Germany Demands Czechs Quit Pact With Soviet Russia

Hitler Makes End Of Russian Alliance Basis For Talks To Eliminate Friction Czech-Germans Are Recognized 3,500,000 Nazis Are Given Voice In Government Of Czechs

COPENHAGEN, Mar. 18.—(AP)—The German government today announced that it had decided to demand that the Czechs quit their pact with Soviet Russia. The demand was made in a note to the Czech government today. The note said that the German government was prepared to discuss the possibility of a new pact with the Czechs, but only on the basis of the elimination of the Russian alliance. The note also said that the German government was prepared to recognize the Czech-Germans as a political entity and to give them a voice in the government of the Czechs.

PRAHA, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Diplomatic sources today asserted that Adolf Hitler had demanded that Czechoslovakia renounce her military alliance with Soviet Russia as the price of peace with Germany.

The demand, said to have been conveyed to President Benes through diplomatic channels, was reported as the Czech government confronted with other German demands and gave 3,500,000 Germans within their borders a greater voice in the government. The end of the Russian alliance is said to be Hitler's basic condition for any talks to lessen Czech-German friction.

U. S. And British Oil Interests In Mexico Confiscated

MEXICO CITY, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Mexico's long conflict with American and other foreign industrial and financial interests today brought the country to a rapidly extending economic crisis. President Lazaro Cardenas, champion of Mexican labor, pushed his "Mexico for Mexicans" program along and a drastic step ahead by expropriating all properties in Mexico of 11 American and British oil companies with investments totaling more than $400,000,000. Rapid development of labor strikes in the mining industry threatened extension of similar action to that field, fully as vital to Mexico as the oil industry. To meet the crisis, the Central Bank of Mexico suspended all dealings in foreign exchange. Cardenas emphasized the determination of the peso was under consideration. Cardenas' action grew out of a refusal of the companies to accept an arbitral verdict of a federal labor board awarding approximately $7,000,000 a year in wage and other benefits to workers.

Kidnapper Of Boss Sentenced To Chair

CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—(AP)—John Henry Sandness, 37-year-old Minnesota mechanic, today was sentenced to die in the electric chair on Apr. 19 for kidnaping Charles E. Ross, 19-year-old retired sporting card manufacturer.

Referendum On Hospital Project Set For May 10

County Bond Issue Of $85,000 Needed For $180,395 Hospital

A referendum on the issuance of bonds for the proposed Seminole County hospital will be held on the second Tuesday in May according to a resolution unanimously adopted by the Seminole County Commissioners at a special meeting in the Court House today.

The request, made of the Commissioners at their regular meeting, that the referendum, called for in a petition signed by over 300 freeholders in the County, be held in connection with the Democratic Primary on May 3, was declared inadvisable by County Attorney E. F. Housholder who said that while he was unable to find any legal objections to holding the referendum at that time, "I am of the opinion that it would not be a good policy."

The County Attorney further explained that the Democratic Primary was open only to white Democratic voters and that the referendum should include negro freeholders as well as Republicans and also that separate bonds and ballot boxes will be required for referendum ballots and that these are at present not available.

The motion that the election be called for May 10 was made by Commissioner D. L. Thrasher and was seconded by Commissioner W. B. Ballard.

Under the original set-up it was proposed that a PWA grant be secured for the construction of the hospital.

BLAZING FIERCELY, THE BOREALES CARRIES 600 MEN TO DEATH

Blazing from stem to stern, with 600 men either drowned or screaming in agony from the raging fire, the Spanish insurgent cruiser Boreales heads for the bottom after its tragic encounter with the government cruiser Lepanto. This exclusive picture was taken for the Associated Press by Lieutenant Milne-Holton from the quarter-deck of the British destroyer Kompendell, in foreground. After the Lepanto's torpedo, which caught the doomed vessel amidships, had set the magazines afire, six air bombs were dropped to finish off the job. The Kompendell's searchlight reveals a horrible sight. As the Boreales burns and sinks, panic-stricken men can be seen lining the deck and sliding down ropes. Down below are rescued floating in the water as they strike out for the two British ships standing nearby. Of the 800 men aboard only 200 were rescued.

County Officials Attend Session Of Road Department

Commissioners Seek Work On Highways Nos. 288, 203, 44

All members of the Board of County Commissioners and other persons attended the meeting of the State Highway Department in Orlando yesterday. County Commissioner W. G. Kilbuck reported today.

The Commissioner appeared before the Board with requests for road improvements for highway No. 203 from Ovida to Chuluota Highway No. 288 in the vicinity of Allamore Springs and Forest City and also about five miles of State Road No. 44 from Lake Jessup east to Geneva.

The local commissioners were advised that the first two improvements would be taken into consideration and reasonable assistance was given that improvement of the portion of State Road No. 44, which was included in their budget for the coming year, will be undertaken in the near future.

Highway Department Chairman Arthur Hale presided over the meeting yesterday and listened attentively to the requests of the Seminole County delegation, indicated.

Among the Seminole County residents attending the meeting in behalf of road improvements for this County were: County Commissioners W. G. Kilbuck, W. B. Williams, W. B. Ballard, L. Thrasher and F. A. Hitler And Mussolini Celery Shipments May Control Old World Cut Two-Thirds In Drastic Prorate

NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Centuries Hitler and Mussolini have proceeded far enough in their brotherhood of conquest to make clear the appalling fact that they are out to dominate the old world between them, each having his assigned sphere of influence.

Some there were who realized what the clicking of the ivory tusk meant. Anthony Eden, Britain's late foreign minister and Sir Galahad of international politics, was one of these.

Hitler's lightning annexation of Austria and Mussolini's acquisition, have lifted the smoke screen and made a job of things. It is quite apparent that Napoleon has been reincarnated in twins. And there have even a single Wellington in sight.

