MISS CLARKE TOOK MONEY ACCORDING TO STATEMENT GIVEN PALM BEACH POST

Chief Postal Inspector Says Woman Confessed at Orlando

TAKES ALL BLAME

FOR THE POSTOFFICE ROBBERY AT WEST PALM BEACH

(By The Associated Press)

ORLANDO, Aug. 4, 4:19 p. m.—Chief of Police Vestel announced at four o'clock this afternoon that Miss Clarke confessed to him Monday night she shot and killed Miltmore after Miltmore refused to sign a statement saying he robbed the West Palm Beach postoffice.

WEST PALM BEACH, Aug. 4.—According to a statement given to the West Palm Beach Post yesterday afternoon by L. A. Johnson, chief postal inspector for the Southeastern district, Miss Lena Clarke, postmistress at this place, confessed to F. J. G. Pulsifer, an assistant inspector, in her cell at Orlando, that she alone was responsible for the loss of two registered packages containing $32,000 missing from the local postoffice since July 26.

$5,700 of the money, Miss Clarke told Pulsifer according to the statement, would be found at the residence of J. E. Chambers of this city, and this amount, Inspector Johnson says, his men recovered yesterday afternoon. Other sums, according to the signed statement, were used to cover a deficit in her local accounts.

Miss Clarke is held without bail at Orlando in connection with the killing of F. A. Miltmore Monday night in that city. Miltmore was formerly employed in the local postoffice.

According to Chief Inspector Johnson's statement made to the Post, Inspector Pulsifer returned here yesterday from Orlando, where he had been sent in an attempt to clear up the missing money:

"I and I alone, took the money. There was no one else but me connected with the affair. You will find $5,700 of the stolen money in the home of J. E. Chambers, 323 South Poinsetta street, West Palm Beach," Johnson quoted Miss Clarke as saying in her signed statement. He exhibited authority for getting the money from Chambers' home in a note signed by Miss Clarke's first name—Lena.

The note read:

"Dear Grandpa—Please let Mr. Pulsifer get something out of my room, Lena."

The note was written in a Western Union envelope, which had been split open and was written on the inside. On the reverse side of the envelope was the word "Jail."

Knight Would Have Nation-Wide Protest Against Tariff Bill

(By The Associated Press)
AKRON, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Chambers of commerce, business men and corporations throughout the country, were appealed to in an address here last night by C. L. Knight, republican congressman, of Ohio, to join in a nation-wide protest to the house ways and means committee against the Fordney tariff bill which he characterized as one of the worst pieces of legislation in the country's history.

Congressman Knight also urged that a protest be made against the contemplated income tax, which he said, was discrimination in favor of the country's highest salaried men. Congressman Knight also criticized President Harding, declaring he was one of the chief offenders in increasing taxation and swelling the costs of running the country by asking congress to pass a welfare bill calling for a $200,000,000 appropriation.

The bill, he said, "was nothing but a plaything."

Information of Federal government as to conditions, then contended was incomplete and did not accurately picture conditions. Dr. Cumming said he hoped to get first hand information from the state officials and map out a concerted course of action. President Harding requested the Publication. The conference was called after Public Health and Red Cross officials were asked to take measures to meet the threatened ravages of pellagra in the South.

Promote a Feeling of Good Fellowship and Extend Trade

NOW IS THE TIME

WHEN ON THRESHOLD OF BUS- IEST SEASON SANFORD HAS EVER EXPERIENCED.

In most cities which maintain a commercial organization, one of the important functions of that organization is to arrange trade extension trips which afford them members an opportunity to repay to the towns in their territory the visits made by the merchants and citizens of the town. It is also a method by which they extend their trade relations and in various cities different plans have been evolved to attain this end. It is generally conceded that trips of this kind are worth while—that the item of expense is a legitimate charge to advertising, and the members of commercial organizations take great interest in them and usually co-operate in suggesting the places to visit. They promote a feeling of good fellowship and many acquaintances are formed that are lasting and agreeable.

Towns visited always plan some kind of a reception governed by the length of the stay with them, so the members making the trip return home, in most instances, satisfied that it has been worth the time, trouble and expense involved.

The advent of the automobile has served to greatly increase the retail territory of the larger cities and towns in many cases shoppers driving twenty-five, fifty or even one hundred miles to trade, the territory, of course, being affected materially by the class of roads leading to the city and the location of competing centers. In this connection too much stress cannot be laid upon the necessity of good roads.

The automobile trip is popular in many towns and cities and is particularly well adapted to trips where the number participating does not warrant the running of a special train and for comparatively short trips into immediate trade territories. It permits of much greater flexibility and does not call for the outlay required by the more pretentious train trips. As a rule it is more local in character and its make-up generally includes men representing both wholesale and retail establishments. Frequently such excursions are almost wholly community boosting trips—get-together, get-acquainted propositions, and are, no doubt, of value both from the standpoint of a knowledge of the immediate surrounding country, crop conditions and trade.

The better organized trips have a definite schedule and program such as the more ambitious train trips, the benefits in territory covered being comparable to the extended excursions.

A danger to be guarded against in the automobile trip is that of its degenerating into a road race and consequent forgetfulness of the real object of the trip. When this occurs it is likely to do more harm than good.

More will be said in following articles relative to the benefits to be derived from trade extension trips. In general, a trade extension trip has as its object, not only the increase of trade that may result to the individual jobber or retailer through meeting his customers and possible buyers, but the strengthening of the city as the logical center of that section—not only as a trading point, but the commercial, social and educational center—in short, the "big town" to its constituency.

NO PELLAGRA EPIDEMIC IN FLORIDA SAYS TURCK STATE IS PROSPEROUS

President's Statement About Impoverished South Erroneous NOT IN FLORIDA

NO FAMINE, NO DISEASE AND NO FINANCIAL STRINGENCY IN THIS GREAT STATE

The statement of President Warren G. Harding declaring the existence of a semi-famine and pellagra in the southern states, and especially in the cotton belt, came as a distinct surprise, not to say shock, to Floridians at least, as no intimation of such a condition previously existed here.

Health officials, food marketing officials, bankers and business men generally emphatically insisted that the president's remarks on the subject could not possibly apply to Florida.

Dr. R. C. Turck, state health officer: "Pellagra is distinctly on the decline in Florida and there is no occasion for alarm whatever, so far as the existence of pellagra is concerned."

C. P. Kendall, vice-president of the Barnett National Bank and president of the Morris Plan Bank: "Florida is in a healthier financial condition than any other state in the union. As proof of this, it is my opinion that the banks of Florida owe less than $6,000,000 as against resources approximately 50 times that amount."

Florida State Marketing Bureau: "There is absolutely no sign of distress, so far as Florida's food supply or ability to buy is concerned. There is not even the slightest trace of famine in any part of the state."

These are characteristic comments heard in Jacksonville when men in position to speak with authority on the particular subject questioned upon with a view to refuting the president's statement so far as Florida is concerned.

