Hal Boyle Tells Desire To Be On 10-Mostest List

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. (AP)—Everybody has a secret ambition—except me. Mine is no secret. It's just plain unlikely.

My ambition is to be the "ten mostest" or the "ten bestest" of something. Just for a year, mother, just for a year. Just what I am picked as the "ten mostest" or the "ten bestest" of—well, I don't care. I just want to be recognized.

My ambition grew slowly. Pretty much like an acorn that lacked vitamin D. But now it is a mighty oak of yearning.

It began years ago when I was an eager leaver cub reporter. My editor, thinking I was too young to sit around with my heels on the desk, threw me a mimeographed news release and said:

"Gimmecoupluhneronthis."

All editors get in these to talk pretty much like that. They hate to waste space—even in talking. Translated, what my editor said was:

"Take this horrible piece of tripe, junior, and boil it down to 200 hundred words—if you can. And when you are through, I will probably throw it into the waste basket anyway."

The news release contained a well known fashion leader's selection of what she considered the ten best dressed women in America. For some reason—it must have been a dull day indeed on the lord's green footstool—my piece got printed.

Well, as writers sometimes say when they don't know what to say next—the rest is history.

Picking lists of the "ten best" became a kind of American industry. Nobody who wanted to pretend they were anybody could let a year pass without making their annual selections of the "top ten something or other."

And I became the first man in American newspaper history to reach the rank of a specialist in this field of reporting. For one reason or another—and it just so soon not learn the reason—the soon after that I was handed to my desk. Often, he wadded them up in a ball before throwing them—adding injury to insult.

It was thus I reached the peak in this fast paced, nerve racking game. I became known as "the ten best" editor. I wrote my name from the top best male players since Adam to the ten Stames cats that looked most like Adolf Hitler.

Incidentally the idea crept into my mind.

"Why can't you get on one of these lists yourself sometime, Boyle? Why don't they ever name you on one?"

And then, as frustrated ambition fed upon itself.

"To heck with just being one of ten on any single list. Why not sweep the boards? Why not be all ten, and leave a name mankind will remember forever?"

I can't say I've made an inch of progress. But I have found out my most dangerous rival. It's Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In 1948 General Ike was picked by the national laugh week institution as the "man with the most stride laugh." The Institute for Male Magnetism chose him as one of "the nine most magnetic men in America. And, at year-end, glamorous Mrs. Veronica Dengel, the beauty engineer, gave "Ike" the nod as "one of the nation's ten best-dressed males."

The General also made a number of other lists, including political polls on "who would you most like to see in the White House? But we won't go into this any more at the moment.

Obviously "Ike" is leading in the "ten mostest" and the "ten bestest" field. It looks like he'll win the race before I even get on my first list. I told my wife it looked like she was married to an utter failure.

"If it makes you feel any better," said Frances, "You are all ten of the husbands I would like to see get home on time at least two days in a row sometime in 1949.

Aren't wives wonderful?"

Eight hundred years ago a monk in Egypt asked to hold his job for life. When he died he was mummified and his mummy still sits by the door where he worked as a doorman.

Boom in House Building Is Said To Be Over, At Least Temporarily

WASHINGTON — The boom in home building is over, at least temporarily. The end of the housing boom after the first World War came in 1925 — 4 years before the whole economy began to disintegrate. But economists here see no such dire portent in this drop in housing construction.

The main reason, as they interpret it, is that the builders have been putting up houses for the large trade. And now the boom is off that market. Most of the people who were badly in need of homes after the war and could not pay high prices for them are taken care of. The peak of demand passed in late 1948 or early 1947.

The people who still want to live in the new, relatively high priced homes, moreover, aren't willing to pay the prices that the sellers are requiring. And veterans, who used to do a large part of the buying, are finding it harder to get loans. Lenders do not count on the government's financing programs for veterans as active as they once did.

