Shuttle lands safely

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. — Space shuttle Columbia landed shortly before noon EDT today, following a nine-day medical research mission that provided new insight into how humans adapt to space.

After a loose cargo bay door seal proved to be no problem, shuttle commander Bryan O'Connor and pilot Sidney Gutierrez fired the twin braking rockets an hour before touchdown as the ship flew over the Indian Ocean. The firings reduced Columbia's speed by 195 mph and started the orbiter on its fiery plunge through the atmosphere.

Columbia has been circling the world with four men, three women, 29 rats and 2,478 tiny jellyfish since June 5.

More than 2,100 spectators gathered at Edwards for the landing.

Earlier today, the shuttle's cargo bay doors closed normally in preparation for landing, despite loose weatherstripping.

Explorers to paint the town

SANFORD — The Seminole County Sheriff's Department Explorer Post 517 may offer a curbside address painting service this summer to raise money for uniforms.

Seminole County commissioners granted permission for the service this week. Final approval is needed from Sheriff Don Eslinger before the program can be begun, said Explorer coordinator Deputy Tom Dutko.

Dutko said the service, which has never been tried by the Explorers before, provides a service to residents while benefiting the Explorers. Each uniform, provided by the sheriff's department, costs $75 and bullet-proof vests cost $350 each, Dutko said.

Final details haven't been worked out, but Dutko said each painted address will feature five-inch black numerals painted on a yellow background. The addresses will be painted for a donation, Dutko said.

Homeowners interested in the program can call Dutko at the sheriff's office, 322-5115.

Architect featured at meeting

SANFORD — Jerry Mills, architect and vice chairman of the Sanford Historic Preservation Board will be the featured speaker at the next meeting of the Sanford Historical Downtown Waterfront Association on Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at the First Street Gallery, Etc., 203 E. First Street.

SHDW's president, Chris Cranias, invites all those interested to attend. Mills will begin his talk at 6 p.m., following the organization's business meeting.

Salute to victory

Celebration starts 10 a.m. Saturday

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Desert Storm Victory parade and picnic are less than a day off, and last minute work was in full swing today. The number of participants is also growing rapidly.

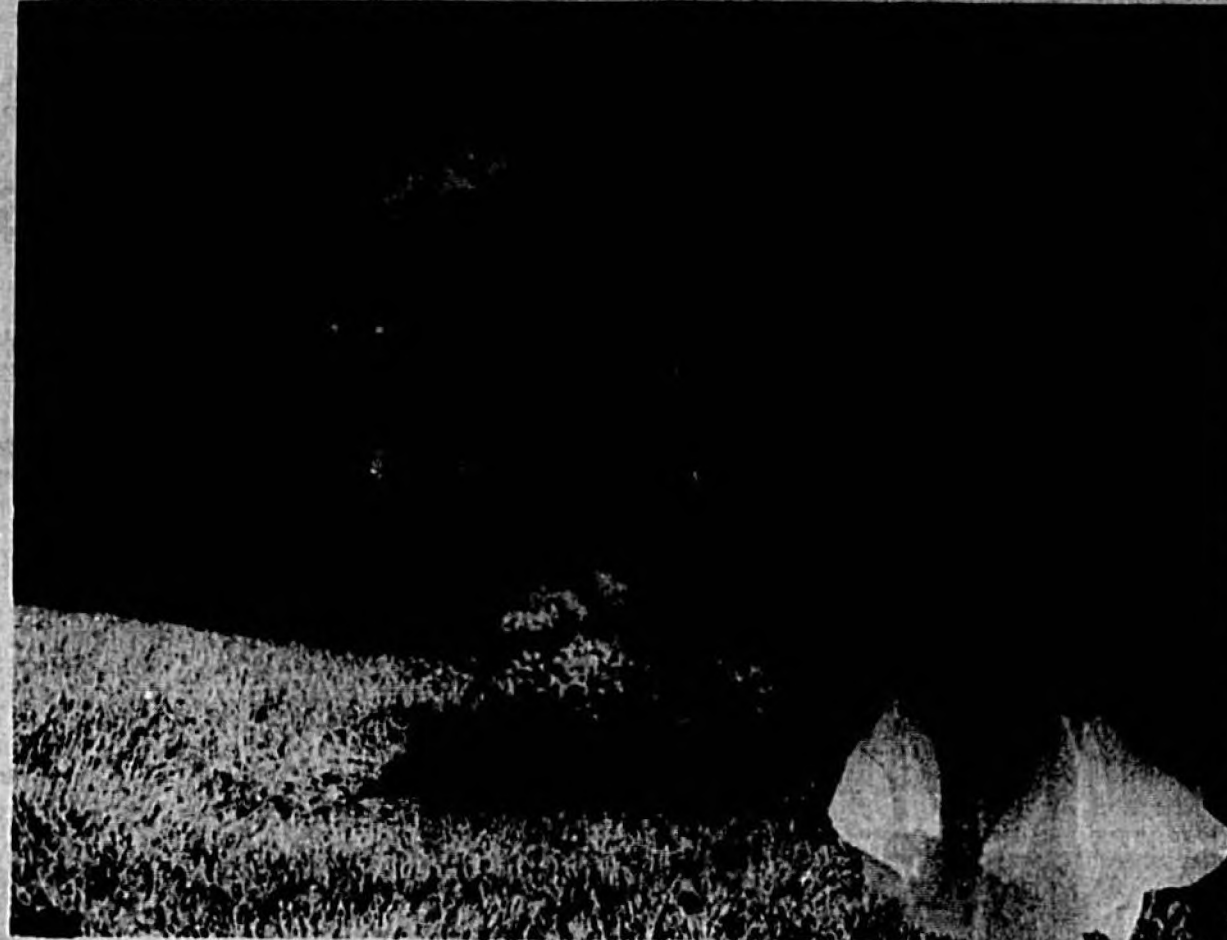

Judy Osborn, chairman of the Desert Storm Support Group, said the number of units committed to the parade continues to swell. "The number is now 130 units, and more are coming in by the hour," she said this morning.

The grand marshall of the parade is Army Brig. Gen. Alfonso E. Lenhardt. He is to be stationed near the end of the parade, organizers said.

Osborn also said another five Persian Gulf service personnel had signed up to be included, bring the total to 60.

Marine Corps L/CPL John W. Childers, who served in Saudi Arabia, was one of the latest additions in the parade. Osborn said, "He snuck Lenhardt

Federal grant awarded to local zoo

By NICK PFEIFAU
Herald Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Central Florida Zoological Park has been notified that it has qualified for a $75,000 grant. The money is from the Institute of Museum Services, a federal agency that offers financial support strictly for general operating expenses to the nation's museums and zoos.

The local facility was one of only 16 zoos across the entire nation which received the award and the only recipient out of over 20 zoos in Florida. In addition to zoos, the IMS also grants money to museums and other facilities. A total of 1,390 organizations applied for funding this year. Sanford's award of $75,000 is among the highest amounts given by the IMS.

Central Florida Zoo director Ed Posey said, "It is a distinct honor to be awarded the IMS Grant. Organizations receiving this grant are recognized as meeting and exceeding the rigorous standards of museum operations. Posey said the money will be used to support a number of operating expenses including the handling of the escalating animal food costs, utilities, veterinary care and other general operating areas.

Lyman seniors mark graduation milestone

By NICK PFEIFAU

LONGWOOD — Lyman High School graduated 373 seniors last night in a brief but memorable festivity. The attendance was exceptionally large, with school parking lots, a number of traffic lanes and the neighboring kennel club parking lots jammed to capacity.

