THOUSANDS SEE DEDICATION OF NORRIS DAM

President Roosevelt touched a telegraph key in the White House that set off a screaming siren at Norris dam as the signal for lowering the sluiceway gates—and so was dedicated the world's fourth largest structure of its kind on the Clinch river near Knoxville, Tenn. At the upper left, Dr. H. A. Morgan (left), David Lilienthal (center) and Dr. A. S. Morgan (right), the latter chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, are shown waiting for the siren to sound. Chief Machinist Charles Barnes (upper right) catches the signal and turns the lever that lowers the gates. Then the crowd around the speaker's stand at the foot of the dam looks on as the flow of water is stopped. (Associated Press Photos)

Man Held Here For Car Theft Is Ex-Convict

'Dare Devil' Arrested 16 Times During Last 17 Years In Number Of States

"Dare Devil" Jack Stevenson, arrested by the Sanford police on Feb. 27 for the attempted theft of the night before of J. T. Johnson's Ford car, has a long criminal record, according to information received by Chief of Police Roy G. Williams last night from J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Bureau of Investigation (the "G man") in Washington. The man's finger prints on file in the bureau show that during the last 17 years he has been arrested 16 times and has served sentences in county jails and state prisons.

The self-styled "dare devil" is in the county jail, along with Howard Wilderson and Albert Overholser and two women, all members of a troupe that put on an "automobile circus" in Daytona Beach and came here from that city with the intention of giving a similar exhibition here. One of the women claimed to be the wife of Stevenson and the other told police she was Wilderson's wife. One of the women, the finger print record disclosed, had served 100 days for adultery.

According to the records on file in Washington, Stevenson started his criminal career in Leeds, N. D., in 1919, when he was convicted for reckless driving, but he was paroled by the bench. He broke his parole before the year was out and his record from then on (operating under the name of either Harry Wilbur or W. H. Stevenson for the next six years) was as follows:

Dec. 12, 1919—Memphis, Tenn. Jail for attempted robbery.

Dec. 14, 1921—Kansas City, Mo. Jail for the same as Jack Stevenson. (Continued on Page Two)

Armed Trio With $50,000 Loot Is Taken In Miami

MIAMI BEACH, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Miami Beach police reported the arrest of three armed bandit suspects and recovery of loot valued at some $50,000.

Two young patrolmen, while off duty, took the men in custody after a near-gunfight, in which officers beat one of the men to drawing a pistol.

The loot seized with the men included jewelry, clothing and pawn tickets for other alleged stolen goods.

Police believed the arrests partially solved a series of daring hold-ups staged here recently, largest of which was the $20,000 Colony hotel arm robbery.

These taken in custody were booked as George B. Corbin and Jerry Sullivan, both of Miami Beach, and Robert Howard of Forest Hills, L. I.

Patrolmen W. R. Murray and J. W. Owens arrested the men at a room after trailing them there when they became suspicious. The loot was found in the room.

Officers said the man listed as Howard confessed to 10 robberies at Miami Beach. At the time of their arrest, all three were armed, and one of them attempted to draw a pistol, police said.

Ex-Gov. Catts Died Today At The Age Of 72

War Time Governor Who Came To State To Preach Led A Long, Colorful Life

DEBUNKIAK SPRINGS, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Sidney Johnston Catts, war-time governor of Florida, died here at 2 A. M. today. He was 72 and had been ill for several days. His wife and daughter, Miss Ruth Catts of Tallahassee, were at his bedside.

Catts left the governor's office in January of 1921 after serving five years. He sought the Democratic nomination in 1928 but was defeated, and since then lived quietly at his home here.

Accomplishments of his administration to which he pointed with pride were prohibition, abolition of the convict leasing system, lowered taxes, and a plus balance in the State treasury at the end of his term. Politician, preacher, lawyer, merchant, farmer and reformer were some of the titles Catts won in a long and colorful life.

Catts was born July 31, 1863, on an Alabama plantation. He was ordained a minister of the Baptist Church in 1885 and moved to DeFuniak Springs as pastor of the Baptist Church, finally entering the insurance business from which he went into politics.

