Hospital Administrator Opposes Rate Board

James Tesar

By Michael Beha
Herald Staff Writer

The administrator of Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford said he is opposed to a proposal by state Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter to establish a mandatory rate-setting board for hospitals.

CFRH Administrator James Tesar said Gunter's proposal would do little to curb the high costs of health care.

Six other states including New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts have set up mandatory rate review boards but "no state has had it long enough" to judge its effectiveness," Tesar said. One state, Colorado, repealed the legislation last year after a three-year trial because there was no proven effectiveness, Tesar said.

"It doesn't achieve anything," he said.

He cited public utilities as examples of rate-setting which have seen only limited success. The Gunter proposal would set up a hospital cost containment board similar to the the Public Service Commission, which would review a hospital's revenues, rates and expenditures and order refunds or rate reductions if a hospital charges rates in excess of those approved.

Tesar said the health care industry is already the most heavily regulated industry in the country. The state determines how many beds the hospital will offer for treatment, supervises construction projects and oversees some hospital programs.

Supporters of Gunter's plan "want to take a simplistic approach to medical care," Tesar said. "We are impacted by the environment around us."

No single factor is responsible for rapidly climbing medical costs, he said. The goods and services which hospitals purchase, new scientific technology and malpractice insurance are among the factors which fuel the increases.

"We could deliver medical care for a much cheaper cost," Tesar said. "There are a lot of ways of offering cheaper health care."

A no-frills approach similar to what was used before Medicare was developed in the 1960s could be one answer, but that would mean an end to private and semi-private rooms with color television and a private telephone and a return to 8 and 16-bed wards, he said. But the reason the private rooms and other niceties exist is because "that's what people demand."

Tesar said malpractice and efforts by doctors to avoid potential malpractice suits have also increased hospital costs. "Doctors and hospitals pay high malpractice insurance premiums and when a $14 million malpractice award is handed down who do you think pays for that? The consumers."

Doctors are practicing "defensive medicine" to avoid potential suits, he said. Several decades ago if a child struck his head a doctor would tell the parent to observe him and if any signs of nausea or other problems developed take the child to the hospital.

"Today, the mother takes the child to the emergency room and although the ER doctor may not think there's a skull fracture he'll order a skull X-ray because if he doesn't and there's something wrong there's a sure case of malpractice," Tesar explained. The X-rays and other tests cost $100 or more in a case where they really weren't needed.

Advanced medical technology is another reason for higher medical costs, he said. CAT scanners, computerized laboratory equipment, neo-natal monitoring equipment all carry high price tags.

"We don't really talk about the quality of health care any more. The quality is there," Tesar said. "Whether we can afford the quality of health care is something we have to decide."

That advanced technology is prolonging life expectancy, he said. "As a society we have to ask ourselves 'are those extra years worth it?'"

Some Older Workers Need Jobs

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

The Florida State Employment Service is observing National Employ the Older Worker Week this week to increase public awareness of the advantages of hiring the older worker because of skills and experience.

Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore has proclaimed this week Employ the Older Worker Week here as well. "Florida has a higher percentage of senior citizens than any other state," states the proclamation, "and many of our senior citizens not only desire, but in fact, need employment for independent living, maintenance of health and continuing involvement in the life of our state."

"The youth of our state can gain many positive experiences by employment association with our older workers, and innovative employment opportunities are necessary to meet Sanford's challenge to create an environment that will allow independence for older persons, while at the same time meeting Sanford's manpower needs," the mayor continues.

"Hiring on the basis of ability, not age, is good business. It benefits the employers of our city, both private and public, to provide opportunities to older workers who can bring to a job years of experience, judgment and expertise, as well as their efficient work habits," he concludes.

According to 82-year-old U.S. Rep. Claude Pepper (D-Fla.), a member of the Select Committee on Aging, there is an unemployment crisis facing older Americans. In his report to the Congress in October 1982, he states that unemployment is increasing faster among older workers and older workers have a harder time getting jobs again.

The older the worker, the bigger the cut in pay he must take to work again. More older workers become discouraged and give up their job searches (there are 334,000 'discouraged workers' over the age of 55. When they are added to the officially unemployed, the number of jobless older persons rises to 1.1 million).

Unemployed older workers constitute a significant drain on the economy. Older unemployed workers consumed more than $1.5 billion in unemployment insurance benefits in 1982, Pepper said.

Pepper concludes that extended unemployment contributes to severe mental, physical and financial problems among older workers. Solving these problems requires reducing unemployment by better enforcement of anti-age discrimination laws, improving worker mobility by mandating transferability of private pensions, more and better training programs, and expanded part-time employment opportunities.

Entertainment Events Planned

Three free entertainment events are scheduled in Sanford within the next few weeks.

The Warner-Robbins Air Force Dixieland Band will perform at 7:30 p.m. March 23 at the Sanford Civic Center. Admission is free of charge. The event is sponsored by the Evening Herald and the city of Sanford.

On March 27 at 2 p.m., William and Adele Pyrigi will present the "Wonderful World of Music" at the Civic Center. The sponsor is the Sanford Recreation Department.

On April 28 at 7:30 p.m., ComBank is sponsoring a performance of the Florida Symphony twilight concert in Centennial Park.

Science Fun

The project manager for the Iron Bridge Regional Sewage Treatment Plant near Oviedo believes Seminole County commissioners will grant approval for a 4 million gallon expansion to the plant but only if noise and odor problems are corrected.

Michael Hanlon of Orlando's public works department said today he believes commissioners "will grant conditional approval" to the expansion plan at a public hearing Tuesday at 7 p.m.

Orlando's plan to use water hyacinths to improve the quality of effluent discharged from the facility so that an additional 4 million gallons of sewage can be treated daily was rejected by the county's Board of Adjustment in January.

Hanlon said that action was because the "board of adjustment was overwhelmed by the reaction from neighbors out there. And perhaps rightly so. They wanted to see some progress."

Residents close to the plant have complained since it opened in January 1982 about odors from the sludge ponds and drying stack and about noise from machinery. Efforts to eliminate the foul smells by chemical treatment were not successful.

A three-phase program for correcting those problems has begun, Hanlon said.

Fiberglass covers for 10 sludge treatment ponds, costing more than $100,000, are currently being fabricated and will be in place by the end of May.

Bids are to be opened on April 5 for construction of a building to house pumps and other machinery that have been causing noise problems.

Additionally, the carbon scrubbing system for a sludge dryer is being examined and if it isn't working correctly by May 30, the dryer will be turned off and the sludge will be hauled from the plant by truck, Hanlon said. "We would be working at less than optimum but we've made a commitment to get the plant operating by then."

The plan developed by Orlando would develop the first commercial application of water hyacinths for sewage treatment. The hyacinths would "polish" the effluent and allow the plant to process 28 millions of sewage and discharge the same amount of nutrients into the Little Econlockhatchee River as the 24 million gallons currently processed.

He said the economics of the situation makes it very attractive for Orange and Seminole county communities. The Iron Bridge plant cost about $3.5 per gallon to build. New plants currently cost between $4 and $5 per gallon. The expansion will cost about 85 cents per gallon.

But before an operating permit will be granted by the state Department of Environmental Regulation, the plant must be operating without any problems for at least six months, Hanlon said.

"Between the DER and Seminole County, they're putting the responsibility right on our shoulders," he said.

"But one thing it's hard for people to understand is that solving problems takes time. We have to give the contractors and manufacturers time to get their equipment working," Hanlon said. "If we tell them to get out we risk higher costs to the consumer."

He said Orlando officials expect to meet the DER requirement "about a year from now."

Fowler Is Altamonte Interim Manager

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

James "Skip" Fowler, Altamonte Springs' city attorney for the past three years, was appointed interim city manager of the south Seminole County community at the Altamonte Springs City Commission meeting Tuesday night.

The appointment of the interim manager was the last item on the meeting's agenda.

The commission instructed City Manager Jeff Etchberger to negotiate with Fowler over a salary for his service until a permanent manager is appointed, hopefully by mid-May, and on the hours he will spend at city hall. Etchberger, whose resignation as city manager will become effective March 25, will present a proposal on Fowler's salary at the March 22 commission meeting.

Fowler is currently paid $65 an hour as city attorney, but the commission agreed that $65 per hour would be "out of line" for his position as interim city manager. Etchberger's salary is $52,500 annually, but included in his salary is the use of a city car and an annuity.

City Commissioner Lee Constantine made the motion to appoint Fowler and Mrs. Colardo seconded it. Constantine said the city needs someone familiar with all aspects of the city. The department heads might apply for the permanent position but it would be difficult for one to serve in the interim position and then have to step back into the role of a department head, Constantine said.

Mrs. Colardo warned her colleagues that the commission does not want to fall into the trap of complacency, putting off the appointment of a permanent city manager because things are running smoothly. "There's nothing so permanent as a temporary situation. Let's not get comfortable and drag our feet on a permanent appointment," she said.

Of Fowler's salary, she said, "it will be something we can live with and that Fowler finds acceptable."

Fowler will serve in the interim position until a permanent manager is named.

The city has advertised in national and state publications seeking applicants for the city manager post. She said the cut-off date for receiving applications is April 1. As of today, some 45 applications have been filed for the position, she noted.

Applications have been received from persons from the south and coastal areas of Florida as well as from St. Petersburg. In addition persons from North Carolina and from as far away as New Jersey have applied.

IN BRIEF

Jobless Demand Work At Capitol Demonstration

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The warm weather didn't bring much cheer to some 2,000 unemployed workers who gathered on the steps of the Capitol to demand jobs and attack President Reagan's economic policies.

The demonstration Tuesday, attended primarily by union members from the industrial Northeast and Midwest, included a mock sheriff's sale of the White House to dramatize the growing problem of home foreclosures in hard-hit areas.

The protesters also spent the day lobbying members of Congress to expand federal jobs legislation, extend unemployment benefits and provide emergency mortgage aid to jobless homeowners facing foreclosure and the loss of their homes.

Jobs Bill Mired In Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Amid accusations that the powerful banking lobby was holding America's jobless people hostage, bickering Senate Republicans sought a way out of a parliamentary thicket entangling a $5.1 billion jobs bill that everybody wants.

Closure votes to limit debate were scheduled today on both the bill itself and the controversial amendment on income tax withholding of interest and dividends that is blocking passage.

President Reagan and Senate GOP leaders were fighting against little-known first-term Republican Sen. Robert Kasten of Wisconsin and the banking lobby in the debate about the tax withholding scheduled to take effect July 1.

Reagan has threatened to veto this or any other bill containing withholding tax repeal.

U.S. Offers More Troops

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has offered to step up its military involvement in Lebanon to break the deadlocked negotiations on an Israeli withdrawal from Lebanon, U.S. and Lebanese sources say.

A senior U.S. official, backing up what Lebanese sources had said earlier, suggested the U.S. role could involve an enhanced contingent of American troops in the United Nations International force in Lebanon or in the multinational peace-keeping force in Beirut. It could also involve a larger training role, plus new equipment for the Lebanese army.

