BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

LOOK WILL FAITHFULLY... GOD WILL FIGHT FOR YOU... WE MUST KEEP OURSELVES WITHIN THE GREAT SHEPHERD'S FOLD: He that keepeth Israel will neither slumber nor sleep.—Psalm 121:4.

NOT FOR LONG

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

Be thankful for this hour... Glad with fruit and flower; Give need to lingering song for summer is not long.

The plow, with rusted blade, Lies tilted in the shade; Crops are gathered in, To silo, loft, and bin.

This early dusking light Is not summer—quite— Soon the whippoorwill Will vanish from the hill.

Stand still and be aware Of bruised mint on the air; Listen well, and long, To any lingering song.

HARRY ELMORE HURD.

We see where George Bernard Shaw has come out for Henry Wallace for President. That just about makes him the unanimous candidate of the left wing elements.

A good time was had by all when Princeton met Pennsylvania in Philadelphia and defeated her. In fact, it took all the cops in town and a troop of mounted police a half an hour to stop the riot.

Another "flu" epidemic is expected in the United States this winter. That probably means that there won't be one. Nevertheless, it's a good idea if you have a cold to take it home and put it to bed.

Both Chairman Hannegan and Chairman Reese of the opposing political parties are very confident of victory in today's election. A good deal of crowd is being stewed up in preparation for someone to eat tomorrow.

Marshall Tito in a speech in Belgrade predicts there'll be no war because the people of the world do not want war. Unfortunately, however, the people of Yugoslavia and Russia don't have much to say about it.

The Times-Union, speaking of the International Teamsters' Union's discovery that "Strikes have become a national menace," points out that this sounds like a death bed repentance. Like locking the barn door after the horse is stolen.

The Tampa Tribune admits there is at least one Democratic nominee who should be defeated. It is Representative Marcantonio. New York Communist posing as a Democrat. In fact, all Communists running for office in this country should be defeated even if it takes a Republican to do it.

President Truman redeems himself a trifle in our respect by authorizing the 48 Estonian refugees fleeing from the Russian Communists to remain in this country. Now, if these refugees were themselves Communists, we would feel very differently about it, but under the circumstances we agree they should be allowed to remain here.

According to the Census Bureau there are now more women voters than men, in fact some 1,171,000 more, and they can control the elections. But they won't. Most of them will vote as their husbands tell them to vote. But some husbands would be surprised to know that their adoring little wives who agree with everything they have to say, actually go down and vote for the other fellow.

Tourist groups in Florida are getting worried for fear there won't be as many visitors down here this winter as some of us had dared to hope. Dick Pope of Winter Haven says, "Too much emphasis on the crowded conditions and the necessity for making advance reservations in the New England states this summer was perhaps the cause of their poorest tourist seasons in years." It could happen here. Worse than that is to encourage large numbers of tourists to come down here and then have no place for them to stay, stick them, and let them go home, sorry they came. There's such a thing as killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

The Red Menace

We are rapidly reaching the time when loyal Americans must be willing to stand up and be counted. The American Communist Party, despite its claims, is not truly a political party. The Communist Party in this country is not working for the general welfare of all our people—it is working against our people. It is not interested in providing for the common defense. It has for its purpose the shackling of America and its conversion to the Godless, Communist way of life. If it were a political party its adherents could be appealed to by reason. Instead, it is a system of intrigue, actuated by fanaticism. It knows no rules of decency. Its unprincipled converts would sell America short if it would help their cause of furthering an alien way of life conceived in darkness and motivated by greed for power whose ultimate aim is the destruction of our cherished freedom. Let us no longer be misled by their sly propaganda and false preachments on civil liberty. They want civil license to do as they please and, if they get control, liberty for America will be but a haunted memory. For those who seek to provoke prejudice and stir up the public mind to angry resentment against our form of government are a menace to the very powers of law and order which guarantee and safeguard popular rights.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Malingering Prisoners

Rudolf Hess, who during the Nuremberg trials was suffering from loss of memory, is now reported to have recovered amazingly. Such things happen so often in trials to arouse the layman's suspicion.

