

Canaveral's Eclipse To Be Temporary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The missile towers of Cape Canaveral, Fla., seem destined to go into temporary eclipse next year because of the more important satellite launchings scheduled at Vandenberg Air Force Base north of Los Angeles on the West Coast.

While Canaveral is trying to put up four of the ill-starred Vanguard earth satellites—20-inch, 2 1/4 pound spheres—and is conducting another lunar probe or perhaps two, Vandenberg will be launching America's first big satellite, weighing anywhere from 300 pounds to five tons.

However, experts in the Pentagon's advanced research projects agency believe the spotlight is bound to swing back to Canaveral within two to three years, largely because it is best suited to the "man in space" program.

The Vandenberg launchings are designed to contribute information to the "man in space" program. But that is only during the early stages when the experiments can be coupled with the launching of weather and military reconnaissance satellites.

Best For Manned Flight

When the time actually comes for putting a man into orbit around the earth—and most experts believe this will be within considerably less than three years—Canaveral will hold all the trump cards for these reasons:

—For practical purposes, Vandenberg can launch satellites only due south. The launching aim might be swung as much as 15 degrees either way from due South but this would hardly make any difference since the space vehicle would still be passing over desolate Arctic and Antarctic regions, and in time would "press" until it was passing over the poles.

—The specifications for putting a man into space call for bringing him back to earth immediately if he becomes unconscious. Scientists are not at all certain, and probably won't be despite animal experiments, how long a human being can remain conscious in the "weightless" condition of an orbiting vehicle. The polar orbit therefore poses a possibility that the man might have to be brought down in a remote region where he could not be reached. Launched from Canaveral, the vehicle would pass only over habitable lands and known seas.

Consider Safety Factor

—A more compelling reason for using Canaveral, connected with both safety and "payload," is that the cape can fire eastward and take advantage of the rotation of the earth to speed the space vehicle on its mission. The rotation amounts to 1,000 miles an hour at the Equator—the earth is just over 24,000 miles in circumference and completes a turn in 24 hours—and from the most favorable launching angle at the cape this boost still amounts to about 900 miles an hour.

—The safety factor crowds into the rotation picture because accuracy is better when the boost is employed. All satellites establish themselves in orbits fixed like the stars, ignoring the earth's movement and earthly geography. The Vandenberg launching platforms therefore will always be moving sideways, again at nearly 1,000 miles an hour, with respect to any fixed point at which a satellite can be fired. The additional difficulty in aiming and guidance will be somewhat like the difference between shooting a sitting or a flying duck.

The U. S. already has more than a year's budget for the civilian space agency, invested in Cape Canaveral and its down-range tracking stations, staffed by 15,000 people. Vandenberg so far represents an investment of 175 million, but will equal Canaveral in cost if plans are carried out.

Niece Of Karloff Charged In Death Of Her Two Sons

HASLEMERE, England (UPI)—A niece of horror movie actor Boris Karloff was arrested Saturday on a charge of murder in the death of her two sons whose throats were slashed in the family home where they had returned from school for the Christmas holidays.

Thomas Bromley, a civil service official attached to the Defense Ministry, found the bodies of his sons, Martin, 13, and Stephen, 10, Thursday night. He also found his wife, Diana, unconscious with a throat wound.

Mrs. Bromley, 39, was taken to a hospital but was released Saturday and brought before a magistrate in nearby Guildford where she was formally charged with murdering Martin. This is in line with normal English legal practice of charging a suspect with one slaying in multiple murders.

Detective Inspector George Cornish told the court that his investigation had "satisfied" him that Mrs. Bromley "had caused his (Martin's) death."

Bromley told police the first thing he saw on his arrival home was a bloodstained cricket bat and the boys' football boots and clothing in the hall of his six-bedroom home.

He called out to the boys, he said, but received no answer and began to look for them. He said he found Martin dead in the garage and Stephen dead in the bathroom.

He found his wife in the drawing room unconscious and bleeding from a wound in the throat. He said she was brought in by two women neighbors who had found her wandering in tears around the garden.

Mrs. Bromley is the daughter of Sir John Thomas Pratt, brother of Boris Karloff, whose real name is William Henry Pratt.

Demos Considering 'Break' For GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democrats Saturday were considering enlarging some Senate committees in the new Congress to make room for more Republicans than the GOP minority is entitled to.

This was advanced as the most likely solution of the committee representation problem created by big Democratic gains in the November elections. It could be an omen of political "good will" for 1959.

The ration decision will be a matter of negotiation between the Democratic and Republican leaderships with Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in the commanding position. But it appears Johnson will go out of his way to see that the Republicans get a fair break. Republicans have cooperated similarly in the past.

Most committees are expected to go from their present ratio of 8 Democrats and 7 Republicans to a heavy Democratic margin of 10 to 5. Democrats won 15 additional Senate seats at the polls, pushing the 1958 division to 64 Democrats and 34 Republicans.

With Alaska, the new Senate will have 98 instead of 96 members.

Tag Day Tomorrow In Downtown Area

Multiple Sclerosis Tag Day will be held in downtown Sanford tomorrow.

The little tags represent new hope to victims of the crippling disease, for which no cure has yet been found.

Heading the drive are Mr. and Mrs. Emory Bradford. Mrs. Bradford is suffering of Multiple Sclerosis and is attempting to contact patients in the Sanford area.

The tracking range of the Air Force Missile Test Center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., is 5,000 miles long, extending through the Dominican Republic in Ascension Island halfway between Brazil and Africa.

De Gaulle To Get 'Formal' Election

By ARTHUR L. HIGBEE

PARIS (UPI)—A group of 81,506 Frenchmen vote Sunday in a nationwide presidential election that was certain to name Gen. Charles de Gaulle as France's most powerful constitutional chief of state since Napoleon III.

The voters, known as "grand electors," are members of an electoral college that includes National Assembly deputies, senators, mayors, municipal councilors and special representatives chosen by small town councils.

De Gaulle, with the backing of all major parties but the Communists, was considered the automatic choice to become the first "strong man" president of the Fifth Republic for a seven-year term.

The general's only opponents are Communist Georges Marrane, 71-year-old mayor of the Paris "Red Belt" suburb of Ivry and Albert Chatelet, a 71-year-old Sorbonne science professor nominated by the "Union of Democratic Forces."

One thousand bank presidencies became vacant every year in the U. S.

Contract Awarded For Tyndall Work

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI)—The Army Engineers Saturday awarded a $411,504 contract to Valley Construction Co. of Columbus, Miss., for construction of a hangar at Tyndall Air Force Base, Panama City, Fla.

The contract calls for building a field maintenance hangar with an open floor area of about 100 feet by 150 feet, with adjoining shops on all sides, along with utilities, driveways and 4,150 square yards of concrete apron pavement.

Dist. Engineer Col. R. W. Love reported that the firm would begin work early next month and have it ready for use by next December.

Sergeant Killed; Address Unknown

LOWNESBORO, Ala. (UPI)—Sgt. IC Stanley R. Montgomery, 30, stationed at Ft. Rensselaer, Ga., was killed instantly in a head-on collision near here Friday night on Highway 80.

The Highway Patrol said no home address was available. Patrolmen said Montgomery was driving on the wrong side of the road at the time of the collision.

The crash occurred seven miles west of here.

Loot Is $131,908 In Bank Burglary

SILVER CREEK, Miss. (UPI)—Authorities announced Saturday that burglars got $131,908 in cash, negotiable stocks and bonds from the Silver Creek State Bank before dawn Friday.

Originally the loot had been announced at $5,000 but Lawrence County Sheriff Troy Smith said an investigation showed that 409 pounds of silver money, $15,558 in currency and 13 safety deposit boxes containing stocks and bonds were taken.

Officers said it apparently was the largest bank burglary in the history of Mississippi.

Smith called on the public to be on the lookout for the loot and to call him at Monticello, the FBI or the State Highway Patrol if any of it is spotted.

He said the money was taken away in bank bags with the lettering "Federal Reserve Bank of New Orleans" printed on them in red and black letters. The safety deposit boxes were black, 22 inches long, five inches wide and three inches deep with the word "Moser" on the underlid.

The silver consisted of 800 silver dollars, 1,050 half dollars, 1,800 quarters and 1,200 dimes.

Atlas May Carry First Space Man

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The giant Atlas missile, already performing a brilliant communications job as a satellite, appeared today to become the U. S. vehicle to put a man into space.

The success of the Atlas satellite, launched into orbit Thursday night, in transmitting and relaying messages from the earth apparently exceeded the fondest hopes of military scientists.

It received seven copies of President Eisenhower's Christmas message at the same time Sunday from ground radio stations and successfully beamed them back to earth.

The seven teletypewriter signals were transmitted from the station at Ft. Stewart, Ga. The Defense Department said the station received excellent teletype copy back from the four-ton satellite.

Repeated With Variations

The experiment was repeated, with variations, by other stations at Corona, Calif., Fort Sam Houston, Tex., and Fort Huachuca, Ariz. Messages were fed into the satellite's recorder and then broadcast back on a "triggering" signal from the earth.

The Defense Department said that the experiment was "another of the various types of communications tests intended to be conducted" during the expected 20-day life of the artificial moon.

Ray W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's Advanced Research Projects Agency, said further experiments using the Atlas would give this country communications facilities "far greater than we have now."

Goldfine Sentenced To Prison

'Friend' Of Adams Gels Three Months In Contempt Case

BOSTON (UPI) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine today was sentenced to three months in prison for contempt of court.

Federal Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. indicated he would have sentenced Goldfine to a longer prison term, but said a longer term might make the textile tycoon a victim of "political discrimination."

The judge said a longer term, such as one year in prison, would give the President the right to deny parole early.

Mildred Paperman, Goldfine's chief assistant and secretary, received a 10-day sentence.

Both were convicted Friday of refusing to obey Wyzanski's order to deliver business records to Internal Revenue Service agents prior to a Dec. 8 deadline.

Imprisonment was deferred for both until Jan. 7. Wyzanski said he purposely delayed imprisonment to allow both Goldfine and Miss Paperman to spend the Christmas holidays at home and to allow them time to appeal.

The judge said a prison term of one year for Goldfine would give an "executive the right to deny you the possibility of reelection. This is an obvious reference to Goldfine's role in the political storm last summer which led to the resignation of White House staff chief Sherman Adams. Adams admitted receiving gifts and favors from the Boston millionaire but denied that he had attempted to induce government agencies with which Goldfine was having difficulties.