In 1911 he was indicted by a federal grand jury on a charge of participating in counterfeit money operations. A mistrial resulted. Catts declared the indictment a "political frame-up" and declared he was innocent.

He was a candidate for the United States Senate in 1920 but was defeated by Duncan U. Fletcher.

Saying that a "critical situation prompts this letter," Mr. Roosevelt directed his request to J. J. Peley, president of the Association of American Railroads, and J. A. Phillips, vice chairman of the Association of Railway Labor Executives.

The president also proposed that if negotiations failed, management and men "confer jointly with me." A series of labor-management conferences, already have been held.

England Would Go To Their Assistance, Eden Declares At Meeting Of House

War Impossible, Say The French

England's Sympathy With Peace Offer Disappoints Them

LONDON, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden warned Germany today that any attack upon France or Belgium in violation of the Locarno treaty would force Great Britain to go to the assistance of those two nations. At the same time he told the House of Commons he was thankful to say there is no reason to suppose "the present German action implies a threat of hostilities."

The House of Commons was packed to the doors to hear Eden expound the British position in this moment when Germany has violated the Locarno pact by throwing troops into the demilitarized Rhineland and France has retaliated with war-time garrisoning of her fortifications along the frontier.

The minister told legislators that the course taken by the German government complicates and aggravates the international situation. "Abrogation of the Locarno pact and occupation of the demilitarized zone have profoundly shaken confidence in any arrangement in which the government of Germany may enter in the future," said Eden.

At the same time he gave his warning to Germany. Eden indicated that Great Britain is willing to consider Reichsmarshal Hitler's proposals for new peace pacts. He said Great Britain would examine them clearly and objectively and to determine their merits. He said one of the most important foundations of the peace of western Europe has been swept away and "if peace is to be secured there is a manifest duty to rebuild."

Premier Benito Mussolini has informed France that in event of conflict resulting from the Locarno crisis, Italy is ready to assist France against Germany—even militarily, it was learned last night. Revelation of Italian sympathy with France materially stiffened the British attitude toward Germany.

France Disappointed

PARIS, Mar. 9.—(AP)—French officials declared today that war with Germany to resist Hitler's troops from the Rhineland was impossible and that Great Britain's apparent sympathy with Hitler's peace offers blocked French demands for "justice."

The speech of Eden aroused ex-citations of bitter disappointment and the French atmosphere there is morose gloom. Officials said France had relied upon the loyalty of her allies—the "little entente" Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia and Roumania and upon her newly found friend, Russia. But they said that France, even with the major portion of her "iron ring" around Germany, must hesitate to take drastic action "if Great Britain deserts us."

Germany's military strength totals 2,470,000 men, according to a semi-official French estimate made by Gen. Henri Albert Niessel, famous war-time division commander in the French army.

General Niessel's estimate distributed the Nazi state's strength as follows: 1,200,000 Brown Shirt militia; 500,000 regular army; 700,000 border police; 200,000 men in labor camps; and 120,000 militarized police.

To Be Envid

The name of Paul Redfern has come in for a lot of publicity lately because of the innumerable searching parties which have been formed in an effort to locate him and because of the many reports as to his whereabouts, most of which turned out to be pure fiction. We have heard so much about Redfern that we are almost inclined not to lose much sympathy on him and to agree with the writer, Jay Franklin, who says:
"Paul Redfern has missed the 'bigotry' campaign of 1928, the election of Herbert Hoover, the Hoover panic of 1929, the world depression, the bread lines, the 'best minds' method of restoring prosperity by incantation, the flight of Sam Insull, the jailing of Capone, the 'Roosevelt revolution' of 1932, the bank crash of 1933, NRA, AAA, TVA, PWA, Ickes, Hopkins, Tugwell, Coughlin, Townsend, Huey Long, the resurrection of the Supreme Court, the Liberty League, the repeal of prohibition, the trans-Pacific flights, the Lindbergh kidnaping, and the dust storms. If he is not saved in time, he may miss Alf Landon, Frank Knox, Bill Borah, and Vandenberg as well.