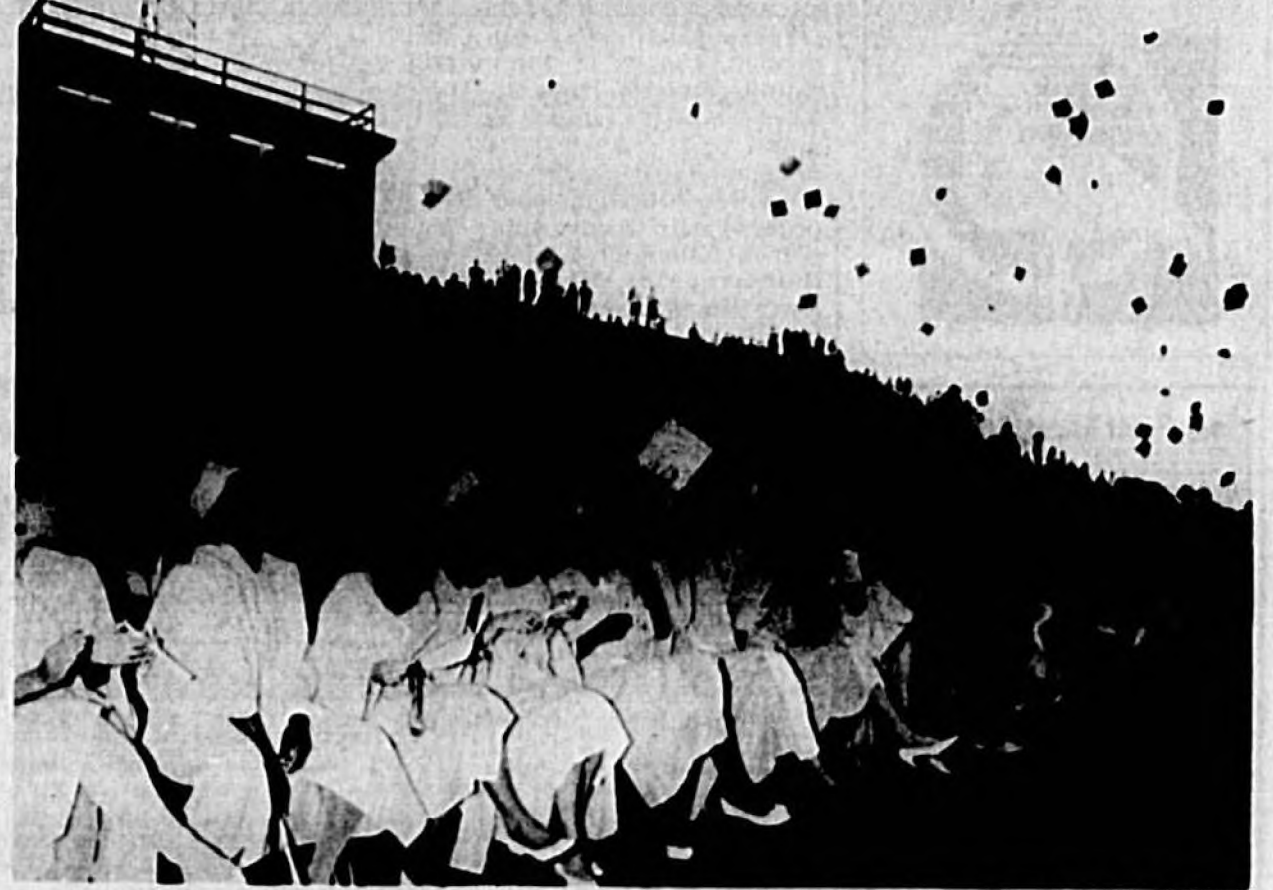

Following the entry of the students into Lyman Stadium and the invocation by graduating Senior Tamara S. Sniad, Hillary A. Jovi sang the National Anthem. Her well trained voice, and excellent arrangement, done without musical accompaniment, brought tears to the eyes of many students and parents.

The featured speakers were the three top academic seniors in the school. Their brief comments, addressed to their fellow graduates, covered all aspects of life.

Ronald Slomowicz one of four National merit commended students, told the graduating seniors, "We must now think for ourselves. We must express ourselves as individuals and fight against those who would restrict our basic rights."

Phuong Diem Ta, told of her family having to flee from Vietnam, and how pleased they have been with the educational opportunities in this country. "Many nations deny the privileges we

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Lawyer wins against Bar lobbying

By WILL BRIDGEMAN
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE — A lawyer who won a state Supreme Court order to stop the Florida Bar from lobbying on several children's issues said he didn't oppose the programs the group backed.

But David Frankel said Thursday he saw a dangerous trend in lobbying on such issues using dues lawyers must pay to practice in the state.

"If the bar can lobby on children's issues, there's no distinction between those issues and abortion, flag desecration, you can name the list," Frankel said.

The Supreme Court ordered the association to return the portion of Frankel's dues used for such lobbying.

If the bar can lobby on children's issues, there's no distinction between those issues and abortion, flag desecration, you can name the list.

-David Frankel

The former Florida lawyer, now a Federal Trade Commission attorney in Washington, estimated he'd get back $6 to $10 of his $150-a-year Florida Bar dues.

Nevertheless, he said, "I'm very happy. It's a First Amendment case."

programs such as aid for women, infants and children, Medicaid for pregnant women, immunization of children, children's services councils and teen pregnancy prevention.

Frankel argued it wasn't entitled to lobby in these areas.

The court, which supervises the group's activities, said the legal system, and the rights of those who come in contact with the system.

Frankel said he objected to lobbying on other issues only because attorneys have no choice but to pay the group's dues if they want to practice. He said he didn't object to lobbying on any subject by groups otherwise join voluntarily, such as county bar associations.

Funeral today for PSC commissioner

TALLAHASSEE — A funeral will be held today for Gerald Gunter, senior member of Florida's Public Service Commission, who died after suffering a heart attack.

Gunter, 68, died Wednesday at Tallahassee Memorial Regional Medical Center.

Services are set for 2 p.m. today at Celebration Baptist Church in Tallahassee. Gunter will be buried at Rock Hill Cemetery at British in Liberty County, Colby's Meadowood Funeral Home and Thursday.

Gunter was taken to the hospital from his office about 1 p.m. Wednesday after he complained of chest pains and died at 8:15 p.m.

"I was very distressed to hear that. I am very sorry," Gov. Lawton Chiles said when reached during a trip to Washington, D.C.

Flags were lowered to half-staff at the state Capitol in Gunter's memory.

He had served since Jan. 2, 1979, on the commission that regulates Florida's electric, telephone, water and other utilities.

Boy shot with spear gun

MIAMI — A 13-year-old Palm Bay, Fla., boy was in stable condition Thursday night after being accidentally shot in the chest with a spear gun in Brevard, officials said.

The boy, identified as Nick Lindenburger, was first treated by a doctor at a clinic on the island and then transported to a Miami hospital, said Joe Dye, Coast Guard petty officer.

"The injury was serious enough where he couldn't treat him," Dye said.

The boy's father accompanied him on the flight to Jackson Memorial Hospital, Dye said. Details on the accident weren't immediately available.

The boy was in "very stable" condition late Thursday night, according to Bruce Franks, a hospital spokesman.

Focus of manhunt narrowed

PENSACOLA — A police manhunt for two men charged with last month's slaying of a 15-year-old boy focused on Pensacola and Jacksonville.

Warrants charging Gregory Dean Moore with murder and Raymond Eugene Jones with being an accessory to murder were issued Wednesday for the shooting death of Shond Arturo Dutch of Pensacola, police said Thursday. Both suspects are 33.

Authorities believed Moore, who goes by the street name "Raven," was in Jacksonville, while Jones, also known as "Arrowhead," was in the Pensacola area, said police investigator Rodney Engstrom.

Dutch was shot May 26 at 3:30 a.m. CDT in an area known as The Rocks near downtown Pensacola.

Alleged ring members arrested

MIAMI — Authorities arrested 15 members of a ring that allegedly smuggled more than three tons of cocaine from Colombia to the United States in a three-year span, the U.S. Attorney's Office said.

All of the defendants face a maximum penalty of life in prison if convicted, authorities said Thursday.

Reputed ringleader Israel Abel was arrested Wednesday in San Jose, Costa Rica, by Costa Rican authorities. He was immediately sent to the United States to stand trial.

According to U.S. Attorney Dexter Lehtinen's office, Abel's group contracted with Colombian cocaine suppliers and smugglers in transporting landing strips in Colombia to pick up the drug. It was then to be flown to the Bahamas, where it was transferred to boats and then brought to South Florida.

Then it was distributed throughout the United States. A Miami grand jury several weeks ago returned a four-count indictment against Abel and the other defendants, who were his associates or employees. The crimes allegedly occurred from May 1988 to December 1987.

Port site provided by city

PENSACOLA — The Pensacola City Council, after repeated delays, has agreed to provide a port site for the USS Lexington, giving its stamp of approval to keeping the historic aircraft carrier as a museum.

The 7-4 vote Wednesday kept alive hopes of a Pensacola group competing with three other cities for the carrier after it is decommissioned in November. The ship also is being sought by Corpus Christi, Texas; Mobile, Ala., and Quincy, Mass., where the carrier was built in 1943.

The council had been reticent in the past about making a commitment to the project because of potential costs estimated between $2 million and $6 million. The site approval is contingent upon the foundation raising an unspecified amount for site preparation and museum conversion by November.

The Lexington, a battle-scarred World War II veteran, has been based in Pensacola for the last 29 years as the Navy's only training carrier.

Skyway Bridge bearings slip

Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG — Workers plan to jolt up a 200-ton section of the Sunshine Skyway Bridge on Saturday to replace the bridge's bearings, which have slipped out of place and deteriorated.

The bearings on the modernistic spans were designed to last at least 30 years, but they've worn out after just four.

Workers on scaffolds plan to use hydraulic jacks to lift the roadway from its pier and replace the eight Teflon-like pads in the bridge's joints.

The bearings are critical because they allow sections of the bridge to shift when they need to, reducing stress that can cause cracks.

A set of two bearings lies beneath each of the four spans before they merge to form one bridge. All the sets must be replaced this year.

Contractors on Saturday's $180,000 job will be on the north end of the southbound span of the bridge. Traffic will be barred from the southbound lanes while two hydraulic jacks lift the deck of that span about an inch.