Goldfine was charged with contempt of Congress last week for refusing to answer questions before the House subcommittee on legislative oversight which was looking into the Goldfine-Adams relationship.

Nurse Buried Alive? One Of Killers Dosen't Know

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI) — Police said today Mrs. Olga Duncan, 20, an expectant mother may have been buried alive by two men allegedly hired to kill her by her husband's mother.

The body of the attractive Canadian nurse was uncovered Sunday in a shallow, hand-dug grave in a construction area about 10 miles north of here. She was clad only in a nylon bathrobe.

Augustine Baldonado, 25, who broke down under intensive questioning, told police Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 34, hired him and Luis Moya, 22, for $4,000 to kill Olga. He led police to the grave, covered by six inches of dirt.

"Maybe she was alive when we buried her," he said. "I don't know. We strangled her and I think we killed her before we put her in the ground, but I'm not sure."

Authorities said it appeared the bizarre case developed from a triangle between Olga, her husband, Frank, and his mother who was afraid of losing her son, a prominent Santa Barbara attorney.

Only last week the oft-sworded mother confessed to police that she carried out a bold plot of poisoning as her own daughter-in-law and getting her son's marriage annulled.

District attorney Roy Gustafson questioned Mrs. Duncan late Sunday night but she refused to say why he (Baldonado) would say I had anything to do with it."

In Benito, Manitoba, Canada, Olga's mother, Mrs. Jessie Kuyback, was reported to have collapsed from shock and a heart attack when she learned that her daughter had been slain.

Holiday Rush Near Peak, Trains, Buses 'Swamped'

United Press International

Trains, buses and operating air lines scheduled extra runs today for the holiday traffic crush, made worse by strikes against American and Eastern Airlines.

Hopes were dim for early settlement of either walkout. About 1,500 pilots walked out against American at midnight Friday. Eastern Airlines has been grounded since Nov. 24 by strikes of flight engineers and machinists.

A United Press International check indicated most holiday travelers around the nation were finding alternate accommodations and that the initial weekend traffic snarl had eased off.

An American Airlines spokesman in Chicago said there was "remarkable" cooperation among carriers in reassigning passengers with reservations on American flights. He said about 90 percent of the passengers booked on American had obtained seats on alternate flights through Saturday night.

Thousands of would-be airline passengers switched to trains, buses or automobiles. Rail and bus lines reported business was booming. Some railroads pressed all available equipment into service and still could not cope with the demand.

No date has been set for resumption of negotiations between American Airlines and the Air Line Pilots' Association, which represents the striking pilots.

The ALPA said the dispute centered over rules and working conditions. The company charged that the pilots' union had made renewed demands just before the strike deadline when an agreement appeared imminent.

Cooper Is Willing To Accept 'Draft'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John S. Cooper (R - N.Y.) said today he is willing to run for the Senate Republican leadership if chosen by his liberal colleagues.

But Cooper said he was not a candidate for the job and emphasized that Sen. George Aiken (R-Vt.) would clearly be the choice of the liberal bloc if the Vermont-Connecticut duo were available.

The liberal Republicans plan to meet Dec. 30 to select a slate of candidates for the live Senate party leadership posts being filled for the new Congress convening Jan. 3.

Cooper's name has been put forward by Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.) who said Sunday the Kentuckian's election would show the party "is looking to the future rather than to the past."

"I am not putting myself forth as a candidate," Cooper said in an interview. "I appreciate what Senator Bush has done and if selected, I would run. And I believe anyone else whose name is advanced should be willing to serve if elected."

"My real concern is that all of us who get together in this fight will stay together — and get others to join in the fight for the leadership."

New Orleans Loses Segregation Case

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Segregation at New Orleans' grand jury City Hall has ended. The city manager announced a Supreme Court mandate had been exhausted.

"We have reached the end of the rope," Ellis Labarde said, following the annual meeting of the park board of commissioners. The mandate from the U. S. Supreme Court became final Dec. 18.

Labarde said the commissioners adopted a resolution recognizing the high court's injunction, and instructing the park manager to carry out the expressed judgment of the court. The resolution was passed unanimously.

"This means that Negroes are now permitted to use all the park facilities — the tennis courts, the baseball fields, the golf courses, the amusement rides — all the facilities," Labarde said.

"The swimming pool is closed this time of year," he added. "I won't be able to say anything about it."

Courtesy Couple Sends Greetings

Sanford's "courtesy couple" remembers well their treatment here last January when they were arrested for "attempting to go through Sanford without stopping to see our wonder city."

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Saines were treated to gifts from Sanford merchants and a night at the Mayfair Inn, as a climax to Seminole County's extensive Courtesy Week campaign, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees.

The Saines have sent a Christmas card to the Chamber, saying, "Sure wish we could get down your way this year, but it just doesn't seem to be in the budget. We had a wonderful time with all of you folks last year— something we'll never forget."

Saines is a milkman in Jackson, Mich. The couple was traveling north after a Florida tour when they were stopped on French and Commercial. They were greeted by Charlie Morrison, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

The Saines signed their Christmas card: "Your courtesy couple, Pat and Putt Saines"

Sought By Officer, Negro Is Wounded By Brother-In-Law

While Constable J. Q. (Slim) Gallows roamed Midway last night looking for a Negro who had threatened several people with a pistol, the man was shot by his brother-in-law who had previously reported the threats to Gallows.

Arlington Mills Jr. was shot in the low abdomen with a 12-gauge shotgun by James Swain, 30. The 27-year-old Mills was reported in "fair" condition in Orange Memorial Hospital this morning, according to Gallows.

The shooting occurred about 7:15 p. m. on the Main St. of the Negro settlement. According to Gallows, Mills had been drinking heavily, and friends had taken away his pistol after he threatened them.

Swain called Gallows and rode around the area with the Constable looking for Mills. While Gallows continued the search, Mills apparently threatened Swain again, saying, "This time I'm going to get you." Swain shot him with the gun used in hunting, he told Gallows.

Swain called the Sheriff's Department to notify the Constable, and remained at the scene. He has been placed in the county jail on an open charge, pending Mills' condition. No bail has been set.

Mills was taken to the Seminole Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment, then transferred to Orlando.

Presley Is Blamed By Reds For Riot

BERLIN (UPI) — An East German newspaper blames a recent riot in Halle on Elvis Presley records and similar American "poison" smuggled in from West Berlin.

The statement appeared in Freie Welt, official Communist newspaper of Halle, where the incident occurred last Tuesday. It said 100 police had to be called out to clear the area.

Freiheit said the police, investigating the homes of one of the rioters, discovered that he had been to West Berlin and had brought back Presley records.

What's more, the Communist newspaper said, the ringleader even "possessed a photograph" of the rock and roll singer, now in the American army stationed in West Germany, complete with Presley's autograph.

The communists said responsible authorities in West Berlin "systematically spread 'this filth in our republic in order to cloud the minds of our youth and to drum them to acts of violence.'

High Speed Blamed In Deaths Of Nine

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (UPI) — Excessive speed at a dangerous curve has been blamed for a two-car collision which killed nine persons and hospitalized another.

The Highway Patrol said a car containing nine Puerto Rican laborers was going 45 to 55 miles an hour early Sunday when it spun out of control and slammed into a car driven by an off-duty policeman.

Eight of the Puerto Ricans and the policeman were killed.

Ingrid Remains In Villa, New Husband At Work

CHOISEL, France (UPI) — Ingrid Bergman, 41, stayed in her red-roofed honeymoon villa today while the 41-year-old Swedish movie star married secretly Sunday in London and went down to the office.

Her new husband, Lars Schmidt, emerged smiling from their villa, a converted mill 23 miles outside Paris, and told waiting reporters they would meet with them later today.

In the meantime, he said, he had to run into Paris on business.

Schmidt drove his own station wagon into town. It was crammed with suitcases, raising speculation the newlyweds were preparing for a honeymoon trip. Newsmen were keeping watch at the wooden gate in case Miss Bergman should come out.

In London, her attorney Ambrose Appelle issued a statement explaining that her marriage to Schmidt was legal because the marriage to Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini never had been recognized.

An Italian court annulled the Bergman-Rossellini marriage last summer but the state appealed and the final ruling is not expected until February. Until the ruling comes, Italy considers her still married to Rossellini.

The London statement said the Schmidt marriage was legal because she was still married to Dr. Peter Lindstrom when she married Rossellini. She had obtained a Mexican divorce from Lindstrom but the statement said this was invalid when she married Rossellini. Later she obtained a California divorce.

Ike's Space Voice Called 'Poor Joke'

LONDON (UPI) — A London newspaper today described President Eisenhower's Christmas message from the Atlas satellite as "a joke in cosmic bad taste."

The Americans are to be congratulated on a scientific triumph, but their attempt to disguise the sinister undertones of this fearful weapon by dressing it up in the clothes of Father Christmas shows how tragically they misunderstand the true nature of the cold war — editorialized the Daily Telegraph.

"The sound of Bark the Herdahl Yankers Sing from outer space shocks far more than it reassures. How much better it would have been if the voice from outer space had proclaimed the simple truth — America wants peace, which both men and formidable instrument will help preserve."

"To confuse this valuable mundane lesson with the Christmas message only serves to confuse both, reducing the impact of the one and the purity of the other."

Registers Singing Merry Yule Tune

The cash registers were ringing in downtown Sanford today as the Christmas shopping rush went into its last three days.

Last-minute shoppers frantically tried to choose gift items while other people picked up their lay-aways.

Downtown merchants will stay open tonight and tomorrow, but will close at the regular time Christmas Eve. Sales on left-over Christmas stocks were evident in many stores. The sidewalks were clogged with children, college students and housewives. Christmas music from several business establishments filled the shoppers with the old "Christmas spirit" and smiles and cheery greetings were heard everywhere.

Stores remaining open Saturday night reported excellent sales results, and one of the biggest days in the history of Sanford shopping.

Bus Overturns, 72 Persons Are Dead

GUANAJUATO, Mexico (UPI) — A bus loaded with Christmas shoppers overturned on the Pan American Highway 49 miles southeast of here Sunday, killing 72 persons and injuring two in the worst traffic accident in Mexico's history.

All of the victims were believed to be Mexicans.

The speeding bus overturned and plunged over a six-foot bank paralleling the road when the driver swerved in an effort to avoid two persons walking down the highway. The two pedestrians and 70 of the 72 persons aboard the bus were killed.

The only survivors, the conductor of the bus and a 15-year-old Indian girl passenger, were seriously injured.

