Village Taken Off Solons' Agenda

By FRID VAN PELT

Proposed incorporation of the Village of Markham Woods has been removed from the agenda of the Saturday meeting of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation at Orlando, State Rep. William Gorman (R), delegation chairman, reported late Thursday that "the matter has been removed from the agenda at the request of the petitioners for the Village."

Gorman told The Herald Thursday morning that he was placing the question on the agenda for Saturday after he had been informed by Rep. William Fulford (D) the "large property holders wanted to be heard in the matter of an incorporation of the proposed village."

The local delegation has placed before the Legislature a measure enacting a law creating the "Village of Markham Woods," to be bounded on the north by Lake Mary Boulevard, on the east by Interstate 4 (including the Lake Mary and Longwood interchanges) and on the west by the Little Wekiva River. The wedge-shaped area encompasses approximately 6,000 acres, including pasturelands and upper bracket homes.

Thursday's edition of The Herald reported extensively on the proposed village, and that many of the larger landowners either had not been apprised of the proposal or were opposed to it.

A reliable source reported at noon today that the petitioners requested the matter be removed from Saturday's agenda to permit them time to "meet with these landowners." The source also said that an incorporation of a municipality can be accomplished under the law by referendum only if there are more than 1,000 residents in the affected area or by action of the Legislature. There are less than 1,000 residents in the 8,000-acre proposed site of the Village of Markham Woods.

William Bodele, president of the Southwest Markham Property Owners Association, at noon today authorized Richard (Dick) Williams, a member, to advise there are only 4,000 acres in the proposed site and that, as an incorporated municipality, improved services would be available to residents, such as better roads, police and fire protection, etc. from cigarette taxes, road and bridge fund, etc. but with no ad valorem taxes.

Forget yours and mine on the matter... and let's listen to a 25-year-old former Navy Lieutenant, his shaggy black hair curling over the collar of his green fatigues, (and all of a sudden you realize they're not all hippies cause of the cut of their hair...) who addressed members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee yesterday.

After he was through, those long-winded Congressmen were actually speechless.

Take into consideration that John Kerry, a Yale law student who heads the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, is a decorated hero. Silver Star — 3rd highest a military man may receive; Purple Heart — with two clusters...

Excerpts of his talk... "There's a GI movement within this country as well as over there... we're going to change doctors. We're going to take our prescriptions to someone else. We're not going to fight."

On President Nixon's policy: "What we are trying to do when we talk of getting out with honor is we are trying to whitewash ourselves. You cannot talk about peace when you are arming a people and tell them to go on fighting. That's not peace, that's war."

On the conviction of Lt. Calley: "What he did quite obviously was a horrible, horrible thing. I have no bone to pick with the fact that he was prosecuted."

"But the responsibility lies elsewhere... If you are going to try Calley, you must at the same time try those other people who have responsibility."

On congressional efforts to end the war: "Too many members of this body have failed to take a gutsy position. Too many have refused to face any question other than their own re-election."

On why the veterans came to Washington: "We have one last mission: To search out and destroy the last vestige of this war."

When you open your mouth... as I'm inclined to do here on a daily basis, if someone along the way gets set to chop you down, accept it as the hazards of the job.

Ditto for State Senators, too, like Fred Karl of Daytona Beach... when he's comparing the actions of all the Calleys of Vietnam with what he (Karl) did in World War II.

An entirely different ball game, Senator... cause it's certainly not a "reviled" war of yesteryears.

William Bodele, president of the Southwest Markham Property Owners Association, at noon today authorized Richard (Dick) Williams, a member, to advise there are only 4,000 acres in the proposed site and that, as an incorporated municipality, improved services would be available to residents, such as better roads, police and fire protection, etc. from cigarette taxes, road and bridge fund, etc. but with no ad valorem taxes.

FINAL PLANS are being made by Mayor Blow and Mrs. Janice Zickafosse for Girl Scout Earth Day April 24. The 11 troops of Sunburst Neighborhood plan to clean up and plant around the area of Wilshire Drive. The Mayor has promised a trash truck and Lee Zimmerman and Lester Mandel of Greater Construction have donated a choice selection of plants and trees which the girls will use in landscaping.

Playboys To Gain Time With 'Un-Godly' DST

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's almost time to spring forward again — for watches, clock and other timekeepers. All clocks in the 46 states are to be pushed forward Sunday one hour for Daylight Savings Time. Michigan and Hawaii will ignore it, as will small pockets of Arizona and Indiana. The Federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 provides that all states observe DST from 2 a.m. the last Sunday of April until 2 a.m. the last Sunday of October. The law also permits a state legislature to exempt the state.

Hawaii, Michigan, Indiana and Arizona have taken advantage of that provision. Twelve counties in Indiana, however, will switch from Central Standard Time to Central Daylight Time to bring the state's clocks to the same hour. The rest of the state will remain on Eastern Standard Time.

In Arizona, the huge Navajo Indian reservation will go to Daylight time, while the Hopi reservation — within the Navajo reservation — will remain on Standard time as will the rest of the state.

Georgia has no legitimate exceptions to the Uniform Time law, but state Rep. Dorsey Matthews of Moultrie has refused to recognize Daylight Savings. He claims it's "Un-Godly." God was designed for the benefit of airlines and sailing playboys.

Blackburn Requests 'Relief'

By MARION BETHEA

Motions were filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Orlando attorney Edward Hanlon in the case of Harlan Blackburn, who is jointly charged with Clyde Lee and Matthew Smith with two counts of conducting a lottery.

The case originally was scheduled in Orange County and stemmed from a raid in both Seminole and Orange Counties in May, 1970. Orange County Solicitor Rom Powell dropped the charges in order to keep Blackburn from going to trial on April 15 under a change of venue in Key West, where Powell contended the state could not receive a fair trial due to the fact that residents of the area view blacks as an unbecoming recreation. Subsequently charges were filed in Seminole County by State Attorney Abbott Herrington.

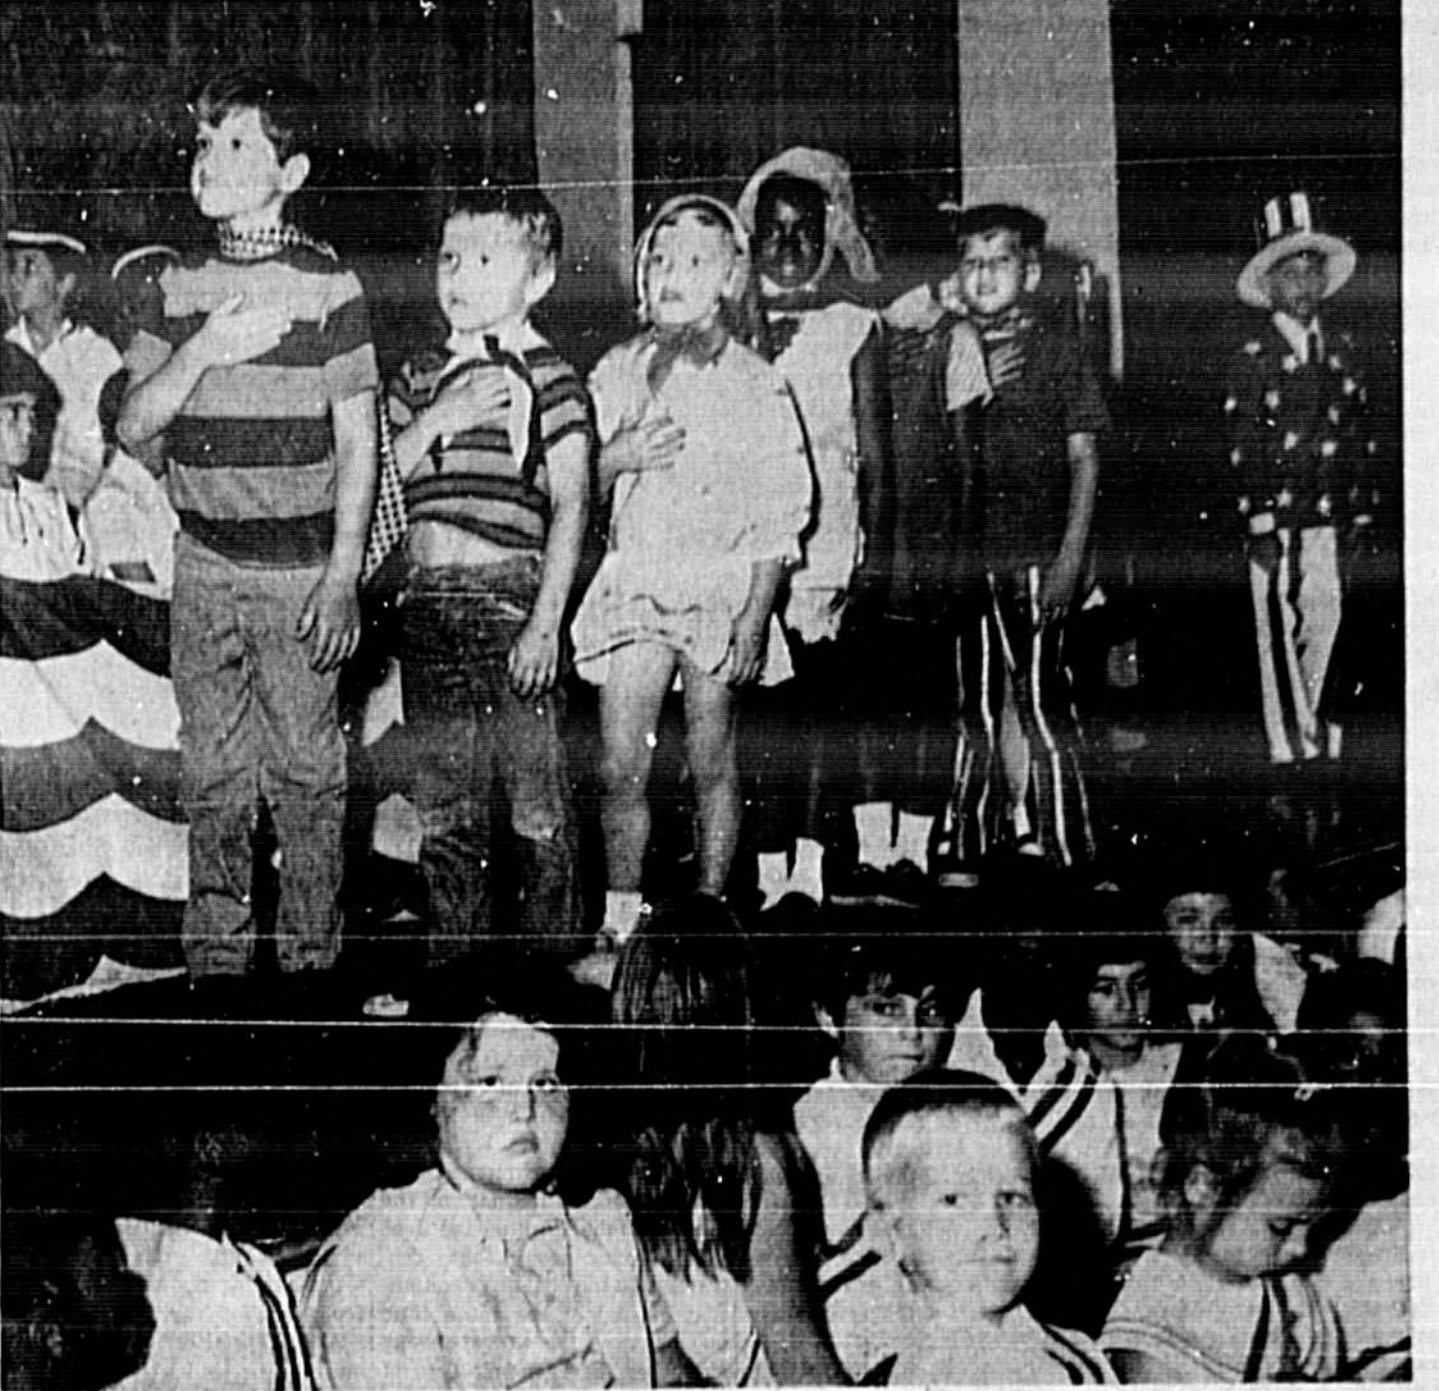

The trial of the trio has been set for the week of May 3.