But once the deck is lifted, lanes will be reopened, said Andrew King, vice president of the Quinn Co. and project manager for the job.

Workers will slide the bearings under the deck as vehicles pass over it.

"We'll have to slow people down to about 35 miles per hour," King said. "There might be a very slight bump right at the expansion joint where we're replacing the plates."

This time, King said, the top plate will be made of higher quality steel. The Teflon coating on the bottom plate also will be stronger, and impregnated deeper into the steel beneath it so it doesn't peel off as it did before.

The Sunshine Skyway connects St. Petersburg to Manatee County.

93-year-old man starts new career as a nursing assistant

Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD — Ninety-three-year-old Sam Lifshus is in the hospital again. But he's healthy as can be.

Lifshus is a nursing assistant, one of the newest employees at Memorial Hospital, and definitely the oldest. Four hours a day, five days a week, Lifshus helps sterilize the instruments used in the 1,000-plus surgeries that take place monthly in Memorial's 16 operating rooms. His first day as a full-fledged staff member was June 6.

In his green scrub suit and blue booties, yellow lab coat flying behind him as he strides through the hallway, he's mistaken more for a doctor than a patient, he says.

"They'll say, 'Hey doc, where is this or that?'" Lifshus chuckles.

Sometimes, Lifshus watches the doctors through the doors of the operating rooms while they do things he can't understand, but that fascinate him anyway.

He keeps a little Bible in his pocket, not because he's especially religious, but because he likes to browse through Deuteronomy. "That's where all our laws come from, you know," he says.

Joyce Knutson, administrative director of surgical services, hired Lifshus over six other candidates, all many years his junior. Most of the hospital's other nursing assistants are women in their 30s and 40s.

"I was very concerned about his age, but let's face it, Sam is not your average 90-year-old," Knutson said.

And his colleagues are proud he's now officially part of their ranks.

Dentistry AIDs concern heightens

2 more patients contract disease

By ROBERT BYRD
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA — Health officials say more AIDS cases are possible among the patients of a Florida dentist, but his is still the only isolated incident of a health-care provider transmitting HIV in 10 years and billions of health-care procedures.

"Whatever happened in this practice must be very unusual," said Dr. Harold Jaffe, deputy director for science in the HIV-AIDS division at the Centers for Disease Control.

The CDC on Thursday confirmed two more infections among patients of a Florida dentist who died of AIDS — identified elsewhere as Dr. David Acer of Stuart — bringing the total to five.

"In all the other investigations we're aware of, we have not found any other instances of dentist or surgeon transmission to a patient," Jaffe said.

"This unfortunate case is the only isolated incident of a health-care provider transmitting HIV in 10 years and billions of health-care procedures," said Philip Weintraub, spokesman for the American Dental Association.

"It does reinforce the ADA's belief that the risk is infinitesimal, as long as proper infection control procedures are followed," Weintraub said. All five of the Florida patients, according to CDC investigators, had the same AIDS-virus strain, and none were known to be at risk of the disease from any other source.

Two other Acer patients have been shown to be infected with HIV, but investigators believe they had "other risk factors" and acquired the infection somewhere else.

CDC investigators say they will never know exactly how the five patients became infected. It's possible the dentist could have cut himself and bled while working on patients, but some reports have suggested his instruments could have been contaminated from work done on himself.

"Perhaps these additional cases make it more likely that at least some of the transmissions did involve contaminated equipment or instruments," Jaffe said. "I find it hard to believe that he could have injured himself so many times that he would have exposed all these people to his blood directly."

About 850 of Acer's estimated 2,000 patients have been tested for AIDS, Jaffe said.

It has been difficult for investigators to find some patients because their records cannot be located. Acer, closing his office before his death, returned some records to patients, sent some to other dentists and apparently destroyed others, Jaffe said.

Teen's relatives arrested in case

Officials predict more to come

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald Staff Writer

MIDWAY — The brother and uncle of the 16-year-old boy, who has been charged with manslaughter in the death of Antonio Dwight McGill, were arrested Thursday.

Sheriff's officials say more arrests are likely in the case. Seminole County Sheriff's spokesman George Procheil said during the investigation that witness often changed their stories which hindered their efforts.

One witness to the shooting had been released on house arrest the same day and was supposed to be at home, Procheil said.

"Some people have no respect for the law," Procheil said.

Andre Germaine Stokes, 18, 1717 W. 15th St., Sanford, and Robert Lee Smith, 48, 2010

Jack Court, Midway, were arrested by sheriff's investigators Wednesday night. Stokes was charged with being a principal to manslaughter. Smith with was held on being an accessory after the fact. Both were held in Seminole County jail on $10,000 bond. The youth has been charged with manslaughter.

Investigators say Smith aided the youth by driving him to Daytona Beach following the May 23 shooting and helping him to take a bus to Rochester, New York, to stay with his mother. Smith denied the allegation, although the youth told them his uncle aided him, reports state.

McGill died the following day at Orlando Regional Medical Center after life support systems were removed, authorities have said.

The youth returned to his home May 27 turned himself in to investigators, the report states. He was held in the county juvenile detention center on manslaughter charges. Procheil said the youth had a prior arrest history. McGill also had prior arrests and at least one conviction, Procheil said.

According to witness statements to investigators, McGill had threatened to rob Andre Stokes earlier in the day. Stokes contacted his brother for help and when the youth arrived, McGill threatened to rob him as well, reports state. The youth said McGill shoved him and he took out a .32 caliber handgun and struck McGill in the face with it. The gun discharged into McGill's face, mortally wounding him.

Attempted murder, rape charges filed

Sanford police charged a Sanford man with attempted murder and two counts of actual battery Wednesday. Phillip O'Neal Ford, 37, 7 Higgins Terrace, was held at the Seminole County jail without bond. According to arrest reports, he was visiting a 28-year-old Higgins Terrace woman Tuesday when he grabbed her neck and started choking her.

The woman said Ford told he would stop choking her if she stopped struggling and screaming, reports state. The woman said Ford then forced her into her bedroom, removed her clothing and forced her to have sex with him, reports state. After performing another sexual act on her he left, the woman reported to police.

At the jail, Ford was also charged with two outstanding arrest warrants for battery and criminal mischief.

Three charged with solicitation

Sanford and City County Investigative Bureau agents arrested three Sanford men Thursday for allegedly soliciting undercover female agents for prostitution. The arrests were made on Sanford Avenue near Fourth Street. Charged were:

• Wiley Francis Fossett, 41, 3421 Hughey St., Sanford, arrested for reportedly offering an undercover agent $20 in cocaine in return for sexual favors.

• Angel Luis Galarez, 20, 116 W. Second St., for reportedly offering an agent $10 to perform a sexual act.

• John Austin Crowell Jr., 30, 1531 Forest Drive, for reportedly offering an agent $5 to perform a sexual act.

Also arrested was Bill Lane, 33, 631 Oak St., Sanford, who was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest after Sanford agents reported he interfered with their prostitution sting operation.

Concealed weapon, marijuana found

Carla Fogle Fitzgerald, 32, 4366 Francis St., Sanford, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and possession of marijuana Thursday. Seminole County deputies report receiving a complaint about a possible shooting on U.S. Highway 17-92 near the Lake Monroe Inn. When deputies found the vehicle driven by Fitzgerald which matched the description given by the caller, they report finding a small knife under her seat and marijuana cigarette.

Couple arrested on Ohio rape charges

A Longwood couple were arrested on Ohio rape charges. Walter Lee Hendrix III, 29, and Laura Ann Hendrix, 28, 147 S. Lakeview Drive, were arrested on charges of rape, felonious sexual penetration and gross sexual imposition. Both were held at the Seminole County jail awaiting extradition.

Geneva man combative

Alvin Reid Morton, 39, Geneva, was arrested at the Handy Way on west State Road 46 Thursday by Seminole County deputies and charged with petit theft and resisting arrest. Deputies reported responding to a fight at the store and found Morton combative. One deputy reported Morton blew cigarette smoke in his face. Deputies report finding the tag on Morton's car was stolen.

Traffic stop leads to arrest

Ronald Lee Millington Sr., 37, 216 Country Club Road, Lake Mary, was charged with marijuana possession by Lake Mary police after a traffic stop on County Road 15 Wednesday night. Police report seeing six partially-smoked marijuana cigarettes in the center console of his car. He was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

DUI arrest

Brent Cason McKinley, 36, Bunker Lane, Sanford, was charged with drunken driving and failure to maintain a single lane by Sanford police Wednesday. Police report seeing McKinley crossing over the centerline of Lake Mary Boulevard several times.

Warrant arrests

The following people have been taken into custody after arrest warrants have been issued:

• Jeffery Allen Baker, 31, 1001 Lake Harney Drive, Geneva, was arrested for a probation violation for a driving with a suspended license conviction.

• Otha Teril Griffith, 26, 2527 Ridgewood Ave., Sanford, was arrested for failing to appear at a state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services Hearing.

