GAS BILLS GIVEN
REDUCTION OF 10
TO 25 PER CENT

City Commission Authorizes Reduction On January 1
And February Statements
Is Last Relief To Be Given

GAS CONSUMERS were given further relief from exorbitant rates when the City Commission at its meeting Wednesday afternoon approved a schedule of reductions which were granted as their final action in the matter. The cuts were made applicable to the bill of January and February.

The reduction schedule calls for a ten per cent discount on bills of $5, twenty per cent on bills between $5 and $10, and a twenty-five per cent slash on all statements over $10. It was pointed out that the reductions are not to be in addition to the recent cut of ten per cent but will include that figure.

The discount schedule was adopted over the opposition of Commissioner S. O. Chase, who contended that granting a rebate would be "the wrong way to handle the matter" and would be "unfair to the taxpayers." A final compromise probably will be agreed upon sometime this week at a conference between President Coolidge, Senator Wesley L. Jones (D) of Washington, author of the senate bill, and Rep. Reid (R), chairman of the House Flood Control Committee. It met with disapproval from other House members who have been seeking a compromise between the Reid bill, giving the cost of all relief work to the government, and the Javwin administration plan, which would take the Mississippi Valley States in a twelve-cent cost or $65,000,000, a share of the cost.

Commissioner Miller and Commmissioner Chase clashed several times in the debate. In the mid-claimed, "I won't be a party to a straight out robbery of the people." To which Mr. Chase rephrased that he didn't call it a "robbery" and offered as a pos-

SEARCHERS Continue
Hunt For Lost Plane

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1—(INS)——Convinced that the three navy aviators who became lost while flying Sunday night from Hampton Roads to Annapolis fell into Chesapeake Bay and were drowned, the searching party today was dragging the bay within a five mile radius of Horn Harbor. This is 25 miles north of Hampton Roads.

The others, Comdr. T. Elyson, Lt. Cmdr. Hugo Schmidt and Lt. Roger Rauschweiler, pilot, were rushing to the bedside of Elyson's 25-year-old daughter. Three witnesses reported to officers in charge of the search that an airplane was heard over Horn Harbor at 2:30 A. M. last Monday. Two army blimps and 43 army and navy planes were continuing the search today.

Kiwanis Club Will Send Child Away For Operation To Remedy Deformity

Kiwanis, the entertainment features were furnished by Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, who gave several interesting readings, and Mrs. Gladys Williams, who sang a group of negro spirituals.

Visitors besides Mrs. Maxwell and Mrs. Williams included Mrs. G. E. McRay, Dr. Herbert Osborn, professor of etymology at the University of Ohio at Columbus, Hugh L. McFerrin, president of the Talladega, Ala., Kiwanis club, Fred Holman of Camden, N. J., and Howard Hulick of Astbury Park, N. J.

Following the luncheon, the board of directors held a meeting at which time they decided to award a silver cup to the winner of the district basketball tournament to be staged here Friday and Saturday.

As part of its work in behalf of the underprivileged child, the Sanford Kiwanis Club at its meeting Wednesday decided to defray the expenses of sending Walter Prince, eight months old Lake Monroe baby, to Jacksonville to undergo an operation to remedy the deformity of club foot.

The child's visit to Jacksonville will be under the supervision of a committee headed by John D. Jenkins, a surgeon in the employ of the state will perform the operation and administer treatments, which are expected to enable the child to use its limbs in a normal manner.

Wednesday's program on Kiwanis' education was in charge of T. W. Lawton, S. J. Nix gave the principal address on the "Value of

Rome Pays Homage To Dead War Hero

ROME, Mar. 1—(INS)—This city was shrouded in sadness today as thousands of mourners paid homage at the bier of Marshall Armando Diaz, the man who commanded all the Italian armies during the World War. Among the first to pay his respects to the departed warrior was King Victor Emmanuel. He was received at nine o'clock this morning by the generals composing the mounted guard of honor about the coffin, in which the renowned soldier's body, fully uniformed and bedecked with all his decorations, lay in state. Prior to his visit to the bier, the king had sent an emissary to convey his condolence to the family of the late marshall. Premier Mussolini similarly sent a special emissary.

BURTON LEADS HOUSE ATTACK ON LAME DUCK

Representative Of Ohio Gets Appointment To Lead Fight
For The Adoption Of White-Norris
Amendment Scheme

Backers Hail Him With Enthusiasm

House Members Agree To Vote
On Issue After Five Years
Of Intermittent Quarreling

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1—(INS)—Rep. Theodore Burton (R) of Ohio, one of the Conservative leaders of the House, today was named to lead the fight for the adoption of the White-Norris Constitutional Amendment to abolish "lame duck" sessions of Congress.

