PALATKA NEWS

Front yards in Florida can be made the most beautiful in the whole wide world, on account of the tropical vegetation.

They are not so now. Plant the following in your front yards now:

The most strikingly grand shrubs are the following: Hibiscus, with large scarlet single blossoms; Poinsettia, bearing immense red flowers at Christmas time; Almond, the shrub and also the climber, showing great yellow flowers during all of the long summer season; Aquilegia Californica, bearing flowers like orchids; Oleanders, red and white; Lemon Verbenas, highly fragrant; Datara, the trumpet lily shrub, with immense white flowers highly scented; Guadua, Camellias, Azaleas, Cape Jasmine.

The most attractive trees are Magnolia, Araucaria, Eucalyptus Globulus, growing 350 feet high, a fine specimen of which can be seen at Billast Park in Tampa; Eucalyptus Fieffolia, with large clusters of crisp, blossoms; Eucalyptus Citriodora, the lemon-scented Eucalyptus; Rubber tree; Bridal Veil, Jacaranda, the Rosewood tree, with huge bunches of blue flowers; large leaf Catalpa; Locust; Costa Apple tree or Citrifera; Mango, Alligator Pears, Live Oak, Camphor tree, Ash or Yucca, Juniper, Cedar, California Redwood tree, Royal Poinciana, St. Johns Bread tree, Eucalyptus, Olive, Kumquat, Bamboo, Led Castor Bean.

Climbers are the most decorative of all plants, bearing yellow flowers, some highly fragrant. Honeysuckle, white, yellow and red; Bougainvillea, with thousands of rich purple blossoms; Scarlet Begonia, should be planted near the front porch; it attracts humming birds; Yellow Nemesis Grandiflora, White Stephanotis, Roses, Louis Philippe, a red rose tree, all the time; Kaffir.

Mareschal Niel. Bulbous plants are easily grown, highly ornamental, with fragrant blossoms, multiplying rapidly. Calla lilies, French Cannas, Gladiolus, Calladium, Tuberoses, Begonia, Dahlias, Amaryllis, Hyacinths, Jonquils, Freesias and Narcissus.

Palms are the glory of Florida, the show plants of this climate. Royal Palms, Coconut Palms, Date Palms, Fan Palms, Cabbage Palms, Phoenix Canariensis, Washington Filifera, Blue Palm, Draecena.

Boston Ferns and Giant Bracken are very beautiful porch plants. Fuchias or Hydrangeas should be grown on the north or shady side of the house. Geraniums, Nasturtiums, Asters and Verbenas are greatly appreciated.

Most of these plants can be bought for a few cents each at your nearest nursery. They will make your home beautiful and attractive, and add greatly to the pleasure of life. Beautiful home grounds are sure signs of good taste and high citizenship. They attract tourists and investors, and the secret of the wonderful development of California is the marvelous beauty of the home places and plantations. Florida can grow all the plants of California, its soil is just as good, and while southern California's rainfall is only fifteen inches, Florida is blessed with a wealth of forty-five inches of rain, but the homes and home grounds of Florida are not as attractive now. Start up now. Make your grounds attractive and beautify your homes, and the rapid development of Florida to come will be the marvel of the world.

HAS THE HOOKWORM HOOKED YOU

THERE ARE NEARLY A BILLION PEOPLE WHO LIVE IN THE HOOKWORM BELT

BY THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Nearly a billion people live in the hookworm belt.

It stretches around the earth, sixty-six degrees wide. It includes forty-seven countries with an area of fifteen million square miles, and Florida is within this belt.

In this vast area which is the home of about one-third of the world's population, the disease is almost the easiest thing to get rid of, excepting money—the easiest of all the diseases that reduce the working efficiency of mankind. Ninety of each one hundred of the working population of Porto Rico had the disease in 1904, but under systematic treatment the cases in that country are being reduced by twenty thousand a year. At least ninety per cent of the people of Columbia living between sea level and the line of three thousand feet elevation have it. One half of the population of British Guinea has it; almost two million of the people of India have it and it is estimated that three of every four of the people in Southern China are afflicted.

How many of Florida's population have it? No census of hookworm patients has been taken, but within the past two years a census was made by the county schools in the central part of the state, with the result that more than six thousand cases were discovered, or more than one half of the school children who were examined.