So far as the Nazi chieftain is concerned, through his own deeds and fiery speeches, supplemented by the renegade words he has uttered in the months of his noisy campaign, he finally has compelled the chancellery of Europe to make two and two equal

Shipping Allotment Of 33.62 Agreed On At Lakeaid Meet

In view of the heavy shipments of celery during the past week and the continued downward trend of the celery market, members of the Celery Control Committee at a regular meeting in Lakeaid yesterday afternoon recommended a shipping allotment of 33.62 percent for the coming week.

This is by far the most drastic prorate since the operation of the Control Committee but was deemed advisable in view of the present condition of the celery market.

It was reported at the meeting that the available supply was lower than last week but the amount ready for shipment during the coming week only 220 cars will be marketed.

Plans Indefinite

Barcelona Holds Firm Against Air Raids Of Rebels Youth Societies Call For 22,000 Volunteers In 10 Days

BARCELONA, Mar. 19.—(AP)—This capital of government Spain today gave evidence that its determination to fight on has survived two days of the most terrific air raids of the civil war.

United Socialist youth organizations called for 22,000 volunteers within the next 10 days. A Communist newspaper organ appealed to youths "who do not want to be enslaved" and who are "willing to do heroic deeds" to join the ranks.

Rebel workers continued to dig for victims in the debris of buildings battered by insurgent raids. Highest estimates of the dead in this series of attacks were about 1300.

Yesterday the insurgents hammered their wedges deeper into government-held territory in the drive for the Mediterranean seaboard.

Madrid columns were reported approaching Maella, five miles from the boundaries of Catalonia.

Maella is the junction point of a highway connecting Caspe, which the insurgents captured two days ago, with the main route between Aragon and Catalonia.

Prompt Capitulation By Little Country Averts War Threatening World Peace

Polish Mobs Attack Jews Warsaw Crowds Said Disappointed Over Peaceful Solution

WARSAW, Mar. 19.—(AP)—The Lithuanian capitulation to Polish demands for normal commercial and diplomatic relations — demands backed up by a great show of Polish arms on the troubled frontier — today averted a clash that might have plunged all Europe into war.

Warsaw mobs, which yesterday blamed for war, yesterday's disappointment over the peaceful settlement by attacks against Jews.

The Polish government was determined to do nothing further to humiliate Lithuania after the Lithuanian minister at Tallinn, Estonia, handed his government's reply to the Polish minister at noon.

The announcement of the successful conclusion of Poland's ultimatum-back drive for friendly relations with its little northern neighbor found Polish infantry, artillery, cavalry, tanks and planes concentrated on the border facing Kaunas, the Lithuanian capital.

The ultimatum expiring at 9:00 o'clock tonight demanded, as its foremost point, that the Lithuanian and Polish ministers in Tallinn, capital of neutral Estonia, exchange notes before the deadline, re-establishing diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Lithuania's poorly equipped army of 24,000 men is outnumbered ten to one by the fighting forces of Marshal Edward Smigly-Rydz, Poland's virtual dictator who had assumed his war-time command.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

And in the night his song shall be with me.—Psalms 42:8

ON SEEING A WOUNDED HARR Inhuman man, curse on thy barbarous art, And blasted be thy murdering eye; May never pity soothe thee with a sigh, Nor ever pleasure glad thy cruel heart!

Go, live, poor wanderer of the wood and field, The bitter little that of life remains; No more the thickening brakes and verdant plains To thee shall home, or food, or pasture yield.

Seek, mangled wretch, some place of woe, No more of rest, but now thy dying bed! The sheltering rushes whistling o'er thy head The cold earth with thy bloomy bosom tread.

Off as by winding Nile I, musing wait, The sober eye, or hall the cheerful dawn, I'll miss thee sporting o'er the dewy lawn, And curse the ruffian's arm, and mourn thy hapless fate.

Next week is National Wild Life Week. The time has come for making whoopee.

Herbert Hoover in London says there is no danger of a war in Europe. Thank heavens, it isn't just around the corner.

Not much time left to apply for homestead exemption. Don't forget that this year, 'cause you're liable to need that tax money.

Dave Sholtz spoke in Sanford on the night of the Lions Club show and the annual National Guard inspection at the Armory. Withal he had a good crowd.

It is about this time of year that every Florida editor undertakes to convince our winter visitors that pneumonia will get you if you return north too soon.

Don't be too critical of the pictures from Europe recently published in the Herald. They were transmitted to this country by radio and published within a few hours of the events which they depicted. It is one of the marvels of the Twentieth Century that they show up at all.

The Fort Myers city officials drive to enforce the payment of taxes by cutting off the essential municipal services in meeting with splendid results. Practically all of the delinquent taxpayers on the block that have come in and settled up, showing that what was needed was a strong policy.

Not to demonstrate his hypocrisy but to try to kid the world along did Adolf Hitler attribute his seizure of Austria to his humanitarian instincts and to his desire for avoiding bloodshed, while his big black bombing planes expatriated of high explosives on helpless women and children in the streets of Barcelona.

John F. Pearson queries the Herald regarding the 50-cent dollar and the present price of money, which on the average is probably the lowest in many years.

The color scheme pink and green was beautifully carried out, a large cut glass vase in the center of the table being filled with the most exquisite pink roses and the fragrant fern, the bushes were lit with green tulle and the bed of strawberries gave a lovely touch to the arrangement.

The Farm Problem

Speaking in Sanford on Thursday night in behalf of his candidacy for the United States senate, Dave Sholtz made a statement regarding the latest farm bill which should be of interest to every farmer and citrus grower in Seminole County.

He declared that the farm bill is one of the worst scourges ever foisted upon this country and attributed in large measure the failure of our farmers to realize a decent price for their celery throughout the current season upon the workings of a measure presumably designed to benefit the farmers.

We are not sufficiently familiar with the farm bill to know exactly how it could affect our farmers or whether it is in any way responsible for the adverse conditions which have prevailed this winter, but we presume that former Gov. Sholtz has studied the law and has substantial basis for his assertion.

What we do know, and what everyone of us knows, is that after five years of the New Deal, the farm problem, at least as far as our celery and citrus growers are concerned, is the worst that it has been within our memory. As regards celery there has not been a market throughout the whole season so far which would return a reasonable profit to the growers.

