

County Board Actions

By ANN SIECKOWSKI

Paint for striping county roads has been authorized by the Board of County Commissioners. A total of 3300 gallons at a cost of $7,000 will be required for the next six months.

Commissioner Dick Williams said that he would recommend that road superintendent, J. C. Lavender be authorized the full amount of paint, since "we won't save money by delay or bid. There is some emergency for this paint now."

The Board established a bid policy. I recommend bid purchase except in bonafide emergencies, or at least the contact of two bidders on price.

Lavender told the Board that he had 200 gallons of paint on hand, and that his program would be hurt by a shortage. He said that paint for one week would cost about $1000.

"In the interests of public health and safety," Commissioner Sid Viblen said, "and based on the recommendations of Commissioner Williams and Mr. Lavender, and the emergency which appears to be in existence, and the cost of purchasing in smaller amounts, I feel the bid should be waived, and that we should award the contract in the amount of $7,282 to Armstrong Paint in Atlanta."

Commissioner John Kimbrough cast the one dissenting vote. Lavender was also authorized to seek bids for the remaining six months supply of paint.

Traffic Signal Modifications

The design for two proposed traffic signal modifications for left turn movements on 17-92 and SR 434 has been completed, according to a report by county engineer, Bill Bush. He said that the State Department of Transportation will request the manner in which to handle the signals. Bush also reported that the intersection at Lake Mary Boulevard and 17-92 has been surveyed and that a need for a signal has been found justifiable. This signal is being designed.

In other reports, Bush said that Sand Lake Road is posted 35 miles per hour during the night, with 25 mph signs posted between 6:30 a. m. and 9:30 a. m. and between 11:30 a. m. and 3:40 p. m. The road is not classified as an arterial road and the posted speed limit is low. "The traffic volume is very low except at school hours, therefore, I do not believe a speed limit is justified," Bush concluded.

Lavender said that a simple flasher light could be attached to the existing ordinance for a speed trap, according to Lavender, and there have been as many as 20 arrests in one day. These are citations with fines and Drummond said, "the only way to eliminate the problem is the erection of a simple light which Lavender feels will cost a maximum of $200. The flasher can be erected on top of the speed sign and will be operated by the school."

Early Christmas Paycheck

On action of the Board, County Employees will receive their December paychecks on December 22, in time for last minute shopping spree. During the past weekend, county employees were engaged in moving from the old courthouse to the new facility. They were given the option to take compensatory time off or receive overtime pay 1 1/2 times regular for all hours over 8 hours per day or 40 hours per week.

County Attorney Howard Marsee was instructed to check the invoice from Greenhut Construction Company for electricity from September 15 through November 15, in the amount of $5,144.91.

Arbor Ordinance

County Attorney Howard Marsee reported that in order to have the arbor ordinance effective for presentation on January 16, he would require the help of someone who is familiar with trees. Frank Jask, County agriculture agent was suggested as was the Forestry Service.

The County is ready to close the mental health facility and all necessary documents have been forwarded to the Florida Hospital attorney. Marsee reported that the appraisal price of the 28,400 square feet of land adjacent to the hospital on which the mental health facility will be constructed, is $17,300.

On motion of Commissioner John Kimbrough, the Board voted to apply the county allocation of $15,000 to the mental health center, and an additional $2,300 from the bond funds toward the purchase price of the land. It was pointed out by Drummond that Federal revenue sharing funds will be available for capital outlay for the facility.

In other action, Gilbert Blake reported for the Circuit Clerk that the clerk's office has been attempting for some time now to get authorization for destruction of county records from years past. These records have been placed on microfilm and the original copies can be destroyed upon authorization. Blake said that Judge Dominik Salfi refuses to sign the court order which is necessary.

Marsee said that since these records affect the entire county, a public hearing will be necessary. The records are presently stored in the basement floor of the old courthouse building which is scheduled to be demolished a week from Monday. Therefore they must be removed prior to that time.

The clerk's office was given authority to remove the records to a temporary holding area until the necessary signatures are available for authorization to destroy. A work session with the legislative delegation is being scheduled to discuss the matter.

Legislation Coming TV Accused Of Bias In News

By GAYLOR SHAW Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration has drafted legislation to hold local television stations accountable at license renewal time for the balance and taste of all network news and entertainment programs they broadcast, a White House official said today.

Clay T. Whitehead, director of the White House Office of Telecommunications Policy, disclosed the action as he spoke of the new "ideological plagues" in network news reporting.

Whitehead is the ranking White House official in the broadcast field. His comments, made in a speech prepared for an Indianapolis meeting of the professional journalism society, Sigma Delta Chi, contained the controversial views on controversial issues.

Elaborating on the balanced news criteria, Whitehead said in his speech:

"When there are only a few sources of national news on television, as we now have, editorial responsibility must be exercised more effectively by local broadcasters and by network management....

"Station managers and network officials who fail to act to correct imbalance or consistent bias in the networks—or who acquiesce by silence—can only be considered willing participants, to be held fully accountable... at license renewal time....

"Who else but management," he asked, "can or should correct so-called professionals who confuse sensationalism with sense and who dispense elitist gossip in the guise of news programs?"

He said that station owners are quick to act "when a reporter or disc jockey slips in or passes over information in order to line his pocket"—a practice he called "plagiarism."

"But men also stress or suppress information in accordance with their beliefs," he continued, "or network executives also take action against this ideological plagiarism."

Whitehead mentioned no names and offered no elaboration of this oblique criticism of network commentators.

He said "television station owners and managers must be held accountable for what goes on over the public's airways—no matter what the origin of the program."

Just as publishers and editors have professional responsibility for the news they print, station licensees have final responsibility for news balance—whether the information comes from their own newsroom or from a distant network," he asserted.

Many Strange 'Birds' On Roads This Holiday

Turkeys aren't the only birds to watch out for this holiday season.

According to Bill Baker, president of Bill Baker Volkswagen, Inc., the long weekend will bring out many strange birds to the area's highways—and keeping an eye on them may help keep you from getting your feathers or a fender ruffled. Here's a few of the birds, he said we can expect to encounter.

The Red-Eyed Vireo—Is he drunk or tired? You can't be sure—but this bird, usually spotted late in the day, meanders from lane to lane in an erratic manner. He may be traveling much in excess of or much below the posted speed limit. A nodding head motion may be the tip-off when you approach him. Pass with care.

The Gray-Tufted Dowager—This dainty little bird is usually found perched in a huge chrome-finished nest out of which she can barely see through the spokes of the steering wheel. She may be accompanied by a species of the Garbled Chatter which distracts her attention. From the rear, these birds can be spotted by constant wing motions which accompany their chirping and by the way, they constantly look at each other to make sure the other is still there. Watch out for them, for they may not be watching out for you.