Motions filed in the Blackburn case include a motion for defense relief in that the defense contends that in depositions of state witnesses and other witnesses mention is made of a "confidential informer."

The defense requests that the court require the state to name the confidential informer and the source of testimony.

Also filed is a motion "to sever," which means that Blackburn is requesting a separate trial from that of the other two defendants.

A motion for change of venue also was filed. The defense contends that due to widespread publicity the defendant cannot receive a fair trial here. Hanlon also contended that there are no other counties in which the defendant has the right to elect in which county he wishes to be tried.

The second grade classes of Southside School in Sanford presented a play today entitled, Good Lives For Good Americans. "Go seeker, if you will, throughout the land and you will find us burning in the night... To every man his chance, to every man, regardless of his birth, his shining golden opportunity — to every man the right to live, to work, to be himself, and to become whatever thing his manhood and his vision can combine to make him — this seeker, is the promise of America."

Will Stand Up To County Longwood Shows Spunk

By ANN RILEY

LONGWOOD — Council Chairman E. E. Williamson stated at Thursday night's City Council meeting, "It is time for each city to show its spunk and that we are not satisfied with what we are getting from the county."

He called one of the county commissioners and asked to be put on the agenda for Tuesday's commission meeting.

Williamson is concerned about trash pickups now that the Longwood city dump is closed.

Council passed a resolution requesting executive clemency from President Nixon for Lt. William Calley, stating, "In as much as Lieutenant Calley has fought for his country and served his country well on battlefields other than My Lai we are requesting executive clemency with an honorable discharge and a return to civilian life for Lieutenant Calley."

On the second and final reading, the council passed the compensation raise for mayor and council bringing monthly compensation to $100 for each.

An amendment to Section 8, Ordinance 181, was passed to permit the city clerk to collect the fees to obtain release of dogs picked up by the city dog catcher.

Councilman Eugene Jaques made a motion to send a resolution to the Orange-Seminole legislative delegation approving these bills: HB 260, concerning one cent cigarette tax; SB 71 and HB 414, concerning gasoline tax, and HB 441 and SB 205 concerning city taxpayers paying for service outside the city. The motion was passed.

Police mutual assistance agreement between cities of North Orlando, Altamonte, Casselberry and Longwood was discussed but tabled until the workshop April 29.

The matter of providing water for Arnold's Landromat on Highway 17-92 was referred to the city engineer.

Recommended and approved to serve on the zoning board were Mrs. June Lorman and Richard Crenshaw.

A motion was made by Mrs. Sandra Thompson to charge $75 for cemetery lots until the end of the fiscal year and $100 after that.

City Supt. Ralph Fisher's request for 30 more water meters was approved.

Let The State Legislature Allow Voters To Vote

Anyone watching the proceedings of the State Legislature in Tallahassee will well echo the plaintive cry of Alice-in-Wonderland as she tried to understand what her eyes showed her and said, "... curiouser and curiouser."

This latest phenomenon of a body of legislators, who spent thousands of hours and thousands of dollars in pre-session conferences and trips up and down the peninsula — pointed out by the Governor when Gov. Reubin Askew (D) took to the hustings and launched a successful campaign to win the top spot last year, he chose tax reform as a major issue.

As a student of government and a successful state senator and a conscientious politician he could do no less. Apparent to all the candidates was the troublesome fact that the state of Florida was in deep fiscal trouble.

The day of reckoning could no longer be postponed. Taxes must be increased. The expenditures must be cut. Where to look and what to do? A corporate income (profits) tax recommended itself as a fair share move. This Governor Askew adopted and has stuck to with a conviction based on fact. Surely not on political shenanigans or underestimating the hornets' nest which was being stirred.

Income taxes are unconstitutional in Florida. Thus the Governor had to submit this proposal to the Governor did on March 2nd to the legislature in his budget message and again ask for the three-quarter vote in the Senate and the House required before a constitutional referendum could be submitted to the people.

It was and is astounding that the few legislators who blocked an early referendum — it has been set for the November 1972 elections — continued this alarming pose this week, refusing this needed vote on Tuesday and allowing it on Thursday.

This was in the House. No sooner had this hurdle been taken than opponents of the referendum in the Senate flexed their muscles and muttered about deferring it in the upper house.

In this comment we are not discussing the corporate income tax. This we will do later. What does concern us and concern us deeply is the message which the legislators, wittingly or not, are sending to the voters.

They are in the legislature because the voters sent them there to represent voter interests. There are quite a few who lost re-election in 1970 because they had been greedy in the salary game which voters had objected to and still, in many areas, resent. This could happen again in '72 when legislators will have to face their constituents again. The proposal to tax corporate incomes did, quite naturally, sound the alarm for the business lobbyists who exert pressures in all legislatures.

Florida, it is quite obvious, is no exception. But the new approach to state legislatures is getting to be more and more a hard-headed appraisal of what the tax dollars which are by their services and for their staffs are buying.

In this unicameral proposal gets additional strength. Reduction of the number of legislators beyond the cut already in prospect is quite possible, also.

Thus we would urge every taxpayer, every voter in Florida to stand with the voters who voted for the performance in Tallahassee as the legislators go through the traditional stately minut of bowing and scraping.

Form may be delightful to watch. But what is needed is the substance of action. In this matter of the corporate income tax constitutional referendum, the substance must be solid. Approval by both houses and the way cleared for responsible debate which will allow the referendum decided by the voters on facts, not fiction.

Topsy-Turvy Times

In analyzing his buying habits recently, William H. Bender, a North Carolina farmer reduced to simple, understandable logic some of the complex principles that apply to the economic problems of the United States of America.

"Today," he said, "I drive a tractor and use a power saw made in Europe. I build with wire and nails from there. My clothing and shoes come from Asia."

He probably could have added that his neighbors drive cars made in Germany or Japan or that the Western motion picture he saw recently was made in Spain or Italy.

Foreign competition and a free interchange of products certainly are desirable and healthy for a trading nation like the United States.

At the same time it must be recognized that the stultifying nature of the American market that has been captured already by foreign manufacturers illustrates a basic illness in our economy.

The reason can be distilled to a simple principle. It is that the gap between the productivity of the American worker and that of his foreign competitor is all but closed.

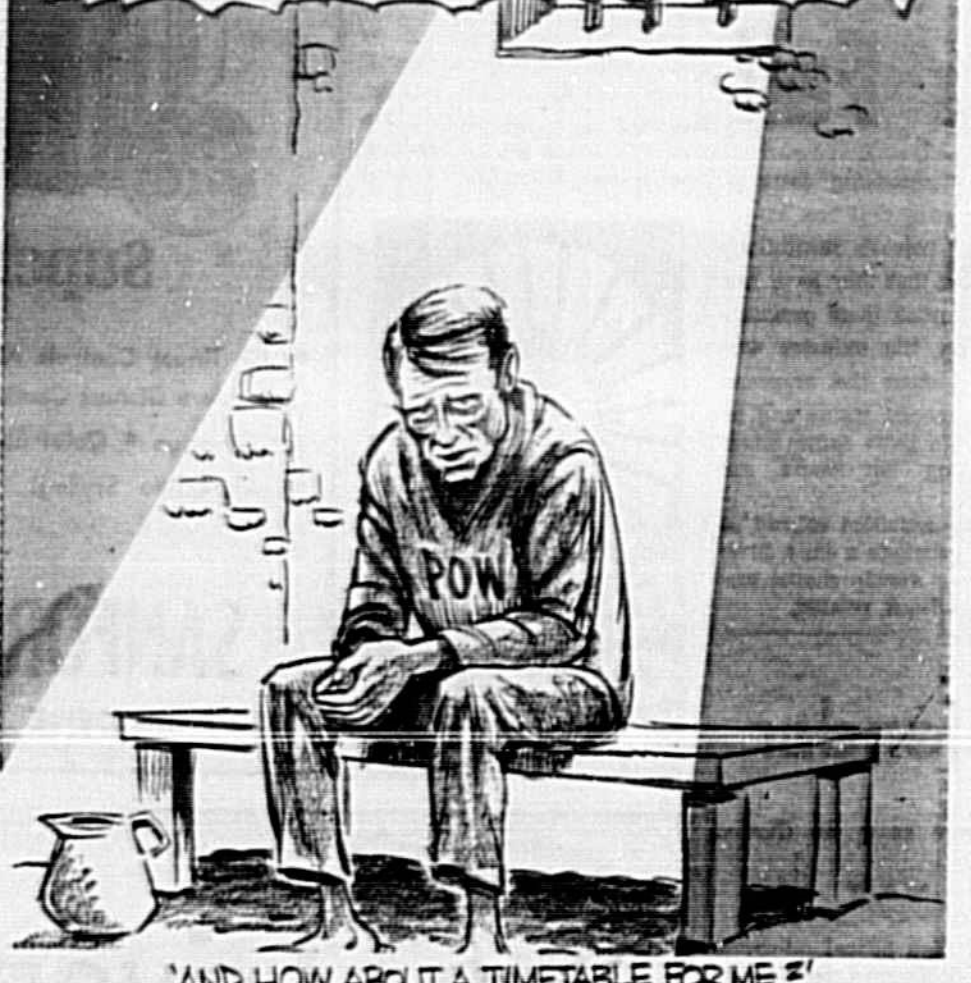

The truth is that American goods are being priced out of our own markets. Further, as American families feel the inflationary pinch, they turn, as Mr. Bender did, to the cheaper foreign goods. As industries feel the same pinch they also in turn, as the motion picture industry did, to foreign labor services which are more economical. The cycle feeds on itself.

Unemployment also invariably induces more government spending to help people out of work, or to assist economically distressed industries to survive. This too fuels the inflation.

Workers still continue to ask for more pay increases than inflation or their rise in productivity warrants.

Sooner or later the topsy-turvy economic structure must be constrained. The pain this will cause is directly proportionate to the time that it will take to reach the moment of truth.

NEWS ITEM: "A U.S. PULLOUT BEFORE 1973 FROM VIETNAM WAS ENDORSED BY HOUSE DEMOCRATS"

"AND HOW ABOUT A TIMETABLE FOR ME?"

Global Comment: Common Hatred-Common Bond

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

A noteworthy feature of the new federation by Egypt, Libya and Syria is the water district. Yet during his appearance on a common hatred for Israel rather than on what it can do for the Arab people.

It suggests the disquieting possibility that the eloquence of the Arab leaders may lead them into another military adventure against Israel with results that can only be tragic.

In ideology he said, will be "democratic socialism."

And that was about the end of it so far as the announcement dealt with the future of the 42 million Arabs it will encompass.

Libyan warplanes thrown into the balance on both fronts. Another move toward Arab unity. The 34 million Egyptians, 10 million Syrians and 1.8 million Libyans represent about half the Arab world total.