Backers hailed the measure as having been accepted by the House without a vote.

The amendment proposed by Rep. White (R) of Kansas probably will be pushed ahead of the resolution of Sen. Norris (R) of Nebraska, which already has passed the Senate. Differences would be worked out in conference committees.

The White Resolution changes the date of Presidential inaugurations from Mar. 4 to Jan. 20, and would call Congress into session on Jan. 4 each year, instead of the first Monday in Dec. It continues the short session principle by providing that sessions in even-numbered years would end on May 4.

"I am fully committed to the principles of the resolutions," explained Rep. Burton. "I think the interval between the election of President and Members of Congress and the inauguration and actual taking of seats by members is too long. There should be a more immediate response to the popular will. In no other country is it possible for a member of Congress to be delayed in taking his seat until 13 months after election."

"I do not think it is right to have a session of Congress after election composed of many members who were defeated at the election. You can conceive of this situation where you have a majority of the people who were defeated, could protest from residents in that street and to have lead to the Commission's action yesterday.

Mr. Harz appeared before the Commission on Monday and asked for the right to erect a filling station at an early date.

"We shall shortly send experts to make a thorough analysis of the problem to determine the cause of large bills, and will make changes where changes are needed to remedy the situation." Mr. Harz said.

Gifts Were Made In Government Bonds

Former Chairman Of Committee

On Party's High Financing

WASHINGTON, Mar. 1—(INS)—Harry F. Sinclair, lessor of the Teapot Dome Oil Field, gave the Republican National Committee $250,000 in Liberty bonds in 1923, Will H. Hays, former chairman of the Republican National Committee, testified today before the Senate Public Lands Committee.

The Sinclair donation included a gift of $75,000 and a loan of $185,000, said Mr. Cavis, treasurer of the Hawley Engineering Corporation of Washington, D. C., which last week purchased the municipal gas plant, is in Sanford and today formally assumed charge of the local office. Mr. Cavis will remain here for a fortnight making preliminary plans for taking over the new holdings.

Under terms of the proposal accepted by the Commission last Saturday, the personnel of the office and plant will remain the same until the signing of contracts and other legal papers, involved in transfer of the property, are set.

THE KNIGHTS RETURN

(From Harper's Magazine.)

We have gone riding where the moon was riding,
Now we come back again from far, very far,
There was no end beyond those bright horizons,

Let us hold close the little things that are.

Where the wild banners beat we sang and followed,
Tramping To-day at proud Tomorrow's feet;
What was Tomorrow that we gave all for her?
Only Today less young, less fierce and sweet!

There was a Gail, men said,
We have not found it.

There was a Quest, yet small earthly things are fair;
There are red flowers low among the grasses,

There is a wind at dusk that lifts our hair.

MARGARET WIDDEMER

Sanford has one of the best golf courses in the state and more Sanford people should make use of it.

Some of our modern students seem to put much faith in Pope's "A little learning is a dangerous thing." They are drinking deep.

Chatting the chutes with the Tampa Tribune's Woman Page, clivist tries for Chat Record. Headline "Chute if you must; this old gray head."

Ruth Elder caught a bad cold at party with Colonel Landbergh the other day. The way the quiet "Landy" treats them is enough to give any girl a cold.

"See your banker first," advises the Florida State News, before you buy stocks and bonds. Most people nowadays are seeing their bankers first, last, and all the time.

Faintly clad woman found wandering in the street—Headline Who is that a common occurrence in any city—Oval Star. If she had been clothed, that would have been news.

As we understand it, a "he-man" is one who shaves once a week, drinks, wood alcohol, whips at least three men while courting his girl, and then after they are married beats her up the first time she asks him to dry the dishes.

According to the Florida Power and Light Company Magazine, Al Lincoln used to say: "I once started raft down the Mississippi River. It went delightfully with the current; but I didn't meet any rats going upstream—they were all steambooms." The trouble with most of us, we are rats.

Ruth Bryan Owen is planning to speak in Sanford next week. Every Sanford citizen should take advantage of the opportunity to hear her. She is opposing Joe Sears in the race for representative from the Fourth Congressional District, and as someone has said "she is the best man in the race."

Or the two, the newspaper correspondent or reporter who makes up a story out of whole cloth, prints it as preferable to the one who makes a story out of something explicitly stated to him and not being for publication until released and prints it.—Tampa Times. This seems to be the opinion of everyone who knows about it.

The Seminole County Fair.

