SIXTY THOUSAND WORKMEN WORKING ON FULL TIME AT VARIOUS GERMAN PLANTS

FRENCH OCCUPATION HAS BEEN GOOD THING, PREVENTING TROUBLE

LOOKS LIKE PEACE

Would Be Outcome of French Occupation of the Ruhr Valley to Collect Their Dues

(By The Associated Press) HAMBORN, Germany, Feb. 6.—Sixty thousand workmen employed in various Thyssen plants at Hamborn, Muelheim, Duisburg, Dinslaken, are working full time, and haven't been affected either by the railroad strike or the lack of fuel. The plants are built around seven pit heads and they are provided with sufficient coal to supply the entire works. The opinion is expressed that the French occupation was not interfering with the Thyssen works, but rather helped them by allaying the trouble with the communist element.

The French General Weygand and Minister of Public Works Le Troquer, accompanied by railroad experts, are on their way from Paris to the Ruhr to formulate plans for handling the railroads in occupied territory without the aid of German.

A semi-official French statement says that while no further extension of the occupation by the French in Baden has been planned, hold of terrain already taken over will be maintained, even if the Germans agree to co-operate in expediting train service between Paris and Prague.

Owing to the absence of Chancellor Cuno in occupied territory the Berlin government has made no representations to France as yet concerning the events in Baden. In addition to the Chancellor, Hugo Stinnes, one of Germany's great industrial leaders, has paid a visit to the occupied area.

A letter has been sent to the League of Nations by the congress of the French Socialist party in session in Lille, in which are participating delegates from Great Britain, Germany, Belgium and France, declaring it is the duty of the league to attempt to settle the reparations question. The letter calls for the "disarmament of hate."

The workmen in the coal mines of the Saar valley taken over by the French in compensation for the ruin by the Germans of mines in northern France during the war, have struck because of a refusal of the governing commission to double their wages. The mines produced nine million tons yearly.

The French continue to take into custody or deport Germans guilty of subversive measures against the occupying authorities.

BERLIN, Feb. 6.—Chancellor Cuno was traversing the Ruhr area when news of the French occupation of Effenberg and Appenweier in Baden reached him, and no official action in advance is expected before his return to Berlin tomorrow.

The official note apprising the German government of the impending occupation was delivered to the foreign office in the Wilhelmstrasse 12 hours after the French cavalry entered the Baden sector.

While a section of the press discusses the new French move in phlegmatic tones, born of the prevailing resignation with which Germany's helplessness is largely contemplated, the Kreuz Zeitung demands the immediate breaking off of relations with France and the expulsion of all French and Belgian members of the Allied Control missions, as well as the civilian nationals of both countries now in Germany.

It believes, inasmuch as official protests from Germany to the Allies are no longer of avail, the presence in Paris of the German chargé d'affaires has become superfluous. Breaking off relations, the newspaper argues, also would effectively dispose of the rumors that the Cuno government is about to capitulate to the occupying powers.

That the French aggressions are rapidly accomplishing complete national unification in Germany is contended by the Lokal Anzeiger which says that neither Hindenburg nor Von Hindenburg succeeded in achieving

PRESIDENT POSTPONES MESSAGE TO CONGRESS ON DEBT FUNDING PROPOSITION TO BE NULLIFIED

Indicated That the Message Will Ask for Approval—President Will Not Appear in Person

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—President Harding today decided to postpone until tomorrow at least his message to congress asking for modification of the debt funding law to permit final approval of funding settlement recently negotiated with Great Britain. It was said at the White House no definite time was fixed for transmission of the president's recommendation.

It was indicated, however, the message would be sent to the capital as soon as further conferences with leaders of the senate and house had established what form of amendment would be the least likely to meet with serious opposition. Those who conferred with the president predicted he would be ready to act by tomorrow afternoon would send a statement to the capitol by a messenger, instead of appearing personally.

FIRST TRIAL OF PROFITEERS AND ALLEGED WAR FRAUDS BEGINS TODAY AT WASHINGTON

Charles W. Morse and Three Sons and Eight Others as Defendants

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The trial of Charles W. Morse and others, today was postponed until February 19th.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The first trial growing out of the investigation of alleged "war frauds" by special grand jury here began today in criminal division of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, with Charles W. Morse, and his three sons, and eight others as defendants. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government and emergency fleet corporation thru wartime shipping contracts involving approximately forty millions.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Benjamin and Harry Morse, scheduled to go on trial with their father, Charles W. Morse and others in Washington today, were arrested by Department of Justice agent at the Pennsylvania Station today.

DRAMATIC CLUB OF CATHOLIC CHURCH SCORED ANOTHER BIG SUCCESS LAST NIGHT AT K. C. HALL

"Return of Miles O'Rourke" Makes Big Hit and Play Showed to Capacity House

Once more the K. of C. Hall was packed to the doors to witness the second showing of that popular little play of Irish life, written by Father Hennessy, pastor of the local Catholic church, and to say that the large crowd was over pleased with the production would be putting it mildly. Long before the time for the curtain to rise, the hall was packed to its capacity, and many of the same people that witnessed the first performance of this play were present, as it is a play that can be seen several times and one wouldn't tire of it.

The cast of characters, all members of Father Hennessy's congregation, were excellent in their different parts and the large audience all voted them as good as regulars and there were some in the play that could take their places with regular road shows.