There is no question about the farmers having done their part. The quality of the celery is as good, or better, than we have ever seen it before. The yield per acre is one of the largest on record. And yet, as a result of the fine co-operation among the farmers and the Celery Market Agreement, the quantity moving to market is less than usual. Even so the returns are hardly sufficient to pay the freight.

That something must be radically wrong when such conditions prevail goes almost without saying. With nearly half of their crop withheld from the markets, the farmers still have to sell at, or at less than, the actual cost of production. If any of our senatorial candidates has a remedy for this situation, we would like to hear it.

How To Spell

We were much interested in the report yesterday that at a meeting of Seminole County school principals the all-engrossing subject of spelling was discussed. Various methods of teaching spelling were considered with the view of improving the knowledge of the pupils along this line.

Spelling was always one of this writer's most difficult subjects in school. We suppose the methods of teaching it have improved a great deal since we had to stay after school to write and rewrite a certain misspelled word fifty or a hundred times, and we like to believe that if modern methods had prevailed we would not have been so dumb.

In our day we were taught to spell something like this: "incompatibility", i-n "in", c-o-m "com", "incom", p-a-t "pat", "incompat", i "i", "incompat", b-l "bil", "incompatibil", i "i", "incompatibil", l-y "ly", "incompatibility", i-n-c-o-m-p-a-t-i-b-i-l-i-t-y, "incompatibility".

When we consider the method, we wonder how we ever managed to spell anything at all. We have not improved much since then, but such progress as we have made came the hard way. We committed to memory hundreds of rules, such as, "I before e" except after "c" or when sounded as "a" as in "neighbor" and "weight", with all the exceptions; by substituting a simple and more easily spelled synonym; and in the end by looking it up in the dictionary.

But since we have been in the newspaper business, we have found that our falling is a common one. Not many other people know how to spell either. We have seen at one time or another what was apparently intended to be "accommodate" spelled in such various ways as "accommodate", "acommodate", "acomodate", "acomodate", "akomodate", "akomodate", and so on ad infinitum.

We dare say that most people take the position that it doesn't make much difference whether they know how to spell or not, because nobody else would know the difference anyway. But that seems to us to be as specious an argument as that of the fellow who shined only the toes of his shoes because by the time anyone could see his heels he would have passed by anyway.

It is a good thing for folks to learn how to spell, young as well as old, partly for one's own personal satisfaction, partly because the mental exercise is good for them, and partly because it would be a big help to the local editor.

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Mrs. Ernest McComan Galloway entertained about 150 guests yesterday afternoon at her lovely country home in honor of Mrs. Ethel Elliot Colson of Memphis, Tenn., who has been her guest for several weeks. As you entered the screened porch you immediately exclaimed upon its beauty, and bowls of purple flag lilies greeted you from all sides. Mrs. Aylett Pitts and Mrs. V. E. Watson met their friends at the door. Mrs. Galloway, Mrs. Colson and Mrs. Miller of Eustis were in the receiving line. Mrs. Galloway and Mrs. Colson were lovely evening gowns of white lace. Mrs. Miller wore white georgette. Easter lilies, roses and sweet peas were in profusion in the living room where the guests were received. Mrs. Puleston and Mrs. Thrasher invited you into the dining room, where from a beautifully appointed table tea, hot tea, sandwiches and war cookies were passed. The color scheme pink and green was beautifully carried out, a large cut glass vase in the center of the table being filled with the most exquisite pink roses and the fragrant fern, the bushes were lit with green tulle and the bed of strawberries gave a lovely touch to the arrangement.

CANDLELIGHT

By NINA DRIVER DEAN

"A primrose by a river's brim, A yellow primrose was to him, And it was nothing more." "A primrose by a river's brim" is a good deal more than a primrose to Mary Francis Baker of Winter Park. It's a "primulaceae," but it's more than that too. It's one of the dearly familiar companions in the world of plants in which she is so much at home. Perhaps it is even to her what Tennyson's flower in the crannied wall was, something that can teach her "what God and man is."

The MacMillan Publishing Company has just brought out in a gay jacket a new edition of Mrs. Baker's book, "Florida Wild Flowers." It has been enlarged and has additional illustrations, lovely flower photographs taken by the author. It is of interest that Mrs. Baker's book was chosen by the State Federation of Women's Clubs to be one of the twelve books on Florida included in the National Library of the General Federation in Washington.

It's easy to understand why "Florida Wild Flowers" has been used in the Florida schools and colleges because it appeals not only to the casual botanist but to the layman. Add the child as well. When I met Mrs. Baker, I understood this. She has a way of making her friends the flowers your friends too, whether you know all about their Latin accents and family trees or not.

One day last Spring, Mr. W. R. O'Neil of Orlando took me to see Mrs. Baker and such a lovely afternoon I had, getting acquainted not only with my hostess but with all her family—the flowers, shrubs, and trees in her garden. I followed her about as she presented them, holding up an odd cluster of berries here, pointing out the markings of a leaf there, and sometimes crushing one in her hand to give me a whiff of the characteristic scent of the plant. It was almost as if she were shaking hands with them. I've heard Gainesville's Dr. Harold Hume use the expression that a plant is "happy" in a certain locality. I'm sure Mrs. Baker's plants must be "happy" to be in her garden.

I learned that when Mrs. Baker was very young, she used to follow her mother about the Connetquot countryside and it was then that she was taught to love flowers; I looked at her beautiful and unusual "Book of Grasses" which she wrote in collaboration with her sister, Mary Francis Baker who lived in Florida for thirty years and she has become an important part of the state just as her husband, the late Dr. Thomas Baker was an important part of the Rollins faculty, and founder of the Baker museum.

"Florida Wild Flowers" is a technically accurate handbook to suit the need of the most meticulous botanist who can pronounce "trippingly on the tongue" such names as sorophyllariaceae, bigoniaceae, and acaepyladiaceae. It isn't a plume either! But don't beg of you, let this frighten you away. The nice part of it is that you and I, to whom a crab apple blossom is something incredibly lovely, but still a crab apple blossom, can enjoy this book right along with those who know that the white tie and tail name is "malus angustifolia."