The successful culmination of the Volusia County fair a few days ago suggests commendation for the officials who conducted it and for the citizens whose interest in their county's products made it possible. Every year county fairs are proving more popular in this state and are serving a worthy purpose for advertising the profitability of Florida's soil. Other fairs have been held with equal success this winter in Jacksonville, Orlando, and Tampa.

Why Seminole County does not seek the profit to be enjoyed from a first class fair, we are at a loss to understand. With, perhaps, the most flourishing county in the state from an agricultural point of view, we nevertheless attempt to reap none of the benefits to be derived from a general display of home grown vegetables and stock. We, who have the greatest facilities, use them least of all.

While we are now commenting only on the advantage of a country-wide fair next year, one this winter would have been of inestimable value to this county. Coming at a time when our people seem to have lost faith both in their county and in themselves, the effect of countless exhibits of cows and hogs rolling in fat, of proudly strutting roosters and blue ribbon chickens, of tender lettuce heads, eggplants, beans, peppers, cabbages, and the king of them all, celery, the crisp and whitest in all the world, would have been most stimulating.

Such a fair, drawing as it would thousands of persons from the city itself, hundreds of merchants, who perhaps seldom have an opportunity of seeing the garden lands of the more remote communities, would have served as an irresistible reminder of the permanent character of the backbone of this county. It would have also shown those who certainly would have come from Orlando, Deland, Eustis, Daytona and even more distant places, that Sanford has something with which it cannot be bowed.

But it is too late for a fair this winter. Considerable work will be required to work it up, to procure tents, to obtain some carnival as an amusement feature, and the proper season is already fast passing. Work, however, should begin immediately with the end in view of holding a county fair next January. For that there is now plenty of time, and its success, if properly planned and executed, is assured.

Bouquets For The Living

There was gathered in Sarasota several nights ago a distinguished group of more than two hundred persons assembled to pay tribute to the first citizen of that city and one of the outstanding leaders of the state, John Ringling, millionaire circus owner and entrepreneur of Florida booster.

Mr. Ringling found himself the recipient of laudatory remarks addressed by a notable array of speakers including Governor John W. Martin, Leigh R. Powell, president of the Seaboard Air Line, Peter O. Knight, W. J. Burns, Charles L. Knight, former attorney general of the United States. The guests included men, who themselves had played prominent parts in the development of Florida, had spent huge sums of money in useful efforts in making improvements to the state, but who had adhered to bow in acknowledgement to the still greater deeds of John Ringling.

Governor Martin praised the developer's faith in Florida and recalled how, when the boom collapsed, Ringling never faltered in that confidence but sustained his effort to build Sarasota. The Times Examiner record how New York capitalists watched Ringling with widespread admiration as he induced the jump and posted steadily ahead, and how later that same entrepreneur's name had joined in congratulations of the success with which his effort had been crowned.

The keynote of the eulogy to Mr. Ringling is found in the statement attributed to him that "I have never built for any boom. I am building for the future. I hope my state now and I am building that the man should be greater even than now, just as I know others will build." We see in that one remarkable indication of all the grandeur extended to the citizen's measure. It gives a clear insight of the man's vision, his faith and his incomparable courage.

John Ringling has demonstrated that he believes in Florida. Anyone who has ever visited Sarasota has been firmly convinced of that. His work is worthy of the praise that can be extended, and the rest of Florida is happy to join Sarasota in honoring this remote citizen.

We like to see some of the flowers green before it passes from this world, and especially in this particular instance.

INCOMPLETE ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

It seems to us that the task of investigating the false representations The Miami Herald's continued influence on Tampa new paper at interview with Secretary Hoover by W. A. Clark leaves several points still to be clarified up.

True, The Herald has accepted the fact that it is a fact that Mr. Hoover's distance has done much to make him more popular, the correspondence which was sent to paper that wrote the interview and his desire to do so had not through the charged hoop. But it was a part of the picture. We do not take out of the whole cloth as it is the whole cloth in its present form is remarkable. Furthermore, it is a fact that an instance of it is reported to have been given as a reason for leaving an office, and why it was probably given. Who this man is who cut it in two, and what makes it unique?

What does he say about it now? Is it true that the new paper is a fabrication? How was what made out in the picture? However, it does not do a thing which was certain paid off in the work in the to run him. He must have known something for which the friend that it was a man sufficient to do a written

THE DAIRY COW
MOLINE OBSERVER

There is a good demand for dairy cattle in the market. The Moline Creamery made butter now. It is understood that the Moline Creamery has more orders for butter than for cream and butter.