"Now he languishes in the jungle, worshipped as a god, without need of money, with food supplied freely and doubtless with plenty of dusky maidens to dance before him, witch doctors to proclaim his holiness and the friendly tropics to moderate the struggle for existence.
"Rescue Redfern? Hell, no! Let's join him!"

Not Self Sufficient
It is generally believed that the United States is almost self sufficient and that if we were cut off from other countries in the matter of commerce we could not survive without undue hardships. But such is not the case, for in the matter of essential war materials alone the United States is dependent in a large part upon importations.
"The War Department," says the Tampa Tribune, "has listed 28 raw materials which are essentials. These include eight metals, two minerals, two food products, and a miscellany of 14 vegetable and fibrous materials. These commodities must be imported from countries scattered widely over the world. They must be imported because we either have none of them or a small or inferior supply. One circumstance, however, tends to make the case a little less serious. This is the fact that for many of the materials mentioned, a home supply is being developed or synthesized, and perfectly satisfactory substitutes are being found for some others.

"In the outstanding case of rubber, for example, the records show that while the British Empire controls 75 percent of the world's supply, we normally consume 80 percent. It is not necessary to state that rubber is a vital raw material, both to armies and civilians. Thus, it is encouraging to learn that we have three excellent substitutes for rubber in Duprene, Thiokol, and Koroseal. These three are more expensive than plantation rubber but in time of war that extra expense would simply be overlooked.

"Manganese—a war-essential mineral—we have in this country but one ore are all very poor quality. Yet manganese is necessary in the manufacture of steel. So far no satisfactory substitute has been discovered.
"Some of the other important commodities, for the supply of which we depend wholly or largely upon other countries, are: wool, platinum, coffee, manila fiber, mercury, nickel, shellac, camphor, hides, sugar, tin, silk, antimony."

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 9.—

Norwemen Talk Of Again Fortifying The Aland Islands

Sweden And Finland Fear Naval Battle In The Baltic Sea

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Suggestion that the Aland Islands be fortified once more, in view of the renewed struggle for naval supremacy in the Baltic, are being advanced by military experts in both Finland and Sweden.

With the new German air building fast, and with increased support activity at Leningrad, there is a mounting concern over the islands which have recognized strategic importance in Baltic waters.

It is the thought of a naval battle in the Baltic that makes Finland and Sweden look at the Aland Islands with anxiety. From the once highly fortified group, the coasts of Sweden and Finland could be dominated.

In an article published here last week by Admiral G. von Schouls, Russian liaison officer with the British fleet in the World War, recommendations that the Finnish government try immediately for permission to fortify Aland.

Mutual defense of the islands by Sweden and Finland, he points out, would prevent the islands from falling into the hands of a Baltic naval power with possibility of bombardment and raids.

Situated only 25 miles from the coast of Sweden, and only 15 from Finland, the archipelago commands the entrance to the port of Stockholm and the approaches to the Gulf of Bothnia through which most Swedish shipping is carried.

There are nearly 300 islands, of which about 80 are inhabited, the rest being desolate rocks. Deep water and intricate channels make them ideal as a fleet base.

Formerly the possession of Sweden, then Russia, the islands were awarded to Finland by the League of Nations on June 24, 1921. They have played an important role in Baltic military history.

The Treaty of Paris, in 1856, provided for their complete demilitarization but in 1905 Russia was charged with breaking the treaty by erecting fortifications. These were ordered destroyed by the Geneva agreement of 1920.

Indians Arriving For Festival At The Bok Tower

LAKE WALES, Mar. 9.—Semi-tive in Lake Wales Saturday started work on their village near the Bok Singing Tower at Mountain Lake Sanctuary where they will hold their festival on Sunday, Mar. 15. Fifty braves and their families are expected.

They will build a lodge of palm-leaf thatch. This lodge will remain permanently in the sanctuary grounds or be used each year at the annual Seminole Festival, and as an educational exhibition for persons interested in Seminole life, traditions and practices.

A feature of the Seminole Festival will be the playing by Antonio Brice of four genuine Seminole songs—"The Haming Song," "The Night Love Song," the so-called "John Jumper Hymn," and "The Chalkin Dance" in an arrangement by Susan Dyer.