4 Cases Of Food Donated At Dance

Four cases of canned food were collected for the Salvation Army Friday night during the Junior High Christmas costume dance at the Sanford Civic Center.

More than 200 youngsters contributed to the collection, which is destined to become an annual affair.

Each student brought a can as an admittance fee. The food will be distributed among the needy families.

Rec Office Taking Applications Now

While college students are home for the holidays, the Sanford Recreation Department will accept summer employment applications.

All openings in the department must be filed by Easter, according to Director Ronald Perry.

At Least 17 Dead In State Traffic

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — At least 17 persons were killed on Florida highways during the weekend, nine in one accident near Belle Glade and three in another near Tallahassee, the State Patrol said today.

Three persons were killed in an accident six miles northeast of Tallahassee early today when their automobiles burst into flames after colliding head-on on the Thomasville Highway. They were identified as C. W. Prince, 47, and his wife, Georgia Lynn, 46, both of St. Marks, and David Prince, 25, of Thomasville, Ga.

Marine Sgt. Robert G. Garel, 23, Port Lauderdale, was killed near Cocoa today when he apparently went to sleep at the wheel of his car which crashed into a Greystound bus.

Wilmer R. Burgess, 24, and Nathan Smith, 29, both of Westville, were killed Sunday in an accident on State Road 10 west of Ponce De Leon.

A 42-year-old Sarasota mailman was killed Sunday when his truck was hit by a car which ran a stop sign. He was identified as John E. Marden.

A Belle Glade Negro policeman, Ben McCoy, 48, and eight Puerto Rican laborers were killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Belle Glade. The Puerto Ricans were identified as Primitivo Rios Torres, 46; Jose Rodriguez, 25; Jorge Rodriguez, 20; Juan Luciano Rivera, 26; Sixton Diaz Rivera, 28; Bernardo Garcia, 20; Juan De Mata Namos, 28; and Carlos Estevan Velazquez, 25, all of Belle Glade.

Clinton Lee Ridgeway, 26, was killed in Jacksonville Saturday when his car collided with a banana filled truck.

Inflation To Take Long Winter Nap

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Old man inflation is settling down for a long winter's nap. He may even sleep through most of 1954.

Economist Believes Strike Importance Being Exaggerated

MIAMI (UPI)—A University of Miami economist believes the people of this tourist-minded area are exaggerating the importance of two major airline strikes.

Dr. Reinhold P. Wolf said Miami will get almost as many air passengers this month as it did last December, despite the complete shutdown of American and Eastern Air Lines.

"People exaggerate the importance of the strikes," Wolf said. "People who really want to come here will be able to."

He added, however, that many tourists won't come because of the inconvenience of rebooking passage on other airlines. Wolf said the area's economy will suffer a setback from the "psychological" effects of the strikes.

A spokesman for Delta Airlines said airlines are carrying only 70 per cent of capacity because of fictitious double bookings that result in "no-shows." He said others make several reservations on mid-air-bound planes but use only one.

Meanwhile, the Eastern strike entered its fifth week today as company officials met with federal mediator Warren Lane. The company and representatives for the striking machinists union reached an agreement last Sunday. The new contract was put before the machinists for ratification but the results have not been disclosed. The flight engineers remained disconnected with Eastern.

International. They expect the economy to be relatively free from inflationary pressures in the coming months.

One put it this way: "The cost of living has already levelled off these past few months. If things go the way we think they will, prices should continue for a while about where they are now. Some might go up a bit but others, especially food costs, are going to slide."

Another high official pointed out, however, that "if consumers and businessmen take off on a spending binge, the cost of living may start upward again."

For the most part, though, the experts are confident that the value of the dollar will hold steady in the immediate future. They point to the administration's announced intention of resisting excessive government spending and the Federal Reserve Board's readiness to prevent excessive use of credit.

At for the long run—and economists are chary of making long-run predictions—the outlook is not quite so rosy. Prices could well continue to pursue their historical path upward. But the rise would be more gentle than it has been.

A lot would depend on government policies, the state of business and the international situation.

In 1939, the cost of living may climb one month and slip back the next, but it is likely to show overall stability. Government economists offer the following reasons for this:

—There is a good deal of unused manufacturing capacity in the economy. Hence, demand for manufactured goods is not likely to outstrip supply.

—Businessmen have been pursuing a conservative inventory policy. Economists emphasize that businessmen do not expect prices to rise sharply or they would have begun stockpiling to beat the price hikes.

—Business has also been modest in spending for new factories, plants, presses and other production equipment. Like defense spending, capital expansion outlays have some inflationary impact because no consumer goods result, at least initially.

—With full employment of men and resources yet to be achieved, both labor and business are likely to be very aggressive in their wage and price policies.

—The Federal government's budget will be much closer to balance in the 1960 fiscal year starting July 1.

near July than it is in the current fiscal year, when the deficit is expected to hit $12,300,000,000. In fiscal 1960, the red ink margin will be half that large—perhaps less, depending on revenues, policy decisions and the pleasure of Congress.

Fiscal experts here feel that the Treasury will be able to do most of its new borrowing from non-bank lenders, thereby eliminating the biggest inflationary hazard associated with a deficit budget. (When commercial banks lend, they create credit. When anyone else lends, it is with already existing funds.)

In sum, the economists see business in 1953 moving at a brisk, prosperous pace but with enough restraint to avoid any strong pressure on prices.

Eight Face Charge Of Smuggling Guns

KEY WEST (UPI)—Three Americans and five Cubans suspected of trying to smuggle guns and ammunition to the rebel forces in Cuba were to receive hearings today for violation of U.S. neutrality laws.

Authorities arrested the eight at Bahia Honda, 32 miles north of here, while they were loading with arms which was parked on a dock near the 35-foot vessel, Lucky Star.

The other five, who gave Miami addresses were: Rodolpho Gullierrez Y Muccio, 31; Mariano Sori Y Marin, 38; Mario De Jesus Machado-Maurele, 34; Raul Ross Gonzalez, 36; and Hector Luis Costa, 29. Sori is a physician.

A Custom's agent, W. E. Langford said the Americans had made one arms haul to Cuba and were to be paid $1,000 for the next one.

Missilemen Hunt Trouble On Titan

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI)—Air Force missilemen worked with the aid of a big electronic brain today to track down trouble that spoiled the debut of new super ballistic missile.

The rocket engines of the lowering Titan missile roared to life Saturday. But a malfunction occurred, and the big computer automatically kept the missile anchored to its launching pad, shut off the power and pumped in water to put out the flames.

The brain, contained in a box the size of a piano and called an automatic sequencer, also turned out a mass of extremely complex data that will enable technicians to find the source of trouble and make repairs.

The Air Force praised the new system, which worked perfectly. It was described as an advanced form of the cutoff system which has been used at least once in the Vanguard program and probably with other rockets that have failed to perform properly.

The Titan system begins earlier in the countdown phases and monitors goings-on inside the rocket for a longer period before the final firing button is pushed. It is designed to quickly spot any trouble and to keep a bad launching from destroying the costly missile and its equipment.

The air force had planned to make a 200-mile initial test of the Titan, a 80-footer that is lighter but more powerful than the Atlas.

Senator Says U. S. Losing Price Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) warned Saturday that the United States is "pricing itself right out of business in Latin America."

He said this country was in danger of losing its Latin American markets to European and Asian nations.

Smathers, just back from a five-week tour of the southern republics, said in a statement that "I found no ill will toward the United States," but he added, "I was greatly disturbed by the enormous economic changes which have, in many cases, put our country in second place to competitors from Europe and Asia."

Smathers visited Mexico, Guatemala, Honduras, Panama and Trinidad. He said "our American economic life would be strangled within 50 years if we lost the rich Latin American market."

Within 40 years, he predicted, "the Latin population will be more than double that of the United States and Canada."

Smathers said he found that the U. S. government is not taking enough interest in economic affairs of American businessmen in Latin America. By contrast, he said, European governments have launched "aggressive and successful economic programs" to win markets.

"Our own American businessmen certainly aren't favored with any cooperation by our government," comparable to that given their businessmen by European governments, the Florida Democrat said.

Skeleton Found, But No Foul Play

BALDWINVILLE, N. Y. (UPI)—A workman digging a ditch at a construction site uncovered a human skeleton which an anthropologist said had been buried about 1,100 years.

Dr. Harry L. Schoff said the bones belonged to a male Indian. He said the deterioration was surprisingly low.

The bones, which have been given to the Onondaga County Historical Association, were found at a depth of six feet.

Harmony In Prospect For Seminole Board

Seminole County apparently will have a more harmonious governing body in 1959.

Vernon W. Dunn, Commission-elect, said he had polled each member who will have a seat on the new Commission in January. Dunn quoted each as saying that harmony will exist, that each commissioner will be working for the good of the county as a whole.

This is good news to those who have watched a divided Commission attempt to run the county's business. Genuine differences of opinion will exist on the new Commission, just as it does in any organization. Opinions are one thing, however, actions something else.

Each elected official must have an opinion on each issue which arises. Each must vote his honest convictions. That is expected, and demanded, by the public. It isn't often that unanimous consent can be found in any public body on any major issue.

The going of separate ways should end with the official vote of that body, however. Those who cast votes in the minority, except in very special cases, should join with the majority. That is the democratic way. If the minority feels that the majority is wrong seriously, then the issue can be taken to the public.

We hope to see an end to the system whereby each commissioner "runs his district" and lets the other fellows worry about the other four. Although each commissioner is elected from a specific district, this is not the idea legislators had in mind when the districts were created.

If that had been the purpose of the districts, commissioners would not campaign on a county-wide basis and vote only on those measures which affected his particular district. Commissioners vote on issues which are vital to the entire county. It is our belief that each commissioner should know what the other is doing, what he plans to do, how much it will cost and if the county can afford it.

We believe, too, that each commissioner should keep the county governing body fully aware of these things, in advance. Under this system, Seminole County can have planned progress, fair treatment for all districts and a Commission of which the people can be proud.

COUNTER OFFENSIVE

Washington Calling

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

LONDON—Hugh Gaitskell has closed a chiffler, highly decent but quite decisive hand around the British Labor party.

The party, in short, is firmly in the grip of this leader of the British opposition — and all this is good news to the United States. Those who by American standards are Labor extremists — specifically Anwar Bevan — are no longer able to raise much thunder on the left. The left wing of the Labor party, of course, is not finished. But it has been driven back to a more moderate position by the realities of British politics.

Thus if the Labor party should meet the Conservative government of Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in the next elections, Gaitskell would come to power as a reasonable man, by our measurement, and not as a threat to the Western alliance.

