

C. E. Phillips Leads Fleming, 3-up, In Mayfair Finals

Golf Tournament Is Postponed Out Of Respect Of G. W. Spencer; Nine Win

By KENT CHETAIN
With Clarence Phillips leading E. A. "Gent" Fleming of Orlando, 3-up, at the end of the first 18 holes of the scheduled 36-hole championship, play off in the Fourth Annual Mayfair Invitational Golf Tournament at the Mayfair Inn Seminole Country Club, the tourney was postponed out of respect to G. W. Spencer, who died suddenly on the course last Saturday afternoon.

Spencer, a prominent local attorney and ranking Central Florida amateur who was the president of the Orlando Golfing Association, collapsed and died suddenly of a heart attack after chipping on to the 14th green Saturday afternoon.

The death of the 53-year-old golfer, who had been the men's champion of the Seminole Club on and off for the last 12 years, brought a postponement of yesterday's scheduled championship. Delays were bound to follow the two seminole finalists, Sanford's Phillips and Fleming.

Yesterday's round of the play-off between Eddie Bean, Washington, and Fred Jaeger of Daytona Beach was cancelled and Jaeger was awarded the medalist title by a flip of a coin Saturday.

The final 18-holes of the title round will be played at a later date convenient to both players, it was announced by honorary tournament chairman, Col. S. G. Harriman, last Saturday.

The 19-year-old Phillips, local trackster, playing superb golf, jumped out in front of Fleming by a 3-up margin at the initial turn and held fast to the bulge to wind up three holes in front. Fleming, who just didn't seem to have his best beginning, was four down at the end of 17th, but bounced back to win the 18th when Phillips flubbed a short putt.

Earlier Saturday all the final rounds and title winners were determined in the first five flights and five consolation brackets.

A. Kelley of Orlando won the first flight championship by defeating Fred Jaeger of Daytona Beach, 1-up.

Herb Smith, also of Orlando, won the second flight, which he defeated Harry Tooke of Sanford, 5 and 4.

In the third flight, Robert Billheimer was 3 and 2 victor over Hugh Whechel.

Albert Moore snared the fourth flight trophy when he tripped J. Williams, 2 and 1.

The fifth flight was won by Max Shandor, 7 and 6 winner over Ed Miller.

At the time of Spencer's death, he was playing with Carl Hubbard, famed New York Giant pitcher immortal, Eddie Bean of Washington and Maryland state champion and Ralph Bogart, also of Washington.

J. C. Dunn Is Named Card Pilot To Bring Local Roster Up To 14

Lions Will Still Go To State Tourney In Gainesville SHS Loses Finale

Two Seminole County basketball teams, Sanford and Oviedo, forged their way into the finals of their respective group state championships last Friday night.

With the signing of J. C. Dunn, 27-year-old long ball hitting outfielder-catcher, as the 1953 manager of the Sanford Cardinals, the local club now has a roster ready with 14 players filling all positions with the exception of guard, a shortcoming.

The other changes on the Cardinals are all rosters with organized baseball experience.

By placing Dunn at the helm of Sanford the list of eight pilots in the Florida State League is complete. An infantry veteran of World War II Dunn enters his fourth year in the St. Louis farm system.

Dunn broke into organized ball in 1949 after attending Southeastern College in Duran, Okla., for three and one-half years. In 1950 he still got a crack at the class C state championship since they were picked along with Anthony to go to the state high school championship finals in Gainesville this week.

Sanford, after whipping New Smyrna and Oviedo, went on to the Mighty Lions in Sandusky in the champion five games.

The Seminoles were not so fortunate as Oviedo. Sanford does not go to Gainesville this year due to the cancellation of Kennedy and the year of the 17th edition of the state tournaments.

For the third straight year

Sanford's coach, George Anthony, has been named Card Pilot.

Proposed Quiz Of Clergymen • Runs Into Snag

Proposal Of Velde Is Met With Stout Opposition From Committee Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Velde's proposal that the House Un-American Activities Committee search for Communists among the nation's clergymen ran into stiff opposition today from other committee members.

