Strolling In Sanford

O. D. Phillip is a new employee of the Seminole Jalousie Co., 207 W. First St. He formerly was employed by the U. S. Gypsum Co. and the Carey Stone Co.

Two students from the Sanford area will receive degrees at Southeastern University summer session commencement to be held at 8 p. m. today in Elizabeth Hall. The Rev. Jack B. Noffinger, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Gainesville, will give the commencement address. Miss Ruth Archer of Asheville, N. C., minister of music of the First Baptist Church here, will receive the Bachelor of Music degree. She teaches the third grade at the Enterprise School.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Clara Jobe, who is bed-ridden at the home of her parents in Marion, Ga., were Mrs. Velma Gonzalez, her son, Robert, and James Manning, last week, and Miss Carolyn Rogers this week. Mrs. Gonzalez said Mrs. Jobe's condition was reported to be improved.

The Rev. Hans Arbakken and three daughters, Mia, Hana Britt and Christine have arrived in the United States from Constantinople, Algeria, North Africa, for a year's stay. They arrived in Jacksonville yesterday. Mrs. Arbakken and her other two children, Hjord and Hoff, have been here for some time and are at present with Mrs. Arbakken's mother, Mrs. Annie Meriwether in Daytona Beach. They plan to visit here, Methodist missionaries to North Africa, the Rev. and Mrs. Arbakken plan to remain in Florida until Aug. 28 when they will go to Hartford, Conn. to study for a year before returning to their post. While in Sanford they are guests of Mrs. Arbakken's aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Henry Russell. Mrs. Arbakken will be remembered as the former Ellen Meriwether.

None of the four Kwanians who won silver dollars at the luncheon meeting Wednesday noon returned them, as requested by Charles Morrison, who staged one of his "mootings" at the hotel. He picked up for E. C. Harper of the Sanford Electric Company, which donated the "George B. Bush" after Lester Thayer, fifth holder of the trophy. The award was presented to their "wards," Charlie announced that he would be at the dock as they left to take their trip. The trophy was only loaned by Mr. Harper, for the occasion.

Traffic Parleys Slated For Fall

TALLAHASSEE — The 1951 Florida Highway Safety Conference will be held in St. Petersburg, Oct. 17 conference secretary, Roger Collier of the Florida Highway Patrol, announced here today.

The program will be patterned after the White House conference which was called by President Eisenhower and held earlier this year in the nation's capital.

Speakers for both conferences will include local and nationally recognized safety authorities. The program is now in the process of being drawn.

Acting Governor Charles E. Johns and other members of the cabinet will be invited to the two-day meeting which will be in the Lorenzo Hotel, Collier said.

Representatives of labor, agriculture, business, women, public officials, public information media, religious, fraternal service and veterans groups, and youth will be among the delegates.

The St. Petersburg conference will be the sixth annual one of the highway safety group and the first one of the teen-agers.

Police Close Case Of Moving Corpse

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Alliance police closed out the case of the disappearing corpse yesterday.

They investigated after eight and motorists reported a dead man lying in the road, and arrested four 18-year-old pranksters.

The youths, said police, fashioned and clothed a straw man and put in on the highway with a rope attached. When a startled motorist stopped, the boys jerked the dummy away.

Sebring Mayor J. W. Hoopes jerked them into jail for 30 days and fined them $50.

Miss U. S. A. Told To Buy Bonds

LOS ANGELES — Miss U. S. A. of 1951 must buy a U. S. Savings Bond each week.

Superior Court yesterday approved the 7-year contract of Miss Myra Hansen, 30, with Universal International Sales and Marketing Inc. to purchase a $25 bond weekly from her earnings. The pact calls for a salary of $200 a week with an eventual weekly maximum of $500.

Miss Hansen represented Illinois in last year's Miss Universe contest.

Sheriff Doubts Suspect Is Gunman-Rapist

Hitchhiker Held At Bronson Jail Doesn't Fit Attacker's Description

DUNTSVILLE (AP)—Sheriff H. T. Williams of Brevard County—where two women were raped a week apart—said today he doubted a hitchhiker held in Bronson is the man sought in a statewide search but that he may have the victims look him over.

"The description doesn't exactly fit descriptions we've had from the victims," he said.

The man sought in the two rapings and for molesting four other women and girls in Central Florida has been described as dark haired and complexioned with long sideburns, about 20, and at least six feet tall. The man held by Levy County authorities at Bronson is less than six feet.

The State Highway Patrol put the search on a statewide basis yesterday after Central Florida police and sheriffs said they are convinced the rapist is a sex maniac liable to strike again without warning.

A light colored Buick the man has accosted victims in is believed to be registered in Brevard.

Police Chief Walter Wilkes of Davenport, 100 miles away, reported that he noticed a gray Buick with license number starting "19W" in his town about the same time a 19-year-old Orlando girl visiting there reported she was accosted by the man designated for Brevard County.

The young woman said the driver of a gray Buick asked her for traffic directions, then tried to force her into his car at gunpoint. He drove off when she screamed. Her description of the man tallied with that given by the two rape victims and of three other women molested.

A housewife on Merritt Island in Brevard was raped the same day, Wednesday, the girl was approached in Davenport.

Deputy Sheriff Jimmy Dunn said the housewife told him the attacker came to her door and asked about renting the house next door. She went to look up the address and when she turned around he was inside the house holding a gun on her. "I'll kill you if you cry out," she quoted him as saying as he held her hands, blindfolded and raped her.

The first rape occurred at Titusville Aug. 3. A dark, sideburned man forced two young women into his car, reportedly a dirty cream Buick, and held a gun on one while he attacked the other.

Two young girls reported they were molested by the man at an Orlando street corner a day earlier.

CAMP SPRINGS, Md. — Three bandits "cleaned out" the vault of the Southern Air Force Base branch bank today, reaping with an estimated $160,000.

Three Negroes were picked up for a "roadside" abduction near the air base a short time later and held by police for questioning about the holdup.

Andrew Field is just southeast of Washington, about ten miles from the Capital.

A stunned official of the parent First National Bank of Southern Maryland said there was about $160,000 in the vault, and "they (the bandits) cleaned it out."

They was no shooting, but an officer from the air base said an unidentified airman was "roughed up." He was not chipped as is usual.

The bandits, all Negroes, entered the branch bank just a little after 11 o'clock at 9 a. m.

They quickly overpowered the four employees, two of them women into the vault and locked them in after picking up the money.

The employees were Robert D. Pinkney, manager; Milton Hill, clerical; Mrs. Margaret Swisher and Mrs. Bernadine Westcamp. None of them was injured.

Beall Sasser, assistant cashier at the main office in Upper Marlboro, Md., said about half of the cash had been sent to the bank by registered mail last night.

It was picked up at the air base post office a half hour before the robbery. Maryland state police broadcast an alarm for the gunmen with these descriptions:

One was tall, wearing a gray, rayon jacket and blue slacks. The second was short with a brown tweed jacket and sun glasses. They were unable to give a description of the third man.

The bank is not equipped with a burglar alarm and has no armed guard on duty during banking hours. The branch occupies half of a cement building on Texas Avenue across the street from base headquarters.

Sasser said the needs of the base finance officer for ready cash required the bank to keep large sums of money on hand.

The employees freed themselves by means of a release installed in the vault for that purpose.

One of the bandits was reported to have been armed with a German Lager pistol.

All six main exit gates from the air base were immediately locked by air police. Prince Georges County police and FBI agents set up road blocks in the area.

The Friday the 13th holdup was the first big bank robbery in Maryland since a branch bank in Baltimore was robbed of $30,000 last April Fool's Day.

It was the third bank robbery on a military base in recent months. The Ft. Meade branch bank was robbed of $20,000 March 20, 1951, and again of $40,000 the following December 22.

FATALLY SHOT — Robert Whaley, 1st, was hunting rabbits in the rear of a used car lot here yesterday when his shotgun discharged, killing him instantly.

He was shot in the chest while hunting rabbits in the rear of a used car lot here yesterday when his shotgun discharged, killing him instantly.

Company To Start Contract

The Hubbard Construction Co., Orlando, will come here Monday to start operations in the sewer and water program, according to City Mgr. Warren Knowles.

This company, the last to start work in the sewer program, will establish headquarters in block four of the Bell Air subdivision. Work will start in the central portion of the subdivision and go south.

Work of installing sewer extensions and replacements, the construction of a lift station at the south west corner of the Wainwood subdivision and the installation of some storm drainage facilities in the Mayfair section and the east boundary of the Wainwood subdivision.

The cost set for the work, designated as contract four, is $250,000. This contract was the last to be enacted by the City commission after it was felt that first figures were too high.

Other companies already at work on the sewer project are as follows:

McFadden Bros., Bessmer, Ala., which is doing contracts five and six.

Humbly and Simpson, Orlando, which is doing contract seven.

The Whitmore Tank Co., Jacksonville, will build the elevated storage tank slated in the water program after the foundation is laid at the old ball park, Melville Ave. and 13th St. Cost of the tank, designated as contract one, will be $39,642.

The Peninsula Construction Co., Pineville, is building the foundation for the tank and is nearly finished, according to Knowles.

Cost of the foundation, designated as contract two, is $9,988.

Also in progress is the installation of water main extensions by E. H. Holcomb Jr., Clearwater, which work is included in contract three, set at $66,444.21. The company was working at Randolph St. and Sumner Ave. this morning.

Only Friday, 13th In 1954 Is Today

Today is the only Friday the 13th in 1951.

For those that are superstitious, today is a lucky day.

According to Collins' almanac, because of the unusual combination of the sun and moon on this day, Friday the 13th is a "lucky" day.

North, says.

Five Convicts Escape Prison

SOUTH FOLK, Mass. — Five out of the state prison colony last night and taking one of them as a hostage successfully eluded a manhunt today.

Police departments in key New England cities were warned by Massachusetts state police that at least one "escapee has a gun and that all are dangerous."

This was the second break for four of the last three months.

The convicts, said to have taken as hostage prison guard Walter F. De Alder, 29, of Lawrence.

The men were identified as James L. Schwartz, 37, of Malden, serving 6 to 27 years for robbery; Martin F. Fenney, 38, of Boston, serving 12 to 17 years for a 1949 Belmont bank robbery that netted $57,710.

Richard Layole, 40, of Woonsocket, R. I., serving 12 to 15 years for shooting a policeman during a drug store holdup in Waterbury.

