Bad News For Nixon If Stassen Makes Political Comeback

WASHINGTON (UP)—There is bad news for Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the published report that Harold E. Stassen is thinking hard about a political comeback.

Stassen is reported to be thinking of running next year for governor of Pennsylvania. If he were elected, Stassen surely would become a favorite son candidate for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination, thereby depriving Nixon of Pennsylvania's 70 convention delegates which the vice president might, otherwise, pocket.

If Stassen as governor failed to seek the presidential nomination for himself, he scarcely could fail to oppose Nixon's nomination. Stassen undertook in 1952 to finance and direct the only openly conducted effort to prevent Nixon's renomination for vice president.

Some of President Eisenhower's non-political pals were operating their own stop-Nixon apparatus with as little publicity as they could manage but with more effect than Stassen was able to exert. The enormity of Stassen's failure to man the barricades against the vice president is measured by the fact that the former finally recanted and made a second speech for Nixon at the nominating convention.

Another Nixon seconder was Christian A. Herter, then governor of Massachusetts, whom Stassen had tapped for the vice presidential nomination. Stassen conducted his campaign against Nixon while a member of the Eisenhower administration, a situation which astonished and troubled Nixon's friends and all but obtained from the vice president, a withdrawal from the contest.

The strategy of Stassen and of political amateurs, among the President's friends who bungled their way into the stop-Nixon movement was to plant and repudiate the idea that Nixon would badly hurt the 1956 ticket.

Nixon read and heard so much of that stop-Nixon party line without rebuke from the White House that there arose in his own mind the question whether he should stand aside. There was no evidence that Nixon's presence on the ticket would cost the Republican Party votes. Indeed, there were some persuasive indications that he would be, in fact, a popular running mate.

GOP Strong For Nixon

The big margin by which the Eisenhower-Nixon team was re-elected amply justified the vice president's self-confident decision to stay in the race. His renomination in San Francisco was unanimous. He is judged now to be well ahead of the pack in the race for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination.

That could be a basic reason for Stassen's thought of a political comeback. The election of Richard M. Nixon as president would very 'shortly' lead to Stassen's departure from federal office if he happened to hold such when Nixon took over. A governor of Pennsylvania, however, would be secure in office subject only to the whim of his constituency. And, of course, Stassen is comparatively young, with an unsatisfied yen to be president.

In his 50th year, Stassen can look, if he must, beyond 1960 to 1964 and, even, 1968. His clearest view of the White House would be had from the governor's office in Harrisburg.

Docks, Terminals Major Issue In Commission Race

The importance of the Sanford Docks and Terminals project became the major issue in the race between two candidates for the Board of Sanford City Commissioners when they spoke before the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at its noon luncheon meeting yesterday.

Mrs. Alice Willink told the Jaycees that "women are becoming more aware of the political situation and are today taking a greater part in the affairs of government. I realize that Sanford is in a transition period between very little progress and the coming of industry," she said, "and I would appreciate your support in having a woman on the Board of City Commissioners."

Robert S. Brown, opposing Mrs. Willink in the race for the seat vacated by F. D. Scott at the end of his term this year, spoke of his experience in city planning.

"It was discouraging to find out the lack of interest in the city's problems," he said. "One problem is the Docks and Terminals. I hope that it can be an achievement."

However, Brown told the Jaycees audience "I am not going to promise one thing or the other until all reports are in, but I do think Sanford can achieve this."

Al Wilson, an unopposed candidate for reelection to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, told the Jaycees "The docks and terminals project is the key to our economic future and next to that is an airport."

R. F. Cooper, an unopposed candidate for the Board of School Trustees, called on the Jaycees to support the school bond issue on Nov. 19. "We're asking you to put in double effort in getting the people out to vote."

Ambrose Oliff introduced the speakers as program chairman for the day.

Pilot Dies In Jet Crash Near Ocala This Morning

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—A Navy F8U Crusader jet plane crashed just south of here today and the pilot, attached to a fighter squadron at Cecil Field near Jacksonville, was killed instantly.

Witnesses told newsmen that the plane crashed after going into what appeared to be an intentional dive from which the pilot appeared unable to pull out.

A team of Navy investigators was on its way from Jacksonville to the crash scene to study the wreckage.

Name of the pilot, who was thrown from the main portion of the wreckage on impact with the ground, is withheld by the Navy until his next of kin could be notified.

The Navy in Jacksonville said the pilot and plane had been attached to Fighter Squadron 108 at Cecil Field and that the crash occurred during a routine training mission.

Citizens Urged To Read Proposed Constitution

Every citizen should acquaint himself or herself with the proposed constitution, Representative Mack N. Cleveland said today.

"We've got to weigh the advantage of having a senator of our own against the cost of additional representatives in the House," he said.

"I will be happy to provide copies of the proposed constitution to any and all civic groups or to individuals," Representative Cleveland stated. "That is the one way we can become better acquainted with the constitution on which citizens will be voting next year," he said.

Reviewing parts of the proposed constitution for the State of Florida, Representative Cleveland said that the article impressing him most was the registration of servicemen who become 21 years of age while in service and outside of the United States. He said this article "to me is important" since under the present laws you have to be present personally before the Supervisor of Registration.

"Just a step in the right direction," said Representative Cleveland, is the section where by local law county commissioners can be empowered to adopt county ordinances dealing with specific subjects contained within the law.

Representative Cleveland said he is pleased with the article creating the office of Lieutenant Governor. "At least we would know that there would be a Lieutenant Governor elected by the people at large that would succeed the Governor in times of emergency or death," he said.

