Falling Mercury Due In This Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This winter's first cold front covered North Florida with light frost and near freezing temperatures today but spared the central section with its citrus and truck vegetables. Temperatures in the 40s had been forecast for Central Florida but the cold front slowed and stayed up north. Sanford recorded a balmy 64 at 5 a.m. It was 63 at Daytona.

A shivery 31 put a light coat of frost on the grass at Pensacola but a good sleeping weather in Jacksonville at 40.

However, the weatherman said the front would dip into middle Florida early in the morning with readings in the mid 40s.

No frost was forecast in Central Florida but frost was expected in northern areas.

George Taber, chairman and president of the Glen St. Mary Nursery near Maclesney, said the important money crops of peaches and pears probably would not suffer much damage as long as the temperature decrease remained gradual.

But, he warned, "The fruit blooms are out early, and a real cold blast might get half the crop."

Early blooming oranges and mandarin as well as lilies and other spring flowers in North Florida were reported endangered more by the gradual cooling.

Girl Suspect Captured Two Troopers, Gunman Slain

MEDIA, Pa. (AP) — A 19-year-old woman was in custody today following a series of gun battles in which her male companion and two state troopers were fatally wounded.

Marilyn Dobrolenski of Toledo, Ohio, was turned over to Pennsylvania authorities after waiving extradition in Centerville, Md.

Her companion, Irving R. Hogg, 30, also of Toledo, and two Delaware state troopers, Ronald L. Carey, 29, and David C. Yarrington, 24, were killed during a three-state chase that began following a motel holdup near Wilmington, Del.

Shortly after Wednesday's holdup troopers summoned to the scene trailed a car to another motel just inside the Pennsylvania line.

Carey was killed during a shootout with a couple there and Yarrington, who suffered a head wound, died early today following surgery at a Wilmington hospital.

Hogg was shot to death after Maryland state police spotted the couple near Church Hill, Md.

Police said they found a 12-gauge shotgun inside an automobile abandoned by the couple. Also recovered was a .45-caliber automatic pistol and a .22-caliber sawed-off rifle.

The couple had eluded police and FBI agents following another shootout on a farm a few miles east of Chester, Pa.

Authorities said Mrs. Dobrolenski will face a number of charges in connection with the incidents. She also is wanted in connection with motel robberies in Michigan and Ohio, they added.

DEVOTEES OF BHATI-YOGA Members of the International Society for Krishna Consciousness, chanting "Hare Krishna," converged on Sanford this morning, coming from Winter Garden. The sect preaches love of God through self purification.

Cole Murder Trial Opens On Monday

Trial begins Monday in the case of Dock (Mississippi) Cole, charged with first degree murder.

Cole, 54-year old resident of Midway, is charged in the Aug. 30 shooting death of J. C. Cummings, 69, another Midway resident. Cole was arrested after an intensive investigation which initiated with the discovery of Cummings' body on the General J. C. Hutchinson Parkway, near the entrance to Big Tree Park by Deputy William Hogg.

Cummings was found slumped over in his car. Subsequent investigation disclosed he had been shot in the head five times with a .25 caliber pistol.

Also on Monday two cases are set for acceptance of pleas by Circuit Judge William Alkridge. Entering a plea will be James Lee III, who is charged with possession of marijuana on Oct. 15 in the vicinity of Sanford water plant No. 2. George Prosser, and William Miller also were charged in the same incident but the state dropped charges against these two on Dec. 30.

Manford Snook Jr. will enter a plea to two counts of breaking and entering a building on Uppala Road owned by Leo Tropanier on Oct. 19 with intent to commit a felony, larceny of a motor vehicle.

The second count alleged that the defendant on the above date stole a 1968 pickup truck.

'Scenic Wekiva' Delegation's Goal

By DONNA ESTES

Preservation of the Wekiva as a scenic or wild river is the goal of the delegation of four Seminole County men who will attend a state cabinet meeting in Tallahassee Tuesday.

Harold Rowland, secretary of the Wekiva River citizens advisory committee, said he is confident the project to save the river will be successful. But, he said, Tuesday's appearance before the state cabinet is only the first step in seeing the project accomplished.

Set to attend the Tallahassee meeting with Rowland are County Administrative Assistant Rodney Laver, Sheriff John Polk and John Kinder of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Rowland said two other counties, in addition to Seminole, are involved in attempting to have various rivers preserved. These are Orange and Lake and both counties have been urged to send representatives to Tuesday's meeting.

The state's division of recreation and parks is proposing an entire system of scenic and or wild rivers.

The plan is to have the river preserved in its existing state. After this special designation in the federal and state programs, legislation would be passed on the state level appropriating funds to clean the stream to some extent so that it would be navigable, and then keep it clean and free of pollution.

But the major effort is to ban further development along the shores by creating a buffer zone on either side of the river.

Rowland points out the state did include the Wekiva in its canoe trails but that all this meant was that the river is advertised as being part of the state system.

Following cabinet approval of the "wild or scenic river" concept, which Rowland is optimistic will be forthcoming and after the state money is appropriated, ways and means of acquiring the property along the river bank will be formulated. Members of the Wekiva citizens committee to save the wild rivers include designated commissioners and citizens from each of the three counties. Seminole's representatives include County Commission Chairman Greg Drummond and Vice Chairman Sidney L. Vilhen Jr.

Koscot Sued For Millions

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Koscot Interplanetary Inc., an Orlando-based cosmetic, hair-fashion and clothing business, has been sued for $10 million by 12 of its Connecticut employees who charge it with fraudulent representations.

The suit, filed recently in U. S. District Court, says Koscot and its subsidiaries have been conducting "gold-coin Opportunity Meetings" in Connecticut for the purpose of setting up a "complex multi-level distributor program" in market products and establishing a sales work.

During these meetings, the suit charges, Koscot representatives made false representations to the company's supervisors and distributors, who are plaintiffs in the suit.

Mark Elman Charged With Murder

By BILL SCOTT

Mark Elman, accused in the Sunday murder of his 63-year-old wife, Ruth Elman, was removed from his Seminole Memorial Hospital room today and lodged in the county jail.

Elman is charged with firing three bullets into his wife's body. He then tried to commit suicide by slashing his wrists with a knife and taking an overdose of drugs.

He has been hospitalized under guard since Sunday morning when Sanford police entered his trailer home at Elm and 26th Street and found the bleeding man sitting in a chair.

His wife's body was found in a pool of blood in the mobile home bedroom.

Police Chief Ben Butler said Elman signed a confession admitting he shot his wife in an abortive murder-suicide attempt.

Foreman for the grand jury is State Attorney Investigator Jack Fulenwider said today that Sanford charges Elman with first degree murder.

Fulenwider said he would present the case to the grand jury Monday for possible indictment.

Moon Buggy Needed?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Space expert Wernher von Braun predicted today the moon will be colonized — and a baby born there — within the next 29 years.

"I'm convinced that before the year 2000 is over, the first child will be born on the moon," said Von Braun, deputy associate administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Schools Consider 45-15 Plan

Seminole County Schools Housing Study Committee meeting Wednesday night approved a plan to develop a model study of the extended school year plan (45-15) and present it to the housing committee the first week in April.