In general, said one prominent economist in the housing field, people are losing faith in the housing market at the present time. The Housing Act of 1948 doesn't seem to have had much effect on the home construction industry, at least contained most of the speculative features of the rejected Ellender-Wagner housing bill. The sponsor of the act, Rep. Elliott (R-Mich.), predicted that a result of it 1,000,000 new non-unit dwelling units would be

A POSENER Greenwich Village, New York, writer, Luis Munoz Marin takes the oath of office in San Juan, Puerto Rico, as the first elected governor in the 450-year history of the island. Previous governors were appointed up to 50 years ago by Spain, and in the past half century by the U. S. (International) started in 1948. As now estimated by the Labor Department, however, the housing starts totaled only 925,000. The monthly total of new houses started began to drop in June, and it went down steadily from then on. The drop wasn't seasonal. The winter building lull ordinarily doesn't come until October or November.

The experts in the Commerce and Labor Departments predict that only 875,000 housing starts will be made in 1949. Even if the Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill is passed, which political observers think is certain, it will mean no more than an extra 30,000 to 35,000 additional housing starts during the year.

It will thus be probably well over a year before the all-time record for home building is equalled — 937,000 dwelling units in 1925. (These were built when the U. S. population was only 115,931,993. Now it is about 147,280,000.)

The decline has not hit the construction industry as a whole. Both the volume and dollar value of overall construction has been steadily rising. Commerce and Labor expect about the same amount of construction in 1949 as in 1948, although predicting that the cost of building will be 6 percent higher.

Industrial construction is expected to decline in 1949. But affecting both that and the fall in home construction are anticipated rises in the amount of construction work to be done in commercial, institu-

Boyle Suggests Centering Home Around Fireplace

By MAE BOTTLE
NEW YORK.—(AP)—My problem, Mr. Anthony, is what is happening to the American home? What's that, Mr. Anthony? You want me to step a little closer to the microphone?
Now, why I am worried about the American home? Yes, sir, I'll be a brief as I can.
You see, Mr. Anthony, the other day I read how some architects were suggesting that living rooms of the future should be centered around the television set rather than the fireplace.
And I got to thinking what that would mean. Because the fireplace has been the center of home life ever since the first cave man clashed two flint rocks together—and the first warming spark flew.
Can you pop corn over a television set, Mr. Anthony? Could Abraham Lincoln have read his Bible by its light?
And when shivering visitors come into the American house of the future on a cold day, Mr. Anthony, will Mama say:
"Throw another log on the video, Pa, our guests are cold?"
I hate to be old-fashioned about this. But I'm a fireplace fan. And what they've been doing to the American home in the last fifty years should happen to a doghouse.

Sure, year by year it is getting more comfortable, they say. It is at though, really? Is it actually my healthier to live in than the big spacious houses our forefathers built?

Mr. Anthony, I think the answer is no. Space is as important to a family's well-being as an automobile. Perimeter. And the house of today is so small that when a man comes in and claims his front door the calendar falls off the wall in the kitchen.

Remember the large dining rooms of the past, Mr. Anthony, and how the big families used to feast in them and cheerfully thrust out the day's worries? What happened to them? Now they are without dining rooms. Instead they build more and more houses, throw in another bathroom, and just bank down the house, so to speak, until it is a hotel for nudists.

And as for closets, the huge old roomy closets of the past, dare I even remember them? Why, a man today has to call in two neighbors even to wedge his overcoat into his new closet.

There was a time, Mr. Anthony, when they spoke of a man's home as his castle. Well, there are three things about a castle that most homes now could use a turret, a moat, and a drawbridge. Only with these could a man keep away the people who make a beaten path to his door, people trying to sell

SWISS BUILDS JET CAR (Gstaad, Switzerland) — A Swiss engineer has invented a jet-propelled automobile.

A small-scale experimental model recently achieved speeds up to 35 m.p.h. during test runs on the alpine road. The designer, Hans Berger, of Thun, says his first full-scale experimental car will have a maximum speed of 72 m. p. h.
The first test model is only six feet long and three feet wide. Its motive power is supplied entirely by a small jet engine in the rear, which expels gas and air under high pressure and pushes the car forward. The car has no drive shaft, clutch gears or differential.