The Illinois Republican faced in recent weeks of criticism from three Washington churchmen who last night the committee may go into "the church field" in its hunt for Reds.

Kearney (R-NY), second ranking committee member, too no men, he disagrees violently with Velde's proposal. "I am absolutely opposed to it, and I am demanding that the subject be discussed fully by the committee," he said.

Rep. Walter O'Day, top unopposed member, announced that he will offer a resolution within the group to make committee approval necessary before any investigation can be made.

He said the move was aimed at preventing the committee chairman from undertaking probes on his own decision.

Kearney, Walter and other members said the committee has not considered the possibility of seeking out Communists among clergymen.

And Rep. Jackson (R-Cali.) and Rep. D. Tamm, other committee members, said "Velde was wrong."

Velde offered his proposal in a radio interview (Mutual). He said he couldn't tell at that time whether any probe "would be into some of the organizations which are affiliated with the various churches to

Lions Club Given Thanks From Witte For Election Help

Henry Witte Jr., Lion Club Dist. 30 president, thanked the Lions Club at the Yacht Club to day for making possible his election last May as governor and invited with pride to the achievements of Lions International, the club in Florida and District 30.

"Lions," he declared, "as you well know our club is in its 35th year and the youngest of the three service organizations in the country, yet we lagged with very little, if any, money and were potential chapter throughout the world."

Touring in the accomplishments of District 30, Mr. Witte continued, "We have a perfect record in paying both our state and International dues. We induced 39 new members during the past year when our quota was 62. This year Florida has the distinct pleasure of having the Lions International convention in Miami."

Concluding he said, "The concern for rapid growth and progress has been the think tank to the organizational help given each club and district by the International, the fellowship accrued from the club of men working in concert with each other and the service they render to their fellow man."

He requested the club to attend the installation next month of the Crystal River club, which is located on the West Coast in District 30.

"It is an important milestone for the Lions and will be come the 20th club in the state."

The Lions Club tentatively accepted an invitation to attend a joint party with the Deford club in Deford on Tuesday night, Mar. 24. It will be a dinner and dancing party at the Chamber of Commerce building and Legion Hall.

King Lion Ed McCall announced that the "Foothills" Miners' Village would be held Saturday March 24, for the benefit of the Lions Club. No admission will be charged for the mobile exposition, but contributions will be accepted with net proceeds going to the local club.

Jack Morrison, chairman of the youth activities committee, suggested the club write and thank the press for the fine publicity on the opening of the Lions Junior boy's camp at the City and Bill Hill Park. In particular, for re-furnishing the lakefront diamond.

Mr. Morrison announced that the Cubs defeated the Seminoles in the opener, 12-2, yesterday, and that the Giants and Red Sox play at the lakefront diamond this afternoon.

Bobo Mero Awarded Medal Posthumously

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — The medal has been awarded posthumously to Lt. Col. Wm. E. Bobo, Jr., N.Y. National Guard, who was killed on Sept. 1, 1952, while on a close air support mission near Misawa, North Korea, the 11th Naval District reported today.

The medal has been forwarded to Major General M. F. Ryan, U.S. Army Materiel Command, Fort Monmouth, N.J., who will present it to the widow, Mrs. E. Bobo, Jr., of Lake Orion, Mich.

Bobo was cited for completing 20 combat missions during 1952. He flew a P-51 Corsair from the Carrier Bon Homme Richard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mero of Lake Orion, Stanford, Mich.

Acceptance of the low-hail from the widow was made by Lt. Col. Wm. E. Bobo, Jr., of the 11th Naval District.

The widow, Mrs. E. Bobo, Jr., accepted the medal on behalf of her son, who was killed in a plane crash in Korea.

The legislature has designated the university as the site for a state medical school established but has not appropriated any funds to build it or put it into operation.

A special advisory committee has set a goal for an appropriation of $10 million to be started during the next two years and an additional seven million dollars a lay during the following four years.

Atty. Gen. Richard Evans, who held the law course originally at the university, said the legal profession is the best hope for the future.

He wrote that the Commission should ready to maintain streets within city limits, providing they are built according to specification.