The economic loss caused by the disease is beyond estimate, because it affects directly the physical efficiency of its victims. It dulls their intellectual capacity and by weakening the system it makes the way easier for the attack of other diseases. Some of them are stout, vibrant and active. Actual observation in various localities has demonstrated that persons suffering from the disease are incapable of performing what actually do perform, from one half to two-thirds less work than when in normal condition of health. Reports from every part of the world where the ailment prevails show practically the same results. The sufferers appear to lose all ambition and most of their energy. They never look in spirit of mental and moral lethargy to have financial expenses, intelligent to when the hookworm becomes a pest.

Yet the hookworm is not the most the easiest to be made rid of. All the physical troubles that afflict a man in a dose of poison pills, followed by a dose of thymol and by a special diet of salts. The hookworms from the thymol, grow in most well regulated systems, and are not so easily gotten rid of. The hookworms are a pest, and are not the easiest to be made rid of. All the physical troubles that afflict a man in a dose of poison pills, followed by a dose of thymol and by a special diet of salts. The hookworms from the thymol, grow in most well regulated systems, and are not so easily gotten rid of.

The State Board of Health is working to eradicate the disease from its jurisdiction. It is trying to discover the infection, to induce the use of the simple cure, and the next highest task will be to keep the infection out. It is largely a matter of education—to show the serious harm that is caused, to denigrate in every community, how easily it may be contracted and to enlist the cooperation of the people of the state to keep it under control.

The effects of the disease have been described. Its cause may be told again and again, if for no other reason, than to inspire disgust with it.

The hookworm lives in the intestines of the human body and sucks the blood of the patients. It injects a poison into the system. It lays thousands of eggs which are passed out of the body in the excreta. These eggs hatch young worms which live in the dirt for several days and develop into what are called encysted embryos. The embryos burrow into the feet of children or of persons who go barefooted, and produce ground itch, a complaint almost as familiar in Florida as the stomach ache in babyland.

Once under the skin the worm gets into the blood stream; then through the circulation into the lungs, where it grows to be an adult and sucks the blood of the adult and lays eggs, just as the generation did before it. The process isn't pleasant one to think about, but if the people of Florida thought more about it, if they realized how this disgusting parasite makes human bodies its habitation, burrowing into their inmost recesses and sapping their vitality, it might be possible to carry out more quickly this campaign against the resulting disease. A d remember, no microscope is necessary to identify the hookworm. The hair-like worm, small as it is, is still large enough to be seen without glasses. Hookworm infection in individuals, however, is denoted by the presence of eggs in the feces, and can only be seen through the microscope.

It has been demonstrated beyond the necessity of argument that the grounditch caused by the hookworm is the starting point of the disease. The parasite cannot penetrate leather; therefore, the child who wears shoes cannot be a victim. Only the child or the person who goes barefooted or who wears leaky shoes can be attacked. An abrasion of the skin is not necessary, for the hookworm is not stopped by the skin of the body.

To wear shoes is to prevent the disease. As a further prevention the pollution of the soil by the excreta of the sufferers from the disease must be prevented.

The State Board of Health is working with the same methods that have been endorsed and adopted by the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission, but having the interests of Florida in its particular charge, it is asking the people of the state to work with it in this fight. It urges the cooperation of parents, for in this section the disease finds few victims among adults, for the reason that few grown people go without shoes. The Board asks that if the disease is suspected, a specimen of the stool be submitted for examination to the laboratory of the Board. If the report shows the presence of the disease, the family doctor will do the rest. And more than this, if any physician or persons cannot attend the services of a family doctor, the Board will furnish the treatment free of charge, through its field dispensary.

Write to the State Board of Health at Jacksonville, Tampa, or Pensacola and find out all about it, how to have the examination made, etc.

This is an excellent opportunity for the people of Florida to get a good many millions of dollars each year to their working efficiency, with the certainty of large and increasing returns as the present population of children grows to maturity.

PRESERVING OUR FISH INDUSTRY

THE PEOPLE OF FLORIDA HAVE THE GREATEST CHANCE TO PLANT FLOWERS AND SHRUBBERY

BY ROBERT DAY, IN ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

It is the claim of those who have investigated the subject that an acre of water will produce as much food as an acre of land.