CRASH IS FATAL — EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE — 2nd Lt. Jay L. Barnes, 23, of Grove City, Penn., was killed when an F80 all-weather interceptor crashed the Eglin public information office said last night.

"Last year many landowners waited until after the Sept. 1 deadline to send in their orders, they were disappointed because they could not get the seedlings they desired. Don't let that happen to you," cautioned Mikell.

Alleged Communist Leaders Found Guilty By Jury Today

State Vets Service Officer Makes Monthly Visits Here

Tom B. Deen and Karlyle Householder, Seminole County veterans service officer, point out that $2,282.79 was recovered for local veterans during the last fiscal year. Deen, assistant state veterans and service officer from Jacksonville was here yesterday on his monthly visit as a special consultant for Seminole County veterans.

We are here to help veterans of any war with any problem concerning their compensation on the state, county or federal level," Deen said, indicating that he was experiencing a busy tenure today with local ex-servicemen. "For example," the state officer went on, "this morning we dealt with the veterans of the first World War who are seeking their pensions."

Another case concerned a vet who was disabled during his service and is still bothered with an injury. Since our state facilities are not equipped to handle his condition, we are seeking to send him to the Mayo Clinic in Chicago, he continued. "The veteran's problem is our problem," Deen said.

Householder, who is assisted in Seminole County by Mrs. Nancy Steele, added that his office in vided ex-servicemen to some in and discuss their problems.

Young Mother Stabbed Fatally

CLEVELAND (AP)—A young mother was stabbed to death in her home today while her two daughters slept in the next room.

Police said the man who slit her throat apparently also raped 24-year-old Mrs. Lois Gilles.

The woman's husband, Donald, a 29-year-old railroad freight receiver, told police he found his body when he returned home after helping repair a friends' automobile.

Detectives said the killer apparently climbed through a window to the first floor bedroom. The children, Beverly, 4, and Diane, 5, slept through the killing.

Clayton Roan Rites Will Be Sunday

Services will be held in Jacksonville Sunday at 2 p. m. for Clayton Roan, Jacksonville, former Sanford resident, who was dead upon arrival at the St. Vincent's Hospital in Jacksonville Thursday after being found unconscious in a building under construction.

Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery, Sanford, Monday at 2 p. m.

Cause of death was undetermined last night. Police said the man apparently was working with an electric drill when he slumped to the floor.

Survivors include his widow, a daughter, Miss Margaret Ann Roan, San Diego, Calif., a son, Thomas W. Roan, Jacksonville, mother, Mrs. Mattie Gardner, Sanford, a sister, Mrs. Edeline Stewart, New York City, and two grandchildren.

Crime Laboratory Wanted By Ervin

OKLAHOMA CITY — Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin wants a modern crime laboratory to coordinate the efforts of state law enforcement agencies in Florida.

Speaking at the meeting of the Florida chapter of the FBI National Academy Assn. here yesterday, Ervin said:

"Such a laboratory, along with a state training academy and a statewide communications system, could do much to increase the efficiency of our law enforcement agencies."

Ervin said considerable progress had been made in the field of law enforcement in recent years, and said municipal police are "particularly progressive."

He said sheriffs in Florida also have modernized their technique of uncovering those who violate the law as well as the equipment they are using in their work.

He defended the FBI against those who claim its operations are a violation of state's rights and said "It is absolutely necessary that we have the FBI to combat crime in our nation."

Sludbaker Men Vote To Accept Cuts In Wages

SOUTH BEND (AP)—Robert Miller thinks he can afford to put up the higher bids now.

Robert Miller is a Sludbaker automobile worker.

He is one of the 3,000-odd employees who voted yesterday to accept a cut in his hourly wages. Along with other workers he went to a high school football stadium in South Bend, heard the arguments on both sides, and then made his decision.

It was a unique event in the history of industrial relations in America.

Miller in South Bend like 75,000 other workers in the area, took place here now.

They say they will also vote to join the U. I. O. United Auto Workers.

Workers agreed by an overwhelming vote to accept the wage reductions in order to get Sludbaker in a better competitive position by lowering production costs.

The company has reported a loss of nearly nine million dollars for the first six months of 1951. It also dropped from 139 million dollars in the first half of last year to 121 million this year.

The wage scale on a cumulative basis is more than 20 years in arrears above the rest of the industry.

Officials told the union the company could no longer pay such a high wage scale.

The pinch began to be felt some months ago. This is what it meant to Robert Miller.

He is 28, married, with two small children—a son, Wayne, 4, and a daughter, Jan, 11 months. When he got out of the Navy in 1946, he went to work in the Sludbaker plant.

A peak as a metal finisher, he takes home pay was $150 a month.

Picture May Be Worth Millions

NEW YORK (AP)—A Chicago art collector paid $150 for a painting which an expert now declares is worth more than one million dollars.

The picture is a Leonardo da Vinci "Madonna and Child," says Dr. Maurice H. Goldblatt, director of the art galleries of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Ind.

Dr. Hans H. Teichert, Chicago dealer, bought the painting here about four months ago and asked Dr. Goldblatt's opinion. Painted in oil on wood 25 by 20 1/2 inches, it was in possession of a New York antique dealer who said it was done by an unknown artist.

Dr. Goldblatt said an amateur had overpainted parts of the face and neck to make them narrower and also had overpainted the upper left eyelid and eye to enlarge the opening between the lips and make more of the eyeball visible. He suggested the overpainting be removed and the result, Dr. Goldblatt says, was "electrifying."

Rubber Workers Start Big Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—The rubber industry's second major strike erupted across the nation today as 25,000 U. I. O. United Rubber Workers walked off their jobs at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. plants in eight cities.

Union officials, who called a strike of 25,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. workers last July 7, triggered the action against Firestone to coincide with their contract's midnight deadline.

Together the two actions put more than 48,000 rubber workers—a third of the industry's union members—on strike.

Trial Goes 47 Days Before End Charges Made On Smith Act

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A federal court jury of seven women and five men today found nine alleged Communist leaders guilty of conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the government of the United States by force and violence.

The specific charges alleged violation of the Smith Act, Maximum penalty on each count is a 5-year prison term and a fine of $10,000.

ATL Thomas D. McBride, court-appointed head of defense counsel, objected to immediate imposition of sentence, and filed with Judge Robert Rosen, a temporary motion for acquittal or a new trial.

None of the defendants testified in his own defense, though Joseph Korman, 42, was granted court permission to act as his own attorney.

Other defendants, besides Korman, are Robert Klenyok, 35, Sam George Hoff, 41, also known as Joseph Korman, Benjamin Benet, 38, David Dubinsky, 46, also known as David Davis, Thomas Neblin, 51, Irwin Katz, 35, Walter Lowenthal, 36, and Sherman Labovitz, 29 all of Philadelphia.

It was a unique event in the history of industrial relations in America.

Miller in South Bend like 75,000 other workers in the area, took place here now.

They say they will also vote to join the U. I. O. United Auto Workers.

H. School Girl Attacked, Killed

TOLEDO, Ohio — Sheriff's deputies searched a lonely woods west of here today for clues to the identity of a fiend who dragged a pretty high school girl from her bicycle and then raped and killed her.

The bloody and nearly nude body of Blithyn Frances Mary, 16, was found in the woods by three terrified women relatives yesterday after she had been taken to a hospital to get the mail.

Near the scene, deputies found the girl's bicycle, her spectacles and scattered pieces of the mail she had brought from the box.

Dr. Paul Holly, Lucas County coroner, performed an autopsy on the body last night and determined that the girl had been raped.

Mary Jolene had been staying for a few days with an aunt, Mrs. Mary Bond, whose son, George, was the girl's legal guardian.

When the girl didn't return for several hours, Mrs. Bond phoned several other relatives in a search for her.

MAIL TRUCK DRIVER IS ARRESTED

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The mail man got through but not too fast, Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin ruled today.

He told Patrolman Francis J. McCoy of the Orlando Police Department a policeman has the right to arrest a mail truck driver for speeding.

However, unreasonable speed restrictions can't be imposed, he said. Nor may a local ordinance conflict with Post Office directives setting higher speeds for mail trucks to meet necessary schedules.

 That true happiness is to be found through understanding the spiritual laws which govern the universe including man will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul."
 The spiritual nature of happiness is set forth in the flowing passage which will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (60:29-31):
 "Soul has infinite resources with which to bless mankind, and happiness would be more readily attained and would be more secure in our keeping, if sought in Soul."
 The prophet Isaiah's promise of peace and joy to those who spiritually understand God will be included in the readings from the Bible (Isaiah 55:12): "For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

BIBLE ARRIVES HOME
 SEQUOIA President Spaxman Rhee returned today and was met by cheering thousands after his 20-day visit to the United States where he called for renewal of the Korean War.
 "The hearty welcome and sympathy expressed by multitudes of the American people everywhere were far beyond my expectations," Rhee said in a prepared statement.
 The President said he found responsible American officials, congressmen and people "greatly sympathetic" to Korea.

Billy Graham Film To Be Shown Here

"London Crusade," an hour-long documentary of the three-month campaign held by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown here in the Central Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.
 Filmed entirely in England, "London Crusade" is Britain's own story of the three-month Billy Graham revival there. Narrated by the Bishop of Barking, one of the most respected leaders of the Anglican Church, the saga is a complete, gripping portrayal of the events as they transpired.
 Beginning with scenes of the Grahams' arrival at Waterloo Station, the film moves on to the opening night at Harringay Arena. It then covers the entire series of history-making services, concluding with the great White City and Wembley Stadium meetings, where a total of 200,000 gathered for the closing rallies of the Crusade.
 The doors to Central Baptist Church will be opened at 6:30 p. m. with the film beginning at 7:30 p. m. and again at 9 p. m. All seats are on a "first-come basis," with no admission charge.

RULING MADE
 TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A policeman who looks through the window of a private residence and sees a crime taking place can't make an arrest if he was trespassing without a reasonable excuse, Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin ruled today.
 An arrest could be made legally if the view through the window could be had from the public street or if the officer "had reasonable grounds to believe that a crime was being committed within the private property which he had entered to make his observation," Ervin said.
 The opinion was given to Orlando attorney Francis J. McCoy.

