FATAL CRASH LEAVES GIGANTIC FLYING FORTRESS IN RUINS

Here is the splintered wreckage of the huge Boeing bombing plane which crashed at Dayton, Ohio, killing Maj. P. P. Hill (right) and injuring four others. Built at a cost of $500,000 for possible sale to the army, the ship was undergoing rigid tests at Wright field after having made a record non-stop flight from Seattle. Just after leaving the ground it fell and caught fire. (Associated Press Photos)

TEACHER, SCHOOL—BUT NO PUPILS

Irena Bedarski, a teacher in the Riverdale district near Berlin, Wis., has a school all right—but nary a pupil. Parents in the vicinity prefer to transport their children to the schools in Berlin. Nevertheless Miss Bedarski goes to class every day and keeps company with empty seats. And what's more, she draws her salary regularly. (Associated Press Photo)

CHINA CLIPPER GETS SHAKEDOWN

Destined to link the United States and the Orient in trans-Pacific flight, Pan-American Airways' new 28-ton China Clipper is shown flying over Miami, Fla., at the end of its first distance cruise of 1,200 miles from Baltimore. Carrying 75 passengers and a crew of six, the ship will be placed in regular California-China service after a series of rigid tests over the Caribbean. (Associated Press Photo)

ETHIOPIAN CHIEFS SURRENDER TO ITALIANS

ALL SHALL KNOW HIM: And they shall not teach every man his neighbor, every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.—Hebrews 8:11.

Jimmy Walker says he will never run for office again. But if he could get it in a walk, he wouldn't turn it down.

Of course, the worst of the depression is over all right but there are still a lot of hitch-hikers on the highways and a lot of unemployed in the cities.

Gen. Johnson is going to deliver a speech in Orlando on Armistice Day. We wonder whether he will be for the New Deal this time, or against it.

Harry Hopkins jumps all over Gov. Landon of Kansas for operating the state on a balanced budget. But that's nothing, the State of Florida has somehow managed to keep its budget balanced, too.

In going to the polls next Tuesday don't be misled. Vote for the one you think will fill the place best.—Florida Advocate. Wanted: a fat man.

Many communities have been refused the public improvements for which they asked. These were worthy projects, but they did not fit in with the Hopkins doctrine of planned extravagance.—The New Yorker.

The gent who carved the Declaration of Independence—or whatever it was—on a pin-head has nothing on Mr. Farley, who has just succeeded in putting the Grand Canyon on a postage stamp.—Macon Telegraph.

Libby Holman, former torch singer, has been awarded $7,000 for the support of herself and her young son, heir to a part of the Reynolds' tobacco millions. That should be enough to keep them out of the headlines anyway (or do we have bread lines nowadays?).

We see where there's a fellow up in Minneapolis who is slowly turning to stone. He is known as the "marble man of Minneapolis." They are going to wait until he has become completely hardened and then elect him president of the biggest bank in the country.

Miami police have decided to adopt a policy of "fussing up" gangsters in their determination to keep northern racketeers out of the city. A good strong program of "fussing up," efficiently carried out, will do the trick too. Gangsters are usually rain creators, and they like to keep their hair slicked down.

Father Coughlin claims to command 2,500,000 votes. If Father Coughlin ever runs for office, he, too, will find out what these "votes" can do.—Trenton Star.

"Fighting The Bondholders"

It is unfortunate that Sanford's present agreement with the Bondholders' Protective Committee has become the subject of partisan political debate. It would be better if Sanford could present a united front to the world with regard to its fiscal policies and its bond obligations. There is no dissent among the various members of the bondholders' representatives as to what they ought to do. Or, if there is any dissent, they have the good sense to keep it to themselves.

It seems perfectly clear to us that there is much more occasion for discord between the bondholders and their duly chosen representatives, the Bondholders' Protective Committee, than there is for any disagreement between the taxpayers of Sanford and their spokesmen, the City Commission. Evidence from the Wilcox investigating committee shows fairly clearly that the Bondholders' Protective Committee is bleeding the bondholders to death, but no evidence has been adduced anywhere to show that the City Commission is not giving the people of Sanford the best deal on their indebtedness which has been worked out anywhere in the State of Florida.