An income of some $2 billion a year from Libyan oil, plus increasing revenues from development fees in Egypt.

Against the chances for success of the new federation is the fact that it has been tried before and hasn't worked.

The new federation, by leaving foreign relations and control of the armies in the hands of the individual countries, seeks to avoid the issues which led to the break up of the original U.A.R.

Form may be delightful to watch. But what is needed is the substance of action. In this matter of the corporate income tax constitutional referendum, the substance must be solid. Approval by both houses and the way cleared for responsible debate which will allow the referendum decided by the voters on facts, not fiction.

Don Oakley Says: Energy From The Ocean Waits

By DON OAKLEY
NEA Editorialist

A 21st-century historian writing about our own time might well observe that "never did so many have so little faith in the future."

This is not the first age given to predictions of disaster. All of Christendom believed that the world was going to end in the year 1000. Our modern fears, however, are based not on superstition or numerology but on science — rather, some of the undesirable fruits of science and technology, such as pollution, overpopulation and the possibility of nuclear Armageddon.

But this same historian may also observe that our failure of faith curiously came at a time when mankind stood on the verge of a true Golden Age and that the most important event of the 20th century, if not of all centuries, was the discovery of nuclear energy.

ed Sicily, they were able to produce a hot stream of ionized deuterium gas, or plasma. Deuterium, a form of hydrogen, is readily extracted from sea water.

According to project director Dr. Fred Ellis, there is enough potential energy in the world's oceans to supply power at 100 times current world consumption for 10 billion years. Not only that, but a fusion reactor would be virtually pollution-free and would produce no long-lived radioactive wastes.

The fusion reactor that kind of stuff is Ted Kennedy who keeps getting mentioned even though he insists he's out of it.

Probably, too, Muskie's organizational problems will ease. This prospect seemed particularly bright in south and border states which were leaning his way. Now some of the same southern leaders who were saying "Muskie is No. 1" are dancing around others like Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington, Sen. Hubert Humphrey and Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, the big man from Ways and Means.

It doesn't do Muskie any good, either, that money is so hard to come by. Keeping the salaries paid for his big staff in the political House on L Street in Washington is a hard chore. Hum-

Political Notebook: But Don't Sell "Big Ed" Short

By BRUCE BLOSSOM
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—In his present difficulties, Big Ed Muskie may be haunted by the trial of Republican George Romney in 1967. But Muskie is not courting the kind of disaster which engulfed Romney even before the presidential year opened.

Romney was tagged as relatively ignorant on the most vital issue of the day—Vietnam. His "brainwash" statement seemed a confirmation. And he had a powerful adversary in Richard Nixon, skilful, resourceful, superbly assisted, building strength quickly in the political arena.

Muskie's situation today is hardly comparable. He has a big organization which is not organized. He appears to neglect some political people, thereby bruising ego.

Muskie's managers candidly admit their failures. They have not been putting it together in a way that will please the urgent caller from Wyoming or Missouri or Massachusetts. And the front-runner for the Democratic nomination is expected to do better than that.

As a matter of fact, the 1968 Democratic vice - presidential nominee has some other problems that don't get mentioned as much as they should be had contact with the politicians.

One veteran Democratic leader thinks Muskie people have looked foolish in their bustling search for left-liberalist lend-lease support. At best it would be transparent window-dressing for a candidate whose real pull is in the broad center. Some party men believe, too, that Muskie is buying trouble in going for a clutter of regional political operators instead of a single wagon boss who knows the wide territory. These regional types (there may be three or four) are not all chosen yet, but few politicians feel the setup will work. It was a compromise decided upon when Muskie could not get the manager he wanted.

To outsiders, this organizational staff is inside baseball—but it is important. The net effect of a regional political setup could be to throw a bigger load on the pressed general man-

Early Primary

House Speaker Dick Pettigrew's proposed early primary for 1972 appears to be sparking a minor revolt within the ranks of Democratic party workers.

Pettigrew proposed that in addition to electing presidential delegates, all state and county party posts be filled in a March primary.

For the 134 state Democratic executive committee officers, and the hundreds of county party officers, who were elected last year — it will mean their four-year terms will be chopped in half, since they'll have to run again to recapture their seats.

The same would hold true of Republican party workers.

But in the Democratic party, the leadership appears to be solidly behind Pettigrew's proposal. A number of committee men on both the state and local levels are openly beginning to voice their objections.

"We're letting all the county and state Democratic officers know about the bill by mail," said George Hanna, aide to Democratic State Chairman Jon Moyie.

"We're expecting to hear some loud complaints once everyone finds out they'd have to run again under the proposal."

No Problem

This week senators have been sporting a silver name plates bearing the American flag. The plates were a gift of freshman Sen. Phil Lewis (D-West Palm Beach).

It wasn't generosity or patriotism as much as confusion that prompted the gifts, admits Lewis, a little bashfully.

"Actually, since I'm new around here, I had a hard time remembering all the names of the other senators," said Lewis. "This way there's no problem."

Florida Politics

By Tom Raum
AP Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A lobbyist for a state water management agency has been representing and the other from the chairman of a Senate committee that deals with legislation affecting that agency.

Tampa attorney M. Blain draws salaries from both the Southwest Florida Water Management District and Senate Natural Resources and Conservation Committee Chairman Ray Knopke (D-Tampa).

As recently as last session, Blain was the state-paid aide to the committee. The current lobbyist list shows Blain as the registered lobbyist for the water management district. Blain's law firm — that of U.S. Rep. Sam Gibbons (D-Tampa) — represents the district, and did during the years while Blain was drawing a state paycheck as a legislative aide.

Senate President Jerry Thomas confirmed that Blain is no longer on the Senate payroll — but as recently as last week he appeared before a Senate committee on Knopke's behalf.

Blain urged the committee to adopt involved legislation proposed by the water district. Yet during his appearance, Blain made no mention of the fact that he was a registered lobbyist for that interest.

The measure, which had already had an audience before Knopke's committee, and bore his name, won an easy passage before the Senate critical judiciary committee chaired by William Barrow (D-Crestview). Barrow identified Blain to the committee simply as "Senator Knopke's aide." And Blain did nothing to throw any light on his apparent dual role.

Blain's list of clients also filed with the secretary of the State Senate, Blain has listed under a column asking if he has any "direct business association or partnership" with any legislator. But Blain admitted to a reporter that Knopke was "paying me out of his own pocket."

Knopke confirmed this, and said he paid Blain "on the basis of service rendered." The lawmaker said Blain handled legislation for him. Knopke said he was saving taxpayers money by paying Blain out of his own pocket.

A recent rule change in the Senate prohibited Blain from continuing as a legislative aide drawing a state paycheck while remaining active in his law firm, said Senate President Thomas.

Thomas said the new rule was to end the practice of employing part-time aides with outside business interests.

Solons Split Over 18-Vote

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—House members have tossed back to their Rules Committee today the question of whether the 18th constitution prevents the Legislature from ratifying the 18-year-old vote before 1973.

The Senate, meanwhile, was meeting in committees, and little floor action was expected in the House, which faced a constant calendar of 39 supposedly noncontroversial bills.

Unable to decide Thursday if it could ratify the 18-year-old vote amendment to the U.S. Constitution, the House returned the issue to the Rules Committee after approving 45-31 an amendment requiring a referendum before the Legislature could ratify the amendment.

Article 18, Section 1 of the state constitution says "The Legislature shall not take action on any proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States unless a majority of the members thereof have been elected after the proposed amendment has been submitted for ratification."

"The issue is whether we under our constitutional provision have the right to consider it at this time," said Rules Chairman Murray Dobbin, D-Miami.

The House Elections Committee has asked Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin for an opinion, but he declined to comment on the constitutionality of the Florida constitution provision.

Shevin did quote from a 1922 U.S. Supreme Court decision which said the ability of the states to ratify U.S. Constitution amendments "is a federal function, derived from the federal constitution, and it transcends any limitations sought to be imposed by the people of a state."

Whichever way the Rules Committee goes on the question of whether the Legislature can ratify the amendment before the 1972 election, it was far from certain that the votes are available to ratify the 18-year-old vote.

Thursday's vote on the referendum provision indicated a majority of House members either support or oppose the vote or aren't going to express themselves until the people have spoken.

The people "hold us loud and clear what they thought about the 18-year-old vote" when an amendment to lower the voting age by Florida constitution amendment was defeated Nov. 3, said Rep. Dennis McDonald, R-St. Petersburg.

The voters rejected the 18-year-old vote amendment 79-85 to 42,450.

Assurances' Broke House Tax Logjam

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A series of "assurances" given in summit meetings between Speaker Richard Pettigrew and Minority Leader Don Reed broke the House logjam over a July vote on the corporate income tax amendment.

The House voted 102-16 Thursday for a July 6 referendum, reversing two earlier failures to reverse the 90 mark required for three-fourths approval of an accelerated vote on a constitutional amendment.

In reaching agreement on 11 general areas of concern for which Democrats and Republicans can work side-by-side, Pettigrew, D-Miami, and Reed, R-Boca Raton, enhanced their status as leaders.

Reed released his Republicans from an earlier position of opposition to the early election until there is an appropriations bill, while Pettigrew pledged no more major revenue-raising bills will reach the floor before the appropriations bill.

It was in that sense a partial victory for each position but of even more importance it created an atmosphere of mutual respect for a bipartisan crack at Florida's manifold financial problems.

"This is the House program, and I'm very glad we have this kind of momentum going in both parties because I think we can go long way toward giving Florida the meaningful tax reform it needs," Pettigrew said at a news conference.

Reed announced on the floor of the House "I feel that the assurances the majority leader-

Vote Delayed Until Tuesday

Senate Split On Askew's Tax Measure

Because the call for a special statewide referendum requires a three-fourths vote in both houses, Republicans, comprising approximately one third of each house, hold clear power to block the vote.

What House Republicans have done for two months—vanquishing two previous attempts at passing the bill the Senate's 11 Republicans are doing now.

Senate Minority Leader Warren Henderson, however, said the party's stance—decided in a caucus before Thursday's session—just applied to Thursday, and did not necessarily mean outright opposition to an early election.

"We just want a chance to talk about it," said Henderson, who scheduled an early Monday morning caucus.

About "four or five" Senate Democrats have reservations about a July election, "so it isn't just us," said Henderson. Subjects to be discussed at the caucus before Thursday's session—just applied to Thursday, and did not necessarily mean outright opposition to an early election.

The Lighter Side

Educational And Remedial

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The pharmaceutical industry on occasion has been accused of overdoing its promotion of over-the-counter medical products.

A critic of the consumer groups and other critics, excessive advertising causes us confused laymen to waste millions of dollars on unnecessary purchases of useless, nostrums, palliatives, elixirs, balms, restoratives and herbiferes.

To some extent, at least, I believe this measure is unwarranted. For one thing, the important point that medical advertising often serves a double purpose.

In many cases, medical advertising must do more than inform us that a remedy is available; it also must educate us as to the existence of the ailment.

For unless we know we have a certain illness, we obviously body still thinks it's morning."

The symptoms may include a vague sense of unease, some impairment of decision-making ability and abnormal sleep patterns plus slight deviation in body temperature, breathing rates and pulse beat.

McCall's suggests that jet-lag is confined to air travelers whose biological rhythm is known as the "circadian cycle," are upset by rapid crossing of several time zones. But I'm convinced it is far more widespread than that.

The syndrome exactly fits the way I feel at least two days a week, and I haven't crossed a time zone in months. Until millions of other stay-at-homes also may be suffering from jet-lag without knowing it.

