THREE CHINESE ARE WOUNDED BY U.S. TROOPS

American Steamer Attacked by Chinese Agitators and Troops Guarding Vessel Are Forced To Open Fire

Williams Says Natives Plan Demonstration

Communist Posters Have Been Placed On Homes Of Rich Chinese At Ichang

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(INS)—American bluejackets clashed with Chinese agitators at Chungking, opening fire with riot guns, which resulted in the wounding of three Chinese. Admiral C. S. Williams, commanding the Asiatic fleet, advised the Navy Department today.

The Americans were part of an armed force which had been placed aboard the American steamer China to protect it. The vessel was attacked by Chinese Samsung, loaded with local agitators.

Admiral Williams reported today: "At Chungking, on April 2, it became necessary for an armed guard from the American river gunboat Monocacy which was on board the American steamer China, to use riot guns to keep off Chinese Samsung who were determined upon revenge because of unauthorized cargo being removed, due to the fact that it was endangering the ship. Three Chinese were wounded, one probably fatally. A demonstration has been planned for today by agitators in protest against the action on March 31. The American consul is on board the Monocacy and is still awaiting a reply from missionaries in the interior."

British gunboats Mananias, Widegon, and Teal arrived at Ichang on April 1 from Chungking. Communist boosters have been placed upon the residence and business places of wealthy Chinese at Ichang. After the arrival of the Monocacy the El Cano, which has been stationed at Ichang during the winter, will withdraw with the Monocacy to Hankow.

All British excepting the consul, the mother superior, and a gunboat have left Chang-Sha. Gunboat crews have threatened the American consul. About 15 American Catholic missionaries left Chang-Sha after the British gunboats. The American consul contemplates closing the consulate on April 7.

At Hankow, following a quarrel between a Japanese sailor and a Chinese coolie, a mob of Chinese coolies invaded the Japanese concession, looting shops and attacking Japanese on the streets. Japanese sailors who were landed from a gunboat were compelled to open fire with machine guns, wounding a few Chinese but eventually dispersing the mob. The sailors remained ashore guarding the concession. Trouble is expected from this incident.

Dr. Taylor and family, who previously had been reported as being unwilling to leave the office at Hankow for Shanghai. There are no foreigners now remaining in Nanking, except three danish priests.

POWERS EXPECT TO SEND CHINA STRONG PROTEST

Demand For Reparations And Warning Against Further Outrages May Be Included In Note To Nationalists

WASHINGTON, Apr. 4.—(INS)—Negotiations between the powers over the critical state of affairs in China have reached a point where it is likely a strong and concerted protest will be made to the Cantonese government this week over the Nanking outrage and other anti-foreign outrages.

The action of the powers probably will embrace a demand for reparations, and a sharp warning against further outrages upon foreign lives and property, but, according to all indications here, will fall short of the ultimatum which the British government has been insisting be served upon the Nationalists. An ultimatum carries with it inherently the threat of sanctions and reprisals, and on that point the British and American viewpoints diverge.

The attitude of the Washington government has been interpreted as a definite course of action should there be another such occurrence, such as the British government's demand that the British government inform the Cantonese in no uncertain terms that drastic punitive action would be taken in the event of a repetition of the Nanking affair.

HANKOW SCENE OF DISORDERS, TEN ARE SLAIN

Citizens Seek Refuge On Ships, Fearing That Anti-Foreign Feeling May Spread

Many U. S. Citizens Are Leaving Peking

Japanese Concession Reported Attacked By The Nationalists

PEKING, April 4.—(INS)—All Americans remaining in Hankow have taken refuge upon ships in fear of an anti-foreign uprising following an attack by Japanese against a riotous mob in which 10 Chinese were reported killed, according to word received from U. S. Consul Lachart today.

The Japanese opened fire against the rioters with machine guns Sunday night when lives of Japanese nationals were threatened. Japanese are leaving Hankow upon every available boat.

The United States warship Asheville has been ordered to Tien-Tsin. Although many Americans are leaving Peking, 400 American world-tourists from the steamship Resolute arrived here today for five days of sightseeing.

SHANGHAI, April 4.—(INS)—Japanese residents of Hankow have fled from the city, following mob attacks upon the Japanese concession, according to information received here today.

Evacuation was virtually completed at 8 o'clock Sunday night when three steamers left for Shanghai carrying the refugees. The flight was the result of attacks against Japanese bluejackets and civilians in the Japanese concession and an assault by Nationalist soldiers with rifles against Japanese troops from the eighth army who had been sent to protect the concession borders.

The fate of five Japanese bluejackets and five civilians who were carried off when a landing party from a Japanese warship drove out menacing mobs from the Japanese concession at Hankow, is not yet known.

