a network that appeals chiefly to children, old folks and rural viewers.

CBS-TV is all too aware of the growing number of persons concentrated in urban areas, as well as the young adult audience and its buying power. Nevertheless, the network is sticking with some of its veteran series.

Returning are "Gunsmoke," the Carol Burnett and Glen Campbell variety hours, the Lucille Ball, Doris Day and Mary Tyler Moore comedies, "My Three Sons," "Mission: Impossible," "Mannix," "Hawaii Five-O," "Medical Center," "Arnie," "All in the Family" and the two weekly movies.

The Thursday movies will return as before, but the Friday motion pictures will be switched to Sundays—at 7:30 p.m. EST. In addition, the network has scheduled a new series of 90-minute, made-for-television films entitled "CBS Friday Movies."

As CBS TV President Robert Wood says, the new lineup is marked by the most extensive program changes in the network's history. Because of the schedule's attempted image-altering, as well as the cutback on network prime time by the Federal Communications Commission, 13 of CBS-TV's current 29 series—almost half—are being eliminated. The entire Sunday, Tuesday and Friday night lineups are to be wiped out.

Amid this slashing, however, some of the retained series indicate the network's commitment to a new look. While letting go rural shows, CBS-TV renewed two comedy programs regarded on the borderline in earlier tentative schedules: The controversial "All in the Family," about a middle class family man full of personal prejudices, and "Arnie," about a blue collar worker promoted to executive status in his company.

Pageant To Enliven Old New Orleans

Copley News Service
 NEW ORLEANS—Traditional New Orleans jazz, like good gumbo, is an enjoyable whole made up of diverse parts. If gumbo is the result of such savory ingredients as file powder, okra and pepper, then jazz is an equally interesting compound of the ethnic and cultural factors that make New Orleans, and Louisiana, so unique.

This year the fascinating history and lore of New Orleans style jazz will be featured in a four-day pageant that will display the diverse elements that have made jazz "America's original art form." From April 21-24, the New Orleans Jazz and Heritage Festival will produce a revitalized edition of previous years' festivals. The 1971 pageant will be directed for the second year by George Wein, eminent producer of American jazz festivals and originator of the jazz festival concept.

Jazz veterans of yesterday and jazz contemporaries, local and otherwise will assemble to do their thing in this singular and colorful event. Also represented will be the splendid marching brass bands, the Bourbon Street exponents of Dixieland jazz, the river steamer artists and the Creole band. This group's efforts will be spiced up additionally by visiting guest artists of the national jazz scene, including Kid Ory, Dizz Gillespie, Bobby Hackett, and, hopefully, Louis Armstrong, who although recently ill and hospitalized was scheduled to attend.

Other Louisiana ingredients that have lent additional flavor to New Orleans jazz will include the Creole Association dancers and singers, the parade of the Mardi Gras "Indians," and demonstrations of four stages of Louisiana music: blues, country-western, gospel and street bands.

Patti Andrews Back In New Musical Play

By BOB THOMAS
 Associated Press Writer
 HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The singer in the middle looks not much different from the World War II years when she was urging GIs to Roll Out the Barrel and promising to be with them in Appie Blossom Time. The trio sings in the same full-voiced, rollicking style, but there is only one authentic Andrews Sister among them. That's Patti, and she is helping re-create those innocent years of the 1940s in a new musical playing off Hollywood Boulevard.

It's called "Victory Canteen," and it takes place in Wilkieville, Ind., "at Main Street and Roosevelt Avenue." The book is by TV writers Milt Larsen and Bob Lauber and the music by Richard and Robert Sherman, who provided songs for "Mary Poppins" and other Disney films. "The show is a lot of fun, especially for those of us who lived through the war," says Patti. "But what surprised me was that even the kids like it. They get a kick out of such lines as 'I'll wait for you—for the duration.'"