SINGAPORE PLANS CHINESE GROUP

SINGAPORE.—(AP)—An effort will be made to foster an innovation of Chinese culture in Singapore. It is the Chinese Cultural Centre, but one of the largest Chinese centers overseas.
A movement to establish a purely cultural organization to be called "The China Society" is under way. The Society will be open to all races.
Objects of the new society are to encourage study of the Chinese language, literature, history and folklore; art, science, industry, economic and custom. It also aims to promote goodwill among the various racial groups represented in its membership.

him things he doesn't need, people who try to turn his home into a museum, a mechanical and electrical gadget.

What else happened, Mr. Anthony, to the home sweet home that John Howard Princes built of tape whose built, singing, gracefully to his ball that home where he said he found "peace of mind dearer than all?"

In the average home of today, even a single refuses to bring in a chair, and a chair can't be used. A man can't get a chair out of a room without a telephone set and I realize, we eventually will want to see a chair in a room. I suppose the bathroom, because that certainly would do down men's things, which program to switch it up.

That, Mr. Anthony, is my problem. In my peace of mind to the home, putting the telephone set where a man can take it or leave it alone.

Producing a number of children in the south Atlantic region is now five times as large as it was in the period 1935-39.

Charles Lindbergh has been assigned to the U. S. Air Force in Germany as a technical adviser.

It is about the same year that most of us heard the wonder whether those New Year resolutions, good as they were, are essential to our future welfare and happiness.

Fires in 1948 destroyed $725,000,000 worth of property, up 3 percent from the losses of the previous year.

State aid to public schools has increased from 15 million dollars to 41 million in the past four years.

There are more automobiles on the nation's highways today than ever before, the Public Roads Administration reports.

President Truman asks for four billion dollars more in federal taxes to carry out his "federal" program.

1948 was a great year for American newspapers, despite the election, which saw most of them demonstrating their ineffectuality.

Mrs. Caldwell gives some good advice to Miss Alma Warren, the Governor's sister, who will be his hostess.

While most observers doubt that the excess profits tax, there is certainly no clear cut assurance it won't.

Warren's Inauguration

Fuller Warren takes up the reins of state government in an atmosphere of apprehension over prospects for the future.

That Governor Warren is cognizant of the seriousness of the problems which lie ahead was shown in his inaugural address where he stated, "Heavy tasks lie ahead."

He reiterates his pledge to spend more money for state highways, to expand Florida's facilities for public health, to increase State Welfare to the aged and dependent children.

It is a big order, and a worthy one. No one can quarrel with these objectives. But again Warren pledges himself against a sales tax, and expresses the belief that all this can be accomplished by economies in government.

We for one hope he is correct. This is certainly no time for new taxation. It definitely is a time for the most rigid economy in government.

To this end the Governor should have the co-operation of the Legislature and of all the people of Florida.

From Way Down Under

Australian travel authorities expect 20,000 Americans to visit their country next year, and many of them to remain and become citizens.

Scarcely the continent is said to be less inviting than, say, New Zealand with its magnificent mountains. The interior of Australia is still very sparsely settled because of the scarcity of water.

The second part of the report from Australia, if confirmed, marks a change of heart in the people. Although Australia is only slightly smaller in area than the United States, it has only a little more than 7,000,000 people.

Perhaps their war experience has created a new viewpoint. Without aid from abroad, the Australians would have been conquered quickly by the many times more numerous Japanese.

They would be safer if they were numerous enough to defend themselves without having to call on help from the outside.

Television Network

(Continued From Page One) based on three years of test flights aimed at overcoming the natural limitation of television waves by the earth's curvature to about 30 miles on the ground.

Cooperating in the experiments were Westinghouse and the Glenn L. Martin Airplane Manufacturing Company.

Westinghouse Vice President Walter Evans said a converted B-29 superfortress used to relay telecasts from a ground studio "showed successful reception reports from televiewers in an area of about 250 miles about the plane circling at 25,000 feet."

He said commercial development of stratostation now awaits only the "crystallization of public demand for the expanded service, the application by the radio industry to meet this demand, and the clarification of channel facilities available to make possible this application."

Stratostation supporters claim it will be cheaper to use planes with their greater range than erecting booster stations every 30 miles on the ground.