According to City Manager Tom Lemons, the new VEC station is within one-half mile of the city limits and is being taken into the city limits. That means encompasses the section east of the new streets to the new station.

He indicated the City was facing a considerable loss in tax revenue because of the company's action in moving the station outside the city.

Last week Mayor Randal Chase wrote to V. Horace Conant, U.S. Congressman, concerning the road ahead should the new station be moved to the new station.

He indicated the City was facing a considerable loss in tax revenue because of the company's action in moving the station outside the city.

Dr. Russell Poor, Oak Ridge, Tenn., scientist who has had charge of the study, led the diverse group of students, including Dr. George Harrell, assistant director of research at the Bureau of Home and Family Education, Winston-Salem, N.C.

Dr. Poor and Dr. Harrell believe the medical school would not be able to attract patients, even though it is in a comparatively small city.

Meeting Is Held
By School Trustees

Seminole County school trustees made several recommendations leading to beautification of the grounds at the West Side School during a meeting yesterday evening in the Court House.

They also decided to remove old bleachers at the football field behind the high school.

Plans were also lined up for work which will be done during the summer at a number of the schools.

Mr. McIver, school superintendent, said that at the trustees' next meeting on April 8, county principals will be appointed for the 1953-54 school year.

Young Virginia has already inspected the FSU campus with her father, beamling silent approval of all she saw. She even visited the library, a room full of children's chairs at the age of two months, a twinkle in her eyes promising she would return in about 18 years.

After some discussion by the commissioners of the possibility of perhaps abandoning elaborate plant at the intersection, it was decided that modifications at this time do harm and not benefit the project.

Mayor Chase directed that the attorney draw up a suitable resolution thanking the state for their assistance.

John Pieron, Boy Scout chairman, asked the commissioners for permission to use the Municipal Stadium for a benefit game to be played by either two high school

TUESDAY MAR. 10, 1953

The American Legion's Seminole County Fair is one of the biggest and best yet.

Congratulations to Bill Kirk on his fine new building. There's lots of new construction going on around town these days.

There will be an Easter egg hunt on the White House lawn this Easter Sunday for the first time in 12 years. The country is finally getting back to normal.

Most of us don't know yet
whether to take this Malenkov seriously, but certainly the fear is growing that he is just another pain in the neck.

We were glad to see the Tampa Tribune pointing out the disgracefulness of our trash-littered highways in Florida and suggesting some new laws to cope with the problem. "Stiffer regulations and more effective enforcement are what we need if we are to make any progress in correcting conditions that are a menace to health and safety," says the Tribune. We don't know why laws should be necessary to keep some people from throwing beer bottles and paper bags out of car windows, but they are.

Everybody is applauding the gallant stand of the little old lady in Winter Park who is trying to protect some stately old oaks from a county road crew. "Everyone who has heeded the sacrifice of stately oaks and other trees in the name of progress or economy," says the Times Union, "will applaud the determined stand taken by the Winter Park woman to forestall similar destruction there." Someone long before 1953 wrote, "Oh, woodman spare that tree. Touch not a single bough. In youth it sheltered me and I'll protect it now."

Time magazine says Russia's new prime minister is not the kind of a man you would want to sit next to at a dinner table. "His face is pale, round and expressionless. His cheeks are flabby, his chin is double, but his eyes are hard as carbonium. His stiff black hair looks as if it had been pasted on.
He does not attempt to make himself agreeable. Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov is not what anyone could describe as a cuddly personality". But we'll go along with Secretary Dulles that any change at all from Stalin is a change for the better.

Florida State University is going to have a new auditorium. The old Westcott auditorium is going to be torn down early next month and a new one costing $465,000 with modern lighting and air-conditioning constructed in its place. The old building was erected over 40 years ago and was condemned in March of 1951 when cracks were discovered in its walls. The old structure had been built on the site of an even older college dormitory constructed in 1857 and in recent years trenches have been discovered beneath it which are believed to have been used in early Indian fighting.