The committee, which was named by Supt. Angel to study the problem of too many school rooms and too few classrooms, will evaluate the study before making a final recommendation to the school board on ways to handle the county's student load.

Among the options open to the board to resolve classroom overcrowding is the extended year-round school, which has already been implemented in Teague Middle and Eastbrook Elementary School in the South Seminole area due to cramped quarters this year.

Closely Guarded Secret

By MARION BETHEA

The Seminole County grand jury will convene for the fall term on Monday. Cases to be heard by this body are among the most closely guarded in the court annals, and deliberations are held in utmost secrecy.

Eighteen veniremen comprise the list of those hearing cases presented by the state attorney on Monday.

Foreman for the grand jury is Therria Rogers, Mattland, and vice-foreman is Margaret Collins, Casselberry. Clerk is Helen Howe, Sanford.

Other jurors are Cecil Bard Jr., Morris Beedle, Max Deter, Dorothy Grohs, James Jackson, William Johnson, Casey Jones, James Jordan, Ole Mae Kelly, Sigmund Lee Seckinger, Robert Speer, G. Leslie Swann Sr., Anna Webb, Inez Huskins and Clarence Willey.

NEW YORK (AP) — A grand jury estimates that "almost a billion dollars went down the drain" through cheating, waste and "completely disorganized" supervision in New York City's administering of the Medicaid program.

The grand jury findings, based on a two-year investigation by the Manhattan district attorney's office, were released Wednesday by state Supreme Court Justice Jacob A. Surot.

The report described cases of dishonest doctors, doctors extracting teeth unnecessarily, pharmacies short-changing patients, and nursing homes billing the city for the care of patients who had died or been discharged.

First Federal To Pay State Tax On Savings

The state intangible tax on savings accounts at First Federal Savings and Loan Association Seminole County, will be paid by the firm, according to its executive vice president, I. E. Estridge III.

When confronted with this ruling, Estridge said he knew how disappointed the holders of savings accounts would be, since they presumed that they would not be called on for this assessment after 1971.

A news release from Tallahassee informed holders of savings accounts that the intangible tax on them will have to be paid. The abolition of the tax does not become effective until after July, according to Willian Reed, of the state intangible tax division.

Intangible

Tallahassee, Fla. (AP) — The Department of Revenue today said that intangible taxes on cash savings must be paid for 1972.

Reed of the department's Intangible Tax Division said there has been considerable confusion over whether the tax must be paid because the Legislature has passed a law repealing it.

He pointed out that the law passed during the December special session doesn't become effective until July 1, therefore the 1972 tax must be assessed on savings as of Jan. 1.

Reed said the tax is assessed on savings as of Jan. 1.

As in years past First Federal - Seminole will pay the state intangible tax on the savings entrusted to us. This will in no way reduce the top bracket interest earnings on our savers' accounts.

One of the most challenging areas for mechanics who will be working on the three-liter Alfa Romeo is keeping that over-head engine alive for as much as 34 hours without breaking. These engines have been used primarily for 200 mile Grand Prix events and are not able to stand up to endurance racing in their present state. Compression is high and the cams are super-hot and basically the engine is designed to turn over 100 RPM for a short period. These Cosworth-designed Ford engines are extremely expensive and have performed very well in Grand Prix Competition.

The question is, can they do the job in an endurance event? The answer is yes. With some work on the engine to insure that it runs in endurance, the 400 horsepower Cosworth Ford might just give Ferrari something to think about this year.

At the beginning of the 1960's a car owner wanted power, performance and handling, he looked across the sea to our European neighbors for help. Then with the advent of the Shelby, Cobra and Mustang along with the Corvette as well as several other American makes, you could look to Detroit for some of the finest handling cars around. Such as the Z-28 Camaro, the Boss 302 Mustang and the 340 Dodge Demon as well as the Plymouth Duster.

These are only some of the American cars that represented speed, power and fine handling. Looking around today I would have to admit some of today's examples are pale in comparison to what was being built just a few years ago. We may have to start looking to Europe and Japan if we want a car with any spirit at all in just a few years. The wheel is not the car that's dangerous it's the man behind the wheel. In a sports car a good driver doesn't become a mazzini. If he's a bad driver he will be that no matter what he's driving.

Bobby Unser set an unofficial record of 390.2 miles per hour at tests of the new Osceola-Eagle at Osceola Motor Speedway. Hard luck Bob has suffered from lack of the breaks since his win of the Indianapolis 500 several years back. Bob has been overshadowed by his brother Al of late. Al has proved this in competition every time he has been able to stay in one piece.

U. S. Auto Club racing will be an incredible spectacle this year with the highlights of the year, Bobby Unser will be out there in a Dan Gurney-prepared Eagle and if all goes well you can expect to find him in the winners circle more than once.

The Daytona 500 this year promises to be a race of some what international proportions. Looking at the National stars, American road racers, you can expect to see some of the finest 2.5 mile tri-oval. I hope that NASCAR will adopt some more reasonable method of controlling speed this year than carburetor jets.

I hope that NASCAR will adopt some more reasonable method of controlling speed this year than carburetor jets.

Do you realize that the Daytona 500 ranks with the Indy 500 and the 24 Hours of Le Mans as one of the three or four premier events in all of auto racing? If you haven't seen this unbelievable spectacle, then by all means, make it a point to go to Daytona to see the highlights of the year. Bobby Unser will be out there in a Dan Gurney-prepared Eagle and if all goes well you can expect to find him in the winners circle more than once.

The first weekend in February will mark the beginning of the racing season at Daytona with a major Formula Vee event with competitors from all over the world. Then there will be a midnight starting time for a GT race for Camaro, Mustang, Corvette, Javelin and other competitors. The event will be over to make and will feature some real close racing among some of the top GT racers in the country.

Finally, the six hour Daytona Continental will cap off the weekend festivities with Ferraris, Lotus, Corvettes, Alfas, Homos and other competitors racing over the 2.5 mile road course with the distinct possibility that Ferrari will not walk off with this event as some folks have predicted. The race may be full of surprises for lots of people. Last year's 24 hour race was not decided until the final moments which is incredible for a race of that duration. Although the event has been surprising this year, it will still be an extremely exciting race to watch. This year it is now the second race in the World Manufacturers Championship series, the first race taking place in Argentina in January. You can expect competitors such as McLaren, Jackie Ickx and Peter Revson. Mike Elton Dick Smithers is a possible applicant in this race.

Don't forget the upcoming 500 mile from Riverside which will give us a sneak preview of what to expect at February at Daytona.

I almost forgot to mention a really fine event which will take place in mid-February this year. The annual ARCA 500 has grown into a real fine show, and this mid-west stock car organization does a grand job at putting together this event. Drivers you can expect to find in the ARCA race include Ramo Stott and Red Farmer among others. Benny Parsons raced on the ARCA circuit for years before he switched to NASCAR. I can hardly wait until the action starts!!!

McMillen, Maryland Top Burleson, NCS

North Carolina State hit a home run Wednesday night that accomplished two things. It kept the Wolfpack without a field goal for nine solid minutes and it allowed 12th-ranked Maryland to erase a 21-13 deficit and salvage an 83-70 college basketball victory in the only contest involving a team in the Associated Press Top 20.