Caught Up In Probe Of Deputies

Seminole Dispute Settlement Chief Fired

By Victor Assersohn
 Herald Staff Writer

The director of the Seminole State Attorney's Citizens Dispute Settlement program has been fired in connection with an investigation centering around allegations that as many as 50 deputies may have been involved in the theft of property belonging to persons evicted from their homes.

Ed Schuckman, a former volunteer deputy sheriff who was hired about two years ago by State Attorney Douglas Cheshire for the $16,450-a-year post, was fired on March 2.

The official reason for Schuckman's dismissal was "conduct unbecoming an officer," according to Cheshire. However, he would give no details on the reasons for the firing.

"Basically, it has to do with the investigation," Cheshire said. "It was brought to my attention four or five weeks ago that a member of my staff had done evictions for the sheriff's department."

The current probe of wrongdoing within the sheriff's department was sparked by last year's eviction of Randal Brister who later complained that a stereo and other personal property had been stolen. The stereo was later found in an Orange County store where it had been sold for $170. Former Seminole deputy sheriff Aaron Sanders has been charged with dealing in stolen property in connection with the theft.

Cheshire would neither confirm nor deny whether Schuckman participated in the Brister eviction.

Although Schuckman has not been charged with a criminal offense, his actions will be scrutinized by special prosecutor Aluchua State Attorney Eugen T. Whitworth, Cheshire said.

The probe was ordered by Gov. Bob Graham after allegations that between 40-50 deputies were involved in the last three years in stealing property from people evicted from their homes in Seminole County.

Cheshire, who was present at a grand jury hearing into the allegations two weeks ago, would not confirm nor deny that Schuckman had told the grand jury that there were up to 50 deputies allegedly involved.

"I don't have the precise number," Cheshire said. "I think the investigation will determine that. At this point, the number cannot be determined and the investigation will determine the quantity and quality of the act," he said.

"Certainly the sheriff has indicated seven or eight other persons are involved. Our man and Sanders have been investigated and that leaves five. It could be five or as many as 45," Cheshire said.

Sheriff John Polk would not comment. "The investigation of this whole thing is underway and I have no comment. I have turned all my papers over to the investigator. I have no more comments to make until after the investigation is complete," he said.

Schuckman, 34, lives in Longwood and could not be reached for comment.

A sheriff's department spokesman last week called the allegations that up to 50 deputies could be involved "preposterous," but reports persist that there could be many more involved than the seven indicated by Polk.

Crew Of The Ill-Fated Sea Lure Still Missing

A search of the capsized Sea Lure has turned up no clues to the whereabouts of its skipper, Oviedo's Greg Stimpson and the three crew members who have been missing for nearly two weeks.

The 44-foot fishing vessel which was caught in a violent storm in the Florida Straits February 27, was towed into Key West Tuesday.

The Coast Guard cutter Chilula had found the vessel Sunday almost completely submerged and drifting stern up in the Gulf Stream, about 40 miles from Cuba.

There was no sign of survivors.

The Sea Lure was sighted by a commercial salvage company Tuesday afternoon and a search of the interior produced no clues to the crew's fate, according to a Coast Guard spokesman in Miami.

The search for the men will not be resumed until it is new evidence to warrant it, the spokesman said.

Meanwhile Stimpson's wife, Dee, and his father, John Stimpson, continue to wait in Miami for news of survivors. His wife has said that she has a "gut feeling" that her husband and the crew have reached safety. That hope springs from the fact that a 15-man lifeboat and supplies were found missing from the Sea Lure when it disappeared near the Dry Tortugas, west of Key West.

BIKES RAISE $800

About 35 bikes auctioned by Seminole County Sheriff's Department raised around $800 at a sale on Saturday. The bikes, recovered by the Sheriff's Department were unclaimed.

About 50 people attended the auction and the $800 raised will go into the State Education Fund, which provides facilities and equipment for schools.

DEPUTY HAS GUN POINTED AT HIM

A Seminole County deputy sheriff who went to question a man about a grapefruit-throwing incident had a loaded Walther P38 9 mm caliber pistol pointed at him Monday night.

Deputy Alan McCormick said he took cover and drew his service revolver after 66-year-old Samuel Radabaugh refused to drop the weapon as he stood at the door of his home at 605 Endsley Circle, Maitland, at about 7:44 p.m.

McCormick said Radabaugh pointed the pistol at his chest and said, "No, I'm not going to drop my gun. I've had it up to here with your department."

In his report, McCormick said he took cover behind the corner of the door and Radabaugh waved the pistol at him to come inside the house. After a short struggle in the doorway, Radabaugh was disarmed but reacted violently when told he was under arrest.

"He lashed out with his hands and was only overcome when pushed on the sofa and a choke hold applied," says the report. McCormick suffered a cut thumb in the incident which had been sparked by a report from a neighbor that Radabaugh had thrown grapefruits at her house and had allegedly attacked her in the parking lot outside the Goodings grocery store, Monday.

Radabaugh was charged with aggravated assault on a police officer and resisting arrest. He was released Tuesday from the Seminole County Jail on $8,000 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following people were arrested in Seminole County and charged with driving under the influence: Daniel Lee Dotson, 38, of Jacksonville, was arrested at 10:15 a.m. Monday after his car was seen weaving across Interstate 4, west of Sanford.

Milton Glenn Pate, 46, of Dearing, Ga., was arrested shortly before noon Monday for alternately driving too slow and speeding on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Fern Park. He was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

Survey By School Shows

UCF Grads Have Good Job Prospects

The latest report on employment of recent University of Central Florida graduates shows the job picture continues to be bright, particularly for those who hold degrees in engineering, computer science, and business or the health field.

The survey, conducted annually by UCF's Cooperative Education and Placement Center, polled 2,085 graduates who received their diplomas between August 1981 and April 1982.

It shows that 75 percent of those responding as employed work and live in the five east central Florida counties. The survey further indicates that 92.9 percent of those working found employment in Florida, 6.3 percent work outside the state, while the remainder did not indicate the geographic region.

Overall average salary was $16,389 for those with bachelor degrees and $19,263 for those with master's. Engineering graduates led the way with an average of $23,055 for bachelor's graduates and $27,524 for master's graduates.

Jim Gracey, director of the UCF Center, noted the survey represents a much more detailed and statistically accurate look at graduate employment. It is the first time the Center has used the Statistical Package for the Social Sciences (SPSS), a computer based program, which eliminates most errors and generates a more accurate survey.

"Our response was 47 percent for graduates with bachelor degrees which gives us a sufficient number for a fair analysis," Gracey said.

Town's Jobless Rate 24.8%

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unemployment in January moved past the 20 percent mark in West Virginia, and Johnstown, Pa., with 24.8 percent unemployment, had the highest urban rate that month, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

On the basis of preliminary data, the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported, unemployment rates rose 2 percent or more in 19 states from January 1982 to last January.

The rise to 24.4 percent in January in West Virginia was an increase over the year of 6.9 percentage points, and Wyoming's rise to 9.9 percent by January was a jump of 4.8 percentage points during the year.

Unemployment equaled or exceeded the national rate of an unadjusted 11.4 percent in the civilian workforce in 80 of the 210 metropolitan areas, the bureau said.

The bureau said unemployment rates were at or above the national rate in 19 states in January, led by West Virginia, Michigan at 17 percent, and Alabama at 16 percent.

Era Of Illegal Peonage Must End

Selling farmers a bill that imposes penalties against employers who hire illegal aliens is like waving a red cape before a herd of bulls.

But that's what Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., and Rep. Romano Mazzoli, D-Ky., co-sponsors of the Immigration reform bill, were doing at a recent farm management convention in San Diego. No one was gored. But no one threw roses.

What provokes the farmers is a proposed $1,000 penalty for a first offense, a $2,000 penalty for a second offense and, for multiple offenders, a heavy civil fine, jail sentence and injunction against hiring. The offense is knowingly hiring illegal aliens to do farm work — a practice common on Western farms.

Fear of losing a reliable source of farm labor caused farmers to join Hispanics in opposing the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1982. Farm lobby pressure explains why both of California's senators, Alan Cranston, the Democrat, and S.I. Hayakawa, the Republican, voted against it. Now Pete Wilson, the Republican elected to succeed Hayakawa, says he is leaning toward opposition, too. That's unfortunate.

The bill passed the Senate by a 81-18 margin but was buried under amendments and killed in the House in the waning days of the lame-duck Congress. Seeds planted in the fall sprout in the spring. Simpson and Mazzoli hope to have the bill back on the floor of both chambers with plenty of time to act on it in 1983.

Will the bill pass this year? And, if so, how will it affect farmers? Much depends on the changes the bill makes in the H-2 farm labor program.

The present H-2 program, administered by the Department of Labor, allows about 40,000 foreign guest farm workers to pick apples and other crops, mostly in the East, if the farmer can get Labor Department certification that American workers aren't available. Farmers want the program to be jointly administered by the Department of Agriculture. The bill would expand the program and speed up processing of permits. Estimates say as many as 400,000 foreign workers could be brought in under the streamlined H-2 program.

That may not be enough workers for farmers, but it's too many for organized labor, anxious about American workers losing jobs in the recession.

Simpson told his audience: "Every time we tilt to the growers the unions come out of the woodwork. When we tilt to the unions, the growers come out."

In terms of the bill passing, this means that if H-2 is expanded too far, organized labor could kill the bill. On the other hand, if H-2 is too restrictive, farmers would have a difficult time harvesting their crops.

A farmer spoke out: "Sixty percent of our people are illegal. It's hard, because the moment we speak up about it, we get penalties. We'd like to hire them legally, to give them shelter."

Another farmer asked: "How will we be able to get certification in time when some of our crops could be lost in 24 hours?"

Mazzoli mulled the difficulties of drafting legislation where "one wrong word and he (a farmer) is out of business" and promised not to be vindictive.

Then Simpson asked the larger question: "Are American employers so dependent on illegal workers that without them they'll go broke? Or do we want to do the first job of a sovereign state and gain control of our border?"

The ultimate cost of using exploitable illegal labor is to undercut the wages and working conditions of legal workers. Is a cheap tomato worth having a border overrun with illegal aliens hunted like animals? As surely as California farmers will produce a bumper crop this year, our system will attract another wave of exploited peons living in squalid conditions, preyed on by bandits and unscrupulous merchants, afraid to go to the police or to the hospital for fear of being deported. Discrimination against Hispanics is the bitter fruit of dependence on illegal farm labor.

Farmers are not bad people. They are among the most productive managers in our economy. But all who profit from and enjoy the fruits of illegal labor are implicated in the destruction of our borders and the social injustice of peonage.

Farmers must recognize that times have changed. The age of illegal labor in the West is as doomed as slavery was for the South.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Mind if I join you?"

By Sam Cook

Basketball season finally drew to a close Saturday night when four champions were crowned at the Lakeland Civic Center.