If your circadian rhythm is disturbed by crossing time zones in a jet, then it is logical to suppose the same thing can happen while you are watching sporting events on television.

Leesburg Blanks Oviedo In District Play

By LARRY NEELY
Herald Sports Writer

LEESBURG — Maybe Jim Busby, the Atlanta Braves third base coach, got to Hall of Famer Jim Rice to lead the Leesburg Lions to a no-hitter as they eliminated the Oviedo Yellowjackets from the opening round of the Class A District Tournament.

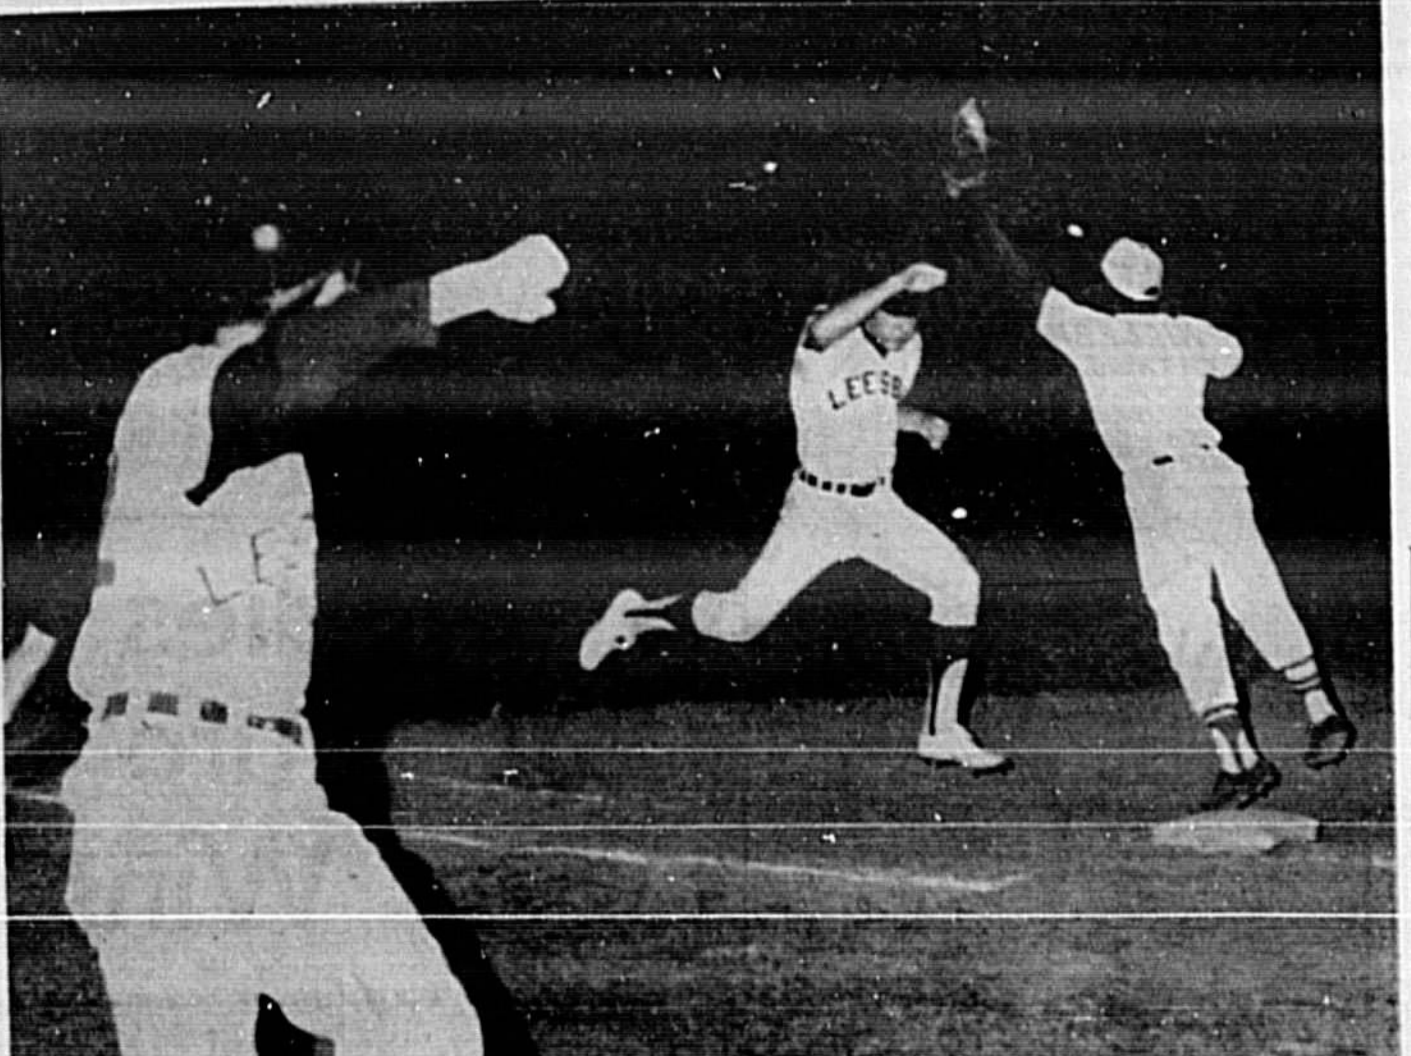

Busby retired the first three Oviedo batters in order. In the bottom of the first Oviedo ace Brian Joe Mikler walked the bottom of the second. Four-ers and two walks accounted for four more Leesburg runs. Mikler fanned the second Leesburg batter but faced seven more that inning as the Yellowjackets before the Lions could retire the side.

Tulp assumed the mound duty in the bottom of the third for Oviedo after Busby fanned three Lion batters. Tom Rice led off for Leesburg against Oviedo's catcher, Lynn Burch. Burch struck out Rice.

Rice, the Leesburg catcher, led the game's batsmen collecting a pair of hits. The Yellowjackets' Lucien, Richie and Mike Holts got on base on an error which scored Carlton, Graham and a single to load the bases. Steve Evans ended the game with a single that brought home Rice and Holts as umpire Billy Brewer called the game on the 18th.

The Clark & Hirt softball team of Osteen participated in the Starke Invitational Softball Tournament. The local team finished 10-4 and won a fourth-place trophy. The team plays in the DeLand league and is currently tied for first at 5-0.

Clark & Hirt opened the first round last Friday night and won 1-0. They then won their second round game Saturday morning at 8:30 a.m. and won an exciting come-from-behind game with Titusville. The local team trailed 10-4 going into the last inning, but managed to pull out an 11-10 win.

At 6:30 p.m. Saturday they slipped by L. D. Davis of Vero Beach 6-4. Then at 10:30 p.m. they were knocked out of the tournament Sunday at 1:30 p.m. when they fell to Mobbey Realty of St. Petersburg, 20-7.

Jerry's Catering won the tournament without a loss. The St. Cloud team was second and Mobbey Realty was a third. Clark & Hirt finished fourth, Joe L. Tate was fifth and Titusville was sixth.

Lyman Closes Season

By CHUCK GRILE
Herald Sports Staff

This afternoon the Lyman High School swim team, both boys and girls, complete their 1971 regular season by taking to Sanford and facing off against the Seminole High swim team at 4 p.m. at the Sanford Bath and Tennis Club Pool at the Airport.

The Greyhounds boys are sporting a 14-2 record in their second year of swimming competition. Their latest victory coming as the result of their Tuesday meet against Evans in which the boys soundly thrashed the Trojans 66-27.

In that meet Lyman was led by eight victories out of eleven events to swamp the outmanned Orlando school to prove victory. The 200 yard medley relay team of the Hounds got things started with a dominant performance. Carl Schopfkin, John Bistline and Richard Brinker, and from then on it was all Lyman. Bill Luby scored a victory in the 100 yard freestyle and an individual victory.

Richard Clark, Lyman's sensational diver, scored his 17th victory in eight events attempting the field. Lyman's second solid victory was Richard Hartman in the 100 yard freestyle and then Durranne Clark with a win in the 100 yard backstroke. Schopfkin scored a victory in the 100 yard freestyle, and adding insult to injury, the Hounds 400 yard freestyle relay eliminated the meet. It was the second meeting between Evans and Lyman out of the fieldhouse he named "something of this trifling magnitude takes time."

"Plans are still being actively pursued to accomplish this goal," Stanford said. "In the interim, any funds made available by the suspension of basketball will be used to strengthen the other athletic programs at the university."

"There's no question about it," McCoy said, "I'm disappointed that basketball is being suspended. I think it's being hurt the entire athletic program."

Executive committee chairman H. B. Gaudier admitted he had pondered that prospect while reaching his decision.

"I had slightly mixed emotions about this because of its possible effect on football recruitment," Gaudier said, "but it doesn't make sense to lose this much money in basketball with other university operations facing such financial difficulties."

The limited stock class was small in numbers last Friday night but it was not small in quality. A bigger and better field is expected as more top names enter into competition.

Racing action will get underway tonight at 8:30 p.m. at the 'Big O' Speedway in south Orlando.

Allies Ready Drive To Laos Choppers Lead Raid

Nonagenarian Keeps Active Making Gifts

By HILL SCOTT Mrs. Cecelia Hardaway celebrated her 98th birthday Wednesday at Seminole Lodge in Sanford, the nursing home in which she has been living since January, 1960, after a fall that broke her hip.

Since that time it has been necessary for her to use a walker to enable her to leave her room but, in the meantime, the woman keeps busy and active with her sewing machine. She crochets lace on pillow slips and is presently making her Christmas gifts. She has made numerous pillows for use by the nursing home, receives lots of mail from her many friends and answers them all.

She elaborated how she met her husband, the late Franklin Hardaway, when he took picture unknown to her while she was living with her mother's uncle, a captain of a Mississippi River boat, down the big river.

"I was sitting in a deck chair when he came by and I saw him take the picture and never knew the picture was taken until later when I visited her."

IF TESTUBE BABIES were the thing, the average woman in her lifetime could be the mother of about 400, that's all. But the average man could be the father of millions, literally millions. ... AM ASKED IF it's had form for a lady to wear a pant suit to a funeral. Would be thought so. But girls in such dandy costumes are attending the solemn ceremonies now all over the country, numerous funeral directors report.

USED TO BE COMMON heretofore to suspect Chinese food. Old timers rarely ordered it. Who knew what crickets, snakes and adulterated vermin might lurk under, all chopped up? That prejudice is past or passing. But the prejudice of the native Chinese toward American dishes stays strong. To serve steaks, chops, cutlets, anything to be cut with a knife at the table, that's certain. The dinner must be a buffet up to carve. That's kitchen work.

THAT YOUNG LADY who used to be known as "the hired girl," she's not gone. She's in training. In special classes. The U. S. Department of Labor lists them as "Household Arts." Oh, for the love of Pete! ... HOW OFTEN DOES a man need a haircut? Every three weeks? That's about right, says a retired hairdresser. Bases his belief, he says, on the scientific fact: the average hair grows half an inch in that time.

IF YOUR DAUGHTER marries, the honey bees must be told. Otherwise, they'll leave the hive, never to return. Our Old Superstitious man contends that was a common belief years ago. These old notions have their reasons. When a sentimental man's daughter marries, he doesn't mean, get drunk, or cry in the crowd. He goes out yonder for awhile by himself to tell the bees.