Only one of these songs, the last has ever been heard by the public. These songs were discovered and carefully preserved by Mrs. Minnie Moore-Wilson, the well-known historian of Florida. The songs are so old that they have never been heard before by many of the Seminoles who will be present at the festival.

Deluxe harmony, particularly in "The Haming Song," will emphasize the new generally accepted belief that many of the Seminoles were of Aztec origin, having fled from Mexico to Florida during the invasion by Cortez.

Mayor T. L. Dumas Taken By Death; Funeral Tomorrow

improved that relatives who had been at his bedside, believing him out of danger, left a week ago Sunday for their homes. That night he took a turn for the worse and he was held out for him for the next two days. He rallied again, however, and was able to converse with friends on Friday, but that night suffered another relapse.

When the mayor suffered the relapse the first of the work his daughters were immediately advised of by change in condition and they returned and both Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Arthur Hazard of Augusta, Ga., were with Mr. Dumas during his last hours.

The death of Mayor Dumas has cast a pall over the City of his adoption where he had for a number of years been a factor in civic and community life. Of a genial disposition, a good story teller, quick at repartee, the mayor was known and loved by a large circle of friends, and expressions of regret over his death were heard on every street corner.

Mayor Dumas had been a resident of Sanford since the Spring of 1917, shortly before his elevation to the superintendency of the Jacksonville district of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, a position he held at the time of his death. He had been with the A. C. L. since 1907 and served as a trainmaster for 10 years. Before that he was with the Southern Railroad, serving as ticket agent in a half dozen towns in Virginia and the Carolinas, as train dispatcher and as yardmaster.

Between the time he was with the Southern and before he came to the A. C. L., Mr. Dumas was chief train dispatcher for the Seaboard Railway, from Aug. 1, 1904, to May 3, 1907. The next day he was appointed trainmaster for the A. C. L., went to Jacksonville on Nov. 1 of that year as train dispatcher, to Jacksonville on Feb. 1, 1917, as trainmaster, and to Sanford on Aug. 1, 1917, as superintendent of the Jacksonville division of the road.

He was born in Rome, Georgia, on Feb. 7, 1866, and celebrated his 70th birthday on Feb. 7, the day he suffered what was thought at the time to be only a slight accident, but an accident that cost him his life in little more than a month. His father was also a native of Rome. The future railroad and city executive attended the graded schools in Rome, and then went to the high school in Seaside, S. C. He entered the railroad business when 16 years of age.

Mayor Dumas always took an active interest in civic and charity affairs and soon saw his influence felt in the city of his adoption.

Mrs. Dumas, the former Miss Fannie Rorer of Anderson, S. C., died several years ago. Two daughters survive, Mrs. R. Arthur Hazard of Augusta, Ga., and Mrs. Raymond C. Phillips of Jacksonville, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson of Seaside, S. C.

Did you know the POTASH in our Nitrate of Potash is immediately soluble?
And that your Celery will benefit and get out from its use?
The Ammonium Nitrate is the same as we formerly had in the Old Style reground Chilean Nitrate, and works quickly; Potash is as good as the Ammonium, and it is the Ideal TOP DRESSER. It is 14 percent Potash.

Irene Dunne, Robert Taylor Are Stars In Late Motion Picture

It is difficult to attempt a dispassionate review of "Magnificent Obsession," Universal's John M. Stahl production which opens a 3-day engagement at the Ritz theater yesterday, with Irene Dunne and Robert Taylor in the starring roles. Rarely has the screen shown a more touching motion picture than this filled as it is with heart quickening drama and delightful comedy—a skillful blending of light and shade, revealing the story of the compelling power of a great love. Here, indeed, is a picture which will be remembered for years as an outstanding example of screen artistry.

The charming Miss Dunne plays the greatest role of her career, and her performance even exceeds those of "Cimarron" and "Back Street." During a part of the picture she is blind, and her experiences brought tears to the eyes of almost everyone in the audience. Taylor is revealed as a dramatic actor of exceptional ability and fully justifies Hollywood's announcement that this handsome young man is the most important screen discovery of the year. Scenes between these two are pre-capable contingent marched and rode through these cities.

