

RED CROSS CIRCUS WAS GREAT SUCCESS THREE BIG NIGHTS

SEMINOLE CHAPTER MADE ABOUT $1,000

The Red Cross Circus closed in a blaze of glory Saturday night and those loyal workers who have been on the job every minute for several weeks went home with the feeling that they had accomplished something worth while.

The tent was filled each night of the circus here and Saturday night was a big night with the added attraction of the closing of the Queen's Contest account of which is given in another part of this issue. The circus was a great success in every particular and those who managed the affair have no apologies to offer for any part of it.

The Red Cross will not a sum close to the thousand dollar mark from the circus and this will be used for the making of bandages, supplies, etc., that are so badly needed and the chapter will not need to rely upon the small sums that were formerly obtained by entertainments and donations and they should be able to take care of part of the work this summer on the sum supplemented by donations. The idea of putting on the circus was to obtain as much money as possible and not be under the necessity of asking for assistance every week.

It would be a difficult matter to give credit to all the public spirited citizens who gave their time and attention toward making the circus a success. To Mrs. R. J. Holly, chairman of the general entertainment committee of Seminole Chapter is due the credit of originating the idea of a society circus and carrying the idea through.

Florence Henry, 36,459; Elizabeth Stafford, 19,220; May Thrasher, 14,573; Agnes Dumas, 12,687. The Euxelian Class of the Baptist church was entertained by Mrs. B. G. Methvin and Mrs. C. F. Marshall at the home of the former last Thursday afternoon. Quite a number were present, including some visitors. The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. A. Johnson. Mrs. M. H. Massey, our pastor's wife was elected teacher to succeed Mrs. S. G. Kennedy who recently resigned. Mrs. F. R. Savage was elected alternate teacher. Mrs. A. Johnson was elected president to succeed Mrs. A. K. Rosetter. After the business meeting a very enjoyable time was spent socially. Mrs. Methvin and Mrs. Marshall serving refreshments. The class feels honored in being entertained by these charming members of the class.

And to the Kirkland Society Circus under the management of Geo. Kirkland is also due credit for filling their contract and giving Sanford a real circus in every particular.

FLORENCE HENRY IS QUEEN

Popular Little Lady Won in a Spectacular Finish. Miss Florence Henry was made Queen of the Circus last Saturday night in a most spectacular finish. The ballot boxes were brought to the circus grounds and when the alarm clock struck at 8:20 the contest closed. Just before the contest was over many of the friends of the contestants rushed in and deposited hundreds of votes and the election was one of the most exciting events of the entire circus.

Not only was she crowned queen but won the beautiful diamond ring that went to the first winner. The second and third also were the recipients of handsome gifts and the contest closed in a most satisfactory manner. It is safe to assert that no similar contest has excited so much comment or received so much notice. The standing of the contestants at the last moment were as follows:

The Thrift Saving Stamp campaign is being worked all over the county and the new chairman will make an active campaign in all parts of the county from this time forward. The ladies of the county have been very busy on the savings stamps, especially in the various schools. The Sanford Grammar School under the direction of the able principal, Mrs. Dickenson have up to date taken out 250 books. Mrs. Dickenson herself giving out many of the books and the ladies of the city offering to take out many more. It is now up to the gentlemen to get busy and see that every scholar in the Grammar School has a book with the first stamp in it. The Herald will take one or more for the scholars and every other business house can do the same.

Longwood pupils have done good work in saving stamps and Liberty Loans under Mrs. Polk. Ovidio has 58 books donated by Mr. and Mrs. Meade and others by O. P. Swope. Geneva is taking out savings stamps and Liberty Loans under Mrs. Curlett. Altamonte is coming across with many savings stamps and Liberty Loans among the children. Chuluota is doing her share and expects to do more.

And while every section of the county is doing their part they will have to do more as the days go by and the Thrift Stamps are the finest savings that the children especially can start during the war and keep up the thrift idea even after the war is over.

Postmaster Elder especially has accomplished wonders in the Thrift Stamp campaign and expects to do considerable more having already taken a half page ad in The Herald and in many other ways boosting the Thrift sales. Chas. Polk representing the Metropolitan Insurance Co., is working for the Thrift campaign and many others are doing their bit.

Colored American Citizens. Americans of every section, of every class and of every race have answered the call of their country. "Twelve million colored people have rallied to the defense of their country in this crisis and will do their full share in helping to win this world war for democracy." Dr. Robert R. Moton, principal of Tuskegee Institute, successor to Booker T. Washington in that office, said recently in an address at the Twenty-seventh Tuskegee Conference.

The colored American citizens will do their part in producing foodstuffs on the farm, in conserving food in the home, and in fighting in the trenches in Europe, said Dr. Moton, and in addition the colored teachers will preach and teach thrift among their race.

Henry Bought the Rooster. The fine Plymouth Rock cockerel donated to Seminole Chapter Red Cross by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Naylor of Longwood was auctioned off at the Circus Saturday night. O. E. Henry was the highest bidder and feels himself lucky although he paid a fancy price. This high bred bird was some chicken all right and Charlie Henry being a fancier of chickens will take good care of his prize.

Strawberry shipments have been succeeded in importance by vegetables, but berry growers who have fruit are getting better prices than at any time in over a month. The average this week was 26 cents, identical with the average of February 16th. The aggregate movement the past three days was only 8,000 quarts compared to 109,904 quarts for the corresponding period last year.

WILL BOOST THRIFT STAMP CAMPAIGN

SCHOOLS ARE PUSHING THIS GREAT IDEA AMONG PUPILS

On account of the great work of handling his own business, being chairman of the Liberty Loan for this county being a member of the state exemption board and many other important matters connected with war work, Hon. Forrest Lake has been forced to resign as chairman of the Thrift Stamp campaign and this work will be carried on under the direction of Hon. Schelle Maines of this city who has consented to undertake this important work in this county and will be the chairman.

BIG OPENING OF MARKET AND KITCHEN

ORLANDO EXPECTS TO HAVE BIG CURB MARKET

The following article from the Orlando-Reporter Star about the successful opening of the Liberty Kitchen and Curb Market will be interesting to our readers: Yesterday the Liberty Kitchen was formally opened with between a hundred and fifty and two hundred women present. The close attention given the speakers and the interest in the demonstrations showed these women were enlisted for work.

Mrs. Christ, who is chairman of the Liberty Kitchen said she had nothing to say regarding it, as it was here to speak for itself, but she wanted to speak regarding the Curb Market, which was a decided thing. If the women would club together to help it. The Board of Trade had endorsed the idea and contributed to the running expenses; and she wished every woman present to sign a pledge that they would patronize the market, which will be located on the lawn of the old jail, which was loaned by Mr. Beacham as long as it is not a nuisance to the neighbors.

This market is to be every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from seven to eleven, beginning today week. She felt the market would be of untold benefit to both the townspeople, who would be able to get their produce first hand and at first cost; and to the farmers, who would be able to sell their wares for cash, to sell things too ripe or too small for shipping, add to sell everything, thus eliminating the waste in the fields. Posters were to be circulated among the farmers through the courtesy of Mr. McLean and the Boy Scouts had agreed to circulate these posters in the city.

Miss Pratt, the Emergency Home Demonstrator, demonstrated rice, sorghum and oatmeal biscuits, and booklets with war recipes were given out in the audience. Mrs. Fuller, after a few words regarding food conservation spoke of why Hoover was placed in charge of food conservation. She said he was a self made man, who began by working in a mine, both in England and in Australia, and when twenty-six years old was in China, and during the Boer uprising the Americans were helping to get away and Hoover raised two hundred thousand dollars to assist them. He has lived all over the world and studied food conditions. France and England save Hoover seventeen millions a month with which to feed the seven and a half million Belgium people, and while doing this work Wilson cabled for one to come and take charge in America. Mrs. Fuller said the allowed rations in England were two and a half pounds of bread, one pound of meat and three ounces of fat per week and France even less than this. In Italy one is allowed to purchase macaroni only on three days in the week, and in France the women are doing the work of men, in many cases doing the work of beasts as well, as they are harnessed to the plough to make the crops, for there is not a beast of burden in the country.

