

CAPITAL LABOR IN HOT DISPUTE OVER PROGRAM

Head Of American Fed- eration Of Labor Assails Attitude Of Industrialists

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—The path of the recovery program was clouded further yesterday by a new dispute between capital and organized labor.

While Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator, worked in the seclusion of his apartment over vital organizational problems, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, again assailed the attitude of industrialists toward the recovery program.

Asserting that if the recovery act could get from employers half the support it has had from labor he would have doubted the wisdom of newly employed.

Green urged to recall that the recovery act is a permanent emergency measure, not a permanent organization, as the industrialists would have it.

Johnson expected to take up immediately the codes for retail establishments and drug stores, which were made public Wednesday.

It was understood the recovery administration believed many retailers and druggists who would come under the code had had no opportunity to express their views. Their sentiment was being sought before revision of the codes was started.

Another major code that for the construction industry was nearing the stage where it will be laid on the administrator's desk for approval.

Meanwhile, Secretary Perkins attributed an upturn in wages and a decrease in working hours among industrial employees to the progress of codes.

More than 20 chapters have been organized by President Roosevelt, and twice this number are in the hands of deputy administrators who are preparing reports for Johnson.

Average hourly earnings of employees of firms reporting to the bureau of labor statistics increased from 42.7 cents to 48.5 from July 15 to Aug. 15 (corrected) and average hours of work per week dropped from 42.3 to 38.6. The figures covered 89 manufacturing industries and were calculated by Miss Perkins to indicate a $12,000,000 rise in manufacturing payrolls.

The retail codes with their provisions for limiting the sale of goods below certain minimums have stirred up a wide dispute, with Johnson's attitude still unchanged. The consumer's advisory board of the NRA is on record against price-fixing and a number of advisory economists of the administration have expressed similar views.

However, Arthur D. Whiteside, the deputy administrator who presided over the code in co-operation with representatives of retailers, told the administrator he did not believe price regulating to be a sound policy at a time when business operations were to be restricted as price fixing.

Cuba Is Reported To Be Sitting On Edge

HAVANA, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—With outward calm this capital today sat on a tinder box of rebellion and hunger. The government is still at odds with political foes, but was expected to reply negatively to the opposition demand for resignation. Soldiers still had trouble with the rebel forces of Juan Blas Hernandez, veteran campaigner against Machado, in Camaguey province. Available foodstuffs dwindled. Havana residents checked their supplies at warehousesmen continued on the strike and estimates were made that the capital would go hungry if the strike continues another week.

JOHNSON BEGINS DIFFICULT JOB OF REORGANIZING

Will Shift Recovery Administration To Permanent Status

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—The huge job of shifting the recovery administration from an emergency to a permanent organization has begun by Hugh S. Johnson, the administrator. Looking forward to the time when he hopes to have all industry operating under codes of fair competition, Johnson is endeavoring to work out a plan for the self-regulation of industry with the least governmental interference consistent with the protection of the public interest.

Thomas S. Hammond, executive director of the President's emergency re-employment campaign and until midsummer a prominent Illinois manufacturer, was reported last night to be drafting the proposed permanent setup of the NRA at the request of Johnson.

It was emphasized, however, that the present outline under which industry would be given a thoroughgoing change to run its own affairs had not yet been approved by the cabinet advisory board headed by Secretary Hoover. The board has discussed a similar setup with the administrator.

Besides the staff reorganization, there also is under way an examination of existing codes for revision of work spots and other spheres possible as many additional industries as possible under the code.

The merging into a few chapters as possible constitutes the heart of the proposed permanent setup of the NRA as now proposed by Hammond and other assistants.

Meanwhile, a general reorganization of the NRA key men and the creation of a policy board was disclosed with the appointment by Johnson of Robert W. Lee, a deputy administrator, as assistant.

WALLACE SCALP IS SOUGHT BY FARM GROUP

Resolution Is Passed Demanding Resignation Of U.S. Secretary Of Agriculture

DES MOINES, Iowa, Sept. 22.—A resolution demanding the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace was passed yesterday by the Farmers' union of Iowa.