It doesn't make any difference to us how big a bunch of crooks the Bondholders' Protective Committee is so long as it is the bondholders they are gyping and not us. If anybody has got a right to kick, it is the bondholders themselves, for it is their money which the Committee is using for "expense" purposes. But just so long as the individual bondholders are satisfied with their representatives on the committee, there is nothing which the City of Sanford can do about it. Nobody has any right to say who shall represent the bondholders except the bondholders themselves, and just so long as they want the Bondholders' Protective Committee to represent them, it is this Committee with which the City is going to have to do business.

There is only one alternative which the present City Commission, or any City Commission, might adopt in preference to the present policy. Instead of continuing to pay the Bondholders' Protective Committee about $55,000 a year, or less than 1 percent interest on the total debt, we might refuse to pay them anything, or at least, refuse to pay them anything until they agree to a permanent settlement (which they won't do now). If we should adopt this policy of "fighting the bondholders," of refusing to pay them anything, we would subject ourselves to an absolutely certain mandamus from the Supreme Court ordering the City Commission to levy the full amount of the millage to cover all indebtedness now due. This would amount to 400 or 500 mills.

There may be some of our people who feel that even this would be better than the present arrangement where we are required to pay only 80 mills. They do not stop to realize that a 500 mill levy would be placed against personal property as well as real estate. All stocks of goods in our stores, all supplies of machinery and plant equipment, the merchandise on our merchants' shelves, are all subject to this personal property levy. They would have to pay this 500 mill levy, whether the real estate owners did or not, because personal property can be seized for the non-payment of taxes, transported to other cities, and sold.

Furthermore, a 500 mill levy on Sanford real estate would immediately and completely terminate the sale of all real estate within the city limits and would bring to a disastrous close all mortgage loan business on local real estate or personal property. At the present time some real estate is being sold; some new construction is taking place; but who is going to buy property or build a filling station with a 500 mill levy to pay for tax purposes? Who is going to lend any money under such circumstances?

Home owners should realize, that homestead exemption does not apply to debt service and that if a 500 mill levy should be placed against their property, these taxes would have to be paid. Those who have had their home mortgages refinanced by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation should realize that they are required to keep their taxes paid by federal statute. Those who are having their homes renovated under the terms of the Federal Housing Act, and those who plan to do so at some future time, should realize that this law also requires taxes to be kept paid on the property.

Furthermore, carpenters, masons, and laboring men of all groups must know that their work in the future depends upon a continuation of, and a further revival of, the building trades. Most building is being done on borrowed money, and most of the money which is being borrowed, or which is apt to be borrowed, comes from government agencies of one kind or another. They should realize that a 500 mill levy would prevent all future loans being made on Sanford property and bring to a complete stop all such construction. Nobody is going to buy property or lend money in a town where the millage is so excessive.

That these are not groundless fears can be readily understood by anyone who has taken the trouble to watch the experience of other Florida cities and counties which have pursued these tactics. "Fighting the bondholders" is by no means an untried path. It has been tried again and again all over Florida. In every single instance it has led directly to the Supreme Court. And in every single case which has come before it, the Supreme Court has ordered the local governments to pay . . . in full.

Sanford's temporary agreement with the Bondholders' Protective Committee is not just what we want, and it is not just what anybody wants; but it is the best arrangement which can be worked out at the present time. We are not blessed with any high degree of prosperity in this city and all of us would like to see conditions a lot better. But they could be made a great deal worse. If by pursuing a policy of "fighting the bondholders," we get a 400 or 500 mill levy slapped against our property, we will have a depression that will make what we've already been through seem like a picnic.

THE COMPASS

Economic Hervey
By Arthur Dunn

SELMA, Ala., Nov. 4. The Brookings Institute has found, after 3 years of investigation, that the solution of the problem of distribution is abundance and low prices. One wonders why it took so long. In the face of those findings, corn-hog farmers voted 6 to 1 in favor of continuing scarcity and high prices.