The publication of the chief executive's declaration that a large part of the cotton belt is seriously affected and distressed by shortage of money and inability to dispose of cotton crops, might be taken to include Florida at least in part, in view of the fact that some cotton is produced in the state. Though Florida is not an extensive cotton producer, the northern counties produce staple to some extent.

Chairman W. K. Jackson, of the Florida Red Cross, asserted that if there exists any famine in Florida or epidemic of pellagra his organization had not been made aware of it and the President's declarations was new to the organization in this state. "The Red Cross of Florida has not been called upon in connection with this situation."

Dr. Turck, state health officer, was quick to respond to an inquiry as to the extent of pellagra in Florida. He already had the statistical department of the state board of health at work preparing a detailed comparison evidencing a sharp decline in the existence of pellagra in this state. At noon he was able to show that in 1919 there were 158 cases in the state, as against 113 last year and 111 at the present time. He expected to issue a more detailed statement later in the day, emphatically refuting any intimation that Florida might be affected by any increase in pellagra.

The full statement of the state marketing bureau follows: "Florida is not affected by the low prices of cotton and there is absolutely no sign of distress. "There is no danger of Florida residents suffering from low prices, since most of the products in which they specialize are grown in the winter, when they receive a good price for everything. Cotton raising has been discontinued to a great extent for nearly two years, the former cotton growers now devoting their time to beans, tomatoes, watermelons and other truck products."

"Florida is in better shape, possibly, than any other southern state. We got good prices for everything during the last year and there is no sign of distress from any part of the state."

It might be well for each individual to remember that a resumption of normal business begins where charity does.

After the event, Carpentier's wonderful foot work doesn't impress us so much as his press agent's wonderful head work.

CROSSING THE WEKIWA RIVER SLEEP AT MY EXPENSE

The crossing of the Wekiwa river since the bridge has been down has at times been slow and troublesome, we all know that have to cross it, but that, under the circumstances we can stand but when it comes to a stage of this sort what profanity would you use?

A young couple motoring from Sanford to Leesburg, Tavares and Fruitland Park visiting friends and relatives and on their return of course having to cross the river by barge, approached the river in the usual way blowing the car horn for the barge to come and get them but no sign of a barge could they see coming their way, the moon just rising they could see said barge but it seemed to be on the opposite side of the river. After calling and whistling for the man who had charge of said barge, long and loud enough to wake half of Seminole county then becoming discouraged and wondering how they were going to get across the river when they heard the approach of another car from the opposite direction thinking then that their troubles were over but as this car came nearer the river they could see that the barge was in the middle so telling the gentleman in the other car their troubles he began to make a noise to wake barge tender but in vain, now there was a row boat about 15 feet from the Lake county bank and the young man thinking the best and quickest way of getting home was to get the row boat and get to the barge and pull the car across so he began but seeing that it was a whole lot larger job that he expected, after getting a board or two and started to get on the boat and of course his feet slipping and into the water and after getting on the boat finding that it was on sand bottom and after trying to get out by pushing with a board and slipping into the water again head first but managing to catch on his hands and getting wet up to his elbows (now who wouldn't curse?) finally managing to get the boat out of the sand and paddling out to the barge and then having to bring the barge and row boat back to the shore which was slow work (and having a young lady waiting on the shore calling hurry that she was afraid) of course, at that time cursing both Lake and Seminole counties. After reaching the shore and loading the fliver and getting started back the man in the crib on the barge having been asleep all this time wants to know how I got out to the barge? My first few words were quick and were "Where in h-l have you been?" "Asleep," he said. Now who is the joke on, this couple and the other lonely gentleman waiting out there in the mosquitoes or the man snoozing on the barge?

At any rate it took just one hour and five minutes to cross the river. SANFORD CITIZEN.

PAOLA ITEMS.

We have a Sunday school and church organized in Paola. We have preaching once a month. We will have preaching Sunday, the 31st, at 7:30 p. m. We cordially invite all of our friends and neighbors to attend.

We are proud to know that we have got our hard road completed from the Wilson corner by the way of Paola back into Sanford. The C. S. Flowers grocery store is on the half way grounds where cold drinks and cigars can be had.

The orange groves in this section are looking fine. Mr. Burnett, who is in charge of the groves, will begin plowing next week.

Miss Ella Lee Spivey is now working in the C. S. Flowers' grocery store at Paola.

G. B. Burnett and family visited Winter Park, Tuesday, 19th, to sign the deeds for their home in Maitland. Mr. Baggett bought it.

We wish to extend our thanks to our many friends for their kindness during the illness and death of our baby, Lloyd.—Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Burnett.

Watermelon growers of Holmes county have made good crops and sold at fair prices generally this season. The Bonifay Advertiser says that growers of the Esta, Noma and Eleonor districts have been busy the past ten days or two weeks getting the melons shipped, and report about seventy-five carloads shipped from those points. Prices have fluctuated considerably, the first bringing excellent prices and then dropping to only a small figure. "A good many farmers will clear about $100 an acre of their melons," says the newspaper, and this means to be regarded as satisfactory. The crop will have been about all moved within the next few days from that section.

LAST WINTER AND IS RECEIVING MUCH FAVORABLE NOTICE IN NORTH.

(From Tuesday's Daily)
Right in line with the ship by water campaign of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce is the following letter from W. T. Donnelly who spent a month here last season and who is an enthusiastic Sanford booster and a member of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce:

New York, July 30, 1921.
Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.
Gentlemen:—In one of your publications, you gave the yacht "Dawn" and "New Era" space and described the system of electric propulsion as applied to a convoy of boats.

We are sure you will be interested in the report of the Canal Committee to the New York State Barge Canal conference, dated June 30th, 1921, copy of which we enclose, and which will give you an idea of the development of the plan for electric propulsion up-to-date.

This report has received considerable notice in New York newspapers and we thought you would like to know about it as some of Mr. Donnelly's friends in your city will be interested.

Mr. Donnelly is now on his way from New York to Oswego passing through the New York State Barge Canal and demonstrating this system with his boats.

We enclose a clipping from the Journal of Commerce dated July 21. The clipping follows:

William T. Donnelly, the well known dry dock designer, yesterday demonstrated his new idea of a unique application of electricity for the propulsion of boats. A large number of shipping men, marine engineers and naval architects boarded the two 30-foot boats—the New Era and Dawn—while they were moored to Pier 2 in the North River and saw a practical application of the system. In the Dawn a Van Blerc gasoline engine had been installed to drive an electric generator. The New Era has only an electric motor, the current for which is supplied by the generator in the Dawn and conveyed by a cable.

The inventor of the new scheme referred to with some sentiment to the fact that Robert Fulton's first steamboat, the Clermont, started out from the same piers off the Battery on her history making voyages. Pointing out that Fulton did not create anything but merely applied what had already been discovered, Mr. Donnelly said that he, too, had followed the same lead. The two boats slipped their moorings at 4 o'clock and proceeded up the river. Early this morning they will start for Oswego, on Lake Ontario.