One bluejacket is reported to have been drowned following his capture. The trouble arose from an attack against a Japanese bluejacket when the sailor remonstrated with a Chinese boy who had been drunk by bystanders to play a prank upon him. A crowd assaulted the sailor, later attacking all the bluejackets in sight.

LONDON, April 4.—(INS)—Clashes have taken place between Chinese mobs and British citizens at Shanghai, it was reported from Hong Kong this afternoon.

Anti-foreign feeling at Shanghai is increasing and agitators are active, leading mobs in pillaging and in attacks against the English.

Chinese troops at Ching Kiang have taken over and occupied properties which foreign residents evacuated, the dispatch added.

Boll Weevil Forecast For Central Section

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(INS)—Mississippi valley territory may expect somewhat heavier initial infestation of boll weevil than was experienced in 1926, the infestation decidedly increasing to the eastward, the bureau of entomology of the Department of Agriculture announced today.

The survey indicated that in the eastern areas, however, sufficient weevils will be present to cause serious damage provided weather conditions during the cotton-growing season are favorable for weevil development. In Texas, especially in the central portion, the weevil population was decidedly increased by favorable weather conditions during the latter part of the 1926 growing season and a somewhat heavier initial infestation is expected this season than for several years.

Salm Seeks Separation And His Wife Asks Divorce Decree In Paris Court

PARIS, April 4.—The marital troubles of Count Salm von Hoops and his wife, formerly Miss Millicent Rogers, daughter of Col. H. H. Rogers, Standard Oil magnate, reached the divorce court today.

Count Salm filed suit in the Seine tribunal asking for a legal separation. The Countess filed a counter-suit demanding a divorce.

Count Salm alleged in his petition that his wife had refused to return to her conjugal domicile which, in plain language is an accusation of desertion.

In filing his suit the Count gave his name as Ludwig Albrecht Konstantin, Count Salm, and his address as a small hotel in the Etolle district.

The Countess gave her name as Marie Henriette Rogers and for her Paris address the name of a luxurious apartment in the Rue Varenne on the left bank of the Seine. She and her mother are occupying the apartment.

It has been reported ever since the Count's suit for separation and the custody of his small son Peter was dropped in New York some weeks ago that the scene of the domestic litigation would be shifted to Paris. At the time the New York suit was withdrawn it was reported that Salm had received a settlement of about $400,000.

During the evening Mrs. S. E. Wester rendered

Florida Weather For Past Week Has Been Ideal For Farmer, Tourist, Resident

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 2.—(INS)—For the most part, the weather in Florida during the week ending yesterday was cool, dry and sunny, ideal for farmers, tourists, resident and visitor alike in the state, according to the weekly weather and crop bulletin issued here today by the government weather bureau. The complete bulletin follows: "As a whole, the weather during the week was cool, dry, and sunny—ideal for farmers to advance all work. The outstanding need of planted seed and growing plants was moisture, which came in quite copious and well distributed amounts during the last days of the previous week, supplemented by showers in the southern localities during the forepart of the current week. Soil conditions were greatly improved. The cool nights, and local frosts over the western and the extreme northern division on Thursday, retarded growth to some extent, and in some localities the stand of no-lasting damage. The rainfall was heaviest in the northern and central division, where the total for the week exceeded 1 and 2 inches at some stations; it is not too far off from normal, especially on uplands. "Corn, oats, melons, citrus, trees, strawberries, and truck generally were greatly benefited by the rains. The planting of corn and cotton, and the transplanting of tobacco, continued. The stands of all are mostly good. High winds, resulting in local sandstorms, damaged some cotton, corn and truck. The shipping of strawberries diminished from the central division, but increased from the northern and extreme districts. Tomatoes are doing well in the central and northern divisions, and squash, beans, peppers, onions, celery, potatoes, and other truck are increasingly abundant in the north and west. Crop shipments of truck continued from the south and locally from the central division. The setting of sweet potato slips became active soon after the rain wherever slips were available. Citrus groves needed rain very much, now look well with the bloom quite abundant over most of the belt. Groves are being fertilized and worked generally; the shipping of late fruit continues. "Mostly dry, cool, and sunny very favorable for farm work, which was well advanced. Early corn and melons made fine progress—planted, somewhat by cool nights. The planting of corn and cotton continued. Berry shipments increased. Citrus groves are in good condition. The shipping of potatoes increased. "Very beneficial and well distributed rains improved truck, citrus groves, corn, cane, peanuts and oats. Berry shipments have about ended, but tomatoes, potatoes, and other truck shipments increased. Melons improved during the week. "The weather was rather cool with local frosts, but no lasting damage was done to any crop. Corn, cotton, and tobacco planting continued—all are in fair to good condition. Strawberries, potatoes, truck, and satsuma groves are doing well. "Southern Division the cold, northerly winds during the latter part of the week were unfavorable to truck. The shipping of tomatoes, beans, and other truck continued.