Our method of distributing products is by an exchange medium called money. The receipt of money, or its equivalent in credit, must precede every purchase. Your prosperity depends both on the amount of money or credit you can use, and what you can get in return for it in goods and property. Unless, as the years go by, the same dollar buys more, or unless you receive more dollars, there can be no increase in the volume, variety or quality of things you can consume.

Improved machinery makes it possible to multiply production without a corresponding increase in man-power. Unless the added products can be distributed, we call "over-production" what is really under-distribution.

In no other way can additional products be distributed except by lowering prices, or raising buying power, to equal the increase of production. This seems clear as day. However, many industrialists have the erroneous idea that they can keep for themselves the bulk of the surplus new inventions create, and unless forced by competition to lower prices, they too pursue the course of scarcity and high prices. The tariff eliminates foreign competition, and if the quotations on steel, or textiles, or what not start downward, the domestic supply is reduced by shutting down the plant.

Secretary Wallace is teaching the farmers the same trick to limit production by shutting down their acres. Naturally their buying power depends on the amount of money they receive and what this money will buy. The less received for their products, and the more they must pay for the products of others, the poorer they will be. It is all a matter of the relation of price to income.

In the future we shall hear

Able is now a young lawyer and is employed by Alexander & Martin, attorneys at Jacksonville.

Hurricane Hits Miami; Keys Are Being Evacuated

There were no reports early this morning of any loss of life or property damage in the Bahamas. Islanders had been forewarned by the British Colonial government to take precautions. As it shaved Great Abaco the disturbance appeared to be headed for Nassau, residence of the Colonial governor. A sharp twist to the west after midnight sent it on a course offering grave peril to the lower part of Florida.

Keys Being Evacuated MIAMI, Nov. 4. (AP)—Relief workers hastened today evacuation of the Florida keys where approximately 400 war veterans and others were killed in the Labor Day hurricane as a freak storm moved menacingly toward the coast between Miami and Palm Beach. William H. Green, in charge of relief operations on the coral islands, sent trucks to take off 200 men at Snake Creek. By boat from Matecumbe 65 other workers were making their way to Snake Creek to board the waiting trucks. Refugees will be brought here.

Drenching rain was falling here, whipped by 66 miles an hour winds at 12:45 P. M. Hurricane warnings were flying around the extreme southern tip of the peninsula from Palm Beach to Naples on the West coast. Naples is about 30 miles south of Fort Myers.

The freighter Florida was buffeted by heavy seas off the coast near Palm Beach and asked for a pilot to guide the vessel to safety in Lake Worth inlet. No pilot was available and radio operators said none could negotiate the rough inlet. The Coast Guard was asked to have a cutter stand by the Florida, if possible, in the event help was needed. The vessel had sent no distress signal at noon. Meager reports reaching Nassau said damage at Great Baco Island in the Bahamas was bad. The storm shaved the island about midnight before shifting to a westerly direction and moving in upon Florida.

Fort Lauderdale Hit PORT LAUDERDALE, Nov. 4. (AP)—Hurricane winds unroofed to themselves and the rest of the some houses broke windows and sent water from canals overflowing into the streets here today. Early examination revealed the damage would not be great and there was no report that anyone was hurt.

Storm Warnings Issued JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 4. (AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued the following storm warning: "Advisory 7:30 A. M. Hurricane warnings ordered 7:30 A. M. Miami to Stuart and northeast storm warnings north of Stuart to Titusville. Tropical storm of small diameter, but accompanied by hurricane winds, has changed its course during the night and seems to be moving in a westward direction over the Bahama Islands, which is about 100 miles east of West Palm Beach moving about seven to 10 miles per hour. Storm may continue to change direction. All interests on the southeast Florida coast between Miami and Stuart should take extreme caution against high tides and hurricane winds. Caution also advised all vessels off Florida coast. Further bulletins will be issued today about hourly."