CUSTOMER SERVICE: Q: "If the buck deer shed their antlers every spring, why is it you never find any in the woods?" A: Porcupines regard deer antlers as a delicacy. So do rabbits. And mice. Q: "How can you tell if a perfume is typewritten type is really personal, or one of those powdered out on some automatic machine?" A: Wet your finger and rub it over the signature. If the ink smears, it's personal.

AVERAGE HIGH SCHOOL GIRL is stronger physically than the average college boy. OUR NAME GAME MAN would like to report that Emmett, spelled variously, means as industrious as an ant. ... CAN YOU explain why old Roman law prohibited a bachelor from delivering an oration? ... NO MORE NECKTIES for men. Within 19 years. That's our Chief Frognicator's latest prediction.

Democrats Seek Way For Release of POWs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democratic party, responding to President Nixon in a nationwide broadcast, says negotiation after a date for withdrawal of American troops is announced is the only realistic way to ensure release of U.S. prisoners of war.

But under no circumstances would prisoners be abandoned if these negotiations failed to produce the result we believe is possible. Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien said Thursday night in summing up positions taken by six Democratic senators.

Laborer Is Jailed In Morals Charge

A labor camp farm worker has been jailed on two morals counts after two women told County Detective John Wright Jr. the man used a gun and knife to force them to commit sex acts.

T. J. Jones, 50, Apartment 3, Chase Labor Camp, is being held in county jail in lieu of $10,000 total bond, $5,000 on each of two counts, after his arraignment Thursday by Wright on a warrant signed by the complainant.

The investigator said the women told him they were forced at the point of a gun and a knife at various times to indulge in unnatural sex acts with themselves and with Jones. They accused him of holding them in his apartment against their will for a period of time.

Sanford Rotary Club Half-Century Old

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI The Sanford Rotary club celebrating its 50th year has a history of service. May 10, 1921, was the date when charter No. 873 was presented to 21 leading citizens.

Boys baseball started in 1945 and headed for many years by Roy Holler, for whom the Mellon Park field is named. ## Mrs. Tom McDonald Directs Junior Gardeners To 'Whistle While You Work' For Melody Lane

By CECILIA FARMER

Adult members of the Garden Club of Sanford will share honors with a group of youngsters at their annual Spring Flower Show April 20, May 1 and 2 at Sanford Gardens Center. Along with arrangements made by the talented members will be exhibits by the Junior Gardeners, under the direction of Mrs. Tom McDonald.

Their entries will have some titles in keeping with the theme Melody Lane and will include "Somewhere Over The Rainbow," "Little Boy Blue," "Light a Candle" and "Whistle While You Work."

They will also exhibit posters on birds, conservation, litterbugs and animals. Using discarded cans they originated and made a litterbug (a big decorated can) to be used as an ornament and serve as a reminder: "Don't Be A Litterbug."

They have also made some very attractive bird feeders from plastic containers and other material. The displays of yesterday are too childish for this group of young gardeners.

It all began when the three McDonald children, after watching their mother prepare entries for flower shows, became interested and decided they would like to learn more about it. Mrs. McDonald started by

For Red And Black Ball Socialites Dye For Medical Research

By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newswriter

A group of society committee women headed by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., proved they are willing to dye for a cause, twice, even.

At a petite dojeuner meeting at a New York restaurant, for what might have been the first dress rehearsal for a ball, these women, most interested in coffee and brioche. The chit-chat was about hair, colors—black and red—that the ladies would wear to their ball tonight. "She had done annual black and red ball for the benefit of Irvington House, a privately supported agency, medically affiliated with the New York University Medical Center. The 30-year-old agency is a pioneer in the research and treatment of rheumatic fever, and allied diseases in children. Blondes with blackened tresses and brunettes in fanciful red colored curls arrived freshly turned on from Monsieur Marc, Charles of the Ritz and other hairdressing salons, or their own bathroom showers in a trial run of the bigger event that would take place April 21.

Mrs. Richard Feigen found "It was absolutely painful."

"My children said, 'Mom it makes you look so young.' I'm red—that the ladies would wear to their ball tonight. "She had done annual black and red ball for the benefit of Irvington House, a privately supported agency, medically affiliated with the New York University Medical Center. The 30-year-old agency is a pioneer in the research and treatment of rheumatic fever,

"but now I'm used to it and I might even keep it for a few days."

The idea for the black and red balls originated six years ago with honorary chairman, Mrs. Roosevelt, who has been at Irvington House, worker for 23 years. This year, they decided to add to the fun with the black and red tresses, she explained.

"The event brings in an enormous amount of money. Hour Laboratorians sponsor it and we made $7,000 last year. But I don't know what will happen this year." They've reduced the price of tickets from $75 to $50.

She didn't have time to have her own anti-blonde hair compressed, but said she'd probably wear red and black ribbons in her hair for the ball.

But step-daughter Nancy, 20, granddaughter of the late President Franklin Roosevelt, was delighted with the whole idea. She liked the Lucky Copper color that covered her long blonde locks and she was ecstatic about the prospect of going to the ball.

"You know I never had a desire to go to the ball before, but this year I can't wait—a lot of my friends will be going."

But it was Mrs. Howard Exenberg, also wearing the Lucky Copper color, who advised the ladies they should think dry weather. Exclaiming how great it was that "everybody here sort of looks like Samantha, Espar which has been my own personal dream," she told them of a previous experience with a different brand of brown rinse she had been caught at a bus stop in what she thought, at first, was a brown rain.

"Well, it might be a red riot this time," quipped another committee woman, although the ladies were assured that it would take more than a few raindrops to remove the hair color.

Tea Honoring Claudia Smith Launches Social Season For Area Graduates

By CECILIA FARMER

The lovely Jinkins Circle home of Mrs. Charles Kauffman was the scene of the first graduation tea of the season honoring Miss Claudia Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wayne Smith, Saturday, April 17, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Assisting Mrs. Kauffman during the afternoon were Mrs. William E. Bristol and Mrs. James Rowe. Miss Stephanie Smith, sister of the honor guest, served as floating hostess. The party area was decorated with potted greenery and an arrangement of pussy willow. The refreshment table was overlaid with an exquisite white embroidered cloth and the centerpiece was composed of baby's breath, blue and green tinted mums and greenery in a silver container. Flanking the lovely arrangement were two, three-tiered candelabra with tall blue tapers. The senior class of Seminole High School has chosen blue and green as their 1971 class colors and all decorations and refreshments featured the chosen colors.

Like a hot punch was served from a silver punch bowl with matching cups and ladle along with petit fours, food in pale green with tiny blue rose buds assorted sandwiches in the shape of diplomas and baskets, nuts and green mint. All silver appointments were used and refreshments were served from silver trays and compotes.

The hostess gift was a pair of gold earrings. Claudia greeted her guests wearing an adorable Indian multicolor print, peasant style, and a corsage of blue and green tinted carnations with deep blue ribbon, a gift from Mrs. Kauffman.

Mrs. Smith wore a white dress of cut cotton, with green and blue belt, and white carnation corsage with blue ribbon, also a gift from the hostess. Mrs. Kauffman chose a white polyester knit ensemble with white accessories. Carnation corsages were also presented to the guests.

Approximately 50 friends and family were invited to call during the appointed hours.

Artistic arrangements are the highlights of any flower show and the forthcoming show "Melody Lane" to be staged at Sanford Garden Center, April 30, May 1 and 2 will be no exception. Mrs. Charles Wilke, left, chairman of properties and Mrs. Albert Resch member of the hospitality committee examine an arrangement made by a club member. The public is invited to attend and any amateur flower arranger is eligible to enter the show. (Cecelia Farmer Photo)

Altamonte Springs Homemakers: Hobbies Spark Activities

By GLENDA BRADFORD

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Are you a modern vivacious housewife interested in needlework, flower arranging, furniture refinishing, gardening, or any other hobby or craft you care to name?

If you fit in this category and enjoy sharing your ideas with others, then you belong in the Altamonte Springs Homemaker's Extension Club.

At Tuesday's meeting club members learned bead craft, crochet work, macrame, and how to make purses from plastic bleach containers. They also continued to learn new ways to utilize egg cartons.

Already the club is preparing articles for a "Holiday Showcase," they will host in November at the First Federal building under construction on S.R. 42.

In the more recent future the homemakers will participate in a county-wide Achievement Day, May 14, at the American Legion building in Sanford.

Homemakers from area clubs will have items they have made.

The next meeting of the Altamonte Homemaker's will be May 18 at 9 a. m. in the Altamonte Springs Community House at which time there will be a demonstration on the use of blenders and mixers.

Worthy of mention is the fact that the club has volunteered to sew formal under the direction of member, Verla Butler, for the women of the South Seminole Junior College choral group.

Those to be installed include Mrs. Thomas G. Freeman, president; Mrs. Richard Christopher, vice president; Mrs. William Orier, recording secretary; Mrs. George Yeager, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Reinhold Frickel, treasurer.

Reservations should be made by April 26 by calling Mrs. Walter Johnson or Mrs. Roy Knoebel.

Warren's Furniture Interiors by WARREN'S

Dr. and Mrs. William Rape, another in the group of wonderful customers of Warren's, have just completed their dining room designed by Mr. Tilley.

The stylish lines of the table chairs and buffet are by White Furniture Company. The plush, soft green carpet blends well with sunny yellow side drapery and cornice boards trimmed with white satin fabric overlay. White sheers complete the window treatment.

A Parisian accented wall paper partially handpainted by Mr. Tilley adds the rich accent colors which coordinate the room.

A marble shelf with custom designed brackets complements the decorative mirror on the left wall.

Mr. Tilley is holding the Rape's with designs for other areas of their beautiful home.

After the bleakness of winter comes Spring. Fulfilling a promise of long ago, the seasons follow one another in divinely planned succession.
All around us we see evidence of evil, but the Church gives positive assurance that God is ever present. As Spring brings new life, so does the Church.
Consider the daffodil—its freshness and beauty speak of hope. Consider the Church—its steadfast faith strengthens mankind. God creates daffodils, but intelligent cultivation makes them even more beautiful. Likewise, He depends on us to spread the influence of the Church and to make a better world.
Accept this tremendous challenge and become a part of God's Church today.

'Archie' To Remain A Bigot

By MARILYN BECK
TV Time Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Don't believe those vicious rumors that Archie Bunker is turning into a nice guy. I have it directly from the creator of the video character that Archie is going to remain the same prejudiced, bigoted, "dese, dem and dese" guy that has made him one of the most talked-about fellows of the year.

"I wouldn't change him," says Norman Lear, who produces the "All in the Family" CBS series, which is nominated for an Emmy this year. "I couldn't change him any more that I could, or would, change my own father."

If the truth be known, Lear borrowed heavily from his relationship with his real father in creating the character who stars in this season's most controversial show.

"I adore my father," the producer points out. "And if he's listening, he know how much I miss him. But he was of another generation when prejudices were more pronounced, when people were saddled with bigotry passed down from one generation to another."

"And we used to argue. Just as Carroll O'Connor argues on the series each week with his young, liberal son-in-law, played by Bob Reiner."

If you've seen the show and, depending upon your particular sense of humor, chances are you either learned to hate or love old Archie. With viewers, there is no middle ground.

Lear reports that mail has ranged from harsh blasts to unrestrained enthusiasm toward the series which centers around prejudiced Archie and his family.

Though production for the new season doesn't commence until July, Lear has already plotted the course to be taken by the characters he says occupy his every waking hour.

"The black family—Lionel and his parents—will become semi-regulars, now that they've moved next door. And, as for Archie, he'll become one of the victims of the current recession. He'll lose his job and talk about moving to California or Arizona, just like my dad used to talk during the depression."