What a wonderful source of food we have right here in the St. Johns river. And yet we are doing nothing about keeping up the supply, on the other hand the inhabitants of our great river are constantly being reduced in numbers. Our regular fishermen, and a good many people who derive a living from fishing, report that their catches are smaller each succeeding season.

The same condition is reported everywhere. The U. S. Commissioner of Fisheries, says the supply along the Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida is diminishing.

Florida has long been one of the great fishing states. It has more salt water coast line than any other state in the Union. It has more fresh water lakes and streams than any other state, and yet what is being done, except in a small way to keep our waters stocked with fish?

The fishermen of Welaka have started a campaign to protect the fish in the St. Johns river, which, if it meets with the encouragement it should, will not only put the fishing industry on its feet again, but make it greater than ever before. And this will apply to every river and lake in Florida, as well as in the sea.

This Welaka movement should spread actively and earnestly over the whole state. Not only should the present fishing laws, now varying in application by the different counties, be made most sweeping in a universal state-law, but we should have fisheries in various ponds, bays, lakes, and begin the restocking of our waters now being rapidly swept bare of life.

The cost of maintaining a fish supply, including a crop of equal value, is small. Some will gain in the heat of the sun. The price of most fish will steadily advance and is needed in sight.

Let the people of Florida get busy and do what can be made a large business of to-morrow.

ing us a most excellent food, but which must be denied us soon unless decisive steps are taken.

To show what is possible in this matter, attention is called to what is being done out in the prairie state of Kansas, where ponds are made by farmers in which to raise fish. In Florida, this is not necessary. We have the water, but leave it to a mass-made and rain-filled pond out on the prairies to put us to shame. Kansas has fish hatcheries and on April, 10th a report was sent from Topeka showing what is being done. Three and one-half tons of fish from an acre fish pond in three years—this is the record reported by Prof. L. L. Dyer, State Fish and Game Warden, for one of the experimental ponds at the state fish hatchery at Hutchinson. Prof. Dyer says that he could do it again, he is confident, with a little care—and water supply.

Prof. Dyer believes that Kansas can be made a great fish state. Hunting, he said recently, is out of the question, but he holds that there is sufficient rainfall in the state to keep and raise fish by the wholesale.

By actual count, Prof. Dyer and his assistants removed 26,448 fish, weighing a total of more than 6,780 pounds from one pond, a one-acre pond, last spring. The pond was stocked in 1913 with 10,000 yearlings. Next summer any Kansas farmer who has a pond can get as many fish as are needed to stock it from the state fish hatchery, and begin raising tons of fish for himself. The fish, with which Prof. Dyer stocked his pond included black bass, crappie, blue gill sunfish, common green sunfish, bull head catfish, a few hickory shad, German carp, and about 100 goldfish. The goldfish are supplied as food fish for others.

There was nothing exceptional about this particular pond, Prof. Dyer says. It was thoroughly stocked around the edges and on the bottom with water plants, including various kinds of moss. One-fifteenth of the surface of the lake was covered with lilies. In 1911 some channel catfish and 2,000 bull head catfish were thrown into the pond—the 191 channel catfish were placed in the pond by mistake, and Prof. Dyer says these put in most of their time feeding upon the smaller fish, cutting down the number considerably.

From the time it was first stocked the pond was allowed to stand practically undisturbed," said Prof. Dyer. "Most of the food supply for the fish was produced in the pond. The dense growth of vegetation was not disturbed except that boats were sometimes run through it to open up channels of water. The fish when fed was given liver, chopped up fish taken from the same pond, and corn chop. During the summers of 1911 and 1912 five hundred pounds of liver and six hundred pounds of fish, mostly German carp, were chopped up and fed to the fish. It was an interesting sight to see the fish at feeding time.

In all, 15,000 fish were put into the pond, weighing less than 700 pounds. Prof. Dyer's figures. About 27,000—many of the smaller fish were not counted or weighed—were taken out when the pond was drained. Of fish weighing one pound or more there were 3,801, weighing 4,247 pounds. Black bass, crappie and catfish made up 3,008 pounds of this weight. There were 978 pounds of blue gill and green sunfish, averaging one-third of a pound each making in all 5,257 pounds of good fish, and about 1,500 pounds of carp, gold fish and shad.