For the benefit of the younger generation, the theater program features a glossary of such terms as "A" stamp (gasoline ration), Bing and Bob (Hope and Crosby), "V" mail (overseas letters), Zoot Suit (man's apparel) and Hudson (an automobile). Nostalgia unlimited. The appearance of Patti Andrews—she plays Mom in the hometown canteen—also brings back a flood of memories for the middle-agers. Everyone who was near a radio during the 1940s will remember Patti, Maxene and Leverage belting out "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree," "The Borgia Woogie Bugle Boy," "Pistol Packin' Mama," etc., etc. Patti looks a decade younger than her years.

Questions And Answers

By PENNY PENCE

Q: My wife and I have a bet as to who played the lead in the movie "Penelope." I say Natalie Wood and she says Audrey Hepburn. Who is right? —W.T., Baton Rouge.

A: Cute though the movie "Penelope" might be considered, it's hardly the quality flick in which Audrey Hepburn usually appears. It was Natalie Wood.

Q: Is it true that Dean Martin does not rehearse his shows? Does he really keep a jar of peanut butter in his dressing room to give him energy? —C.A., Lancaster, Pa.

A: Martin does not do much rehearsing of his show, prefers to look over the script just in time to step before the cameras. As for peanut butter in his dressing room, that isn't the way Dean describes his stimulants, and he usually doesn't bother to offer any excuses for them.

Q: Are Junior Samples and Lulu from "Hoe Haw" married to each other? —A.F., Baton Rouge.

A: No, Junior is happily married to wife Grace and they have six children.

Q: How come, when the Fifth Dimension appears on TV, they never sound as good as they do on records? —H.J., Elmira.

A: That's the plight of the recording star turned TV entertainer. Recording studio electronic marvels and musicians simply cannot be duplicated in "live" performances in front of TV audiences. That is the major reason so many recording artists prefer to lip sync their own recordings on TV. It may not be real, but it sounds better.

Q: I believe that there should be a program designed to help youngsters enter the entertainment field. Are there some entertainers you could suggest who would be willing to share their ideas on this subject with me? —E.T.H., Federal Way, Wash.

A: Entertainers are eager to share ideas, but I fear you'd get a pretty blue view of the industry and its potential at the moment. There are already guild and independent programs in the film centers designed for training young hopefuls, but the lack of work available to even the seasoned professionals isn't very encouraging to those young folks who make the grade.

Agri-News and Views Timber Big Business

By FRANK J. JASA
County Agricultural Agent

The following FLORIDA FORESTRY FACTS were provided by the Florida Forestry Association:

One acre of healthy, young trees produces about four tons of oxygen per year; enough to supply the needs of at least 12 persons a year. About 40 per cent of the earth's oxygen is produced by growing forests and other green land plants. Photosynthesis by ocean plant life produces most of the remaining supply.

It takes more than 300 tons of newsprint from about 6,000 pine trees, to keep Florida's largest newspaper in DAILY operation.

Timber, and the manufacture and retailing of its many products, adds over 1.4 billion dollars yearly to Florida's economy.

Timber is the only agricultural product grown and harvested in all 67 Florida counties.

Over 93,000 timberland owners grow trees commercially in Florida, paying taxes in advance of income for 16 to 20 years, until their trees, mature and are harvestable.

Florida timberland owners provide well over 5 1/2 million acres of recreation lands to the public for hunting, fishing, camping, hiking and relaxing.

More than 5,000 essential products come from Florida's forests.

Six out of every ten acres of Florida's land surface is forested.

Yardner Corner Thrips Hit Flowers

By DAVID DeVOLL
Extension Agent

One of the most troublesome pests on roses and other flowers this time of year is the flower thrip. During March and April flower thrips become extremely numerous and migrate from the flowers of weeds and grasses to roses. Adult flower thrips do not feed on foliage but enter the flower buds. Thrips puncture the plant tissue, suck the exuding sap and deposit excrement causing browning and deformed petals as the flower develops. Infested buds fail to open. Thrips are very active and when alarmed, will turn up the tip of the abdomen as if to sting.

Adult thrips are about 1/8 inch in length. Flowers suspected of being infested should be shaken vigorously over a sheet of white paper to detect them.