Mrs. Charles Woods, playing the part of Mrs. O'Rourke, with her Irish brogue, Mr. John Schirard as Father O'Sullivan, his impersonation of the Irish priest; Mr. E. W. Siles and Mrs. G. C. Fellows, as Mr. and Mrs. Oates, and Jack Fox as the step son, all come in for a large share of praise for the able manner in which they took and carried through their parts.

John Teold, playing the leading role as "Miles," assisted by Mrs. Osborne Herndon as the leading lady, and sweetheart of Miles, were incomparable. The fine way in which Mrs. Herndon carried out her unusually hard role, managing the scenes that called for real acting, going through it all just as smoothly as would be expected of old timers, calls for special mention, and her acting was enjoyed by everyone present. Moss Jackson, the Irish cop, would have led one to believe that "Jack" was a regular on the force, and Luella Mahoney was clever as "Miss Ursula's maid."

Perhaps one of the hardest roles of the entire cast was a double part that was played by Martin Temple. As Patsey, the Ne'er-do-Well, Martin was good. He had two roles to carry, that of Patsey and the part of the Stranger, and it took some acting on Martin's part to carry these parts as successfully as he did. He deserves credit for his fine showing.

But the real fun of the play, the parts that kept the house in an uproar at every appearance of these two, were the parts of "Birdie" and "Alex." Birdie was played by Mrs. I. L.

Florida Escapes The Cold Wave That Spreads

OVER GREATER PART OF GEORGIA AND ALABAMA

(By The Associated Press) CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 6.—With Eastern Tennessee experiencing what is described as the heaviest fall of snow in ten years, Virginia under a mantle of snow from mountains to coast, western North Carolina points reporting three to five inches of snow and other portions of the state below freezing temperatures, and Georgia expecting freezing weather during the night, the storm which has affected many sections of the country during the past two days is being felt throughout the southeast. Florida alone seems to be escaping the effects of the cold weather, but even there slightly colder weather is being experienced with little prospects of any freezing temperature.

Reports received at Richmond indicate that the mountain section of Virginia is under a twelve-inch blanket of snow, while other sections of the state are covered to a depth of four to six inches, and a temperature which is general throughout the state ranging between 25 and 30 degrees.

Many roads in the southwest section of Tennessee are reported impassable. An unusual occurrence is the hampering by a blinding snow storm of shipping in Hampton Roads harbor, while the eastern shores of the state are covered with snow.

Johnson City, Tenn., reports that section as having experienced a fall of 8 inches of snow in the past 26 hours, the heaviest since the winter of 1906-7. A temperature of 30 degrees at 8 o'clock is reported with predictions of another drop in the temperature before morning.

Rain, snow and sleet have been falling over North Carolina today the eastern sections reporting rain with a freezing temperature; the central counties experiencing sleet and the western sections snow. At Asheville and Hendersonville sleet was reported, while Wilmington, on the other hand, reported only a cold rain with a thermometer hovering around the freezing point. The local weather prediction is for much colder weather by morning with snow or sleet during the night. At 8 o'clock reports from all sections indicate a thermometer reading between 30 and 32 degrees, with cold winds prevalent in some sections, but the fall of sleet and snow seems to have ceased.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 6.—While Birmingham was emerging from the grasp of icy fingers, which paralyzed power lines and wires communicating with the outside world, the sleet storm claimed its second victim last night when Herbert McClain, 19, was electrocuted as he stepped on a live wire blown down by a gale Saturday night. Will Keyser, a negro fruit peddler, succumbed as a result of exposure in the cold.

School sessions are demoralized and business and private life are generally inconvenienced. Trains entering the city ranged up to two hours behind schedule, making only one residence mail delivery possible. Falling wires broke down the fire alarm system of the city.

Demands on coal yards Monday were so heavy that dealers fear a fuel famine if the cold spell continues. Business establishments operated without steam heat if they were customers of the Birmingham Railway Light and Power Company, all available steam being used to make the electricity.

Scores of automobiles were pulled in by wrecker cars, disabled by falling trees. Residence sections of the city suffered damage irreparable for years when beautiful trees were uprooted and torn by the weight of their ice laden branches.

At 7 o'clock last night street car traffic was at a standstill intermittently, though the day service was begun on various lines only to fall in a few minutes.

Many homes of the city were entirely shrouded in darkness, wires being down in every direction.

ELECTION TO RECALL MAYOR ST. PETERSBURG HAS BEEN FILED (By The Associated Press) ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 6.—An election on the recall of Mayor Frank Pulver has been asked in petitions filed at the city hall today. More than the necessary number of names are said to be on the petitions.

PEACE IN THE NEAR EAST SEEMS TO BE ASSURED ACCORDING TO REPORTS

FREEZING TEMPERATURE HAS NOT REACHED FLORIDA

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Feb. 6.—Freezing weather predicted for the north and central sections of Florida had failed to arrive this morning. The temperature stood at 70 early today and little change is expected during the day.

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT MEET OF ROTARY CLUB

The Sanford Rotary Club had one of the best meetings of the year today at the Valdez Hotel and the best part about the meeting was the 100 per cent feature, every member being in his place when the gong was sounded and Harry Stevens asked the blessing on the members.

Among the visitors present were Marsh Ray, of Oxford, N. C., Bob Bailey and Bob Holmes, of Daytona, and Tom Caldwell, of Rome, Georgia. All of the visitors made short talks when called upon to stand and talk themselves and told about their clubs and all of them made the statement that they attended a meeting every week some place and kept up their attendance record.