Fifty pounds of kafir corn, 200 pounds of chopped corn, 500 pounds of liver and 600 pounds of chopped fish, mostly German carp, were fed to the fish in three years.

We don't need to dig fish ponds in Florida and wait for the rain cloud to fill them. We have nature made lakes and rivers and we don't need to feed the fish. If we will only judiciously guard the waters and occasionally put in young fry there will be no doubt about a continued and profitable industry.

The city of Sanford has given a contract to bulkhead its waterfront and that will be a lasting improvement and one that will not only help beautify the town, but increase the value of adjoining property.

THE PRESS CONVENTION

Other towns and cities that are coming to Fort Myers for the purpose of carrying home the next press convention would do well to keep an eye on Kissimmee, that beautiful city on Lake Tohopekaliga, which is coming and like Fort Myers went to Tampa, in January, for the purpose of convincing the editors that it would not do to attempt to go anywhere else.

COUNTY DIVISION

It is probable that there will be a three cornered fight for the state senatorship from Alachua county, with county division espoused by at least one candidate, Newberry being the objective point for the county seat.

NEXT MEETING PLACE

It is whispered that Kissimmee will put forth a vigorous effort to secure the next meeting of the State Press Association. Miami also is looking for the plum.

KISSIMMEE FOR PRESS MEET

The Five Counties Editorial Association, or whatever those who got together at Kissimmee for a gabfest the other day, call themselves, must have had a royal time at the meet.

Here's to you Kissimmee, and may you accomplish your heart's desire in this respect. There is no better, no more desirable place in all Florida for the state meeting than hospitable Kissimmee on the banks of beautiful Lake Tohopekaliga.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION

Many editors of country newspapers are indulging themselves in the luxury of a foreign editorial on the Mexican situation and in order that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan may be spared from making a mistake The Herald hereby takes a typewriter in hand to give the exact situation in a few words.

The Spaniards worked the same game to perfection in the Spanish war. Defeated by rebels they blew up the Maine, caused war with United States sent a few old scows against our warships and gracefully surrendered.

Huerta will bring on war. Rest assured of that, dear readers and the unemployed of America will find plenty of employment in a few months and then the Standard Oil Co. owns part of Mexico, and must be protected.

President Wilson will be content to blockade the ports and await results, but the jingoes will force him to fight if possible.

EXPERIMENTS AT PRECOOLING

During the past season the Department of Agriculture has been conducting experiments in Manatee county for pre-cooling fruits and vegetables designed for shipment.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

The Wichita Eagle like all the other western papers is afraid that some of the Kansas farmers will become dissatisfied with the cold winters, cold springs, cold falls and red hot summers and will come to Florida where they can make a better living for six months in the year than in bleeding Kansas for twelve months and in order to keep the timid Jayhawkers at home where they can subscribe to the Eagle and read Murdock's truths he runs all the rotten dope he can get inimical to Florida in scare heads preferred position.

FROM A VISITOR'S VIEWPOINT

Thinks Bulkhead and Woodland Park Are Great. After hearing and having read so much of the cooling possibilities of the cold Woodland pool, and last Sunday afternoon being a very hot one, I decided to try my luck at cooling off, so I hurried down to the city dock and got in line of the waiting string of passengers ready to step aboard the launches bound for Woodland when their time of sailing came due.

HE PUT IT OFF UNTIL TOO LATE

There was once a man who never saw anything in his life so good that he could not find some excuse to put it off. And thus it was with saving his money—he put it off until some more convenient time—but that time never came and poverty caught him in sickness and advancing years.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Ideal Club Woman (No. 2) By Ella Wheeler Waddell (Gen. Fed. Mag.) Punctuality

The first training a woman, who wants to be a good club member, needs to give herself in the gentle art of being on time.

It is very discouraging to open a meeting with rows of empty chairs staring at you, especially when you know that they will be occupied a little later, but it is not fair to the faithful who have come on time to wait for the laggards.

Any organization to be successful must be run on schedule time. If the hour for club opening is half past two, the meeting should open at half past two, no matter how small the attendance.

And it will be found that this promptness of the officers will have its effect on the rest of the club. Have you never heard this remark: "Oh, what's the use of going so early; we never begin on time?"