TAKE THIS MAN'S ADVICE

If you want to keep cool during the hot weather, don't worry and don't eat too much. This is the advice of a man who has succeeded in taking in good weight and at the same time suffering very little from the heat—Dave McGuire of Silver Lake, Wis. He weighs 744 pounds, is 6 feet 1 inch high and seventy-one years old. Up to last year he did all his own work on the farm.

Mr. Donnelly said that his idea is that of having a floating power station from which other craft having nothing other than motors installed in them might get their current. The practical application of this idea will revolutionize operations on the barge canals and inland waterways, he predicted. He pointed out that it would be a very easy matter to build five barges of 200 tons capacity each supplied with power by a cable running from a generator on the power boat. No barges of this type have been constructed thus far, the inventor said, but expressed the belief that they could be propelled economically under the patented arrangement.

The Dawn, with the generator installed in her, follows the New Era, which has only a motor. The New Era, however, is not solely dependent upon her consort as she has a large storage battery which will drive her motor. By this arrangement towing fees in port may be done away with. Mr. Donnelly said that the two ships had already made a voyage in Schenectady and one to Brunswick, Ga., on which he had sailed 3,000 miles and had gone out to sea 250 miles. The two ships on a tandem arrangement are able to make a speed of 9 knots.

The advantages of the floating central power station are that the boats are so much more easily controlled, obtain a cheap power supply and can operate safely on waters that are not navigable to other barges. It was noticed that there is virtually no vibration on the New Era when running. The boat can be operated more easily than an automobile, he said, as she is steered in the same manner and all speeds, both forward and reverse, may be attained by merely moving a control on the indicator. If barges are built they can be operated by men with no more training than a street car motorman has, Mr. Donnelly said.

"My invention, which will place the power plant in one vessel with others in convoy to carry the freight, is based on the same theory by which a central station on the land supplies current to hundreds of electric trains," he said by way of explanation. "It means increased efficiency and lower costs. Boats operating under the system will be able to make a trip through the New York Barge Canal in shorter time than required by a freight train for the same journey across New York State."

"I think that a 230-ton barge is the ideal size. It would be possible for a line of barges operating under the new system to deliver carload lots of high class freight from Schenectady in twenty-four hours, whereas the railroads require seven days for the same service."

The invention has been fully described several times before in the marine magazines and the newspapers. However, many of the shipping men had never had an opportunity to inspect the arrangement.

ENRICO CARUSO, NOTED TENOR, DIED TODAY

WAS TAKEN SICK IN AMERICA LAST FALL, DIED IN ITALY AFTER OPERATION

(By The Associated Press)
NAPLES, Aug. 2.—Enrico Caruso, famous tenor, died here today.

LONDON, Aug. 2.—Enrico Caruso, was operated on Sunday, says an Exchange telegraph dispatch from Rome today, quoting a Naples message. The operation was for an abscess between the liver and diaphragm which caused acute peritonitis. Caruso's wife and his brother were at the bedside. Until a week ago the tenor was on the way to recovery from a long illness which began in New York last winter when suddenly he had an unexpected relapse and was removed from Sorrento to Naples. He arrived at Naples Sunday night and specialists who were called in, decided to operate immediately.

104-ROOM HOTEL FOR WINTER PARK.

WINTER PARK, July 30.—A new 104-room tourist hotel is soon to be built in Winter Park. The contract has been let and construction will begin immediately in order that a goodly portion of the building may be ready for this season's tourists. The name of the new structure, which is being built by the Alabama Hotel Co., will be the Alabama. The site will be that of the residence of the late William Chase Temple, whose famous large estate on Lake Maitland, known as Alama, is one of the beauty spots of Florida. The location is ideal for a tourist hotel, and its popularity is assured in advance.

Each of the 104 rooms will have its private bath and telephone, while the appointments in general will be of the most modern and approved type. The new hotel will be managed by Mrs. L. B. C. List, who has managed several important tourist hotels in Florida and elsewhere. The Virginia Inn in Winter Park was under her management several seasons.

Officers of the Alabama Hotel Co. are: President, Ed F. Keesel; vice-president, Leigh Newell; secretary and treasurer, Anna Kronenberger; business manager, Joseph Kronenberger.

Mac is a hustler and Sanford Heights will know he is there for he believes in improvements, in a more beautiful and cleaner city and in everything that tends to build up a city. He is the kind of citizen that Sanford needs.

GAINESVILLE—A memorial tablet to the memory of Haisley Lynch, only Gainesville soldier killed in action in the world war, was unveiled in the First Presbyterian church here Sunday, the gift of Haisley Lynch Post of the American Legion. Members of the legion and other former service men attended the ceremony in a body. Haisley Lynch was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Lynch of this city and a nephew of Capt. George M. Lynch, city superintendent of schools at St. Petersburg. His body was returned from France and buried here two weeks ago.

According to the Miami Metropolis, contractors are now making up their bids for the construction of the new steel and concrete theatre for J. H. Bradshaw and associates. The theatre is to be built at the corner of Sast Flagler street and Third avenue, and from the drawings and specifications it appears that this will be a very handsome and commodious amusement place. It is to be fire-proof and of size to accommodate the largest road shows. The plans for seating, ventilation and other details are complete and interesting.

It is astonishing how much publicity these men who are against Sunday newspapers manage to get in the Sunday newspapers.

M. E. ORPHANAGE AT ENTERPRISE GETS FINE GIFT

(From Monday's Daily)
Through the liberality of the Sanford Shoe & Clothing Company, of this city, twenty-six little orphans at the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise, are wearing handsome new suits.

Dr. L. R. Phillips, who is one of the trustees of the institution, was informed that the Sanford Shoe & Clothing Company, after going through their stock, had a few suits of clothing that they would donate to the Orphanage, if he would call and get them. Needless to say, Dr. Phillips, who is ever on the watch for anything that would benefit his little charges, stated that he was coming right now. He called upon Mrs. Brooks, the matron in charge, and told her of the offer. When they called Saturday at the store they were given 26 suits for the boys and were overwhelmed with the magnitude of the gift, as these same suits are selling at $10 each at reduced prices.

Messrs. McKinnon and Bradford, the men who gave the little orphans this pleasure, are among our most liberal and progressive business men and deserve the thanks of every citizen of this section, as we are all interested in the success and prosperity of the Methodist Orphanage, which belongs to the Florida Conference of the Methodist church. It was indeed a generous gift.

Geneva and Chuluota Among the Gems in Seminole's Diamond Setting

In the lake girt hills of Eastern Seminole County are the little cities of Geneva and Chuluota connected with the recently built good road from Oviedo and on the branch line of the Florida East Coast railroad. Geneva should be, and beyond all doubt will be, one of the popular winter resorts of Florida as soon as the people are informed of her many charms. Geneva is on a good brick road from Sanford and is about 18 miles from this city, the bus line making two trips a day each way and bring passengers to and from Sanford. With one small hotel and four stores and backed by a fine farming country, fine orange groves and the turpentine and lumber industry Geneva has prospered but has hardly grown commensurate with the growth of the other parts of the county. The stores all report a fine business and the Logan Mercantile Co., reports more business in July than in June and everyone in and around Geneva seems prosperous and contented. On the high ridge and flanked by many beautiful lakes Geneva offers much to the tourist who would seek the quiet byways away from the crowd there to fish and hunt and have a power boat on beautiful Lake Harney or on some of the many smaller lakes.