COTTON FARMER LOSS BLAMED ON MARKET SYSTEM

Bankruptcy Of Growers Is Result Of Methods Used In Handling The Product, Diversified Crops Remedy ATLANTA, Ga., April 2.—(INS) Bankruptcy of hundreds of farmers in the southeast in the past few years is blamed on the "rotten system of marketing" by Martin Amoroso, state cotton statistician and agricultural economist. Amoroso, who has spent years in the cultivation and study of cotton has invited farmers and agricultural economists anywhere in the country to suggest some plan which would be a good substitute for the present marketing system known as the United States cotton futures act. "In the present system of marketing," he says, "there is no element of supply and demand fixing the prices of the farmers' cotton. If the farmers produce 16,000,000 bales of cotton in one year, and the mills actually need 15,000,000 bales in that same year, the farmer is compelled to sell the 15,000,000 at less than cost to produce and throw in the other million bales as bonus. "Producers' Profits "In all other articles of commerce the producers get a profitable price on actual demand and are thus enabled to margin and carry the surplus if any. If the saw mill men produce more lumber than they can sell, they get a profit on every car they sell and carry the surplus. Even if it rots in the pile, they still can pay their debts. "I assert the bankruptcy of the farmer is due to the rotten system of marketing accredited by the United States government under what is known as the United States cotton futures act. Under this law, New York is the final market for all cotton grown in the United States. The New York cotton exchange is limited to trade in one grade of cotton, known as middling 7-8 inch, and the longest staple. This grade is only 25 per cent of the normal crop. "The pricing of all other grades is fixed at 10 local spot markets, and once a month the average prices of these spot markets are used on the New York cotton exchange to settle differences in future contracts. All cotton mills protect the price level for the year by trading on the New York cotton exchange.

Six Questioned In Murder Of Soldier

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. April 2. (INS) Six persons were being grilled by police this afternoon in an attempt to fix the responsibility for the murder of Rosco Simmons, private, Battery C, Fifth Field Artillery, Ft. Bragg. The soldier was found in a dying condition on a street here early this morning with two knife stabs in his body. He died on the way to a hospital. Simmons, police said, was last seen with two battery mates, C. B. Martin and A. J. Domineck. They are being detained by police for questioning, along with a negro and three negro women. Once there was an artist who had a model wife.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
THE SAINT'S ASSURANCE:
O fear the Lord, ye saints: for there is no want to them that fear him. The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing. Psalm 34:9, 10.

SHORT PANTS.

I ask not for riches,
But oh for a change,
To get some new britches—
Just one pair of pants.

I hope you get britches
That will not bring snickers,

Now known as knickers.

Wouldn't it be nice if Governor Martin should interest some of those capitalists in the drainage of the upper St. Johns.

Governor Martin made himself more popular with the people of Florida when he ordered tax extensions the other day.

While they are at it, why don't the race track crowd legalize roulette wheels, dice games, bootleg joints and hawdy houses?

It is said that Al Smith is pre-

For months we have read the bulletins regarding King Ferdinand's condition with some humor. A report from Berlin says he is at the point of death. One from Belgrade says he is much better while from Bucharest itself comes the news that he is preparing to take an active part in some function of state.
It is all very funny, this condition of health of the King of Roumania, but we wonder if to Ferdinand, himself, who has suffered from cancer for over a year and is now fighting pneumonia, it is much of a joke.

Racetrack man from Miami dropped in the other day and said the next session of the legislature was going to legalize horse raco gambling and we asked him did he think the legislature would pass such a law and he said, "Money can do anything." Now what do you suppose he meant by that?
—Sanford Herald. What do you suppose?—Tampa Times. Well, it would not surprise us a bit if he meant that some thousands would find it very convenient to be absent from a certain session, especially if they should wake up some mornings and find hundred dollar bills under their pillow.
—Sanford Herald. Well, we know one paper that is going to print
the roll call on race track votes, and the people can draw their own inferences.—Palm Beach Independent. That makes two then.

Corrupt Or Asleep?

An article appearing on the front page of a recent issue of the Miami News gives some idea of what law violations are in the near-by cities. Under a streamer, "Liquor cache found near school," the News goes on to tell how a ring of bootleggers had operated a brewing plant and "speakeasy" on a vacant lot adjacent to the Andrew Jackson junior high school grounds.

How long this condition had existed, no one seems to know. The policeman, stationed on the beat, said he knew nothing whatever about it until complained to by parents of the school children. Apparently the policeman would do nothing then, since it was necessary for the irate parents and citizens of the Allapattah section to call at police headquarters before any action could be obtained.

After search warrants had been issued and other necessary red tape gone through with, the officers found the bootleggers' plant under piles of underbrush cut from a neighboring grapefruit grove. There, thirty gallons of brew were in the process of fermentation and five hundred bottles of the stuff were capped, ready for sale. Several five-gallon demijohns, connected with bottles by rubber tubes, and other crude paraphernalia completed the outfit.