The Scarlet Tanager—Most youthful drivers accept the adult responsibilities that a driving entails, but there are a few who see every other car on the road as their foe. The Green Horned Grouch—This bird sounds a blaring call as he perches on your back bumper. The best thing to do is not to speed up (the will, too), but maintain your speed, signal that you will pull over and let him fly by—hopefully into the arms of the Gold-Crested Speeder-Catcher.

The Dim-Bulbed Fender-Nicker—This bird is a mobile slob. You can spot it by broken or burned-out tail lights, headlights and turn signals as well as a dull plumage often mottled with battle scars and rust. His flight is as sloppy as his appearance, and physically he may be suffering from bald tires, loose steering or bad brakes.

Allen, just back from Washington, said the United States wanted to see progress toward settlements with Egypt and Jordan. But Israeli officials said the Americans did not say specifically why they thought conditions are favorable for negotiations.

The officials said Washington still believes the best way to break the stalemate is a partial Israeli withdrawal from the Suez Canal to allow its reopening.

UN, Israel To Remain At Odds

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli government will do "what is necessary for the Jewish state" despite United Nations action against it, Premier Golda Meir says.

Mrs. Meir told the Jerusalem Labor Council Sunday that the U.N. resolution of Dec. 8 condemning Israel and the General Assembly's failure to act against terrorism "serve to detract from the world body's standing in the world more than they harm us."

She also lashed out at critics who say Israel should be more flexible because of its military victories. "Don't these people know the price we paid for those victories?" she asked.

Meanwhile, Deputy Premier Yigal Alon told the cabinet that the U.S. government believes "the time has never been more ripe" for Middle East peace negotiations.

To the contrary. Rather than hurt the environment, electricity actually helps protect the quality of life. For example, electricity is necessary to power sewage treatment plants, countless anti-pollution devices and recycling operations.

Is there any form of energy for home use cleaner than electricity? Just stop and think for a minute of the alternatives. Millions of individual fires? Kerosene lamps? Coal furnaces? That's pollution in its worst form.

Everything man does has some impact on the environment, including the production of electricity. But electricity is the cleanest energy you can use. It creates no pollution at the point of use, and lets us at FPL focus our anti-pollution efforts at one point: the power plant.

And that's where we're constantly working to better protect Florida's environment. After all, we live here too.

FPL encourages you to ask questions. About electric service. Rates. Environmental protection. Or anything else. We believe you deserve honest, straightforward answers. Possible Conflict Interest City, Engineers Sign Pact

By LIZ MATHEUX

OVIEDO — The contract between the City of Oviedo and the engineering firm of Driver and Spooner of Miami was renewed at Monday night's council meeting despite the fact that Richard Norton, local engineer feels the firm has a definite conflict of interest and is displaying a "double standard."

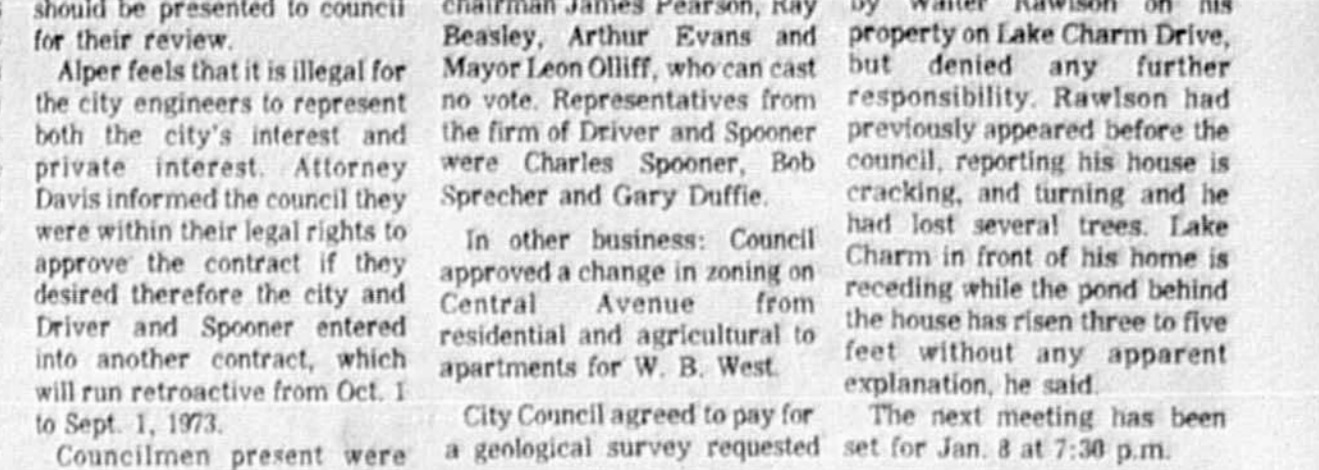

Harvey Alper, attorney representing Norton and his associates appeared before council to refer to the proposed renewal and quote laws and statutes pertaining to the situation, which the Oviedo city attorney, S. Joseph Davis will research.

Norton has firmly taken the position the Driver and Spooner either represent the city or private individuals. He feels that with the tremendous growth of the city of Oviedo and the south end of the county (where Driver and Spooner has established auxiliary office at the city's persuasion), the engineering firm should be able to provide adequate business from the Casselberry, Altamora, Longwood and Fern Park areas without delving in private industry in Oviedo.

Alper feels that it is illegal for the city engineers to represent both the city's interest and private interest. Attorney Davis informed the council they were within their legal rights to approve the contract if they desired therefore the city and Driver and Spooner entered into another contract, which will run retroactive from Oct. 1 to Sept. 1, 1971.

City Council agreed to pay for a geological survey requested by Walter Rawison on his property on Lake Charm Drive, but denied any further responsibility. Rawison had previously appeared before the council, reporting his house is cracking, and turning and he had lost several trees. Lake Charm in front of his house is receding while the pond behind the house has risen three to five feet without any apparent explanation, he said.

The next meeting has been set for Jan 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Sanford City Commission apparently will take formal action at regular session next Tuesday to sell former American Legion log cabin on city-owned lot at N. Myrtle Avenue and Seminole Boulevard to private developer as an office building site. Majority of commissioners said decision will be made after citizens have chance to speak on the issue. State Attorney Hires 2
 By MARION BETHEA
 With the implementation of Article V after the first of the year, which will effect many changes in the state government, Assistant State Attorney Newman Brock told the Herald this morning the office of the state attorney has been "beefed up" with the hiring of two additional personnel.

Bill Sinnerman has been employed to work in the felony division of the office. Sinnerman is a Mercer Law School graduate and has been practicing law in Orlando for the past year and a half.

Dan Lawrence will be an investigator with the misdemeanor division.