If the members of the club know certainly that the meeting will open on time, there is a strong inducement for them to be there. And if they were all prompt, how it would improve matters—no interruptions from the opening of doors and the finding of chairs, no rehearsal of what has already been done for the benefit of the late-comers.

The meetings could be conducted as arranged, and, what is also important, could be adjourned at a regular hour. One virtue leads to another, and a greater habit of punctuality would mean a larger average attendance at the regular club meetings.

Most of us are busy women and have our time well filled. Unless there is a special attraction we do not always feel that we can afford to spend an entire afternoon in attending a meeting whose opening is uncertain and whose closing is even more so. But if we could equate upon a definite amount of time to allot to this purpose we could and would arrange our affairs so that we could be more frequent attendants.

The virtue of attendance is a cardinal one in the creed of the ideal club woman. Having joined an organization, a member feels in duty bound to support it, and one of the best ways to support a woman's club is to attend its meetings. And it is certain the only way to receive the full benefit of a club, the member who does not attend regularly, does not know what the club is doing, is not interested in the work undertaken, loses the connection from one program to another, and forms no close ties with the other members of the club.

The woman who attends only when there is something "special" and does not count for much in the life of the club, and she certainly does not receive the pleasure or benefit of the constant attendance.

Now, our ideal club woman, besides being prompt and regular in her club attendance, is something of a stickler for form. She is not found up with red tape, but she does want things done decently and in order. She realizes that what we call parliamentary is simply the concentrated experience of many years as to the best way of dispatching business and avoiding confusion in public meetings.

Therefore, she studies parliamentary rules, and tries to present her motions and state her objections in correct form. She feels that upon her rests a share of responsibility for the proper conduct of the meeting. This sense of responsibility is one of the strongest characteristics of the ideal club woman.

Smart Motor and Sports Hats

A NEW kind of hat, which might be called an aristocrat in millinery if there were no other way of describing it, has been brought out in this country. It has already won the distinction of being imported by the French and English from America.

Three examples of hats made in this new way and designed for motor and for outdoor sports are pictured here. The bodies of these hats are made of silk fibre or specially prepared millinery brads or chenille or yarns.

It is possible to turn the brims up from the face or down over the eyes and the hat rarely needs a pin to fasten it. The auto hat shown is made of yarn in a light feather brown. It is trimmed with a tubing crocheted of a heavier yarn to match and provided with a handsome chiffon motor veil in the same color.

At the top there is a hat made of a strong blue silk fiber braid for the street or general outdoor wear. At the right side a spray of grayish green grass springs from the brim edge, to which it is bound with a narrow velvet ribbon in dark blue with a pin-stripe in white at the edge.

One must imagine the color schemes in these hats to appreciate how good looking they are. There is no way of describing the texture unless one compares it to a close-made Irish lace crocheted. Like the best hats for men it is panned for its inventor and called the Kinnard hat after the American lady who created it. It is essentially an elegant hat and cannot be made cheaply, which is a point greatly in its favor in the estimation of the smart set.

But its strong appeal, next to good looks, is from a sanitary standpoint and in the matter of convenience. It allows a free circulation of air through the interstices in the shape, and is pliable enough to be bent in any shape desired.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT
Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.
If the wound is cleansed and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly. This performance is a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside, the surface and breaks out into a running sore, it is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.
Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

BASEBALL-IN ENGLAND

SPORTING EDITOR GIVES HIS IDEA OF AMERICAN GAME.

Briton's Conception of Recent Contest Between Giants and White Sox Grotesque—Admiration for Work of Players.