Diazinon, cygon or metathorax are effective in controlling thrips; however, due to the constant reinfestation by migration during the peak of the thrip season, flowers may need spraying twice a week.

The Home View Shag Rugs Popular

By LOUISE L. GILL
Home Economics Agent

Shag carpeting and rugs, with soft, luxuriant pile, are especially popular for today's informal look in decorating and casual way of living. Learn all you can about "shag" before buying.

What is shag? Shag is a long, loosely tufted or woven pile which gives a somewhat uneven or shaggy look. The pile length may be from 3/4 inch to over 3 inches long. Along pile gives a very soft, fluffy look, while a shorter one seems smoother.

Different textures can be created by pile density and various yarn twists. A tight twisted yarn gives a curly, irregular surface with pile falling in different directions. Less twist in yarns produces a straighter pile, such as the velvet or plush shags. Tufts stand nearly straight and the pile is denser.

Fibers used in "shags" include acrylic, nylon, polyester, and wool.

YOUTH BEAT

PRO-BUSINESS STUDENTS — In the "down-on-business" atmosphere of today, John Perel, 21-year-old editor-in-chief and publisher of "Business Today" magazine, is a breath of fresh air. He and his associates on the publication decided to make a case FOR business. "We figured that students would listen to other students — and that a student-run magazine would get a better hearing," Perel said. It seems he was right. About 200,000 students have picked up on the magazine, which has features such as "Defense of Saran Wrap: The Real Side of Dow," and has heated debates with consumer-crusader Ralph Nader. Write on!

ROBIN STRIKES AGAIN — Aven Roblin, who cut the record "Welcome to the LBJ Ranch" which the then-president thought was for the birds (and not Lynda and Lady either)

Hubert Humphrey

has struck the politicians another blow. This time, in an album titled "Supershrink," Roblin plays analyst to some of the leading political figures of today. Taking excerpts from their speeches and interviews, he presents them as being crazy. "They are! They are!" he says. Included on the album are Hubert Humphrey, John Lindsay, Nelson Rockefeller, LBJ and members of the present administration. Is the record fair to them? "Of course not," said Roblin. "I didn't want to be fair. I'll be fair to them when they're fair to us." Janus Records puts out the disc.

BLACK MARKET — Karen Black, who is nominated for an Oscar for her "Five Easy Pieces" performance, is moving in the music direction. She and Peter Rachtman have formed a music publishing firm — Karpel Music Company — and the first property in Karen's repertoire is "Ballad in C," a song she wrote herself and sings in her new movie, "Scraping Bottom." Incidentally, her new flick costars George Segal.

THE DOC MAN — If it weren't for his mother, Chuck Braverman would be out of a job now. His mother was playing pool one day (don't all mothers play pool?) at The Factory in L.A., and who should she meet but Tommy Smothers, who at that time was still the darling of CBS. Mama asked Tommy if he would like to see a film her son made while a student at USC. Tommy saw it, liked it and hired Braverman to do a three-minute filmed history of the United States for his TV show. Braverman complied, using 1,300 clips in the presentation — and that show got the largest positive audience male response of any Smothers show. The Smothers hired Braverman for their staff and when that show folded, he was offered other jobs. He did one short film for "60 Minutes," did the openings for the Ed Sullivan and The Virginia Graham Shows and is working with producer Alan Landsburg on an ABC-TV special called "How to Stay Alive." Braverman directs it. He started out, on the other side of the camera, as a child actor and drifted into filmmaking at USC. In his 20s now, Braverman would like to get into making feature films.

Wow! Isn't this time of the year fantastic? It just makes me feel like a brand new person! And what's even better is that it's the time of year for parties and proms and awards and all kinds of "newy" things! So I'm expecting you people to come out of hibernation and let me know about what's happening with you!

Speaking of proms, the Junior-Senior prom at LYMAN HIGH will be held next Saturday night, April 24. The prom will begin at 8 p.m. in the Granada Room of the Park Plaza Hotel on Lake Eola. I just hope you guys have asked those girls—I reminded you about it a long time ago!