This correspondent recently estimated Prime Minister Macmillan to be an excellent politician. At the risk of seeming now to be saying that everything here is simply peachy, it is necessary to record that Gaitskell, too, is a thoroughly grown-up, professional politician.

This evaluation is based mainly upon conversations with detached people here. It is based in part upon a talk with Gaitskell himself in his little office in one of the most beautifully shabby places in the world — the House of Commons.

It should be emphasized, however, that what follows are purely personal impressions and that all that is said here is solely upon the responsibility of this columnist and not upon Gaitskell's responsibility.

What has occurred in the Labor party is much the same as what has happened in the Democratic party at home. The moderates are in control. The old quasi-revolutionary spirit among labor has largely died away because of the vast improvement in the lives of the ordinary people, much as that spirit has gone from the Democratic party since the Roosevelt-Truman era.

Certainly, there are important differences between the Labor party here and the Democratic party here. But having accepted these differences, it may be fairly said that Gaitskell in London is in a party position not too dissimilar from that of the untitled Democratic chieftain at home, Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate majority leader.

In other words, Gaitskell is the man of responsibility in the opposition. He has got to run the railroad. And because he runs it in a practical way, he is under pressure from leftward colleagues very similar to that being applied to

Expecting Couple Gets Unique Award

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—While awaiting the birth of their second child with his wife, actress Janet Leigh, actor Tony Curtis was awarded the "expectant father of the year award."

The Midwestern Association of Mental Relaxation presented the actor with a gold-plated dinner plate and cited him for his "zeal and unyieldable outlook towards impending fatherhood."

Air Force Starts Fine Arts Course

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—A fine arts course which includes painting, sculpture, music and architecture from the early Greeks to the present day is on the curriculum of the U. S. Air Force Academy.

More than 40 cadets are taking the course — a combination of art appreciation and history with a dash of creative effort by the students themselves.

The cadets begin the course by learning how to look at pictures and wind up with a 1,000-word paper on some aspects of modern art. They also model figures in clay and draw in pencil, ink, tempera and oils.

Governor Asked To Get Clearance

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI)—California's Gov. elect Edmund G. Brown has been asked to get security clearance from the FBI and the Pentagon.

The request was made by the State University Board of Regents, of which Brown will be ex officio president when he takes office. An official of the board explained that the University is engaged in secret work for the government, and the regents sometimes visit secret U. S. installations.

Fred Othman Says

By Frederick C. Othman

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In this season of year-end reviews on high finance, books, sports, and politics (because the authors have nothing much else to write about) I find myself joining the trend. Enthusiastically, I mean here's the second installment of my own review of 1958 in Washington:

The Smithsonian Institution got ready to put the Hope diamond on display behind shatterproof glass; the National Archives rigged up a Rube Goldberg device to send the U. S. Constitution sliding into a deep cellar automatically at first sign of an atom bomb. Ike's golf score got no better.

Allen Dulles began building headquarters in Fairfax County, Va. for his super-secret Central Intelligence Agency, with room enough for 10,000 deaths and all their cloaks and daggers, too. The management insisted there would be that many; the cabinets will take up much of the space. Even so, a real estate boom started in suburban McLean, Va., where I still own my beaten-up acres.

Dulles' brother, John, did some building himself, with masonry tripping the size of the State Department headquarters in Foggy Bottom.

Sophia Loren made a movie on the green lawn of a mansion (facing the Potomac) This turned her feet green (it was a bathing suit scene) from the paint the experts sprayed on the yellowed grass.

The Potomac itself gave signs of becoming a beautiful river again instead of an open sewer, the first improvements in the sewage disposal plants now are being installed.

From M. Alan, the New York radio man, I received a note saying he'd discovered a use for stockings in gentlemen's neckties; he found a fellow diner in a restaurant using his to hold his napkin steady. The Navy still couldn't get together on how long the bacon should be smoked; this resulted in two stockpiles of bacon instead of one.

Sen. John McClellan (D., Ark.) discovered a union leader in Chicago, who manufactured silt machines and crooked dice on the side. Bernie Goldfine, the Virginia man, found himself in trouble with at least six different Federal agencies. The Tariff Commission, with an assist from Treasury, discovered he was not on the duty to be charged for imported wooden clothespins.

The on-again-off-again marriage of Rep. Coya Knutson (D., Minn.), whose husband begged her to come home, seemed to have influenced the voters. The decided home was the place for her; now she's demanding an investigation. Somebody swiped $12,000 worth of Geiger counters and walkie-talkies from the Civil Defense Agency.

The Federal Trade Commission for those who deal in rabbits. The FTC also decided that colored lights are no good for treating diseases.

Certain Federal Commissioners discovered the voters supposed to charge twice for their airplane rides. The House of Representatives continued to ponder whether asphalt or concrete is best for airport runways.

Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles stepped up to Washington to fight against smog. His Honor claimed automobile exhausts were the leading villain. Another Congressman took his honeymoon at Federal expense. His ride aboard the government's plane was to Pamphlet in the house; he had to pay half fare for his bride. He got so much free advertising that lawyers hereafter will think twice before putting tonnage on the old swindle sheet.

Washington Window

BY LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If there be occasions when it is right and decent to join in the circulation of rumors, perhaps this is one of those occasions.

The rumors concern the health of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. A responsible diplomat told United Press International reporters this week that Dulles' condition was such as to require surgery on his return from the Paris NATO talks.

Other equally responsible and presumably well informed news sources, much closer to the secretariat, instantly told UPI men that Dulles is not ill, even dying, as he has been reported.

Dulles is lightly philosophic about these troubles, whereas Johnson is often bitterly and deeply wounded.

There are other divergences, too. Perhaps the most important is that in British politics, the boss is more truly the boss of the party than can be the boss at home. Indeed, this may explain why Gaitskell is more relaxed than Johnson when party associates angrily and vainly urge him on to fights with the Conservatives that would be very dramatic — but also very foolish.

But in deeper seasons, the Gaitskell-Johnson equation is quite real. Each has been required by current history to draw back a little from previously more liberal views. Each understands that political leaders must do more than engage in stirring — and losing — battles. And each — as different as they are in many ways — symbolizes the whole story of the retreat on both shores of the Atlantic from the politics of protest of the 1930's.

Gaitskell simply cannot believe that the trade unions in his party are always and automatically right. Johnson must be aware that Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman have departed, and that for good or ill we live in a new political world in which the quiet tone and the centrist policy are the facts of political life.

As is true at home as between the Republican and Democratic parties, the old rift exist between Conservatives and Liberals here has narrowed almost beyond belief. Nearly everybody, really, is in the center — the Conservatives barely to the right of center and Labor barely to the left of center.

Washington Calling

Dulles himself took note of reports about his health and authorized this statement from Paris Thursday:

"There is no basis in fact for speculative stories appearing in the press today that Secretary of State Dulles is expected to re-enter the hospital following his return to Washington with a view to surgery. In fact the secretary has completely recovered from the inflammatory condition of the colon which was treated in Walter Reed Hospital, Washington."

The health of Dulles' colon is peculiarly his own personal concern except for this fact: Dulles is a public servant engaged in diplomatic negotiations of the most urgent importance to millions upon millions of free people. A fair question would be: Is that a job for a man who is not physically fit?

Author — doctor Hugh E. Liang wrote a year ago in a British medical journal that British and American statesmen controlling the destinies of millions over the past 50 years were ill, even dying, men at times of crisis. He cited:

President Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Stanley Baldwin, Neville Chamberlain, Ernest Bevin, Sir Stafford Cripps, Harry L. Hopkins and Lord Keynes. These men were ill when the people and events demanded their best, vigorous judgment and action.

Li-Eiang said illness significantly affected the efficiency of these men and he urged full publicity of the illnesses of statesmen. Otherwise, he said, the public could not know that they were being represented in critical times by men more or less seriously incapacitated.

Of Woodrow Wilson, he wrote: "After the partial paralysis which developed in 1910, his actions destroyed any hope of the Senate ratifying the German peace treaty and entering the League of Nations."

He said of FDR: "It has been said that the concessions made to the Russians at Yalta were the mistakes of a dying man."

Li-Eiang noted that FDR nominated Harry L. Hopkins to act for him — a man so debilitated by illness that Roosevelt, himself, referred to Hopkins as "half a man."

It is a matter of record now that some of FDR's friends knew him to be ill and perhaps nearing death before his fourth term re-election in 1944.

MR. AND MRS. DEAN GORDON HANSON (Photo by Bergstrom)

Methodist Church Scene Of Wedding

Doris Marilyn Calhoun became the wife of Dean Gordon Hanson on Dec. 20 in the First Methodist Church.

Miss Calhoun is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Calhoun. Mr. Hanson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hanson, Belleview.

The Rev. T. C. O'Steen performed the double ring candlelight ceremony. Accenting the altar were arrangements of gladioli and chrysanthemums and four branched candelabra. Philodendron were used in the background. The altar was covered in white with arrangements of fern. Bouquets of white gladioli and satin ribbon marked the family pews. Mrs. Albert Hickson was the organist. Miss Sonja Monforton, soloist, sang "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of silk mist taffeta, designed with a basque bodice and scalloped Sabrina neckline, and yoke of hand-clipped Chantilly lace embroidered with pearls and iridescent paillettes. The long tapered sleeves of lace ended in points over her hands. The full skirt with appliques of lace medallions, had a pouff in the back which terminated in a full chapel train. Her hair was styled in a crown of pearls. The bouquet was a crescent of white carnations and chrysanthemums, centered with a white orchid.

Miss Nancy Myers, Oviedo, was the maid of honor. She wore a light green taffeta gown featuring a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt with shirred hemline faced with a darker green. Her shoes matched the darker color. The head dress was of lighter shades of green caught at the sides with bows. She carried a crescent bouquet of red carnations with silver ribbon.

Other attendants were Miss Roberta Lawrence, Ft. Myers; Mrs. Windell Hill, Sanford; Miss Martha Gene Dougherty, cousin of the bride, Lancaster, S. C.; Miss Marcella Segrest, cousin of the bride, Orangeburg, S. C. Their outfits were identical to that of the maid of honor. Flower girl was Elaine Owens of Sanford. Dale Smith, a cousin of the groom's from Belleview, was the ring bearer.

Dr. E. C. Hanson was his son's best man. Ushers were Gene Tenny, Lakeland; Eugene Hames, Belleview; Dean Hames, Belleview; Carl Stevens, Belleview.