The Wakefield Preserving Co., is the biggest asset to Geneva's manufacturing interests. Started on a small scale the Wakefield Preserving Co., has grown into one of the best in the state and their present quarters are entirely inadequate to take care of the immense business in the making of jellies and preserves and canned goods of all kinds. They have demonstrated that Geneva has wonderful possibilities if the people will but grasp them. Geneva has some of the best orange groves in the county.

Chuluota is one of the few towns in Seminole county that boasts of a good all-the-year-round hotel, the Chuluota Inn, and this together with many new buildings, stores, etc., make Chuluota an active and progressive little city. The Chuluota Company, under the able direction of C. D. Brumley have worked wonders in the Chuluota section in clearing lands for farms and erecting many buildings. Mr. Brumley had the right idea when he went into this virgin forest and cleared up a big farm, putting in all the latest improvements and planting the many crops that will grow so well in the fine soil of this district. With silos, fine herd of cows, good hogs, water works and lighting system the farm demonstrates to the visitor what can be done in and around Chuluota. Old farms and orange groves in the Chuluota section are proof of the fertility of the soil under all conditions. The new farms show what can be done with modern ideas and improvements. Sweet potatoes, corn, cow peas, sorghum and cane and all the general farming crops are found growing on the rich soil of the Chuluota farms. In and around the bungalows and farm homes the profusion of fruits and flowers and shrubbery demonstrate what the thrifty woman can do in the way of beautifying a Florida home. The land is well drained and has a good clay subsoil. Beautiful orange groves of big bearing trees and many young groves are proof of the assertion that Chuluota is among the real orange sections of the county. With the fine farms under cultivation, with the fine hogs and cattle and nice homes showing the prosperity of this section there is no experiment about Chuluota as a place to raise fruits and general farm crops and stock. It is all there to speak for itself and in the near future both the Geneva and Chuluota sections will be filled with tourists and homeseekers who will come seeking what they want and they will find it. Chuluota stores are all prosperous, seven new bungalow homes are contemplated, many improvements are being made and those who are looking for a location would do well to take a ride over the fine roads of Seminole county and visit Geneva and Chuluota in the hills of Seminole county where nature has dotted a wonderful landscape with glistening lakes and where the hand of man needs but to supplement the hand of nature to insure a bounteous harvest from the smiling land on every side.

Chuluota will be on the new road connecting Indian River City on the coast with Orlando, 23 miles distant, and will have splendid access with every part of the county and with the state roads in every direction. It is also on the Florida East Coast railway.

Chuluota is Seminole's gateway to the great Okeechobee country that is opening up such wonderful vistas of wealth to the people who are looking for locations for homes and farms where they can plant semi-tropical and tropical fruits in profusion and realize good returns from them.

All of this part of Seminole County will be greatly benefitted by the good roads and highways that are to be built in the near future and that will give the residents an outlet for their crops and an inlet for their supplies at very reasonable rates. The ship by water and truck agitation will find an answer on Lake Harney and the good roads in and around Geneva and Chuluota. Not many years ago a steamer plied the waters of the upper St. Johns river from Sanford to Geneva dock there being five feet of water and a one hundred foot wide channel all the way. This navigation will be opened again and steamers will be making the regular run from Sanford to Geneva supplying the surrounding territory with merchandise and carrying the fruits and vegetables to the ocean there to be transferred to ocean-going refrigerator steamships.

Not in the experimental stage and not theories but facts face the man visiting eastern Seminole today.

GENEVA AND CHULUOTA AMONG THE PROSPEROUS SECTIONS OF SEMINOLE

Merchants and Growers

TRANSPORTATION FACILITIES

(From Wednesday's Daily)
It is well to take a trip over Seminole county at least once each month and to see the many places of interest, to note the progress of the various sections of the county and to see the many great improvements that are being made. The editor of the Herald visited Geneva and Chuluota in a flying trip Monday and he wishes most heartily that he had time to spend a month in the hills of North-east Seminole where the Econlockhatchie is fed from the crystal streams that come from the hills and flows on swiftly toward Puzzle Lake and the upper St. Johns river, where the beautiful clear water lakes vie with the tropical foliage and the fruits and flowers and where for many years a happy and contented people have made their homes hewing out their fortunes from the wild and rugged wilderness and now living to enjoy the fruits of their labor and their victory over the forest primeval.

Geneva and Chuluota and other favored spots in Seminole county, are not experiments in farming and fruit growing. They have the goods and can show them. Inhabited by a happy and contented people who have lived there for many years these fine homes and farms and hustling little cities demonstrate what the soil will yield where it is worked by experienced farmers and stock men. The merchants in this section all sing a song of prosperity. They are the barometers of trade conditions in their respective bailiwicks and they have had one of the best seasons in their history. The farmers have had a good season and with the growers of citrus fruits are looking forward to a better one in 1921 and 22.

Joined with a fine system of good roads and with future developments contemplated that will give Geneva and Chuluota an outlet east and west to ocean and gulf, with a good road to Sanford and many lateral roads that will be built later the transportation question is settled. With the splendid fishing on the upper St. Johns river, the clear water lakes and the rivers, with beautiful Lake Harney all teeming with fish, with the forests filled with game, there is no reason why tourists should not make this part of Florida the most popular in the state. For the man who would raise stock, who would grow fruits and vegetables, who would carry on general farming and poultry raising there is no better place in the state. For the seeker of health who would get away from the crowded places and want nature's solitudes in the high and dry hills and piney woods, where pure water and health giving breezes are there for the seeking, there is no better place in the south.

Away from the beaten path perhaps, not known to many strangers as yet, but once seen never to be forgotten, this northeastern part of Seminole county holds out inducements to the tourists and the homeseeker that will at some time in the near future cover the land with fine homes and farms and growing villages and cities.

And Sanford and the Herald are proud of these "wonder places" in our county. We intend to get in closer touch and keep in closer touch with them in the future. They are the best assets to this city because they offer so many inducements in pleasure and profit. They are our best assets because they are peopled with the class of citizens who believe in good homes and good farms and good groves and good stock and with the class of citizens who take a pride in their own section and in the whole of Seminole county. The Herald will have more about Seminole county in future issues.

TWO HELD AS AFTERMATH OF WELCH KILLING

(By The Associated Press)
WELCH, W. VA., Aug. 3.—Two men are being held today for the killing of Sid Hatfield and W. R. Chambers, residents of Matewan, W. Va., shot here yesterday shortly before the former was to appear in circuit court to answer to a charge of being the instigator of the shooting of several detectives at Matewan two years ago. It is expected they will be turned over to the state. Through his name and the romance attached to his participation in Matewan in May, 1920, in which 10 men were killed, his death was of sufficient significance to bring comment from Gov. E. F. Morgan and from J. F. Kenney, president of district 17, United Mine Workers of America.