Frost Protection Costs In Florida Under California

(Continued from page one) must provide frost protection against the freeze type of cold even though several years may pass before it is necessary to use the heaters again.

"It is not possible to state when the next freeze will occur and it is entirely possible that another may occur this winter. To be safe, the heaters should be in place for use at any time when needed." "Weather Bureau records show that Florida frosts usually last two or three days at a time, but that severe frosts occur on the average of one in each year, which, however, is often enough to destroy citrus groves and in the past has been responsible for driving the citrus acreage further to the south."

Comparative cost of heat protection in Florida should be small, the meteorologist said, because in many other sections of the country frosts occur on the average six or eight times a season.

Claudette Colbert Marries Her Boss

The problems of a private secretary are briskly dealt with in Claudette Colbert's new Columbia picture, "She Married Her Boss," which opened at the Milane Theater last night to the accompaniment of enthusiastic applause. Produced by the game company that gave you Miss Albert in "It Happened One Night," the new film has the same buoyancy and freshness that made its predecessor a five-way prize winner. "She Married Her Boss" is undoubtedly the grandest fun since the falling of the walls of Jericho.

Miss Colbert herself is delightful; her inherent charm and vivacity have never been shown to better advantage. As a secretary, efficient secretary who carelessly falls in love with her boss, she sees to it that he takes time off one day to buy her a wedding ring. That proves a costly mistake for the marriage turns out to be one of the maddest things one can imagine.

The fun continues fast and furious with Miss Colbert as the storm center. Melynn Douglas, as a lover, the frantic boss, and Michael Baletti, last seen in "The Sign of the Cross," as a secretary, are thoroughly engaging as a mad may-care chap who tries to manage the secretary's affairs. Edith Fellows as the boss' precocious nine-year-old daughter, Katherine Alexander as his nervous, wracked sister, Raymond Walburn as a butler, Jean Dixon as Miss Colbert's enemy, and Clara Kimball Young in a small role are splendid.

POSTPONEMENT

The regular meeting of the Children of the Confederacy scheduled to take place this day, Nov. 7, at 1:00 P. M. at the home of Mrs. B. J. Perkins, has been postponed until Thursday, Nov. 14, because of the absence of Mrs. G. Carpenter who will attend the Confederate reunion in Bradenton this week.

Speer Saved City Large Amount, Papworth Says

"I am writing merely as a common citizen of Sanford."

"I am wondering how many of our citizens carefully read the report made by our City Commissioner on the financial condition of the city, and what magnificent work they have done in the past few years. The answer could only be 'Well done our good and faithful servants.'"

"There are so many men who have done wonderful work for the City of Sanford with hardly any recognition, but I desire to ask how many of you know what a wonderful piece of work it was on the part of V. A. Speer when he convinced the Board of City Commissioners that it was necessary for the City of Sanford that they take over the concrete sewer pipe factory and operate it at the City's expense? This must have cost the people thousands of dollars. It is an act as that of there was nothing else to be done would warrant his return to the Board of City Commissioners."

"And what of this act of extending the city limits to the present boundaries of the City of Sanford? That, too, was absolutely the wisest thing that has ever happened in the history of the City of Sanford."

Pick-The-Winner Fans Lose With Defeat Of Army

100 In Contest But Not One Succeeded In Guessing Right

Upsets in the nation's football week-end were costly to local pick-the-winner fans last week. Out of 100 selections not one single person picked a perfect week and consequently no Milane prizes will be issued this Wednesday.

While games from coast to coast, in the North and in the South were among those selected, the Army-Mississippi state game, which was the big upset far as local fans were concerned. Out of the entire 100 selections turned in 62 were discredited because Mississippi State beat West Point. But for this week there might have been 62 losers.

Last week's result was quite a contrast to the week preceding when 16 fans handed in correct picks and received in return 32 passes to the Milane Theater. In tomorrow's Herald this week's pick-the-winner chart will be published and fans are again urged to send in their selections as to increase their chances to win. Only the first 10 correct selections will receive theater tickets. However, the sports editor calls attention to the fact that this does not mean that the first 10 charts submitted will win. Only correct lists will count in this first group.