She said we, who have everything, complain because the wheat is being sent abroad, and question why this is sent instead of corn. They have no mills that will grind corn and the shipping qualities of corn are not equal to wheat. Besides the nutritive value of wheat is twice that of corn.

Mrs. Burnett Smith said the people in England lived in constant fear of air raids, and that often the only rations for a meal would be a slice of bread spread with oleomargarine, but this cutting falls only on the citizens, for the soldier's rations are kept up.

Mrs. Fuller said every male in France, from fifteen to seventy is in the army, and that one million, three hundred thousand men had been killed and there were only thirty-five million people altogether in France when the war began. To feed these starving people we should not call our work a sacrifice, but a privilege. She said Jackson county, Ark., had sent every grain of their wheat to the starving, and Jefferson county, Florida had equalled this by giving all they had.

A discussion followed regarding a pledge to give up using wheat, which was amended to a pledge to do all in their power to set it aside. This was carried.

Books for the Soldiers. Sanford Doing Her Bit in the Reading Line. Lloyd W. Josselyn, state director of A. L. A. (Library War Service) and also librarian at Camp Johnston called at the Sanford Library on Tuesday. He was returning from Tampa where he reported having left an assistant to aid a force of recruits from the Boy Scouts and High School students, who were getting ready for the Arcadia Aviation Station, some 4,000 books donated Book Drive week (Mar. 18) by Tampa citizens.

At the Sanford Library he found 300 volumes awaiting his acceptance and orders for shipping. He left this message for the Sanford people: "Please accept the sincere thanks of the American Library Association for your interest and good work." The following bulletin received by the Sanford Library sinks the book drive explains itself: A. L. A. War Service, Library of Congress, Washington, D. C. The Sanford Library reports that the people of Sanford, Florida contributed 300 books during the past week for the use of our soldiers and sailors and that more books are still coming in. It is hoped that week after week they will continue to come in steadily, for our men will need books as long as the war lasts and the supply must be constantly replenished. All stations which have been opened for the receipt of books will be continued indefinitely, and the public is urged to form the habit of turning in their new books as soon as they have read them. In this way a constant stream of fresh books into the camps will be assured, and a most effective barrage established against the blue devils of loneliness and depression. All books received will be prepared for use in accordance with the simple rules laid down by the Library War Service of the American Library Association, and will be shipped to such points as the A. L. A. may designate. The needs of all camps and stations in this vicinity will be taken care of first. Most of the books collected along the Atlantic seaboard will be shipped to France as rapidly as possible. At least half a million are needed there at once, and a constant stream of replacements must be maintained for the wastage will be very great. Hence the call for books, books and more books. The A. L. A. has built up an organization capable of handling thousands and thousands. That the books will be forthcoming cannot be doubted. Herbert Putnam, Librarian of Congress, General Director. The ladies at the Sanford Library also wish to thank The Herald and all who gave books and service and thus helped Sanford again to do her bit. M. E. Key, Librarian.

THE LATEST WAR NEWS SHOWS GERMAN GAINS ALLIES ARE CONFIDENT

BELIEVE THAT GERMANS HAVE SHOT THEIR BOLT

The entire allied line in Belgium and France is holding firm. Nowhere have the Germans been able, notwithstanding the great numbers of men hurled against it, especially that portion in Flanders where the British are holding forth, to gain an inch of ground. Field Marshal Haig's order that no more ground be ceded is rigidly being complied with, as is attested by thousands of German dead now lying between the British positions southwest of Ypres.

Northwest of St. Mihiel the American troops have been compelled to withstand a series of persistent assaults, second in intensity only to those delivered by the Germans against the British in Flanders. And the honors at the end rested with the Americans, who met the foe at every style of fighting he offered and decisively defeated him.

Along the front held by the French, Sunday saw nothing of greater importance than reciprocal bombardments on various sectors, the troops on both sides remaining in their trenches. Likewise in Italy the great guns were doing most of the work. At Nueve Eglise, northwest of Almenteres, where the Germans are endeavoring to drive their wedge farther in order to outflank Ypres, the heaviest fighting has taken place. Throughout Saturday night and Sunday battles of most obstinate character took place, the Germans throwing thousands of men into the attack along the eight-mile front where the Germans are trying to drive their wedge. Nowhere except between Wulverghem and Meterenly have the Germans met with anything but repulse, and the price they have paid for their attempts to breach the British line have been enormous. On no sector have they been able to surmount the stone wall of the defense.

Documents captured from German prisoners show conclusively that the great new offensive of the Germans was launched with the intention of separating the British and French armies and the crushing of the British.

The latest German official communication dealing with the situation in the region of St. Mihiel, where the Americans are defending the line, says that the Germans inflicted heavy losses on the Americans.

In Finland the Germans are continuing to overrun the country and the fall of Helsinki is sadly to be expected. Washington, April 14.—The big American naval collier Cyclops, carrying fifty-seven passengers, fifteen officers and 221 men in her crew has been over due in an Atlantic port since March 18. The navy department announced today that she was last reported at a West Indian island port March 4 and that extreme anxiety is entertained as to her safety. The vessel was bringing a cargo of manganese from Brazil. The Cyclops had one engine damaged when she left the West Indies, but the department said this fact would not have prevented her from communicating by radio, and all efforts to reach her by that means have been unsuccessful. A thorough search of the course which she would have followed in coming to port has been made and continued. It was announced.

Draft Selects to Leave. The selects that will leave Sanford are expected to go April 26th and 27th. The white men will go on the 27th and the colored men will go on the 26th of April. Card of Thanks. To all those who were so kind and helpful during the illness and death of our beloved mother we wish to express our heartfelt thanks and appreciation. Seymour Graves and family.

NOTICE

Under the new ruling of the Federal Food Administration the flour substitutes have been raised in bread cakes and pastry put out by all bakers.

I will comply with same strictly for three reasons. First, it is a pleasure to help my government. Second, it is my duty to help my government. Third, I am compelled to help my government.

In doing this I cannot hope to put out the same first class quality of goods that I have heretofore. Hereafter, everything in this shop will be baked VICTORY STYLE until the government permits us to do otherwise.

I wish to ask the public to bear with me during these trying times, assuring them I am doing the best I can under the circumstances.

Thanking you for past favors and soliciting your future business, I remain,

Yours very truly,

Circus Matinee Saturday
The Red Cross Circus will give a matinee Saturday afternoon in order that those who live at a distance and are in the city can witness the performance and return home.

There have been many requests from the people in the country districts that a matinee be given especially for the little folks who cannot attend at night and for this reason the management has decided to have the Saturday matinee. Remember that at the matinee the same first class attractions will be given and the program will be exactly what you would witness at the night performance.

Death of Little Lottie Dodge
Lottie Deane Dodge died yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. N. Whitner after an illness of a week.

The remains were taken to Jacksonville today where the funeral will be held at the home of Miss Lottie Deane, formerly of Sanford and the death has saddened the homes of many friends and relatives in Sanford. Little Lottie was six years of age, a bright and winsome child, who had endeared herself to family and friends and her early death has caused a heartache in this community and at her home in Jacksonville.

Death of Mrs. Graves
Mrs. E. C. Graves died at her home on Palmetto avenue Wednesday night after a lingering illness.

The funeral services will be held from the home tomorrow morning at 8:30, Rev. Hillburn of the Methodist church officiating. Interment will be made at the old home of the family at Osteen.

Deceased leaves four daughters, Misses Weema and Jessie and Mrs. Godbey and Mrs. McMullin and three boys, F. Z., Seymour and Nolan to mourn the loss of mother, a loss that can never be filled in this world where mother takes such an important part in the life of the family.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in their hour of bereavement.