North Carolina State built up its lead until 11:15 remained in the first half. Maryland then surmounted the deficit, 74-73 on a 23-point lead in the second half. Sophomore Tom McMillen paced the winners with 22 points while North Carolina State's star sophomore, Fred O'burgh 32-96.

Tom Burleson scored 18 points. Clarence's terrific shooting in the second half ended a close game as the Tigers downed Georgia Tech 66-57 as Dave Anderson led the victors with 21 points.

Geoff Doyle snapped a tie with a driving layup with 56 seconds remaining as the Holy Cross slipped to Syracuse 69-63 and Richie O'Connor hit Duke's individual season high of 26 points as his team damped Virginia Tech 63-72.

Furman raced past the Citadel 101-86 behind a fast break and rigid man-to-man defense and John Sonegy earned 20 points while North Carolina State's star sophomore, Fred O'burgh 32-96.

Holiday Layoff Affects Play Raiders Top Rollins In Over-Time Play

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
WINTER PARK — Looking like anything but the state's fifth ranked junior college basketball team, the semi-pro Junior Raiders posted a 101-94 over-time win over the Rollins "93" squad last night.

The Raiders got off to a slow start due to the fact that they had been out of action for two weeks over the holidays.

After overtime as much as an eight-point lead in the first half, the Raiders came back and tied the score and then put a six-point margin on the board. But the stubborn Raiders charged back to make a see-saw battle of the contest, and tied the game to send it into the overtime period.

The Raiders led 49-42 at the half but couldn't maintain that lead as the Raiders couldn't find the range from the floor in the second half. Seven minutes into the second half, the Raiders had only 32-30 remaining in the game.

These sports fans who relish high school and college wrestling are in for a real treat. If they show up at the Lyman High School Gym on Saturday night, Lyman's unbeaten wrestling team (24-0) will open the action Saturday night in what amounts to a "preliminary" bout to a match between Florida Tech's mat team and John Carroll University.

Another Lyman grappler has yet to taste defeat but at the same time has yet to actually meet an opponent. Bruce Tillis, the 165 pounder has won both of his matches by forfeit. And then there's Jim Brinker, the Lyman 170 pound sophomore who transferred from Peach High School in Atlanta, has won both of his matches by decisions.

The first was a 5-0 win over a grappler from Ft. Lauderdale Stranahan High School. Hill is showing his prowess on the wrestling canvas as he has posted two wins in impressive fashion. He opened with a 14-6 win and followed it up with a second period pin.

Mizellaneous: Basketball On The Upswing

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
The University of Florida has been a "football school" since the days of the flying wedge. Next to it, basketball is operated on mere pennies.

Relatively second-rate talent, second-rate interest, and a gym that stands in the way of the two-hand set shot practically put the roundball Gators in an athletic grave.

For two seasons, Jacksonville University and Florida State rightfully dominated top-of-page headlines. The Dolphins and Seminoles may well have handled Boys from Old Florida with their second strings.

Times have changed.

The Gators are winning, the fans are flocking to the campus matches, they call Florida boys. With its football back in late, maybe the Gators had better try to change their luck.

A surprising victory over Alabama last Monday night improved the Gator record to 7-1. Florida leads the Southeastern Conference at 1-4. Coach Tommy Bartlett, one of the world's last remnants, is admittedly "kicked" with it.

The Alabama triumph was accomplished despite the loss of Tony Miller, an outside burner with 25-point scoring potential. The breakage, however, suffered in the Gator Bowl Tournament will sideline Miller for most of January.

"We've done so seven red players," said Bartlett. "I can sound like hogwash to credit pride and character, but it's absolutely true. The players have responded to our every challenge. The 5-foot-7 Bartlett was hired five years ago to replace Norman Sloan. His first Gator team overall budget.

"We began practicing at 6 a.m. Oct. 15," he said. "We awoke them at 5, practicing from 6 until 8 and then went to breakfast together in the training room. That went on for 10 days. It seemed to breed togetherness."

Florida Gym, home of the Gators, has twice rocked with full houses at 4:30 this season. It's still not a pretty face in the world of basketball arenas, but at least some of the sores have been covered up.

"We've got air conditioning now," said Bartlett, "and there's a new drop ceiling. The ceiling is painted yellow and orange with a white border." When the Gators whipped Army at New York's Madison Square Garden earlier this season, the husky little coach looked up to see a false ceiling of yellow, orange and white.

"I told the boys, just think, the only places they've got a ceiling like that is at Madison Square Garden and at Florida Gym."

Bartlett — and Sloan before him — served for years for a new gymnasium. "We're pleased with the improvements at the old place, but hope for the best for the new one."

Amvets Post 17 22

The top spot in the Westside Junior Boys basketball league still belongs to McCoy's Cleaners, who overwhelped the Amvets 74-32 in their first game last week.

Ruben Cotton equaled the point total of the losing team in this game as he ripped for 32 tallies. Kenneth Bartlett added 19 and Charlie Harris 11 while Henry Giehrst and Nate White each had six points for the winners.

Donnell Giehrst was high for the Amvets with his 21 points followed by Willie Brown 18, eight, Richard Williams seven, Bennie Strawter four and Derwin Whitney two.

David Jones of the losing market team was the high point man in the game with his 15 markers. Other scorers for the Amvets were Randy Harvey and Johnny Lewis with five each, Anthony McIntyre with three and Jeffrey Woods and Mike Jones two each.

For the first time in many weeks McCoy's failed to top the 70 point mark but they were early victors never the less, defeating Daniels' Service Station, 62-31 in their meeting.

And for one of the few times this season, if not the first, Ruben Cotton was not the leading point manufacturer for the McCoy team. Kenneth Bentley took away the high point honors in this game as he tallied 25 points. Cotton wasn't far behind, sending 21 points through the nets. Other scorers were William Frederick with 11, and Nate White and Henry Giehrst four points each.

Leon Jenkins led the Daniels scoring again, dumping in 18 points in a losing effort. Other scorers for the Amvets were Jones with five, and Dennis Harris and Alvin Sweet with four each.

George Allen Is Named 'Coach Of The Year'

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — It's not that George Allen isn't grateful. It's just that George Allen is... well, George Allen.

"I'd gladly trade the honor for a victory over San Francisco," Allen said Wednesday when told he had been named the National Football League Coach of the Year by The Associated Press.

He referred to his Washington Redskins' 24-20 loss to the San Francisco 49ers in a National Conference playoff game. The loss ended Washington's chances of going to the Super Bowl following their best season since 1945 when they won the world championship.

The 49-year-old Allen moved to Washington a year ago from the Los Angeles Rams. He then began a stream of trades that built the Redskins from an also-ran to a contender.

"The future is now," Allen proclaimed on Jan. 7, 1971.

"There is nothing like winning," he said frequently.

Allen's first acquisition as coach-president of the Redskins was Billy Kilmer, who was to back up starting quarterback Sonny Jurgensen. In preparation, Jurgensen was injured in preseason. Kilmer took over in his first five games.

The big trade was with the Rams, a massive deal that saw Allen obtain what turned out to be the nucleus of his "Over-the-Hill Gang" defensive unit: linebackers Myron Pottis and Jackie Diron Talbert, plus three other players and a draft pick.