Three fans picked "Sanford" to beat Santa Clara. Sanford did not play Santa Clara, but Stamford. This error would automatically disqualify the selection, but the one person missed on the Iowa-Indiana game, which was a tie. Two other fans made a mistake and sent their selections to the Milane Theater instead of the Herald and therefore did not reach the office before 5 o'clock Saturday. As the deadline is noon Saturday, naturally these were thrown out. Yet, both also lost on the Army-Mississippi State game.

Those who lost in the Army-Mississippi State upset were: Mrs. T. M. Hill, Joe Miss Jean Lane, H. R. Roland, Jack Morrison, R. F. Monsalvate, Robert Fashburn, Miss Jane Lloyd, Douglas Stevenson, Eddie Rawson, T. L. O'Connor, Joseph O'Connor, Douglas Scott, Mrs. Douglas G. Scott, Frank Morrison, John Schirard, Jr., F. H. Cullum, Lena Harwick, William Jones, J. M. Stimpfhorst, Mrs. D. W. Wilson, R. W. Ware, Clifford Barfield, Mrs. Blanch Ware, M. E. Babson, Lady Jane Emerson, S. C. Cameron, Mrs. John Schirard, Jr., Geo. A. Speer, Jr., Mrs. J. W. Childer, Randall Slaughter, Dick McLaughlin, Mrs. Homer Little.

Rollins Vs. Tampa On Orlando Field At 8:15 Tonight

String Of Victories Has Been Won By West Coast Squad

WINTER PARK, Nov. 4.—The Rollins Tars will once again essay the role of "giant killer" when they attempt to halt the victorious march of a highly regarded Tampa University football team at Tinker Field in Orlando tonight.

Coming to Orlando with decisive victories over South Georgia Teachers, Miami University and Newberry College, the invaders are heavy favorites to trounce the Tars. On the other hand, the Tars can not boast of an impressive record. They won over Newberry, then dropped a one sided battle to Southeastern Louisiana.

The game is called for 8:15. Several upsets were recorded on the football chart Saturday. Seven of the country's hitherto undefeated and untied teams fell by the wayside. Dartmouth shook the jinx that has followed it every time it went against Yale in more than a half a century, and Florida came near gaining a victory over Georgia.

In a melodramatic finish that has had few parallels in college football history, the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame snatched victory from apparent defeat and in the last few minutes of play defeated Ohio State 18 to 13. Out in California the Golden Bears upset the University of California in Los Angeles 14 to 2, and became the Pacific Coast's only undefeated and untied champion football eleven.

Marching along the undefeated trail with Notre Dame and California were North Carolina, Minnesota, Marquette, Texas Christian, Southern Methodist, Dartmouth, New York University, Princeton and Syracuse. Joining Ohio State and U. C. L. A. in the beaten class were Army, Temple, Catholic and Baylor while Iowa's Hawkeyes outplayed most of the way, were lucky to get a 6-6 draw with Indiana.

Dartmouth dragged out the obituary of the "blue jinx" and tied it about to 45,000 spectators as the Hanover Indians scored their first football victory over Yale in more than half a century. The score was 14 to 6.

The Gators put up a stubborn defense in the game with Georgia in Jacksonville, but Georgia managed to squeak out a 7 to 6 victory over Florida. A trio of clean-cut victories featured by Mississippi State's jarring 18 to 7 win over the hitherto undefeated Army eleven gave the Southeastern Conference a clean sweep of its inter-sectional gridiron warfare this week-end.

A last minute pass spelled the margin by which the Delta Staters whipped the Cadets at West Point, while Tulane administered a 14 to 6 beating to Colgate's Red Raiders at New Orleans. The third inter-sectional victory was Mississippi, one of the two remaining undefeated teams in conference competition, which defeated St. Louis University 21 to 7 at St. Louis Friday night.