Village Choir
Half a bar, half a bar,
Half a bar onward!
Into an awful ditch
Choir and precentor hitch,
Into a mess of pitch,
They led the Old Hundred.
Trebles to right of them,
Tenors to left of them,
Bases in front of them,
Bellowed and thundered.
Oh, that precentor's look,
When the sopranos took
Their own time and hook
From the Old Hundred!
Screeched all the trebles here,
Boggled the tenors there,
Raising the parson's hair
While his mind wandered,
Theirs not to reason why
This psalm was pitched too high,
Theirs but to gasp and cry
Trebles to right of them,
Tenors to left of them,
Bellowed and thundered.
Stormed they with shouts and yells
Not wise they sang nor well,
Drowning the sexton's bell
While all the church wondered.
Dire the precentor's glare,
Flashed his pitchfork in the air,
Sounding fresh keys to bear
Out the Old Hundred.
Swiftly he turned his back,
Reached he his hat from rack,
Then from the screaming pack
Himself he sundered.
Trebles to right of him,
Tenors to left of him,
Discords behind him,
Bellowed and thundered.
Oh, the wild howls they wroght:
Right to the end they fought!
Some tune they sang, but not,
Not the Old Hundred.
—Selected.

¶ The farmers should make something out of their spring crops and thus in a measure make up their losses on the celery and lettuce. There are any number of spring crops that can be raised here and they have generally proved to be profitable. Now that the transportation problems have been solved by the Board of Trade the spring crops should be pushed to the limit.

¶ Our school teachers do not get enough money. By saying this I am not criticising the school boards because I believe that they are doing the best they can under the circumstances. But the government is offering good money for help now and the school teachers are responding to the call and unless the teachers are paid more money we will lose them.

¶ The circus has come and gone and it was a great big success and the spirit of get together was never exemplified to greater advantage than during the days of the circus here last week. Of course it was the ladies that made it go big and since the circus products we hired to come here and put on the acts they were not supposed to be doing any managing for it was the Red Cross that put it over and they did it to the queen's taste. Nothing of this magnitude can be put over without hiring outside talent and the best that was hired was first class. There is not a person who witnessed the performances who does not say that they received their money's worth. We cannot stay here in one place and never have any amusements of any kind even with the war on. We must have something to break the monotony and why not get something for the war funds while we are enjoying something out of the ordinary.

We May Hear Sousa's Band
Atlanta, Ga. — Sousa's famous navy band may be heard in the sixth federal reserve district during the third Liberty Bond campaign.
St. Elmo Massengale, director of publicity has just been notified by the headquarters at Washington that after April 10 fifty pieces of this famous organization will be available for the south, and he will make a tour of a week or ten days, appearing over a route made possible through the cooperation of local chairmen with the district committee.

The premier band conductor in America, who is responsible for the major portion of our inspiring marches, made a sacrifice of all his interest at the beginning of the war, and accepted a commission as lieutenant of marines. He immediately assembled around him an immense band of 300 pieces which has been heard in New York and other centers of the east with great effect.

A part of this band, carrying with it the best known of all Sousa marches enters the southern territory on the 10th and will be routed rough the district.

Student Recital
The first annual student recital, given by pupils of the music teachers of the Music Department of the Woman's Club and of Sanford will be given next Tuesday afternoon, April 16th, at 3:30 in the club house. Pupils from the classes of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson, Miss Margaret Davis and Mrs. Lucille Aspinwall Takach will render the program. This will be a public day and everyone is cordially invited to attend. An admission fee of ten cents will be asked which will go into the Music Department's general club fund.

A call meeting of the Music Department was held at the home of Mrs. W. E. Scoggan Tuesday afternoon, April 9th. The purpose of this meeting was to transact the business which ordinarily would come up after the program April 16th, thus giving the entire time to the student recital. During this meeting it was decided to have the first community sing during May. Details to be worked out later. Other important business was disposed of before adjournment.

Wellfare Department meeting on Wednesday afternoon, 3:30, Woman's Club rooms. Every member urged to be present. Election of officers. Also discussion of coming year's program.

Prices of Tin Cans
Prices on tin cans till May 1st f. o. b. Jacksonville are as follows: No. 2's, $35.25; No. 3's $45.65 per thousand. Address C. W. Zaring, Jacksonville, Fla., and send money with order for cans.

Those wishing cans should put in their orders at once as there is no certainty of being able to secure them at all later on.

CANNED FOODS SAFE TO EAT

Fantastic Tales Concerning Them Exploded by Federal Government.

PRO-GERMANS SPREAD LIES

Home Canners of America Prove Patriotism in Meeting Emergency—Billion Cans of Food on Pantry Shelves Today.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—There are 1,000,000,000 cans of home-canned fruits and vegetables on the pantry shelves of American homes today. Those billion cans are a huge monument to patriotism and the speed and efficiency with which democratic America can rally to meet an emergency. They are a weight of some size on the spirit of German autocracy and a colossal stumbling block in the path of Germany's march to world domination. They are the most important collection of cans the world has ever seen. And it is vitally important that the American people should realize that those cans are cans of good food, safe to use, safe to eat, and that certain fantastic tales being circulated concerning them are utterly without foundation.

The home canners of America canned 1,000,000,000 cans of fruits and vegetables this year. Next year, if all goes well and the spirit of the people remains equal to the tasks of war, they will can one and one-half billion cans of fruits and vegetables. This is a war measure and one of vital importance. Any tale or rumor which tends to discourage the use of this year's billion cans, or the preservation of next year's billion and a half cans, is of aid and comfort to the enemy, although it may, in some instances, be reported in all good faith.

Some of the rumors are so ridiculous that few people will believe them. Here are a few that have been discovered, investigated and exploded by authorities of the federal government: Exhibit A is the tale, circulated early in the canning season, that a part of the glass jars and rubber rings in use had been poisoned by German spies.

Tale Spreads Fast.

Exhibit B is a rumor of immense persistence and vitality, to the effect that the government is going to seize home-canned foods. This tale is surprisingly widespread; judging by the number of anxious letters concerning it that come to the government departments, the federal food administration and the various newspaper bureaus in Washington. Whether the story was started, as most people here believe, deliberately to hamper the coming campaign and render it less effective, or whether it simply arises from an utter misconception of the nature of the food and its purposes, is not important. What is important is that the story is not true. The government is not going to seize any home-canned foods.

A story related to this last is a report that the government is contemplating a war tax on home-canned fruits and vegetables. Careful investigation here has failed to show the slightest basis for this report.

Perhaps the most annoying report that has been making its unpatriotic rounds is the report that fruits and vegetables canned by what is known as the "one-period, cold-pack method" are liable to be unsafe as food.

For those who have canned foods of this sort on their pantry shelves the following absolutely authoritative statement is offered by way of reassurance: "The cold-pack method processes have been used for five years and not a single death or serious illness has resulted from the consumption of food saved according to its direction."

"Boiling" Saves Much.

Of course a certain amount of common sense is needed in the use of canned foods, just as it is needed in crossing the street or getting off a railway train. Fruits or vegetables which show any signs of decay should not be canned. Canned fruits or vegetables whose looks or taste, or odor when the can is opened, might indicate that they are spoiled, are perhaps best thrown away by the inexperienced canner; although experienced housewives often make use of canned fruits that show mold, for example, by "boiling them over" before putting them on the table.

This last process suggests the name of "vacillus botulinus"—a germ in a fair way to gain some small reputation. In a recent number of a medical journal there appeared an article on "botulism," a disease which may be contracted by eating spoiled canned fruits or vegetables.

It should be clearly understood that botulism is one of the very rare maladies. The chances for contracting it by eating canned goods, say the experts, are rather less than the chances of dying from lockjaw every time you scratch your finger.

The long-and-short of this whole matter of canned food is that there is no more danger from eating it this year than there was in any other year. If you want to take extra precautions, recook canned foods a little before using them. Remember, too, that home-canning is a great help in winning the war, and get behind next year's canning campaign.

Turkish and Greek Women.
Turkish women never serve in Christian houses, unless as occasional charwomen or washerwomen. Greek and Armenian women, on the other hand, are the mainstay of the Constantinople housekeeper; even Turks often employ them. The Greeks are the smartest and the most efficient, though they are perhaps too quick-witted to be perfectly reliable. The Armenians are neither so quick nor so presentable.

Salmon and Acids.
Investigators say that salmon find their way into rivers by means of the presence of acids or alkalis, which, of course, varies in different streams. Even when they are a long way out at sea, says the Youth's Companion, they can discover the trace that will lead them to the bay and the stream that they seek. It thus becomes unnecessary to appeal to a "homing instinct" to explain the return of certain salmon to certain rivers or the "running" of herring to certain localities.