A short time later, Senator Lewis J. Murphy told the farmers' convention that Wallace "is being made the 'goat' for things for which he is in no wise responsible."

The things for which Murphy indicted Wallace is not responsible include rising prices of commodities the farmer buys, without proportionate increase in the value of those he sells.

The convention also resolved in favor of inflicting a whip which Wallace has declared himself sympathetic. Murphy also pledged efforts toward inflation.

Inflation has been one of the dominant notes in the convention. Glenn B. Miller, president of the organization, having declared that unless the dollar is inflated a farm strike would be declared to "cover" anything else seen in the future.

Murphy linked inflation with mortgage refinancing with the declaration that "farm mortgage refinancing must fail of complete relief with inflation in its support to refinance inflated debt on deflated prices."

He disagreed with the convention when he urged a part of the corn-hog reduction plan.

A resolution of the convention had condemned the reduction plan, calling for slaughter of many thousands of hogs and the placing of much cotton as "sun-bleached." Murphy replied, "I don't like price fixing, but I don't like price fixing that's dynamic in it. But it can be fixed now under the most favorable circumstances with hogs increase there is an assured shortage of hogs if our farmers walk in step with the government. Cooperation in the government hog policy is sure to bring tax and rising prices."

He sided with the union hoover, in their demands for cost of production for farm products, another demand in their resolutions.

Mr. Reed, national president of the Farmers' Holiday association, led the next word, however, when he followed Senator Murphy in his closing speech of the afternoon program. He declared that Secretary Wallace "was more concerned than any other man in the United States for the right of the farmer to work on his own land."

He declared that "for any confidence in President Roosevelt had not been destroyed but it has been cracked mightily. I warn you Democrats that it is not impossible to shake the faith of the people in President Roosevelt. He will either make good his promises to the American people or the chance is that he will be the last president of the American republic."

H. G. Wells Scores Hitler Regime And Comments On Affairs In Russia, Italy

JERSEY TO HOLD NEU FOR TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—An admonition not to be blinded as to what actually is going on in Germany, was made yesterday by H. G. Wells, British writer, in a luncheon address in which he criticized the Hitler regime in Germany and commented upon conditions in Russia and Italy.

One thousand persons attended a luncheon party at Grosvenor house in celebration of Wells' sixtieth birthday.

Wells said that the Hitler regime in Germany is an epidemic of intolerance which takes ugly and monstrous form. It is all very well for the government to say that it is a voluntary matter about food, but it is quite a different matter to say that in Italy and Germany, above all in Germany, the life of a sane, rational citizen in the country is largely a misery.

FOOD SURPLUS WILL BE USED TO FEED POOR

Government Under Order Of President Will Buy Products In The Open Market

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—Purchase of surplus foodstuffs and staples for distribution to the nation's needy was ordered last night by President Roosevelt in a direct attack upon the economic paradox of want in a land of plenty.

The directed agricultural adjustment and federal relief administrators to speed this program with the two-fold purpose of stabilizing glutted markets and feeding the unemployed.

It was emphasized by Roosevelt in the personal announcement of his plan that this relief was to be in addition to that already being extended by federal, state and local authorities and was to be given particularly in those areas where he now considers the food, and clothing for the needy totally inadequate.

The program under consideration for purchase of milk, beef, dairy and poultry, cotton and cottonseed.

The government will buy in the open market. A rough estimate placed the total cost of the undertaking at about $25,000,000.

5 Chicago Gunmen, Behind Curtain Of Smoke, Loot Bank

Daring Holdup Of Fed- eral Reserve Employees Results In Policeman's Death

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(A.P.)—Behind a smoke screen laid in Chicago's Loop today five gunmen staged a daring holdup of four federal reserve bank employees and five minutes later shot and killed a policeman after their automobile collided with another.