The mother of the bride wore a street length dress of mauve lace over taffeta, with mauve and white accessories. An orchid corsage complemented her outfit. The groom's mother chose a street length sheath of beige lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Her corsage was also an orchid.

A reception followed immediately in McKinley Hall. Arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with green fern carried out the bridal theme. The windows were arranged with white magnolia leaves and candles. The tablecloth overlaid with a cut work tablecloth. There was a crystal punch bowl at one end and the four-tier-

Open House Held At Wells Home Honors Four Daughters Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. George Wells honored their four daughters and sons-in-law at an open house held at their home Sunday afternoon. Guests of honor were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stemper and Billy and Miss Marty Stemper; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Stenstrom and children Douglas Jr. and Patricia Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Currie and children Frankie, Johnnie, and George, Ormond Beach; and Mr. and Mrs. David Dyal and children Susan, David Jr. and Howard, West Palm Beach.

Local Eastern Star Chapter Has Meeting

For the most part a spirit of gaiety prevailed during the last meeting of the year of Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star. The Christmas party followed adjournment of the chapter.

A sad and solemn moment was experienced when resolutions were read and chanted draped in memory of Mrs. Matilda Helmsius, who died on Nov. 29. As the chapter was draped, Mrs. Eloise Pfeiffert sang "Beyond the Sunset." Guests of honor for the monthly birthday courtesy were Mrs. Grace Cordell, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Miss Vera Woodcock, Mrs. Eunice Dann and Mrs. Ellen Livingston. Mrs. Essie Cole, courtesy chairman, reported that gifts had been purchased for guests at the Masonic Home and for the chapter's slant in.

The Worthy Matron, Mrs. Mar Sheppard, honored the eight members who took the proficiency test in November. As their names were called, Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Mrs. Essie Cole, Mrs. Helen Reinhart, Mrs. Augusta Blibrey, Mrs. Ethel Purdy, Mrs. Leona McLain, Mrs. Billie Schnabel and Mrs. Marge Brademeyer marched to the West to be fitted with mortarboards by the Associate Matron, Mrs. Linnie Moyer, then to the East where they were presented with their diplomas and honorary degrees by the Worthy Matron.

In her yearly report, the Worthy Matron stated that fifteen members had been received by initiation, five by affiliation and one restored to membership. Two members have been lost through death. In conclusion she presented all her officers and all members of committees with gifts. All other members and visitors were presented with gaily decorated boxes of matches. On behalf of herself and Leslie Sheppard, Worthy Patron, the Worthy Matron presented to the Chapter a beautiful engraved silver dish to be used for future silver drills.

Led by the Associate Matron, the officers presented a courtesy in honor of the Worthy Matron and Patron. As Mrs. Pfeiffert sang "Catch a Falling Star" two rocking chairs were placed in the East and Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard escorted to them. The officers formed two rows beside them and, speaking alternately to Mae and Leslie, presented them with their gifts. Old sweaters, footsies, slippers, a smelly pipe, and other such luxury items for their supposed leisure to follow. The Associate Matron then presented the officers' gift.

Mrs. Kathleen Bradshaw, Past Matron, Lakeland City and Past Grand Instructor, was guest of honor and seated in the East with her sister, Mrs. Sheppard.

After adjournment everyone enjoyed the Christmas party with exchange of gifts, followed by refreshments.

The banker, in private life Mrs. Edward Mendelson, wife of a Garden City, N. Y., jeweler, says that the plan school girl hoping for a banking career will do better taking a commercial or general course rather than an academic one. Knowledge of typing, bookkeeping, clerical work and the essentials of business procedure will help to prepare her for the job. Some knowledge of business machines, a relatively new factor in banking, also will be an asset.

Record keeping and filing procedures are two old standards of the banking profession, she said. The college girl can specialize even more in preparing for a banking future, with courses in investment, psychology and public relations. Statistical research, for example, is being used more frequently today by banks. Psychology is helpful in personnel work and public relations has always welcomed the fairer sex.

How does a girl advance in a bank today? That, too, Miss Javits said, is far easier than even a decade ago. Take advantage of the many courses being offered by banks, banking associations and financial institutions to broaden your knowledge and usefulness. Learn as much as you can while you are working, Miss Javits advised.

In addition, banks, like other companies, will look for such positive qualities as a girl's attitude toward work situations, how she handles customers, how she gets on with other workers, and, lately, whether she has a genuine interest in the job.

Women have made exceptional strides in achieving executive positions in banking since 1920. Then only 3,000 women held officer positions in banks, as against 57,000 male executives. Today there are more than 10,000 women bank executives as compared with 91,000 men officers.

Miss Javits' own career in banking goes back to 1924, when at age 16 she took a job as secretary to the president, Jacob Leitchman, who still heads Commercial. She believes that on one count—the human element—women bankers have it over the men.

Several interesting gift papers have been reproduced from full-color photographs. One portrays Christmas trees and Santas smartly formed of paper sculpture and lavishly decorated with gold lace.

In addition, banks, like other companies, will look for such positive qualities as a girl's attitude toward work situations, how she handles customers, how she gets on with other workers, and, lately, whether she has a genuine interest in the job.

Women have made exceptional strides in achieving executive positions in banking since 1920. Then only 3,000 women held officer positions in banks, as against 57,000 male executives. Today there are more than 10,000 women bank executives as compared with 91,000 men officers.

Miss Javits' own career in banking goes back to 1924, when at age 16 she took a job as secretary to the president, Jacob Leitchman, who still heads Commercial. She believes that on one count—the human element—women bankers have it over the men.

Ole Miss: Test For Gators

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 13th of 13 dispatches on the football teams playing in the post-season bowl games.

MISSISSIPPI
By JOE HADYAY
OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—A legendary "black book" spells trouble for Florida in the Gator Bowl.

The book is owned by Johnny Vaught, Mississippi's veteran head coach, and is reputed to contain every good play he has seen run in the nation's gridirons, plus a few he dreamed up on his own. Vaught laughs when that little book is mentioned, and he must have been studying it since the season ended, because he was in a happy frame of mind. "We are coming up with a lot of new stuff," Vaught announced with a chuckle.

Whether the innovations click or not, only time will tell. But surprise isn't the only thing Vaught worries on for next Saturday's bowl battle.

Two Big Threats
Mississippi's biggest threats are its old standbys — quarterback Bobby Franklin on the option and fullback Charlie Flowers up the middle.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles once said "Franklin on the option—Mississippi can hurt you with that one play alone." Broyles wasn't fooling.

Using the option as a springboard, Franklin racked up 1,522 yards and 16 touchdowns in leading the 1935-ranked Rebels to an 8-3 season record.

Franklin gained 710 yards with his passes and reserve quarterbacks Billy Brewer and Jake Gibbs padded the Rebels' aerial rack to exactly 1,000 yards for the year.

That undoubtedly had a lot to do with making Ole Miss a one-touchdown favorite over Florida, which has the most porous pass defense in the Southeastern Conference.

Tough Ground Game
Good as the passing record is, Mississippi's ground game is even better. The Rebels were second to none in the SEC in rushing.

Mississippi gained 2,986 yards on the ground, and the 6-foot, 185-pound Flowers counted for 668 of them with his line-busting charges. One of Flowers' jaunts carried 37 yards.

Vaught laughed off the idea that Ole Miss would concentrate on passing against Florida, which boasts the SEC's second-best rushing defense.

"We plan an all-out attack—both passing and running," Vaught said. "If it is open to pass, we're going to pass. If it is open for a run, we'll run."

Going to bowl is getting to be a habit with the Rebels, though this will be their debut in the Gator Bowl. In the past five years, Mississippi has been to the Sugar Bowl three times and the Cotton Bowl once. Last New Year's, they upended Texas 20-7 in the Sugar Bowl.

Mississippi lost only to top-ranked Louisiana State University (21-0) and Tennessee (19-13) this year. The Rebels boast victories over Memphis State (17-0), Kentucky (27-0), Trinity (21-0), Tulane (19-8) Hardin-Simmons (24-0) Arkansas (14-12), Houston (24-7) and Mississippi State (21-0).

Notre Dame's Terry Brennan, a major college football coach at 23 and Coach of the Year at 27, was out of a job at 30 today and everyone looked to whom the Irish would try next.

Yates first focused on Washington. Rocky MacMaster leads the feature field of Monday night gridiron in the ninth race at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight as a week of Christmas racing is launched.

Tomorrow night is the track's annual scholarship night. Proceeds go to Florida State University, University of Florida and Florida A & M.

Then Wednesday eve, when Santa is favored to drop down the family chimney, a shortened 10-race card is scheduled for dog fans, so that they may get home in time to greet St. Nick.

The Christmas Eve action will follow a matinee of 10 greyhound races. No matinee will be held Saturday afternoon. Track officials have declared the afternoon Tangerine Day in honor of Orlando's classic football game.

Saturday evening, Tangerine Bowl dignitaries will be on hand for a full 11-race card of races. In addition to Rocky MacMaster, the following dogs are slated in tonight's feature attraction: Go Back, Song Time, Mixed Chips, Super Top, Do Gooder, Fabio, Blood and Pets O'Leary.

Notre Dame president Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh said he accepted the board's decision to fire Brennan "with great reluctance."

In a letter to Brennan, Hesburgh said: "As you know from our conversation of Dec. 19, the faculty board in control of athletics has recommended to me that a change be made."

When the Gators appear in the Gator Bowl on Dec. 27, it will be the sixth bowl visit by Head Coach Bob Woodruff as a player, assistant coach and head coach.

He was a senior tackle on the great 1923 Tennessee team that went undefeated during the regular season and won from Oklahoma, 17-0, in the Orange Bowl.

Woodruff placed the Bears in the Delta Bowl, winning 20-7 over Wake Forest.

Then his 1922 Florida team, first team at the University of Florida to appear in a bowl game, captured the Gator Bowl title with a 14-13 victory over Tulsa.

George Robert (Bob) Woodruff was born in Athens, Ga., on March 11, 1916, but his family soon moved to Cuthbert in that state, where they lived until he was 16 years old.

He played on Cuthbert High's first football team, and then on moving to Savannah, Ga., played football for Savannah High School.

Woodruff played tackle for the Tennessee Vols varsity from 1936 through 1938, and following his graduation from the University of Tennessee in 1939, when he received an engineering degree, he joined the Vols staff as an assistant coach, holding that position for two seasons.