Boone's surprising Braves took the 4A title by nipping Jacksonville Jackson, 51-47. It capped an incredible season for coach Wayne Rickman which saw his team peak at the right time and win its last 10 games.

Boone was just 24-8, not a great record for a state champ. Seminole inflicted one of those losses on the Braves, and came close two other times.

First-year coach Chris Marlette feels his Seminoles, who lose just two starters and one reserve, are close to being a championship team. Marlette was in attendance all three days at Lakeland and he said next year he'd like to bring his Seminoles with him — as a participant.

Marlette also had an interest in the 3A game where Oseola Kissimmee whipped Crestview, 47-44, to complete an unbeaten season. Marlette's Seminoles turned in their best first half of the year against Crestview in the Kingdom of the Sun Holiday Classic at Ocala in December. Unfortunately, they followed it up with their worst second half of the year after intermission, falling to Crestview by 13 points.

In the 1A and 2A games, excitement ran rampant. 1A Malone pulled out a 62-59 win over Hastings to win its fifth state title. Pahokee became the only 2A school to claim back-to-back titles by outlasting Monticello Jefferson County, 71-70, in double overtime.

Walter Johnson, almost the goat because of two turnovers and a missed dunk attempt before the third overtime, scored with a second to play to pull out the win.

With the cage season finally behind us, softball, baseball, track, golf and tennis move into the spotlight.

The softball season is still in its infancy but it looks as if coach Jo Luciano and her defending champion Lake Howell Silver Hawks will be the team to beat in the Five Star. Lyman should also be pretty good.

In baseball, coach Bob McCullough has his Lyman Greyhounds playing some good ball while Lake Brantley, after a quick start, has faltered a bit in conference play. The Five Star looks wide open again.

In tennis, Lake Mary's boys are 5-1 in dual meets, while Lake Brantley's golfers are out to defend their district championship. The track and field competition in the county is very competitive. Lyman, Seminole, Oviédo, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley have good boys teams. The Seminole, Lyman, Lake Howell and Lake Brantley girls are good, too. Lake Mary has several outstanding individuals.

Docs Eye Intensive Care Units

By Al Rossler JR.
UPI Science Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans spend between $10 billion and $20 billion for intensive care in hospitals each year and a panel of specialists suggests substantial savings could be made by limiting admissions to those most likely to benefit.

The 16-member panel, an independent group assembled by the National Institute of Health, said limited intensive care unit resources should not be used by those who don't have a "reasonable prospect of significant recovery."

And the committee said in a draft consensus statement that it is not appropriate to maintain a patient in intensive care when his prognosis is "one of persistent vegetative state" or when only the natural process of death would be prolonged.

But the panel, headed by Dr. Stephen M. Ayres, chairman of internal medicine at the St. Louis University School of Medicine, said there is little doubt that intensive care units save lives, particularly for those with acute reversible disease.

Common examples include the patient temporarily unable to breathe because of drug overdose and those with heart disturbances that can be corrected by the use of pacemakers.

"These patients clearly benefit from ICU care," the report said.

The specialists said coronary care units, which actually are more specialized intensive care units, appear to have improved survival for heart attack victims.

But the panel said there is another group of patients for whom the potential benefit of intensive care units is not as clear, although most doctors believe many are saved by intensive care. Patients in this group include those suffering from circulatory failure due to overwhelming infection or heart failure.

A third category of patients admitted to intensive care units are those who are not critically ill, but who are in danger of a serious complication. The panel said that when that risk is high, the patient is likely to benefit from intensive care, but this may not be the case for those with a low risk of complications.

The report said doctors deciding whether to admit someone to intensive care units also must consider the risk of problems caused by intensive care procedures. The panel said such complications are not infrequent.

"More subtle ill effects, including anxiety and psychiatric disturbances, are common," the report said.

The panel called for studies to better determine who should be admitted to intensive care units, and how they are affected by the various monitoring techniques.

JEFFREY HART

Mr. Mondale, Do...?

On February 25, the Dow Jones industrial average closed at an all-time high of 1121.81, as buyers responded to the multiplying signs of economic recovery.

This defined the grim problem facing the expanding field of Democratic contenders for their party's presidential nomination.

In their rhetoric at the first — I dislike the term — "cattle show" in Sacramento, most of the contenders stressed the nuclear freeze issue, and most of them have continued to do so either in their more recent speeches or their formal announcements of candidacy, though John Glenn has avoided it, as has Senator Ernest Hollings.

The furthest left of the Democratic candidates, and the one who has tried to make the nuclear freeze the centerpiece of his campaign, is Senator Alan Cranston of California. His rhetoric on the issue has been the most apocalyptic, and his pledge to meet Soviet boss Andropov immediately after inauguration has tested the credibility of his candidacy.

Clearly Cranston is a very long shot for anything, but at 68 he has nothing to lose by trying any kind of a shot. He has also tried to meet the age issue with his prowess as a sprinter, which is real; though a writer in the Village Voice had the most memorable comment on this point. The music may be from Charlot's of Fire, he said, but the candidate, bald and cadaverous, looks more like E.T.

Mondale has turned up the volume on the nuclear issue, possibly to counter Cranston's potential on the left, and he has been giving it full prominence in his early campaigning in Minnesota, Iowa and New Hampshire. "You should measure all of us," he told an Iowa student audience, "on the basis of our approach" to the nuclear issue.

Sen. Gary Hart, reportedly with some reluctance, has also embraced the nuclear issue and endorsed the freeze.

There is trouble in those waters, and Glenn may have been wise to hang back.

In the first place, the recent referendum on the freeze really stated a utopian proposition — hence their majorities. The voters who approved them called in all cases for a bi-lateral and mutually verifiable freeze.

At one level of the argument, who wouldn't. But that goal is probably unattainable. The freeze movement will split into unilateralists and former freezers, as Soviet attitudes and recent behavior begin to sink in. In addition, there is the uncontrollable factor of Andropov.

The whole issue of the endorsement of a candidate by the AFL-CIO is also a tricky thing. Given the clout of big labor in the delegate selection process, such an endorsement might well assist Mondale, now the labor favorite, toward the Democratic nomination. Against Reagan, however, such an identity might be an enormous handicap. As in:

"Mr. Mondale, do you support the Davis-Bacon Act, which gives union members artificially high wages in federal construction projects?"

"Mr. Mondale, do you support the legislation which gives labor unions exemption from fraud and restraint of trade statutes under certain circumstances?"

"Mr. Mondale, do you favor the restrictions on interstate trucking which now favor the truckers' union, but discriminate against new minority trucking enterprises?"

First-Strike Fervor Grips Air Brass

WASHINGTON — The Air Force doesn't want its missile officers worrying — and maybe thinking twice — about launching a nuclear first strike or raining warheads down on civilians. Lt. Steven Gifford found this out the hard way.

Gifford is a five-year veteran with top-secret clearance and is a firm believer in a strong national defense. As a nuclear missile mechanic at North Dakota's Grand Forks Air Force Base, he had no qualms about working on Minuteman missiles.

It was only when he was assigned to missile training class and was taught how to fire the deadly weapons that he began to have doubts. It was what his instructors taught him that bothered Gifford, a Mormon who once considered becoming a military chaplain.

Gifford was shocked by the various missile targeting plans. They included first-strike attacks, with which the United States would initiate a nuclear war. They also included what the Air Force called "flexibility targeting," a euphemism for attacks on large civilian population centers.

Gifford told my reporter Jack Hatfield that one instructor told him firing missiles should be a "Pavlovian reaction" regardless of the target. "You should salivate at the very thought of turning the missile ignition key," the instructor said.

Gifford was disturbed by the first-strike "targeting option" — which the Air Force officially denies exists. He also felt the "flexibility targeting" was outlawed by the International Laws of Armed Conflict, which bar attacks on non-military targets.

At the end of the second week of classes, Gifford was asked if he had any personal reservations about firing a missile. He replied that he wouldn't push the button without thinking about it first. "I'm not a robot," he said.

The Air Force's reaction was to send Gifford to a psychiatrist and detail him to the base golf course, where he retrieved balls for the brass hats.

Then, in a touch worthy of the KGB, the Air Force accused Gifford of fraud and gave him a general discharge. Officers testifying at his discharge hearing said they couldn't believe Gifford really bought the Air Force slogan: "Peace is our profession." One colonel pointed out that first-strike plans "are published in all the papers and everything."

So, with truly weird logic, the board of officers reasoned that Gifford must have joined the missile class intending to drop out. Therefore, he was guilty of fraud; he didn't deserve an honorable discharge.

The base chaplain and the psychiatrist who interviewed Gifford testified in his defense. His only problem, they said, was an active conscience.

To the macho Air Force brass, that's a fatal flaw. They take the Shakespearean view that "conscience doth make cowards of us all" — and they don't want any Hamlets in the missile control rooms.

Gifford is appealing his general discharge, which can bar him from civil service employment and constitutes a stigma he feels is undeserved. He has no job prospects and no means of supporting his wife and three children.

But he says he doesn't regret having followed his conscience. "To totally trust some officer who decides it's time to beat the Russians to a nuclear attack ... I couldn't do it," he said.

Green Party For U.S.?

By David E. Anderson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Right after the West German election, political activist and environmentalist Barry Commoner sent a congratulatory telegram to Petra Kelly, leader of the German peace movement's political party, the Greens.

For the first time, the tiny Greens — a coalition of anti-nuclear campaigners and militant environmentalists — won representation in the German parliament and a base from which to carry on their effort to block deployment of U.S. cruise and Pershing missiles in West Germany.

"Your wonderful victory is an inspiration to Greens everywhere," Commoner said.

Commoner's congratulatory telegram underscores development of a new political strategy among progressives in the United States committed to both electoral and non-electoral political activism — a much closer association and identification with the European peace movement.

Commoner, the 1980 presidential candidate of the Citizens Party, won ballot status in some 30 states and gathered more than 250,000 votes on a platform stressing economic democracy, environmental issues and a mild anti-nuclearism.

Since the election, the party has struggled primarily to survive, although it mounted more than 80 local campaigns last fall and in the March 1, Burlington, Vt., city elections elected two new members to the city council, giving the party four council members.

But the fledgling party has yet to gain a coherent national image — one that will both attract media attention and win allegiance to electoral politics of the diffuse grassroots peace, environmental, civil rights and dissident labor movements it feels is its natural constituency.

Association with the European Greens, national party leaders feel, might change some of that.

The linkage began last year at the Citizens Party's national convention when Miss Kelly and a panel of Green leaders from other European peace movements addressed an enthusiastic standing-room-only crowd of delegates and observers.

In return, Commoner traveled to West Germany last month to appear at the Greens "European Tribunal" in Nuremberg criticizing both U.S. and Soviet nuclear weapons policy.

In her introduction of Commoner, Miss Kelly made the association clear:

"Like the Green Party, the Citizens Party stands for a nuclear-free Europe, disarmament, and an economy that serves the people rather than corporate greed," calling the party "the American Greens."