"I CARE" (Conserve America's Resources and Environment) is the theme of a week being observed by Central Florida Girl Scouts, April 17-24, as Brownies through Seniors strike a blow in defense of our ecology. All troops will have special projects for the week and Cadette Troop 776 will undertake to clean up along Seminole Boulevard and 17-52 between Sanford Zoo and 1-4. One good turn deserves another, so let's all pitch in to clean up our environment. Show others that YOU care!

We don't often publicize ROLLINS COLLEGE over in "this neck of the woods," but here's something that might interest you. Rollins interrupted its normal academic class schedule recently for an entire day of self-appraisal involving the entire college community. Entitled "Community Day" the innovative program was announced only hours before an all college assembly, including students, faculty and administrators met in the Enyart-Alumni Fieldhouse to explain plans for the day aimed at an imaginative examination of Rollins' mission and purposes and her prospects as a valuable educational enterprise.

"The idea," according to Student Association President Ken Bleakly, "is to allow the students and faculty to step, briefly, outside ordinary and routine channels of thought, communication and action and talk informally about the Rollins College Community—how it works, and how it might work better." Following the early morning general session, all participants dispersed to small discussion areas which followed flexibility prescribed formats. A moon college-wide picnic held on the Mills Memorial lawn was followed by a reconvening of discussion sessions to examine a different aspect of the Rollins community. Community Day concluded with a report meeting of the entire student body reassembled in the Enyart-Alumni Fieldhouse. Sounds like Rollins is really on the ball. Take note, you other colleges.

First Class Honor Rating for the first semester was awarded "The Clipper," student newspaper at the Sanford Naval Academy. The honor was bestowed by the National Scholastic Press Association recently at the University of Minnesota in the 84th All American Critical Service. Approximately 1600 school newspapers from throughout the United States were evaluated. The Clipper received mark of distinction credits in writing, editing, and photography, is advisor for The Clipper and the student editor is Midshipman Douglas R. Sarubbi.

Competition for top rating is tougher each year, stated

Otto W. Quale, NSP executive director. "High school editors, writers, and photographers of today grew up in a whole new world of mass communications and their newspapers reflect this sophistication. There is more in-depth reporting and significant editorial content than was apparent five years ago. It is a responsible press challenged by great insight to the problems in progress that are a part of their lives today," Quale added. Congratulations, "Clipper."

If you like plays, why don't you drop by tonight and see the original play being put on by students of CENTRAL ADULT HIGH SCHOOL. The play will begin at 8:30 in the lobby of the SEMINOLE JUNIOR COLLEGE campus. It is entitled "Eighth Floor," and was written and is being presented by the students under the direction of Mrs. Ann Lynch.

OVIEDO HIGH SCHOOL DCT (Diversified Cooperative Training) Club really made a splash with their unusual poolside Employer-Employee Banquet at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park complete with an aquatic show. Congratulations to Ed Locklear, president, and Shirley Warfield, treasurer, who received outstanding contributor awards.

Everyone on campus out at FLORIDA TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY is excited about all the activities for the Interdisciplinary Weeks, April 12-23. As the first week of this two-week "exchange of ideas between colleges," lots of fascinating things have happened. Included among these was a reading of original student poetry, dramatic readings by the Village Players, experimental and modern films, a puppet show, one act plays, and a Birth March (in favor of birth, of course!) One of the most interesting of the many displays is Ichabod II. Designed by Kitty Murphy and Brian Skadowski, it embodies all that this two-week Creative program represents since it is an innovative way to enable students and faculty to find a new environment—a more creative environment constructed out of scaffolding, lumber, and art works. Ichabod II is serving as a staging area for many of the events in the Creativity Program as well as an area where one can go to experience something out of the ordinary.

The activities will continue through next week, with one of the highlights being the appearance of author Saul Bellow on Thursday night. Bellow is a three-time winner of the National Book Award.

If you think you have talent and are looking for a start in show biz, regardless of previous experience, Rabbit Productions, Inc., may be the answer. They are recruiting local entertainers of every sort, and in so doing, intend to provide new talent with a showcase and Central Florida audiences with wholesome family entertainment. Interested? Contact Kip Watson at 160 Jaffa Drive, Fern Park.