Although there was no evidence to show that the bootleggers had sold liquor to the school children, its proximity to the school grounds would lead one to believe that it had been located there for that purpose. This opinion is substantiated by the statement of the superintendent of schools who declared that it had been necessary for the school authorities to be constantly on guard to prevent the sale of liquor to the children by "unscrupulous persons who used soda bottles in the traffic."

It is hard to believe that such a condition could exist in a "civilized" country during an "enlightened" era. We can understand the bootleggers' point of view. There have always been unmentionable creatures, so low-minded and despicable, that they do anything for money, and probably always will be. But we cannot see how a police department could be so corrupt as to accept graft at the expense of both health and morals of innocent children, or so sound asleep as to allow such an intolerable situation to exist right under its very nose without knowing something about it.

English Persists

How's your grammar today? Are you saying "ain't," "he don't," "didn't hardly," "between me 'n him," or "between him and I"? Are you like the little boy who told his teacher, "More people kin understand me the way I talk than you the way you talk"? If you are, you are wrong, because people every year are coming more and more to appreciate the value of good grammar.

In one of the public schools of New York City a system has been devised for improving grammar and of disciplining those who persist in being slovenly. At the instigation of one of the teachers, the children formed a club which exacts a fine from any member violating a rule of good usage. For "ain't" the fine is ten cents, but for other less serious errors only a nominal nicker is demanded.

In a well known boys' educational center, the young men have a more stringent method of dealing with laxity in grammar. The boys themselves constitute the legislative, judicial and executive branches of the government, and whenever an offense is committed against the King's English the culprit is summarily tried and executed. Two boys hold him while a third wields the paddle. The double negative results in ten licks, the hotter the better. "Ain't draws fifteen and 'It's me' ten."

Needless to say the effect of such methods is most stimulating. It is surprising how quickly a general purification of English may be noticed after such treatment. That is why Americans of the next generation will not have to call it the American language but can continue to refer to it in the same old way as English.

THE TRIBUNE HAS determined to eliminate from its news columns so-called "free publicity." "News" furnished by a press-agent is deceptive; it is advertising printed in the guise of news; it is always colored in the interest of the private enterprise for which the press-agent writes his "copy". As such, it is unfair to the public, and the sincere newspaper will not print it without properly classifying and labeling it as advertising. Tribune readers may be confident that in the future, all that appears in its columns as news is just that—without disguise, camouflage or favoritism.—Tampa Tribune.

THE GREAT AND prominent institutions of learning are crowded with students, and the average is high in all branches of instruction. Flaming youth happens to be much touted at this time, but it is attending to business just the same. Some of the most drastic of reform waves prevailing in the country at this time are not helping to build up good citizens, but the splendid fiber of American youth is not strained. It grows and improves.—Florida Times-Union.

A LESSON FOR THE PRESIDENT

MANUFACTURERS' RECORD

No one familiar with the boom days of the West in the early 80's or the boom conditions which have prevailed in California from time to time and the boom throughout the South in the 80's which finally collapsed in 1891 and 1892, should be at all disturbed as to the final outcome of the situation in Florida following the reaction from the speculative operations in real estate 1925 and 1926.

Florida never witnessed a boom quite as feverish, in many respects, as that of Kansas City and Birmingham. Birmingham, for instance, was the very center of wild speculation, difficult for anyone to comprehend who did not actually pass through it and make a study of it from about 1884 to 1892. But because Birmingham had the foundation on which to build, and because it had men of great ability and energy to guide its destinies, it has become one of the great iron and steel centers of the world.

In this issue, in the course of some rambling reminiscences of golden days, the story is told of how, when Birmingham was just emerging from the depth of despair and depression, a banker in a public address told of how the banks in the city united in issuing clearing-house certificates based on the firmest collateral, but that "those certificates floated the city out of the slough of despond into a sea of prosperity."

Facts such as these should be studied today by the people of all sections, for what Birmingham passed through in the way of a town-bust speculation and what it has developed into a way of vast industrial and commercial enter-

Chinese News is Worse.
Earthquake in Japan.
A Flying Dance Floor.
Socrates Was Fortunate.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

SUBJECTS OF Great Britain are fleeing from Canton. British interests in China are much greater than ours. Chinese hatred of foreigners is spreading rapidly through northern China. Foreigners—men, women and children—are in danger. Their governments should have withdrawn them, by compulsion if necessary, when China's outbursts against foreigners first began.

BRITAIN CANNOT AFFORD to yield her Chinese business, if she can possibly avoid it, and would like us to join in an ultimatum to China and reprisals against the Chinese.