President D. L. Thrasher gave some interesting data concerning the fine articles in the Rotarian Magazine and wanted some of the members to make talks each week on some live topic taken out of the Rotarian and Bob Holly will start this procedure by talking on Advertising next week, taking his text from the Rotarian article.

Deane Turner, chairman of the Boys Work committee, gave a report on the work and asked for a committee to meet with the Boy Scouts troop recently adopted by the Rotary Club and this committee will assist the good work with the Boy Scouts in every way and all the Rotarians will lend their aid to this movement.

Dr. Palestine was asked to tell about his experience with a visitor to the city one day this week when at a meeting this gentleman said he had found the real Rotary spirit more manifest in the south than in the north, the southern people being natural born Rotarians and always ready to render service and that Rotary had brought this idea to the people of the north more than anything else could do.

The Rotarians also decided to attend the banquet given the California visitors here next Wednesday night and to give them a Rotarian welcome during their visit here. St. Petersburg will have a big district meeting in March and Sanford will go down there 100 per cent strong and take the city.

Clifford Peabody Found in Cuba Is Report Here

It seems that the mystery about the disappearance of Clifford Peabody has been cleared up at last and instead of finding his body somewhere on the east coast he has been found in Cuba alive and well. No details are obtainable at this writing as to why he went away or just why the drama was staged at Daytona when his car was shot full of holes and the upholstery cut with a knife and the whole affair made to look as though he had been murdered for his money. It is not known what he is doing in Cuba or what he intends to do in the future but it is certain that after the fiasco he pulled on his family and friends at Daytona that he will not return here. The incident is closed and it is sincerely hoped that it will remain closed for the benefit of all concerned.

TURKEY'S DELEGATION SAY POWERS AND TURKS WILL SETTLE

ALL DIFFERENCES

Only Remains the Question of Important Financial Matters for Agreement

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Feb. 6.—France has notified Great Britain the Ottoman delegate at Lausanne has agreed to sign all peace terms. The Turks decision was communicated to the French foreign office, who immediately forwarded it to Downing street. The French government urges the British government the affair will be settled immediately in the interest of the allies.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—The Reuters Lausanne correspondent was informed this afternoon that M. Bompard, head of the French delegation had intimated that there was a possibility of the Near East treaty being signed almost immediately.

LAUSANNE, Feb. 6.—Riza Nur Bey of the Turkish delegation to the Near East conference said today that Turkey and the powers had reached an accord on judicial capitulations but there are still important financial matters on which no agreement had been reached. The Turks announced that they would leave for Ankara tomorrow morning. They said offers had been made to eliminate from the treaty economic causes to which the objected, leaving such questions to further negotiations.

PARIS, Feb. 6.—The Havan News agency learns from Lausanne that Ismet Pasha has accepted the Allied terms respecting capitulations.

Ismet, according to an earlier dispatch to Havan, informed M. Bompard, head of the French delegation, after yesterday's conference that the allied treaty as finally presented, and with Sunday night's last minute concessions included might not refuse to sign. The negotiations were then renewed and as at present believed, with successful results.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Saturday afternoon Lydia Margaret Rankin entertained a number of her little friends from 3:50 until 5 o'clock, in honor of her tenth birthday at her home in Twelfth and Oak.

Most interesting outdoor games were enjoyed by all taking part; later an interesting contest was given, Paul Biggers being winner of the prize.

After 4:30 refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, after which Cupie calendars were given as favors.

Those enjoying the occasion were Irene Fellows, Mary Maxwell, Marguerite Renaud, Darcora Renaud, Alice Thompson, Inez Thompson, Mamie Keller, Louise Evans, Dorothy Lawson, Thelma Thompson, Bill Lyle and Paul Biggers.

'ROBIN HOOD' THE GREAT AMERICAN COMIC OPERA

The short life of the average play, the passing fame of the average star, has always been the rub of the theatrical business. Each year brings forth its endless crop of "Successes of the century," "hits of the age," biggest sensation in twenty years, and where are they all today? Echo gives no answer, neither does the billboard, the Outja board or the daily newspapers! Like Shakespeare's poor player, they have "strutted and fretted their hour or two" and then vanished into the great limbo of the forgotten.

When, therefore, a play goes on year after year, showing to bigger and bigger audiences; when its score and songs continue to outsell a dozen times over, all the ragtime and jazz, "hits of the age" it is a matter worth special note. We refer to "Robin Hood" written some thirty years ago by Reginald DeKoven and Harry B. Smith, and which Manager May Valentine will present at the Princess Theatre February 20th.

THE MOONLIGHT SCENE IN "ROBIN HOOD"

The second act reveals a moonlight scene in Sherwood Forest, conceived to be the most beautiful stage picture ever devised. The entire band of outlaws, archers, Bowman and followers reveling in the sports of their free life. "Will Scarlet" sings the renowned "It Takes Nine Tailors to Make a Man," often called the "Crow Song," as the story is of a famous Bowman, and his humorous experience in shooting at a crow. The entire male chorus join in the number, and frequently is recalled many times before music lovers will allow the opera to proceed. Then follows "Brown October Ale," the great baritone song, led by "Little John" in which the great male chorus is assisted by the girls' chorus, attired in Lincoln green, and appearing as bowmen. The entire second act is a wonderful entertainment in itself.