Don't spend the summer fretting about old Archie, though. Things work out just fine. He lands a new job, where there will be new people he doesn't care for. And he and the rest of the Bunkers will remain right there in their familiar back-East block, where Archie can continue to hurl insults at his neighbors, and draw laughs from his video fans.

Wayne Relaxes

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Between pictures, John Wayne took his converted mine sweeper yacht to Baja California for a month of fishing and relaxing.

JASCHA Heifetz, world-renowned violinist, will make his first concert appearance on television at 10 p.m. tonight over WESH-TV, Channel 2.

'Shells' Are Filling Up

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood women are supposed to be empty shells. Maybe they used to be that way but no more. Lately, I've sat with three of them, and the chief conversational topics were medicine, art and child education.

Take June Lockhart (all right, if you insist). She's a new woman since her divorce and since her daughters are off attending schools in Arizona and Hawaii. She has a lot of free time now and she's probably the world's leading magazine subscriber.

She's always been interested in things medical — free diagnoses at the drop of a thermometer — and reads medical journals. And scientific publications. And general magazines.

About that divorce. June says one day her husband went to Hawaii for five days. He came back — seven months later — and sued for separate maintenance.

"I'm pretty quick," she says. "I knew something was up. So I cross-filed for divorce. Now all we have to work out is the settlement. I don't want any alimony — I just don't want his bills."

There isn't much work these days, but June will do the Miss USA Beauty Pageant for CBS on May 22, for the sixth straight year. She'd like to do a talk show someday. She should. She'd be great.

Another of my favorites is Shari Lewis, Lamb Chop's best friend. She's just put together a series of filmstrips for schools, based on some Head Start books she wrote.

Shari says the problem with anything for Head Start is that you can't show a man as head of the household — "one-third of all U.S. families don't have a man" — so you have to be careful and show a woman as the head, and maybe an Uncle Charlie hanging around.

She says that TV programming for children, so far, is "a farce." Her own daughter — Mallory is eight — is only allowed to watch an hour a day and 1½ hours on weekends. And Shari would rather Mallory watch Lucy and Bewitched and the Beverly Hillbillies than the children's shows.

She says that "Sesame Street leaves a lot to be desired." The loudness bothers her. She says it's like the old story of the man who told his friend that he can get a donkey to do anything he wants, merely by talking to it. The friend challenges him so the man picks up a stick and beats the donkey over the head.

"I thought you were just going to talk to it," the friend said.

"Right," said the man. "But first I have to get his attention."

Shari says she was watching Sesame Street with some kids and one 5-year-old said, "I think S is the loudest letter I've ever heard."

And then there's another Hollywood lovely, Rosemary LaPlance, Miss America of 1941, who quit a flourishing movie career to raise children. She's been married to Harry Coplon, a producer, for 24 years, which shows that it can happen here.

About 10 years ago, Rosemary took up painting, and she's done well. I caught up with her at a showing at Bullock's Westwood, and her works — landscapes, seascapes, still lifes — were lovely. What's more, they were selling well, too.

Questions And Answers

Q: How many children does James Daly of "Medical Center" have?—L.L., Savannah.

A: Four. Three married daughters, Peggeen, Tyne and Glynn, and a son, Timothy.

Q: What has happened to Kay Medford since she was dropped from "To Rome With Love" last season?—T.P., Utica, N.Y.

A: Kay has been busy in guest roles on other series, and was recently signed to a major role in Warner Brothers' TV pilot for next season, "Elke," starring Elke Sommer.

Q: Is it true that Danny Thomas directs his "Make Room for Granddaddy" series sometimes?—C.M., Greensboro, N.C.

A: Yes.

Q: I recently read that Jan Sterling would appear in a future segment of "Medical Center," and I would like to know if she is the actress who was in the old "Topper" series?—W.S., Baton Rouge.

A: No, wrong lady. You're thinking of Ann Jeffries who was married to Robert Sterling of the same series.

Q: Doesn't young Ronny Howard on "The Smith Family" have a brother who was on a TV series? Do they ever work together?—J.P., Baltimore.

A: Ronny's younger brother Clint has been in two series:

"Bailey's of Balboa" and "Gentle Ben." They have appeared together on the old "Andy Griffith Show" in which Ronny was a co-star. Soon the duo will team with their father, actor Rance Howard, in a Disney movie, "The Wild Country."

Q: Is Dean Martin ever going to be in any more movies?—Y.F., San Antonio.

A: Any more than what? Deano is currently before the big-screen cameras in Mexico filming "Something Big" with Brian Keith.

Q: Could you tell me if any of David Frost shows will be rerun?—S.S., Norfolk.

A: Perhaps, especially if a show is particularly powerful. As a rule, however, Frost and his syndicators, Westinghouse Broadcasting, prefer to avoid reruns.

Q: Is it true that Henry Fonda of "The Smith Family" disapproves of his daughter, Jane's activities?—F.L., Pensacola.

A: When Fonda was queried about that subject on a recent talk show, he answered, "I cry a lot."

Q: Can you tell us in which movie Burl Ives (now on "Bold Ones") sang, "Lavender Blue"?—O.V., Pensacola.

A: It was "So Dear To My Heart."

Q: Are Tom Jones' vocal chords insured for $1 million?—L.L., Virginia Beach, Va.

A: It does seem phenomenal that his packagers would insure his voice for such an impressive figure when it's actually his figure they sell. I've heard his voice is insured for $7 million.

Q: Where can I write Diana Ross and ask about recording for Motown?—J.S., Columbia, Mo.

A: Even though Diana's living in California, she's on the road frequently doing club engagements, so it's best to write her in care of Motown, Detroit.

If you have a question on any TV program or actor, send it to TV Time Answer Girl, in care of this newspaper.

Hand Care Important

By LOUISE L. GILL
Home Economics Agent
Maybe you can't judge a book by its cover, but you can tell a lot about a woman by her hands.

Short nails with a chewed appearance tend to indicate nervousness, perhaps insecurity. And if a woman has extra dry rough hands—still one of the most common problems today—she's probably partial to washing dishes without protecting her hands. Many manicurists point out, however, that it's not the hard work that you do with your hands, but how you do it that makes the difference. I find the biggest problem is that women don't know how to use their hands.

What most women don't realize is it's not what they should do, but what they shouldn't do. Care of the hands is especially important today because of all the attention drawn to them by the jewelry women are wearing. And with the longer lengths, it's one of the few remaining parts of the body left for display.

Manicurists agree that women in general are taking better care of their hands, and at beauty salons a manicure is becoming more involved. It's still a fundamental process. Starting with the lubrication of the hands and nails.

It all goes back to the same thing . . . nature. At one salon "special natural oil—nine kinds of them including peanut" are rubbed into the skin and nail. The hand is then put to rest in a heated glove.

The basic manicure hasn't changed greatly, but some of the philosophy behind it has. Cutting away the cuticle is discouraged. Just give a hang-nail trim.

Use a pumice stick—a popular nail tool—for pushing away the cuticle and rubbing on calouses.

Controls For Aphids

By DAVID DeVOLL
Extension Agent

Aphids, or plant lice, are soft-bodied sucking insects which feed on many plants, including roses. They may be greenish, yellowish or black in color. They are usually less than 1/8 inch in length and most aphids are wingless. Aphids live in colonies on the succulent new growth and their continuous draining of plant juices causes the buds to become stunted and hardened and the leaves to become thickened, curled and distorted.

The rate of development and reproduction is extremely rapid and many generations may be produced in a year. Unlike most insects, aphids seldom lay eggs but give birth to living young.

Crossbreeding will be covered in detail at the 12th annual Beef Cattle Short Course to be held May 8 through 9, at the University of Florida livestock pavilion in Gainesville.

Many out-of-country, out-of-state and Florida speakers will be featured on this year's program, which will cover research findings and practical uses of crossbreeding. The Short Course is sponsored annually by the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences, Florida Cooperative Extension Service and Center for Tropical Agriculture, University of Florida.

YOUTH BEAT

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

WHAT TIME IS IT?—Thousands of older young folk should know that the answer to that question is: "It's Howdy Doody time." And, believe it or not, it's Howdy Doody time all over again as good ol' Buffalo Bob Smith makes the rounds of college campuses with his Howdy Doody Revival Show. Former Howdy Doody fans are going bananas reminiscing about the funky-looking little puppet they remember so well from the late 1950s. Buffalo Bob's show even played New York's Fillmore East and a record company is putting out an album called "It's Howdy Doody Time." Remember all the Howdy Doody products you used to be able to buy . . . like T-shirts, pencil boxes, lunch boxes, glasses and pencil sharpeners? Well, there's a girl in New York City who saved all of that stuff and she just knows it's worth a lot of bread now, but she's not selling . . . yet. Those of you who don't remember Howdy are in for a treat when Buffalo Bob's show gets to your town. Those of you who do . . . well, nothing more needs to be said.

WHOLE LOTTA LOVE—There are currently more than 40 different recorded versions of the theme from the "Love Story" lick in circulation, including discs by Glen Campbell, Astrud Gilberto, Vikki Carr, Johnny Mathis and Liberace.

MANDRILL MAKES IT — You've got to hear this new group, Mandrill. They can sound like Chicago, Santana and any hard rock band you can name, often in the same piece of music. Their first album, called Mandrill (what else?), is out now on Polydor. It's simply great.

MARCHING ON — Myrna March is a super-lady. At least, that's the rumor. She started out as a singer and hostess of a TV talk show (at the ripe old age of 14), switched to studying legitimate singing (she was a contralto), then went into songwriting and now owns her own record producing company and talent agency. She's also recording R&B and country songs herself. Her company, called Make Music, is putting out three records at once—one on the King label and two on Myrna's own label. Agape (a Greek word meaning brotherly love).

She handles The Manhattan, who are playing the Apollo Theater with the Supremes this month, and she wrote the hit for the Three Degrees, "I Do Take You."

BEST BELLY BUTTON — We're sure you're all dying to find out who won that belly button beauty pageant that the Tanya suntan lotion folks held down in Fort Lauderdale, right? According to the official navel examiners at the contest, the best button belonged to 18-year-old Jayne Cherry, of Evansville, Ind., who won the "best in the show" category. If all this rap about beautiful belly buttons is giving you an inferiority complex, cheer up, because if you just tell us, care of this newspaper, in 50,000 words or less (preferably much, much less) why you want a new belly button, we'll send you one . . . honest . . . for free.

Young Girl Feels Like A Murderer

By RICHMOND BARBOUR
Copley News Service

"Can God forgive murder?" a girl asks. "I'm 18. Five months ago I had an abortion. It was legal, but it almost killed me. The doctor put some stuff in me to end the baby's life. At the same time, labor started. I did not get enough pain killer. I screamed and kicked and screamed some more. The baby came finally, as dead as it could be. I became infected and had an awful fever. I think God punished me for murdering my child."

"Why doesn't He also punish those abortion counselors? Their bodies don't get hurt at all. I now belong to a religious group. I believe in God and the Bible. Each day I wake up with an awareness of my guilt. An abortion is murder. Will I go to hell? Can I ever be happy again?"

Answer. I believe you will be happy again. My concept of God is different from yours. As I see it, you need not worry about automatic eternal damnation. The ordeal you've been through would upset anyone.

By KATHY NIBLACK

Hello, there! I hope that this has been a good week for you, and that the weekend will be even better. Hope you have a chance to soak up lots of sun! It's the best cure I know for that Spring Fever!