And to bring that message home to Americans, Miss Kelly has signed a letter for the Citizens Party's current direct mail fund-raising drive.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

In Wake Of Unrest, House Panel To Probe Police

MIAMI (UPI) — A black leader says a House subcommittee will probe Dade County police use-of-force rules in the wake of several recent shootings of blacks by white police officers and civil unrest in Miami's black ghettos.

Ray Fauntroy, leader of the Miami chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, announced Tuesday a House subcommittee was conducting an investigation into the use of deadly force by police in Dade County.

Gail Bowen, assistant counsel for the Subcommittee on Criminal Justice, met with community leaders, ministers, city residents and crime victims. She refused to discuss her fact-finding mission.

Higher Taxes Proposed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — House Speaker Lee Moffitt has added another entry to the list of taxes that could be raised in the coming regular session — the state sales tax.

Transportation taxes, including the tax on gasoline, already have been raised in a special session and Gov. Bob Graham is pushing for about $500 million more in higher taxes on property, alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and intangible wealth such as stocks and bonds.

Moffitt told reporters Tuesday that if the governor's package fails to win passage, lawmakers might consider again hiking the sales tax, which was raised from four cents to five cents on the dollar last year.

Traffic Problems Tie Up Sanford City Commission

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

John Root, owner of the Trailways Bus Depot at 10th Street at French Avenue, is all square with the city of Sanford.

The city right-of-way, next to the depot has been paved for a bus turn-out and loading. And the City Commission, on a 3-1 vote Monday night, gave Root a year to pave the parking area and alleyway at the site.

The city has been working with Root for months to bring the depot up to city standards. The facility had been operating for some time before city officials deemed the operation a traffic hazard and as such a violation of city law.

Also Monday, the commission denied a request from Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, owner of a building from which a truck firm has been operating for the past three years, to allow 18-wheel vehicles owned by the firm to park on the city right-of-way on W. 10th Street. Not only did the commission deny the request, it turned the matter over to the city's Code Enforcement Board for action.

Mrs. Reynolds said her request was similar to that granted Root and that her tenant should be given the same right to use city property.

City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles noted that a letter delivered to the city by Mrs. Reynolds' tenant, Mid Atlantic Transportation Inc., said the firm president, J. Michael Messier, is negotiating with another trucking firm to move to a new facility.

"When all is signed and delivered, we will have acquired a properly zoned facility," Messier said in his letter. "Until then, we are renting space at Sanford Rec Vee on W. 1st Street. We will now park our vehicles at Rec Vee, not at 918 French Avenue."

Mrs. Reynolds said that she talked with Messier earlier in the day and he had not been able to come to an agreement on a new facility. She said she is anxious to continue leasing her building to the trucking firm until it can move to another site and until she can get another tenant.

Knowles said that the city approved a site plan for a retail commercial outlet at Mrs. Reynolds' property on Oct. 20, 1977 and the owner had forgotten to come back to the city to get a change of use.

Knowles said that when he visited the French Avenue site, he found four 18-wheelers, some in the street blocking traffic and some on the right-of-way.

"There's been no diligent effort to solve the problem," Knowles said. "The place is zoned for retail commercial and not for a truck stop." He also noted that repair work on the trucks is being done at the site.

Mrs. Reynolds said she was notified of the problems by registered letter in February and since then has been discussing solutions with Gary Winn, the city's building official.

In another parking matter, Knowles was instructed to work with representatives of Rescue Church of God, located at the corner of 13th Street and Mulberry Avenue, to help solve their dilemma.

The church is asking for a waiver of the prohibition against off-street parking requirement and wants permission to pave a city right-of-way for parking on both sides of Mulberry for the entire block between 12th and 13th streets.

Church officials said when the church originally bought its property, parking on both sides of 13th Street was permitted. In 1981, the church was expanded about 60 feet into the parking area, thus cutting the number of parking spaces available to church members.

Seminole Chamber Gets New Manager

Harvey Hutchinson

Harvey Hutchinson, a Virginia native and past president of the South Miami-Kendall Area Chamber of Commerce, has been appointed general manager of the Greater Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

During Hutchinson's one-year term as president of the south Florida chamber, it grew 34 percent. While in Miami, Hutchinson operated a public relations business, mainly in the political arena. He managed 30 political campaigns and his candidates were successful 25 times.

Prior to moving to south Florida, Hutchinson spent seven years on the staff of U.S. Rep. J. Kenneth Robinson of Virginia and before that was news director of WLVA-TV in Lynchburg, Va.

Hutchinson said after talking with local chamber members and members of the community, he believes the chamber is at the threshold of becoming the voice of the community.

"I feel the level of activity beginning to grow and this type enthusiasm is contagious."

WORLD IN BRIEF

Grenade Attack Wounds Five Marines In Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Unidentified assailants wounded five U.S. Marines in a grenade attack today, the first direct assault against American members of the multinational peace-keeping force in Lebanon, a Marine spokesman said.

"There have been five reported injuries, but none serious," Marine spokesman Maj. Bill Grein said.

The assault was the second in 12 hours against members of the 4,800-strong peace-keeping contingent in Lebanon. Five Italian soldiers were wounded, two of them critically, in an ambush Tuesday, Italian spokesmen said.

The assault came only hours after U.S. and Lebanese sources in Washington said the United States has offered to step up military involvement in Lebanon to break a deadlock on troop withdrawal talks begun Dec. 28.

Britain Oil Prices Steady

LONDON (UPI) — Britain welcomed OPEC's new $29-a-barrel benchmark figure as a cure for global inflation but held its own petroleum prices steady despite the Soviet Union's move to undercut the cartel by up to $2 a barrel.

Britain is the world's fifth largest oil producer but is not a member of the 13-nation Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

There was no hint how Britain's National Oil Corporation planned to respond to the decision Monday by OPEC to cut its base price to $29 from $34 a barrel, a 15 percent drop.

For Britain, a 50-cent cut would bring its North Sea prices level with those of crudes from OPEC member Nigeria, but a cut of a $1 or more would invite further price-slashing by OPEC.

Three ways to avoid taking a bath with an inefficient water heater.

One of our three Watt-Wise™ incentives could pay you up to several hundred dollars. Our water heater incentive program applies to customers who replace or modify their current electric water heaters with either 1) a solar water heater, 2) a water heating heat pump or 3) a heat recovery unit. All three are designed to save electricity.

An FPL Home Energy Audit will determine if you qualify and how much you can save. Then we'll help cover the cost of purchase and installation of the new system. Water heaters must meet our standards and be installed by a participating dealer/contractor. In most cases, payment will be in the form of a Watt-Saver™ certificate redeemable with the contractor.

Will everyone benefit from Watt-Wise incentives? Yes.

These incentives are less costly than the oil necessary to generate the electricity wasted by inefficient homes. Every 600 kilowatt-hours of electricity not used is a barrel of oil no one has to pay for. This also helps us postpone the building of expensive power plants. The less oil we use, and the less new building we have to do, the more we can help hold the line of everyone's electric bill.

For more information, or to arrange for a Home Energy Audit, send us the coupon or call the Watt-Wise Line at 1-800-432-6563.

The Watt-Wise Products Program. Another way we're working hard at being the kind of power company you want.

I'd like more information on the following Watt-Wise incentives:

- Water Heating.
- Cooling & Heating.
- Solar-Reflective Film.
- Ceiling Insulation.
- I would like to have an FPL Home Energy Audit.

College Grads Earn More Money

WASHINGTON (UPI) — College graduates can expect to earn 40 percent more in their lifetimes over those who only got a high school diploma, a Census Bureau study shows.

A bureau study found men can expect to receive far more than women, regardless of whether they go to college, but warned against making any comparisons without taking additional information into account.

The lengthy tables may be useful to lawyers trying suits seeking a settlement based upon a killed or injured person's earnings potential, the bureau noted.

The earnings estimates are based on data from surveys taken in 1979-81.

It said men with four years of college can expect lifetime earnings between $1.19 million and $2.75 million, in 1981 dollars, compared to earnings from $860,000 to $1.87 million for high school graduates.

Lifetime earnings for women with four years of college should be $520,000 to $1.12 million, while for women high school graduates the range is from $380,000 to $800,000, it said.

Bureau Director Bruce Chapman cautioned, however, against making "unqualified comparisons" between differences in men's and women's lifetime earnings.

"It is improper to compare the estimates for men and women without accounting for the significant differences in amount and continuity of previous work experience, and in other important characteristics, between men and women," he said.

"Numerous studies show that this factor is a very important determinant of an individual's earnings capacity," Chapman said. "In this study, however, we did not have the data needed to prepare separate estimates for groups with different work experience patterns."

The bureau said the estimates vary according to future economic growth assumptions since total lifetime earnings depend upon the annual growth rate of real earnings.

The average annual increase in real earnings was between 2 percent and 3 percent in the 1960s but near zero in the past decade.

The report presents estimates for growth rates ranging from zero to 3 percent. For example, the estimate for a man with four years of college of $1.19 million is based on a projection of no inflation and no change in productivity, while the higher estimate, $2.75 million, is based upon no inflation and a 3 percent productivity rise annually.

Benton — Player Of The Year

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

For a young lady who confesses she "couldn't shoot a decent lay up" a few years ago, Sanford's Mona Benton has come a pretty long way since she was a talented but untapped seventh grader.

Benton, a modest, 16-year-old sophomore at Seminole High School, was voted the Seminole County Girls Basketball Player of the Year by the county basketball coaches and three Evening Herald sports writers for the 1982-83 season.

Benton received two first-place votes as did Oviedo Junior Fayette Robinson, Lyman Junior Valerie "Pam" Jackson and Lake Brantley senior Rhonda Vazquez. Lake Howell junior Tammy Johnson also received a first-place vote. First place was worth 15 points (second, 14, third, 13, etc.).

Benton totaled 121 points to out-distance Robinson (112), Jackson (111) and Vazquez (109). The four were joined on the All-County First Team by Lake Mary's Laura Glass who nipped Tammy Johnson for the fifth spot, 94-92.

Johnson heads up a strong second team along with teammates Mary Johnson (senior, 59), Seminole's Diedre Hillery (junior, 85) and Lake Mary's Peggy Glass (junior, 48) completed the second squad.

Lyman's Vikki McMurrer (senior, 37) and Kim Goroum (senior, 26) were third-team members along with Lake Mary's Kim Averill (sophomore, 22) and Lisa Gregory (junior, 23) and Lake Brantley's Linda Trimble (senior, 32).

Seminole's Maxine Campbell, Lake Howell's Christy Scott and Janene Brown, Lake Brantley's Michelle Brown, Lake Mary's Michelle Swartz and Oviedo's Natalie Barth were honorable mention choices.

Although Benton's sophomore status may be unique for a player of the year, her statistics were anything but second rate. The 5-8 guard averaged 21.4 points and four assists per game while leading the Fighting Seminoles to a second-place conference finish and a second-place finish in the Lady Hawk Invitational to powerful Orlando Evans, the Tribe's best finish ever in the prestigious tournament.