Lawrence is presently a member of the Florida Highway Patrol, but will terminate his duties on Jan. 1, joining the state attorney office on Jan. 2.

A Sanford resident, Lawrence has had 10 years experience in law enforcement, four of which were in investigation of homicides. Lawrence is married and father of four children.

Kirk To Get City Cabin, Lot At Tuesday Meeting?

Sanford city commissioner John Morris said Monday he'll make the motion in next Tuesday's regular meeting to sell a 37,000 square foot city-owned lakefront lot to local real estate man William Kirk for $13,900.

The lot with 125 feet frontage on Seminole Boulevard and 300 feet frontage on N. Myrtle Avenue, is the site of a log cabin once used by the American Legion and now occupied by the Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Commissioner A. A. McClanahan said he is prepared to second the Morris Murder Trial News Edict Is Tossed Out

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—An edict restricting news coverage of a murder trial in Fort Myers was tossed out by a state appellate court here Monday but the judge who imposed the restriction said "I don't give a damn" about being overruled.

"I've got to murder trial to run down here," Judge William Rose said when informed his order had been overturned by the 2nd District Court of Appeal. "I don't give a damn what they do in Lakeland."

The trial began last Monday and continues today.

The Miami Herald Publishing Co. had asked the three-judge appeals panel to enjoin Rose from enforcing a week-old order that limited coverage of the trial solely to what has been said in the courtroom.

"To the extent that the order operates as a prior restraint upon constitutionally privileged publication or communication, it is invalid," the appellate court held. "The trial judge has ample power to insure a fair trial... without suppressing the press' First Amendment rights...."

Rose issued his order at the beginning of the trial of David S. Redden, 47, an Alva High School science teacher. He is accused of first degree murder in the death of a neighbor, Ray Crawford, 58, of Olga.

Crawford was found floating face down in the Caloosahatche River June 29, four days after he was reported missing. Police said he had been shot four times and a cement block was tied to one of his legs.

When the trial began, Judge Rose barred newsmen from reporting anything except testimony delivered in the presence of the jury. He also banned photographs of the defendant anywhere in the courthouse area.

Saturday, in partial response to arguments of Herald attorney John Alley of Miami, the judge decided to allow coverage of testimony heard outside the presence of the jury and to permit pictures everywhere except in the courtroom and adjoining corridors.

Technical 'Bugs' Appear In Court

The "bugs" in the grandiose new county courthouse were much in evidence at arraignment held before Circuit Judge Donnick Salfi this morning. However, all but one were the products of human discretionary errors, with the one possibly being mechanical. To begin the comedy of errors" the microphone on the judge's bench was inoperable, and thus the hope that the problem in the dilapidated old courthouse was packed while several rows in the prisoner section remained vacant, with the prisoners only "occupying" two of the rows. Measles Decline Reported

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The National Center for Disease Control has reported a 44 per cent decline over last year in a five-year vaccination campaign begun in 1969. Although the disease generally affects children only mildly, they are major carriers of the infection to pregnant women and have been targeted for vaccination to prevent an epidemic similar to one in 1962-63. In those years, the CDC said, 30,000 "rubella babies" were born with such defects as blindness, deafness, brain damage and congenital crippling.

School Board Monday night tabled a motion by Dr. Stuart Culpepper, member, to restrict tuition to pregnant school girls doing a "planned" Parthenon, abortion group, should have input. Culpepper suggested using the mental health facilities to conduct sessions with school counselors, who then could advise pregnant girls of alternatives. Dr. Culpepper said allowing one group such as Children's Home Society to be on campus would open a Pandora's box. "It takes us out of our realm; we have no jurisdiction over such matters," Culpepper said. Iwan Bowers, school aide, said he could not see why mental health should be called on when Children's Home could do it, but he had no objection if Werner Metz, mental health official, wanted to do it. Bowers added he had never received a single request from a school principal asking for this service. Dr. Culpepper said allowing one group such as Children's

Apollo 17 Astronauts Come Home Voyage Over

By PAUL REICER AP Aerospace Writer
 SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—The last Apollo comes home today, ending a $2-billion program created to boost American prestige but carried on as a scientific exploration for all men. Apollo 17 astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans are to splash down in the Pacific Ocean 400 miles southeast of Samoa at 2:24 p. m. EST. Waiting in good weather is the carrier USS Ticonderoga, the primary recovery ship. Helicopters from the carrier will hover over the Apollo 17 command ship, America, after it blazes through the atmosphere and then floats to a splashdown under three huge parachutes. The astronauts will be plucked from a life raft and taken to the ship for a brass hat welcome.

Angel Set As Teague Principal

By BILL SCOTT
 After turning down three consecutive motions, principal to accept an assistant principality at South Seminole Middle School, which he would be allowed the assistant post at South Seminole through June 30, 1973, and a six months period, was turned down by the board members almost as quickly as Angel could submit them in writing as required by law. Finally, when the third Angel attempt to make his request was defeated, Jim Bryant, board vice chairman, moved to name him Teague Middle School principal.

On their last night in space the crewmen held a televised new conference, answering 12 questions relayed from reporters by Mission Control. During the program, geologist Schmitt said that while on the moon he and Cernan sampled "A broad spectrum of lunar history" and "increased the perspective for the future of mankind in the solar system." The return of America completes a journey to the Taurus-Littrow valley of the moon after departing from Cape Kennedy, Fla., at 12:33 a. m. EST Dec. 7. The mission, despite a computer problem which delayed launched two hours and 40 minutes, has gone smoothly with no serious problems. Cernan, a 39-year-old Navy pilot on his third space mission, and Schmitt, a Harvard-trained geologist and the first American scientist in space spent 7 1/2 hours on the moon's surface, the 11th and 12th men to perform the deed. They conducted three excursions, using an electric car, and covered more than 20 miles of the moon's surface. They visited a variety of topographical features and discovered a volcanic crater about 100 million years old.