TEACHERS TO MEET
 GAINESVILLE — Some 125 mathematics teachers from schools throughout the state will assemble at the University of Florida for the Second Annual Mathematics Institute of the Florida Council of Teachers of Mathematics Aug. 19-21.
 The Parliament of New Zealand has only one house of 80 members.

Churches Striving To Meet Hostile World

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The churches are making an historic bid for Christian power in the world.
 Against a tide of hostile, man-made doctrines, they're summoning their far-flung flocks to unified defense. They're seeking to combine their strength to make their faith a firmer help to troubled men and nations.
 "The Christian faith today," said the Rev. Canon Theodore G. Wood, of Washington, president of the Episcopal House of Deputies, "is involved in a war against gigantic rivals."
 To meet that challenge and try to seal the broken ranks of Christianity, churchmen from many lands are gathering here for a two-week assembly of the World Council of Churches. It opens Sunday.
 "The meeting comes at a most difficult and tragic moment in the world's life, and particularly critical moment in the life of the churches," said Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, the council's general secretary.
 One of the big issues at stake is what means the varied churches can find for mutual action on the world scene. Said the council's American administrator, Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert:
 "In order for the churches to be heard effectively against the rival faiths that today are bidding for the loyalty of people, they must have a united voice beyond anything that has ever existed before."
 There will be 161 denominations

Orthodox, Protestant, Old Catholic and Anglican — represented at the meeting. Many have had little contact until recent years, often viewing one another as competitors.
 But the emergence of hard-hitting secular faiths — scientific humanism, communism, fascism and other "isms" that promised material bliss without spiritual grounded justice — served to rally churches to joint resistance.
 "It is the rise of the totalitarian state that is the real crisis of Christian churches and civilization of our times," said Dr. G. K. A. Bell, Britain's bishop of Chichester and chairman of the council's central committee, adding:
 The issue is whether the churches will wake up and stand together for spiritual authority against the purely secular, totalitarian and materialist state.
 To a large extent, the power that the churches can deliver in world affairs depends on the amount of unity among the churches themselves.
 "They have been under the heavy handicap of being in a fragmentary condition in an increasingly unified world," said Luther a leader Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, vice chairman of the council's central committee.
 "They have lived in comparative isolation since the Reformation, and in the case of the Orthodox churches, since the 11th Century. But the critical condition of the times has summoned them together with a sense of urgency.
 The church's role in dealing with social evils that blight many peoples and threaten others stands as a major motivating force in the churches' new drive for greater leadership.

 The aim, however, is not to build a "political power center," said Dr. Visser't Hooft, but a "spiritual power center."
 "The church is expected to stand for man, for his dignity, for human solidarity, for a decent human life on this planet," he said.
 "What the churches do may well spell the difference between anarchy and redemption all over the world."
 In this task, Bishop Bell said, the church's effectiveness has been "seriously impeded by divisions within it."
 "The world doesn't pay much attention to one church when it makes a noise," he said. "But it pays a good deal of attention when many of them make a noise."
 The outcome of the Assembly is clothed in uncertainties and potential troubles and controversies but it also holds the framework for major potentialities in the power of the churches. Says the weekly Christian Century:

 "We are intrigued with the idea that something tremendous may happen at Evanston — something that would set the world on fire with a blaze which will still be hot 10 years from now. It could happen."
TILLS JUDGE STORY
 CHICAGO (AP)—Michael Meegan, 42, told Municipal Judge Oscar S. Caplan yesterday that he stole five pounds of coffee from a store because he had been drinking and needed something to sober him up. Judge caplan sent him to the city jail for 15 days.
 Ft. Ness, where George Washington, in command of a small force, was defeated by the French in 1754 has been restored.

 Today's Pontiac is the biggest ever built. In fact, no car near its price provides you with the road-hugging comfort and stability of Pontiac's long wheelbase. And Pontiac's size is apparent, too, in its roomy body by Fisher that lets you relax amid every fine-car luxury and appointment.

You'll have the Greatest Beauty!
 Today's Pontiac is the most beautiful ever built, with its distinctive Silver Streak styling. And Pontiac's beauty is more than skin deep: inside you'll find luxurious appointments and color-keyed fabrics usually reserved for much more costly cars.

You'll have America's Top Value!
 Today's Pontiac is the greatest value ever built. With all its fine-car qualities, Pontiac is actually priced right next to the lowest—so low, in fact, that if you can afford any new car you can afford a Pontiac. Add to that the fact that Pontiac has the highest resale value in its price class and you'll have an unmatched motor car value. Come in soon and get the facts.

You'll have Finer Performance!
 Today's Pontiac is the most powerful ever built. Pontiac's big, husky engine puts you in command of more power than you're ever likely to need. You enjoy instant response in traffic, and as you cruise the open road your engine merely loafs along, saving money every mile you drive and greatly prolonging engine life.

You'll have World-Famed Dependability!
 Today's Pontiac is the most dependable ever built. Pontiac's record for long life is acknowledged everywhere. No car at any price will deliver more miles of carefree, economical service. This unsurpassed dependability means you can drive and maintain your Pontiac at amazingly low cost, mile after pleasant mile.

Summer Recreation Program Staff Is To Be Complimented On Its Job

John Angel and his staff are to be complimented on the job they have done with the summer recreation program this year. About 800 registered for the program during the first week, exclusive of those participating in the men's softball league, and more have registered since, according to Angel.

He was assisted in the work this year by Misses Ellen Driggers, Helen Michels.

Tuberculosis Loses

In Toronto, Ontario, one full year has just been completed with a surplus of space for tuberculosis patients in its hospitals instead of a shortage. During this year, a bed was available for every new case. Being able to accept every prospective patient without delay was a great gain. In increased chances of speedy recovery. The bed may not have been ready in the hospital to which the patient first applied, but it could easily be found in some other hospital.

This disease is losing while its medical opposition is gaining. For centuries the fight seemed hopeless—a person with the disease was doomed to die after lingering, unhappy, miserable illness. But the doctors and the laboratory research workers persisted and are now definitely winning.

All along the line the medical gains of the last decade are amazing.

The causes of many diseases still elude their watchful observers. Arthritis has been helped, but not cured. Prevention is not yet understood. Only a beginning has been made at understanding hemophilia. Cancer still

Purdah Would Ease Worries

NEW YORK (AP)—Speaking of fashions, why don't American women go into purdah? The term purdah in Moslem countries means a curtain, screen or cloak that hides women from public observation.

Isn't it about time that we adopted this fine old common-sense Mohammedan tradition under which no woman appears on the street except wearing a kind of bedsheet that covers her completely except for two holes for her eyes?

Personally, I believe it would be a fine thing, at least for a year or two. It would give both men and women a rest from the nervous wear and tear of changing feminine styles.

It's getting lately so that we have more crises in the world of fashion that we do in international diplomacy. The length of women's dresses has changed so often a girl doesn't know whether to put on a skirt or a window blind. And women's hair-do has achieved a—well, makes a gal appear as if her hair had been gnawed off by a nearsighted rodent.

This year Christian Dior has raised a new clamor with his decision that his girls are only little boys at heart, after all, and therefore should have a boyish silhouette.

A great yawn went up that this would mean a de-emphasis of the bosom line, as if this spelled tragedy. But is there anything in America's actually more needed infomine boom?

Over a decade or so ago, there has grown up a cult of the bosom in this country that is as ridiculous as it is unhealthy. The bosom is getting to be regarded as a typical American product—like baseball, the hog den, and the ice cream cone, and Mom's blubbery pie. So much interest has been focused on the feminine bosom that soon the Russians will claim they invented it.

A man never was too sure of what he was getting when he married, but today he is doubly uncertain. Is the girl of his dreams really the girl of his dreams—or the dreams of half a dozen fashion

Jo Ann Flipse and Edna Chittenden, and Fred Gannus, Hugh Carlton and Howard Gordie. They had a tall order getting the program organized.

Average attendance for morning and afternoon sessions was about 235, according to Angel.

Activities of the program also included swimming, boxing, crafts, dances, dancing lessons, water skiing, cook-outs, baseball, assisting Cub Scouts and games.

Angel is to be complimented, himself, for the initiative he showed in getting activities started for teen-agers. The program mostly has catered to youngsters in the past. A youth Council was started to help in the activities such as deciding pursuits which would appeal to the teen-ager group.

Angel looks forward to next year with optimism, saying relative to playground attendance, "Next year we should have a crowd and keep them."

holds the secret of final conquest. But in these and other mysterious diseases patients can be eased and that in itself means much to the sufferer and his family.

The greatest gain of all, to the individual, is hope. And hope is every day standing on a firmer foundation.

Strange Defection

It is difficult to understand what motivated Dr. Otto John, former head of the West German internal security agency, to decide to go over to the Communists in East Germany. John, a highly trusted official by his own government and the other Western powers, disappeared into East Germany. A radio broadcast he made a few days later said that he did so of his own accord, to work for German unity.

John was a British agent during World War II and participated in the plot to assassinate Hitler. In West Germany he worked to keep out the Reds. His defection opens the question of whether or not he was actually a Communist agent all the time.

In his position as head of the internal security agency in West Germany, John must have had access to a great number of important secrets. It is possible that his betrayal of his trust may place in danger counter-espionage agents working for the West in East Germany.

It will probably be a long time before the full story of this affair is ever known. It may never be possible to know what in the mind of this man, who had risked his life against Nazi tyranny, when he apparently of his own free will, elected to live under Communist tyranny.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—Ours is a prosaic world, becoming more logical and less interesting each year—it seems as if nobody in it were a millionaire any more—but personally, I think the actresses are carrying it too far. I haven't met one in the last 100 or 10 seasons who looks as if she'd just stepped out of a huff, threw a knife at her mother or walk down Fifth avenue with a leopard on a leash.

I had this sad state of affairs drummed into me a new this afternoon when I stopped by at the Music Corporation of America's apartment in the Waldorf Towers, which that agency keeps up for its more important clients, and met Jane Wyman, who did this voluntarily. Any man who says he doesn't want to meet Jane Wyman is a liar. She has all the items of the perfect woman and wears by the ideal mother to your children.

However, Miss Jane was so cool, so calm, so business-like. No talk, no quick with the cold robe for you, so apologetic when she had to answer the phone—in all, so much the captain of her soul. Had I come to court her, I would have been extremely impressed and probably offered her an engagement ring by nightfall. But, coming to view her as an actress, I was a little dismayed. I had hoped for temperament. I got courtesy.