• Frank Lee Wheeler Jr., 41, 1811 W. 15th St., Sanford, was arrested for failing to appear at a HRS hearing.

• Timothy John Yeasley, 21, 1331 Forest Drive, was arrested for a probation violation for a grand theft conviction.

Lawmakers warn Cable TV

By ROBERT NAYLOR JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Some lawmakers want Congress to step in and do what they claim the Federal Communications Commission won't do: protect consumers from rapidly rising cable television rates.

The lawmakers voiced complaints about an FCC decision Thursday to allow local governments to regulate the prices charged by cable TV systems that serve communities with fewer than six TV stations or don't have another multichannel competitor.

The rules would affect mainly small communities not well served by television stations. And only the prices for "basic" cable service would be regulated, meaning pay programming such as HBO and Showtime would not be affected.

Consumer advocates said the action would do nothing to lower prices, but could slow rate increases, which the General Accounting Office, a congressional watchdog agency, said have risen at about twice the rate of inflation in recent years.

"If anyone thought the FCC would do the job of protecting consumers, they just need to look at today's ruling," Rep. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y., said during a Thursday news conference attended by several lawmakers who said the FCC vote demonstrated the need for legislative action.

Jeff Chester of the Tele democracy Project, a group affiliated with consumer advocate Ralph Nader, called the rules revision

"completely ineffective in preventing the cable industry from continuing to hike up its rates."

The cable industry wasn't particularly pleased with the ruling either.

James Mooney, president of the National Cable Television Association, said the decision would hamper the ability of cable systems "to provide diverse programming, up-to-date technology and first-class customer service."

"None of these things is inexpensive," he said, "but the government seems totally focused on price to the exclusion of quality."

The commission voted 5-0 to overhaul its current policy.

Economic good news

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — Consumer prices rose a moderate 0.3 percent in May, the government said today in a report dampening fears that inflation was threatening to get out of control.

The small increase in the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index was attributed to moderation in food costs, which helped to offset the first increase in energy prices in six months.

Today's CPI report was the latest good economic news. Recent reports have shown consumer spending on the rise, housing construction rebounding and steady declines in the number of new filings for unemployment compensation.

Many analysts believe the various reports are signalling the end of the 11-month old recession.

Home ownership eludes many

By DAVE SKIDMORE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Many Americans — particularly minorities, the young and single people — find the dream of home ownership slipping from their grasp, a Census Bureau study concludes. The report, "Who Can Afford to Buy a House?," found that 57 percent of all households — both owners and renters — could not afford a median-priced house purchased with a conventional, 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage. Thirty-six percent of current homeowners and 91 percent of renters did not qualify for a median-priced home. Even a modestly priced house is too expensive for 48 percent of the nation's households, said the report, released Thursday. And 15 percent could not afford to buy a home at even the lowest prices. A median-priced house is one that is more expensive than half the homes in a market and less expensive than half. A modestly priced house was defined as one where 75 percent of the homes in the market cost more. "This seems to be telling us that the step from renting to home ownership is a big step for a large number of households and perhaps a bigger step than was generally realized," said economist Mark Obrinsky of the Federal National Mortgage Association. The study, which analyzed the income, debt levels and savings of 12,000 households surveyed in the spring of 1988, found sharp differences in the ability to buy a home by region, age, marital status and race or ethnic background. For instance, 77 percent of black families and 74 percent of Hispanic families could not buy a median-priced home, compared with 43 percent of whites and 46 percent of non-Hispanics. Thirty-nine percent of married couples could not afford a median house, compared with 75 percent of all single people and 87 percent of single women with children. By region, the percentage of households who couldn't afford a median house were: the West, 63; Northeast, 59; South, 56; and Midwest, 51. The median prices were Northeast, $100,000; West, $95,000; and Midwest and South, $60,000.

Chemical menace

For decades the United States has maintained a large chemical weapons stockpile, primarily to deter the Soviet Union from using its even larger chemical arsenal in a potential conflict in Europe.

Today, however, the Soviet military threat has receded substantially and President Bush has called for a global ban on chemical weapons. Moscow already has endorsed such a move. Mr. Bush's proposal could make the world more secure from the horrifying menace of poison gases and nerve agents.

Recent events in the Persian Gulf have illustrated the flaws inherent in the Geneva Protocol of 1925.

That international agreement merely prohibits the first use of chemical arms; it imposes no restrictions on stockpiles. Besides the United States and the Soviet Union, at least 14 countries maintain chemical arsenals. Ten others, mostly in the Third World, have begun chemical weapons programs in recent years.

During the 1980-88 war between Iran and Iraq, both sides resorted to chemical attacks in a bid to gain military advantage. In the closing hours of the Persian Gulf War, Saddam Hussein reportedly wanted to use chemical arms against allied forces but his orders were ignored by Iraqi military commanders.

Mustard gas and other forms of chemical munitions have become increasingly popular among militant Third World regimes because they are cheap and simple to produce but can provide an enormous psychological edge on the battlefield.

For more than 20 years, the 39-nation Conference on Disarmament in Geneva has sought to negotiate effective ways to slow the proliferation of chemical weapons. Efforts to arrange a worldwide ban on stockpiles have been frustrated in part by Washington's insistence on maintaining a limited arsenal for deterrence purposes.

President Bush removed that obstacle recently by offering to destroy all U.S. stockpiles if other nations agreed to a global ban. The Soviet Union, which possesses the world's largest inventory of chemical arms, had proposed earlier to dismantle its weapons if the United States agreed to do the same.

Under the new American proposal, nations that refuse to renounce the production of poison gas would be subject to international trade sanctions. Mr. Bush also has proposed that a treaty be completed for signing in Geneva within a year.

By exerting leadership to destroy their stockpiles, Washington and Moscow can help encourage other nations to abolish the chemical threat. For the first time since poison gas was used on a wide scale in the trenches of World War I, the world has reason to hope this menace finally can be eliminated.

WILLIAM A. RUSHER

Exercise buys precious little time

"The average American," my bishop is fond of saying, "is a sentimental, superstitious atheist." Probably that's why so many people are trying furiously these days to prolong their lives. If this life is all there is, it stands to reason that a person is well advised to stretch it to its uttermost possible length.

So the roads are clogged with joggers toughening their heart muscles, and the supermarkets are awash with buyers eagerly in search of No Fat this and Lite that and Cholesterol-free the other, and woe betide the unfortunate who dares to smoke a cigarette.

In the spirit of such an age, the following sentence, taken from a recent newspaper article, at first seems to bring exciting news:

"Just a half-hour of jogging or brisk walking three times a week can slash your risk of dying from heart disease, cancer and strokes by as much as 50 percent, studies have shown."

Now at first glance that sounds like a remarkable bargain. Since it is well known that heart disease, cancer and strokes cause well over half of all deaths, and the article says that just walking briskly three times a week can "slash" your risk of dying from any of the three by as much as 50 percent, it would seem to follow that this trivial output of energy can reduce your overall probability of something or other (could it be dying?) by over 25 percent — perhaps even as much as a third.

Here, of course, common sense threatens to set in. In the back of our minds, even the most health-conscious of us know that we are going to die sooner or later of something; if not of heart disease, cancer or a stroke, then of erysipelas, adult measles or strangling on a fish bone. The only thing the brisk walking accomplishes is to rearrange the probabilities. Our risk of dying from certain diseases may go down, but the risk of dying from certain others must, inexorably, go up — up, in fact, precisely as far as the first set declines, so that the ultimate probability of dying remains at its usual percentage: 100.

Common sense threatens to set in.

Ah, the health fanatics will say, but you miss the point! We may all be doomed to die sooner or later. But for you it will, in all probability, be sooner, whereas in the case of those of us who jog, walk briskly, do push-ups, don't smoke or drink, avoid saturated fats, etc. it will very likely be later. In short, we will (on the average) live longer.

OK, but just how much longer? Here we have the benefit of a recent study by researchers at Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston and the Harvard School of Public Health. According to the study (which is intended to encourage us to exercise), the benefits of exercise are astonishingly small.

According to the researchers, getting the blood pressure of a man under control will, on average, lengthen his life by ... one year; in the case of a woman, five months. Getting his cholesterol count under 200 will shave off his extinction for just eight months; hers, by 10. Quitting smoking will lengthen his life by an average of 10 months; hers, by eight. If he maintains an ideal weight, a man's reward, on average, will be seven more months of existence; a woman's, five.

In fact, if all deaths from heart disease could be eliminated completely, 35-year-old males would enjoy (if that's the word) an average of 3.1 more years on this globe; women, 3.3.

Did U.S. prop up failing bank?

WASHINGTON — The collapse of Washington, D.C.'s Madison National Bank will cost the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. about $160 million — far from a huge sum as bank failures go. However, congressional investigators say Madison provides a textbook example of federal regulators failing to aggressively police banks, especially those with high-level political connections.