"Ironically," said Representative Cleveland, "Senator Charlie

Nine Presents $511 Check To UF Drive

The Seminole County United Appeal Drive received a substantial push toward its goal yesterday from Heavy Attack Squadron Nine, Lt. John E. Cousins, USN, Chairman of the drive for VAF-9, presented a check in the amount of $511 to Captain L. A. Arthur, USN, for inclusion in the funds to be contributed by Navy Sanford activities. This amount represents more than one quarter of the total goal of all Navy Sanford Units.

In addition to the contribution in dollars, 109 French Francs, seven English Shillings and a half penny were presented. VAF-9 returned only last week from a deployment on board the USS Saratoga. Ports in Scotland, England and France were visited and the foreign coins donated to the United Appeal represents money from each of the countries.

Cdr. W. R. Hazlett, USN, Commanding Officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Nine, gave the Navy's traditional "Well Done" to the officers and men of his command for their generous support of this most worthwhile cause.

Monday's Rotary Session Canceled

The regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club scheduled for Monday noon will be cancelled so that members may attend the joint meeting of the civic and service clubs sponsored by the Jaycees, which will be held Tuesday noon at the Episcopal Parish House.

Congressman A. S. (Syd) Herlong Jr., will be the guest speaker.

Authorities Watch Pranksters

Halloween pranksters turned out in force last night but there were so many police officers, police cruisers, city officials, and city employees on duty that it was impossible to do much damage.

Halloween fun was marred by one accident on Park Ave. near the intersection of 10th St. when an 11-year-old boy was struck by an automobile as he veered around a parked car.

Paul Filinger of 214 Elm Ave. was riding his bicycle, without lights and on the wrong side of the street, according to Sanford Police Department reports, when he was struck by a car driven by Marion Blessing of the Montezuma Hotel as the bike cut out to pass the parked car.

The youth was thrown by the impact on top of a parked car and then slid to the pavement. Examinations at the Seminole Memorial Hospital revealed the youngster had no broken bones but received only a badly bruised right leg and suffered from shock. The bicycle was thrown 42 feet south of the intersection.

In another incident, three youngsters were taken into custody and charged with the destruction of city property. Robert Morris Dooley, 19, Charles Robert Bridges, 17, and Charles Dooley along with five juveniles including one 13-year-old girl were shooting out street lights with a BB rifle. The incident occurred in the Dreamworld and 4th Street and French Ave. vicinity.

Southward Fruit Company was broken into and the office ransacked, according to Police Chief Roy G. Williams. Ernest Southward on returning to his plant discovered it had been plundered. Police investigators found that an attempt had been made to pry open the coen cola machine and another attempt at entering the safe was made. The intruders took only 50 or 60 cents in stamp money. Of Halloween night, were apparently scared from the scene when Southward returned to his office.

In the county, glasses were broken from the Truck Growers building at Rands Siding. Sheriff J. L. Hobby said he received "numerous calls" complaining about juveniles shooting firecrackers and throwing them into groups. It was reported that considerable "soap damage was done at the Casselberry post office.

In Sanford there were 19 extra police on duty in addition to the regular force with watchmen stationed at all city property. Division superintendents were used to patrol the streets. In addition, the City Manager, Warren E. Knowles and Mayor David Gatchel were patrolling until 1 a. m. this morning.

Salvation Army Leaders Discuss Building Plans

Salvation Army leaders from Jacksonville met with the local advisory board and members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club's "Support of Churches" committee to plan first moves toward securing a new site and building for the local Salvation Army organization.

In Sanford for the meeting was Col. H. W. Young, Division Commander, Captain Ernest Holz, Division secretary, and Captain John Jordan, Young Peoples secretary for the division.

Lt. Marcella Reynolds, commanding officer of the local Salvation Army organization told the group that a new building and site was necessary because of several reasons.

She pointed out that the present location is not desirable to "reach people." Our attendance at services on Sunday is so large the present auditorium will not seat the entire group and in addition "we have only three rooms to use for Sunday School classes."

Transients, Lt. Reynolds explained, cannot be taken care of in the present location.

Col. Young explained that "we are compressed here and it just doesn't seem to fill the needs."

"This becomes a major venture for us for we are more poorly housed here than in corps in the division," he said.

Captain Holz, describing the needs of the Salvation Army in the Sanford community explained that an auditorium seating at least 125 is needed; general assembly rooms for youth groups and training classes are needed; office space, welfare facilities, storage facilities, and living accommodations.

Ralph A. Smith, chairman of the local advisory board and also a Kiwanian, explained that the Sanford Kiwanis Club and its Support of Churches committee is not undertaking the financing of the proposed new building but is supporting the plan.

A committee to look into the appraisal of the present property and search for proposed sites was appointed.

Reports will be made at an early meeting in an effort to get the proposed plans underway as quickly as possible.

CLOWNS AND BALLOONS was one center of attraction at Southside School's Halloween Carnival last night to which more than 2,500 people were attracted. (Staff Photo)

Southside Carnival 'Wonderful Success'

"A wonderful success," was the statement made this morning by chairman of the Southside School carnival, Mrs. Lola Winn. "I can not thank enough the parents and teachers who made the carnival possible, particularly my co-chairman, John Kader."

Easily the biggest crowd ever came to the Halloween carnival at Southside School Thursday night. An estimated 2,500 men, women and children swarmed over the playground, as they patronized the more than twenty booths and rides.

Wandering through the crowd were the two "professional" clowns Buddy Rawls and Volie Williams Jr. The pair had been made up by Mrs. Don Brobaker and could have passed for professionals. They amused the children and sold hundreds of balloons.

Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr., the school secretary, was the "pick-me-pocket" lady. She, too, spent the evening wandering through the crowd.

The carnival grossed over one hundred dollars more than it did last year. Results will not be known for several days.

Each booth, so well stocked at 5:30 p. m., was depleted by the time the evening was over. Literally thousands of hotdogs, cold drinks and coffee were served. The chicken barbeque cooked by Cotton Brown was completely sold out.