Speaking of the sun, if things keep going like they have been, ecology-wise, sunshine may become a thing of the past. Yes, this is Earth Week (officially) but every week should be Earth Week if we want to save our environment from total destruction. Now that I've preached my sermon for the day, let me tell you what people in the area are doing this week.

SEMINOLE JUNIOR COLLEGE observed the week on Tuesday by having a music festival on the old campus. Not only was it a music festival, but Dr. George Allen of FLORIDA TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY was on hand to speak about the pollution problem.

Students from FLORIDA TECH joined together on Thursday in "Project Pick-Up," masterminded by members of the campus Newman Center and aimed at sweeping down the entire length of FTU Boulevard in a united front against pollution.

The project began at the intersection of FTU Boulevard and SR 436 and ended at the entrance to the university at Alafaya Trail. After a brief dedication at the starting line, picker-uppers were issued plastic garbage bags and set off along the 6.3 mile route. John Geiger was Newman Center student coordinator for the project.

Boy, am I envious of you SEMINOLE JUNIOR COLLEGE students! Your second semester ended on Tuesday and you have some free days just to lie around in the sun at the beach. It must be nice!

Judy Smith of Sanford has been named to the Dean's List for the Winter Quarter at Mercer University in Macon, Ga. She was among 136 students named, approximately nine per cent of the total undergraduate student body. Judy made all A's in her courses — so I think she deserves a round of applause! She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Smith of Sanford.

I'd like to take the opportunity right now to tell you about a very special group of kids. I don't know how much you know about Campus Crusades for Christ, but in my opinion it's one of the most fantastic youth organizations in this country. And they have quite a good program going in some of our area schools. Now, about that special group several months ago, a group of six kids from schools in the Orlando and South Seminole area were organized into a Christian singing group. They call the group "Tetelestai," which is Greek for Christ's words from the cross — "It is finished." Since their organization, the group has played at many churches, youth meetings and other places — spreading the message of love in song and word. The group is directed by Campus Crusades Staff member Wade Olsen, and is composed of Jim Birkheimer and Rick Hull, LYMAN HIGH; Sally Hough and Anita Throver, COLONIAL HIGH; and Larry Breeding and Susan Bookhart, OAKRIDGE HIGH. Keep up the good work, gang!

Darius Grayson, Byron Knight, and Eugene Walton from SEMINOLE HIGH will participate in the Horizons Unlimited Program for the 1971-72 term. Horizons Unlimited is a high risk program instituted at FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY at the request of the Faculty Senate in the spring of 1968. The scholarships awarded to these boys for the program will provide enough money to pay for registration fees, housing fees, food and books. There were more than 600 nominees for the program throughout the State of Florida. It was a rigorous selections process from which only the most highly qualified and meritorious students were selected. Congratulations, Darius, Byron and Eugene.

Mark Williams and John Terwilliger of SEMINOLE HIGH, and Debbie Peraldo and Richard Tugin of LYMAN HIGH were nominated by the Science Departments of their respective schools to participate in the University of Florida's Eighth Florida Junior Science, Engineering and Humanities Symposium. These students, along with Paul Grandorff, Lyman teacher, traveled to Gainesville on April 15 for a two-day session which was devoted to giving outstanding science students in the state an opportunity to work in science and engineering labs and to become acquainted with the faculty at the University of Florida. There were a total of 185 students in the state selected to participate in the Symposium so these two schools were proud to have their nominees selected.

Saul Bellow, famed author of such works as "Herzog" and "The Adventures of Augie March" was on campus at FLORIDA TECH UNIVERSITY on Thursday as special speaker for the two week Creativity emphasis which is ending up today. Bellow met with students at a coffee Thursday afternoon in the President's Conference Room, and spoke at 8 p. m. in the Science Auditorium. Bellow is a three time winner of the National Book Award, having won this year for "Mr. Sammler's Planet." He is one of the three prominent speakers to appear on campus this year sponsored by the FTU Village Center.

I think I'm probably running out of room, so I'd better stop. Here's something to think about for Earth Week: "The most common trait of all primitive peoples is a reverence for the life-giving earth, and the native American shared this elemental ethical; the land was alive to his loving touch, and he, its son, was brother to all creatures. During the long Indian tenure the land remained undefiled save for scars no deeper than the scratches of cornfield clearings or the farming canals . . ." Stewart Udall. And we call THEM primitive???

ORANGES FOR NEPTUNE — Florida's state agriculture queen, "Miss Sunflavor," Mary Palmour, makes sure that no one will miss out on the good things that come from Florida during "Florida Food Products Week" April 26-May 1. Here she gives an orange to Flipper of the Miami Seaquarium for delivery to his master, King Neptune.

CARRIE SNOODRESS and Richard Benjamin star in "Diary of a Mad Housewife," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

Trio Of Stars At Drivein

The drama of present day marriage, the disintegration of the individual is forcefully brought to the screen in the Frank Perry film for Universal, "Diary of a Mad Housewife," opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. A trio of gifted stars — Richard Benjamin, Frank Langella and Carrie Snodgrass — forms the triangle. The film is in Technicolor.

Companion feature is "2 Mules for Sister Sara," in color and starring Clint Eastwood and Shirley MacLain. This program plays Sunday through Tuesday.

Based on the best-selling novel by Sue Kaufman with the screenplay by Eleanor Percy, "Diary of a Mad Housewife" is the contemporary story of a young husband, Benjamin, a self-centered and scheming status conscious lawyer, and a young wife, Miss Snodgrass, who is driven to infidelity by his demands upon her. Langella, as a successful young author becomes Miss Snodgrass' clandestine lover.

Benjamin is one of the few actors with the skill, authority and subtlety for the role of the husband who is so intent on the image he presents to the world, he drives his wife to extreme measures. He was rocketed to stardom in his first film role with the release of "Goodbye, Columbus." Since then, he has gained additional acclaim for his role of Major Danby in "Catch-22." Several years ago, Benjamin attracted wide attention in the "He and She" television series in which he appeared opposite his wife, Paula Prentiss.

Langella, the pitiful-speaking, successful novelist of the story who becomes Miss Snodgrass' lover, makes his film debut in the picture, though he completed Mel Brooks' "The Twelve Chairs," not yet released, previously. He has won two Oscar awards; one for his performance in Robert Lowell's "The Old Glory," and the other for his portrayal in "The White Devil" and "Good Days" off Broadway. He recently was applauded for his role as young Will Shakespeare opposite Anne Bancroft in the Lincoln Center production, "A Cry of Players."

Stare Weather For Elite

By JOHN KRUEGER
Copy News Service

LONDON — It's always stiff weather for the Household Cavalry — that elite royal regiment of tall-in-the-saddle plumed boys with dashing uniforms and elegant steeds.

Whether trooping the color with the queen or mounting the guard at Whitehall, the plume-bedecked, breastplated troopers rate sky-high in the public eye. Slips of paper with phone numbers may be tucked into their shiny black boots by amateur tourists, but there's no slack in the stiff upper lip or backbone.

Equally steered by the public are the horses that bear their burdens so regally. The nation was stunned when it learned that the gallant old chargers weren't being retired to fade away but to be sold to continental butchers. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals stepped right in. It runs a Home of Rest for Horses at Ningwood, Isle of Wight.

There was further mourning when four horses of the cavalry's band died in a storm in the North Sea while returning from a military tattoo in Berlin. Worry about the welfare of the select steeds also extends to making sure that no trooper conspires too heavily a burden. Thus a 230-pound Life Guard was taken off duty as being almost 80 pounds over the appropriate weight. It was pointed out that with the 70 pounds of full ceremonial regalia, the guard would have presented a 300-pound plus load.

The Defense Ministry is worried about the loss of the metal armor craftsmen dying out (there are only about 12 left), and that's why it has been experimenting with plastic breastplates, much to the dislike of the 378-man cavalry for which each handmade piece of armor costs $25, the helmet $96 ($126 for an officer).

But all is not pomp and circumstance. The glittering role as the sovereign's personal escort amounts to just part of the service for the guards who also must see rugged duty in the other branches of their regiments.

On the ceremonial side, too, a stable in any other name can smell just as sweet when you're pushing a broom.

That also goes in the new $1.64 million Hyde Park Barracks in Knightsbridge, designed by Sir Basil Spence, the Coventry Cathedral architect.

Volunteers for the scarlet-jacketed, white-plumed Life Guards or the red-plumed Blues and Royals suit the service better if new to riding. From the first they learn to ride the guards' way — "bumping the saddle."

TWO-MAN JOB — Here's a scene that London tourists never see. This Household Cavalry trooper suited a hand from a fellow soldier to get out of his uniform. When fully needed up, his armor, boots and helmet add 70 pounds to his weight.

By setting this precedent, does that mean that for each and every action we may then expect the City to "mail out" notices of their actions to each of the taxpayers who are involved?

I thought the City's coffers were depleted already? Why continue to squeeze it?

Found something else out . . . regardless of how extensively an item is "plugged," there are still some who are ambitious! Take Daylight Savings Time as an example. Yesterday, how many did you notice coming in to church late, or didn't even show up at all . . . probably cause they forgot to move their clock ahead?

And boy do those bus drivers read the paper? Found out that a "usually reliable source" was tuned-out-of-the-times . . . All of our bus drivers have already been taught First Aid . . . by the Altamonte Springs Fire Department, and to this end — we thank all parties concerned for being on the ball.

Insofar as our tips are concerned, it's back to the crystal ball . . .

This one's right, though . . . tomorrow's edition will feature a first-person report on what happens to a Sanford Marine in combat in 'Nam, and his opinion on the Calley Trial.

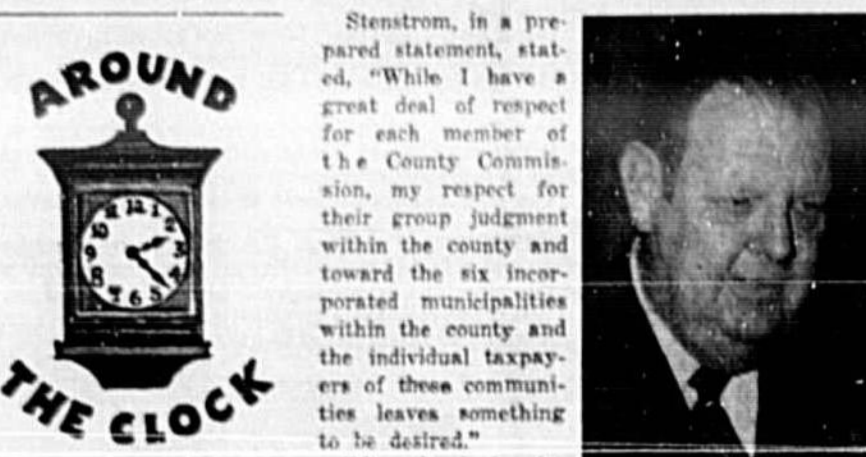

Read it . . . a must to help you better understand what our boys go through . . .

County Attacked On Road Stand

Sanford City Commissioner Julian Stenstrom has joined with Casselberry City Council and Dr. Edith Duerr, its chairman, in asking for a joint meeting with the Seminole County Commission to settle the issue over the paving of .06 mile of Red Bug Road, which the commission feels is within the corporate limits of Casselberry.

JULIAN STENSTROM . . . attacks county

Stenstrom, in a prepared statement, stated, "While I have a great deal of respect for each member of the County Commission, my respect for their group judgment within the county and toward the six incorporated municipalities within the county and the individual taxpayers of these communities leaves something to be desired."