D.C.'s sixth largest bank, Madison National was declared insolvent and seized by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency on May 10. The FDIC is now in the process of disposing of the bank and its assets: deposits and branch locations have already been sold to Signet Bank. The FDIC will spend about $160 million of its funds to liquidate the bank.

House Banking Committee investigators determined that bank examiners had documented more than 80 major violations of banking laws and regulations by Madison going back six years. However, their supervisors and officials of the OCC did nothing until it was too late and the bank was beyond salvage.

This led Banking Committee Chairman Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Texas, to charge that the regulators' inaction cost the FDIC tens of millions it would not have had to lay out had the bank been closed earlier.

Madison's problems — which examiners began discovering in 1985 — read like a litany of '80s-style financial abuses: insider trading, excessive loans to bank directors, no documentation to back up loans, insider loans given without board of directors approval, directors allowed to overdraw personal checking accounts by considerable amounts without fees or penalties, and carrying non-performing loans on the bank's books as current.

Documents show two-thirds of the bad loans on Madison's books had been made to developers who either sat on Madison's board or who were close business associates of Madison directors. One, Dominic Antonelli Jr. — at one time one of Washington's largest developers — is now bankrupt and owes Madison tens of millions.

In 1985, bank examiners found that Madison was doing an "inadequate" job of loan review, and that its loan management was "unacceptable." In the annual reviews that followed, Madison's loan-review performance slipped from "inadequate" to "unacceptable," its quality of general supervision from "satisfactory" to "unsatisfactory" and then to "poor," and its overall financial condition went from "good" to "fair" to "unsatisfactory," just before it was closed.

The OCC rates banks on a scale from 1 to 5, with 1 the strongest rating and 5 denoting insolvency. In 1985 and 1986, Madison was rated a 2. By 1988, that had slipped to a 3, which meant the bank should have been added to a list of problem banks to which the OCC is supposed to pay extra attention. In 1991, shortly before the bank was closed, a 5 rating was assigned.

Committee investigators believe the bank was overrated throughout this period. They believe it merited a 3 from 1985 on, should have been given a 4 by 1988, and probably merited a 5 and closure in 1989. Had the bank been closed then, say committee sources, the FDIC would have saved at least $60 million.

At a recent hearing on the Madison failure, banking committee chairman Gonzalez said: "Madison is a prime example of how the culture at the OCC allows pitifully managed institutions like Madison to remain open long past the time when they are no longer viable. In fact, the OCC bent over backwards to keep Madison open by continually granting it more time to improve. But it kept getting worse."

At the hearing the Federal Reserve also came under fire for continuing to lend Madison new millions to prop it up in its final months. One charge that was leveled was that these late loans allowed large depositors with funds in excess of FDIC insurance limits to pull out their money before the collapse. Many of these depositors had high-level political connections.

It was pointed out at the hearing that a top official at Madison's holding company parent, Michael Powers, once was an OCC executive and that his wife is still a top-level administrator there.

Comptroller of the Currency Robert Clark appeared at the hearing to defend OCC's actions. He admitted that examiners had turned up problems at the bank "but they did not appear life-threatening until the last months." It was not until late 1990, he said, that it became apparent the bank was in deep trouble and its management was resisting the regulators.

Had it been closed earlier, the FDIC would have saved at least $60 million.

Lithuanian turns to his inner spirit

VILNIUS, Lithuania — Support for President Vytautas Landsbergis remains strong here, but a growing minority, secretly stoked by the Soviet KGB, is trying to stick him with the label of "new dictator."

Vice President Bronius Kuzmickas warned us that the KGB, using ethnic Russians and former Lithuanian communist leaders, was attacking Landsbergis personally in an attempt to bust up the nascent Lithuanian democracy that elected him president in March of last year.

The more democratic Lithuania becomes, "the more we hear voices that the Lithuanian Parliament is implementing dictatorship," Kuzmickas said. "Some people think democracy is anarchy, that all is allowed and all is possible." But he said democracy needs strong leadership, and some Lithuanians interpret strong leaders as dictators.

He and other sources say the disinformation campaign by the KGB has fed off of Landsbergis' unyielding personality.

Landsbergis remains stoic and nonplussed. His office is inside a barricaded Parliament building guarded only by a few men with hunting rifles, but this ruffled music professor is combative, not defensive with Moscow.

In an interview with us, Landsbergis made it clear that he needs all the personal strength he can muster to stand up to Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev and the Red Army.

His answers were clipped and to the point. We asked if he thought it was time that the United States recognized Lithuania's independence. "This could have been done before January," he responded, referring to the Jan. 13 massacre of 15 unarmed Lithuanians who were crushed by Soviet tanks and shot to death when they tried to prevent the takeover of a Lithuanian television tower.

Could the deaths have been prevented with U.S. recognition of Lithuanian independence? "Yes," he replied bluntly. This is the same man who, despite a personal friendship with George Bush, accused Bush one year ago of appeasement on a par with the pre-World War II Munich agreement. At the time, Lithuania was in the middle of a 10-week economic blockade by Gorbachev who wanted to strangle the independence movement. "Iron will melt to wax and water will turn to stone before we retreat," Landsbergis proclaimed, echoing the battle cry of a 14th-century Lithuanian hero.

Landsbergis has that spirit in his genes. Both of his grandfathers worked for Lithuania's independence from the Russian czar at the turn of the century. His paternal grandfather published an underground newspaper and was imprisoned and deported.

After World War I when Lithuania achieved independence, Landsbergis' father served in the republic's army and later fought in the underground battle against the Nazis. Landsbergis' brother was arrested by the Nazis for organizing demonstrations. And his uncle was executed by the Soviets after World War II when they annexed Lithuania.

Awaiting the call to greatness, Landsbergis became an accomplished pianist, music theoretician and professor at the Vilnius Conservatory. When Gorbachev encouraged reforms, Landsbergis took him at his word and quickly rose to the top of the Sajudis reform movement. He led Lithuania to a declaration of independence and successfully withstood Moscow's economic blockade.

Some Lithuanians interpret strong leaders as dictators.

BASEBALL

Patriots tumble

BASEBALL CITY — John Malingier hurled a one-hitter as the Eau Gallie Gators defeated the Lake Brantley Patriots 6-2 in the opening round of the Polk County Sport Festival at Baseball City Complex Thursday night.

The loss drops the Patriots into the consolation bracket of the eight team tournament where they will take on Bishop Moore at 1 p.m. today. The Hornets dropped a 1-0 decision to Apopka in the opening round.

Lake Brantley got on the board in the fourth inning when Wes Iler singled in Jeff Butler. The Patriots' other run came in the fifth on a sacrifice fly by Brett Black that scored Iler.

Iler reached base three times in the game, going 1-for-2 with a walk and also reaching base on catchers interference.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE

Orlando blanked

ORLANDO — Pat Gomez went eight scoreless innings to give Greenville a 2-0 Southern League victory over Orlando Thursday.

Gomez (5-2) gave up four hits, one walk and struck out five. His relief, Mark Wohlers, struck out one to earn 20 saves for the season.

Losing pitcher Pat Mahomes (6-5) went seven innings, giving up six hits, one run, six walks and struck out seven.

Jacksonville falls

JACKSONVILLE — Kevin Koslofaki hit a home run in the second inning to lift Memphis to a 4-2 Southern League victory over Jacksonville Thursday.

Chicks' winning pitcher Eddie Pierce (3-2) went five innings, giving up five hits, two runs, which were unearned. He had four strike outs. Mark Parnell allowed one hit in the ninth to earn his eighth save of the season.

Roger Salkeld (5-3) picked up the loss, going seven innings. He gave up 10 hits, three runs, one walk and struck out eight.

Tragedy strikes US Open

CHASKA, Minn. — Lightning killed one spectator and injured 20 others as they stood near a tree during a delay in the U.S. Open at Hazlettine National Golf Club course.

William John Fadell, 27, of Spring Park, Minn., died of cardiac arrest, said Dr. Dale Bohike, director of emergency medical services at St. Francis Regional Medical Center in Shakopee, Minn.

The lightning struck near the 11th tee at about 1 p.m. CDT, about 10 minutes after first-round play was suspended. An estimated 40,000 spectators were on the course, 30 miles southwest of Minneapolis. Play resumed at 3:30 p.m. CDT.

With 33 players yet to complete their rounds, Nolan Henke and Payne Stewart shared the lead with rounds of 5-under-par 67. Tom Byrum followed at 68, and Scott Hoch and Mark Calcavecchia were next at 69. Jack Nicklaus, Fred Couples, Keith Clearwater, Jim Gallagher Jr., Craig Parry, Davis Love III and Scott were at 70.

John Inman aced the par-3 fourth hole with a 4-iron. He finished with a 72.

Red Sox trip Expos

Three home runs lead to 14-6 victory

Robert Randall (-15) is mobbed by his K & D Red Sox teammates after hammering the first of his two two-run home runs during Thursday's opening game of the 1991

Sanford Little Major Baseball League City Championships at Roy Holler Field. The Red Sox went on to romp over the Marshall USA Expos 14-6.