One-Ton Walrus.
The average-sized Alaska walrus is as big as an ox and often weighs more than a ton. A walrus was killed by some whalers near Point Barrow whose head weighed 80 pounds and skin, including flippers, 500 pounds. The animal had a girth of 14 feet, the skin was from half an inch to three inches in thickness, and the blubber weighed 500 pounds.

Need Energy-Yielding Foods.
Persons who are doing heavy physical labor and very active children need more energy-yielding foods than those engaged in mental work or light physical labor. Some of the principal energy-yielding foods are cereals, bread and butter, corn breads, white and sweet potatoes, cream, and other wholesome fats, and sweets.

Expansion of the Mind.
What we seek in education is full liberation of the faculties, and the man who has not some surplus of thought and energy to expand outside of the narrow circle of his own task and interest is a dwarfed, uneducated man.

CALL HOBEY BAKER, FORMER PRINCETON STAR, A "TIREUR D'ELITE" IN FRANCE

"Tireur d'elite." That is what they call Lieutenant Baker of the United States army aviation section over in France; "Hobey" Baker, as he is known in the sporting world, formerly the captain and star of the Princeton football and hockey teams.

It explains the prominence to which the one-time Princetonian has already attained in aviation and why he is the first American flier operating under the Stars and Stripes to bring down an opponent in a fight in the air.

Only two United States aviators have so far been brevetted from the highest schools of France. The two, who are graduate "pilots de chasse" from Avord, Pau and Cazau, are "Hobey" Baker and Edwin Post, Jr., of New York city.

WITH THE BOYS AT WHEELER

Camp Wheeler, Ga., April 6, 1918. The past week has been a busy one for Company C. The one event that will probably interest our home folks most is that eighteen men have been transferred from the company this week.

We have been training in the use of gas masks for some time and the company is almost through with that work. It is very interesting and before the course is completed a man knows that he can rely on his mask to protect him in case of a real gas attack.

"When I talk to a man over the Long Distance Telephone it is like being face to face with him. I can inject my personality into the matter and win his confidence without loss of time.

"The telephone, both Local and Long Distance, plays an important part in our business. We have a Bell Telephone on every desk and the time and traveling expenses we save make the cost of our service one of the most profitable investments."

mediately why it is called tear gas, for our eyes smarted and began to run freely and the places where the gas was tight began to burn. After a minute we put the masks on again for a couple of minutes and then took them off for a couple of minutes, and then we were let out.

This week has been devoted to efficiency tests. Each man has been called on to go through movements of the drill manual by himself to show just how efficient each man is. The privates went through saluting, delivering messages, the manual of arms and like work.

Next week the whole division is to go on a practice march of five days. We leave here Tuesday morning at 7:30, marching through Macon, where the governors of Georgia and Alabama with their staffs will review the division.

Some of the boys have been fortunate enough to get furloughs in the past few days and visit home. Among these have been Raymond R. Boyd, Dudley Wilson and Maxie Bennett.

Senator Arthur E. Donegan was in camp yesterday spending most of his time with the boys from Kissimmee but he gave Company C a visit.

Five Hundred Thousand American Soldiers in France

We dare not delay the VICTORY now. American lives are at stake, our own safety, the safety of the whole world. If we are not to prolong the slaughter and the suffering, if we are not to risk defeat or an inconclusive peace, we must act quickly; we must put forth our every effort now.

The army is doing its part. Five hundred thousand American soldiers are in France today. There will be more tomorrow. And more the day after. We are going to send an army large enough so that when we strike, with our Allies, we can drive the German hordes back across the Rhine—so that we can win the decisive VICTORY that will make American freedom safe, and establish a just and lasting peace.

But the whole nation must take part. Our armies in France are looking to us to furnish them in ever greater abundance, the ordnance, the munitions, the supplies that will make their VICTORY possible. We must not fail them.

The Third Liberty Loan is our share in the winning of this war. Upon it depends the safety and success of five hundred thousand American soldiers in France.

"Orlando will have a curb market and several other good ideas in connection with it," says the Sanford Herald, which seems to think that Sanford would do well to continue the market started there some time ago. "This city was the first one in the state to start a curb market and it should be continued right through the year," remarks the paper. "There never was a time in our history that the market place was so much needed as now, for the public and the farmer gain by such an arrangement." Sometimes the great "conveniences" of the twentieth century work to our detriment. The general use of the telephone gives the housekeeper more time to knit, perhaps, but she gets what the grocer pleases to send her instead of the best that he has—and the family suffers, a little. The curb market has been tried in several places in Florida, and when properly supported is a good thing for everybody.—Times-Union.

SCHOOL VICTIMS

Looking at it from the material side—which is the side from which so many of us do look at our occupations—school teaching is the most beggarly profession in the United States. No other calling that is presumed to require anything like the same amount of training and ability is so ill-paid. No other calling that is presumed to require a considerable mental discipline and development is held in such low regard or is so little supported by public admiration. No other learned calling except the ministry is pursued under conditions that involve so much humiliation, and the minister's trials with his vestrymen or trustees are somewhat ameliorated by the fact that in many cases he is free to take an appeal over their heads, whereas the local board of education is generally a supreme court for the teacher.

These are not flattering things to say of a nation that has been declaring for a hundred years that its hope lay in public education. But they are true.

Just now the teacher is an exceptionally unpleasant situation. His or her cost of living has gone ballooning, like everybody else's. But on the whole there has been only a feeble response on the other side of the ledger. The result is depletion of the profession. Under present conditions—specially—when nearly every other field of activity is bidding eagerly for labor of nearly every sort—teaching looks less attractive than ever.

The less attractive it looks the more inferior the teaching force will become inevitably. Already operating the system upon which we say the hope of the nation depends has become, for a portion of those engaged in it, a mere incidental, pin-money stop-gap between graduation and getting married.

There is danger of its becoming an accepted notion that upholding the hope of the nation is something any fairly intelligent girl can do between dances.

But of course the real victims are not the teachers. The real victims are millions of prospective citizens, particularly in the country, on whom we are palming off a niggardly swindle.—Saturday Evening Post.

FRANK HUFFAKER A SOLDIER

Frank A. Huffaker, late of the Tampa Times has "joined" the army and become a full fledged soldier. Just because he is one of the best newspaper men, he has been detailed for a short time to do a little public work, and he will make more than good, as he always does. When he gets to the firing line, he will give a good account of himself.

In hearing Bob Holly deliver a patriotic address in DeLand last night we could not help but think what a splendid target Bob's head would make if he ever went into battle with his hat off. And this applies with equal force to Frank Huffaker. We are going to advise him to keep his hat on; even to the neglect of that other garment we hear about at times. Death loves a shining mark; and again, like Bob's, Frank's head shines. Glue that hat on tight, Frank; send us your address when you leave, and the Record goes to you, to the close of hostilities and then some, if you will only tell us where to send it.—Tallahassee Record.

YOUR COUNTRY APPEALS TO YOU!

THE WOMEN OF FRANCE are ploughing in the fields that the men of their army may be fed. Will not the women of America lend money to their country that their own fighting men may be provided for?

THE WOMEN OF ENGLAND, from the highest to the humblest are toiling in munition factories to make guns and shells for their soldiers. Will not the women of America do that far easier thing of merely lending their money to buy the guns for equipping the American men?

The safety for which these women of other lands are striving was won for American women long ago by the swords of American men. To preserve this safety for you and your children American men are now marching to battle even as their forefathers marched. Will American women stand shoulder to shoulder with them? They are offering their lives as a gift. Will you offer your dollars as a loan?

To save your home from the flames destroying France, your babies from the sword that murdered infants in Poland, your daughter's from the hordes that ravaged Belgian women even as they fled through the streets, American men are making the supreme sacrifice. What sacrifice will you make to help equip these defenders of your country? What will you give up that you may help finance the struggle to save American freedom?

Not a gift, but a loan is asked of you. Not a free loan, but a loan at interest. Will you withhold your money while men offer their blood? Buy a Liberty Bond for your country's sake. Put it in your own name. Buy one for the daughter it may save. Buy one for the boy too small to fight.