To the Rams went seven draft picks.

Allen, who posted a 49-17-4 record in five years with the Rams, had to overcome the injuries of Jurgensen and wide receiver Charley Taylor, who missed the last eight games.

Allen pulled 23 of the 60 votes cast by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters, easily outdistancing Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins and Ed Khayat of the Philadelphia Eagles, who tied for second with eight votes apiece.

John Mauer of the New England Patriots received three votes. Bud Grant of Minnesota and Tommy Prothro of Los Angeles got two apiece and Don McCafferty of Baltimore, Tom Landry of Dallas, J. D. Roberts of New Orleans and Dick Schick of Cleveland received one vote each.

Frazier, Daniels Ready

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier put in about six rounds Wednesday and challenger Terry Daniels did 17 in preparation for their Jan. 15 title bout here.

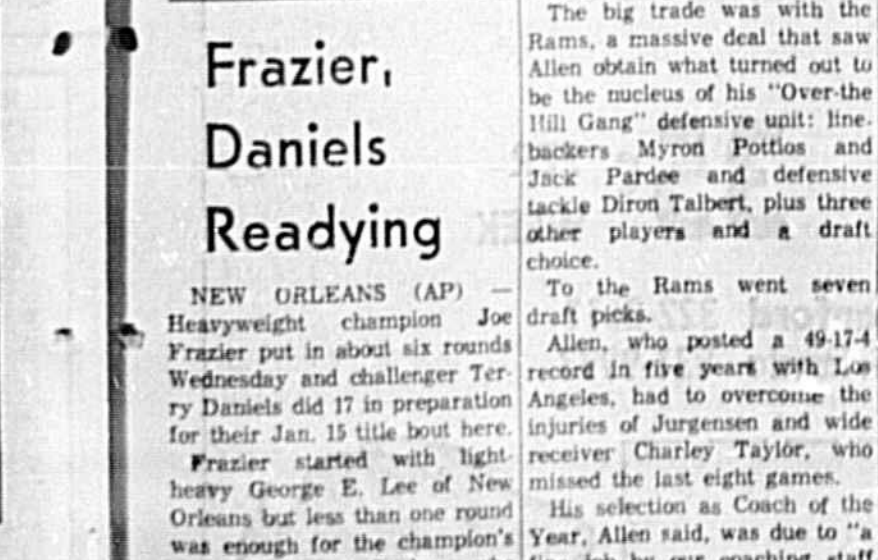

Frazier worked with light-heavyweight Sonny Moore who managed Yusef Darham, who figured Frazier needed more competition.

Frazier and Ray Anderson of Akron, Ohio, then went at each other for three spirited rounds in the French Quarter penthouse gym.

Frazier worked up the day with two rounds against heavy-weight Mike Bowell of Youngstown, Ohio.

Daniels worked 17 rounds, four of them against Texas heavyweight Sonny Moore who continued to imitate Frazier's boxing style.

Ronnie Wright, the challenger's trainer, said Daniels "looked like a professional" after the workout that he did Tuesday.

Florida signed the state's top player, Todd Lulich of Jacksonville Parker High, three years ago and Bartlett wound up giving him the best for disciplinary reasons. Lulich transferred to Ohio University.

Slippy Lewis, a Jacksonville standout, signed with Florida's football team. He never played a varsity minute due to a hum ankle and developmental setbacks.

Clifford Cox, a superior prospect from Deland, that one also ended with the Gator coach giving the kid the best last season as a junior. Bartlett wouldn't sign Cox as a troublemaker.

"Some of our problems a year ago were that we had a couple of men playing for themselves instead of the team. We actually had more talent then, but not as much determination. We also had a pair who kept trying to settle their personal differences on the court."

"You get the feeling that Bartlett now feels the dead wood has been chopped away. As far as being a basketball manager, I think Bartlett is a football coach. He's got air conditioning down, worry about it. He knows big grid crowds help the

Cavaliers Upset Bid Fails; Lakers Post 32 Straight

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Cavaliers coach Bill Fitch, who was victim No. 23 in the incredible victory streak of the Los Angeles Lakers, says the Lakers will meet their "strongest challenge" in their next two games.

Atlanta, the Lakers' next opponent, "has a strong front line," he said, and the Milwaukee Bucks have Kareem Jabbar.

"It will be a real challenge to Bill (Chamberlain). If they get by the Bucks, the Lakers will be the greatest team ever," said Fitch.

The Cavaliers lost 111-103 to the Lakers Wednesday night in a crowd of 11,178—the largest crowd ever at the Cleveland Arena for a Cavs game.

In addition to Los Angeles, the NBA's three other division leaders won Wednesday night.

Milwaukee, in first place in the Midwest Division, beat Cincinnati 115-106. Boston, caretaker in the Atlantic Division, rallied for a 110-105 victory over Houston, and Baltimore, atop the Central Division, crushed Detroit 111-89.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Chicago walloped Philadelphia 139-107, and Seattle took Atlanta 127-116.

Lakers coach Bill Sharran said Chamberlain, who scored 10 points and grabbed 16 rebounds was "above a superstar tonight."

Fitch agreed that it was Chamberlain who turned the game around when it looked as though the Cavaliers might pull out from under.

"He was brilliant in and Jim McMillin, who wound up with 23 points, led the game-winning rally.

Gail Goodrich and Jerry West were not far behind McMillin with 21 and 25 points, respectively, for the Lakers. Happy Hairston contributed 15 points and led in rebounding with 19. Bobby Smith had 25 points and Butch Beard 24 for the Cavaliers.

Clare Robertson broke loose for 11 points in the first four minutes as Milwaukee overcame a 9-0 start in leading the Cavaliers. Robertson scored 11th consecutive loss. Robertson finished with 26 points and nine assists. Kareem Jabbar, the Bucks' towering center, had 40 points, 19 rebounds and 11th consecutive loss. Bob Griese Named QB On AP's All-Pro Team

By MIKE BATHIE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Griese of the Miami Dolphins won the first battle of the Super Bowl passers today when he edged Roger Staubach of the Dallas Cowboys for the quarterback's spot on The Associated Press All-Pro football team.

Griese, who passed for 19 touchdowns during the regular season, took the coveted quarterback's spot with 25 votes to 21 for Staubach in the balloting that salutes the top players in the American and National conferences.

The 6'0 man panel representing each city in the National Football League virtually ignored last year's No. 1 quarterback, John Brockington of San Francisco. The Cowboys making it were tackle Rayfield Wright, guard John Niland and defensive tackle Bob Lilly.

The most interesting vote on the defensive unit was for the middle linebacker, which went to Willie Lanier of Kansas City over Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears, the perennial leader. Lanier drew 23 votes while Butkus' second with 14.

The offensive team also had John Brockington of Green Bay, Wis., running back spot, Chris Taylor of Kansas City at wide receiver, Ron Yary of Minnesota at tackle and Forrest Blue of San Francisco as center.

The other defensive All-Pro was Bubba Smith of Baltimore at end. Ted Hendricks of the Colts and Dave Wilcox of San Francisco, also outside linebacker, Bill Bradley of Philadelphia at free safety, Rick Volk of Baltimore at strong safety and Willie Brown of Oakland at cornerback.