Seminole coach Ron Merthie saw the leadership qualities early in Benton and named her team captain. "Mona was our most consistent player. I'm really happy for her," said Merthie. "She kept her scoring average up there all year without hogging the ball."

"Why, she could have scored 40 points if she wanted to against Spruce Creek but she'd get down by the basket and wait for her teammates to come down, so they could score the points."

Benton didn't play basketball until she was in seventh grade at Lakeview for coach Alvis Whitte's Seminole Youth Sports Association team. It didn't take her long to pick up the game. One year later, she was averaging 40 points per game as the Lakeview girls went undefeated.

Prep Basketball

"I didn't know a thing about basketball," remembers Mona about those early days. "I saw people playing at the park and I liked the game. I decided I wanted to play too."

Benton, a B and C student whose favorite subject is English, gives most of the credit for her learning the game to her 6-6 brother, Keith, a 1978 graduate of Seminole who played a year at the University of Central Florida.

"My brother taught me a decent lay up, a jump shot and how to dribble," said Benton. "Coach Merthie taught me how to use my left hand."

Despite her scoring prowess as an eighth grader, Benton was stunned to learn she made the varsity as a freshman. "I didn't think I belonged with those older girls," she said. "I scored a lot of points in SYSA, but it was mostly against little girls. I didn't know how good I could do against varsity people."

Despite some apprehensiveness on Mona's part, Merthie stuck with his little freshie and halfway through the season she became a starter and went on to average nine points a game.

Still, earning the player of the year honor as a 10th grader is a little too much for Benton to swallow, even after 20 minutes on the telephone Tuesday evening.

"Are you serious? Player of the year, are you sure?" Mona kept inquiring. "All those other girls are so good. Are you sure it's me?"

About as sure as that scholarship which will come in a couple years, Benton plans to continue her playing days at a "good major college and I hope I can go to Louisiana Tech," she added. But, not for a couple of years, anyway.

The Real Thing

The Evening Herald All-County Girls Basketball Team is the real thing. It was selected by Seminole County girls basketball coaches Ron Merthie (Seminole), Bill Moore (Lake Mary), Dick Copeland (Lyman), Ed Bolton (Oviedo), Dennis Codrey (Lake Howell) and Reggie Betris (Lake Brantley) along with Herald sports writers Brent Smartt, Chris Flister and Sam Cook.

The coaches and sports writers ranked 30 girls in order of performance. The points were tabulated 15 for first, 14 for second, 13 for third, etc.

This team was selected by the coaches and sports writers who saw the girls play frequently. It was not selected by one person, as was a previous all-county team.

New Name Expected For T-Bowl

The Florida Citrus Bowl.

The Florida Citrus Commission tentatively agreed to a proposal in Lakeland Tuesday which will change the Tangerine Bowl to the Florida Citrus Bowl which the commission and bowl officials hope will make the December football bowl game one of the more attractive bowls available.

The Florida Citrus Commission has allocated $250,000 for the next five years which will make the Orlando bowl seventh in the country in money earned and possibly learn a network television pact.

The Tangerine Bowl, under the guidance of Chuck Rohe, Tangerine Sports Authority executive, and formerly Charlie McClendon, has made great strides in the past few years and Rohe feels the new $1 million payoff is another one.

For the 1982 game, Boston College and Auburn earned $350,000 apiece which was a T-Bowl record.

Only the Rose ($5.6 million), Sugar ($3.6 million), Cotton ($3.6 million), Orange ($3.4 million), Fiesta ($1.7 million) and Gator ($1.2 million) bowls will produce more money than the Florida Citrus Bowl change goes through.

The new figure will allow the FCB to overtake the Sun, Holiday, Hall of Fame, Peach and Liberty bowls on the money scale. Approval is expected today.

Robert Morris Drops Georgia Southern

United Press International

Robert Morris, a Pittsburgh business college named for the man who financed the Revolutionary War, got off easy this time.

Last season in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament the Colonials drew Indiana and were battered by 32 points. This time they drew Georgia Southern and won 64-54 in a preliminary round game in Dayton, Ohio.

Robert Morris, winners of the ECAC Metro, received 17 points from Forest Grant and 16 from Chipper Harris. The victory sends the Colonials, 23-7, to Thursday night's next round against Purdue in Tampa.

Georgia Southern, 18-12, qualified for the field by capturing the Trans-America Conference. Eric Hightower had 14 points for the Eagles but missed 19-of-24 shots. Former Seminole Community College standout Travis Filer tossed in seven points for Southern.

There were four preliminary playoff games Tuesday night — two in Dayton and two in Philadelphia — that reduced the tournament to 48 teams.

In the other game in Dayton, Alcorn State defeated Xavier (Ohio) 81-75 and will play Georgetown Friday night in the Midwest Regional in Louisville, Ky.

In Philadelphia, Princeton downed North Carolina A&T 53-41 and advanced to Friday night's game against Oklahoma State at Corvallis, Ore., in the West Regional. And LaSalle stopped Boston University 70-58.

on merit — not on the repute of its early-season victory over Ralph Sampson and Virginia.

The top-ranked Hawaian school ran, slammed, blocked and shot its way to an incredible 58-25 halftime lead over Alabama-Huntsville to all but put an end to its first-round game, which finally ended, mercifully, at 90-72.

The Silverswords advanced to a second-round contest with 16th-seeded Saginaw Valley (Mich.) today. Other second-round games today found third-seeded Chicago State (Ill.) meeting No. 14 West Virginia Wesleyan, No. 9 Wisconsin-Stevens Point meeting Liberty Baptist (Va.), No. 5 Panhandle State going against No. 12 Charleston and No. 13 Texas Wesleyan battling College of Santa Fe (N.M.).

Florida College Loses

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (UPI) — Sophomore Neal Wake scored seven of his 11 points and unranked Fairbury, Neb., upset fourth-ranked Mercer, N.J., 71-64 in first-round play of the National Junior College Basketball tournament Tuesday.

In other first round games, San Jacinto, Tex., stopped Moberly, Mo., 84-76. Independence, Kan., beat DeKalb, Ga., 84-65. Jamestown, N.Y., whipped Wahpeton, N.D., 78-70. Clinton, Iowa, beat Temple Terrace-Florida College, 82-75 and Seminole, Okla., edged Mesa, Ariz., 43-42.

The double-elimination, five-day, 26-game tournament continues Wednesday with the championship game scheduled for Saturday.

Clinton was powered by the one-two scoring punch of sophomore Dick Couch and Quinton Dale. Couch hit six of his team's eight points to help snap a 65-65 tie. He scored 18 of his 24 points in the second half. Dale scored 20 points, 18 in the first half, when Clinton held a 38-37 lead.

Bradley's 34 Leads Bulls Past Fordham

By United Press International
Charlie Bradley of South Florida is the sort of all-round player that coaches easily praise, win or lose.

Fordham coach Tom Penders experienced the latter situation in the National Invitation Tournament. Bradley scored 34 points and added 10 rebounds at Tampa, Fla., Tuesday night to help South Florida overcome a 7-point halftime deficit and take a 81-69 first-round NIT triumph over Fordham.

"As far as a shooter, he's probably the best we've seen all year," said Penders. "He has quick release, he squares up well, he's fundamentally sound. I hope we don't see any more like him."

"This club (South Florida) is as good as any we've played, maybe not quite as good as Syracuse or St. John's, but I'd like to see them play Syracuse. They're the same type of team."

Bradley, the Sun Belt Conference co-Player of the Year, led a second-half rally to help South Florida raise its record to 22-9. The Rams closed their season at 19-11.

After trailing 38-31 at halftime, the Bulls outscored Fordham 15-2 to start the second half. South Florida took the lead for good with 15:45 to play on a basket by Bradley.

Smith's Hat Trick Covers Orlando

Rusty Smith scored three goals and Mitch Albert and Chuck Roll added two apiece to lead Sanford 280 to a 10-0 rout of Downtown Orlando 280 in Sanford Soccer Club action.

Goalie Troy Deppen authored a shut-out for Sanford 280 whose record now stands at 2-0 for the season. Steve Edwards, Jason Kaiser and Phillip Perez also added goals for Sanford while Bryce Baker, Charlie Butler and Brent Posey picked up the slack on the defensive end. Sanford 280 next plays Winter Park 201 on March 26 at Ward Field.

In other games, Sanford 780 (under nine division) scored two goal in the second half and wound up in a 2-2 tie with Maitland 781. Josh Letchworth scored Sanford's first goal and Jon Williams, assisted by Matt Teague, scored the second and game tying goal. Goalie Joshua Ferguson handled 14 saves to keep Maitland from gaining the upper hand and defensive help came from Paul Guarino, John Scott and Bobby Guernice.

Sanford Soccer

Sanford 780 now stands at 1-0-1 for the year and next plays Maitland 001 on March 26 at Sanford.

Sanford 480, under 14 division, fell to 0-2 for the season after a 4-0 loss to Seminole 467. Seminole scored two goals in each half and thwarted any Sanford scoring attempts en route to the victory. Goalie Sherrie Rumlir handled seven saves but could not hold off the relentless Seminole attack. John Stuart, Danny Bachrach, Joe Barreit and Matt Albert were the offensive leaders while Cindy Benghe had an outstanding defensive game at the fullback position.

Sanford 381, under 14 division, ran into a rugged Maitland 381 team and dropped a 7-1 decision. Oberto Piedra scored Sanford's only goal and Sean Grimes had a good defensive outing as Sanford fell to 1-1 for the season.

Roughnecks Collar Pine Hills

In the second week of action for F.C. United teams, Kevin Friedman's under 13 Roughnecks (F.C. United 360) came on strong after a slow start en route to a 7-2 victory over Pine Hills 482 (an under 14 team).

Greg Schmitker and Pat Gorie scored two goals apiece for the Roughnecks while Toby Llamas, Doug Schlicker and Paul Smith added one goal each. Goalie Joey Schulman, assisted by fullbacks Rob Locher, Steve Munnell and Bobby Ostheim held off a late rally by Pine Hills to secure the victory.

The F.C. United Golden Eagles, under eight division, Mike Barclay booted in two goal including the go-ahead goal as the Eagles upended Downtown Orlando 803, 4-1. Barclay, who scored four goals in the team's first game, scored F.C. United's second and third goals while the first was scored by Eddie Avant and the last was scored on a 15-foot shot by Peter Ludwig. Goalie Jeffrey Ecker held Orlando scoreless in the second half.

Cook Tunes Up For All-Pro With Win

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Getting ready for the All-Pro wars, Jack Cook came back up from last spot at halfway to win the 25-lap late model feature on a cool Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway.

Tight, fender-rubbing racing and five lead changes made for the best late-model finale since the World Series.

"We took a week off and we stripped the car," Cook said. "We took everything apart, checked every component, painted it all and put it back together. We came here well prepared and it paid off."