The Westinghouse report deals only with technical aspect. There are some major commercial problems still to be ironed out by the industry, television executives here said.

Nation's Businessmen

For example, businessmen have been told the President wants to hold military expenditures to $18 billion. But they also expect that a great deal of pressure is going to be put on Congress to vote a good deal more than that for the Armed Forces.

Wall Street took comfort yesterday in that the President didn't ask specifically for the excess profits tax the street abhors. Today businessmen also note that the President wasn't specific at all. He says he wants most of the $4 billion extra from corporation taxes.

While most observers doubt that the excess profits tax, there is certainly no clear cut assurance it won't. If it doesn't, and if it goes dutifully about the task of finding $4 billion more in corporation and higher bracket personal income taxes, the question is what kind of tax will be levied on the corporations.

Congress might hike the percentage of present taxes. Or it might increase taxes on undistributed profits. These are the savings the company does not pass along to stockholders in dividends, but keeps for corporate purposes, such as expansion of plant or replacement of equipment.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

This is to draw your attention to a personality whom every democratic government should be intensively studying and cultivating: Nehru of India.

You know Jawaharlal Nehru as first citizen and prime minister of his vast country with its population of 300,000,000. That in itself places him among the outstanding leaders of our time. But destiny seems to have marked him for greater things.

As the signs read Nehru is likely to play a vital role in the molding of world affairs in the immediate critical years. For in his slim, expressive hands may lie the future of much of a teeming Asia which is beginning to realize its giant strength.

Let's put it another way. Nehru bids fair to acquire leadership of an Asiatic bloc whose friendship the Western world must have for the sake of global peace and well-being. The alternative ultimately would be that nightmare of diplomats—an East-West conflict.

Nehru is a paradox in that he is at once a man of the masses and the most blue-blooded aristocrats—a Kashmiri Brahmin. Moreover his father was one of India's richest men.

Having been educated in England's Harrow and Cambridge University, young Nehru returned to India and took up law. Shortly, however, he became interested in being the alternative ally of the oppressed.

India's prime minister bears many marks of genius. Not only is he one of the greatest writers in the world, but he is a brilliant orator. He is known throughout the sub-continent by the masses whom he has championed, for he has gone up and down the land speaking to them.

His efforts have cost him heavily, for many times he has been arrested. But he has struck out bravely to his course until now at the age of sixty he is the big figure of India. They call him "pandit," which is to say "wise man."

Nehru not only is a Nationalist and a socialist, but he is an internationalist. It is in this latter category that he is emerging as one of the world leaders. He long has envisaged an Asiatic bloc, brought together for mutual advantage along peaceful lines.

Of course his whole political life has been a protest against imperialism. The other day he told the Indian National Congress Party that India's freedom from English rule means the end of all variations and colonialism in the Orient. He declared no European power has any rights to wage an aggressive war in Asia.

Pursuant to this thought, the Indian Government has invited fourteen eastern nations to attend an Asian Conference to consider the Dutch "police action" against the Indonesian Republic. This conference is slated for Allahabad, India, and thus far the following countries have been invited to assemble there shortly: Egypt, Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Afghanistan, Iran, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, Siam, China and the Philippines.

This action represents one of the first concerted efforts of the East against so-called "Western imperialism." And it bears the hallmark of Nehru's philosophy.

Inaugural Housing Is Planned In Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6, (AP)—If you're coming to Washington for the inauguration and want a place to stay, maybe this will help you. The inaugural committee says it will try to find lodging for you in a private home at a nominal price. Several thousand Washington residents have agreed to rent spare rooms to inaugural week visitors.

If you're interested, write, wire or telephone: The Inaugural Housing Bureau, 609 14th St., N. W., Washington.

Washington that holds that these profits should be distributed either as dividends, or wage hikes. Or not acquired in the first place—that is, by lowering prices on the company products and therefore not making as high a profit.

It is this school of thought that businessmen chiefly fear. And it is this prospect that worries them most when they speculate on what may be in store for them this winter and spring down on Capitol Hill.