UNDERPAID TEACHERS

As a rule wage-earners have no reason to complain about the high cost of living for, generally speaking, wages have increased as rapidly as prices. The same cannot be said of salaries. The high cost of living bears heavily on the salaried classes and especially on teachers who as a rule get less in proportion to what they are worth than any other class. Of this the St. Petersburg Times says:

"The press of Florida is awakening to the fact that the increased cost of living hits school teachers just the same as the rest of us mortals. And it hits them harder, for they haven't had a living wage under the old order of things. This fall we will have a chance to help the teachers by voting for an amendment to the constitution allowing a larger millage for school purposes. If we will then remember how difficult it is for us to buy the necessities of life, perhaps we will vote the power to school authorities to pay the teachers what they should have."

The people of Florida should certainly adopt the amendment to which the Times refers but there ought to be some way of paying the teachers more money without waiting for the adoption of the amendment. This should be done as a mere matter of justice, but policy as well as right dictates it. If something is not done many of those who are now engaged in teaching, and getting less for it than common laborers will abandon the profession and engage in some occupation that will give them a living. They can't live on what they are now making and there are openings for them in government work that would pay them well, and they can get this class of work if they will pass civil service examinations that ought not to be difficult to them.

Existing conditions make it possible for teachers to better their condition financially very much and no one could blame them if they do so.—Times-Union.

THE NEGRO

The editor in chief of the Record is Southern to every drop of his heart's blood. Born and raised under old conditions in Virginia, "be fo' de wah," knowing the old darkey from childhood up, he always had a warm spot in his heart for the negro of the south. The war between the states came on; the slave was the guardian of the wives and children of the soldiers; the master placed implicit faith and trust in him; he was true to his trust.

Then came the end of the war—and reconstruction. The camp followers of the northern army persuaded the negro away from his best friends. He was given the right to vote. While those who guided him off were responsible there was a feeling among a large number of our people that he was a willing subject, and a severe estrangement resulted and the white and black line officially entered into affairs in this Southland. Intelligence must rule; and no negro of education in the south today would insist for moment that ignorance should be in control.

The white men of the South redeemed their land from ignorant domination, and in doing so, every state constitution adopted provided for the liberal education of the negro. Today he is prospering, and those who work and will do so have the respect of their white friends.

And it was just at this period of reconstruction that we of the south made our mistake. We should have taken hold of the negro, before he had been led away by the promise of "forty acres and a mule." Had we done this in time, none of the trouble we had afterwards would have occurred, and a better feeling between the masses of whites and blacks would have been the result.

But this is past and gone. A new era has developed. In an address before the Stetson student body last Friday morning we took occasion to say that there was no longer a Mason & Dixon's line, but one America; and the boy of the man in blue would keep step with the son of the man in grey. This week we were shown a check from the Grand Lodge Knights of Pythias (colored) by E. A. Pottsdamer. The amount was $10,000, and was part of an appropriation of $25,000 from that organization for the Florida jurisdiction and allowed to be counted in Leon County's quota for Liberty Bonds. Great, wasn't it? Sunday's papers tell us of 5,000 negroes marching in the parade that was reviewed by President Wilson in Baltimore. In the marching column in Jacksonville, Saturday night were a like number.

The best thing is happening. The war is bringing a better understanding between the whites and blacks of the south that will be of great benefit to all concerned. Treated right, the negro is the best farm laborer we have. As a result of the present troubles he will feel more reliance on his white friends, and the white man will have more confidence in him. We shall have a new era of prosperity when the clouds roll by, as a result of mutual good feeling, that no carpet bagger will ever succeed in stopping.

The negro of the south, at a critical moment has been given a chance to show that he still clings to our old traditions, and he has not disappointed us.—Tallahassee Record.

Cross Children.

Don't be cross with children when they are cross. If they are irritable and pouty leave them alone to their blues or try to divert their attention to some interesting book or game or toy. Get them outdoors to play or to walk. Take them for a ride. The common retort to cross children is in being cross yourself, but this only hurts the children and makes them moody and later despondent.—Exchange.

Application of Reason.

It is by reasoning that we arrive at the reason of things.

BIG FAKE IN STORIES ABOUT GLASS

FEW INSTANCES WHERE GROUND GLASS FOUND IN THE BREAD

In reference to the wide spread hysteria, caused by the evidently pro-German reports for the purpose of "frightfulness," alleging that ground glass had been found in foods at many points throughout the country:

I quote a letter from the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry to me, on this subject:

"Dear Sir—Your letter of March 14, addressed to Mr. Alaberg, concerning the finding of glass in food-stuffs has been received.

"This Bureau has made a large number of investigations into complaints of this character. For the most part no evidence of attempted injury to human life has been found. We have found glass; however, in several food stuffs investigated, some of which seems to be entirely accidental. If I can secure any more definite information upon this subject I shall forward it to you at once."

Also, a press dispatch from Washington, April 9 on the same subject, from Major James Miles of the Food Administration, as follows:

Washington, April 9.—Investigation by the government of thousands of stories of ground glass in food has disclosed but one case in which glass actually was found by the inspectors, according to the committee on public information.

That one instance, the committee announced tonight was the work of a disgruntled employe of a Fort Smith, Ark., bakery, who drove his employer out of business by putting glass in a loaf of bread sent to an orphanage. Some of the orphans had their lips cut, but no more serious injuries resulted. The baker, accused of being a German agent had to close his shop.

Persistent circulation of the ground glass story has resulted in inquiries by various branches of the government. The result is told in this letter written by Major James Miles of the Food Administration:

"We have followed the elusive ground glass story from Maine to California, and from the lakes to the gulf, the past four months. In the thousands of cases that have been reported we have found but one genuine case of deliberate intent of putting ground glass in food. This case was where a disgruntled employe of a bakery in Fort Smith, Ark., placed glass in one loaf of bread."

"The Food Administration has endeavored to impress upon the public and the press of the country the evil results of premature publicity given to reports in the presence of ground glass in food. Publication of the reports before opportunity is afforded for investigation serves to create a condition of hysteria in households, and does irreparable damage to the food producers and handlers whose products are attacked."

Also, report of the official investigation of the report of finding of powdered glass at San Antonio, Texas:

"It was officially stated at 90th division headquarters today that an investigation of Major Gaines' report had developed there was "nothing in it." It also was stated that Major Gaines was suffering from a severe breakdown and had been placed in the base hospital. It is stated that Major Gaines has been relieved of command of the secret service military police of the 90th division."

We have examined a large number of specimens of food—baked beans; bread, flour, candies and chocolates—and excepting in one or two cases of flour, in which we found fragments of broken glass of considerable size, have found no glass. These particles of glass could have been removed by sifting through an ordinary flour sifter.

Any glass or sand which would pass through an ordinary flour sifter would be harmless, and have no deleterious effect. There is no authentic record of powdered glass having had any ill effect.

Bakers and butchers are notoriously careless and often filthy. The practice of emptying the sacks of flour into the mixer, and then shaking them over the mixer, thus shaking off the sand, dirt and filth that adheres to the outside of the sacks when dragged over dirty car floors, platforms and the filthy floor of the grocery and bakery, necessarily adds sand and other impurities to the dough.

One Hundred and Forty-Two Years of Labor and Struggle

THE American people fought their first battles for liberty and the rights of self-government one hundred and forty-two years ago.

The immediate need is the investment of our money in LIBERTY BONDS!

At that time, and for many years thereafter, their realization of their national aspirations and of the goal toward which they were really striving was vague and indistinct. But step by step they struggled onward and upward toward a light which grew clearer as their eyes and minds slowly opened to its significance. Today, as a result of their struggles and their sacrifices, we possess and enjoy our priceless American institutions.

These institutions must be preserved. The structure so laboriously reared in these one hundred and forty-two years will be utterly destroyed if we do not spring to its defense with every atom of our energy and determination. This is not a situation which may be trifled with, or evaded, or put off. It is one which must be met now—today—no matter what sacrifices it may entail, or what the cost may be.