There is a key for the identification of plants and a diagram of flowers, and it's great fun to go for a walk in the woods and come home with samples for Mary Francis Baker to identify for you. And you can find eight hundred varieties of wild flowers in her book, everything from the marsh pink to the wild olive. Do you know the sparkleberry? It grows in Florida woods and has the loveliest flowers that look like lily-of-the-valley blossoms? Perhaps you have met it in the printed foliage between the pages of one of May-Jorie Kinnan Rawlings' novels for she has a way of making Florida flora grow in her books. It's well worth meeting in real life.

Of course you know the passion flower, or do you call it a man-of-war? But let's Mrs. Baker tell you the Spanish legend about its "imagination" with other fact and came off "victor" when the Spanish explorers found and named the beautiful flowers of the New World, and attempted to describe them. Fascinatingly seeing in these plants symbols of the suffering of Christ that pictured in their drawings the crown of thorns and the nails on actual parts of the flower, and declared that the plant had been designated by the Creator that it might, in due time, assist in the conversion of the heathen among whom it grows.

Mrs. Baker can write as well as botanize, and it is this ability to tell an interesting story of plant life that makes her books so much more than a mere botanical text.

FLORIDA HIGHLIGHTS

GENERAL GREGOR MAC GREGOR THE ADVENTURER WHO, IN 1817, SET UP AN INDEPENDENT GOVERNMENT IN FLORIDA ON AMELIA ISLAND. LATER THE ISLAND WAS SEIZED BY SPAIN AND ANNEXED TO MEXICO!

The KAPOK FLORIDA'S COTTON TREE

One of the colorful chapters in the varied history of Florida was the nineteenth century invasion by GENERAL GREGOR MAC GREGOR who had previously distinguished himself in the Venezuelan struggle for independence from Spain. Ambitious to conquer Spanish Florida and establish an independent provisional government, MacGregor, with some backing and a small force, captured Amelia Island from the Spaniards in 1817, organized a government and actually threatened St. Augustine. Subsequently, however, lack of resources forced him to abandon the enterprise. Later, one of his successors, Luis Aury, a pirate with a gang of desperate vagabonds, hoisted the Mexican flag, used the island for the illicit introduction of African slaves into the United States and as a smuggling base. So offensive did he become that President Monroe found it necessary to suppress the enterprise with U. S. soldiers. This incident had an important bearing on the acquisition of Florida by the United States. The KAPOK, or cotton tree, native of Java, is one of Florida's most distinctive trees. It yields a cotton possessing remarkable insulative qualities and recent tests by the manufacture of refrigerators have shown it to be of more than casual merit. The cotton of the kapok tree is fluffy and downy and is extensively used as a filling for cushions and mattresses. Its resistance to moisture is almost miraculous and its non-absorption qualities promise to make it of great commercial value.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—We have just been reading a story about holdout trouble in the baseball fields and can say that there is practically no holdout trouble in Washington. It is true that there is a baseball club here which has not been much in the pennant race of recent years and there may be holdout trouble there. But there is a playing team of about 435 Congressmen who will be glad to sign two-year contracts at the same old $10,000-a-year pay they have been getting for years past. They will ask the usual "extras" of 20 cents a mile for travel to and from the training camp back home but outside of that they will be glad to pay for their own meals and uniforms.

A Few Give Up It is true that a few of the members have decided to give up the game for good and go into side lines such as the practice of law, which they think may prove more profitable.

Such a one is Senator Steiwer of Oregon who has resigned after nearly a dozen years in the Senate. But almost before he had turned in his equipment a substitute had been found out in Oregon who, the administration claimed, was better for its purposes even than Senator Steiwer, since Steiwer, being a Republican, has not battled 300 for the New Deal.

You would think there might be holdout trouble among some of the first string players. All are getting the top salary the league allows so they can't hold out on that account. Yet there are little sweeteners in the way of patronage appointments for friends and appropriate landings for the home town and it seems that some of the boys who consider themselves indispensable should be asking a larger take before they sign up for spring camp.

Such is not the case and the only reason they ask for patronage and concrete dams is to keep the fans from throwing pop-bottles back home when election time might rival the famed gardens of botany, and she makes these marriage blossoms for you between the pages of her book: "In Spring, a fragrant pink shell opens delicately colored flowers; a tall slender stem clusters of yellow flowers above the lower growth; a solitary conspicuous white bell-shaped flower above the grasses, and a solitary white flower above the grasses."

standpoint of the bankers' it does not matter which:

One item has declined to point, where $1.00 will buy, twice as much as it would two years ago; another three times as much; while we can doubtless through study, locate some items on which it would be necessary to expend $2.00 for a given quantity that could have been bought two years ago for $1.00. In considering the prices of commodities, stocks etc. which vary in values from time to time, do the items really vary, or is it Uncle Sam's 100 cents that varies?

One prominent farmer recently when asked about it said "it is too deep for me," and that fits me, but I would like to know. Do you?

Very truly, Jno. P. Pearson

Police Nip Plot To Assassinate Brazil Leader

Several Leaders Of Green Shirts Are Nabbed In Raids

RIO DE JANEIRO, Mar. 19.—(AP)—Police announced today the frustration of a plot by members of the once-powerful Fascist Integralist party to assassinate President Getulio Vargas and to engineer widespread revolts in Brazil.

Several leaders of the green-shirted Integralist party were arrested in a swift series of night raids. Quantities of arms and ammunition, said to be intended for the uprising, were seized.

A radio transmitter and 3,000 daggers bearing swastika emblems were taken in a raid on the home of Filio Salgado, Integralist leader.

Salgado, who escaped, was declared a fugitive from justice as was Gustavo Barroso, generally regarded as number two Integralist.

Barroso is a well-known author and member of the Brazilian Academy of Letters who once shouted "I am good for 10 men in a fight."