Miss May Valentine's "Robin Hood" will be given a sumptuous revival at the Princess Theatre, February 20th.

Noted Doctor Returns to Florida for Winter

Dr. E. J. Meinhardt, famous throughout the country for his skill in applying the Bloodless Methods and who especially became conspicuous since successfully attending John D. Rockefeller and other noted individuals, has returned to Daytona, Florida, to resume his winter practice.

Dr. Meinhardt became eminent after producing miraculous results in previously pronounced incurable Chronic Diseases and Deformities through application of his original Bloodless Methods—without the use of Surgery. It is said that his methods are similar to those employed by the famous Prof. Lorenz of Vienna, Austria. Patients come to Daytona from all parts of the United States every year to consult him.

Dr. Meinhardt has been attending Clinics throughout the northern Cities during the past summer months and he recently announced that he has advanced a complete relief for Rupture by the Bloodless Methods without using Medicine, Surgery or Injections.

is one of the jokes of the season. The government is spending millions in tax money to prohibit the booze traffic and all they prohibit is prohibition.

Earthquake in Hawaii will not make that country quite so popular as a summer resort or a winter resort for the people of the United States. It may be a bit of heaven as it has been described but with the earthquakes it may also be a bit of hell.

The German plutocrats who have been grinding down the common people for years and especially since the war, are trying to foment trouble in the Ruhr district because the seizure of their properties by the French will show up these people to the rest of Germany. There will be a great awakening in Germany in a few days and the French army will not suffer by it. This is our prediction.

Sanford, while not resting on the laurels at all in trucking or other industries, is reaching out for some of the tourist trade that is one of Florida's winter assets. She has published a very attractive two-color booklet, telling of water sports, golf, hunting, trap-shooting, etc., printed in the Record shop, St. Augustine.—Tavares Herald.

by putting in poultry as a side line. "It does not cost any more to take care of pure bred poultry than scrub stock and the returns are more than double. Mr. Harvard states that his feed bill is only $12 a day, which is a very small cost as compared with his returns on the investment. This week Mr. Harvard sold 300 hens to Oak Farms, Inc., at Quitman, Ga., the proprietor coming in person and hauling the hens to Quitman on a truck. These hens brought $2.75 each, another advantage over the old scrub of about $1.75.

"Mr. Harvard buys his baby chicks from a reliable poultry farm in the East and will order 4,000 this spring for fall layers. The chicks are guaranteed and the company furnishes enough baby chick feed to last a month.

"We would like to see more become interested in poultry farming and will guarantee that a few minutes' talk with Mr. Harvard will be all that is necessary to convince one of the fact that there is money to be made in the poultry business. Mr. Harvard or Mr. Matthews, our county agent, will furnish any information needed, and don't worry about the market for the eggs or chicks, Matthews will attend to that on the co-operative plan.

powers for the prevention of unjust and illegitimate actions. Many a rascally intention is dropped because of the possibility of "getting it in the papers." The papers publish what they can secure of "news," not with the idea of punishing—and names, incidents and actualities are but material upon which to base and intensify the story told. Without names of those who were a part of the incident there would be no story. To omit those renders the telling of the affair of the same weight as a rumor and void of all news tinge.—Palatka News.

Sanford, Florida

This is not an obituary notice and Sidney O. Chase is one of the few men alive that have graced the editorial page of this paper. It is merely a note that in this issue appears an excellent article about our distinguished fellow townsman from the Skinner Magazine of Dunedin. We like getting in the big city class and are prone to pass up the personal accounts and achievements of our fellow citizen but the editor of the Herald will never issue a sheet so large that we will overlook the good points in the people of Sanford and especially the people who have achieved big things in this world and in our own world in and about Sanford. The Herald is proud of Sanford citizens and only the modesty of S. O. Chase has prevented our writing something about him that would really describe his life. And the article in this issue can be read by the young men of this period and studied and taken for an example of the boy who had something definite in view when he started in life and who worked to that end undergoing the hardships of pioneering in a new country, having failures along with success and surmounting obstacles that would have discouraged many, not looking for the easy walks in life but taking the hard knocks and finally emerging from the fray with victory perched on his banner.

Day by day, in every way, it is being demonstrated that Florida is an agricultural state. While the citrus crop is at present the most important, the time is not far distant when this can no longer be truthfully said. The variety of farm crops which can be produced in this state is a surprise to the uninformed. The state has a type of soil to suit almost every kind of crop that can be grown in this latitude, and the people are awakening to this fact. The one crop farmers are becoming scarcer every year. Diversification is becoming the watchword, and this is as it should be. When the Florida farmer produces most of his staples on his own farm, with some staple crop as a side issue, he will have begun to live as a dirt farmer should.—Orlando Sentinel.

Any person who drives an automobile and who happens to collide with another car, accidentally or otherwise, and deliberately rushes away from the scene of the accident without inquiring as to what has happened, isn't entitled to very much sympathy. There are incidents chronicled every few days telling about people being run down and killed, of cars being struck by another car and of the mad dash that is made to get away and elude detection. No man should be afraid to face the truth whether he is right or wrong and if he is wrong running away from it, won't help matters if caught. The law cannot be too severe on the fellow who deliberately sneaks away from an injured person or who has damaged another automobile and if there ever is a case where a little committee attention could be used to advantage, this class of law dodgers need to be looked after first.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

JUST AS GOOD AS SANFORD.