This country is sending 800 more marines to China. The citizens rely on the government's judgment, but hope we shall not be drawn into any Chinese war, or any killing of Chinese beyond what may be necessary to protect our own people.

GREAT BRITAIN shows a deficit of 37,000,000 pounds in 1926. That sounds more serious than it is. When you consider that the figures include results of the great coal strike and the general strike, the amazing thing is British capacity to recover from such industrial disaster.

JAPAN, MOST FREQUENT victim of nature's upheavals, reports another serious earthquake in a western area. Shocks were very violent but casualties few, according to early reports. On March 10 an earthquake killed more than 3,000 Japanese and injured more than 6,000 in central Japan and great anxiety, naturally, prevails, because of yesterday's shocks.

GERMANS ARE STARTING a flying service across the Atlantic from Spain to South America. If our government is willing they would also like to run Zeppelins from Germany to this country. Our government should welcome them. We might learn something.

A ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP from Spain to South America will carry 100 passengers besides the crew, provide excellent sleeping accommodations and a good dancing floor with music for passengers.

GERMAN ENGINEERS plan a "regular air train" to be made up of one powerful airplane, pulling a number of "gliders," planes without any engine. Arriving at its destination, each glider, guided by its separate pilot, would be unhooked from the locomotive plane and descend to earth. This will be watched with interest in the United States. "Watching" is what we do best.

IN ANCIENT ATHENS, Socrates was sentenced to drink the hemlock because the Athenian democracy felt toward him as some good men toward Darwin. Socrates made the people think, and was accused of impiety.

Because he respected the law, Socrates drank the poison, although he might have escaped, if you will know from reading Plato. He died and will live forever.

NOW MR. PARADOPOULOS, of modern Athens, appeals to the high court to reopen and reverse the verdict passed on Socrates 2,325 years ago. He says, "The honor of Greece requires revision of the judgement."

WHEN YOU READ Plato's description of Socrates' death, immortalizing both Plato and Socrates, you realize that the judges did Socrates a favor. And reading Plato's description of Socrates' at dinner, flattering the drunken and rather worthless Alcibiades, and taking pride in his own ability to drink more than others, you realize that the drink of hemlock may have saved him from making a fool of himself later.

THE KING OF Roumania is dying. Cancer and worry have done their work, the worry making the cancer's work more rapid. In a little while their may be no "King of Roumania." The next big European upheaval will probably cause Russia to swallow Roumania, as big fish swallow little fish. Roumania was safer when smaller.

NEWS CONCERNING Henry Ford is reassuring. He has returned to his home from the hospital and there appears no doubt of his recovery.

WILL ROGERS, after a flight over magnificent mountains in Montana, writes that in comparison the Swiss mountains "look like a prairie dog town." He thinks American mountain farmers would be as picturesque as those of Switzerland if they would wear feathers in their hats and learn to yodel. Also, if farmers practiced yodeling until they get adequate relief from the government, they would have plenty of time to learn.

Does anybody remember when you used to be able to tell a prosperous man by the size of his hair?
Long hair is simply disgusting, says Antoine, the Parisian hair sculptor. Now watch them grow!

FOR ENHANCED BEAUTIFICATION OF FLORIDA

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Not so many years ago it probably would have been thought a waste of time to give even so much as one day to consider ways and means by which to add to landscape beauty anywhere, and especially in Florida, where there is so very much of natural beauty—in flowers and trees and shrubs and in great profusion.

Notwithstanding all this natural beauty that is in Florida, commendable efforts are being made in various localities through out the state for enhancing, or adding to the natural beauty that is in Florida. For this work of love and of pleasure there is a great need, more than sometimes is recognized. Florida, for instance, is referred to frequently as the Land of Flowers. As a matter of fact, flowers are not as abundant here as they should be, natural advantages considered. This is particularly true from a commercial standpoint. Flowers, desired for decorative purposes, and even sometimes for show purposes, have to be imported from the North. This should not be. But this article is intended to have particular reference to beautification work in Florida this phase of the matter will be passed for the time being.

On Saturday, April 16, the eighth Florida State Beautification convention will be held in Ocala, the entire day to be devoted, practically, to flowers, their culture and uses. The program announcement carries the information that the convention will open with the singing of America, the Beautiful, a rather significant selection for the occasion, suggesting that while practically all of us in Florida admire the talk and sing about the "beautiful" we do so comparatively little in the way of making this state more beautiful and more attractive by means of flowers. Hence it is that this beautification organization has been formed and is doing commendably good work in the line of enhancing the natural beauty of Florida, so that it may begin fact as well as in song and in poetry the Land of Flowers.