Central police headquarters said revolts were to have been staged simultaneously in the early morning of Mar. 11.

The announcement said a special platoon of green shirts was detailed to assassinate Vargas, members of his cabinet, and other prominent persons, including journalists who had opposed the Integralists.

Terrorist bands of green shirts were to have occupied police and army stations, light and power plants, while others deployed through streets tossing bombs.

The Integralists were an important political factor in Brazil before Vargas' coup d'etat last Nov. 10 when he proclaimed a new constitution investing him with supreme power.

The president followed his coup with a proclamation dissolving the Integralists as a political party, as well as all other parties.

Since that time, police said, the revolutionary movement had been brewing within the Integralist ranks.

Vargas' ban on political activities also hit German Nazis in Brazil, prompting representations by the German embassy against the ruling. Only two days ago the president disclosed the rejection of the German contentions.

Danger Of Floods Passes In Alabama

ELBA, Ala., Mar. 18.—(AP)—South Alabama gave a sign of relief yesterday as the threat of a major flood from its swollen rivers appeared definitely past.

The Pee River here was receding rapidly, after giving the 3,000 residents of this community an anxious night. The concern was that near Newport, but lackwater from Murder Creek there were going down and no damage was anticipated.

Damage here came principally from erosion of a temporary section of the levee system, washed away by heavier than Creek. Authorities said there was no danger to the completed portion of the levee.

BUFFALO BILL
Indian scout
AT THE AGE OF 15
RODE 322 MILES IN LESS THAN 21 HOURS
FOR THE PONY EXPRESS—
WITHOUT STOPPING TO REST!
—1864—

ENDLESS SENTENCE!
WHEN YOU KNOW YOU KNOW YOU KNOW YOU KNOW YOU KNOW YOU KNOW ETC.

BUFFALO BILL
Strange as it seems, Buffalo Bill, Indian scout, once was Buffalo Bill, postman. When only a lad of 15 years, before he earned his famous nickname, he rode one of the most remarkable rides in the annals of the Pony Express.

According to historians, Cody joined the Pony Express at the age of 14 in 1860, the year the service was formed. After serving a while at the St. Joseph, Mo., Cody transferred to Red Butte, Nebraska.

From this station, young Bill one day set out with the mails for Three Crossings, Wyoming, a ride of 75 miles. When he got there the next rider, who was to carry the mail westward, was ill, so Cody volunteered to continue on to Rocky Ridge, 85 miles farther.

Not only did the boy finish this lap, but, without stopping to rest, returned to Red Butte, making a total of 322 miles in 20 hours and 40 minutes, a remarkable record. Few riders duplicated this feat.

Strange as it seems, in the 600,000 miles covered by Pony Express riders, only one letter ever was lost. Grim riders, such as Jack Keetley of Marysville, Calif., who rode for 500 miles in 24 hours without stopping to rest, held the efficiency of the service at a high level.

The Pony Express was established in 1860, a few months before Cody made his ride. The crossing of the plains took about 10 days. Stations were situated about 25 miles apart, and each rider was supposed to cover three stations in eight hours. The mail service operated on a semi-weekly schedule.

Pony Express postage rates were next to prohibitive—five dollars per half ounce for letters—which was one reason the system folded up after only a short year of operation, on the completion of the first transcontinental telegraph service in November, 1861.

In the same year the Government paid a million-dollar subsidy or a six-day-a-week mail service on the Butterfield Stage Line, longest continuous stage line ever organized—2,889 miles from Memphis to San Francisco.

MENTAL WIZARD
A man with a multiple mind is Richard W. Richtmire, 23, of Buffalo, New York. Strange as it seems, Richtmire developed his unusual mental abilities in spite of the fact that he never went past the fifth grade in school.

One of his many feats is giving mentally the area and coins of all angles to four decimal places, and the logarithms of numbers, to seven places. He can also tell you the value of pi to 155 places without looking it up.

He does not know how he does this week.

Many Species Of Wild Life Show Marked Decrease

ORLANDO, Mar. 19.—It is an unquestioned fact that those species of wild life in Florida known as "game," "game fish" or "fur-bearers" have shown a marked decrease in numbers during the past two decades.

Merlin Mitchell, executive secretary of the Florida State Fish and Game Association said today:

"This loss has come despite the growing appreciation of the values of Florida's wildlife resources," he stated. "It has come though during that time, Florida has worked to secure better legislation for the protection of wild life, and through the operation of a State Department of Game and Fresh Water Fish (created in 1922 and twice modified in form since that date), to secure better law enforcement and observance; the alarming fact that Florida must face is that though loss may have been retarded, the decline continues. There must be a re-act.

"During Wildlife Restoration Week, Mar. 29-31, the people of Florida throughout the State, reports from every section indicate, will come together to find the reason and the remedy."

Mussolini And Hitler Hope To Control Europe
protection for her African possessions, including the newly conquered Ethiopia; it would pave the way for possible annexation of other territory; it would make Mussolini joint-dictator of the entire old world.

Hitler's intervention in the Spanish civil war on the side of the fascist rebels is part and parcel of this scheme. He wants a grip on Spain which will give him an invaluable ally to offset and upset Britain's control of the narrow gateway to the western Mediterranean where the great Rock of Gibraltar stands guard. Italian naval and air bases on the coasts of Spain and Spanish northern Africa might be a grave menace to English prestige.

Hitler has joined with Mussolini for four reasons: (1) He is keeping his hand to assist the Italian program; (2) he is fighting his pet bugbear, communism, which exists to a greater or less degree in the Spanish loyalist ranks; (3) he will have an ally against France if the Spanish insurgents win; (4) he has troops and war machines in Spain to stage a diversion which might lead to keep France from interfering with his present expansion eastward.

Mussolini hasn't been talking much about his plans. Recently, however, with a rare exhibition of nerve, he boldly demanded of England that he be given a "hand" in controlling the Bcez canal—life-line of the British empire. He also has been waging a vigorous propaganda campaign among the Arab peoples in French and British territory, the purpose of this being to make himself their champion and at the same time stir up trouble for Britain and France.