A spirited crowd estimated at 500,000 lined the streets of Düsseldorf to greet part of the Sixteenth Artillery unit and an aircraft group.

Frankfurt also got an artillery unit as did Cologne, which yesterday received infantry and an air corps.

Düsseldorf, which before the war was garrisoned with 1000 men, abandoned itself completely. The Rhine reminded one of the war-time scenes, when the best of the population threw its arms around the soldiers.

Windows and seats along the marching lines were filled with persons waving handkerchiefs, girls' pinned flowers to the breasts of their men and the brides of their grooms, while "Hitler Youth" units distributed cigarettes.

The troops were followed by Major General Keuben, near whom Leo Schlageter, near whom he was shot by the French during the foreign occupation.

A long procession of old soldiers and Nazi party formations, including storm troops, marched through Cologne with banners and banners in Hindenburg Park, built on old fortifications, where flags were draped.

The great army staffs were received by the city fathers in the city halls of towns where they are stationed.

Dalmatian Cheese Is Sold On U.S. Market

SPLIT, Yugoslavia, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Yugoslavs in the United States are consuming the entire production of sheep cheese made on the little islands of Dalmatia, Silba and Molat, along the Adriatic coast of Dalmatia.

The inhabitants of the islands have formed a cooperative to produce a special kind of cheese obtained from native sheep crossed with Spanish goats. They have found a ready market among the Yugoslav owners of restaurants in America for their product at about 25 cents a pound.

Oriental Musicians To Play For Hitler

NANKING, Mar. 9.—(AP)—A new way of relaxation from the cares and duties of party and state is in store this spring for Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler. A group of old school Chinese musicians are on their way to Europe to render the German chancellor with music produced on bamboo flutes, erhu skin fiddles and ancient harps.

Louis J. Odell of Philadelphia spent the weekend at the hotel. Among the Saturday night guests at the Mayfair were: H. M. Leighley of Atlanta and P. E. Mixon and J. A. Hinker of Callahan.

TVA Power Lines Spreading Over Valley As Big Cities Vie For New Electric Power

MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala., Mar. 9.—(AP)—The big Tennessee valley, from the mountains of southwest Virginia and North Carolina westward to Memphis, is stirring anew as cities and towns vie for TVA power.

Three of Tennessee's largest cities, Memphis, Chattanooga, Knoxville, spurred into action by a United States Supreme Court ruling that the Tennessee valley authority can sell surplus electricity produced at Wilson dam, are seeking power from the government agency.

All three cities have voted bonds to build municipal distribution systems or buy competing facilities. The court decision also held that TVA could convey the electricity generated at the big Tennessee river dam to a "reasonable market."

As a result the authority is hurrying transmission lines into villages and rural sections.

Memphis and Knoxville have signed 20-year contracts for TVA power supply.

Shffield, Ala., a few miles from the war-time Wilson dam, plans to cut its street lighting system in on a TVA line soon, ending an 18-year fight of the city for power from the government project. Officials of Florence and Tusculum, nearby cities, like those at Sheffield, are working on plans to build new distribution systems or buy existing facilities.

Mayor U. E. Moore of North Little Rock has announced he will seek TVA power for the city's municipal owned plant. City officials of Cincinnati have asked for a conference with TVA directors on the

Death And Disease Beaten By Chinese Railroad Builders

NANKING, Mar. 9.—(AP)—The Americans who blazed the trail of the "iron horse" across the plains and mountains of the Wild West faced no greater dangers than those overcome by the men who have just completed the first railroad in China to be surveyed, engineered and financed entirely by Chinese.

None of these modern Chinese railroad pioneers but the dust with Indian arrows quivering in their breast, but 100 of their number were killed by bandit bullets and 1,000 died of disease before the line was ready from Kiangsu province in the heart of central China to Shanghai on the coast.

So great was the bandit menace in 1934, when road and chainmen set out to survey the right of way across the mountains of Chekiang and Kiangsu provinces, that black horses had to be built.

Hardly had the bandits been cleared from the area than torrential summer rains swept away sections of the road bed and bridge foundations.

The success of the new line has inspired the national ministry of railways to project extensions which will reach the western borders of the country and give China its first transcontinental railroad.