Young Richard McDill made it two in a row as he led every lap to notch another thunder car victory over division's high point man Joe Coupas. "I want to thank Joe for lending us a wheel and tire," McDill said. "We would not have been able to race without that wheel, and it's not true that Joe wanted the wheel back after we won the heat," McDill added.

Street stock season-long point chase leader Rick Clouser "bought a piece of the rock" and heavily damaged his quasi-unbeatable Olds 455, thus allowing Rick Lokey to go on for the win.

W.G. Watts won the four cylinder finale.

David Rogers, who won a 100-lap race at another speedway the previous Sunday, finished close second in the late model feature, with Frank Wood, who led for six laps, scoring a third place finish. Fourth and fifth were Joe Middleton and Chris DeLarco.

Vuckovich's Rotator Cuff Injury Leaves Gaping Hole In Brewer Mound Rotation

By United Press International

Now that hurt. Cy Young Award winner Pete Vuckovich of the Milwaukee Brewers has a torn rotator cuff in the shoulder of his pitching arm, the team said Tuesday.
 The tear to Vuckovich's rotator cuff left a gaping hole in the Brewers' starting rotation.
 General Manager Harry Dalton, who made the announcement, said he did not know how long the prized right-hander will be out. He will begin a program of rest and medication and will be reexamined next week by the team doctor, Dalton said.
 Dr. Lewis Yocum, who examined Vuckovich earlier Wednesday in Los Angeles, made the rotator cuff diagnosis.
 Meanwhile, Jim Slaton, Milwaukee's middle-inning reliever, gave up only hit in the first five innings in a 5-1 exhibition victory over San Diego.
 In other news:
 Five Grapefruit League games were called off due to Florida showers, but Mike Marshall crashed his fourth homer of the spring and added two singles to lead the Los Angeles Dodgers to an 8-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates at Vero Beach. The Dodgers' rookie right fielder raised his average to .379 and also has a team-high 10 RBI.

Baseball

 At Pompano Beach, Charlie Hough, Ron Musselman and Victor Cruz combined on a seven-hitter and Larry Parrish drove in two runs to lead the Texas Rangers to an 8-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. Parrish went 3-for-4 to highlight a 14-hit attack. Al Bumbry homered for the Orioles.
 At West Palm Beach, Terry Harper hit a two-run single in the eighth inning to break a 3-3 tie and carry Atlanta to a 6-4 victory over Montreal. Bob Horner homered for the Braves and Montreal's Dan Schatzeder hurled four perfect innings to open the game.
 At Tucson, Ariz., errors by Wayne Gross and Bill Almon opened the door to five Cleveland runs in the first inning and rookie left-hander

4-H Girls Win Share Of Ribbons At Fair

By Lou Childers
Herald Correspondent

Francine Huggins and Sharon Heaight are members of the Lake Orienta Clovers 4-H Club. Francine, age 11, and Sharon, age 10, along with the other members of their club entered several items in the Central Florida Fair which ended March 6.

Each of the club members received one ribbon, quite a feat, but Sharon Heaight received two blue ribbons and a sweepstake ribbon for her prize winning Delicious White Bread.

Francine brought home a whopping six blue ribbons for her various cooking achievements and also received a sweepstake ribbon for being the participant receiving the most blue ribbons overall at the fair.

Sharon says, "I started helping my dad 'squish' the dough for homemade bread when I was 5." Now Sharon is able to make the bread from start to finish with no help, and has found that baking it in clay loaf pans gives the bread a "brown all over" appearance. This is her first year in 4-H, which should make her parents, Mercer and Linda Heaight of Maitland, very proud that she received three ribbons.

Francine's mother, Frances Huggins, is also her 4-H leader. Francine has spent four years in 4-H and now holds the distinction of being a junior leader. This means "I get to help the other girls when we are sewing," she says. (She also won a Red Ribbon last month at the Florida State Fair for a dress she made.)

baked bar cookie that contains no flour. "I found this recipe in an old magazine of Mom's, and it sounded so good. I decided to make it right away." She says she knew it was a winner just from reading the ingredients.

DELICIOUS WHITE BREAD

5 to 6 cups bread flour
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 packages active dry yeast
2 cups water
¼ cup oil

Grease two 8x4-inch loaf pans. Lightly spoon flour into measuring cup; level off. In large mixer bowl, combine 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and yeast. Blend well. In small saucepan heat water and oil until very warm, 120-130 degrees. Add warm liquids to flour mixture and blend at low speed until moistened. Beat 3 minutes at medium speed. Stir in additional 2½ to 3 cups flour until dough pulls cleanly away from sides of bowl. On floured surface knead dough about 10 minutes or until it is smooth and elastic with blisters under the surface. Place dough in greased bowl; cover loosely with plastic wrap and cloth towel. Let rise in a warm place until light and doubled in size, about 1 to 2 hours.

Punch down dough several times to remove all air bubbles. Divide dough into 2 parts, and mold into balls. Allow to rest on counter covered with inverted bowl for 15 minutes. Shape into loaves as follows: remove air pockets by working dough with hands or rolling into two 14x7-inch rectangles. Place dough into pans. Cover, let rise in warm place until dough fills pans and tops of loaves are about 1 inch above pan edges, about 1 hour. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 to 55 minutes until brown.

Garden Of The Month

Mrs. Ouida Lee, 1900 E. Second St., was awarded the Garden Of The Month plaque for March by members of Magnolia Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford Inc. A spokesman said the bright orange and yellow nasturtiums against the gray house is a "breathtaking sight."

Doc's Wife Tired Of Waiting, Too

DEAR ABBY: I am a busy businessman writing in reference to "Tired of Waiting," who had a long wait at the doctor's office.

I had the same problem and this is how I solved it. I had an appointment with a local physician who kept me waiting for a very long time. The next time I had an appointment it was for 11 a.m., so I phoned the doctor's office at 9 a.m. with this message: "This is (), and I have an appointment this morning for 11 o'clock. I need to know if the doctor is on schedule. You see, I, too, am a busy person and do not have time to sit in your waiting room doing nothing, so if the doctor is running behind, I prefer waiting in my office rather than his. If you will please call me when he's ready. I can be there in 20 minutes. I know he doesn't think 20 minutes is a long wait since I waited over an hour to see him or my last appointment."

Well, Abby, guess who was ready for me when I got there? I rarely have to wait more than 10 minutes for this doctor now.

NO WAITING IN OKLAHOMA
DEAR NO WAITING: Beautiful. But let's hear from a doctor's secretary:

DEAR ABBY: I work for two pediatricians, and try as we do to keep to a schedule. It's nearly impossible, and this is why: Joe Jones calls. He must have a physical exam to continue playing basketball with his high school team. He's lucky. We're able to find a spot for him within a couple of days. His appointment is at 3 p.m. right after school.

Dear Abby

He calls from school to tell us that his car won't start. A friend will bring him, but he can't get there until 3:30. Can he still have his checkup? Of course he can. We'll work it our somehow. But someone will have to wait.

Mrs. Smith called this morning. She needs an afternoon appointment because her child has an earache. She shows up with two children because in the meantime the other one has gotten sick. Will we see both children? Of course. But someone will have to wait.

Something like this happens nearly every day.

but we cannot refuse to help our patients when they need us. I won't even talk about what happens to our schedule when emergencies come in, or when the telephone rings off the hook.

MARGARET IN GLENCOE, ILL.

DEAR MARGARET: Now, let's hear it from a doctor's wife:

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe you printed that tired old complaint from "Tired of Waiting," the woman who had to wait to see her doctor.

Hey, "Tired," just calm down? Have you ever written to Dear Abby to say you got in to see the doctor on time?

Doctors' wives, let's unite and write to Dear Abby about the times we've waited and waited for our husbands who have been called back to the hospital to see "Tired of Waiting."

A DOCTOR'S WIFE WHO'S TIRED OF "TIRED"

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter signed "Prime." She's the woman who was reluctant to submit to a premarital sex performance test to be "graded" like a side of beef.

Prime has a choice, and it's not good. This fellow is very commercial and there is no utility in keeping him. She should cut and can him.

Sign me...

Handy How-To Guide Makes Entertaining A Breeze With Ease

Groups of four or six make for cozy conversation around the dinner table. Often these occasions are planned to entertain important guests, such as the boss or the in-laws. To take the pressure off, the host or hostess can prepare these dinners in advance.

European Deep Dish Pie is perfect for these occasions. This rich, beefy pie features the best of a hearty meat and vegetable meal: sirloin steak, fresh mushrooms, carrots, onions and a hint of burgundy wine. The filling can be prepared several days in advance and frozen in a convenient aluminum foilware square cake pan, then defrosted in the refrigerator 24 hours ahead of the party. A lattice top made from pie crust mix adds the finishing touch.

Thirty-two pages of recipes, step-by-step photos and party pointers are contained in an entertaining guide, divided into sections for entertaining any size crowd. Directions are given for entertaining for two, four, six, twelve or twenty-four. To receive your copy of Entertaining Ease, send a check or money order for $5.50 to: Reynolds Wrap — Entertaining Ease, P.O. Box 6704, Richmond, Va. 23230.

EUROPEAN DEEP DISH PIE Filling:

- 1 1/2 to 2 pound sirloin steak, 3/4-inch thick
- 1/4 cup vegetable oil
- 2 small onions, cut into eighths
- 2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
- 3/4 cup thinly sliced carrots
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup beef broth
- 2 tablespoons tomato paste
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 tablespoons burgundy wine

Pastry:

- 1 cup pie crust mix
 - 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
 - 2 to 3 tablespoons cold water
 - 1 egg, beaten
- Trim and cut steak into 3/4-inch cubes. In a large frying pan, heat oil over medium-high heat. Sauté steak cubes 3 to 5 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove steak from pan; place onions, mushrooms and carrots in pan. Sauté 5 minutes or until lightly browned, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat to medium. Stir beef broth into flour until smooth; pour into frying pan. Add tomato paste, salt, pepper and garlic powder. Continue stirring and bring to a boil. Boil and stir 1 to 2 minutes or until thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in wine and steak cubes. Pour mixture into a Reynolds Red-Pan Square Cake Pan. Overwrap with Heavy Duty Reynolds Wrap. Label, date and freeze.

Twenty-four hours before serving, remove frozen pie from freezer and place in refrigerator to thaw. One and one-half hours before serving, preheat oven to 400°F. Stir parsley into pie crust mix. Stir in water, one tablespoon at a time, until dough holds together. Roll dough on lightly floured surface to form a 10x8-inch rectangle. Using fluted cutting wheel, cut into ten 10-inch strips, each 3/4-inch wide. Place 5 pastry strips diagonally over top of pie. Crisscross with 5 remaining pastry strips. Trim all overhanging edges of pastry. Brush with egg. Bake 50 minutes or until pastry is lightly browned and filling is bubbly. Makes: 4 servings.