Long lines remained all evening before the spook house, pony rides, train and snapping turtle. Hundreds of children returned time and time again to the two fishponds and the boats on pond.

Manning the booths were parents of Southside School children. Many fathers were in evidence and served in nearly every capacity. The Junior High School Band provided music during the evening.

In the auditorium, gaily costumed dancers of the Deanna School of Dance provided an entertaining program in ballet, tap and toe. Deanna McManus and George Wiggin gave an exhibition of ballroom dancing. R. C. Whitnir took photographs.

In thanking those who helped on the carnival Mrs. Winn made special mention of those in charge of each booth. Fish Pond, Mrs. F. H. Norvell; Train, Mrs. A. J. Bracken and Snapping Turtle; County Store, Mrs. Arthur Harris; Hot Dog Stand, Mrs. George Sires, Mrs. Everett Orr; Spook House, Mrs. B. H. Frentress; Fish Pond No. 2, Mrs. D. R. TIED!

Maybe no one has ever actually bound your wrists with a rope. But haven't you, at times, felt as if you were literally hand tied? You struggle and strain with your problems and anxieties, and you are completely unable to get free.

Such moments come to everyone, and they are not easy to face. It's simple to be serene when things are going well. But when your hands are tied—when you feel helpless, even hopeless—then you begin to realize life cannot be lived alone.

It's then that you know how important Faith is—how it is something you absolutely must have. With Faith to sustain you, you inevitably begin to see your way out. Without it, you flounder.

Turn to the Church—not just because you are troubled, but because it can give you spiritual freedom.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

To Use Them Wisely Is One Of Humanity's Obligations Today

Much has been said about humanity's obligation to use its machines wisely, lest they destroy mankind. Though the analogy of the monster that turned against its creator has been overworked, it is still valid in terms of man's increasing struggle not to be dominated by his scientific creations.

Most of us are conscious, in some degree, of this analogy. We are aware that such things as nuclear fission and electronic computers are blessings alloyed with peril. We know that if we depend too much on computers and scientific gadgets our society is in danger of becoming mechanistic and inhuman. We know that unless we find a way to work together in world harmony the power of the atom may blow us all to smithereens.

What many of us do not realize, however, is that the same relationship between machine and man also is valid at the personal level. It is a mistake to think of it only in global terms.

For example, consider the man who goes out hunting with a shiny new gun. If he handles the gun properly, the use of it may give him great pleasure. If he handles the gun carelessly, he may kill someone—perhaps himself—with it. By the same token, those thousands who are buying automobiles these days take on (whether they know it or not) a burden of responsibility. Properly used, the car can be a source of great pleasure and convenience. Mishandled, it can destroy its driver and perhaps others as well.

It is the old story of the man killed by a stray bullet being as dead as though he had been slain in a great battle. On a global scale and at the personal level, the man-made things we use carry with them a grave responsibility.

Use Common Sense In Disaster

We go to many fires, accidents, and disasters of various kinds. And in practically every instance there are curiosity seekers and thrill seekers attempting to get as close to the scene as possible not knowing perhaps, that they could cause a house to be destroyed by fire, an injured person's life placed in jeopardy, merely because of a blocked highway or street by the onlooker's car.

There is no way to determine whether firemen could have saved a burning building from being destroyed, prevented damage because of fire, or perhaps saved a life—had not firemen been blocked off or ambulances prevented from reaching a scene as quickly as possible.

That possibility existed though on several occasions. At the very least, firemen in one instance might have prevented the complete loss of furniture in a home or saved a portion of the building from consuming flames, or perhaps law enforcement officers or ambulances might have gotten an injured person to medical attention just a few seconds earlier.

As it is, we can be truly thankful that there have been no tragedies of huge proportions. Had these happened, those motorists and thrill seekers who held back a fire truck for a few minutes or prevented an ambulance from reaching a scene for a few seconds would have far more reason to be remorseful than they have today.

Human nature draws people to the scene of a disaster, whether it be one which affects a single family or an entire community. Yet, the very presence of curious spectators too often hampers the work of those who are trained to deal with those disasters.

Common sense, alone, should lead bystanders to keep out of the way, to be certain that no act of theirs makes it impossible for firemen and other disaster-specialists to go about their duties promptly and efficiently.

Lacking common sense, there is always the law which makes curiosity seeking and thrill-seeking illegal.

The best advice we can offer to those who chase ambulances and fire trucks and other emergency vehicles is "Don't."

Just consider how you might feel if your own home were burning—and curious folks prevented the firemen from acting as swiftly as they might. Or, consider how you might feel if a loved one was injured—and unthinking crowds prevented an ambulance or a doctor from doing those things necessary to ward off death.

Newsman and photographers are trained to go about their jobs of obtaining facts, in pictures and words, relating to an accident, a tragedy, or a fire, without getting in the way of those who are performing the life-saving or property-saving duties.

The newsman, who receives the whole-hearted cooperation of law enforcement which control disasters, is there to relate the story to readers as realistically as the tragedy has happened. That's why newsmen are needed "at the scene" so that every reader will get all of the facts and details.

If you know that there is an accident, a fire, or a tragedy—let those who are charged with the responsibility of saving property and lives go about their tasks unhindered from the pushes and shoves of the curious.

Queen Elizabeth's visit convinced a lot of Americans that the principal export of Great Britain is charm.

The Medal of Freedom was awarded to Charles E. Wilson on his return as secretary of defense, and along with it went the freedom of speech which he had to hold at least partially in check while in office.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

Satellite Presents Many Problems

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veteran Scott is on vacation. Today's guest columnist is "Lonesome George" Gohel who has some thoughts on Sputnik and the common man.