Notable in American history as a case of malingering was the prison experience of the late Charles W. Morse. A financier with a shady past, he was convicted of bank-wrecking and sentenced to the federal penitentiary. A plea that his life would be endangered by further stay there resulted in a panel of army doctors certifying that his release was necessary, and President Taft pardoned him. Morse immediately recovered and went on to another series of dubious deals. The disillusioned Taft remarked that the case shook all his faith in expert testimony.

Has something like that happened in the case of Hess? He was sentenced to life imprisonment and it might be well to watch for efforts soon to ameliorate the sentence on the ground of mental recovery.

NOT ONE OF the Big Three would, I think, agree on a definition of fascism. A Russian writer recently defined as a fascist "everyone who is opposed to the Soviet Union." An American or British definition of fascism which would include dictatorship—but not a Russian definition, tariat. In Russian definitions, there is a whole range of "social-fascisms," "crypto-fascism," "neo-fascism," "clerical fascism." And under one or another head come the social democratic parties, all parties that refuse fusion with communists, all capitalists and monarchists, the British Empire. It seems that peace, in the Soviet and communist view, is to achieve the liquidation of all these manifestations of "fascism," with the political and armed universal war, civil and international.—Dorothy Thompson

Yes, Mr. Lewis

TAMPA TRIBUNE

Secretary Krug had yielded to the demand of John L. Lewis—who has become the most powerful man in the United States, with perhaps, the single exception of the President—for a conference with a view to reopening the existing contract between the government and the soft coal miners. Lewis made this demand Oct. 31, and, under the terms of the contract, it can be reopened within 10 days on formal request of either Lewis or Krug. In agreeing to the demand of Lewis for a conference, which was accompanied by a threat to call out the miners Nov. 1, it is evidently the intention of the government to reopen the contract and grant further demands of Lewis for terms even more liberal to the miners—because President Truman has announced positively that there will be no strike and he couldn't say that without knowing that Lewis will get what he wants.

The contract the government gave the coal miners union was declared to be too generous to the miners to be just to either the operators or the public. Lewis isn't satisfied with that, hence his demand for a reopening, and, undoubtedly, a better deal for his union.

If Lewis doesn't get all he wants out of the reopening of the contract, his strike threat will still stand and he will have the power, at any time, to call out the miners. This is the "big stick" he holds over the White House—and, heretofore, that scares responses have scared the administration into doing whatever he demands.

The government is running the coal mines, and a strike in the coal mines will be a strike against the government, which is unlawful. If Lewis should, by carrying out his strike threat, become voluntarily with premeditation a violator of the law, will he be arrested, something else—and judging by the complacent attitude of the government toward him, we seriously doubt that any such step would be taken, no matter how clear the guilt of Lewis.

The question of reopening the contract, however, has no relation to the violation of the law by striking against the government. Striking in the coal mines will be a criminal act, and would subject Lewis, the subordinate officers of his union, and its individual members who join in the strike to criminal prosecution. For such offense a jail sentence could be imposed.

This would afford an opportunity to show whether or not one individual is greater than the law. If Lewis should be put in jail it would go toward deflating an ego that has become a menace to the American people and to the government of the United States. Would the administration dare a showdown? Not unless it acquires more courage than heretofore.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By BLACK CURRY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Controlled immigration is bringing better potential citizens to America. The penniless alien in colorful native garb who flooded the nation's gateways in the old days now is seldom seen, says the U. S. Immigration Service. Today's typical immigrant, it says, "is more likely to have cleaner habits, to be better educated and better supplied with money."

And he sails or flies to America in style compared with pre-World War I days. The word "steerage" is now only a term.

The service says this in the latest issue of its publication "Monthly Review."

"In the olden days steerage quarters, between decks, ran the entire length and width of the ship with double-decker bunks and no partitions. Women and children slept on one side of the vessel, men on the other.

"Cattle, pigs, goats and chickens were carried on deck. This was the only way to obtain fresh meat, milk and poultry since there was no refrigeration. Passage cost from $10 upwards."

Congress moved in 1917 to prevent the immigration of undesirable aliens. It passed the Basic Immigration Act, which among other things listed the excludable classes set out in previous legislation and added some others.