You may be enjoying longer weekends in the near future if bills being introduced in 34 state legislatures are approved, according to the World Calendar Association. The idea is to have all legal holidays fall on Monday, to have only four of them, and to limit all other holidays. Thus, at least four times a year there would be a long over-Monday holiday. And what is more important, according to the Association, there would be fewer devastating interruptions of business and industry in the middle of the week as now often results from the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, and other great occasions.

G. W. Spencer

The sudden death of G. W. Spencer from a heart attack
Saturday afternoon while playing golf at the Seminole Country Club comes as a distinct shock to the entire community. Always as active in civic affairs as he was in sports, his passing comes in the prime of life and at the very peak of his usefulness.

Mr. Spencer was a product of a pioneer Sanford family and was a descendant of John Hughey who came here in 1846 and to whom a memorial was dedicated just last week.
Though born in Waycross, Ga., Mr. Spencer was brought by his family to Sanford before he was one year old and was always regarded as a native son.

A graduate of the University of Florida, he starred in baseball while there and was a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Hanging up his shingle in Sanford in 1923, he soon became associated with George A. DeCotes and thereafter his rise in his profession was rapid. He early distinguished himself for his work in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and in organizing the first Sanford Golf Club.

In more recent years he has been president of the Rotary Club, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, and at the time of his death was vice president of the State Golf Association and president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Throughout all this time he has been one of the most active members of the Seminole Country Club and in the general promotion of golf in Seminole County.

His interest in golf, in which more than once he was rated as local champion, was equalled, if not exceeded by his love of hunting and fishing, and he was instrumental in organizing one of the more exclusive hunting clubs in this vicinity, and during the late spring and early summer could usually be found, when business did not interfere, at his favorite fishing haunts on the east coast.

His untimely passing is a great loss to the community and his place will be hard to fill.

Patience Needed

Some of the most severe critics of the United Nations are people who hailed it at the end of World War II as the long awaited instrument which would banish war forever.
They point out that the UN has been unable to end the cold war between the communist and the democratic countries on the diplomatic front, or the shooting war in Korea. They also point out that Russia has often used the United Nations machinery to frustrate the efforts of the free world to work together.

Defenders of the UN would be foolish to maintain that the organization has been one-hundred per cent successful.
There is too much evidence to the contrary. But in the short time it has existed the UN has accomplished several worth while ends. The various agencies which operate under its auspices have helped spread education and culture in many parts of the world and in matters of world health the UN has done a great deal of useful work.

Despite the opposition of the Communists the UN has taken a firm position in Korea and has established a precedent for the idea that free countries have a right to cooperate to halt aggression.

The present structure of the UN is far from perfect.
It can never be completely successful until all the member nations desire to see it become stronger and more effective.
But despite its faults it is a start. If the faith of the people of the world in the UN can be sustained there may come a time when it will fulfill the dream of those who saw it at the outset as a way to peace for all countries. In the meantime patience will be needed.

No Oblivion For Adlai

It is reported that a group of people interested in furthering the career of Adlai E. Stevenson are urging him to change his place of residence from Illinois to California so that he can be a candidate for the Senate from that State in 1954.

Stevenson, while acknowledged as the titular head of the Democratic party, is hampered by the fact that he does not hold any public office. As a Senator he would be in the public eye and would be able to keep a firmer hand on the activities of his party. He has already said that he would not run for the Senate in 1954 in opposition to Senator Paul Douglas from Illinois. Douglas is highly regarded by Illinois Democrats and has an enviable record in the Senate.

The idea of using the California senatorial race as a springboard for Stevenson's re-entrance into the national political picture might not set so well with Californians.
Senators are elected to perform the will of their constituents.
They are expected to be familiar with the problems of the state they represent and many voters might resent the idea that a newcomer to their state would immediately seek high office. If Stevenson should be defeated in the California race it would almost certainly mean the end of any hopes his followers might have for his nomination for the presidency in 1956.

It is significant, however, that despite his defeat he has retained a large and devoted following. Defeated presidential aspirants sometimes sink into oblivion but it looks very much as if there'd be no oblivion for Adlai.

Editor,

Sanford Herald:
Hunt's Tuxedo Feed Store at the corner of Sanford Avenue and Second Street wishes to make the following statement concerning feed furnished for the Fair: We were not contacted by anyone concerning feed for the stock at the Fair.