'Super Mex' Preparing For Rich PGA Tour

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Golf Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — There's a new look to the 1972 model Lee Trevino, a restyled version that's slimmer, trimmer and almost alive.

He's still the brash and brassy guy who gave himself the label "Super Mex," but his self-applied description as "a short fat man," no longer is apt.

"I've been working pretty hard for about three weeks now," the 1971 PGA Player of the Year said last week before teeing off in the first round of the $125,000 Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open, the traditional kickoff tournament for the local rich new tour.

"I started about 15 days before I came out here," Trevino said. "I've been playing and beating balls, sometimes up to a thousand, every day for two weeks. I haven't had a drink in that long... well, a little on New Year's Eve."

And I'm running every day, putting in that road work to get the legs in shape."

Trevino, down to about 115 pounds, was one of the favorites for the $25,000 first prize in his first event on the new tour that offers almost $7.5 million in prize money this year.

The 31-year-old ex-Marine bolted into the front ranks last year's greatest start last year.

During a game against South Dakota State this season, Wayne State found itself in a tight situation after three penalties and an 11 yard loss. "Maybe it's not a record," coach Vern Gale said, "but it certainly is disturbing."

Speedy Land Sale Irks Councilman

By DONNA ESTES
ALDAMONTE SPRINGS — Councilman Helen Keyser, a little irritated by the reported sale of a tract of land, before his was dry on an ordinance rezoning it, called for the City Council to personally view the site prior to considering a variance request.

Request was made by Ralph E. Koon for a front lot size variance on five lots located at the southwest corner of Second Street and Newburyport. From four weeklies town houses on the lot. Ordinance requires a 70-foot frontage while Koon is asking for a variance to a 62 1/2-foot frontage.

Council last night approved second and final reading on the ordinance rezoning the same land from R1A to R-2 at the request of H. M. Costello of Orlando.

Mrs. Keyser said, "Let's look at this land first," and the request was continued.

It was pointed out the square footage of the lots, if the variance is permitted, will exceed city requirements.

Council also continued until next week a public hearing on the request for rezoning of the tract at the southeast corner of Logwood Avenue and "H" Ave.

The request from H. L. Helmer of Possum Petroleum Company is for gas station zoning. The delay was to permit Hel-

Holiday Season Joy Spreads Far, Wide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Hundreds of people can look forward to better things in 1972 thanks to Americans who used the holiday season to show that Christmas means a lot more than tinsel and trees.

Accompanying the news of civil war in Pakistan, bombings in Northern Ireland and the ups and downs of the economy, were reports such as these:

—Larry L. Jones, a Birmingham, Ala., policeman used his last $6 to buy groceries for a needy family. His good deed was reported and he got letters from around the world. Jones received more than $3,000 which he turned over to charity, commenting: "You can see what you want about the commercialism of Christmas nowadays, but... there's still a lot of love and good will toward men around."

—An 8-year-old Manhattan boy wrote two letters to Santa Claus asking for a wheelchair for his brother, who was stricken at birth with cerebral palsy. The second letter wound up in a Seattle post office and was reprinted in the Seattle Times. Several people offered to buy the wheelchair.

—Off-duty police officers in Lynwood, Calif., teamed up to form a Santa Patrol, giving out small, candy-filled socks to children. The socks carried a

Auto Inspection Bids Studied

By MARION BETHUA
 The county's new motor vehicle inspection station, to be located in the Sandhills area, 0.2 mile west of Douglas Avenue will cost in excess of $26,000, according to a bid submitted by Bailey Motor Equipment Company at $23,860.

Other bids included the electrical wiring installation. Bids were opened by the County Commission and were referred to County Engineer William Bush, Road Supr. J. C. Lavender and Virgil Neiders, who will make a report to the commission next week.

Low bid on the prefabricated metal building was from Leroy Robb Construction Company at $14,200. Other bids included the electrical wiring installation.

Candid Chatter

By DORIS WILLIAMS Society Editor

Happy! Happy! I resolve... not to resolve this year! All I can hope for is the bustle of a brand spanking new babykins as opposed to the drag of Father Time.

One question... just why can't some of the activity and festivity of December spill over into the otherwise drab months? Phew! It was a busy one! There were parties galore... and I might add, never have I seen such elaborate ones. Mildly was perfectly gorgeous this season. Long gowns worked their way back into the fashion scene to reflect the epitome of elegance and femininity.

Down with Women's Lib! I am one gal who is perfectly content with the gents wearing the pants and making the living while we gals make life worth being.

In addition to all the parties, Ballet Guild of Sanford-Seminole presented the annual Christmas ballet, "Enchanted Show."

First nighters were pleasantly surprised with the litting extravaganza staged by more than 20 talented artists.

The costumes were dazzling and the fast-paced ballet won the approval of all... even SHERIFF JOHN POLK and his lovely wife, DOT, were on hand... and according to the sheriff, it was his first performance... but not his last! They all agreed.

So bouquets of roses and oceans of love to MIRIAM RYE and VALERIE RYE WELD, directors and choreographers, for their dedicated efforts... not only in this one production... but all their revues.

Incidentally, 1971 saw Ballet Guild accepted into Southeastern Regional Ballet, among other accomplishments.

Not to be overlooked are all the mamas, papas, stage hands sponsors and board of directors. It was a great year for the guild.

While on this cultural kick, patrons of Seminole Mutual Concert Association are reminded that the "Three M's," a vocal trio using lute, viola and dulcimer, will appear here at the Civic Center, on Friday, Jan. 21.

A letter from BRENDA THOMPSON in Peoria, Ill, reveals that the Thompson family misses Sanford and they are all attempting to get acclimated to their surroundings in the cold, cold country.

Husband, JOHN, was advertising director of The Sanford Herald at one time.

One of the real nieces of the past season was MAJORIE and JOHNNY CARLTON inviting JAN TOBETT and ME to be dinner guests at their domain, "The Parlor." Their son, Doyle and his darling wife, CHERYL, who is now a new mamma, joined to make it a very warm and hospitable evening.

Another unusual holiday happening was a gathering of the club... at the home of Mrs. H. A. CAHILL.

Never have I seen such glittering decor... every nook and cranny were decorated with priceless ornaments, many of them made by the hostess, who is a retired florist.

To swipe a phrase from the "how" generation... it was outta sight!

Speaking of florists, during the hustle-bustle of the holidays I had the pleasure of sharing some of the behind-the-scenes activities with CHARLOTTE AND FRANK DONAHOE and their friendly staff.

Next year they promise hot pink champagne at the moon hook tete-a-tete.

There are gifts and then there are more gifts.

Just ask STELLA GOMEZ about her luxurious "fit" from her doctor husband, JORGE.

CATHIE AND JIM STOWELL entertained at "open house" at their Loch Arbor home after the "big day" There's another chapter to this coming up!

Another delightful party on New Year's Eve was at the Geneva home of VIRGINIA AND JACK BURNEY. It was actually a fest honoring Jack who has retired after 31 years with Florida Power and Light.

Virginia prepared and served a lavish buffet... thus it was a night for many BP's to eat, drink and be merry... and "smooch" the new year in.