The French have alleged that Mussolini is preparing to try to annex French Northern Africa, to go along with Italian Libya which he has taken over.

Referendum On Hospital Project Set For May 10

the building, which would have provided Federal money for the entire project with the exception of taking County bonds for 50 percent of the amount. Under this program the bids would have been made by individual contractors for the construction of a modern hospital building.

Since the PWA ceased its operations, the County has applied for WPA aid in the construction of the building only to have the proposed project returned several times for revision.

The last draft of the project submitted provided for a total expenditure of $180,000 which included rentals on trucks and other equipment used in connection with the project. The sponsors contribution on this project is $99,876 and the share of the Government is $80,124.

The County's share of the contribution is higher than the $85,000 allowed in the plan but will be cut down by the rentals on equipment which according to the project amount to approximately $5,000; and enough more to reduce the excess to be in line with the figure quoted in the petition, is expected from the sale of the old hospital site.

The City Commissioners have agreed to furnish a suitable location for the proposed hospital if its construction is approved by the Freeholders of the County and the WPA officials.

The project which has just been returned for another revision was accompanied by the following suggestions from WPA headquarters in Jacksonville:

First: That this project be held in abeyance until the work program for the coming year is determined.

Second: That the project should be set up for the estimated time to complete which is about one year.

Third: That the only skilled and semi-skilled labor which are on the local relief rolls in Sanford be shown as being furnished by the Works Administration and that only the necessary amount of common labor actually required be set up in the project.

Fourth: That materials furnished by the Works Progress Administration should be calculated according to existing requirements of the Work Program.

Fifth: The sponsor then should be set up to furnish all things which the Works Progress Administration could not furnish.

In discussing the construction of the proposed hospital, through a WPA project, Commissioner E. A. Dizon, prominent local contractor, declared that the building could be built on contract for at least 25 percent lower than through a WPA project. However, this, according to the terms of the special act, is impossible, since it provides for the construction of the building only in the event that the Federal government supply at least 40 percent of the construction cost.

Bids cannot be let out on WPA projects and the Federal Government allocates only $5 per month for materials in the project of this nature. However, the work program for the coming year has not been set-up in Washington and there may be some change in this figure.

Architect Elton J. Mounhton, who has drawn the plans for the proposed building and who has submitted the WPA project for its construction, indicated today that the revised project which will be submitted will be a modified WPA project with the sponsor furnishing the entire amount of the skilled labor.

Two Suspects Are Killed In Attempt To Steal Emerald

Film audiences who in the past have been thrilled and chilled by the nerve-racking adventures of that apex mind of mystery fiction, Arsene Lupin, are in for another mystery treat with the playlet of "Arsene Lupin Returns" at the Ritz Theatre Thursday and Friday.

A cast of established film favorites is seen in the pictures headed by Melvyn Douglas, novel by Virginia Bruce and Warren William. Douglas comes to his new role from his comedy triumph in "Theodora Goes Wild"; Miss Bruce was recently seen as the heroine of "Bad Man of Brimstone"; and William fills the new role of new crime investigator following his outstanding characterization in last season's hit hit, "The Firefly."

Others who have prominent roles in the production include the well-known Broadway actor, John Halliday, Nat Pendleton, Monty Woolley, E. E. Clive and George Zucco. The director was George Fitzmaurice.

"Arsene Lupin Returns" presents an entirely new story based on the famous character, Arsene Lupin, created by Maurice Le Maistre, master of French detective fiction. Continuing the adventures of the celebrated gentleman jewel thief, the action of the narrative moves at high speed from the Federal Bureau of Investigation to the Montmartre district of Paris.

The story begins when Warren William is assigned to guard a valuable emerald after he is fired from his G-Man job because his work has made him too well known to the underworld. The gem is owned by John Halliday, playing Virginia Bruce's father.

A paste copy of the emerald is stolen and a card marked "Arsene Lupin" is left in its place. To avoid further robbery attempts Halliday and Miss Bruce take the jewel to Paris. Here they are met by Melvyn Douglas, an old friend of the family.

Two suspects are killed during a second attempt to steal the emerald.

FOOD FOR ROMANCE

Gladys Swarthout, John Boles and John Barrymore keep eating so that they won't sink their teeth into each other in "Romance in the Dark," a gay comedy of backstage theatre life, which plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

In the past decade land in Texas devoted to the production of vegetables for canneries has increased more than 1,000 per cent.

Canada produced nearly nine and a half million cases of canned vegetables in 1937 compared with 7,948,240 cases in 1936.

Country Girl Gets Singing Role By Working As Maid

A gay romantic plot, light-hearted comedy, with John Barrymore and sparkling musical selections by Gladys Swarthout and John Boles, combine to make "Romance in the Dark," which show Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre the complete entertainment it is.

Miss Swarthout, whose provocative voice and beauty enable her to mix food music and screen comedy, is seen in the role of an ambitious country girl who turns housemaid to get her first chance to sing and then becomes party to a great hoax to get across.

Complications arise in the life of Boles, the sensational opera star, when Miss Swarthout enters his home as a servant and utilizes every spare moment to sing herself into his range of notice. Completely wrapped up in his own romance with a beautiful countess, played by Claire Dodd, Boles ignores her talents but decides he can use her to get even with his manager and rival for the hand of the countess, John Barrymore.

In a grand piece of showmanship Boles transforms his musical Cinderella into a glamorous Persian princess, hoping she will interest Barrymore sufficiently to take his mind off the Countess. He succeeds far better than he hoped for not only does Barrymore fall for the "princess," but Boles himself realizes that he is in love with her. Miss Swarthout completes his misery by agreeing to enter a show under Barrymore's wing after finding out that Boles' original plan was only to use her to get rid of a rival.

In a brilliant climax Miss Swarthout makes her Budapest debut as the "princess" only to be exposed in the middle of her performance by a newspaper columnist. The audience turns on her in anger, and when it seems impossible for her to go on with the show, Boles comes to her rescue by appearing on the stage with her.