Well, that seems to be about all I have for you this week. Have a good week, won't you, and enjoy life. Open your eyes and see how beautiful everything is!

Thought for the Week: "It is our task in time and in our generation to hand down undiminished to those who come after us, as was handed down to us by those who went before, the natural wealth and beauty which is ours." John F. Kennedy.

A HAPPENING — Proud of their handiwork are these FTU students who aided in the design and construction of Ichabod, the maze of steel and wood that serves as the focal point for Interdisciplinary Weeks at FTU. Pictured standing, left

Jury Returns Lone Guilty Verdict

State Wins 1 Of 11 Criminal Cases

By MARION BETHEA
In a recap of trials which were held in Circuit Court last week, or were on the docket, of the 11 cases docketed, Assistant State Attorneys Thomas Spicer and Fred Leone were successful in obtaining a guilty verdict in only one case.

The case of Gary Adair, Larry DeMorse and Ronald Revels, charged on three counts of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, grand larceny and conspiracy, was nolle prossed (dismissed by the state).

Also nolle prossed were the cases of Willie Martin, charged with non-support; Eric Westbrook, charged with buying and concealing stolen property and David Murray, charged with possession of narcotics.

Elizabeth Davis charged with manslaughter, entered a guilty plea to the lesser offense of (Cont. On Page 2A, Col. 5)

Paris' Crazy Horse Saloon Where Strip Tease Is A Form Of Art

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
PARIS—(NEA)—It started in a large coal cellar on the crooked Avenue George V as a sort of bistro for "cowboys de luxe." Owner Alain Bernardin, Western film fan, deciding he would pattern his venture after a Wild West saloon, called it the Crazy Horse Saloon. (A picture of Chief Crazy Horse, who lived circa 1870, adorns the vestibule of the joint.)

This May, the Crazy Horse

Saloon will celebrate its 26th birthday. Probably the only strip mining gold in Paris, it has no gambling, no bunnies, no hostesses. Just a sophisticated nude show, unequalled anywhere in the world, the most celebrated, as well as the fastest.

There are two shows lasting two hours every evening—one at 10 p.m. the other at 12:30. With a seating capacity for 250 and another 100 customers at the bar, the place is practically full every night.

The 15 dancers, whose ages range from 18 to 28, represent a small United Nations. They are French, English, Italian, Portuguese, German, Czech, Scandinavian, Malaysian, Vietnamese, African. They are paid $50 a night.
"Pyromalton" Bernardin, a wry Frenchman in his late 50s, started his saloon, he says, when he realized that Paris had no intimate theater offering the public a sophisticated, unusual nude show. He explains, "The first flesh-colored lights, a daring innovation, appeared on the stage of the Folies Bergere back in 1890. It was only between the two World Wars that music halls staged 'nude' models who did not dance, just playing the part of 'live' statues."
No less than 205 dancers have appeared at the Crazy Horse since its opening.

"It is not easy to find a girl who will make a perfect nude dancer," Bernardin says. "I have had to work out lighting effects to camouflage minor defects. None of my girls are just beautiful dollies. They must have initiative, spirit and be interested in their work. Beauty is often stupid, anyway."

The chorines come from every social milieu—daughters of working-class parents, doctors, lawyers, journalists, a wide cross-section. There is even the daughter of an African king.
Bernardin gives them whimsical stage names: Prima Symphony, Anna Portobello, Capula Pupo, Lova Moor, Bonita Super, Rosa Fumetto, Miss Zahoo, Viola V., Wanda Monopolka, Sophie Palladium, Vicky Toboggan.

Bernardin is very proud of his cast. House rules are rigid but he says they are all one happy family. The girls do not indulge in pot or just plain smoking and the majority drink nothing stronger than fruit juices or coffee.