The robbery, carefully planned and swiftly executed probably will not net much in loot. W. C. Bachman, cashier and deputy governor of the bank, said he believed two bags contained nothing but cashed checks from member banks.

The policeman, killed as he and a fellow officer approached the desperadoes' car about a mile from the robbery scene, was known as William J. Connelley, 35.

A moment before the machine overturned after striking another, and as Cunningham and Police Morris Fitzgerald stepped into the street the men crawled from the wreckage and sent a barrage of machine gun bullets toward the officers.

Cunningham fell mortally wounded, while Fitzgerald jumped behind a metal sign and was turned the fire. Commandeering a passing motorist's car, the desperadoes escaped. The car left behind bore the Florida tag 112-108.

Adaptation of the famous Saturday Evening Post stories of a battling feminine tugboat captain and her rampancy adventures.

Miss Drexler plays Annie, with Berry cast as her shipmate, but good natured mate, Captain Terry. They battle and make up again for countless laughs; there is a dramatic note of mother love and a gigantic thrill in the climax when Berry enters a blazing firebox to repair a boiler at sea and thus save a storm-tossed liner. Most of the picture was filmed in Puget Sound in the actual localities of the Norman Reddy Haine stories, which gives the picture

South Carolina's School Children To Get "New Deal"

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 22.—South Carolina's high school students will be given a "new deal" in textbooks for the coming year as the result of an agreement reached between the state board of education and publishers concerned in obtaining the state's contract.

Approval of the new list was effected "at a considerable saving in price," and while no titles were mentioned in the contract, the board said the "average" price of books selected at the conference is "considerably lower than the old list."

The list of "titles" or required high school books, including only 27 different titles, was said to be the smallest in many years. A longer list of elective suggestions

SPECIAL APPEAL GIVEN GERMANS LIVING IN AUSTRIA

Nazi Propagandists Carry On Effort To Destroy Dollfuss

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—The German National Socialist Party in pursuance of its policy of winning over Austria to National Socialism, has issued through its official propaganda department a special appeal to help "our German brothers in Austria who stand in the midst of their fight for liberty."

After claiming that the Dollfuss separatist government is desperately defending itself through terror, lies, violation of the Constitution and treason against the people, that all propaganda in German favor is brutally suppressed while, on the contrary, Jewish newspapers of political parties conduct unheard of "campaigns of lies" against Herr Adolf Hitler and the National Socialist Germany, the appeal declares that it is the national duty for Germans under such conditions to support the Austrian National Socialist.

Such help can be given by everyone in Germany who has relatives, friends or acquaintances in Austria by writing to them explaining what Herr Hitler has done for the German people and how conditions in Germany really are, the appeal continues.

German newspaper cuttings telling the truth about the Austrian situation and about Germany's economic and political improvement, should especially be sent. If every German does his duty, this appeal concludes, then it will

PHILOSOPHERS BRAN ADDRESS BY PROFESSOR

Treatise Describing Certain Existence Arouses Interest

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Physical existence is all relative, while beyond it lies the eternal, perfect, harmonious expression of life, wherein goodness and beauty are inseparable. Prof. John S. Marshall told the American Philosophical Association here recently, "It is not to be found there, because it lacks absolute permanent reality, since it tends to its own destruction," he said.

Dr. Marshall, a professor of philosophy at Albion College, Albion, Mich. He spoke on the subject of "The Relativity of the Physical World in Relation to the Absolute Character of Values."

His philosophy has numerous antecedents, dating back many centuries, and is akin to that of the noted Russian philosopher, Professor Eshbach, who also attended the meeting of the association at the University of Chicago. Professor Loeb was from here to Albion to attend a week with his colleague.

"Most philosophers do not realize how the new theory of relativity has really changed the outlook for most systems of modern thought," said Professor Marshall in his address to the philosophical association. "It means that existence is so far as it is physical is relative and not absolute. Evidence is accumulating very rapidly to confirm the theory of relativity."