The sand in sausage and hamburger steak, which are made from the trimmings and scraps from the carcass, butchered on the ground, hauled through the streets in a dirty wagon, and often covered with a dirty hide or brush dragged over the ground and contaminated by sand and dirt is evidently the source of the grit found therein.

Wide publicity should be given to Major James Miles' letter to the press in order to check this widespread hysteria and evident panic, which is spread evidently by pro-German influence and large exaggerated by panic stricken and hysterical citizens.

Yours truly,
 R. E. Rose,

Our Relations with Colored People

It is always safe to follow the example of the Man "who spoke as never man spake," and who acted as never man acted, and who inculcated a principle of justice that man has found, and still finds, very difficult to embrace expressed in terse old English "God is no respecter of persons."

The person might be white with "blue" blood, or black with red blood, or a "yellow peril" but it makes no difference with God. He prefers a black skin with a white heart, to a white skin with a black heart.

He realizes, having created them Himself, that they have "feelings." They can laugh and rejoice; they can grieve and weep. They can, being kind and not beasts, appreciate kindness, or be wounded when slighted. We old slave-holders, who held them in bondage for two and fifty years are familiar with these facts.

They used to dandle us on their knees, and sing us to sleep on their faithful breasts; and during the war—that awful Civil War—when their enfranchisement hung in the balance, they stood by the homes of their masters like sturdy loyal yeomen. It is quite fitting that the story of their devotion shall be perpetuated, as some one has suggested, by a monument in every capital to the faithful slave of the Confederacy!

They have demonstrated their patriotism by their gallant service at San Juan. They are responding to the call to the colors in every part of the Union. They are going abroad later, if necessary, to fight for the democracy of nations.

Their efforts in the great Red Cross campaign deserve commendation and encouragement; and shame to any organization that ever should wound them by a slight, in their commendable endeavor and patriotic zeal!

Mrs. A. E. Philips.

Hansell—Singletary

Miss Willie M. Singletary was quietly married to Mr. D. A. Hansell April 6 at the Baptist Temple. Rev. Massey performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by relatives and most intimate friends of the couple.

Mrs. Hansell is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Singletary of this place. She is one of Howard county's successful teachers, teaching at Mims the present term.

Mr. Hansell is a member of an old and prominent family at Mims, and is employed in one of the mills of Mims.

Mr. and Mrs. Hansell returned to Mims Saturday afternoon, where they expect to make their future home.

Donated Tent Money
Frank L. Miller is always there with the big mit when it comes to the pinch. Frank is the live wire chairman of the Seminole County Fair Association and donated the use of the big tent to the Red Cross Circus. When Mr. Kirkland was ready to leave he wanted to buy the tent or rent it for his Gainesville show and offered $25 for it. The offer was accepted but Frank says the money will be donated to the Red Cross and the chapter will be richer by that amount and their thanks are due for this nice donation.

Mrs. Schaal has secured for her jewelry store the services of O. S. Vaughan, an expert watch repairer and optician who is ready to serve the public at Schaal's Jewelry Store. 67-2tp

"Mothers of Soldiers"
Mrs. Merca Marie Varney, a Chattanooga lecturer of rare ability and culture has won a reputation as "mistress of charm, logic and leavening." So the press of the country are assuring us. As the mother of an aviator in France she will appeal to every other patriotic mother and loyal woman in our midst.
The citizens of Sanford are cordially invited to hear her at the Congregational church next Monday evening, 8 o'clock. No charge for adm. Face will offering at the box.

War Relic Train Here
Chairman Forrest Lake of the Liberty Loan Committee states that the French War Relic Train will be here on the morning of April 23rd at 8 o'clock in the morning and remain until ten, giving everyone an opportunity to visit the train and see the real relics of the war at first hand. This train is said to have one of the finest displays of war relics that have ever been brought to America and the train is a special one travelling through all the states to stimulate the Liberty Loan buying. Remember the date April 23rd at 8 a. m. 66-4t

Red Cross Executive Committee
The postponed meeting of the Red Cross executive committee will be held at the Woman's Club Thursday, April 18, at 7:30 p. m., a full attendance of the committee is urged and each member of the committee is requested to be prompt as there are a number of communications to be presented and the chairman of the War Fund campaign will be present to discuss tentative plans for the drive.

Captain Commanding Company.
Attest,
W. M. Haynes,
1st Sergeant.

Thanks Public
To the public that responded so nobly and to all those busy workers who responded so nobly, to all the chairmen and committees, to all who took part in the performance, to Mr. Kirkland and his assistants and to Michael Sholtz who gave us free toll on the bridges, to the newspapers of this and adjoining counties and the merchants of Sanford and other cities who assisted in making our Red Cross Circus a success we wish to express our thanks and appreciation.
Mrs. K. J. Holly, Ch.,
General Committee.

Talk on War Bread
Mrs. C. M. Berry will give a talk on war flour and war breads at the Woman's Club house Wednesday afternoon, April 17th at 4 o'clock. Every food preparer is invited and urged to attend. This is an important subject and something in which we are all compelled to be interested.

Card of Thanks
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stillwell desire to express their heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all who were so kind and considerate to them in their recent bereavement—the death of their little daughter, Jessie Louise. For the floral offerings and many acts of kindness they will ever be appreciative.

ons of the jolly crowd at the Lyric. It was opening day of Booster Week and fun was abounding everywhere.
The local pictures were life like enough to speak, and the original stunts and unique entertainment pulled off by Mr. McGary, promoter of Booster Week was pleasing to all.
As advertised, dollar bills were given away and The Herald was much in evidence. All the names that were published in both issues of last week's Herald were cut out were placed in a box and this box was passed through the audience and names drawn out by different ones and read aloud, so every one had the same chance of the dollar bills.
A most laughable pie-eating contest for the boys was enjoyed, and the illustrated song was pleasing, the song being illustrated with pictures of our own dear little tot. A number of nice useful and attractive presents were distributed among the crowds, or the spoons, which were so skillfully slipped in the patrons' pockets as they came in the door. These presents were given by our own progressive merchants.
The manager of Booster Week promises the same sterling program for the rest of the week, with an entire and complete change of pictures, contests, surprises, etc., each day.

Take Over Steamer Lines
Washington, April 15.—No great disarrangement of schedules and management of the four Atlantic and Gulf steamship lines—Clyde, Mallory, Merchants and Miners and the Southern—to be commandeered and operated by the railroad administration will be made for a week or ten days officials said today. Some vessels now operating from Gulf ports to New York and New England then probably will be assigned to North Atlantic service.
Plans to use the ships to relieve the railroads of much of the traffic now going into New England over the congested rail routes are contemplated. Freight will be routed to New York and Newport News, and transhipped by water to New England. This applies particularly to coal.

Another Draft Called
Washington, April 16.—Another draft call for 49,843 registrants has been sent to governors of states by Provost Marshal General Crowder. Mobilization of the men is ordered for May 1 and 10, the war department announced tonight, and they will be sent to eleven forts and recruiting barracks, probably for training with regular army units there.
This call increases to more than 300,000 the number of select men ordered to camp since late in March. This is far in excess of the monthly average that would have been mobilized under the original plan to call 300,000 men this year over a nine-month period. Future calls at the same rate would complete the program before midsummer.

Yankee Tanks at the Front
The Tribune hears another surprise is in store for Fritz in the near future.
Henry Ford has turned his attention recently and with great success to the manufacture of Yankee tanks—light, mobile, small affairs, that will become the hornets of the war.
The Germans were a much surprised bunch when the British first sent the crawling fortresses against them.
Tommy Atkin (not our own beloved Tommy), was convulsed with laughter at the amazing spectacle of the monster caterpillars straddling trenches, brushing aside all obstacles and discomfiting the enemy.
The Germans claim that they have developed tanks of their own and some slight mention was made of them when the so-called drive was initiated.
They also profess to have perfect measures which will render the tanks useless—an armored gun encased in a turret and heavily mined pits.
But the Ford tanks will prove another problem. They will be faster and smaller and harder to hit and a great number of them may be used.
That they will prove a new harassing feature to the Hun is certain.
And soon may they be rambling over the top!—Tampa Tribune.