Lovellette Giving Hawks Real Punch

United Press International
Clyde Lovellette, who used to grab headlines regularly, is giving the St. Louis Hawks a triple-threat scoring punch that is making a shambles of the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

Lovellette looped in 27 points against Philadelphia Sunday as St. Louis lashed the luckless Warriors, 98-66, for a six-game lead over the Detroit Pistons. Bob Pettit's 23 and Cliff Hagan's 17 provided additional power Philadelphia couldn't overcome.

Philadelphia opened an 8-0 lead in the opening minutes and moved to 23-21 at the end of the first period. St. Louis bounced back before the half-time intermission to take a 33-24 margin.

Browns Beaten, Giants 'Fear' Colts

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I'm scared to death of the Baltimore Colts." Coach Jim Lee Howell said today. But how can you be scared after what his New York Giants did to the Cleveland Browns during one of the National Football League's finest comebacks?

The Browns, two games behind the Browns after the 1936 season was only five weeks old, toppled their late-season surge Sunday by shutting out Cleveland in a playoff for the Eastern Division title, 10-0.

That triumph, only the second shutout recorded against Cleveland in its 13-year history, gave the GIANTS the right to entertain Baltimore's Western Division champions at Yankee Stadium next Sunday at Yankee Stadium.

And although the Giants shipped the Browns on successive week ends to reach the championship game for the second time in the last three years, the oddsmakers backed Howell's appraisal of the Colts.

Bookies Favor Colts
The bookies immediately established Coach Webb Erbank's high-scoring Colts 13-10 chances to defeat the Giants and win their first NFL championship.

The Giants forced Sunday's playoff when they tied for East.

Cheer Defensive stalwarts
While hundreds of thousands of TV and radio fans watched and heard the action, the 81,274 rovers in Yankee Stadium gave those defensive stalwarts and their buddies a booming cheer each time they ran off the frozen turf.

The Giants limited the Browns to 24 yards on the ground and 62 in the air.

Charley Conery, gray-haired and oldest player in the NFL at 38, scored the game's only touchdown. Pat Sumnerell, whose 42-yard field goal with 127 seconds to go a week ago forced the playoff, booted an extra point and a 20-yard field goal.

But defense put the Giants into the title game because the New York offense was shackled most of the game by Cleveland's defensive unit.

New York's defensive linemen charged so fast and with so much power and skill that Milt Plum and Jim Nowiski, Cleveland's quarterbacks, were thrown for losses totaling 32 yards while trying to pass.

With Cleveland's passing game nullified, the Giants had no trouble stopping Jim Brown, the 228-pound Cleveland fullback who set an NFL rushing record of 1,327 yards during the season.

Brennan Is Fired, Irish Seek Coach

Demos Have Hope Of Averting Fight On Alford's Seat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democrats held out hope today of a compromise to avert a knock-down, intra-party fight over the seating of Little Rock's segregationist Rep. - elect Dale Alford.

Suggestions of a compromise came from both northerners and southerners anxious to avoid a party split when the House votes on opening day, Jan. 7, on whether to allow Alford to take his seat.

A House elections committee has recommended that Alford be barred pending investigation of fraud charges in his write-in election victory over veteran Rep. Brooks Hays (D - Ark.)

At least one northern member of the so-called liberal bloc in the House said he feared that angry southerners would block liberal legislation if Alford is not seated.

This member, who declined to be identified, predicted the House would vote to seat Alford and said the committee in order to be resolved by a compromise.

Under this compromise, he said, the northern wing of the House Democrats would be granted a greater voice on the House Rules Committee in return for the seating of Alford.

The liberal bloc has been demanding a more influential role on the committee in order to make sure that it does not block the legislation the northerners want.

At least one key southern leader said he was hopeful that "cooler heads" would prevail and clear the way for Alford to take his seat.

Caril Starts Life In State Prison

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Caril Ann Fugate began the first week of her lifetime prison sentence today.

Caril, the 15-year-old girl friend and companion of wanted slayer Charles Starkweather, appeared Saturday before Judge Harry Spencer to hear her sentence pronounced.

Before the sentencing, Judge Spencer asked if she knew of any reason why judgment should not be passed.

"Yes," Caril said. "I am not guilty."

"No legal reason has been given," Spencer answered as he overruled Caril's motion for a new trial and formally confirmed the life sentence specified by her trial jury Nov. 21.

The convicted bobby-soxer, who stands barely five feet tall, was taken to the women's state reformatory where she will serve her sentence.

Caril was convicted of aiding Starkweather in the brutal slaying of Robert Jensen, 37, one of the 11 persons the squabbling garbage man admitted killing. Starkweather is to be executed March 27.

State Pay State? Fine Is Suspended

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)—Mrs. Joanna T. Mendes, 24, was fined $35 after she pleaded guilty to driving recklessly and without a license, but she explained she couldn't pay the money because she was on relief.

So Superior Court Judge Eugene L. Jalbert decided to continue the case indefinitely, pointing out to Mrs. Mendes: "If I fine you, we'll have to get money from the state to pay the state."

Boy Chosen Queen, It Was Wacky '58

By LEON BURNETT
ATLANTA (UPI)—This was the year a boy was the unopposed candidate for Halloween queen, and a snake was a member of the wedding.

It was 1958—possibly not the zaniest year in the books, but one that had its moments.

It was at a school near Whiteville, N.C., that first-grader Bill Ward received the unanimous nomination for the title of queen.

Mrs. Hugh Stout, the teacher, protested. But Debbie Jacobs, who led the electioneering, said firmly: "We don't care if he is a boy. We want him. He's the prettiest."

The solemn moment had come for Mary Price and Clyde Willis. They stood in the hushed Shelby, N.C., church as the Rev. J. A. Hallman began intoning that part of the marriage ceremony in which the bride and groom speak up or forever remain silent.

"Snake!" came the cry from the maid of honor.

It was not an objection. It was an announcement that a reptile had invaded the premises.

Willis threw a protective arm about his bride. The maid of honor set sail for the choir loft and others present sought the safety of chairs and pews. A male member of the group dispatched the snake with his feet.

It was just the rehearsal. The wedding itself was held several days later, without incident.

Then there was Charles Moody's dilemma. He won a fancy 10-foot circular bed on a television show—but had to sell it because it wouldn't go through the door of his home.

Arthur B. Parker set some kind of new record for determination in 1958.

Driving home near Charlotte, N.C., Parker heard the loud bang of a blowout. He kept driving.

After a few minutes, the banging and slapping of the limp tire was succeeded by the grinding screech of rim on pavement, the tire having flown off.

Parker kept driving.

Sparks flew, the noise grew—and the rim flew off too.

Still Parker did not stop. He pressed on, the brake drum now grinding along the street.

Finally police stopped him, and he explained:

"My wife was expecting me home."

There was Robert Johnson, who dived off at the wheel outside Hattiesburg, Miss.

He made it into town, though. Because his car bumped a tractor-trailer truck from behind, he became entangled with it and was dragged along until a bystander yelled the strange news to truck driver J. E. Nichols.

James R. Quick, Colonel L. Hasty and Harold P. Early were fined for speeding on the same day in Birmingham, Ala.

Bob Hope Ignores 'Slow Down' Order

TORREJON, Spain (UPI)—Bob Hope, ignoring doctor's orders to "take it easy," pushed ahead today with a grueling Christmas tour of U. S. bases overseas.

Hope was hospitalized briefly after his arrival in Spain Sunday, following an attack of dizziness apparently brought on by high blood pressure and exhaustion. He was up and about again, however, in time to play a scheduled show for the troops.

He refused to cut down the 12-day, 10-hour schedule of his tour of bases in the Azores, Morocco, Spain, Italy, Germany and Iceland.

"The doc said I wasn't getting enough sleep," Hope said. "We got only a few hours rest before leaving New Jersey, and nothing at the Azores. Then I played a benefit golf match when I should have been in bed and, man, it's been murder."

"But I love it. We play in hangers and have to cream our lungs out, we get rained on some times, but I love it. The service people are great audiences, and they really appreciate our coming."

Hope had only eight hours of broken sleep in the first 72 hours of his tour. He was 45 minutes late to his first show in Spain because of his brief stay in the hospital, but he laughed it off.

"The doc counted my caputicles, and figured I'd been hoarding them," he said.

Gas Lights Increase

NEW YORK (UPI)—More than half a million decorative gas lights made of wrought iron were sold in 1958 for use on lawns and beside driveways, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association.

Fidel Castro Latest 'Thorn' To U. S.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Cuban rebel leader Fidel Castro has now joined a colorful cast of Latin American characters whose exploits have been annoying, angering and outraging Uncle Sam off and on during the past century or so.

It remains to be seen, of course, whether Castro's kidnapping of American citizens, seizure of American property and use of an American underground to supply his forces will provoke the United States into using its "Big Stick" against him.

But he has already proved himself a worthy associate in the public mind with Cuba's Narciso Lopez, Mexico's "Pancho" Villa, Haiti's President Sam and Nicaragua's Augusto Sandino.

Lopez was a leader in the fight to free Cuba of Spanish rule. In 1850 and 1851, he led freebooting expeditions recruited and organized in the U. S., a notorious violation of neutrality laws which American public opinion condoned because of a widespread belief that Cuba's destiny was closely associated with that of the U. S.

Finally, Lopez sailed from New Orleans in a bid for power and glory. His first expedition of 750 men was dispersed by Spanish forces when it reached Cuba. The 450 men in his second expedition were captured and many were executed by the Spanish.

But Lopez's activities had the effect of helping to create a body of public opinion in the U. S. which was favorable in the eventual liberation of Cuba from Spain.

Francisco "Pancho" Villa, a Mexican revolutionary, has become a traditional theme in books and movies. He might have been remembered only as a minor rebel or even as a bandit except that he boldly crossed the U. S. border with less than a thousand raiders on the night of March 8, 1916, and set fire to part of the town of Columbus, N. M.

Villa's grudge against the "gringos" was that the U. S. had recognized his arch-enemy, Gen. Venustiano Carranza, as President of Mexico.

Units of the 13th U. S. Cavalry fought back Seven American soldiers and eight civilians were killed. Five soldiers and two civilians were wounded. Some reports said 190 of the raiders were killed or wounded.

After the Columbus raid, President Woodrow Wilson ordered a punitive expedition into Mexico with instructions to capture Villa. But Carranza objected to the invasion and the U. S. withdrew its troops in June with Villa still at large.

He lived until July 20, 1923, when he and three companions in an automobile were slain in ambush by their own countrymen.

From May 1927 to February 1933, every news item about Augusto Cesar Sandino, a Nicaraguan guerrilla leader, was emblazoned in the headlines of newspapers throughout the Western Hemisphere.