There have been frequent references made in The Gazette to the fifteen acres of tiled land on Mabbette street owned by Mr. Nave. His experiment has been watched with interest, because we believe the results which he gets will play a big part in the future of Osceola county. Last week he shipped lettuce to the northern markets. Monday he received a wire stating that the shipment had been sold in Pittsburg for twenty-five cents a hamper more than the closest top price. Recently his lettuce did the same thing in Jacksonville, in competition with the older lettuce-growing sections of the state. Yesterday a Sanford buyer was in Kissimmee looking at the celery on this tiled land. That man, who knows the game, said the local celery is as fine as he ever saw. He further said Osceola can grow better lettuce than Sanford, and just as good celery. He estimated that in two weeks four car loads of celery will roll from the celery portion of this experiment in tiling. Less than nine months ago the land, which has produced two crops of lettuce and beans, peas, carrots and other vegetables, all at handsome profit, was uncultured pine and palmetto land!—Kissimmee Gazette.

Every time some new section of the state tries out celery and lettuce their first claim to recognition is the slogan of "just as good as Sanford." Well, we have no claim on the celery and lettuce of Florida or any other state. We just go along in our humble way shipping more vegetables under refrigeration than any other part of the world and with the biggest ice plant and cold storage plant in the state taking care of the thousands of cars of vegetables here every season. If you grow it as good as Sanford, brother, it is no lead pipe cinch that you will be able to sell it and make money on it. Most anyone can grow it and as you say grow it better than Sanford. But selling it, brother, selling it. "Ah, there is the rub" as Willy Shakespeare would say and Willy Harris will say, also.

CROSS-STATE LINES NEEDED

The people of both the east and west coasts of South Florida are keenly interested in the various projects for the construction of railroads and highways across the peninsula. There is common interest to be served by such lines of communication, and there is no doubt the very general desire of the people will result in both railway and highway being built in the very near future—it may be that several routes will be opened.

The announced purpose of the East Coast railway to build from Miami to Okeechobee, while not assuring a cross-state railway, is a substantial movement in that direction. The section to be opened up by this line is described as of unsurpassed fertility. The Times-Union, discussing this project and the desirability of a direct line across the lower peninsula, says:

The people of South Florida, will be especially glad to see a road leading northwest from Miami for what it promises for the future as well as for what will be accomplished by its completion. The west and east coasts of South Florida, only about 100 miles apart as the crow flies, are several hundred miles apart to transportation routes, and every line deflecting from the coast as it goes northward makes the gap between the railroads of the two coasts narrower. The gap will be filled before many years and it will be possible to go from Miami to Tampa without coming so far north as is necessary now. In fact, a reasonably straight line will be built sooner or later. We do not refer to this as a part of the East Coast railway's plan, for no mention has been made of that purpose, but it is the natural outgrowth of the filling in of south Florida by railroad lines.

The Everglades section has only been scratched, and yet enough has been done already in the way of development to show that it is a region of incomparable richness. It will not be more than a decade or two before it will be peopled with an industrious and thriving population. It is probable that in a generation that part of Florida, that is below the line separating Hillborough, Polk, Osceola and Pinellas from the county south of them will have more people than the entire state of Florida has now. It is a region of great resources and of the most rapid development and the new line of the East Coast railway will make much of it accessible.—Tampa Times.

The article in the Herald today is not a bunch of flowers in any sense of the word. It is straight from the heart of the writer who knew Mr. Chase and knew of many of his early struggles from his close friends who knew him then and know him now for what he is and has always been—a real honest-to-goodness American business man, a Sanford citizen, a Florida citizen, a modest and unassuming gentleman. We who know him best know him for what he is and we take delight in giving him the honor that is due him.

POULTRY FARMS WILL PAY

The Herald has always maintained that poultry raising in Florida would pay. But poultry raising like all other lines of business must be along business lines. The right kind of chickens must be raised and the right kind of feed must be raised and if imported feed must be purchased to fill in the home grown feed it should be done. The flocks must be watched with great care and the man who expects to make money from a poultry farm must give it his care and his time and whole attention. We are quite sure that poultry raising in this part of the state can be made a profitable business on lands that probably would not be fit for anything quite as profitable. The Suwannee Citizen gives an example of poultry raising that can be duplicated in any general farming county in the state and we mean by general farming the kinds of lands upon which corn and other staples can be profitably grown.

"KEEP MY NAME OUT OF THE NEWSPAPER"

Frequently it happens that some undemanding attempt is made to "put something over" the general public. There will be a surreptitious gathering of a little clientele which figures that while they may stand at the head and foster the plan there can be other parties, innocent of the real motive which actuates the movement, who can push the thing along; if they fail they must stand the brunt of the fizzle; if they win the promoters claim to be the originators.

In every case, however, there is a desire to avoid publicity. "Keep my name out of the paper" is the only response to inquiries. Questionable work and unfair actions shun the light of publicity. Rumors of trickiness may be laughed at and bluff may disarm suspicion—just so long as all statements are prefaced by "they say"; but once let the details appear in the press and there is a feeling of anger mingled with alarm, a desire to disarm public sentiment by threats of financial punishment, upon the part of those whose actions and intentions and plans have been presented to the always anxious public.