Daily Cost At State School For Girls Is 96 Cents Per Inmate

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 9.—(AP)—State auditors have reported to Governor Sholtz that maintenance costs of the Florida Industrial School for Girls at Ocala total 96 cents a day for each inmate.

The audit covered the period from Dec. 1, 1932, to June 30, 1935, and auditors said they found credits at the institution in good order.

There were 93 inmates. The 96 cents a day cost of maintaining them compared with 83 cents a day for the 417 boys in the Industrial school at Marianna, 70 cents for 1,645 at the Railroad state farm, and 614 for the 3,835 at the Florida State hospital.

Dairy and farm products produced at the school had a value of $11.67 above what the products could have cost in the open market, the auditors said.

Mrs. Mabel Z. Way was superintendent of the school from Dec. 1, 1932, to Aug. 15, 1933, when Mrs. Lola C. Skipper succeeded her.

Go West! Is China's Urge To Youth In Its Flooded Areas

NANKING, Mar. 9.—(AP)—Go West, young man, is again the cry. But this time the "West" means the vast plateau and mountain land of central Asia, and the "young man" is the Chinese youth whose home lands have been swept away by Yangtze River floods.

Thousands of years ago the Chinese laid the foundations of their civilization in what is now northwest China, but the Juts of reener fields and easier living lured the tribes eastward to the river valleys and sea coast.

Over-population and calamities of nature have caused the national government to seek homes in the long forgotten west for the aimless descendants of the men and women who first took root in the western wasteland which modern transportation and scientific irrigation is reclaiming.

Records Proving Mdd In 'Bossy' Is A Better Milker

URBANA, Ill., Mar. 9.—(AP)—"Bossy," the patient milk cow, is doing better work. In the opinion of J. G. Cash, University of Illinois dairy specialist, the average cow today is as big an improver over her sisters of 10 years ago as modern streamlined automobiles are superior to the old gas buggies.

Setting the standard for advancement in the milk cow "mob" have been the dairy herd improvement associations, says Cash. At present, there are 58 of these associations, sponsored by the agricultural college of the university, in which 20,000 cows are being tested for milk and butterfat production.

Looking back over past records in Illinois, Cash says 1925 dairy herd improvement association cows averaged 282 pounds of butterfat, against an average of 24.9 pounds in 1934.

"On the basis of 1934 prices the late model cow cleared $64 above feed cost," he says. "On the same basis the 1925 cow would have cleared $52 or $12 less."

"If dairy herd improvement associations had obtained no better production in 1934 than they did in 1925, the total would have been $210,000 less for the 20,000 members cows of the state."

Because of a shortage of feed following the 1934 drought, Cash says that average production for 1935 was somewhat less than in 1934.

"With less feed available, production was bound to go down, but it is expected that the amount of butterfat produced for each pound of feed will be maintained because of better cows and more careful feeding and herd management," he says.

How's Your Health

ROCK RUST DISEASE
Among the dusts in which workers are exposed in numerous industries, silica, commonly found in nature as quartz and asbestos (silicate of magnesium) are two noteworthy ones.

The inhalation of these dusts, in any appreciable amount, produces definite disease in the lungs. In the case of silicosis, it contributes to the development of cancer and usually results in tuberculosis.

Dr. Leroy U. Gardner, director of the Saranac Laboratory for the Study of Tuberculosis, is an outstanding authority on this subject. His comments are largely paraphrased below.

To do stop silicosis, the worker must be exposed to relatively high concentrations of dust day after day for a period of years.

Among the industries in which silicosis is a common hazard are:

Mother Advised Ailing Daughter To Take Cardui

Many, many women have taken Cardui on the advice of their mothers who had been helped by it.

"I would have severe cramping spells," writes Mrs. F. C. Allen, of Smithville, Miss. "I would get nauseated and feel faint and would have to go to bed. I was afraid to go away from home, for fear I would faint and fall. My mother, having used Cardui with good result, advised me to try it."

"I am so glad I took Cardui and got relief, for it has done wonders for me."

If you suffer this way send to the drug store for a bottle of Cardui and begin taking it today. Of course, if Cardui does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. —Ad.