SANFORD — Terrance Perkins tossed a three-hitter and his offense pounded out 14 hits as the K & D Trailer Sales Red Sox romped to a 14-6 triumph over the Marshall USA Expos in the opening game of the Sanford Recreation Department Little Major Baseball League City Championships at Port Mellon Park's Roy Holler Memorial Little League Field Thursday.

Game two of the best-of-three series will be played at 9 a.m. Saturday morning at Roy Holler Field. If the Expos should win Saturday morning the third game will be played Monday evening at 8 p.m.

It was thought beforehand that this was going to be an even series as both teams went through the regular season with 11-2 records. But the Red Sox showed the pitching, defense and power that allowed them to win the American League by four full games.

Perkins was in control most of the game, allowing a swinging bunt single to Chaz Lytle to start the game and then not giving up another hit until Donny Harrison

Prestige Lumber Expos win thriller

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Andrea Rawlings singled in Charles Reynolds with the winning run in the ninth inning as the Prestige Lumber Expos clipped the Rotary Royals 7-6 to highlight Sanford Recreation Babe Ruth Baseball play Thursday night.

In the other game the Kiwanis Orioles defeated the Woodman of the World A's 13-8.

With the win, the Expos (6-1) moved within 1/2 game of the Knights of Columbus Cardinals (7-1). Following the two teams in the standings are the Royals (5-4), Orioles (4-4), Hungry Howies Cuba (3-6), Pretty Punch Blue Jays (3-5), Moose Pirates (2-4), and the A's (1-6).

The regular season will conclude Saturday with the remainder of the rained out games being played. Next week the Cardinals, winners of the first half, will take on the Expos in a best of three series for the City Championship.

At 5:45 p.m. today at Chase Park, the Cubs play the A's in the completion of a game suspended from June 1 and then the A's will take on the Cardinals.

The Royals opened the scoring against the Expos with two runs in the second as Alberto Williams and Bo Pearson walked and scored. Charlie Farmer reached on an error and scored in the second inning for the Expos.

Eric Roberts singled and scored in the third to give the Royals a 3-1 lead. The Expos pulled within one run as Todd Braden singled and scored. Eric Ingram walked and Roberts singled as the Royals took a 4-2 lead in the fifth inning.

The Expos took a one-run lead in their fifth. Andrea Rawlings doubled and scored. Braden crossed home following a single, and Graig Stevens scored after reaching on an error.

Anton Grooms walked and scored in the seventh inning for the Royals to force the game into extra innings.

Race stays tight as top three teams win

From staff reports

SANFORD — The top three teams all stayed within one game of each other with wins in Sanford Recreation Department Thursday Night Men's Spring/Summer Slowpitch Softball League action at Pinehurst Park.

Gator's Dockside bounced back from its first loss of the season last week with a 5-1 defeat of Lee's Cabinet. Seminole Mobile Radio blanked The Olive Garden Restaurant 8-0 and First Baptist picked up a 7-0 forfeit victory over AAA Tree Service.

Gator's Dockside (7-1) remains in first place, followed by First Baptist and Seminole Mobile Radio (6-2 each), Lee's Cabinets (4-5), Olive Garden (1-6) and AAA Tree Service (0-7).

Next Thursday Olive Garden plays Lee's Cabinets at 6:30 p.m., AAA Tree Service challenges

Area golfers trail leaders

From Staff Reports

LECANTO — By the time most of the Seminole County golfers finished playing their first round of the 74th Men's State Amateur at Black Diamond Ranch, they spoke not of their great shots, but of how the slick greens and the five treacherous quarry holes robbed them from a better finish.

Not one of the 10 competitors from Seminole posted an under par score on the state's top ranked course. Longwood's Jeff Cridel and Oviedo graduate Mike Doane led the way with one over par 73's. They stand six back of the leader, former U.S. Amateur champion and University of Florida golf coach Buddy Alexander, who broke the competitive course record with his 66 Thursday. Robert Ireland of Longwood and Winter Springs' John Pettit each came through with a 74.

Pettit, a 1988 Oviedo High School graduate, entered the 13th hole at even par but his subsequent bogey and double bogey on the next two holes dropped him out of contention. His tee shot on the par five 14th never found dry land, taking a 500-foot drop into the quarry pit which covers the center of the golf course.

The next hole, a 370-yard downhill par four, with water to the left and thick rough to the right, victimized former All-American and Longwood resident Cliff Kresge who endured an eight on that hole. He bounced back with an eagle on the par five 18th and shot 75 where he stands with Brett Bauer of Winter Springs and Robbie Stock of Oviedo.

Lake Mary's Ray Landry, a UCF accounting professor, posted a 77 in an early morning round. After a solid first nine on the back side he slipped on the front nine holes. Lyman grad John Toth also suffered through a 77 in his first ever state amateur round.

The best score by a Central Florida golfer was by David Boesel of Winter Park who blistered the course for a 68.

The 120 man field will play again today after which they will be narrowed to the low 70 players and ties.

Jeff Deen singled in Jay Crutchfield with a run in the top of the first inning as Gator's Dockside took a quick lead looking to get back on the winning track.

They increased the lead to 3-0 in the third on a single by Harold Beasley, an RBI triple by Crutchfield and a sacrifice fly by Lloyd Wall.

Lee's Cabinets lone run came in the bottom of the third on a triple by Tony Davis and a sacrifice fly by Danny Lee to cut the lead to 3-1.

But Gator's Dockside added an insurance run in the sixth inning on a single by Brian Rogers and a triple by Barry Hysell and another insurance run in the seventh on singles by Mike Kirby and Craig Stitt and two fielder's choices.

He did have some problems with his control as he walked since he seemed to be able to come up with the big strikeout when he needed it and wound up with seven "K's".

Besides pitching a beautiful game Perkins also carried a big stick to the plate as he was on base all five times he came to the plate. He was 3-for-3 with a home run, a double, a single, two bases on ball, scored four runs and drove in four more. Just for good measure he also stole a base.

But he was far from the only offensive hero as Robert Randall crunched a pair of two run home runs, leading team Antonio White had three hits and scored three runs and Nicholas Ireland had a pair of hits, including a double, and scored three runs.

The Red Sox jumped on Expos starter Steve Bussard for a pair of runs in the top of the first inning when White led off with a single and scored on a double by Perkins. One out later Brett Counts singled to score Perkins.

The Expos looked like they might get something going in the bottom of the first when Lytle led off with a single, went to second on a passed ball and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Harrison walked and stole second and scored on a double by Perkins. One out later Brett Counts singled to score Perkins.

The Expos looked like they might get something going in the bottom of the first when Lytle led off with a single, went to second on a passed ball and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Harrison walked and stole second and scored on a double by Perkins. One out later Brett Counts singled to score Perkins.

Terrance Perkins tossed a three-hitter as the Sales Red Sox whipped the Expos 14-6 in the opening game of the Sanford City Championships Thursday night.

reached on an error scoring Floyd. Perkins singled to score Ireland with White going to third. Brett Counts then doubled just inside the third base bag to score both White and Perkins making the score 10-2.

The Expos got one of the runs back in the bottom of the third when Evans walked, went to second when Ned Raines was hit by a pitch, moved to third on a ground out and scored on a sacrifice fly by Harriet.

The score remained 10-3 until the bottom of the fifth when Perkins appeared to tire and the Expos put three runs on the board, cutting the lead to 10-6.

Harrison led off with his double and came around on a passed ball and a wild pitch. Mike Evans walked and stole second and advanced to third when the throw from the catcher got past second base. Evans scored on a passed ball as Raines was drawing a walk, but the Red Sox got a break on the play as Raines was thrown out at third after stealing second and trying to go on to third.

Alex Jacot then got to second on a pair of errors, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a wild pitch. After a strikeout, two more walks gave the Expos further chance to score but Perkins bore down to strikeout the next batter to end the inning.

The red Sox built back a comfortable lead in the top of the sixth by scoring four runs. Ireland led off with a double and scored on a single by White. White wound up on third on the play as his hit got past the right fielder. He scored on a wild pitch and Perkins walked. The next two batters struck out, but Randall ripped his second shot of the game over the centerfield fence to make the score 14-6.

The first two batters in the sixth went easy for the Expos but Evans singled to keep the hope alive.

DOG RACING

Powering the Gator's Dockside offense were Stitt (three singles), Crutchfield (triples, single, two runs scored), Harold Beasley (two singles, run scored), Hysell (triple), Kirby and Rogers (one single and one run scored each) and Deen and Derek Pike (one single each).

Contributing to the offense for Lee's Cabinets were Davis (triple, run scored) and Craig Appel, Bubba Split, Danny Lee and Duane Lee (one single each).

Seminole Mobile Radio was in complete control of its game as The Olive Garden Restaurant only had one runner reach second base in the game.

The winners did all of their scoring in the second, third and fourth innings. In the second Keith Wallace tripled in two runs, in the third Billy Stevin tripled in three runs to cap a five run inning and three singles led to a solo run in the fourth.