One result was that in a typical year of unrestricted immigration 1,000 aliens were deported after hearings as mentally defective, 1,547 as having dangerous or contagious diseases, and 19,616 as having a disease or disability which might affect their ability to support themselves.

In a typical year after control, hearings were held for immigration hearings. Numerical restrictions and health and literacy requirements for immigrants have not ended the Immigration Service's troubles. Its trouble-shooters are the inspectors of the Boarding Division. They've also been called "the diplomatic corps" of the service. These inspectors must examine every alien and citizen passenger arriving in this country from overseas.

Nationalist Drive Slowed By Communists

Reds Launch Offensive Against Rail Line From Tsingtoa Inland To Tsinan

PEIPING, Nov. 6, (AP)—Chinese Communists in fierce counter attacks today are said to have slowed down the Nationalist Army drive through north China's Shantung peninsula. Military observers in Peiping said the Reds have curtailed the government's broad offensive. The Nationalists are said to have lost Yehai — one of the province's four major ports which they had recently captured. Meanwhile, the Chinese Reds launched a drive of their own against the rail line from coastal Tsingtoa inland to Tsinan.

However, the Nationalists claimed two more towns in Manchuria's Antung province west of the city of Antung which lies on the border between Manchuria and Korea. Russian troops are said to have been stationed in Antung, on the Manchurian side of the Yalu River boundary. Dispatches to Peiping said the Russians had withdrawn into Korea after so-called negotiations. At last week, Chinese Nationalist and Russian troops were facing each other across the river but the situation is described as satisfactory.

FBI Nabs Two Men For Bootlegging Sugar Stamps

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 6, (AP)—Two Louisville men were arrested by federal agents today in connection with the operations of a sugar stamp bootlegging syndicate. The ring is said to have been operating in a dozen midwest states. Agents of the federal alcohol tax unit took the men into custody as they stepped from a passenger plane at Bowman Field on a return trip from Chicago.

Agent William Kinnaird said the men had 9,237 sugar stamps in their possession. The men, both former taxi drivers, were identified as Frank E. Bushanan, 34, and H. S. George, 32-year-old. Kinnaird said the stamps were legal ones and were from North Dakota, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana and other midwest states. The agent said his department has been working on the case for months and that other arrests will follow shortly.

Kinnaird said the stamps were being sold in the black market and to whiskey moonshiners. He said that bringing the alcohol tax unit into the case, he explained that the stamps were evidently obtained from stores or verifications centers in the various states.

County Relinquishes Priorities At Air Station In Favor Of City

The Board of County Commissioners yesterday relinquished its priority at the City, any priorities they may hold on the Sanford Naval Air Station. This action followed the request of Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins, who stated that the City had asked that the county and state relinquish their holdings, and to write the War Assets Administration to that effect.

Mr. Higgins pointed out that buildings for schools and hospital are free to users, but that building to be used for private industry must be bought and paid for, and that the City will act as a trading agency for the government. The County has been assured in the transaction that the hospital at the station, will be used as a hospital only said County Clerk O. P. Herndon.

The commissioners heard an outline of the work of the Seminole County Health and Tuberculosis Association by Mrs. Edward Kircher, following which they approved admission to the Central Florida Tuberculosis Sanatorium of Harry A. Greenwood of Lake Monroe, Mrs. Betty Evelyn Reid,

U. S., Britain Confident Russian Offense In U. N. Can Be Headed Off

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 6, (AP)—The United States and Great Britain are said to be confident that they will be able to head off a rumored Russian offensive in the United Nations Assembly. It is understood that the Russians are trying to block creation of a United Nations Trusteeship Council.

The alternate United States representative on the Assembly's Trusteeship Committee, John Foster Dulles, is believed ready to offer a proposal that would avert a showdown on the controversial question of Russia's right to veto the matter.

Dulles' specific proposal is that the Assembly sidestep a decision on which states are directly concerned in the eight draft agreements requiring Assembly approval before the Trusteeship Council can be set up. The United States' proposal does not mention Russia directly. But it is understood to have sprung from reports that Russia considered that the five major powers came within the Charter definition of "states directly concerned" and that the refusal of any one of the five to approve the draft agreements would prevent Assembly action.