Studio—and everywhere else he could.
It paid off. His talents as a singer and dancer were prominently displayed when he co-starred with Carol Burnett in a television special, "Once Upon a Mattress." This led to the starring role in a Broadway musical, "Draught The Cat," for which he won critical acclaim, even though the show lasted only a week. He followed this with a number of stage appearances in plays such as "On the Town," "Little Murders" and "Lovers" in the touring company with Shelley Winters. His performance in the latter was brought to the attention of casting directors, and the Hollywood assignment for "Minsky's" was the result.

IMPRESARIO ALAIN BERNARDIN, founder and owner of the Crazy Horse Saloon, discusses a routine with one of "his" girls.

'I Love My Wife' Set For Plaza On Sunday

Elliott Gould, who rocketed to stardom in "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" and "M. A. S. H.," opens Sunday at Movieland Drive-In Theatre in the David L. Wolper production in Technicolor for Universal. "I Love My Wife," an irreverent, yet uncomfortably real, satirical comedy which probes the institutions of marriage and sex as they apply to the new morality today's society. Brenda Vaccaro and Angel Tompkins co-star.

ELLIOTT Gould and Brenda Vaccaro star in "I Love My Wife," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

For Gould, this is his sixth feature motion picture in less than three years since he made his debut in "The Night They Raped Minsky's." In his second feature, "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice," in which he played Ted, he was nominated for an Academy Award as best supporting actor. In addition to those already mentioned, he has starred in "Getting Straight" and "Move."
A native of Brooklyn, 6' 2" and 209 pounds, Gould claims he was "sort of raised on the stage." When the youngsters in his neighborhood were playing baseball, he was busy taking dancing lessons and performing at lodges, temples, weddings, and bar mitzvahs. Eventually he studied with Lee Strasburg and observed classes at the Actor's

Murder Victim's Car Discovered

By BILL SCOTT

The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) has entered the John Sechrist murder case following the discovery of the aged recluse's 1966 Comet automobile, missing since the time of his murder and found abandoned in another state. This was disclosed today by Police Det. Sgt. William Lykens, who declined to reveal in what state the missing vehicle was found.

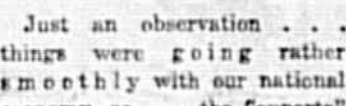

Lykens explained that since the car was located out of Florida, the FBI would have to be brought into the case to continue the investigative phase that will involve the crossing of state boundaries.

Sechrist, a recluse in his late 70s, was found knifed to death in a bedroom of his 2418 Cedar Avenue home Feb. 10 by a real estate agent, with whom the dead man had previously dealt over the sale of his home.

The resultant autopsy revealed Sechrist had been stabbed in the left portion of his back and had died of massive bleeding.

The man's car and his wallet were not found by investigators, and after an intensive check of the wooden frame dwelling by police and sheriff's department laboratory technicians, the solution had slowed until the car was found.

Lykens, for security reasons, declined to disclose anything further about the car's location, whether or when the vehicle would be returned to Sanford.
Big shake-up coming...

By JOHN A. SPOLSKI

With I could 'unload' with all the facts. Come to think of it. That's precisely the word... unloading—another one to leave an important offering.

Just an observation... things were going rather smoothly with our national economy, so... the "experts" decided to slow it down a little. Took away some federal funds for roads, etc.

Got just a "little slow" (almost to the degree where some who were laid off were willing to even consider it a recession...) So, now we're going to loosen-up a little on those purse strings to get things back to "smooth" again.

Why in the world didn't they leave well enough alone in the first place?

Almost an identical situation developing in the space program now.

Things were poking along just A.O.K. Where we were heading the Russians, our space experts got us caught up and even ahead of the Reds. So, what did they do? Cut off the space dollars!

Now it looks like the Russians will be getting their own space laboratory... again ahead of us... and then watch the national "experts" chastize everybody but themselves for letting this country get so far behind.

Shouldn't be too many months before those purse strings are loosened... And wouldn't you know it, if you check the calendar... by that time, it ought to put us right around to election time.

Convenient little game some people play... with our money, and the lives of our servicemen, isn't it?