By GEORGE GOHEL
Written for the United Press

HOLLYWOOD — Ever since the Russian scientists launched their cosmic comet into outer space, the common man has been out of my lethargy, but in my case this isn't too surprising 'cause my lethargy never fit too good in the first place. . . kept creeping up in the seat. . .

But what I'm trying to say is, the satellite has presented many new problems to the world. Naturally, the first question which comes to mind is, "What is the satellite?"

Rubber Band
Well, I'll tell you. It's a twenty-three inch aluminum sphere, weighing a hundred and eighty-four pounds and it's held together by a very strong rubber band. . .

Now what this thing does is, it sends messages which we've been picking up. Now these messages are a series of beeps which give in volume and at times turn into long, piercing squeals.

If you'd like to hear this same beeping, piercing squeal, just try saying to your wife, "Honey — you're getting fat." When she starts circling and beeping off you might as well just sit tight till her speaker tube blows out. . .

But in the case of the satellite, these beeps are significant. It means that sooner or later it's got to come down. 'Cause anything that beeps that much has got to be buried. . .

Shows Over YWCA
But now, let me familiarize you with some pertinent facts concerning the satellite's movements. Like it's been known to slow down while passing over the sun roof of the YWCA, and conversely, to speed up when passing over the stockyards of Chicago. . . that's due to the fact that the satellite is accompanied by a very mad-five man crew.

And just last Saturday night the satellite was reported flying very low over Sherman Oaks, Calif. This however, was an erroneous report. It was just my brother-in-law coming home late from a date.

Unfortunately, that's all the space we have for now, this is your old friend, Lonesome George, leaving you with this thought. If you're planning a vacation to the moon, heed this one note of caution. That's a 14-year trip, so don't forget to leave a note for the milkman. . . so long, neighbors.

NINTH TO BE PENTOMIC
WASHINGTON (UP) — The 9th Infantry Division will reorganize itself along "pentomic" lines December 1, the Army announced. The 9th is the last of 15 divisions to begin conversion to atomic warfare organization. The pentomic divisions (pentomic being a combination of atomic and pent, meaning five) are organized into five battle groups, instead of the three infantry regiments formerly making up the divisions.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
Soviet Russia has finally goaded the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into tightening up their alliance.

The plan to hold a meeting of heads of government of the 15 NATO members in Paris in December is an effective answer to Russia's long campaign of bluster and brag.

Russia's campaign started last November at the time of the Suez Canal crisis. It reached its climax in the amazing propaganda campaign in which Russia accused the United States and Turkey of plotting to invade Syria.

But the deciding factors were Moscow's announcement of the successful testing of an intercontinental ballistic missile and the launching of the Sputnik earth satellite.

Asked Big Four Meeting
During all this long campaign, Russia interspersed its threats and boasts with demands for a Big Four "summit" conference in which President Eisenhower would meet Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Communist chieftain Nikita S. Khrushchev and the prime ministers of Great Britain and France.

The Russians also angled vainly for an invitation to Marshal George K. Zhukov, now deposed as Soviet defense minister, to visit his wartime friend Eisenhower in Washington.

The NATO alliance was formed in 1949, when the threat of Russian aggression that would start a third world war seemed imminent. It was extended until it included 15 countries, stretching from Norway through Western Europe to Turkey in addition to the United States and Canada in the western hemisphere.

Suez Crisis Costly
But as the threat of war diminished, the ties between the 15 allies loosened, and relations between the United States and its two chief allies were weakened seriously by the British-French invasion of the Suez Canal last November.

Bulgaria started the campaign of threats when, in letters to the prime ministers of Britain and France, he said Russia was determined to use force if necessary unless they called off their invasion of the canal. This direct, open threat was softened later by a Moscow spokesman who said Bulgaria meant the use of force through the United Nations.

Bulgaria continued the campaign with a series of letters to NATO members from Norway to Turkey threatening them with destruction if they permitted the establishment of nuclear weapons bases on their territory.

The Yesensky's are purchasing a home here in Sanford, so I imagine we'll be seeing him around for some time. My congratulations to him for achieving an enviable goal.

If I'm able to hold my head up and type, I'll see you Monday. And with a bad sinus, head cold, that takes a lot of effort!

Finally came the rise of pro-Russian elements to power in Syria, the ICBM announcement, Sputnik, and the allegations of a U.S.-Turkish plot against Syria.

The big NATO meeting planned for December 14, 17 and 18 will be the first of its importance since NATO was formed 8 1/2 years ago.

Normally, foreign ministers represent their countries at NATO meetings. Now, thanks to Russia, there is going to be a "summit" meeting which the Soviet government wanted.

THE LATE OLIVER COGARTY told about a self-important colonel who arrived at a club and demanded accommodations. Told that the last room had just been rented to a neo-account civilian, the colonel stamped up to this room and whacked the innocent occupant with his sword.

"Sir," he shouted, "consider yourself insulted!"
"Oh, go away," yawned the civilian, "and consider yourself shot."

"What was the rank of that Navy man you were dancing with all evening at the country club?" demanded an anxious mother. "I'm not sure," answered the daughter coyly, "but judging by his actions, I'd say he was a Chief Petty Officer."

A fond mother came home to find her teenage son engaged in a poker game. What's more, his stack of chips was low indeed. "Look, mom," he said sadly, "no hands!"

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK
A new month! It just doesn't seem possible that it's November already, with Thanksgiving only a few short weeks off! And you know how fast Christmas comes on the heels of Thanksgiving! Somehow I feel that everything is rushing by so fast before I can enjoy any of it. Now just what "things" I mean I'm not sure. Perhaps life itself. But enough of my meandering. Must be the air I feel, which is mighty low. Another cold, sore throat, etc. get a "fothold", and won't let go.