MONEY IN UTILITY PLANTS

Just now Sanford is interested in the ownership of the public utility plants and the citizens realize that taxes will never be any lower unless the city can realize something in return each year from a municipal owned water, light and gas plant. The first move in Sanford will be for the ownership of the water plant for Sanford must have a supply of pure soft water for drinking and domestic purposes. Our sulphur water is the purest water in the world and flowing from deep artesian wells in an unending stream of water cannot be contaminated by any foreign substances such as some water contains. But the sulphur cannot be removed it seems although other Florida cities have removed it by aeration and if the sulphur cannot be removed it is unpopular with the visitors to the city who object to the odor and the sulphur or the saline properties in the water are bad on the plumbing and the price paid for repairs each year make the water an expensive proposition. The following from the Orlando Sentinel tells about the municipal owned plants in that city recently taken over:

"Receipts of the municipal water

Galli Curci, the famous opera star, takes her exercise on the tops of the tall buildings in New York. Says there is plenty of fresh air there.

"Last spring Mr. Harvard bought 4,000 Leghorn baby chicks, paying 25 cents apiece for them; these in addition to stock already on the yard. Of these he raised over 3,000 and after culling the chicks and selling the roosters he now has over 3,000 laying hens. He states that the average number of eggs gathered by him daily is 1,100 and that he has a demand for more eggs than he can furnish, with standing orders with the Royal Ponciana at Palm Beach, the Royal Palm at Miami, the Ponce de Leon at St. Augustine, and the Mason and Seminole hotels at Jacksonville. The eggs are infertile, white and graded and he is now receiving 60 cents a dozen for every egg shipped while ordinary eggs bring not over 35 cents at the best.

There are several cases of this sort in Florida at the present time. Volusia county, Osceola county, Pinellas county, other counties, are the battlegrounds of those who declare publicity was the very last thing to be sought in the game being played. The application of financial salve is considered by some a complete adjustment for publicity that is distasteful—when those who make claims for compensatory funds know, morally, there are no grounds except a strong case of bluff upon which to base claims.

Receipts of the municipal water

Tampa is now in the clutches of the pirate crew of Gasparilla. Well, even that is better than being the clutches of some people we know.

Read what the electric rates will be in Orlando after the cut and then figure what Sanford would have under municipal ownership.

There are no grounds except a strong case of bluff upon which to base claims.

That cold wave may hit Florida but if it does there will have to be better time made than yesterday. We waited patiently all day for the freeze to come.

And then we can assure our winter visitors of one sure thing. If the cold wave does not come in this month it will not come at all. We have our real cold spells in February.

SIDNEY O. CHASE IS SELF-MADE MAN

HISTORY OF HIS EARLY LIFE AND STRUGGLES READS LIKE A ROMANCE

(From Skinner's Packing House News)

In 1878 Horace Greeley's famous advice was still persistently echoing and influencing young men to turn their steps toward the Pacific Coast, and it was there, in that year, that young Sidney O. Chase, of Germantown, Pa., had decided to go, when Fate turned him toward Florida instead, and the west lost a man of great ability. For, although it is popularly supposed that new countries develop and make men of force and character, in reality the opposite is true: that it is men of force and character who develop and make new countries. And Mr. S. O. Chase is of this type of inherent strength, with an inherited sturdiness not only of physique but well-weighted and well-controlled mental ballast.

It was when he was but eighteen that a friend in a Philadelphia bank advised him to try Florida instead of the west and gave him a letter of introduction to another young man of a few years' seniority, Mr. James E. Ingraham, then living at Sanford, general agent for Gen. H. S. Sanford, and just beginning his own long and successful career in Florida. It was also the beginning of a lifelong friendship, but it was indicative of young Chase's character that he refused both of the positions Mr. Ingraham could then offer him: night clerk at the Sanford House, or book-keeper in connection with the Sanford store. Young Chase said he could do book-keeping "back home", that he didn't come to Florida for that, and neither did the hotel offer appeal to him. It was in December that he arrived. The following February he went to Tampa to seek something more akin to his ideals. It took both determination and tenacity of purpose to undertake such a journey for in 1879 there was no railroad between Sanford and Tampa, but again the young man proved his resolution of character. He walked to Tampa and then back—for no opportunity there attracted him.

However, though he found a number of occupations open which did not appeal to him, orange-growing did; he was anxious to learn it literally "from the ground up," so, when an opportunity came for employment at General Sanford's grove, the famous "Belair," although it meant, the first year, merely "working for his board," he seized it, sensing that it was exactly what he needed. It was then an exception to find a scientific horticulturist in connection with practical orange culture, but at Belair there were two efficient Scotchmen in charge, one of whom was from the Glasgow Botanical Gardens. The instructions of these two men were invaluable and in his daily association with them young Chase learned more than perhaps a decade could otherwise have afforded and laid a broad foundation of knowledge of citrus culture which has been one of the secrets of his success. It is a pleasant and interesting fact that later he himself became the owner—now is—of the beautiful Belair grove.