An article in the London Pall Mall Gazette shows what an English sporting writer thinks of the game between the Giants and White Sox, played in London just before the world tourists returned to this country. It follows, in part:
An hour's punting about preceded the real business. This is the custom. Now and then a batter hit out, and it was extraordinary what power there is behind the thin cylindrical club.
The diamond was marked out so, that the batter's box was in front of the royal box, and the pitcher faced the king's eyes. An array of photographers dodged the balls of the practicing Giants. The bases are white cushions.
The field was much worn and dust was plentifully sprinkled to give footwork its proper chance. So much depends on this, especially in the fielding. The movements of the men are a revelation. The pitcher starts with hands together, high over his head. Then he raises one leg and balances, then the whole body swings forward as the ball is thrown.
The pace is greater at times than that of our fastest bowlers, at times slower than the slowest. The batter is practically ambidextrous, so well do his arms and shoulders work together. He has perfect control over placing the ball and over the pace of his shot.
The fielders, with their huge mitts on the left hand, are like trained partridges. To catch, to transfer to right hand and throw is the work of an instant, and all smooth. Their footwork is surely the last word in footwork and quickness of eye and hand.
The White Sox played a little preliminary game for three minutes, in which their manager, a 100 lb. loss of five years was clearly indicated.

The king arrived at 2.45 o'clock. The crowd lined up on the left bank of the river. The first game was the trial and the first game which the bat Mr. Kloppe.

The king arrived at 2.45 o'clock. The crowd lined up on the left bank of the river. The first game was the trial and the first game which the bat Mr. Kloppe.

Another great hit out of the ground gave New York a run. Many high hits were made and the catching of these was excellent. The pitcher of the Giants made a wonderful catch of a sloped ball, but hit the batter was out by a hard base throwing. A leg net was used to catch and handle by the referee-man on point duty at the end of the ground. It was not so scientific a throw as was the American. The throwing is equal, artistic and strong and accurate as rifle shooting. It goes on all over the diamond, from base to base.
The racing between the fielders and the runner was most interesting. One fine smack a low drive went past the pitcher and scored an easy base.
The catching bases was very pretty work. The men at the bases were like cats on moment and grabbed the next.

Born With Federals.
Luther Bonin, who quit the game last year because his broken ankle bothered him, has signed to play with the Buffalo Federals. He is the player for whom the St. Louis Americans paid Columbus a fat price, but who could not deliver and was turned back. Last spring in Columbus he was severely panned for quitting the team, it being said that the only thing wrong with him was a lack of courage.

Saylor Shines Brightly.
Young Saylor, a Cleveland lightweight, went over to Australia and knocked out Hughie Mehegan, champion of that country, in 11 rounds. Young Saylor is the same lad who knocked out the Irish with a legitimate body, thus blow, but the referee thought the punch low, whereupon he was disqualified for fouling.

Lovely Combination.
"Wouldn't it be lovely if the Spiders and the Naps won pennants this year?" says a Cleveland gent. "God! He must be having many pleasant dreams."

COMMERCIAL CLUB MET AND ELECTED OFFICERS FOR YEAR

MEETING LARGELY WAS ATTENDED BY A MOST ENTHUSIASTIC BUNCH

AN AGGRESSIVE POLICY

WILL BE PURSUED IN THE SUMMER AND FALL CAMPAIGN OF ADVERTISING CITY'S RESOURCES

The Sanford Commercial Club met last Tuesday night in the City Hall and the members were most enthusiastic over the prospects for advertising the resources of the city and county during the summer and fall season of 1914.

It was the consensus of opinion of those present that never before were the prospects of the city of Sanford so bright and that right now was the time to start advertising our city and bringing it to the attention of the people of the north and west before they had commenced to plan for coming to Florida during another season.

It is a well known fact that no city can prosper or get ahead in this day and age unless the initiative is taken by an aggressive Commercial Club or Board of Trade and all the cities of any part of the world attribute their growth and prosperity to the united efforts of the members of their trade body.

The reason that Sanford has not advanced as rapidly as it should have done in the past three years is due to the fact that not enough of our business men have evinced an interest in the Commercial Club. They have not become members or paid their money into the club but the meeting of last Tuesday night demonstrated that more of them had decided to join now and all of them will become members at the next meeting. No man who is in business in this city should expect the other fellow to bear the burdens of exploitation or attend to all the details of getting more people here and more business and help the city toward prosperity and then share alike in this prosperity. This city will start growing this city will start a new hotel, this city will have everything that is coming to it and that the people are taking more interest in the Commercial Club and are willing to help in the good work of boosting the city's claims.

The Sanford Commercial Club met for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing year. President Lake presided.