We had a pleasant surprise last Wednesday. Elliott's cousin and her husband, Florence and Fred Adamson of Middlebury, Conn., stepped in to see us on their way back home from a Florida vacation. They come down almost every winter, either to Florida, or on to Cuba, and this is the first time we've managed to get to see each other. The Adamsons have four children, ranging in ages from seven to fifteen, but they do it the easy way. Fred's father, the senior Mr. Adamson, stays with the children so they can really enjoy their vacation. They had to take it a little earlier than usual this year, and must hurry back to Connecticut so Mr. Adamson Sr. can leave for Europe.

I keep telling myself that maybe someday we'll be able to travel just for the sheer enjoyment of it. . . but I don't plan to hold my breath until then!

A last minute reminder that there is a dance at the E. M. Club tonight. Costumes are optional, but prizes will be awarded for the best ones. Free cider and doughnuts will be served to everyone, and Sidney Vilien's orchestra will be playing. So get on out there and have a good time.

Also the last chance I'll have to remind you that the Chief's Club is also having a Halloween dance tomorrow night. Sidney Vilien again will be the band, and prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. No charge for this one, so you have one more day to think up some kind of a "get-up"! But costumed or not, you can have a good time at both of these dances, and enjoy some good music.

Since this is being written before it has even taken place, I can't give you a "run-down" on how the Carnival at Southside School turned out! At this point I am still contemplating standing outside on a cool, damp night, with a terrific cold, and selling tickets for the pony rides, and hot dogs! Also, if I don't get busy, neither of these activities will have signs on them!

Since the week-end is again upon us, don't forget church and Sunday school this Sunday. Protestant services start at 9:00 a. m. at the Air Station Chapel, and Catholic services are held at 12:00 noon, with confession immediately preceding it.

I've been sitting here trying to think of what I've forgotten, and one thing does come to my mind. Andrew Yesensky, ADC, retired today after serving thirty-one years in the U. S. Navy. That's worth a comment any day of the year! Chief Yesensky probably isn't too well known here, as he

Audubon Society Hears Talk On Shells

The Seminole Audubon Society held its first meeting of the fall on Monday Evening in the Education Building Annex of the Presbyterian Church of Sanford. Miss Adèle Moore, president, presided. The guest speaker, Mrs. Helen E. Arendt of Orlando, illustrating her talk with shells from her own personal collection, Mrs. Arendt spoke to an interested group on Florida's marine shells. We are now wondering whether jet propulsion was copied from the bivalves of the sea, for Mrs. Arendt clearly explained how many of these little animals travel by means of jet propulsion. Kathleen Johnson's book, SEA TREASURES, was introduced to the audience by the speaker as a very good beginner's guide to knowing shells. The entire Florida coast is a treasure land for the starting of this hobby, Mrs. Arendt proved this when she said that all of her hundreds of shells had been found by her along Florida's coast.

In keeping with the Halloween season, delicious refreshments of cider, doughnuts, and cake were served by the Sanford group.

Public Works Personnel Have Halloween Festival At Stansells

The Public Works Office Personnel, their wives, husbands, mothers, fathers, children and other relatives and friends got together Wednesday night at the Stansell's farm house on Oregon Ave. and enjoyed a Halloween Festival. Wilches and ghosts surrounded the huge yard and house which were decorated with spooks, Jack-o-lanterns, candles, and lamps shaped in Halloween faces and funny forms. The witch's brew steamed over a blue-greenish flame in the yard. The children rode horseback and played games led by Mrs. Kay Helms and Ensign Hartnett. Prizes were awarded the children for their costumes.

A big bonfire also glowed in the vicinity of approximately 700 happy people who were busy roasting hot dogs and marshmallows and enjoying the beans, deliciously prepared by Mrs. Cunniff. Mrs. Stansell changed the spooky mood when she donned an oversized pair of overalls, and with the aid of several pillows, and a clown face, put on a slide show, on horseback. If you think getting on and off a horse in that outfit is easy, just ask her! Later in the evening, the group sat around a large fireplace and joined in apple bobbing and charades contests. They sang songs, while Ensign Schiffgens, dressed as a weird old witch sat in the fortune tellers cave and told the children's fortunes.

The same gang, without the children, also got together at the Cunniff's home in Lake Mary the first of the month and enjoyed a wonderful hot-dog and hamburger charcoal feast. The group first congregated at Lake Mary for swimming and water skiing, and later adjourned to the Cunniff's backyard where several charcoal grills were delightfully burning and some very good cooks proceeded to feed the 90 guests. The preliminary arrangements and plans had been made by the girls in the office. They found that when working together, to accomplish one objective, the answer is bound to be success. This was proven by the fact that everyone in attendance had something to do with the party being a success. For instance, the girls, using the Engineering technology and phrases, submitted requests to various ones to perform such services as: purchasing the food; helping with setting the tables; picking up the ice and soft drinks; slicing and dicing the onions; etc. Everyone had a wonderful time and plans many more get together.

Lunch Box Will Welcome These Sandwiches

Sandwiches suggested here are good to be packed in lunch boxes, or to eat at home, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent.

Hawaiian Sandwich (makes 6)
Grind 1 cup ham. Combine with 8 ounces cream cheese and 1 small can of drained crushed pineapple. Mix well. This may be made into sandwiches ahead, wrapped individually and frozen the week before using. (Do not hold over one week.) Place in lunch while yet frozen. It will thaw by lunch time.

Cornd Beef Sandwiches (8 sand.)
Grate 1/2 cup American cheese. Blend in 4 tablespoons mayonnaise and add 1/2 can of corned beef (or 1 cup dry chipped beef). Add 1/4 cup pickle relish and a little chopped celery. Spread between slices of bread and cut into halves. Wrap well. (This may be frozen if a cooked salad dressing is substituted for mayonnaise.)