It is very much in order to quote from the program arranged for the Ocala convention on that a definite idea may be gained of the character of the topics to be discussed. Beautification of a city will be discussed by Mrs. Henry Wright, of Sanford, and Mr. H. H. Dickson, of Orlando, is scheduled to tell of Beautification of Florida. Then will follow: What the United States Department of Agriculture and the Extension

COOLIDGE PROSPERITY

TAMPA TIMES

Bank and commercial failures during the early weeks of 1927 do not support the Coolidge pretensions of prosperity. On the other hand, they make it very clear that whatever prosperity this country is enjoying is 'spotty' and that its chief beneficiaries are those who are enjoying special privilege.

Reports to the federal reserve board at Washington show that during January, this year, the total number of bank suspensions was 128, or substantially double the number in January of last year, when 65 banks closed their doors. Deposits of banks suspending during last January total $35,095,000 as compared with $17,220,000 deposits held by the 65 banks suspending during January 1926.

During February last, the number of commercial failures in the country, as reported to Dun's was 2,035 with liabilities of $46,040,716, as compared with 1,801 with liabilities of $34,175,348, during Feb-

Methodist Evangelist To Speak Tonight On Subject Of "HenPeckedHusbands"

Rev. Gas A. Klein, conducting a series of special meetings at the First Methodist Church, was heard three times on Sunday. A large crowd greeted the evangelist at each of the meetings.
 The afternoon sermon was one of the most helpful and spiritual the evangelist has preached since his arrival. The subject, "Limiting God," was a somewhat new thought to his audience and when he finished a number of the congregation responded to the proposition of the evangelist that they would try in every way to be more faithful in the performance of their duty.
 On Monday evening there will be three classes, The Truth Seekers, the King's daughters and the Dependables to attend in a body.

On Tuesday evening the Daughters of Wesley and the Epworth League will attend in a body. Last evening there was a large delegation present from the orphanage at Benson Springs, headed by the Supt. J. W. Austin and Mrs. Austin.
 At the services yesterday the pastor, Rev. W. P. Buhman, expressed the appreciation of the church and preachers for the kindness shown them during the meeting by the two newspapers and the mayor of the city regarding the publishing of notes and the postponing of the band concert on Sunday afternoon.
 On Monday evening Rev. Klein will preach on the subject of "Henpecked Husbands" and all the men of the community are especially invited to attend.

SENIOR CLASS OF SEMINOLE HIGH SCHOOL GIVES PLAY WEDNESDAY

Members of the senior class of the Seminole High School will present their annual play on Wednesday night at the school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. "Amazon Isle" is the name of the play that will be given.
 "Amazon Isle" is a three-act comedy whose scenes are laid first in the drawing room of a millionaire's home in New York and later on an island in the Pacific Ocean ruled by a beautiful Amazon queen.
 The play contains an unusual number of thrills, such as buried treasure, and eclipse of the sun and a troop of Amazon warriors besides good comedy characters.
 This will be the first play given in the new high school auditorium and all the beautiful new scenery will be used.
 The cast of characters is as follows:
 Cyrus Quackenbuck, a self made millionaire—John Eitzinger, Reggy Rexford, a social idler—Merlin Barnes.

 Simpson a confidential secretary—James Sands Jr.
 Mrs. Duffadye Dare—Stella Moses.
 Squire Sykes, from Union Center—Roy McDougal.
 Pansy Sykes, the Squire's niece—Ruth Grier.
 George, the colored butler—Leon Hirschowitz.
 Jack Doves—William Du Bose.
 Rose Cyrus, daughter—Russell Lee Wheeler.
 Violet, his other daughter—Frances Morrow.
 Bula Bula, an Amazon—Edith Varr.
 Lulu, Amazon Queen—Louise Thrasher.
 Also a troop of Amazon head hunters and some masquerade guests.

Commerce Men Are Optimistic Over 1927

E. J. Trotter, E. W. Pearman and L. C. Bebout returned Sunday from Fort Pierce where they attended the annual convention of the Florida Commercial Secretaries Association.
 The enthusiasm displayed by the secretaries and their optimistic outlook on the future of Florida was very gratifying, according to the Sanford delegates, who stated that the session was also one of the best ever held.
 The Association's stand on several civic projects common to most Florida cities was especially noteworthy, according to Mr. Trotter, who said this morning that

Adriatic Tamburica Band To Appear As One Of Features Of Chautauqua

A unique feature of the coming Redpath Chautauqua here will be two concerts to be given, one on the first afternoon and one on the first night, by the Adriatic Tamburica Band.
 This popular band is made up of Jug-slavic musicians who feature the tamburica, their native musical instrument.
 For more than a thousand years the natives of what is now known as Jugoslavia have found expression for their joys and loves, their fears and hates, through the tamburica. With this interesting instrument they have produced music of almost unbelievable loveliness.
 The tone of the tamburica is pure and clear, the intervals sharp of violin, cello, flute, and oboe can be beautifully simulated.
 The smallest of the tamburica family, called the "baby tamburica," does not weigh more than a pound, and has a sounding board not larger than six by three inches, yet the tone travels evenly with vibration as strong as that of any other stringed instrument.
 The foundation and low tones of the orchestration of the Adriatics are furnished by a tamburica of the size of the modern big bass viol.