SHE'S BRINGING UP "BABY"

Katharine Hepburn goes through a hectic series of adventures with this live leopard and Cary Grant in "Bringing Up Baby," RKO Radio comedy romance produced by Howard Hawks. Charlie Ruggles, May Robson, Barry Fitzgerald and Walter Catlett are in principal support.

Katharine Hepburn Prevents Marriage Of Man She Loves By Kidnapping Him

Revealing the amazing Katharine Hepburn as the exponent of complete entertainment, "Bringing Up Baby" plays Thursday and Friday at the Ritz Theatre; it is a mad comedy that defies comparison with any picture released in the past. Teamed with Miss Hepburn is Cary Grant, who intensifies the reputation for comedy which he so brilliantly established in "The Awful Truth." "Bringing Up Baby" is both a situation and dialogue comedy, with Grant, May Robson and Charlie Ruggles combining their talents with Miss Hepburn's genius for characterization. In the story starts, of all places, in a museum of natural history, introducing Cary Grant as curator (ages before the film reaches the of the fossil gallery who has just completed four years of work constructing the skeleton of a prehistoric brontosaurus. It is a chance to go to the golf course for a game with the lawyer's woman who is contemplating giving a million dollars to the museum. It promises to be a quiet afternoon, until Grant slices his ball from the first tee and meets Hepburn. Then the fun, which never again lets down, starts its mad progress. Miss Hepburn has decided that she wants Grant for herself, and sets about preventing his marriage. Practically kidnapping him, she takes Grant to Connecticut where they meet with an astounding series of adventures before the film reaches its conclusion.

BRITISH LIFEBOATS BRING BALEARES SURVIVORS TO SAFETY

A majestic survivor of the major naval engagement of the Spanish civil war off Cape Palos, near Cartagena, Spain, the insurgent cruiser Canarias stands untouched by bombs as survivors of the sunk Baleares are rowed towards her starboard gangway in boats from the British destroyer Boreas. This picture of the dramatic rescue is one of an exclusive series taken for the Associated Press by a British naval officer. Six hundred men went down with the Baleares; 200 were rescued.

FIRST PICTURE OF BALEARES SINKING IN SPANISH SEA BATTLE

This picture, one of the most dramatic ever taken of a battleship sinking, shows the 16,000 ton cruiser Baleares, Spanish insurgent vessel, going to the bottom early in the morning, March 6, after a sea battle with the government destroyer Lepanto 70 miles off Cape Palos, near Cartagena, Spain. The Baleares was struck squarely amidships by a torpedo from the Lepanto. Six hundred men lost their lives when the ship went down, and two hundred were saved by the British destroyers Boreas and Kempenfelt. Note heads of the men struggling in the water at left. This picture, first of a cinematic series, was taken by a British officer from the destroyer Kempenfelt. To make connections with the Europe it was carried in a dramatic race from Gibraltar to Tangier by chartered tug; thence flown to Fes and carried by another chartered plane to Oren. From there the pictures were relayed to Marseille for transportation by air to London.

Only 1-3 On Pensions Are Natives Of State

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Mar. 10.—Despite the heavy influx of immigrants from other states to Florida during the past 65 years, slightly more than one-third of those receiving Old Age Assistance were born within the state, according to figures made public here by Clayton C. Goddard, state welfare commissioner.

Native-born Floridians number 2,223 of a total 27,110 who have been placed by the Old Age Assistance payroll. Former Georgians number 5,479, former residents of Alabama 2,294 and former residents of South Carolina 1,822. Colorado, New Mexico and

South Dakota are the only states in the union whose natives are not benefiting from this state's Old Age Assistance program.

London Suburb Gets The Creeps

LONDON.—(AP)—A "ghost house" complete with practically all the noises except clanking chains, has some of the more superstitious residents of a London suburb alarmed. Furniture has been overturned and crockery moved from kitchen table to floor, according to reports, to the accompaniment of tapping noises and long drawn-out moans.

Many persons have urged that a priest be called to exorcise the place. But an author who has become interested in the case thinks this should only be tried as a last resort. She suggests the residents of the house try to communicate with the "spirits."

Deaths from lightning are comparatively rare, averaging only about 100 a year for the entire United States. Nine-tenths of the property damage from lightning comes in rural districts.

Big Navy Bill Passes House By Heavy Vote

46 New Warships, 22 Auxiliary Vessels And 950 Airplanes Authorized By Bill

Recommittal Move Defeated 2 To 1

President Says Bill Needed Because Of Arming Elsewhere

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21.—(AP)—The House approved overwhelmingly today the Administration's billion-dollar naval expansion bill.

Final passage came after the defeat of a Republican attempt to send the bill back to the House Naval Committee with instructions to eliminate provisions for three new battleships.

The bill now goes to the Senate. The measure authorizes construction of 46 new warships, 22 auxiliary vessels and 950 airplanes which President Roosevelt said were needed "specifically and solely because of the piling up of additional land and sea armaments in other countries."

The recommittal motion, offered by Representative Church (R-Ill.), member of the naval committee who has opposed the program since its introduction, was defeated by a vote announced by Speaker Bankhead as 276 to 114.

The new warships, estimated to cost $711,000,000, include three battle cruisers, 23 destroyers, nine cruisers, 23 destroyers and nine submarines.

No Public Hearing Will Be Held For Boat Basin Permit

No public hearing will be held before the issuance of a permit by the United States War Department for construction of a boat basin at the municipal pier, according to information received today from the United States Engineer's Office in Jacksonville.

The plans for this work have been reviewed by the United States Engineer in Jacksonville and also the Engineer at the sub-office in Mayport. It was indicated after an investigation "it is not proposed to hold a public hearing on this application."

"Anyone desiring to protest the proposed work from a standpoint of its interference with, or effect on navigation, should submit such a protest in writing, with reasons in sufficient detail to permit intelligent consideration," it was stated. Also these protests must be received at the Engineer's office in Jacksonville by Mar. 23.