The sad part about this business is that you can pick out any actor you want, these days, and you'll get temperament. There are Brando under every bush. I would like a nickel for every actor I've come across in the past 10 years who has staged a fat, hammy performance just for my benefit as a newspaperman. Somehow, an actor it doesn't look good. Only on actresses.

Aside from her frightening evenness of temper, Miss Wyman was delightful. She was in New York which she adores and hopes one day she may find a niche in, to help dump the tube for Magnificent Obsession, her latest picture.

She told me I would be impressed by Rock Hudson's performances in the film, which seemed a pretty outlandish thought, and that her favorite pastime in Manhattan is just walking down Fifth avenue and soaking up the feel of the city.

I asked Freddie Karger, her good-looking pianist-musical director husband, who was on hand, what he thought of New York—he was born here—and he just looked unenthusiastic and said, "Is this for publication?"

The letdown came again, when I asked her what she wanted to do in the future. Ever since Johnny Belinda, I have suspected Jane of being an actress of some stature. The least you could expect her to do was to look a little wistful and anguished and murmur, "Juliet. If I could just do Juliet once, my life would be full." Instead, she smoothed out her pretty gray dress and said calmly, "I haven't got any suppressed desires. I've been fortunate in doing the kind of things I like. Most important of all, I'm working steadily. That's a big thing these days, you know."

Well, I suppose it is Miss Jane's right to abandon temperament in favor of drawing a bead on the Yankee dollar. I know I certainly claim it as my right; as I age, I am more inclined to curl up with my bank account for an evening of reading, rather than "Timon of Athens" or "Milly" sonnet.

It's just that I was disappointed for a fleeting moment. I had the feeling that I would have to get into the convertible and run up to Tallulah's house in Bedford village, N. Y., 50 miles up the line, just to see plates being broken, phones slammed, arms waved and good, violent opinions expressed.

Anti-Red Tools Are Explained

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist party will not be outlawed in spite of the Senate's hasty vote yesterday to do just that, unless the House also approves. The House may not in the rush to go home.

The Eisenhower administration, through Atty. Gen. Brownell, has opposed outlawing the party. Its argument: Outlawing the party right now would hinder rather than help in handling Communists.

The administration is using two main weapons against the party now: (1) the Smith Act, passed in 1940, and (2) the McCarran Internal Security Act, passed in 1950. The Smith Act is by far the more effective weapon so far. Under it the government can prosecute Communists in bunches or singly.

A. The act, in one section, says it's a crime to conspire to teach or advocate overthrow of the government by force. The government has convicted 72 Communist leaders in groups under this section, upheld by the Supreme Court.

B. Another section says it's a crime to be a member of an organization which seeks overthrow of the government by force. The government has tried only a few Communists under this section yet. It will soon if the Supreme Court upholds this section of the act, the government can proceed to try party members singly.

The Smith Act does not make membership in the Communist party a crime. Defendants are convicted for seeking forcible overthrow of the government, not for being Communists.

Now for the McCarran Act. An act which outlawed the Communist party would probably make much of this act on which the government has spent four years in work against Communists.

The McCarran Act doesn't say the Communist party is illegal, either. It says that anyone forced to be a member of a foreign government must register; that is, register and the party must explain where it gets its money. The act sets up the Subversive Activities Control Board to hold hearings and order registration if it found an organization—in this case the Communist party—to be a Moscow tool.

The SACB held hearings for over a year, told the party to over a Russian tool, and then the party appealed to the courts. A final decision from the Supreme Court may come down next spring.

If the Supreme Court upholds the SACB, the board would order party members to register. Would they? Party leaders have indicated already they would not.

Probably, on the day the high court ruled against them, the Communists would dissolve their party and set up another name. What then? The government would have to go through the whole laborious process once more to prove this new organization was a Moscow tool. One more when the high court ruled, the party could change its name again.

Under the McCarran act it is required that anyone forced to register does not incriminate himself by the act of registration. But an act outlawing the Communist party would mean that anyone registering as a Communist would be incriminating himself.

Therefore, outlawing the Communist party would cancel out that portion of the McCarran act and all the work the government has done to force party members to register.

But since the party would also probably change its name if it was outlawed, the result might be the same in both cases: starting from scratch to crack down on the Communists, going through a process that would take more years.

Committee Will Try To Cut Down
Paper Work Required By Gov't

Former President Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, announced today that the 22-member task force on paperwork management will make a special paper work and record keeping required of corporations, small businesses and individuals by Federal agencies. The study will be aimed at devising methods whereby this means of paper work the government requires of private business can be reduced.

At the same time, Hoover announced the appointment of H. H. Harper of Omaha, secretary of Northern Natural Gas Company, Thomas P. Conroy of New York, N. Y., manager, New York office, Pan American World Airways, and Matson Hollbrook of New York, N. Y., vice president of Leaky and Company, as the two new members and staff director, respectively, of the commission. Other task force members, previously appointed, are Herbert E. Angel, Edmund Day and the chairman, Edmund J. Leahy.

Industry sources express an increasing concern at the mounting volume of paper work, reports, forms and record keeping required by various government bureaus. In one industry alone the cost of preparing only those reports considered to be of questionable value to a Federal Commission was reported to be $3 million a year at 1950 costs. Larger companies have whole sections of their archives building up a pile for records required by the Federal Government. One such company found that on the average it refers to only one out of each thousand such documents once every 2 1/2 years.

OUR COVER

Our story on Pages 8 and 9, "Phone Magic," inspired Photographer Trent Rogers to take camera in hand and produce this week's cover. The picture was made at the University of Florida's electrical engineering department, so, naturally, two embryonic electrical engineers consented to be the subjects. Little Janeen Larsen is the five year old daughter of Dr. Merwin J. Larsen, head of the Electrical Designing Dept. Her serious young companion is Stephen Randall Wiggins, age 6, son of McDonald J. Wiggins, assistant professor of Electrical Engineering.

6 TIPS

Don't forget to thief-proof your home before you take that well earned summer vacation.

That is the warning issued by crime expert John Mosler who reminded home owners that thieves will soon begin working overtime when millions of American families leave their homes for summer vacations.

After an analysis of last year's FBI statistics, he predicts that the public will be burglarized more than 1,296 times every 24 hours during July and August.

As executive vice-president of the Mosler Safe Company, a firm which has been outfitting crooks for 106 years, he urges all home owners to thief-proof their homes by taking these six simple pre-vacation steps.

1. Cancel milk and newspaper deliveries until you return home.
2. Tell your postman about the temporary change in address. A collection of unopened milk bottles, a stuffed mail box, or a pile of newspapers on your front porch is an open invitation to burglars who constantly watch for such telltale signals.
3. Notify your local police and tell them how long you will be away. The policeman in your neighborhood will keep an eye open for any signs of strange activity at your home.
4. Inform a trustworthy neighbor of your vacation plans and give him your vacation address and phone number. Ask them to call the police if they note anything suspicious.
5. Don't leave any cash, gems, or valuables in the house unless bank-protected in an approved, burglary-resistant, armored steel money safe, or place your valuables in a safe deposit box at your local bank. Securely lock all windows and doors. Don't just slam the door. Lock it with a key so that the bolt provides added security.

VALANCE-BOOKCASE-RECORD CABINET

By DONALD R. BRANN

HERE'S a way to give your favorite window a glamorous treatment and make it useful as well.

The trick is to frame your window with this commodious valance-bookcase-record cabinet which combines beauty and utility in an harmonious way. Imagine being able to store everything from books to brace-a-brac to blankets in this beautiful, easy to make built-in.

And, even better, you can build it yourself at very low cost. It's easy—just read the simple directions on the Build-It-Yourself Pattern No. 271, follow them and you will have a product of your own handiwork that would cost you at least twice as much readymade.

This three-in-one piece of furniture can be built to frame any window you select.

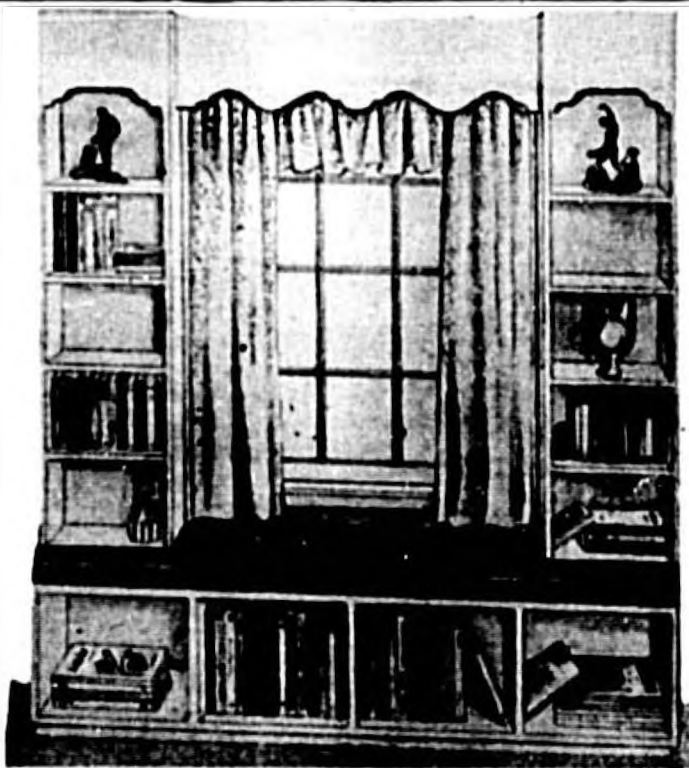

There's a lot you can do with this triple-header. You can break an uninteresting wall space—you know the kind, the one which has a window stuck in the middle for apparently no reason. Just curtains or drapes seem to pinpoint its inadequacy—but, give it this decorator's treatment, and it becomes the focal spot of the room.

You might even install a loud-speaker and place your radio or record player here. If so, you would have ample space for accompanying records or magazines. Or you might store your favorite picture collections and viewers here—even that stamp collection could find refuge from ruffling fingers on these shelves.

This striking piece can be made by you—in any dimensions to fit your window—at very little cost, either in money or labor. If you can read, you can build. Just send for Pattern No. 271, which includes a complete list of materials, full instructions and step by step assembly illustrations.