While most observers doubt that the excess profits tax, there is certainly no clear cut assurance it won't. If it doesn't, and if it goes dutifully about the task of finding $4 billion more in corporation and higher bracket personal income taxes, the question is what kind of tax will be levied on the corporations.

Market Sales

(Continued From Page One) week. Most of the celery is now coming from Belle Glade, Okechobee and Zellwood. Sanford celery is due to start moving this week in greater quantity. A total of 9,000 crates is due to move over the platform this week.

To date, 12 cars of celery have been shipped from Sanford and Zellwood. It was reported by E. F. Scarborough, who with Mrs. Scarborough operates the Federal-State Market News Service. The two graduated last year from Iowa State College where they specialized in horticulture, and they since have worked with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Detroit and Chicago.

They report that during the recent cold snap, damage to more hardy crops such as cabbage, celery, escarole, cauliflower and lettuce was negligible, but that snap beans for January shipment in the Pompano and Homestead sections will be reduced 40-50 percent of the crop.

New red bliss potatoes are appearing at the local market at $4.00 a 50 pound sack. Peppers are ranging from $4.50 to $9.00 a bushel. Iceberg lettuce is bringing $2.50 to $3.50 for a four dozen crate with good supplies from Samson and Zellwood, and Mr. Anderson. Yellow squash brings $7.50 a bushel and tomatoes are $7.50 per 40 pound unit. Cukes bring $5.00 to $7.50 a bushel.

An estimated 15,000 bags of cabbage, 50 pounds to the bag is due to be sold this week at 75 cents a sack and a dollar a crate. Much of this is local. Collards are coming into demand after an inactive period.

Demand is moderate on citrus, and some growers are holding out for higher prices due to the California freeze. In spite of higher prices over the holidays in the north, citrus prices have related at about the same as before the holidays with oranges at $2.10, tangerines at $2.00 and grapefruit at $1.65.

Lou Boudreau Is Named Male Athlete Of Year In AP Poll

NEW YORK, Jan. 6, (AP)—Lou Boudreau, player-manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, today was named male athlete-of-the-year for 1948 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

The personable Cleveland shortstop barely edged out Bob Mathias of Tulare, Calif., the Olympic decathlon champion, in a point tabulation. Actually Mathias had 34 first place votes to 33 for Boudreau but the Indians' Skipper slid home first on seconds and third to win 156-149.

The votes of the 99 participating sports writers were tabulated on the customary basis of three points for a first place ballot, two for a second and one for a third.

Yesterday Mathias was named the winner of the Sullivan Memorial Award. The trophy goes annually to the year's outstanding amateur athlete as determined in a poll conducted by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Boudreau's 1948 successes were topped by the World Series success of his team against the Braves. His two homers in the little play-off game with the Boston Red Sox booted the Tribe into the series.

In addition to leading the Indians to their first pennant since 1920, Lou played the most shortstop of anybody in the league. He hit .365, second only to Ted Williams, and perfected the pickoff play that created such a stir in the series.

Mathias, then only 17, won his Olympic crown under dramatic circumstances. The 6-foot, 2-inch Californian finished the final three events of the two-day competition in virtual obscurity. Only a few dim bulbs pierced the semi-darkness of a rainy evening when he finished the last event. Most of his opponents and all but 200 spectators of the crowd of 60,000 had departed.

Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder who led the National League hitters in everything except home runs, was a solid third with 12 firsts and 77 points.

Then came Ben Hogan, the Hershey, Pa., golfer who won both the PGA and National Open Crowns as well as $32,112 in various 1948 PGA tournaments. Hogan drew 5 firsts and 49 points.

Football, which supplied the winner last year in Notre Dame's Johnny Lujack, took fifth place with Don Walker, Southern Methodist's brilliant All-America halfback. Walker had one first and 25 points.

Harrison Dillard, the ace hurdler who missed the Olympic team in his specialty but came through as a sprinter to win the 100-meter dash, was sixth with two firsts and 10 points.

Gene Bearden, one of Boudreau's most valuable helpers at Cleveland with his 20 pitching victories in a rookie season, was seventh with 15 points. Charley Justice, North Carolina's All-America halfback, was eighth with 12 points.