The Sanford city commissioner says the "straw that broke the camel's back" is the county's attitude toward paving that portion of Red Bug Road that the commission feels is within the corporate limits of Casselberry.

"It is my understanding," Stenstrom said, "that the County Commission threatens to eliminate this .06 of a mile of Red Bug Road in its road program because it is in Casselberry's corporate limits."

The commissioner said in his opinion that is a "rather sorry excuse" for not including the road work which he said would benefit all county citizens, since the people of Casselberry and other cities and towns pay county taxes just like those who live outside the corporate limits of a municipality.

"Consequently, the time has come to remind the County Commission that all Seminole County property owners pay county taxes regardless of where they live in the county — inside or outside the corporate limits of a municipality."

The Sanford commissioner said he also supported the opinion of Longwood Mayor E. E. Williamson, who is dissatisfied with the attitudes of the County Commission toward taxpayers in corporate limits.

"I take this position because the county derives its fiscal resources from taxpayers of Sanford, Casselberry, Longwood, North Orlando, Altamonte Springs and Oviedo, as well as from those property owners outside city and town boundaries," Stenstrom added.

The commissioner said it is time for the County Commission to give equal consideration and recognition toward property owners inside corporate limits.

In addition to Stenstrom's remarks, Casselberry municipal government officials have expressed themselves heatedly over the road paving situation.

Casselberry Mayor Curtis Blow has suggested South Seminole cities seriously consider "de-annexing" from Seminole County.

Blow said his city has not annexed any part of the road and viewed the people of Casselberry as being short-changed for their taxes.

Chairman Duerr has advised that city can not legally spend city tax funds for improving the road.

GOLDSBORO PICKETS were noted this morning by The Herald's camera while they marched back and forth in front of the elementary school reportedly protesting the intended hiring of a white assistant principal to replace a retiring black principal in the black neighborhood.

Dynamite Cache Found

Break Seen In Sechrist Murder

A suspect has been established in the murder of a 77-year-old Sanford man, whose body was discovered Feb. 10 by Sanford police in his 2418 Cedar Avenue home.

This was disclosed today by Police Chief Ben Butler, who advised this morning that three investigators, including two Sanford city detectives and a county identification expert, have returned from a Tennessee city where they were dispatched after a car owned by John Sechrist was located by authorities there.

Chief Butler, while not naming the city where the 1968 Comet was found, said William Lykens and Roy Williams, detectives, and Robert Grant, county identification officer, were out of town last week processing the car for fingerprints and evidence.

He stated the information obtained would be sent to the Florida Bureau of Law Enforcement at Tallahassee for developing and added, "I feel we will have a development in the case later this week."

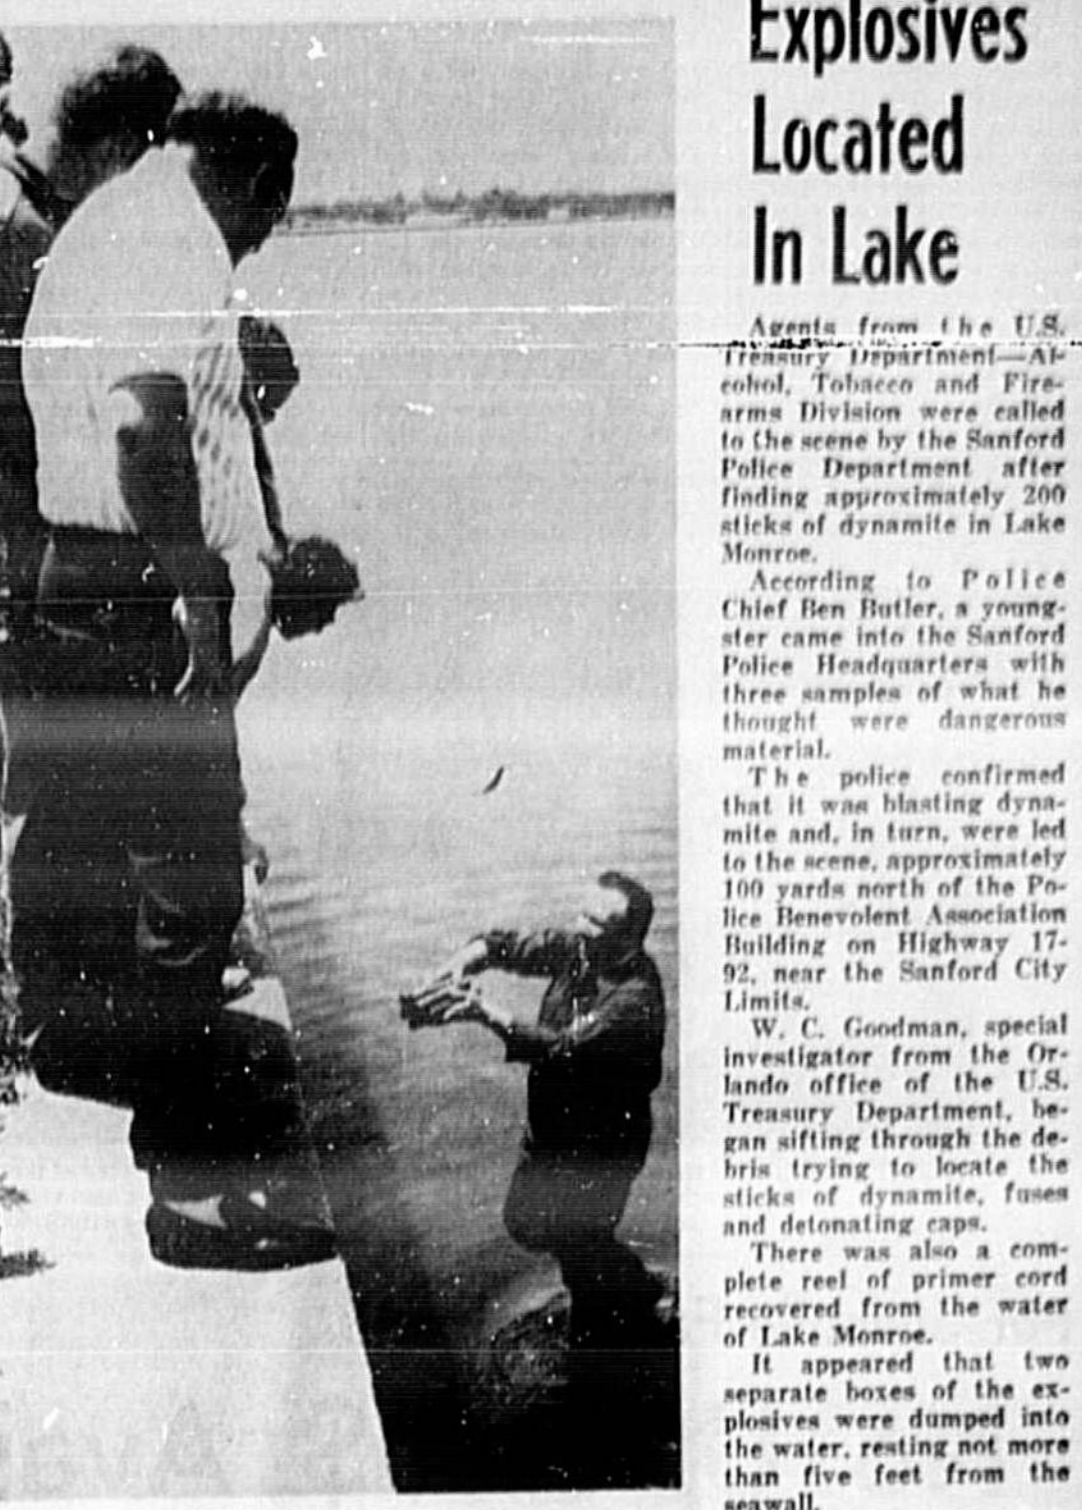

Chief Butler said there is nothing concrete yet to make an arrest but indicated a suspect had been established.

Sechrist's body was found by police in his frame home where he lived as a recluse after a real estate agent, with whom the man had been negotiating, became alarmed at his disappearance.

An autopsy report performed by Daytona Beach pathologist Dr. Arthur Swartz confirmed the man had died of a knife wound in the back which caused massive internal bleeding.

The dead man's wallet and his car were not located at the house and it was presumed the person responsible for the death had also taken the car and money.

There had been no breaks in the case until a week ago, when Sechrist's auto was located out of state, thus calling for the entry of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) into the case and the assignment of investigators to Tennessee.

Fire Chars 500 Acres

A forest fire swept an estimated 600 acres Sunday afternoon between Lake Drive, Casselberry, and Red Bug Road, endangering at least 30 homes, as well as pastures containing horses and cows.

The fire began near the Dew

Drop Pond area and fanned by winds consumed the tender dry grass and woodlands. The flames jumped Lake Drive like a giant flame thrower, destroying 13 acres around Little Lake Howell and coming within a few feet of a home.

Every available piece of equipment was in use in fighting the fire by the Florida Forestry Service, augmented by volunteer fire departments from Casselberry, Longwood, North Orlando, Fern Park and Goldensrod.

A forest fire in almost the same area charred many acres in February.

Forest rangers report that conditions are such that a forest fire may be triggered by only a spark and they urge utmost caution, requesting no outdoor burning.

Arson is suspected in many cases and investigators are looking for the culprits. Anyone seeing anything suspicious is asked to report possible arsonists to the forest service or the law enforcement agencies.

Demands Presented

Rev. Joseph Smith, pastor of the New Mount Calvary Church, told The Herald on town today a concerned black citizens group had compiled a list of demands and grievances for the School Board to take action on implementing.

These include:

1. Appointment of black principals at Goldsboro and Midway Elementary schools;

2. Assign black assistant principals at Sanford Middle School, Lakeview Middle School, Midway Elementary, Oviedo and Lyman High Schools.

3. Request a black guardian counselor at schools where there are no black principals or assistant principals to ensure black students having someone of their own race to consult.

4. Demand that Seminole County assign more black instructors;

5. Demand blacks be employed in administrative capacities at the county school office building other than in janitorial positions;

6. Demand that school board take the initiative to insure professional concern for the education of all children to reduce injustices perpetrated on blacks for minor offenses while whites go unchecked for same minor acts;

7. Demand School Board require the administration to develop programs in the schools to reduce communications gaps that exists between white and black pupils; this idea may also be employed at the faculty level.

8. Because of past actions of several teachers and administrators, the School Board dismiss them at once;

9. Recommend that a bi-racial committee be appointed from a cross-section of county black and white to study problems relating to schools;

10. Require that black heritage be taught in all county schools;

11. Set up a Brotherhood Week to allow white and black students and faculty members to become more understanding in the acceptance of each other.

Boys State Penalizes Cripple

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Scott Tyson, a 16-year-old without fingers and toes, can bowl, swim and play basketball and ping pong. But that's not good enough for Boy's State.

Scott was chosen by American Legion Post 150 in Fort Lauderdale to go to Boys State in Tallahassee this June, but he was turned down by the state organization because he is handicapped.

"We have always had this rule that boys with physical handicaps are not eligible," Robert A. Francis Sr., volunteer director of Boys State, said in St. Petersburg Sunday night.

"This was in the literature that went out to all posts beforehand. If they (Legion Post 150) had just called us and asked about this, we would have told them not to choose this boy and it would have avoided the hard feelings."

Francis said the week-long session on the rambling campus of Florida State University is strenuous and includes long walks between campus buildings.

Scott, who bowls and plays basketball and ping pong in addition to swimming, originally was enthusiastic about taking part in the experiment in government.