Mighty Was Help Tackles Gave In Winning Contest

Warner And Stapler Opened Holes And Backs Crossed Line

By HENRY SLAUGHTER
The Seminole Celery Feds scored what might be called a mild upset in the Northeastern Conference when they won a hard fought game from the Ocala Bulldogs last Friday night. The Ocala team was one of the unbeaten teams in the conference and the Celery Feds had not won a game this season, even though they had credit for winning the Lake City game that they lost by a score of 13-0.

In the first victory for the Celery Feds there was one group of players who made it possible for Wright to cross the Ocala goal line—Franz Warner and Jim Stapler. These two tackles are in there at all times giving the backs the necessary interference and opening holes in the opponent's line. Too much credit can not be given these two boys who go on fighting, blocking, tackling, and opening holes so that the backs may cross the goal line.

Franz Warner, a 170-pound junior tackle, was new to the gridiron this season, but he has shown that it doesn't take a player long to learn and he has been playing a good game at tackle all season. It is well known that not many yards have been gained by the opponents over Franz this season. He will be back out there again next season to show the local fans that Seminole High can win football games.

Jim Stapler, another junior tackle weighing 185 pounds, had not been up to standard, and therefore he did not see much service until last Friday night in Ocala and he tried to show that he deserved more than a seat on the bench. Jim is a newcomer to Seminole High and is trying to make good.

Edwin Humphries, 165 pound sophomore, has been used as the first string tackle all season and played a good game, but injuries received in the earlier games kept him out of most of the game last week. Humphries is only a sophomore and by the time he is a senior he should be one of the best tackles that Seminole High has had in the past few years.

D. H. Hodges, a 165 pound junior, and John Mauser, 165 pound senior, are the tackle reserves, and they both may see lots of service in these last few weeks of the season.

Boys' Club Arranges Seven Bouts Tonight

Seven boxing bouts are on the schedule of events to be put on by the Boys' Athletic Club in the Fourth Street Arena tonight. The program is to begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

Several new youthful scrappers will appear in tonight's show. Judge Wilkinson, the Club's sponsor stated. If possible, he said, none of the boys who boxed in DeLand last Thursday night will go on again tonight.

Governor Joins University Head In Defending Present Coaching System

Governor Dave Sholtz said he stands squarely behind President John J. Tigert in his defense of the University of Florida's coaching system and the football team.

Dr. Tigert in an address urged Florida boosters to be more tolerant in their attitude toward the Gators. He charged that Florida's football squad is being "persecuted" and its coaching staff is being undermined.

"The university has a policy of employing alumni to coach this team. The alumni coaches are not paid large salaries and they are not coaching professional players."

"If those who are knocking the team and the coaches want a professional team then it is up to them to raise the money for such a team."

WOMAN'S WEAK NERVOUS CONDITION HELPED BY CARDUI

In thousands of cases where Cardui has been taken to help women overcome monthly discomfort it has been reported to have been of valuable assistance.

"Before I began using Cardui, I was so weak that when I closed my eyes I felt like I was going to fall," writes Mrs. J. W. Harris, of Peter, S. C. "I was very nervous and had a pain in my side. At times, I would have to go to bed. This made me very nervous as I had six children and there is always work on a farm. My mother had taken Cardui and told me to try it. I took six bottles, after which I was up and able to do all my work."

"Nothing but Cardui has helped me. I have nothing but praise for Cardui. If you are in need of relief, do not wait until you are in a bad way. Consult a physician."

Rivers Remain Closed To Any Seine Fishing

County Commission Stands Pat On Its Former Action And Magruder Approves

315 Signed Plea To Open Streams

Opposing Petition Bore Signatures Of Close To 1000

Streams in Seminole County will remain closed to the fishing, the Board of County Commissioners voted this morning, and its recommendation will be approved by C. C. Magruder, state fish and game commissioner, the latter declared at the public meeting.

The vote was taken after a lengthy argument participated in by a number of interested persons who attended the board meeting, following the presentation of more petitions asking that the streams be opened to seine fishing. Commissioner Charles Dunn made the motion, and it was passed by unanimous vote.