To finish this beauty, paint or wallpaper to blend with the decor of your room. Or match the walls, particularly if placed in rather small space. You might shade the backs of the bookcases a darker or contrasting shade. The ideas are many, but it is best to let your view of the articles on display take center stage. The valance bookcase then serves to complement your treasured possessions.

With the "small fry" all over Florida making like big league ball players, champion swimmers, undersized Don Budes and miniature Ben Hogans, the cameraman had a field day illustrating Buddy Crussell's story on the state's summer recreation program. His lens caught a lot of very busy small fry getting ready for the big leagues—and here are some of them.

By BUDDY CRUSSELL

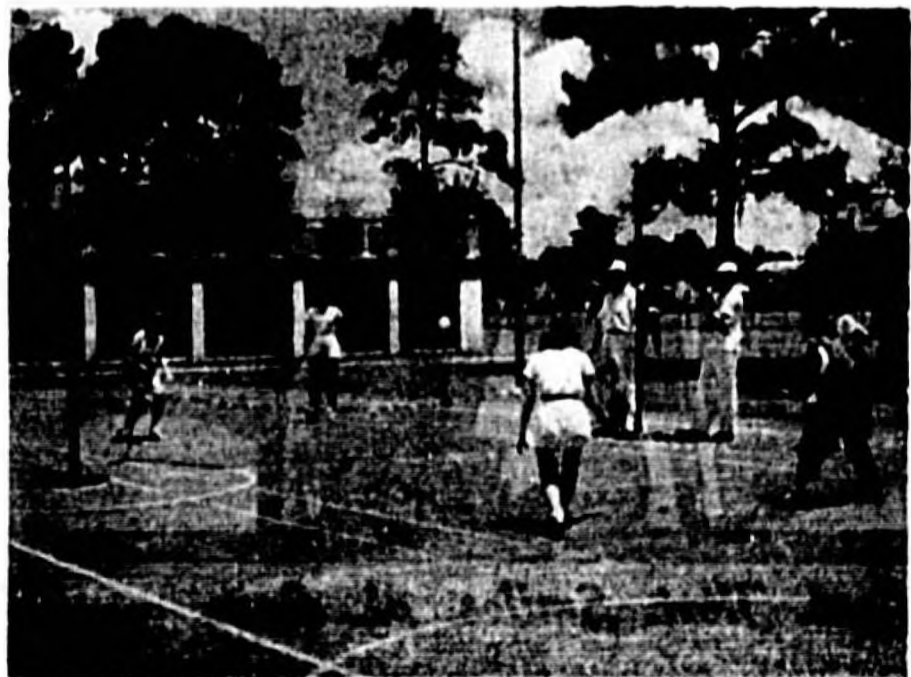

WITH summer well underway and thousands of youngsters bursting forth with energy and enthusiasm, ready to tackle the world—for three months, anyway—school officials in Florida are working around the clock to meet a gigantic problem.

To harness the power of youth during the summer, has been compared to that of a TVA project, but the State School Board knows that a solution must be reached in order to keep the kids active.

So, for the past several years Florida's school children have been receiving a year-round education as a result of the Minimum Foundation Act created by the State Legislature in 1947.

This is put into action by the County School Boards throughout the state to provide a summer recreation program in following along with their theme of "dedicated to the education of our children."

SUMMER RECREATION

The objects of this summer school program are broad and varied. They are: To provide a wide offering of cultural, vocational and educational experiences, to develop broader skills, to create understanding and appreciation of music, industrial arts, literature, and physical activities, to promote personal satisfaction in self-chosen, leisure time pleasures, and to make opportunities for character development and leadership.

Those words mean, in short, that no matter what pastime the youth may participate in, whether it's arts and crafts, tennis, golf, or swimming, he will be guided by the experienced and trained hand of a school teacher or recreation leader.

This Minimum Foundation Act works in close cooperation and harmony with departments of recreation in cities throughout the state.

The recreation departments cannot possibly take care of the thousands of children who gather at the playgrounds and youth centers during the summer.

With the school teachers supplementing the professional recreation staff, a widely diversified program is provided with everything from ping pong to baseball and swimming, in the sports line; to handicrafts and music in the cultural arts.

Over 1,000,000 Florida school children flock to the recreation centers every day during the summer to take advantage of the "co-operative" education offered by the State School Board in cooperation with the recreation departments.

THE END of a busy and active day on the playground finds these youngsters fascinated with the regular story hour. Teachers and the story hour serve to quiet the small fry so Dad and Mom can get them off to bed, ready for another day of supervised fun at the playground.

PLASTER AND PAINT serve for the creation of summer masterpieces by these earnest youngsters at one of Jacksonville's playgrounds, operated by the city's Recreation Department. Below, some of Jacksonville's younger set practice for the annual jacks tournament which the city has operated for 27 years.

THE SUPERVISED activities at Jacksonville's playgrounds produce more than just play, too. Here is the happy winner of a doll show—her doll is all dressed up in clothes she made in a small toy fashion class at one of the city's playgrounds. If you don't think that kind of summer fun is just look at the little girl's face.

A Future From T

By ANDY ANDERSON

COURAGE IN the face of adversity, a pair of capable hands and an infinite capacity for work have made this lady, Mrs. Bertha Hinshaw, one of Florida's outstanding restaurateurs, innkeeper, extraordinary and outstanding tourist attraction all in one. Her Chalet Suzanne, near Lake Wales, is unique and has an international reputation.

CHALET SUZANNE is unique in Florida, and the United States. And it has an international reputation, too.

It's the bright result of a woman's courage, of a love for two small children, of a background of wealth and world travel turned to a practical use in the face of sudden calamity.

Mrs. Bertha Hinshaw IS the Chalet which nestles beside a private lake in the midst of a huge citrus grove 400 yards off U. S. Highway 27 near Lake Wales.

It's the outgrowth of the Hinshaw estate, tucked quietly away on a crest in Central Florida's hill country. It's a highway retreat for honeymooners, a restful spot for industrialists and business men who fly down from the North and West with their wives, a place where tourists and natives alike go for incomparable food, lodging and atmosphere for a night or a season.

The Chalet is like a tiny part of some Old World village transplanted to the midst of Florida's citrus country. Mrs. Hinshaw—who has boundless energy and an infinite capacity for work—has built part of it with her own hands. She has furnished it with belongings gathered from all over the world—antiques from England, furniture she has fashioned herself because it was just what she wanted, pieces she found in a second hand shop, ornaments from the earth's four corners.

The dining room juts out over the lake and has a swim under it when they are of a notion. The tables are tile from Mexico, Spain, Egypt; the silver, glassware, pottery dishes and china in fantastic color and design from every country.

The rooms may be on three different levels, the tubs mosaic which Mrs. Hinshaw has gathered in her travels and set with her own hands.

Her son, Carl, a World War II pilot has his mother's perfect culinary touch and supervises the kitchen at evening meals. Many of his daytime hours are given over to flying, and teaching aviation. His lovely wife, Vita, is mistress of the dining room—a job she must share with bringing up their young daughter, Tina.

Friends told Mrs. Hinshaw she was crazy when she decided to throw open her home to travelers. But it was the only way she knew 25 years ago of making a living to care for herself and two fatherless children.

People who boast of turning a barn into a country home can take a fine lesson from this native of Lafayette, Ind., whose banker-husband retired in the prime of life then saw the stock market leave him broke and so completely dejected that pneumonia killed him in four days.

Hinshaw had purchased the estate where Chalet Suzanne now is. When he found he was broke, he spent his last few dollars to see if rabbit raising could be a means of livelihood. It wasn't—and suddenly his widow was faced with making her own way.

The two had traveled the globe. They had collected many things, including choicest recipes and a gracious way of living. Bertha Hinshaw saw in this background a possible future.

She put up—however timidly—a sign on the roadside that said she would serve the passing stranger a meal. Then she waited. She waited 10 days. She began to believe

KEEPING STRICTLY to her "old world" theme throughout the Chalet Suzanne, Mrs. Hinshaw and her daughter-in-law, Vita, make a costumed inspection each day of guests' rooms which are built on three levels and furnished with furniture, pottery, glassware and dishes from the earth's four corners, all selected personally by Mrs. Hinshaw.

THE CHALET is chock full of food, furnishings and fun with an "old world" flavor. Seated in front of shelves full of dishes from every part of the world, Mrs. Hinshaw makes out her daily menu, a task that has earned her the love of gourmets the world over.

he Past

her friends were right when they said she was daft for thinking of such a thing in the middle of the depression when few people had much money left for necessities, let alone for such frivolities as traveling and sightseeing.

But one evening a family of five drove up and asked if they might have dinner and lodging for the night. This was what Mrs. Hinshaw had been waiting for, but even this threw her into a little flurry.

This flurry seemed minor when, a short while later, two more people appeared and wanted food and lodging.

"I told them we already had five and couldn't possibly take care of anybody else," she recalls with a chuckle, looking now at her crowded dining room and the Chalet with 30 rooms and suites. "I told them, though, to be sure and come back—and they did."

Now guests eat in the dining room or in their private patios. And if they spend the night, they are awakened by one of the colorfully dressed waitresses with orange juice and coffee served in their rooms—in bed, if they choose.

Most every year Mrs. Hinshaw visits some part of the world. In most cases, it's a re-visit. She comes back with head and arms full—a new recipe; iron-work; pieces of furniture; decorations; tile, pottery; and new costumes for herself and those who work with her at the Chalet.

Sometimes she makes the trip with her daughter, Suzanne, now living in Mamaronck, N. Y., the wife of a New York ship broker. More often she goes alone and spurns the beaten track.

"I meet more people and find more delightful and different things by getting off by myself," she says.

She also gets into—and out of—difficulties.

Just after the war she was touring Europe and suddenly changed her plans—a circumstance not unusual with Mrs. Hinshaw. She found herself at the German border aboard a crack Copenhagen-Paris train without the necessary travel permit.

High government officials had been turned back because they did not have this necessary paper—but Bertha Hinshaw decided she could see her way through.

"I knew if I could play for time I stood a chance," she recalls. "The officials argued, and I told them 'I'm an old woman and I have heart trouble and nine pieces of luggage and I just mustn't be upset!'"

Nine pieces of baggage is easy to understand for anyone who knows her. The wonder is there wouldn't be more. But heart trouble for a woman who doesn't know how to walk but who runs instead is downright laughable.