Mrs. Rodella Parker Died Early Tuesday

Mrs. Rodella Ella Parker, 53, died Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at her home at Benson Junction where she had lived for the past three years. She had been ill for some time. Mrs. Parker was born Dec. 9, 1912, at Griffin, Ga., and is survived by the husband, Harvey A. Parker of Benson Junction. Funeral services will be announced later by the Erickson Funeral Home.

Florida Hands Big Majorities To Democrats

Hendricks Has Safe Margin Over Moss; Early Returns Indicated Tight Race

ORLANDO, Nov. 6, (AP)—Orange County will have a Republican representative for the first time in its history. Complete unofficial returns show that incumbent Tyn Cobb, Jr., Democrat, and Republican Alex Akerman, Jr., won the county's two seats. Cobb got 6,106 votes, Akerman 6,093, J. G. Horrell, Democrat, 5,569 and Leland M. Chubb, Republican, 4,861.

By Associated Press Florida voters joined the rest of the South in speaking their traditional Democratic convictions with heavy majorities against all Republican candidates. Latest returns also indicated changes in the state government, dealing with financial matters, were decisively defeated.

United States Senator Spessard L. Holland of Bartow, now filling the unexpired term of the late Senator Charles O. Andrews, picked up the expected avalanche of votes. With votes counted in about three-fourths of the precincts, Holland has 120,885 ballots to 34,248 for J. Harry Schad of Gainesville, his Republican opponent.

The only sign of a real contest was in the Fifth Congressional District. Early returns indicated Republican M. J. Moss, Jr., of Orlando, might run neck and neck with Democratic Representative Joe Hendricks of DeLand. Hendricks, however, now has a safe margin. With two-thirds of the precincts counted, Hendricks has 12,909 and Moss, 9,907.

In the Fourth District, all 111 precincts gave George A. Smith, Republican, a big lead over Republican Norman Curtis, a fellow townsmen, 96,695 to 14,144. The Sixth District race saw incumbent Dwight L. Rogers of Fort Lauderdale lead Republican Joseph P. Moe of the same city, 10,611 to 4,476.

Democrats also walked away with two seats on the State Board of Education. The count showed Democrat Jerry W. Carter of Tallahassee, incumbent, 89,431, and Democrat Wilbur C. King of Zolfo Springs, 84,166, and Republican Clinton D. Scott of New Smyrna Beach 29,693.

It appeared a Republican has a chance to be elected to the state House of Representatives in Orange County. GOP candidate Alex Akerman, Jr., is a close second to Democrat Tyn Cobb, Jr. Another Democrat, J. G. Horrell, is also running close in third position. The leading candidates will be elected. Democrats have swept seats in the state House in Dale and Polk counties.

Two local amendments were passed and two were defeated. Approved were the orange county amendment requiring Assembly approval of county judge and policeman amendments. Local amendments losing in incomplete returns were the Plant City tax collection exemption and the Bay County tax collection plan.

Lafayette county elected a write-in candidate as State Representative. W. F. Howell defeated George R. Simpson 370 votes to 284, according to the unofficial tabulation. Simpson was nominated in the primary last May, but Howell, also a Democrat, won on write-in votes.

In Marion County, a write-in candidate lost. Unofficial returns with four fairly large precincts missing show Senator Wallace E. Sturgis elected by a substantial majority over W. S. Baeking, who ran as an Independent, write-in candidate. Sturgis received 2,224 votes to 727 for Baeking.

Democrats Win George Stine Elected Fed Prexy; Club Makes $5,000 During Season

George Stine, ardent baseball fan, was elected president of the Sanford Baseball Association last night at the annual meeting of the association's board of directors. Also at the meeting held at the Palma and Times, President Gene Tucker presented a financial statement of the organization which revealed that the club operated during the past season with a profit of slightly more than $5,000.

John Krider, general manager of the club last season and Sanford's member of the league's board of directors, was elected to the post of vice president and re-elected as the club's representative on the league's board.