Ford Likely To Be Called As Witness During This Week

FEDERAL BUILDING, Detroit, Apr. 4—Henry Ford will be called as a witness in the million-dollar Ford-Sapiro libel suit as soon as Arthur Sapiro, the plaintiff, leaves the witness stand, it was announced today by William H. Gallagher, chief of the so-called wheat king's counsel.
 This call probably will be made before the end of this week, said Gallagher.
 The injuries suffered by America's first billionaire in a motor crash a week ago Sunday night will not change the plans of Sapiro's counsel. If the auto king is reported unable to take the stand, Gallagher said a court examination may be demanded.
 Clifford B. Longley, personal attorney for Ford, announced the decision would not object to a court examination of Ford if the auto king was unable to appear when called to witness.

 "We expect Mr. Ford will be able to appear when he is called," said Longley. "If he is too ill to come to court, we shall not object to an examination by physicians named by the court."

HODGES WILL ASK FOR 2 CHANGES IN FISH STATUTES

Prohibition Of Netting And License Cancellation For Law Violators Is Sought By Commissioner Hodges

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 4.—(INS)—Only two changes in the present commercial fish laws will be asked of the 1927 session of the state legislature, according to State Fish Commissioner T. R. Hodges.

The state fish department will ask the legislature to stop netting and provide for cancellation of fishing licenses of any commercial fisherman found guilty a third time for violation of any of the laws governing the Florida fishing industry, according to Hodges.

"The enforcement of conservation laws, as a general rule, is a difficult matter on account of the vast territory to be policed and on account of the lack of appreciation and enforcement by the public generally," Hodges told the International News Service today.

"Conservation laws are enacted for the benefit of the people as the primary object of their enactment is to encourage, protect and build up some public resource in order that the people of the state may enjoy more fully the fruits of the particular industry conserved.

"The poultryman does not kill the setting hen or destroy all eggs or sell all the small chickens. If he did, he would not maintain a poultry farm very long. The same rule can be applied to the conservation of fish. We stood by and saw our national resources disappear; but, fortunately, the note of warning was sounded in time to save our salt water fishing industry."

Hodges showed that during the past two years, there has been more fish shipped from Florida by wholesale fish dealers than during any other two-year period in the state's history.

There was a total of 173,051,574 pounds of fish shipped during these two years. Of this amount, 70,998,464 pounds were mullet, 10,945,274 trout, 15,890,840 mackerel, 3,820,826 bluefish, 2,358,032 kingfish, 69,000 redfish, 47,020 sheepshead, 42,436 flounders, 18,462,988 red snapper, 8,849,440 grouper, 2,445,762 pompano, 1,810,010 shad, 1,539,160 herring, 5,860,870 catfish, 10,457,260 bream, 2,211,502 black bass, 3,092,630 crappie, 14,974,940 shrimp, and 175,122 crayfish.

GIANTS ARE NOT IN THE RUNNING, WALSH BELIEVES

Sports Expert Picks Cards As Winners With Chicago As Runner-Up; Giants Have Several Weak Spots, He Says

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 4.—In spite of the fact that the intelligentsia has been quite active in making a lot of character about the Giants and, with a polite cough, sneering St. Louis into the second division, the writer has come to suspect the National League of having at least two really potential contenders at this writing. One is the other one is not the New York Giants.

Offhand, I would name the Cardinals as a logical choice, although I am not concerned with the matter of whether they will or will not win the pennant. If I knew, I could make myself a lot of money and the National League could save itself a lot of time.

Plan For Extension Of The Tourist Season Suggested By Jerry Carter

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 4.—(INS)—The extension of Florida's tourist season by offering northern people inexpensive six weeks' tours of the state with transportation, lodging, meals and sightseeing trips all included in one ticket, is suggested by State Hotel Commissioner Jerry W. Carter.

"Lengthening the tourist season will contribute more towards Florida's permanent success and prosperity than the solution of any other problem now confronting the state," Carter declared in a letter he is mailing to Florida Hotel men.

"Regardless of the fact that November, December, March and April are the most pleasant months in Florida, yet, with the exception of the frenzied real estate speculation summer of 1925, Florida has never enjoyed in one year more than 90 days of real prosperity or profitable business, and that has been the tourist season which includes only the months of January, February and March.

"maining doubt about the matter, allusion is being made in part to the Giants, who may have added something in punch since 1925 but have lost plenty in defense through the disability of Young and the departure of Kelly. There are only a few Youngs and Kellys in baseball and the Giants necessarily must expect to be weaker at first base and in the outfield on that account. Add to this the fact that they have three minor league catchers, uncertain pitching and at least one outfield position that may or not be filled adequately and you begin to remember things that the glamor of Hornsby and Roush made you forget.