If it is possible that we will be able to purchase cattle in the face of the fact that we have had more dairy feed this winter, the cattle will be fed better. Better prices for beef will certainly result in more attention being given to beef cattle, and this will lessen the interest in dairy cattle, unless the business is made profitable through high prices that prevail throughout the year.

Prices of cattle cannot run up and down like the price of hogs. It takes much longer to raise cattle than it does hogs, and the herds on the open ranges are being reduced each year. The cattle business is a very interesting business to watch just now.

In the first place it will cut out a lot of "borderers" that have come to make dairying unprofitable. In the next place, it will re-

Florida is over a great number of towns of the looking a golden opportunity in not being one of them. Let me tell you, we have one, have hardly ever heard right as the former Governor and licensed Baptist preacher came out flatfooted for the local option in regard to horse and dog racing in the state of Florida.

"Let the Hounds Run" appears to be the leading plank in the Governor's platform. He doesn't say "Limit the gambling to puritans where the man betting has about as near a chance to an even break as a gambler ever gets." He merely says "Let men run if a majority of the people of any particular section of the State want the races. Tax them five per cent for

BUILDING MODERN PYRAMIDS
FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Since the construction of square they were supporting the entire skyscrapers has become unpopular structure. And the promise of life in the big cities of the country, because of the crowding and the general ugliness of long streets of square, hex structures, making canyons in the open spaces where men and women and street cars and other vehicles are moving in towards the sky, and a busy life for human workers or others.

Recently the New York newspapers have told of plans for two new buildings that will represent when completed, somewhere about forty million dollars. One is to be an office building just as though there were up a thousand or two already in the city, with offices available for an army. The new office building structure is to rise seven hundred feet from the surface and extend three stories underground. It will be located on Madison Avenue, between Fourth and Fifth Avenue, Fort Street and Park Street, and be called the "New York" building, a thousand or twenty thousand feet above ground, above, and thirty elevators will undertake to handle the office workers up and down. The cost of the building is to be somewhere in the vicinity of $20,000,000.

Mary Alden Stars In "Joy Girl" Film At Milane Theater

WASHINGTON PARTY

Mary Alden, who plays the mother in "The Joy Girl," Alan Dwan's latest picture for Fox, began playing mother roles when she was only twenty-one. D. W. Griffith wanted a mother for "The Battle of the Sexes"—his first four-wheeler, and he was so disgusted with the theatrical attempts of the women he was trying out that she said, "Let me do it."

She got a wig and dressed up in her aunt's clothes and was given a test. It turned out to be the best thing she ever did.

Among her best known mother characterizations are those she did in "The Old Nest," "Lavie May," "Brown of Harvard" and "The Letters."

She was the well-remembered mattock woman in "The Birth of a Nation."

In "The Joy Girl," she is the self-sacrificing mother of Oliver Bowles who plays the title role and William Norris plays opposite her in character of father. Others in the cast are Ned Hamilton, Jerry Marie, Harry Chandler and Marie Dressler. This feature comes to the Milane Theatre today.

450 MILES ON A GALLON OF GAS

The president of the General Motors Research Corporation, in a recent article points out that there is enough energy in a gallon of gasoline, if converted 100 per cent in mechanical energy, to run a four cylinder car 460 miles. Much experimenting has been done to convert this latent power into mechanical energy, but at present the annual waste of gasoline is appalling. In an effort to conserve gasoline and to increase motor efficiency, Mr. Oliver, noted automotive engineer has perfected an invention that saves gas costs to the minimum. He is launching a campaign to equip every car with this wonderful invention, and he is now appointing agents, is willing to send a sample for trial. For full particulars write Mr. Oliver today in care of the Whirlwind Mfg. Co., 905 10th St., Milwaukee, Wis.—Adv.

MOTION PICTURE WILL CARRY NOTE OF PEACE TO ALL

American-Made Pro-German Film Settles Down For Run At Important Theatres Of California; Success Is Seen

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 28.—(INS) The motion picture as a messenger of peace and good will to every land was exemplified here when the first American-made pro-German film settled down for the screen by Philip Klein, son of the late playwright Charles Klein, of German descent. The director, John Ford, is Irish. Margaret Mann, who enacted the role of the mother is Scotch.

It was "Four Sons," which Hollywood has been hearing for some time was written around Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink and her four sons, three of whom fought on the German side and one with the American forces.

The only other film production which has approached the pro-German angle was "Barbed Wire" in which a German soldier fell in love with a French girl.

Story In Film

In the film story the mother is Bavarian woman, a housewife, attempting to make her son appear to be a concert singer.

The picture had its premier performance before a cosmopolitan audience representing Los Angeles and Hollywood. There were tears of cheer and no disapproving in the Carthay Circle theatre