Peanut butter and Bacon (4 sand.)
Fry 4 slices of bacon until crisp. Drain well and crumble. Mix 1/2 cup peanut butter and mix bacon into it. Spread both slices of bread with butter or softened oleomargarine. Spread on the filling. Wrap, cut, and freeze if desired until ready to use.

Ham and Cheese Sandwich
Allow 1 slice of ham (or other luncheon meat) and one of cheese for each sandwich. Spread bread with mayonnaise and place meat and cheese on it. Cover with thin cucumber pickle slices and place bread on top. Cut and wrap for the lunch box.

Meat Loaf Sandwiches
Meat loaf for the meal makes a good sandwich. When chilled, slice thinner than for dinner plate. Spread bread with dressing or mayonnaise and place meat loaf on it. Cover and cut. Wrap (include a lettuce leaf in waxed paper to be added later to sandwich.)

Fashion designed Jo Copeland believes that woman's sense of style is "born, not made." Says the New York designer, "a woman can learn to be well-dressed. But a sense of style is a natural talent... she has to have it if she ever really becomes a symbol of fashion. I think that woman shows much of her style sense in the way she accessorizes her clothes."

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor

This will be another smash-bang tonight. My horoscope said that this would be one of my best days, and starting tomorrow I won't read it anymore.

It is now five o'clock, and the children will be ready to go to the Southside carnival and minic.

The reception of Belling it was gratifying, if not a little flustering, (to me, that is.) Here is a letter I found in my car outside the Sanford Herald. If the writer will come forward, I will enlist him or her in a determined effort to stock fermented soy juice.

These Wednesday nights are being overlooked by a great many. The children eat so too, and the dinner is quite inexpensive.

Didn't see any children, but I did see the tag ends of the party. Tags like Dick Beck and Jack Salisbury, Eddie and Jean Rossi, Anne Bear, Spook and John Hook (I knew they are in VAH-5), and Pat and Howie Hansen.

Carlie and Jack Stribling were seen around town Wednesday night after attending the Toastmaster's Club, where Carlie made a magnificent speech. She is so inspired she is planning a club for the ladies. Although how the talks could be limited is beyond me. Coming from a long line of chatterers, I fully realize the problem of giving women a time limit.

Tommy Peterson is being seen on some of the best book matches in town. It will be a shame when the matches are all struck.

As a recent pack meeting, Don A came off with all kinds of honors (now I'm on sub scouts). The den won the attendance, the best group costume, and the bean bag trophy. This was carried off by none other than Bill Hill Jr., who was stunning in his costume of a snake, pulled by Jeff Williams as a Chinaman.

TO THE NEW GOSSIP COLUMN

You're a Peschl—Even though you can't seem to restrain yourself at this time of year.

We commend your accuracy in reporting the spine-tingling mores temporum. Your lyric prose and spelling are far superior to that of your predecessor. We trust this new job pays better than your former one, especially since the old gold-bricking one included the privilege of unlimited access to the community typewriter. (Is literary license here to stay?)

If we had had any idea you had all that spare time, we would have found you a job raking pine needles, where the pay is negligible but mouth-watering refreshments of fermented soy juice are served on an old Imperial attractively decorated with dead palmato fronds cleverly arranged by someone whose name we stupidly neglected to ascertain.

Yours for better-minded hedges—and higher ones,

Mrs. C. D. Throckmorton Pres., Belling-it-Up Fan Club

The guest writer has promised a return engagement, as soon as she is released by her psychiatrist.

One excellent thing has been accomplished. Camie Bruce has decided to make the birdwatchers official. To this end she arose this morning and did an enormous amount of research on the birds living on her street.

I know I have plugged Girl Scouts to death, but interested mothers are needed as leaders. This neighborhood has grown so much in the past year, that troops have trouble keeping up with transfers—and the poor little girls who have never been in scouting before must languish on the list. The course which will start on Monday is lots of fun. This is not near say, but I took it last year. Reasonable, but exciting has been provided, the course costs nothing, and the returns are tremendous. Girl Scouts grow into fine women. We have been unable to reach many new mothers in town, so please call Jane Chase (2-2201) and register with her for the Basic leadership course.

Also, meet! A grand subject, and one dear to the hearts of us all, but decidedly problems to women. And sometimes even to other men. These remarks are apropos to the coming S. M. G. A. championship tournament which starts Sunday. Last day to qualify is Saturday. So get out there!

VAH-ilers enjoyed a cocktail party Wednesday night at the B. O. Q. and then ate dinner there.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

HONG KONG, (UP) — Weight-lifter Paul Anderson needs vitamin shots, Emil Spolek is a six-footed softie, and the winding eight-cared Yale crew should have had to pay its way into the last Olympic Games.

Take it from Fearless Fraley here in Hong Kong, they build 'em stronger, faster and more seagily—and it's all in a day's work.

On almost any of this city's winding colorful streets you can see guys who could spot Anderson three lifts and two jerks and saunter away with loads which would break his shoelaces. They simply swing a bamboo pole over one shoulder, dangle loads the size of Herman Hickman from each end, and plod along the crammed sidewalks without jostling children playing underfoot everywhere.

For the trackmen who feast on my winter Saturday nights in Madison Square Garden, they're going to have to do lots better in the future to get any applause from this corner. Old Fearless came up with a rickshaw boy today who could spot Gallant Man a fast furlong and run him into ground over the true drive distance of a mile and a half.

Rickshaw Runner Speedy

As a matter of fact, I clocked him the first mile in 4:01. And as we passed all the taxicabs in sight and slipped through Hong Kong traffic with the death-defying agility of a jackrabbit in a prairie fire, this kid didn't even draw a deep breath.

The speed and endurance of the rickshaw runners is absolutely fantastic. There are only 2000 of them left in Hong Kong and they are primarily tourist traps. This means you feel a bit on the silly side until you notice that the more economically minded natives are riding them too.