Egg On Vest Helps Worker Get Ahead

NEW YORK (UPI)—The hired hands don't know it, but in one big company it pays for a man to come to work with his tie askew or with egg on his vest.

The boss deliberately picks such a man for promotion.

"Such an employee is more concerned with work than he is about appearance," said the boss recently during a survey by the New York State Department of Labor of "promotion practices" among leading New York firms.

According to the survey report, "promotion practices actually are surprisingly haphazardous."

For the executive-suite level, one company officer said: "When a great president retires, a vacuum is created. And into this vacuum is swept the nearest guy who hasn't had a coronary."

Units of the organization man was predicted by the boss who won't promote such seemingly loyal Joe "because they have no faults to set them apart from, and about, their fellows."

Also on the skids are promotion chances for whip-crappers. Most firms consider a man who acts like a top sergeant too "overbearing" for a better job.

"Frankly," said a vice president of personnel, "we prefer a man who 'butters up' his fellows—and his superiors—it shows the ability to get along."

Many bosses, meanwhile, said they are wary of relying entirely upon the highly-touted mental and executive ability tests. They are responding to pleas of psychologists to brake this trend. "Before promotion practices are utterly dehumanized."

Lake Monroe Yule Program At Elementary School

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
Phone FA3-4722

The Lake Monroe Elementary School held its Christmas Program Wednesday evening at 7:30. John Angel, principal, opened the program by welcoming the large audience.

The first grades gave several readings and sang songs including "Up on the Housetop".

Second and Third grades presented a delightful interpretation of "The Shoemaker and the Elves".

The Third and Fourth grades gave different versions of Christmas in other lands. They also rendered "The First Noel" in harmony on bells. THEN Santa appeared and caused a sensation among the younger generation. He gave each child present a bag of candy.

He told them to "please be very careful, don't play in the streets, do not get hurt and above all, Be Good". Then to the loud chorus of "Good-bye Santa Claus", he left to visit another school. The "O Kays" and "A Rights", I will Bank" echoed for a few minutes after the kindly old gentleman had gone.

The Fifth through Eighth grades Choir gave a beautiful Cantata on "The Birth of Christ". Readings and Christmas Hymns were spoken around the scene of the "Habe in the Manger".

Mr. Angel, in closing the program announced request from the students asking that parent please use the sidewalks when leaving as they are so proud of their newly landscaped school they want to keep it looking nice. He also praised the teachers and pupils for the wonderful program.

First Federal Declares Dividend; Growth Cited

Directors of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. declared a dividend for the last six months of the year at the rate of 3 1/2 percent a year, it was announced by Howard Faville, president.

The local association which will celebrate its silver anniversary next year, will pay to holders of savings accounts approximately $115,000 on Dec. 31. This will supplement the more than $100,000 paid in dividends on June 30.

Growth in confidence and outstanding, Faville said, is continuing over the years. The savings outstanding at the end of the year will be a few thousand dollars under $7 million, he estimated, adding that on Nov. 30 the figure exceeded $6,000,000.

The increasing demand for loans with which people in the community buy, build or repair homes has kept the increasing savings busy, he said. "A look around our thriving area will disclose the fast pace at which houses are being built," he added.

The office will be closed Dec. 23 and 24, he said, but members of the Circle 2 of the Baptist Church postponed its meeting until a later date.

Morris Melts has returned to his home following surgery at Seminoe Memorial Hospital.

J. H. Edwards left recently for Sebring where he has been transferred by the A. C. L. R. R. Mrs. Edwards and son, Jerry, will join him there the first of the year to make their home.

S. P. A Russell Mann of the U. S. Army stationed at Ft. Meade, Md. is visiting his father, Jack Mann, for the Christmas holidays.

A 2/c Robert Mann of the U. S. Air Force has arrived safely in Neville, Spain, where he will be stationed.

A personal wish for a Very Merry Christmas from your reporter.

Tired, Untidy Man Once Was Famous

SPRING CITY, Tenn. (UPI)—A tired looking, untidy little man with a thatch of snow-white hair sits on the porch of his rickety house in a cluttered lot.

He is John R. Neal, the once-famous constitutional lawyer who instigated Tennessee's widely publicized "monkey trial" 33 years ago.

His hand shakes occasionally as he draws from a cigarette but his voice is as rich and firm as in the days when he stumped the state as a perennial—but always unsuccessful—candidate for Governor or U. S. Senator.

Today, to the children who play in front of his house in this Tennessee mountain town, John Randolph Neal is just a kindly old man.

To some of his neighbors he is a senile eccentric with an astonishing disregard for the niceties of personal care.

But to others—and there are many—Dr. Neal is remembered as the guardian of the dignity of the common man, a champion of the underdog.

The son of a Confederate Army colonel who served in the U. S. House of Representatives, Neal was born at Ribes Springs near here. Neal won't say when he was born and his age remains a secret.

"I don't tell my age because I have never married and I don't want to hurt my chances," he said, his eyes twinkling under bushy brows. But it's safe to say he is in his 70's.

Neal received his bachelor's degree from the University of Tennessee, went on to Columbia in New York where he received a doctorate in law.

He became nationally known in 1925 after passing John T. Scopes, school teacher in Dayton, Tenn., to be prosecuted in a test of the state law that banned the teaching of evolution.

Neal's efforts in behalf of the common man gained him the title of "The Great Objector." In 1923 he defied a psychology professor at the University of Tennessee who was called on the carpet of teaching from an "objectionable" textbook. Neal lost that case as he was destined to lose many of the battles that lay before him.

Once Neal went to Gastonia, N. C. literally at the risk of his life, to defend several mill workers charged with murder who were unable to obtain counsel.

Another time he went to Elizabeth to take the case of some girls employed at a textile mill who were on strike. Management was issuing statements blaming the whole affair on the Communists.

Remembering that case long ago, Neal butted his cigarette on the floor of the porch. "Those girls weren't any more Communists than I was," he said. "I just went up there to see that their right to picket was upheld."

"The first thing I did was to prove that every girl in the factory was eligible for membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution. After that I didn't hear any more about Communism," he added.

Neal's efforts in behalf of unpopular causes brought charges that he himself was an "atheist." One big difference between the tired old man who now sits on his porch and the fiery campaigner who once ran for Governor or Senator in practically every state election is that Neal no longer has folding money.

His family had vast holdings in mountain lands and he always used to have money in the bank. That money is gone now. His friends blame it on bad investments and a tendency to give people the shirt off his back.

Mother, Baby Die In Fire At FSU

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The 34-year-old wife of a Florida State University student was burned to death Sunday when she tried futilely to rescue her 3-month-old son from their smoke-filled home.

Later, firemen found the bodies of Mrs. Garnett E. Spitzer and tiny Garnett Jr. in the charred ruins of the frame house.

The father, an FSU junior, said he ran out of the burning building thinking his wife and child were right behind. When he noticed they were not outside, he tried to re-enter the home but was forced back by the flames.

Spitzer said he was awakened at about 2 a. m. by smoke which filled his room. He said the small wood home was nearly engulfed in flames and that he barely had time to run outside.

The Spitzers were residents of Jacksonville.

Postal, Gas Rates To Go Up; General Taxes Undisturbed

WASHINGTON (UPI) Key congressional Democrats today openly questioned the ability of President Eisenhower to balance the new federal budget at 71 billion dollars without a general tax increase.

The chairmen of the Senate finance and House appropriations committees accepted Eisenhower's announced goal of ending continuous federal deficits as admirable. But they doubted that Uncle Sam would take in enough extra revenue to do the job in fiscal 1960.

The President, although he promised he would not ask for a general tax hike. He said the budget will call for higher postal rates and gasoline taxes, however.

In a direct challenge to the strong Democratic Congress to refrain from heavy new spending, Eisenhower issued the rare budget proposal Monday nearly a month before it was scheduled to go to Capitol Hill.

"It will be a balanced budget," the President said. "Revenues and expenditures will be in the general area of 71 billion dollars."

The Chief Executive said reductions in total spending—expected to pass 50 billion dollars this year—would be accomplished in the new budget partly by ending of temporary programs in agriculture, unemployment insurance and housing. Savings in this category were estimated at upwards of $2,500,000,000.

Yule Lighting Winners

Christmas lighting contests judges covered a lot of territory last night as they inspected displays entered by Sanford area residents. The contest was sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees.

Commercial winner for the second year in a row, was Wilchold's Photo Shop, 210 S. Park Ave. The shop will retain possession of the Florida Power and Light traveling trophy.

The residential entries were divided into four divisions with 523 savings bonds going to first prize in the traditional division. Second was L. M. Dress Jr., 1403 Wynwood Drive. Honorable mention went to George Dabbs, 509 Plumosa.

The artistic division was won by Mrs. H. C. Washburn for her giant handpainted Christmas card. Mrs. Washburn's address is Rt. 1, Box 275, Vihlen Road (off Country Club Road). Howard W. Swearingen, 1909 Park Ave. won second prize for his display using all native material. Herbert Cherry, 407 W. 15th St. and W. M. Hoag, 200 W. 15th St. received honorable mention.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Volle Williams Jr., president of the Sanford Garden Club; Joseph E. Mathieux, Seminole High Art teacher; and Ode Edward D. Numbers, N.A.S. administrative officer.

The awards will be presented at the first Jaycee luncheon next year. Savings bonds were given by Florida State Bank, Sanford Atlantic Bank, Florida Power and Light Co. and The Sanford Herald. Silver dollars were donated by the Jaycees.

Carlton Huss, contest chairman, expressed hope that residents would make an attempt to see the efforts of the contest winners. He also remarked that the judges saw many displays of winning quality that were not entered and hoped that next year they would consider their lighting worthy of entry in the contest.

Injury Ruse Lured Nurse To Death, Killer Relates

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—This seaside town settled by Franciscan monks in the 18th Century, was shaken from its Christmas serenity today by new developments in a murder case involving a possessive mother's jealousy of her attractive daughter-in-law.

Police said Olga Duncan, 30, seven months pregnant, was lured to her death by compassion. The case has shocked this quiet community of 20,000 residents.

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, Olga's mother-in-law, is accused of masterminding the brutal slaying of Olga.

Mrs. Duncan denied the charge made by a man who confessed the slaying. She said she was being blackmailed and that Olga was killed to "spite" her.

Olga's body was uncovered Sunday after Augustine Baldonado, 25, confessed he and Luis Guaya, 22, killed her. Baldonado led police to the slain woman's shallow grave in a construction area about 10 miles north of here.