Upon motion the following officers for the year were nominated and elected: President, Forrest Lake; first vice president, G. W. Spencer; second vice president, Bart W. Herndon; treasurer, F. L. Miller; secretary, Thomas K. Bates; directors, J. N. Whitner, A. P. Connelly, Bob Holly, C. R. Walker, D. L. Thrasher, J. Musson, E. E. Brady.

Messrs. C. E. Dooley, C. A. Raulerson and J. H. Huddleston composed a delegation from Geneva which presented for the consideration of the club a project to build a highway from Geneva to Mims on the East Coast, which is to cross the St. Johns river at the south end of Lake Harney. After the presentation by Mr. Dooley, Robert Holly, F. L. Miller and T. K. Bates spoke in favor of the club taking an active part in the fostering of the project.

Mr. C. R. Walker moved that the club tender such material and moral assistance to this road as is within its power, which was passed. This road will open up a new route for those who reside south of the St. Johns and west of the Wekiva rivers, to the East Coast as it will tap the brick roads west of Sanford five miles, and run on through Sanford on the brick road down Celery avenue, thence by Beardsall avenue to Geneva avenue and Geneva avenue one mile on brick at which point there is a good road extending on to Geneva. This promises to be one of the most popular routes in Florida, as it is very picturesque and scenic. J. D. Davison, C. C. Woodruff and R. J. Holly were appointed a committee to take this matter in charge and push it to a final conclusion.

Mr. C. C. Woodruff, who has been actively engaged in organizing a company to erect a crate factory here reported that this matter was about closed now, and the next season would witness Sanford manufacturing the hundreds of thousands of crates which it uses yearly.

Mr. Connelly moved that the yearly dues be increased to $5, which motion was passed.

C. W. CHEESMAN KILLED WHEN WELL CAVED IN

It was a gruesome sight that met the eyes of a party of Ovidio people early Sunday morning when they discovered the body of C. W. Cheesman, who has been mentioned in death by the rays of a well at his home.

The man had been dead for about four days, and the posture in which he was found and the circumstances surrounding the discovery indicated that death was entirely accidental.

The dead man was sexton of the Ovidio Methodist church, and was first missed when no bell was rung for the Thursday evening prayer meeting. The matter was dismissed without any serious thought at the time, but when no preparations were made Saturday for Sunday services the suspicions of the sexton of the Baptist church were aroused, and he paid a visit to Cheesman's home, about two miles south of Ovidio.

Cheesman was a bachelor, 45 years of age and had lived alone. The Baptist sexton found the house open, but no trace of the missing man, and returning to the town he spread the alarm. A party of citizens then went to the home, and upon examining the premises found that a new well had been dug, and that the sides had caved in.

It was too dark when the discovery was made to pursue the search farther, but early Sunday morning a number of people returned to the spot and began removing the earth from the well, which had been sunk to a depth of between ten and fifteen feet.

But very little of the loose earth had been taken out when the head and shoulders of the missing man were uncovered. He had died in a stooping position, having been engaged in putting in place the terra-cotta pipe with which he was curbing the well. He had been covered with about eight inches of dirt.

used against them and the snipers were less in evidence than at any time during the fighting, eight Americans were killed and some thirty wounded. This makes a total of twelve dead and fifty wounded in the two days' fighting.

While the Mexicans suffered more severely the number of their casualties has not been ascertained but the best estimates obtained by Capt. William R. Rush of the battleship Florida indicated that in the engagements of Tuesday and Wednesday their dead amounted to about 150. No person knows how many Mexicans fell wounded as a large part of them were hidden by friends.

In the streets about the plaza Wednesday afternoon lay fifteen or twenty bodies, a majority attired in citizens' clothing. Some of the men evidently had been dead since the engagement of Tuesday and the highest heat made their immediate disposal imperative.

ENCAMPMENT OF TROOPS MAY BE HELD IN FLORIDA

Washington, April 24.—The maneuver camp next summer for regular troops and the militia of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida will be located outside of South Carolina, because of Governor Blewett's failure to comply with demand made by Secretary Garrison.

The Secretary had given Blewett until this morning to disavow all previous statements on the subject and to invite the war department to have the maneuvers on the Isle of Palms but instead of such compliance Mr. Garrison received a telegram this morning from Gov. Blewett saying he was sending a special delivery letter on the subject.

Mr. Garrison's announcement that the camp would go to one of the other three states followed.