Maybe we'll even be lucky enough to see those mysterious "white papers"... you remember, them? They had the secret to ending the Vietnam war, if elected, etc.

Look for another explosion... this one at the local level when the Commercial Division of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has their meeting this Wednesday at 8 a.m. at the Chamber Building.
Gonna talk a little about those hikes in the City of Sanford's refuse charges. Hopefully, it'll amount to more than just talk.
Some merchants have had their bills increased by 1000 per cent... that's no misprint, my friends... one-thousand per cent!
All interested Sanford merchants are invited to attend.

Choice Is Coming

12 Months School Or Bonds

By BILL SCOTT

Seminole County School Board needs more money — and plenty of it to meet the need of new schools and renovations called for in the State School Survey just released two weeks ago.

In a special work session called Friday afternoon to deal with the survey report and other school matters the board heard Supl. John Angel explain the survey that needs an estimated $21 million in new schools, renovations to existing schools and other improvements.

Present plans suggested by the school staff call for the approval by the free holders of between $5 or $7 million this year in a bond referendum, then a millage increase of up to four mills by next year.
It is anticipated the bond sale along with state money would allow the county to build enough schools to house the increasing load that has been estimated as high as 2,000 a year.

Plans call for the construction of a new Lake Brantley High School and a new elementary school on Red Bug Road sometimes during 1971-72 year.
In 1972-73 year, schools have plans for construction of a Jackson Heights Middle School, a Lake Howell High School and Middle School and a North Orlando Elementary School.

From 1973-76, the plans list a need for four elementary; one and half middle schools and one high school at a yet to be determined sites.
In the years, 1976-79 the survey projects four new elementary, one and half middle and one new high schools also at undetermined sites.

Board member Jean Bryant suggested that she would be hard to sell on a bond issue until the 12-month school plan has been investigated.

A. F. Keeth, board chairman, said he will have to go to the people with a choice "do you want a 12-month school or bond issue?"

Mrs. Bryant added she could not see how the 12-month school could be avoided, but Supt. John Angel then suggested "none of us know what we're talking about."

Andrew Bracken, administrative aide, said he knew of no county that had been saved having to build new schools by going to 12-month plan.
Chairman Keeth viewed that people would not want to pay money for the new schools and Dr. Stuart Culpepper, member, opined that it didn't bother him to go to the people and tell them they have to pay extra money to go first hand. "If people want pay money to buy new schools put them on double sessions, make them as sorry as they want it," Culpepper added.

Suspect Is Arrested In Altamonte Rape

After almost a week of intensive investigation, County Detective Johnny Wright arrested a Brevard County laborer for the April 11 rape of an 18-year-old Altamonte Springs woman.

Johnny Clyde Young, 35, of 827 Santa Rosa Drive, Rockledge, was charged after he arrived at the woman's house with a note and $25, which he reportedly gave to the alleged victim.

Wright, Lt. L. J. Kriz and Sgt. Tony Calavento had been at the woman's home after she received a telephone call from a man who offered apologies for the rape and asked to see her.

Working with officers, the woman agreed to have the man come to her home and a date was arranged.

When Young arrived, he was charged and removed to the county jail to be held without bond pending a hearing.

The alleged victim told authorities she was assaulted early April 11 by a man who held a knife to her throat and made her submit to sexual relations.

The knife was among the items taken from Young at his arrest. In other county police action, a 15-year-old Longwood youth was arrested on a possession of narcotics charge by Deputy D. M. Lane during weekend investigative activity.

Variance Will Be Studied

NORTH ORLANDO — Village Council, at its meeting at 7:30 tonight, will consider a variance requested by Florida Land Corporation in the company's fifth and eighth additions. The variance has been initiated for living space area in that the present regulations encompass 1100 feet and the three divergent models do not meet these specifications. Therefore the company is requesting that the regulations be lowered by the city.

There will be a discussion of subdivision ordinance 80, which will include a discussion upon fire hydrants and maintenance bonds.

Also under discussion will be a revision of the municipality's occupational license fees. Many of the council feel that the fees are too low and need to be reviewed for possible changes.