At the last meeting, the City Commissioners requested City Clerk Frank S. Lamson to file application for the permit in anticipation of submitting a WPA project for construction of the basin, which will extend about 450 feet into the lake.

Leffler Declares Celery Prorates Hurting Demand

Market Seen As Drying Up As Pressure For Sales Declines

Pointing out that while Florida has been curtailing its celery shipments by heavy prorates, large shipments of celery are continuing to go to markets from California which is beyond the reach of the Control Committee, W. A. Leffler today declared in a letter to The Herald that if the restrictions on celery shipments continued, the demand for celery will get less and less.

Mr. Leffler's letter in full is as follows: "I have read with interest, and encouragement, too, your editorial of March 19th on the Farm Problem, mainly as it applies to celery growers in Seminole County."

"You probably know that during the time Florida has been curtailing its shipments of celery, there have been large shipments of celery from California. The control of celery shipments does not apply to California."

"Florida is allowed to ship, under this week's prorate, only one-third of her celery crop. The United States Department (Continued on page 21)

Gen. Andrews Denies Need Of Canal In War

Second Canal Across Isthmus Of Panama Seen As More Vital For National Defense

The absurdity of the necessity for the Florida cross state canal as a means of moving troops, food supplies and war materials to the Pacific coast in the event of attack in that area is apparent, according to Gen. Avery D. Andrews in an address at the Rotary Club today. What is needed, he added, is a second canal across the Isthmus of Panama probably by the Nicaraguan route.

Most of the food and much of the war supplies in this country, he said, are produced in the interior part of the country. It is ridiculous to suppose, he added, that the War Department would move these necessary supplies by railroad to the eastern seaboard, then by boat thousands of miles, through the Florida canal, the Gulf of Mexico, the Panama Canal and then 2,000 miles farther, through submarine-infested waters to San Francisco, when the more direct route overland by railroad and truck would be shorter, safer, and free from attack.

Gen. Andrews was introduced by George Hollins, who had charge of the program, as one who had been a member of Gen. Pershing's staff during the World War. As a deputy chief of the Utilities Service Commission, set up by Gen. Pershing, Gen. Andrews had charge of American transportation in France.

Mentioning Gen. Summerall as a friend of long standing for whom he had a high personal regard, Gen. Andrews called at (Continued on Page Two)

Radio For Local Police Is Given Last Adjustments

Greater Co-Operation Of Residents With Department Is Urged

The police radio at the Police Station has been given a final check by H. M. Leighley, RCA representative who was in charge of the installation, and it has now become an established part of the Department, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams said today.

Greater coverage than was originally anticipated has been acquired from the equipment which at present is in "Perfect working condition," according to a statement of Mr. Leighley after the final adjustments had been made.

The addition of this equipment has in no small measure increased the efficiency of the Police Department, Chief Williams declared, adding that the average time required for a policeman to reach the scene of an accident or other trouble was only about two minutes after a complaint was received at the Police Station.

Mayor Edward Higgins, inviting public inspection of the equipment, declared that it had been the motive of the Commissioners in authorizing purchase of this equipment to increase the efficiency of this branch of city government, in order to cope more satisfactorily with modern criminals.

He also joined with the Chief of Police in urging public co-operation.

The police radio at the Police Station has been given a final check by H. M. Leighley, RCA representative who was in charge of the installation, and it has now become an established part of the Department, Chief of Police Roy G. Williams said today.

Greater coverage than was originally anticipated has been acquired from the equipment which at present is in "Perfect working condition," according to a statement of Mr. Leighley after the final adjustments had been made.

The addition of this equipment has in no small measure increased the efficiency of the Police Department, Chief Williams declared, adding that the average time required for a policeman to reach the scene of an accident or other trouble was only about two minutes after a complaint was received at the Police Station.

Mayor Edward Higgins, inviting public inspection of the equipment, declared that it had been the motive of the Commissioners in authorizing purchase of this equipment to increase the efficiency of this branch of city government, in order to cope more satisfactorily with modern criminals.

He also joined with the Chief of Police in urging public co-operation.

Poland, Lithuania Patch Differences

Germany Says "New League" Is Not League Member Now

By Associated Press. The world's wars surged on today but Europe's rumor of new wars slackened. Predictions of an early British-Italian accord became a splash of cheerful color on the European panorama after two hectic weeks of anxious, somber retouching and repainting.

Informed sources in Rome predicted the British-Italian accord would be concluded by Saturday to include these provisions: British support for the League of Nations; recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia; withdrawal of all Italian combatants from the Spanish Civil War; and absolute withdrawal of Italian forces from the Balearic islands.

Poland and Lithuania, near armed conflict last week, planned to patch up an old railway line so they could resume friendly communication, non-existent for nearly 18 years. There were rumblings of discord in Lithuania, however, with two cabinet members tendering resignations and students calling a 10-day period of mourning over the capitulation to Poland's army-backed demand for normal diplomatic and commercial relations.

Germany, still digesting Austria, informed the League of Nations that her new province "no longer is considered" a member of the League.

A mysterious roundup of Soviet citizens was underway in Russia—apparently an effort to isolate the suspicious regime from foreign contacts.

Spanish insurgents straightening out their front for another big lunge toward the sea against stiffening government resistance, occupied triangular pieces of territory south of Alcaniz. They still were more than 40 miles from the coast.

Final arrangements for the Parent-Son Banquet of the Seminole Chapter of Future Farmers to be held in the Seminole High School cafeteria Wednesday night have been completed, advisor for the chapter, Alex B. Johnson said today.

What promises to be the feature of the meeting is the auctioning of one of the members of the Chapter by a professional auctioneer, A. C. Murren of Umatilla. In this unique manner, the auctioneer will point out in his discussion various bids offered while the character of youth is in the making.

Flober Mauer, president of the Chapter, will act as toastmaster for the occasion and several members of the chapter will tell of the activities being undertaken at present in the local organization. J. F. Balmore of Orlando will be present and will award the $100 prize which accompanies the title of Master Future Farmer of Florida to John R. Jones, Jr., outstanding member of the local organization for last year.