Gov. Morgan expressed his regret that the killings had occurred, and Kenney termed the act as murder. C. E. Chambers and Hatfield testified before the senate committee investigating the trouble in the West Virginia coal fields.

What Henry Ford Says About Machine Power Farming

"In the tractor the farmer now has a machine in which is harnessed one of the most adaptable, efficient, economical sources of power in the world—the internal combustion engine.

"The tractor will multiply the productive capacity of each individual farm worker from three to four times over.

"It will put the farmer on a par with the city manufacturer. It will put his produce-producing factory—for that is what a farm is—on to an efficient production basis.

"It will enable each worker to earn so much more that he can be paid more and still leave a greater profit for the man who hires him. It will enable the farmer to work fewer hours in the day, giving him more time to enjoy life.

"I believe the tractor will make farming what it ought to be—the most pleasant, the most healthful, the most profitable business on earth."

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

EAT LESS MEAT IF YOU FEEL
BACKACHE OR HAVE BLADDER TROUBLE.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder disease.—Adv.

KILLING AT ORLANDO HAS PECULIAR PHASES RESTAURANT MAN VICTIM

Postmistress of West Palm Beach in Custody

FOUND MAIL SACKS IN ROOM AT HOTEL THAT HAD CONTAINED STOLEN MONEY

ORLANDO, Aug. 2.—W. H. Miltmore, proprietor of the Arcade restaurant, was found dead, shot through the heart, in a room at a local hotel about 10 o'clock last night.

Lena Clarke, postmistress at West Palm Beach and daughter of a minister of that place, who registered for the room Sunday afternoon, is being held by the local authorities, charged with murder.

Baxter Lee, chauffeur, who drove the woman from West Palm Beach, is also held as an accessory before the fact.

Beside the body in the room two money bags, which had presumably held the sum of $32,000, stolen in a robbery of the West Palm Beach postoffice last Tuesday, were found.

According to the story of the clerk at the hotel, the young Clarke woman registered at the hotel late yesterday afternoon. Miltmore went to the room around 6 o'clock. No shot was heard and no inkling of the tragedy came to the inmates of the hotel until the authorities went to the room to make an investigation.

Chief Vestel states that about nine o'clock a young woman came to police headquarters and requested to see the chief of police privately. He asked the young woman to come with him to his office in the city hall. She told him that her name was Clarke and that she came from West Palm Beach. She asked him if he knew Miltmore and he replied that he did.

The young woman then went on to tell of the robbery at the West Palm Beach postoffice where she was postmistress. She stated that she had suspected Miltmore of the robbery and had enticed him to her room in the local hotel. She said that she had known he was a morphine addict and that she had given him some of the drug, which she had procured in West Palm Beach from a doctor's case. She said that she did this to hold the man until she could notify the police, that he had some loot on him. She spoke of a registered letter which was later found near the body. This letter was one of those stolen from the mail pouch.

Not at first believing the woman's story, Chief Vestel called up the postal authorities investigating the robbery at West Palm Beach, and they identified the woman as the postmistress at that place. It was around 10 o'clock before the officers sent to get the man whom the woman's story claimed had been drugged. They received orders from Chief Vestel to make the arrest if the man was able to be brought to the jail and if not for one of them to remain with the man until he could be moved. When they entered the room it was a corpse they found.

Following the finding of the body, County Judge Smith was summoned, and a coroner's jury empaneled immediately. Its verdict after repairing to the scene of the crime and examining into the details of the finding of the body, was that Miltmore had met his death at the hands of parties unknown, and held the Clarke woman on a charge of murder. Baxter Lee, the chauffeur who drove the woman to Orlando, is held as an accessory before the fact.

According to the reports of the robbery which occurred last Tuesday the woman involved in the case has held the position of postmistress in that city for a number of years. She is about thirty-five years of age and is the daughter of a clergyman.

Miltmore came to Orlando about two months ago, and purchased the Arcade restaurant in this city. Up until about a year ago, he worked as a postal employe in the West Palm Beach postoffice. It was stated that he was in Palm Beach during the time the robbery occurred and that he only returned to Orlando yesterday.

TAMPA, August 2.—Investigation of the finding of the body of W. H. Miltmore with a bullet through his heart in an Orlando hotel last night is running in two well defined channels according to telephone advices received here. One theory is that he took his own life when he awakened and found he was discovered and definitely connected with the robbery of the West Palm Beach postoffice and another is that Miss Clarke, postmistress, held here in connection with his death, believed he would escape or that she would be unable to get the money from him so killed him.

HUNDREDS CASES OF PELLAGRA IN STATE OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 2.—More than 400 cases of pellagra in Oklahoma were today reported to Dr. A. R. Lewis, state health commissioner, who said he was sure there were from 500 to 600 cases in the state. The disease is becoming prevalent among the Indians, according to the health commissioner, especially among the women, who stay at home much of the time and live principally on corn bread and salt pork. The men spend much time in towns where they eat various foods and thus escape pellagra, according to the commissioner.

YOUNG MAN WHIPPED BY MASKED MEN

LAKELAND, Aug. 2.—One of the most brutal crimes ever committed in this section was perpetrated near Mulberry late Saturday night, when six masked men waylaid an automobile in which William Musgrove, of Prairie Peble, with his nephew, L. B. Hughes of Georgia, were returning from Mulberry to Prairie Peble.

When a short distance out of Mulberry, Musgrove, who was driving the car, noticed a car crosswise of the road and stopped. As soon as his machine came to a stop the six masked men surrounded the car and took Hughes, a youth of twenty-two, out of the machine, after having covered both occupants with six-shooters.

Musgrove was told to leave and he drove back to Mulberry, a distance of less than a mile and summoning help returned to the scene of the holdup but no trace of the party was found.

Shortly before daylight Sunday morning an automobile party driving from Lakeland to Mulberry found young Hughes in the road, naked, with a gash in his head, both eyes blackened, and his body covered with bruises. He was taken to Mulberry, where he was treated by Dr. Pierce.

Hughes said that his captors took him to a mine near Prairie Peble and after tearing his clothes from his back tied him to a post and lashed him unmercifully with a piece of leather belting. He said that when he asked the men why they were trying to kill him, that the only reply he received was a pistol barrel shoved into his eye by one of the members of the gang while another struck him over the head with the butt end of a revolver.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB

(From Tuesday's Daily)

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening at the Woman's Club. The meeting was well attended and most enthusiastic.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. John Leonard, and an interesting business program followed. The president announced the appointment of Miss Virginia Smith to represent the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Conopus Club.