Moffitt Hints At Another Sales Tax Hike

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Lawmakers might consider raising the state sales tax again if Gov. Bob Graham's package of proposed taxes on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes, property and intangible wealth doesn't pass, House Speaker Lee Moffitt said Tuesday.

Graham, meanwhile, disputed claims by the wholesale liquor industry that Florida's "sin taxes" already are too high.

Moffitt told reporters the governor's tax package will receive full consideration in the House and if it fails, other taxing sources will be studied.

"It may very well be we'll have to look again at perhaps a half penny increase in the sales tax," he said. "I just don't know at this point."

At Graham's urging, the Legislature increased the sales tax from four to five cents on the dollar last year to fund criminal justice programs. It was the first increase in that tax since 1968.

This year, again at Graham's request, the Legislature already has approved $238 million in increased transportation taxes, including higher taxes on gasoline.

The governor still has pending proposed hikes in property taxes, cigarette and alcoholic beverage taxes and the intangible wealth tax on stocks and bonds. These taxes would total about $500 million.

Moffitt and other House leaders disclosed their own plans Tuesday to raise other taxes to preserve the state's drinking water supplies and clean up hazardous waste sites.

These proposals include a 5 percent tax on the wholesale price of all chemicals entering the state, including pesticides, and a 20 percent surcharge on the documentary tax imposed on deeds and other official papers.

Representatives of the liquor industry have blasted Graham's plan to hike taxes on liquor, wine and beer, saying Florida's alcoholic beverage tax already is the highest in the nation.

Other critics contend his proposed hike in cigarette taxes of four cents per pack would lead to more "bootlegging" of untaxed cigarettes into the state.

"We do have relatively high taxes on tobacco and alcohol in Florida, but we also have relatively low prices to the consumer because of the highly competitive nature of our liquor industry," Graham said at a news conference.

He said it is "appropriate" to boost cigarette and liquor taxes to produce money for improvements in education because these taxes haven't been raised in five years, while the price of booze and cigarettes have gone up.

The governor said he also favors boosting liquor taxes because up to 30 percent of this tax is paid by tourists, rather than Florida residents.

In a related development, a small south Florida-based airline has asked a federal judge to declare the state's new tax on fuel unconstitutional, claiming it discriminates against air carriers.

Northeastern International Airlines of Fort Lauderdale filed suit Monday in the West Palm Beach courtroom of U.S. District Judge James C. Payne.

Under the legislation approved in a special session last month, railroads and shipping lines are exempted from the fuel tax and airlines based in Florida with at least 1,200 employees are given a potential credit on their corporate income taxes.

Northeastern claims that not only does the tax discriminate against airlines in general, it discriminates against smaller Florida-based air carriers.

"The airline industry has been singled out to pay a tax that is not being equally and justly distributed," said Northeastern spokeswoman Barbara Rubin. "And we don't even use the roads."

Northeastern, which began operations a year ago, owns four jets and employs 265 people. It offers passenger service between Islip, N.Y., and Hartford, Conn., with Fort Lauderdale, Miami, Orlando and Tampa-St. Petersburg.

Official: Banks Participate In Offshore Crime Business

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of the Justice Department's criminal division testified Tuesday that bank participation in crimes that net up to $40 billion annually has become a worldwide problem.

"We are no longer dealing with one sovereign nation, but with many," Assistant Attorney General Lowell Jensen told the Senate government operations permanent investigations subcommittee. "Bank secrecy jurisdictions exist all over the world, and their proliferation is continuing."

Jensen said the Reagan administration is not recommending specific legislation to combat offshore crime, but praised the subcommittee's two-year investigation into the problem.

Internal Revenue Service Commissioner Roscoe L. Egger Jr. said the most pressing problem in solving such crimes is lack of accessibility to information. "The problem is not so much one of substantive tax law, but of getting the information to enforce it," he said.

Egger said the IRS is engaged in simultaneous investigations with five nations in an effort to get better audits of transactions in tax havens around the world.

He said the IRS and the Customs Bureau set up a task force to identify U.S. taxpayers using tax-haven countries and offshore banks to evade U.S. taxes.

The subcommittee, in a staff report released Monday, said criminals in the United States hide as much as $40 billion a year in countries whose banks and commercial secrecy laws protect the funds from scrutiny.

"The use of offshore haven secrecy laws is the glue that holds many U.S. criminal operations together," subcommittee Chairman William Roth, R-Del., said.

Policeman Likes Shorts

SWEETWATER (UPI) — City police Sgt. Ray Toledo thinks he has the right to bare his legs.

Toledo, a seven-year veteran of the Miami area police department, said Tuesday he plans to file a grievance with the Police Benevolent Association because Sweetwater Mayor Armando Penedo has ordered him to stop wearing athletic shorts during off-duty hours.

He said he might even file suit against the mayor.

Penedo said Sweetwater residents have complained to him about Toledo's brief attire.

"A police officer is a police officer 24 hours a day," Penedo said after Toledo showed up at a City Council meeting sporting his gray shorts. "Everybody knows him for heaven sakes."

But Toledo said he hears only praise about his short shorts.

"I personally have received great compliments while showing my great legs, from women and members of the City Council," he said.

Toledo said he refuses to change his style just to suit the mayor. He said his constitutional rights are at stake.

"I will not allow you to intimidate me into changing the way I dress," Toledo said in a letter to the mayor last week.

Scheur Says Hernandez Worked With Dow On Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The chairman of a House panel investigating the EPA says he has evidence that acting EPA administrator John Hernandez allowed the Dow Chemical Co. to eliminate from a 1981 report all references to the company's contamination of Michigan rivers.

Rep. James Scheur, D-N.Y., told a news conference Tuesday the House Science and Technology subcommittee he heads will begin hearings into the matter next week.

Hernandez issued a statement saying he had shared the report with Dow and said, in hindsight, he should have circulated the report more widely to seek a broader spectrum of comment.

In another development, The Washington Post reported today that EPA official Louis Cordia resigned Tuesday, hours after it was confirmed he had compiled a "hit list" of agency employees to be fired, hired or promoted because of their political leanings.

Senior agency officials also told the newspaper Cordia, 28, is a focus of a new internal investigation into charges of mismanagement and alleged tampering with agency records in the Office of Federal Activities, where Cordia had been the No. 2 official until he was demoted Friday.

Scheur said the subcommittee has found "evidence that Dr. Hernandez ... personally intervened at EPA to allow Dow Chemical Company of Midland, Mich., to alter a draft report and suppress all references to Dow's responsibility for dangerous levels of dioxin contamination in and around its Midland plant."

"As a result of Dr. Hernandez's unprecedented intervention, Dow was able to remove all references to studies showing serious adverse health effects of dioxin in the ... area," Scheur said of the May, 1981 incident.

Hernandez issued a statement later Tuesday admitting he instructed EPA's dioxin work group to share a copy of the draft report with Dow Chemical. He said he did so because a draft of the study had already appeared in a Canadian newspaper, and the study could have been obtained through a Freedom of Information Act request.

The report contained information that had been generated by Dow, Hernandez said, adding that he told Dow to send its response to the EPA regional office in Chicago.

"At the time of these events, I believed that it was important to have agency documents reviewed by knowledgeable scientists (including Dow's)," Hernandez said. "I still believe in that approach."

"However, upon reflection, I believe it might have been better to have circulated the draft report for comment more widely," he said. A copy was sent to Michigan Gov. William Milliken.

He emphasized that the draft report "was not part of a rulemaking effort or enforcement action," but was a compilation of data on dioxin drafted by the EPA Chicago office. Scheur called the findings "another instance of business as usual at the Environmental Protection Agency."

Scheur, however, said sharing information with a corporation raised disturbing questions.

Factory Production Is Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An unexpected increase in February factory production kept alive hopes for a continuing economic recovery helped by less expensive oil.

Although not the decline most analysts were expecting, the 0.3 percent increase in factory, oil well and mine output last month fell short of being totally convincing evidence the recovery was still gathering strength, analysts said.

The increase, weaker than January's 1.3 percent improvement, was mostly due to a surge in auto assemblies which, ominously, seem to be outrunning sales to some extent.

In reporting February's industrial production, Federal Reserve System economists noted that a slackening of the production pace is under way in March to match the slow sales rate.

The improvements more than offset a sharp 4.1 percent decline in oil and gas extraction and coal mining. Business equipment production was also down.

The chief economist of the National Association of Manufacturers, Jerry Jasinski, said factory owners were not impressed with the 0.3 percent gain.

Third World Nations Hurt By OPEC News

United Press International

The decline in world petroleum prices will deprive major oil-producing Third World nations of millions of dollars of income, forcing them deeper into debt and straining the international banking system, analysts say.

Mexico, Venezuela, Nigeria, and Indonesia all rely heavily on oil income and analysts said Tuesday the drop of $5 to $29-a-barrel in the OPEC base price will force them to cut ambitious development plans started amid higher prices.

Nigeria, likely to be among the hardest hit, was prompted by financial pressures earlier this year to expel millions of foreign laborers.

It was allowed by this week's decision of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to keep its oil price at $30 as a "temporary exception."

"Nigeria already owes $2 billion in short-term debt to commercial banks," said George Friesen, director of fuels at Chase Econometrics. "This situation is expected to get worse during the year."

The African nation, which produced about 1.4 million barrels per day of crude in 1982, owes $12 billion and needs to sell 1.6 million barrels a day to break even, Friesen said.

With oil sales accounting for 90 percent to 95 percent of its revenue, Nigeria "ran up a lot of debt last year and will probably have to do same this year," Friesen said.

Because the country's business climate is "unpleasant, banks are a little unwilling to lend. The question is whether Nigeria will be able to raise the capital it needs."

Mexico, with a foreign debt of $82 billion, will lose between $1.3 billion and $1.4 billion in oil income this year, the Mexican government said.

"If the oil price remains at $29, the Mexican situation will remain manageable," said analyst Richard Feinburg.

Chuck Wagon Meal Touch Of The Old West

Gone are the days of open range roundups, long cattle drives, and mealtime around the chuck wagon. Known as the central part of a camp on the move, the chuck wagon was not complete without a Dutch oven for preparing a long-simmered pot roast and biscuits.

Chuck Wagon Pot Roast combines the taste of the "Old West" with the easy preparation and cooking techniques of today. Prepared in an oven cooking bag, this chuck roast has a unique blend of Western flavors. Dried red peppers, garlic, nutmeg, cumin, sugar, salt, pepper and soy sauce produce an interesting taste sensation. Ensuring a tender end result, the oven cooking bag cooks a complete meal, including vegetables, with no messy cleanup. The gravy thickens in the bag, so last-minute preparation is eliminated. For an even quicker version this recipe can be prepared in the microwave oven. The oven cooking bag eliminates the need for a cover.