Baldonado told police the senior Mrs. Duncan offered him and Guaya $5,000 to kill her daughter-in-law, but they were paid only $500.

Mrs. Duncan, who was said to be extremely jealous of her son's affection, only last week admitted she posed as Olga and obtained an annulment of her son's brief marriage.

Police said Mrs. Duncan and her son, Frank, 29, a prominent Santa Barbara attorney, often entered the courtroom together hand-in-hand and that Don an was considered a "mommy's boy."

Baldonado told police that Guaya, who so far has refused to admit having any part in the murder plot, went to Olga's Santa Barbara apartment about 20 miles north of here late Nov. 15 and told her a friend of his was injured on the street.

Baldonado said he was lying in the back of the car when Guaya and Olga arrived. As Olga leaned over to examine him, Guaya hit her on the head with the butt of a .22-caliber pistol. Baldonado said.

He told police they then drove Olga to the construction area. They had planned to shoot her, he said, but the gun was damaged when they used it to beat her and so they strangled her.

Men Deny Abusing 5-Year-Old Davy

MIAMI (UPI)—Two bachelors today pleaded not guilty to mistreating Davy Sloan, the 5-year-old boy given them because his mother didn't like him.

Donald D. Wallace and Raymond Jacobsen, both 29, appeared in criminal court today for the third time without an attorney and Judge Ben C. Willard filed the not guilty plea for them.

They told Willard they were not sure if they would like to hire an attorney and might handle their own defense.

Both waited jury trial. Willard set trial date in the case for Dec. 30.

Meanwhile, Davy was transferred to Jackson Memorial Hospital at the Dade County Children's home in nearby Kendall.

Authorities said he will eat a Christmas dinner with all the trimmings and receive presents like the other youths at the home.

Rites Held Today For Angered Man In Bed 42 Years

HAMILTON, W.V. (UPI)—Funeral services were held today for George Lacy who, according to one report, went to bed 12 years ago and stayed there because he became angry at his father.

Known as "Lonesome George" in the neighborhood, the 71-year-old Lacy died Sunday night.

A neighbor said Lacy became irate in 1916 when his father insisted on selling a pet calf. The son threatened to remain in bed if the father sold the animal.

The father went ahead and his 20-year-old son kept his vow and went to bed.

However, Lacy's sister, Gertrude, gave another version. She said George was stricken with measles along with the rest of the family in 1914.

Gertrude said although George had been healthy previously, "he couldn't get up" and "lost his talk too."

George was never visited by a doctor because "I never knew of one around here," she said.

New Street Signs To Point The Way

Sanford will continue replacing old street signs with new ones, Commissioners decided last night.

The street sign budget was included in a submitted street material account. The city manager said he had heard excellent comments on the program. One resident said, "I've lived here for years, but this is the first time I've known where I was going."

Expenses Lowered, Service Increased

One department of the city of Sanford has lowered its expenses while raising its services.

According to a report from W. E. Knowles, city manager, Sanford has one of the most economical refuse divisions in the state and one that provides above average service.

While two garbage and one trash pick up per home per week is provided, the cost has declined instead of increased. Sanford's refuse Division and sanitary zone fill have become prime examples used by Florida State Board of Entomology. Public officials have come from as far away as Georgia to observe the operation.

Sanford Gets Its Share Of Tourists With Cars

Strikes by the nation's leading airlines are delaying arrival of some Florida tourists, but Sanford is getting its share of those who bring along the family car.

Driving or walking, it is a simple matter to spot those out-of-state automobiles in Sanford. They are becoming more evident as the days pass.

A stroll down First St. from The Sanford Herald to the Chamber of Commerce building, produced plenty of evidence to support Sanford's claim that it is becoming increasingly popular as a winter resort.

On an average day, license plates from all sections of the nation can be spotted. Some, no doubt, are on automobiles owned by personnel at the Naval Air Station. But most are on cars of tourists, all seeking the warm Florida sun.

From Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan, New York, Connecticut, Vermont, Maine and Pennsylvania, they're arriving in droves. Many from the Southland are moving further south.

A few California plates also are evident. Possible explanations are cars owned by Navy personnel or Californians attempting to escape the smog, ice and cold.

At this time of year, some of the slogans on the license plates are on the "brink" of humor. Such is the one carried by Maine motorists whose license plates proclaim "Vacationland." In July, it's fitting in December it's too cold.

Arkansas claims the title, "Land of Opportunity," but a few of the "Travelers" are in Sanford at present.

On a six-block stroll, these out-of-state cars were noticed: New York, Connecticut, Maine, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Washington, and Illinois.

Some of the larger tour companies may be feeling the pinch of the airline strikes, but Sanford appears to be doing okay.

Happy Youngsters Tour Local Stores

Fourteen youngsters beamed yesterday afternoon as they meandered through Sanford stores with shopping money dolished in their hands.

One of the Jaycees volunteered to take the boys and girls through the downtown shops. Lutheran Home housemother, "Aunt Stella," guided the little ones, who had a difficult time understanding the purpose of something by someone else.

One of the Jaycees had difficulty keeping up with his charges, as he led the boy drama, ran mechanical toys and demonstrated various games to the children. Amused customers watched as he chased the children down one aisle and up another. They had their minds set on serious business.

Soon the money was spent and with their arms loaded with packages the first children returned to Slavia. A check for $20 had been given to the home, in addition to the shopping tour for more Christmas fun.

"SAX on Fire"

About 20 of us (men) were on the south side of it, all within 200 feet, volunteer fireman Philip Thompson said.

Suddenly there was an awful roar and it seemed like the whole sky was on fire. I was knocked down. Then I was on my feet running. I don't know where I was running.

A boy passed me running head first. His clothes were on fire. I jerked some of his clothes off and put out the fire.

Fire Chief Warns Of Blaze Dangers

Sanford Fire Chief Mack Cleveland is issuing words of warning with his cheery Christmas greeting.

The social chief reminded residents this morning to check their heating systems, "and don't keep the furnace going full blast when you leave the house."

"This is the worst time of year for fires," he said. "We talk a lot about house fires and Christmas trees, but business houses can also have (bad) fires. Merchants should keep doors and exits clear, and the stock out of the way. All out firemen are going to have Christmas dinner with their families this year. We hope that all Sanford residents will be safely in mind, so they too, may enjoy a fire-free Christmas."

Reds Shell Quemoy In Heavy Barrage

TAIPEI (UPI)—Communist Chinese guns pounded the Quemoy Islands today with the heaviest barrage in more than 50 days as the artillery bombardment of the Nationalist islands entered the fifth month.

The Defense Ministry said the Red shore batteries, half encircling the Quemoy, fired 4,064 rounds before 6 p.m. They were still firing sporadically tonight.

Some 3,000 civilian houses have been flattened by the bombardment on Quemoy proper. But visiting newsmen found few of the Nationalist concrete gun positions or other emplacements damaged.

4 Dead, 168 Hurt in Explosion, Fire

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (UPI)—A butane gas transport truck blew up Monday night in the midst of an open shopping area close to it as 10 feet. Spectators said flames about 100 feet into the air and the blast blew chunks of red hot metal 100 yards.

The explosion killed four persons and injured 168. Most of the injured were taken to hospitals in a nearby town. At least 16 remained in hospitals, some in critical condition.

The tragedy started with a wreck between the butane transport and a trailer truck. There was a small explosion, probably of gasoline, when the trucks collided and a fire.

The Brownfield volunteer fire department rushed to the scene and spectators gathered. Fifteen minutes after the wreck and initial explosion the powerful butane gas on the truck blew up.

City Wants Truck, From Local Dealer

Truck dealers will have to re-submit their bids, City Commissioners voted last night.

Three bids were submitted last week by two Sanford dealers and one from Orlando. Commissioners refused to accept the Orlando bid, although it was the only one found to be legal. Earl Higginbotham said, "Orlando doesn't offer anything to us. I prefer to buy in Sanford. They would do the same thing there."

The Board requested a re-submission of bids to assure Sanford dealers an opportunity to submit proper specifications and prices. The bids will be opened at the next meeting, Jan. 6, when dealers are invited to be present.

Official In Hospital

Hediff Sayer, city assessor and clerk, is a patient in the Seminole Memorial Hospital. Sayer entered the hospital last Friday.

90th Child Dies; Safety Is Planned

CHICAGO (UPI)—A three-point program designed to prevent tragedies similar to the Our Lady of the Angels School fire today was headed for almost certain passage by the City Council.

The proposals were introduced with no advance notice Monday by Mayor Richard J. Daley, only hours before the disastrous blaze claimed another life and brought the total of dead to 90 children and three nuns.

Susan Malone, 9, daughter of an English war bride succumbed Monday night to burns suffered in the Dec. 1 fire. She had been on the critical list at St. Anne's Hospital for more than three weeks.

In announcing the plan he had drawn up with city officials, Daley said that "financial cost cannot be weighed against the need of safeguarding human life."

The proposals, described as the first in a series, would require all schools two or more stories high with wooden flooring to be equipped with a sprinkler system, require all school fire alarm systems to be connected directly with city fire alarm boxes, and make school fire drills mandatory once a month.

City Buys Parking Lot, Approves Gas Franchise

Another municipal parking lot will soon be a reality in Sanford. City Commissioners last night voted to purchase the property between Howell and Palmetto Avenues north of Strickland Morrison used as a lot.

The transaction will be handled through Ed Shimboser, Morrison's attorney. Purchase price was $75,000. Financing will be arranged through bank loans and funds received from the sale of property in Lee Hwy.

The parking lot will be paved within 10 months. It is situated directly across the street from the Civic Center. Part of the sale condition includes the extension of the east-west alley, Morrison holds possession of all property north of the alley.

Commissioners approved the gas franchise with the Sanford Gas Company. Natural gas will soon become available in the city.

Under discussion last night was the city's health and life insurance plan for employees. City Manager W. E. Knowles was instructed by the board to consider plans submitted by all insurance companies combining the two plans. Also suggested and approved was a six month waiting period for new employees before health benefits for dependents may be obtained.

A request for street lights on San Marcos Ave. was approved, as were beer and wine permits for Higgs Curb Market and Fulton's Store on West First St. The Commission also accepted the agreement with the Mid-Florida Development Co. of Newark, N. J. The developers are planning to build 400 homes in the Lake Minnie area.

Building permit fees will go into the general coffers instead of reverting to the contractors, the board decided. A suggested amendment authorizing the return of the owner in case of municipal, total for the owner in case of municipal, county, state or governmental construction was refused.