WILFREDO ARTHUR Smorowski, 54, of Rt. 2 Box 460 (South), Sanford Avenue was pronounced dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital this morning by Dr. G. V. Deputies Fred Johnson and Dave Blake were stopped by a passing motorist and notified of the accident about 7:45 a.m. Trooper P. E. (Phil) Dixon is investigating the accident. A crew from the Sanford Fire Department rushed to the scene to help Herndon Ambulance attendants and officers free the man, who was pinned in the car for over a half hour. An autopsy was ordered by State Attorney's Investigator C. E. (Eddie) DePuy Jr. (Gary Taylor Photo)

Studied By Three Counties Orlando Beltline Highway

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
 A meeting between Seminole County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond, Vice Chairman Sid Vihlen, and Jim Groton, chairman of the City of Orlando's Expressway Authority out of Orlando, was held Monday to discuss the participation of Orange, Osceola and Seminole Counties in the study and construction of a proposed inter-county beltline multiple lane highway around Orlando. Orange-Seminole-Osceola Authority is serving as the catalyst for the promotion of the beltline. Those members of the authority propose a multi-lane beltline highway generally from a point northwest of the City of Orlando at a point on the Orange-Seminole county line in a generally northerly direction to a point in Seminole County. The line would then go in a generally southerly direction, on a line east of SR 436 to a point in Orange or Osceola. From this point, it would go generally west to I-4 at a point of Orlando and then in a generally northerly direction to the point of beginning. Orange County has previously commissioned and has in progress studies of this highway. The agreement which was presented to Seminole County commissioners for study specifies that the OSO Expressway authority shall conduct engineering studies of the need, feasibility, proper location and general design of the beltline and incidental mass transportation means to build road and bridge funds to pay for the beltline project under study. It is equally important that this three county priority could be the birth of big things to come, if it is not unduly negatively impacted by the comment. "We of the

United Can Help Don't Move...Just Improve

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

With today's inflated mortgages and interest rates, many people find it better to improve than to move. It is very fortunate for the folks in Seminole County who find themselves facing this choice, because United Fence and Awning Company is in business right here in Sanford and offer outstanding service with aluminum awnings, carport roofs, patios, screen rooms, soffits, butters, chain link fences and carpets.

Now if you really want to go first class, why not have United crews enclose your existing wood or screen porch with aluminum and vinyl windows. They are removable and JEWEL AND YVONNE are waiting for you at Jewel and Yvonne's Beauty Shop at 2012 French Avenue in Sanford. That top fashion look begins with your hair, and they're the ones that can help you look your best.

At Romel's Clearance Sale Planned

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

Are you ready for the best bargain hunting season ever? Well then get ready because Jeanette Kidder tells us they are going to have a pre-inventory sale at Romel's Furniture beginning the day after Christmas and running through the first of the new year.

This sale will feature a 20 percent or more discount on all the items in the store for one week only, so don't procrastinate too long or you will be the loser. When Romel's has a sale, they really have a sale.

You will find only the best known highest quality furniture and accessories at Romel's because the Kidders are the business and everything they carry is of the very best in furniture styles, colors, and manufacturers.

You will find beautiful Heywood Wakefield dining and bedroom furnishings in Early American, Brothall, all name brands of unusual accent pieces, beautiful imports from France and Mexico as well as from Italy in wall decor, lamps, pier tables, and some gorgeous marble inlaid tables.

The main thing is, whatever you need in utility or decorator furnishings, you can doubtless find at Romel's. Their sleep shop is only a wink away from another world. You will just love that luxurious bedding and their new mod coverlets and pillows are really something.

You should be aware too, that Romel's offers free interior decorator service with your purchases. Jeanette is such a talented gal—and it is such a comfort to know that when you go into Romel's and start looking around and you can't make up your mind what you want or even what you should have—well tell her and she will advise you as to which of the many lovely pieces she has on display will fit into that special place in your home. Do not guess about it, because Romel's wants you to be happy with your purchase and they want it to be the right furniture for your home.

Why not plan to be at Romel's in the Longwood Plaza on U.S. 17-92 when they open up at 10 a.m. on December 26, and find that perfectly beautiful bargain at the also beautiful 20 percent discount. See you there.

Jeanette Kidder at Romel's in Longwood has a big year-end clearance sale planned for one week, beginning Dec. 26. Sale items start at 20 per cent off. They're located in the Longwood Plaza on U.S. 17-92.

Jewel And Yvonne's For A 'Beautiful You'

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

"Tis the season to be jolly—and beautiful." The best place to take care of the beautiful you is at Jewel and Yvonne's Beauty Shop at 2012 French Avenue in Sanford.

The social whirl this season seems to be picking up speed every day and it is so important that each of us be in top fashion all the time. Top fashion looks, of course, begin with our hair.

Down at Hairstyles by Jewel and Yvonne, the look is magic, because no matter what condition your hair when you go in, it is shining and beautifully styled when you leave. These girls are really artists in their own right. They can make a drab hair look really glamorous.

Whether you want to be ultra high fashion, or if you want a hairdo that will carry you through those long days in the office or Christmas shopping—or if you are interested in looking pretty for that family of yours—whatever the occasion calls for, Jewel and Yvonne can make it happen for you.

Of course, it goes without saying that the solutions used at this beauty salon are well known, high quality products so that there need be no worry about your hair being hurt in any way. And this high quality solution, together with the expert skill of these girls, means that you are going to be the absolutely most gorgeous doll on the scene wherever you go.

For you girls who like to change the way your hair looks from time to time, why not let Jewel frost it for you? Or perhaps you would like a color refresher or perhaps a complete color change? Go down to their shop at 2012 French Avenue and talk with the experts and let them help you decide what will be best for you. Once the decision is made, well, let Jewel and Yvonne get on with the transformation program.

Nothing is so relaxing, really, as it, than to enjoy the fruits of the talents of someone like your favorite hair dresser. They really are an invaluable asset to the modern day woman's life. To say nothing of the man in the modern woman's life—because, after all, he will have a beautiful lady to look at and take out on the town.

Be sure you make your appointment early with Jewel and Yvonne for your holiday beauty program. If you want to look your very best, then call 323-2650 and make an appointment at Hairstyles by Jewel and Yvonne at 2012 French Avenue in Sanford.

Sandra G. Morgan, Peter Van Snook Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Sandra Gaye Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Edward Morgan, 103 S. Sunland Drive, Sanford, and Peter Van Snook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Edwin Snook, 103 Orange Blossom Circle, Altamonte Springs, were united in Holy Matrimony Saturday, Dec. 9, 1972, at 7 p.m.

The vows were exchanged in a double ring communion ceremony, at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Sanford. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. R. E. Reuscher, Edward Senkariak, organist, presented appropriate nuptial music and accompanied soloists, Mrs. Lucy Magill.

Church decorations included two standing basket arrangements of red and white carnations, gladioli, baby's breath and lily leaf fern with a similar arrangement on the altar and brass altar candles. A white satin kneeling bench and white aisle carpet were given.

Used in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length hoop skirted gown of nylon and lace, featuring a sweetheart neckline, pointed long lace sleeves and a semi-train. The gown and train were trimmed with embroidery, pearls and sequins.

Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was held by a bridal illusion of bonnet lace and pearls and she carried a lace covered prayer book with flowing arrangement of red roses and fern.

Mrs. Nikki Betetto, matron of honor, wore a formal length gown of red and white velvet, empire styled, with short train, trimmed with white fur and pearls. She carried a nosegay of red and white carnations with lily greenery, lily collar and red velvet streamers.