Many of the lovely parties were "hush-hush" for one reason or another... so I'll never tell.

Odds are that after receiving those pretty little monikers, commonly called "bills," in January, the most popular phrase at this time is "never again."

Hold it! Don't pack that formal regalia away in moth balls yet. Beta Sigma Phi is planning their annual Charity Ball here in February. Again this year, a king will be crowned. This bit of interest was the brainchild of DEENIE BARTLETT last year and was so successful that an encore is in order.

Rosamond Chapman Named Woman Of Year

Pilot Club Records A Busy Year

By CECELIA FARMER

The Pilot Club of Sanford, a hard working group of women are proud of their accomplishments during 1971 and extra proud of one of their members, Mrs. Rosamond Chapman, who won the honor "Woman of the Year" and the highly coveted Roberta Gatchel award.

It was presented to her by the Kiwanis Club for her years of dedicated work in Sanford and Semole County with her own Pilot Club and other clubs, organizations and Church.

Mrs. Gatchel who catered for the Kiwanis Club for 34 years left them a substantial sum from her estate. The interest from this investment is used for various club activities. They decided that a memorial award should be given in her name to some deserving lady who is serving her community and deserves recognition.

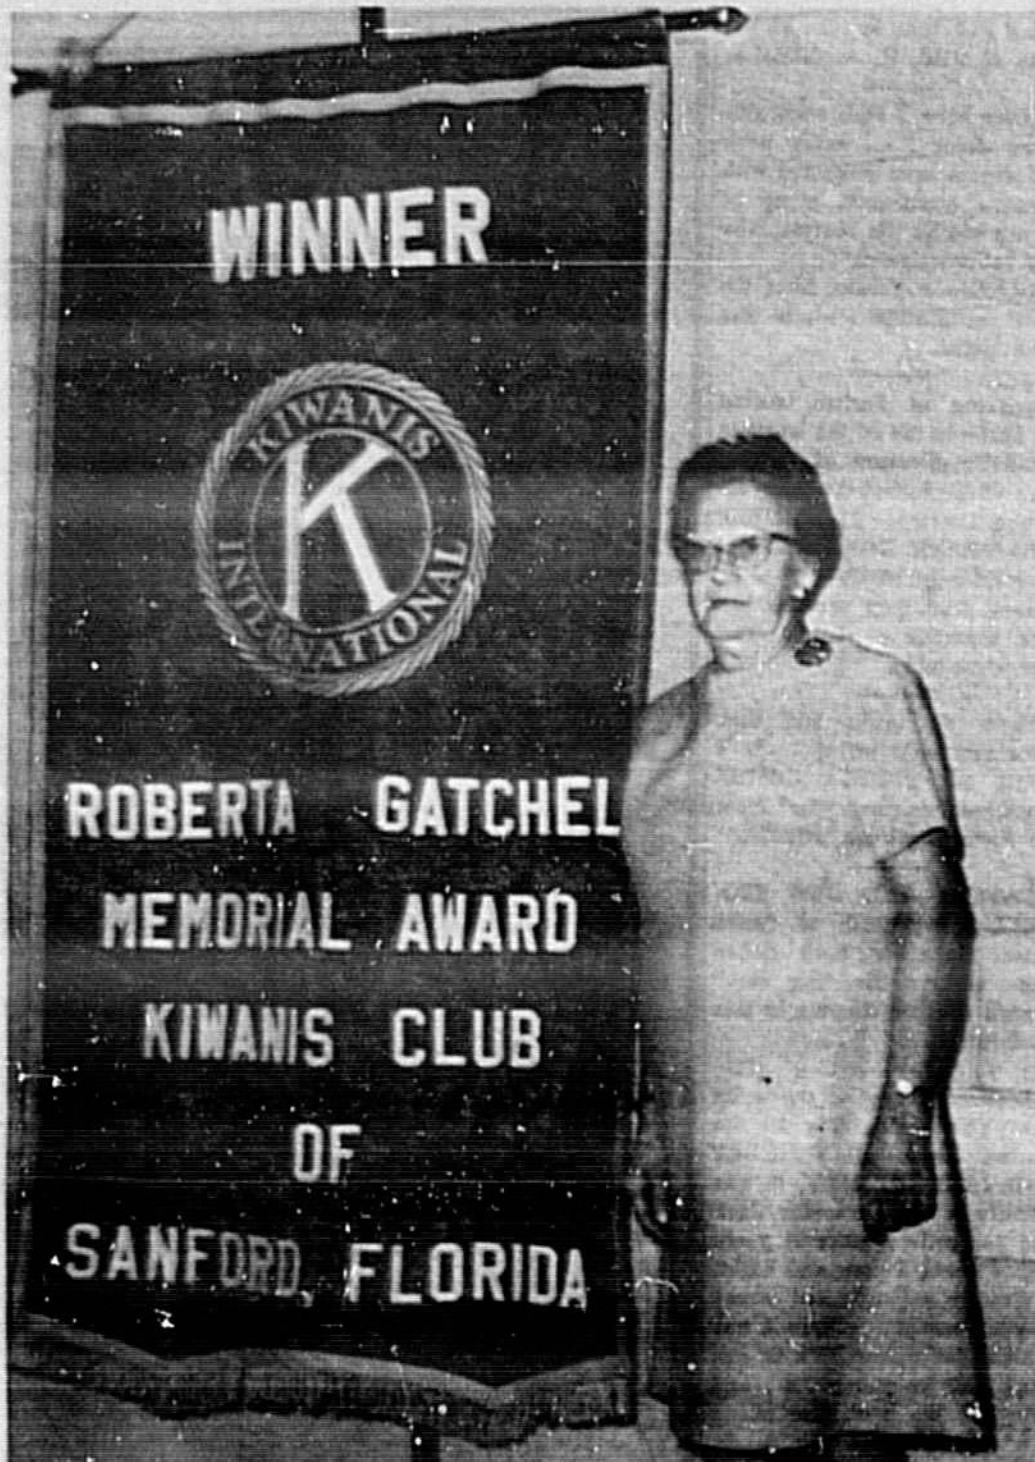

Each year all local (non-political) clubs are asked to nominate a candidate for this annual award, naming her qualifications. After nominations are received a committee from the Sanford Kiwanis Club studies each nominee and her achievements (as stated by the sponsoring club) and makes a final selection.

The award is presented at a regular Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting and the lady selected, her immediate family and the club president of the sponsoring organization are invited to attend. She receives a plaque in recognition of her achievements and her club receives a banner to display at their regular meetings during the coming year.

Mrs. Chapman who has been a member of the Pilot Club for many years, served as president in 1969-70 and has held practically every other office as well as serving on committees and other community services. She also assists in Pilot's have a busy schedule during the entire year and some indigent families; assisting in the Mental Health program in various ways and ringing the Salvation Army Bell one day in December.

They also serve hot coffee and doughnuts to the Semole County inmates before they board the bus to Jacksonville and dress and decorate Easter eggs for sale. This is their major fundraising project of the year and all proceeds goes to a scholarship fund to assist four girls with their education. They are presently helping two girls in Semole Junior College and two in the Semole Vocational School.