The Commission about a month ago voted to recommend opening the streams to seine fishing. Then a petition signed by 998 persons was presented asking that the question be reconsidered, and the board thereupon voted to recommend that the streams be closed. Before any action was taken by the State Fish and Game Commission on this recommendation from Seminole County, petitions were again circulated asking that seine fishing be allowed, and it was these petitions that the commissioners rejected today. Three hundred and fifteen signatures were added to the latest petitions, 138 residents of the Geneva and Ocala sections, 115 by children, and 62 in total.

Mr. Magruder, the state fish and game commissioner, attended this morning's meeting, and after the argument had proceeded for an hour he declared he would "take the responsibility and say that unless there is more of a feeling to open the streams than is now apparent I will turn down a recommendation to open them."

Report Attempt Made On Life Of Haile Selassie

ROME, Nov. 5.—(AP)—As mappers, correspondent of the newspaper La Tribuna, reported today that an attempt had been made on the life of Emperor Haile Selassie.

Train, mud and the need for roads, halted the Italian offensive against Makala in Northern Ethiopia today. From the East African field headquarters at Asmara in Eritrea came orders for a two day halt in the drive outward. Engineers rushed to work pushing road construction.

In their drive through mud and water the Italian columns had reached the heights about Agula, commanding the approach to Makala, caravan center strategically important in the Italian advance into the Ethiopian interior. Agula is 15 miles north and slightly east of Makala. From all indications Makala will fall into the hands of the invaders without battle.

Boys' Club Spends $1299. But Is $100 In Debt As Result

Goods, Bread, Etc., To Value Of $981 Has Been Distributed

During the 16 months it has been in existence, the Seminole Boys' Athletic Club has expended $1,299.60 in "actual good work," according to the annual report issued today by Judge S. A. B. Wilkinson, sponsor of the club. Much of the expenditure was in the distribution of donated merchandise, bread, etc., as the boys have spent less than one-half that amount on their own organization.

Judge Wilkinson's report shows that in the 16 months the sum of $129.60 represents the cash receipts and the disbursements amount to $554.63. Some of this money was expended for club equipment, such as gloves, canvas, lumber, etc., but much of it went for the purchase of school lunches and clothing for needy children and in providing them with drug and medical attention.

Since the organization has paid out $554 and has taken in only $428 it is considerably more than $100 "in the red."

Field Piece Is Offered Legion By Government

$150 Needed To Pay For Transporting It And Preparing Cement Foundation

Sanford can acquire the last available heavy field piece built for the Army during the World War if friends of the Campbell-Loring post of the American Legion will help the veterans' organization raise something like $150 to piece of artillery to this City and for building a concrete foundation to support it. Commander I. F. Boyle so reported at the Post meeting last night.

The big gun was located after months of correspondence with United States senators and United States Army officers, and it is said to be the last cannon of the kind the government has to give away. It is now at the Army Proving Grounds in Aberdeen, Md. It is 25 feet long and weighs 7,420 pounds. It is a 4.7 field piece, heavy artillery.

Commander Boyle has a price of $122 from the Merchants & Minors Steamship Line to transport the field piece from Aberdeen to Jacksonville, and Otto Caldwell, local agent for the St. Johns River Line has offered to transport it free of charge from Jacksonville to Sanford. Because of its weight a concrete base for the big gun must be built, the commander stated. It is planned to place it in front of the Legion Hall on Lake Front Boulevard.

In order to get the field piece the local American Legion post had to obtain the approval of the State Department of the Legion, of Lt. Col. J. R. Spengler, United States property and disbursement officer at the State Arsenal in St. Augustine, and of Major General W. H. Tachapet, chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C. Commander Boyle expressed the belief that as the field piece will not only be a fitting monument in honor of World War veterans (Continued From Page Two)

The information comes direct from President Joe Engel of the baseball club who called Mr. Branan over the long distance telephone. He also told Mr. Branan that he is trying to schedule 11 games during the short spring training season. The club will arrive on Mar. 9 and leave on Mar. 30.