After the business program the Research committee was given charge of the meeting. Miss Mell Whitner, the chairman, had arranged a program on the "Ten Commandments of Business." These were read and discussed by different members, among them being Mrs. E. E. Cox, who gave a fine exposition of the first commandment: "Thou shalt not quit." Miss Annie Lee, Miss Fannie Reba Munson, Miss Virginia Smith and others also spoke on different commandments. Mrs. R. C. Maxwell read a poem, "You Can If You Think You Can." Altogether this program furnished a lesson and an inspiration to all present.

After the program Grape-Nut ice cream was served.

This club now has over one hundred members and is rapidly becoming an important factor in our city.

FLORIDA LEADS IN GRAPEFRUIT

CALIFORNIA, HOWEVER, GOES INTO LEAD IN ORANGE SHIPMENT

A statement has just been issued from the office of the Association of Railway Executives which shows that more citrus fruit, with the exception of lemons, has been shipped from California and Florida to date this season, than during the corresponding period last season. The statement shows Florida approximately 10,000 cars behind California both last season and this in orange shipments, and approximately 10,000 cars ahead of the far-west state in shipments of grapefruit.

California shipped 25,608 cars of oranges in the 1920 season to June 1 and 29,950 cars to June 1, 1921. Florida shipped 15,092 cars of oranges to June 1, 1920, and 18,782 cars to June 1, 1921. Total orange shipments to June 1, 1920, was 40,700, and in the present season to June 1 was 48,782 cars. Grapefruit shipments from California for the year ending June 1, 1920, were 316 cars, and for Florida 8,945 cars. Grapefruit shipments for California to June 1, 1921, fell to 243 cars, while the Florida shipments in the same season increased to 10,490 cars.

Florida's increased shipments, despite the freight advances are explained by Florida men as due to many acres of groves planted before the freight advances. Local citrus men say a larger proportionate waste of citrus fruits is taking place now than ever before because of the increased freight rates.—Tampa Times.

DR. MOORE HAILS FROM PENSACOLA TO SANFORD

And Not From Milton as Stated Yesterday in the Herald

(From Tuesday's Daily)

On yesterday we were made to recite that Dr. Tom Moore, the optometrist, who has recently arrived in the city to take up his abode and find his fortune, came from Milton to Sanford—this is not the situation. Dr.

and Mrs. Moore came to Sanford from Pensacola. He has been in Milton, but not to stay any length of time in years. When Uncle Sam called for fighters he was teaching school in West Florida, but heard the call and spent two years in France and Holland answering that call. Upon his return he took up the study of his chosen profession, optometry and optics, received his degree from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, took his practical work in the manufacturing department of the Florida Optical Company at Jacksonville, came to Sanford, married Miss Nettie Maines, and the two then went to live in Pensacola where Dr. Moore has for the past year been in charge of the examination, testing, fitting and manufacturing department of the Ingram Optical Parlors, which firm is well known throughout West Florida, Eastern Alabama and South Georgia. Dr. Moore states that he believes in the future of Sanford and to that end he expects to contribute by giving Sanford an up-to-date Optical Parlor. He has purchased Dr. Brand's place, and is now rearranging the fittings, moving in new furnishings and receiving large quantities of both rough and finished stock. Dr. Moore states that he will be well equipped to examine, test and fit any pair of eyes in the city, with glasses made especially for that pair of eyes. He is also able to do manufacturing of lenses and shortly expects to fit his manufacturing department sufficiently to supply all other opticians and optometrists in Middle Florida. The Herald joins in wishing Dr. Moore much success.

TOWN MARSHAL WHIPPED

ORLANDO, Aug. 2.—City Marshal Harris, of Winter Garden, after receiving a severe whipping at the hands of unknown parties in that city Sunday, was urged to depart from the community. He caught a train from Orlando Sunday afternoon.

Harris says his activities in breaking up a bootlegging combine at Winter Garden are the cause, and from other sources his connection with negro trouble in that city is assigned to the reason of his enforced departure. It is reported that the same parties who whipped Harris bought a ticket for Harris' wife for a small town in Tennessee.

This is the fourth whipping to occur in Orange county during the past several months.

Growth

in membership and volume of Florida Citrus Exchange

One of the satisfying developments to the growers who have faith in the co-operative method of marketing has been the very substantial growth of the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Five years ago the Florida Citrus Exchange, then seven years old, marketed nineteen per cent of the citrus crop of Florida. The preceding period marked the experimental stage of its development.

Last season the Florida Citrus Exchange handled slightly more than thirty-three per cent of the carload shipments from the state, according to governmental compilations of Florida's total citrus movement.

Further, the season marked a new epoch in the affairs of the growers' co-operative organization from another standpoint—that of the acknowledged acceptance of the ideas and ideals on which it is founded by influential factors in the citrus industry throughout the state.

Polk County was the cradle of the co-operative movement in Florida. Naturally, Polk County has since been a bulwark for co-operation among the citrus growers. The Polk County crop last season fell short of that of the previous year. Despite this, the Florida Citrus Exchange made a substantial gain in total shipments, because its volume from territory outside of Polk County increased twenty-five per cent over that of the previous year.

Polk County's loyalty to the co-operative movement has not flagged, but Polk County no longer enjoys a keener appreciation of the benefits of co-operative marketing than do other progressive sections of the citrus area. The East Coast, the West Coast and Central Florida now join in loyalty supporting the growers' own marketing organization, which returns directly to the producers the proceeds of the sale of their fruit, less only the actual cost of selling, without a dollar of profit deducted for speculative purposes.

But for the organized effort of the growers who comprise the membership of the Florida Citrus Exchange, last season would have spelled absolute disaster for the citrus producers of Florida. It is peculiarly fitting that the Exchange should have been given the vote of confidence it received during that season in the form of the largest membership and largest volume of total shipments in its career to date. The coming season will see still further expansion in the membership of the Florida Citrus Exchange, and increase in the total volume of shipments handled by it.

That which is good endures. The Florida Citrus Exchange is now approaching the time when its shipments will include more than half the citrus crop of Florida. Only an unwillingness to expand too fast, and indisposition to hazard efficient operation by suddenly assuming too great a burden, is postponing that time. Then will begin a new era in the business affairs and prosperity of the growers of citrus fruits in Florida. Growers who wish to hasten the coming of this desirable condition should at once take steps to become affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange.

Ask the manager of any local Association or of any Sub-Exchange or write the business manager of the Florida Citrus Exchange, Tampa.

SCHOOL LUNCHES IMPORTANT IN THE LIFE OF THE CHILDREN AND WE MUST HAVE THEM

(From Saturday's Daily) There was intelligent discussion, a healthy enthusiasm and a keen appreciation of the needs and difficulties of the subject at the meeting in the Woman's Club House, called to consider the introduction of hot lunches in the public schools of Sanford. A large number of women were present, and there was but one opinion as to Sanford's duty in the matter, and also a determination to meet and conquer the problems in the undertaking.

The Grammar School has been selected as the first unit in the lunch service. It is hoped, however, to have milk served at the primary school. If possible a hot lunch will also be served there. It is unfortunate that there is no space available at the Grammar School for a lunch room. This necessitates the building at the school of a rough "hut" or "canteen," containing kitchen and store room arrangements and space for tables for serving the lunch. Therefore, the first step in this enterprise is the raising of a fund for this building and its equipment.