Joe Louis, winner in 1935, drew three firsts and 11 points for his successful title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott. Three men tied for tenth position—light-weight boxing champion Ike Williams, New York Yankee center-fielder Joe DiMaggio and Olympic swim champion Wally Ris.

BOSTON, Jan. 6, (AP)—Lou Boudreau, classy shortstop and able playing manager of the world champion Cleveland Indians, will be presented the Paul Shannon Memorial trophy by the Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association at the annual dinner

COMMENTS From The SIDELINES

Baseball Around FSL

The outlook for DeLand and Leesburg gets more promising as days go by, and both clubs are reported to be well on their way to fielding teams for the coming baseball season.

The outlook for the Palatka Axline still remains dim, despite their franchise money granted by the league and Mr. Trautman, head of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

An announcement naming a new business manager for the DeLand ball club is expected shortly. However, the Red Hots will experience trouble in getting a man to take the place of Bill Page, daddy of baseball in DeLand.

Red Hat officials, Gene Fisher, Jim Sweeney and Phil Dellerard are reported to be busy making contacts with major and higher classed minor league clubs for a working agreement.

Leesburg stock holders report a favorable outlook for the coming season. The fans of the city have organized a baseball association and are selling stock at $10 a share in order to be able to field a team from Lake County in 1949.

President DuBois Fuller of the Daytona Beach club has explained to the fans for signing Herbert Leonard of Dania. "The boy came here and asked for a job. We took his word for his status and signed him. Now we learn it was a mistake, but it was an innocent one, and one we would certainly not risk making deliberately for a rookie pitcher who was not even good enough to get in a game," he asserted.

The Local Scene Baseball is also showing up on the local scene. The New York Giants have begun to eye their fields at the Municipal Airport, and Charles Marion has begun the cleanup campaign at the quarter.

Men have been working on the fields, and are beginning to get them ready into playing condition after a nine month rest.

"The frost we had last week did not help the grass too much," Manager Hal Gruber of the Sanford Giants asserted yesterday. "We plan to give the infield a good blanket of eye grass in the next day or two. That will bring the infield out, but the outfield will just have to take care of themselves," he reported.

Work is continuing on the new park north of the Municipal Park on Mellonville Avenue. "I think the infield will be in good condition for the Jersey City club, but we are a little worried about the outfield of the park. Much of the section has been filled-in, Gruber declared.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6, (AP)—Vince Boryla of Denver is back on top on the major college individual scoring basketball race.

Latest figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show Boryla with a 21.9 point average for eight games through last Saturday. He has tallied 169 points.

Ed V. V. of Calicut, Fla., in a week, fell to fifth place in the race, and is a contender for the title.

Bill Schroer of Valparaiso retained his first place ranking as the best free throw marksman. He

Coaches Decide To Curb 'Bench' Quarterbacking

Changes Would Permit Substitution Only When Time Is Called

By RUSSELL NEWLAND SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6, (AP)—Football rule changes aimed at liberalizing free substitution, while curbing "bench" quarterbacking, were proposed to the National Collegiate Athletic Association today.

The advisory rules committee of the American Football Coaches' Association recommended that free substitutions be permitted between plays when possession of the ball changes from one team to the other, as well as when time is called out.

A coach at present may send in players in batches (the so-called "platoon" system) only when time has been called.

Also recommended by the advisory committee was elimination of the present rule permitting substitution of a man after every play while the clock is running.

"Such a change would help eliminate quarterbacking from the 'bench,'" commented Coach Tins McLoughly of Dartmouth, a member of the committee.

McLoughly declared the proposal changes would permit "wide liberty in the free substitution rule, while curbing such a practice as bench sending in a string of quarterbacks or instructors carriers after every play."

The change would permit substitution of a player only when time has been called.

Other rules changes advocated by the advisory committee included: Reinstatement of the pre-1942 rule permitting a "reverse center"—one who faces his own backfield.

To make ineligible to receive a forward pass a back stationed close enough to the center to receive a hand-to-hand exchange of the ball.