"It is hard for us to realize that this theory means that every physical existent is relative. If we take space, time, motion, velocity and mass as the formal constituents of physical existence, then in dealing with any object we must abstract from what standpoint the existent exists—such-and-such characteristics."

"I suggest that the relativity of physical existence is a sharp contrast to its absolute value. If we accept this thesis, it cuts the ground from under all conceptions, based on the assumption that there are absolute values they must be found in physical being or human life as we know them, conditioned as they are by the very relativity of all physical nature."

The tragedy of the times, observed Professor Marshall parenthetically, is the development of a new kind of absolutism. As it holds the human mind to be merely a mirror of the material world, then it must hold that the material world is absolute. In the case of Bolshevism, he commented, this is particularly pathetic.

"We now see that our lives live conditioned by those forms of space and time exhibited in this world are relative," he continued. "We do not find, and we cannot find our value-absolute, within the earthly sphere. It seems to me that we must seek our absolute beyond the world. It must be concrete existence, something much more than a mere quality or an abstract form."

"Our theory means that each individual gains absolute value by complete love of God and the complete love of man. The love for God is the way of participating in the divine life. If we completely love God, we are no longer merely conditioned, we become united with the absolute life of God himself."

"But our love for God is always a love that presses out in many directions and carries with it an

India Increasing Her Sugar Output Despite Conditions

BHILAI, India.—While the chief sugar-producing countries on the world have been obliged to limit production lately, owing to surplus stocks, India has increased its output.

"In the United States, sugar cane has until comparatively recent times, it was only utilized for the production of gur, or unrefined sugar, especially suitable for Indian sweetmeats. Modern conditions led to the introduction of white, refined sugar."

Recent figures show India to be producing about 11 percent of the total world sugar output, and to be consuming about 16 percent of it. This shows that approximately 2,300,000 acres are under cane in all parts of India. This is greater than the sugar area of Cuba and five times greater than that of Java. But India refined sugar production is up to date comparatively very inferior.

A conference representing the central, the provincial governments and the interests of the sugar growers and the sugar manufacturers has just been sitting in Simla. It is the outcome of the organization with all other life. However, I do not mean to suggest that our life becomes absorbed in the life of God.

"How does this all relate to our conception of physical relativity? Human life is relative because of the relative nature of all life in space and time."

Huey Long Home Is Damaged By 2 Fires

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Two fires threatened the home of Senator Huey P. Long early today while Mrs. Long was in the house alone. Each time the policemen called the fire department and the flames were extinguished causing an estimated $1,700 damage. It was the third this year to threaten the $10,000 home on Audubon Boulevard and police are unable to account for their origin.

MAYORS INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN 'WORKS' FUND

President Asks For Requests, Promises
Immediate Action

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Mayors of American cities were invited by President Roosevelt yesterday to send in their requests for shares in the $3,000,000,000 federal public works fund and were promised prompt action.

The message was read to 80 municipal executives attending the U. S. conference of mayors just as they finished listening to charges that procrastination in distributing the public works funds had put national recovery in the doldrums.

"We are at the point now where the states and municipalities interested in public works projects should come forward quickly with proposals which will give immediate work to their unemployed," the President's message said.

"We want to cooperate to the fullest possible extent and I assure you that after your projects have been passed upon by the state advisory boards they will be acted upon in Washington with a minimum of delay.

"We will match speed with you. The money is available, and we want to put men to work."

President Roosevelt said that of the $3,000,000,000 fund about $1,600,000,000 had been allocated. The President's message was a direct reply to the objections many mayors had brought to the conference against delays in distributing the funds for public works.

Among the chief objectors was Mayor John F. Dore of Seattle. "The impetus of recovery in the Pacific northwest is collapsing," Mayor Dore had told the conference just before the Roosevelt telegram was read by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

UNION OF ALL RAILROADS IS BEING STUDIED

Co-ordinator Working On Plans Providing For Small Group To Effect Economies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Consolidation of all railroads into a small group of great trade channels is being studied by Joseph B. Eastman, coordinator of transportation, in an effort to achieve operating economies.