"The officials argued and I pretended to get more confused and by now there wasn't a window on the train that didn't have at least three heads sticking out wondering what the holdup was," she relates. "The officials got more demanding so I took out my teeth, smeared my rouge and pulled my hair down over my face and told them not to get me excited because my heart would go out."

"Eventually somebody said 'Oh, get her on the train and get it going. This train can't be late. And telegraph ahead about her so it won't be held up any longer.'

FRAMED BY two diners on the Chalet Suzanne's famous balcony dining room, Mrs. Hinshaw's son, Carl, every evening puts on a one-man watershow on the private lake. Carl, a former World War II pilot, shares the culinary duties with his mother.

WHAT ONCE was the family home has been "handmade" by Mrs. Bertha Hinshaw into a striking old world inn on the shores of a private lake near Lake Wales. Each morning the guests are greeted by a pretty girl, dressed in the earliest Swiss fashions, bringing their morning snack in china ware gathered from many parts of the globe.

All hasn't been easy sailing for the Chalet. During the war the original home burned and it was impossible to get building materials to replace it because of government restrictions.

This was a minor matter for Bertha Hinshaw. A little thing like an impossibility was relatively simple. She managed to get several workers and started giving directions.

Carl has done the murals both inside and outside the Chalet. And much of the outside tile work has been done by him and his mother for the pure love of the artist to be at work. And when time permits, Carl does some dazzling water skiing on Lake Suzanne with Vita at the powerboat helm, much to the delight of dinner guests.

Mrs. Hinshaw, who says "I'll never be over 65" and whose activity would indicate she'd never be over 40, is continually rearranging the Chalet. If it's not flowers and shrubs, it's re-tiling and changing the color of the cottages from one gay color to another, or painting different murals on the walls.

She has put Spain in the dining patios which hang with moss and bouganvillea; Florence in the tiled tables; Milona, Orvietto and Istanbul in the pottery; Egypt in the glassware and copper pitchers; England in furniture.

And the food — from a unique baked grapefruit to shrimp, steak, pheasant, sauces, ices, and unusual desserts—is flavored by the world and seasoned by the touch of Bertha Hinshaw.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT! But this intricate maze of wires is only part of the equipment needed so that Bell Telephone Company can record charges on long distance calls made by Florida subscribers. This electrical "directory" converts an equipment number into a subscriber's telephone number, so that proper charges can be made.

'PHONE MAGIC

By MILTON COLE

STRETCHING along Florida's West Coast from Jacksonville to West Palm Beach, is a series of newly constructed towers, resembling something out of a fantastic science fiction story.

The story behind these towers, which are adorned with "horns" that give them the appearance of gigantic outer-space listening posts, is almost as unbelievable as the most fantastic of fiction.

These towers are part of a new type of telephonic communication system for Florida conceived by Southern Bell Telephone Company to meet a leaping demand for long distance telephone facilities—a demand that in less than six years has rendered almost obsolete millions of dollars of coaxial cable put into operation along the same route in 1948.

Few persons would have dared predict in 1940 that this sun-kissed state would grow as it has, and there weren't many who would say in 1946, or 1948, or even 1950, that the state's long distance telephone needs would be so inadequate so quickly, especially after the Southern Bell workmen in 1948, put in an underground coaxial cable, stretching along the East Coast, and capable of handling 1,000 two-way calls at one time.

But, as Florida has grown by leaps and bounds, long distance, as well as local telephone calls, have kept pace, and sometimes faster. At present, there is an average of 8,707,660 local calls each day over Southern Bell phones, and a peak winter day will average some 12,145 long distance calls. This doesn't drop as much as people would think during the "off" season, Bell men say.

At present there are 640,000 telephones in use on Southern Bell's system, and this is increasing at the rate of 6,000 per month.

With this great increase in phones (the Southern Bell says that since 1940 the population in the areas it serves has jumped 77 per cent, while the telephones in service in the same areas has leaped by 307 per cent), facilities once considered more than adequate have become overstrained and overburdened.

This has been equally true of long distance calls, and also of the one line available for television network shows. With TV stations increasing in number throughout the state, the call for more adequate facilities to receive network shows is correspondingly on the rise.

Micro-wave is hoped to be the happy solution. Micro-wave is an ultra-high frequency radio wave, many times higher in frequency than the UHF television signals.

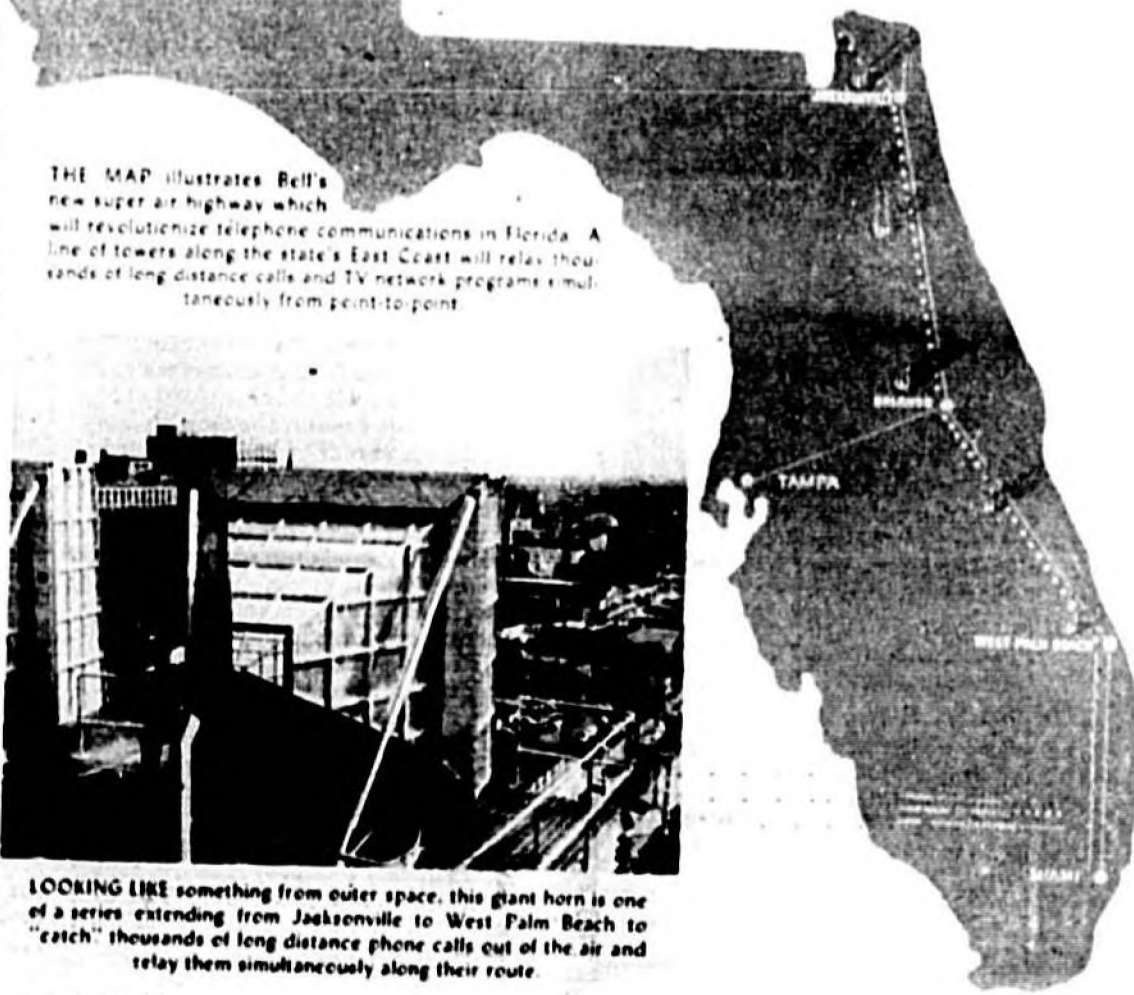

The signal, or voice of the people talking, will be transmitted, in this case, from Jacksonville south, or from West Palm Beach to the north, from the horns or antennae, on the micro-wave towers.

The beam will be aimed at another tower some 30 miles away, there to be picked up, amplified in power, and pushed onto another tower, and so on until it reaches its goal, whether it be Ft. Pierce, Orlando, Jacksonville, or is going on further to Atlanta, New York, Los Angeles, or Portland, Ore.

This micro-wave system, the first in Florida, will be completed this year. Its southern terminus is West Palm Beach, mainly because of the weather problem.

IN CASE you ever wondered what was at the other end of the line when you call long distance, take a look. All of Bell's Miami office these girls are testing out their beach equipment (the company's, that is). L to R: Carrie Bell, Leah Goggin, Suzanne Cherry, Marilyn Jeffries and Georgia Bowman.

THE MAP illustrates Bell's new super air highway which will revolutionize telephone communications in Florida. A line of towers along the state's East Coast will relay thousands of long distance calls and TV network programs simultaneously from point to point.

LOOKING LIKE something from outer space, this giant horn is one of a series extending from Jacksonville to West Palm Beach to "catch" thousands of long distance phone calls out of the air and relay them simultaneously along their route.

The area from West Palm Beach to Miami and Key West is more often the target of hurricanes than cities farther north. All the micro-wave towers now built or being built, are strong enough to withstand the fiercest winds recorded in each area.

But following the time honored adage of discretion being the better part of valor, the company has decided to use a new type of coaxial cable between West Palm Beach and Miami. This new cable has the advantage of three greater capacities for calls and TV than the cable currently in operation.

The advantage of micro-wave, and therefore one of the major reasons it was used instead of a new coaxial cable, the length of Florida is that micro-wave is more flexible.

If an increase in service is needed, all that is necessary is to add horns to the tower. Each horn, which is similar to a radio antenna in shape and operation, is capable of handling thousands of two-way messages and TV network work.

The Florida towers are at Jacksonville, Green Cove Springs, Gainesville, Ocala, Leesville, Tallahassee, Longwood, Orlando, Ft. Pierce, Hollywood, Melbourne, Ft. Pierce, Ft. Pierce, Stuart, Jupiter, and West Palm Beach.

But the micro-wave system is not being done to handle the increased need of long distance calls and program better service to this growing state.

In Jacksonville, they are installing a new multi-switching machine to handle long distance calls. All you do is give the operator the long distance number.

She presses three or four buttons, and the system quickly relays the message to the number.

The new multi-switching machine is the first three number multi-switching machine in circuit, of its kind in the world.