I understand that the person in charge of that part said that he could not find anyone who was interested, but he did not contact Hunt's Tuxedo Store at all. Should we have done so, we would have been glad to have furnished the feed. The Sanford firm which took the responsibility for furnishing the feed for the stock, instead of coming to us—which was only one block away and asking our cooperation concerning the feed—went to an out-of-town concern and bought the feed.

When I learned this, I offered to furnish half of the feed free of charge to the farmers and also to him but he said the deal had already gone through.

At any time, I can cooperate with our friends and customers, I stand ready and glad to do so.

Hog Farms Using Raw Garbage Put Under Quarantine

ORLANDO (UPI)—All hog farms in the state which use raw garbage are under quarantine today in a move to halt the spread of the disease swine vesicular exanthema.

The Florida Livestock Sanitary Board ordered the quarantine at a meeting here Monday.

Operators feeding their pigs raw garbage may not move them off their premises until they have been checked by state veterinarians, Dr. D. C. Vickers said, the state veterinarian, said.

Raw garbage includes discarded food coming from restaurants and eating places. Even though garbage coming from restaurants had been cooked for human consumption, Dr. Vickers said, it must be cooked on the farm to kill bacteria.

In other actions, the board quarantined hog shipments in Bay County, lifted a quarantine on Brevard County, and announced that quarantining of certain premises in Washington, Suwannee and Osceola Counties is continuing.

The board won a victory in court here when Circuit Judge Terry B. Patterson dissolved a temporary

Sanford Trades Imbra Off And Sells Parise For $300

Cards Get Limited Service Catcher; Cavallaro Balks, Byrd Set To Sign

By KENT CHETLAIN
It took two attempts at peddling veterans Johnny Imbra and Joe Parise, but the Sanford Cardinals finally succeeded much to their advantage.

General Manager Jim Fields announced today the completion of the transaction which was a .307 hitting flier, however, Joe Parise, going to the Class C Rock Hill, Tenn., club for $300 cash and flashy fielding Imbra, a .302 hitter last year, going to the same team for a limited service catcher, Bill Silverthorne of Orlando.

Originally, the Cards sold Imbra for $100 and Parise for $200 to the Atlanta club of the Georgia State League, but the deal fell through two weeks ago when the Jesup club appeared ready to fold with the league.

This left the Sanford club free to negotiate another deal for the pair of unwanted veterans. It was no secret that Jax Beach was highly desirous of Imbra's services, particularly after their deal with Rock Hill failed to land Chico Fournier because of a managerial mix-up last month.

However, Cardinal officials were not anxious to ship Imbra away to a club in the Florida State League where the temperamental keystone sacker could hurt Sanford with amazing mitt and hard hitting.

Rock Hill's reluctance was conditioned on the condition that it was assumed that it was on Parise's willingness to report, Imbra was dealt outright for an unknown quantity, Silverthorne. The latter participated in 25 games with Rock Hill last year after being discharged from the service. No available data on his record was included in the sale.

"We did ourselves better," Fields commented, "in this swap and sale. Before we were only getting $300 cash, now we get the $300 plus a limited service catcher."

Meanwhile, Fields revealed that Murray Byrd, Sanford pitching workhorse last year, had tentatively come to terms with the Cards as a result of Murray Byrd—Cavallaro a phone conversation Monday night.

Fred Cavallaro, 237 hitting outfielder who was released by the Seminole Blues after last season talked at signing the first contract sent to him by the Cards. The plucky Cavallaro informed Fields by wire that some major league club had made him a solid offer, but he had not yet signed.

In the big day of news from the Cardinal front office, another announcement was made stating that a clown would appear in Sanford to entertain fans at the park sometime in July. The clown is W. "Booch" Coerde of Moosup, Conn. He will be an added attraction for the fans to the Cardinal games.

The acquisition of Silverthorne increases the Sanford catching staff from two to three. The other two are rookies William Gleel, 19, and Charlie Shew, 19, and former Byrd and Silverthorne plus newly signed Manager J. C. Dunn, the Cards now have 16 players on their roster.