This was announced yesterday by Eastman who said the railroads in the eastern, southern and western regions had formed organizations to investigate savings that could be obtained through joint use of facilities, pooling of train service and other means.

Eastman has selected the Prince plan as a typical one to study. It was written by J. W. Barriger, Sr., now chief examiner of the railroad section of the Reconstruction corporation, and presented to the president last winter.

This plan contemplates a combination of the nation's railroads into seven or eight systems formed around the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railroad in the east; the Southern railway and the Atlantic Coast Line-Louisville & Nashville system in the south; and others in the west.

"The carriers in each of the three regions," said Eastman, "have created organizations headed by the regional coordinating committees, which are investigating the economies in operation obtainable through joint use of facilities, the pooling of train service and other similar means."

"Through this investigation, as checked and supplemented by the work of his own staff, the coordinator expects to secure comprehensive information as to what can be done under existing conditions and without further corporate consolidation or unification of the railroad companies."

Various ambitious schemes have been suggested, however, for the concentration of the railroads, through corporate consolidation or other means into a very few great systems or even into a single system.

"Typical of these schemes is the so-called 'Prince plan,' which might more appropriately be called the 'Barriger plan' and which proposes to combine the railroads into seven or eight systems—two in the east, two in the South and three or four in the west."

Johnson Keenly Irritated Over Bickerings Between Labor And Capital In NRA

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Creation of regional agencies to mediate strikes was announced yesterday by the national labor board as Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA chief, considered demanding either an end of controversial statements or resignation from prominent members of his advisory boards.

Johnson was described by high officials as disturbed by the large number of statements being flung back and forth by spokesmen for capital and labor within the NRA for the second consecutive day he was ill at his home, but it was said when he returns he will flatly insist upon more harmony or an exit from the organization of those carrying on public disputes.

The plans for the regional labor boards were announced jointly by Johnson and Senator Wagner, of New York, chairman of the national labor board. At the same time they denied there had been a conflict of authority between the administration side of the NRA and its labor board.

EARLY SOLUTION PREDICTED FOR CUBAN SQUABBLE

Leaders Of Five Opposition Factions Hold Conference

HAVANA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The president, his foes and friends met with neutral mediators today and an early solution to the bitter political differences was officially predicted as a result.

Guarded by heavily armed detachments of cavalry, members of the student directory, the president's strongest supporters, and leaders of five opposition factions, convened in the presidential palace to resume negotiations which the executive broke off a week ago when he refused to entertain demands for his resignation.

Another two-hour conference between Amador and Welles and Colonel Batista, head of the government's armed forces, was subject to much conjecture. What they talked about was not revealed.

'DOLLAR DAY' IS PROCLAIMED BY PAP WORTH

'Cracker Day' Will Be Occasion For Offering Public Commodity Bargain Prices

Calling upon local merchants to assist in making "Cracker Day" a success by offering good merchandise at bargain prices as that "our visitors may take advantage of this opportunity to make their dollars go as far as possible," H. M. Papworth, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce this morning issued a proclamation designating Saturday, Sept. 30 as "Dollar Day."

Since the announcement that the celebration would be staged here next Saturday and that invitations had been sent to various parts of the state urging riders and others to visit Sanford on that day, it has been brought to the attention of the Chamber of Commerce that an unusually large crowd of out-of-town people would probably be here "Cracker Day."

The organizers of the event, the Sanford Elks Auxiliary and the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs, have planned a fish fry, parade, speaking, tournament riding, horse racing for both men and boys and other activities for next Saturday and they have urged local merchants to take advantage of the situation by displaying their best wares for Sanford's guests.

The proclamation follows: WHEREAS, the Women's Auxiliary of the Elks and the County Federation of Women's Clubs have planned an out-standing and interesting celebration for Saturday, September 30, known as "Cracker Day," and

WHEREAS, Hon. W. J. Jones, Congressman at large from Florida, will be an honored guest of this county on that day, and