Their latest project is selling "Shelf-Sit" a maze run for protection against criminals. Anyone interested in purchasing one may contact any Pilot member. They are interested in contacting all women who must be alone at home or in their cars at night.

MRS. ROSAMOND CHAPMAN, "Woman of the Year," stands beside the Roberta Gatchel Memorial award that she won for her years of dedicated work in Sanford and Semole County. She was sponsored by the Pilot Club of Sanford which will have possession of the banner to display at their regular meetings during the coming year. (Cecelia Farmer Photo)

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 15 years and I am a "tramp" and he wants out. He wants his own apartment so he can come and go as he pleases. (Not divorced, mind you, he just wants to be free to do as he pleases.)

A wise friend suggested a cocktail in a glass which had a crack in it. She said, "Oh, dear me!" Then she went into the kitchen and poured the drink down the sink, and asked for a "good" glass.

I told her there was nothing wrong with that glass, and she said, "Well, if a glass has a crack in it, there are probably germs in the crack, and I wouldn't want to drink from a glass with germs in it."

My problem: How can I endure the pain of seeing him come and go as he pleases? Can you give me a few pointers on how to put up with this when my heart is aching?

DEAR LONELY: Your friend sounds like she has shed what were practically brains should be. You have given up your role as a wife to become the "mother" of a teen-ager who gives and takes the opposite sex.

What are you getting out of this arrangement? The privilege of keeping your husband's room clean, and washing his underwear? What if his "flings" last until he is 80? And in the meantime, what kind of example is he setting for his children?

DEAR EMBARRASSED: The chances for germs surviving the heat of an electric dishwasher are practically nonexistent. And so were your guest's manners. It's a good policy, however, to toss out cracked glasses. And I no longer automatically give for everything.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 15 years and I am a "tramp" and he wants out. He wants his own apartment so he can come and go as he pleases. (Not divorced, mind you, he just wants to be free to do as he pleases.)

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1972
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A very difficult day and evening to be able to truly communicate with others. So instead, concentrate your physical efforts on the day. Seek ways now to handle questions of art, music and culture.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19)—Concentrate on improving health and appearance. Stay away from an ally who is too demanding now. A persevering attitude is important. Take care of personal matters.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)—Improve your surroundings considerably and make every effort to be more efficient around you. Take any possible setbacks in stride. Impress associates with your optimism.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—I gave the boss a box of homemade Christmas cookies, which went over so well that the next November he started to tell me how much he liked last year's Christmas cookies!

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Use utmost care in travel, particularly on the highways and byways where danger is lurking. Study your bank balance and make sure you have enough money before making out checks.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—You think you can buy your way into anything you want now, but this is not true. All things are in the hands of fate and all is fine. Concentrate on adding to present abundance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—You have many ideas you want to put into motion, but they need further study to be successful. Plan how to approach others in a more diplomatic fashion. Re-examine your goals.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Take care of regular routines and forget investigation or research work that could yield nothing new. Tomorrow is a better day for such. And one who needs your assistance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—You have a personal plan to follow, but it is a bit risky. You are too busy now. Use your own good judgment. Save more money than you have in the past.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Take no risks where vacation or credit is concerned and avoid trouble. Changes are not good at this particular time. Steer clear of a bigwig who is irate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—You have many ideas to put in operation at the expense of regular duties, so take care you do not do this. Steer clear of an overly glamorous person. Be alert.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)—Shaking an obligation for some unknown reason is not wise now, so get it done without fail. Try to impose too much on mate could have dire results. Show courtesy instead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those clever young people who will be full of ideas but thinks any problem can be easily solved. Teach early to be very careful of facts and figures and then they will really be much better at such, once the child's mind is not so easily eliminated. Teach early not to give others any wrong impressions.

We The Women: By Betty Canary

When reading through the various publications to which I subscribe, I keep running into the theme that a bad housekeeper produces creative children. Actually, I don't believe the researchers mean that a slothful housekeeper creates creative children. Rather, I think, confronted with dirt and disorder, a truly creative person simply figures a way to get out of the mess.

DEAR POLLY — I think my simple hint will help "Newlywed," who would like to have a nice clean iron. Place a piece of waxed paper on the board, to the right of the iron, and rub the iron over the waxed paper now and then or as often as needed. This will help it to glide easily while ironing.

DEAR POLLY — My problem is every driver's problem. Yesterday a truck shot by as going in the opposite direction to glide easily while ironing. If a hold-up forms on the road, the yellow cardboard barrels fall from his full load and come rolling toward us. Of course, my husband hit it. Mexico City 1972 Dazzles Visitors

By NEIL MORGAN
Copley News Service

MEXICO CITY — This is Mexico City 1972, familiar red-and-white striped awnings of the Colonial Sander's Pello Prilo Kentucky are tucked in among 18th Century churches where the Spanish conqueror, Hernando Cortez, heard Mass.

Flash-legged secretaries in raincoats and boots dart through traffic in the shadow of the Churriguera facade of the national cathedral, built on the site of an Aztec temple.

At the Iron Palace, a department store that offers valet parking and happy-shirts emblazoned SONRIA (It means SMILE), women are sold on the same floor as made-in-Mexico original goods with the labels of Jonathan Logan, Nina Tiled and Jerry Silverman.

Strobe lights dazzle window shoppers at night along big boulevards from the windows of stores sporting Union Jacks to communicate the international language of mod gear.

Among the young, mariachis have surrendered to music halls that rock with amplified guitars and the latest soul sound from Chatsaugua.

Denny's offers all-night sanctuaries and Samba's is on the way. The Fifth Dimension echoes over loud speakers in the subway. Shops offering books, records and posters — not unlike those adjacent to Berkeley and Harvard — are thronged with well-dressed Mexican youth. (There are 60,000 college students at University City and another 30,000 across town at the technical university.)

Luxury hotel rooms in the capital have risen from 2,000 to 6,000 within five years with more on the way, including the 1,200-room Hotel de Mexico with its outdoor Sigüenza murals. Many hotels are half-empty just now, but the Mexican government is pushing tourism hard.

The proudest of all the new hotels, Camino Real, has 720 rooms that sprawl across seven garden acres beside Chapultepec Park. Five minutes from the Paseo de la Reforma, with its bumper-to-bumper traffic, it is as quiet as a hillside inn outside Cuernavaca. Among its numerous fine restaurants is Fouquet's, a transplant from Paris, where food and crowd are international.

Even in the old traditional settings, a new sophistication is found. At the suburban San Angel Inn, where revolutionary hero's bedded down, the strolling violinists play the theme from "The Alamo" while guests enjoy chiles en nogada (a chili pepper in cheese, served cold with pomegranate and walnuts in a sweet cream sauce).

Driving out to La Caceranda de Los Morales, a 17th Century mansion that has been exquisitely restored as a restaurant, one passes modern warehouses and factories with familiar names: Sears, Roebuck and Co., General Motors.

The American colony in Mexico has grown to an estimated 40,000, and some are making important money. Nicholas Noyes, proprietor of four Delmonico's and Mauna Loa Restaurants, is a Chicago man with synapses for the Mexican.

LWV Is Supporting Judicial Reform Bill

JACKSONVILLE — The League of Women Voters of Florida announced today its active support of the judicial reform amendment to be voted upon by citizens of Florida on March 14.