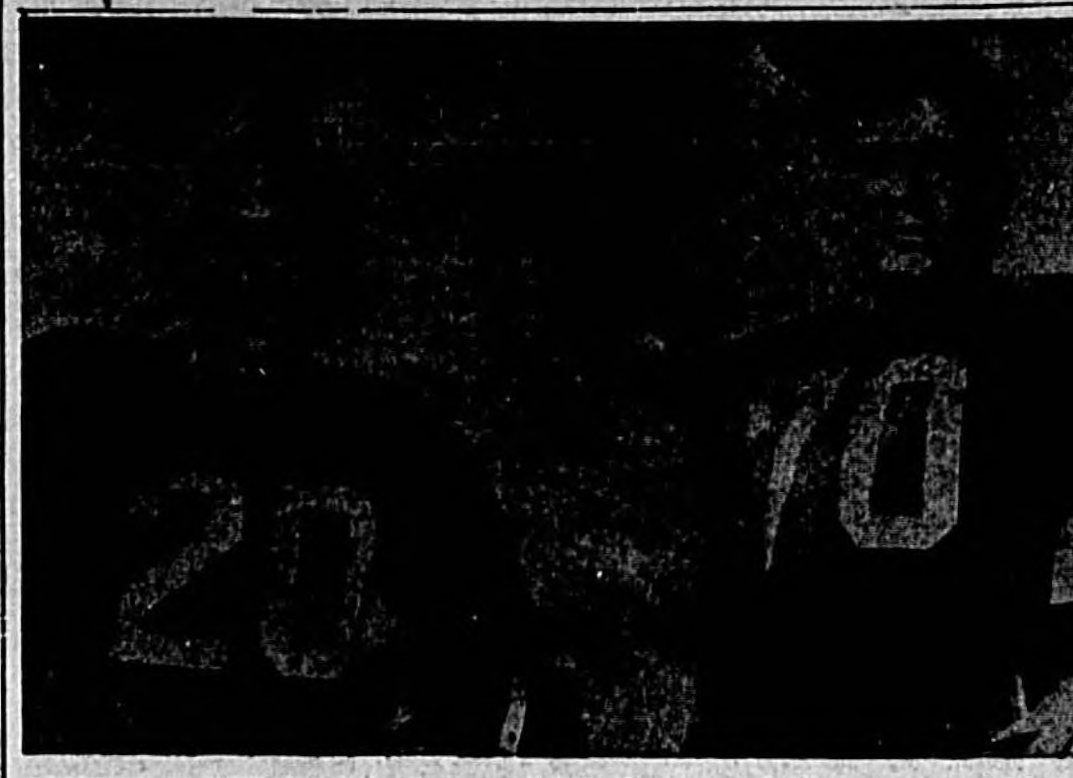

After all, even if you feel silly the trip is only 60 cents an hour. But if these guys ever hear about the Olympics, it's doubtful if they'd ever bother to compete just for medals. They may run like eight-day clocks but to them 60 cents is a lot of rice in the dinner bowl.

They go big in Hong Kong for soccer followed by horse racing, rugby, cricket, golf and basketball. But the best athletes in the city lifters are the wireless show boys—are the women scullers.

Ladies Can Row

These are the ladies of the houseboats—sammans and junkies which scuttle around Hong Kong harbor like waterbugs with a hot foot. Talk about Jack Kelly if you will, and raise a rousing boohoo for dear old Yale, but they have a cinch. Because most of the women pulling on an oar here have a baby fastened to their back and it makes sense back when Mom lays into the boat to get her seagily bungalow out of the way of an imperious ferry.

So when those ham-stern weight-lifters, runners and oarsmen back home start talking to Old Fearless in the future, they'd better be a bit respectful. Otherwise I'll import some of these muscular Hong Kong marvels and run them right out of business.

Big Crowd Expected To See Homecoming Tilt Here Tonight

By JERRY COVINGTON
United Press Sports Writer

Tonight the Sanford Seminoles face the New Smyrna Barracudas at the Memorial Stadium here in Sanford. Game time is set for 8 o'clock and a capacity crowd is expected to be on hand when the opening whistle is blown for the annual homecoming scrap. This is a non-conference tilt but it is very important to the locals as they will be trying to keep a clean slate for the fifth game of the season. Their record now stands at three victories and one tie while the Cudas show a 2-3 record.

Physically the Seminoles are running the Cudas a close race. The local scene finds the Co-captains of the Seminoles, Eddie Barbour and Billy Tyre as doubtful starters. After a knee injury received last Friday, Barbour seemed to be ready to resume his full-time duties on offense and defense but the knee has failed to come around in time. Tyre has had another showup of his knee infection and he is also expected to see only limited action if any. You can bet that if either boy is able to aid the cause any, they will be in there because they just refuse to give up.

Defensive end, Claude Hittell, was still bed-ridden during the middle of the week with flu and he, too, will only see limited action tonight. Claude will be greatly missed on his side of the line as he has been stand-out all year on defense.

The only bright thing about the local picture is that others that were hampered last week have come around nicely and they continue to show good spirit and enthusiasm. Bob Johnson's hand injury has come along nicely and he should be ready to go full speed. The flu bug seems to be out of the way and the conditioning looks better this week.

The New Smyrna coach reported yesterday that his squad has also been riddled by injuries obtained in their last contest against DeLand and they have been making last minute adjustments in his lineup to come up with something to give Sanford a hard time. You can count on them having many tricks up their sleeves.

With the injuries of Barbour and Ronnie Russi, most of the week has been devoted to adjusting the offensive backfield to strengthen these gaps. Bob Johnson will be running at half and fullback while Al Collins will also see plenty of action as a halfback. Big Mike Tammy has also been running the fullback slot to add needed depth in this department. Cecil Dandridge, Johnny Yackie, and Harold Stone are in good shape and will be here to round out the backfield.