Bridesmaids and matron were the Misses Terry May and Ann Snook and Mrs. Sherilyn Morgan. Their gowns and flowers were identical to those of the honor attendant except the nosegays had white velvet ribbon streamers.

Jimmy Snook served his brother as best man and ushers were Michael Morgan, Randall Straughan and Warren Schoeffer.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length Christmas green princess styled gown with gold accessories. The groom's mother wore a street length turquoise double knit sheath with matching accessories.

The reception site was the lounge of Florida State Bank. Decorations included standing basket arrangements of red and white carnations, gladioli and wall arrangements of silver bells with white satin ribbons, silver fern and lilies-of-the-valley.

Centerpiece on the bride's table was composed of red and white carnations and lily leaf fern. The wedding cake and punch bowl were surrounded by greenery interspersed with red roses.

Mrs. E. W. Avenel and Mrs. Carl Lind cut and served the cake and pouring were Mrs. Donald Myers and Mrs. Robert Gilbo. Miss Lynn Gilbo presided at the bride's book table adorned with a silver and white anniversary candle surrounded with silver bells, lilies-of-the-valley and fern.

Rice bags were distributed by the junior hostesses, Sherilyn Brown and Amy Brough. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Thomas Brown and Mrs. Bertha Brough.

For traveling, Mrs. Snook chose a red palazzo pants suit with white lace blouse, silver accessories and the red rose corsage from her wedding bouquet.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Walt Disney World with headquarters in the Contemporary Hotel. The new residence will be Lot 33, Fox River, Stuart. The groom is management trainee for Rinker Materials and the bride is assistant vice president for W. T. Grant Co., both in Stuart.

Out-of-town guests came from Cincinnati, Ohio; West Columbia, S. C.; Stuart, N. J.; Dora, Tallahassee, Lakeland, Winter Haven and Jacksonville.

Mrs. and Mr. Peter Van Snook are announcing the birth of twin boys on Dec. 13, 1972.

Nathan Steven weighed in at six pounds, five and one-half ounces and John Clay weighed five pounds, 11 ounces. The twins were welcomed home by their two-year-old sister, Allison Nan.

Mrs. Stoke is the former Miss Linda Ann Cleland. It has been the custom that the Christmas party for members of Sallie Harrison Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, is held on the second Friday of December, with the traditional hosts, Mrs. Hagan Jennings, at her home, 1702 Park Ave. Mrs. Walter L. Carter was co-hostess.

The business meeting was conducted by the vice-regent, Mrs. C. E. Butler, National defense chairman, gave an interesting report.

The roots of the spacious Hagan home were opened on suite and decorations were in the holiday motif.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stoke, Savannah, Ga.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. and Mrs. Steve Stoke, Savannah, Ga.

Annexation Petition Okayed

By Casselberry Council
By DONNA ESTES
Petition for annexation of the Goldman-Rossman property adjacent to Seminole Plaza has been accepted by the City Council and preparation and posting of the proper ordinance was authorized.
The developers are to build commercial buildings and an apartment complex at the tract.
Drainage from the development is to terminate in marshy land at the northeast corner of the property. The city made it clear that it does not assume responsibility for modifications, if needed, in the traffic signal at 438 and Oxford Road.
At the same time, consideration of the site plan for Maddox Television and Radio was located on Seminole Blvd. was tabled until such time as

Kirk Will Get City Property

Christmas Day and will be adjourned by city clerk Henry Tamms until the following Tuesday at 7 a.m.
Morris, Meyer and McClanahan agreed that official action on the sale will be taken Tuesday night.
Moore said, "I've had my mind made up for three months but I have mixed emotions." He didn't indicate how he'd vote on the sale motion.
The "log cabin" lot has been appraised at $23,400 but realtor Herbert Stenstrom, representing the local law firm of Stenstrom, Davis and McIntosh, has offered $40,000 for the property as a law office site.
Winter Park developer J. W. Hickman, in a joint venture with W. F. Holt and Sons Inc., Nashville contractors with offices in Orlando, has offered $35,000 for the lot as an office building site.
Hickman originally proposed a multi-story 40,000 square foot building. City manager Warren E. Knowles said the building couldn't be built on the lot because city ordinance requires 200 off-street parking spaces for a building of that size and usage.
"You'll need an equal sized lot for parking alone," Knowles said.
Hickman said his plans have now been redrawn with the correct number of parking spaces. "We'll build the largest building possible, with the correct number of parking spaces," Hickman said.
With the approval of a motion to bill these added costs to CSSI, the meeting adjourned.

Another Firm Eyes Location At Port

By BOB ORRELL
James Ryan, Administrator of Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA), reported to the Board Monday night that still another prospective business is interested in locating at the Sanford facility. Ryan, speaking at the regular monthly meeting, explained the needs of the new prospect and stated that their representatives will be in for discussion in the near future as all their requirements can be met at the port.
The Board, under the chairmanship of Harold Kastner, approved financial statements for the months of October and November. The

Trial Results From 3 Courtrooms Given

By MARION BETHEA
In trials held last week simultaneously in the three courtrooms of the new courthouse, in trials held before Circuit Judge Thomas Wadswell, Jr. in Courtroom "C", Randall Queen pleaded guilty as charged to grand larceny.
Judge Wadswell sentenced the defendant to state prison for a term of 18 months.
In Courtroom "A" before Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson, Jr., the court granted a defense motion by Gerald Rutberg for a judgment of acquittal in the case of Gerald McCloud, charged with robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony.
Kevin Areskog, Steven Hefleran and James Schmidt, all charged with possession of a prohibited drug, all pleaded guilty to possession of a prohibited drug of in less than five grams.
Judge Johnson withheld adjudication of guilt in all three cases and allowed the defendants to remain on bond pending presentence investigation (PSI).

Freedom Of Press Threat Is Enlarged

Editorial Comment
The jailing of Los Angeles Times reporter William Farr, ordered by Los Angeles Superior Judge Charles H. Older, has many ramifications for the press and for the courts, none of them good.
It isn't going to help solve the problem of the conflict between the freedom of the press, guaranteed by the First Amendment, and the right to a fair trial, guaranteed by the Sixth Amendment.
On the contrary, it will just make the solution of that serious problem even more difficult.
What Farr is being punished for is his refusal to tell the judge the name of the person who gave him the information for a story he wrote in 1970 concerning the Charles Manson murder trial while Farr was working for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.
The story was a sensational one, dealing with a purported confession involving the defendants in the trial, a confession that was never put into evidence in the trial.
Conceivably it could have prejudiced some members of the jury against the defendants.
It could be argued that publication of the story was irresponsible, served no public purpose and harmed the defendants.
That, however, is not the issue in the Farr case.
The Manson defendants are not suing the Herald-Examiner nor is the judge taking any action against the newspaper.
Instead, he is seeking to compel Farr to name his source, on the supposition that the source was one of the attorneys or other participants in the trial who had been ordered by the court to make no public disclosure of facts not in evidence.
The issue, then, is whether it is right to compel a newsmen to reveal his source under certain circumstances.
The Mansons were still being held in the jail at the time of the hearing.