St. Augustine will soon have a cottonseed oil mill, which will be known as the Seminole Fertilizer and Oil Company, and will be capitalized at $250,000.
A farmer in St. Johns county has made nearly 500 gallons of fine syrup from cane grown on an acre and a half. With syrup selling at a dollar per gallon, he realized a splendid financial return from his labor and land.

Hot Cross Buns for Easter
Bread making which has become a "lost art" in many homes is being revived, and housekeepers are exercising a great deal of ingenuity in combining the war time cereals to produce wholesome and palatable results and at the same time to help Uncle Sam save wheat and animal fats to send abroad.
When bread is made at home it is very easy to give the family a side-treat of risen rolls or buns.

SHERM'S DOTS

THE DOTS SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE.
By Clifford Leon Sherman.

Dear Folks:—This morning when the boys were having their hair clipped two little French kiddies wandered into camp. They were nice little youngsters, and we gave them some buffalo hickies for souvenirs. They were very quiet, but you could see they were dying to ask questions. After their shyness wore off, one of them said, through an interpreter, "Of course, you don't mind my mentioning it, but I thought all Americans dressed like SAMMY."

TO PUSH BUILDING OF RED CROSS HOUSES

Home Service Work For Army Camps Stressed in Conference At Division Headquarters

A very important conference touching the work of the American Red Cross in the army camps of the Southern Division was held in Atlanta a few days ago. There were present not only Col. W. L. Peel, Division Manager; C. B. Bidwell, Associate Manager, and Z. Bennett Phelps, Division Director of the Bureau of Military Relief, together with a number of the Red Cross Field Directors and Assistant Field Directors from the camps, but also, W. Frank Parsons, Director General of Civilian Relief; Henry S. Thompson, National Director of the Bureau of Camp Service, and Charles E. Fox, Assistant Director of Camp Service in charge of construction.

A number of important matters were discussed, among them being the personnel in the training camps, the building and manning of the Red Cross houses for convalescents in the camps, and the appointment of directors for these houses. Instructions regarding hospital information service, and the relation of the Home Service department to the department of Military Relief and the importance of Military Service to the men in the training camps and in the trenches, which latter was taken up with the field directors by Mr. Parsons.

The volume of Home Service work to be done necessitates the appointment of an associate field director in charge of home service who will work with the regular field director in the camp. There will also be a Home Service director of every transport that carries American troops to France, so that every soldier who leaves family or business worries behind may have someone to whom to turn for help and advice. The problem of keeping up the morale of the army by making them understand that their families are well looked after while they are away was asked as that of helping to maintain a normal standard of living in the families where the men are away belongs to the Home Service or Civilian Relief Department.

"At the time of the Napoleonic campaigns," said Mr. Parsons, "it was estimated that the morale of the army was more important than ammunition in the ratio of 2 to 1. In the present war, one of the greatest English generals has estimated the ratio as 9 to 1. Home Service is more important to the United States troops than to those of England and France, because the French and English soldiers have two weeks' leave every 90 days, can return to their homes and look after their most pressing business affairs for themselves. But the American soldier who goes to France will probably stay in France until the end of the war, and it is only through the Home Service Department of the Red Cross that his mind can be relieved from all worry concerning affairs at home so that his entire attention can be concentrated on soldiering."

Many illustrations of the value of Home Service in the training camps of this country were given by the Field Directors, and the duties of the men in charge of this branch of the work outlined.

Henry S. Thompson, national director of the Bureau of Camp Service, spoke on the duties of the military field directors in the camps and their relation to the Home Service Directors in the same camps.

The building of the Red Cross houses in 40 army camps in this country was then taken up by Charles E. Fox, assistant director of Camp Service in charge of construction, and the purpose of these houses was explained to the Field Directors and assistants who were present. Quarters and a place of amusement will be provided in these houses for convalescent soldiers who are well enough to leave the hospitals and yet not well enough to return to active duty, as well as accommodations for the families of men who are ill enough to make it necessary to send for their relatives. It is being planned that a large part of the furniture for these houses shall be made by the older boys in the Junior Red Cross auxiliaries. The construction in the camps of the Southern Division will be supervised by John R. Dillon of Atlanta, of the firm of Morgan & Dillon, architects, who has volunteered his services to the Southern division for any sort of architectural work.

Men trained in work similar to that of the Home Service department are wanted at once for work in the camps and on the transports. All applications in this division should be made to Joseph C. Logan, Director of Civilian Relief.

Field Directors and Assistant Field Directors present at the conference were T. T. Flagler, S. A. Darrach, Dr. Josiah Morse, Lanning Harvey, W. R. Carr, William C. Denny, H. M. Voorhees, J. Loaring Clark, H. A. Field, William S. Moore, J. C. Williams, and Mrs. Charles A. Sheldon, Sr.

Harvey D. Gibson, General Manager of the American Red Cross, announced this week that the Junior Red Cross organization has endorsed and taken over the Children of America Army of Relief, and that henceforward the work of this latter organization will be carried on by the Junior Red Cross.

The transfer of funds took place on March 2nd, $40,000 being given over to the Junior Red Cross to be devoted to child welfare work abroad, and the Army of Relief will cease to solicit funds. All Army of Relief members are now eligible for membership in Junior Red Cross auxiliaries, and Chapter School committees are authorized to incorporate them in schools that are not already enrolled as Junior units or to incorporate all Army of Relief members in their territory as a single Junior Auxiliary.

RED CROSS TO COLLECT CLOTHING FOR BELGIUM

Hoover Asks Davison's Aid in Work of Relief

Beginning March 18 and ending March 25, a seven day, nation-wide campaign will be carried on by the American Red Cross and the Commission for Relief in Belgium to secure a minimum quantity of 5,000 tons of clothes for the destitute people of Belgium and the occupied portions of Northern France. At the request of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Commission for Relief in Belgium, Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross War Council, has granted the use of the national Red Cross organization for collecting the needed clothing.

As the commission has allowed most of its local committees to disband because of the financial arrangements made last June with the government, it has turned to the Red Cross for help. Where the local committees of the Relief Commission are still intact, they will work side by side with the Red Cross chapters.

The practically entire exhaustion of clothing, shoes, and leather in occupied Belgium and Northern France and the shortage of these necessities in the world's markets are making it increasingly difficult for the Commission to keep clothed and shod the unfortunate people in these territories. In addition to new material, gifts of used and surplus clothing, shoes, blankets, flannel cloth, etc., are needed in large quantities from the people of the United States.

The donations will be shipped at once to the Atlantic seaboard and sent overseas for distribution.

CANTEEN SERVICE FOR SAMMIES IN FRANCE

Red Cross To Serve Boys in the Front Line Trenches

The American Red Cross has just arranged to establish with the American troops in France a front line canteen service similar to that through which they have served more than a million poilus with hot drinks during the last six months, according to a cable just received by the War Council from Major James H. Perkins, Red Cross Commissioner to France.

This will consist of rolling canteens stationed close behind the front line trenches. There are now fifteen of these operating behind the French lines, from which fifty or more large receptacles of hot drinks are sent forward daily; usually in the small hours of the morning. These drinks are served free to the men going on or coming off duty.

This service has proven of such value to the French that the American army has asked the Red Cross to have this service directly in touch with the medical relief stations nearest the front. The work is often done under heavy shell fire and requires men of great bravery and sympathy.

The American army officers are manifesting a keen interest in having this service at the disposal of the American troops and have asked the Red Cross to enlist a substantial number of men of the highest caliber to undertake this work. It will be performed at the point nearest the firing line at which civilians are permitted.

NURSES NEEDED IN MILITARY HOSPITALS

Surgeon General Asks Red Cross To Supply 5,000 Nurses

Surgeon General Gorgas of the United States army has called upon the American Red Cross to supply to the Army Nurse Corps five thousand nurses between now and the first of June. These nurses are needed for service in the military hospitals both in this country and abroad. Although the Red Cross has already supplied nearly 7,000 nurses as a reserve for the Army and Navy Nurse Corps since the beginning of the war, the impera-live need for a greater army of nurses grows daily as the war progresses.

According to a statement made by Surgeon General Gorgas, it is estimated that there are between eighty and ninety thousand registered nurses in the United States, and that approximately thirty thousand will be needed for service in army hospitals during the present year. The immediate need for five thousand of these is emphasized.