The line should be considerably better for this tilt as all the ailments among these boys seem to have "taken a powder" for the present at least. Teddy Walker, Gerald Jones, and Allen Swain, the rest of the ailing players, are back in shape and should be ready to make the homecoming a rousing success. David Stagniesneer and his play is matched by Tommy Brown and Jack Stotsky. This line is said to be, by many, one of the best to be seen in Central Florida and it could very well be. Whether they receive much recognition or not, they are right in there making Sanford realize a very successful season. They could very well mean the difference in tonight's game.

Taking everything into consideration, tonight's game should prove to be a very close and exciting one. Normally, with the locals at full strength, they should be a good seven point favorite but as it stands tonight it could very well be the extra point that decides it. Anyway you look at it, it should be a "jam-up" ball game when these two teams meet here at 8 o'clock.

Let's all come to make this a most successful homecoming. GOOD LUCK SEMINOLES!

Saturday Football Program

By FRANK LITSKY
United Press Sports Writer

A defensive battle between Iowa and Michigan and an offensive clash between Notre Dame and Navy highlight the college football program Saturday.

A capacity crowd of 101,001 is expected at Ann Arbor, Mich., for the "pick 'em" game between unbeaten Iowa, ranked third by the United Press Board of Coaches, and 12th-ranked Michigan. The game also will be televised nationally (by NBC).

Fifth-ranked Notre Dame, also unbeaten, is a five-point favorite over Navy, tied for 18th in the ratings, before 38,622 at South Bend, Ind.

Soomers Big Favorites

Oklahoma, still shaking from a near loss to Colorado last week, is a 30-point favorite over Kansas State.

The sixth-ranked Texas Aggies, who share the Southwest Conference lead with Texas, rate six points-over potent Arkansas. Ohio State, tied with Iowa atop the Big Ten, is a 14-point choice over winner Northwestern. Improving Stanford is favored by one point over Oregon, the only team without a loss in Pacific Coast Conference play.

Iowa, Notre Dame, Oklahoma and Texas A. & M. are four of the six national powers still unbeaten and untied. Of the others, Auburn is favored by eight points over Florida and Dartmouth by three over Yale.

In the only big games Friday night, Miami of Florida rates 15 points over Villanova and Boston University six over George Washington.

Isaac Logart Top Contender For Vacant Title

NEW YORK — Isaac Logart, dynamic Cuban body-puncher, was named top contender for the vacant world welterweight title today in the Ring Magazine's latest ratings.

At the same time, odds - man Eddie Borden, publisher of the Weekly Boxing World, announced that Logart would be favored at least 7-5 against any one of the other five men expected to be included in the tournament for the vacant 147-pound crown.

Names of the six men in the tournament will be announced Friday or Monday by Julius Helfand, chairman of the World Championship Committee and chairman of the N.Y. State Athletic Commission.

Virgil Atkins of St. Louis, who clinched a berth in the tournament by knocking out ex-champion Tony DeMarco at Boston, Tuesday night was boosted from sixth to second among contenders in the ring ratings.

DeMarco was dropped from first to third, but his six trips to the canvas in the Atkins' fight are expected to rule him out of the tournament. DeMarco's defeat automatically boosted Cuban Logart from second place to first.

The tournament, expected to be fought out within 90 days, will determine a successor to Carmen Basilio, whose 147-pound crown was vacated automatically on Sept. 23 when he won the middleweight (160-pound) title from Sugar Ray Robinson.

For various reasons, the six-man eliminations are expected to include the following: Logart (1), Atkins (2), Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J. (4), Gil Turner of Philadelphia (6), Gasper Ortega of Mexico (7) and George Barnes of Australia (8).

RUTGERS ADDS TWO

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (UP) — Rutgers plays two new football opponents next season — Quantico Marines and Bucknell. The Scarlet will be meeting Quantico for the first time while the Bucknell game resumes an old series. Other opponents include Princeton, Colgate, Richmond, Lehigh, Delaware, Lafayette and Columbia.

FLU CANCELS GAME

LOUISVILLE, Ky., (UP) — Next Saturday's scheduled football game between undefeated Louisville and Morehead (Ky.) State has been called off because of a flu outbreak at Morehead.

A'S NAME COACH

KANSAS CITY, (UP) — Don Heffner, who managed Mobile of the Southern Association last season, has accepted terms to coach for the Kansas City athletics in 1968.

THE CARD OF THANKS
Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE
It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation or selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:
"How cruelly sweet are the echoes
What memory plays an old tune on the heart."
Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.
If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic verses, these express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heartstrings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Sputnik II Raises New U.S. Fears In Missile Race

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sputnik II raised new fears today that Russia, already first into space with a data-collecting projectile and a living animal, may pile up an unbreakable lead in death-dealing missiles.

CofC Drive Zooms Toward $10,000 Goal

Five Mayors Meet To Affix Seals To Proclamation

For the first time anyone could remember, all five mayors of Seminole County's incorporated municipalities met to affix their signatures to a county wide proclamation. Friday night at 7 o'clock, Mayor David Gatchel of Sanford, Mayor of Longwood signed, simultaneously, a proclamation setting aside the week of Nov. 22-28 as "National Farm-City Week".

It was quite an occasion for the Mayors as no one recalled a recent get-together of the Seminole County communities' "top men" either for a discussion of mutual problems or to agree on any one subject.

ALL FIVE MAYORS OF Seminole County sign a proclamation simultaneously. They set aside the week of Nov. 22-28 as "Farm-City Week" throughout the county. This was the first time that all Mayors of Seminole County incorporated municipalities had gotten together for such an occasion.