Long supporters of reform in Florida's court system, the League's board of directors meeting in session at the Ponte Vedra Inn agreed to give top priority to stepwise action supporting the amendment in the coming weeks. Members of the 25 Leagues throughout Florida will work actively in their communities to explain the provisions of the proposed Article V, benefits to municipal justice included in these proposals and persuade Florida citizens to vote "yes" on the amendment.

"Court reform in Florida is long overdue," stated Mrs. Grant Staton, League president. "Members of the League consider passing this amendment one of the most important issues facing our state in many years," she added, "and they will work just as hard as they did for a favorable vote on the corporate profits tax amendment last fall."

Members of the League adopted an in-depth study of Florida's court system and administration of justice at their state convention last spring. They have long been interested in the court system and have supported previous reform proposals, including the 1970 amendment which Floridians defeated.

Members support a uniform state court system with consolidation to avoid duplication and have supported previous missions composed of members of the bar and laymen. "The proposed amendment incorporates many positions which are important to members of the League. We welcomed the election of the special legislative session in December which offers to the citizens of Florida an opportunity for a modern court system with flexibility, order and improved justice under law."

Lake Cleaning Project On Display

Winter Park Mall is featuring a "one man show" through Saturday — but not the usual sort. It will feature the technology and inventions of Merle P. Chaplin for restoring Florida lakes to their former wood free, clean beach conditions.

Restoration of fresh water lakes and streams of America is only possible, says the 83-year-old Winter Park inventor and engineer, if a national policy is adopted that is based on three fundamental principles — removal, restriction, and maintenance.

Removal of unwanted objects, plants, mud and muck — restriction of what goes into fresh water bodies — and maintenance of ideal or control conditions.

Ecologists, backed by growing political support and the new Environmental Protection Agency, are getting across the public idea that national survival is dependent on cleaner waters, among other things.

Do-It-Yourself You Can Install New Fixtures

Light fixtures don't wear out, they just become outdated. With a room newly decorated an old fixture that goes back 10 or 20 years may be something of an eyesore.

No matter what the fashion in light fixtures, they are installed pretty much as the older ones were. If you are simply replacing an old fixture with a new one there is no reason for not doing the job yourself.

The wires and the outlet box are already there.

Rule one, always, is to make certain the power is off. Turn off the main switch for that circuit or remove the fuse.

Sometimes an outlet box may also have been used as a junction box for other wires. So it's best to play it safe and have a pair of wires attached to it that you connect to the two wires in the box. But before you disconnect the old fixture and try to hook up the new one determine how it will be mounted.

Loosen the old fixture and see how it was mounted and what hardware you might need for the new fixture.

The simplest fixtures, the kind found in basements, bathrooms and kitchens, are usually held to the outlet box with a pair of screws.

There will be round holes with narrower slots to the side. This allows you to slip the base over the heads of the bolts and then hold it in place by twisting it. The bolts go through the narrow slots which the heads cannot go through.

Another type of fixture is mounted on a metal strap that is in turn mounted on the box. There are threaded holes in the strap through which you run machine screws that hold the base in place.

In the most elaborate mounting a nipple or threaded pipe passes through a threaded hole in the metal strap. The wires pass through this to the fixture. The pipe passes through the base of the fixture. A threaded fitting tightens the base in place.

Making the connection is a matter of fastening white wire to white, black to black. If there is a red wire in the box, connect it to the black wire in the fixture.

Connection is made with solid brass connectors, sometimes supplied. These are fittings, plastic on the outside and threaded brass on the inside. The two brass wires are inserted in the connector and the connector is then twisted in a clockwise direction. Twist the two wires before inserting. The connector will lock the two wires together.

Once the connections have been made, fold the wires carefully back into the box so that the fixtures can be fastened to the box.

News Scribe Goes Below Coal Mining Is Now Modernized

By STEVE SHIPP
Associated Press Writer

BENWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — The elevator plummeted for 281 feet before hitting the bottom, where a network of man-made shafts dart from a mountain in northern West Virginia.

It's not what you'd expect, this underground pit, where man pilots machines to claw out coal to burn the nation's lights.

"Coal mining is a modern industry," the public relations spokesman had said. Now you could believe it, at least in this mine.

Tunnels 6 feet high and 9 feet wide, intersect the bowels of this mountain, branching off in various directions.

They require that seven miles of railroad track be laid in this mine where more than 100 men and $5 million in equipment are underground at any given time.

Coal, the black gold of Appalachia, is not extracted by a faded miner.

The miners work in section crews of eight men each, 10 crews to each of the three shafts. Each crew uses $500,000 in mining equipment, including a $175,000 continuous miner, a $200,000 loader, two shuttle cars, a conveyor belt and transformer.

The men who direct these machines produce more than 1,000 tons of coal in any given eight-hour shift, though they only work about 6½ hours. The remainder is spent in breaks and getting in and out of the mine.

The art of extracting coal underground revolves around the continuous miner, a giant bulk of hydraulic hoses, revolving drums, scoops and conveyor equipment built so a miner can sit so that his head is only three to four feet off the ground. In many mines, the tunnels are only that high, forcing the miners to crawl if they're not aboard equipment.

The continuous miner grinds it away at the face of the coal at a rate of three feet per minute, and bore a pair of 6-foot holes into the mine rock with pneumatic drills.

Six-foot bolts are driven through wood planks into the ceiling into the holes to shore up the roof and hopefully prevent roof falls, the cause of several mine disasters in this still dangerous business of coal mining.

As the continuous miner breaks loose by the continuous miner and deposits it onto shuttle cars, which can take the coal to a header. There the coal is crushed for placement on a conveyor belt and carried to waiting hopper cars for movement to the surface and up to the roof and hopefully prevent roof falls, the cause of several mine disasters in this still dangerous business of coal mining.

The Bums And Dirt Are Gone In Frisco

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Copley News Service

SAN FRANCISCO — A subtle change has taken place in this city, affectionately tabbed "Baghdad by the Bay." Whether the change is for good or for bad depends on a visitor's point of view or perhaps on the nature of his nostalgia.

The man whose nostalgia goes back to the days of World War II when San Francisco opened its heart to servicemen like no other place in America, will find things considerably like they were in the mid '40s, but with a certain spirit missing. The man whose memory includes the raucous days of two to five years ago may be pleasantly surprised or, if he enjoyed those days, bitterly disappointed.

The Colt Tower is still here. Golden Gate Park is still here. Chinatown's Cathay House is still here. The Top of the Mark is still here. The fine dinner restaurants are still here. The tourists still come here for those enjoyments, although perhaps in diminishing numbers.

But, downtown seems to be different. The area around Union Square is cleaner, for one thing, or perhaps to those with a certain kind of nostalgia it is more sterile. Bums are few and far between along the benches in the square's park. But also the attractive flower boxes that once held the giant hydrangeas and other flowers are gone. The sidewalks are clean, and that is good, but it also seems that most of the "furniture" has been removed to make policing of the area easier. Young couples, including males who are bearded but don't seem of the hippie type, sit together, chatting quietly in the late morning sun. A girl with no concern for any human beyond her feeds popcorn to the pigeons.