Miss Jane A. Delano, Director of the Department of Nursing of the American Red Cross said:

"Not only are we appealing to the nurses to volunteer for this service, but we also appeal to the public and to the physicians employing these nurses to aid in making it possible for them, without too great financial sacrifice on their part, to hold themselves in readiness to respond to the call of their country. We wish also to bring to the attention of nurses the unusual opportunity offered by the insurance law enacted for the protection of our army and navy, which applies equally to nurses assigned to duty as members of the Army and Navy Nurse Corps."

"A great responsibility rests upon the nurses of the country. They are the only group of women recognized as a part of the military establishment, and should be looked upon as the representatives of the womanhood of America at the front."

"Not only should the other women of the country encourage nurses to volunteer for service, but they should make every effort possible to protect the nurses holding themselves ready for service and share with them the responsibility and sacrifices necessary."

RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE SET FOR MAY 20

In order not to detract even slightly from the forthcoming Liberty Loan campaign, the War Council of the American Red Cross has postponed the campaign to raise the second War Relief fund of $100,000,000 to the week of May 20 from the week of May 6th, as was originally intended, it was announced in Washington today.

This action fixes the date of the second Red Cross campaign eleven months after the first, which was started on June 18, 1917. The War Council had been appointed by President Wilson only five weeks prior to the beginning of this campaign, so that its first great task was to provide means for carrying on relief work during the war on a scale commensurate with the military operations.

More than $100,000,000 was contributed in response to the first call for financial aid and contributions plus interest brought the total receipts from the first drive up to $105,099,527. Of this amount, $17,006,121 was refunded to Red Cross chapters for local relief work. Of the balance, $77,721,918 has been appropriated, leaving a balance of $10,373,217 available for appropriation. France has received appropriations amounting to more than thirty millions. During the week preceding Christmas the Red Cross conducted a membership drive which resulted in the enrollment of approximately 22,000,000 new members. This was followed last month by a campaign conducted by the Junior membership of the Red Cross which resulted in the enrollment in the collateral organization of practically all of the school children in America.

NEVER TRADE; SELL OR RELEASE TYRUS COBB

President Frank J. Navin of the Detroit American league baseball club flatly denies a rumor that Ty Cobb might be sold or traded to the New York Americans.

"I have often said that Cobb will complete his major league career in a Detroit uniform and I will reiterate that statement," said Navin. "Cobb will never be sold, traded or released."

CHARLIE WHITE THIRD MAN IN MANY BATTLES

Charlie White, a landmark of the ring, who passed away at his home in New York a few weeks ago, was the most prominent referee of pugilistic contests in this country. In nearly all the big events, when championships changed hands or were defended successfully in the Eastern states, he was "the third man in the ring." The last big contest in that vicinity where White was the arbiter, was the Willard-Morgan contest in Madison Square garden, March 25, 1910. He was at the ringside when Johnson defeated Jeffries in Reno, Nev., in 1910, as alternate referee.

Among other prominent fights in which White officiated as referee were: Jeffries-Corbett, Fitzsimmons-Sharkey, at Coney Island; Fitzsimmons-Ruhlin, Maher-Ruhlin, Walcott-Smith, Walcott-West, Walcott-Creedon, Jordan-Dixon, McGovern-Erne and Erne-Gais in Chicago, and Young Corbett-McGovern, in Hartford, Conn.

LAW OF AVERAGE IN GAME OF GOLF

Does the law of average run true in golf matches? According to Charles Evans, national amateur and open champion, the answer is in the affirmative.

He claims that all persons must agree that accidents may in one disastrous moment sweep away the work of years, destroying health, happiness, even life itself; but, of course, this is a fact of possibility, not of greatest probability. In all ordinary conditions he believes that the race is to the swift and the battle to the strong.

All sorts of bad luck may delay success, but skill averages well in success in the long run in golf as well as all the important things of life.

PROMOTION FOR MAL BARRY

Brewers' Star First Baseman is Making Good as Soldier—Raised to Rank of Sergeant.

Mal Barry, star first baseman with the Milwaukee club of the American association, is making good as a soldier. He has been promoted to sergeant, according to word received by A. F. Timme, president of the club. Barry, although married, was called early in the draft. Timme said an opening will be made for him when he returns.

An Evening Dress For Misses of Fashion.

For the jeune fille there is this lovely frock of satin and lace. The lower edge of the front panel is trimmed with beading.

A charming model for an evening dress is given here and it need not be expensive, for there are many pretty silks and satins of American make for the girl who cannot afford to spend much on frocks for formal wear. The skirt is draped and trimmed with a panel at the front. The waist is cut in square effect and has straps over the shoulders, with short one-piece puff sleeves gathered to a lining and sewn to the armholes under the arms. A ruffle of lace finishes the neck. In medium size the costume requires 5 yards 36-inch material, with 1 1/2 yard lace 4 1/2 inches wide for the ruffle and 2 1/2 yards ribbon 2 inches wide for the straps. In addition there will be needed 1 1/2 yard 36 inch lining for the waist, sleeves and foundation back.

To begin properly, take the lining and close the under-arm seam as notched. Turn hem in back at notches. Gather upper and lower edges between "T" perforations and gather 2 inches above lower edge. Arrange on lining with center-fronts, center-backs, under-arm seams and corresponding edges even; stitch gathers at upper and lower edges to position.

A Model for the Spring Voile of Challis.

An attractive model for the young woman who is conserving wool, substituting challis, voile, etc., for the spring frock. It is trimmed with braid and satin.

With all the shifts of fashion, one does not get away from the frock of dark blue when style, service and economy must be combined. Since wool must be saved for the soldiers, voile and challis are going to be in great demand. This pretty dress has the open-neck finished with a square collar of satin in self-color. The waist is built upon an underbody of lining and the skirt has a plaited panel at the front with gathered tunic at the sides. Medium size requires 5 1/2 yards 44-inch material, with 1/2 yard satin for collar and 6 1/2 yards of braid. The underbody taken 3/4 yard 36-inch lining.

After closing the underarm and shoulder seams of the body, which is the first step in the construction of the dress, hem the front at notches. Then plait the lower edge, and adjust stay.

Next, close under-arm and shoulder seams of the side front and side back. Gather lower edge between "T" perforations and 2 inches above. Arrange on underbody with under-arm and shoulder seams, and the armhole edges even; bring the lower front and back edges underneath the plait in underbody with the edge of side front under the plait nearest center-front; stitch gathers to position. Stitch side edges to position.

with a tunic skirt. In the design pictured here, which is carried out in serge, the basque is finished in high-necked effect, the skirt having a panel front and gathered side tunic. There are inserted pockets in the tunic and jointure of basque and skirt is concealed under a narrow sash of self-material. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 54-inch material. A close survey of the cutting guide will show that the material is folded in two different ways for the proper cutting of the dress. The tunic, back gore, front, sash and piecing, placed end to end, determine the length of the first section of the fabric and all of the pieces named, except the tunic, are laid along the lengthwise fold. The tunic has the large "O" perforations resting on a lengthwise thread. Opposite the back gore of the skirt are the back of the waist, the sleeve, collar and pockets, with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread of serge.

The piece of material remaining is now folded over until there is room to accommodate the front gore of the skirt. The pattern is laid along the lengthwise fold. The narrower fold-over will be sufficient for the panel front, also laid with triple "TTT" perforations along the lengthwise fold. If the skirt or tunic be desired shorter than illustrated, cut off the pattern the desired length before placing on the material.

The model lends itself to still another form of development—with open neck and collar of contrasting material, a belt to correspond with the collar and tunic without pockets.

KENTUCKY'S BEST COLT STRANGLED TO DEATH

Monastir, Kenneth D. Alexander's colt by Broomstick-Starry Night, which died at Douglas park of strangulation following an attack of distemper, was one of the most highly regarded two-year-olds in Kentucky. Mr. Alexander is serving with an ambulance corps in France and was notified by cable of his colt's demise.

Monastir, one of the best bred of this year's lot of youngsters, was said to have worked out in faster time than any two-year-old in the state; and was valued at $20,000.