Mr. Tucker was re-elected treasurer of the association and J. C. Mitchell was elected to the post of secretary-business manager. It was also announced last night by Joe Field, retiring president of the club, that Joe Field, Joe Houston, ace Sanford left hander in the Florida State League by having an earned run average of 2.03. He was followed by Scott Cary of the Orlando Senators with a 2.08 mark.

During a discussion of plans for the operation of the club next season, Manager Ed Levy requested his release as manager of the club and the directors voted to comply with the request at any time Mr. Levy saw fit to obtain it. The possibility of Mr. Levy being manager of the club next season was discussed, but the Colery Fed skipper intimated that he was attempting to sign with a higher class organization and play with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League next season.

Mr. Levy announced that he will attend the major-league meeting to be held in December at Los Angeles and that he would be in a better position to reveal further plans after that conference. The directors voted to send Mr. Krider to Los Angeles to represent the club during the baseball negotiations and the directors intimated that efforts to have Mr. Krider obtain a working agreement with a club or higher classification would be made.

As soon as the status of Mr. Levy is clarified, the officials agreed that the signing of a manager should be made as soon as possible so that the problem of gathering players to give the club a good club for the 1947 season could be tackled. Mr. Mitchell said that two complete sets of uniforms for next season as well as several other items of equipment were on order. The directors also commended one of their members, Miss Maude Ramsey, for her work on the board during the past year.

Named to the board of directors at the meeting were A. E. Fowler, Bradley Odham, M. B. Smith, Ed Fielding, Miss Ramsey, Mr. Field, E. G. Kilpatrick and Julian Stenstrom. The amount of federal, state, street car, trolley coach and gas bus companies has more than tripled in the past ten years.

Majority In Senate Still May Be Hiked

GOP Sweeps Country In Comeback After 16 Years In Political Background

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6, (AP)—Senator Claude Pepper commented today on the apparent return of the Republican party to power in Congress. The Florida Democrat said "there are hard days ahead for the people" here and abroad.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6, (AP)—The Republicans have captured control of the United States Senate as well as the House of Representatives. This announcement was flashed over the nation this afternoon by the Associated Press.

Associated Press tabulations at that time indicated that the 29th seat in the House of Representatives, one more than necessary for a majority, had been won by the GOP. They also went over the top in the Senate when Utah's Republican Arthur Watkins took the 49th Republican seat. That majority may be increased still further for five Senate races are yet to be decided.

The Republicans have swamped the nation surging to a political comeback after 16 years in the background. The overall means that the Congress meeting in January will be politically divided from the White House. Tradition pointed a favorable finger also toward GOP capture of the presidency in 1948.

President Truman agreed smiling to the Republican victory and replied, "no comment" to questions about the election. The Chief Executive promised, however, to hold a news conference soon to give his reaction to Democratic setbacks.

In the Republican sweep from coast to coast, additional territory gained that the GOP won governorships in at least 20 states. As the political clock of the Republicans started this morning and into the afternoon, Wall Street reacted. Today's market opened with an initial rise, but then dipped downward. Experts said apparently the GOP victory had been discounted in advance with the market rise last week and on Monday. That was the explanation for today's up and down.

Duke And Duchess Board Liner For American Visit

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Nov. 6, (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor boarded the liner Queen Elizabeth today for the United States. They couple plans to return to England in the spring but otherwise they are uncertain about their future. The former king told newsmen, before motoring to Southampton from the Earl of Dudley's estate, that his position remains the same as he said in his farewell broadcast speech of 1937. He said he quit public affairs then, but is always at the disposal of his country if there is anything useful he can do.

The Duke said he saw the Prime Minister for a short time but it was purely a courtesy call. He denied that he saw Mr. Attlee as a job interviewer and the Duchess said they thoroughly enjoyed their three weeks' visit to England, although it was marred by the theft of the Duchess' jewels. The Duke commented that he thought England was the one country where nothing like that would happen to them.

Following the alleged stabbing, which was said to have occurred at about 8:30 o'clock at the Zambiar Inn in Goldsboro outside of the city limits, colored people had Riley until Deputy Jack Heston arrived to claim him. The Grand Jury will convene in January at which time the case will come to trial.