JUDGE HOUSHOLDER RELEASES BOYS TO CARE OF PARENTS

AUSTIN AND MCCAULEY BOYS MUST REPORT EACH EACH WEEK (From Monday's Daily) The two young boys, Austin and McCauley, who were tried this morning for burglary were released by Judge Housholder on probation and ordered to report to the probation officer each week in the future. Sentence was suspended and it is reported the boys will remain in the custody of their parents. Judge Housholder told the boys they must report regularly if he suspended sentence, and if they violated their parole he would sentence them to the reform school at Marianna.

ROD AND GUN CLUB HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT AT COURT HOUSE

(From Tuesday's Daily) The members of the Sanford Rod and Gun Club met last night in the court house for the purpose of adopting by-laws and the discussion of several other important matters. Seven new members were reported by the committees that have been working on membership, which makes a total membership of 138. The committees have not completed their work and expect to bring in number of applications at the next meeting which will be held on Monday night, August 8th.

FREIGHT RATE ON CITRUS FRUIT ALMOST DOUBLED

Freight rates on Florida citrus fruits are again upheld by the Interstate Commerce Commission as "not unreasonable." The freight rate on citrus fruit from Titusville to New York has been increased from 66 cents to $1.14, or nearly doubled. How the Commission can hold that increase as "not unreasonable" is more than growers and shippers can figure out.

As a matter of fact, the rate is damnably unreasonable, and should convince all citrus fruit growers that steps should be taken to secure shipment by water.—Titusville Advocate.

COE IS MANAGER MIAMI COMMISSION HIGHLY ENDORSED

Was in Charge of East Coast Viaduct and Served in France (By The Associated Press) MIAMI, Aug. 2.—C. S. Coe, of St. Augustine, engineer in charge of the building of the viaduct for the railroad from Miami to Key West, and colonel of engineers in France during the war, was today appointed as Miami's first city manager by unanimous vote of the city commission. Among the recommendations of Coe for the position was one from General Dawes, President Harding's appointee on the budget commission, under whom Coe served in France. Coe's salary as city manager was fixed at $10,000 per year.

INTERESTING WATER TRIP

R. L. Coow, Mack Brannan and Chris O. Coddington returned on Friday after spending six days on the St. Johns, the Matanzas and the Halifax rivers. The trip was made from Brevard to Port Orange on 30 gallons of gasoline, and about 28 hours actual running time. The rest of the time was spent fishing, cooking, eating and dodging squalls, which are unusually frequent for this time of year. The trip from Brevard to Jacksonville is on fresh water, and from there on the water is salt.

People who have never been through the East Coast canal have no idea of the immensity of the work done by the Florida East Coast Canal and Navigation Co., the company's only compensation being a few million acres of land given it by the state upon the completion of each mile of canal. The canal starts near Mayport, running from there to the Matanzas river, opposite St. Augustine; one then follows the Matanzas about thirty miles above Ormond. Some of the cuts are twenty feet or more in depth. A toll of eight cents per foot length of a vessel is charged, two tolls being collected, one between Jacksonville and St. Augustine, and the other at Smith Creek bridge above Ormond. The canal was dug about 100 feet wide, but the channel is not over 50 feet wide. There is as much traffic on this canal probably as on the St. Johns river.

There is only one settlement besides St. Augustine on the entire canal—the summer resort of Summer Haven near St. Augustine. The land along the canal—if one wants to call it land—is mostly overflown marsh and will probably never be of any use to any one. The refitted launch Ethel made the trip in fine shape, and was left at Port Orange for use in surf fishing later in the season.—DeLand News.

WEST PALM BEACH.—Plans are being drawn by County Engineer Roy F. Goldman, for wooden bridges to be supplanted the ferry service across the West Palm Beach and Hillsborough Canals here. Mr. Goldman estimates that the bridges can be built for approximately $6,000 and although their construction has not been definitely decided upon the county commissioners are said to be in favor of expending part of the first money realized from the issue of bonds voted July 1 for such work.

CHULUOTA

Everybody seems to be enjoying the good old summer time. The nice rains of afternoons keep the weather cool for the evening and night. Miss May Long, who was very ill last week, is much better. Miss Sadie Blackburn left last week for her old home in Elliston, Ky., where she will visit her sister and brothers until September when she will enter Eastern Kentucky state school for this coming school year.

LAKE WEIR.—The level of the water in Lake Weir is higher this season than at any time since 1887 and 1888, according to old residents, who declare that in those two years it reached the highest mark they had ever known. The club house on the east side of the lake is seriously threatened by the water. During the rise in 1887 and 1888 the Florida Southern railroad dug a small canal to carry off surplus water and it is hoped that the canal, which still is in existence, will perform the same service this season, if the lake rises to a dangerous level.

MILTMORE MYSTERY DEEPENS GIRL ADMITS EVIDENCE GUN BELONGED TO HER

Was Found Lying on the Bed in Hotel Room

DENIES THE DEED

ORLANDO MURDER SEEMS HIDDEN MYSTERY THUS FAR.

ORLANDO, Aug. 3.—It was with a revolver owned by Lena Clarke that Fred A. Miltmore was killed in Miss Clarke's room on the third floor of the San Juan hotel here Monday night. The woman, who is postmistress at West Palm Beach, stoutly denies that she shot Miltmore, who was owner of a restaurant here. She claims that she merely drugged him and left him "asleep" in the room, to which she had invited him, while she went to the police station to report to Chief of Police Ed. Vestel that Miltmore was in her room, drugged, and she thought that if the police searched him they would find evidence to connect him with the theft of $32,000 from registered mail in the West Palm Beach postoffice. That robbery occurred last Thursday.

When the police went to the room about an hour and a half later they found Miltmore lying on the floor dead, a bullet through his heart, and the pistol, which the woman admits is hers, was lying on the bed. There was no sign of the missing $32,000, but two empty registered mail pouches, in which it is said the money had been sent, were found in the room; also a registered letter envelope, was found. As a result of the coroner's inquest Miss Clarke is being held in the county jail here on a charge of murder, and B. H. Patterson, a garage man of West Palm Beach, who brought her to Orlando in his automobile and acted as her messenger to summon Miltmore to her room, is held as an accessory before the fact.

This is probably the most tangled crime case ever arising in Orange county and its details are the subject of rife speculation on the streets today. Miss Clarke arrived here Monday afternoon from West Palm Beach, having hired Patterson to drive her over. She paid him $100 for the trip. She brought no baggage and registered at the San Juan as "Mrs. Henry Wilson, Atlanta, Ga."

Shortly after registering at the hotel she sent Patterson to Miltmore with a note, asking him to call on her. This Miltmore did. The room is on the top floor of the hotel, and there were no other occupants of this floor that night. This fact probably accounts for no one hearing the report of the pistol.