College Students Making Films

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A generation ago, college students were writing novels. Now they want to make movies.
This comment by a film educator reflects the growing trend of movie studies in the nation's colleges and universities. The growth has been recorded by the American Film Institute, which annually surveys the number of film schools.
This year, the Institute reports, film courses and training programs are being offered at 127 schools of higher education, an increase of 126 from last year.
Students can major in film at 66 universities, a 40 per cent rise within a year. Forty-seven schools offer advanced degrees in film, including Ph.D.'s. Some 2,392 courses, ranging from movie appreciation to how to make your own, are being taught.
"We have about 400 applications from students each year," he added. "This year UCLA's Graubert, head of the UCLA film school, "We can only accept 50 to 70, depending on how many of our students have graduated."
The film school at the University of Southern California, oldest in the nation, also has a long waiting list. It was founded in 1929, when movies were considered unworthy of academic study.
USC and UCLA are the most popular schools with film students because both are well equipped and have strong ties with the movie industry. Also popular is the new California Institute of Arts, endowed by the Disney family.
"We're three schools; we have the best equipment, but by no means have a monopoly," said UCLA's Graubert. "We also have excellent film schools at Temple University, Boston University, Northwestern, North Carolina and New York University."

High-Rise Danger

The ghastly deaths of four persons who leaped from the upper levels of a burning 16-story building in New Orleans, and a similar tragedy a day later in Atlanta, show that the modern high-rise can be a fire-trap.
The typical high-rise is designed around a central shaft containing heat-vulnerable elevators and enclosing air conditioning ducts that can serve as flues in the event of a fire.
The deaths of 13 persons in New Orleans and Atlanta should be enough to awaken architects and building officials in all our cities to the need for an urgent look at fire safety in the new generation of super high-rise buildings.

Jet Age Ear

New Disease Of Air Travelers
By CLIFF SMITH
Copley News Service
California Medicine, the journal of the California Medical Association.
Many air travelers needlessly suffer a jet-age ear disease because airlines make no effort to prevent it, according to a physician who has studied the problem.
Dr. C. Richard Wolf estimates that thousands of people have suffered aerotitis since 1964.
Aerotitis, Wolf said, is a traumatic inflammation of the middle ear resulting from rapid changes in cabin air pressure. He said the symptoms include intense pain in the ears, temporary deafness and, occasionally, broken ear drums.
Wolf said such symptoms occur when an air traveler is unable to "pop" his ears; that is, vent the middle ear through the eustachian tube to equalize changing air pressure outside the ear.
He said this occurs most often when an airliner descends for landing.
Wolf is a medical officer in the California Bureau of Occupational Health and Environmental Epidemiology. An article on his study of aerotitis appears in the current issue of California Medicine.

Reminiscences on Truman, His Years

Political Notebook
By BRUCE ROSSAT
WASHINGTON (NSA)
Personal reminiscences of Harry Truman seem inevitable to well up at this time, and I have my share.
On March 17, 1945, he came to Chicago for a St. Patrick's day speech. A morning press conference was called for the vice-president, and fewer than 10 reporters appeared.
It was an embarrassing painful hour. We seemed to sense that President Roosevelt had not died him in on big events, and we could think of little to ask him. There were odd silences between questions. One of the "tough" queries I posed was:
"How do you like your job?"
His quick response: "I don't like it. I don't have anything to do."
Less than a month later, FDR died and Truman had the weight of a world at war on his shoulders.
Even as the shock of Roosevelt's death was still spreading, I went to Kansas City and Independence, Mo., to talk to people who had known Truman in his earlier years. I found that his friends were legion. And, astonishingly in the light of later history, they forecast almost perfectly what kind of president he would be.
Most of those I saw had been his battery mates when he was an artillery captain in World War I. They testified to his strength and courage. One told me how Truman had rallied his men when they were about to panic under enemy fire. Without exception they saw in him high qualities of leadership, and they insisted these were not weakened by the fact he served as a father-confessor to many of his men.
After the war, they stayed bound together. Truman was still their friend and pal, and they remembered him as a man of great personal honor. Somewhere around 1930 he paid off the last dollar of debt he owed after his halcyon-halderbery store failed in 1927.
He was properly described as incorruptible, though his modest political start was given him by the ill-starred Tom Pendergast machine in Kansas City. Investigations always found Truman clean.
Serving as a county judge (supervisor), he asked Pendergast to slate him for something a bit better, like assessor. The old boss shook his head and said:
"No, I have something else in mind for you."
"What?" asked Truman.
"Then Pendergast stunned him by answering simply: 'The United States Senate.'"
Truman was nominated and elected, and began the rise that took him to the White House. Six years later, Pendergast was in jail and Truman, fighting along with almost no money, doggedly ploughed through Missouri to win re-nomination by a bare 2,000 votes. It was a forecast of the spirit which carried him to an upset presidential victory in 1948.
A lover of history but a plodding student (so one of his teachers told me), he had to labor valiantly to master the presidency when its load fell upon him.
"Says his old friend and aide, Clark Clifford:
"When I'd go to his office at night in his White House study, he'd be sitting there, wearing a green eyeshade, poring over a great pile of documents. My heart went out to him."
Margaret Truman Daniel has it right. Her father never wanted the vice-presidency. About to be chosen in 1944, he called his old friend Tom Evans and said: "Come on over here to Chicago and let me keep me from being nominated." But the history he loved had its way.

One Man's Opinion

CATV Potential Almost Unlimited
By DON OAKLEY
Little did the guy who put up the first community television antenna—CATV—in the hills of Pennsylvania back in the late '40s dream that his efforts to clarify the signal for the local folk would spawn today's billion-dollar industry.
With six million subscribers now hooked up around the nation, and with at least 20 million subscribers forecast by the end of this decade, many whites double that figure, there is little doubt that CATV is big business.
CATV is a lot more than clarifying signals, however. Pay television is already in hotels and is being tested for home use through systems as wide apart as Virginia, Florida and Southern California.
The reason for the expected burgeoning of CATV channels is fairly simple. The Federal Communications Commission finally seems disposed to examine the regulatory issues involved in CATV, including the establishment of a satellite communications system for the United States.
Today it is possible to get some programs from other parts of the world via the Comsat satellite, but it's sporadic and has to be timed. All this would change with the proposed new satellite system.
Once ground rules have been laid down by the FCC, look for an immediate and dramatic expansion in television fare, say industry spokesmen.
A wide variety of programming that is not economical to present today would be made available, something for everyone in the family, says William J. Bresnan, president of TelePromp-Tel, the largest CATV company.
Add the wonders of the computer, which will make possible two-way communications between the home terminal and a central station—a school, for example—and you have a communications system of truly dramatic potentialities.