For example, suppose you are in Los Angeles. The signal is sent to Miami, through St. Louis. That route may be blocked with all the circuits in use, the machine automatically switches to another route through New Orleans, or through Chicago, or even up to Minneapolis, and down to Los Angeles.

Then, along an open route, through the number. As this system is used, the number. In days gone by, it would have taken hours.

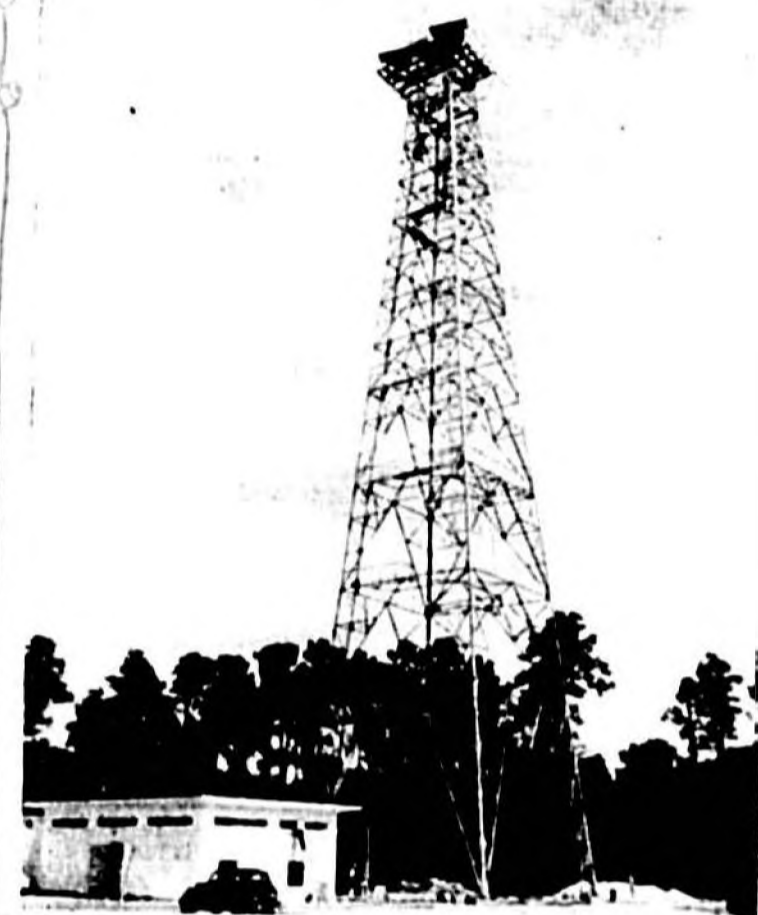

Thanks to the genius of the engineers at the Bell Laboratories, nothing about a phone call anywhere takes hours anymore. But they are not through. They are working towards even greater efficiency. Their goal is designated the "Ultimate In Telephony" and is repeated, half in jest and half in awesome seriousness, by practically every Bell Telephone employee.

Someday, they say, each new born baby will be given a seven-digit number at birth. When he or she is old enough to understand, the child will be given a little black box.

On one side will be 10 buttons, with numbers from 0 to 9. By pressing any combination of seven of these buttons, our child of the future can call anywhere in the world.

And, by turning the box over, he can see, in full color and in three dimensions, to whom he is talking.

Fantastic? Maybe, but when, and if, it does come to pass, I'd be willing to bet Florida will be among the first to get some such phones and put them to use.

TO CLIMB 200 feet in the air along the coastline from Jacksonville to West Palm Beach are gigantic pyramids of steel and concrete. Here, such as the one pictured here, which form the backbone of the system, thousands upon thousands of long distance calls are relayed without the use of cable or wire.

BECAUSE OF THE high winds that sometimes beset the area south of West Palm Beach, the Bell Company has taken its tower communications system underground for the 60 odd mile stretch to Miami. Here, workmen are placing one of the more than 600,000 feet of cable needed to complete the new system.

FROCKS 'N FRILLS

ROME—If Brioni has its way, the well-dressed male will soon win equal rights in this matter of clothes. The House of Brioni, which clothes Tyrone Power and Richard Conti, Robert Q. Lewis and prosperous Floridians, feels that men deserve equal attention from designers and fabric people, in order to appear as attractive as possible.

Brioni, whose American business is handled by an exceedingly charming, but definitely masculine young man named Angelo Vitucci, is doing its best to glorify the male in a socially acceptable manner. Handloomed silk shantungs, woven by Brioni's people in the north of Italy, are the specialty of the house. They are also most popular with Floridians who make up a respectable proportion of the 6,000 Americans who trot over to Brioni's to order their wardrobe.

No, you cannot order a suit by mail from Brioni. Gay Gastone Savini, head of the house, insists on three fittings so that the suit will be displayed at its best. Suits are made to order in 48 hours here, although 70 per cent of the work is done by hand. Robert Q. Lewis just ordered seven, to carry him through a hectic season of TV and personal appearances. The suits, by American standards for custom-tailored variety, are quite inexpensive, ranging from $100 to $110 each, delivered in Italy, or course, on the Via Barbatini, where you select your fabrics.

Brioni showed a new autumn collection for gentlemen at the Florence, Italy, showings the end of July. The showings drew fashion writers and buyers from two continents. It's easy to see why Brioni is getting a firm hold on the American male who likes custom-tailored suits.

Fashionable males who take time out for Brioni's while in Rome will be able to obtain beautiful handwoven shantungs, lightweight and almost sheer, made up in the "natural line" with slim lapels, slender cuffless trousers designed to make even the dumpy look tall and slim.

A new dinner coat has been designed to travel with ease, since the peaked lapels are bound with silk. No satin lapels to wrinkle, you see. The coat is made of alpaca.

Brioni makes any type of suit from Brooks Bros. type to zoot suits, if the customer insists. "Mainly," comments Signor Vitucci, "our suits are designed to camouflage figure faults, like bow legs or other unfortunate handicaps."

No cuffs on Brioni's trousers. It's not a matter of saving cloth but saving appearance. Uncuffed trousers, explains Angelo, give a clean, uncluttered look and are more hygienic besides, since they do not catch dust.

If you think there can be nothing new in men's shirt collars, wait until you see Brioni's collars with cropped points that give three angles on each side of the tie instead of the traditional one.

Brioni recently started making beautifully tailored suits in this same silk shantung for women. Fiery Anna Magnani, the Italian film star, is already a steady customer.

Everything we've heard, incidentally, about the beautiful chic Italian beauty is true. On the fashionable Via Veneti, for example, where the wide streets are lined with outdoor cafes, you see more lovely women than we ever saw concentrated in one area.

The Italian beauty likes black, particularly, for daytime and beach wear. The handmade, backless sandals in all heel heights appear in all the fashionable spots, from the Lido in Venice to Capriccio in Rome.

PRINCESS conceals its day-to-dusk versatility with a clever new banded jacket, the costume designed by Margot of Miami. In Everfast "Satima," the understated costume in geometric print tops a flattering, sleeveless top with a molded, banded jacket. It's a jacket dress that looks like one-piece until the topper is removed. Style No. 407. Sizes 7-17 and B-18.

TOMATOES, red, ripe and fresh from summer vines add their special note of bright color, tempting flavor and that all important vitamin value to any menu.

Tomatoes are among the most important source of vitamin C. One medium-sized tomato (three to a pound) will give you nearly half your day's quota of vitamin C, as well as a generous amount of vitamin A. Although tomatoes hold a large share of their vitamins even when cooked or canned, you get the most good from tomatoes if they are eaten raw and fresh.

Ripe tomatoes keep best in the refrigerator, where the cold stops the ripening process. It is always best to peel or cut tomatoes just before serving.

If you prefer your tomatoes peeled, stroke the skin with the dull edge of a knife blade until the skin is loosened, or dip the tomato in boiling water for one minute, then cool at once in cold water, or run a fork into the tomato and rotate it over heat of cooking unit until the skin is tight and shiny. Cool at once in cold water.

When ripening tomatoes, even mature green ones about to turn color, it is best to spread them out in an unlighted place. Light isn't needed to produce good red color after tomatoes are picked. Do not place on a sunny window sill, as too much sunlight prevents development of normal, or even, color. Immature green tomatoes won't ripen and are likely to rot if kept too long. It's best to cook or pickle them soon after picking.

Tomatoes can be baked, broiled, stewed or fried either ripe or green. Green tomatoes can be used in pies, pickles, relishes or marmalades. Yellow tomatoes are wonderful for preserves and ripe tomatoes are delicious in homemade tomato juice, catsup, chili sauce and soups. In fact, tomato time is any time!

When planning to make marmalades and relishes with tomatoes be sure to choose the right jars and lids. Marmalade, preserves, and tomato-apple butter may be packed in any sound, clean jar and sealed with paraffin. Or, if preferred, seal airtight in canning jars.

Pack green tomato mince in a cooked relish, catsup, or chili sauce in jars that seal airtight. Covered with paraffin, they are likely to mold. Jars with glass lids are preferable for long storage because acid foods may eat into metal lids and corrode them. It is best not to use zinc lids in pickling.

After washing jars and lids well in hot suds and rinsing them, place them in warm water and bring to boiling, then invert to drain out water before filling. Metal lids with sealing compounds should be used according to the manufacturer's directions. Some of them need boiling, others need only a dip in boiling water. Keep jars and lids hot until you are ready to use them.

PUDDIN' PROOF

TOMATO FLOWER SALAD

Using one tomato for each person to be served, cut stems from tomatoes. Cut tomatoes four times from the top almost through the bottom, to form eight attached "petals." Spread petals apart on the lettuce. Make a filling for the centers of the "flowers" by combining 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup chopped cucumber, one tablespoon minced onion, one tablespoon chopped green pepper, two hard-cooked eggs, chopped, two tablespoons mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing, one teaspoon salt and pepper. (One-half cup of cottage cheese may be used in place of the eggs.)

For a meat filling. Combine one cup diced cooked meat, one cup diced cooked potatoes, one tablespoon minced onion, and two tablespoons chopped green pepper. Add salt, pepper and dressing as above.

Household Hint: To prevent bottles of laundry bleach or ammonia from slipping through soapy, wet hands, stretch three or four rubber bands or jar rings around the bottle.

Lemon Jello Salad.