Miss Clarke admits that the pistol found in her room was her own and that she left it in the room after she claimed to have drugged Miltmore in order to hold him for the police. She conferred with Police Chief Ed. Vestel about 8 o'clock Monday night. She told Vestel that she had Miltmore in her room, drugged and that he was guilty of the mail robbery. She described a registered letter, stolen from one of the pouches, which she said he had in his possession. She had the key to her room, which she gave to Vestel.

When officers reached the room, about 9:30 o'clock the lights were off and they found Miltmore dead on the floor, a bullet from a .32-calibre special Smith & Wesson revolver having passed entirely through his body. He wore no coat when he visited the room. His spectacles were lying on the bed as was the pistol, Miss Clarke's handbag and her keys. Attached to the key ring was a gold knife. The empty mail bags were on the floor near the body. The seals were intact, the canvas having been cut, apparently with a short-bladed knife.

GARAGE EMPLOYEE HEARD REPORT OF GUN.

(By The Associated Press)
ORLANDO, Aug. 3.—The only new development in the Miltmore killing case here today was a statement by an employee of a garage near the hotel, who said at 8 or 8:30 the night of the killing he heard a report of a gun and an outcry as if someone had been wounded. The time of the gun report as told by the clerk was a short time previous to that at which Miss Clarke called upon the police to tell her story. She continued to maintain silence today upon advice of counsel.

Vegetable Growers May Get Relief, Except Celery Rate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—In the case of the Railroad Director-General of Railroads and others, the Interstate Commerce Commission has rendered the following important decision upon the complaint attacking the line haul rates and refrigeration charges on citrus fruits and vegetables from Florida producing points to various interstate destinations, that the aggregate charges are not unreasonable except:

(1) That the line haul charges on vegetables, except celery, under refrigeration are unreasonable in that they do not provide in these instances where a lower minimum and higher rate apply than under ventilation for the alternative application of the same rate and minimum as under ventilation; and (2) that the refrigeration charges on fruits and vegetables are unreasonable in that they are based on an excessive quantity of ice.

The commission said: "In their complaint filed Sept. 11, 1919, as amended, the railroad commissioners of Florida attack transportation rates and refrigeration charges on citrus fruits and vegetables from producing points in Florida to various interstate destinations as now shown in perishable protective tariff No. 1, I. C. C., No. 6, as unreasonable; also on vegetables under refrigeration, except celery, as unjustly discriminatory. We are asked to establish reasonable and just rates and charges for the future.

"The joint council of the National League of Commission Merchants of the United States, the International Apple Shippers' Association, and the Western Fruit Jobbers' Association of America intervened in support of the allegations of the complaint with respect to refrigeration charges. Complaints contain[ing] that the inclusion of the increased refrigeration charges made effective from Florida on May 8, 1919, of items of cost covering the haulage of ice in the bunkers of refrigerator cars and the switching incident to the icing and reicing of such cars, i. e., one cent per car mile and thirty-five cents per car per switch, respectively, resulted in a double charge for these services, for the reason that the line haul rates were at that time high enough to, and by operation of law did, include compensation therefor. The elimination of this alleged double charge by a proportionate decrease in the haulage rates is sought.

"We find that the aggregate transportation and refrigeration charges assessed are not unreasonable except that the haulage charges on vegetables, other than celery, under refrigeration are unreasonable in that they do not provide in those instances where a lower minimum and higher rate apply than under ventilation for the alternative application of the same rate and minimum under refrigeration as under ventilation, and except that the refrigeration charges are unreasonable to the extent of 20 per cent of the cost of ice factor embraced therein.

"Defendants will be expected, without a formal order, to revise their charges on this traffic in accordance with the conclusions announced herein within sixty days from the date of service of this report. If this is not done the matter may be brought to our attention."

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract before eating more food. Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.—Adv.

TALLAHASSEE, Aug. 2.—Governor Cary A. Hardee has appointed Hon. Marion L. Dawson to be state equalizer of taxes, the new office created by the legislature of 1921, the appointment to become operative and effective from Monday, August 1.

In accepting this office Mr. Dawson tenders his resignation as secretary to the governor and secretary of the two boards, pardons and state institutions.

To succeed Mr. Dawson as the secretary to the governor, and of the two boards, Governor Hardee has appointed Hon. L. B. Edwards of Live Oak, a gentleman of ability and polish and one of the best known educators in the state.

In selecting Hon. Marion L. Dawson of Brooksville for the important office of state equalizer of taxes, Governor Hardee has again chosen the right man for the right office as he has also done in naming Mr. Edwards as the successor to Mr. Dawson in the secretaryship.

Mr. Dawson is peculiarly well equipped for the particular kind of work required of a state equalizer of taxes. He has the full confidence of the governor and the people, both of which are essential to its success.

Having long been a student of taxation and of governmental economics, and having served through four sessions of the legislature and as secretary of the governor and the board of commissioners of state institutions he brings to the discharge of those complex and important duties a fund of best-book knowledge and what is vastly more important, an intimate and practical experience with nearly every branch of governmental affairs.

TRANSPORTATION BY STEAMER AND TRUCK.

There seems to be no doubt but what freight rates have reached a point that compels us to look for additional methods of transportation—by truck and by steamer. Florida, has been dependent on two lines of railroads for the transportation of huge quantities of produce for too long—seemingly. We have a short thirty miles on our West Coast to build which would give a short line to northern points and relieve the very evident congestion of both outgoing and incoming freight. When we look back over the years that this short span has been lying practically all graded, we begin to wonder if we have not been treated unfairly. That piece of railroad was started and abandoned, and the contractors paid off for the amount of labor uncompleted. The railroad evidently foresaw something or other that would rebound to their benefit over the longer haul.

In justice to the railroads it must be admitted that this section of the state is the child of their creation. But the child has grown—so much so that it is now being improperly administered to. We complain, and we think with good reason. We must take to the water and to the motor truck. The Mallory and Clyde lines of steamers have been operating to Florida points, and to the everlasting credit of these lines it must be stated that both have built their business from a non-profit basis to the volume they now enjoy—which is not at all on a really paying volume, it must be understood. There are other lines operating from the West Coast: The Gulf and Southern Steamship Company, plying between Tampa and New Orleans, and the Peninsula and Occidental Steamship Company, between Tampa and Cuba.

In the past we have been troubled with car shortage and bad rolling stock, especially in refrigerator cars. Congestion of traffic have caused tremendous losses to Florida shippers and consignees. If the railroads are overloaded, and if it is impossible to handle freights at other than a well-nigh prohibitive rate to Florida growers and shippers, then we feel it should be right and proper for us to turn to those other methods of transportation that are not overloaded, not subject to congestion of traffic, and which will constitute a competitive way without which we are hardly likely to get anywhere on a plane of justice or equality. South and Central Florida are being stifled. We must come up for air, and we think the way lies via the water and motor routes. We want to get along in amity with the railroads, but we think this matter of transportation is bigger than they know of—or possibly care to think of.—Florida Grower.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two its natural color is restored, and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.