Hounds Hope Eagles Looking Ahead

By HERKY CUSH Herald Sports Editor

Bill Moore's Lyman Greynhounds face their toughest opponent of the season tonight on the road but would you believe the Hounds may have a little edge going for them?

Without a doubt the utmost thought in the minds of the Eagles is how they would love to knock off the number one ranked team in the state. And it just might be that the Hounds can do some knocking off themselves.

Even if the Eagles are preoccupied with visions of a upset they will be a hard nut for the Hounds to crack. For the top preference on the Eagle roster, Mike McCants, seems to be in another era anyhow with his deadly shooting and ball handling.

The 6-1 senior spearheads the Edgewater attack but is not the lone scoring wit on the Eagle starting team. Larry Gorman has burned the cords for an average of 18.6 ppg having

'Oh Johnny'

Without any intentions of taking anything away from the superb Miami Dolphins football club we must say that the Baltimore Colts might have been a different team with Johnny Unitas at the controls last Saturday afternoon in Miami.

A great many of the Colts are up in years (football wise) and at the stage of their careers when it takes a great deal to get them really fired up for a game. Especially when the game does not mean very much.

It's the belief here that the Colts players felt the management owed it to Johnny U. to allow him to bow out as he came in, firing the pistons as long as the Colts had the ball. And were disappointed when he didn't get his final fling.

'Mania' Helps

While the Dolphins have perhaps one of the super defensive units in the pro ranks at the present the defense of the Pittsburgh Steelers also must rank as one of the best.

Other than the Dolphins the Steelers were the most consistent club throughout the season. No team was able to dominate them. Their three losses were by a total of 11 points, 15-16 to Cincinnati, 26-24 to Cleveland and 17-13 to Dallas.

HOOKING rebound away from three James Hood defenders is Lyman's Andy Gidus (40) while teammate Pat O'Neal offers some aid. The Greyhounds lost this decision but will be trying to get back on the winning side of the ledger this evening when they take on the always tough Eagles of Edgewater on the latter's floor.

To Florida Deaf '5' Lake Brantley Falls Again

By J. RICHARDS Herald Sports Writer

FTU took a giant step this season when it scheduled Jacksonville, Memphis State, Rollins and Biscayne. And Tech's admission to the NCAA was another "step" for area college fans.

There are easier ways to bring in big time basketball but it seems the quality of education suffers at the Universities who seek it (the big time) too quickly. This certainly can not be said for the three institutions in our area.

margin, 11-7, while Hoover's hoopers closed the gap before half-time, trailing by two, at 17-15. The Dragons executed their "long-ball" offense to break the Brantley bid for a win at the start of the third frame. Quick-out to streaking back-court men and long half-court passes foiled the Pat's "pressure defensive actica, while Lake Brantley fell into a second half shooting slump.

The Dragons began pulling away from the scrappy Freshman and Sophomore local varsity squad, earning a nine-point advantage at the end of the third period of play. The Patriots, desperately trying to regain the 500 mark in season case play were unable to reverse last week's loss to Tampa. They will come back the following night, to entertain Sanford Naval Academy, also hoping to avenge a loss to the Middies during the season's first match-up.

UCLA Is Still Wooden's Team

LOS ANGELES (AP)—John Wooden is recovering from a mild heart condition, and his replacement as UCLA basketball coach says he's nothing more than that. "This is still his team."

John and I talk a lot and I know his thinking and he knows mine," he said. "What I tried to do last Saturday night was play them as he would play them. That's what worried me more than anything was the practices last week. I didn't know how the players would react to me."

Trinity Prep Seeks Second Win Tonight

Coach Curtis Keen's Trinity Prep basketball team will try for their second win of the season against two losses tonight at the Wesleyan Park Junior High Gym as the Saints face Montgomery Alabama University Military High School in a warm-up game before the regional basketball tournament.

While engaged in preparing for the game tonight, the Saints are also preparing for holiday tournament play against three tough opponents Dec. 28-29 at Orlando Lake Highland Prep. Hosted by the Scotsmen at the former Orlando Junior College campus, the four-team tournament features the highly ranked team, as well as strong Sarasota Cardinal Mooney and Tampa Temple Heights.

Florida Tech Visits Lake Forest Tonight

By HERKY CUSH Herald Sports Editor

Will be in Lake Forest, Wisconsin for a meeting with the Foresters of Lake Forest College. And the chances of FTU upping its record to 4-3 are mighty good considering the fact that Lake Forest has neither the height nor the experience to battle the Knights.

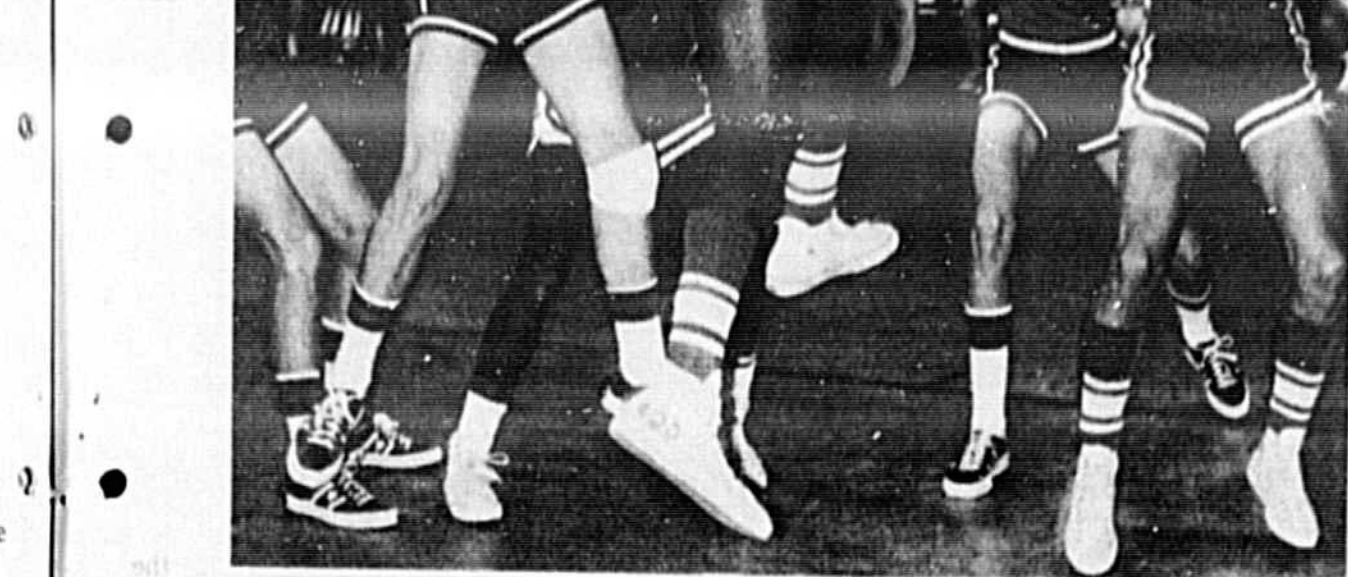

Lake Forest did not win a game last season, losing all 23 games including a 82-54 verdict to the Knights. Coach Rich Tripp said at the outset of the season there was no place for his Foresters to go but up. But they aren't expected to begin that upward move with the Knights.