Africa explored

Lake Mary second graders discover customs, culture

By MARVA HAWKINS
Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary Elementary School ended the year by celebrating its Spring Fling recently. The theme was "Culture and Customs."

Mrs. Levather Whitby's second grade class studied the cultures and customs of Africa. Their goal was to become acquainted with the many countries of Africa and with how Africa's customs and cultures have had an influence on other continents.

Culminating the activities, the class decorated the stage with a huge jungle mural as a backdrop to enhance the performance of the African dancers from the Orlando Cultural Dance School.

Whitby's class invited Gladys Green and Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood to share their video, slides, artifacts and clothing of Senegal with the 175 second graders.

Whitby's class set up an outdoor African Pavilion and invited over 950 students to tour the student-made jungle, to visit their museum and view African artifacts, clothing, jewelry, musical instruments, books and video tapes of African culture. Viewers also participated in tie-dyeing and sampled an African treat. Visitors were amazed to see Whitby's students making and decorating homemade musical instruments. The Kwanzaa Exhibit, a celebration to commemorate the African heritage and values of families and community life caught the interest of everyone.

Several of Whitby's students found this experience to be a "tri-cultural" one via way of Haiti, Puerto Rico, France and Germany.

Wife says heart still beats for ex-hubby

DEAR ABBY: I am having a problem with my ex-wife. During our marriage, I caught her cheating four times. She appears to still love me and only me. (We still see each other.) She comes over and spends the night with me every once in a while, and we have sex together, even though she has been engaged to a man in Florida for more than a year. He has money and buys her very nice gifts. (He just bought her a '91 Camaro.)

The problem is, I still love her and would like to get back together if she would only let go of the "money man." Should I let her go or keep trying to get her back?

A TOUGH DECISION

DEAR TOUGH DECISION: Let her go. She's using you (for sex) and using the man in Florida for whatever she can get out of him. If you were to get her back, what would you have? A promiscuous gold digger who can't be trusted.

DEAR ABBY: Twice recently, my daughter (the eldest and married) asked me to intervene in her behalf concerning some disagreements she has been having with some of her siblings. My answer was, "No, please try to work it out yourselves." She then told me that it was my duty to intervene. I disagreed, saying I was not going to take sides — I wanted to be on friendly terms with all my children and their spouses.

Her husband then sent me a nasty letter calling me "ignorant and selfish," and saying I could no longer write to — or speak with — my daughter!

Abby, was I wrong in refusing to intervene?

PROBLEMS ON THE HOME FRONT

DEAR PROBLEMS: No, I think you used good judgment in remaining neutral. Now, about your name-calling son-in-law: He does not speak for his wife — unless, of course, she has authorized him to be her representative. Has she?

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are happily married. We both agree that our family is complete and we do not want any more children. We use birth control, but nothing is foolproof, and just the thought of another pregnancy makes me shiver in my boots.

The reason my husband hasn't gotten a vasectomy is because we haven't been able to find out if such measures are right in the eyes of the Lord. We are members of the congregation of a very small Christian church, and I just can't bring myself to ask our minister. Can you please

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

LET ME IN COLORADO

DEAR LET ME: Perhaps you would feel more comfortable consulting a clergyperson of your faith in a neighboring town. Or you could write to the district office of your church and inquire.

DEAR ABBY: Reading in your column that you put your glasses on when you answer the phone prompts this letter.

Even if it's dark, when we need to hear, we put our glasses on. Regardless of how strange it may seem, we hear better with glasses. This theory has been tested, and it's true.

R. KAY IN L.A.

DEAR ABBY: With so many children as well as some adults unable to read, and the warning on some labels printed so small that older people can't read them, perhaps we should resume the old skull and crossbones on all poisons.

Also, now that camping season has returned, parents should avoid dressing their children in camouflage-printed clothing for picnics or camp-outs. If children wander off, they would be much harder to locate.

Bright orange or yellow is the most visible color. Campers should keep that in mind.

DULUTH, MINN.

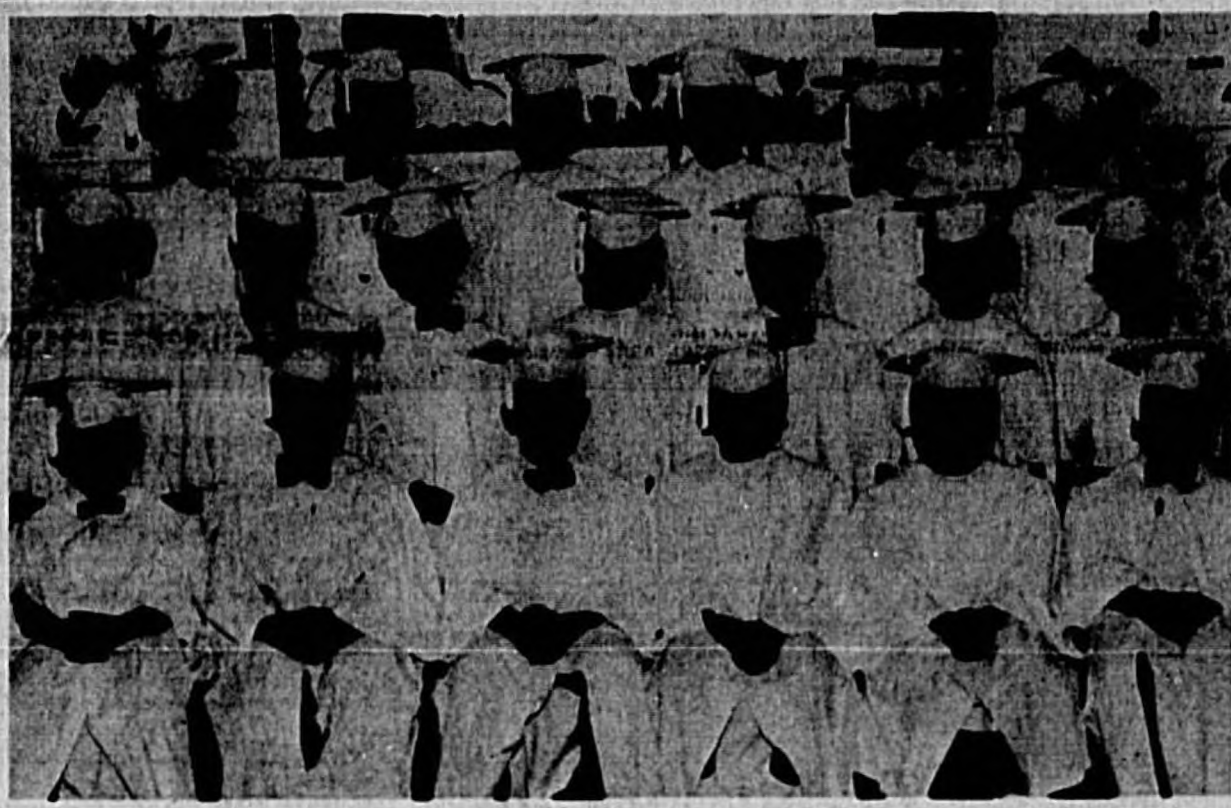

DEAR DULUTH: And a whistle hung on an elastic cord around the neck isn't a bad idea for campers. But make sure the elastic cord can't strangle the wearer should it get caught on some object.

DEAR ABBY: I do something I think more people would do if they just stopped for a moment and thought about it. I have a very select list of charities I always give to. But when I send a check, I also include a short note: "Please do not send me a thank-you! Save the postage. My canceled check is my receipt."

DON C. IN K.C., MO.

DEAR DON: Thanks. I learned something today. Most charities need every penny they can raise.

(Problems? Write to Dear Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dear Abby, P.O. Box 69440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. All correspondence is confidential.)

THE COMPASSIONATE FATHER

A small child runs toward the street. The child's father calls out calmly, yet firmly, "Come back into the yard."
"As a father has compassion on his children, so the Lord has compassion on those who fear Him." (Psalm 103:13)
Webster defines this "fear" as "reverential awe," indicating a feeling of "deep respect and overwhelming admiration." Though the child was not aware of the possible danger in the street, he was aware of the admiration and respect he felt for his father, since he knew that his father loved and protected him. Therefore, he obeyed. He feared his father in the most positive way.
It is this "reverential awe" which our Heavenly Father inspires in us, His children, so that we respect Him in such a positive and trusting way as to desire to obey His Word, thus living a life filled with faith, hope and the knowledge that our soul shall never die, but live eternally with Him.
As you honor your father this Sabbath, praise also your Heavenly Father. His compassion and love are everlasting.

The program will include a guest from the Children's Department of the Orange County Library System, with storytelling, plus selections from the video series "How to Train Volunteers for Youth Work." The business meeting will include the election of officers and acceptance of payments for 1991-92 memberships. Persons who are interested in CSLA, but cannot attend on June 20, are encouraged to get more information by calling 843-8370.