Young Sidney Chase's ability and stability soon became recognized throughout the community; he was constantly given greater trusts and when his older brother, Mr. J. C. Chase, came from New York City to join him, he had already embarked on a substantial career of business success. From the first S. O. Chase has been identified with the growth of Sanford and his long record of association with its civic interests is illuminating. Sidney O. Chase cannot be fully sketched without a mention of some of these, because they prove in a peculiar way his ability. Only a man capable of unusual concentration could achieve in his business all that he has achieved and give of himself to his community as he has done. He was the first treasurer of the Land Department of the South Florida Railroad (1883-1888) and made up the first pay roll for that railroad, then under construction, and while still a very young man, was made one of the directors of the First National Bank of Sanford, succeeding his brother (who was a member of the original board). Another of the ways in which he served Sanford was as general manager of the Sanford Light and Fuel Company, a position he was asked to assume to straighten out its affairs during some troublous years of its existence. And when Sanford took upon itself the commission form, of municipal management, Mr. Chase was one of the original three men chosen to assume this responsibility. For practically forty years the Chase brothers, J. C. and S. O., as Chase & Co., have been active in the citrus development of Florida, adding originality to practical knowledge and far-sighted business methods. They were, for instance, the first Florida orange shippers to "strip" a car of fruit, putting inch-wide strips between the boxes to prevent too great weight and give ventilation. Now this practice is general although when the Chases inaugurated it they were considered foolish to attempt it. Mr. J. C. Chase spent some time in California in order to become familiar with California methods of culture with marketing, another instance of the broad lines, the educational methods, the firm employs.

But it is not only in connection with the citrus industry that Chase & Co. are known, for to citrus knowledge was added that of vegetable growing through many years of experiment and experience, and as Sanford developed into the largest and most important trucking section in Florida the business of Chase & Co. grew. In the early stages of the celery industry Chase & Co. saw the value of advertising Sanford celery in the far western markets and went to enormous expense to secure that trade. They had their middle west car-lot customers re-ship for them in five or ten-cent lots to California, Oregon and even Washington) the cost to Chase & Co. was one thousand dollars. That it paid to pioneer at even such expense, however, has been proved to them again and again and is one of the many examples which might be cited as the big way in which they have always done business. Chase & Co. now operate fruit and vegetable packing houses throughout Florida and have bonded representatives in all the principal car-lot markets (numbering over one hundred) in the United States and Canada, so that their "Suniland" and other brands are known far and wide.

Mr. J. C. Chase conducts the Jacksonville division of the farm's business and one of Mr. C. O. Chase's sons is associated with him there. But Mr. Sidney Chase has always been personally identified with Sanford, married there and with his wife (who was Miss Whitner) and two other sons, makes it his home and headquarters. The famous Belair grove in Seminole county, near Sanford, comprises 436 acres, of which fifty are in citrus trees. The "Isleworth Grove," owned by Mr. Chase, at Lake Butler, Orange county, has one thousand acres under fence, three hundred of which constitute one of the most beautiful groves in Florida. The Chase celery acreage at Sanford includes a number of large farms with an annual output of many carlots.

But, notwithstanding the great and varied interests of Chase & Co., it is not remarkable that to those who know him, at Sanford, his home, it is the personality of S. O. Chase which first occurs as of importance; it dominates his friends as it does his business, and this is perhaps the acid test of a man's influence—the surest sign of success in the world.

MOVIE STARS COMBINE TO KILL THE RING AND SAVE INDUSTRY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—A combination of seven leading motion picture stars and several independent "ring" exhibitors, will be formed within a few days, it was learned a few days ago. The combination will be a million dollar organization.

Douglas Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Norma and Constance Talmadge, Jackie Coogan, Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd and perhaps Charles Ray, who has the matter under consideration, will make up the organization. Joseph M. Schenck and D. W. Griffith will be interested. There was a meeting at the Fairbanks residence of several of those interested.

Another purpose of the organization will be censorship.

"Censorship within reasonable bounds is valuable, but foolish censorship is a detriment," Schenck said in a lengthy interview.

Schenck said in various parts of the country there existed rings of motion picture exhibitors, where every theatre was owned by one person, or group of persons, who told independent producers they would pay so much for a picture and if that was not acceptable, the producer could stay out of the territory.

"This leaves the producer helpless," the statement said. "If this combination were permitted to expand, the result would be the squeezing of the industry from pictures."

Schenck declared this would kill some of the greatest film spectacles. It was said it was not the purpose of the new organization to oppose the policies of Will Hays, as long as they continued as they were.

County Highway Beautification Association Organized

Good Meeting Last Night and Association Started

The meeting held last night of the Special Committee appointed from the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of organizing a county highway beautification commission, resulted in the perfection of the Sanford unit, with the following officers: Mrs. H. E. Wight, president; Mrs. John Meisch, vice-president; R. W. Pearman, Jr., secretary-treasurer.

D. L. Thrasher presided as temporary chairman in the absence of Dr. Blackman and appointed committees to immediately proceed with the work of building up a strong local body.

E. F. Housholder, Geo. W. Knight, Dr. S. Fuleston and A. P. Connelly comprise the committee on preparing constitution and by-laws. In this connection it was stated that the secretary secure methods of procedure in this particular from similar organizations in California that are known to be the best for this purpose.

The membership committee consists of Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. Harry Heeren and Mrs. Donald P. Drummond. It was tentatively agreed at the meeting that the nominal sum of one dollar be charged for membership in the association.

The legislative committee which will draft whatever legislation is necessary for the furtherance of the work consists of E. F. Housholder, chairman, John Meisch and Fred T. Williams.

Despite the fact that the meeting had been widely advertised through the press and by personal letters to a large number of supposedly interested people throughout Seminole county there was but a small attendance, which to those who are wholeheartedly working for the beautification of the county highways, was most discouraging. The fact that such little interest was shown by county officials was also very much deplored. It is hoped that future meetings of this kind will attract a larger majority of citizens, and place Seminole county in the position of leading rather than emulating our progressive neighboring counties in the work of highway beautification.