The tallest starter for Lake Forest is its center, 6-4 Junior Paul Kovacevic. Sophomore Ed Cochran is the ace of the Foresters. He led the team in scoring and rebounding as a freshman.

Curci Is Kentucky 'Choice'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Louisville Courier-Journal reported Tuesday that University of Miami Phi Kappa football coach Fran Curci will return to Lexington, Ky., Tuesday where the University of Kentucky Athletics Board is scheduled to meet at 4 p.m.

Curci visited Kentucky over the weekend and the Courier-Journal said the UK football board will have its dormitory clean for a tour of facilities by Curci because "you're going to see the new coach." Curci reportedly talked with some of the players, asking them what it would take to win at Kentucky.

UNCONTESTED for this rebound is Lake Brantley's Dan Gabriell (40) as Tobeck Frost (44) of the Florida School for the Deaf. Patriots did not get enough rebounds nor points as they dropped a 53-30 decision last night.

In $315,000 Putt-Putt Play Offs Local Mini Golf Play To Begin

By GARY TAYLOR Staff Writer

Some $5,000 in prize money will be awarded at various tournaments at the Fern Park Golf and Country Club beginning Jan. 7, with a $300 Gator Trail Tournament.

Included in the list of tournaments are 17 Peppi 200s and a $1,300 qualifying tournament which is the first step to the $315,000 world competition.

The Gator Trail circuit includes courses throughout the state. Clarence Daniels, owner of the Fern Park course, and Pickler's Trophy Shop in Orlando are co-sponsoring the Jan. 7 event.

Sanford's Dennis Brunsman is expected to be competing in the qualifying tournament, as well as all the Peppi 200s. He just started playing last summer, but according to Daniels is really coming on strong.

Four national pros from Orlando that will be battling the Daniels brothers are Joe Joyner, Gary English, Mike Pfeiffer and Dale Fair. Pfeiffer is the manager of the East Colonial Putt-Putt in Orlando and will also be hosting a qualifying tournament and three Peppi 200s at his course.

The Jan. 7 tournament will be played at 12 noon, with tee times for entry 11 a.m. The Peppi 200s and qualifying tournaments will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Maryland Replaces FSU In Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Poll results may be gratifying. Maryland basketball Coach Lefty Driesell says, but there's no denying the fact that Maryland became a distant second behind powerhouse UCLA in the Associated Press college basketball poll.

Clark hit for 19 against St. Leo and has a 16.5 average on the year. He also managed to find time for nine assists against the Monarchs who trailed only 30-28 at the half.

He continued his long range bombing at St. Leo, dumping in nine doubleteckers for 18 points. He has 122 points in six games for a 20.3 average, tops on the FTU club.

Smith, the former Hillsborough Junior College rebounding ace, drilled in 15 points against the Monarch and hauled down an equal number of rebounds. He has upped his point average to 14.3 for the year. However, the playing status of Smith for tonight's game is not known. His father is ailing and the 63-year man may remain in Orlando for a few days before rejoining the FTU team.

Pete Haas, 6-7 sophomore and Zettie McCremon, 6-4 senior are the other members of the starting cast. McCremon, who sported a 11.8 scoring average last year has not been as effective this season. His average is only 8.9 ppd. A 15-point effort in the loss to South Florida was his best game of the season.

Eddie Fluit, the Knights' regular center, saw limited action in the game with St. Leo last week. He's been in and out of the lineup with a knee injury. How much he will be able to play or how effective he'll be isn't known.

Others who usually get into action for the Knights are 6-6 freshman Willy Bellotti, 6-4 junior Bob Jones and 6-0 junior Angelo Callins.

After tonight's game the Gold and Black have a date in Hacin, Wis. where they'll participate in the Dominican Holiday Classic. The two-day tourney begins Thursday, Dec. 21 and ends Friday, Dec. 22. In the opening game, FTU meets Elmhurst while host Hacinne State faces Texas College. The losers meet in the consolation game Friday while the championship game follows. FTU will be off after the tournament, returning to action Jan. 6 against Hensseler Poly Tech at the Lake Highland Prep Gym.

High Court To Rule On Old Industrial Polluter's Law

By BARRY SCHWID Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has agreed to rule on government's power to use a 1961 federal law to bring criminal action against industrial polluters of the nation's navigable waters.

About 200 suits depend on the outcome of the case accepted Monday for review this spring. The government is seeking to overturn a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court in Philadelphia that limited the scope of the law. The Justice Department's appeal complained that the lower court had straddled the law on its head and enmeshed what Congress had in mind in 1898 when it prohibited dumping of all refuse except common liquid sewage into navigable waters.

By STAN BENJAMIN Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Rather than dirty up the clear skies of the Southwest, the Interior Department today suggested that power plants using the region's coal should be built near the cities needing more electricity.

A new report said that carrying coal from remote areas of Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah and Nevada to population centers elsewhere in the country would cost about the same as building generating plants in the Southwest.

Environmentalists are pressing the government to interpret federal clean air laws as prohibiting states from making things more endurable than the stillness of not having anyone to talk with.

Finally, on the day the POWs were released, came the critical moment to save his life. On the day the flag was rolled inside a scarf tied around his neck and overlooked during final inspection and checkout to freedom.

He said, the long days spent in making the flag were worth the effort and it has most prized his, the POW's, flag.

Freedom comes dearly. Post-war Americans would follow his example of love and respect for our country's flag, the emblem of freedom.

1. Gave the government authority to check out the names of all contributors to a domestic organization allegedly linked to Irish insurgents. The vote was 6-3.

2. Rejected an appeal by former Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion, who was convicted of perjury to a federal grand jury investigating a bankrupt loan company. He faces three years in prison.

Coal Power Plants 'Dirty'

allowing the air to become any dirtier even in areas like the Southwest where the air quality is better than minimum federal pollution standards.