Declare a forward pass ground behind the goal line of the offensive team to be a down instead of a safety, thus encouraging more goal line passing.

Give the receiving team the option of running the ball out of the end zone on a kick from scrimmage, the same as on a free kick or kickoff.

The present rule provides that any punt that goes over the goal line is an automatic touchback and the ball is placed in action on the 20-yard line.

The coaches rejected a move to revive the old rule permitting downed punts to get to his feet and run with the ball.

DePaul Stages Major Basketball Upset By Defeating Oklahoma

NEW YORK, Jan. 6, (AP)—DePaul, not rated highly this season in college basketball, staged a major upset last night.

The Chicago Blue Demons, previously whipped by Kentucky, Illinois, Minnesota and Chicago Loyola, invaded Stillwater, Okla. and hung up a 39 to 32 victory over the Oklahoma Aggies.

Belied by eight points, 26-18, at halftime DePaul astounded a crowd of 8,500 by holding the Aggies to six points in the last 20 minutes.

It was the eighth loss in 184 games over a 15-year period that the Aggies have suffered on their home court.

St. Louis, fresh from its Sugar Bowl tourney over Kentucky, bowled over Bradley, 57 to 44, in its first Missouri Valley Conference fray of the season.

The Billikens, an usual led by easy Ed MacAuley with 19 points, were held to a 26-25 tie during the first half, but drove out to win easily after the intermission.

St. Louis, unbeaten this year, now has won 13 in a row, including a carryover of five from last season. Today, the last defeat St. Louis suffered was a 62-42 licking administered by DePaul.

Bayler opened defense of its Southwest Conference title by rallying in the closing minutes to beat Arkansas, 41-37. Princeton launched its Eastern League season with a 65 to 52 triumph over Pennsylvania and Idaho nicked Oregon, 68-52, in the Northern division of the Pacific Coast conference.

Undeclared Villanova won its seventh straight, a 78 to 61 drubbing of Rutgers, while the Holy Cross Crusaders ended a three-game losing streak by smashing Harvard, 64-18.

Seton Hall won its sixth game in eight starts by overcoming the touring Xavier of Cincinnati quintet, 60-51.

floor squad, and have two men tied in the scoring race thus far. Harry Hamilton and Hans Teneberger are in the lead with 85 points, and are closely tailed by Guard Julian Miller with 84 points.

The Florida five will be anxious to get back in the win column after four consecutive losses to Tennessee, Pittsburgh, and Tulane. The Gators suffered two losses to the Pitt Panthers in Miami during the holiday season.

Captain Bill Atkinson and Guard Henry Cornell will team with Hamilton, Teneberger and Miller to start against Auburn.

ATLANTA, Jan. 6, (AP)—The Georgia Tech wrestling team will meet seven opponents this winter before entering the Southeastern AAU Tournament here March 4.

The schedule: Jan. 15—Chattanooga in Nashville; Jan. 22—Vanderbilt in Nashville; Jan. 29—Auburn in Atlanta; Feb. 5—Duke in Durham; Feb. 12—Vanderbilt in Atlanta; Feb. 19—Maryville Teachers in Maryville, Tenn.; and Feb. 26—Auburn in Auburn, Ala.

More than 600 harness racing tracks held meetings during 1948.

V.M.I. And W. & L. Coaches Resign To Go To Miss State

LEXINGTON, Va., Jan. 6, (AP)—There wasn't a football coach to be found today in this town of 4,000, the home of two Virginia colleges.

Both institutions, Washington and Lee University and Virginia Military Institute, have lost their head coaches to Mississippi State college.

Arthur (Slick) Morton, head coach at V.M.I., resigned six days ago to accept an identical job at State. Yesterday, Art (Pappy) Lewis, head coach at Washington and Lee, quit to take a job as line coach under Morton.

The lure of cash apparently was the decisive factor in each case. V.M.I. authorities said last week that Morton left to accept "a much more attractive offer" from Mississippi State. "Attractive" was the word Lewis used, too, yesterday in announcing his resignation as head coach at Washington and Lee.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro is the only rider ever to win the Kentucky Derby four times.