Omens Of 1936 Looked For In Voting Today

By Government

By The Associated Press. Eager for omens as to 1936, political leaders fixed their attention upon today's scattered state elections, with much interest centering on Kentucky. An announcement by Thomas S. Rhea, a power in Democratic politics in the Blue Grass border state, that he would join the Democratic governor, Ruby Laffoon, in supporting the Republican gubernatorial nominee, King Swepe, instead of A. B. Chandler, Democrat, dashed any hope of national party leaders that the Kentucky breach would be narrowed before the voting began.

Since Kentucky will not begin counting votes in her state-wide election until tomorrow, observers turned their immediate attention to the voting for state legislators in New York and New Jersey where Republicans had rejected the New Deal into this campaigning. In addition, New York was filling two vacancies in the national House of Representatives, Philadelphia was selecting a mayor in a race that attracted more than state-wide attention, and Virginia and Mississippi were going through the old year routine of ratifying candidates for the legislature and state officers selected in Democratic primaries.

The New York election has further national implications in the fact that it is President Roosevelt's home state and that his close friend and supporter, Governor Herbert H. Lehman, has called for the election of a Democratic state assembly.

With the former Senator Walter E. Edge terming the contest "the first and most important round in the Presidential election of 1936," New Jersey will elect an entire state assembly and fill eight of 21 seats in the state senate.

4 Dead, 5 Missing In Miami; Property Loss Over Million; Other Sections Damaged

QUAKERS CONTINUE TO HAWAII MOUNTAIN CAPITAL

Earthquake continues to shake Havana, Cuba, and other islands (reproduced) causing the walls of the Federal Reserve Bank. South Coast District Late Yesterday By 'Yankee' Hurricane

Blacked Off Bermuda

Citrus, Tomato Crops Harmed

Fields Suffer Losses Estimated At More Than Half Million

MIAMI, Nov. 5.—(AP)—In this bright sunlight Miami's clouds rolled up their skirts, clearing away the wreckage left by the hurricane late yesterday afternoon that caused four deaths and heavy property damage. Thankful that the post-season blow was now over.

The storm, a "Yankee" hurricane, lashed off Bermuda to northwesterly to the south, lashed Miami with winds unofficially recorded at 100 miles an hour and blew across extreme southern Florida into the Gulf of Mexico.

The Jacksonville Weather Bureau advised at 5:30 A. M. that the storm was central about 400 miles northwest of Key West, with shifting gale force and winds of hurricane force over a small area. The rate of movement was increased, indicating a possible change in direction. The toll in Miami, four known deaths, five reported missing and property damage over the greater Miami area estimated at half a million dollars and ten million dollars.

The toll elsewhere: Property damage set at $200,000 in Hollywood, just north of Miami, and one injured; fifty percent damage in Little Dixie, where several were hurt; considerable loss in Fort Lauderdale, and other nearby communities; estimated $200,000 damage to citrus crops and $500,000 to the tomato crop in the Redlands district.

Severe reported five fishing boats missing.

A crowded rail line freight train, crowded easily off Miami Beach, had four officers at Jacksonville and the only one wounded by the line in the Miami vicinity was the BREV.

Thousands of workmen, hundreds of them heretofore unemployed, hurried into the hardest hit areas to clear away wreckage in preparation for unexpected winter visitors, while the various swarmed in a steady stream of automobiles across the island, which took a good toll of property, but patronage turned back all except those having business.

A survey of the beach equipment last night's impression that winter homes of the rich escaped heavy damage. Several small frame buildings, scattered on the beach and of the peninsula, the wind, driving during the storm, had blown away.

Dr. Browlee Tells Rotarians: Honesty Is The Best Policy

"Honesty is the best policy" was the subject of an address delivered by Dr. E. D. Browlee, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club held at the Mayfair Hotel.

Dr. Browlee said that if business men yielded in the temptation to be dishonest, simple because other business men are dishonest, it might not be long before the milk man would be "dognosed" in his milk, and the doctor called in to treat the babe, might prolong the illness, just to increase the size of the bill, and the doctor might take his prescription for the same reason.