Contributed by Mrs. Paul Pezold, Sanford, Fla. This is a delicious salad and one we have just tried.

- 2 packages lemon Jello
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 cups canned pineapple juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups canned crush pineapple (drained)

Dissolve lemon jello in boiling water. Cool. Add pineapple juice, salt, crushed pineapple and grated carrots. For individual servings, fill muffin pans with salad mixture and place in refrigerator to congeal. When ready to serve, place muffin pan in small amount of hot water for a moment then unmould on large platter.

CITRUS RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Orange Pie

- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/4 cups of milk
- 1 egg yolk
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Mix sugar, flour, salt and milk. Cook over hot water 20 minutes. Add beaten egg yolks, cook five minutes then add juice and rind. Put in baked pie shell, top with meringue and bake until golden brown.

Meringue

- 1 egg whites
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup grated coconut
- Maraschino cherries chopped

FRIED TOMATOES

Slice six medium sized ripe or green tomatoes about 1/2 inch thick. Dip mixture of 1/2 cup fine, dry bread crumbs or flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and a little pepper. Cook in a small amount of fat until brown on both sides. If desired, dip tomatoes in beaten egg, then in flour or bread crumbs before cooking. Six servings.

All Florida Cookbook

Chili Sauce

- 4 qts. (24 to 28 medium sized) peeled and chopped tomatoes
- 2 cups chopped, sweet red pepper
- 2 cups chopped onion
- 1 hot pepper, chopped
- 2 tablespoons celery seed
- 1 tablespoon mustard seed
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 teaspoon whole cloves
- 1 teaspoon ground ginger
- 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 three inch piece stick cinnamon
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup vinegar
- 1 tablespoon salt

Combine the tomatoes, sweet peppers, onion and hot pepper. Put the celery seed, mustard seed, bay leaf, cloves, ginger, nutmeg and cinnamon loosely in a thin white cloth, tie top tightly, add to tomato mixture and boil until you have but one-half the original amount. Stir frequently to prevent sticking. Add sugar, vinegar and salt. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, about five minutes. Remove spices. Pack chili sauce into hot, clean jars, fill jars to top and seal. Makes about five pints.

Green Tomato Relish

- 6 qts. (about 36 to 40 medium sized) chopped green tomatoes
- 1 1/2 quarts chopped onion
- 3 cups chopped green pepper
- 2 tablespoons whole mixed pickle spices
- 1 1/2 cups chopped red sweet pepper
- 1/2 cup salt
- 5 cups sugar
- 1 1/2 quarts vinegar

Mix thoroughly tomatoes, chopped onion, green and red peppers, and salt. Let stand overnight, drain. Combine with sugar and vinegar. Put spices loosely in a thin white cloth, tie top tightly, and add to tomato mixture. Bring mixture to boil, boil gently with spices for 1 1/2 hours, or until thickened, stirring frequently. Remove pickle bag. Pour relish into hot, clean jars, fill jars to top and seal. Store in a cool, dry, dark place. Makes about six pints.

FABULOUS FLAKES FOR FLIES

By RON SERCOMBE

WHEN Florida Agricultural Supply Company, of Jacksonville, decided last spring to place its chips on a new fly killer called Fly Flakes, the company had no idea it had developed a world beater.

But today, the fabulous flakes are pouring out of the factory in carload lots. Flakes from bags, drums and hand shakers are now being "flung at flies" in all parts of the United States.

"It has been nothing short of astounding," says M. C. Van Horn, vice president and general manager of FASCO. "We knew that we had a new and simple approach to fly control, but we had no idea what we really had developed."

HERMAN MAYEUX, entomologist, who discovered the "flakes" that are solving the insect problem for Florida farmers.

Instrumental in the creation of the fly killer was a young entomologist who, back in 1934, was selected "The Most Outstanding Boy in 4-H Work in Louisiana." He is Herman Mayeux, now technical adviser to FASCO.

Mayeux had been approached by Clyde Flynn, of the Jacksonville City Health Department, with the problem of controlling flies at the city garbage dump. Sprays and liquid baits were effective, yes, but they required a lot of time and labor and the effects were short-lived. Mayeux decided that a dry product that could be scattered simply and would simultaneously kill maggots and adults would be the answer to the problem.

Mayeux, together with Julian H. Jackson and William Head, company chemists, and James R. Christie, a technical service representative for the company, put their heads together and burned the midnight oil. Flynn gave valuable assistance.

They developed some hard, dry flakes of a greyish-white hue. These flakes contain a blend of attractants which flies just can't seem to resist. They also contain other adjuvants that make the product work right, plus a relatively new and highly potent, yet comparatively safe fly killer known as malathion.

Of the many variations developed, a total of 45 were field tested before the investigators were satisfied with the results. Agricultural extension and research personnel at many state universities and United States Department of Agriculture laboratories have seen the product demonstrated to their satisfaction and many of these experts have actually demonstrated the effectiveness of the new flakes.

One of the tests was made at the poultry farm of William J. Campbell, at Green Cove Springs. Campbell was completely astonished. He reported:

"We scattered eight ounces of flakes on my feed room floor. Flies began dying in two minutes, buzzing like bees. In seven minutes, the room was quiet. So many flies were killed that the floor was completely covered. In three days we swept up more than four gallons—or approximately a million dead flies."

The Jacksonville company's flake-strewn path is becoming more worn as every day passes, but fortunately, FASCO, with its modern and extensive manufacturing facilities, is fully capable of filling whatever demands develop.

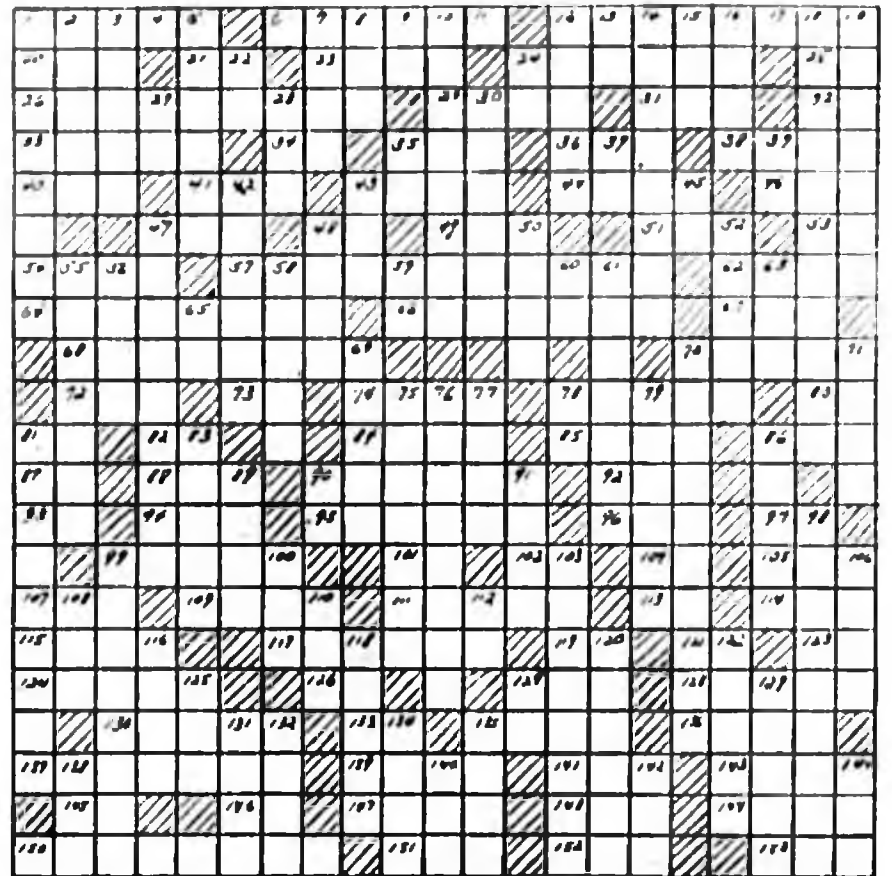

WITH ONLY eight ounces of the "fabulous flakes," William Campbell, poultry farm owner at Green Cove Springs, illustrates how he killed millions of flies and other insects in less than three days. Campbell said the insect killer was so powerful he had to shovel the victims off the barn floor.

IMAGINE - actually holding in your hand, touching with your fingers, beads containing water from the Miraculous Fountain at Lourdes, France - the exact place where St. Bernadette saw the Vision of Our Blessed Mother! The 2nd, 3rd, and 4th Hail Mary's beads of this unusual new Rosary actually contain water from the Fountain at Lourdes. You actually SEE the water itself - permanently sealed in the transparent plastic beads! You'll feel closer than ever to the Blessed Virgin Mary when you say this Rosary because Our Blessed Mother created the Spring from which this water was taken!

WHAT DOES IT DO FOR YOU?

Now YOU can say this special Rosary, with 1 bead filled with Lourdes water, to help you gain special favors, graces, blessings, to deepen your understanding of the Rosary and bring you closer to Our Blessed Mother! Motion pictures, articles, plays, stories, radio programs - all have brought to millions of every faith the heart-warming story of little Bernadette and her Vision of the Holy Lady.

HOW THE MIRACLE HAPPENED!

A vision of A Lovely Lady appeared to Bernadette as she was searching for firewood. The Lady ordered Bernadette to dig. The little girl did dig - and a fresh, cool spring came bubbling up out of the ground. Sick people who bathed in this water grew well and many of the blind could see again! "Build here," said the Lovely Lady, "a great church. And tell people to pray and do penance and walk in processions." This was done and soon the wonderful Shrine of Lourdes was built. The Spring is still there at Lourdes, France and is visited by millions of pilgrims from all over the world!

Never - Never Before a Rosary Like This!

The special water-filled beads are made of clear, transparent polystyrene plastic, so that you not only FEEL the beads but actually SEE the water inside. These three special beads are made slightly larger than the other beads of the Rosary so that a generous supply of Lourdes water could be sealed in! The Rosary itself is a masterpiece of elegance. It is exquisitely cut with scintillating flame polished, simulated crystal beads. Linked together with tarnish-proof metal chain. Beautifully crafted framing head. Corpus is on brilliant metal cross. Attractively packaged in plastic jewel Gift Box on royal blue velvet. Your choice of Diamond Clear Beads, Sapphire Blue Beads or Black Ebony Beads. Only $2.98 each, postpaid (2 for $5.00).