CHUCK WAGON POT ROAST

- 1/2 cup flour
- 1 cup (16 oz.) whole tomato... cut up
- 1 cup (8 oz.) beer
- 1 teaspoon instant beef bouillon
- 2 to 3 dried whole red peppers (Chiles Rojos Enteros) 1 to 1 1/2 inches long, (optional)
- 1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin

- 2 teaspoons sugar
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
 - 2 tablespoons soy sauce
 - 3 to 3 1/2 pound beef chuck pot roast, boneless
 - 4 potatoes, cut in quarters
 - 1 large onion, cut in eighths
- Preheat oven to 325°F. Shake flour in large size (14"x20") oven cooking bag. Place in 13x9x2-inch baking dish. Add tomatoes, beer and bouillon. Mix well in bag to dissolve flour. Under cold running water, remove stems and seeds from the peppers. Finely chop the peppers; place in small bowl. Combine peppers with spices, sugar, salt, pepper and soy sauce. Pour into bag. Trim roast. Place roast and vegetables in bag; turn bag gently several times to coat beef and vegetables. Close bag with nylon tie; make 6 half-inch slits in top. Cook 2 to 2 1/2 hours or until tender. To serve, spoon gravy from bag over pot roast. Makes: 6 servings.

Pot roast has a unique blend of flavors.

Sumptuous Dishes For Seder Meal

These are busy days for young brides and accomplished homemakers in Jewish households throughout the world. They are planning special dishes for a sumptuous Seder that marks the beginning of Passover.

Always a time for feasting, Passover this year begins at sundown March 28, as Jewish families and friends gather to celebrate the spirit of freedom and the exodus from Egypt of the Hebrews.

The table is set with the best of silver and china, flowers and candles. The wine will be at the ready for constant toasts to the eight days of celebration.

Favorite dishes range from entrees of turkey, capon, lamb and beef roasts to the traditional matzoh (soup nuts), carrot-honey tzimmes and, of course, a plethora of rich desserts.

ORANGE-CURRENT GLAZED ROAST TURKEY

- 2 tablespoons pareve margarine
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 can (13 3/4 ounces) chicken broth
- 5 matzohs, broken into 1-inch pieces
- 1 egg, beaten
- 4 oranges, peeled and sectioned, divided
- 1 large apple, seeded and chopped
- 1 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon rosemary
- 1/2 teaspoon leaf thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

1 frozen turkey breast (about 3 1/2 to 4 pounds) thawed

Orange-Currant Glaze
In large skillet, melt margarine; saute onion and garlic until tender. Add chicken broth and matzohs; stir until matzohs are softened. Blend in egg. Reserve sections from 1 orange for garnish. Gently stir remaining orange sections, apple, nuts, parsley, salt, rosemary, thyme and pepper into matzoh mixture.

Pull apart ribs of turkey. Fill with matzoh stuffing. Place aluminum foil over stuffing. Turn breast over onto rack in roasting pan. Stuff and truss neck cavity. (Extra matzoh stuffing may be baked in covered casserole during last half-hour of roasting.) Brush turkey breast with Orange-Currant Glaze. Repeat basting during roasting time. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of meat, avoiding bone. Roast in 350-degree oven 1 1/2 hours, until meat thermometer registers 185 degrees or until juices run clear when turkey breast is pierced with fork. Let rest 20 minutes before carving. Garnish with parsley, orange sections and carrot curls. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

Orange-Currant Glaze
1 jar (10 ounces) currant jelly
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
In small saucepan, combine jelly, juice and grated orange peel. Cook, stirring constantly, until jelly melts and mixture is smooth. Boil 1 to 2 minutes until mixture thickens slightly. Keep warm.

VIENNESE ORANGE- CHOCOLATE TORTE

- 8 eggs, separated
 - 1 cup sugar, divided
 - 2 squares (2 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate, melted
 - 1/4 cup orange juice
 - 1 teaspoon grated orange peel
 - 2 cups ground walnuts, divided
 - 1/2 cup matzoh cake meal
 - 1/2 cup potato starch
 - 2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
- Orange Filling Chocolate Glaze
In small bowl, combine egg yolks and 1/2 cup sugar; beat until thick and lemon-colored. Blend in melted chocolate, orange juice and grated peel. Mix together 1 cup ground nuts, matzoh cake meal and potato starch. Fold into yolk mixture. In large bowl, beat egg whites until foamy. Gradually add remaining 1/2 cup sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Gently fold yolk-nut mixture into meringue. Turn into an ungreased 10-by-4 1/2-inch tube pan. Bake in 350-degree oven 55 to 60 minutes. Invert pan and let hang to cool completely. Remove from pan. Slice cake in half horizontally. Spread Orange Filling + a evenly over bottom layer. Place second cake layer on top. Spread Chocolate Glaze + a + a over top of cake and garnish with remaining 1 cup ground nuts and orange sections. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 10 to 12 servings.

Orange Filling
1 jar (10 ounces) apricot preserves
2 oranges, peeled and sectioned
In small saucepan, melt apricot preserves, stir in orange sections. Cool 5 minutes.

Chocolate Glaze
1/2 cup orange juice
6 squares (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate
In small saucepan, heat orange juice just until boiling; remove from heat. Add chocolate, stir until melted and smooth. Cool 5 minutes.

Microwave Magic

Traditional Fare Fetes St. Patrick

A corned beef is a less tender cut of beef round or brisket which can be cooked in the microwave to tender doneness.

The long string-like fibers should be cut across the grain in thin slices. Reducing the power setting to 30-50% and adding water to the meat will result in a flavorful tender cut.

A corned beef brisket makes a delicious sandwich meat. Try adding a glaze after it is cooked for added flavor.

HONEY GLAZED CORNED BEEF

3 lb. corned beef round or brisket with seasoning packet
2 cups water

Glaze:

1 tablespoon honey
¼ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Place corned beef, contents of seasoning packet and water in 2 quart casserole. Cover tightly. Microwave 100% power for 7-10 minutes or until water starts to boil.

Reduce power to 50%. Microwave for 20 minutes per pound, turning meat over after half the cooking time. Let stand in liquid covered for 15 minutes.

Mix all glaze ingredients together in a glass measuring cup. Microwave at 100% power for 1-1½ minutes or until sugar melts. Remove corned beef from liquid.

Spoon glaze over meat. To serve, carve diagonally across the grain in thin slices.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY SPECIAL

3 lb. corned beef, round or brisket with seasoning packet

1½ cup water
1 medium head of cabbage, cut into sixths
Place corned beef, seasoning and water in 3 quart casserole. Cover tightly. Microwave 100% for 7 to 10 minutes or until water boils. Reduce power to 50% and microwave 30 minutes.

Turn meat over, add cabbage. Cover. Microwave 30 - 45 minutes or until cabbage is tender. Let stand, covered, 10 minutes.

Slice meat across the grain in thin slices. Three carrots and two large potatoes can be added at the same time as the cabbage. Cut the carrots in lengthwise strips and the potatoes in eighths.

A clay pot can be used to cook the corned beef. Soak the pot and lid in water, drain but do not dry. Then cook as directed in the recipe.

You can serve this with Irish Soda Bread:

IRISH SODA BREAD

1-2 tablespoons plain bread crumbs
2 cups all-purpose flour
1 cup raisins
1 tablespoon sugar
2 teaspoons baking soda

¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup buttermilk
1 egg, beaten

Topping:

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 tablespoons plain bread crumbs
1 tablespoon rolled oats
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon

Lightly butter 1 quart round casserole. Coat with 1 to 2 tablespoons crumbs. In medium bowl mix flour, raisins, sugar, baking soda and salt. Place 2 tablespoons butter in small bowl. Microwave at High 30 to 45 seconds, or until melted. Stir the melted butter, buttermilk and egg into flour mixture. Spread in casserole.

Place 1 tablespoon butter in small bowl. Microwave at High 30 to 45 seconds, or until melted. Stir in 2 tablespoons bread crumbs, the oats and cinnamon. Spread over top of bread. Place casserole in oven on inverted saucer. With sharp knife cut 1-inch deep "X" in top of bread. Microwave at 70% (Medium-High) 4½ to 9½ minutes, or until top springs back when touched lightly, rotating once or twice. Let stand 5 minutes. Remove from casserole. Serve immediately or cool with wire rack.

Makes 1 loaf.

Top off the meal with this Grasshopper Pie:

¼ cup butter or margarine
1¼ cups fine chocolate cookie crumbs
36 large marshmallows
½ cup milk
¼ cup green creme de menthe
3 tablespoons white creme de cocoa
1 cup chilled whipping cream

Place butter in 9 inch pie plate. Microwave at High 45 seconds to 1½ minutes, or until melted. Blend in cookie crumbs. Press onto bottom and up side of pie plate. Microwave at High 1 to 3 minutes, or until hot, rotating once or twice. Set aside.

In a 3 quart casserole or large bowl, combine marshmallows and milk. Microwave at High 3 to 5 minutes, or until marshmallows are melted, stirring often. Mix in creme de menthe and creme de cocoa. Refrigerate 1 to 2 hours, or until cool, stirring 2 or 3 times.

When marshmallow mixture is cool, beat whipping cream in chilled bowl at high speed until soft peaks form. Fold marshmallow mixture into whipped cream. Pour into prepared shell. Chill at least 3 hours or until set. Garnish with semi-sweet chocolate curls or additional chocolate cookie crumbs, if desired.

Makes 9 inch pie

Beanlest Soup is hearty, satisfying.

Main Dish Soup Easy On Budget

The French call it "savoir-faire;" we call it "know-how." That's all it takes to produce a first-rate dinner on a limited budget. And the results can be both tasteful and tasty.

The cook's most important decision, of course, is what to serve as the main dish. Anyone who knows his or her way around the kitchen probably will choose soup. A dignified dish with a good return on its investment, soup goes a long way and satisfies big appetites.

When soup is a main dish, it should be hot and hearty, thickly garnished with a variety of interesting ingredients and carefully seasoned with a subtle hand. Meeting those requirements is easy with the following recipe that is based on condensed soup, a penny-wise product to save cooking time.

For a distinctive dinner, there's a three-bean tureen of Beanlest Soup. Condensed tomato soup is the broth for pork & beans, kidney beans and white beans. Carrots, celery and chopped onion are added in the kitchen, along with marjoram and a little lemon juice. It is table-ready after simmering for 20 minutes.

BEANLEST SOUP

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sliced carrot
1 cup sliced celery
½ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon marjoram leaves, crushed
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed tomato soup
1½ soup cans water
1 can (16 ounces) pork and beans in tomato sauce
1 can (16 ounces) kidney beans, drained
1 can (16 ounces) white beans, drained
1 teaspoon lemon juice

In a large saucepan, in hot butter, over medium heat, cook carrot, celery and onion with marjoram until tender. Gradually stir in soup and water, stirring constantly. Heat to boiling; reduce heat to low. Simmer 20 minutes. Add remaining ingredients. Heat, stirring occasionally. Makes 9½ cups or 6 servings.

Malted milk was invented in 1882 or 1883 in Racine, Wisconsin, and was originally called "Dialoid."