I would say that a rising, young club like the Chicago Cubs is a better pennant hope at this immature moment than the Giants, who don't know how good or how bad they may be; better, too, than the Cincinnati Reds and Pittsburgh Pirates, who haven't been improved between seasons, and, therefore, must have slipped back a bit.

Based on common sense, the present ranking of National League teams might run in this order: 1. St. Louis, 2. Chicago, 3. New York, 4. Cincinnati, 5. Pittsburgh, 6. Boston, 7. Brooklyn, 8. Philadelphia.

The Cubs actually aren't a strong ball club but, imbued with the impetus of their rush at the close of the 1926 race, they may be hard to stop with all of that fine young pitching and those 77 home games in which Hartnett and Wilson may shoot at the fences. On paper, they don't seem to be as dangerous as the Giants, Reds and Pirates but I think they will get sounder leadership than the latter while their weaknesses in certain departments are not as glaring as those of the Giants and Reds.

The latter figure to lose some of the great pitching that carried them along through recent years and their shortstop is open to suspicion. Except at first base, the entire infield lacks punch. Frankly, the Reds aren't better than they were last year and that wasn't good enough.

Ruling Of Pinellas Court Is Upheld By Tribunal At Capital

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 4.—(INS)—The State Supreme Court today affirmed the judgement of the circuit court of Pinellas county in the case of the state of Florida VS John Jones, Willie Jones and John Barnes, found guilty in that court of unlawful fishing in old Tampa Bay with a gill net.

The three appealed the case to the Supreme Court on a writ of habeas corpus attacking the state's right to pass local legislation.

The State Supreme Court held that the state legislature had the constitutional right to pass special or local laws for the protection of fish and game.

By memorandum decision without opinion, division B of the court affirmed the judgement of the circuit court of Pinellas county in the case of the state of Florida VS E. B. Castler in a suit on a promissory note.

By memorandum decision without opinion, the court affirmed the decree of the circuit court of Dade county in the case of Samuel A. Boyer VS Helen E. Letchworth and husband.

By memorandum decision without opinion, the court affirmed the decree of the circuit court of Pinellas county in the case of R. B. Simpson VS Emma F. White.

is still about his business of hanging up new make.

Included by his brother Phil Wood's unofficial time of over 80 miles an hour made last week, Gar Wood, accurately timed by the same machine and operator that caught the 207-miles-an-hour automobile dash at Daytona Beach, sped over the waters here at a clip of 80.43 miles an hour.

Otis Porter, official timer of the American Motor Boat Association announced that the average of the two fastest laps both with and against the wind was 80.32 miles an hour. The run was made in eight tries over a three-mile straight-away course.

Thirteen hundredths of a mile faster at the time of 80.56 still stands as the fresh water record made by the Miss America 11 in the Detroit River with twice the motive power.

Daily Sessions Of Florida Solons To Be For Three Hours

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 4.—(INS)—While Florida legislators will have much to do at the 1927 session opening next week, their daily hours of meeting will be short.

The Rules of the House of Representatives require that it meet on each legislative day, except Monday and Saturdays, during the first 30 days of the session at 10 o'clock in the morning and adjourn at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, three whole hours.

The committees of the House having business before them must hold daily meetings on these days between 2:30 and 5:30 P. M., and at other times if necessary.

A special session of the House is provided beginning at 8 o'clock each Monday and Thursday night for consideration of the calendar of local bills only.

WASHINGTON LETTER
BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON, April 1 - It is not especially surprising that Secretary Kellogg's resignation is rumored to be impending but the virulence of this rumor and the evidence which it is given by nearly everyone in Washington is astonishing.

All around the town, the most frequent question heard is not as to whether Mr. Kellogg will quit, but when?

No sooner does one get within the doors of an embassy or legation than this question is popped at him.

Another demonstration of the power, with which this ever-recurring imagination is to be seen in the regiment of names which have been advanced as Mr. Kellogg's possible successor. Here are only a few of them:
Dwight Morrow.
Herbert Hoover.
Irvine L. Lenroot.
James W. Wadsworth.
Alanson B. Houghton.
John Bassett Moore.
David Jayne Hill.
Charles Beecher Warren.

But then doesn't seem any prestige to be gained in Nicaragua, China presents only the possibility of trouble, prospects for

One attends a private dinner and hears a high official of the department flay Kellogg mercilessly.

One of the most amazing sidelights of all was shed when a nationally known correspondent wrote recently that Kellogg's immediate subordinates, regarding him as a politician, told him no more than they were absolutely obliged to about the affairs of state.

Predictions have been heard recently that congressional investigation of the State Department is