QUICK RESULTS FROM BAD EFFECTS OF 'FLU' AND 'GRIPPE'

"Don't Try to 'Wear Off' Weakness Resulting from These Diseases"—Is Advice Given Sufferers RE-CU-MA Quickly Builds Up System After Disease

It takes months, often years, to entirely recover from a bad case of "Flu" or "Grippe." It means weeks of suffering, during which the patient often declares that life holds no pleasures and that death would be welcome.

"Flu" and "Grippe" attack the weakest organ of the body. They always leave their victims weak and in a run-down and nervous condition, at the mercy of any malady which may attack the system—already worn out by disease.

All who have had "Flu" or "Grippe" need a system building tonic. RE-CU-MA supplies this need. You do not have to wait weeks to notice the improvement after taking RE-CU-MA. Its beneficial effects are quick and lasting.

The entire system is built up and strengthened and you feel like a new person. Take RE-CU-MA today, you will feel better tomorrow. Price $1.00 a bottle. On sale in Sanford at the Union Pharmacy and at almost all good drug stores.—Adv.

COUNTER JUMPERS JUMP OFF TO GOOD START AND BROTHERHOOD TEAM VICTIMS

Tyler Grabs Honors for High Score, Rolling an Average of Better Than 160

The second half of the bowling league was officially opened last night and the first game went to the Merchants, they romping on one of the new clubs in the league, Jimmy Stewart's Brotherhood team.

A margin of 223 pins in the Counter Jumpers favor looked like a bad defeat for the newcomers but in looking over the results it will be learned that the Merchants were bowling a little over their head and this defeat does not mean that the Brotherhood team will not forge to the front. They have several good ones and after getting going they should make some others sit up and take notice.

SKATING AND DANCING, LAKE MARY SKATING ACADEMY, WEDNESDAY NIGHT, 268-41c

LANG ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE FLORIDA STATE LEAGUE FOR '23

Will Take in Bradentown to Fill Indians Place—Schedule Consists of 120 Games

It is virtually settled that the Florida State League will march along another season although they will move than likely drop from Class C to Class D. Should Jacksonville not go, Bradentown will take her place, and Bradentown's advent into the league will make it a Class D league automatically as Bradentown's population is not large enough for a Class C League.

Jacksonville was not represented at Orlando Sunday and reports from Jacksonville have it that it is extremely probable that Bradentown will take the Indians franchise and the league remain a six club organization. No reference was made to Donnick Mullaney's claim or any ruling by Judge Landis in regards to the same. The Orlando Sentinel had the following to say about it this morning:

"Former Mayor Al Lang, of St. Petersburg, was elected president of the Florida State League and an announcement was made that Bradentown will probably become a member of the league at the annual meeting here Sunday afternoon.

"Mr. Lang was elected after former President Walter W. Rose had declined to serve another term, and the club owners promptly elected Mr. Rose an honorary director for life in appreciation of his service to the league as its chief executive since it was founded.

"The exact date of opening of the 1923 season was left to the decision of the schedule committee, which is made up of Frank Cullen of Orlando; H. Armstrong of Daytona; and Claude Henley of Lakeland. It will not open later than April 2, nor earlier than April 3, the members of the committee said.

"The league will become a class D organization if Bradentown is admitted, as that city's population is not large enough to admit it to class C baseball. There is a possibility, too, that the circuit will be increased to eight cities if Jacksonville should decide to retain its franchise.

"By general agreement only two men who have participated in a certain number of games in a league higher than class C will be allowed each club. A split season will be played, the same as last year, each half to consist of sixty games, and the salary limit will probably be the same. Jacksonville was the only member city not represented at the meeting."

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

"Making a Man" at the Princess tonight.

And Jack Holt will show you how 'tis done.

This man makes a fortune, goes to New York and forgets who he is, doesn't know he has money, gets into all kinds of mixups and then—well, see it work out, it's great.

And Osborne, to be certain you get full money's worth tonight, added a Snub Pollard Comedy to this good picture.

John C. Smith, that Galt Refining Co. Smith, and Mrs. John C. and Wilson, are the honored guests at the Princess tonight. Osborne left orders that John should be notified to bring his family and see "Making a Man."

"The Masquerade" is a good one and it comes to Sanford tomorrow night. What do you think of a man who has to play husband with a strange woman? That's what happens in the "Masquerade."

"The Bond Boy" Thursday and the week end feature is "The World's Applause," at the Princess Friday and Saturday.

Amongst some of the good ones coming to the Princess are "A Daughter of Luxury," "Larceny" and others. Watch for the announcements.

CELERY SEED

The Merchants are in first place.

Battling a thousand now if they never do it again.

Warren Tyler is leading the league in averages—for a minute.

Brotherhood team ain't so bad. Some of their good ones haven't turned out as yet and Jimmy says wait 'till they do.

Big game scheduled for tonight, The Men's Club, the only team to defeat the Champs last half will play them tonight and some fun can be seen at this game.

Farmers and Chase will play tomorrow night and the Rotes have the pleasure of introducing the other new team into the league, the American Legion.

Bradentown comes back into the Florida State League. That's nice, if Sanford couldn't make the grade we are glad to see there are other towns in the state that can stage a come back.

And Mr. Lang takes Mr. Rose's job as president. Guess Katter has gotten himself about fed up on the Florida State League affairs.

Daytona will not drop her franchise as was rumored during the past several weeks—at least now now.