Pastoral, budget decisions made

Methodist pastor transferred to new positions locally

New pastoral assignments for 1990-91 for 175 clergy members were announced by Bishop H. H. Hartsfield, Jr., at the conclusion of the five-day, 140th annual session of the United Methodist Church's Florida Conference, according to Tom Hughes, director of public relations for the Florida Conference.

In Sanford and Deltona, a total of three pastoral changes were announced. They are as follows: Rev. Durb Jean Davis, of First United Methodist Church, Sanford, was named as a prohibitory member of the First United Methodist Church, Geneva; Rev. James E. Usher, Sr., of Christ United Methodist Church, Sanford, will take on dual responsibilities. He will continue his work at Christ United, but will also minister to the congregation of Concord Park United Methodist Church, Orlando; Rev. William L. Diba, will be joining the Florida Conference with his first assignment as associate pastor of First United Methodist Church, Deltona. Other pastors were appointed to their new position either to a local church or a special assignment. For pastors moving to new appointments, June 12 has been designated "Moving Day."

The 140th session also dealt with tough financial decisions in matters of budget and insurance in the Florida Conference. In the wake of rising expenses and faltering income the nearly

Rev. Durb Jean Davis

2,000 clergy and lay delegates set the course of action for the remainder of this year in insurance and passed a budget for 1992 which includes several major adjustments in program and staffing.

Along with financial decisions, the conference also elected delegates to the 1992 General Conference, to be held in Louisville in May and to the Southeastern Jurisdictional Conference, to be held in Lake Junaluska, N.C., in July of 1992. Jody P. Ministry, of Titusville, the conference lay leader, will lead the delegation to the General Conference, including the following central Florida residents: Thomas J. Price, Winter Park; Donald F. Padgett, DeLand; Marvin E. Barnett, Maitland and Jack C. Inman, Winter Park.

An agreement was reached to continue the Medical Insurance Program with the General Board of Pensions. The present rate of payment is for the Florida Conference to pay 80 percent of the cost for pastors with the churches paying 50 percent. Because of budget restraints at the conference level that insurance "split" becomes 65 percent for the conference and 35 percent for churches in July 1991 and 25 percent for churches Jan. 1, 1992.

A $16,997,367 budget for 1992 was also approved.

Among its cost-cutting recommendations, the conference, with endorsement from its Finance and Administration Committee:

• Supported a study committee to formulate a plan to reduce the number of districts within the conference from 14 to 12 and report back to the 1992 annual conference session.

• Approved the elimination of the staff position of the Office of Deferred Giving with the responsibilities of that office to be transferred to the executive director of the Florida United Methodist Foundation in June 1992.

• Approved a plan to educate church members on the matter of "assessments."

• Recommended to the General Conference that a "zero" percent increase in the budget for the United Methodist Church be instituted for the 1993-96 quadrennium.

In other business, the conference:

• Passed a resolution calling on the General Conference to continue its ban on ordination of homosexuals. The resolution states that the 1988 General Conference not change the wording in the 1968 Discipline.

• Passed a resolution on "Ecological Stewardship" which, in part, calls upon members, churches and Methodist agencies to "implement efforts toward conservation, the elimination of waste, and the development of a more simple lifestyle."

• Passed a motion to establish a "Strategic Planning Task Force."

• Heard a report that $6,801,125 had been pledged toward the three-year $6.4 million "Clean The Flame" capital funds drive. Money will be used to renovate the children's and youth camp at Leesburg, construct a print shop, archive and history building at the Labeland building.

• Received a donation of $250,000 from Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Simpkins of Miami to send young preachers to England to "walk in the paths of (John) Wesley" and to hone their preaching skills.

Father Caverly appointed as vicars general

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Bishop Norbert M. Dorsey, Bishop of the Orlando Catholic Diocese, has appointed Father Patrick Caverly as a vicars general.

Father Caverly will continue in his assignment as pastor of Church of The Annunciation, Altamonte Springs, and as secretary of administration for the diocese.

He will replace former vicar general, Father Nicolas King, while he takes a year sabbatical for study and rest. He will return to the diocese at the end of that year.

Father Caverly, a native of Ireland, was ordained for the church in Florida. He has served in parish and diocesan positions under the late Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley, retired Bishop Paul F. Tanner, St. Augustine, Archbishop William D. Borders of Baltimore who was first Bishop of Orlando, and retired Bishop Thomas J. Grady of Orlando.

Father Caverly recently celebrated his 30th ordination anniversary.

Florida Boys in concert

Hypoglycemia needs definitive testing

DEAR DR. GOTT: You have occasionally referred to hypoglycemia as a "designer disease," and I take exception to your comments. You only have to lose consciousness once with a blood sugar drop to know you never want it to happen again. Prior to diagnosis I suffered perspiration problems, weakness, fast pulse, low blood pressure and fainting. My physician has me completely controlled through diet, yet this is a serious problem for many individuals that should be recognized.

DEAR READER: I have never implied that hypoglycemia (low blood sugar) isn't real; it certainly is for some individuals. Nonetheless, it is far less common than once believed. In the past, it was used as a catch-all diagnosis for many patients with episodic fatigue, weakness and lightheadedness. In fact, it was a "designer diagnosis" that was applied primarily to women who probably had other disorders, such as chronic fatigue syndrome.

The diagnosis is easy to establish: In the presence of symptoms, a blood sugar level of 45 milligrams per deciliter (or lower) confirms the diagnosis. Many patients with "hypoglycemia" actually have blood sugar levels exceeding 50-mg/dL, indicating that they don't, in fact, have hypoglycemia at all.

In patients meeting the criteria I mentioned for real hypoglycemia, further testing is always mandatory. For example, pancreatic tumors and other malignancies can disrupt normal sugar metabolism, significantly reducing blood sugar, which can cause seizures and coma.

Of course, not all hypoglycemia patients have such a serious cause for their symptoms; rather, if no pancreatic abnormality or other cause can be discovered, they are usually diagnosed with "reactive" hypoglycemia. This means that their blood sugars fall precipitously for unknown reasons after patients eat high-carbohydrate meals.

PETER GOTT, M.D.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Phillip Alder
For 19 years the Sunday Times Pairs, held every January in London, was the world's most prestigious pairs tournament. A few years ago it lapsed, but last January it was back, rising like the phoenix from the ashes. The winners were Paul Chemia and Michel Perron of France. They finished comfortably ahead of Britain's Boris Schapiro and Irving Gordon, with Americans Chip Martel and Lew Stansby third.

Playing in a 4-3 fit is usually recommended only when the hand with the three-card suit also has a shortage, so that their ruffs may be taken in that hand. This leaves the four-card holding intact to draw the opponent's trumps. But in today's hand from the Sunday Times Pairs, the aggressive East-West bidding made life difficult for North-

South, pushing them into an awkward four-spade contract. The defenders began with three rounds of diamonds, forcing declarer to ruff the last round. The normal line would be to play dummy's top clubs immediately. But South (Michael Rosenberg, a Scotsman who lives in New York) judged from the bidding that there was a risk that the player short in clubs was also short in spades. So Rosenberg cashed the A-K of spades and finessed the heart jack. He continued with the heart ace, ruffing the heart six in hand; a club to dummy, the spade queen, and dummy's winners. When East ruffed the heart king with his top trump, he had no diamond to lead. So declarer's 10 tricks were three spades, two hearts, three clubs, a diamond ruff and a heart ruff. HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bode Ouel
YOUR BIRTHDAY
June 15, 1991

Both acknowledgment and success in your chosen field of endeavor are likely in the year ahead. Stay within your area of expertise; this is where you'll receive your recognition.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your greatest asset today is your ability to arouse enthusiasm in others regarding causes about which you feel strongly. Put this gift to good use. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Influences are at work at this time that should help alleviate any financial discomfort you have recently felt. You could find yourself on the receiving end of this new trend.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Something interesting is developing that could put you in the forefront of a promising endeavor. It won't be for profit, but it will have valuable fringe benefits.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you don't make your strategy obvious to your opposition, you'll be luckier and more effective in competitive developments today. Wait until the final hand before you play your ace.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Friends could turn out to be your most valuable resource today. You should find them much more willing than usual to assist you in any way they can.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Try to devote maximum effort to your most important objective today. Remember, you're in a marvelous achievement cycle; you won't want to waste your time on the insignificant.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) This is the day to follow through on plans you've spent the past few days formulating. Conditions are favorable now, and things should work out rather smoothly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) There's a possibility that some form of dividend could come your way at this time through an involvement you share with another. The benefits will be mutual.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The key to getting others to cooperate with you is to show a willingness to cooperate with them today. If you do this sincerely, you'll be the one who gains the most.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Generally, conditions look rather hopeful for everyone, but you could be the happiest with bottom-line results.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Expanded social interests could be in the offing for you at this time thanks to several new people with whom you'll become rather chummy. Let the good times roll.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You could be more fortunate in favorably resolving a financial matter at this time — if you try to do it on your own instead of having someone intercede for you.
